192. The Pleiades stars of your space-time plane are much younger than the Earth, but not so [with] our stars and planets, which were named only by numerical values until the time when the 'High Council' took control.

193. Since then, however, at the request of the 'High Council', our homeworlds have been called by melodious names, e.g. also Erra, while the celestial systems are called Pleiadian or, in our case, Plejaren.

Billy:

If I think correctly, this should have happened 51,951 years ago, right?

Semjase:

194. Sure, you think correctly.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_075

Semjase:

3. Over there in the area, where I usually go, is unfortunately not possible today, because some of our friends are exploring everything over there.

4. We do not want to disturb them in the process.

5. However, they have been quite careless in the last few days, because they have already been observed twice in their space suits, which they have to wear because they are not oxygen breathers in our sense.

6. But your carnival costume wearing customs have protected them from the attention of the observers, because they were probably of the opinion that they were carnival connoisseurs.

Billy:

That is interesting. What exactly do they do there, and where do they come from?

Semjase:

7. They belong to the other groups working with us here on the Earth; they are also connected to our federation and investigate radiation phenomena and underground earth shifts that have come about as a result of various inner terrestrial factors and that will influence the future of that region.

...

Billy:

... Do they belong to you and how big are they?

Semjase:

11. Their size is 115 cm, and of course they belong to us, but they live on a smaller neighbouring planet of Erra.

...

Billy:

... Ah, look, Bernadette sleeps in Jacobus' car. ...

Semjase:

28. She does not sleep, she just doses.

Billy:

How do you know that?

Semjase:

29. Look here, this device, these symbols say that.

...

Billy:

... One noticed that Engelbert's cat went crazy. ...

Semjase:

...

33. But because of the cat:

34. Animals are very sensitive and feel us also when in invisible state.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_078

Menara:

13. But now see this weapon here.

14. This is similar to the one with which you once irradiated the young trees and the fir trees.

{Note: See Contact Reports 63 and 64.}

15. This one, however, is much older than that one.

16. Here, the direction finder shows you the target very accurately through this magnifying scope so that you can hit a single needle of a fir tree very accurately over a distance of several kilometres, which you can then test on a tree over there on the hill.

17. The tubular sight scope brings the target as close to you as if it were directly in front of the weapon.

18. In contrast to that, this is a very outdated operating apparatus, which is similar to that of your explosive firearms.

19. To send out the radiation you must pull back with your index finger just as it was the case with my weapon.

20. These two transparent containers on the top here, contain two different elements which are fundamentally necessary for the creation of the type of radiation.
21. Used together, they create a form of laser beam still unknown to you, which emits a very strong destructive swinging wave, which, however only destroys a few artificial forms of matter, such as your film material, so you must not use the weapon when taking photographs.
22. If the front and rear element containers are coupled by a pressure on this point, then a combustion radiation builds up, which within fractions of a second and up to a distance of 37.2 km dissolves everything into nothing, without leaving any traces of ash.
23. Only the things surrounding the target char and remain behind.
24. If the front container alone is activated by further pressure on this point, then only a tranquillising effect occurs, which is used exclusively for self-defence purposes, while the combustion radiation usually serves only for work purposes or total elimination purposes, but in extreme cases if necessary, can also be used, for example, to damage an enemy vehicle or flying object so that it becomes unable to manoeuvre and thus ineffective.
25. This also applies to weapons, etc.
26. For a very long time now, about six hundred years, these forms of weapons are no longer used, because our technology has developed much better ones in the meantime.
27. The latest weapon of this type has been reduced to a third of this size, and the function of the activation of the radiation trigger mechanism has fundamentally changed.
28. Thus, the operation of the newest weapons is individually adapted to its carrier, whereby a weapon can exclusively be used only by the owner.
29. The activation of the trigger is now only carried out on a purely mental basis, which is why the brain wave pattern is programmed into the memory of the trigger mechanism of the weapon. i.e. that of the owner.
30. If the weapon is to become the property of another owner for any reason, it must be newly programmed.
- ...
31. I designate the bearers of such weapons as the owner, because this is according to your sense and because the weapon is individually tailored to the carrier.

Ptaah:

51. Cutback on the concerns around us and our ships, etc. to a large extent and dedicate yourself only to the fundamentally important facts of the evolution of the spirit or the teaching of the spirit [Creation-Energy teaching].

53. You yourself should under no circumstances continue to deal publicly with the so-called ufological concerns, on the one hand for reasons of time limitations and on the other hand for security reasons, but also because your real mission work is much more important and of the greatest importance.

Semjase:

122. According to the latest analyses, a demonstration with our beamships must, unfortunately, be excluded for the time being.

123. This is due to the fact that in particular group outsiders, but also some group members, believe themselves to be privileged in matters of demonstration.

124. Also, the erroneous opinion has arisen from the mission leaving and betraying members that we must make not only our ships but also ourselves noticeable or visible as proof of our existence.

125. We cannot meet these unreasonable wishes in any form, because they run counter to the meaning of all our tasks.

126. We have no reason to show ourselves to Earth-humans in any of the desired forms; nor will we do so under any circumstances.

131. By the way, neither us and our ships, and our existence, are of importance at all but only the task we all have to fulfil.

132. We cannot allow that by the mentioned wishes and demands new idolisations and idealisations arise, which would inevitably lead to a new religion, as this has already happened many times.

Billy:

... I was only there a few moments when a sound was heard, as if an unshielded beamship was approaching. Observing everything attentively all around and in the sky, I could not recognise anything, however, because the darkness was simply too strong. Only in front, where our court light illuminated everything, there I was able to see everything clearly out of the darkness. And as I looked over to the pole with the tape recorder switched on again after some time and then looked down into the meadow, suddenly and as if out of nowhere a figure stood there, exactly on the strip between light and darkness, where on the one hand the light was sharply separated from the court lamp and on the other hand the darkness. The figure had not run there, but was actually there all of a sudden. Quietly I stood up and scurried quietly across the street and over to the pole with the tape recorder, where I fully recognised the figure and saw that I had not been mistaken at the roadside over there, where the head of the figure had appeared to me like a grimace. Now I clearly saw that the being had a human body, and if I was not mistaken, it had to be a female body. According to Earth-human terms, this was in stark contrast to the voice that this being had, because it sounded quite deep, which means nothing, because I know very well that other beings can also have other voices in the forms as is the case with us on Earth. Then I also saw a hand of this being, which [in comparison] to my fingers seemed quite oversized, namely about twice as long as mine on my hand. But then the head first, oh my goodness, that was unique. I was not terrified because I had already seen some badly mutilated human faces, but I was somehow fascinated by the sight, which is why I really looked at it first, before I reached for my cannon, tore it out of the holster, tightened the handle and wanted to unlock it, which was, unfortunately, a mistake of mine, because when I raised the cannon, the strange being disappeared just as suddenly and without a trace as it had come. ... Somehow I feel as if this being, who was perhaps 160 cm tall, can communicate telepathically and probably wanted to get in touch with me in this way as well, which it did not succeed in due to my blockade. ... Since then I have always had the certain feeling that this being will come again and that with a quite peaceful intention. This is also evident from its voice, which was recorded by the tape recorder on the street pole. I tried to decipher the sounds and came to the conclusion that it was always the same words that the being spoke. It sounded like MURG, MURG to me. For two full days I 're-looked' at it and strangely enough, I always came to the same conclusion that this word 'Murg', if I filtered it out correctly, means nothing but PEACE. Since then it always sounds to me as if this being had asked me if I was also peaceable with him/her. What I have to say is this: The head of the being had the shape of a human head, but the appearance was quite monster-like, namely a cross between a fish and a frog, with a quite big mouth and a kind of herringbone over the skull, which was as shiny as everything else of this head, which I would like to call somehow beautiful, because even if it looked monster-like in the twilight, it was very well-formed and very natural. Somehow the being seemed to me to have risen from a fable, namely like an amphibian. ...

...

Semjase:

36. I know these kinds of beings, they are human life-forms that used to live in water and on land, amphibians, as you rightly say, but I do not know that such life forms that live very, very far away from this system are supposed to be here.

...

39. You have not succumbed to deception, and I am somehow familiar with the very cumbersome language of the being.

...

41. If I can take the tape recorder with me, I will go back to the station and call father if necessary, because he knows some of those cumbersome languages that amphibians speak when they cannot communicate telepathically, because telepathy is their actual means of communication.

...

46. Father knew immediately, because the sounds originate from a guttural language known to him of a human life-form race equally known to him, which is at home in the area of a system on a planet known to you as DENEK, at a distance of about 2000 light-years from the SOL system.

...

48. The sounds Claire and you heard are very awkward because they are very crude to these CYGNERs, as they are called.

49. Normally they communicate only telepathically, because their guttural language is very difficult for them, which they only use for communication when they have to communicate with other forms of life that are not capable of telepathy.

...

52. What further astonished father was that you also correctly analysed the meaning and concept of the word, because MURK actually means PEACE, according to which it is really easy to judge that you apparently also met the correctness with it, which says that the being observed by you came in peaceful intention.

...

55. First inspections in the last 70 minutes have now revealed that last Monday during the night time one of our large surveillance discs in the area of Southern Europe registered a foreign flying ship, but did not transmit this to the station, because it had not stored this data due to a disturbance field, which registered itself as of natural origin in our surveillance devices, and thus also had not transmitted it to our station.

56. Checking this disk now revealed that its equipment had not been shut down for seconds by a natural Earth interference field in any wise, but that an artificial interference field from some flying ship had caused this brief damage, controlled by some intelligence.

57. What remained unobserved during the disturbance of our surveillance equipment was an image recorder that automatically recorded the foreign flying machine in the moving image, after which we now know that this cylindrical ship, about 12 meters in diameter, is somewhere on the Earth – where, unfortunately, we do not yet know.

58. Apparently it is equipped with some kind of protective shield, which made our analysers ineffective and we could not determine the location.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_091

Semjase:

7. However, we were able to ascertain with certainty that their ship has not yet left the earthly space, so it is still somewhere camouflaged and shielded in a hiding place.

8. Father tried to find out on their home star who and why they came to the Earth, but he was told that the current whereabouts of four ships of the Cygner were unknown, so no information could be given in this regard.

9. That it could only be one of these four ships was clear, because exact coordinate messages were recorded from all other units and none were even close to the SOL-system or in the SOL-system.

10. According to the Cygner, the four ships with unknown whereabouts are older expedition ships, which unfortunately only have very limited means of remote communication on a technological basis.

11. This means that the Cygner here on Earth cannot communicate with their home planet, precisely because their means of remote communication cannot bridge the distance of 2,000 light-years.

12. The maximum range of their devices is unfortunately less than 1,400 light-years.

Billy:

But then they would be able to make a mental-telepathic connection.

Semjase:

13. Unfortunately this is not possible for them, because the Cygner only master the primary telepathy, not the spirit-telepathy.

Billy:

Oh so, then they are planet bound with this telepathy form. But there is one thing that does not make sense to me about the whole thing: Why don't the twits get in touch with you? Why are they trying to come to me or to come into contact with me of all things?

Semjase:

14. There is a very precise explanation for this:

15. The Cygner represent a human race whose senses are highly sensitised to swinging-waves from outside their own bodies, but only in planetary or ship-internal regions.

16. Thus they are able to receive and analyse swinging-waves of all life forms.

17. And here lies the answer to your question:

18. The Cygner have a form of government on their homeworlds, which your Earth-humans designate as herd instinct, but which is nevertheless led by the strongest of the herd.

19. So this order is a resemblance of a herd order in animals, the strongest of which exercises the position of the leading animal.

20. Since the Cygner had held this form of government since time immemorial, they changed it in the course of the last millennia only to the extent that they replaced the strongest of their kind with the most knowledgeable in spiritual matters, who thus was also the one who emits the highest swinging-waves, which is synonymous with the most powerful swinging-waves.

21. Thus, it is only natural that on foreign worlds, when they visit such worlds intentionally or unintentionally, the Cygner search for their kind and their form of government also for the highest spirit-knowledge-based swinging-waves of this world and, if necessary, turn to it when they need it.

22. And through your spiritual-teaching [a.k.a. Creation-energy] based learning and your knowledge you are the person on the Earth who gives off this highest swinging-wave from himself.

23. This again means for the Cygner that, for them, you are that form of life on this world, in respect of that mentioned, above which no other form of life stands.

24. This alone can be the reason why they try to connect with you.

...

Billy:

Nevertheless, there are some things that do not make sense to me, for example, why these twits do not turn to you or to the other groups, because all of you have decidedly several times higher swinging-waves than me.

Semjase:

26. Your thoughts are very logical, but you forget that we have to leave our swinging-waves in our station, or in our ships, to be absorbed by them, in order not to influence the Earth-human beings through them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_093

Billy:

... How did it actually end with the Cygner girl who you fetched last Saturday, November 26th, after my calling?

Semjase:

98. Everyone is with us at the station, including her ship, whose intergalactic propulsion was destroyed by an explosion.

99. The Cygners have a very ancient technology, which was passed to them less than 4000 years ago, for which we do not have the necessary knowledge.

100. For this reason, it will take a long time before we have repaired the ship, after which it will be returned to the homeworld.

Billy:

But spare parts could be brought in from the home planet.

Semjase:

101. Unfortunately this is not possible, because for this outdated technology the necessary knowledge is missing there, too, and furthermore the Cygners are technologically absolutely untalented, which is why they are not able to repair their technological devices, etc. themselves.

...

103. They were underway for four long years, more than two years of which they drove in free fall through space, after the explosion of the propulsion unit.

Billy:

By free fall, you mean they were drifting through space without a drive, right?

Semjase:

104. Certainly.

...

106. They spent the time in artificial deep sleep and therefore needed no food.

Billy:

I understand – maybe they were still lying in water tanks and were woken up by a robot after a long bath.

Semjase:

107. Sure, but how do you know?

Billy:

I have seen such scenes in utopian movies before. Are you twisting my arm?

Semjase:

108. That is no joke.

...

Billy:

... Man oh man, then the fantasies of the utopian writers are not even far-fetched.

...

Semjase:

113. I will ask Asina.

Billy:

That's how the little child introduced herself to me.

Semjase:

114. Sure, Asina is a very kind being.

...

Billy:

Then the little girl pressed her cold fish-frog beak to your cheek? It seemed to me like a kiss.

Semjase:

117. Sure, and it should also be a kiss, because that is the Cygner's regular greeting form.

Billy:

... But tell me, why did they not use their radios or something when their ship's propulsion exploded?

Semjase:

118. Because the remote communication devices were also destroyed.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_096

Billy:

... So I sent my spiritual consciousness to Erra and found a rather strange building there, which somehow magically attracted me. So I penetrated into a room that seemed to me like a supermodern operating theatre. There were various containers, which seemed to me like glass shrines, but equipped with all kinds of possible and impossible devices and apparatuses. All but one container were empty. In the occupied one, Semjase lay completely undressed and obviously deep-frozen – dead. Her head lay in a horseshoe-shaped, opaque apparatus, which is why I was only able to see her face exactly. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_097

Billy:

... But now again a question regarding the Sonaer, who are so highly developed: What's their technology?

Quetzal:

36. It already corresponds to forms that we ourselves cannot yet understand.

37. They are far superior to us in the control of space and time, but also in all other things.

Billy:

How, for example, do they master time and space to reach Erra, and how do they master the passage through the barriers of the universe?

Quetzal:

38. They no longer need space-hurrying aircraft for this, because their technology is already anchored in the transmitter area and profoundly embedded.

...

50. The reason that we cannot connect with you human beings of the Earth in physical form is this:

51. The levels of swinging waves between the human being on the Earth and us are so fundamentally different and pronounced in the forms of the negative and the positive as well as the balanced that this can lead to serious consequences if they touch each other.

52. As a rule, these human swinging waves reach up to 90 meters, which is why it must be ensured that this distance is not broached, i.e. that terrestrial humans do not reach us under this distance mark.

53. Our swinging waves are very highly sensitive, and we ourselves react equally highly sensitively to oscillations that penetrate our oscillation range.

54. In contrast to the terrestrial humans, we are very high in our consciousness-based overall development, 20-35 million years ahead of the terrestrial humans, which is why our entire swinging wave system has refined.

55. If the swinging waves of the much less sensitive human being on the Earth were to strike us now, precisely because earthly human, and thus also quite unbalanced and negative swinging waves, would penetrate into the area of our swinging waves, then this would amount to a very strong swinging wave structural agitation, which in reality also embodies it, which would have the consequence that the strong external influence would lead to an instantaneous uncontrollability of all reactions, thoughts and actions in us, which would at the same time trigger uncontrolled feelings of fear.

56. This means that when the swinging waves of an Earth-human meet us, who unfortunately still emits very negative swinging waves today, we would be affected in many respects in momentary speed and start to act uncontrollably, which was also the case with Semjase when she fell in the Centre and suffered the severe injury.

57. As a rule, when we go among terrestrial people, which is very rarely the case, we use a device that protects us from terrestrial human swinging waves.

58. But this was never necessary for you, because you are free of these swinging waves through all your knowledge and equalisedness, according to which it comes very close to ours.

59. In the Center now a certain protective ring, a small protective screen, was established, which keeps away such swinging waves of the terrestrial humans.

60. This protective shield, however, is only of limited strength, so only directly for the Centre itself, but in the lower space still weak radiation from outside can enter if someone goes directly to the entrance or to the outer wall.

61. Now, when Jacobus was at the outer door, his swinging wave penetrated to Semjase and produced in it the fear and uncontrollability I described earlier, which drove her to an uncontrolled action.

62. The consequences of this are known to you.

63. These swinging wave structure agitations, which are dangerous for us, together with our strict directives, are the main reason why we are not allowed to engage in physical contact with terrestrial humans.

64. Even with our telepathic or even only inspirational-impulse-based contacts we have to exercise extreme caution, because thrown back impulse-based swinging waves also have similar effects.

Billy:

Then you are quite susceptible.

Quetzal:

65. You are speaking a true word, but our sensitivity in this regard is not only based on our evolution, because our homeland is also a very important factor in this, because it itself is highly sensitised, which does not remain untainted to us human life forms.

Billy:

I do not quite understand that, Quetzal, but I have been trying to fathom it for a long time. Semjase once made a rather strange remark to me. This led me to speculate, which is why I assume that you live on your Pleiades in a differently dimensioned form. By this I mean that you are probably up there in our universe and in our time, as Semjase once explained to me, but that you are dimensionally shifted, namely in a parallel system of our Pleiades. ...

...

Quetzal:

74. But this does not change anything, because we are just as compact and present in this dimension of ours as we are in that of our Pleiades systems, because we are descended from this dimension and also from your dimension.

75. Why we live in a parallel dimension on Erra and in our Plejades systems, in general, is due to the fact that the Pleiades systems are not habitable for us in this dimension, your dimension, and could not be made habitable by our ancestors either, because the system for habitation is still much too young for us in this dimension.

Billy:

Your explanation is plausible, but what is the nature of the Pleiades system in the other dimension? Is it as solid as our Earth?

Quetzal:

76. It is a parallel dimension, that is what I said, therefore matter is also of the same strength as the Earth's matter.

77. The dimensions are simply different in their structure, but not in time and space.

...

Quetzal:

99. ... I know from Semjase that she is very comfortable with your jokes.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_102

Billy:

... Are the Cygners still with you? ...

Menara:

15. She will still be here for several months, because the repair of the interstellar propulsion of her ship has turned out to be very difficult.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_109

Billy:

... But tell me, girl, the apple there beside the viewing screen, have you stolen that from somewhere?

...

Semjase:

7. It comes from the greenhouses of my father.

Billy:

You mean that it is from Ptaah's giant box, that it grew there and was harvested?

Semjase:

8. Definitely.

Billy:

Aha, then you also have such fruits, as we know them here on the Earth.

Semjase:

9. Sure, but they were not originally native fruits of Erra.

10. The apple is from a tree, which comes from a progeny of earthly trees.

Billy:

Oh, I see, so you have fruit trees that were taken from the Earth, which you simply continue to cultivate, and you also let these bloom and bear fruit in your Great Spacer. So what kinds of trees do you have, then?

Semjase:

11. We possess trees, shrubs, and plants of every kind, as they also exist on the Earth.

12. There are even various kinds in our greenhouses, which have already been extinct on the Earth for a very long time.

13. But we have preserved them and have made them useful to us.

14. Thus, we have all fruits, as they are also known on the Earth with you, and even several more, which you only know through your researchers of antiquity, etc.

Billy:

That is fantastic. And – how do these fruits taste today with you? Do they still have the same taste, as we know it?

Semjase:

15. You think now of this apple.

16. Sure, the taste has remained the same; it is, perhaps, even somewhat more intense than with your apples of this sort, and certainly much better in its juice.

17. But all the other fruit trees from the Earth also bear fruit with the tastes or flavours known to you; it's just that these, as I have already explained, have become somewhat more intense since our robots and androids maintaining the trees work on these very attentively and also have great concern for them, as this happens with all plants cultivated by them.

(Billy took the large apple and brought it home with him, where he handed it over to Guido Moosbrugger, who then inserted the apple into a glass of alcohol and made it durable in this manner. The apple still exists today and is still in the same glass under the care of Guido.)

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_115

Billy:

... how does it actually stand with you all on Erra, with regard to marriage? You, Quetzal, are you actually married, and if so, how many children do you have? And you, Ptaah, your wife, is she your only one?

Ptaah:

25. The law of love has overall universal validity, only that it very often becomes changed by the most diverse human races according to their own human and illogical negative values; thus, they often create a monogamous marriage, which is literally restricted to only one woman and one man for such a marriage and such a family; thus, the truthfulness of monogamy – as you have so aptly disassembled for me once – no longer applies.

28. Well then, I was married to three women, which corresponds to the minimum value of a We-Form-Partnership of universal expanse.

29. Nevertheless, out of the three, the only one living is the mother of my deceased son and my two daughters, for the other two have left me by means of death – the one already more than 300 years ago and the other one more than 360 years ago.

Billy:

Aha, and how many years old is your still remaining wife?

Ptaah:

30. 630 years.

...

Billy:

Well, thanks for your information. So what about you, Quetzal?

Semjase:

362. He is pampered by four very beautiful women and has 6 children with them.

Billy:

You smile so suspiciously, girl; you seem to be really happy about it?

Semjase:

363. Sure, his wives are my best friends, and they always wish that I shall become the fifth in their alliance.

Billy:

And, Quetzal, what do you say to that?

Quetzal:

40. Semjase and I are of another opinion than my wives.

Billy:

And why, if one may ask?

Semjase:

364. I would not like to marry again.

365. On the one hand, because the loss of a human being by death gives me very much grief, and on the other hand, because I have found a very important task in my activities, which can hardly be reconciled with a marriage.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_119

Quetzal:

1. Even our possibilities are limited.
2. You are only looking at everything from the perspective of an earthly standpoint, whereby you overestimate our technology, at least in this case.

Billy:

That is possible, and I see, therefore, that even for you, limits are set in certain matters of technology.

Quetzal:

3. That is of correctness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_121

Billy:

What are the recordings stored on?

Menara:

92. They are very small electronic storage disks the size of a normal female thumbnail.

Billy:

Aha, and you could not have lost such a storage element?

Menara:

93. No, with absolute certainty not.

94. There would only be the possibility that one of the elements would be defective, by which means recordings would be missing.

95. I will immediately let it be checked.

98. Yes, you were right with your assumption that something was lost, but it was not a storage element but rather a microscopically small connecting piece between two tiny storage cells, by which means the recordings were not played.

99. They were recorded, however, and thus, I know the data now.

100. I am sorry that this misfortune has happened to me.

101. Somehow, I must have damaged the element during a manipulation.

{Note: The following excerpt refers to a detailed history of the Plejaren civilization and their expeditions to Earth and the Solar system given in Contact Report 70.}

Billy:

... Then I have a somewhat complicated question: through various calculations, I have, another time, encountered the fact that something cannot be right with the dimensions of our present, from this to the Centaurus groups as well as to Lyra and Vega and even to the Pleiades.

According to my calculations, these suns and planets addressed – of which there was already often talk between Semjase, Quetzal and me as well as between Ptaah and me – would really have to be in other dimensions, as it was said to me repeatedly. This would, therefore, actually mean that their Lyra and Vega human beings, and still some others, are just as non-existent in our present dimension as also the Pleiadians and the Centaurus human beings. And if my calculations are right, then you all would have to live just a fraction of a second in the future to our space-time configuration, which for us, however, results in a difference of several thousand years, with regard to technological development. But how this is connected, that is a riddle to me, and it could even be very difficult to understand. But Ptaah once spoke of the fact that on that or on a planet of the Centaurus groups, a people lives in overpopulation, which comprises about 120 billion (120,000,000,000), so these, then, would have to live in the future, as seen by us. On the other hand, I also calculated that at that time – around twenty-two million years ago, when the events took place in the Lyra and Vega area, which eventually led to the visits to our Earth – at that time, through some skillful manipulations, the Lyra and Vega refugees fell into the past and so penetrated into our space-time level. With certainty, this was no so-called chance but rather a full calculation. This arose from my contemplation of the fact that the technology of your ancestors was already so widely developed at that time that these would have tracked and found the refugees with certainty. But since that was not the case, the refugees must have retreated into areas that fell outside of the control of the pursuers. But concerning this, there are only two possibilities, so namely the past or the future. But as I know the things now, the refugees were not able to venture into the future, so only the past remained open to them, to where they then actually also retreated. And because the past comprises millions of years and even billions of years in a life-potential form, the pursuit was given up, but this, in turn, means that the technology of your ancestors was not yet developed so far that they would have been able to carry out detections in the areas of the past or the future. ...

49. In this case, however, it is such that these flying objects are fine-material and not bio-organic and that these, depending on preference and need, are generated by powers of consciousness from a very highly developed, human dwarf race, whose size amounts to approximately 70 cm, whereby I speak of body height.

50. This race, which is even unknown to us, is fine-dimensioned and stands in the advice of the High Council ...

Billy:

... But how is it in this respect on the Pleiades, do you still have large and open areas?

Semjase:

20. Sure, because firstly, we keep our population at the number of the natural state, and secondly, every inhabitant of our worlds is careful to ensure that kilometre-wide areas remain free of any buildings.

21. We love the freedom and the vastness of the land, which is why everything is arranged in such a manner that a crowding never results.

22. Thus, the large settlements, the cities, are limited to a minimum number, as is also the case with the villages.

23. All the individual residential buildings, however, in which families live with no more than five persons, comprise a square of 100 × 100 metres outside the cities and villages.

Billy:

You mean that five people at most – and so, therefore, a family – live in such a square parcel of land and that also their house stands on this piece of land.

Semjase:

24. Sure.

25. About one-third of our population lives in such a manner, while the other two-thirds of our population are concentrated in the few cities and villages, but they are fitted with very large wooded or low planted parklands underground and above ground.

26. Also, every small or large residential building – in which more or less families live, like with you in the multi-family dwellings – is equipped with a 100 × 100-metre large park garden, which is jointly used, however, by all inhabitants of the city dwelling or village dwelling concerned.

Billy:

I find that fantastic. So thus, each high-rise building or apartment building has its own park?

Semjase:

27. Sure.

...

Billy:

And, how is the weather on Erra? Do you have anything better thereof?

Semjase:

29. With us, there is no severe weather and there are no natural disasters, such as are common in the current time on Earth.

Oh, I see, then you are probably the reason why the cattle are so restless up there on the southeastern slope of the forest.

Quetzal:

4. That may very well be, because Menara is with the cows, which she is fond of and with which she is gladly occupied.

Semjase:

24. If we had put one of our androids in your position, then he would have destroyed himself if all of this illogicalness had arisen.

Billy:

You have strange jokes in stock.

Semjase:

25. No, because my words correspond to the truth.

26. We actually expected too much from you; a test has proven this.

27. Quetzal came up with the idea.

28. He wanted to know to what extent a half-organic apparatus could bear the illogicalness that has crept into the group.

...

32. Quetzal programmed an android with all records of negating and negative forms of all group members.

33. The results were awful.

34. These stored illogical modes of acting and thinking led to the fact that the android became crazy in all of its actions and speeches.

36. Our androids are programmed based on absolute logic in thinking and acting, and these abilities surpass even our own respective abilities and potential.

37. Now, during the transfer of data, Quetzal also paid close attention to the fact that your own data of your work and all your efforts toward the instruction of the group members and all their interests became programmed into the second android. Thus, the exact situation arose in the two androids, which included everything that happened between you and the group members since the beginning. On the one hand, the overall view of the group members was placed into the first android, and on the other hand, your data was placed into the second android.

38. Expecting something terrible to happen, Quetzal placed both androids in an old beamship in the vicinity of the planet Pluto, where he then activated them and they began to live.

39. Then, on our view screens, we could watch the terrible sight.

40. Already after a few minutes, the android programmed with your data began to become visibly ill, while our recording devices registered an action of complete helplessness.

41. Soon, completely apathetically, it wanted to destroy itself, but then suddenly, in the very next moment, it senselessly and angrily raised its voice.

42. Meanwhile, the second android spoke absolutely crazy words without thinking and manipulated all of the ship's apparatuses without sense or purpose.

43. Despite the visible internal difficulty of the android programmed with your data, it tried, again and again, to bring the other android, stored with the illogical data, to its senses, which it apparently managed to do quite often.

44. But truthly, this was only apparent, for as our recording devices clearly determined, the attempts of reconciliation and reason only worked so far that the logic of the words of the android representing you released reassuring impulses, while the second android did not at all have in mind to make the logical explanations its own.

45. The investigations of the registry devices unambiguously proved that the negatively programmed android had developed a blatant form of self-addiction, egoism, and individualism, as well as a lust for power and, despite the superficial acknowledgment of the logical explanations offered to it, etc., was unwilling to actually adopt them.

46. Truthly, as the recording devices unambiguously showed, it only wanted its own will to count and to enforce it, which finally went so far that your android rapidly deteriorated and suddenly became crazy.

47. As we could see from our devices, his artificial organic brain mass slowly began to cook and to steam.

48. Then, there was an explosion, and his head was torn up beyond all recognition.

49. Meanwhile, the other android, who only cared about this briefly, continued to act completely illogically and, moreover, spoke very confused and crazy things.

50. Then the moment came when he wildly and senselessly hit the ship's equipment and created an inferno, when he accidentally touched the automatic self-destruct mechanism of the ship, and it was destroyed in an immense explosion.

51. For us, it was proof that we had expected inhuman traits from you.

52. What an android cannot take, a human life form cannot take either.

53. Only through Quetzal's test could we grasp the full scope of what had caved in on you over all the years.

82. For about forty days, there has been another station on Earth, created by human life forms, similar to us, of extraterrestrial intelligences from the planet HASTER in the GARON system of the JENAM galaxy.

83. This galaxy is located 483 million light-years away from the Earth, and 413 different human races live on the habitable planets there throughout the entire galaxy, which is, relatively seen, very little for an entire galaxy.

84. Just a few years ago, we entered into connection with the highly sophisticated inhabitants of the planet Haster, who have progressed so far in their overall development as it will be for the Earth-humans in approximately 1,120 years.

85. With ethically and very highly distinct lifestyles, the inhabitants of Haster are very peaceful and loving, and besides this, they live in the same time-level as the SOL system, thus, in the present level, as this would be said or called by you.

86. Because the Haster inhabitants are now interested in life forms in the remote vastness of the Universe which is still inaccessible to them but cannot yet reach these areas with their technology, we have extended our connections with them in such a way that we brought an expeditionary command of the Haster inhabitants here in the Great Spacer.

87. We also helped them build their station, which was created in the depths of the North Sea and from where they will expand their expeditionary work across the whole world.

88. Since their mental, physical, and consciousness-related development has not yet progressed as far as ours, we can only maintain physical contact with them using our swinging wave-neutralising devices, as we must also do so with the Earth-humans when it is necessary now and then.

89. However, this now means that the Haster inhabitants can freely move among the Earth-humans because their swinging waves turn out to be bearable with those of the Earth-humans, but only briefly.

90. The Haster inhabitants cannot remain in the direct range of the swinging waves of the Earth-humans for more than 17 hours; otherwise, they begin to lose control of themselves.

91. But since they have this 17-hour possibility, they have decided that they will seek contact with one or several Earth-humans for their study purposes and also for the instruction of the Earth-humans, but certainly with no more than three people, who must remain silent about it for their lifetimes, which is why especially upright people are to be selected for these contacts, who can be completely trusted.

Semjase:

9. The few human races in the area of the Cassiopeia constellation in another space-time configuration are well-known to us, but they have no resemblance to the life-forms mentioned in this letter.

10. Also, their flying apparatus do not correspond in any manner to the kind described here, and besides, their technology is not so far and highly developed that they could, with their own flying apparatuses, reach the Earth.

11. The technology of one of the two races is presently developed so far that they prepare just the first flight attempts to outer space, and they stand just a little bit behind Earth's technological development.

12. The second race, which is on another planet behind the Cassiopeia constellation, only has flying apparatuses that master their own planetary space somewhat certainly.

13. Among these facts is the further complication that both of these races of human life-forms exist in a different time plane in relation to the Earth, like I said, so separated from the time plane that is known to the Earth human being and in which they live.

14. So when the human beings of the Cassiopeia constellation one day master space travel, they still will not be able, for a long time, to penetrate into the time plane in which the Earth-humans live their existence.

Billy:

And in our time plane known to us, no human life-forms exist, who would be capable of space flight in Cassiopeia, i.e. in that area?

Semjase:

15. Sure, there are human beings there, but these are not yet advanced in space flight or are not yet so far advanced that they could carry out journeys through universal space.

16. Like on the Earth, secret stations of foreign-planet human races exist there on their planet, which do not, however, practice direct contact with the planet's inhabitants.

...

Billy:

... how many of all solar systems have planets that are actually inhabited by humans, which are visible from the Earth and which are known to us? If one believed all alleged contact reports of Earth-humans with extraterrestrials, practically all solar systems would be inhabited.

Semjase:

18. Truly, there are only very few solar systems inhabited by human life-forms that are known to the Earth-humans, and on the other hand, a lot of suns have no planetary systems.

19. To these facts, there is still to add that many of the space-traveling races that come to the Earth are not resident in the time plane known to the Earth-humans.

Billy:

Ah, we already spoke very often about space-traveling human races that do not belong to you and which come, nevertheless, to the Earth. In which time plane do they all belong?

Semjase:

20. It is different for each.

21. To mention all of them would be difficult and time-consuming.

Billy:

Then let's say, for example, the humans of the area of Alpha Centauri, then Reticuli, or whatever it is, then...

Semjase:

22. The first ones live a tiny fraction of a second shifted from the Earth-time plane, so therefore, they cannot be reached by Earth inhabitants before they master time-travel.

23. The second human race you mentioned also does not live in the same time plane as the Earth-humans.

Semjase:

22. These conflicts within him {"H.", possibly Hans Schutzbach} finally led him to the case because through his steady insistence of getting in touch with me, I allowed myself to be led to approach him in my ship so close that he came into my personal swinging wave field.

23. Thus, he suddenly became aware of the true love and peace, which seemed like a paradise to him.

24. But disaster immediately fell upon him when I went away again and he fell out of my swinging wave field.

25. It seemed like the end of the world to him, which made him deal with suicidal intentions, from which I was able to prevent him only with great difficulty.

26. For this reason, I tried to influence him to the better through my own swinging-waves, but this was clearly wrong because he only responded to any attempt to help him on my part by starting to pity himself more and more, and at last, a dangerous hatred built up inside of him against everything that has to do with calm, peace, and love, as well as with truth.

Quetzal:

32. This is also the reason why our own keeping of animals on Erra is uniformly handled in such a manner that dogs and cats may only live in the wild or in special and very large enclosures, to which the human beings have no direct access.

33. Already very early on, our scientists of the past recognised what pathogens these animals carry on themselves, which are dangerous for human beings, which is why they arranged appropriate measures for their keeping.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_150

Quetzal:

40. Not only did we have to remove all of our available forces from the Earth, but also from many other worlds, including Erra.

41. We need all available forces because the population of a whole system, which includes 16 inhabited planets and three suns, has prepared itself for a space traversal in warlike form because their system is doomed.

42. The targets of these still war-accustomed humans are the habitable planets of the most diverse constellations, whereby also the SOL-System is included, and thus the Earth.

43. These rather inhumane human life-forms are willing to kill the inhabitants of the planets they have chosen in order to gain their own living space.

44. On the one hand, our forces now prevent these life-forms from realising their plans by breaking out into space, but on the other hand, further of our forces systematically resettle the populations of the various endangered planets in uninhabited but easily habitable areas, while another part of our forces looks for new habitable and suitable planets on which the rest of these human beings can be settled and relocated.

Billy:

Incredible, but cannot the Lyrians and Vegans also help you with that?

Quetzal:

45. We have also included many forces of theirs for this task; another part of them will take over on the Earth at the end of this month, as I explained to you earlier.

Billy:

I know you spoke of the fact that Menara's father, brother and sister will come here, along with 35 others.

Quetzal:

46. That is of correctness, but these 38 human beings only represent the first wave that will take over our own station and our tasks.

47. Ours and both of those two other stations, America and Asia, will be fully staffed with our allies.

Billy:

So with Vegans and Lyrians – and, are they all differently coloured?

Quetzal:

48. You say that they are chocolate brown.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_151

Billy:

But then, I have a question: How do you handle such cases on Erra?

Quetzal:

28. We know of no such problems because every human being on our world abides by the unwritten laws and recommendations.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_153

Quetzal:

95. Our linguistic computers speak very fluently and even correctly emphasise when they are stored and programmed with human voices.

...

Billy:

... the group members should be given the opportunity to be able to direct all personal questions and other questions of interest to them to a special computer, which will then answer their questions for them using the best of logic. ...

...

Quetzal:

100. The computer will not be in this room because it is a device designed by me, which is to be installed in the telemeter disc located high above the Centre.

101. In the aforementioned room, there will only be earthly apparatuses and equipment, which will transmit the voices of the group members to the computer and which, in turn, will also let the voice of the computer in space become audible.

103. It is also necessary that this apparatus hovers very high above the Earth because it will not have certain data stored in it, which must then be retrieved from the central computer in the station.

Billy:

Aha, now I understand. Now, it interests me only whether a meditative process will be necessary for a question?

Quetzal:

104. No, because the question has to occur acoustically and through a microphone.

105. But for this, it is also necessary that the psyche is very balanced; otherwise, the computer will not release an answer to the questions directed to it.

106. Thus, this necessary balance must be present in the human beings, so that questions are accepted and answered.

...

Billy:

And how do the females among you hold up, now, with the creation of the balance, if you even have such question-and-answer computers at all?

Quetzal:

111. Those actually are there with us, and they are used very often.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_157

Quetzal:

79. Until we meet again, my friend; I am suddenly freezing.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_164

Quetzal:

11. Nevertheless, these strangers, who are sometimes well-known to me, do not disturb me because I am also protected against them.

12. They also cannot see me.

Billy:

Then I understand nothing more at all. Tell me at last, where are the difficulties to be found?

Quetzal:

13. The difficulties are to be found in the swinging waves.

14. My device only works properly, in reference to the shielding of swinging waves and their neutralisation, if the group members of the watch, etc., are not approaching me in a range closer than 70 centimetres.

17. All that, however, causes no difficulties for me, for I have constructed my device in such a manner that upon approaches of individual group members and according to their swinging wave ranges that are dangerous for me, I am automatically removed from the danger zone by the device as soon as the persons concerned come closer to me than the safety threshold of 38 centimetres beyond the distance of the swinging wave measurement that is dangerous for me.

18. The mechanical possibilities for such manipulations, however, lie in an area with a maximum of 9 metres, so I can, therefore, protect myself in this manner up to this distance.

19. If I would now find myself somewhere, where I have no exact overview – thus, I cannot see a threat early on when someone approaches me, having swinging waves that are dangerous for me and that are beyond the 9-metre distance, then it could be fatal for me.

20. If I stand or sit somewhere and someone approaches me, whose danger limit for me is beyond the 9 metres mentioned, then everything would lead to a bad end.

Billy:

But you still have the alarm device that warns you about it, when someone is within 500 metres.

Quetzal:

21. The stronger energies of my device make the function of this warning device impossible.

Billy:

But then, why does your bucket function with strangers when they are standing on the promontory or on the new path, etc.?

Quetzal:

22. From a 14-metre radius from my person, an apparatus in my flying apparatus takes over the monitoring.

23. If a corresponding warning arises, then this is transmitted to my carrying device, through which this enters into function without any time delay.

24. But now, if someone moves in the circle between 9 and 14 metres around me and is dangerous for me in their swinging waves, in this 9 to 14-metre circle, then there is no protection but only mortal danger.

Billy:

But why do you leave this 4 or 5-metre circle open? You could, nevertheless, also protect yourself for this distance, right?

Quetzal:

25. Unfortunately no.

26. For the time being, the possibility with a carrying device is still fully exhausted at 9 metres, in reference to its function.

27. But after this distance, there must be a neutral ring of at least 4 metres, so that the energies and surveillance equipment of my aircraft can operate and work.

28. If this safety belt did not exist, then the energies of my carrying device and those of the ship would collide with each other or overflow into one another, through which a destruction of the equipment would come about.

...

Billy:

But I do not yet understand, who among us is a danger for you? You said yourself that the extreme danger of a little over 7 metres lies with our people.

Quetzal:

31. I told you, however, that someone else is present, who is to be reckoned as outside of the group members.

Billy:

I do not understand that.

Quetzal:

32. W.

Billy:

W.?

Quetzal:

33. That is of correctness, and he is a constant and ever increasing danger for me.

34. In the extreme case, he may only come 13 metres and 71 centimetres close to me.

35. Closer than this mark, I run a great risk.

Billy:

That is puzzling to me.

Quetzal:

36. His sense toward us is not good; it is even strangely hostile and interspersed with thoughts that exhibit doubts regarding our actual existence.

...

Billy:

Yes, but something else just came to me: somehow, it seems to be illogical to me concerning W., that you cannot shield yourself against him. I think that beyond the 14-metre limit, your apparatuses in the spaceship react, through which you will be taken out of danger?

Quetzal:

70. Unfortunately, that is impossible because in regards to W., I must store him programmatically in my apparatuses and devices, according to which he does not fall within the range of the warning of strangers.

71. But if I would store him as a stranger, then he would be removed from the closeness warning.

72. Unfortunately, these devices cannot be constructed differently, at least not for the time being.

Quetzal:

37. All data of ours and also that of other groups working with us are separately and directly sent to a central office on Erra, where they are evaluated by coordination, and then, the appropriate decisions are made.

38. We strictly adhere to this so that we can carry on our work correctly and without influence.

39. This is a fact that the Earth-humans can hardly understand, which brings us a lot of advantages, however.

Quetzal:

78. Talking is purely a communicative device, a means for understanding, so this should only be used for this purpose.

Billy:

Yes, Sfath even said this, explaining that language serves only for communication, and the communication contains only everything that is of a harmonious nature, which is why there are human races that only communicate with each other in song/musical form.

...

Quetzal:

81. In your ranks, you should at least consider being active at times in this form, namely with singing.

...

83. It should be made a duty by an ordinal rule because without this harmony, what is required will never be reached.

...

84. ... even we and still more highly developed humans cannot help but be harmoniously active in this form, by which means also our feelings and thoughts, etc. become more peaceful, calmer, and also more affectionate.

Billy:

This, I can vividly imagine, especially since I have previously heard you singing rather often – together with several others, as well as alone.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_172

Quetzal:

49. Your earthly mission obviously allows you to find ways in your mind to obtain absolute, egalitarian brotherly love and universal love, which still remains closed to us, so I ask you, please, to speak with me about this at an appropriate time and by order of our spiritual leaders on Erra, and about other very important things, through which you can be helpful to us if you would agree to this?

...

54. That is of correctness because at least with respect to the aforementioned, we and our intellectual leaders need your teachings and instructions.

Billy:

By your 'intellectual leaders', you probably mean 'spiritual leaders', right?

Quetzal:

55. That is of correctness.

56. These are very wise men and women on our home planet, who teach and lead our people as leaders, as well as publicise the advice of the High Council.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_173

Quetzal:

8. We all feel at home in the Center {Semjase Silver Star Center}, which is why we very often spend all of our leisure time there – all of us who are from Erra as well as all those whose homeworlds are different from ours but who, nevertheless, fulfil their duties here on the Earth and cooperate with us.

9. And for this reason, I would ask you to make it clear to your group members that from now on, they must be prepared every now and then to meet humans at night, in or around the Center, who are foreign to the Earth, and in this context, there is also the possibility that light phenomena, etc. will appear if materialisations of our allies occur and so on.

14. Moreover, a conversation would be impossible in many cases because many of us and our allies do not master any earthly languages but only understand these through the use of translators, which may not be in operation as a result of a certain purpose-driven order from our home centre that is connected to such a visit.

15. Thus, every difficulty can be avoided if on the part of the group members, no attempts of contact are made, neither through any attempts of communication nor through any attempts of physical contact.

16. This must be made completely clear to the group members because such attempts could be misinterpreted, by which means there could be a defensive reaction which, under certain circumstances, would produce rather unpleasant consequences for that particular group member, if he/she would be struck by a paralysis swinging wave or by the force of a stun gun, such things finding their use among our various allies during a fright-reaction.

17. So it is fitting that neither attempts of address nor attempts of physical contact take place if there is an encounter, whether the outer appearance of the respective visitor appears to be so very human, according to Earth's sense, or whether it appears to be completely foreign to the Earth.

18. It may be that every night, they will be visiting among you because in truth, the entire number of visitors to the Center amounts to 2,862 life-forms.

...

Billy:

That is a right amount of human beings, man oh man. And if you speak of all, then that means that actually everyone comes, thus the small elves, just as also the largest ones, the middle-grade ones, the luminous ones, the ones with luminous eyes, and all others.

Quetzal:

22. That is of correctness.

23. The largest of our allies, Andron, is 5 metres and 26 centimetres tall {17' 3"} according to earthly measures, and then there is Danel under him, who is 2 metres and 48 centimetres tall {8' 2"}.

24. The smallest ones are around 70 centimetres tall {2' 4"}, and then there are those whose eyes illuminate very brightly and whose eyes are on the upper forehead of the skull.

Billy:

I know, but then there are those whose entire bodies fluoresce, or those whose bodies illuminate radiantly, along with those who always practice gymnastics on elevated places, such as on rooftops and trees, etc.

Quetzal:

25. That is of correctness, but in addition to these, there are still other variously-formed life-forms, but they are all of human genus and species.

Billy:

Yes, of course, such as one, of whom someone might think that a rubber ball rolls across the ground.

Quetzal:

26. That is of correctness; this is also under them.

40. The three days on Erra will be strenuous for you, and you will hardly find any sleep during this time.

Billy:

You can give me your 'special food' and your 'special drinks', which expel sleepiness.

Quetzal:

42. Those will be necessary either way, nevertheless, it is appropriate that you find plenty of sleep.

... Yet I think that what you can do with your people on Erra, that should also be good and inexpensive for the Earth-humans. Just the fact that you do a lot of regular duty work on Erra between the sixth and eighth hour of the morning and after that, you can leave and do what you want, I have found that to be very fine and reasonable ...

...

Billy:

... But tell me, you always speak as though you yourself would see it as the Plejaren do. How does this happen, since you come, nevertheless, from the Vega and Lyra systems?

Taljda:

37. The Plejaren, as you call them, thus our mutual friends, originally came from our systems, assuming that we take as a reference point that period when their ancestors left our systems.

38. Unlike the Earth-humans, the direct contact between the emigrants and those who remained on the homeworlds has been maintained and preserved up to the present day, even though much has changed in the wise of life and in the overall development of both poles, different forms of technology developed and differences more or less also appeared in the overall evolution.

...

Billy:

... I estimate that you are about the same age as Semjase. Is that right?

Taljda:

41. In terms of age, I am somewhat younger because since my birth, 314 years have passed.

...

Billy:

... My question should be whether your average age of your life expectancy is also around a thousand years, as this is the case with the Plejaren.

Taljda:

43. In this regard, the average age with us is set a little lower, namely at 987 years.

Billy:

Yesterday, we talked about the fact that the aid agencies, which operate their craft here on Earth, are actually profit-gangster organizations because they only provide their so-called assistance for a fee, whereby they put aside a large portion of the cash donations for their own machinations, such as for compensation, etc. What do you think of this – and do you also have aid agencies for people in need of assistance?

Quetzal:

1. Such aid agencies do exist with us, however, not in relation to our own people, but rather in the context of the assistance that we provide for other peoples who belong to our federation, respectively who are cared for by our federation, because they still live in lower levels of development and are not yet in a position to bring themselves to a state of their own assistance.

Billy:

Interesting, but this does not contradict your directives, which state that you may not interfere in the affairs of foreign worlds and peoples, who are not yet developed far enough to be able to master spaceflight?

Quetzal:

2. Concerning the peoples, to whom we can provide assistance, on the one hand, it concerns those who are arranged into our federation for the purpose of protection, and on the other hand, the fact applies that they know very much about spaceflight technology and, thus, also about the existence of other civilizations on other planets, and they also stand in connection with these; however, they are not yet in a position to manage their own affairs in such a way that they would not have to suffer any need.

Billy:

Aha, now I understand. But how do you handle the matters around these aid agencies? Are profits also made there, and are relief goods, etc. set aside as compensation for giving assistance, as this is the case with the earthly aid agencies? By the way, I find this to be extremely infamous because I am of the view that assistance should never be handled in any way that involves repayment and profit. In my opinion, an aid agency should consist of people who should not provide assistance in order to be repaid but who should provide it voluntarily in their leisure time and, thus, without compensation.

Quetzal:

3. That is also of correctness.

4. What exists on the Earth in the so-called aid agencies must honestly be described as profiteering and as deceiving the donors of the relief goods because – especially with respect to the monetary contributions, respectively the cash donations – a large percentage is set aside for the machinations and the compensations of those members of the organization, who do not provide their assistance voluntarily but only for a respectable compensation.

5. All such activity is absolutely unacceptable with us because all our helpers of all aid agencies, which operate both privately as well as for the whole population, work free of charge and use their leisure time for this.

...

Billy:

... Sometimes, I must confess that I am ashamed when I see how women let themselves be degraded or be humiliated by men, when I see how men treat women like dirt – they beat, prostitute, exploit, and rob them of their personal opinion and freedom – and when I see how the female gender must suffer almost entirely under the rule of the male world, unable to have equal rights and often being treated like a rag that has all the filth of the world in itself.

...

With you, this is fortunately not so, as it is the case here on the Earth. Anyhow, that is what Semjase taught me. But what about with other peoples, I mean with other peoples of your federation, etc.?

Quetzal:

21. In our entire federation, there exist laws that prevent such, as it is common on the Earth.

22. Nevertheless, there are foreign civilisations and peoples on foreign worlds, who are not allied with us and who exhibit similar conditions of the mentioned form, as these are usual on Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_213

Quetzal:

170. Our laws clearly stipulate that if such an act was committed in a drunken state, then it would equal a serious felony, which would also accordingly have to be punished very harshly.

...

Billy:

Aha, and I thought that you only had weak alcoholic drinks and no more people who get drunk.

Quetzal:

...

179. We have very weak alcoholic drinks, but the alcohol content is so low that it can only be measured as a small fraction of a percent of alcohol content.

180. Therefore, it is not possible that a person could get drunk on alcohol, not even if they could drink several litres of such a drink.

181. Nevertheless, we still have an old-conventional legislation that governs alcoholism, as well as intoxication by alcohol and acts of every kind that are committed in this state, so when one is killed or a crime is otherwise committed or when any harm, accident, or misfortune is caused.

182. But this legislation is already more than 5,600 years old and has never had to be put to use since that time when our alcoholic drinks were reduced in their percentages in such a manner as I explained to you.

183. Moreover, the people of our world have learned and have adjusted themselves to get by without alcoholic drinks, for these are not necessary for a normal and healthy lifestyle.

184. Of course, wine, for example, can have a health-promoting effect, if this is enjoyed with measure and a goal, as this is also the case with other substances, but on our part, we have so aligned our food toward the highest possible health values that we have no longer needed alcoholic drinks for more than 5,600 years, which also eliminated the dangers of evil caused by drunkenness.

Billy:

Oh, I see. I have actually misunderstood something there. But could I expect that you, and maybe even Ptaah, would drink a glass of wine with me, if I were to find you one?

Quetzal:

185. Nothing should prevent that, if it is a rare or unique case.

...

Billy:

... Ah, I suppose that you have the freedom to decide for yourselves as to whether or not you want to drink alcohol – or is there an ordinance that forbids this, thus, a ban?

Quetzal:

187. No, that is not the case because the abstention from alcohol is founded on a voluntary basis, so we can very well drink alcohol if we want.

Billy:

And concerning this, how is it with your federation members?

Quetzal:

188. Some are inclined towards moderation in strong alcoholic drinks, but others act as we do.

189. But even those who consume alcohol in moderation do not get drunk.

Billy:

We on the Earth have consulates or embassies in all countries. These have the task of representing citizens who belong to their home countries in foreign countries and also of performing other duties that result with the host country and the home country, whereby also purely political matters must be settled by these institutions, and in particular, the transmission of messages also falls to the embassies. ... Here, I ask myself, how is this with you, for you certainly also have similar institutions, through which home country citizens are represented and through which messages, etc. are transmitted, right? Also, such enterprises are probably necessary in regard to contact with your Federation and the governments as well as with those who do not belong to your alliance.

Quetzal:

76. That is quite correct.

77. We also have such institutions, of course, but on our own planets, they are not related to the same political framework as the one you know on Earth.

78. Purely planetary institutions in relation to this only have the duties of care, order, and administration, but no political aspects, etc., for our worlds are guided by the spirit leadership of a central form, whereby the institutions mentioned, then, are the actual executive bodies.

79. Of course, the same are also responsible in certain cases, which are specified very much together with the central spirit leadership, for particular aspects concerning the governments of planets of our Federation as well as with governments of worlds that are foreign to the Federation.

80. But overall, they are only representatives who exercise their duties on behalf of the central spirit leadership who, in turn, represents the people's will, which is fathomed in each case by planet-wide votes.

81. Such votes, for which you say elections among yourselves, take place in accordance with proposals, etc. from the people, but also in accordance with the ideas and proposals of the central spirit leadership or with regard to advice from the High Council.

82. In the past, when separation and discord still prevailed among our peoples, institutions of the aforementioned kind also existed, of course, whereby these were likewise exposed to attacks by discontented ones, etc., as this will also be the case on the Earth in the coming time in different countries ...

83. Thus, our very distant ancestors had the same problems with discontented ones, with fanatics, terrorists, and assassins, with regard to attacks and destruction, etc. on the aforementioned institutions, whereby also racial hatred, hatred of foreigners, and other degenerate extremism played important roles.

84. In order to protect the institutions, and indeed, also a wide variety of others that had official forms of government, a decision was put into effect, which stipulated that all governmental buildings and administrative buildings, etc. be banned from all residential areas and be transferred to uninhabited areas that were exclusively valid for the purpose of the institutions and that, of course, also found appropriate formations with water features, trees, and all sorts of bushes, flowers, and other plants.

85. Far outside of these institutional systems, so that the residents did not feel trapped and imprisoned, everything was fenced in and was equipped with security equipment, which made it absolutely impossible for an undetected penetration by water, land, or air, as well as for a penetration of an underground kind.

86. In this connection, there were also guards who closely monitored every person and every vehicle or aircraft, when allowed entry, driving, or flying into the secured area.

87. Through this, unauthorised ones were prevented from entering the premises and causing harm as well as disaster and destruction and endangering human lives.

Billy:

What seasons exist on Erra?

Quetzal:

193. The same as the ones on your home planet, the Earth.

Billy:

So spring, summer, autumn, and winter?

Quetzal:

194. That is of correctness.

Billy:

And the duration of the individual seasons, these also approximately coincide with ours?

Quetzal:

195. Even that is of correctness.

... How is it, actually, with you, when teeth are damaged or are no longer available? And what about dental care and dental hygiene of a personal form?

Quetzal:

66. We maintain our teeth by sound waves ...

...

70. Our teeth as well as dental care and dental hygiene are such that the first teeth, which, to my knowledge, you call milk teeth, independently cease their functions and fall out, like with the Earth-humans.

71. The second renewable teeth are preserved in the best possible way through authoritative cleaning and through healthy and vigorous care.

72. If these become damaged for some reason, which is extremely rare, then the corresponding teeth are removed in a completely painless manner, after which they grow again independently, which traces back to a genetically engineered process that is given through heredity.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_224

Quetzal:

3. What you say is of correctness; on our part, we always only spoke of the fact that other than on the Earth, no human life-forms exist in the SOL system on other planets and on their moons, and indeed, even if we have only used the term life-forms alone.

4. But always excluded were those human life-forms that, for your understanding, we designate as SOL-system foreigners or SOL-system outsiders and who look around on SOL planets and their moons solely for expeditionary purposes.

Billy:

... And as we are talking about technology, the question is whether you can explain how energy is obtained from Erra's thermosphere, which, like with us, is around 2000 degrees hot, if you may explain this?

Quetzal:

78. The fact that we obtain energy from the thermosphere does not fall under secrecy.

79. Concerning the technical details, however, I may give no information officially because according to our directives, this would be an unauthorized intervention in the technological development, which would plunge the Earth-humans into a catastrophe.

80. Once it is considered that the Earth-humans repurpose practically all their valuable technological inventions and achievements in apparatuses and devices, in order to cause destruction with these, especially in terms of wars and the destruction of nature, then they would also abuse these insights.

81. If the earthly scientists would have knowledge of the utilization of the thermosphere's energy, then they would construct the thermosphere-energy technology into an all-destroying weapon, by which entire countries could be burnt to ashes within seconds.

Billy:

... Then I have a question about the Chinese, who always claim that their whole culture originated from their own people, but Sfath once told me that this is not the truth. You told me the same thing, but neither you nor Sfath went into it. Both of you have only explained that Chinese culture also contains foreign influences.

Quetzal:

260. That is of correctness.

261. More than 25,000 years ago, the actual ancestors of the Chinese were immigrants from an area beyond your galaxy, which is why the term 'beyond the sun' was used, meaning the galactic central sun in which the galactic black hole moves.

262. The real Ur-ur human beings in China lived more than two million years ago.

263. After the immigration of foreigners from beyond the Milky Way, the much later Earth-born natives who lived in the areas where today's China is, died out over time.

264. They died as a result of an incurable hereditary disease that spread as they mixed sexually with the new immigrants from 'beyond the sun'.

265. All this knowledge, however, as well as the knowledge of space technology and many other things, was lost, as was the knowledge of the original origins of the immigrants.

266. The immigrants from 'beyond the sun', i.e. the actual ur-forefathers of today's Chinese people, already took over many cultural values of the natives from the natives alone, who inhabited the ur-chinese areas and had created certain small cultures.

Billy:

... But what about an earlier statement by you that in the future a spaceship would officially land in the USA? I think that this was explained to me in September 1975, at the 34th or 35th contact.

Ptaah:

98. Yes, to my knowledge this explanation was given to you at the 35th contact meeting with my daughter Semjase on September 16, 1975.

99. In addition, I may explain to you, in the expansion of the explanation at that time, that these interests have changed thoroughly.

100. For our part, we were able to locate the group that would have come to Earth in the future and would have made official contact with the Earth-humans in America.

101. In the knowledge of the true, unpeaceful and arrogant machinations and all other evils, which prevail in America and influence the whole world negatively, we informed those, who were intended for the official establishment of contact with the terrestrial humans in America, recognised by foresight.

102. After taking note of our information, however, that group decided not to carry out this enterprise, although it had already been decided.

103. Consequently, this planned event does not take place, because America is not yet mature enough in any wise for such contacts; but this does not preclude other strangers from coming to Earth and seeking contact.

Billy:

And, were the members of this group belonging to you or your Federation?

Ptaah:

104. No, in no wise.

105. They are at home beyond the sun, in the same star region where the Japanese and Chinese originally also had their original homes.

Billy:

Interesting. And by "beyond the sun", as I found out some time ago, you do not mean our sun, SOL, but the central sun of our galaxy, our Milky Way. Is that right?

Ptaah:

106. That corresponds to the circumstances.

...

Billy:

... Although I have often declared that you live on Erra according to the laws of polygamy, the question is always raised whether you would not have any problems with that?

Ptaah:

124. The conditions in this respect are completely different from those on the Earth.

125. In contrast to the women of the Earth, our female powers know no jealousy and no egoism.

126. They are unfamiliar with quarrelsomeness and they are also aware of all the advantages that are peculiar to them in that they live in an association of several female partners and can afford mutual assistance in every respect.

127. But they are also aware of all the advantages they enjoy by having only one spouse responsible for them, whom they are devoted to in common.

128. Through polygamy, however, it is also given and guaranteed that it never appears that a man has a secret lover, as in monogamy it very often appears in the Earth human sense, which leads to quarrels and assaults and destroys marriages and families, because the women of the Earth-humans are not aware and not big enough to grant to the man the natural-creational right of polygamy allocated to him.

135. The conditions in this respect can be compared with ours, which can look back on a polygamy tradition of many millions of years.

136. However, we have different terms for the marriage of one man and several women.

137. For us, the term monogamy always prevails, even if the man is married to several women.

138. The man is always in complete union with a woman, so they are always one and therefore one.

139. But this refers to any case of a woman who lives in an alliance with a man who is married to several women.

140. Our law says that the marriage covenant is based on a marital relationship between a man and a woman, who marry together and form a covenant in order to form a unity of two.

Billy:

... When Nokodemion returned from the Arahath Athersata level to the material world in his time, he found conditions on the planets that were significant for his peoples that were quite devilishly similar to the political conditions that prevail on the Earth today. The countries had degenerated into monarchies and dictatorships and other unfair regimes. Many countries fought each other, murdered and enslaved, tortured and exploited. Nokodemion did not take long to establish a multi-national peace-keeping force, which was built in such a manner that each responsible country maintained an armed permanent army of a certain strength of combat-capable men, at its own expense, which was only intended to create and maintain peace in combat-capable form on all worlds. However, each army of a country was only just large enough to ward off an attacking enemy, but no revolution or war of aggression could be waged against another state. The total number of combat-capable men of all armies of a planet amounted to 3 million men, distributed on all countries involved, which were individually however trained and armed according to a uniform system. These multinational peace-combat troops were under the direct command of the multinational army command. If an unrest, revolution or fratricidal war broke out somewhere in one country, or if one country attacked another, the red button was pressed on the multinational army leadership. This meant that the command was issued immediately, that so many men of the multi-national peace-combat force appeared together at the scene of the revolutionary or belligerent events, within 24 hours and in one fell swoop, in sophisticated coordination and put an end to every revolution and every war within a few hours by force of arms in completely logical consequence of the application of the law of self-defence. ...

Taljda:

58. What you tell me is known to me; and I know that peace was actually created through this method at that time.

59. But in the course of time people softened and abolished the army of multinational form, as soon as wars broke out again over the worlds and power-hungry people rose into the governments.

60. This then lasted for tens of thousands of years before the same system was introduced again 52,000 years ago with a multi-national peace-keeping troops.

61. Then it lasted 67 years, after which there really was peace actually prevailed everywhere again, which has been maintained until today, not least because of the multi-national peace-keeping troops, which have been an integral part of our entire Federation ever since.

62. Weapons may only be manufactured for this troop and for leisure purposes, whereby, however, the hunting and killing of animals of all kinds is forbidden, as this, unfortunately, does not apply on the Earth.

63. Animals may only be shot in our Federation in self-defence or in their form that impairs the environment.

64. The so-called illegal black market or private trade with weapons of any kind known to you is not permitted, but every person has the granted right to possess and use one or more weapons in a legal form, if the weapons are registered in a central computer and checked for their respective individual characteristics and features, whereby it can be proven at any time where and when and whose weapon was used.

65. In addition, it is so important to us that any weapon can only be used by the owner, as their personal swinging wave is necessary to use the weapon at all.

Taljda:

116. Maybe I could help you with your questions and the rest?

Billy:

No, unfortunately not, because they are mathematical question formulas of that kind, which should reach out into higher levels and which in my opinion can only be handled by Ptaah or Quetzal. Of course, there are at least 29,000 spirit guides in your Federation who are capable of doing so, but I do not know who I could commission or ask, because I do not know them personally.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_238

Ptaah:

359. All the peoples of our Federation are committed to respecting the laws of nature and to allowing natural climatic processes, etc., to run their course.

360. We do not influence the weather in the form that we would design it according to our personal desires.

361. We only intervene where there are threats to land, plants and human and animal life, as you explained earlier.

...

Billy:

That almost sounds like Skrill, but surely there's no connection to the dimension from which the supposed dimension changers come, those brutal and bestial Skrills that sometimes attack humans in their greed for sex!

Ptaah:

...

621. The term Skrill means 'Ausartung' [to get very badly out of the good human nature].

Billy:

Aha, then they are thus called the 'Ausgearteten'.

Ptaah:

622. This is so.

623. But we also call them dimension changers, as you already mentioned.

624. But the term Skrill means 'Ausgeartete' only for us, because truthfully the Skrills call themselves Skrill, which means dimension changer in their language.

Billy:

Without a doubt, these Skrills are human beings, even if they are completely vicious, brutal and bestial and incredibly sex-hungry, males as well as females. The horror of these differently dimensioned beings is only that they are completely ausgeartet and capable of switching from their dimension to other dimensions, whereby they then attack and rape human beings in the other dimensions. It is a good thing that this does not happen very often and that human beings of other dimensions, such as our dimension, can only clear and pave the way for these Skrills through psychological misconduct. By this, I mean that these Skrills can only penetrate into other dimensions and work there if other human beings of this dimension clear the way for them by self-destructively driving their psyche to malfunction and thus psychical collapse. I know all this from Quetzal, who also explained to me that you only know about it because some of your scientists once succeeded in connecting with these Skills and experiencing their way of life and all the trimmings.

...

Billy:

... When Nokodemion built up his Robot Armies and his Android Armies in his time, he did so in a manner that still seems utopian to today's Earth-human, because he built a multi-duplicator for this purpose, which multiplied everything he programmed with an atomic blueprint, etc., infinitely many times in absolute unison. Thus Nokodemion actually only needed to construct one copy of each type of robot, as well as one copy of the androids, after which he could multiply them in infinite numbers using the multi-duplicator. Even the tiniest atomic detail of the final product resembled the prototype, which served only as a perfect model. In fact, such a multi-duplicator is a giant apparatus that produces clones. In other words, one could also say that it is a copier or duplicator that provides an exact copy of the original, not only the externally visible, but also the interior, down to the last and finest atomic structure. The question is whether you also have such multi-duplicators, which are based on electrons, which are based on their operation with regard to the required energies, but also with regard to the required matter for the multi-duplications to be generated. If I remember correctly, then the unexhaustible cosmic electron seas are tapped in order to transform and form the necessary matter from the electrons, from which then the templates programmed by atomic images receive their material form and are materially duplicated.

Ptaah:

896. This wonderful invention of Nokodemion has remained with us, even if today everything has been changed and renewed to such an extent, precisely in accordance with the inevitable progress that nothing points to its origin.

897. We have been producing all necessary building materials of all kinds, machines, robotic tools, androids and also medicines and food etc. in this form for thousands of years by duplicating them.

Billy:

But you also have gardens, orchards, vegetable gardens, etc., as I know.

Ptaah:

898. Certainly. –

899. What we can gain from nature in a natural wise, we work out together with nature in a natural way, but always in such a manner that neither nature nor the planet nor the fauna or flora suffer any damage.

Billy:

You really breed meat as just the product you need, so you never have to kill an animal life form.

Ptaah:

900. That is correct, but we do not only produce meat from cell tissue by breeding, but also from our multipliers.

901. Other things also belong to it.

Billy:

Why, is my name not correct?

Ptaah:

902. According to the word value, your name is completely correct.

Billy:

Well, yes. Well, I suppose you also make all the metals with the multi-duplicators, because if I remember correctly, Semjase told me in 1975 or 1976 that you were extracting the basic materials for metal production from the realms of the planets, etc., in order to convert them, which would result in lead first and then all the pure metals or alloys required. At that time I did not think about it any further, but in the meantime the idea came to me that you would get the necessary raw materials for certain metals or alloys directly through the multi-duplicators, in order to process them in cold processes in order to create special alloys from them. Perhaps, I could imagine, you get the ready-made metals and alloys directly from the multi-duplicators, which duplicate all matter in cold processes according to given atomic image patterns. Of course, a multi-duplicator could also be called a cold processor, even if the human being on the Earth may misinterpret this, because for them a processor is something else, namely a central part of a data processing system, which contains the arithmetic unit and the control unit. Do you call the apparatus a multi-cold duplicator in your own language?

Ptaah:

903. The meaning of your word roughly corresponds to our name.

904. In any case, everyone here would understand the meaning of your newly created term.

...

Ptaah:

931. For our part we have a 'community of independent worlds' or even a 'union of sovereign worlds', which we call a federation, as it is in and of itself the case on the Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_239

Billy:

... So, my friend, and now, I long for a good drink. Although I already drank a small glass tonight, I am still feel like a second one. If I may, perhaps, also offer one to you – I would be tremendously pleased. It is a peach wine with very low alcohol content, but which I can still drink without difficulties, without it affecting me somehow. What do you think, Ptaah?

Ptaah:

110. I am not entirely at ease with your offer because as you know, we only drink alcohol-like drinks, but not alcoholic drinks.

111. Therefore, I do not know whether the drink would be good for me.

Billy:

It will surely agree with you because if I can drink it, in spite of my many medicines, without it harming me somewhat, then it certainly will not harm you in any wise. The wine only has 9 percent alcohol by volume, which is as good as nothing. You just have to drink the wine slowly and in small sips and over longer periods of time. You may need twenty or thirty minutes to do it calmly.

Ptaah:

112. Since you are so sure and because I have full confidence in you, I would gladly like to do this once and drink a glass of this wine with you.

...

117. Ah, this is really very good, and it is also refreshing.

...

Ptaah:

131. This music that you are playing there, it has a lot of resemblance with our music.

Billy:

It is the 'Chorus of the Hebrew Slaves' from 'Nabucco', by Giuseppe Verdi.

Ptaah:

132. It is well-known to me, like also many other melodies that you are playing.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_241

Ptaah:

11. I would desire a sip of peach wine if I could ask for it?

Billy:

But certainly, that is not a question. Wait – here, a glass for you and one for me – now I will get the wine, which I put outside to chill, because I myself drink a glass every now and then, if I feel like it – – – Well, here I am again. If you allow me, I will pour it right away. You know, I thought to myself that you would certainly like to have some bottles of this wine, that is why I also provided a box of six that you can take with you. – How did the wine taste with Quetzal, by the way? But now cheers ...

Ptaah:

12. For the good ... hm, just refreshing. –

13. Well, when Quetzal heard from me that I had tested the wine together with you, found it to be very good and received another bottle from you as a gift, he could no longer be deterred from tasting the bottle I had brought with me to him.

Billy:

A huge tasting, a whole bottle like that, I would like to say. And did he find the wine as good as we did?

Ptaah:

14. Certainly.

15. He found it as refreshing as we did.

...

Ptaah:

18. Just take French cuisine as an example, whose composition is often absolutely inedible.

Billy:

I know that when I think of 'rice casimir', which is 'seasoned' with pineapple, or other dishes where meat dishes are mixed with berries and fruits or 'seasoned', then I feel sick.

Ptaah:

19. The nausea also rises in me when I think about it.

...

Billy:

Several years ago you were still talking about the fact that towards the end of the 20th century Earth would be visited by extraterrestrial people, who would then officially make contact with Earth-humans. Through all sorts of bad machinations of Earth-humans, however, it then emerged that this extraterrestrial visit would no longer take place and therefore no such contact would take place. Are the facts today still as they were when you told me that such a contact had no chance anymore?

Ptaah:

422. Things have changed fundamentally again in the meantime by all that has changed in the meantime in political form in many countries of Earth.

423. A lot of positive things have come about and the prospects for such a contact have increased by a great deal, so that the old plan can come true again under certain circumstances, whereby we ourselves or any other forces from our federation have no connection whatsoever to those human beings who are supposed to establish official contacts with terrestrial people and whose knowledge and ability in every respect will not yet have developed to such an extent that they understand all things that are peculiar to us in terms of knowledge.

424. They will also not yet be able to grasp our dimension in which we live and exist.

425. And with regard to the teaching of the spirit and Creation and their laws and commandments, they will also not be developed according to our state.

426. If the contact with these alien beings one day comes about in official form, but this is still questionable, then this means for us and all our allies that we then withdraw and keep away from Earth in every form, whereby we will then only maintain telepathic contacts to you.

427. If the mentioned contacts actually take place, but what is really questionable for the next decades, then Earth-humans will enter into connections and alliances with Earth strangers, into which we may interfere according to our laws in no case and under no circumstances.

428. This means that we must then withdraw into our dimension and no longer be active on Earth.

Billy:

Then it is certain that these contacts with aliens will take place?

Ptaah:

429. At present, the overall situation points to this, but the next six to eight years can again change a lot, because Earth-man is so unstable and fickle that in the long run everything always floats in the air and in the unknown.

...

Billy:

Another question concerning the events against the year 2000, when aliens are supposed to approach the terrestrial people. Is this something that has already been determined, and if so, how will it happen?

Ptaah:

434. My explanation already went to the effect that such an event will only take place if the overall situation of earthly politics and the efforts of all human beings develop in such a way that such an event can occur.

435. Even if at present everything points to the fact that what has been said could take place, it is in no way certain that what is positive on Earth and among terrestrial human beings will actually take place in such a way that the event can take place.

436. The fickleness of Earth-humans is simply so great that not much can be predicted for a nearer or later future.

437. In order to be able to give such predictions of the future in precise form, we would need the effort of looking at the future.

438. But we don't want to do these, for which you know the reasons.

439. If it can be avoided, then we refrain from this kind of exploration of the future.

Billy:

Of course. Can you tell me, however, whether human beings from otherworldly worlds will otherwise visit Earth in such a way that they will be recognized by terrestrial humans, without the aliens being harassed by authorities or the military or by any madmen, or even endangered their freedom or their lives? Is it therefore possible that even before the year 2000 alien astronauts will come to earth, with whom earthlings will perhaps be able to make secret contact, as is the case with you in a similar or identical form – I mean between you and me?

Ptaah:

440. Such occurrences could very well occur, both in this century and in the next.

441. This form of alien appearance is more possible than that of official contacts with authorities and the military.

442. Space travellers are usually extremely cautious and take certain protective measures into account if they do not make themselves known officially.

Billy:

Doesn't that contradict what you said a few minutes ago, that possibly even before the year 2000 foreigners could get in touch with earthly authorities etc.?

Ptaah:

443. No, this is not the case, because I explained clearly that this would only be the case if the overall situation on Earth would change in such a way that such an event could become possible.

444. Even though a lot of positive things are happening at the moment, this is by no means a guarantee that people on Earth will continue to do so.

445. It can very well be that everything will soon be negative again, because Earth-man is just unsteady and fickle.

446. However, this has nothing to do with the fact that non-earthly people from other worlds cannot nevertheless land on Earth in this form in a secret way and move among Earth-humans without being recognized, or that they are only recognized by a few, who, however, remain silent about it responsibly until the space travelers have left Earth again, so that they cannot be hugged by madmen, authorities and the military etc.

447. However, it will be more difficult for all those who crash or are forced to make an emergency landing due to an accident of their spacecraft, because their technology does not yet correspond to the form that such incidents would no longer occur.

448. Such crashes and emergency landings have occurred on Earth since ancient times, and will continue to occur in the future, albeit very rarely.

449. But this must always be reckoned with, especially for spacecrafts whose technology has not yet been developed in such a way that no more damage can occur.

450. The crews of such crashing spacecraft usually suffer death, while there is a high chance of survival during emergency landings.

451. The crews of such emergency landed spacecrafts, however, are usually helpless and are not able to carry out the necessary repairs on their missiles, which makes them planet-bound in the world where they crash.

453. Of course, there are many other barbaric humanities on foreign planets, whose inhabitants simply kill crashed space travellers or often worship them as gods and then do not let them leave again as such.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_244

Billy:

Then I would like to know which planets you are responsible for as Jschwisch.

Ptaah:

51. For Erra, for Earth and for a planet called Amateban.

...

53. The planet Amateban is in a system of our space-time structure, which we call Harkomen and which belongs to our federation.

...

56. Quetzal is responsible as Jschwisch for two planets in the Harkomen system.

...

Ptaah:

85. I assume that something similar will appear in our Federation, namely among a peoples who bear the name Demener.

86. These Demeners are still very underdeveloped and are cared for in an impulse-based manner by the powers of our Federation.

87. The human beings of this people have gotten very badly out of the good human nature to a great extent.

88. Murder, lies and fraud, etc. are part of their agenda, but also every form of inhumanity and crime.

89. As a result of these things with the Demeners, it has become common practice in the languages of certain of our federation peoples that only the word Demener is used, or Demen, when there is talk of degenerated forms of life or degeneration.

Ptaah:

8. My task was to create a colony on an uninhabited planet called KATHAN in the space area IDAM, known on Earth in this space-time structure as the Spiral Nebula NGC 2997, at a distance of 45 million light-years.

9. I was also busy in the space area NOSIR, where we also founded a new colony.

10. This also happened on an uninhabited planet called NASADAN.

11. The space region NOSIR is a galaxy which is 16 million light-years away from the SOL system in this space-time structure and which is referred to as M 83 in earthly astronomy science.

Billy:

Then the spiral nebula and the galaxy are not in your space-time structure, if I have understood correctly. However, the question remains as to why you are founding colonies if you have enough space on your planet, since you do not tend towards overpopulation, as is the case on Earth.

Ptaah:

12. The colonies were founded to separate two enemy races that threatened to destroy each other on their home planets by waging endless war against each other.

13. Capable of both nuclear technology and the first space flight, they attacked each other's planets and brought them very close to the danger of destruction.

14. And since our Federation is in charge of these two planets and of the inhabitants, we decided, according to the advice of the High Council, to transplant the two contentious peoples in order to guarantee their continued existence to the other and peace-loving peoples of the two planets.

15. They also dominate the first space flight, but they do not pose any danger.

16. However, the mistakes, 124 million of one people and 106 million of the other, were transferred to the planets I mentioned in the space areas IDAM and NOSIR, where they will live from now on, without knowing the whereabouts of the other people.

17. Moreover, it is impossible for the transplanted of both peoples to fly to other planets for many hundreds of years to come, because care was taken to ensure that the next inhabited planets are more than 130 light-years away from the colonies, so that they cannot be reached by the resettled, on the one hand because their space technology is only just developed to the extent that distances of at most 430 million kilometres can be covered, while the age of the colonists is still very low with an average of 83 years.

...

Billy:

... But what about the names Semjase, Ptaah, Quetzal, Sfath and Pleija – how often do they appear in your newspapers? Are these with you common names like Hans and Heiri etc. with us?

Ptaah:

...

100. No, these names are no longer common and therefore not frequent.

101. The names you mentioned only appear once each, so for my daughters Semjase and Pleija as well as for me, Ptaah, and Quetzal.

102. The name Sfath no longer exists at all.

103. So with these names the same case is given as with the names of your children and with some children of your group members who have chosen old names from your name books for their descendants.

Billy:

Then the names only exist once in your entire Federation.

Ptaah:

104. That corresponds to the meaning of my words.

Billy:

And how is that possible?

Ptaah:

105. The names mentioned have been handed down and preserved in our family and in Quetzal's since ancient times, because they have historically important meanings.

106. This is limited to our family and Quetzal's family.

107. All other families and people of our home planet Erra have different and more modern names, while the non-Plejadic federated peoples, people and families naturally have names that have nothing to do with the Plejadic or the old lyrical ones.

...

Billy:

Another question: Have there been any bases or stations of aliens on Venus or Mars during the last 1000 years, or perhaps on Mercury or any other planet of the SOL system, or perhaps on the Earth Moon?

Ptaah:

151. Except on Earth and on the Earth Moon not, no.

Billy:

And, were these stations related to different extraterrestrials?

Ptaah:

152. On Earth they all came to us without exception, while on Earth's satellite there were also four (4) bases, which went to space-travelling peoples who had no connection to us, but who had very little contact with Earthlings, which in no way refers to modern times.

...

Billy:

... Still at Semjase's time, that emerges from the contact report of the 3rd of January 1981 {see Contact 141}, extraterrestrial people from the planet HASTER appeared in the terrestrial airspace, which travels in the system GARANTEE of the galaxy JENAN. It was said that these travellers at that time were interested in making contact with some earthlings. However, I heard nothing more about it and assume that this did not happen?

Ptaah:

161. Your assumption is correct.

162. We ourselves have tried to enlighten the Hasterans, after which they gave up their project and left Earth again without having achieved anything.

...

Billy:

... Do you also have a universal language in your Federation, and if so, how is it called, and how many languages are spoken in your Federation as a whole?

Ptaah:

200. We have a universal or federation language, of course.

201. However, this is not only spoken in certain circles of higher offices, as is the case with Earthly artificial languages, but it is common with everyone.

202. SAMTEE the language is called by us, and as such it is learnt from the ground up by every member of the Federation as a second mother tongue in childhood, because in addition to this, of course, the native mother tongue of the respective people still exists.

203. The total number of our federation-wide languages is 127 603.

Billy:

Well, then I would like to know what your new travel and transport options are. How does this transmitter system work, and how long will it take to get it up and running?

Ptaah:

204. Do you see this little device integrated into the chest of my clothes?

Billy:

You mean this little matchbox-sized thing?

Ptaah:

205. Yes.

Billy:

It's hard to tell that from the clothes. Without my flashlight I couldn't see it at all. It doesn't stand out at all.

Ptaah:

206. This enables me to generate a transmitter gate by thought power, through which I can simply step through, after which I am already at my destination without any loss of time, even if this is billions of light-years away.

207. More precisely, I have to concentrate my thoughts in such a way that they are picked up by the device and amplified in such a way that the resulting forces create the transmitter gate through which my transmission to the destination is made possible.

208. The system is not yet fully operational and usable, but we are constantly experimenting with it by transporting objects, etc., in this way for testing purposes.

209. The required target data are created by the personal knowledge of the destination, which is then mentally programmed by the device, whereupon the transmitter gate is created, in the form that the destination appears as a gate into which one can directly enter and is immediately at the destination.

210. If the destination is unknown to one in such a way that one knows it neither by picture information nor by a personal being there ever, then mathematical coordinates are sufficient, which one enters into the device by thought power and which must be known to one naturally.

211. If you like, I can give you a small demonstration of the possibility of such a transmitter gate.

212. However, you must promise me that you will not let yourself be carried away by your indomitable thirst for adventure and that you will simply step into the gate, because it is not yet fully developed for human transmissions and can therefore still be dangerous.

213. The danger is still that transmitted objects etc. do not reach their destination, but disappear somewhere untraceable and not retrievable between the dimensions and thus get lost.

Ptaah:

214. Can I fulfil you a wish what you want to see through the transmitter gate as a destination – maybe something you know?

Billy:

Would it be possible for you to open the gate to Quetzal's house where the fountain is at the pond?

Ptaah:

215. That doesn't mean a problem, because the place is well known to me – look!

Billy:

Fantastic – two steps, and I would be on Quetzal's terrain on Erra; ah, look, Quetzal's Ulrak passes. By the way, where did he get this little cattle from? And can't that suddenly enter the transmission gate and get lost here?

Ptaah:

216. It's an animal that lives on Erra.

217. It can't get here, because the gate is only visible from here on the one hand, but not from the other side, and on the other hand it can only be used from this side.

218. This has been designed for safety reasons to prevent unwanted life forms from passing through the gate.

219. If it were different, it would be very dangerous.

220. On the other hand, the gate can only exist as long as it is thought to exist.

...

Billy:

And – is this technique of transport then the absolute ultimate for all time, or is a further development still possible?

Ptaah:

226. The development only ends where the power of consciousness alone is sufficient to transport oneself and materials of all kinds by teleportation or telekinesis from a point of departure to a specific destination, without any technical aids being required.

227. This also means that you do not need any spacecraft etc. to move from one place to another or to transport materials from one place to another.

228. The next development, however, will be to find and use the means to move from one place to another without a transmission gate, and to do so solely by the power of thought, which is technically amplified in such a way that a teleportation can be carried out that can bridge billions of light-years as well as the technology of transmitters that is now emerging.

229. Nevertheless, even then the spacecraft will still be needed, which will also be further advanced in development.

Billy:

And everything is based on the speed of Creation, 107,000 times the speed of light. Even with the present transmitter gate this cannot be any different.

Ptaah:

230. That is not quite correct, because for the time being it is based only on 21,000 times the speed of light.

231. Besides, the speed of the spirit should never be reachable by technical means.

Billy:

The size of the gate is about 2 metres by 90 centimetres and ...

...

For a human, the gate is just good in size, but what if a larger gate is needed, such as for large goods and the like?

Ptaah:

233. The size of the transmitter gate can be customized according to your needs.

234. This is done by a simple command, mentally directed to the gate generator device.

Billy:

Fabulous. It really could not be simpler. But what happens now, if somebody takes over the transmitter gate generating device without authorization, is there perhaps a safety device, as you use it with your weapon tools, that only the owner of the device can use it, because it is tuned to his thought frequency?

Ptaah:

235. That's what you say.

236. This alone guarantees the best possible security, so that no one can use the devices for unfair and nonsensical purposes without authorisation, should they fall into unauthorised hands for any reason, if we are active on worlds whose people cannot yet be expected to use such devices.

Billy:

As is the case on Earth, for example, isn't it?

Ptaah:

237. That's right.

Billy:

Well, now you also have devices and the like, which look like a simple piece of metal or plastic etc., without these being recognizable as devices or apparatus etc., but in which there is a high-quality super-minielelectronics, which again is not recognizable as such, if you cut the metal or the plastic, because everything is poured into each other. Isn't there the possibility that through some circumstances the truth can be found out?

Ptaah:

238. This danger does not exist – not even on earth, because in order to be able to fathom this technique, Earthly scientists would have to have a knowledge and a technique that would be 7,500 years in the future for them.

Billy:

That means that over the last 18 years you have made progress approaching 4,000 years, right?

Ptaah:

239. It's 216 years more, yes.

Billy:

But this can only have happened through the friends of Asket's people, if I see the matter correctly, namely those friends who are ahead of Asket's people by about 4,000 years resp. 4,216 years in technical development.

Ptaah:

240. That is also true, but I must enlighten you about the fact that also the people of the Ischrisch Asket have attained the entire higher development of the 4,216 years.

Billy:

At earlier times, I often spoke with Semjase about the Earth-humans and about people of foreign worlds. Semjase also used certain terms for the people of the Earth and for those of extraterrestrial origin, like also you and Quetzal and all others of your federation. Thus, there was always talk of humanoids and of extra-humanoids, non-humanoids, and inhumanoids, etc. In this respect, unfortunately, there are always misunderstandings, which should one day be removed from the world. Let me, therefore, explain these things in the way I have understood them. Correct me, please, if I make a mistake: Humanoids are Earth-humans. Only, these are so-called because they are just earthborn, respectively Earth-created, in accordance with the Latin word humanus, which means something like terrestrial. The Latin term was already used by the ancient Lyrans, and to be sure, in the same way as on the Earth since time immemorial. So the term comes from the ancient Lyrans, who had also named their home world, in the original sense, Earth, and in consequence of this, they had also designated themselves, using a word adaptation, as Earth-humans, as humanoids, after which then, in the course of time, the word humanoid was exchanged for the term HUMAN and, thus, for all human life-forms throughout the whole Universe, but with the difference that the differently disposed, exotic human forms – who didn't exactly resemble the Lyran humans, respectively the terrestrial humans, in their inner and outer anatomies – were called extra-humanoids, respectively foreign humans; consequently, the term humanoid was only used for the kinds of humans of a more terrestrial, respectively Lyran, nature. Nevertheless, the extra-humanoids, respectively the so-called extraterrestrials, belong to the genus OMEDAM and, thus, are humans; it's just that they are of an exotic nature. Both terms, humanoid and extra-humanoid, trace back to the value of OMEDAM, which means something like FIRST HUMAN or just simply HUMAN. So humanoids are, always and in each case, humans, no matter what exotic appearance and what anatomy they have and no matter whether they are designated in other ways than as extra-humanoids. I often mistakenly referred to these extra-humanoids, while speaking or writing, as "non-humanoids," which doesn't correspond to the truth, of course, because non-humanoids, respectively inhumanoids, are, in reality, non-human life-forms that are animalistic, respectively of a fauna-like or floral-like nature, and, therefore, have nothing to do with human life. The term NON-HUMANOID, respectively INHUMANOID, clearly means that such a life form is NON-HUMAN. In contrast, there are, for example, the peoples of Asina, extra-humanoids who deviate in their appearance and in their anatomy very exotically from the actual humanoids and look accordingly different as amphibian beings, respectively amphibian humans, and are arranged into other living conditions than those of humans, the kind to whom we and you belong. But these foreigners are called “extra-humanoids” not because of their appearance but simply because they are of an anatomically different nature than we, who simply designate ourselves as humanoids. There are, for example, many extra-humanoids that are outwardly identical or very similar to humanoids, but they have extremely notable differences in their internal anatomies. This also testifies of the fact that they are not of terrestrial creation but are simply beings of alien worlds, which is why they are, indeed, extra-humanoids; however, their anatomy also contributes to this designation because they are alien to those who are simply called humanoids, respectively humans. However, this should not mislead one to regard and judge the extra-humanoids, the foreign humans, as non-humanoids, respectively non-humans. They are still HUMANOIDS and, thus, OMEDAM HUMANS. So extra-humanoids are, in every case, always human beings; it’s just that have no direct birth relationship with actual humanoids, the race of humans embodied by the Earth-humans and your people. And to address the NON-HUMANOID life-forms once again: these are life-forms that are not humanoid and, thus, are in no way of a human nature and that also have no relationship or other connections with the human species, respectively with the OMEDAM and humanoids as well as extra-humanoids. And to come to speak once again of the extra-humanoids, it must be said that these are neither better nor worse humans than the humanoids of the Earth, the Earth-humans, even though they often have very different and rather exotic natures, and indeed, in every respect. Extra-humanoids as well as extraterrestrial humanoids aren’t supernatural and aren’t divine and, thus, are no monsters and no terrors; rather, they are just as human as the Earth-humans, the Earth-humanoids, of whom, at least for the last 10,000 years, not exactly much that is praiseworthy can be said, when one considers that during this time on our planet, only 250 years of actual peace has prevailed, so in terms of this, as well as in reference to their manner and humaneness and compliance with the natural-creative laws and commandments, as you know, not very many positive things can be said. Concerning the reproduction of the extra-humanoids and other humanoids in the entire expanse of the Universe, it must be said that in this respect, it doesn’t behave any differently with all of them than it does with the Earth-humanoids, so with the Earth-humans; therefore, sexual acts are necessary in order to witness descendants. What is different from the Earth-humans is just the manner of the physical act of reproduction, in accordance with the exoticism of the respective life form and, accordingly, its exotic reproductive organs and reproductive practices, which are often connected with rituals that are strange to the Earth-humans. Also, humanoids and extra-humanoids can mate with one another in order to witness descendants, if this is possible due to the dissimilarity between the exotic reproductive organs and if the DNA factors, etc. are compatible and allow for procreation. It is, of course, utter nonsense that procreation and births of descendants can occur in a purely spiritual form, for a material body is always tied to a physical reproduction and birth. This is a fact that punishes all those dreamers, know-it-alls, believers in angels, and other delusional believers in lies, who maintain the contrary.

Ptaah:

91. Your explanation corresponds to the facts.

...

Billy:

There, it would once again interest me as to how far this Federation actually extends, because you have told me several times that you have investigated some very far away enterprises. It would also be interesting to know whether other civilizations have the same laws and rights as those of the Pleiades.

Ptaah:

186. The duties, laws, and rights are uniform throughout the entire Federation.

187. This is one of the basic prerequisites to join our Federation.

188. The Federation is very broad and extends to a distance of 6.2 billion (6,200,000,000) light-years, where in connection with our Federation, another member federation exists according to our model.

189. In between, between the two federations, which have a sphere of influence of many millions of light-years, there are isolated systems that also belong to our federations.

194. Indeed, there are still other civilizations that have the same or similar directives as we have, but there are also many that know no inhibitions in this respect but rather interfere without hesitation in other cultures and wage wars, etc.

195. In relation to this, there are quite furious space-traveling peoples.

Billy:

Do you have political and diplomatic relations with such?

Ptaah:

196. That is an inevitable consequence of spaceflight.

...

Billy:

... Semjase, your daughter, had reddish-colored hair for a long time. Is that usual with you, I mean that women dye their hair? Although we have talked about these things once before, we weren't detailed enough. You explained to me that women among you do this, but it didn't arise as to whether they only do this for purely medical reasons and whether this is not actually harmful to the hair?

Ptaah:

206. Female beings among us actually colour their hair every now and then because a certain amount of vanity is not to be denied to them.

207. Nevertheless, the dyeing of the hair is not just vanity-conditioned, but is always connected with a health measure.

208. It's like this:

209. Even though prominent diseases no longer appear among us, this doesn't mean that certain sufferings still don't come to light.

210. However, these are of an insignificant form, like a runny nose.

211. There are also allergies and a few other insignificant illnesses.

212. All these illnesses are often lengthy and require prolonged treatment, like also headaches, for example, but this doesn't mean, now, that many medicines would be necessary for their treatment.

213. Per symptom, only one active agent is necessary against it, which is delivered with a long-term effect.

214. These active agents aren't ingested, injected, or administered through special requirements for deposit; rather, they are introduced in healthy, absolutely harmless carrier substances that are mixed with equally neutral and non-health-hazardous coloring means, with which the hair is then dyed.

Billy:

So then, you do know illnesses.

Ptaah:

215. These aren't actual illnesses according to your sense but rather trifles that occur in the course of life due to some circumstances that the persons concerned are exposed to, like when they come in contact with some things on strange new worlds that then cause the suffering.

216. But such sufferings are, in fact, always only trifles, which also no longer appear on our world and, thus, don't matter any more.

Billy:

Then your world is, so to speak, sterile?

Ptaah:

217. No, the humans are immune to all diseases that once existed on our planet.

218. They are also largely immune to diseases of other worlds, but various insignificant sufferings as well as accidents with insignificant consequences cannot be avoided every now and then, when these have their origin on planets that are foreign to Erra.

Billy:

Then only those people who also visit foreign worlds become sick with the insignificant sufferings?

Ptaah:

219. That is right.

220. That is also the reason why we exercise great caution with respect to health.

Billy:

Now I understand somewhat better. But how, for example, can one of you suddenly suffer from a headache, which seems like a migraine?

Ptaah:

221. That can happen through the inhaling of an atmosphere that is very well breathable for us but which contains weak components of toxic gas that attack certain parts of our nervous systems, as this was the case with my daughter Semjase, for example.

Billy:

But still, you do have your devices and apparatuses that indicate to you such toxic gases, etc.; accordingly, you can then wear protective suits.

Ptaah:

222. Certainly, that is right, but on the one hand, our measuring instruments can only detect and indicate those materials that are known to us, in order, then, to analyse them.

223. However, other substances that are unknown to us cannot be analysed immediately, if we must first explore their composition.

224. Moreover, it can happen that certain gases, etc. only arise here and there or in a locality, and indeed, in such a quick way that a counter measure is hardly possible anymore.

225. So it may just happen that every now and then, such substances are inhaled, which can then produce lasting consequences, which we then just treat in the explained manner.

...

Billy:

Aha. – In foreign worlds, these surely aren't just gases that give you a hard time healthwise, right?

Ptaah:

232. Of course not, because dust particles, pollen, viruses, bacilli, bacteria, plant juices, and various other things can infect us with diseases if we aren't immune to these.

Billy:

Aha, so yes! Then you are not just susceptible to trifles.

Ptaah:

233. As a rule, it only concerns trifles, which are then treated in the way that I explained.

Billy:

And when, apart from the rule, a worse illness makes its appearance?

Ptaah:

234. That would be a great exception, and such would be treated, of course, with the suitable medical means, whereby the healing process would then take no more than a few minutes or, at the most, a few hours.

Billy:

And, in cases of accidents with fractures, etc.?

Ptaah:

235. Our medical possibilities are capable of healing a fracture in less than 6 hours, if the break does not first have to be addressed.

236. But if this is the case, then the process takes a few hours more.

237. Concerning diseases, our immune systems are so strengthened and protected that all diseases that are known to us cannot befall us, but only those that are unknown to us and against which we have no immunity, respectively those whose originators are unknown to us and against which we can't even protect ourselves.

Billy:

And how does it stand, then, with the cold? Semjase once complained to me that you also have to struggle with it.

Ptaah:

238. It concerns an insignificant evil that befalls us, but only on the Earth; however, we are still able to become masters over this.

Billy:

... Can you tell me the number of alien races that are currently flying in and out of the earth or doing their studies here or working here in any other way?

Ptaah:

14. For many years they have always been the same and in their number only three.

...

Billy:

Three alien races have been on Earth for several years, you said. Do they also have stations here, if they are constantly present?

Ptaah:

168. Only one of the three groups is still stationed on Earth for some time, while the other two groups appear only sporadically or periodically.

Billy:

And new aliens, how often do they come into contact with the earth?

Ptaah:

169. That is quite different.

170. In earlier times it happened only twice that during a period of 100 years more than two groups of non-Earthly intelligences flew into the earthly space.

171. Usually, such occurrences are only sporadic, as often as many hundreds or thousands of years pass before another alien race reaches Earth.

172. Sometimes several thousand years pass before such an event takes place again.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_250

Billy:

Prostitution – do they also exist on Erra?

Ptaah:

134. This degeneration has not existed in our country for a long time, but it is still prevalent to a low degree among various Federation peoples.

Billy:

And what about sexually transmitted diseases?

Ptaah:

135. Such diseases are no longer present in any way, not even among those Federation peoples where prostitution is still common in a limited form.

...

Billy:

Another question regarding prostitution: Why does some of your federation peoples still have prostitution?

Ptaah:

143. There are only three of them, and they are still very young in our federation.

144. They were accepted into our Federation only a few years ago, and the efforts to abolish prostitution are running in controlled final forms, so that in less than 8–10 months these peoples will also be freed from this inhumane bad habit.

...

Ptaah:

157. Since time immemorial, we have used a bat symbol as a hazard image for radioactivity.

...

{Note: the following comments relate to Billy Meier's time in India 1965, visiting the Buddhist monk Dharmawara Bellong Mahathera at the Asoka Mission in Mehrauli.}

Billy:

... Swami Dharmawara, so I know, is one of those Earth-humans who had contact with two mysterious humans, Phobol Cheng confirmed that to me again, who just appeared out of nowhere with him and disappeared again in the same way. So it was the same kind of disappearing and coming back as if you 'beamed' me into the ship or back to Earth. The appearance of these two mysterious men who visited the Swami was the same like his, therefore Asian. Can you explain something about it to me?

Ptaah:

187. Officially I can only confirm that this is true.

188. But these are not intelligences who were located beyond Earth, if that's what you think.

189. They were probably distant descendants of extraterrestrial humans, but they were earthbound, even if they mastered the ability of the craftless journey, which was handled by technical means.

190. The how, what, where and why etc. I unfortunately cannot and must not officially explain, which is why I can only explain this to you in confidence.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_251

{Note: This Contact Report contains a detailed history of the Plejaren and their emigration to our solar system, which is not reproduced here.}

Billy:

... All of them, all extraterrestrials who stayed on earth and died here, never returned to their homeworlds. Their spirit-forms slipped into the earthly realm of the afterlife and since then have reincarnated again and again in new becoming bodies of people who were born on earth ...

...

Billy:

But what might be of interest for the group and for all other people is the fact that for years it was not allowed to talk about certain things related to visits of extraterrestrial intelligences, except of those that were mentioned by you and especially by you. You told me that I was allowed to speak openly about this when you left.

Ptaah:

49. That is correct.

50. We were just talking about those who had played an important role up to that point, namely the three groups that we had discussed in one of our last conversations.

51. In addition to these, there are a few other groups of extraterrestrial origin that fly to Earth and can be observed here more often, but none of which is in contact with any Earth-humans, neither on a private nor on a military or governmental basis.

52. Some of them come to earth purely for excursions or expeditions, others have other interests, but none in the way that the hysterical Americans portray this with the impregnation of earth women by Earth alien intelligences or the impregnation of Earth alien women by men of Earth.

53. The nonsense about massacring animals etc. etc. can also be forgotten, for such things do not apply either.

54. Those who have interests other than those of an excursion or expedition will make a name for themselves on earth in the distant future; but why this will be so, we must keep quiet about it, which of course also applies to you, who are informed about these distant things of the future.

...

Billy:

Well, thank you. But why were not we allowed to talk about those aliens you just talked about all these years?

Ptaah:

57. On the one hand, this has to do with the new, distant future and with the new era of Earth, about which we are not allowed to talk openly, as I explained, and on the other hand, careless information about it would only have led to further hysteria and to lies and deception as well as to swindles and charlatanry, as was unfortunately already the case in America, Germany, England and Japan as well as in Sweden, etc.

Billy:

Yes I know. Especially America is raging in hysteria and madness.

Ptaah:

58. That is correct, but there not only the MUFON is to blame for the whole hysteria, but also the many religious sects as well as in particular the government itself, which actually conceals and keeps under lock and key much important evidence for the existence of extraterrestrial life and their appearance on Earth as well as forbids by laws the contact with extraterrestrial life-forms.

...

Ptaah:

101. The rule also proves on all our Federation worlds that hardly anything can be done against heavy earthquakes in a reasonable way, if high buildings etc. are erected, which is why only small buildings are usual everywhere and largely secured against heavy shocks.

102. Also our worlds live and are shaken by earthquakes, but we behave accordingly in the construction of the buildings and in their protection against shaking of the planets.

Billy:

You also have houses or buildings that are not composed of small pieces, such as stones or concrete slabs, etc., because your buildings are made of plastics and also of a single piece, seamlessly, as I have seen. In addition, they are on spring systems, which are made as vibrating bodies.

Ptaah:

103. That is correct, but these are only two of the methods used to prevent vibrations.

...

Ptaah:

144. In the time to come, even farther away, a lot will happen and change with regard to alien aircraft and their crews, but also with regard to earthly, mysterious and strange-looking flying machines.

145. Also contacts with extraterrestrials are to be expected, which will be however of a completely different nature than all previous lying, swindling and deceitful would-be contactees have presented them with all their religious-sectarian nonsense etc.

Billy:

... Then I would have another question now, which refers to the coming and appearance of extraterrestrials who have no connection whatsoever with you and who should actually make open contact with Earth-humans. Can I find out, for example, when this time will really be? The date once mentioned to me has become obsolete because things have happened with Earth-humans and in their politics, which made the appearance of the extraterrestrials impossible.

Ptaah:

77. The time is relatively close according to our terms, but for certain reasons I will not name the more exact time, because thereby steps could be taken by the terrestrial man, which would thwart everything another time.

...

79. Then the question should only be answered in such a way that no exact dates are mentioned.

80. It must therefore suffice if I say that the time is relatively near at which people of an alien world will appear openly on this planet.

Billy:

After which you will finally withdraw, as you have always assured!

Ptaah:

81. That was always the meaning of our explanations in this regard.

Billy:

Your concepts of time are of course different from ours here on earth, so your word is a broad concept if you say that the time is already relatively near when official contact between extraterrestrials and terrestrial humans can be expected.

Ptaah:

82. Time is really not very far away anymore.

83. The only question is whether the military, secret services and governments will not change the open appearance in such a way that the public will be misled and the real facts will not be falsified and concealed again, as this was done with regard to previous occurrences of a similar kind with extraterrestrial aircraft and beings of foreign worlds.

...

Billy:

Let me ask a question about the old earthlings: Did they also do so primitively and stupidly with the appearance of extraterrestrials, as is the case with today's mankind, especially with the military, the secret services and the governments as well as the sectarians?

Ptaah:

95. No comparison can be made in the matter of military, secret services and governments.

96. Where people acted abnormally, there was actually the delusion in play by which aliens were judged either as devils or as gods.

97. In military, secret service and governmental respects, however, with few exceptions, no aggressive machinations were common on the aliens, which unfortunately has changed drastically in modern times.

Billy:

Certain people become more stupid than normal.

...

Billy:

Extraterrestrials

I am often asked whether then only the Pleadian/Plejaren come to Earth as extraterrestrials. Naturally that is not the case, because there exists yet various other extraterrestrials, who fly into terrestrial airspace and can also often be observed. They are, in part, members of the Pleadian/Plejaren federation, who cannot however be counted as foreigners who stem from planets and solar systems that have no state of affairs at all with the Pleiadian/Plejaren and their federation worlds. These foreign extraterrestrials come from the most different star systems, which as a rule, belong to our galaxy, respectively, the Milky Way, whereby however exceptions also exist, however only very few, in which the extraterrestrials stem from foreign, and millions of light-year distant, galaxies. There are, however, few like this to note, that they can only be spoken of as a rarity.

... Therefore the greatest caution is recommended with extraterrestrial contacts in the sky, because too much about this are lies, deception, swindle, charlatanism and speculation, etc., whereby also the truth-despising efforts and falsifications as well as disinformation machinations of the governments are implicated through the committal and establishment of unbelievable lies, slanders, falsifications and trickeries in the world to veil the truth, to contradict and to deny. The Roswell UFO crash is just one of many inglorious examples. Naturally not all terrestrial governments and military work in this slimy way, but there are many. And they get ever more difficulty from those peoples who are really interested in the UFO clarification and the events connected therewith, as they turn the heat up under the governments, the military and the secret services. The time namely presses ever more, because ever more UFO incidents take place and also pure UFO observations increase ever further. So the responsible ones use their lies, defamation and denial ever less, whereby they apply a new obscuring technique to keep secret the actual existence of extraterrestrials, as well as their visits to Earth. Their new method is to demonize everything that has to do with UFOs and extraterrestrials. That, thereby, also serves to hinder the coming about of contact with extraterrestrials and civilians, because that can no longer be controlled and because, as a rule, civilians who are not bound by a military or secret service security status do not shy away from making such experiences and events openly known. But such open information is exceedingly uncomfortable and even exceedingly dangerous for the governments as well as for the military and secret services, etc., as their power structures could become shaky. Of this it was already clear to a whole line-up of authorities as well as their military and secret services in the First World War because, over the battlefields of Europe UFOs were observed whose appearance was however kept secret. It went the same way in the Second World War, as the foo-fighters surfaced everywhere. Indeed, it was already firmly established by the military and secret services and highest government positions by the First and Second World Wars that UFOs were of extraterrestrial origin, yet the secrecy was still maintained. The facts of the extraterrestrial origins of flying devices was recognized in America through the observation of a landing of such an object, where four unusually-clothed humanoid beings disembarked, collected some plants in the vicinity, re-entered their device and flew away. The observers of these events were two members of the military who, co-incidentally, were in just that area while on vacation. Both reported the event to the nearest military facility, allowing the secret investigations and clarifications to proceed, as had already happened in other similar cases that preceded, and also subsequently occurred even more. But everything happened under the strictest nondisclosure, as the Plejadian/Plejaren have affirmed, so the public received no knowledge about these incidents whatsoever, as neither did the main body of the governments, the military and the secret services. It was always only the very highest positions and officials who were privy to the secrets. And it was also these people who even then concerned themselves with, and worked out, concealment tactics to deceive most of their subordinates and the entire population. It was to be avoided that on one hand everything would be known, and on the other hand that those not in the know and not sworn to secrecy, or even civilian personnel, could have contact with extraterrestrials. Therefore a possibility was sought to place fear in humans in relation to the extraterrestrials so that no contact would result from a possible landing or from a crash of extraterrestrial projectiles.

But that was not enough by far, because the longer the UFO appearances in the new age were observed, the more secretly these were dealt with, and indeed not the least on that account, because the arrival of the extraterrestrials, and the enslavement of the terrestrial humanity through the invaders was feared by the American government and their military as well as secret services. And (so) that the population should be left in ignorance about the truth of the existence of extraterrestrials, nevertheless, however (that) fear must be developed in the peoples against the extraterrestrials, out of which a far-reaching hate must be established against the invaders, and, thereby, once again a defensive rage steered by hate should result, the US presidency, as well as the leading officers of the military and the secret services, etc., came upon a psychologically sophisticated idea to work out a horror scenario in extraterrestrial matters and to start it in such a way that not only America would be seized by it, rather also great parts of the rest of the world. This scenario should be configured in such a way, that once angst and panic should first break out regarding Extraterrestrial invaders, thereafter they then spread further fear and hate far, and could spread it over the world, and indeed also then, when it would be officially recognized, that it all only dealt with fiction and therefore a poor utopian piece of work. Thereby the psychological trick would be established, that when once fear is sown then from that yet greater fear and finally also panic and hate must develop, that follows itself further, always spreading out farther. A fact that was already know then and also today, yet would be practiced again and again over the whole world in different relationships. And exactly angst and terror were necessary, according to the view of the responsible ones, to incite the population against the extraterrestrials, and to prevent them from coming into contact with them if the opportunity should present itself. Through this perfidious and fully-thought-out psychological machination of the highest government authorities as well as the military and secret services, it also should be avoided that at any time, any one of the people would gain admission to the extraterrestrials if the opportunity offered itself. The responsible ones not only had fear of a peaceful extraterrestrial official, or unofficial, landing and contact initiative, but they also feared an invasion. And because an official or unofficial extraterrestrial appearance and effect on the Earth was not compatible with the religious philosophies, since 1915, Pope Benedict XV, (1914-1922) as well as Pius XI. (1922-1939) and Pius XII. (1939-1958) would also be drawn into the entire conspiracy. Also certain Jewish dignitaries were enlisted in this, who even at that time in America had quite a bit to say and had a voice.

In the most secret of missions, it was therefore resolved to create a horror scenario which would agitate the population on one hand, who, however, should be left in ignorance of the truth of the existence of the extraterrestrials who already manoeuvred in terrestrial air space and also landed sporadically on the Earth, as it has been established from secure sources, and through that, on the other hand, that fear and hate be sown against the strangers from other worlds. The mean and slimy trick was in and of itself simple: a radio broadcast should be transmitted, that on one hand spreads angst and terror of the extraterrestrials, and on the other hand, should also strike very far, and as much as possible, worldwide circles. To this end, through American secret service agents, as well as through the responsible superiors of these positions of duty, as well as the government and military, suitable authors and works were sought, which could be exploited and used for the perfidious machination. It was US President Franklin D. Roosevelt (President, 4th March 1933 – 12th April 1945) who quite personally, however, sought out the science fiction work of Englishman Herbert George Wells, who as an author, in 1898, brought out a work under the title "War of the Worlds". In this episode American secret service agents made contact with Wells and beseeched him coercively to adapt his work to a radio play. But the man himself did not feel in a position to do this, so he suggested chartering a young American author of his acquaintance, Orson Welles, who would certainly be suitable. Under threats of death, H.G. Wells was obliged to lifelong silence, after which, then in America, the still young Orson Welles would be coerced by the secret service people to refashion H.G. Wells's work, "War of the Worlds" into a realistic-seeming horror radio play. Out of the science fiction novel Wells wrote in 1897 and published in 1898, such a work that broadcast on the radio, would release wild panic and angst as well as hate for the extraterrestrials. The work, in which extraterrestrials, formed unlike humans, and of monstrous and evil-nature, land on the Earth and cause trouble and destruction, was exactly that which had been hoped for by the responsible ones of governments, the military and the secret services. It's no wonder that as a result of panic breaking out there was quite a number of dead.

The goal of the government, the military and the secret services was achieved with the broadcast of the radio play (War of the Worlds), because from then on fear, and also a certain hate, ruled against the extraterrestrials, of the kind and form, as well as the sense, that was also always desired. And exactly that has remained that way until today and even still spreads out, because fear and hate would again always be newly stirred up, and the American secret service powers, etc., are especially proficient in doing exactly that. Were that not enough, that they – and certain also determined government and military powers – financially support and demand contra films against the extraterrestrials, no, they do not shy from simulating all kinds of horror-events, like, for example, abductions by extraterrestrials, as well as human and animal mutilations and so on and so forth. They are also not inactive in matters relating to the falsification of crop circles, and indeed in the most differing countries. Naturally, in respect of all these things there are also charlatans, deceivers and swindlers and every other sort, yet the secret service machinations are probably indeed the worst, because it is precisely through these that disinformation is established, through which the genuine and actual events in this regard are bedevilled and made laughable. Scarcely anything is known about exactly this, as everything runs so secretly as it always has, and as does the actual story of the radio play of "War of the Worlds" by Orson Welles. And the danger exists that something could not be held secret, then the responsible ones of the government and military as well as the secret services do not shy away from bringing the witnesses to silence under death threats or through an otherwise erasing, like, for example, through elimination or through a consciousness-stupefying brain wash and psycho-terror and so forth. Herbert George Wells, who died on the 13th August 1946, also knew that, as did Orson Welles who departed this life on October 10th, 1985. Neither left behind any indications about the true incidents regarding the radio play, as they correctly feared that their families, friends and acquaintances after their demise also could be vengefully persecuted by the secret service people and the responsible ones of the government and military. And that I now do not hold my tongue about that which the Plejadian/Plejaren explained to me in regard to this ... what comes of that remains to be seen... The nasty machinations of the government, military and secret service people in respect of the demonizing of extraterrestrials have increased ever more since 1938 – indeed slowly and successively, thus, however all the more incessantly and expansively, until in the eighties, essentially, the greatest machination for the bedeviling of extraterrestrials began – through a shifty structure in the fashion of the secret service, as well as miscellaneous UFO and extraterrestrial enemies. Stories came about like the ghastly human and animal mutilations, the theft of human babies and the impregnating of terrestrial women through foreign visitors out of outer space. Horror stories were also disseminated about subterranean laboratories and the inhuman experiments taking place there. Were that still not enough, because the angst of the extraterrestrials wreaked even worse blooms, like, for example, it would be asserted that women impregnated by aliens would, after some months, have the baby growing in the womb snatched out to be allowed to finally grow further in a fluid-filled incubator, etc., in order to breed up a new humanity, etc. using these hybrid children. A further horror story was that the earth humans would be abducted, in order to take their genetic material that would be necessary for the extraterrestrials' further breeding of humans, who would serve as, so to say, nourishment providers, because the evil foreigners out of the depths of outer space supposedly nourish themselves on human blood. Similarly, it would also be asserted in respect to the animal mutilations in America, whereby the related far-fetched feeble-mindedness that namely beef blood demonstrates a genetic relationship with human blood, therefore the mutilated cattle would have their blood sucked out to store in the blood banks for crisis times – naturally through the evil extraterrestrials. Yet even that is not enough, because still many other assertions, slanderings and lies, and clearly to be recognised as feeble-minded, are put about, through which the humans are led into error and would be shifted into angst and terror, as has had manifold success, and certain mass hysteria has been released by a worldwide group of certain earth humans, which also leads to feelings of hate, etc. ...

...

Billy:

Well, then a question about the alleged appearance and official landing of extraterrestrials on Earth. Some people claim that on 27.3.1997 extraterrestrials should officially land on Earth. Do you know anything about this?

Ptaah:

118. We know these erroneous assertions, which are nothing more than bare nonsense and which are connected with the 'Hale-Bopp'-comet, which is also known as Nibiru or Nubiru or Unis, on which gods live and should now return to Earth.

Billy:

You explained all this to me years ago. So everything is nothing but bullshit and nonsense what is talked about the comet and the alleged official landing of extraterrestrials on Earth. I would also have been surprised if it had not been like that. – Unfortunately, we have so many crackpots here on the Earth, and unfortunately even more misguided ones who believe all the nonsense of these crackpots. Furthermore, there are still many conscious liars, cheaters, swindlers and charlatans who take advantage of the New Age madness of the believers and make horrendous profits out of it.

Ptaah:

119. Unfortunately, that is the truth.

Billy:

It goes to the year 2000 and there it is, of course, like at every turn of the century or the last turn of the millennium: the doomsday mood, the alleged return of the dear Jesus Christ as well as the coming of extraterrestrials or even of the dear God himself. All nonsense. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_260

Billy:

... But now, here's a somewhat loosening-up question: one approached me in reference to whether I knew anything about the use of make-up by the female gender on Erra. One wanted to know specifically whether lip balming occurs, even with lipstick, as the women and girls do this here on Earth. For my part, I never saw such with your women.

Ptaah:

136. This isn't common with our female gender in the way that it is with the women on Earth.

137. In general, only a certain part uses subtle make-up from natural materials, while others don't use these things.

138. The make-up is such that it doesn't change the naturalness of the skin, so it can hardly be seen, which isn't the case, unfortunately, with the earthly female gender.

139. But that the lips are coated with colored lipsticks, as the women and girls do so on the Earth, that isn't the case with us, for we have already considered such actions as nauseating since ages ago.

...

Billy:

The certain part of female people who use make-up, is this predominant?

Ptaah:

141. Unfortunately, that isn't known to me, but as I estimate, that part should only be small and be more restricted to younger women and girls.

...

Ptaah:

185. But even when the technology {on Earth} will one day be perfected to the highest, cultivated, living test forms will still be essential, as this is also the case with our relevant medical science researches.

186. But as you correctly said, we do not use live animals but only specially cultivated organisms that have no feelings of pain as well as no psyche and no consciousness, etc.

187. This form of medical research is extremely limited, however, and is only used when we discover life forms on foreign worlds that are unknown to us in every respect and about which we, therefore, still have no medical knowledge.

188. For medical researches of all kinds, however, which concern our Plejaren as well as all Federation worlds and, thus, also all their life forms of all kinds, we no longer depend on cultivating special organisms in order to be able to pursue the necessary researches, for in this respect, our computer programs are fully sufficient.

...

Billy:

... Then another question: even the people of your worlds and your federated allies certainly aren't so perfect in terms of their organs and bodies; therefore, surely health or rather physical injuries can come to light, or am I wrong there?

Ptaah:

197. Our medical knowledge and possibilities are so developed that we no longer know diseases.

Billy:

Of course, I know that; you explained this to me sufficiently. I also don't mean that some diseases can still appear; rather, I'm coming from the perspective that, for example, there can be accidents and the like, by which health or rather physical injuries can appear.

Ptaah:

198. Now I understand. –

199. Of course – accidents cannot be avoided, for in spite of all precautions of the people, such dismal events can occur over and over again.

Billy:

Good, now we've brought it to a common denominator. My question about this is: how is a treatment or an intervention handled when, for example, a surgical intervention becomes necessary? Surgery is, indeed, a very bloody work, I think – is it also still so bloodily maintained with you?

Ptaah:

200. Of course not, because we have long outgrown this bloody barbarism.

...

204. Now, our technology relating to this is so far developed that we can avoid all bloody interventions.

205. Our apparatuses and devices, etc. are designed in such a way that open surgical interventions no longer have to be made, for all manipulations in or on the body are carried out in a pure, vibration-related manner.

206. Thus, internal or external wounds as well as broken bones and torn blood vessels can be closed, joined, and healed within seconds or a few minutes.

207. The operation of the apparatuses and devices, etc. occurs, of course, through trained doctors and other specialists, including bioorganic, electronic androids, simply said.

208. In addition, these are able to transport themselves to any location within a range of 300,000 kilometers, even there where they are needed.

209. This occurs through a teleportation by apparatus.

Billy:

You mean that they can beam themselves to any location – just like that?

Ptaah:

210. Yes, but that is nothing unusual.

Billy:

For us earthlings, it is. – Then these androids are true doctors?

Ptaah:

211. Certainly.

Billy:

With you, is anything also operated within the framework, as here on Earth with the so-called spiritual healing?

Ptaah:

212. No.

213. In addition, I must also say that what is operated under this designation by many people on Earth must be referred to as charlatanism.

214. Of course, exceptions are given, but these are based on suggestion and self-healing.

...

Billy:

... Then here again is a question about the health of the people on Erra and your other worlds. Although you have already answered this question for me once, it wasn't held in writing.

Moreover, it is also answered with the fact that there are no longer diseases with you. But still, various people would like to be able to read your answer. So: on Erra or with your people in general, is there still blindness, deafness, disability, and muteness, etc.?

Ptaah:

222. No, all these evils, together with all diseases and infirmities, have no longer appeared for many millennia, which is also connected with our prenatal investigations and necessary medical measures, which are based in the creative law, that each newborn life has an absolute right to consciousness-related and physical intactness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_264

Billy:

... There are several groups of extraterrestrials who function around here on Earth, but to my knowledge you have nothing to do with them. But do they know that you are here?

Ptaah:

49. No, because we also keep ourselves secret from these few.

50. Our directives demand this – but also our security.

...

Billy:

Observations of unknown flying objects, a large number of which are certainly of extraterrestrial origin, have become very frequent in recent years. Can you give me the reason?

Ptaah:

55. The time is approaching when the first official contact with Earth-foreigners is to take place.

56. The efforts of certain Earth-foreign humans come down to this.

57. I am not allowed to explain more about this, because we are not allowed to intervene in current events that are not directly connected with our own interests.

58. Whether this encounter with Earth-humans will actually take place in the near future, however, has already become questionable again, as a result of the new political turmoil, which will also increase again in the future, whereby malicious acts of war are to be expected.

Billy:

Of course not, you have explained that to me very often.

Ptaah:

59. It must be said, however, with regard to the fact that many humans on Earth observe the sky more attentively and see the most diverse unknown flying objects and that this is due to the controversy that has been triggered worldwide as a result of your contacts with us as well as your photo evidence and your person and history.

60. Through this controversy, many humans have become aware of the existence of the Earth-foreigners, and consequently the humans are paying more attention to the heavens.

61. From the whole it follows, however, that very many Earth-humans become familiar with the thought that extraterrestrial human life exists.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_269

13th May 1996, 14:59 hrs {Note: probably a private conversation during Contact 256}

Billy:

It has been some time since you told me that now is not the time to expect official contact between extraterrestrials and terrestrials.

Ptaah:

- 1. The time is really not very far anymore.*
- 2. The only question with regard to the expected contacts is whether the military, secret services and governments will not once again reshape the open appearance in such a way that the public is misled and the facts are distorted and concealed, as has been done with regard to previous incidents with extraterrestrial flying apparatuses and beings from foreign worlds.*

Billy:

Apart from you Pleiadians/Plejaren and the members of your Federation, other Earth-foreigners visit our world very rarely and their flying apparatuses can be observed here and there.

Ptaah:

- 3. That is right, but that is not our concern, because we do not have any contacts to these strangers.*
- 4. We have never done that before.*
- 5. However, it is not to be denied that aliens are sometimes present in earthly area who have nothing in common with us.*

Billy:

On your last visit you also told me that with regard to the so-called crop circles everything is no longer of a purely earthly human nature, but that for some time now there have also been earth-foreigner influences at play?

Ptaah:

- 6. That's also true, but I do not want to go into any more detail about it, because we are not allowed to interfere in things and events that are not compatible with our mission.*
- 7. We must not disregard our directives and therefore not violate them.*

Billy:

Then things have actually changed with regard to crop circle forgeries in certain things, just in the sense that now also extraterrestrial influences are involved.

Ptaah:

- 8. For quite some time this is actually swinging-wave-based the case.*
- 9. However, this does not mean that the pictograms etc. are not genuine and cannot be traced back to the Earth-foreigners.*
- 10. As always, counterfeits are being made by freeloaders who are not exposed to the swinging waves.*

Billy:

And what is the connection between the pictograms which are created by the influence of extraterrestrial vibrations of forces? I think it's rather stupid that humans on Earth who are not yet highly developed make themselves felt in this way.

Ptaah:

11 So the connection does not exist by coming events within SOL-system and also not by the announcement of the appearance of earth-foreigners, whose ancestors came to Earth earlier.

...

25. The only thing that is certain for us so far is that there are certain extraterrestrial energy influences that influence humans on Earth, among others, so that they are active in making pictograms.

26. This does not mean, however, that everything concerning the so-called crop circles is allegedly of honest origin, that it is traced back to influences of earth-foreign beings.

...

Billy:

Recently I was asked whether it is just as common for you on Erra and in your Federation for humans to do plastic surgeries and the like as it is here on Earth – until now actually more for the female sex, but recently also more and more for men.

Ptaah:

59. No, such things are frowned upon by us, because all humans with us are of the opinion and conviction that one should age in honour and see and wear the signs of age on the face, hands and body and never tinker with nature's craft, as you once said – unless uncontrollable circumstances and influences cause physical deformations and devastations, which are then naturally aesthetically repaired and corrected.

Billy:

Then there is cosmetic surgery, like facelifts etc., and as is so common among the humans here on Earth, isn't there?

Ptaah:

60. No, I already said that.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_272

Billy:

... And the foreigners? What kind of beamships or flying apparatus do they have, and what do they want?

Ptaah:

57. Their flying apparatuses bears a certain resemblance to ours and could therefore easily be confused by the uninitiated and ignorant.

58. What the foreigners want is easy to explain:

59. They appear once every 70 to 80 years on Earth, taking care of all sorts of things that reach into political as well as military and scientific matters, whereby their aim is to make an official appearance at the appropriate moment and to establish open contact with the Earth-humans.

Billy:

And, were there contacts to them at earlier times, resp. did these foreigners interfere in the earlier concerns of Earth-humans?

Ptaah:

60. That was to some extent the case, yes.

...

Billy:

... Then there's a question I asked you a long time ago, but you still have not answered it. Obviously you have forgotten the matter. It is that you promised to clarify when the first extraterrestrial people came to earth. ...

...

Ptaah:

92. We have found traces up to 234 million years in the past.

93. These are our latest findings and discoveries.

94. However, I have not forgotten your question about these things, but I have been silent about it so far, because we're still researching and do not have any final results yet.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_278

Billy:

Can I ask you something about viruses and bacteria, etc., how you protect yourself against them when you are on other planets? Can you tell me about it?

Florena:

52. I can do that very well.

53. On the one hand, we are protected by our clothing, which is so much worked and equipped with sensors, that it registers all kinds of pathogens known or unknown to us, etc., and destroys them with special radiation that is harmless to us.

54. This applies both to bacteria and viruses of all kinds that you have mentioned, as well as to other pathogens, which, however, may still be unknown to earthly physicians.

55. Our clothing, which we wear outside of our home planet, is equipped with an appropriate filter system, which eliminates all parasites etc., all germs and all viruses and bacteria of every form.

56. In addition, each of our flying apparatuses has a large, equally active filter and radiation device in the entry area, which is in continuous operation, so that no germs can be introduced.

57. These systems are absolutely safe.

Billy:

But then there is something I do not understand: Semjase once told me that they always have the problem of snuffing here on Earth.

Florena:

58. That was indeed the case, but this fact only referred to when they or other of our groups wrapped themselves in earthly garments and thus lost the protection explained to you.

59. As you know, Semjase and several others temporarily moved among earthlings at very short notice when there were special things to do.

60. At that time, this could only be very short because heavy equipment had to be carried to protect the consciousness and the mind.

61. However, if one of us was affected or infected by the common cold or any other illness, this was regulated and remedied by re-entering the flying apparatus and wearing the usual clothes again.

Billy:

What was it like or is it like with me? I have suffered from various diseases caused by bacteria or viruses.

Florena:

62. That may be true, but as you yourself know, your diseases have never been so dangerous for Semjase or any of us.

63. Besides, as far as I know you have already been informed about this by Semjase, special safety measures have been taken with regard to you and in function, so that you can unhindered be with us and enter our flying machines.

64. Further you also know that in relation to your earthly physics, only these can be considered for disinfection, but not your inner organs etc.

65. This possibility exists only for us, which is why only we can keep ourselves free from any germs etc..

66. Our devices and apparatuses are only tuned to our bodies and organs etc..

Billy:

What do you think of it when you transport foreign planet inhabitants in your flying machines?

Florena:

67. Special filter and radiation devices are required for this, which are tuned to the life forms concerned and which are then subjected to a holistic disinfection.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_282

Ptaah:

...

37. What was held was used for demonstration and information purposes for all our federation members.

Billy:

I am flat. By all federation members, do you really mean all humanities or just spiritual leaders? The latter would not be logical, because you speak of all members of the Federation.

Ptaah:

38. You already understand it correctly:

39. The meaning of my words refers to all members of the Federation.

Billy:

Then I am reassured when only 120 billion (120,000,000,000) humans from foreign solar systems and planets know what's going on in the centre, how the group members behave here, what they do and work, and what their interests are, etc. I am not sure what I mean. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_283

Ptaah:

foreigners

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_287

Zafenatpaneach:

25. She {Enjana} had to make observations regarding the foreigners.

26. These are now increasingly active in Swiss and German as well as French, Italian and Austrian areas.

27. Also in the Nordic countries they are increasingly noticeable for us.

Billy:

And – do you still not have any knowledge about their being here?

Zafenatpaneach:

28. Both the purpose of their being here and their origin are still unknown to us.

Billy:

And why you do not just simply make contact with them?

Zafenatpaneach:

29. The foreigners offer us too many uncertainties in many respects.

30. For this reason, we must strictly adhere to our directive of not establishing contact.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_291

{Note: see Contact Reports 90, 91, and 93 for information on Billy's first encounter with Asina.}

Asina:

3. And that I speak your language is because of this little device here on my body belt.

4. It is a language converter.

Billy:

Aha, this is what Ptaah told me about, that you Deneber have received such devices, as well as other flying apparatuses with which you can travel through space.

Ptaah:

3. That is right.

4. Furthermore, the peoples of Deneb have been members of our Federation for quite some time, which is why they have been equipped with appropriate technology.

Billy:

And, why are you here again, Asina?

Asina:

5. As usual, we are on an expedition, and since the Earth serves us well as a stopover to our next destination, we have moved into your time by a leap in time.

Billy:

Aha, I suspected something like that when I saw the lights in the sky. I assume that you jumped out of your dimension directly into our time and we became aware of you just at the moment you were materialized, and I assume that this must have happened about 200 kilometres away from our Centre, somewhere in the north and over German territory.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_292

Billy:

And, how did you find Asina after all?

Ptaah:

6. Of course by calling them via our remote communication devices, when our search equipment and analysers as well as the planetary communication attempts produced no results and remained unsuccessful.

7. Consequently, we thought that the armada must be outside the Earth, which is why we considered success through remote communication, which then produced the desired result.

Billy:

You speak of remote communication and probably mean a hyperwave or interstellar radio or something. For us here on Earth, distance communication unfortunately only means from place to place, from country to country or from continent to continent – or in the highest case to earthly space stations and manned space capsules and the like.

Ptaah:

8. I understand.

9. Of course, our remote communication devices refer to a technology that enables us to bridge millions and billions of light-years at above-light speed.

Billy:

That's how far we earthlings should be. But tell me, what is the average age of Asina's race, I mean of the Denebers? Can you tell me that?

Ptaah:

10. Of course, it's no secret; their average age is 320 earthly years.

...

Billy:

... Earth-humans have been eating genetically modified things for many thousands of years that have been genetically manipulated by extraterrestrials, such as the pear or the avocado fruit ...

...

Ptaah:

51. Anonymously I shall also send you greetings and best wishes from many people of our Federation, whereby it must be clear to you that in our Federation many more people know you than you can imagine.

52. Truly there are billions, which is especially due to all the works of spiritual doctrinal form etc. which you have made for us in all the years of our contacts and which we of course spread through our spiritual leadership and through our communication channels etc.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_296

Billy:

... Then there is a question about rituals for weddings, births and naming and about saying goodbye when people die. What do you think?

Ptaah:

104. That is different for federations, because there are allies with us who cultivate rituals according to their kind.

105. But for our part, and this refers only to us Plejaren, we have no rituals whatsoever.

106. In the case of alliances, only a short word is spoken about the alliance to be entered into, as in the case of naming, in which a few words of welcome are also spoken about birth and appearance in life and as a new community member.

107. If a person dies, then a farewell speech is given, which shows the deceased person in his deeds, thoughts and feelings as well as in his works and in his character, virtues and personality etc.

108. This also includes merits, etc.

109. In all cases, however, no rituals take place, which is also the case for honours and merits etc. during one's lifetime.

110. Everything in the aforementioned matters takes place in a simple and simple framework.

Billy:

Aha, so no Tam-Tam. And what about busts and monuments etc. in honour of people who have achieved great things?

Ptaah:

111. Such commemorative works are also created by us, but no ritual acts are performed around them.

Billy:

So simply pure works of honour and memory. This includes – as with us – gravestones and memorials?

Ptaah:

112. That corresponds to the circumstances.

Billy:

Even with memorials there are no rituals and acts of worship, I suppose?

Ptaah:

113. That's also true, yes.

Billy:

Here on earth, unfortunately, these things are handled differently – pilgrimages, worship, cultural actions, etc. It's not about commemorative visits or simple memorial and testimonial visits to such places or monuments, etc. How is that with you in this relationship?

Ptaah:

114. We also visit memorials and monuments, etc., but in any case this is done only for the sake of remembrance and honour, and, as I said, no rituals and no ritual acts and the like are performed.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_297

Billy:

... How do you deal with wild animals; do you care for them in the same way as the people here on earth? So do you also go hunting – do you also have hunters for this purpose?

Ptaah:

35. Hunting is not permitted in our country and we leave the regulation of the population in the animal world to nature and its laws.

36. The free nature is left with us so big and actually free enough that all animals have their necessary free space.

37. Consequently, no animals migrate into villages and cities, as is the case on earth, because the animals no longer have sufficient living space due to the enormous overpopulation of humans. –

38. It is forbidden for us to enter wild areas in order to build recreation or dwellings there.

39. In addition, it is customary in our country – which unfortunately is not yet the case for all federates – that no game and no other animals which are kept in large parks and enclosures and which are used for dairy farming, etc., are killed in order to produce food from them, etc.

40. We produce the necessary animal proteins for our food through special duplicators, etc., by producing synthetic meat that is absolutely equivalent to real animal meat.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_304

Tanissa:

1. I am Tanissa and 182 years old.

2. My homeland is Erra, and I am Florena's closest friend and at the same time I am also associated with Zafenatpaneach.

3. I greet you.

Billy:

Splendid, that pleases me. I thought to myself that Zafenatpaneach is a sneaky feller. By this I mean that he is already courting another woman – in addition to Florena.

Florena:

2. That is his right.

3. And Tanissa and I get along very well, and we are very pleased that Zafenatpaneach has made his choice in this way.

...

Ptaah:

6. Are you in pain, my friend?

7. You move so strangely.

Billy:

Unfortunately my knees have been giving me trouble for about three weeks now. You know, my osteoarthritis. I can no longer stand or walk without much pain, so I bought a medical microwave therapy device in Germany, which should probably arrive this week, then I can treat myself or my knees.

Ptaah:

8. Sit down here and stretch your legs out.

9. ... So, yes.

10. One moment, this device diagnoses your suffering. –

11. Aha, especially the left knee is severely inflamed and suffers from a very severe lack of cartilage substance.

12. The right knee is also badly affected.

13. For a moment, this device will give you immediate relief and neutralize the inflammation.

14. ... So, how do you feel about your knees now?

Billy:

You only drove over it once with your device – well, actually, I do not feel any pain anymore. I get up and walk around a bit. Great, no more pain and everything seems to be normal again.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_311

Billy:

... Regarding the Sirians who at that time presented Sfath with their pear-shaped space ship: did that concern a people who, here on the Earth, is called "Nommo", and did those who provided the gift belong to the genetic manipulators?

Ptaah:

9. A people called "Nommo" is unknown to us, and indeed in our space-time configuration as well as in yours.

10. My father Sfath received his flying device as a gift from a Sirian people who are called Samanet.

Billy:

Did these people have something to do with the genetic manipulators?

Ptaah:

11. No, that is not the case.

12. With the Samanet people it deals with a people who live in a space-time configuration which is not identical with that in which the genetic manipulators live.

Billy:

Does it deal then with our space-time configuration?

Ptaah:

13. No, that is not the case.

Billy:

Then, in 1976 Semjase, your daughter, also did not speak of two solar systems of the planets of Sirius in our space time configuration, rather of a completely different one?

{Note: See Contact Report 63:85-88.}

Ptaah:

14. Certainly.

15. We always only speak of the constellations known to you in your space-time configuration in order to show, in terms of direction, approximately what the talk is about in regard to the space-time configuration spoken about by us.

Billy:

Aha, and how does it stand then with that in regard to inhabited systems in our space-time configuration?

Ptaah:

16. Then we also do not speak of another space-time configuration or of other dimensions.

Billy:

That's clear. Understood. – I assume that those who were genetically manipulated also have nothing to do with the Samanet?

Ptaah:

17. That corresponds to the situation.

18. The Samanet are quite normal humans who have not been genetically manipulated.

Billy:

Those who were genetically manipulated, who came into the solar system together with the refugees from the ranks of the genetic manipulators, and therefore with the sympathisers of the genetically manipulated ones, were the descendants of those who had been genetically manipulated as well as descendants of those who did the genetic manipulations, or?

Ptaah:

19. That is correct.

20. The genetically manipulated descendants were descended from the eighth generation, as were the descendants of the genetic manipulators.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_319

Ptaah:

62. If it pleases you, then I would like to play chess with you in the joy of a chess game.

Billy:

Of course. Then let us start right away.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_321

Billy:

Among the adolescents and also among the younger adults here on Earth, unfortunately, there is very often a lack of respect for old age and for human beings in general. In disgracefulness, people of all ages are shown neither respect nor reverence. But how could that be, when you consider how war, hatred, vindictiveness, racism, xenophobia, lack of love, betrayal, torture, the death penalty, injustice, sectarianism, exploitation, fraud, crime of all kinds, greed for profit and power, as well as terror and murder and manslaughter, along with labour exploitation, rape and mistreatment of children and women of all ages and religious, social and racial backgrounds prevail.

Ptaah:

82. All these inhumanities are just as foreign on all our worlds and among all our races as they are on the worlds and among all the races of our Federation.

83. In contrast to the human beings on Earth, we cultivate reverence and dignity and respect and honour in every respect, and consequently no hatred and quarrelling, nor any of the evils and degenerations as you have called them.

Ptaah:

40. That slaughter according to Jewish ritual was never and at no time demanded by an Ischwisch, respectively by a god, as it is expressed by Earth-humans, because the renegades themselves who carried the title IHHW held to the law that animals of every species and kind should not be exposed to any kind of torture, rather if they are ready to be killed, that it must happen very quickly and completely painlessly.

41. This was an irrevocable law since time immemorial that was always respected and followed by the vilest renegades themselves, and also today has unconditional validity for all of our peoples in the entire federation, and is followed without exception.

Billy:

... Then another question: What is your situation with the language mix, will your various languages {break in text} are they preserved or do they fall into decay like here on Earth? And is there anything of the kind that, as with us, is attempted by all means to exterminate other languages in order to make a special language the world language, as has been practiced here for decades or even more than a century by the Americans, who are primarily trying to exterminate the German language, along with all the others, and replace it with their American language?

Ptaah:

81. Something like this does not happen here and would not be allowed.

82. On Erra 16,403 alone we have different languages, which in turn have many dialects of their own, and for this it is determined by a corresponding law that all languages and dialects are preserved in their form.

83. This means that the languages and dialects must not be mixed with others either, but must be preserved in their originality, which is a conscious duty for all Errands to keep to it and not to let any violations arise.

84. Many inhabitants of Erra learn several foreign languages and dialects, much more frequently than is the case with humans on Earth.

85. For the general understanding of all people of all ethnic groups among themselves, it is the duty of every single person on Erra to learn the standard language, which we simply call Erranisch (ERRIN) as well as Plejaren (SARAT).

86. This language is used from the earliest childhood, therefore it is equal to the mother tongue and it can be said that every erranische citizen learns and cultivates two mother tongues perfectly from childhood on.

87. In addition to this we have the Intercosmic (KOSAN), a language spoken throughout our Federation and spoken by little more than a third of our total population.

...

Billy:

... But another question: Now and then the Earth-humans from our future come into our dimension and thus into our space-time continuum, as you explained to me on my Great Journey. Also the Skrills and bio-organic flying objects, two special species, penetrate into our dimension from a dimension affiliated to us. Does this also apply to other humans of other dimensions who do not belong to you or to the Earth from the future?

Ptaah:

139. That is the case, yes.

140. But such occurrences are very rarely observed by us.

Billy:

And what about foreigners from outside our DERN universe coming into our universe area from a foreign universe, apart from Asket's race from the DAL universe?

Ptaah:

141. Something like that is not known to us.

142. Even our very extensive monitoring and constant checks have never revealed anything that would indicate such events.

Billy:

There's no possibility?

Ptaah:

143. At least it's extremely small, because outside of our DERN-DAL twin universe we are mostly surrounded by universes that are only subtle and therefore much more highly developed than our two universes.

...

Ptaah:

159. But now, dear friend, do I once again have a request concerning a game of chess, if you are not too tired?

Billy:

Fine, of course. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_329

Ptaah:

22. This is Melchora and this is Urlana, both in the post of erran spiritual guides.

23. Her companion is Jaspan and he is an erran spirit guide.

...

Reporter:

A nine-fold greeting of female and male voices is heard, whereby the hands are also raised to the left side of the chest for greeting and a slight bow is made, whereby I naturally follow the familiar greeting gesture.

...

Billy:

... But what about you contacting future generations from Earth? Have you contacted any, or will you do so at all? And finally, I would like to know whether they are the same future pilots who have been seen, observed, filmed and photographed in various forms all over the world for years? Is it possible to get more detailed information about this, or is the whole thing secret?

Ptaah:

58. It is not classified as a secret.

59. No, we have not made contact and will not do so, because our directives do not allow us to do so.

Billy:

But these are Earth-humans of the future, who are already quite sophisticated.

Ptaah:

60. The development of that form does not matter, because the directives also determine other conditions, such as the fact that a humans or a human race may no longer be subject to warlike actions, which is not the case with the future human beings, as you call them.

Billy:

I see. So then at least these future generations still play warriors. It's a pity, a real pity.

Enjana:

8. Since on the Earth the 66th birthday of a human is considered a special day, which is known to us, your day has also been commemorated on Erra as a result of many requests in your honour, which is why your entire life story will be openly presented for several hours via our worldwide communication system to all Erran human beings, who take a great interest in your work as well as in your life and your mission.

Billy:

Aha – it happens all the time, day or night, that one of you is in my office. I always notice this when the chair is moved or the computer is turned on, when I come back into my office. The CD player is also used and all kinds of music are listened to. Maybe they even make phone calls, maybe to Erra or something? Sometimes you can also smell quite lovely scents in the office, which I suppose can be traced back to some of the lovely girls?

Ptaah:

18. We all feel very comfortable in your work room, but also in the whole area around the centre, where we often go for a walk or a stroll and enjoy it.

Billy:

And what about our people when they are out on the grounds, such as on the night watch?

Ptaah:

19. That means no more difficulties for us, neither by day nor by night.

20. Our security devices and camouflage devices have been developed in such a way that we can move around in the immediate vicinity of the group members without being noticed by them, even during the day.

21. However, we may be heard walking around if we are not wearing footwear that muffles the sound of footsteps.

22. Also, certain sensitive group members may be able to perceive our vibrations when we are sufficiently close to them.

23. However, none of us use your telephones, because we would not know who to call.

25. But we did not dare to do so, because if someone other than you were to make the connection through the apparatus, we would not know what to do.

26. But the whole thing would also be just a joke on our part.

... But look here – these chocolates were given to me by Mariann, and I promised her that we would both enjoy them together. As a chocolate tiger, I do not suppose you would say no to that, would you?

Ptaah:

11. Certainly not – please allow me – ah, but they are really very delicious.
12. Send my heartfelt and dear thanks to Mariann.
13. We will be careful with them.

Billy:

It is not necessary, Ptaah, because I can get some again.

Ptaah:

14. Nevertheless we will be thrifty.

...

Billy:

... But now I understand what Ptaah meant about the chocolate here. Please help yourself, because you both like sweets of this kind.

7. Thank you very much.

Semjase:

Billy:

Well, the thing is this: Last Wednesday, it was the evening of the 30th of June, Silvano drove the old Volvo to the garage car park to park. And since I had something to talk to Silvano about, I went there, seeing various marks on the bonnet of Atlant's car, so I asked Silvano what had happened. His answer was that he knew nothing, while I went to the car to take a closer look at the supposed scratch marks. When I got closer, I first saw that they were small finger and hand prints that were on the bonnet, hands that had six fingers and a thumb, or seven fingers. Of course, it was immediately clear to me that alien visitors must have been here, some Trilans who had probably examined Atlant's car somewhat handily, because the handprints were etched into the first layer of paint, as were the papillary lines, as Silvano and I quickly discovered. The prints of the delicate hands were clear and distinct. So I was of the opinion that the whole thing must have happened just that day, around noon, because Silvano and I saw a silver disc-shaped object fly away at 11:17 hrs. Of course, we then showed the handprints to all the members who came to the centre, so also to Philia. This proved my view wrong, as she explained that she had already seen the tracks sometime over the weekend and wondered what it was all about. Since her observation, however, it had rained several times in veritable torrents, but this did not harm the etched handprints, because they remained unchanged. Of course, everyone asked me which aliens could leave such traces etc., so I explained that it could only be the small and about 110 to 120 centimetres tall and green-coloured as well as completely hairless and absolutely human Trilans, which I had been allowed to see three times so far, twice in your giant spacecraft and once here in the centre or on the front storage area. And of course they wanted to know how the chemical burn could have come about, which is why I explained that these small human beings have a light green skin that is covered with a thin film of acid, which has a slightly corrosive effect. And now, because the rascals were leaning on the bonnet and also otherwise touching Atlant's car, the handprints and the papillary lines were etched into the paint. For my part, as you know, I cannot reach out to the little ones or I will cauterise them. Nevertheless, you also know that I briefly touched the arm of one of these Trilans with my middle finger in your spacecraft, after which I felt a burning sensation like stinging nettles for about 18 hours, while my finger was reddened for almost three weeks.

... Regarding the alien artifacts that will one day be found on Mars by the earthlings. Can you tell me what these discoveries are about? ...

Ptaah:

78. The discoveries made in more distant times by terrestrials on the planet Mars are usually only artifacts that were created by human influence in various Martian rocks and are often misunderstood as human work of art.

Billy:

... Also with regard to UFOs, which are supposed to be of extraterrestrial origin, but which are in fact of earthly origin, I have learned a great deal through your help and have gained knowledge which proves that on earth everything in this respect is usually based on faith and delusion as well as on the machinations of lies, deception, charlatanry, tricks, deception and illusion, but also on imagination, deception and self-generated visions etc. Also regarding many UFOs you have proved to me that they are not of extraterrestrial, but purely earthly origin. Power states of the Earth, like especially the USA, England, Canada and Russia, have been consciously organizing deception manoeuvres since the thirties by carrying out secret test flights with new and futuristic airplanes and other flying objects. They continue to do so without informing the public, which leads to the belief that the planes and other aircraft are alien spaceships. So the governmental secrecy consciously continues to fuel the belief of the population that the UFOs are spacecraft of alien visitors or intruders, which is of course absolute nonsense, because extraterrestrial flying machines can only be observed very rarely on Earth. Thus, mankind is led by the state powers and secret services as well as by the secret research forces with regard to the UFOs by the nose. Alien visitors – if I disregard you – are so rare that they are to be looked for like a needle in a haystack. That was different when you still had fixed stations on our world, but that is long gone now, and therefore alien aircraft can only be observed very rarely. But the fact that earth people continue to claim that they have any contact with extraterrestrials or spirit forms etc., whether physical, telepathic or channelling etc., that is simply senseless swindling, delusion, schizophrenia, charlatany or even lies and deceit, because for several decades there has been no such contact whatsoever, if I disregard our permanent contact. At least this is how I have been oriented by you. But exactly this fact is denied by all kinds of believers or know-it-alls and by so-called 'experts', because everything that is lies, nonsense, deceit, fraud and charlatany is accepted by scientists, believers, know-it-alls and so-called 'experts' as real and effective reality, believed and declared in this form as truth, not only with regard to UFOs, but also with regard to telepathy, telekinesis, levitation and teleportation. But in contrast to this, all that is real and effective reality and truth and reasonable, normal and conclusive for logical thinkers, is slandered and denied as lies, deception, charlatany and swindling, and those few who have accepted telepathy, telekinesis, levitation and teleportation etc. are denied as truth. are really mastered and can be counted on one hand, are humiliated, ridiculed and trampled into the ground by sceptics, ignorant critics, know-it-alls of all kinds as well as by slander and lies. But now the real question: What can you explain about all this?

...

69. ...we and our allies of our Federation have been the only strangers to the Earth for a long time, who come to this planet and maintain contact with a person of this world, and that is you alone.

70. But that has its own special reason, as you yourself know very well.

71. But it is precisely this fact that has led to you and us being slandered and attacked and insulted by lies since the beginning of our contacts.

72. The pathologically inclined troublemakers, slanderers and other malicious people in this respect are, however, so lacking in intelligence that they cannot think far enough to recognize the real reality and truth.

73. They are not able to recognize that the alleged messages of alleged extraterrestrials given by alleged contact persons are so stupid and banal that they originate from nothing but a completely illogical and usually religious-sectarian fantasy.

74. In fact, we know nothing of these alleged contact persons and their messages from alleged extraterrestrials etc. that corresponds to truth and logic.

75. It must also be said that if contacts had ever actually existed in such a way that important messages or a teaching had been transmitted, these would then have continued until the end of the lives of the contact persons concerned and not simply been broken off.

76. Such an action would be completely illogical, because if some beings set out from the vastness of the universe to a planet to bring messages and a teaching, then this is not just a trivial religious-sectarian nonsense or the like, which is then also ended after a short time.

77. If it really is true that contacts between earth people and earth strangers come about with regard to messages and a teaching, then such contacts are not simply broken off again unless there are compelling reasons for breaking them off.

78. Other individual contacts, which are unexpectedly brought about simply by chance, are based only on brief encounters, which, however, are of no significance and are not connected with any mission.

79. Real contacts between terrestrial people and terrestrial strangers, as is the case with us, lead to a lifelong connection and to a lifelong and immense work.

80. And that in our case you alone are our only contact person on earth has its own special reason, as you yourself know very well.

81. You are in fact in every respect the only person on Earth whom we can meet physically and with whom we can maintain telepathic contact without any mental damage.

82. This also means that it is impossible for us to make contact with other earth people, so we cannot make any other connections – except through you as a mediator.

83. And should it be that in the coming time other alien beings find their way to earth in such a way that they establish open contact with earthly humanity, then we will withdraw definitively into our space-time structure, because our directives are aligned in this form.

84. But I have already explained this to you on previous visits and conversations.

Billy:

Yes, I know. Also good. But, you are talking again about aliens coming to Earth. Is that going to happen in the foreseeable future? For my part, I thought that due to the extremely negative circumstances of humanity on earth, this would no longer be the case for the time being.

Ptaah:

85. Your train of thought is also correct, because we do not know anything for the foreseeable future about alien beings coming to earth to establish open contact with earthly mankind.

Billy:

But your flash-forwards?

Ptaah:

86. They only exist in this relationship until the end of the year 2004, because for us the appearance of alien beings is only then of importance when they actually visit the earth in order to get in open contact with earthly humanity.

87. But that will not be the case so very quickly.

88. Those who were originally supposed to come here will in any case no longer appear, because through secret visits and clarifications on earth they became aware of all the evil and negativity that is especially driven by those responsible for the state and their followers as well as by the earthly population.

89. They were thus deterred, and the decision was made that contacts with earthly humanity should not be made, so that the evil and negativity of earthly humanity could not spread to their humanity.

90. Thus, if it is to be that one day extraterrestrial intelligences openly contact humanity on earth, they will be other beings whose mentality, technology and science etc. we know neither their state of evolution with regard to the observance of creative laws nor their state of evolution.

91. Nor do we know anything about their social laws and regulations etc.

Billy:

Then there may come some unpleasant surprise.

Ptaah:

92. This possibility is given, but it should not be expected.

Billy:

Of course not – would be idiotic and would be completely in line with the bullshit that has been practiced in the worst form since the entertainment film industry was founded, because all films that are based on aliens assume and are designed in such a way that aliens are only evil and degenerate. Especially – how could it be otherwise – the USA is the sounding board in this respect, with the government and secret services fuelling the whole nonsense in a mean way to panic the people. In addition to this there is also the crazy law in the USA that Earth-humans can be punished in the USA, if they have any provable contacts with extraterrestrials. Especially it is punishable if regulations concerning quarantine are violated, if contact with extraterrestrial people, animals or materials etc. has taken place.

...

Billy:

... But another question I am always being asked: Even in your country, deceased bodies are burned at will. I am always asked why you do this, because the burning of the body destroys the fluid vibrations. Although I know that this is not the case, because the skeleton is preserved when the body is burned, it would be interesting to know why this is so.

Ptaah:

98. Burning is a process of cold fire that does not produce heat.

99. You can imagine it as if something is burned and dissolved with dry ice.

100. So the cold fire only dissolves the actual body, without affecting the skeleton.

101. Through the process of the cold fire burning, the mental fluid vibration of the human being settles into the skeleton and is thus preserved, whereby the following personalities can use the powers again when they are born through the rebirth of the spirit form and the total consciousness block.

Billy:

Short, concise and clear. Unfortunately not yet possible with us. – Well, then, I suppose, after this cold burning process, the skeleton is buried.

Ptaah:

102. That's correct.

103. In this regard, we have burials in graves and catacombs, as well as burials in small ossuaries far away from residential areas.

Ptaah:

3. ... I feel impelled to discuss a few things with you and also to devote myself to chess, if you are willing.

Ptaah:

83. Our Spiritual Leadership has conducted a survey among the entire population of Erra, which includes not only the adults but also the children, with the aim of finding a suitable term for the mission that you and all your fellow comrades-in-arms are fulfilling in spite of all the adversities that are being faced.

...

88. The decision was based on a suggestion made by an eleven-year-old girl who felt that a term like 'Silent Revolution of Truth' was appropriate for you, your comrades-in-arms and your mission.

89. This suggestion was generally accepted and now finds its way into our chronicle.

...

Ptaah:

96. There is also the erroneous view that tourism in foreign countries brings profitable growth, earnings and prosperity for their people.

97. But this is not true, because poverty persists among the population in all countries, because in reality it is only a few from the population and above all big business people who earn a lot from tourism.

98. And of these big business people it is often those who come from rich industrial countries and make enormous profits with hotels and sports facilities etc. in the poor countries. – of the rich industrialized countries have large financial resources that allow them to flood foreign countries with tourists.

101. The whole thing should be stopped in the way that our ancestors handled it and solved all the related problems, which banned and dissolved all the travel companies and thus also stopped all the mass tourism, which caused a lot of disaster, such as when natural disasters destroyed tourist resorts and killed countless humans.

102. This was indeed the solution to all problems, from which a worldwide cooperation of all political and economic concerns developed, which led to a worldwide uniform mechanization, politics and economy as well as a uniform world government, which finally led to spiritual leadership and the advice of the High Council.

103. Since then, some 52,000 years ago, peace and harmony has reigned among all the humans of our world and throughout our Federation.

104. Of course, there were many other problems to be solved, which would go too far to mention, but when reason triumphed and the beginning was made, one problem after another was solved and resolved.

105. The whole process of reason lasted 101,036 years, but then everything was sealed.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_370

Ptaah:

54. With us, the task of disaster relief and the like was placed very early on in the administration of the state, whereby the police and security forces were trained for this purpose, made responsible and remunerated through the normal state revenues.

55. Donations collected for relief operations were used down to the last cent for what they were intended for.

56. And today, as we no longer have any financial resources whatsoever, the regular law and order and security bodies are still responsible for relief operations in the event of disasters

57. Of course, we also have many volunteers who carry out valuable operations in the event of disasters, but these are managed by the competent bodies, because there must be a certain order on which any real assistance depends.

Billy:

Then there are also natural disasters in your country?

Ptaah:

58. Not on Erra itself, because there everything is kept under control and properly organized, but there are still different worlds in our widely ramified federation, on which often great natural disasters occur, where great damage is done and loss of life is to be lamented.

59. Here we provide organized help through our law and order and security forces, with the participation of volunteers who carry out their duties voluntarily and selflessly.

Billy:

So this means that when you speak of you, you are not talking about Erra, but about other worlds which belong to your Federation and which are not yet as far along in terms of mastering the forces of nature as you Errans are – is that right?

Ptaah:

60. Yes, that is the meaning of my words.

61. On Erra, we have everything so controlled, organized and legislated in relation to natural disasters that no one can be harmed if nature allows its forces to play.

62. We do not influence nature in such a way that we would completely tame it, but the influence is only in responsible forms of weather formation etc.

63. So the forces of nature can also unfold on Erra, but they are tamed in their worst forms, so that no damage is done to human property and no human lives are lost. –

We received the Old Plejaren alphabet a long time ago, but the new Plejaren characters are unknown to us. Although I have seen them on various occasions in your giant spaceship, in your spaceship and in the beam ships, I do not understand them. Could you please dictate me the new Plejaren alphabet, which has completely different characters than the Old Plejaren alphabet!

Ptaah:

17. That is right, about 4,000 years ago – 4,012 years ago to be exact – the old alphabet was replaced by a new one, which is different from the old one.

18. Of course I can give you the characters.

19. If you want to copy them, you can read them here on this little device.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_382

Ptaah:

3. But first I would like to come back to what we talked about on the 13th of March 1999 in relation to the video with the statements of the group members.

...

13. This is also connected with a wish on our part, because we want to broadcast the completed work on Erra to the entire Erra population through our planet-wide information channels, because a great many requests have been received from the entire Erra population regarding the fact that they would like to get to know all group members and their experiences etc. in this way.

...

Ptaah:

27. These clarifications are without any doubt, because our monitoring in this regard is absolutely faultless, because our apparatuses and devices register all foreign to Earth mental vibrations of acute activities, but also of telepathic nature, therefore nothing can escape us in this respect.

28. If communications between Earth foreigners and Earth-humans had taken place in the last major period of time, then this would have been recorded by our automatic recording devices and would have become known to us.

29. This in addition to the fact that we have always made individual clarifications with regard to all persons who claimed and still claim to have had or still have contact with extraterrestrials in any way.

30. But the results concerning such contacts are consistently negative to this day, and that is absolutely clear.

31. It is no different with extraterrestrial flying objects, because also with regard to these we have built up a global surveillance network a few months ago, so that no objects can enter or leave the airspace without being registered by us.

32. Until recently this was different, because we had not yet installed the necessary equipment, consequently some foreign objects escaped our attention in recent years, but this has nothing to do with the registration of foreign mental vibrations, which we have been controlling worldwide for more than 82 years, therefore we are also informed about when and where contacts between Earth-humans and Earth foreigners have actually taken place.

33. During this time their number – you excepted – applies to only eight such contacts, but of all those who claim that they have or have had such contacts, only one is who openly admitted the truth and came forward – the American Daniel Fry.

34. All others remained silent to the public about their contacts.

35. And what else is to be said about extraterrestrial flying objects:

36. They have entered Earth's airspace very sparsely since 1984.

37. What has been observed since then of unknown flying objects were usually – with very few exceptions – secret military or official flying objects of terrestrial origin.

Najdescha:

7. What you say regarding the female sex on the Earth, is known to us on Erra, but incomprehensible, for we do not use to have our faces or our body parts surgically altered in order to appear more beautiful, young or younger.

8. We find it a great honour to grow old with dignity and to bear the marks of age.

9. So even the mention of age does not cause us any problems, as I can also tell you my age of 422 years.

10. My task and activity is not an elevated one, for I am a simple woman and also work in a simple way in a monitoring plant of natural food production, together with my husband.

11. We have three children, two daughters and one son, all grown up and working with Ischwisch Ptaah in his big flying machine.

...

15. On earth, you call my family task, to my knowledge, housework or housewife, while my other task and activity is based on the supervision of food production.

16. To be more precise, I am a trained gardener and am responsible for planting and caring for and harvesting natural food.

17. In other words, it can be explained that I carry out my activity in a very large vegetable cultivation plant.

...

Billy:

... Why, Ptaah, does Najdescha speak of you as Ischwisch Ptaah? That's new to me, because I thought that it wasn't usual for you to mention the titles or something.

Najdescha:

21. I just like to call him Ischwisch Ptaah, like many others do.

Billy:

Aha, but still I don't understand?

Ptaah:

6. When someone in our country speaks in the manner of Najdescha, it is the same as when we speak to each other with my friend or dear friend.

7. So it is a matter of dignified naming, but this has nothing to do with the fact that people on earth address each other with titles, which is nonsensical.

Billy:

Yes, that is what we agreed. ...

...

Ptaah:

45. Well, something else pleasant happened in the last days and nights as well, as Florena and Enjana told me, who moved around the centre on various occasions during the day.

46. They also observed that around the main building and in the trees and bushes in the house-tree-garden many songbird species feel comfortable and have built their nests, where they do their breeding business and raise their young.

47. Among them are also various species of migratory birds, which can only rarely be observed in Switzerland.

48. They have also observed roe deer, foxes, martens, badgers, dormice and a trusty hare, some of which can reach as far as the house.

49. They have also observed four squirrels, which you fed at the house and which have become quite trusting.

50. In this regard, Florena and Enjana have on several occasions observed how you fed these small animals by tapping the floor with nuts and holding a nut in your hand, where the squirrels took it away.

51. Other centre residents could do the same, as well as two children who were in the Centre.

52. Florena and Enjana have recorded these events and your bird and animal life, which we do not have on Erra and which we will show to our humans via the remote viewing systems, on devices.

53. It will be a joy and surprise to our humans to see what a little paradise the Semjase Silver Star Centre really is, not only in terms of the whole environment, but also in terms of the bird and animal life.

54. Also different lizards, beetles, butterflies and honey-suckers, also pigeon tails, but also a lot of insects and beautiful night owls, like moths etc., two owls, several bats, an eagle owl and a normal one as well as a barn owl together with different day birds of prey, like buzzards, falcons, sparrowhawks, hawks and kites, which are unknown in their earthly forms here on Erra, have captured Florena and Enjana on their devices.

3. Your writings and books are not only read and studied by the few of us who know the German language, but also by very many other people on Erra, on Sater, Njsan, Deron and Druan.

Billy:

But surely they do not speak German, do they?

Taljda:

4. No, of course not.

5. Your and the group members' writings and books will be translated into our languages and distributed through the public information and teaching medium.

6. Thus, everything can be read and studied by everyone on our home worlds.

...

Menara:

11. In fact, your writings and books are taught, read and studied by all Federation peoples.

...

Taljda:

8. But now Ptaah has just announced himself on my device here.

9. He will be here shortly.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_402

Billy:

... Are there actually prophets on Erra and on the worlds of the Federation, and if so, how do people feel about them? We have never talked about this before, so I therefore know nothing about it. But what I do know is that on Erra there is only one direction of philosophy, and it is oriented towards the creative laws, which are taught by spiritual leadership and are learned and followed by the people at their own discretion and will. Consequently, there are no sects and no gurus like here on earth. But what about the non-Plejaren races of your Federation?

Ptaah:

43. We have actually never talked about that.

44. Yes, from time to time wise prophets appear here and throughout the Federation, giving prophetic instructions to the peoples, which are actually followed by every people.

45. Our prophets, just like the earthly prophets, show us what negative things will happen in the future as a result of the behaviour of the peoples, if the wise advice is not followed, because all our peoples have a great respect for them.

46. This, besides the fact that they are also instructive in all things of life, as well as in the creative and natural laws and commandments, as is also proper to spiritual leadership and its duty.

47. So in this respect we can speak of an equality of our and the earthly prophets.

48. Our wise prophets are held in high esteem by all nations and are respected in venerability.

63. And now, as far as the various numerous peoples of our Federation are concerned, it must be said that some of them are connected to the philosophy of creation and thus also to the teachings of the spirit, while others are only on the way to becoming so or still represent purely human-ideological ideas, but have nevertheless developed a very high level of evolution.

Ptaah:

36. I will visit you on the 5th of January to spend an hour in chess with you and give you new predictions.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_410

Ptaah:

49. The direct ancestors of the yellow races, as the races of China and Japan are called with you on Earth, came to Earth 25,994 years ago – counted from today on – and settled in the areas of today's China and Japan.
50. Their very distant ancestors were at very early times or millions of years – like the white, red and brown races – partly refugees from the Sirius areas, which were shifted to the Dern space-time structure.
51. The yellow races first settled in distant regions beyond the sun or central sun, where they founded large races in the Nisan system on a planet called KUDRA and created a huge overpopulation.
52. As a result – in addition to the fact that the planet was slowly becoming uninhabitable – a great emigration took place about 2.4 million years ago, with large masses migrating and settling in the Lyra systems on this side of the central sun, on a neighbouring planet of Lasan.
53. Their planet was called NISSAN.
54. These systems and planets in the Lyra regions were also offset to our space-time structure by fractions of a second or seconds, whereas the Nisan system and its planets – thus also Kudra – beyond the galaxy belonged to the Dern space-time structure.
55. Now it must still be said that about 2.4 million years ago, when the emigrants separated from Kudra and moved to the Lyra regions, a certain part also came to Earth and settled already in the areas of today's China and Japan, where also already earth-born human beings existed.
56. The early emigrants from the Kudra peoples who settled on Earth were left to their fate without any technical achievements, because the transport ship that should have brought the technical materials never arrived on Earth, but remained lost.
57. Thus the immigrants were also deprived of the technology that would have enabled them to contact the emigrants in the Lyra systems.
58. This resulted in them being 'forgotten'.
59. 25,994 years ago, Nissan was once again overpopulated, and larger groups of emigrants were formed to investigate other emigrants in the past.
60. So they also came across the Earth and the areas of today's China and Japan, which resulted in migrations to these areas on the Earth and the resettlement of today's China and Japan, including the merging with the very distant descendants of the former emigrants and with the earth-born.
61. These later immigrants came to Earth by popular decree, free of any technology, to find a new beginning, which should prevent another problem of overpopulation from arising
62. Nevertheless, the peoples retained their knowledge and their sense of invention, and consequently, despite the lack of technology, they continued to make technical progress, albeit in a way that no longer corresponded to the old technical forms.
63. The tendency towards overpopulation has continued to this day.
64. It should also be mentioned that the two yellow races were never on good terms with each other, which is why they were constantly engaged in strife, which often led to armed conflicts.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_411

Billy:

... The first question is about how humans die on Erra, because you do not know any more diseases that could cause death? The second question is about the care of humans who are in need of care due to accidents etc. or in old age. We have never talked about this before, so I myself am not aware of it and would be grateful for an answer.

Ptaah:

9. In fact, our health care and health hygiene are so highly developed in every respect that we no longer know any diseases in our world.
10. Nevertheless, we must protect ourselves from germs when we come into contact with other humans from other worlds and with the conditions of other worlds.

11. We are generally only immune to all kinds of diseases that existed on our world, but not to diseases of other worlds.
12. So for us immunizing protective measures are necessary when we enter other worlds, which also applies to the Earth.
13. But this does not cause us any problems, because our medical knowledge has allowed us to protect ourselves against all germs for a very long time.
14. And that brings me to your question:
15. In fact, humans no longer die of any diseases in our country, but usually only as a result of old age or – which unfortunately can also happen – as a result of accidents.
16. Normally about 94 percent of all accident injuries can be healed by our medical science and medical practice, but unfortunately there are also those cases where no medical art of healing can help anymore.
17. If injuries require a longer period of recovery, medical professionals are available to provide all necessary care until the injuries are completely healed.
18. However, these cases are rare, because usually injuries of all kinds can be healed within minutes or hours, including fractures of the bones, as you know from your own experience.
19. If care is necessary, it is not provided in hospitals, which we have not had for a long time, but each injured person is cared for in their own home by specialists.
20. And as far as dying in old age and the state of health of the Errans is concerned, it has to be said that such signs of old age, as they are given with the terrestrial human being, are no longer true with us, consequently all humans on our world are in good physical condition up to old age and there are no complaints of old age, consequently they die in old age as a result of old age itself, because the vital functions fail.
21. Thus, except for causes of accidents, no more humans die of diseases in our world, but this only applies directly to Erra and to a few races of the Federation, while the majority of them have not yet reached our level in all relations.
22. The average age of us Errans is 1,050 years, which is also equal to the earthly years.
23. The races of our Federation, on the other hand, have average ages between 248 and 793 years.

Billy:

Aha, then the Earth-humans are still very much at a disadvantage to be accepted into your Federation, if that would be possible at all. The average age of your Federation is probably based on the fact that they have reached this high age through a corresponding evolution of consciousness, through which they have got everything under control, including technical and medical science etc., through which they have achieved a longer life span?

Ptaah:

24. That is correct.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_412

Quetzal:

22. But now, my friend, I feel like competing with you in chess and having a private conversation with you.

23. And if you have some chocolate here, then ...

Billy:

Sure, just a minute – here, my son, you can feast on this.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_424

Billy:

... Another question regarding your federation: You once said that it stretches over many dimensions or space-time structures, and over 50 million light-years. May I ask you, how many different dimensions your federation consists of?

Ptaah:

...

88. And it has to be said in regard to our federation, that it is spread out over three dimensions, and that our two dimensions – ours and yours – are included.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_426

Ptaah:

1. I did not have a long time, because I listened to the music playing on the radio.
2. It was uplifting for me.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_428

Billy:

Aha, but how about the strolling on our terrain by you and your confederation members?

Ptaah:

45. That is part of each of us' pleasures, and we do not want to miss it – even if we have to exercise caution.

Billy:

Of course, but you are always welcome – the acid guys, the Trilans, too.

Ptaah:

46. They will be the ones who will probably walk most frequently on your terrain in the near term.

Billy:

Ah, then our car owners can be happy again, when the little ones delight the paint of the cars with their little fingers. But that does not anger us.

Ptaah:

47. It is their habit to fathom things tactilely with their fingers.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_436

Ptaah:

50. Can we do a chess game afterwards, because I feel like it, also I would be grateful for some chocolate if you have some here?

Billy:

It is obvious, the chess game as well as the chocolate. One moment – here my friend – with best regards from Mariann. She always provides me with it.

...

Ptaah:

55. The chocolate is good, thank Marianne for that.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_438

Billy:

... Now the question is, what percentage of water and land surface does Erra have?

Florena:

6. Of course I can answer this question, because it is part of my knowledge.
7. So I can say that Erra has a total water area of 55.7% and a total land area of 44.3% of the total planet surface.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_439

Billy:

... I would like to ask you how many continents Erra actually consists of and how high is the highest mountain? ...

Ptaah:

9. Erra consists of two big continents, one of which you have visited.

60. The highest mountain consists of a volcano that has been extinct for thousands of years and has a height of 26,403 metres.

Billy:

When I was on Erra, I did not see much of the continent. There are certainly islands in the sea, but what about volcanoes? And further: What about seaquakes, earthquakes and storms? I'm also interested in how old the planet Erra actually is? You, who are also a geologist, know that very well.

Ptaah:

61. Of course.

62. On Erra there are also various islands in the seas, which we call by different names, just like on Earth.

63. There are also active volcanoes on both very compact continents, which according to our research have remained the same for about 320 million years and have not undergone any major changes, because the tectonic movement is only moderate and does not cause major changes in the event of seaquakes and earthquakes.

64. Moreover, the planet has already calmed down so much in its activity that seaquakes and earthquakes are no longer of great importance to us, quite contrary to those that occur on earth.

65. Erra itself has an age of 7.2 billion (7,200,000,000) years in relation to the oldest solid matter.

Billy:

From Florena I know that the entire planet surface is 55.7% water surface and the total land area is 44.3%. The islands are also included in this land area, and I'm interested in what percentage of land area they have to be calculated with?

Ptaah:

66. I can answer this question as well:

67. Of the 44.3% land area, 5.7% of the total land area falls to the islands, while the two continents have 38.6% land area.

68. And before you ask that:

69. The smaller continent comprises 17.4%, of which 3.1% is mountainous, and the larger continent with 21.2% has 4.2% mountainous.

Billy:

And can you say what the continents are called?

Ptaah:

70. The big continent is called Galian, which means 'the big one', while the small continent is called Saruma or 'the fertile one'.

...

Ptaah:

124. But now, Eduard, my friend, we should finish our official conversation, so that we can talk privately and play another game of chess.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_441

Billy:

...

21. With the named group, it concerns a worldwide branching from governments, the military, industrial groups, secret services, paramilitary and powerful ones of finance, as you correctly said.

22. Those in the know and contributors are only certain elements of the same, who profit greatly, financially and power-politically, from their secret machinations, for which reason the entire powers of the government, military and industrial as well as finance are not involved in the situation and are also not informed in regard to this.

23. The group is not organized, as such, rather is only a loose collection, whereby their interests, however, have a common form, which, already since the 1920s, was designed to operate a continuous, ingenious, large-scale disinformation campaign regarding the question of extraterrestrial life.

24. The group, which is split into many small groups, has many kinds of technical possibilities at their disposal, which they employ for their evil and human-misleading purposes.

25. That started with technologies of electromagnetism to do with precision electronics and computer engineering, up to and including apparatuses through which brainwashing and the programming and altering of consciousness is evoked in humans.

26. They even have back-engineered beamships at their disposal, whereby, in certain contexts, even antigravity finds application.

27. It has also occurred many times that premeditated "abductions" of Earth humans by "extraterrestrials", and the massacre of animals, has been and is faked by this group.

29. Also wrong information and falsified pictures of alleged extraterrestrial flying devices is strategically circulated worldwide, whereby according to our investigations, about 98% of all false pictures, films, videos and false information is directed at moving the Earth humans to angst and terror of extraterrestrials and to engender hate and thoughts of revenge in the Earth humans.

30. Therefore, in this way, angst, terror and hate is stirred up against all life foreign to Earth.

31. Especially films for cinema and television serve this purpose, as also, however, do many books which are constructed on lies and untruths and are written partly by "experts" in psychology and psychiatry.

32. All this nonsense sells very well to the Earth humans because many on the search for the effective truth trust and believe this false information, and these films and pictures.

33. Angst, horror, terror, hate and revenge always sell well, while the truth appears too banal and therefore appears uninteresting as well as not worth knowing.

34. Only the fantastic and unreal find a place in the interests of Earth humans. 35. However, precisely that is the launching platform for the infamous machinations of the worldwide group, because, through disinformation and fear-mongering in regard to the malicious foreigners to Earth, the entire group, which reaches right around the world, derives horrendous advantages of a financial, governmental-power, military-power as well as an economic form.

35. However, precisely that is the launching platform for the infamous machinations of the worldwide group, because, through disinformation and fear-mongering in regard to the malicious foreigners to Earth, the entire group, which reaches right around the world, derives horrendous advantages of a financial, governmental-power, military-power as well as an economic form.

36. The entire war, electronics and weapons industries, and so forth, thereby gain an enormous boost.

37. Yet, in the worldwide group, secret paramilitary units also exist as smaller groups which carry out the same kind of operations which, however, are mostly controlled by the worldwide group.

38. In particular, these small groups carry out premeditated abductions which are credited ostensibly to the extraterrestrials, as well as, however, also simulated appearances of alleged extraterrestrial flying craft, which are then collectively declared to be extraterrestrial UFO appearances and are often observed, photographed and filmed by many people.

39. Thereby the illusion of an ostensible extraterrestrial abduction or observation of extraterrestrial flying devices is evoked.

40. What is further to say about that is that, in this worldwide group, with all the small groups who partly also work autonomously, there exists a proper "UFO trade" and a subculture in regard to animal massacres and abductions and so forth.

41. The entire thing is secretly financed through governments, the military, industrial groups and financially powerful ones who are interested in angst, terror and hate being stirred-up to their highest forms in regard to the alleged evil extraterrestrial foreigners, because they can thereby gain gigantic financial profit and advantage.

42. It is on this basis that, in every regard, from this group, only stories, cinema and television films and observations of UFOs will be accepted and profitably exploited, which are based on everything negative and – as is becoming proverbial with the Earth humans – on the malicious and aggressive nature of the extraterrestrials.

43. Only that which evokes angst, fear and terror as well as engenders hate and revenge is accepted by the group and exploited worldwide in order to obtain enormous profit with it.

44. Conversely, in addition to that, everything which is good and positive is vehemently slandered and is designated as a swindle, lie and deception, as is the case with you and us, since, in keeping with the interests of the group, we are not permitted to exist, and you are not permitted to be in contact with us, rather you must be a liar and a fraud.

45. So, from the group and their small groups, the Earth humans will be served up deliberately false and fear-influencing stories in regard to extraterrestrial UFOs and foreigners to Earth and their alleged horrifying machinations like, for example, painful examination contacts and animal massacres along with falsified encounters with alleged extraterrestrials.

46. Along with profit, the whole matter also serves deeply-based psychological propaganda in order to insult forms of life who are foreign to Earth and to brand them as malicious beings and to create angst, hate, revenge and hysteria because great financial means will be thereby freed up which serve research for the production of innovative and futuristic weapons of all kinds.

47. Therefore, in these Earth humans, in regard to the extraterrestrial, an enemy will be psychologically, deliberately created which does not exist and which will, in a manner, be made into a malicious being such that the Earth humans, in their angst, will be driven to freeing up horrendous sums in order to therewith manufacture weapons against the alleged malicious invaders.

48. Also, with these acts, various groups play off against each other, which, however, is part of a well-thought-out plan which is carried out and implemented by secret services, psycho-terrorists, espionage groups and treacherous disinformation agents and which is underpinned by false information regarding UFOs and alleged extraterrestrials.

49. Additionally belonging to this plan is the invention of an imaginary extraterrestrial enemy, as well as a danger emerging from this – an enemy and a danger which, naturally, will have to be fought.

50. The infamy is thereby that, first of all, everything is made ridiculous because the concerned "abductees", "examinees", "chance contactees" and UFO-observers can provide no evidence for their experiences which would withstand a real examination.

51. Then comes the second fact, which exists in the fact that angst, terror, hate and feelings of revenge is produced in the Earth humans whereby then the weapons industry can be built up and indeed especially in regard to futuristic weapons, of which the normal Earth humans have no idea, and of which they do not ever dare to dream.

52. The entirety is thereby a well-thought-out psychological network on which the progress of the entire weapons industry and the power of the military, of the federal leadership, the finance sharks and the industry businesses as well as the secret services can be built up ever further.

53. To this end angst, terror, hysteria, hate and revenge is sown in regard to all foreigners from outer space.

54. So the Earth humans become duped and financially exploited by the responsible ones of this dangerous group and their small groups and are deliberately driven to abhor and to hate the extraterrestrial foreigners.

55. Corresponding cinema and television films serve as especially suitable means for that.

56. The foreigner-angst, respectively, alien-angst, which is thereby produced surpasses all normal angst and the responsible ones of the group know that precisely, for which reason they can also thereby calculate that all necessary finances flow to them, which they require for their weapon research, their weapon manufacture, their leading of wars, and desires for power, as well as for unrealistic cinema and TV films which demonize the Earth-strangers.

57. The creation of an supposed threat from extraterrestrials as well as the alien-angst is, for them, a profitable matter which is operated under the shabby cloak of a federal, respectively, country security and of world peace.

58. For the entire machinations of the group, the meanest machinations are quite good enough which, as said, were already operating since the 1920s and to that also belong highly developed electronic weapons systems, futuristic flying discs, Earth humans who are hypnotically and surgically converted, as well as converted in their consciousness, to robots*, whereby some have an appearance like the being which is called the "Little Grey".

59. On one hand there is the dim-witted paradox that the extraterrestrial flying devices are denied and the strangers to Earth are made ridiculous or made out to be monsters by means of psychological propaganda, while, on the other hand, a financial exploitation of the peoples results through the inciting of angst, terror, hate and revenge and indeed thereby in that a simulation results in regard to a supposed threat from extraterrestrials.

60. A paradox without compare, to which the question must be put, how far are the Earth humans imbued with reason and understanding that they do not recognise this paradox.

61. The entire pre-arranged game of the group and their small groups, as already said elsewhere, also includes faked encounters with alleged extraterrestrials, whereby these are truly nothing other than normal Earth humans or those who have been transformed into "aliens".

62. In order then to affirm the improvised "encounters with those foreign to Earth" psychologists and other experts are pulled in into whom the wildest stories are hammered for so long until they believe the entire swindle and nonsense and employ "verifiable" and "genuine" analyses which are recorded and published in books and documentation as well as in cinema and TV films.

63. And since, as a rule, the supposed extraterrestrials are described as horrible villains, just according to the plan of the group and their small groups, the picture of the extraterrestrial threat is powerfully incited.

64. Thereby, not only is the slandering in regard to the real strangers to Earth always more exaggerated, as also more and more finances flow into the cash box of those who stupidly and dimwittedly earn as a result of the entire tissue of lies and slander and thereby come by the means to reach their criminal goals.

65. A certain part of the group has also fallen to a Christian sectarianism and to the supposed "End Times" in such a way that hope is directed at a malicious invasion of extraterrestrials resulting on Earth, and thereby the prophesied Armageddon will become reality in which Jesus Christ celebrates his official return and God the father will exercise his judgment.

66. Their delusion is therefore bound with a biblical end of the world, which, as they believe, rests on the terrible badness of the Earth humans.

67. And in order to accelerate this divine judgement as well as the return of Christ they do everything in order to make the way free for that.

68. The monstrous power of the worldwide group and their small groups as well as the religious fanaticism, together with the cultic maintaining of the secret of the entire underhanded, degenerated and deceptive as well as criminal and felonious machinations, lead to malignant effects which could not be worse.

69. These are the facts which I have to name in regard to your question.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_445

Billy:

... so I can raise a question about the way the Plejaren dress. What I have seen in everyday life on Erra in this regard was that women, children and men dress in an appropriate moral form. So I have not seen any of them walking around half-naked or even completely naked. But what does it look like when you take a bath? During a kitchen talk on the 21st of February the following question was put to me about this, which I could not answer, because during my short visit to Erra I did not see very much, which refers to the question: "Nudity in public: what is the acceptable limit of clothing for the Plejaren? If you can tell me in a few words the most important things relating to that question, I would be happy to.

Ptaah:

...

15. We Plejaren are always so fully clothed in public that there are no parts of the body freely visible that could be sexually provocative to the opposite sex.

16. When bathing in public, a sparse bathing costume is worn, of course, but this is kept within chaste and ethical or moral limits with regard to the nakedness of the body.

17. Therefore, it is neither customary nor permissible to wear lewd clothing in everyday life or when bathing in public waters or in facilities intended for that purpose, nor to go half-naked or completely naked.

18. Semi or fully-nakedness is only given in an intimate manner in living communities or special friendships, but never in public.

19. In the case of special friendships, it should be noted that half or full nudity is only justified if the friendship of both sexes exists in a purely platonic form without any sexual intent.

20. Morality has a very high value for us Plejaren, which is why the ethical forms are strictly maintained and cultivated in every relationship, whereby of course prostitution of any form is frowned upon and prohibited by law.

Billy:

In communities, are there any taboos or rules?

Ptaah:

21. There can be no question of that, because private life is inviolable in every respect when it takes place within the framework of legislation.

Billy:

By that I mean that a community is run in all things legal, according to a specific community law. So there must be no violations of the rights of cohabitation in any form whatsoever. It should be remembered that this applies to both same-sex and opposite-sex partnerships, right? Besides, I suppose that this legislation has nothing to do with the state laws?

Ptaah:

22. You see everything in the right way.

...

Ptaah:

28. If you feel up to it, we can talk a little more over a game of chess.

Billy:

In private. That is convenient. – Good, here is the game ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_446

Billy:

... But now I would like to ask a question about your handling of weapons in connection with the population. It is a question that has interested me and others for a long time, although I have never asked about it, but what I want to do now is this: Firstly, are all your weapons designed as working tools, whereby I only mean the ones you carry with you or which are simply considered to be handguns, like handguns in our country?

Ptaah:

37. All weapons in this regard, as well as all other small and large weapons, are also designed as working tools of various kinds.

38. The type of use as a tool is, for example, the lifting and transportation of heavy weights or of objects and goods, in that anti-gravity is generated by the weapons or by the working device, which facilitates the lifting, moving and transportation of loads.

39. The devices are also used to generate heat, cold or fire, etc., if required, as well as to dig up earth, to fuse metals, glass, synthetic materials and many other materials with each other, also in such a way that, for example, metal can be fused with glass, with stone, synthetic materials and other materials.

40. There are many possibilities in this respect, as well as in the use of our weapons as working tools.

41. Of course, we also possess exclusive working devices, working robots and working apparatus of every possible kind, but which would appear futuristic to the Earth-humans if I were to describe them as such and in their function.

Billy:

I am aware of that, but I have no idea of the full extent of its possible uses. Of course, I am aware that your weapons can be used as such, with various forms of weapon energy, and that they can shoot tiny energy projectiles of great penetrating and explosive power. As I know from Menara, Semjase, Asket and Quetzal – although I myself was once allowed to do shooting exercises with such an old weapon – you only have energy-based weapons that only shoot energies and energy projectiles, but no more material projectiles. We call them ray guns.

Ptaah:

42. That is true.

43. The energies are of various kinds, as are the energy projectiles, which are much more effective than all the material projectiles of earthly weapons of any kind known to you.

Billy:

Heat rays, cold rays, rays with an anaesthetic or lethal effect, then also electromagnetical oscillations and energy projectiles etc. The weapons and the associated working tools are not operated mechanically and not manually, but only by thought vibrations, as I know.

Ptaah:

44. This also corresponds to the facts.

45. Every weapon and all the possibilities of using it for work purposes etc. can only be used through thought vibrations that are tuned to the thought patterns of the person to whom the weapon belongs.

46. Second and third persons can therefore under no circumstances use a weapon once it has been adjusted to the thought vibrations of a particular person, not even as a working tool.

Billy:

You once explained to me, that in your country weapons are also used for sporting purposes, such as marksmanship or simply for personal enjoyment. What about the possession and carrying of weapons, which are without exception designed as energy weapons? ...

... I believe that weapons should only be in the hands of humans who can be absolutely certain that they will never cause harm. This would, however, require thorough psychological tests to ensure that the person to whom a weapon is entrusted never misuses it. This would have to be done not only in the civilian, but also in the military sphere, and this would have to continue until the man of the earth in general has reached the point where he lives his life according to the creative-natural laws and commandments, as is the case with you.

Ptaah:

47. Our ancestors already had your idea, who acted within the framework you mentioned, until one day our folks were ready to cultivate their world of thoughts and feelings as well as their way of acting according to the laws of Creation, from which the state of our present way of life has resulted in a comprehensively responsible form.

48. These absurdities are completely impossible for us, because our evolution of consciousness has already reached a level several thousand years ago that is far above these inhuman primitivities.

49. Thus, weapons are not intended to kill, but only in an extreme emergency, when there is no other possibility of self-defence.

50. Possible conflicts – which, however, have not occurred among our races for thousands of years – which may arise among foreign races and in which we may become involved, we settle by force of arms only when circumstances require it, but only with stunning effects, because we consider killing to be contrary to creation in relation to the teachings of the spirit.

51. Only in the very first emergency of self-defence against a human being would the use of a deadly weapon be considered for us.

52. This order also applies with regard to the killing of animals, so that we do not know any hunting as it is practiced by terrestrial human beings.

53. Only in extreme emergencies would we kill low animals for self-preservation in order to obtain food.

54. However, our animal world is left to itself, therefore it regulates itself.

55. The fact that we let the fauna, as well as the flora, lead their natural life can only be achieved by regulation, because we keep our planetary population within the limits of the natural and therefore do not allow overpopulation to occur.

56. We cover our meat requirements by cloning or replicating living cells of animals and all kinds of creatures, which have been bred by replication for about 4,000 years, which also applies to many animals and creatures and all kinds of plant products, in addition to the fact that we also do horticulture and field cultivation for vegetables and fruits as well as herbs and spices etc.

57. We also produce many kinds of materials by replication or multiplication, as you once called this process.

58. But as far as the possession of weapons is concerned, it has to be said that every human being on our planet – as well as on various other worlds of our Federation – is free to possess a weapon without any permission, for whatever purpose.

59. Many possess weapons which are used as pure working tools, but also for the pleasure of leisure time activities regarding shooting in competition, for which only electronic targets are used.

60. And indeed, many people of our worlds possess any kind of weapons, but no mischief is done with them, just as they are not used for murder etc.

61. Such degeneracies as murder and manslaughter, jealousy, hatred, vengeance and revenge, war, terror and fanaticism of any kind have not been seen in our world for several millennia, nor have crimes, crimes and uprisings etc. in any form, because all people of our worlds live according to the spiritual teaching and thus in full awareness of the fulfilment of the creative laws and commandments.

62. In this form, our efforts are also directed towards pacifying other peoples of other planets, with whom we can contact and instruct according to our directives.

...

Billy:

... But now something else: With regard to the clothing of the Plejaren, you said the following on the 8th of March:

"We Plejaren are always so fully clothed in public that no parts of the body are freely visible which could be sexually provocative to the opposite sex. When bathing in public, of course, a sparser bathing costume is worn, but in relation to the nakedness of the body it remains within chaste and ethical or moral limits. Therefore, it is neither customary nor permissible to wear lewd clothing in everyday life or when bathing in public waters or in facilities intended for that purpose, nor to go half-naked or completely naked. Half- or full nudity is only given in an intimate way in life communities or special friendships, but never in public. In the case of special friendships, it should be noted that half or full nudity is only justified if the friendship of both sexes is in a purely platonic form without any sexual intent. Morality has a very high value for us Plejaren, which is why the ethical forms are strictly maintained and cultivated in every respect, which of course means that prostitution of any form is frowned upon and forbidden by law."

I was asked what is meant by 'sexually suggestive' in terms of the wearing of clothing. From my understanding, I explained that this meant the wearing of clothing which sexually displays sexual characteristics in a provocative way or which provocatively expresses the sexual organs. In the case of women, I think this also applies to the bosom, because I have only ever seen the female sex in your country chastely cover the bosom up to the base, unless clothing is worn that reaches completely to the base of the neck. Am I going with my explanation correctly?

Ptaah:

63. Your explanation corresponds to what is given.

{Billy, Kabul, Afghanistan, 16th September 1964:}

... In this way also the traditional prophecies of the signs in the sky have become reality, because for years these have been seen and observed at all hours of the day and night and in all parts of the world, but unfortunately they are often misinterpreted and ridiculed. But the signs of the times are fireballs, explosions of rays in the atmosphere, earth-electromagnetic-atmospheric phenomena, strange clouds and misty phenomena, which appear by the hundreds like small flying objects. But there also appear jet ships or space ships from foreign planets, which are steered by foreign people, who come here in order to indirectly enter into the evolutionary process of consciousness and into the action of consciousness through a proclaimer and his teaching of the spirit as well as through the teaching of truth and through the teaching of life, to intervene in the actions and work of earthly humanity because necessity demands it, because the man of the earth with his still limited consciousness forces the basic and structural elements of nature and life to react, in order to destroy in his insanity myriad life and the climate of the earth. ...

And what is to be said further: The ray ships resp. spaceships of foreign intelligences from distant worlds are no fantasy, because they exist like you and me – they are not cloud agglomerations, balloons, lightning, flocks of birds and the like, as they are so gladly called by scientists and leading authorities, by opponents of the truth or by laymen, who do not want to make themselves ridiculous with the recognition of the existence of the so-called UFOs. These unknown extraterrestrial flying objects – if they are not, as is often the case, top-secret earthly-military aircraft and planes -, they are real, as thousands of very good photographs, films and reports prove. And there is no shortage of real contacts – even if there are very few of them worldwide and only a small handful in number – who have spoken with extraterrestrials. They all testify to the real existence of the extraterrestrials and their objects, the beam ships. They and everything else testify to the effective existence of the extraterrestrials – even if this existence is ridiculed by the terrestrial authorities and evil antagonists as not being proven or simply presented as a hallucination or even a lie. But for what reasons do the denying and denying authorities and antagonists maintain very secret UFO reconnaissance groups etc., which have the task to clarify the origin of the UFOs from space and to arm them for a possible space war or a sudden invasion from space? An idea, by the way, which corresponds to a complete nonsense, because the space men do not control our earth in order to conquer or subjugate it, if they wanted to, they could have done so long ago, because their technology reaches to the fantastic compared to the earthly one – and the earthly weapons of all armies would be nothing more than a toy for them, which they would throw away as rubble and useless junk due to unworthiness and uselessness. Moreover, their very highly developed technology goes back many centuries and millennia, so that, if it had been in their will, they could have conquered the earth when it was still in antiquity or in the dark Middle Ages when it was growing towards its present state. But why are the authorities so eager to find out the secret of UFOs and especially the unsolved mystery of the radiation propulsion, which makes the extraterrestrial aircraft or UFOs fly through the earth's atmosphere at speeds of up to 100,000 kilometers per hour and more, neutralizing the gravity? So why these secret researches under exclusion of the public, when everything is supposed to be only lies and deceit? Why that? The authorities are afraid, frightening, deadly fear, for they fear an attack from space, and for this purpose it would be urgently necessary that they themselves be in possession of ray ships and ray weapons, so that they could counter the enemy attack already in world space itself. Others, however, fear panic and rampage of the population, if they should really become aware of the existence of the extraterrestrial UFOs and their crews, because panic and rampage already rolled over the population of different countries, when UFO sensational reports, so-called 'direct reports from the place of the event' were broadcasted over the radio stations. Direct reports, however, which did not correspond to the truth and were only sensational radio plays. The number of deaths of the population running amok went into high figures.

However, the authorities, who stop practically all UFO reports – if they have real backgrounds – do not consider that the panic of the masses will be much greater one day, if the extraterrestrials should really come in masses, in order to prevent perhaps the greatest insanity of the earthly humans and to change the face of this world for the better, if the revolutionary events, which are caused by the humans of the earth in a responsible way, roll over this world. But it is questionable whether extraterrestrials ever interfere in earthly matters in this respect, because they have directives which would only allow them to intervene under certain conditions. A real contact person, as well as reconnaissance planes and simple observers of really extraterrestrial flying machines resp. UFOs are dealt with by the authorities as well as by the people and by malicious adversaries and slanderers, who insult lies and fraud and may even be imprisoned for many years in a mean way or interned in insane institutions, because as already mentioned, the authorities are unwilling to reveal the profound truth – they do not shy away from publishing denying notes and treatises in the newspapers or from having them published by bought-in laymen, critics, opponents and so-called 'experts'. For these reasons, in various countries, a real contact person – of which there are not even a handful – an observer or enlightener plays with his freedom when he takes his task seriously and tries to create enlightenment. And the few people who have or have had contact, not even a small handful, have a very difficult position, because they encounter hatred, mockery, disbelief, official intrigues and partly church-destroying statements, as well as slander and much more.

Ptaah:

43. ... we Plejaren and our confederates live in other space-time configurations ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_450

Billy:

Then a question regarding the Sirians, with whom you've been in contact for some time now after all. My question is based on the fact that Bernadette is working on the 'Nokodemion Line' into a brochure, in which a statement of mine from the year 1995 is also integrated. At that time, it was still the case that you were not able to maintain contact with the Sirians, but that has changed some time ago, as you explained to me. How was it that you were able to get in contact with the Sirians after all?

Ptaah:

58. It is not the Sirian folks with whom we have come into contact, but our contacts take place only in remote communication form with some groups of consciously higher-evolved scientists.

59. These form our liaisons with the various governments, which are occupied by scientists who are also consciously higher-evolved and who lead the peoples.

60. We do not yet maintain personal or physical contacts, because various prerequisites for this are still missing.

61. The populations of the Sirian peoples themselves are not yet so far advanced in the evolution of consciousness that they would be equal to their scientists, and it is this fact that we cannot yet maintain official contacts with the Sirian peoples.

62. Physical contacts are not yet possible with regard to scientists either, but nothing stands in the way of remote communication contacts, because the evolution of consciousness of scientists allows this, which is why we have opened these contacts.

63. In the remote-communicative way we have also appealed to the Sirians' reason, so that the old persecution mania against those genetically manipulated by their primeval ancestors was abolished, which, however, had already been handed down only in ancient annals, but had long since been forgotten by today's Sirians and was only cultivated by a small group of fanatics who, like the neo-Nazis on Earth, for example, created and practised their hatred from the old writings within themselves.

64. But we only found out about this some time ago, just when we were able to contact various Sirian scientists by remote communication, whereby we did this because we wanted to get hold of those hateful fanatics who threatened your life for so long and called themselves the Men in Black.

Billy:

But if you are now in remote communication with the Sirian scientists, then they must be really advanced in terms of consciousness development. This reminds me completely of the earlier times, when scientists were the genetic manipulators.

Ptaah:

65. Then, as now, in the Sirius regions, scientists are the rulers and the powerful ones who have the peoples under their command and give them the directions of thought.

66. But these scientists of today are so far removed from the old forms of government that they lead the peoples in a free form, so that they too can evolve consciously, although they are still far below the level of the evolution of consciousness of the scientists.

67. The old system of government by scientists has been maintained over very long periods of time and has only changed to its present form about 140 years ago, so it will take a long time until the peoples in general reach a higher level of evolution equal to their present scientists, whose earliest ancestors used their knowledge to bring their peoples under their power and to keep them in that power.

68. This is no longer the case today, and as a result of the high evolutionary development of the Sirian scientists, we have been able to establish remote communications with them, which will enable us to establish physical contact with them in the near future, but which will be limited to the scientists and not extend to the peoples.

69. So we will give development aid to scientists in every possible relationship and in every responsible way possible for us and for them, whereby the teaching of the spirit will also be a comprehensive teaching.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_453

{Note: This Contact Report contains several charts which provide data on the age, birth date, planetary origin and other information pertaining to the extraterrestrials who have been in contact with Billy.}

Ptaah:

34. The origin and existence of all life owes this to the basic laws of universal chemistry and physics, from which left-turning amino acids developed fundamentally for the emergence of life itself, which formed and also continue to form the main factor of the biological emergence of life as a whole in universal breadth.

35. From this it also emerges that every form of life is planetary chemically-physically conditioned, consequently this is also different from planet to planet and has innumerable forms universe-wide and is not necessarily human-like, as you know and as you were able to see for yourself together with us on your Great Journey through large parts of the universe on the most diverse worlds.

Billy:

Yes, I never forget that, all the different life-forms, which also included various intelligent ones that were not human-like. I would like to say, however, that despite the very great strangeness, they cannot be called monsters, just as they cannot be called human-like life-forms. Some have also developed higher and higher cultures and techniques, which may seem futuristic and fantastic to earthlings, but nevertheless corresponds to the truth. Many of the alien life-forms, however, were of the animal kind, and you let me look at a great many bacterial forms under a device that I would like to call a microscope for the sake of simplicity, because it had such a function, but has no resemblance to the devices we know. It was interesting for me to be able to determine that human life is extremely thinly spread throughout the universe and that most life-bearing worlds carry life-forms that look completely futuristic to earthlings. And I remember you explaining that human life-forms found their widespread expansion in the universe on various occasions only because they created the technical means to be able to emigrate to other worlds through space travel...? I also still hear your words today when you said that life-forms existed on practically all planets, comets, meteors and celestial bodies as well as in the nebulae and gases in the universe, even if, as a rule, they were only bacterial life-forms, except on planets? And as you have let me see, such life-forms also exist on the moons of our SOL satellites, as well as on these themselves.

Xeruel:

2. We are triplet siblings and we are here on behalf of Florena and Enjana, and as you say correctly, we use language converters, because we do not know your language.

3. This here is my sister Xeruella, and she here is my sister Xaruala.

...

5. Of course – we are 122 years old, and our home world is Erra.

6. Xeruella is the first-born, I am the second-born and Xaruala is the third-born.

Billy:

It is interesting that you have three names that almost all sound the same.

Xeruella:

3. In our family we can look back on many generations that have always borne names of this kind.

Billy:

Do you mean the names themselves or just names beginning with the letter X?

Xeruella:

4. My words refer to the initial letter X, but not to the name itself.

5. According to our annals, no other name has been used in the traditional lineage of our family for more than 6,000 years whose initial letter would not have been an X.

Billy:

And what about the surname we call family names here – do they also begin with the letter X? Ptaah once told me that also bears his surname.

Xeruel:

7. That is correct, and these surnames have always started with an X from the male side of the descendants, because the family name of the father, Xerianam, is taken over and carried on.

8. This, while female descendants change family names because when marriage alliances are formed, they are attached to the male family name of the spouse.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_457

Billy:

And in regard to the three groups that have been traveling around our world, do you have any new insights on that?

Ptaah:

33. As I mentioned before, we are no longer concerned with them.

34. They are indeed active in the whole earthly airspace and also in the outer Earth envelopes.

35. Furthermore, it seems that they have no knowledge of each other, as I explained to you before, just as they have absolutely no knowledge of our presence, although we leave it at that, because, as we could clearly see with our latest technology, which we received from the Sonaern, their technology and their behaviour as well as their evolution of consciousness is still very much in need of development, and this although they are masters of space travel and probably also of time-travel.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_463

Billy:

There are programs on television which explain that many private people, also well-known scientists, are sending messages with big antennas purposefully out into space, in order to make extraterrestrials aware of the Earth and the earthlings. What do you think about this?

Ptaah:

69. This nonsense is as familiar to me as the enterprise that was started decades ago from the US-American side with the golden, round plate that contains a lot of information about the Earth and the earthly humanity, for the purpose that human exo life-forms should become aware of the Earth and Earth-humans if they can get hold of the information.

70. The whole thing is not only nonsensical, but also dangerous, for all sorts of unpleasant things can happen both through the information plate and through the messages that are sent wildly out into the world space.

71. It is a fact that not only on earth exists an unpeaceful and warlike humanity, but also on foreign worlds.

72. And if such evil-minded life forms catch the earthly messages and are powerful in space travel, then this can have very bad consequences for the Earth and Earth humanity.

73. And that also when several or many decades or even a century or more pass until such nonsensical messages are caught and then spaceships are sent to earth to wreak havoc here, whereby even mankind could be exterminated.

74. There are life forms powerful enough for space travel in all galaxies suitable for it, whereby these are very far scattered, but have created space possibilities, as diverse as they also have the necessary technology to get to earth.

75. Time is not an issue for certain human space-capable life forms, because they reach old age, so they can easily travel to Earth for 40, 60, 100 or more years, if their technology also allows them to do so.

76. And indeed, there are dangerous contemporaries among them, as you say in each case, who can bring destruction and ruin, which they also do in their home systems.

Billy:

Not pleasing, but the firecrackers who send messages out into space can't be proven wrong, because they claim that the radio and TV shows that are broadcast constantly reach aliens and draw their attention to Earth. Consequently, the messages they send out are no more and no less in the same frame.

Ptaah:

77. This is of correctness to a certain extent, but to send out targeted messages with exact information into the space of the world is more dangerous.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_467

Ptaah:

9. You can, but today I would like to talk to you again in a very private way, where we can also enjoy a game of chess.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_469

Ptaah:

99. Thus I will begin with us actual humanoids, whereby I must explain that all life form species, which I have to call, show human or human-like forms in shape, as well as forms mixed with their other species, whereby the only human-like beings are not actual humanoids, but just different and embodying two different species.

100. All of them, however, are capable of a conscious development of consciousness, have their own cultures and languages as well as techniques, whereby some of the ones we know are also masters of space travel and belong to our Federation.

101. All of them, at least those who belong to our Federation, are peaceful beings and have no warlike or violent ambitions:

102. 1) Humanoids are human beings in the form in which we Plejaren and the Earth-humans as well as many of us are allies of our Federation, to which, however, other life-forms also belong, which cannot be called humanoids in our sense, because they are of a completely different kind, but nevertheless consciously capable of evolution and have developed their own cultures and techniques as well as languages, as I already explained.

103. 2) Amphiboids are, in terms of form, life-forms of mixed human and aquatic animal nature, which can live both in water and on land, as well as in a climate that is heavily water-filled. Asina, for example, and her people are among them.

104. 3) Reptiloids are life-forms of mixed human and reptilian form, their bodies being covered with scales.

105. 4) Insectoids are life-forms of mixed human and insect-like form, their skin showing chitin-like characteristics.

106. 5) Sauroids are life-forms of mixed human and sauropod-like form with a skin similar to elephant skin.

107. 6) Primatoids are life-forms of mixed human and primate-like form with a hairy body, but in a stronger form than the terrestrial humanoid or Earth-humans.

108. 7) Condocoids are in form of life-forms actual humanoids, but with the ability to move by levitation.

109. 8) Teropoids are life-forms with human and birdlike body, with long neck, face and beak-like mouth.

110. 9) Hydroids are life-forms with human and fish-like bodies, whose actual life-element is water, which they can also leave for a longer period of time.

111. 10) Thermoids are in shape humanoid life-forms with a human-like body, whose own life-element is hot areas with very high temperature.

112. 11) Frigoroids are in form humanoid life-forms with human bodies, whose life-elements are very cold areas with very low temperatures below zero.

113. 12) Aërioids are in form humanoid life-forms with human body, whereby they are poison gas breathers and their life-element are various gas atmospheres.

114. 13) Acoroids are in form humanoid life-forms with a human body, but their skin is covered by a fine layer of acid, like e.g. the Trilans.

115. 14) Floroids are life-forms with human-like and diverse plant bodies.

116. 15) Centauroids are life-forms with partly human and partly equine bodies.

117. 16) Faunoids are life-forms with partly human and partly various ungulate bodies.

118. 17) Cheruboids are in shape and weight very light human life-forms, equipped with feathered wings through which they can fly.

119. 18) Seraphoids are life-forms very light in shape and weight, partly human and partly animal, equipped with feathered wings through which they can fly.

120. These are the people we know of various genera and species resp. races of human and human-animal-like life-forms, which I name in the above mentioned way, so that Earth-humans can also get an idea of them.

121. Our names are of course of a different kind, but they correspond to the value of the names mentioned.

122. Basically, however, it is to be said that all the life-forms mentioned which are the same as human beings are also beings who in their whole or in part resemble our human forms, to which they have changed over millions of years.

123. Apart from this, however, their appearance in terms of the appearance of their skin and its excrescences is different from that of us who call ourselves pure humanoids.

124. But since several of the life-forms I have mentioned are probably humanoid in appearance, but different in the outer appearance of their skin and its outgrowths, we call them peregrinhumanoids, as has been explained to you earlier.

125. This term means as much as foreign humanoids.

126. All mentioned life-forms are therefore in their essence humanoids, which also have a humanoid spirit-form and are part of a conscious evolution of consciousness.

127. The origin of the peregrinhumanoids is not the same as with us pure humanoids, but their development into peregrinhumanoids has taken place in a similar way as with the pure humanoids.

128. Their primeval forms were very small and only gradually developed into larger life-forms, which in turn were subject to multiple changes until they became the beings they are today.

129. Such a course of evolutionary form has also taken place in relation to us purely humanoids, because our course of evolution has also brought about various changes, until finally the purely humanoid human being was created.

Ptaah:

146. In a direct democracy, the parliament, the rulers and the authorities, etc., are no more and no less than mere executors of the will of the people, by which alone it is determined what shall and shall not be.

147. That is what we Plejaren and all our federates understand by an open democracy.

148. And in such one it must also not be that the supreme rulers, a parliament or other governing bodies propagandise for any things and decisions, but rather present only elaborated plans and proposals to the people in such a way that all advantages and disadvantages of the project are mentioned to them, after which the people have to weigh everything up at their own discretion and make the decision by an election without partiality.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_476

Billy:

... If something breaks, how long can you keep fixing things?

Ptaah:

11. First of all, for every achievement, no matter what kind it is, small or big, there is only one form of production respectively one brand worldwide, as you say.

12. And secondly, our production is geared to ensuring that repairs can be made to small appliances and equipment etc. in the event of damage occurring for 70 years, because components can be produced for this purpose during this period if required.

13. For large devices and large apparatus, such as our planetary and spaceworthy flying apparatus etc., a period of 350 years is specified.

14. We are careful to use as few resources of our and other planets as possible and also to take care of the environment.

15. Waste products are therefore avoided, so everything is designed so that everything can be recycled.

Billy:

One brand of product per product, I think that makes sense. Yes this is only possible because you produce everything and everything of use on a social basis and do not know of money anymore, therefore everything is produced by the people and every human being receives everything necessary of every kind, who he needs or what he simply wants.

Ptaah:

16. A fact that also contributes to the fact that there is not crime in our country, because every person can get everything he needs or wants at any time.

17. This system, however, requires that means of payment are no longer needed, so we also no longer have them.

Billy:

And what about garbage and litter and so forth? When I think of the packaging mania that exists here on Earth, which generates billions of tons of waste and billions of dollars, I am terrified.

Ptaah:

18. That is not the case here, because all goods are handed out to the population without packaging, with a few exceptions, where the packaging decays after a long time of self-decomposition and decomposes back into its natural components.

19. If it concerns materials that do not completely disintegrate back into their original components, such as things made of materials such as metal, glass, crystal and plastic etc., which we of course also produce, then these are collected completely and sent for recycling.

20. This also happens with devices and equipment etc., which can no longer be used, so we do not have any wear and tear on any materials.

21. Our entire population is careful to observe this order, so that no one produces waste, rubbish or rubbish, because otherwise it would be impossible to keep nature and the entire environment clean.

Billy:

Then you have not got any incinerators or garbage disposal plants or garbage dumps in nature.

Ptaah:

22. No, we do not have that, because such things, like money and crime, are also phenomena that only occur in cultures that are still in a state of low progress.

...

Ptaah:

75. The population of the planet Akart belonged to our federation, as well as also, the population of the worlds of Proxima-Centauri and others from there and other local regions of space around there, from which several of them have come to the Earth.

77. The population of Akart however no more exists since the year 2007, because in the only 32 years from 1975 to 2007 their total population had increased to 34 billion (34,000,000,000), when through their stupidity, like also is apparent with the terrestrial population, nature and the climate were completely destroyed, when, in the end, an oxygen collapse and an atmosphere collapse occurred, as you have described this.

78. As a result all life was wiped out on that planet.

Billy:

However, you still have advised and helped them, as you said at that time.

Ptaah:

79. Unfortunately, our advice was just disregarded and not followed, as well as also our help was declined.

80. Only then, when there was nothing more to give, the humans came to think things over, but then it was already too late, as a result we only could just save as many humans as possible, unfortunately only 116 million, and resettle them to other worlds.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_505

Billy:

So then: First, a question about Mount Shasta respectively about the distant descendants of extraterrestrials who lived there, which I talked about several times with your daughter Semjase, but also with you. ...

Quetzal once told me outside of an official conversation that you took all the inhabitants from Mount Shasta and on the Aleutian Islands and in Alaska.

Ptaah:

53. That is correct.

54. We have tried to get all the inhabitants of the three places to return to their peoples, with whom they have always been in contact.

55. We gave them the reasons for our own withdrawal from the Earth, which led to their withdrawal.

56. Their dwellings and all the trappings have returned them to their original earthly state, so that there is no longer anything to indicate their former presence.

57. The process in this regard was the same as in the pyramid of Giza and on Mars.

Billy:

I understand. So then you did not take them away yourselves, but they left of their own accord with those who came from their original homeland, but simply on your advice. I have misunderstood something. But can you tell me where these human beings actually belonged, respectively to which people?

Ptaah:

58. That is not a secret.

59. They were distant descendants of a lineage of the old Lyrians, to which they also returned.

Billy:

Then they are, so to speak, related to you, the Plejaren, because the Plejaren peoples came out of the old Lyrians.

Ptaah:

60. That is correct.

Billy:

Thank you. So there is now nothing in Mount Shasta, Alaska, or the Aleutian Islands that indicates their former presence?

Ptaah:

61. That is also correct.

Billy:

And may we know what you told them that they went away?

Ptaah:

62. That is not a secret.

63. The reason was that we too had abolished our stations on Earth and returned them to their natural original state, but it was important that we had included the inhabitants of all three places in our protection, which was not given after we had left.

64. So a further stay on Earth would have been too dangerous for them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_511

Billy:

... But I am now interested in whether, since my last question regarding other extraterrestrials who do not belong to you Plejaren or to your Federation, any other extraterrestrial flying apparatuses have flown into earthly space in the meantime?

Ptaah:

27. Since we completed our surveillance technology for objects entering or entering the Earth's space years ago and are therefore able to locate and register even the smallest objects, there have been no entries of unearthly flying apparatuses that do not belong to us Plejaren or to members of the Federation.

29. And what has happened in the last 300 years with such flights into the earthly space has found its reason in the fact, as we have clarified in the meantime, that really all extraterrestrials who came to earth found their way to earth by some unforeseen coincidence or in two cases by coordinate information.

30. The fact that the way from extraterrestrials to the SOL-system and finally to Earth led in some cases, was either due to uncontrollable coincidences or due to coordinates received etc.

31. Some also came to Earth through curiosity, aberration or by accident, after they unintentionally or intentionally entered the SOL system.

32. However, most of the entries took place because of uncontrollable coincidences and also because the Earth was discovered.

33. There were also flights into Earth from the Alpha-Centauri area when the SOL system was approached, and of course Earth was discovered and explored.

34. So it was usually a rare coincidence that extraterrestrials other than us, the Plejaren and our federated ones, came to Earth.

35. Only in two cases aliens came to Earth via the coordinates given by very distant Nokodemion descendants.

36. There were not any other strangers to the Earth other than those who came to Earth through the coordinates and uncontrollable coincidences.

37. So the visitors were not those who flew to Earth as a special destination, with two exceptions.

38. But we Plejaren and our Federation and the ancient Lyrians are excluded from this, because even our very distant ancestors knew the SOL system and the Earth, and so they visited the Earth millions of years ago.

Billy:

This is familiar to me, because they came to the SOL system because of the Moon, whose path they followed when it blasted out of their space-time structure through a dimensional gate into our space-time structure and settled on Earth. And it is also clear to me that there is not extraterrestrial-human life at every corner of space and that extraterrestrial human beings are not to be found in every corner of the universe, as the human beings on Earth are led to believe by science fiction films. There are indeed billions of solar systems in which there are also planets, but those that carry human life, which is also highly developed and capable of space travel, are very rare in our DERN universe. That is why, as you once said, your Federation is spread out over hundreds of millions of light-years in your space-time structure, because the human beings are scattered in the vast expanse of space and it is not densely populated with humans. Often there are dozens, hundreds or even thousands of light-years between human inhabited worlds, and also only a few of the human beings on these inhabited planets are capable of space technology. The same applies to our space-time structure, and consequently also to the fact that there are not masses of human beings on the planets, but only a few of them in the vastness of our own or any other galaxy. For this reason alone, it is crazy to claim that aliens from this or that constellation would come to Earth from this or that constellation, simply to make some nonsensical religious and sectarian speeches and conversations and to give divine advice etc. This apart from the absurdity of the fact that there is no evidence of such alleged contacts between aliens and the human beings of Earth, neither material nor photos and films.

Ptaah:

39. That is indeed the case.

...

Billy:

Do you know anything about whether any aliens still know the coordinates of the SOL system or even Earth, apart from those who already came here?

Ptaah:

69. We don't know, but I also have to say that all extraterrestrials who came to Earth were more or less well versed in space technology, which cannot be taken for granted.

70. The majority of unearthly human races are still not capable of space travel.

71. And others who have mastered space travel are only able to move within their own solar systems and cannot leave them.

72. Interstellar space travel is extremely rare, as is the possibility of moving through dimensional gates into another space-time continuum, as we do and can also create such gates.

73. And it must also be said that those who came to Earth from other space-time continuums could not deliberately create and fix the necessary dimensional gates, because in fact they were only able to move into this dimension of the DERN universe through momentary natural cracks in their space-time continuum.

74. Others, on the other hand, who came from the DERN dimension, only came to Earth because they could create and use space-time gates, which is also a rarity.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_513

Ptaah:

4. I still have some time left, because I have taken some time off, because I still want to enjoy chess with you.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_516

Ptaah:

1. Hello, Eduard, here I am, unfortunately I am four minutes late.
2. But I like the music that comes out of your computer.

Quetzal:

1. It also suits me.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_519

Billy:

... It is now almost ten years since you said that you have come across something very interesting in relation to the investigations of the various extraterrestrials who have come to Earth in the last 300 years. But you wanted to say something more about this only when you know all about it for sure. Is it about what I asked you to clarify some 30 years ago – do you have any detailed information about it now?

Ptaah:

37. Yes, we have this information, and it is based on many years of very laborious research and clarification.

38. After 30 years of investigation and research, it has now been proven with absolute certainty that all known flights into Earth's airspace and landings on Earth by Earth-foreigners have only occurred because all those who found their way to Earth had exact or halfway exact coordinates of the Lyra and Centaurus systems and the SOL system at their disposal, which they did not evaluate until thousands of years after their receipt and recovery.

39. The interesting thing is that for all Earth-foreigners who came to Earth, these data were based on very old and millennia-old records, which were based on connections with peoples from the very extensive Nokodemion line.

40. And the fact that all these records have been analysed by a wide variety of Earth-foreigners civilisations over the last 300 years was based on very old regulations, which were designed to ensure that these records were found and analysed in more recent times and that the respective Earth-foreigners flew to the elaborated coordinates.

41. The whole purpose of all this was to enable everyone to find their way to our Federation and unite with us.

42. This was also the case for those who came from the Centaurus systems and from other areas.

43. Some of the Earth-foreigners who came to Earth, due to errors in coordination, strayed directly to Earth instead of reaching the Lyra system, others were looking for the planet Malona/Phaeton, which they did not find, but came to Earth in their search.

44. Others were looking for Mars, but found it inanimate and finally came to Earth.

45. But there were also those who suffered an accident, including the Gilgamesh spacecraft of the very early days, as well as the spacecraft that caused the Tunguska catastrophe.

46. With one exception, all Earth-foreigners who came to Earth in the last 300 years are now part of our Federation, and interestingly, all of them have proven that their early ancestors were, as I explained, connected with earlier peoples of the Nokodemion line, from whom they have received records of the coordinates of the systems mentioned.

47. They used this data to get to the Lyra and Centaurus systems and to the SOL system.

48. If they hadn't had these coordinates from the ancient records, they would also never have come to Earth.

49. So they only came here to your homeworld Earth by certain coincidences.

Billy:

Asina and her people, what about them?

Ptaah:

50. They also belonged to it in the same way.

Billy:

So then everything was predetermined. When was that? ...

Ptaah:

51. The whole thing leads back to the time 389,000 years ago.

52. Even then everything was determined and directed in such a way that everything is fulfilled in modern times and especially in the modern age.

...

61. And further it is to be said that apart from us Plejaren and our Federation no other Earth-foreigners are on Earth or even penetrated or entered the Earth's airspace, therefore no Earth-humans can have contact with any Earth-foreigners.

62. And all those Earth-foreigners who came to Earth by the coincidence of the coordinates of the ancient Nokodemion peoples belong to our Federation today, and they too do not maintain contact with Earth-humans.

...

Billy:

But what if unknown flying objects are observed?

Ptaah:

65. If they are Earth-foreigners flying apparatuses, then they can only be those of us Plejaren or of our federated ones.

66. Otherwise they are exclusively earthly unknown flying apparatuses, like secret aircraft of futuristic design etc., as they are constructed in secret aircraft construction factories, mainly in Area 51 in the USA, but also in South America, Russia, China and Canada.

Billy:

Is this really all clear and real?

Ptaah:

67. Absolutely.

Billy:

This once again triggers angry cries and howls among the UFO believers, the ufologists and the alleged contactees, which in turn makes me a snail again.

Ptaah:

68. This will be so, because the deceivers, liars, swindlers and charlatans regarding alleged contacts with Earth-foreigners as well as the UFO believers in general and especially those who boast of being experts in ufology, do not want to understand that apart from us, the Plejaren and our federated ones, no other Earth-foreigners come to Earth, and also that those who came here in former times found their way to Earth only by means of old coordinate records which led back to connections with old Nokodemion peoples.

69. Only such Earth-foreigners and future Earth-followers have come to Earth, but never any others from foreign galaxies and solar systems that did not have the coordinates handed down.

70. So others did not reach Earth, as alleged contactors lie and claim.

Billy:

This apart from the Skrills and the bioorganic flying objects and the future of Earth from other dimensions, as you say. If all the many claims about contacts between the human beings of Earth and extraterrestrials were true, then Earth would be teeming with extraterrestrials.

Ptaah:

71. That is correct.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_530

Billy:

... When I was on Erra, I saw huge apple plantations, with trees and apples much bigger than here on Earth. The biggest apples I saw, according to your explanations, weighed several kilos. The apples, I was taught by Quetzal and you, are used as food and medicine ...

...

... I am wondering what you do with apples from a medical point of view?

Ptaah:

66. Highly concentrated food is made from them, and because of their high concentration they are also effective in a completely natural way from a medical point of view.

67. Apart from the stalk, no waste products are produced during the production process, which means that every apple is fully utilised, including the skin, the seeds and the core.

Billy:

Similar or identical to our food supplements?

Ptaah:

68. No.

69. These are pure, highly concentrated foods that contain all the natural substances of apples, but no chemical ingredients etc., which are used as normal food in daily use.

70. Every human being on Erra eats such products every day.

Billy:

Liquid or solid?

Ptaah:

71. Both possibilities are possible, whereby the high concentration of the food corresponds absolutely only to pure fruit.

72. The same is also possible with vegetables.

Billy:

And the nutritious cubes I ate on my Great Journey and on Erra, are they also of a similar kind? One or two or three cubes were enough to satisfy my hunger.

Ptaah:

73. They are.

74. The high-concentrate is specially cold-dried and pressed for this purpose, so that a cube of about 2x2x2 centimetres will contain about 3 grams of apple high-concentrate, which corresponds to a raw apple weight of about 500 grams.

Billy:

This corresponds to about three large apples as we have them here on Earth. By cold-dried you mean a kind of freeze-dried, or?

Ptaah:

75. That is so, but the process is of course in line with our more advanced technology.

Billy:

But you also eat fresh and raw apples and other fruit, as I saw in your large scale room.

Ptaah:

76. Self-evident.

Billy:

We use chemical spraying for apples and also for all other fruits and vegetables, which is not the case with you, I know. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_532

Billy:

Then my next question, which does not apply to the future, with those of whom you of course do not want to have contact, but my question does apply to the unknown to you, respectively, to the unknown to you Earth-foreigners, of whom we have spoken about in our last conversation. I have indeed no contact with them and also do not want to get in touch with them, yet I think, that you nevertheless know something about them, for I can myself imagine, that you do not put aside the matter without observation and thought.

Ptaah:

49. That is correct, yet we do not concern ourselves too much with it, for the technology, on which they operate, as well as their conduct does not correspond to prerequisites, which would be important in accordance with our directives, which would allow us to enter into contact with them.

50. From their technology and their behaviour alone, we can infer their state of consciousness, which does not correspond to one that would allow us to contact them.

Billy:

Their technology must however still be well developed, for they are able to come from somewhere in space to the Earth. And with their conduct ...

Ptaah:

51. Admittedly, this is actually so, yet the aliens are, regarding their consciousness development and their fallible conduct patterns, contrary to the inviolableness and the dignity of all life in exactly the same way still are not sufficiently developed enough, as also not their technology, as a result we are not able to arrange them in accordance with our directives into the important security stages, which are predetermined by us as our directives.

52. And regarding their conduct, many matters do not correspond to a consciousness development, which would allow a contact starting and association with them in accordance with our directives.

53. There, were and are, many incidents caused by them, which are not able to be reconciled with a healthy and higher consciousness ability development as well as also not with various creative-natural predetermined laws and regulations.

54. Despite the higher developed technology, through which they are able to cope with travel through space, they are on this matter not much further developed than terrestrial scientific field skilled workers, who as a rule, all live just according to Earthhuman laws and regulations, while at the same time, they however still follow little, or in general nothing, in the exercising of the creative-natural predetermined laws and regulations.

55. Thus also the integrity of the body as well as the psyche of humans, animals and creatures, which is given by these laws and regulations, is not considered by them just as it is also the case with the Earth-humans.

Billy:

And is this the case with all three groups unknown to you?

Ptaah:

56. Yes.

57. With these three groups is however to understand here, that it concerns a matter about them of three different factions, who however all together build a unity, thus belonging together and in accordance with our observations of only one origin, however who have different areas of responsibility on the Earth.

58. Of three groups is only generally to speak, because our realizations of these Earth-foreigners is that they are clearly organized for certain tasks in three different terrestrial areas, in which they become evident and are variously working.

59. So one group moves entirely in the west continental area of Antarctica over Tierra del Fuego and all Americas with various islands up to Alaska and to the Arctic, then another group moves in entirely Europe with Africa and all islands, with Greenland, Eurasia, Arabia, Madagascar and the Arctic as well as various islands, and finally the third group moves entirely in Asia and Oceania with all islands, as also in Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand and in a part of Antarctica.

Billy:

Thus, also, here once again a misunderstanding, for we always thought, that with the three groups may have meant three different earth alien races, which would come from different worlds.

Ptaah:

60. That was actually a misunderstanding, hence, it is good that you have again brought up this matter.

Billy:

And were you able to find out, where these Earth-foreigners come from, respectively, where their origin is?

Ptaah:

61. Regarding the discovering of their origin planet, we have ourselves tried, yet I cannot give any information about it, because up till now we do not know of this and also on account of the lack of their consciousness- and technological development, do not want to enter into association with them, in order to find out.

62. There must arise, regarding this, an unwanted foreordination, which however is doubtful, because we ourselves in no way seek a contact with them, as I already explained.

63. Hence, we also do not watch their exact activities, but only take notice of them, which arises through unintentional observations, etc..

64. And as far as the number of Earth-foreigners is concerned, such were we able up to now only to observe a few of them, although all of these however were clearly registered by us.

Billy:

However you still would be able to follow the chaps secretly, in order to find their home world if they would currently leave the Earth.

Ptaah:

65. Up to now we were not able to register any excursions by them from Earth space, as a result we presume, that they are permanently stationed here.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_536

Billy:

... But you are wearing such interesting new clothes. Is this the latest fashion?

Florena:

...

26. No, the clothing does not correspond to a new fashion, it is technical.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_541

Billy:

... how is it with regard to friendships and enmities with you Plejaren, as well as with regard to Gewalt and coercion? ...

Ptaah:

28. Hostilities and enmities and ausartende outcoming effects in the sense that Gewalt and coercion arise, such as is the case with the Earth-humans, do not appear, at least amongst our Plejaren people.

29. If necessary, we answer Gewalt and coercion with logical Gewalt (force), but never in the sense that life is endangered.

30. And that is the case even if an attacking Gewalt or coercion would be directed against us, because we combat such ausartende Gewalt-activities in the extreme case without life-endangering arms, through which the antagonists are incapacitated only through fine-spiritual perceptionlessness-making, i.e. through anesthetization.

31. This, however, has no longer been necessary for thousands of years.

32. However, this only applies for our own Plejaren peoples, because it's different within our diverse Federation, however and in no case is it so bad, as it is among the Earth-humans with their killing, murder and destruction.

33. Naturally, even with us Plejaren there is resentment, irritation, malice and bitterness, and so forth, because from these, no human beings nature is immune, however with us these unvirtues are kept within limits and get badly out of the control of the good human nature, in no case.

34. Without exception, such virtuelessness holds only a short time, a few days at most, after which, intellect and rationality, honour, dignity, compassion and mutual benevolence again prevail and return to normalcy.

35. However, hostility, enmities and effects of the getting badly out of the control of the good human nature, never come to prominence.

36. This finds the reasoning herein because with us, already from early childhood, through an ample education, an ample virtuousness as well as the logical mastery of thought-feeling-based and emotional impulsations and working them out, is learned from personal discord.

37. This speaks to the fact therefore that no enemies or any other similar forms also appear, with the winning of friends, because this would contradict our ethics and logic.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_542

Billy:

... But now my next question, which I have to put forward: It concerns you, the Plejaren, and your federates: You Plejaren are also active in your Federation for the spreading of the 'Teaching of Truth, Teaching of Spirit, Teaching of Life', and I would like to ask how far you are trying to go in this respect and whether your Federation is also involved?

Ptaah:

49. Our Plejaren spiritual leaders and other sages are active in teaching the lessons of our Plejaren Federation to the peoples, but only as far as is desired, because we too are subject to the missionary condition of not missionizing.

50. And what we do with regard to the peoples of our Federation, their spiritual leaders and other sages also do in the same way with regard to foreign peoples of the world, if they have them under their care or if new contacts are established with them.

51. There are also human beings who call themselves proclaimers and prophets of their own accord, namely when they have knowledge of the doctrine or knowledge of future events, which is why there is also talk of prophesying and prophethood, because future things are prophesied or spoken as a warning respectively as a possibility for the future.

52. In this way the teaching spreads into all the vastness of the universe, but there must always be a precondition that the teaching is desired, which is not always the case, because as a rule, even among the peoples of other worlds, traditional beliefs are prescribed, from which the believers can only free themselves with difficulty.

53. The infamous and deceitful as well as infiltrating missionary work, by which the human beings are misled and persuaded to believe, as it is done by the earthly religions and sects, is absolutely forbidden.

54. If the human beings want to turn to teaching, this must be done in their own interest, as well as out of their own decision and of their own free will, and without infiltrating influence.

55. In small groups etc. there is always an interest in the teaching of Nokodemion, and therefore it can and may be taught in this respect, after which larger groups of other interested people are formed when they recognise the changes for the better and good of those who begin to live and act according to the teaching.

56. This is how the teaching spreads.

57. But also in this respect any kind of missionary work is excluded.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_547

Ptaah:

19. However, in 1995, when we dissolved our stations on Earth, the danger still existed.

20. According to our calculations of probability, from that time on there was the impending possibility that we Pleiar peoples could have been drawn into a war.

21. As we explained to you at that time – to which we obliged you to remain silent – an attack on Earth could have taken place, namely by a large armada of space planes of a planet-wide dictatorially led and warlike multi-ethnic state from the same space-time structure from which we Plejaren also come.

22. These peoples, who did not belong to the Plejaren Federation, were very warlike and conquest-addicted in nature, similar to Earth-humans.

23. They had been constantly fighting with their own races for more than 1,700 years, and at that time they were about to penetrate the space-time structure of the DERN universe through their space technology, on the same path that also gives us the possibility to enter this dimension, where the Milky Way galaxy and therefore also the SOL system and Earth are located.

24. With us, the Plejaren, these peoples maintained constant and contentious contacts, and often warlike actions were also threatened, because the dictatorial powers of the planetary multi-ethnic state called 'Hardem' were constantly trying to invade and conquer the Plejaren worlds.

25. As a result, we had to be on constant defensive alert to these peoples – while also keeping our secrets, which were related to many things of our technology and which we had to protect – in order to protect ourselves against these ever-present aggressors.

26. But through infamous machinations they managed to get hold of the technology regarding the possibility of breaking through into other space-time structures, so they learned to master them in the course of time and also gained knowledge regarding the DERN-space-time structure and the Milky Way as well as the SOL system and the Earth.

27. Then, however, about 95 Earth years ago, a completely different form of government was introduced and other rulers came to power, more peace-loving, but still subject to the urge for war and conquest, but to a somewhat lesser extent than the dictatorial rulers.

28. Consequently, they tried to join our Plejaren Federation, but they were denied the possibility of being admitted, with the possibility of being admitted if they would give up all their warlike conduct and make peace in every respect, which they were not prepared to do.

29. In 1918, through some unpleasant events, they learned of our efforts in the SOL system and on Earth, in terms of Earth years, so that from then on they tried to come into this space-time continuum and to Earth, which we always managed to prevent.

30. Then, however, from the terrestrial year 1977 on, new technical possibilities arose for the 'Hardem', which again increased the danger that they could attack Plejaren areas and also advance into the SOL system to Earth.

31. According to our probability calculations, this could have been the case from 1995 on, which is why we Plejaren were advised to stay away from Earth at that time, in order to avoid getting involved in warlike actions with earthly-military armies and the 'Hardem', because our directives prohibit such actions on foreign worlds.

32. So if the Hardem had attacked, we should not have done anything about it.

33. This is also because otherwise there would have been serious conflicts with our Plejaren Federation in the form of a very vicious war with the 'Hardem' on their homeworld.

34. So the only option was to withdraw from Earth, but we tried – as we had done for many decades – to negotiate with the Hardem and to dissuade them from their craft of war.

35. In the end, it became generally accepted on 'Hardem' that a large group of people had an objective interest in the matter and that this led to a planet-wide overthrow of power, by which all dictatorial rulers – who had all united to form a common world dictatorship – were driven out and executed by armies accustomed to war and violence.

36. In 1996, the whole thing actually led to the new rulers coming to their senses and taking care not to allow any more power-hungry people to emulate any kind of war and also to dissuade their peoples from the art of war.

37. Through us and our allies in the federation we have been advising the 'Hardem' ever since, so that the war-loving peoples could also be pacified.

38. Through our and our Federation's efforts and the manifold assistance provided, the peoples have been taught how to live peacefully and will also continue to do so.

39. This has been going on since 1996, and fortunately the 'Hardem' are making a very serious effort to grow into a completely new way of life, which in just 16 years has led to the 'Hardem' being incorporated into our Plejaren Federation protection and thus becoming a candidate for our Plejaren Federation.

45. Although the 'Hardem' do not yet belong to the Plejaren Federation, they are under its protection, which ensures that they are no longer a threat.

...

Billy:

... But what interests me is this: You always speak of the 'Hardem' in a way that is also true of you Plejaren. You call yourselves Plejaren and your homeworlds also Plejaren. Is it the same with the 'Hardem', if they do not call themselves 'Hardemer' or similar, but as 'Hardem', equally also their world?

Ptaah:

47. That is indeed the case.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_559

Ptaah:

31. Very many of our people have learned the German language and are therefore learning the textbooks and the spiritual textbooks according to your German language, which you so excellently present.

32. For all those who do not know the German language, all your written works have been and will continue to be translated into our inter cosmic language, which is spoken by all our peoples without exception.

33. The only exceptions to this are in the area of the outer federation, where this language is also very widespread.

34. The intercosmic Kosan and our erranic language Errin as well as our Plejaren language Sarat are based on our very old original language, which – as you know – is the real origin of the old German and therefore of the German language of today.

35. All our languages are therefore equated with German in every term and word, so there is no difference in this respect.

36. This means that every term and word in the German language has absolutely the same meaning and value in all our languages.

37. Consequently, there is no difference in this respect.

...

Billy:

But super smart people always think that Swiss-German is a German dialect.

Ptaah:

40. This is evidence of insufficient knowledge, because our highly educated language scholars probably know this better than better-knowing and in this respect uneducated Earth-humans.

Billy:

I am sure you are right. Unfortunately, there are many know-it-alls on Earth who put false information into the world and thereby spread misinformation.

Ptaah:

41. Such an action is not possible with us, because there is no such thing as know-it-all, because all knowledge is only accepted as truth according to the effective reality and its facts.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_560

Ptaah:

65. He {Quetzal} was particularly affected by all this because the care and maintenance of bushes and trees is one of his great passions, which he cultivates with great dedication in his three own bush and tree plantations on Erra.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_565

Ptaah:

62. But the fact that the four groups unknown to us are active worldwide, as you say, and in many ways, is an absolutely undeniable fact.

63. And what the sense and purpose of their actions are, that is just as unknown to us as whether they are of earthly, future-earthly or extraterrestrial origin.

64. We are also not interested in that, because it is not in any of our tasks to get in contact with them or to find out their origin.

Billy:

So many observations, things, and strange occurrences can be traced back not only to the former 'Ashtar Sheran' group, but also to these four groups?

Ptaah:

65. It was never mentioned, but only that many events and occurrences could be attributed to this 'Sheran group', from the hypnotic forced contacts to all kinds of unpleasant happenings and strange occurrences.

Billy:

Of course. But now it is finally clear that the four groups, unknown to you, are very active in different ways. But the question is, will you continue to ignore them and will you also continue to protect yourselves against sight and detection from them?

Ptaah:

66. Yes, that is clearly the case, because we are not interested in any contact with them.

67. And since our latest clarifications and findings, we are now also absolutely sure that these four groups have no knowledge of our real existence.

68. This, if we dispense with unclear assumptions, which are perhaps or even very likely, because your activity with regard to the dissemination of the contact conversation reports has probably not remained hidden from them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_576

Billy:

On the 2nd of November, during a private conversation you told me that you had received new techniques from the Sonaern that might give you better insights into the four groups that operate around Earth.

Ptaah:

70. That is correct, but I cannot talk about it in detail, because I have to keep silence about the exact activities and processes as well as the details of the new technology – at least officially.

71. We ourselves have been reluctant for some time now, as a result of disinterest, to investigate the background and existence of the four groups.

72. In September of this year, however, something special happened which made it necessary for us to take another look at the four groupings, or at one of them in particular.

73. This prompted us to look for technical aids from Asket's friends, the Sonaern, in order to get to the bottom of the particularities we had noticed.

74. As a result, during the last month, with the means made available to us by the Sonar people, we have carried out in-depth investigations and have thus obtained important information about those particular aspects of the grouping to which we were particularly interested.

75. As a result of our investigations in this regard, we have been able to clearly establish that the grouping in our interest is not of terrestrial origin, but is in fact Earth-foreigners.

76. With the new Sonaer technology, we were also able to penetrate the materials of their round, triangular and boomerang-like flying apparatuses and use special equipment and devices to get inside their flying apparatuses, without them being able to register this.

77. In this way, we gained knowledge of the life-forms themselves inside their flying apparatus, and also of their technology, which is still inadequate compared with ours.

78. We were also able to take a look at records which provided us with a lot of interesting information, also in this respect that it has been impossible up to now for the Earth-foreigners to locate or otherwise recognise our Plejaren flying machines.

79. So we have remained unknown to these strangers to this day, which will remain so, because we continue to shield ourselves and do not wish to have contact with them, as our directives also prohibit us from doing, as a result of certain serious negative observations we have been able to make about this species.

80. Our linguists were also able to decipher the language and written language of the Earth-foreigners in less than 9 days, which also allowed us to gain extensive knowledge.

81. We were also helped in this by tiny recording devices which we were able to beam into the interior of the foreign flying apparatus, which provided us with a great deal of interesting information and which could also not be registered by the foreigners because their technology in this respect is still extremely deficient.

82. In the end we were also able to determine the origin of the Earth-foreigners, so that we now know where this group is going, or from where it came to Earth and continues to come here.

83. I am not allowed to say more about this.

85. We also know from our investigations and studies that these Earth-foreigners are not able to penetrate our space-time-structure.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_578

Billy:

... Should I assume according to this declaration that it can be dangerous to get in contact with any Earth-foreigners or aliens? To find contact to extraterrestrials, that is what the Earthlings have been trying to do for decades, especially through the SETI programme, in which a probe with information about the Earth and the Earthly humanity was shot out into space.

Ptaah:

57. I know this, and it is effectively a profound stupidity of the earthly scientists responsible for it, because it cannot be foreseen what kind of Earth-foreigners will be when they get hold of the SETI-probe.

58. Civilizations of foreign planets, both in the Milky Way and in other galaxies, are not necessarily peaceful-minded and are conquering other habitats or worlds they colonize in war.

59. And yet, among these conquerors there are often quite barbaric beings who are in no way inferior to the Earth-humans in terms of similar machinations, as they are peculiar to them, if religious mania and sectarianism are left out of the equation, for in this form we know of no Earth-foreigners who have degenerated in terms of religious sectarian belief as the majority of Earth-humans.

60. Therefore it is particularly stupid and irresponsible what was started with the SETI programme, because if one day the probe falls into the wrong hands, it can become quite bad for the earthly humanity and lead to disaster.

Billy:

... I would like to know regarding how you yourself takes care to behave when a death occurs and at the same time something festive. At the same time, I want to ask, how do you handle it when a friendship of a person very close to you is laid to the last rest, but at the same time a celebration is also pending, for example a marriage or engagement in one's own family, such as of one's own children, as well as the relatives. What do you Plejaren consider as an overriding obligation, an engagement or marriage or the last honours acknowledgements with regard to the deceased person who is laid to rest?

Ptaah:

7. What you call as a precedential duty is understood and maintained by us in such a way that, first and foremost a deceased human being in their bedding of rest, as you bring forth the sensitive expression, is offered their last respects and appreciation.

8. This goes before all festivities of any kind, indeed even if such arises in one's own family, therefore if a laying to rest is pending at the same time as a marriage of one's own children, for example.

9. If the parents or one parent stand in a close, honest friendship connection with a human being and he or she dies, then it must be implicit that the last honours acknowledgements and appreciation stands as first duty and priority with the laying to rest, whereas the festivity of a marriage will be left out of the attention, even of one's own children and relatives.

10. We are not acquainted with a betrothal celebration, as you maintain such, because with us such an action goes forth without celebration, because when two human beings provisionally join together for a communality of living in order to later unite in an open or closed bond, then that is done in a simple wise.

11. Our mentality as well as customs and traditions, necessitate that without exception everything is handled as I have explained, and indeed this applies for all our Erran peoples.

...

Ptaah:

16. Our folks are all living in a democracy, of the freedom and of the peace, so therefore no comparison can be drawn to what is happening on the Earth.

22. Furthermore, it must be said that our system knows a world government, which demands general democratic forms by all countries and peoples, as well as that of absolute peace and freedom for the people and the individual human must prevail and that therefore no war or other hostile acts may take place one against the other.

23. Furthermore an absolutely free circulation of goods and persons on the whole of Erra is given, wherein regarding this extreme care is taken that no flora or fauna seeds or even plants, as well as any fauna forms of life are transported from one region to another, as unfortunately the opposite is the case on the earth through the stupid and irrational globalization, by which originates much damage and wherethrough all sorts of coming calamities are yet to be wrought.

24. So there is no border customs for persons and wares with us on Erra, and every human being can freely go anywhere to wherever he or she wants, without being controlled by officials, and so on.

25. Now, even though everything is free and open, every country's territory has its own territorial boundaries, which are respected in complete uniformity by all peoples and not violated.

26. Each country and nation governs itself in spite of the world government, and indeed independently according to their own customs and traditions, wherein no regulations of the global governance are given, because this is only authorized to ensure that our world's system of values is preserved with regard to peace and freedom and for the legislation of the planet as also with regard to the dealings with the governments and peoples of other planets.

27. Regarding the regular and special legislations for all the necessities of everyday life and of the life, this is nation-wide and peoples-wide (internationally) uniform throughout and directed to absolute humanity, justice and equality for all human beings, so therefore only a single identical legislation and applicable law is laid down worldwide and is valid for all human beings.

28. So, laws and ordinances cannot be bent ...

29. And as for the intermingling between our peoples, it must be said that such occurs only in rare cases, in the wise when members of different peoples enter into bonds with one another, which however is actually extremely rare.

30. The rule is that the individual peoples and the prevalent ethnic groups in these dwell amongst themselves and therefore neither mix nor change their customs and traditions through other cultural influences.

31. This helps that each ethnic group's own system of health and all their characteristics are preserved, which contributes to the fact that diseases no longer appear, or even if, then only very rarely.

32. The whole issue of this non-mixing of peoples also contributes in that no diseases and epidemics are carried about, as well as one peoples part doesn't clash into some troubles with another ones, either with regard to foreignness or race nor concerning goods, products or language, etc.

33. Since, as a rule, the members of a peoples remain amongst themselves – with only very few exceptions in very rare intermingling partnerships – also no mixing-of-peoples and foreign-hostile and race-hostile conflicts arise with other peoples or between families and neighbours etc.

34. And what is also extremely important, is the fact that we know not of religions and sects, as well as not of different political parties and orientations.

35. All Plejaren-Erran nations are solely and equally inclined to the creational-natural laws and recommendations, which are taught by the spiritual leadership.

36. Consequently, with us Plejaren there is neither religious- nor sect-hatred, nor religious or sectarian cult-activities, rites, or any other such sectarian hostilities.

37. Finally, what is still very important to say, is the fact that there is not any prostitution in all our peoples in accordance with their entire cultural behaviour and as a result of the legislation, such as regarding the turning to the creational-natural laws and recommendations.

38. Everything is so regulated with us with regard to the democratic determinations of the people, that all peoples, i.e. their populations are information-technology connected with the centre of the world government as well as with the respective peoples-authority, which itself works out, on the one hand, agenda items as well as proposals from the authorities of the people or individual persons proposals, and puts these up for the evaluation and vote of all populations.

39. Regarding this, all peoples i.e. their populations are requested, three hours before a vote i.e. before a ballot, as you say in the given situation, to be present for a ballot for a certain period of time at the corresponding devices or those several which are mounted in public everywhere and in dwellings for voting operations.

40. The accrued matter which is brought to a vote, will then firstly be officially announced just three hours after the populations are present at the ballot devices.

41. The announcing of the ballot agenda item – which is always handled just a single item per time – takes place in such a wise that not only will all advantages be named and explained in detail, but also all of the disadvantages.

42. Only after this, when all the facts of the positives and negatives are cited, begins the period of the considering and reconsidering of the ballot agenda item put forward, for which a period of around 30 minutes – according to your terms of time – is set, while the human beings of all populations can electronically make known their position i.e. a yes or no, which of course will be automatically registered and tallied up.

43. In this wise, it is given that no gatherings of people can take place, in order to bring about a mass persuasion, therefore all persons voting must make their own opinion known.

44. All accrued election agenda items of any kind are handled in this wise, and indeed also with regard to an appointing of persons in the world government and the peoples authorities.

45. Additionally it must still be said, that the world government and the authorities are no more and no less than merely democratic representatives of the people.

46. These exercise only the supervision with regard to the compliance with the laws and regulations as well as the decisions of the indigenous peoples, together with their corresponding assigned forces of order, whereby however, they have no self-determining Gewalt, because the determination of all concerns and things is situated solely in the might of the planetary or national population.

47. The world government and the peoples authorities must therefore never act otherwise, as this is determined by the planetary or national population.

Billy:

Then the whole thing is based on a kind of internet? How does it stand, however, when crises and emergencies arise that require a quick decision and a prompt action?

Ptaah:

48. According to your understanding, you can call the whole thing as such.

49. And when a crisis or an emergency arises, which then requires a quick decision and a prompt action, then the whole planetary population or each relevant population of the people is called to the voting machines, namely in the form of a general mobilization alarm call, where only one hours time will be given for that to become active.

50. Then every person has the right to duly raise comments, which are heard and discussed, from which ultimately a logical decision must come forth, which is then put to the vote.

51. However, such situations are more than extremely rare, consequently a last such mobilization dates back two decades.

Billy:

However, if such a case of a mobilization occurs, then that can perhaps take a long time until something is well-regulated?

Ptaah:

52. Such can actually take up much time, whereby however, crises and emergencies are extremely rare, as I said a little while ago.

Billy:

And who leads and then directs the whole thing in such situations? And generally what is the nature of such crises and emergency situations?

Ptaah:

53. When it comes to planetary matters, they are carried out and handled by the spiritual leadership familiar with the matter, and in collaboration with the world government and the world's population.

54. When it just concerns matters pertaining to a country, then the authorities of the peoples concerned and the corresponding populations are needed.

55. And concerning the crisis and emergency situations, these can be very different, such as e.g. regarding a tactical intervention, if such is demanded from a region of a people or an entire planet of the Plejaren Federation.

56. Even extensive relief operations in one or more peoples, or even a whole planet of the Federation may be possible, such as in the case of threatening dangers from outer space or with natural disasters, and so on.

Billy:

Then with regard to Erra, actually there are seen more external i.e. extra-planetary situations, than just those that apply to Erra and its population?

Ptaah:

57. This is the case, yes, because on Erra we have reported, for as long as anyone can remember, no more crises and emergency situations, neither with regard to natural events nor with respect to the population.

Billy:

How nice if that would also be the case on the Earth. But if I gather correctly from your words, then at the very least not everyone in the Plejaren Federation stands in such a high level of development as you Plejaren, or am I wrong here? Is there in the Federation perhaps still peoples who are somehow unpeaceful and make trouble?

Ptaah:

58. You are not wrong, because although we Plejaren are making great efforts, federation-wide, to keep everything in a peaceful form, various Federation peoples are still deplorably devoted to unpeacefulness and thus also armed confrontations, which sometimes requires, yet only rarely however, our intervention.

59. However, any intervention on our part must firstly be approved by a consent of the total population of the Plejaren, wherein the pros and cons will extensively be discussed and weighed out, as our democratic vote formulas demand this.

60. The reconnaissance work regarding this is carried out by specialized spiritual guides and law enforcement forces, which also have the corresponding forward-looking capabilities in order to predict what will result as effects from the causes, which are taken.

Billy:

And how about it, when lots of folks come forward for a word, is there not a mess? And when I think that the entire world population gets in on the act, then ...

Ptaah:

61. Much attention is taken to ensure that order prevails and therefore no Ausartungen comes forth.

62. Therefore in each case it is carefully handled and spoken, whereby no excessive chatter arises and the individuals who have something to say, will not be interrupted if their objections and contributions are pertinent and correspond to the rationality.

63. Thereby the rule applies that only short and concise objections, clarifications and suggestions, as well as the listing of possibilities and necessary actions and so forth will be made.

64. Those fond of speaking, who want to run the speech-marathons, there are indeed those unfortunately, but every such word-barrage is interrupted and the word is passed on to the next person who has something to bring forward.

65. The fact that several people talk together, this is not permitted, therefore regarding this, there is no mayhem.

66. Therefore it may well take several hours or two or more days under certain circumstances, before a promising rational solution comes about and to a vote, which is useful and gives enough consideration to the crisis at hand or the emergency problem.

Billy:

With us one says, long speech, short sense. Unfortunately, with the running of long speeches without actually saying something substantial, this is also the case with us on the earth in politics. This is also expressed in our group every now and then, because similarly not everything is perfect with us. Some humans just like to hear themselves talk. But it is gratifying to hear that this problem occurs not only with some of our group members as well as with the politicians and people of our earthly peoples, but in your population as well. If I now understand correctly, then it is with you in such discussions of voting, commitment and action, since around such it is indeed my opinion, therefore no joyful chattering, but given the opportunity, only reasonable words, statements, action requirements and modes of behaviour.

Ptaah:

67. That is so.

68. Each speech marathon will be stopped, and any problems at hand of any kind must be quickly, well and efficiently handled and supplied a solution.

69. Therefore nothing should be pushed onto the back burner, as you tend to say at times.

...

Billy:

... If I have understood correctly, then one could understand the whole of your democracy similarly to a democratic rural community, as we still have this in Switzerland in the cantons of Glarus and Appenzell, whereby beforehand, regarding the election process, no propaganda, i.e. advertising for a matter may be made, as this is however the case elsewhere than the mentioned rural communities in Switzerland. So that with you no mass persuasion can take place, as also no gathering of people can take place, as you had said, being that the election agenda is called only a short time before the elections open. And since the time for the election is only 30 minutes, and so each person is practically situated only by themselves and with their own opinion, no nationwide and partisan election propaganda can take place. Also as a result, no party system and no party dictatorship can take place, and I find that fair, good and democratic.

Ptaah:

72. That is correct.

73. We handle a direct democracy in this wise, which in every respect prescribes that neither the world government nor the authorities of the countries and their peoples may take any of their own decisions nor make regulations, unless the entire planet's population has decided about that based on a ballot and has considered something as right.

74. As I explained, all countries i.e. their populations have a uniform legislation, valid planet-wide and a determination of might, as well as with regard to all other things that uniformly affect all peoples.

75. If the authorities are elected in a nation, then this of course pertains only to the nation, i.e. its population, although the voting process remains the same, as if a planet-wide vote takes place.

Billy:

So only the people can determine who belongs to the peoples-authority or to the world government?

Ptaah:

76. This is indeed so, because such a process of a direct democracy corresponds solely in this wise.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_584

Billy:

... How do you feel about neutrality?

Ptaah:

22. We cultivate it in a very serious way.

Billy:

But what is it like in relation to your Federation?

Ptaah:

23. On all the worlds of our Federation the same laws, rights and regulations apply, both to the world governments of the different worlds and to the governments of the people.

24. Our Plejaren World Government is the guideline for all other world governments, as it is also the case for the governments of the people.

25. No world government, as well as no people's government, which you call e.g. cantonal or district and municipal government etc., interferes in any way in the interests of others, because they maintain neutrality throughout.

Billy:

On the 1st of March you said that you Plejaren on other worlds of your Federation are entitled to intervene in emergency situations or in the maintenance of order etc.; what about your neutrality?

Ptaah:

26. Interventions are only made according to established treaties with the different worlds, but such interventions do not mean more than assistance, which, above all, is only given when it is demanded by the majority of the respective world population.

Billy:

By aid I mean aid that is really only aimed at doing the best possible for the benefit of the respective populations. I also understand that this does not mean going to arms, but really only providing assistance. But what is it like when situations and events of violence occur on any world of your Federation?

Ptaah:

27. Then these are matters which have to be settled by the respective forces of order of the respective Federation worlds, and this in a way which corresponds to non-Gewalt (note Billy: non-Gewalt means: active use without harmful Gewalt).

28. In such things – if such things arise at all, which is extremely rare – we Plejaren have no authority to interfere and become action-oriented.

29. If, however, a decision is made by the respective world population to provide mediatory and advisory assistance, then we may of course become active in this way.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_585

Billy:

... This 3D printing technology, is it in any way comparable to your multi-cold duplicators, multi-duplicators, replicators, or whatever you want to call them, machines or devices?

Ptaah:

27. No, not at all, because it corresponds to a completely different technique than our duplicators, as you call these devices.

28. These 3D-printers need various material materials to produce any kind of objects etc., so they are still a rather primitive technology and therefore no comparison can be made with our duplicators.

29. Our devices do not need any material materials, because their basic material for the production of all utility and other objects, as well as machines, flying apparatus and residential buildings etc. etc., we obtain from the spheres of planets as well as directly from the space of the universe, whereby we extract the necessary substances from the inexhaustible cosmic sea of electrons and generate the necessary matter from the electrons, in order to then duplicate all conceivably necessary products from them by means of programmed templates.

...

Billy:

My question is not just about wild animals that you do not hunt, but also about all other animals and all the creatures. You are also producing meat through your multipliers, which, as I mentioned in the extract, is equivalent to animal meat. This synthetic meat, on the one hand, is it made up of animal protein and all the other substances that animal meat has, and on the other hand, is it also possible for you to synthetically generate different kinds of meat from animals and from creatures and also their meat taste?

Ptaah:

30. That is of course the case.

Billy:

Then another question on this: Do you kill any animals at all, as well as reptiles, fish, birds and other animal creatures?

Ptaah:

31. We Plejaren respect and protect all life of every genus and species, so we do not kill animals, creatures or other living creatures for food, care or other purposes.

32. If, however, necessity should require it, which is practically impossible, that as a result of life-support and thus for the food of human beings, living beings would have to be killed, then these would only be very low animals and low animals etc.

Billy:

This is also known to me, but I wanted to hear it from you again. But what do you define in terms of low animals and low animals?

Ptaah:

33. The comparison with earthly low animals is not just any kind of animal or creature, but their size, which is estimated to correspond to a dwarf rabbit of earthly norm.

34. However, killing is only permitted if no other food source, such as fruits, vegetables and herbs etc., is available.

Billy:

You also keep pets, such as the Ulrak, which runs around Quetzal's compound. Quetzal also has cattle and horses, etc., which he has brought from Earth to Erra because he loves to play farmer in an earthly way and often sits in his log cabin, which he has built in an earthly style. When he is there – in fact, I had to laugh out loud when I saw him – and he is reading old earthly newspapers, he has glasses on, but they only contain window glass.

Ptaah:

35. He finds it very romantic, so he pursues this leisure activity in his leisure hours.

36. Many of the human beings on Erra, as well as in our whole Federation, also indulge in some kind of speciality which they cultivate in their leisure time.

Billy:

We call it a hobby. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_586

Billy:

Then I would like to talk about why you are not allowed to accept gifts from earthlings, because I am always being asked to give you, your daughter Semjase or Florena, etc. things. It is simply not to be understood that you are forbidden to do so because of the possible introduction of bacteria and viruses etc. into Erra. It is true that if you drink or eat chocolate with me, you will first have to neutralize it with your little device, and you will always be surrounded by your own personal shield, which will protect you from being infected by bacteria or viruses here on Earth. It should not be forgotten that when you are with me, this shield also neutralises everything you come into contact with, including me.

Ptaah:

47. On the one hand our directives determine this in this way, on the other hand we have to protect ourselves from all the earthly influences which are harmful to our health, because the Earth is full of dangers for us with regard to bacteria and viruses etc.

48. So we must be extremely careful not to come into contact with any germs that are harmful to our health or in any other way, so as not to endanger our own health on the one hand, but also to ensure that we do not introduce dangerous germs into our flying apparatus or onto Erra and other of our worlds.

Billy:

But how is it that you used to bring all kinds of things from Earth to Erra?

Ptaah:

49. This required special permissions, whereby the things, as you call them, had to remain in quarantine for several months in specially equipped flying apparatus, where all objects, but also animals and creatures etc. were neutralised with regard to dangerous and harmful bacteria and viruses as well as vermin etc.

Billy:

You could also do that today, couldn't you?

Ptaah:

50. We could, but our directives prohibit it.

51. In special and important cases, exemptions can be granted, but these are very strictly weighed and are hardly ever granted anymore, because in the past very bad experiences were made by importing objects, animals and creatures etc. to Erra.

Billy:

Then it is also clear now that when we come together you make me neutralized by vibrations each time, so to speak, and harmless to you in terms of bacteria and viruses. I knew this from the first meeting with Semjase, because she told me in confidence, but if we are now talking openly about it, then this can also be said in the end.

Ptaah:

52. Which is nothing to object to.

Billy:

What else interests me about the exemptions, when things from other worlds want to be imported into Erra, to what extent are such exemptions granted, to which persons, and also for hobbies?

Ptaah:

53. In principle, all persons can apply for exceptional permits, which as a rule are also granted, although all security precautions must be taken and observed.

54. However, it is extremely rare that such applications are made, because there is no great need in our populations for things, objects and any goods from other worlds.

55. The interest is usually in things and goods that exist and are available on Erra.

56. If there is a need for goods which come from other worlds and which are of erra-planetary or erra-volcanic necessity, then these goods will be imported under the same security conditions as those which also apply to the extremely rare imports which are applied for by private individuals with exceptional permission.

Billy:

Quetzal and one of his friends have a hobby of terrestrial animals and vehicles. Are there others who have similar hobbies?

Ptaah:

57. This is not the case, as far as I know, because such incidents are registered by the world government, and no other person with the same hobby passions is mentioned in our records.

58. Nevertheless, there are persons who collect various things from other worlds and are passionately connected to them.

59. As I have said, this is very rare, because our people are more interested in our different cultures and all their connections to them than in things, objects and goods from other worlds.

Billy:

So, then, every human being has the right, when he wishes or wants, to obtain things and goods from other worlds.

Ptaah:

60. That is so, yes, but as I said before, such interests are extremely rare, because on Erra we have everything that the human beings and the entire population need.

Billy:

So the Errans are very frugal in this respect, but they are also frugal in other ways, aren't they?

Ptaah:

61. That is so.

62. Even if all Errans have everything possible at their disposal, they are also content with what is simply necessary for them.

Billy:

Which probably means that they do not overdo it in their demands, do not hoard and do not grab all kinds of things, even though everything is available to them in good measure at their whim?

Ptaah:

63. You said it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_588

Billy:

Actually, it would be time to officially mention what you just pointed out, namely that you retrieve the answers to many of my questions etc. with your little device, just as your daughter Semjase and Quetzal also did whenever it was necessary to answer my questions.

Ptaah:

73. Actually, we have never talked openly about this, because there was never any reason to do so, but it is indeed the case that I – as well as my daughter and Quetzal – cannot always reproduce all the data etc. only from our memory, which is why we always call up the corresponding data when it is necessary to be able to answer your questions.

Billy:

But still you have a fabulous memory. But it is perhaps good that the readers of the contact reports now know that many of my questions have always been answered in the way that you retrieved them with your little device. But I would also like to know how it all works.

Ptaah:

74. With this little device I transmit your questions to my archive in my flying apparatus, where your words are automatically converted into the language of the archive at the moment of speaking, evaluated and at the same time the corresponding answer data is picked out and transmitted to me again, directly into my consciousness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_590

Billy:

... Now a question regarding your {Quetzal's} Ulrak, is the animal male or female? Ptaah once told me that it is native to Erra.

Quetzal:

51. It is a female mammal, and in fact it is an animal native to Erra.

Billy:

You Plejaren do not keep pets in the same sense as earthlings, that is, that animals are kept in human living quarters. ...

...

And how is it with you, is it usual to keep animals or animals in enclosures, as for example with us on Earth, where especially dogs and cats, guinea pigs, mice, rats, hamsters, birds and fish are kept and given false love?

Quetzal:

53. This is not the case here, because all animal and gelatinous life-forms, as well as all other life-forms, live in the wild, where they may also have suitable stables and shelters, as you once called such buildings.

54. But this is only true when animals or creatures etc. are looked after by human beings, which is extremely rare.

Billy:

You are a hobby farmer with cattle that you brought from the Earth to Erra. So you have cows and of course from time to time also calves, besides bisons, buffalos and horses as well as various red deer etc. I have also seen chickens, geese, ducks and rabbits on your very large grounds used for this purpose, and apart from a few animals that you look after yourself, there are also some cows that you milk, as well as two horses that you sometimes ride, all others living completely free and wild. You are also often surrounded by your Ulrak, which has simply become accustomed to you without any special training or education, as you told me. But how big is, according to the earthly masses, the whole huge area of land, which you control with all the life-forms on it in many different genera and species and which is also partly cultivated by your androids?

Quetzal:

55. According to the masses known to you, the entire area is about 340 square kilometres, but my personal property per family is only one hectare, while the rest of the land belongs to the general public, but is made available to me for the purpose of keeping animals and other forms of life.

56. Some settled life-forms originate from Erra itself, others from the Earth or from other worlds unknown to you.

57. The whole area of the country is open and freely accessible to all persons from all over Erra, who are able to enjoy themselves in terms of their interests and through observations of the animals, animals, birds, reptiles, amphibians, fish and other living creatures, as well as the diverse plants, flowers, blossoms, trees, bushes and shrubs etc.

58. My large area of land in this respect is known all over Erra and corresponds to what you on Earth would call a national park.

Billy:

As you told me once before, none of the animals and creatures etc. are killed, nor are they used for food or in any other way. And you also said that hunting is not allowed either.

Quetzal:

59. That is of correctness.

60. All animals and all creatures etc., including those in the wild, may not be hunted or killed in our country, unless there is an emergency situation when an animal or creature living under human care is injured by some unfortunate circumstance to such an extent that it suffers terrible pain and is no longer viable.

61. In such a case it may be released from its suffering by killing.

62. Hunting is not permitted as a matter of principle, because every animal and creature stock etc. in the wild can and must regulate itself by its own laws.

Billy:

And predators and birds of prey, do you also have them? That is actually to be assumed. But what about the protection of the human beings from predators, especially when confrontations arise?

Quetzal:

63. That is of correct, because predators, beasts of prey and birds of prey etc. are natural regulators of all wildlife in the wild.

64. And since we do not interfere with our nature in any way through human activities, everything in the whole of Erra's wildlife is regulated in a normal, natural way, so no human intervention is necessary.

...

69. And what you ask about the protection of the human beings when they are confronted with predators and large birds of prey – our largest Erran birds of prey have a wingspan of six metres, while the largest predators have a total length of five metres – they are driven away by vibrational vibrations.

...

70. Our vibrating devices are absolutely reliable and when we go out into the wild and it is expected that predators, predators or dangerous birds of prey may be present in an area, each person carries an appropriate vibrating device.

71. This ensures all safety in connection with dangerous encounters and, as far as our records make clear, there has never been a dangerous confrontation between human beings and any predators, beasts of prey etc. or birds of prey for hundreds of years.

72. So we do not kill any animals, beasts of prey etc. or birds of prey either, because no dangerous extreme situations can arise between them and the human beings.

Billy:

I wonder why you photographed the previous device {stack cutter} and now want to do it with the new one?

Ptaah:

53. The purpose is to archive all your equipment and machines necessary for you, the mission and for the construction and maintenance of the Centre, as well as for the management of fields, paths and forests.

54. We have also recorded the work with the equipment, devices and machines in action since the very beginning in the Center, both with all the group members and with you, when you were using the caterpillar machine. (note Billy: loader crawler for earthmoving with rear excavator) and the excavator, you have excavated the biotope and worked the pulpit lacquer and the garden with the tractor and the rotary cultivator (note Billy: rotary cultivator) and ploughed the snow with the snow plough (note Billy: snow plough) and the rotary cultivator has thrown away the snow.

55. All that we have photographed, we have of course presented to our peoples on Erra and also treated in public discussions, because the whole was completely foreign to our peoples, both in terms of earthly techniques, as well as your work with only one arm and your tireless commitment.

56. Our peoples could not imagine that, so the whole thing was only comprehensible to them by showing them the records.

Undoubtedly, dear friend. So let's play chess ...

Billy:

... And when I listen to your words, I think that on Erra you don't have all these problems regarding toxins in food, as is the case here on earth. This is precisely because I think that you do not apply any poisons and therefore no artificial fertilizers, pesticides and pest poisons to your food, such as berries, fruits, vegetables, herbs and fruit.

Ptaah:

135. Exactly, this is the case, because we only use natural substances that are purely vegetable and absolutely non-toxic for the environment, plants and animals and for humans in food cultivation and production.

136. On the other hand, we also produce a great deal of food through multi-duplicators, as you once called these devices, whereby the basic material for this type of food production are the all-pervasive and immeasurable masses of electrons from which anything can be produced.

... I explained to the listeners in the kitchen that you are carrying a tiny, millimetre-sized device with you, which has a vibration protection screen around you with a radius of action of about one meter, sphere of influence, half diameter, sphere of action, i.e. a diameter of two meters, which protects you on earth or on other foreign worlds etc. from bacteria and viruses, but also from insects and vermin, as well as from dirt, rain etc. and from any atmosphere. This protective umbrella, in which you are also given your own atmosphere, which I did not explain, allows you to embrace me or each other, allowing the umbrella to be squeezed imperceptibly to a fraction of a millimetre without being damaged in any way or ineffective for you as protection. ...

Billy:

And what about you Plejaren with traffic accidents? You don't ride on roads with bike vehicles, you glide through the air with hovering vehicles?

Ptaah:

32. Our planetary airways are designed and secured in such a way that accidents caused by collisions, etc. are impossible, and consequently human lives are neither harmed nor lamented, nor is there any material damage to the hovering aircraft.

Billy:

... As you have told me several times in the course of our conversations since 1975, the pear or avocado fruit was already genetically manipulated more than 13,500 years ago by extraterrestrials or by Plejaren immigrants in the tropical regions of Earth and called 'pear' by the people of that time, because the fruit was also used for feeding pigs. So there was a cultivation of naturally genetically modified avocados, which have been used as food by humans ever since. ...

Ptaah:

16. First, the number of 144,000 people corresponds to a very early norm of a 'emigration power' created by Nokodemion, which was usually led by 228 commanders – although there were seldom small exceptions – who, together with the emigration power, were under the command of an emigration swiss.

17. Such emigration powers were volunteers who idealistically agreed to spend the rest of their lives with early humans on other worlds – as well as on Earth – in order to teach them many helpful things about life management and development.

18. For the first time, such an emigration force was sent out millions of years ago, followed by several more in four galaxies over all times, and thus also into the SOL system and finally to Earth.

19. The last one to Earth was sent according to earthly time calculation about 13,500 years ago, where the Nokodemion people emigrants on the one hand were to have an instructive effect on Earth-humans, which they partly did, but on the other hand caused for the most part many calamities, especially with regard to rising up as deities and bringing religions into being.

20. And they did so when they were smuggled into all earthly peoples and great tribal communities, whereby delusional beliefs in God developed among all peoples, tribes and groups etc. throughout the world, even among wild indigenous tribes.

21. This led to the emergence of religions and sects, which expanded more and more and have survived to the present day and into the third millennium, respectively, and will continue to do so for a very long time to come.

22. All those of these extraterrestrial immigrants who remained on Earth also died there, and since then their spiritual forms have also reincarnated and will continue to reincarnate on Earth, precisely in ever new personalities of newly born Earth-humans.

23. So the 144,000 emigrants and their superiors and leaders were integrated worldwide as instructors into all existing earthly peoples and large tribes as well as various groups in which they had to act as instructors.

24. And like I said:

25. Many also fulfilled this obligation and thus led Earth humanity in technical, medical and scientific regard on a higher level, however always in accordance with the possibilities prevailing at that time and also further on Earth.

26. In this way everything has been carried and developed since then up to the present time, consequently by the descendants of the old extraterrestrial immigrants from the Nokodemion descendants who came to Earth – who since then have been born again and again as new personalities and continue to be born -, innovations in medicine and technology etc., as well as new insights and expanded knowledge have been brought and continue to be brought.

27. And many of these distant descendants of the former 144,000 Nokodemion descendants-ethnic-emigrants became and are, as a result of their evolution of consciousness and their abilities of various kinds transferred to them by their total-conscious-blocks, very talented in certain areas and powerful in this respect in progressive innovations which are not yet possible for the pure Earth-created Earth-men.

28. And such persons from the number of 144,000 – as well as various others at other times, but also in the number of 144,000 each – were also the ones whom we, as the authoritative inventors, researchers, physicians, technicians, computer scientists and scientists etc. of certain areas on Earth, taught about knowledge, insights and developments etc. in an apparatus-impulse hypnotic manner and without their knowledge, which was made possible for us by our directives.

29. Therefore, when we committed ourselves to this teaching activity, we were only allowed to take care of the distant descendants of the former immigrants of the Nokodemion descendant peoples who were in active life, but we were not allowed to take care of any pure terrestrial human beings who existed from the ground up.

Billy:

How often did the Nokodemion descendants of such emigration powers, each comprising 144,000 people, come to Earth? And what would also be of interest to me here would be the number of people who have finally remained on Earth and died there as a whole of these immigrants, so that they were born again on Earth as new personalities and continue to be born? It would really be very interesting to know this, if you have records of it?

Ptaah:

...

31. If for a moment ... yes here yes, our annals refer to a number of eight different emigration powers of 144,000 persons each and 228 superiors each, who came to Earth in the course of more than two million years from the Nokodemion descendant peoples.

32. And here is a total number of 1,151,828 people who were involved.

33. Of these persons, 575,914 remained on Earth, died there and are born again with their old reincarnating spirit-forms as new personalities.

Billy:

And these have been decisive since time immemorial with regard to all developments and great achievements of humanity on Earth, are also active in the modern age and will continue to be so in the future. Through their help, in the course of time, many pure Earth-humans could also develop to a high level of knowledge and can, consequently, a great deal of progress has been made for some time in all areas and in every respect also by pure Earth-humans, I think, isn't it?

Ptaah:

34. That's true, but it's still mainly the reborn new personalities of the former Nokodemion descendants who are in the foreground.

Billy:

Can I understand it, but how did it happen that 144,000 each agreed to give up their highly developed culture and live on Earth with early humans like Homo erectus?

Ptaah:

35. On the one hand, they were pronounced idealists who were willing to provide development aid, so to speak, as is similarly the case on Earth, where such aid is provided for third world countries, etc. On the other hand, they were also very active in the field of development aid.

Billy:

Then it kind of rubbed off on Earth-humans.

Ptaah:

36. You can say that, but on the other hand there were also genetically manipulated refugees from the Sirius regions among the immigrants from the Nokodemion descendants, as well as fallible resp. delinquents of the home planets, who preferred – instead of being sent into exile, which was applied in the most drastic and severe manner – to emigrate with such emigration powers and at liberty to teach early humans in the manufacture of various kinds of products, such as tools and hunting weapons, clothing and food containers, etc.

37. Primitive art, music and all kinds of knowledge were also taught to early man by these immigrants, as well as knowledge concerning the heavenly bodies, medicine concerning medicinal plants, etc., and the use of fire, etc.

Billy:

And how and where were the distributions of these immigrant persons made among the early earthly human beings?

Ptaah:

38. Small immigrant groups were formed, which were integrated into earthly early human groups all over the world, while others joined early humans as loners or lived as their own small groups, which then also mixed with the early humans over time.

39. In these forms it was possible that mergers with the immigrants and the early humans could come about, which was however not always simple, but often connected with fights, which also claimed deaths on both sides.

40. But in the end everything regulated itself in one way or another, so that the teachings could also take place and bear fruit.

Billy:

So the whole thing was not easy, but therefore the actual creators of all progressive inventions of the early humans were to be led back to the immigrants of the Nokodemion descendant peoples. And this was the only reason why the humanity of today, which emerged from the early humans, could develop so drastically fast and as far as is the case today, with regard to electronics, inventions, craftsmanship, art, medicine, music and technology, etc. and so on. In principle it would not have been possible without the direct immigrants from the Nokodemion peoples and without their distant descendants and all their teachings, as well as also without your apparatus-impulse hypnotic influence of the descendants of the extraterrestrial immigrants that earthly mankind could develop so rapidly and to a large extent up to the today's conditions.

Ptaah:

41. During the first millions of years and millennia this was indeed the case, of course only in primitive developments of various things, for everything always had to be adapted to the corresponding state of consciousness of Earth humanity.

42. This is because it was only possible to avoid an overdevelopment in every respect, because such an overdevelopment could not have been coped with by the Earth-humans in terms of understanding and reason.

43. The early extraterrestrial immigrants naturally had to withhold their knowledge as well as their abilities and possibilities in every imaginable form and to downgrade themselves in this respect in order not to overtax the early earthly humans – who became known as 'Homo erectus' through research in modern times – and also later the more highly developed earthly humans with 'excessive abilities', on the one hand, and on the other hand in order to adapt to them in every necessary way.

Billy:

... How do the Pleiarians and the members of their federation feel about alliance love or about entering into love relationships; how high is the proportion of Pleiarian women and men in the total population who are classified into a polygamous alliance?

Ptaah:

62. Our federations are in no way subject to the provisions, laws and regulations of the relevant Plejaren forms, for all federations have their own, over which we Plejarens do not exercise control.

63. However, in all federations it is given that their own regulations, laws and ordinances are largely – but not necessarily – aligned with our Plejaren values.

...

67. The number of women and men out of the total population of registered polygamous alliances is not known to me personally, but only the last statistics, which were evaluated according to Earthly time two Earth years ago and resulted in a result of such alliances of 62 percent according to the total population.

Billy:

The rule with you is one to three or a man to three women, but more rarely also one to four. But what about monogamous alliances, lack of alliances or being single or alone and unregistered or free alliances, as you say, which are called 'wild marriage' by us, can you please also name the data in this regard?

Ptaah:

68. Of course.

69. Monogamous alliances are listed here according to statistics with 5 percent, non-alignment with 7 percent and free alliances with 26 percent of the total population, whereby here also in this respect no numerical data are given.

Billy:

That'll do, thank you. The next question is: In spite of the high level of consciousness and self-control of the Plejaren, are there still problems with jealousy, claims to possessions and comparable emotions between partners who have united in an alliance love?

Ptaah:

70. Unfortunately, such unworthiness can also appear with our Plejaren peoples, but in extremely few cases such unworthiness results, which are usually regulated without exception peacefully in the end and whereby the misconstrued in this way end their alliance for reasons of reason and remain from now on usually unaligned.

Billy:

Good and patented regulation, I think. Then the following question: How do the Plejaren keep it with the personal freedom within the alliance love form; are there any obligations and mutual dependencies that restrict freedom?

Ptaah:

71. Every form of alliance contains obligations for all persons of both sexes who are in alliances, which must be clarified and adhered to jointly in the alliance partnerships between the performers of the alliances.

72. Personal freedom must not be negatively affected in any way, but must be preserved and exercised.

73. So, in the case of alliances of all forms, the necessary obligations must also be discussed and complied with in mutuality, with no dependencies whatsoever being allowed to appear, which could restrict freedom, because, as I explained, personal freedom must never be negatively affected.

74. Personal freedom inevitably excludes degenerations of any kind that could question, damage, or dissolve the alliance, and consequently degenerating incidents in alliances are extremely rare.

Billy:

... How do the Plejari women and men practice everyday life in a polygamous alliance; does the man live alternately with a woman with whom he may have children, or do all of them live together in a polygamous alliance of united partners in a house or in a common dwelling?

Ptaah:

75. In this respect, there are various forms, depending on the agreements between the husband and his wives.

76. Thus, both polygamous Alliance communities in a single dwelling may be possible, as well as polygamous alliances in separate dwellings in one place or in different places for each woman and her children can be maintained.

77. This depends on the agreements of the allies.

Billy:

Then that's clear too. Then the following question: Who takes care of the upbringing of the children in a polygamous alliance?

Ptaah:

78. Of course, the education of children is without exception the task of the biological mother and father.

Billy:

Sure, can't and shouldn't be any different, I guess. Then this question: Do Plejaren women practice same-sex love or sexuality among themselves?

Ptaah:

79. This is not the rule, but it can be absolutely possible, which is also the case for rights, if certain women have corresponding bisexual predispositions.

Billy:

You regard male homosexuality and female lesbianism as natural-normal, as you once said, and consequently there are also homosexual and lesbian alliances, which can also result in monogamous and polygamous alliances of female-male form.

Ptaah:

80. That's right too.

Billy:

Then there was this question: It was once said that a couple should get to know each other better over a certain period of time in the Plejaren, before an alliance is formed and then it is examined whether the two people really should fit together and form an alliance. How exactly do the Plejaren and their spiritual leaders determine whether two people fit together so well that they can enter into an alliance love?

Ptaah:

81. Such exams are absolutely voluntary, but are nevertheless conditional on registration and are recommended and offered by the Spirit Leadership and used and conducted by the allies of all kinds

82. For more than 3000 years no case has been known that an alliance would have been formed without these prior checks, which also applies to the free alliances.

83. In this way, false alliances are so extremely rare that they are not recorded statistically.

84. The tests themselves are carried out after very precise and varied clarifications, factor analyses and tests, primarily with regard to the type and condition of the partnership relationship, the character value, as well as with regard to partnership freedom, partnership behaviour, partnership relationship ability, Descendant parenting skills, partnership crisis management skills, partnership compromise skills, partnership handling skills, partnership willingness, partnership ability, partnership trust, partnership openness, partnership attitude, partnership communication and partnership commonalities, etc.

85. The entire list of clarifications, factor analysis and tests includes 70 important moments, which also include non-partnership and social, but also psychological and interpersonal relationships, as well as educational and life-style values, etc., all of which, however, would have to be enumerated.

(Note Enjana: Exam takes three to six days, depending on the time.)

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_653

Billy:

... You promised me during your last visit to our private meeting that you would do some research in your annals in order to be able to give me more precise information on my questions regarding the fact that you Plejaren have been living in peace for more than 50,000 years, i.e. without wars and revolutions and terrorism etc., and also in a truly direct democracy. I am also interested in how it was before with regard to the forms of government and the administrations of your countries, and how did your united world or the community of nations on Erra come about? As you know, on Earth we have various state governments up to dictatorships, as well as lower administrations subordinate to the state governments, as is the case, for example, in Switzerland, where the Federal Council, the National Council and the Council of States form the supreme government, then in the cantonal governments as well as district and municipal administrations, and so on. Did you Plejaren have similar conditions in earlier times, or what was it like? ...

...

... But now I have another question: whether you Plejaren previously had similar forms of government to those that exist today on Earth?

Ptaah:

14. That was in fact the case, as the ancient records regarding a peaceful global world-leadership among several Plejaren folks were not heeded, for which reason insurrections, wars, revolutions and diverse forms of terrorism occurred.

15. But that resulted from the fact that five different folks distantly descended from the Nokodemion-lineage had settled on Erra, who were rivals to each other, about which however I should give a few significant explanations for your information.

16. Of course, I cannot be too detailed with those, but will only discuss the most important information, because the whole history is so extensive that a day-long lecture would be required to discuss it all.

17. Hence, I shall begin: our ur-ur-folk, from which I myself am distantly descended, bore since time immemorial the designation Nokdemisdarn, which means, in the language of our ur-ur-ancestors, in brief, folk of Nokodemion.

18. This ur-ur-folk comprised 11 folks, which had their homeworld on a planet called Errana in a star-system called Isdkura.

19. When the astronomers realized that a destructive change was happening in the star-system Isdkura, in which our ur-ur-ancestors lived, and that an annihilation of the whole system was imminent and the destruction was spreading rapidly, through which the home-planet Errana was also threatened with destruction, a resettlement-possibility in another star-system on another planet was sought for all the folks.

20. Such a star-system was in fact found after a few years, so all 11 folks – who in total comprised 510 million human beings – were resettled in the new system within 28 years, namely on two different planets in two different solar systems.
21. The cosmic destruction-process of the Ildkura-star-system lasted 214 years before the whole system was entirely wiped out.
22. The resettlement in the new star-system, which was about six light-years across, happened about 26 million years ago, and since then till the present time we have been based in the Plejaren-system, which will also remain so.
23. The resettlement occurred into two different solar systems on two life-bearing-able planets in a large star-system resp. a so-called open, loose star-cluster.
24. Already at the beginning of the colonization in the new star-system, it was called Plejaren by our ur-ur-ancestors, namely in alteration of the name Pleijara, after the Jschrjsch presiding over the resettlement.
25. Our ur-ur-ancestors chose this star-system-designation according to an old, passed down tradition that stated that the first folk that colonized a formerly uninhabited but now habitable planet in a new star-system should take for the name of the star-system the name of the Ishwish resp. Jschwjsch, or of the Ishrish or Jschrjsch in charge of the action.
26. Borrowing from the home-planet Errana, the new home-planet was then named, in abbreviated form, Erra.
27. This on the one hand, on the other hand the new planet Erra was colonized by the first six folks that had been following the teaching of the prophets since time immemorial and were therefore peaceful, democratic and heedful and following of the Creational laws and recommendations.
28. From this lineage descended all the clans of my genealogy, who have undertaken since time immemorial to follow and spread the teaching of the prophets, namely the teaching that had its origin with the universal prophet Nokodemion.
29. The ancient undertaking traced back to then, because – as our annals state – the most distant ur-ur-ancestors of my own lineage issue from the universal-prophet Nokodemion.
30. The mission on Earth is also in this succession of undertaking, which has lasted up to this day and in which also our early as well as our direct forebears were involved in recent millennia.
- ...
35. So, the home-planet of the emigrants from the star-system Ildkura had been destroyed by a cosmic catastrophe, for which reason the humankind existing there had to leave and seek out a new home, which they found in the new star-system which was known to them and was located more than four thousand light-years away, which after the colonization they named Plejaren, and which contained, in the six-light-year-encompassing system-space, about 563 system-members.
36. In this Plejaren-system there existed solar systems with planets, among which two were capable of bearing human and other diverse forms of life.
37. Consequently, these worlds were considered for colonization by the settlers, so the first six folks – to which my ur-ur-ancestors also belonged – who formed a knowledgely and teaching-successive community, colonized the planet that was called Erra.
38. The other five folks were entitled a planet in a neighbouring solar system that was given the name Erras.
39. This planet, too, was naturally a planet capable of bearing life for human beings and for other life-forms, so the settlers remained there from then on.
40. Everything went well for all the following millions of years, as the population of all folks was maintained, in accordance with the prescribed law, at a size of a little more than 500 million in total, as had been laid down in law since time immemorial in order that no overpopulation could occur and so that no unsolvable problems and no destructions to nature or to the planet be elicited.

41. But then it came to pass a little less than 112,300 years B.C. by terrestrial Immanuel-based-reckoning, that a might-obsessed Ishwish and an Ishrish from two of the folks joined forces in an Ausartung-corresponding wise, who united their two folks and brought about a Gewalt-rule by means of minions drilled in acts of Gewalt, and were able to enforce this against all resistance.

42. The conjoined populations were terrorized and tormented, as all the ancient traditional laws, recommendations, regulations and manners were replaced by Ausartung-corresponding new decrees, and the two might-obsessed ones were placed in the position of a higher might.

43. The process lasted more than 200 years and disabled the population in regard to their own powers of decision-making as well as in their intellect and rationality.

44. And this occurred in a form whereby the two might-possessors were obligatorily treated as absolute dictators, which quickly led to compulsory submissiveness and servitude of the population as well as ultimately to the delusional belief that the dictators be in possession of the almightiness and the Creation-power.

45. The inevitable consequence thereof led quickly and inevitably to worship of the dictators, and so to a state of belief of a religious form, because the human beings had submissively distanced themselves far from the reality through the Gewalt-rulership and imagined themselves, contrary to intellect and rationality, to be free, protected and independent, so long as they humbly, prayingly and undissentingly submitted to the Gewalt-rulership.

46. Hence, in a religious wise, real flesh-and-blood might-obsessed human beings were worshipped as Creational omnipotences, unlike the imaginary, unreal deities, as the wonder-working Creator-beings in our fairytale-forms were called.

47. In doing so, they unlearned that they owed their entire existence ultimately to their own achievement and not to the dictators.

48. Ultimately the human beings came to believe, in their centuries-long Gewalt- and compulsional suggestively indoctrinated delusion, that the Gewalt-rulers and their later successors of the same kind had in primeval times originally created them as human beings and had also created the air to breathe, the water to drink and even the sun, all the heavenly bodies, the planets and all life-forms.

49. For all the human beings, the Gewalt- and coercion-based delusional belief became an axiomatic resp. incontrovertible, unquestionable fact, so that all these things should have been provided to them since time immemorial by the Gewalt-rulers, who they believed to be Creationally superior to them, and that they were obliged to worship these dictators servilely, thank them for their benevolence, and in their presence to lower the gaze and cover the head.

50. Thereby, the belief came to be – and so the fact of religion – that, in having been created by the Gewalt-rulers resp. dictators, the human beings have a connection-back to these, thus exactly what is said by the term religion:

51. Binding-back (re-ligare).

52. This term relates, in the form of an irrational teaching, to the situation of the religion-believers having supposedly relinquished a connection to their dictators resp. creators, namely the belonging together with them, wherefrom there then be the obligation for them, the human beings resp. religion-believers, to reconnect with them.

53. It bears saying furthermore that, through the combination of these two folks and the delusional belief in the Gewalt-rulers resp. dictators as well as through their might-machinations and acts of Gewalt, also unpeace arose with the other three folks.

54. From this circumstance there resulted terrible and destructive wars between all the folks and, 75,140 years ago, triggered a planetary catastrophe, which ultimately spread over the whole planet Erras and took on global and devastating proportions, namely in that the planet and its atmosphere began to die off and slowly but constantly made all life impossible.

55. Hence, a mass exodus of the hostility-embroiled and embattled folks took place, and the nearest solution for them was to approach the planet Erra as their nearest place of refuge and there to set down their craft with Gewalt.

56. The anciently indigenous six folks on Erra additionally wanted to become involved in no belligerent actions, so they, albeit reluctantly, permitted the Gewalt- and invasion-ly immigration of the refugees and, naturally, refrained from their hostile entanglements, but did, however, endeavour in the name of the folk through the spirit-leadership to put an end, through peace-efforts, to the repeatedly igniting Gewalt- and war-actions among the Gewalt-ly immigrated folks, which however was completely without success.

57. The population-count of the Gewalt-doing immigrants consisted of 382 million human beings, thus all of those who had survived the war-actions on Erras.

58. Thus, the population-count on Erra rose to about 900 million, which naturally led to many problems and difficulties, which the anciently settled folks had to deal with, who naturally, in accordance with their laws, recommendations, rules and regulations, etc., were helpful to the folks of their neighbour-system.

59. They, however, did not conform to the laws and recommendations, etc, of the anciently indigenous folks, but continued their feuds and wars amongst themselves and against each other, and this continued for following centuries, yet the anciently indigenous six folks abstained and did not interfere, which was respected by the intruders.

60. This respect resulted from the fact that they knew full well that the anciently indigenous inhabitants of Erra were ready, in the event of an attack upon them, to defend themselves, and moreover were greatly superior to the would-be attackers in every respect.

61. For that matter, it further bears saying:

63. In the course of time, these six folks formed themselves on our planet Erra together into a single folk, and this folk vested supreme authority in a nine-person spirit-leadership, which had the office of conducting the affairs of the folk according to the democratically-charactered folk-will, which has unfailingly remained the case to this day and also will remain so indefinitely.

64. The other five folks practised, as I previously explained, religious and higher-human-power-oriented belief-forms, so for the sake of Gewalt-rulers resp. dictators, whom they worshipped in a religious wise as their creators, which, for our great-folk, was naturally irreconcilable with the reality, and thus also did not correspond to the real truth.

65. All of these five diverse higher-power-believing folks were mutually unpeaceful and even hostile to one another, as similarly the populations were peaceless and loveless as well as aggressive amongst themselves.

66. Hence, also after their exodus from the unlivable home-planet Erras, they continued as before repeatedly to carry out hostile actions against each other and disturbed the peace on Erra, until ultimately, 74,200 years ago, a global war took place in all those regions inhabited by the war-obsessed folks who were engaged in their mutual hostility.

67. Toward our great-folk, however, they respected our efforts for peace and so kept at rest toward us and abstained from offensive actions against us, yet this was also no doubt ensured by our much higher technology in regard to defensive actions, for ours were very superior to theirs.

68. Insurrections, wars, revolutions and terrorism were inevitable among these folks of believably dictators because of the systems of government in operation over them, which were operated by the might-obsessed rulers.

69. These ruled the folks in a gruesome wise, similar to how has been done on Earth since time immemorial and as continues to be done, for this has been perpetuated into the present time.

70. The whole of the undemocratic systems were on the one hand practised in the form of monarchies, dictatorships and other Gewalt-rulerships, as well as, however, through similar forms as are called republics, etc, in the terrestrial sense.

71. Not until a final seven-year, extremely terrible and devastating global war, about 74,200 years ago, by the mutually hostile folks that had fled from Erras to Erra, did it come about at last – after more than half of the human population of these hostility-embroiled folks was reduced through the war-actions –, that the Errasans' minds changed for the better.

72. A political upheaval and transformation process was then sought with many ideas, which lasted around 14,000 years and did not bring any success, but always remained present and was taken up again from time to time.

73. The remaining war-folks of Erras engaged in rationality-wanting quarrels, were at odds with each other and brought forward some objections and proposals that could not be implemented, so everything came to nought.

74. They frequently imagined themselves to be disadvantaged, wanted special conditions, more might and rights, so time and again the whole matter fell through and the old forms of government were continued and validated.

75. That led again and again to insurrections, actions of war, to revolutions and terrorism.

76. Not until the individual spirit-leaders of these quarrelling, warlike folks confederated into a spirit-leadership and unitarily gave teachings to the war-folks, were the Errasans stimulated to concern themselves deeply rationally in the framework of the ancient-traditional teaching of the ancient prophet and to learn it comprehensively.

77. But the efforts for that fundamentally came from the spirit-leadership of the anciently indigenous folks, who intended to debut a whole-planetary leadership, if the warlike folks could assent to it.

78. Yet the teachings-giving and teaching lasted a further about 3,000 years, before the teaching was sufficiently accepted by and integrated into the thought-world of all the quarrelling folks that had fled to Erra and had incessantly sowed discord there, that the human beings began to cultivate a better attitude in themselves and toward the relations with the population of their own countries as well as the population of other countries.

79. Nonetheless, time and again there still arose aggressions and Ausartungs in regard to insurrections, acts of war and terrorism, and in general the responsible motives for these were religious and related to the various extant belief-communities still believing in the Gewalt-rulers and dictators.

80. Eventually there came at last the point in time when, in cooperation with the indigenous spirit-leadership, the spirit-leadership of the hostile folks had also worked out a new form of state-leadership, which was approved by all folks, according to the system of the old teaching of the prophet.

81. Having at last grown weary of the insurrections, wars, revolutions and terrorism, the countless dead and the destructions, ultimately, of the about 382 million human beings of the Gewalt-employingly immigrated hostile and embattled folks, more than half were killed by the global war, namely more than 217 million, and so there were only 165 million survivors.

82. This ultimately led to the situation that the rest of the hostile folks were actually willing to heed the drawn-up rules and proposals of the spirit-leadership and to approve these.

83. That did occur only with great effort, but such that rapid progress was made and the human beings who had been devotees of the higher powers disengaged themselves from their delusional belief, broke free thereof and assimilated into the democracy of the indigenous Errans and also unanimously into the rules and laws of the planetary spirit-leaders, who had been appointed by the great-folk as the supreme planetary spirit-leadership, yet there was also likewise a spirit-leadership responsible for each country resp. state.

84. Thus, for the entire planet and also for all the previously hostile, now however semi-peaceful countries resp. states, the planetary-unanimous leadership-form of the spirit-leadership could be implemented.

85. Consequently, all extant formerly hostile and Gewalt-usingly immigrated folks of all countries were, in the course of the following five-thousand years, further given teachings by the spirit-leadership in accordance with the teaching of the prophet and led into a peaceful future.

86. And since, through the Gewalt-ly migration of the formerly warlike folks from the planet Erras, the population of Erra increased by 382 million human beings – of which ultimately only about 165 million remained following their global war – and therefore the prescribed norm of few more than 500 million human beings had been greatly exceeded, naturally the population of Erra surpassed the established quantity.

87. They were naturally integrated into the whole Erran population, so the prescribed norm of 500 million was exceeded and this no longer accorded with the standard per the relevant law, so population-regulation-measures were taken in order to reach the correct population-size.

88. So, through the planetary spirit-leadership, a guiding and for the Erran total population unanimously valid behaviour-directive was drawn up regarding a strict birth-regulation, and explainingly promulgated to the population of Erra in all connected relations and concerns and put to a vote.

89. And as is recorded in our annals, the whole population of Erra assented to the directive without a single dissenting vote, so it was implemented and the goal of reduction of the population to the prescribed standard was achieved through an appropriate yet strict birth-control within 311 years of terrestrial time-reckoning.

90. From that point on, the size of the Erran humanity remained constant, for, as the immemorially prescribed norm pertaining to progeny has been, owing to intellect and rationality of the Erran population, upheld for the sake of their own and their world's well-being as well as for that of the nature, fauna and flora, the planet and its requirements, there are no destructive problems in this regard.

91. Lastly, it is to be said that during the subsequent five-thousand years, that is before the definitive peace could be created, it also happened, and without Gewalt or coercion, rather only through the once-hostile Errasans ever more following the teaching of the prophet and beginning to think, act and live according to it, that resultingly all of their religious issues became resolved and eventually there existed no more religion-believers on Erra.

92. That was then the definitive cause for our world being permanently pacified and democratized, and since then no insurrections, wars, no revolutions and no terrorism have occurred anymore, so on our planet Erra, about 52,000 years ago, among all folks unanimously the true democracy, and so also a henceforth-lasting peace were created, and with that also an ample freedom for all human beings on Erra.

93. Thereby, it came to pass that all ideas and belief-forms pertaining to undemocratic forms of government and behaviours of the earlier ruler- and might-government-forms on the planet Erras were forbidden by the formerly hostilely delusional believers of Erras themselves among their kind and replaced by new laws and regulations, etc, of the spirit-leadership, and these were accepted and approved by the extant remaining total population of Errasans in a democratic wise.

94. So, everything was regulated in every respect and this has upheld up to the present day, and shall also remain so for all the future.

95. The consciousness-development of the Erran population, which is to be assessed at between 20 and 30 million years higher than that of the terrestrial human beings, does not enable for us Plejaren any relapses into dark, de-evolutive and inhuman machinations, because the entire Plejaren population has once and for all progressed onto the way of the teaching of the prophets and shall also, with sureness, tread that way further.

Billy:

... So now I come to the next question, which refers to one of the four groups or groupings, of which there are actually five, whereby in this relation there is a double grouping, but which you both call the same, namely 'future Earth'. This may be a little confusing, but it is acceptable and does not refer to my question, because it is aimed at whether you are allowed to tell me openly whether you now know where this fourth group from outside Earth comes from?

Ptaah:

76. We know that by now, but ...

Billy:

I thought to myself, then not officially – was just a question. Furthermore, I think it has now become clear to me why you have always talked about grouping on the one hand or about grouping on the other, because if I have understood correctly, then you understand group to mean a closed community and in a grouping several groups of the same or different kind, don't you? In that case, I have misunderstood you for years.

Ptaah:

77. You obviously did, because what you are saying is true.

78. The term group is to be understood as a smaller or larger number of members coming together or belonging together, whereby these people form an ordered unit or a community, a circle of people who belong together on the basis of certain similarities because they have joined together on the basis of common interests and goals, as is the case with the FIGU core-group.

79. On the other hand, a grouping forms a closed combination of several groups of the same character, e.g. the FIGU core parent group and the FIGU passive group, study groups and interest groups, thus in this sense a grouping comprises several like-minded groups.

80. On the other hand, however, a grouping can also include a number of groups which are of completely different nature and interests and are therefore not a closed unit, but which in themselves form an autonomous, autonomous and independent whole, although these groups as a whole have one thing in common.

Billy:

Interesting, but annoying for me, because all these years I have misunderstood your and generally your Plejaren interpretation of group and grouping and I did not ask Latschkopf for an explanation earlier. But now it is clear to me what is meant by group and grouping, so if I have understood correctly, you are also talking about several groups in relation to the other groupings that you keep mentioning. So I was thoroughly mistaken that there were only four groups, because in reality there must be several of them. But then there are the grouping of the Earth-foreigners and the two other groupings that are based on earthly things. Is it permissible to speak openly about this?

Ptaah:

81. What you say is correct, but we can only talk about it in a private way.

82. You know ...

Billy:

Yes, I understand, because although I misunderstood you for years, I did not exactly fall on my head and know that you have to talk about your directives again. But if I repeat, then you have spoken of one group or of four specific groups on the one hand, therefore the speech was of a single group or of four groups from a specific grouping, as for example of the grouping 'Future Earth', which consists of two groups. And according to what I now know, the other groupings must comprise more than just two groups, perhaps three, four, five or more.

Ptaah:

83. Yes, that is how it is.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_675

Billy:

... But something else that refers to you Plejaren, because as you have explained to me, the majority of the population works only two hours or so per day according to our time, while the other time is used in a private way. You have told me that in your free time the Plejaren work and maintain their large private gardens, which cover at least one hectare or 10000 m². Others fly with their aircraft over land or around the planet and land where other people work to do private work together. And all this happens without any financial compensation, because you have no financial economy anymore. But even if you are only about 530 million people on Erra, there is quite a lot of work to be done to feed the whole population and to satisfy all their other needs. I will ask you how you manage this so that everything can be created when the majority of your humanity works only two hours a day for the general public; is there no problem with that?

Ptaah:

80. The whole thing would be impossible if we did not have our very sophisticated, extensive and diverse technology at our disposal.

81. Basically, of course, our planetary population also has to do a lot of work, which has to be carried out, but which is largely carried out by our highly developed technology.

82. The main of all activities is carried out by elaborate androids, apparatuses and machinery, which are monitored and controlled by the majority of the working population during the two hours of work.

83. And these are effectively only surveillance and control works to be carried out by the majority of the Erra population, according to times in day and night divisions, to which you once said 'around the clock' in another context.

Billy:

The majority of the population, what does that mean?

Ptaah:

84. It must be understood to mean all persons at any age from 140 years of age – which is to be understood according to Earthly years – and this is maintained until old age, because every person in our society is involved throughout his or her life, either for the general public or in a purely private way.

85. Our 530 million or so humanity is to be understood in terms of the people who carry out their work, which, however, do not include descendants up to 140 years of age, who also include a number of about 110 million.

Billy:

You mean 110 million. So there is no rotting in any way of the physical and thought-feel-psychological, as is very often the case with us on Earth, after people retire and then know nothing more to do with themselves. But I didn't know that you wouldn't count the 110 million descendants, who are up to 140 years old, among the approximately 530 million of the working people, but I think that this has to be added up because your planet Erra is about the same size as Earth, but has more mainland, as you once explained.

Ptaah:

...

89. We Plejaren measure in this respect the possible population according to the fertile land that, when cultivated for food products, produces abundant food for the total population.

90. As a result, no part of the population can ever be affected by famine, as is the case on earth, where around a billion people are currently suffering from hunger and many die from it.

91. And as far as such behaviour, which you call 'rotting', is concerned, Plejaren is alien to us, even if a person wants to withdraw from general work and only be active privately – which is of course possible, but must be guaranteed.

92. However, this is usually only possible at the age of 800, although very little use is usually made of it.

Billy:

Then it must also be the case that these people still have their entire livelihood when they retire from general work at the age of 800. How's that settled?

Ptaah:

93. They are fully granted everything necessary in every respect and for every need until the end of their lives, so they do not have to renounce anything in any way, but receive everything according to their desires, be it food or any things of any kind that they desire.

Billy:

So there are no people among you who are, as they say, poor or rich, if I understand your social system correctly, which is also due to the fact that you no longer have any means of payment or money.

Ptaah:

94. This is indeed the case, because since we have no system whatsoever with regard to a monetary or financial economy, but an equal structure of equality, on the one hand, with regard to social status and, on the other, with regard to the values of goods, there are no social and no social differences.

Billy:

And this also not between the simple people, the spiritual leadership and all those who have to carry out higher tasks than the normal daily general work.

Ptaah:

95. There are no differences whatsoever, and there must be no differences, because the equal status of the entire Erra population means that neither greed nor envy nor other negative factors, which could be caused by material causes, prevail.

96. Every plejarian person has equal rights, including the right to meet all his material needs within the same framework as any other.

97. Thus, all manufactured goods of any kind are available to any person free of charge, as are all other goods.

Billy:

And the rest of the majority of the population, what about it in terms of work and old age, how many percentages does this rest comprise, and what does it do?

Ptaah:

98. According to our calculations, the majority of the entire Pleiar population comprises 72 percent, which is active in the way I have just explained, while the other 28 percent is responsible for other tasks, in which, calculated according to Earthly hours, the working hours vary per day depending on the activity, but which are higher than two hours and are often 12, 15 or more.

99. This is the case, for example, with the exercise of tasks related to spiritual leadership, planetary control tasks, and various other important matters.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_679

Billy:

... Today I once again have some questions concerning the peoples of Erra and their behaviour in relation to various things such as work, state of consciousness, ethics, criminality and crime, etc., as well as the offspring of you Plejaren. It would be good if you would explain how it is with you on Erra with the duty to work and with the responsibility for it. ... The other day you said that you have a total adult population of around 530 million and around 110 million offspring under the age of 140. ...

Ptaah:

14. As I explained in an earlier conversation, the peoples on Erra remain among themselves, and only very few persons emigrate to other peoples, whereby the reason for this is usually living together with other members of the peoples, or if there is some unavoidable need to do so.

15. Otherwise, the individual peoples remain among themselves and preserve their own folk customs and traditions, etc.

16. With this I also explain that there are no migrations of peoples on Erra, but also no refugees for any reason, because there are no uprisings or even wars on Erra etc., consequently there are also no reasons for a flight from one people to another.

17. There is also no hunger among the peoples of Erra, for since we Plejaren adhere to the planetary requirements for the preservation of all life, so in relation to Plejarian humanity, nature and all its fauna and flora on the land, in the waters and in the air, the entire natural food cultivation and the further food production for the entire Erra humanity can be produced in abundance without any problems.

18. As far as unemployment is concerned, which you mention, we Plejaren do not have it, because all Plejaren of both sexes are comprehensively integrated into our planet-wide system of labour regulation.

19. So there are also no work-shy persons on Erra who would exhibit parasitic behaviour, as is often the case with Earth-humans.

20. Also with regard to criminality and crime there are none among the human beings of Erra, for the evolutionary stage of consciousness and ethics and their stability of value, as well as the resulting sense of duty and responsibility, are so highly developed in every Plejaren human being that negative deviations no longer appear.

23. According to our birth regulation it is to be explained that it is regulated on the one hand according to our high life expectancy, and on the other hand according to the number of the population, from which it results that consequently on Erra the descendants are also to be determined according to the deaths, as however also according to various other necessary regulations, which can only be made when a humanity has reached a necessary high level of consciousness, as is the case with our Plejaren peoples.

27. This is in contrast to us Plejaren, who are entitled to beget offspring at the age of 70 at the earliest, after which it can then take several hundred years until the next offspring is begotten – perhaps two or three hundred years, if at all, for the rule is – which is privately observed as an unwritten law – that offspring are first begotten only at the age after 150 years.

28. And this is so because all members of the population, without exception, learn several other fields of activity beyond the normal learning activity which lasts until the age of about 70.

29. Only then are all the main activity trainings completed, after which one enters into full and all-round active life.

...

31. And since with us Plejaren each marital alliance or other cohabitation may only produce three offspring, the fixed number of adults of about 530 million and of 110 million offspring under 140 years of age can be maintained by the regulation of our birth control.

32. The total Plejaren population of the world is regulated in such a way that it always remains approximately the same, which nevertheless means that the number of offspring can fall or rise by a few million, so that the number of around 110 million is not always exactly constant.

33. On the one hand, offspring may only be begotten on request, but on the other hand it can also occur that, as a result of various natural circumstances or necessities, more or fewer procreations are permitted.

34. So when I gave the figure of about 530 million adults and 110 million Errans under 140 years of age, these figures correspond to the present time.

Billy:

Your birth rate could not be introduced on Earth, I think. And the question: with regard to the peoples; are there no problems there with regard to the birth control that has been ordered?

Ptaah:

...

38. No, there are no problems, because among our Plejaren peoples, logical reason and logical reasoning are factors and values acquired thousands of years ago, which have become such a matter of course and for the benefit of the entire Erranian population that not even a suggestion of breaking the rule appears.

Billy:

... What you have now said with regard to the learning of diverse and varied activities, which we call vocational training here, you once told me that often 20 to 30 or even more fields of activity are learned, which are also practised alternately throughout your lifetime. ...

...

Billy:

But something else: as you once told me, on Erra you also radiate catastrophic events from alien planets worldwide, as well as in relation to natural disasters and overpopulation, which perhaps also contributes to the fact that from the Erra population – purely psychologically – there is a satisfaction and recognition in relation to the whole Erran forms of order. In addition, I think that Plejaren humanity is oriented towards this and accordingly also works to ensure that everything on Erra remains in good order in every way. For my part, I think that such emanations can have a good psychological effect, because there is no indifference among your humanity, as is unfortunately the case with the majority of Earthlings. ...

Ptaah:

...

44. And with regard to the entire Erranian world population, it is made aware again and again of the disasters and calamities that occur through overpopulation.

45. So, planet-wide, information broadcasts are repeatedly broadcast, through which catastrophic conditions of uprisings, torture, war, murder, revolutions, terror, strife, misery and distress, hunger, diseases, epidemics and terror etc. on overpopulation worlds are pointed out.

46. The reason, however, is not that of deterrence, but purely informative, to show what generally unpeaceful and barbarous conditions still prevail on those worlds which in every respect are still millions of years behind our entire Plejaren high development.

47. The whole thing also has an instructive character in regard to the very early past of our primitive peoples, which occurred in the same or a similar framework, as is also still the case today in a very lasting way on other and still extremely uncivilised worlds and among their peoples, as is also the case with regard to the earthly world population.

Ptaah:

55. What will happen, however, when the Earth-foreigners, who have been moving in Earth space for a long time, or others who will sooner or later appear – which will also only be a question of time – is still open and will be an event that will certainly cause many problems for all Earth-humans.

56. It must also be clear that Earth-foreigners or Earth-future beings do not have to be the same kind as us human beings, because various Earth-foreigners are beings who are not human and also not peaceful.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_697

Billy:

... How do you Plejaren create interpersonal relationships, and how do you make contacts for friendships and alliances?

Ptaah:

51. In a very natural way, by holding events and making acquaintances, as well as through meetings of all kinds, such as getting to know other persons through acquaintances, neighbours, family members and friends, through travelling around, doing work, as well as through all kinds of other ways.

Billy:

So roughly on the same scale as we do on Earth?

Ptaah:

52. No, because the same thing that is practised on Earth through so-called Internet acquaintances does not exist here, just as it does not exist in the way that public bodies are searched for acquaintances and life partners.

Billy:

Then the next question: What is family life like among you Plejaren, the upbringing of children, the organisation of leisure time and the coexistence of parents, children and young and old? This question is also connected with how the education of children and young people is organised, whether there are schools like ours on Earth, what subjects are taught and learned, as well as what interests the children, young people and adults have.

Ptaah:

53. In this respect everything is given in a reasonable and correct framework, for the unalterable rule is that with us Plejaren in every family everything is maintained in a family-conscious, peaceful and correct manner, consequently there are not the same vicious scenes, Gewalt and quarrels, which often end with physical harm or even with murder and manslaughter, as is very often and increasingly the case throughout the Earth.

54. Our entire Plejaren population is trained from infancy in such a way that peace and freedom and equality between the sexes and between the offspring must be cultivated, and indeed they prevail in this way in every family.

55. Of course, it is also the case in our families that there can be disagreements between parents, just as there can be disagreements between children and parents – although this is not necessarily the rule – but every dispute is avoided and everything is always kept under control.

56. And this is indeed the case planet-wide and is observed as it is already taught through education and is also further taught later in adolescence through special educational courses.

57. The upbringing of children and youth is given in completely peaceful measures, not based on chastisement, but nevertheless strict in order to ensure the best.

58. Necessary recreation for children, youths and also for adults is also cultivated, whereby the whole is extremely varied, ranging from games to hikes, excursions and factual learning and hobbies, etc.?

59. The interests of the individual persons – children, adults, juveniles – are taken into account, which can be extremely varied.

60. And as to the question of the subjects which can be learned, these are, of course, according to our entire stage of development, accessible to every Plejarin and every Plejaren, according to their desire and ability, for learning and later practice, these subjects being as great in number as all our developments so far created, whether in regard to medicine, biology, zoology, every possible technique or manual skill, which is also necessary with us, as well as otherwise hundreds of other subjects.

Billy:

That should actually suffice as an answer. Then, what should actually be a statement and not a question, namely how you Plejaren observe the events on other planets and whether you are interested in world events, politics, society, art, culture of the Earth and in how the human beings are on the Earth and deal with their lives. I think that should be obvious, otherwise you would not come here and observe and analyse everything. And as you observe what is happening on other planets, I think you do that equally as you do here on Earth, in that you can control everything through your apparatuses and devices in such a way that nothing remains unseen to you.

Ptaah:

61. So the whole thing needs no further answer or explanation.

Billy:

Exactly. What does a daily routine of a human being on Erra look like, a child, a teenager, a woman or a man?

Ptaah:

62. During the first years of their upbringing, children are naturally with their parents, in whose care they can learn on the one hand, and on the other hand also play and do all kinds of things that bring them joy, but are also instructive.

63. From the age of 5, children are taught in schools in a variety of ways, while from the age of 14, young people learn specialist subjects – professions in an earthly sense – which continues until the age of 70, although there are also leisure times and 2 hours of work every day.

64. Women and men also have to fulfil the obligation of 2 hours of work daily for the whole community, after which all the other time of the day is used at their own discretion and their own leisure time.

65. All Plejaren people have their own small plots of land and a dwelling on them, the plots of land being cultivated and cultivated as gardens with vegetable crops, etc.

66. Also very often people fly overland to get in contact with known or foreign people somewhere on the planet and possibly to work together.

67. Women and men also do work together in their homes, where of course there is also cooking, cleaning and maintenance work.

Billy:

I know. Further this question: do all Plejaren and the human beings of their federation undertake journeys through space, and what are the requirements for this, and for what purpose do such journeys and missions serve?

Ptaah:

68. Neither among us Plejaren nor among our federates is there space tourism, for the populations only undertake journeys through space when there is an urgent need to do so.

69. Space flights to other planets etc. are only undertaken for economic trading purposes and the like, and for missionary purposes and for assistance to Plejaren-foreign planets and their populations, as well as for exploration and reconnaissance purposes.

Enjana:

2. That is correct, and I have to explain that the Earth-foreigners you mentioned, or their early ancestors, were already present and active here on Earth in prehistoric times, as they were afterwards, but also again and again throughout all the ages of the Earth, throughout all the ages and epochs of the world.

3. The various epochs and each era of the ancient history of the planet are to be reckoned in millions of years, during which the Earth-foreigners came to Earth again and again, whereby, however – as Ptaah has already explained to you several times, as he mentioned – we have not been able to fathom their effective origin until the present time, whereby we have, however, been able to discover that even these Earth-foreigners no longer know their own prehistoric origin.

4. Our research so far has only revealed that their prehistoric ancestors came into the DERN universe from another space-time structure or from another dimension, unknown to us so far, and then also reached Earth and other SOL system planets.

5. But as far as the origin of the distant and present-day Earth-foreigners and thus very distant descendants of those who came to Earth again and again in prehistoric times and also afterwards is concerned, their most distant descendants also come here to this day, whereby they also have stations on Earth.

6. As far as their present origin is concerned, we are very well aware of their present world of origin and the system, although we have no need whatsoever, and our directives also forbid us to make ourselves noticeable and recognisable to them, or even to make contact with them.

3. Question: Concerns landing of extraterrestrial intelligences.

{Billy} Answer:

A public landing of extraterrestrials at the beginning of the 21st century – whereby the appearance of the extraterrestrials was announced in the contact reports, but their nature and origin and also the exact time were only mentioned unofficially, was planned for the 10th year of the new millennium – should not have taken place by the consciousness-advanced Plejaren, but by Plejaren federates called up on call for preparation and standing by. This, in addition to other extraterrestrials who were to come openly to Earth – of which there was already talk earlier during contact conversations – but which was prevented by interventions of the Plejaren because the hostile and warlike developments of the human beings were too dangerous to Earth – which they still are and will also be far into the future. The aliens who were to land openly on Earth at the beginning of the third millennium, namely in the USA, would not have been the Plejaren themselves, but members of the Plejaren Federation. This is because they have a simpler and more simple development of consciousness than the Plejaren themselves, which means that they – in contrast to the Plejaren – could have easily entered the direct sphere of the human beings of Earth in order to communicate and work with them. The whole thing was to be done by first contacting the US government through me (Billy) and through an American intermediary {Lee J. Elders; see Contact Report 117 and Contact Report 122}, on the condition and precondition that the USA would have responded to a request from the Plejaren corresponding to the aforementioned matter in the early 1980s. This was to be done – as explained – through the mediation of my personality, in order to submit political and world peace-promoting guidelines and advice etc. to the USA through the Plejaren. These should have been considered by the state leaders of the United States of America and their results implemented peacefully in the countries dependent on and under the control of the USA all over the world, in order to create effective peace and real freedom for all peoples worldwide. If at that time the state powers of the USA in their megalomania had not reacted with nonsensical and for the Plejaren unfulfillable primitive stupid demands, when my US middle man submitted the Plejaren request to the US government, then in case of success also the then still existing Soviet Union and also China, Switzerland as well as the then incipient EU dictatorship would have been included. In this way, a worldwide process of peace and freedom and the abolition of dictatorships as well as the establishment of fully democratic government structures would have begun under the advisory supervision of the Plejaren and through the work of their federates. Furthermore, through ongoing Plejaren advisory assistance, the whole would certainly have become a state of peace and freedom encompassing the world and all earthly states within two and a half decades, which would also have led to the power of determination of the peoples in political and military matters and to the end of all acts of hostility to war on Earth. This would have created the basic prerequisite for a public landing of a delegation of peaceable Plejaren federates, for whom it was decided and determined that they would have had to assist earthly humanity with advice and action in every conceivable good and positive way. However, since the state leaders of the USA, in their delusions of grandeur with regard to their insane, pathologically stupid, nonsensical, confused, self-important and power-driven demands, ruined everything from the outset and condemned it to failure, the plan of the Plejaren to make an attempt to establish contact with the authoritative earthly governments was shelved again. However, it was left open to them and they waited a whole twenty years to see whether those who were active at the time or those who followed them in the USA would come to their senses and respond in the affirmative, but this was not the case. As a result, the whole programme of the attempt to establish contact was finally discarded, and the Plejaren closed everything down and declared unofficially that no further attempt of this kind would be made, and that they would therefore also not declare themselves ready for a second attempt, even if the US government should still come forward today or in the future.

Bermunda:

36. With us on Erra, news is also spread, as is the case on Earth, whereby of course it is also pointed out what is happening on Earth in all ways.

37. The same information is also spread among our federates, so what is happening on Earth is known far and wide in the universe.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_710

Billy:

... With this I can say that the Earth-foreigners, who are generally simply called extraterrestrials or aliens by the Earthlings, have in fact been around for a long time. They stayed here and worked in many ways, as did their distant descendants, but they have also been active on Earth for centuries and millennia up to the present day, flying around and in and out of the Earth, and are observed again and again around the world by the Earthlings, whereby the American continent is of particular importance in this respect. Their early ancestors worked in many different ways on Earth, and also in various countries in Asia, North Africa and partly in Europe, but mainly in the early days in the North African country, which in later times was called 'Kemet' and then finally in later times Egypt, after which this name has been preserved until today. Your father Sfath taught me during a leap in time into the past to the land there, where the Earth-foreigners ruled at that time, whom he called 'long-skulls' and whom I have seen myself, that they had been on Earth for thousands of years. Because, in contrast to the round skulls of the human beings of Earth, they had skulls that were long and thickly protruding towards the back, they stood out unmistakably from the human beings of Earth just as other Earth-foreigners did around the world, such as giants up to about 3 metres tall, half-small people with large and somewhat v-shaped heads and excessively large eyes. Various such long skulls have also been found in modern times by archaeologists, etc., although to this day people still puzzle over what secret is connected with these skulls, which were not from human beings of the Earth, but belonged to Earth aliens. ...

...

Billy:

... But now I will bring up something from your history that your father Sfath has already told me about, namely, that you Plejaren on Erra and on other planets have been at peace among all peoples for about 52,000 years only because something strange has happened. At that time, I remember Sfath's explanation, a round structure or a large metallic sphere appeared above Erra and other Plejaren planets, after which all male and female inhabitants of all planets, so to speak, experienced a comprehensive change of heart. Neither at that time nor to this day, however, could you Plejaren fathom what this sphere was about, nor where it had come from and where it had disappeared to. Only one thing was clear, namely that through this sphere some process of consciousness took place in all human beings of all Plejaren planets, which immediately led to an all-embracing peace, as well as to freedom from strife, war, crime and so on. And as Sfath explained, as you also once did years ago, you never found out where this orb came from, who built it and where it disappeared to, consequently it was only clear to you that it was through this that your peoples came to peace and all that has distinguished you Plejaren as true human beings for 52,000 years.

Ptaah:

169. What had to be explained in this respect, you have now done, but I must mention that up to now, despite a great deal of research, we have not been able to gain any knowledge about the origin of the sphere, which was completely untouchable and secured against all attacks and therefore also indestructible, because it resisted all attempts at attack, which was a good thing in the end.

170. This large spherical missile, which according to our annals had a size that I have calculated to be 248 metres according to the earthly system of measurements, circled around each Plejaren planet for 32 days and nights, and then disappeared without a trace.

171. Since then, all the corresponding efforts to clarify the matter, which still continue today, have not been successful, which is why we also have no knowledge of what kind of technology the flying objects had, through which all our peoples were pacified.

{Note: See also Contact Reports 711:47+ and 728:179-182 for further information about this "orb".}

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_711

Ptaah:

47. I must begin by addressing what occurred on Erra and our other Plejaren planets some 52,000 years ago.

48. At that time, swinging waves were emitted from the flying sphere, which circled around Erra and also around the other Plejaren planets for 32 days each, which took control of a certain brain region and a precisely defined area in all planet inhabitants, against which there was no possibility of defence, as could be fathomed by our scientists at that time.

...

55. However, I may explain, which I will do only briefly and without elaboration, what happened to our ancestors 52,000 years ago, but I really do not intend to go into detail.

56. It turned out that the swinging-wave impulses emitted by the aforementioned spherical flying machine very effectively influenced certain areas of the brain of all the planet's inhabitants and had such an effect on special areas that all impulses of violence and degeneracy were appeased, but not extinguished, only put into a softened state and made peaceful.

57. This was sufficient for the populations of all the planets to fall away from all malignant violence and become in a peaceful mood within the time during which the spherical flying machine circled the worlds, but nevertheless they retained their free will and, above all, without external verbal influences from the state leaders and their unpeaceful propaganda, etc., they became more and more inclined to rationality and intellect, and began to think, consider, decide and act independently.

58. The calming swinging-wave influences, which acted only on certain areas of the brain and in these only on special areas, were neither aggressive nor compelling, for there were only vibratory impulses through which understanding and reason were stimulated and led to the populations discarding their collective world of thought within a few days, because they became free from all the unpeaceful suggestive collective thinking controlled by the governments and religions and were able to form their own independent thoughts and opinions.

59. By very quickly discarding their collective thinking controlled by governments and religions, and also very quickly learning and using their own individual thoughts, the human beings of the Plejaren planets learned and grasped their personal self-knowledge and formed their own and ever-increasing self-determination, through which they attained personal mental strength.

60. In a special way, the dropping and abandonment of all religious belief factors and thus the perception and realisation of the natural-creational laws, which are universally oriented towards peacefulness, freedom and self-reliance, had an effect.

61. When this was recognised by all Plejaren populations of all our worlds and every religious belief was discarded and frowned upon, manifold realisations were formed and from them the result of personal attitudes and far-reaching thought processes and certainties, which led to all human beings of all peoples setting themselves independently challenging goals and sticking to them even under difficulties, learning to cope with failures better and well, working out a higher motivation and achieving their set self-realisation goals.

62. It was also found that within only eleven days they were less and less distracted by the opinions of other persons and above all also no longer allowed themselves to be distracted by the suggestive, unpeaceful whispers of the government, nor allowed themselves to fall back into unpeacefulness.

63. On the contrary, all the populations of all the planets henceforth made all the necessary efforts and perseverance to achieve their goals.

64. Very quickly they became aware of their own abilities and just as quickly learned to control and master situations of all kinds that arose and quickly became mentally strong persons who also learned to make use of their abilities by constantly seeking and finding new challenges for their intellect and reason as well as for their self-development and self-realisation and by realising them, as well as themselves.

65. Thus, within a very short time, the individual human beings learned to cope with stress and strain and to live in control of all their self-created personality traits.

66. Through their steadily growing mental strength, they very quickly created a consciousness-like capacity that also had a strong effect on their mental and physical health, as well as on the fact that they were always setting themselves new, challenging goals and realising them.

69. This realisation led the human beings of all our planets to renounce violence, immorality, degeneracy, evil and wickedness and also to conquer their bad habits.

70. It was also recognised, however, that in spite of all knowledge and efforts with regard to the conduct of life in the good, the correct, the human, and with regard to righteousness, as well as with regard to the observance of the natural positive creative laws, the human being always remains susceptible and can fall back again into old ungood, negative, evil and bad behaviour, if he does not make the necessary effort to control it in order to prevent it.

71. And it has been recognised that this can always happen again if the human beings are influenced from the outside in any verbal, physical or consciousness-, thought-, emotion- and psyche-burdening forms for long enough.

72. So in this respect all human beings of all Plejaren planets or their populations were subordinated to this natural-creative law of action in such a way that countermeasures had to be taken, which were recorded and followed in directives, and which consisted in the fact that no direct or otherwise harmful connections were to be sought and maintained with alien worlds and their populations, in order not to relapse into the old modes of behaviour through such contacts with alien peoples who were not like our ancestors.

73. We Plejaren of today are also human beings – like our ancestors 52,000 years ago and all our descendants since then – who must resist such external influences without being harmed, for unfortunately we are still susceptible to negative external influences that would cause us to relapse into the old ways of behaviour if we were to fall long enough into areas of negative influence that were harmful to us and were hit by factors that had a negative effect on us.

74. We Plejaren, too, are human beings and are ordered to develop within the framework of every natural-creational order and lawfulness, through a very laborious working out of our higher evolution of consciousness, which even after 52,000 years of peace we must follow and continue to learn.

75. And this we can do today through the life-teaching of Nokodemion, the 'Teaching of Truth, Teaching of the Spirit, Teaching of Life', which helps us unspeakably much in our further evolution of consciousness, but which was known to us only in small parts up to the beginning of your mission, but which you now bring and teach not only to Earth-humans, but also to us, in many expanded versions.

76. But as far as our ancestors were concerned, more than 52,000 years ago, they only gained their knowledge at that time and only then became aware of the effective facts and values of life according to the natural-creative laws, when the flying sphere appeared and circled around our Plejaren planets, whereby all Plejaren populations were struck by its vibratory impulses and were appeased and peacefully tuned in a restrained, yet definite and effective manner.

77. Through these vibratory impulses their minds and reason were stimulated, whereby the populations turned to the gently urging peaceful impulses and gave themselves consciously learning to their evolution of consciousness.

78. Through this attention our ancestors of that time recognised the truth and effectiveness of the natural-creative laws and correct natural-creative-conditioned way of life, learned to fathom them and to follow them and made them their own, whereby henceforth all populations consciously developed according to them and aligned themselves to them in every way.

79. But they were able to do all this only after they realised that their entire very high technical development in all its forms and possibilities did not turn them away from their degenerations, their violent behaviour and from all evil, from all warfare and all destructive and negative and evil behaviour with regard to peace, real freedom, righteousness, justice and humanity as well as a way of life according to natural-creative laws.

80. Only through the influence of the vibrational impulses, which were emitted by the spherical flying device and by which they were peacefully influenced, did they find their way to personal change and finally, through their own development of consciousness, cognition and their efforts, their own will, their intellect, their reason and the use of their intelligence, they attained their personal inner peace, their personal inner freedom and righteousness.

81. And this inestimable gain and victory over themselves they also began to bring to bear externally, whereby all peoples also allied themselves among themselves in a continuing state of peace and freedom, and since then all violence, degenerations and wars etc. have also become a thing of the past

82. However, it must be repeated as a fact that all violence, wars, all hatred and falsehood, all discord, all unfreedom and unrighteousness, as well as all injustice and degeneracy, etc., in all forms, could only be ended. In all forms could only be brought to an end when the vibratory impulses of the Orb had an effect upon all the Plejaren peoples and soothed them into peace, whereby they became consciously powerful of their own independent and externally uninfluenced faculty of thought, as well as of their intellect, their reason and the application of their intelligentsia, and thereby their own self-evolution could take place.

83. This did not mean, however, that our ancestors 52,000 years ago, or since, were above any susceptibility to and reversion to the old degenerate, malignant, warlike, violent and all other negative forms and disregarding all natural-creative laws.

84. And this is not the case even in modern times, for even we Plejaren of today are not immune to this, just as all our ancestors were not.

...

Ptaah:

105. The negative factors mentioned, as they are drastically present in Earth-humans, also occur in the third grouping as well as in the Earth future beings, who on the one hand have already been on Earth for thousands of years or otherwise for a considerable time, again and again demonstrating their presence in various ways.

...

Billy:

... But it must be clear that in the vastness of the universe there are also other human beings and life forms who are equally 'sick in the head' and live with degenerations of all kinds, unpeaceful and unrighteous and therefore also make their existence hell by their own doing in a similar or the same way as the earthlings. And as Sfath has already said, it can be said that the absolute majority of all human and human-like creatures in our entire DERN universe have, through their own early degenerations, fallen into a convergent state with that of degenerated Earth-humans. This, however, can one day lead to enormous unpleasantness and even to acts of war with extraterrestrials and to the danger of the extermination or enslavement of Earth-humans, as well as to the annexation of Earth by Earth-foreigners. And it is precisely in this respect that crazy Earth-foreigners, who do not possess reason, rationality and intelligence for a penny, have done everything with the SETI project so that it can happen under certain circumstances if Earth-foreigners find the SETI probe. Through this crazy project, extraterrestrials are to be made aware of Earth and contact is to be sought with them ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_713

Ptaah:

112. This, however, can one day become a risky doom for Earth-humans, namely through the stupidity and irresponsibility committed by earthly researchers and scientists, namely with the SETI project 'Cyclops', or 'Search for Extraterrestrial Intelligence'.

113. And such a fate can befall all Earth-humans if official contact with unpeaceful Earth-foreigners should one day occur; an attempt at contact which was started unreasonably and recklessly by the 'search for extraterrestrials' and which under certain circumstances can bring not only great horrors etc., but ultimately also a nasty end to all Earth human existence.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_717

Billy:

... But what I wanted to say when you interrupted me was simply this: "... whose presence on Earth has been based since time immemorial on behaving according to certain guidelines that also give them security and protection." I did not want to say more, for their existence could also be endangered if the real truth about them, their doings, their ways, as well as their origin and whereabouts, etc. were known, but this must not happen. Earth-foreigners are also beings whose right to exist and live must be granted and assured to them, but which would be endangered if certain facts about them became known. But this also applies to the earthly grouping, which also makes itself felt here and there.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_718

Billy:

Also good, then the following question is whether you guys influence planetary weather on Erra, like maybe through lightning control and cloud formation by lasers or something, if that is even possible. Also the further question is related to whether you have a poison industry to produce any substances, like herbicides, insecticides, neonicotinoids, pesticides and fungicides and so on.

Ptaah:

158. Weather manipulation in the context of your question is possible, but we do not carry out such manipulations on Erra.

159. The climate conditions of our planet are normal and are not influenced by our humanity in any way.

160. Regarding your other question, it is to be said that we do not have any production facilities on Erra where any toxic substances would be produced, so also not such as you mentioned.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_719

Billy:

... Now that we're on the subject, I can also combine it with something else, namely with make-up, which is common here on earth for women and also for men. Although I have also seen you on Erra, as well as all the women who come to me from you, that you take care of yourself cosmetically, but I have never seen that you look effective in the same or a similar way as the earthling women would paint on their faces. By that I mean the areas around the eyes, the cheeks and lips, as well as the draping of the lips, the tongue, the nose, the pubic area, breasts and other 'pieces of jewellery' embedded in the body, some of which are young people, but many women and men do. In and of itself, I don't care at all, because that's everyone's own thing and therefore none of my business. But I have something to mock, namely that I find the smearing on the lips extremely disgusting and the whole thing also disfiguring. I have nothing against a light, subtle and hardly or not at all visible lip care, just as I have no objections to a subtle skin resp. Facial and eye care, as I know it from your Plejaren women and as sensible women do with us. But I find a woman messing up her face in a painted war landscape just gross. In addition, the ostentatious lip-painted women are repulsive and look like disfigured circus clowns, who are still original in a certain way, but this does not apply to these women, but who, with their lip painting, look more like a worn-out deep-sea frigate and also act accordingly. What is your opinion on this, my friend?

Ptaah:

55. I can understand what you are saying and I would like to say that after listening to you, I am kind of glad that in our world as a whole, all women take care of themselves with the kind of discreet cosmetic care that you mentioned.

56. For my part, I also cannot find any pleasure in what female beings do in the way you have described.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_721

Ptaah:

30. The beginning of the spirit form of Nokodemion on Earth came about 389,000 years ago, when a Plejaren herald from the Nokodemion lineage named Aijum (meaning of the name: 'the prudent one') came to Earth with 144,000 human beings from the Nokodemion people and settled in the Gobi Desert.

31. However, the teaching that Aijum taught was disregarded, as has been the case since time immemorial and always, which is why there were always only a few who opened their ears to the efforts of the Annunciator.

32. The majority of the masses, therefore, did not care for the teaching brought by the herald, but in their delusion of faith continued to follow their gods, which equally led to differences and disputes among the various faith groups, as has always been the case, even in later times, and has remained so to this day among all the delusional believers in religion on Earth.

33. At that time, however, after only a short time, the hostilities among the immigrants broke out to such an extent that the city built in the desert and the other populated areas, as well as the Earth, had to be abandoned.

34. More than 25,000 years ago, new Plejaren immigrants arrived on Earth with a slightly yellowish skin pigmentation and mixed with already existing earthly human forms, resulting in another human species that migrated to a large island.

35. The original immigrants, who came from our ANKAR universe more than 25,000 years ago, had created a dimensional gateway millions of light-years beyond the Milky Way galaxy you know, and so entered the DERN universe and from there to Earth, where they settled in fertile areas that are now all part of China.
36. What happened about 389,000 years ago, after only a third of a century, then quickly led to the termination of the action and the abandonment of Earth, after which their distant descendants many generations later, about 13,500 years ago, once again formed an Earth immigrant community and came to Earth.
37. These settled east and south in various places in the areas bordering the Mediterranean Sea and sought a new beginning.
38. This, then, was after another ancient Pleiadian emigrant community had migrated and settled in the fertile lands of what is now called China, some 11,500 years earlier.
39. When then about 13,500 years ago the up to then last Plejaren community of immigrants came to Earth, then this happened in a completely secret form, namely because since the time of 389,000 years earlier other extraterrestrials had come to the Earth in the meantime and had settled down far and wide on all continents, above all the long-skulled ones.
40. In ancient Egypt in particular, they rose to positions of power, waged wars and subjugated tribes of peoples, such as those who called themselves 'Ebraya'.
41. It was these who, in later times, under the leadership of a Negrid Plejaren descendant called 'Avian' (note meaning of name: 'He who gives refuge') – who was, however, called 'Avrahm' by the 'Ebraya' – had joined forces about 4,500 years ago with the still few distant descendants of the ancient Plejaren immigrants who appeared about 13,500 years ago and also begat many descendants.
42. From these descendants begotten between Plejaren descendants and the 'Ebraya', a sixfold lineage of termination then emerged, namely from the reincarnation line of Nokodemion, whose spirit-form reincarnated several times and in rapid succession among the 'Ebraya'.
43. This was after the then messenger Aijum from the Nokodemion line lost his life in the Gobi desert during the warfare of the earth immigrant community about 385,000 years ago and his spirit-form either remained in the earthly realm or migrated and returned, about which unfortunately nothing is known in detail.
44. What is known to us, however, is that the old Plejaren immigrants very quickly mixed with the above-mentioned tribes of peoples, but it turned out that this time, too, unpleasant disputes arose, which led to the fact that, despite the efforts of the heralds, various of these peoples split up and partly also fell into bondage to other peoples.
45. However, when I speak of those peoples into which the Plejaren immigrants integrated themselves, I am not referring to large peoples, but to larger tribes of peoples that did not correspond to complex forms of social organisation.
46. The members of these tribes of peoples, which corresponded to a tribal ethnicity, traced back to a common ancestry, which ensured that a certain mutual cohesion was given as a result of kinship.
47. This, however, did not prevent larger national peoples, who could no longer be called tribes of peoples, but real great peoples or state peoples, from forcibly binding smaller tribes of peoples into servitude.
48. This was also partly the case with the tribes of peoples who had settled around the Mediterranean areas and had mixed with the Plejaren immigrants at an early stage, who were then forced into servitude in the land of the ruling long-sufferers.
49. But the same thing happened to the 'Ebraya' not only by the rulers in ancient Egypt, but also to their distant descendants by the king of the New Babylonian Empire, Nabu-kudurri-usur II, who is also called Nebuchadnezzar II.
50. The proto-tribal leader of the 'Ebraya' was a very distant Negrid descendant of a Plejaren group who had appeared on Earth as immigrants more than 13,500 years ago, who had also mixed with Earth-humans, this proto-tribal leader called 'Avian' living in a land area called 'Plecht', east of the Mediterranean, with a nomadic tribe of 'Ebraya' who called him 'Avrahm'.

51. The denunciation by six heralds with the Nokodemion spirit-form took place after the Plejaren immigration on Earth some 13,500 years ago and lasted until the time of the year 632.

52. The heralds were the following:

53. Henoah born 3rd February 930–894 before Jmmanuel (BC)

54. Elia born 5th February 891–780 before Jmmanuel (BC)

55. Jesaja born 7th February 772–690 before Jmmanuel (BC)

56. Jeremia born 9th February 662–580 before Jmmanuel (BC)

57. Jmmanuel born 3rd February -2–111, 9th May

58. Muhammad born 19th February 571–632 after Jmmanuel (AD)

59. They all endeavoured to teach the doctrine of Nokodemion not only among the 'Ebraya' but also among various peoples who existed in the regions bordering the Mediterranean to the east and south, as well as in Egypt and on both sides of the Red Sea down to its end.

60. But they also taught far eastward to Mesopotamia, where King Gilgamesh formerly ruled in Uruk Gart, as well as to the Aryan country.

61. What I still want to explain for today, this refers to the fact that also in the sister creation the teachings in the DAL universe are taught among the peoples who have migrated from our planets, so also among the people of Ischrisch Asket, as also among all Sonaer peoples.

62. And the fact that we also brought this teaching to Earth at an early time was due to the fact that our ancestors discovered a natural dimensional gate 22 million years ago by chance, which is located here in the DERN universe about 120 light-years beyond the Pleiades stars known to you.

63. The dimensional gateway was discovered because a moon from our ANKAR universe that had drifted from an exploded planet entered the DERN universe through this dimensional gateway, which our ancestors investigated and then found to be Earth's satellite.

64. One consequence of this was that over the course of millions of years small groups of Plejaren repeatedly migrated to Earth and also died here.

65. Later, when the first human life-forms also developed on Earth around 12 million years ago in various areas that are now Europe, Africa, Asia, North and South America, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, China and Russia as well as various islands, several small groups of our Plejaren ancestors had also already settled in some areas on the planet, but they all died out in the course of the next millions of years.

66. About 6 million years ago, when the distant descendants of the first human beings moved in a few specimens all over the Earth and had developed more highly over the next 3 million years, more Plejaren emigrants came to Earth, some of whom joined forces with the original earthly humans and mated with them.

...

Billy:

The norms established by Nokodemion with regard to morals, ethics, ethos etc. became valid for every single life-form up to the great mass of all human life-forms, whereby the only prerequisite for their use and implementation was to possess a clear consciousness as well as understanding, reason and a functioning intellect in order to be able to make the norms of behaviour valid.

All the conventions created by Nokodemion in primeval times and brought to Earth in the course of time and forgotten were, however, brought here again by early Plejaren some time before antiquity, when other Earth-foreigners were also coming and going and had already spread all over the world. Even from these, however, the early Plejaren kept themselves secret for millions of years, so as not to provoke interplanetary conflicts and also not to let such excesses break into their dimension. So they also held back from the Earth-foreigners who ruled in various pre-ancient countries on Earth, such as the Long Skulls, who exercised their might especially in the areas around the Nile and in the southland of the American continent. ...

115. This is known to me from our very numerous war records, which have been made by us during all wars and other weapons engagements on Earth since time immemorial, which are broadcast to all our worlds and Federation members as information, which has a general deterrent effect with regard to acts of war and terrorism.

Ptaah:

58. Any person with Swiss citizenship who is of a different mind and violates it in such a way as to seek or even advocate membership in a foreign power, as you have stated in the Europe Union dictatorship, then such a person is not worthy of Swiss citizenship and should be immediately deprived of it and excluded from all political rights.

59. This would be done in our country according to our legal system if something similar were to arise, which will never be the case, because neither in our country nor in our entire federation do any dictatorial systems exist or are any elements that would produce such a nonsensical request.

60. Such a request would be considered a betrayal of our homeland, as well as a betrayal of our peoples, of our Plejaren and all-Federation sentiments and of our world, according to our legal system and state constitution.

61. Such a person, disloyal and disloyal to the homeland, would, according to the State Constitution, be pardonlessly excluded from all political rights of the society.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_748

Billy:

... But while we are at it, perhaps we could spend a few words on how you manage to maintain your motility and remain physically mobile at all times. As many times as I have encountered Plejaren human beings on Erra or elsewhere, I have never been able to observe any who have had physical births.

Ptaah:

57. I also, of course, use our hydrodynamic regeneration converter technology, which ensures that we reach our old age in full mobility.

Billy:

I know that, because Sfath already explained it to me. However, I am interested in something else that I never asked about, namely whether and to what extent you can self-regulate your old age? ...

Ptaah:

58. Our long lifespan of over 1,000 years corresponds to an uninfluenced natural generative process.

Billy:

What do I understand by this? A generative process, if I look at 'generative' etymologically and try to classify and define the word value as such in relation to your long lifespan correctly, then it tells me that the whole thing is 'time-honoured' and must always have been so. Therefore, when I consider this 'generative' in relation to your long lifetimes, I think that this 'generative' must probably be associated or composed with a natural 'generating' and probably at the same time with an equally natural 'regenerative process'. I could also use this to define and explain the totality of life support from conception to death. Is it true or am I right – or have I fallen on my head?

Ptaah:

59. What you think and how you put it all together can be described as correct, because you obviously understand the etymological 'traditional' in this sense as the basic meaning of 'traditional' and the like, not only with regard to a word, but also with regard to other things, such as our age of life.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_754

Billy:

Then something else: If I remember correctly, on Erra you have no political parties whatsoever, as this bullshit exists on Earth. Can you explain to me how you guys manage to run everything world-community-wise?

...

Ptaah:

185. 1. We Plejaren have had no political parties of any kind on Erra or on any other of our worlds, as was the case in former times, since the peace came to all our peoples more than 50,000 years ago.

186. Parties of all kinds were then banished extensively from all Plejaren rules of government, because they led to constant disagreements, as our state chronicles record.

187. Parties always meant that they discussed, negotiated and determined motions and regulations concerning any municipal matters, laws, regulations, ordinances or other necessities, and that they decreed and implemented them, which, however, did not correspond to the will of the people as a result of disagreements.

188. This was the result of a wide variety of inaccuracies and deliberate falsehoods in election proposals, which were brought about by lying and deceiving the people, because they were not enlightened in accordance with the truth, but were misled with false promises and declarations.

194. 2 Since the abolition of any party system more than 50,000 years ago, our experience and knowledge has shown that since then no disputes, no political differences, no quarrels, no discontent, no quarrels of opinion, no disturbances of the peace, no other inconsistencies in local, regional or national communities, and no wrong decisions have arisen.

195. Nor have there been any planetary political dangers, uprisings, demonstrations, wars or terrorism etc. since then, not even in the slightest way, which, however, was often the case in earlier times and a general unrest was permanent, as our chronicles show.

196. 3. Our exact and clear knowledge and action concerning the suppression of all political parties – as such still existed in former times more than 50,000 years ago – prove since their legal abolition that in former times, and just when parties still existed:

197. a) Political parties led unrestrictedly and inevitably to differences of opinion, quarrels and quarrels as well as to violence, discontent and communal political as well as private discord, ...

203. Basically, then, it is to be defined by way of repetition and explanation that our entire system of electoral determination is geared to the fact that all the electoral facts that arise and have to be dealt with, which originate on the one hand from the peoples and on the other hand from the state bodies, are discussed, negotiated, explained, defined and decided upon in a thorough, detailed and comprehensible manner in question-answer mode over the entire planetary expanse by means of remote communication with the populations.

204. All facts arising and put to the vote will be made known to the populations of an arising territorial or the whole Pleiadian area 30 days before the election-determination date via the corresponding remote-communicative areas.

205. After that, the people can take part in the electoral process of their own free will at the corresponding time, which will be conducted in detail over a whole day, during which everything that has to do with the election will be openly discussed and clarified in a question-and-answer procedure and finally the election will be decided.

206. d) Finally it is to be explained that our committee, which is known to you, like all the persons who assemble in the great pyramid hall, as you call our great assembly place, determine at consultative meetings which facts arise that are to be brought before the people for the determination of the election.

207. As you know, there are about 1.5 million persons present in the Pyramid Hall, who are composed of all classes of the population and who fulfil this task according to their own free will, and consequently correspond not to certain but to voluntary deputies of the population, who declare themselves willing to do so, and who are also composed of other persons at each deliberative meeting.

208. The persons who designate themselves as deputies also voluntarily change among themselves during the sessions, so that several persons can give their opinion on a single matter.

209. When, at the end of the deliberations, everything has been discussed and clarified in detail and beyond doubt, which may take several days, then the final act takes place, in which, as a rule, there is unanimity in favour of an electoral provision, which is then presented in the manner mentioned to the people for their electoral determination.

...

Billy:

... how is it actually with you on Erra and on all other planets, do the human beings of the Plejaren have any private lethal weapons at all? And what about militaries, armies and security forces etc. regarding lethal weapons etc.? ...

...

Ptaah:

249. As far as your direct question concerning weapons among the Plejaren is concerned, i.e. whether the Plejaren privately possess weapons, I can explain that this is not the case, just as we do not have any weapons of war, nor do we have any instruments etc. that are designed to kill human beings.

250. We are only equipped with effective defence instruments that are manufactured in such a way that they cannot be used to kill, but only to temporarily disable human beings or other living beings of all kinds and species, without these being in any way impaired in terms of health or even bodily-organic damage.

...

Billy:

... But that is not what I want to ask, but whether demonstrations are also known at all among you on Erra or among you Plejaren?

Ptaah:

271. In our entire Plejaren-planetary realms, demonstrations such as are carried out on Earth are absolutely unknown, because no justifications whatsoever arise that could lead to such behaviour.

272. As you know, all the concerns of each and every person are profoundly settled by our Board, which presides – together with some 1.5 million voluntary representatives of the people and in the presence of the person of concern – and consequently nothing is ever left unresolved.

273. As a result, in such discussions, clarifications, determinations and negotiations, nothing arises that cannot be clarified to the satisfaction of the person concerned, group of persons or a community of people, etc., if such negotiations and clarifications, etc., have to be clarified to the satisfaction of an individual person, a community or a population by all those participating in them.

Billy:

I know that and have already experienced it together with your father Sfath. I also know that such an event happens only very rarely and just hardly ever.

Ptaah:

274. That is correct.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_763

Florena:

... Ptaah is far away on a Federation planet called 'Orbun' where a lengthy Federal conference is being held.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_766

Billy:

Earlier I started to ask something about the first and following journeys of the Plejaren, first 25 million years ago. As I know, contacts with earthlings were made again and again, but never on a large scale, but only with individual human beings, and usually only with captains of small groups or larger tribes, as well as with sages and clever inventors. There were also other Earth-foreigners on Earth with whom the Plejaren never had any contact, among them also the long-skinned and the giants, who lived especially in Egypt, South America and Asia. But there were also the small-bodied extraterrestrials, whose distant descendants still live in Asia today, but who hide from the so-called civilised and can only rarely be observed. On the other hand, a small group of small aliens had settled around Lake Sanura, which existed here in the Pirg region about 20 or 30 million years ago before it disappeared. I would like to ask you to what extent you are aware of your earlier emigration history with regard to migrations or other longer or shorter stays on foreign worlds, whereby I am asking specifically with regard to Earth.

Ptaah:

I can't give more details on that, because in that regard I have never dealt with it much, but only to the extent that I have some limited knowledge of self-orientation.

Billy:

But perhaps your knowledge is sufficient to enable you to tell me to what extent the early Plejaren interfered on a large scale with Earthling cultures here on Earth?

Ptaah:

I can comment on this, for I know from the historiography of our early emigrants who came to Earth that there was no direct interference in cultural or otherwise profound matters on Earth. No groupings of our ancestors saw fit to do so, nor have they to this day, except for one attempt {see Contact Reports 117 and 122} which we sought to test through you, but which did not materialise as a result of the megalomania of those responsible for it in the USA, but which we had assumed beforehand – and without foresight – to be so.

Billy:

So there were never any overt or covert contacts with governments, any peoples or major organisations etc., that is clear now, but what about contacts with you alien extraterrestrials here on Earth?

Ptaah:

There are also no records in the relevant historiography that would point to such occurrences, consequently no such contacts have taken place, and indeed not up to the present hour. We of the present time also have to refrain from such contacts and to do all we can to avoid being noticed by aliens, which is what our directives tell us to do in this regard, and for good reason, as you and Onkoton have already discussed.

...

Onkoton:

... To search for other life-forms in distant regions of the galaxy or in alien galaxies involves very great dangers, for very many alien life-forms of various kinds are not only aggressive but malignant. And when such beings get to alien worlds that offer life possibilities for them, they conquer them and exterminate all life that could be dangerous to them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_770

Billy:

Excuse me – you mean that you Plejaren also learn and study music and all the trimmings?

Florena:

Of course, and Bermunda is a renowned virtuoso on Erra and is proficient on several harmony instruments.

...

Billy:

Excuse me, what do you mean by 'persons who are very strictly involved with music'? Do you mean professional musicians, like the ones we have on Earth, who earn their living with music? If so, then the question: do you also have such musicians?

Bermunda:

I suppose you call these persons so. – Yes, that is the meaning of my explanation. And yes, we also cultivate music in this wise and conduct studies of musical teaching. And that I can explain everything to you for your understanding, that I am able to do, because through my musical education I am equally well versed in the fundamentals and forms of music as well as in the theory of composition, and also in the measures and time and notation, as well as in the naming of notes, rhythm, keys and tone levels, etc.

...

Billy:

... how many languages do you actually have on Erra?

Bermunda:

We have several languages, but only one that is common to all and that each person is completely fluent in.

Billy:

Then every person can communicate with every other person, wherever they meet.

Florena:

Yes.

Billy:

Then I have the question about prostitution, fornication. I was asked how you on Erra do it? Do you also have brothels or something like that?

Bermunda:

We do not know of such things. Our directives also do not contain any such records, because basically everything in this respect is frowned upon and regulated among our peoples before it comes to emergency situations. We have regulated everything in this respect in such a manner that androids are available to regulate all private needs in this respect, on a truly private basis, without any public prostitution taking place. Thus everything is regulated privately, in such a way in female and also in male respect, consequently female as well as male androids are available, but never human beings who would give themselves to this activity. Of course, partnerships of this kind exist between two human beings, but as such they are firm unions and consequently no prostitution is practised in this relationship either.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_781

Ptaah:

... as a rule not all alien beings from foreign celestial regions or from foreign worlds of foreign celestial bodies are peaceful-minded. Peacefulness is in no way common among life-forms in any universe, for peacefulness requires a socially balanced evolution, which unfortunately is not very common. Our Federation, which is spread over several universes of 2 Creations and covers so many light-years in earthly terms that they cannot be put into usual words, is quite peaceful, but outside the Federation community everything is of a different nature.

But let us return to our peoples on Erra, as well as to our other 5 worlds that exist in our vast double-solar system, some of which are also known to you. They all have the same systems of governance, so there are no differences whatsoever from one Plejaren planet to another, for each and everything is uniformly the same in governance, in the treatment of the rights of the peoples, as well as in their developments and everything else, so there are no differences whatsoever. This is also the case with regard to gender, i.e. female or male, as well as children, activities and abilities, etc., so that there are no special positions among us, not even with regard to the fact that a human being is valued more or less because of his achievements or his office, or enjoys more or less prestige, or would attract special attention as a prominent person. The fact that human beings make themselves great and go public because they want to present themselves in their wrong thinking and wrong feeling does not exist here. E...

Billy:

So there is no publicity lust, as we call it. There is no such thing with you guys, I already know that since the time with Sfath.

Ptaah:

No, that would also be frowned upon from the ground up. We are all equal as human beings, consequently we never do anything to make ourselves look, behave, attract special attention or value ourselves more than any other.

Billy:

Sfath said respectively: A human being who puts himself in the foreground and thinks himself special is not only selfish but always looking out for himself in every way, not honest, devious and will go over dead bodies if it is necessary for him.

Ptaah:

That's how it's taught with us and how young people are taught, even in their early youth, because according to our ethics it's not acceptable that one human being – for whatever reason – thinks he's more valuable than another. But if I were to go on about our universally valid systems: If, for example, we receive any knowledge and new achievements from the Sonaern, then these are made available indiscriminately and without conditions to all our peoples, who, by the way, all practise birth control and do not allow their population to rise above the level that could somehow bring harm and destruction, annihilation or extinction to the planet, its atmosphere, climate, ecosystems or nature and its fauna and flora. Since our planets are of different sizes etc., they are also inhabited with different numbers of human beings of the total population, so, for example, according to our calculations, Erra could support, feed, provide for and maintain about 1.4 billion human beings without any problems, without harming the planet, all ecosystems and thus nature and its fauna and flora for the duration of several million years.

... we do not have a military, because we do not need one, because all around everything is peaceful and our peoples of all planets are classified in this peacefulness. So also all our devices and apparatuses of possibly necessary defence do not have any lethal effect on human forms or animals etc., but in any case they only produce a paralysis which lasts for several hours, but without exception all vital functions are guaranteed and harmless. We may well learn to use such apparatus and appliances, but we do not hold exercises involving the use of such things.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_790

Billy:

This is actually what I have to say, and what I learned especially from Sfath nearly 80 years ago and have never forgotten. He knew a lot more about the human psyche than is peculiar to earthly psychologists, who fancy themselves kings of their field, but in reality and truth know very little.

Quetzal:

He was really very knowledgeable in this subject, which he also taught on Erra and was a master of it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_791

Bermunda:

... I must mention that we have had no murders on Erra and our worlds since time immemorial. This has already occurred after human beings separated from their religious beliefs more than 50,000 years ago and became free from all faith and thus free in themselves and also peaceful.

...

Bermunda:

But as far as religious faith is concerned, our faith-captured Plejaren peoples also had to realise and experience the truth about this over 50,000 years ago. This led to a great many of them ending their own lives. In the course of time, only those remained who began to cultivate their own thoughts, thought out their own decisions and carried out their own determined actions. And there also remained those who were fickle and who ultimately chose between religious faith and the reality of reality, consequently all religions and every human being whose faith very quickly became void and extinguished and the result was that the human beings became peaceful. This became established very quickly, as a result of which the nonsense of all religiosity and religious belief was recognised by the human beings themselves and reduced to absurdity. This gave rise to religion-free peoples who, without any religious belief, have now lived in peace and harmony for more than 50,000 years, because 1. the quarrels between the various religions were resolved, and 2. the human beings learned to think for themselves and also to decide logically, rationally and reasonably, consequently they also learned to act accordingly. This was also learned by the humanities and peoples belonging to our Federation, for our ancestors endeavoured to spread their new way of thinking and their new way of life and the necessary understanding of it, which was accepted and realised by all humanities in a short time.

Billy:

And the great orb at that time that had started all this, was that involved in that also with the Federated?

Bermunda:

Yes, that is how it is handed down to us.

...

Billy:

... Do you also have organ transplantation from one human being to another, or from dead to living, on Erra or elsewhere?

Bermunda:

But no, that is not possible with us, because all the dignity of a human being speaks against such a thing, because the dignity of human beings is inviolable for us. It is respected, protected and preserved in every way. This is laid down in our directives and obliges all directive order. All our peoples are committed to this and therefore they will never violate this directive and respect it as a human right, as the basis of all human dignity. This also includes peace and justice with regard to the humans themselves and their lives, whereby their fundamental rights as independent Wesen are also guaranteed and may never be violated. This fundamental right is bound up with the fact that no executive Gewalt and jurisdiction may ever be used as a directly applicable right against life and limb and therefore also not against organs, thus opposing the removal of organs, regardless of whether or not there is still life in them. ...

...

Billy:

So in terms of your directives, the meaning is, if I understand the whole thing correctly, that in any case there must be no transplantation of a foreign organ into a body.

Bermunda:

That is correct. But there is – if I may explain this in a simple way for the explanation – the possibility of a transplantation in such a way that a correspondingly necessary organ is grown from the body's own substance, if I may say so for the sake of understanding, which can then be transplanted. So our directives explicitly prohibit the transplanting of organs foreign to one's own body, which includes blood, as well as other fluids, but which are largely still unknown to earthly medicine for insertion into a living body.

Billy:

... I can still remember this. I still remember that there was talk of the corresponding organs being cultivated beforehand, depending on the possible need, before they have to be used in an emergency.

Bermunda:

That is correct, it corresponds to our procedure and practice. However, our directives forbid the removal of any organs from the deceased, because this is not only barbaric and unaesthetic and therefore unacceptable in every respect, but from a purely human point of view it means nothing other than desecration of the dead, what you call desecration of corpses on Earth. ...

Billy:

And – well, how did you Plejaren get into the business of growing human organs and transplanting them?

Bermunda:

As I know the history of our development in this regard, our path – explained in simple terms – led us to the early recognition of the properties of artificial methods for growing complex organ models from stem cells.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_794

Bermunda:

... But I would like to say that in the past it was also common for the military to play an important role and for wars to be fought until ...

Billy:

... I know, until the giant sphere appeared on Erra etc. more than 50,000 years ago and everything quickly improved and changed, as the military was also abolished at that time and true peace actually came about.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_795

Billy:

... But with him I not only learned a lot through journeys into the past and the future, which prove to me today that many things are not true what the scientists assume and spread as truth. Many things were really quite different from what they claim, for example, what actually happened with the Maya, or with other ancient peoples, and that foreigners really did come to Earth from other worlds, from far away and outside the SOL sphere of influence, from the distant expanses of the DERN universe – also the Long Skulls. What I wrote at that time, when it was, I do not remember, in response to a request to ... after which ... began. The Long-skulled were also in Babel, in Egypt, in South America and in Asia, where they ruled, whereby Sfath gave me the opportunity to check everything. ...

...

Bermunda:

... you have retrieved and created the correct peace sign, which has been prevalent among us on Erra and in our Federation for many millennia, conveying peace that is real and firmly exists.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_799

Billy:

That is unfortunately the case, because the earthlings simply allow themselves to be directed and let themselves be ruled over without daring and mustering the courage to say what would be necessary. The peoples are like will-less cows that are jumped on and ruled over by thuggish bulls and do not dare to stand up to them.

Ptaah:

What you say, we are aware of. We know that this has been so since time immemorial and will remain so for a long time to come, and for such a long time until the bulk of humanity finally awakens and demands its rights of being independent, so that it is finally no longer deviously and incorrectly guided according to the will of those in power, but is guided justly according to what it wants and determines for itself in common with its own kind, uninfluenced by vocal propaganda.

Billy:

You are thinking of the libertarian system that you have and maintain on Erra?

Ptaah:

Yes, you know that very well, and this maintains the free opinion of the human being as well as of the whole people, which also ensures peace and its freedom, Federation-wide in such a way that between all 274 worlds belonging to the Federation, spread over 702 light-years, there is vain peace and freedom.

...

Billy:

... But tell me, shouldn't we say what is actually connected with the naming of the 'foreigners', what is behind it, as well as that it is ... about, and that ...

Ptaah:

The whole of the connections of the 'foreigners' we must continue to keep quiet about, for far too much depends on it, which reaches far into the future and will change everything to such an extent that ... But about that silence is still the order of the day, and you must keep to it, as before.

Billy:

But I suppose I can bring that in and write down what we talked about, can't I? I'm sure it would also help me for not being asked anymore what and who these 'foreigners' actually are and what their purpose is.

Ptaah:

You really must not let any of this be known, because it would also be dangerous for your safety. Your knowledge of the whole of the connections of the foreigners, as we call them, so as not to have to say what they are really about, that should stay with you and not get any further, because it is really too ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_802

Ptaah:

Indeed, the whole thing is more than illusory for a long time to come, for that the Earth-humans, as emigrants into interstellar space, will ever reach outside the SOL system with their still very primitive technology, also in the future, is something that probably does not need to be talked about.

Billy:

Unless the 'foreigners', as we now call them, intervene and help, as you once said, the Earth-humans will never, ever reach galactic space with 'emigration ships'. The 'foreigners' have been particularly active again in the last 2 decades, as you keep saying, ...

...

Ptaah:

... it has been around 20 million years since our distant ancestors first came to Earth, and they kept themselves largely covered up, as did those who followed them all this time after. This has remained so to this day because it was forbidden even then, which has remained so to this day, for the Plejaren to spread out into another universe of Creation than just their own dimension. A special regulation arose very early with regard to the sister universe or the DAL universe, consequently 2 Plejaren peoples were allowed to settle there, so the Sonaer and those you know as the people from whom Asket originated.

Billy:

... Sfath, your father, has also told me a lot, and so I also know that the Plejaren used to be warrior peoples and only became peaceful a little more than 52,000 years ago with the appearance of the orb, which you were then able to enforce throughout the Federation. ...

...

Ptaah:

... It is also questionable whether the 'foreigners' will ever intervene with their more highly developed technology and help the Earth-humans so that they can really leave the Earth and SOL space one day. At any rate, it does not yet look as if the 'foreigners' will do anything of the kind, although we do not know whether any plans or arrangements have been made on their part for this, which may not be pleasant for the Earth-humans, because ...

... As we know very well, a great deal is negotiated and decided by many of the leaders in all the states of the Earth, which, however, remains secret from the peoples and consequently does not reach the public. Such a thing is not possible with us Plejaren and, moreover, would not be permitted according to our directives, for every member of our Federation and planetary humanity is entitled to know explicitly everything that is discussed and decided by state leaders. Furthermore, it is handled in such a way that every negotiation of state duties, as well as other duties that arise, etc., is carried out reciprocally by other persons, thus never the same persons carry out a meeting, deliberation and decision, consequently different persons are involved each time. Furthermore, all meetings, deliberations, decisions, etc., are broadcast planet-wide, so that every single person of the populations of all the planets of our vast Federation and of our planet can interfere or intervene if he or she feels it is necessary. However, this happens so rarely that it is not really worth mentioning.

Ptaah:

Fundamentally, the discovery of a natural dimensional gate, still unknown to our very early ancestors, was the beginning of the whole of your mission, when it happened that about 25 million years ago a lunar structure penetrated this gate, which then found its way into this universe and to Earth and pushed away another lunar structure of little more than 1,000 kilometres in diameter, which was later captured by the giant planet Saturn. A group of explorers had also followed this lunar formation and thus found their way to Earth, which has since been visited again and again by our distant descendants, who brought a great many life-forms, plants and other goods with them to our planet, which at that time was still called 'Minator', but was renamed ERRA about 52,000 years ago, when the time of peace spread to our world. Everything old was supposed to be in the past, and so everything that seemed important to our ancestors was given new names, which is why the name of our planet was also subordinated to these changes and given the designation 'Erra', which in our language – which has remained the same since then and has not changed – meant something like 'soil' and 'earth'. This planetary designation was also used when a distant descendant of Nokodemion first came to this Earth world about 280,000 years ago and decided that the 'Teaching of Truth, Teaching of Creation-energy, Teaching of Life' should also be brought into this universe resp. into this dimension of Creation and thus to Earth. Thus it came about that via the level 'Arahat Athersata' later on, at a certain time, down-born energies of the Nokodemion could be born on Earth, which then happened for the first time about 14,000 years ago, after which this then further came about with Enoch, Elijah, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Jmmanuel, Muhammed and you. The name of our planet, however, i.e. 'Erra', remained and was then also adopted in the Latin language on Earth, but changed to 'Terra', which meant something like 'land' and was later also interpreted as 'Earth'.

... With Sfath I once saw a monster wave in the Pacific; they sweep giant freighters into the depths of the seas when they simply roll over them. The giant thing was 38 metres high, as your father said. So I have been wanting to ask for a long time whether there are also such water monsters on the seas here on Erra?

Ptaah:

That is so.

Billy:

Sfath explained that planetary internal earth movements would create such monster waves.

Ptaah:

That corresponds to the fact, because internal earth movements create such monster waves, with magma creating internal displacements that vibrate and spread to the waters of the seas, causing them to churn.

Billy:

... Also many other planets carry life-forms, some of which are very high in their consciousness development and much more advanced and intelligent than the cleverest earthlings. Other worlds also have lakes, streams and rivers, forests and seas and much more that also exists on Earth. It's just that the surfaces of other planets are shaped differently than those of Earth. But the earthlings are not ready, especially the 'heroes' who cannot imagine, do not understand and do not want to admit that many other worlds in the entire matter belt of the universe are full of life and even carry higher life, which even has highly developed techniques that also allow them to travel through the matter belt, and so on. Very many of our 'scientists' – airheads, I farewell to say, to which also various normal people belong – do not understand that the Earth in the humanly incomprehensible 'infinity' of our Creation, which is only a 7th part of all universes of Creation, is not alone inseminated and carries life, and partly also more highly intelligent life than exists on our planet. ...

{Billy:}

Suddenly Asket grasped me by the hand and led me to a small entrance, opening to the pyramid.

Through long, musty passageways, we walked in twilight through the interior of the pyramid.

Then it was so dark that I could not recognise anything more.

I wondered about the fact that I did not collide with anything and that Asket found the way in spite of this literally Egyptian darkness.

(Translators' note. This German idiom "Egyptian darkness" corresponds to "pitch dark" in English.)

We walked in that manner for a long time and I felt that we climbed down somewhere on various occasions.

Then suddenly a very weak light was discernable precisely as if the first light of dawn entered, yet I was not able to fathom the source of this twilight.

Now we stood before an enormous, squared stone, somewhere deep in the pyramid.

Right before my eyes, suddenly the gigantic ashlar simply dissolved into nothing.

And already Asket pulled me over the position where, just a few seconds before, the giant ashlar had been completely joined with other squared stones.

A steeply descending passageway, which was guarded by two oddly-clothed men, opened behind the ashlar which had just now vanished.

And as I threw back a glance as I walked down the passageway, I could not help but ascertain that the squared stone, which had just disappeared, was again precisely as visible and completely joined as just shortly before, when I saw it for the first time from the other side.

As I made this assessment, Asket's "voice" whispered in my consciousness that I should be mute and not try to speak because we were in a place which was not constructed by her race and it additionally would not be even slightly useful if we were to be identified here and uncovered by the guards.

The guards we saw are members of, or are related to, a power-conscious, extraterrestrial group, who, through certain impure means, force a majority of Earth humanity under their control, in order to bring the entire Earth under their control.

So then I became silent and mutely followed my leader past the two guards, who took no initiative at all against us.

Quite obviously they could not see us and it seemed to me as if, for the two of them, Asket and I simply did not exist.

...

The passage, which was furnished throughout with steps, led steeply and deeply down into the pyramid – deeper and deeper it went down, and then, suddenly, we stood in a gigantic hall which seemed to overflow with light coming from everywhere and nowhere.

The hall was giant sized, as was the gigantic disc-shaped spaceship which rested here next to various smaller ships in the middle of this hall, deep below the surface of the Earth.

A giant spaceship deep below the foundation walls of the Pyramid of Giza.

...

Here, resting deep below the Pyramid of Giza, was actually a disc-shaped spaceship of approximately three hundred metres in diameter.

A ship similar to the one I already had seen once on June 2nd, 1942.
And this ship here must indeed already have been in this giant storage hall for centuries or even for millennia, very deep under the earth and, by my reckoning, at least 3,000 or 4,000 metres below, or to the side and downward, from the Pyramid of Giza.
Asket did not allow me very much time to sink into astonished contemplation of this ship, because she already pulled me by the hand further to a small plateau on which I had already, from a distance, been able to see some sort of still-unidentifiable things.
Yet with what this dealt did not stay a secret to me for long, because, as I arrived at this small plateau with Asket, I was not spared astonishment.
I required minutes in order for me to finally become conscious of the complete facts.
On the small plateau lay an ancient, large and very heavy, wooden, Y-shaped cross.
There were three rusty things right next to it, which, indeed, hundreds or thousands of years ago, must have once been hand-forged nails.
Or was the brownish-black coating on the nails not rust at all – was it perhaps blood?
Was it perhaps blood like the brownish-black coating on three different positions on the wooden cross?
It must indeed have been so because right next to these things lay an ancient wreath, wound around many times, with abnormally big thorns, on which this red-brown coating was likewise recognizable.
That this wreath of thorns was unmistakably constructed something like a crown could not be overlooked.
Also the about two metre, blackish, wooden rod and the purple-coloured cape were not to be overlooked next to a small leather pouch out of which glass pearls or glass stones appeared to have rolled.
It was unmistakable: here I stood before Christ's, respectively Jmmanuel's, crucifixion utensils.
It simply had to have been so and nothing else.
I was not even able to imagine another possibility.
Here I stood before everything which was connected with the death of Jmmanuel alias Jesus Christ – and the glassy stones in the little leather pouch were not stones, rather certain precious stones, whose sense and purpose, however, I was not yet able to fathom.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_1

Asket:

184. But Sfath spoke the truth, because even as with all other religions, the Christian religion is also only an evil and wrong enslaving, poor piece of work of Earth-humans, who, in their establishment of religions, found the wealth promised to them, and power over fellow men, and found that they would be addressed by a degenerated group of extraterrestrial intelligences if they would spread the erroneous religious teaching.

185. I hereby speak of the extraterrestrial race, which here, since ancient times, wants to attain supremacy over the Earth humanity and, accordingly, to always again unfold the glow and flame of the various religions and always new sects because only through that may they obtain their goal.

186. For thousands of years they deceived the Earth human with religious "miracles" and "visions" of every kind, in order to maintain, and to yet further increase, the religious delusion.

187. Out of these grounds they have also created a mighty station under the Pyramid of Giza, in order to guide, from there, the religious delusional events of the Earth.

188. Self-evidently, they had to bring their great space ship into security, so they constructed the underground hanger where their ship has already been stored for thousands of years.

189. They direct and lead everything from under there that serves the purposes of religion and serves the religious and sectarian enslavement of the Earth human.

190. And, in order to top it all off, they made the utensils some decades ago which you have seen there.

191. They are as false and inane as the attitude of this space-faring group itself, because the true utensils of Jmmanuel and also the cross are already long rotted away and decayed to dust.

192. The imitation of the utensils succeeds as deceptively genuine, and this falsification would not be recognized even by an expert of your science with all the devices and apparatus available to him, because, in those kinds of things, this evil-minded group work with the most extreme precision and greatest ability.

193. The life-forms seen by you are the guards of the secret station and they kill every life-form which is ever lost in there.

194. Their technical possibilities for the positioning of distorting radiations are, at any rate, very small, subsequently we can go in there, unconcerned, in invisible form.

195. The meaning of the falsified Christ-utensils lies in the intention that an Earth human, in a very short time, will be influenced in a hallucinatory way by these malicious life-forms, to such a degree that all that was seen by you can be transmitted to him as an entire experience.

196. This Earth human already stands under the influence of these malicious beings.

197. Often he is transferred into a trance state by them and then the images are transmitted to him.

198. He thereby perceives and feels everything exactly as if he hears, sees, feels and experiences it in reality, although he only lies and sleeps somewhere, and everything is impressed into him as a dream.

199. In the state of being awake, he will be just as much tricked as his friends and acquaintances by images of space ships which indeed can be projected so true to reality that anyone can catch them on film.

200. These appearances are, however, without exception, only nebulous and holographic pictures which are not able to exhibit actual contours.

201. The entire meaning lies therefore only in a malicious deception with the purposes that the concerned Earth human, who will be called \(Reinhold\) Schmidt, talks about himself - and spreads the images and experiences, and so forth, implanted in him by means of holographs and dream-state-hallucinations - in order to maintain the religion of Christianity.

202. Thereby such an Earth human will become an unconscious deceiver of himself and of all those who believe his explanations.

203. Indeed, he does not know that he has never been in this pyramid with the spaceship and the counterfeit utensils, or that it has all only been implanted in him as reality, through trickery, and that he has never flown in a spaceship ...

...

205. The list will be very long of those Earth-humans who, already in the shortest period of time, will appear publicly to fraudulently and maliciously bring their fellow humans under their power by saying that they are in contact with beings of extraterrestrial origin.

206. There will be many among them who will do this as a result of delusion or for religious and profit-driven reasons, while others will be partially steered by the malevolent life-forms in the pyramid.

207. In order to make these fraudulent assertions appear more believable, they will even go so far as letting it be spread that the extraterrestrial intelligences are very interested in the terrestrial Christian religion, and, in this regard, will very gladly be taught by the Earth human.

208. The first weighty steps in this direction have already been undertaken in order to spread this new false teaching and thereby to make the evil soil of religion which is increasingly retreating into the background, more fertile again.

209. Everything is intended to appear as if the extraterrestrial life-forms, up to now, in a religious regard, have been misguided and are ignorant, and that now they will find the great salvation on the Earth and will carry it out into space.

210. It will be asserted that these extraterrestrial life-forms will even be grateful to the Earth-humans for this, because only through them will they recognize the son of god, Jesus Christ, as redeemer and lord of the universe, and so forth, and to that end, towards the end of the millennium, even the Pope will extend the hand, at least in the form of the alleged universal validity of Christianity.

211. This will already be so within a very short period of time, because the plans for these evil machinations are already being evaluated and converted into reality.

212. However, the Earth human should protect himself from these machinations, because they only serve the purposes of enslavement by those who maintain their station in Giza.

213. If the Earth human continues to work according to their wishes and demands, then they will, in the not too distant future, as in earlier times, appear officially in order to again bring Earth humanity under their rule through murder, tribunals and barbarism.

214. That will then be so if the Earth human continues to allow himself to be led astray by their religions, and brings himself so far that the evil life-forms can again appear as angels and gods, as they have done in earlier times.

215. But if they do not succeed in that, then in spite of that, further danger from them exists, because they are so malicious that, if need be, they will also try to reach their goal by barbaric violence and a great worldwide war.

218. But, if the Earth human continues to live attached to religions, then he thereby only serves the wishes, and desires for power, of those who have worked for a long time towards the conquest of Earth and thereby for world control.

219. The Earth human must pay very precise attention to these things because otherwise a worldwide war of annihilation threatens him, which, as the Third World War, could bring the final defeat and enslavement over the Earth - directed and steered by the malicious extraterrestrial life-forms under the pyramid of Giza.

257. You will therefore attain the proof that, that which is known to you as the New Testament is exactly as much a malicious falsification as all the other religious books which exist on this world.

258. These were not only maliciously falsified by Earth-humans themselves, rather also often with the help of the malicious extraterrestrial life-forms who steered many events of this kind from the pyramid of Giza.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_031

Billy:

... But what is it now about the Giza-Heinis also taking human beings for flights?

Ptaah:

996. I see, you are thinking of the world domination addicts.

997. Well, in earthly terms, these life-forms are enemies of Earth-humans, but on the other hand they are also enemies of us, whereby by us I again mean all intelligences of extraterrestrial origin.

998. So they have nothing in common with us in terms of our tasks.

999. Therefore, when I spoke earlier of only three Earth-humans being taken on flights into outer space in this century, I was really speaking only of us, not of these malignant life-forms.

1000. In order to achieve their devious aim, they have made contact with various Earth-humans and have also taken them on very short flights into space, but only outside the Earth's atmosphere, and such occurrences are many more with them than with us.

1001. For our part, we are anxious only to take Earth-humans out into free space who, according to their evolution of consciousness and spirit, are capable of evaluating these flights.

1002. The malignant life-forms, however, transport Earth-humans who are absolutely incapable of consciousness into the near Earth space in order to make them willing and to deceive them in order to be able to exploit them for their plans of world domination.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_033

Semjase:

5. The object which appeared yesterday and the day before yesterday was the same that you had already photographed on the evening of the 20th of April.

6. This however was not a beamship, as you assumed, but a small spaceship.

7. It also did not belong to us, but to other and rather unfriendly intelligences.

8. These strive very much to interfere with our work and maybe even to destroy it.

9. They have been particularly interested in you for months, because they want to get you into their custody.

10. The reason for this is the following:

11. These intelligences are striving to bring the planet Earth and its humanity under their sovereignty.

12. For this they make use of very unfair means, and do not even shy away from human abductions.

13. They are one of those groups which operate with the earthly religions, and which successfully profit from it, as unenlightened Earth-humans get into connection with them and become religiously influenced.

14. Misled by these intrigues, the deceived contact persons then work unconsciously for the evil purposes of these troublemakers, and step by step they slowly bring them closer toward their goal.

15. Namely the goal, means the domination of the Earth and of the Earth-humans, which these intelligences have already been working towards for thousands of years.

16. Unfortunately, the deceived ones often come out of their silence, and spread the religion-induced misguidances that these ill-intentioned liars have given to them.

17. And they achieve great success through this, as you already well enough know, because the Earth-human is exceptionally strongly trapped in unreal religious paths.

Billy:

That is known to me, but what does this have to do with these "birds"? To which group do they belong? Are they perhaps members of the 'pyramid moles'?

Semjase:

18. If you mean the Giza intelligences, then I confirm it.

Billy:

I almost came to that conclusion from your words, but what do these guys want from me then? You already told me that they were a danger to me.

Semjase:

19. They surely are a danger, and a very large one which you must not underestimate.

20. They know the history of your life and your task very precisely.

21. They know that you must enlighten humans as the prophet of the truth, and that you must bring back the true spiritual teaching.

22. This represents an enormous danger for them, because through it, the modern age human will sooner or later abandon religion, and will then seek the true religion in association with the Relegeon, because they will in other words, find and recognise the real truth.

23. As a result, these evil intelligences would naturally be hindered in the execution of their domineering plans, and their very long term enterprises would be put into question.

24. Their previous mode of operation, to secretly work with the false religions, was and still is their only way to achieve their goal and to appear as gods and angels.

25. They do not have another possibility, because they know very well that if they were to take dominion over the Earth and its inhabitants by force, the Earth folks would recognise the truth, and rebel against it by all possible means and fight back.

26. A war would become inevitable, but this is something that these intelligences could not afford, because they number only a few thousand beings.

27. Their technology is very outdated and they must fear the terrestrial explosion weapons in every respect.

28. Because of this, nowadays they would even be less able to involve themselves in a war with the Earth-humans, than they would have in previous times.

29. Their only possibility is to drive humanity into the final madness of their religions, in order to appear as gods and angels and take over the dominion of the Earth for themselves as they once did, before they were displaced again.

...

31. We have already been striving for a long time for a termination of the progress of these intelligences, and we are also capable of putting them in their place.

32. For a few months now, they have been trying to abduct you, to stop you from promulgating the truth.

33. With their appearance, they hope that you would let yourself be tempted to move to a convenient place for them, where they could kidnap and deport you.

34. Therefore be very alert and do not let yourself be enticed into making unwise moves.

35. We do monitor these evil-wishers, however they are equal to us in certain things, and we have our hands full with them.

36. Practice therefore the most extreme caution, because they truly do not shy away from any scheming.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_034

Billy:

... I am now still further interested in a matter related to the so-called appearances of Saints. I mean those phenomena, that are in a religious fashion dressed up in a holiness like for example the alleged appearance of a so-called Saint, after which the dear humans at the location of appearance are then creating places of pilgrimage out of it. ...

...

Semjase:

195. You know very well that these phenomena are only personally generated visions or machinations of those power groups and those Earth humans who want to cast their spell over the Earth humans through the religious forms of appearance, and in others are caused by Earth humans through their exuberant religious imagination.

196. This means, on the one hand, that the evil-minded extraterrestrial Giza intelligences, who want to bring the Earth into their power, cause such phenomena by projections or play such a role themselves, and, on the other hand, that Earth-humans afflicted by the religious delusion send out their horrendous fantasy by their consciousness-based powers and cause such phenomena by projection or visually-semi-materially.

...

201. And you also know very well that as another example the appearance of Fatima was nothing else but the evil play of the Giza intelligences, who let one of their ships appear in radiant light and then one of their female life forms appeared as the Mother of God, although they made the mistake that the woman remained in her space suit and this was registered by critical observers.

...

275. I have told you several times that various groups are working to disrupt our work, and your work in particular.

276. These are, without exception, associations, individuals and groups that have fallen into untruth, partly by religion and partly influenced by the dark powers of those addicted to seeking power.

...

277. You also know very well that every human is able to influence other human beings at unlimited distances in such a manner that they do exactly what they are commanded to do.

...

279. ... my speech is related to the world domination addicts mentioned earlier.

280. And I am talking about those of extraterrestrial origins who want to bring this world under their control, the Giza intelligences.

281. They use not only mystically inclined and misguided earthlings, but also other groups, mostly those that for some unclear and rather confused reason show anarchistic tendencies, such as the Red Army in Japan, the German Baader-Meinhof-Group, the Red Army Fraction and the American Symbionese Liberation Army.

282. The latter group, the American, is to be inspired by the aforementioned malignant intelligences to commit an extraordinary crime.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_035

Semjase:

3. You shall once again interfere in earthly events and exercise your powers, for things are happening which are of decisive importance with regard to the standing of the reality of all extraterrestrial life-forms.

4. The world domination-addicted intelligences of Giza are preparing a very malicious crime to harm various other intelligences they dislike and question their credibility.

5. In recent times they have made great efforts to influence terrestrial humans in sectarian form in order to commit, in this form, an unusually malicious crime against human life, whereby the existence of extraterrestrials is to be made impossible and ridiculous, but whereby on the other hand their madness of religion for the purpose of their world domination addiction is to find new breeding ground for them.

6. Here's the thing now:

7. For some time now, a couple of earthlings in particular have been under the evil influence of the Giza intelligences in order to initiate criminal and degrading things in their evil sense.

8. The purpose of these machinations is to mislead earthlings in larger masses with the lying instruction that the Earth will no longer be habitable in about a decade.

9. According to this assertion of lies the Earth-humans would therefore die en masse and everything would fall prey to death.

10. However, it is not given that all terrestrial humans must die, why a rescue by extraterrestrials is intended.

11. Willing persons would therefore be picked up by extraterrestrial intelligences by a spaceship and brought to another, better and more beautiful world, where they would have a free and better life.

12. This has already been announced through billboards and other advertising.

13. Also, a meeting serving this evil cause was already held last Sunday (14th September 1975; Declaration of 16th September 1975) to get hold of the willing.

14. That is what happened in America in a place called WALDPART {see Heaven's Gate cult}.

...

Billy:

... But tell me: What about the Gizeh twerps? Asket once told me something about how they wanted to influence a person to make him believe that he had been in the pyramid and had seen the crucifixion utensils there. She told me that in 1956, but I have never heard of such an incident before. Didn't the Gizeh fellows run this undertaking back then? If it were true, I should have heard something about it.

Semjase:

43. The deception manoeuvre has taken place, and the Gizeh intelligences have even succeeded very well.

44. The deception took place with an American named REINHOLD SCHMIDT, a grain buyer from California.

45. But he was also misused for other things, so he was fooled into travelling to the Arctic with a spaceship and so on.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_036

Semjase:

29. Via the then leaders of the Thule Society and their clairvoyant Hanussen I, the Giza intelligences managed to take possession of the being of Adolf Hitler and to abuse him for their dark and malicious purposes, without him resisting it, because a delusional greed for power had flared up in him himself.

30. In addition to this undertaking, innumerable forces in the form of human beings of Earth who had fallen prey to the Giza intelligences were regarding their consciousness manipulated and placed in his closest vicinity, whose influence he was also unable to withstand.

...

33. Adolf Hitler had succumbed to a delusion of power and was also maliciously abused by the Giza intelligences, with the old Thule Society playing a not inconsiderable part in this, which, however, cannot be transferred to the society of the same name of the new form.

...

35. A few days ago, through painstaking research and surveillance, we were able to gain a clear understanding of the fact that Ashtar Sheran actually exists and that the only reason we could not recognise him was because he fraudulently wrapped himself in this name.

36. A part of his real name is ARUSEAK along with another sequence of names, and he is a cousin of the supreme Giza intelligence.

37. On their behalf he controlled the old German Thule society, in which he introduced two strong telepathic factors, but which also influenced many Thule society members and various outside groups on a telenotic basis, including those who received the pseudo-messages of Ashtar Sheran.

...

107. The events of Fatima actually trace back to these intelligences, as do many similar events.

108. All we knew so far was that the Giza intelligences were responsible for all these events and that everything was done by Ashtar Sheran or by his command.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_038

Quetzal:

15. Aruseak, alias Ashtar Sheran, and so forth, is, as far as the fulfilment of his apportioned mission is concerned, the leader of an assembly of intelligences consisting of thousands of individuals, who, until 15 years ago, stood under the direct command of the world-control seeking KAMAGOL.

16. Aruseak and Kamagol are, according to their blood association, cousins, as it is named by you.

17. But Kamagol is the leader and ruler over a splinter group of many thousands of descendants who, in earlier times were separated, which means that this group had been separated by those powers who, earlier, possessed the control over your Earth and whose highest leader was an JHWH.

18. As it has always been, however, power struggles and lust for power also ruled among them, as unfortunately is characteristic of the human life form in its course of evolution.

19. One of the most greedy for might at that time was ARUSSEM, who, with a group of many thousands broke away from the majority of the celestial sons who had already become peaceful, and went his own way with the mind to make the Earth and its life forms subordinate.

20. His way of obtaining his goal was that of lies and deceit, of misleading and false teaching in the form of cultic false teachings which he was able to very skillfully weave into the religious teachings.

21. Through emissaries, and Earth-humans who had succumbed to him, he mixed these teachings among the Earth-humans whereby he soon won many followers of his false teachings.

22. It was primarily the gypsies on the Nile and in the further vicinity of the Mediterranean Sea and the Red Sea, who fanatically hung on his false teachings and began to spread them.

23. But the Hebrews, as they were, later freed themselves from this rule, as Arussem had to cede control to his successor, who was then named JEHOVAH, and so forth, in the tongue of the Earth-humans.

24. Having grown in the number of their people, the Hebrews created their own might and elected themselves as chosen ones.

25. They assumed for themselves the right to be qualified for world-control and to be worthy as chosen people, although they were never a people, rather only a low human group of gypsies of all kinds of colors and races who had come together.

26. But since the events of that time, they unjustifiably presented themselves as the first-ones, as the pre-entitled to rule the Earth, faithful to the examples who wanted to bring the whole Earth into bondage.

27. Thereby they became renegades, as also were their models, who now from their side, had to seek new ways to realise their wishes for power.

28. They found these ways then also through Kamagol the First, who succeeded Jehovah, who had assumed the name of an JHWH.

29. Like no ruler before, Kamagol the First forced all terrestrial religions into the frame of blood-demanding cults which, unfortunately, were able to be maintained on the Earth up to the current time.

30. In spite of many efforts of the righteous celestial sons they were not able to prohibit his evil machinations, therefore he could grasp the cultic religions around himself more and more and control the world.

31. Mighty in many kinds of technical and consciousness-related resources and powers, Kamagol's assembly was able to force the Earth-humans into its power and completely lead them into a cultic religion confusion.

32. However, also Kamagol the First could not assert his position of power because, after he had created for himself a centre and a headquarters deep under the surface of the pyramids of Giza, he was overthrown and disempowered by his own son, KAMAGOL the Second.

33. In many things he was even more malicious than his father, which he also soon proved through the introduction of monstrous mass killings of the Earth-humans.

34. Very many bloody events on the Earth which were carried out through the cultic religions, in truth, concern the will and the influencing of Kamagol the Second.

35. He and his assembly have become known, in insider circles, as the GIZA INTELLIGENCES.

36. This is because they maintain their actual command centre there and guide all events from there.

37. Many kinds of efforts were undertaken to prepare an end for this command centre and the driving force of this malicious assembly, yet that has basically failed up until now, because they have secured everything so much that effective alterations could only be obtained with malicious illogical force, which is not allowed to us and all others who are oriented regarding these facts.

38. Kamagol the First now selected one of his cousins as the authority over a group of thousands of individuals which had a quite special mission to fulfil - or would have had.

39. This task was essentially based on the telenotic guiding of various groups of humans of Aryan lineage into certain paths, in particular in Germany, America, Argentina and Brazil, in order to provide unconscious assistance for Kamagol's plans.

40. During the first time period, Aruseak, therefore Ashtar Sheran and whatever his other names may yet be, followed these orders unconditionally, so thereby Kamagol allocated further great power.

41. But in the course of time he obtained many kinds of understanding and modified his behavior.

42. Until then, he acted only according to the orders of Kamagol, so he only modified his tactic unnoticeably and thereby influenced, firstly, his assembly, which he indeed required.

43. By and by he obtained their trust, and they acknowledged him as their actual leader.

44. So it was an easy game for him to, by and by, include the obtained understanding of the truth and also to act according to it, even with the knowledge of his assembly.

45. With their acquiescence they loosened themselves from the control of Kamagol and formed a new splinter group.

46. That happened in the Earth year 1933.

47. Since then Aruseak followed his mission, imposed on him by Kamagol, to a degree, and transmitted his messages to various Earth-humans using telepathic impulses.

...

Billy:

... Your explanation says therefore, that Aruseak has broken away from the Giza Intelligences and has made himself autonomous. ...

...

Semjase:

144. A real vision describes a certain form of a guided vision.

145. It is a form of vision that is dominated by many intelligences, including the Giza intelligences.

146. By these arbitrarily provokable and steerable visions, different extraterrestrials – and also we – influence life forms, in order to obtain certain impressions for them in this way, which are instructive to them and which they are to make accessible by spreading also to others, in order to also purposefully affect the surroundings.

147. These steerable visions are so massively realistic that the influenced life form becomes convinced that it has experienced the vision as reality.

...

179. As you have been oriented by Quetzal, Aruseak has been pinning his hopes on the Giza intelligences, and therefore it is necessary to wait for further development first.

180. Furthermore, we are informed about the names in books and writings of the Ventla-Publishers as well as many other groups and individuals.

181. But as contact persons they are completely foreign to us, although we know from many of them that they partly belong to the Giza intelligences or grossly abuse any truth.

182. The Ventla-Publishers are sectarian in nature, and also publish false contact reports.

Billy:

There will be an uproar, Semjase, because Ventla-Publishers has a lot of names ...

Semjase:

183. ... of which only a few belong to very few real contact persons.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_039

Semjase:

- 174. 723 Earth-humans are contact persons of the Giza-Intelligences.
- 175. These, however, are not counted among the real contact persons.
- 176. 27 of these 723 Giza contact persons have come to the public worldwide.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_043

Semjase:

55. ... the Giza Intelligences, which unfortunately we are not always able to monitor very precisely with their dark machinations.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_044

Semjase:

85. But I do not want to exclude the possibility of explaining to you that the persons I have described as negative may have been in connection with the intelligences of Giza or may still be in connection with them, because we do not exercise precise control over them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_051

Semjase:

- 60. At three different locations, extremely small amplifier stations were set into trees at intervals of 230 meters each.
- 61. These stations with a size of just under one square centimeter, functioned and served as relay stations which interference transmitted oscillations from a central transmitter in very intense and dangerous values.
- 62. The central station floated in a constant position high in free space, but we could not clarify its origin.
- 63. We only have probability calculations for this, but with only 47 values they allow a very small evaluation.

Billy:

I understand, but I am still thinking about a certain possibility.

Semjase:

64. We have also considered this possibility, and there are indeed several things that point to Giza.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_054

Billy:

... Would you rather tell me how many other alien races are actually still stationed on the Earth?

Semjase:

54. There are seven more of them.

...

Billy:

Are the Giza intelligences included in these seven races?

Semjase:

57. They are not.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_055

Billy:

... But much more interesting would be the answer to the question whether Ganymede, the moon of Jupiter, is inhabited and whether it is perhaps a spaceship?

Semjase:

96. Ganimed is a very metal-like small planet and not habitable.

97. There are no people living there either, but there are a few alien human life-forms that are stationed there for a short time.

98. But it is not a spaceship.

Billy:

But the life-forms that are stationed there maintain the contacts with the Earth-humans?

Semjase:

99. Sure, because they are the Giza intelligences.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_069

Billy:

... Recently I was told that one evening about three or four weeks ago a triangular and radiant ship hung almost vertically high above our house for about twenty minutes. This was told to me by an innkeeper who wanted to have the object observed. It is interesting to note that exactly at this time in our house different people began to rotate and I finally ran away because everything became too much for me. I thought about it and came across all sorts of things. Do you have any idea what kind of ship it might have been? You know, it must have looked like a delta, with bright rays of light at the front and colourful play of light rays at the back.

Semjase:

137. You say delta-shaped?

138. That can only have been Giza-Intelligences who let their influence play.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_070

{Note: This Contact Report contains a detailed history of the Plejaren civilization and their expeditions to Earth and the Solar system, along with the emergence of the Giza Intelligences and the history of their leadership, which is not reproduced here.}

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_076

Menara:

24. The main thing is that the intelligences of Giza have made themselves noticeable again and are trying by all means to disrupt the construction of the Centre.

25. But not only that, because they try to destroy everything in all possible ways, because in their evilness they fear and have to fear the truth.

26. This is also the reason why all sorts of evil has befallen you in recent times and that you have had various accidents and other nuisances.

27. Some of your group were and are particularly at risk, which is why Semjase warned you some time ago at night when you could prepare the persons concerned to exercise special caution.

28. These are all the persons in the group who are particularly sensitive to the forces of the negatively controlled Giza intelligences, who have agreed in alliance with the Brazilian group to use even malicious means to destroy the Centre.

29. Be careful, therefore, for you may be threatened by danger in a material form even from Brazil.

30. The consciousness-based influences of the intelligences of Giza should not be taken lightly either, as you are used to saying, because they are particularly dangerous.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_080

Semjase:

60. What is certain so far is that the Giza intelligences have joined forces with a group of fleeing and malignant intelligences from space who are involved in the concerns of the Giza intelligences and are helpful to them.

61. Their outer forms correspond to your observation that they have oversized eyes and some other special things about them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_081

Ptaah:

42. Certain events of the recent past can even be traced back to this, because through the unreasonableness of a certain member (Margreth Flammer) who, despite repeated warnings, continues to indulge herself with new spiritualistic sessions, negative swinging-waves were able to spread from the medium in question, registered by a brain-analyser of the Giza intelligence's that found a weak spot and consequently created that artificial insect, with the help of a malignant refugee group from a space-time displaced area of the Pegasus constellation, guilty of bacterial contamination in the Center.

...

Quetzal:

2. The evil occurrence with the collapse of the wall could have been avoided if the reports had been followed.

3. Semjase had long pointed out that the Center was to be secured and guarded.

4. However, this advice was not followed, which is why it was possible to push down the wall.

...

7. It is a work by the Giza-intelligences in collaboration with the refugees from the Pegasus area.

8. They were located by and brought to the attention of the group in Brazil about 6 weeks ago, after which a connection was established between them.

9. The merger with the Giza-intelligences was then only a matter of time.

10. Best oriented about the processes in your Center and in detail about the group members, they also know about the growing existence of the actual value of the Sohar-Centre.

11. But this, the actual value, means extreme danger for them, because when it is completed and when it is in operation, then they have finally lost.

12. This is precisely what they want to prevent, which is why every inconspicuous path to destruction is right for them.

13. So they took advantage of the knowledge of the Pegasus refugees and of their equipment.

14. A swinging-wave vibrator, working on a microwave basis, thereby came to them very conveniently, in order to cause damage to the actual value of the developing Sohar-Centre and to possibly destroy it.

15. A Pegasus refugee, whom you have observed, investigated the data of the value, after which on August 30th around the fourth hour of the morning the Pegasus ship was directed to the Centre to bring the swinging-wave vibrator into action.

16. The swinging-wave bundle was placed behind the wall, which had already collapsed earlier due to a water ingress.

17. The strong swinging-waves released caused a very high vibrational wave, which within a few seconds pulled the nearly 150 centimetres thick concrete wall from its anchorage, lifted it a little and hurled it forward, which is why it had fallen so far forward.

...

19. The microwave swinging-wave vibrators work with such a strong potency that in a few fractions of a second they are deadly to any form of life in such a manner that it acts like a lightning-fast ageing process, which even an ignorant person could immediately detect.

20. But this is precisely what the negative Giza-intelligences cannot afford, namely that things can be determined that point to their actual existence.

21. If this were to happen, they would publicly expose themselves and reveal their existence, after which your explanations, which you would certainly spread, would be accepted by the Earth-humans, and especially by scientists and the authorities, with the result that the Gizaintelligences would be searched for and every religion, which are their best aid for their world domination plans, would be shaken.

22. Therefore, they must not do anything to indicate their existence, which is why they would not have done anything if any of you had watched in the vicinity of the area of value.

Billy:

I understand. – So the twerps will not do anything that would be inexplicable to the Earth-humans, which is why everything is arranged in such a manner that it looks as if it were earthly?

Quetzal:

23. That is correct.

...

Billy:

... But tell me, Quetzal, how does the crazy vibration swinging-wave work?

Quetzal:

24. It is a swinging-wave vibrator, not a vibration-swinging wave.

25. Unfortunately, I am not allowed to explain officially how it is constructed, but you can be assured that the Earth scientists are already developing these apparatuses in their early days.

26. These, however, are completely different in operation from those of the Pegasus refugees.

27. They are highly transformed by a precisely tuned thought oscillation, after which they generate the necessary energy.

28. The Giza-intelligences are not able to do this, because they are not able to generate these thought impulses, thus they were dependent on the Pegasus refugees.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_082

Semjase:

35. The truth is that Margreth's various séances over the last three months have released and radiated secrets from her subconscious by the medium that referred to the Sohar-Centre.

36. These negative vibrations in this sense were located and analyzed by the Giza intelligences, who were only then informed about the emergence of the Centre.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_092

Semjase:

38. You destroyed your blockade by all your work and your burdens, which you did not realize, because your anger almost made you race and lose all control.

39. As a result, malignant swinging waves penetrated into you, which are directed at you by directional beam devices through the Giza Intelligences.

40. The rupture of the blockade meant that these swinging waves were able to penetrate you unhindered and trigger reactions in you that are dangerous not only for yourself but for all our tasks, because you act so unreasonably and emotionally when these swinging waves hit you that have to work destructively upon you.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_102

Billy:

... About 150 metres away, I suddenly heard the howling of a low-flying jet plane, looked around and saw a jet fighter racing up at only a low height above the ground. Only a few hundred meters before the derelict building the devil-bird all of a sudden shot half diagonally into the sky, ripped over the building – and then a completely hellish crack. Like a primordial thunder, the sound shattered back over me, and then I saw, as if in slow motion, how the dilapidated house collapsed into itself as if destroyed by a ghostly hand, while it somehow seemed to vibrate and dust was whirled up. The tremendous thunder now on the last Saturday morning, it sounded exactly like the smashing of the sound barrier at that time, only this time it was directly above me and thus above the roof of our house.

...

Quetzal:

91. Menara and I were at a low altitude directly above your actual Centre in a state of invisibility.

92. Suddenly, after the first explosion in the village, a triangular ship shot in from the south, just when the second explosion took place.

93. At a height of only about 60 meters, it hovered briefly above your house, only to shoot into the sky with triple power immediately after the third explosion in the village.

94. I immediately realised what this meant and acted in a fraction of a second.

95. Our ship shot forward and the next moment it floated directly over the fireplace of your house, less than 10 meters above the ground.

96. Then the blow came from high above and threatened to smash our ship, which fortunately withstood the vicious force.

97. The huge soaring cracking sound of the breaking sound barrier fanned away from the ship and raced across the house, while the acoustic waves continued downwards in spite of everything and hit the house as an evil force, shaking it very hard.

Billy:

Then these were our dear friends, the Gizeh-twerps, yes?

Quetzal:

98. That's correct.

Billy:

... Did you and Menara at least this time give these lousy brothers a little lesson?

Quetzal:

99. That was Menara's work.

100. The Giza ship, a remote-controlled apparatus, the last of its kind they possessed, was completely eliminated by her after a short chase.

Billy:

Aha, so you blew it out, yes?

Menara:

14. It was like that, yes.

Billy:

Thank you, my child, I am glad. Then we do not have to fear anything similar anymore?

Quetzal:

101. Certainly, because other ships of this kind are no longer owned by the unpleasant intelligences.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_103

Quetzal:

18. Since days already we had to realize unfortunately that negative forces penetrate again with different group members, which are sent out in hateful form by the Giza Intelligences.

19. This, probably because Menara and I prevented their murderous attack on your Center and then destroyed their aircraft.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_105

Quetzal:

72. But now to other and more important things that relate to you, such as the malicious attack of the Bafaths, the Giza intelligences, on you on the afternoon of March 30.

...

88. What is being done by our side is that we are considering the idea of removing the Bafath beings from the earthly system, getting hold of them, destroying their entire stations by a total elimination or restoring them to their original state, and abandoning them, deprived of any technology whatsoever, somewhere in a strange and uninhabited region of a distant galaxy, where they can live out the rest of their lives built on evil.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_107

Pleija:

13. Unfortunately, already for a long time, Quetzal could no longer be granted leave, and neither could all the others.

14. The reason for this is that all were in full and constant effort, in order to remove the Intelligences of Giza, who desperately made all attempts to escape us.

15. Thus, the whole undertaking took a long time, and only on the 17th, so four days ago, could the last ones be captured by Quetzal and his assistants, so he is now deporting them to a very distant galaxy in the Neber system, where they can do no more harm, for there, they will have no technology and must rely on their hands, if they want to continue to live.

16. It was simply enough, because what these malicious ones have all undertaken in recent months, in order to rid the world of you and destroy everything, was just too much.

Billy:

I thought so, too. But could not these heinous ones have already been deported before?

Semjase:

25. It was not our right to do that, for we have to respect the will of a life form, even if it is wrong or malicious.

26. You know that, nevertheless.

27. The fact that it could now come to this deportation, however, lay in a self-defense situation.

28. The malicious and insidious attack on your residential building justified this tough course of action.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_109

Billy:

... may I still direct another question to you regarding the Giza twerps?

...

... It would interest me and all others, what was actually done with all the underground buildings, with the equipment and the ship and the rooms, after you transported the fellows away. Are you allowed to give me information about that?

Ptaah:

...

124. All equipment and the ship were completely eliminated by us.

125. As well as the buildings that were erected in the rooms.

126. The rooms themselves were then filled with solid matter, namely with rock and other matter.

127. This was done on the technological basis of the de- and re-materialisation.

Billy:

Then today, practically nothing points to the former existence of these things anymore?

Ptaah:

128. No, for it had to be.

Billy:

I understand. But did you also fill in all the other corridors and rooms?

Ptaah:

129. No, we let these remain, of course.

130. Only everything that was necessary was destroyed.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_174

Billy:

... But then, I saw it, and it was not a person with a lamp but rather a huge mass of ionized air that looked like a luminous fog in the light of the yard lamp. But peculiarly, there were strange movements that flowed from this ionisation-thing, out of which an enormous hand then emerged, which moved towards the fence and appeared as if it was searching for and reaching for something, but oddly enough, it avoided the direct light of the yard lamp towards the side and towards the top, and at the same time, I realised that I was met with evil swinging waves ... when Ingrid made her remark, she referred to the fact that she had been sitting with me the night before on the sofa in front of the barn, when on the upper path in the rabbit enclosure, possibly someone from your federation materialised, who for 15 seconds was a bright green and was surrounded by a corona of blinding white light, from which a radiant red figure emerged, while all the air around ionized, and then there arose a strong smell of sulfur. This was about an hour after I had observed two other materialisations, but which appeared red in colour, near the shed during Ferdinand's night watch, but these were not seen by Ferdinand, even though he sat on the bank beneath the pulpit and actually should have seen these things. In all other respects, the whole process of the ionisation of air seemed to me such that these forces cannot simply arise out of the air, but beneath the ground slope behind the trees, there probably must have been some ship, from which these forces were sent up to us. This impression was reinforced in me even more after I ran out, having recognised the structure from the window, left the office, and wanted to rush to the yard lamp behind the office. As I ran around the corner of the house, I saw that the ionizing structure paused suddenly and alarmingly in its climbing-hand-over-hand movements, in order to become a furiously rotating whirl within a split second, like what happens with water or with a sandstorm, whereby this rotating whirl created a compression in itself at breakneck speed and first rushed down and then backwards towards the forest, in order to flare up brightly there, high up in the branches of the trees, and in order to disappear between the tree branches.

...

Quetzal:

9. It was a product of the Giza Intelligences, with whom we had not sufficiently considered their capabilities of consciousness with their deportation.

10. Very well, we had them sent to a safe place, appearing in a very remote galaxy, where they were completely isolated.

11. But we did not take into account that they were capable of creating, as an entire block united in spirit-telepathic form, a thought transmission factor of unlimited range.

12. So they got together as an entire block, and somewhere in the universe, they found a human race of negative directives that gave them a response and which consults with the Giza Intelligences using highly sophisticated spacecraft.

13. With this space-flying race that is still unknown to us until now, a dangerous conspiracy was forged, in order to make the Earth subject to the Giza Intelligences once again.

...

17. But how the Giza Intelligences and their new co-conspirators could build up the negative forces directed against you and concentrate them to such a terrible extent is, so far, inexplicable to us.

...

27. Furthermore, it is still to be said that we brought an aircraft with Giza Intelligences under our control, and we now have the fallible ones in safekeeping, which is foolproof and supervised.

28. However, the aircraft of Giza's allies withdrew using a hyper-leap procedure that is not recognisable to us, so we also could not detect any structural swinging waves neither with the entry into hyperspace nor with the exit of the craft from the same.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_179

Quetzal:

4. We have finally succeeded in tracking down the allies of the Giza Intelligences and have succeeded in coming into possession of them and all of their technical aids.

...

8. By getting a hold of the Giza allies and their technical aids, we have encountered things and realisations that make us ashamed, for we ourselves did not expect such things and also did not consider them with our premonitions or suppositions.

...

11. During the course of yesterday afternoon, on a small planet system, which we call the Karan system and which is located on the far side of the Andromeda system, one of our search units identified impulses that were identical to those which emanate from the energy bell that is roofed over you.

...

15. Our unit followed these impulses to a small and very inhospitable planet, where metal domes were soon spotted, which were located in a large desert and from which the impulses were apparently being emitted.

16. This quickly proved to be true, as defensive reactions of the dome stations appeared, which very quickly brought our unit under control and to a halt, after which the stations were then seized and the inhabitants were arrested, but it turned out that it was another faction of the Giza Intelligences, who had to leave the Earth at a very early stage and who had formed a separate people, whom they call SABAN.

17. As it turned out, these folk have always been in constant touch with the real Giza Intelligences remaining on the Earth, so it was easy for them and their allies to get in touch after the deportation through us, through a consciousness block, after which the Sabans then helpfully stepped in and gave the Giza Intelligences every aid, while they themselves also actively cooperated and even pursued the same objectives since ancient times.

18. In addition, they had not remained idle over many centuries, but they developed malignant technologies that enabled them for several months to send out, across millions of light-years, negative swinging waves that were polarised toward the smallest targets, which exhibit the characteristic that they take the available negative swinging waves of the same kind from the target and concentrate them into an immense ball of power, without the originators of the swinging waves noticing a reduction in their strength and without the originators of the swinging waves losing anything of their own swinging waves.

Billy:

Ah, I understand. Then the negative swinging waves of the believers, sectarians, and religious fanatics, etc., are probably those which are taken and concentrated into an enormous and destructive ball of power, right?

Quetzal:

19. That is of correctness, but that is not enough because as a result of the acquired technology, the Sabans have succeeded in having their swinging waves affect targets, located millions of light-years away, in such a concentrated manner and exactly to the millimeter, such that they could locate and hit a fly on the Earth from their impulse location in the Karan system.

20. Taking advantage of these, they attacked those group members, who are still, in certain parts, dependent on faith and who indulge in unrealities and in uncontrolled emotions, etc., whereby these ones increasingly thought and acted illogically and improperly.

21. But now, that should not and cannot be an excuse for the misconduct of the fallible ones because already long ago, they should have overcome the conditions of such degeneration and instability, so that they could not be attacked by and could not be influenced by such powers any more.

22. However, these fallible ones are not the only ones who were directly impacted by these Giza impulses because the same thing also happened with many other human beings of the Earth, who have been in contact with you within a nearer or further framework, since the days when Semjase first made contact with you.

23. It is just that previously, we knew nothing about all this, so we could do nothing about it.

24. We also lacked the knowledge that several centuries ago, a Giza group had isolated itself and had departed from the Earth, in order to form their own new nation, which continued working, nevertheless, within the old framework and with the same goals, far from the Earth and in constant connection with the remaining Giza Intelligences.

25. Only now has all of this become clear and perceptible to us, after we have apprehended the criminal elements, of whose existence we had no knowledge.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_180

Quetzal:

40. The annoying concerns surrounding the Giza Intelligences are finally settled, according to which we are now only dealing with the analyses of the discovered and seized material.

41. However, this will take several years to complete, as I have already explained to you earlier.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_215

Billy:

... what was it with Sodom and Gomorrha; what actually happened there – how were these two cities destroyed?

Quetzal:

117. Several factors are to be mentioned:

118. On the one hand, a meteorite fell to the Earth and exploded high over the area of the two cities, which would now actually be designated as larger villages.

119. This led to devastating destruction of both cities, triggering a massive earthquake, by which the Earth was torn open – like in Petra – and by underground volcanic activity, small and larger chunks of sulphur were flung high and across the country, which also naturally caused much disaster, and by this – as also by the exploding meteorite – many human beings were killed.

120. The remaining part of the total destruction was caused by the megalomaniac and crazy God of the Hebrews, an extraterrestrial who had his headquarters deep under the pyramid of Giza.

121. His punishment for the disobedience of the population of Sodom and Gomorrha, against his commands, was that he let two small atom bombs ignite over the two cities, which finally levelled everything to the ground, killing all humans and animals.

Ptaah:

19. Several times your own films, which you gave to the photographer Schmid during the first time of your contacts to develop and to make pictures, were replaced by completely new and faked films, consequently you already received many false negatives and photos from the very beginning – or even faked pictures.

20. This also happened with the film on which you captured Asket and Nera and which you only got back months later, and which was in fact a product of the Black Men who had found and photographed Asket's and Nera's doubles in America, after which the pictures were edited and handed over to you by Schmid.

...

26. It was precisely with regard to these pictures that we found out that Schmid immediately handed over the film handed over to him in this respect to the 'Black Men' or to the 'Men in Black', as they are called in your ufological circles, as the case may be, who within just a few days were able to locate and photograph the Asket-Nera doppelgangers in America several times, so that the two pictures known to you were created and handed over to you.

27. The Giza intelligences also played a certain role in the whole thing, as well as on other occasions, as you know very well.

28. But we were not able to clarify the exact connections.

29. It is clear, however, that they had an impulse telepathic negative influence on a large number of people on Earth to damage, defame or even kill you, as has been attempted several times – unsuccessfully, fortunately.

30. And in the end everything was done to make you and your mission impossible, especially by accusing you of cheating on photo forgeries.

31. And both the 'Men in Black' still work today, as do the decades-long impulse telepathic negative machinations against you and your mission to be destroyed.

32. And affected by these impulses of the Giza intelligences should be all those who work full of intrigues, slander and other negative machinations against you and the mission without having knowledge of the impulses.

Billy:

Not exactly pleasing. – But how long will these Giza impulses continue to be effective on Earth?

Ptaah:

33. This may take another 200 or 300 years.

...

Billy:

Actually, I feel sorry for the schemers and slanderers, because if they are blinded by the impulse telepathic machinations of the Giza intelligences, there is hardly any hope for them that they will ever come to reason and truth in this life, consequently they are more and more mistaken. – By the way, you have sent these Giza twerps elsewhere – is it really the case that they cannot get back to Earth from there or cannot make contact with other intelligences to influence them and cause new harm?

Ptaah:

47. The Earth-humans can be sure that they will never again be bothered by these degenerates.

48. Other intelligences are also safe from them.

...

72. And these enemies against you and your mission, that is beyond doubt for us, are all purely earth-human persons, who are under the influence of the Giza impulses, which are still effective for a long time.

Billy:

So also {Ka} Korff and B.?

Ptaah:

73. Without any doubt.

...

112. Nevertheless, it must be said that the dangerous telepathic impulses of the 'Men in Black' as well as the impulses of the deported Giza intelligences that will remain effective for a long time to come must not be regarded as harmless.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_424

Ptaah:

29. As to the Gizeh Intelligences and the Sirian Black Men, that is another matter which leads back many thousands of years, whereas the Brazilian Group consisted of former Nazis who were able to take over an object of the Gizeh Intelligences, what we also were able to find out.

30. This group does not exist anymore today, and the Gizeh Intelligences were sent into exile and are becoming extinct.

...

35. Some others, such as Dan Fry and Schmidt etc., were by the Giza intelligences through means of teleprojection put into pseudo-realities with visionary experiences, which they deemed to be reality.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_452

Billy:

... Firstly I would like to question you regarding the deportees, the Gizeh-twerps and the Pegasus-refugees. In the 81st Contact on the 4th of September 1977 Quetzal said the following:

...

Thereto now the question: At that time it happened, that the Pegasus-refugees attempted to cause severe damage to us in the centre. How does it now make sense, however, their appearance on the Earth thus, since you have recently said anyway, that through your clarifications you have determined that during the last 300 years there have been no other Earth-foreigners other than those which you mentioned to me. However, what was it then with the Sirians and Ashtar Sheran and gangs?

Ptaah:

5. We were only later able to clarify the facts about the Pegasus-refugees, when the whole story about the Gizeh-Intelligences clarified.

6. The refugees belonged to a splinter-group of the Gizeh-Intelligences, who lived in the space-time-displaced region of the Pegasus-constellation and who had entered an alliance with the faction living on the Earth, therefore they were counted as one of the Gizeh-Intelligences and consequently were not described as special foreigners.

7. Therefore, also today we do not refer to these as special foreigners, which also applies to the sirian fanatics and the faction of Ashtar Sheran, who for a very long time on the Earth tried to cause mischief again and again and also were in alliance with the Gizeh-Intelligences.

8. All factions of the Gizeh-Intelligences consisted of escaped criminals, delinquents and power-addicts, who practically in every connection with the Gizeh-Intelligences were willing with reference to their machinations and acted according to their plans.

9. Definite knowledge with respect to all of these connections of the Gizeh-Intelligences and all of their factions, however, we first received, when we could establish contact with the scientists of the Sirians, whereby also the fanatical small group, who were fundamentally responsible for the murder-attempts on you, could then be eliminated by sirian forces.

10. Then it was also this small fanatical-group with few members, who reported in detail about all of the connections, before they were sent into exile.

Billy:

Oh so, then the Sirians therefore were active on the Earth for a long time. It is to be probably assumed, however, that they were not from the beginning allies of the Gizeh-Intelligences, while however the Gizeh-twerps and the Pegasus-refugees apparently already from the beginning belonged together. But why were they then refugees?

Ptaah:

11. They had to escape, because they also caused mischief on the world where they lived and were pursued by security forces of their home-world.

12. Yet it was, however, some other Earth-foreign fraternised factions, who were part of the Gizeh-Intelligences, who were in contact with these and had their bases with them.

13. We do not consider these also one of the Earth-foreigners of course, that I mentioned to you.

14. Still you are mistaken respecting the sirian Men in Black, because these also formed links with the Gizeh-Intelligences from the beginning, also like the faction of Ashtar Sheran.

15. The Gizeh-Intelligences controlled all approaches to the earthly airspace for millennia and forced all those, who they could use for themselves, into the alliance through despotism and a forcible change of power of judgment and attitude.

16. Since, however, you have never asked and apparently were also not therein interested regarding these connections, we also have never spoken about it.

Billy:

I understand a brainwashing, that comes about by a forcible change of the power of judgment and attitude of the human being, through strong psychic and physical pressure, in which also drugs and electromagnetic, electric and mechanical torture are often applied.

Ptaah:

17. This corresponds to the meaning of my words.

Billy:

Then, that now is finally clear. The connections with the Gizeh-honchos and other extraterrestrials are therefore much trickier and more extensive, as you told me. But even so, I also have never asked about it, consequently you also have told me nothing about the details. Then, however, I have a problem again, and in fact with the extraterrestrial aircraft, that the Brazilian-group had, from which I was set about in the year 1976 in Winkelriet near Wetzikon. You told me at that time – which unfortunately was not recorded in any contact-report – that it concerned a beamship, which indeed was piloted by people from a distant galaxy, and in fact with poison gas breathers or such, that they, however, were members of your federation, if I am not mistaken. With the 65th Contact on the 23rd of October 1976 you said the following:

Ptaah:

52. Further also, I was able to clarify the events in the Winkelriet near Wetzikon near your domicile, so in addition also the existence of that track of a beamship, which was not from one of our beamships.

53. With the track discovered by you, it concerns a ship of the Brazilian private interest group, who had sent out a command for the most exact probe of your circumstances.

54. In accordance with my investigations, it was about five people, who checked everything very accurately.

55. The ship doesn't even represent a product of the power-group itself, but loot.

56. It was stolen from a crew from a distant galaxy who landed in Brazil years ago, who had to make a forced landing because of some damage.

57. The interstellar drive of the ship was completely destroyed and cannot be repaired again, at least not by the technicians of this power-group.

58. Only the planetary anti-gravity-drive is fully functional, which is suffice for planetary flights.

59. However, you saw the same ship weeks later in the Winkelriet, where you on your very irrational search for this, for you, mysterious object, also discovered this, which put you very much in danger.

60. Two men were in the terrain out there and observed your arrival, which was an easy game for them, because at the time they observed you constantly.

61. In the desire to kill you, they prepared everything and steered you to the place of the planned event.

62. It was your luck, that you drove in your vehicle with caution and without lights on that dark night, because it was only through this, that you were not exactly recognisable in the darkness, that the shot from the gun missed you.

Ptaah:

18. Unfortunately you are mistaken, dear friend, because the strangers were not members of our federation, but they belonged to another group of the Gizeh-Intelligences and were stationed also with these, whereby they had to make an emergency landing in Brazil at that time and were captured by the Brazilian-group.

19. Actually they were poison gas breathers, who all died, when their respiration-equipment failed.

20. They could not leave the Earth anymore, because their interstellar drive was completely destroyed, which was a work of the Gizeh-Intelligences, as we found by experience through the members of the Sirian group.

21. The reason for the destruction of the drive was so that they could not flee, because the Gizeh-Intelligences had a `change` in fundamental attitude.

Billy:

And the Gizeh-twerps didn't undertake anything, as the ship had to make an emergency landing in Brazil, and the respiration-equipment failed, so also nothing, since the old Nazis of the Brazilian-group captured the ship?

Ptaah:

22. Their nature and behaviour was, that they simply gave up lost aircraft, as also they were not concerned about missing people etc. either.

23. Furthermore they were on close terms with the Brazilian group, which, however, that already for a long time does not exist anymore, because everyone of the faction has died by now because of ageing and illness.

Billy:

All members of this group were former officers of the German empire who escaped from Germany to Brazil, they were mainly leading lights and henchmen of the Nazi-empire and therefore escaped war-criminals.

Ptaah:

24. This was actually the case.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_457

Ptaah:

28. And what is currently in the earthly airspace, apart from us who are Earth foreigners, are those three groups of which we have spoken several times during the last months.

...

31. However, we should also mention those strangers who have been in contact with the intelligences of Giza since ancient times and who came to Earth from distant worlds.

32. These, however, we do not count among the usual very rare Earth foreigners who came or are coming to Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_710

Billy:

... Then I want to end this subject and hear from you what you have to say about the matter of the Giza Intelligences, who were in reality the Earth-foreigners, of whom there has been talk since time immemorial. ...

...

Ptaah:

47. But the threat of the secret agents and dark figures had to be prevented, which could only be done by deliberate misleading, and this also with regard to the Fatima event, which we misleadingly called the machination of the Giza Intelligences instead of the Earth-foreigners, when it came up in our conversations.

48. In fact, the Giza Intelligences were also Earth-foreigners, whom we actually deported, but who were just as unknown to the Earth-foreigners as we were to them.

49. Like us, the Giza Intelligences also had similar devices for complete shielding, so that they too could not be located by the Earth-foreigners and could also not be perceived in any other way.

50. Consequently, they also knew nothing about their presence on Earth and were therefore simply non-existent for the Earth-foreigners.

51. So, confusing as it all may seem, we had to put the Giza Intelligences in the foreground, which, according to our providential plan and hope, obviously appeared to be a fantasy product of your statements by the Earth-foreigners, the secret services and 'Black Men', as well as our contacts and conversations.

52. This only furthered the controversy, which, however, helped the fulfilment of our plans, because the interest of the Earth-foreigners, secret services and 'Black Men' quickly waned and you were left alone by them, which has since been maintained in your favour.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_724

Billy:

... Ashtashran, like the Giza intelligences, also belonged to the old split-off old Pleiadian splinter group, which had already departed to our DERN universe more than 22 million years ago and was up to mischief in it. In particular, the Giza intelligences were in some respects malevolent elements, while Ashtashran was also evil in other ways, spreading an impulse-driven delusion of belief about his person among the earthlings.

Now, just as you Plejaren of today exercise caution and secrecy towards the strangers on Earth, these two groups were also careful never to make themselves known to the strangers, which they have succeeded in doing extensively and without any problems throughout the ages, so that the strangers still do not know of their former existence, just as they do not know of yours. And the trick of the two groups, the Ashtashran alias Ashtar Sheran and the Giza intelligences, was that they were only in our presence when they caused mischief, whereas they were resident in another space-time plane and only came into our presence temporarily and unnoticed by the strangers. So that is one thing, while on the other hand your Plejaren existence must now also be addressed, for which a few things need to be explained. Firstly, as far as I know, the strangers on Earth have never been able to ascertain the existence of the Giza intelligences themselves, but have at most heard of them and, as a result, even assumed, because they themselves could not perceive them – because the Gizaers, according to their old Plejaren technique, were able to shield themselves against any locating etc., as you Plejaren are also wont to do today – that the speeches would only correspond to suppositions or a fib. And as far as Ashtashran alias Ashtar Sheran is concerned, as far as I know he was never in our presence anyway, but worked on his confused believers on Earth from another space-time plane.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_797

{Note: It is not clear (to me) whether or not the Umigos mentioned in this Contact Report are the same as the Giza Intelligences/Bafath, or another group of "aliens" who also "set up their headquarters deep under the main pyramid at Giza in Egypt".}

Bermunda:

... the whole of the lowliness against you goes back to your childhood, because a woman hated you because you told her your opinion about religion and faith when you were a boy. However, this woman was a fanatically strict believer and belonged to a faith community to which she complained about you, consequently some lengthy consultations took place and then attempts were made to win you as a member of this community. The smaller group somehow came into contact with beings that were alien and called themselves Umigos, although it is not yet clear how this was possible. These alien beings were originally also fanatical believers in an all-creating higher might, which they called Selidan and worshipped. In the course of time, however, they fell away from this erroneous belief and turned to Christianity and sought like-minded people far and wide, which they also found in your hometown, among others. But how the connection with the woman came about, who became the actual origin of your lifelong embrace, has not yet been clarified.

These Umigos were vicious and fanatically hostile to everything that did not correspond to their views and their faith, therefore they tried to secretly undermine the faith of all human beings, which was different and strange to them. This was done imperceptibly in such a way that with the help of their devices brought from their homeland, they influenced almost all believers – with unnamable exceptions – of the earthly religions worldwide through their electronic micro-technology, which was still absolutely unknown on Earth at that time, and its possibilities in such a way that they gradually lost control over their own thinking and became largely incapable of thinking for themselves and also unstable. Furthermore, they influenced the believers in such a way that they fell prey to malice and blood lust, whereby they created enmities again and again, which led to evil wars, to religious murder and all imaginable evil. In the course of time, however, it came to pass that the Umigos, through the influences of the Earth-humans' faith in Christianity, became doubtful of their higher might, ultimately repugnant and apostate from it, consequently becoming more and more foreign to their faith, which ultimately led them gradually to turn to the earthly religion of Christianity and to acknowledge the God of that creed.

Something that also happens today with Earth-humans who are lulled by religious platitudes or who very quickly change their faith through coercion or benefit and become believers in another religion. With the Umigos, however, it was a lengthy process that took a long time. But when Christianity began to spread, they finally turned to it and stuck to it. ...

How the Umigos came into contact with the woman and this religious community in your hometown has not yet been investigated by Arlion and his followers, to which he also said that this was not really important, because the only thing that was important was what resulted from it, and that was what haunted you throughout your life.

...

... just now I was talking about this woman being a strict believer, regarding the Christian faith, yet she was as vicious in her disposition as the Umigos who had set up their headquarters deep under the main pyramid at Giza in Egypt.

Billy:

Something dawns on me, namely the Giza Heinis, who were then caught and deported by the Plejaren. Am I right?

Bermunda:

Yes, they were, a splintered group of a criminal tribe of our Federation that found passage into this universe and likewise to Earth, because they had our through...

Billy:

... because they must have been secretly following the Plejaren when they came to Earth to join us. Bermunda, that's about the way it was, isn't it?

Bermunda:

Yes, that is how it was, as I have been oriented in that regard. ...

Billy:

Horat, was her name, but I do not know exactly how her name is spelt correctly, just whether this name has an additional H or not. I also want to mention that the majority of all believers are probably deeply unbalanced in their character and in such a way that all evil immediately breaks through to the outside and these human beings quickly become active in the respective form, up to and including hatred and killing etc.

Bermunda:

What the additional "H" concerns is not important. But what you are saying with regard to the evil deep in one's character, that is undeniable. – Now, Arlion related that there were 11 other persons, men and women, with this numerous faith community who revealed a nature that was strictly devout, but like the woman, they were also evil, but maintained good relations with some of the local government, specifically 2 men named ... and ... who had intimate relations with the woman, although all 3 were married. This woman also had an intimate relationship with your teacher ... with whom you spent 1 year in Year 4, who often beat you mercilessly in front of all the students and ...

Billy:

I remember that, and furthermore, I once saw him and the woman you are talking about on the so-called 'Volebers' when they ...

Bermunda:

That will not have pleased them both, but let me report further. Arlion explained that the woman and the other 11 persons hated you and wished you to die, which of course did not come to pass, so it was arranged that very evil was done to you and that you were shouted down.

Intrigues were devised and carried out against you with the help of the community officials and the police, with teachers also helping, but they honestly supported you, but they were forced to

...

Billy:

... to howl with the wolves, otherwise they would have been out of a job, like teacher Lehmann, I know, because he told me himself.

Bermunda:

Yes, that's how it was, but I do not have to tell you about that, because you know yourself what happened and how you coped and managed everything. But Arlion said that in the whole affair the Umigos were very much involved, so in their wickedness and Christian fanaticism they did much to harm you how and where they could. They succeeded very well with the help of the influenced members of the local government, but your will to resist was stronger than their intrigues and all the malice that was shown to you. Besides, I must also mention, the umigos used 2 of their 5 devices, which they possessed and handed over to the woman, to maliciously influence many human beings in your hometown. These devices, powered by electrical energy, produced an electronic micro-vibration that could be widely broadcast and adjusted to certain human beings. One of the devices was given in 1948 by a man of the 11 group, namely ..., to an American friend whom he did not know belonged to the Dark Government of America. Since then, the latter have been using the virtually indestructible device to this day to influence or even kill certain persons according to their will and benefit. The Umigos brought these devices with them from their homeland, and they are constructed of metal unknown on Earth, which the experts of the dark government have not yet been able to analyse. The devices can be used in many ways, e.g. to induce hallucinations in human beings that seem so real that the people concerned firmly believe that what has happened to them is real. This happened, for example, with Semjase and other persons in your workroom, as Arlion explained. They also have many other efficacies, one of which is how they are used to attack your electronic devices and negatively affect your work and damage everything when you work with them. The emanations of the electronic microwaves also work in other ways, such as how you described to me the strange occurrence that happened in the kitchen of the Centre. But in another way, the second device was used by the group in your hometown to influence various persons in such a way that they did everything that was harmful to you, which ultimately led to you being taken everywhere and harassed. You, however, did not let yourself be influenced and always remained yourself, as you had learned from Sfath to defend yourself against foreign swinging waves of various kinds and to simply neutralise them. This is the reason why you were never affected by malicious swinging waves and consequently all attacks of any kind against you were ineffective. However, it is different with regard to the electronic devices and other materials that you have to handle for your work, for these naturally react to the negative influences that are directed towards them, consequently they no longer work correctly for you when you work with them, while other persons can use the same devices without any problems. How it works in this way is because all the swinging waves are aligned with your personality, but are deflected by your defences and transferred to the equipment or material you are working with.

When the last three of the first adversaries died of old age, and then also two of the descendants, so that today there are only seven persons left, two of whom, however, are struggling with death because they are afflicted with the Corona plague, the three of them, who have extraordinarily good knowledge and abilities concerning electronics, took out again the futuristic device that had been stored for a long time for them, which at that time the woman had received from the Umigos and with which various persons had been influenced, and made it functional in order to harm you. The Umigos could no longer be asked because they were deported, and so the descendants worked so persistently on the futuristic device until it became functional again and they found out how they could use it. Since then it has been used to do you such harm that you should get into trouble with the human beings, and in such a way that it is very difficult for you to prove that the incidents that occur are not of your making. This already started when you returned to Switzerland in 1969, and since then there have been repeated attempts to deprive you of your life, which even ... tried to do. It has happened 24 times so far, but every single attempt on your life failed as a result of inexplicable providence.

Extraterrestrials – “Grays”

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Grey_alien

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_037

Semjase:

36. Our examinations in the year 1961 revealed that there was nothing to fear from these space traveling intelligences.

37. They are humanoid in form and in fact only did research.

38. Their forms are absolutely human, though their body dimensions are somewhat different from ours.

39. Their size varies between 126 and 163 cm.

...

40. They originate from the planetary and star system ZETA RETICULI, as I already explained to you.

41. This system is located at an average distance of 37 light-years from the Earth.

42. Their spacecrafts are similar to our beamships and are extremely well equipped and very suitable for space travel.

43. The atmosphere of their home world is very similar to the earthly atmosphere, so that they can breathe it without great difficulties.

44. However, they are provided with close-fitting filter suits, which offer them protection in a number of respects.

45. To the human beings of Earth I would say that they are similar to the suits given to the fantasy figures Batman and Superman in the comics, except that in this case the face and the whole head are completely wrapped in the suit, whereby the area around the eyes is secured by viewing and protective 'glasses' built into and integrated into the suit.

46. No doubt you are familiar with the fantasy films of French production about a criminal named FANTOMAS.

47. If you look at this fantasy figure and replace its eye area with dark protective lenses, you have a pretty good representation of the Zeta Reticuli intelligences in their suits.

...

62. Of course, they differ from us only in their anatomy as well as in their size and skin color.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_039

Billy:

... But now, I have a question for you: what, actually happened with the two drawings that you promised me, regarding the Zeta-Reticuli Intelligences?

Semjase:

58. Unfortunately, I could not make these for you.

59. The permission for it was not granted to me.

...

61. In order to be able to make the pictures correctly, I would have had to draw certain details, from which insights for the earthly scientists would have arisen, which they are not yet permitted to obtain.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_238

Billy:

... I have one more question about things I have been asked over and over again, like the 'little greys' in America. As crazy Americans claim and stir up an immense propaganda for it, the American government should maintain contacts to these 'little greys' and even allow them to carry out inhuman experiments on terrestrial humans, in addition to gruesome animal experiments, etc. There should even be an exchange program between these 'little greys' and the Americans and the Americans should profit from the technology of the little twits, from which I have not yet discovered an iota. Also an alleged former secret agent of the CIA with the pseudonym 'FALCON' should play a certain role, as well as the constellation RETICULI or what that should be called.

Ptaah:

246. I have told you several times before that this whole puffed-up story and all the trimmings are nothing more than a crazy and deceptive fantasy of power-hungry elements that make many kinds of profit out of it, even including government agencies and intelligence services.

247. Similarly, or even remotely similar, or on the same scale, are countless other identical or similar stories and allegations concerning alleged contact with humans or other beings from foreign worlds, whereby I would like to point out another time that at the present time you are the only human being on Earth who has actual contact with extraterrestrial life-forms, both in telepathic and physical form.

248. All other claims made by any human being on Earth in this regard are either pure invention, hallucinogenic, insane, delusional, conscious or pathologically fraudulent, fanatically religious or otherwise unreal.

Billy:

You have explained this so often, but the lunatics and the sceptics on the Earth simply do not allow themselves to be taught. ...

...

Ptaah:

...

291. The innumerable liars, swindlers and deceivers and the pseudo-scientists in matters of ufology, alleged contacts, channeling, etc. and the believers of these gloomy and slanderous and misleading machinations, however, are all recognised and denounced, no matter whether it is about the falsehoods of the alleged 'FALCON' of the American secret service or about other lying stories and machinations of 'LITTLE GRAYS' and other nonsense.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_246

Billy:

... on a private basis, fraud, lies, charlatantry and fraud have been practiced in these matters for a long time, which, according to your statements, should increase in the future. Unfortunately, this also discredits and ridicules the real UFO observations, if we want to stick to this name. But there are other UFO observations, namely those that fall within the scope of official and military secrets. This also involves various events of the past and present, about which a great deal has been written, claimed, talked about and kept secret in the private sphere of so-called UFO research. Stories about crashes and salvages of UFOs also appear, e.g. the case of New Mexico towards the end of the 1940s, etc. But also names like 'Falcon' and 'Condor' etc. play an important role, whereby it should concern CIA members etc., who should pass on UFO information to the public under these pseudonyms, of course without letting their face become recognizable. Also the so-called 'Little Greys' play a very important role, which allegedly in the USA about three million people are said to have insisted, impregnated and maltreated with operation scars and painting etc. ...

Ptaah:

37. Which, of course, is sheer nonsense and has no reality at all.

38. We are well aware of the hysteria of such delusions in America.

39. This is already spreading to Europe, with a particularly fertile soil to be found especially in Germany.

40. On the other hand the delusion and the hysteria are still consciously stirred up from different places, whereby also this 'Falcon' appears, whose false information is taken by all stupid believers gladly as cash coin.

41. Certain official bodies, offices and organizations also deliberately allow such false information to be disseminated, whereby the reasons for this are very varied.

42. I am not yet allowed to speak openly about this, nor about which things correspond to the truth or untruth in matters of UFO crashes and UFO salvages as well as other related matters.

43. Also with regard to the clarification of earthly offices and military and defensive forces in matters of UFOs, my duty of secrecy, which is apparent from one of our directives, is that we must not interfere in any matters of human life with which we are not in official contact.

45. Which secrets earth authorities and military as well as security organizations guard etc. regarding interests of allegedly extraterrestrial aircraft and humans etc., must remain according to our directive instructions their secrets, which we do not have the right to air.

...

Billy:

... Then a question about the Hills in the USA, which had been abducted by life forms of extraterrestrial origin, namely by human beings from the area of the stars Zeta Reticuli, 37 light-years away. I believe that you told me at the time that this was correct.

Ptaah:

47. Yes. –

48. This forced contact is also the origin of the nonsensical stories and hysteria about the 'Little Greys', which have nothing to do with the truth in any way.

49. The fear and hysteria and the imaginative stories about the 'Little Greys' correspond to a well-managed false propaganda to put certain things in a false light on the one hand and to conceal certain events and machinations on the other.

Billy:

What is certain is that there are inhabited planets in the area of Zeta Reticuli, planets inhabited by humans. Does this apply to both Zeta Reticuli 1 and Zeta Reticuli 2?

Ptaah:

51. However, our interests do not lie in establishing contact with the ways of life of those areas, since they do not yet possess certain forms of development that would be necessary for establishing contact.

Billy:

Probably in reference to your directives?

Ptaah:

52. That's right.

...

Billy:

Well, then we can talk about something else again. My question refers once more to alleged contacts of human beings of Earth with extraterrestrials, whereby the specific is directed at claims which in my opinion sound quite ridiculous. Apart from the approximately three million human beings who were in America allegedly harmed by extraterrestrials and subjected to all kinds of tests, whereby many women supposedly developed pregnancies and the 'Little Greys' allegedly then stole the hybrid children after the birth, the kidnapped and harmed human beings of Earth would after the tests have often suffered from pain and complained about operation scars and burn marks etc. In addition, however, cows and cattle are also said to have been outrageously massacred by the 'Little Greys', and namely also by the thousands and millions, whereby the beasts were allegedly also missing various organs and at the same time mysterious things are said to have occurred too.

Ptaah:

73. This of course does not correspond to the truth, but to an unbelievable nonsense, which fanatical or otherwise incapable UFO- and ghost believers only too gladly want to recognize as real truth and believe in it rock-solidly, although not a word of the whole dizziness corresponds to the truth, which is well-consciously invented and controlled by certain organs for deception and scaremongering, in order to achieve certain goals.

74. In addition to these organs and persons, however, there are still many UFO-phantasts, who are mostly secternically burdened, who themselves care for their bodies by teaching themselves wounds and burns, etc., by implanting crystals or pieces of metal into their flesh and letting everything scar in order to then claim that they have been kidnapped and persecuted by extraterrestrials, of which the scars and burns, etc. would testify.

75. Incompetent hypnotists, who then subject such persons to so-called 'truth hypnoses', then claim that the information given in hypnosis by the hypnotised would unfailingly correspond to the truth, because hypnosis could not lie.

76. However, it is never taken into account that a person in a hypnotic state can tell and pronounce the worst lies just as untraceably as is the case with the so-called technical lie detectors, without the specialists being able to recognize the lies, because the technical devices of this kind on earth are still so imperfect that they can be outwitted with simple and man's own means.

77. With regard to the allegedly massacred animals, it must be said that this is just as much unbelievable nonsense as the alleged pregnancies in American women caused by the 'Little Greys'.

78. The massacred animals are also purely earth human machinations for the purpose of scaremongering and misleading all those who are incompetent in the matter of UFO matters, spirits and extraterrestrials and simply believe all nonsense unthinkingly, if they are extraterrestrials and their flying machines or ghosts or religious 'appearances' and other imaginations etc..

79. In some cases, however, no terrestrial humans are involved in such events, but predators who tear and mutilate the cattle.

Billy:

... Recently it was explained to me that in various governments of our Earth extraterrestrial intelligences are carrying on their activities and are even permanently employed there. What is this all about, can we believe these statements?

Ptaah:

365. You call such things fairy tales.

Billy:

So this means that there are no 'star people' working in our Earth governments?

Ptaah:

366. That's what it says. –

367. If these statements were true, then peace would have come to Earth a long time ago and Earthly humanity would have been taught the truth by the governments.

...

Billy:

But it is said that these extraterrestrials would secretly and undetected participate in or with government agencies.

Ptaah:

373. This is also not so, which your logic itself can confirm.

374. If it were really so, then within only a few days no authority, no government and no military power would hunt down our ships, because we actually have all possibilities to nip such things in the bud.

375. If we were to be active in any governmental bodies, there would be peace on Earth.

376. So all the claims are nothing more than lies, I mean, when such things are claimed by us or by any other extraterrestrials.

377. Such lies are often due to religious machinations of some sectarian elements and of unscrupulous fantasists, liars, swindlers and frauds.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_441

Billy:

Around 22 years have now passed since you and Quetzal told me privately that you had comprehensive cognitions in regard to terrestrial UFOs and the massacre of animals and alleged abductions which were disguised as the shoddy efforts of extraterrestrials. You said thereby that, in regard to this, involved in these machinations are governments, the military, as well as industrial businesses and powerful ones of finance, which constitute a special group, to which still smaller groups are also related. At that time you promised that you would officially explain more about that when the time is ripe for that. Can one now speak publicly about that?

Ptaah:

21. With the named group, it concerns a worldwide branching from governments, the military, industrial groups, secret services, paramilitary and powerful ones of finance, as you correctly said.

22. Those in the know and contributors are only certain elements of the same, who profit greatly, financially and power-politically, from their secret machinations, for which reason the entire powers of the government, military and industrial as well as finance are not involved in the situation and are also not informed in regard to this.

23. The group is not organized, as such, rather is only a loose collection, whereby their interests, however, have a common form, which, already since the 1920s, was designed to operate a continuous, ingenious, large-scale disinformation campaign regarding the question of extraterrestrial life.

24. The group, which is split into many small groups, has many kinds of technical possibilities at their disposal, which they employ for their evil and human-misleading purposes.

25. That started with technologies of electromagnetism to do with precision electronics and computer engineering, up to and including apparatuses through which brainwashing and the programming and altering of consciousness is evoked in humans.

26. They even have back-engineered beamships at their disposal, whereby, in certain contexts, even antigravity finds application.

27. It has also occurred many times that premeditated "abductions" of Earth humans by "extraterrestrials", and the massacre of animals, has been and is faked by this group.

29. Also wrong information and falsified pictures of alleged extraterrestrial flying devices is strategically circulated worldwide, whereby according to our investigations, about 98% of all false pictures, films, videos and false information is directed at moving the Earth humans to angst and terror of extraterrestrials and to engender hate and thoughts of revenge in the Earth humans.

30. Therefore, in this way, angst, terror and hate is stirred up against all life foreign to Earth.

31. Especially films for cinema and television serve this purpose, as also, however, do many books which are constructed on lies and untruths and are written partly by "experts" in psychology and psychiatry.

32. All this nonsense sells very well to the Earth humans because many on the search for the effective truth trust and believe this false information, and these films and pictures.

33. Angst, horror, terror, hate and revenge always sell well, while the truth appears too banal and therefore appears uninteresting as well as not worth knowing.

34. Only the fantastic and unreal find a place in the interests of Earth humans. 35. However, precisely that is the launching platform for the infamous machinations of the worldwide group, because, through disinformation and fear-mongering in regard to the malicious foreigners to Earth, the entire group, which reaches right around the world, derives horrendous advantages of a financial, governmental-power, military-power as well as an economic form.

36. The entire war, electronics and weapons industries, and so forth, thereby gain an enormous boost.

37. Yet, in the worldwide group, secret paramilitary units also exist as smaller groups which carry out the same kind of operations which, however, are mostly controlled by the worldwide group.

38. In particular, these small groups carry out premeditated abductions which are credited ostensibly to the extraterrestrials, as well as, however, also simulated appearances of alleged extraterrestrial flying craft, which are then collectively declared to be extraterrestrial UFO appearances and are often observed, photographed and filmed by many people.

39. Thereby the illusion of an ostensible extraterrestrial abduction or observation of extraterrestrial flying devices is evoked.

40. What is further to say about that is that, in this worldwide group, with all the small groups who partly also work autonomously, there exists a proper "UFO trade" and a subculture in regard to animal massacres and abductions and so forth.

41. The entire thing is secretly financed through governments, the military, industrial groups and financially powerful ones who are interested in angst, terror and hate being stirred-up to their highest forms in regard to the alleged evil extraterrestrial foreigners, because they can thereby gain gigantic financial profit and advantage.

42. It is on this basis that, in every regard, from this group, only stories, cinema and television films and observations of UFOs will be accepted and profitably exploited, which are based on everything negative and – as is becoming proverbial with the Earth humans – on the malicious and aggressive nature of the extraterrestrials.

43. Only that which evokes angst, fear and terror as well as engenders hate and revenge is accepted by the group and exploited worldwide in order to obtain enormous profit with it.

44. Conversely, in addition to that, everything which is good and positive is vehemently slandered and is designated as a swindle, lie and deception, as is the case with you and us, since, in keeping with the interests of the group, we are not permitted to exist, and you are not permitted to be in contact with us, rather you must be a liar and a fraud.

45. So, from the group and their small groups, the Earth humans will be served up deliberately false and fear-influencing stories in regard to extraterrestrial UFOs and foreigners to Earth and their alleged horrifying machinations like, for example, painful examination contacts and animal massacres along with falsified encounters with alleged extraterrestrials.

46. Along with profit, the whole matter also serves deeply-based psychological propaganda in order to insult forms of life who are foreign to Earth and to brand them as malicious beings and to create angst, hate, revenge and hysteria because great financial means will be thereby freed up which serve research for the production of innovative and futuristic weapons of all kinds.

47. Therefore, in these Earth humans, in regard to the extraterrestrial, an enemy will be psychologically, deliberately created which does not exist and which will, in a manner, be made into a malicious being such that the Earth humans, in their angst, will be driven to freeing up horrendous sums in order to therewith manufacture weapons against the alleged malicious invaders.

48. Also, with these acts, various groups play off against each other, which, however, is part of a well-thought-out plan which is carried out and implemented by secret services, psycho-terrorists, espionage groups and treacherous disinformation agents and which is underpinned by false information regarding UFOs and alleged extraterrestrials.

49. Additionally belonging to this plan is the invention of an imaginary extraterrestrial enemy, as well as a danger emerging from this – an enemy and a danger which, naturally, will have to be fought.

50. The infamy is thereby that, first of all, everything is made ridiculous because the concerned "abductees", "examinees", "chance contactees" and UFO-observers can provide no evidence for their experiences which would withstand a real examination.

51. Then comes the second fact, which exists in the fact that angst, terror, hate and feelings of revenge is produced in the Earth humans whereby then the weapons industry can be built up and indeed especially in regard to futuristic weapons, of which the normal Earth humans have no idea, and of which they do not ever dare to dream.

52. The entirety is thereby a well-thought-out psychological network on which the progress of the entire weapons industry and the power of the military, of the federal leadership, the finance sharks and the industry businesses as well as the secret services can be built up ever further.

53. To this end angst, terror, hysteria, hate and revenge is sown in regard to all foreigners from outer space.

54. So the Earth humans become duped and financially exploited by the responsible ones of this dangerous group and their small groups and are deliberately driven to abhor and to hate the extraterrestrial foreigners.

55. Corresponding cinema and television films serve as especially suitable means for that.

56. The foreigner-angst, respectively, alien-angst, which is thereby produced surpasses all normal angst and the responsible ones of the group know that precisely, for which reason they can also thereby calculate that all necessary finances flow to them, which they require for their weapon research, their weapon manufacture, their leading of wars, and desires for power, as well as for unrealistic cinema and TV films which demonize the Earth-strangers.

57. The creation of an supposed threat from extraterrestrials as well as the alien-angst is, for them, a profitable matter which is operated under the shabby cloak of a federal, respectively, country security and of world peace.

58. For the entire machinations of the group, the meanest machinations are quite good enough which, as said, were already operating since the 1920s and to that also belong highly developed electronic weapons systems, futuristic flying discs, Earth humans who are hypnotically and surgically converted, as well as converted in their consciousness, to robots*, whereby some have an appearance like the being which is called the "Little Grey".

59. On one hand there is the dim-witted paradox that the extraterrestrial flying devices are denied and the strangers to Earth are made ridiculous or made out to be monsters by means of psychological propaganda, while, on the other hand, a financial exploitation of the peoples results through the inciting of angst, terror, hate and revenge and indeed thereby in that a simulation results in regard to a supposed threat from extraterrestrials.

60. A paradox without compare, to which the question must be put, how far are the Earth humans imbued with reason and understanding that they do not recognise this paradox.

61. The entire pre-arranged game of the group and their small groups, as already said elsewhere, also includes faked encounters with alleged extraterrestrials, whereby these are truly nothing other than normal Earth humans or those who have been transformed into "aliens".

62. In order then to affirm the improvised "encounters with those foreign to Earth" psychologists and other experts are pulled in into whom the wildest stories are hammered for so long until they believe the entire swindle and nonsense and employ "verifiable" and "genuine" analyses which are recorded and published in books and documentation as well as in cinema and TV films.

63. And since, as a rule, the supposed extraterrestrials are described as horrible villains, just according to the plan of the group and their small groups, the picture of the extraterrestrial threat is powerfully incited.

64. Thereby, not only is the slandering in regard to the real strangers to Earth always more exaggerated, as also more and more finances flow into the cash box of those who stupidly and dimwittedly earn as a result of the entire tissue of lies and slander and thereby come by the means to reach their criminal goals.

65. A certain part of the group has also fallen to a Christian sectarianism and to the supposed "End Times" in such a way that hope is directed at a malicious invasion of extraterrestrials resulting on Earth, and thereby the prophesied Armageddon will become reality in which Jesus Christ celebrates his official return and God the father will exercise his judgment.

66. Their delusion is therefore bound with a biblical end of the world, which, as they believe, rests on the terrible badness of the Earth humans.

67. And in order to accelerate this divine judgement as well as the return of Christ they do everything in order to make the way free for that.

68. The monstrous power of the worldwide group and their small groups as well as the religious fanaticism, together with the cultic maintaining of the secret of the entire underhanded, degenerated and deceptive as well as criminal and felonious machinations, lead to malignant effects which could not be worse.

69. These are the facts which I have to name in regard to your question.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_443

Billy:

... On the 17th of February 2005, Quetzal and I talked privately about the conspiracy books of various scribblers, such as Zacharia Sitchin, David Icke, Jan van Holey alias Jan van Helsing as well as Andreas von Rëtyi and others. ...

Ptaah:

5. All in all, these kinds of nonsensical writings are commercially oriented to make the ruble roll, as you say, so that the scribblers – if I want to use your expression – can fill their pockets with money.

6. The whole of all the conspiracy theories described in all the countless books are based on sheer nonsense, as are the writings in books containing supernaturalism and assertions about the alleged infiltration of earthly governments by extraterrestrials.

7. Conspiracy theories of all kinds, as well as supernatural, occult and esoteric nonsense, are in great demand among the believers in these drivel.

8. In fact, all the many books of this kind are based on silliness, senselessness, folly, as well as blooming and higher nonsense, as you always say so aptly.

Billy:

If you will allow me to interrupt, I have a few other terms for the whole thing, such as noble baloney, bullshit, hooley, stupidity and folly, torchlight, ridiculousness, simple-mindedness, gibberish, folly and folly, etc. I would also like to say that, with regard to all this nonsense, there are special bookstores which, for good money, bring the rubbish books among the people, from whom the roaring rubbish is eaten like hot cakes. With very many people on earth the unreal, untrue, fantastic, occult, esoteric, religious, sectarian, supposedly supernatural and supernatural is not only considered to be more than truth and reality, but effectively everything.

Ptaah:

9. These are all good terms I will remember.

10. And your explanation hits the truth.

11. Furthermore, these humans are sectarian and esoteric, as well as occult and supernatural, and move in their thoughts and feelings, as well as in their delusional beliefs, in illusory worlds and other unreal imaginings.

12. The entirety of this matter of faith and fantasies has developed into a delusion in them which already moves in schizophrenic forms, whereby they no longer perceive the truth and reality and consequently also can no longer recognise it.

13. And in this delusional form they infiltrate the humans with their absurdities which they imagine and also adopt them from other scribblers which you call 'abkupfern'. [copying?]

14. Thereby the readers of the entire nonsense are seduced to believably accept the lies, slanders, the swindle and the fantasies of these irresponsible scribblers as truth while they assess the reality and the real truth as unrealistic, unreal and as untruth.

15. Belief is just very much simpler than investigating the effective truth through one's own seeking and one's own cognitive work.

16. Furthermore the fantastic and illusory will sooner be accepted by the Earth-humans than even the truth and reality which appears banal compared to the fantastic and illusory.

17. Therefore it is so that standing on the firm ground of the facts, truth and reality is proscribed while the untruthful, fantastic, and illusory and all the swindling, lies, deceit and slander which is bound with it – which, since time immemorial, have always been booming business – effect the Earth-humans like sweet balm which stills the delight and demand for that which is fantastic and illusory.

18. So lying, swindle, falsehoods, deceit and slander are means through which the human allows himself to be very easily beguiled, because everything is only swallowed and does not have to truthfully be contemplated, while the search for the effective truth and its processing is bound with very much effort and cognitive work as well as with a sense for the recognition of reality.

19. However the irresponsible scribblers – who invent the crazy and unreal as well as unrealistic conspiracy theories, copy the entire nonsense from each other and throw everything to their believers as fodder, and therewith earn much money – know exactly that.

20. That is also the case with the books of the hacks named by you who, without conscience, spread their horrendous nonsense of their dim-witted conspiracy theories and thereby lead their faithful readers into error, convey to them a completely wrong picture of the world and hound them into angst and terror.

21. The books named by you by David Icke, as well as, however, also the books of Zacharias Sitchin, van Helsing and of Rëtyi belong just as much in the realm of the nonsense and feeble-mindedness of illusory and fantasy-rich conspiracy theories as also do other similar kinds of works which, if I may use your words, must be labelled as sheer idiocy and schizophrenic delusional imaginings.

22. Truthfully, from the complete contents there are no things at all to name which could be designated facts of truth and reality because basically it deals with nothing other than freely invented fantasies and illusions which are irresponsibly given a coating of truth in order to thereby take those Earth-humans into their power who believe the dim-witted nonsense and allow themselves to be taken prisoner by it.

23. From the entire exposition of all books of such a kind no letter may be considered as true because everything is only built on deception, lies, deceit, slander, fantasies and illusions which also applies to the supposed reptoid beings or reptilian humans.

24. Such kinds of beings are pure inventions of the scribblers because they thereby connect the evil and want to thereby transmit the impression of the evil and diabolical, whereby the Earth-humans are driven to angst and terror which naturally again has its effect on the numbers of sales of the books and brings in great profit.

25. Reptoid, respectively, reptilian beings, as these are described in the nonsensical books, exist even less in the entire universe than they do in other dimensions of this universe, so however, also not on the Earth – also not in forms of transmuted humans.

26. It also corresponds to a lie that such extraterrestrial beings, or other kinds, have lived on the Earth since time immemorial or since more recent times and are even active in the governments, because assertions which claim that it is true, indeed, correspond to the crazy fantasies, illusions, angsts or conscious lies and slandering of the book-scribblers.

27. Yet in every regard believers do not, as a rule, let themselves be impressed by the truth, rather they faithfully remain in the prison which they themselves delusionally imagine because that is simpler than having to grapple with the real truth.

28. The truth is just simply and somehow banal, as you tend to say, for which reason it only addresses humans who consciously use their reason and understanding, while the others, who depend on the fantastic and illusory as well as that which pertains to belief, are not willing to free themselves from the nonsensical and the unreal as well as from their not making use of reason and understanding.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_469

Ptaah:

104. 3) Reptiloids are life-forms of mixed human and reptilian form, their bodies being covered with scales.

...

Billy:

The reptiloids, are they metamorphoses, beings that can change shape, like, to pure humanoids?

Ptaah:

131. No, they do not have that ability.

132. But why do you ask?

Billy:

The question refers to a nonsense, namely to a nonsense of a conspiracy theory that circulates in certain esoteric and other crazy conspiracy circles, about which crazy authors also write crazy books, namely that – especially in the USA – the government cliques and other powerful people are supposed to be vicious alien reptiloids in earth-humanoid form. Of course I know that this is absolute nonsense, as well as other morbid conspiracy theories that the various governments of the Earth are supposed to be contaminated with aliens. But a lot of money is made with such nonsense, because the stupid believers of such lies and conspiracy theories buy the rubbish and believe in it, and very many of them with fear and shudder, because they see only evil in everything. And with fear and evil a lot of money can be earned on our Earth with the stupid believers.

Ptaah:

133. These nonsense is as familiar to me as all the criminal and fraudulent practices of fear-mongering by the writers of such books and reports with nonsensical conspiracy theories.

Billy:

The stupid and the faithful want to be deceived and duped because they cannot exist in the light of the truth, because the truth is too banal, not sensational enough, not exciting enough and does not cause the fearful shudder that many human beings are addicted to.

Ptaah:

134. A true word.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_672

44. Reptiloids: Reptiloids are human-like intelligent beings derived from reptiles or reptilian-like aliens. They had infiltrated Earth and were part of a secret pyramid-like organizational structure.

Ptaah:

144.FALSE

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_698

Billy:

... But I would still be interested to know what you think of these people who always claim, lie and fantasise as busybodies and alleged UFO contactors and 'knowers' etc. that extraterrestrials, also so-called reptiloids etc., would participate in governments on Earth without being recognised, which Ptaah, Semjase and Quetzal as well as Asket denied?

Florena:

8. Concerning your question about lying or confused claims that alleged Earth-foreigners or extraterrestrials and reptiloids etc., as you say, are active in earthly governments, our assessment corresponds to the fact that all these persons in their consciousness reality are addicted to disorders of mind and reason, as well as to the need for self-portrayal, but they also have delusions and also show strong tendencies to lie.

9. Many are also pathologically out of touch with reality and therefore do not orient themselves to reality and truth, but to hallucinations, fantasies, illusions, self-deceptions, sensory illusions and mirages that are out of touch with reality.

10. Many simply allow themselves to be influenced and guided by lies and deceptions, and as a result of their own ignorance, weakness of intelligence and inability to cultivate their own clear thoughts and reflections, fall prey to a stupid faith, as is also the case with any belief in God.

Billy:

... I am now still further interested in a matter related to the so-called appearances of Saints. I mean those phenomena, that are in a religious fashion dressed up in a holiness like for example the alleged appearance of a so-called Saint, after which the dear humans at the location of appearance are then creating places of pilgrimage out of it. ...

Semjase:

195. You know very well that these phenomena are only personally generated visions or machinations of those power groups and those Earth humans who want to cast their spell over the Earth humans through the religious forms of appearance, and in others are caused by Earth humans through their exuberant religious imagination.

196. This means, on the one hand, that the evil-minded extraterrestrial Giza intelligences, who want to bring the Earth into their power, cause such phenomena by projections or play such a role themselves, and, on the other hand, that Earth-humans afflicted by the religious delusion send out their horrendous fantasy by their consciousness-based powers and cause such phenomena by projection or visually-semi-materially.

197. You have experienced it yourself several times and also produced such projections yourself several times.

199. Also in the past you witnessed such events when Asket brought you together with your friend into the past.

200. You have experienced and recognised that the appearance of Lourdes was a projection as well as the fantasy figure of Satan, which you projected into your field of vision as a child by your own powers.

201. And you also know very well that as another example the appearance of Fatima was nothing else but the evil play of the Giza intelligences, who let one of their ships appear in radiant light and then one of their female life forms appeared as the Mother of God, although they made the mistake that the woman remained in her space suit and this was registered by critical observers.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_036

Semjase:

107. The events of Fatima actually trace back to these intelligences, as do many similar events.

108. All we knew so far was that the Giza intelligences were responsible for all these events and that everything was done by Ashtar Sheran or by his command.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_250

Billy:

Whereby the so-called supernatural of course does not exist in any way, because everything and everything is always naturally explainable and also naturally given. The supernatural exists only in the ignorance and the incomprehension of man, because he has no knowledge about all those things which he cannot understand and cannot explain himself. Truthfully everything so-called supernatural is absolutely natural and thus also classified according to the corresponding laws of spirit or matter, which are able to give an explanation for everything and everyone, whereby something supernatural becomes a fact of non-existence. Everything that can be grasped and perceived, everything that can be seen and heard and everything that can be felt, recognized, experienced and experienced, etc., is always real, real and natural in every case, regardless of whether it takes place on a spiritual or material level or on a medium level between spirit and matter, which is so often called the level of the supernatural or the supernatural by parapsychologists and esoterics who do not understand it.

Ptaah:

181. A true word.

Billy:

... statements are not actual prophecies, as it is generally so gladly seen, because often they are so to speak prophylactic warnings, if I may say so. ...

This fact also applies to statements of other visionaries etc., which appear in large numbers. Also religious-fanatic and abysmal-sectarian are among them, whereby particularly these are given in extremely threatening form, like e.g. also the three prophecies of Fatima, with which the third tells as it were of an end of the world with all worst horrors and atrocities and of unspeakable infernal agonies, which are to break in in the second half of the 20th or in the course of the 21st century over Earth and the entire mankind.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_710

Billy:

201. And you also know very well that, as another example, the Fatima apparition was nothing but the evil machination of the Giza Intelligences, who made one of their ships appear in radiant light and then one of their female life-forms appeared as the Mother of God, but they made the mistake that the woman remained in her space-suit and this was registered by critical observers.}

So it was said that the Fatima incident was something arranged by the Giza Intelligences, but this did not correspond to effective correctness, for it was fundamentally only an evasive truth, the meaning of which was explained to me but concealed from the public. The explanation was that the whole truth could only be told when at a certain time in the new millennium all or part of the whole connections could be revealed and would no longer cause any problems. The disclosure could be today, if we can talk about it now, as you recently said and explained that it could be in the month of September. So I think that now with regard to the presence of the Earth-foreigners on Earth, it should be explained that through them really abductions and so on and also other occurrences have taken place. If you yourself would say some clarifying words about this, there would then also be clarity in this respect.

Ptaah:

43. I can do that, but there is not much to explain, because for various reasons connected with the Earth-foreigners and the 'Black Men', as well as with the US and other secret services, we had to behave in such a way that we pretended to be uninformed and our contacts appeared unreal from the point of view of the Earth-foreigners, the 'Black Men', and all the various secret services.

44. This could only be done by distancing ourselves from calling the Earth-foreigners the originators of the Fatima phenomenon, for if we had done so, the insidious efforts of the dark men and secret services against you would have continued.

47. But the threat of the secret agents and dark figures had to be prevented, which could only be done by deliberate misleading, and this also with regard to the Fatima event, which we misleadingly called the machination of the Giza Intelligences instead of the Earth-foreigners, when it came up in our conversations.

48. In fact, the Giza Intelligences were also Earth-foreigners, whom we actually deported, but who were just as unknown to the Earth-foreigners as we were to them. ...

Billy:

... the Earth-foreigners, who are generally simply called extraterrestrials or aliens by the Earthlings, have in fact been around for a long time. They stayed here and worked in many ways, as did their distant descendants, but they have also been active on Earth for centuries and millennia up to the present day, flying around and in and out of the Earth, and are observed again and again around the world by the Earthlings, whereby the American continent is of particular importance in this respect. Their early ancestors worked in many different ways on Earth, and also in various countries in Asia, North Africa and partly in Europe, but mainly in the early days in the North African country, which in later times was called 'Kemet' and then finally in later times Egypt, after which this name has been preserved until today. Your father Sfath taught me during a leap in time into the past to the land there, where the Earth-foreigners ruled at that time, whom he called 'long-skulls' and whom I have seen myself, that they had been on Earth for thousands of years. Because, in contrast to the round skulls of the human beings of Earth, they had skulls that were long and thickly protruding towards the back, they stood out unmistakably from the human beings of Earth just as other Earth-foreigners did around the world, such as giants up to about 3 metres tall, half-small people with large and somewhat v-shaped heads and excessively large eyes. Various such long skulls have also been found in modern times by archaeologists, etc., although to this day people still puzzle over what secret is connected with these skulls, which were not from human beings of the Earth, but belonged to Earth aliens. ...

Billy:

... I have heard and read that our scientists are trying to make their own earthly beamships. Is that true and how advanced are these things?

Ptaah:

383. This information is consistent with the truth to the extent that such flying apparatuses are in their infancy being built on Earth.

384. However, they are not beamships, but flying machines similar to our ships, equipped only with explosion engines or, more recently, with jet engines with recoil effect.

385. The construction of such ships on Earth in modern times is not entirely new, however, for the first ships of this kind were completed in planning and construction as early as 1941.

386. In mid-February 1945, the first flights were carried out up to altitudes of around 12500 metres, developing speeds of just over 2000 kilometres per hour.

387. It was all commissioned by the Führer of the Second World War, Adolf Hitler.

388. At the end of the war, however, everything was destroyed so that it would not fall into the hands of the enemy.

389. Various plans and devices and apparatuses, however, were overlooked and fell into other hands.

390. From these, various groups developed the disc-shaped ships of terrestrial origin that exist today.

391. These 'flying discs', as they are called by the designers, naturally require their test flights to test their properties, etc.

392. Many of these objects can therefore be observed by Earth-humans as they are flown about to be flown in or tested.

393. The largest of these terrestrial flying objects of this type already reach nearly 10 metres in diameter and are already quite numerous.

394. Of course, this is quite vigorously denied by the governments of the states possessing them.

395. However, their machines have often crashed, because they are still rather poorly developed in all respects.

396. But the uninitiated human beings of Earth live in the mistaken belief that these 'flying discs' they observe are of the same kind as our beamships and come from extraterrestrial worlds.

Billy:

So that is how it is. Then several of the UFOs observed around the world are not UFOs at all, but simply terrestrial 'flying discs'.

Ptaah:

397. That is so, yes.

398. Often they are also forced to make emergency landings because their constructions, devices and apparatus are still very inadequate.

399. Their explosion engines and jet engines, which they recently also want to operate atomically, but which are still wishes for the future, very often cause combustion damage.

400. Human beings who come into the vicinity of such combustion fires are so often also threatened by dangers of atomic radiation, starting from experimental atomic reactors, which are supposed to serve for propulsion, but which will not succeed for a long time yet.

401. If distressed ships of this kind are approached by observers, by which I mean that they go near them, then they are often frightened by the occupants, or even abducted and deported, in order to ensure their absolute silence.

402. Such occurrences are unfortunately not uncommon on the Earth, but through the ignorance of human beings and various unreal 'enlightenment striving' groups they are invariably attributed to extraterrestrial life-forms.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_044

Semjase:

87. The same goes for those who have been deceived by earthly intelligences, namely by those who have the stolen beam ships of the Germans at their disposal and pretend to be extraterrestrials to earthly men.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_050

Billy:

... Are there alien bases under Caluert or Caluest/Texas and under the mountains near Salzburg and in Lake Constance?

Semjase:

62. None of the three places mentioned.

Billy:

But it is said that extraterrestrials have a base there, especially under the mountains?

Semjase:

63. That is not so, however.

64. All stations on the Earth are known to us, there is absolutely no doubt about that, so it is a certainty when I explain to you that there are no extraterrestrial bases, etc. underneath the mountain.

...

67. On the other hand however, this may be connected with another station hidden there, namely that of a group of earthlings who had secretly built a base there during the Second World War, deep in the cliffs where they could live and work.

68. It was one of those groups that got their hands on plans by which they were able to produce beamship-like flying objects.

Billy:

You are referring to the German 'Flying saucers'?

Semjase:

69. Certainly.

70. However, their ships are still quite primitive and not space capable.

71. So they are still Earthbound, but here they have all kinds of possibilities.

72. These Earth-humans are also one of those groups, that approach Earth-humans and claim that they come from the stars with their saucer-shaped flying objects and are extraterrestrials.

73. But this group is no longer in Europe, but like other groups in the South American region.

Semjase:

65. ... in the 1950s a disc was shot from a private station into free space, which was occupied by four people.

66. They were a woman and three men of Russian origin.

67. The originators of this enterprise were one of the groups that, after the Second World War, had seized the plans of the Flying Disks in Germany and set up their own organisation.

...

69. ... the total destruction of the voice and radio signal traffic, as well as that of the command functions of the ship, were to blame for the fact that the ship got off course and drifted into free space.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_065

Ptaah:

23. Almost abruptly it came to pass that at various points on Earth there were stations of those elements and private circles of interest that seized the plans of the Flying Disks at the end of the last World War, namely in Germany and Canada.

24. These elements, however, which have built stations in inaccessible places for the Earth-humans and have developed quite airworthy devices there from the stolen plans, now feel extremely endangered by the investigations of certain countries and they fear that you could give exact information about their existence and the coordinates of their stations if you were to be questioned by any secret services involved in these investigations.

25. That would mean that armies could be set in motion to destroy the stations and get hold of all the achievements.

26. But to prevent such a step, a special group in Brazil is trying to shut you out and to push you out of this world.

27. This is a group of fanatics led by a man from Germany called Dünneberg.

{Note: See Men In Black.}

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_066

Semjase:

184. The two other attacks were carried out by a Nazi group that had settled in Brazil after the end of the war. {Note: See Men In Black.}

185. They robbed German and Canadian plans for the construction of flying disks with which they are able to fly almost effortlessly into the earthly space today.

186. They also came into the possession of a foreign spacecraft of a human race from a distant galaxy.

187. The interstellar drive, however, was destroyed beyond recognition, so they could only use the antigravity drive for planetary flight.

...

190. The crew of the ship that had used the aircraft to fly to the Earth is dead.

191. They all died after their breathing apparatus became empty and could not be refilled.

192. They were poison gas respirators.

193. A gas that is still unknown on the Earth.

194. Over time, their ship, in the hands of the Nazis, could have had dire consequences for the Earth-humans, which is why we were forced to destroy it completely when they left it unattended for a few moments.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_231

Billy:

... Well, there are always questions about the flying discs that were secretly constructed in Germany before the Second World War and also during the war. I could observe flight attempts of such discs together with Sfath during the war still before the middle of the forties over Germany, whereby he explained to me some. Ptaah also spoke of it, it was on the Great Journey that the flight tests sometimes brought very valuable results and flights were carried out up to altitudes of around 12,500 metres. The engines were first explosion engines and later jet engines. In 1941, Sfath and Ptaah said, the planning had been completed and the construction of the flying discs had been tackled. – Look here, in this contact report the following is written which Ptaah explained:

Ptaah: "The construction of such ships on the Earth in modern times is no longer completely new, however, because the first ships of this kind were already completed in 1941 in the planning stage and beginning to be built. In mid-February 1945, the first flights were carried out to altitudes of around 12,500 metres, at which speeds of slightly more than 2,000 kilometres per hour were developed. Everything was commissioned by the leader of the Second World War, Adolf Hitler. At the end of the war, however, everything was destroyed so as not to fall into the hands of the enemy. But various plans and equipment were overlooked and fell into other hands. From this, different groups developed the presently existing ships of disc-shaped kind and earthly origin. These 'flying discs', as they were called by the constructors, of course needed their test flights in order to test their characteristics, etc. Many of these objects can therefore be observed by terrestrial humans when they are flown around to fly them and test them. The largest of these earthly missiles of this kind already reach nearly 100 metres in diameter and are already quite numerous represented. Of course, this is vigorously denied by the governments of the states owning them. But their machines have often crashed because they are poorly developed. But the uninitiated human beings of the Earth live in the erroneous belief that these 'flying discs' observed by them are the same as our beam ships and come from extraterrestrial worlds."

Now, however, claims are being made again and again which, according to what Sfath and Ptaah have explained, have no basis whatsoever, because most of it is based only on wild fantasies and speculations, which probably serves to make a profit. For example, the crazy story that the Germans flew to Mars with their flying discs. Can you say something more about this?

Quetzal:

280. Some things are known to me, which is why I can say that the disc aircraft of that time, which were already planned very early, i.e. from the twenties onwards, and later constructed, were developments that were considered 'miracle aircraft'.

281. This was because they were so-called single wing aircraft.

282. However, these flying discs or single wing aircraft were nothing more than airplanes, even if they were of a completely different type than the normal wing aircraft.

283. So they were not extraterrestrial or esoteric marvels, in which alleged extraterrestrials or people of other dimensions, etc., participated, as has been claimed to be, for some time, by lying and deceitful profit-obsessed ones, as well as by self-proclaimed false experts, contact persons, esotericists and parapsychologists, by those who want to be great, by self-obsessed people and by patients afflicted with inferiority complexes.

284. The truth concerning the flying discs is simple and lies beyond all delusions, fantasies and all erroneous assertions and stupid ideas.

285. The fact is that not only in Germany since the twenties there have been projects concerning the planning and development of flying discs, but also in Russia, England and America.

286. At the same time, America, Germany, England, and Russia were already planning to conquer the moon and the entire solar system with regard to aircraft suitable for space travel.

287. Everything happened, however, under strictest secrecy, as I already said.

288. When at the end of the war the Americans and Englishmen illegally appropriated large parts of the German flying disc technology, which was already very advanced, the war winners had won.

289. So it became just one year later, when the British and the Americans tested the captured technology together in Canada as well as the Americans also in their own country, and with success.

290. Since then, progress has not stopped, so that many different types of flying discs have been developed, which can be seen again and again when they are on test or spy flights.

291. Ultimately, all this technology should serve to monitor the entire Earth, as should be the case with humans themselves, who should be subjected to total surveillance by implanted control chips.

292. Such plans already exist in secret, whereby in Europe the European Union, which is already on its way, will be the authoritative dictatorship.

293. The flying disc technology, however, when I want to come back to it, is also integrated into space technology, because for a long time there have been efforts to construct the flying discs in such a form that they can be used to travel around space and reach other planets, which are Earth-like in shape and inseminated.

294. These newly developed flying discs have been leading to UFO sightings all over the world for quite some time now, and then it has been deliberately mistakenly claimed by a wide variety of sources that these are aircraft of extraterrestrial origin.

305. So it is a fact, that since 1945, when the plans of the air disk technology fell into the hands of the Americans, Russians and English, with few exceptions the whole earthly humankind is lied to and deceived, and for this every means is justified – also alleged activities of extraterrestrials.

306. And all those fools, irresponsible, criminals, deceivers, liars and swindlers etc. in matters of alleged contacts with extraterrestrials, spirits, dead and higher beings are co-responsible for the fact that the secret machinations can be promoted in relation to the flying discs, because with their lies and deceits they promote everything still.

307. So they help those who have been lying to and cheating on humankind since 1945, who can secretly make enormous technical achievements on the flying-discs and realise their secret projects in order to control and subjugate all of humankind and the planet to totality.

308. And all this is financed with huge sums of money stolen from people with unjust tax money.

309. But back to the flying discs in Nazi Germany:

310. The single-winged flying discs of all kinds of the Nazi era were as purely of earthly origin as they still are today, since they are technically very much further developed and can often be observed.

311. In fact, however, they are nothing more than terrestrial airplanes.

312. In Nazi Germany, too, the planning and construction of flying discs was also a strictly secret military project, but under the leadership of Adolf Hitler.

313. These projects involved many distinguished scientists, such as a certain Belluzzo, a Miethe, an Epp and a Schriever, to name but a few.

{Note: This is likely referring to Giuseppe Belluzzo, Richard Miethe, Joseph Epp, and Rudolph Schriever.}

314. At that time, the technology of the single-wing flying discs was a completely new technology, which had very futuristic forms and was preserved until today.

315. Nevertheless, this whole development was and is based on the terrestrial-normal aeronautical technology, so that no extraterrestrial or other-dimensioned flying technique or propulsion technology comes into effect.

316. So neither anti-gravitational drives played a role or could be used, nor any converter devices, which allegedly originated from extraterrestrials or other dimensions, because in fact they are all only wild and nonsensical, imaginative or quite consciously lying and fraudulent claims.

317. The same applies to claims that the Germans flew to Mars or even to distant galaxies with their flying discs.

318. Truthfully, first the engines were explosion engines and later radiation and rocket engines, which in turn were improved later by air combustion catalytic converters.

319. The aim was to suck the air from the wing of the flying disc, to liquefy it quickly by cooling it down, after which it was burned catalytically and thus served as propulsion energy, which was ejected by rotating nozzles on the outer ring of the flying disc in a fogging manner, whereby the missile was seen only blurred.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_254

Ptaah:

4. We already worked with those flying devices, which you call the cake-ship, in the twenties, but it was indeed only at the end of the seventies that they were brought to the required status for their use on the Earth.

5. The form of these flying devices was specially thought up for the Earth, for which reason we made the effort to transmit the entire necessary specifications for the design to terrestrial scientists through impulse-telepathy so that, out of that, flying disks could be developed.

6. This impulse-telepathic information went predominantly to aerospace technicians, as I will designate these persons, whereby especially German engineers were included for this, to whom we transmitted exact plans for the external form as well as certain technical particulars which were responsible to transmit.

7. Thereby the German scientists also actually experimented, whereby they could construct halfway suitable flying disks, which according to our thinking at those times should have been used to constitute an air power through which an early-brought-about world peace should have been achieved.

8. However, the political machinations changed very quickly into a bellicose direction, for which reason we brought an end to further impulse-telepathic information to the German scientists and allowed the project to expire, whereby we however initially transmitted false information so that the flying disks could not be created specifically for warlike purposes.

9. However, the plans existed furthermore in isolated copies because we could not obtain them all.

10. Which was, however, no longer bad, because these still-existing papers were extremely incomplete, and disappeared in this form.

11. In practice, these drafts were only available as sketches which only showed the outer ring and the underside of the flying device while the extension underneath and the construction of the top were no longer available; and it is exactly these sketches, of the outer ring as well as its underside, which survived for several decades and reappeared in the middle of the sixties.

12. Though this happened without our knowledge, because, since the disappearance of the sketches which had become useless, we concerned ourselves no further about that until just now, when you called Florena and communicated to her that you discovered that the forms of lids for large containers exist, which, in their configuration and construction, are made exactly the same as the lower ring and its underside, of our flying device and show the same structure more than only approximately.

13. And because you gave one of these kinds of lids to Florena in order to provide clarification, it was easy for us to compare it with the construction of the flying device, which made the astonishing sameness clear to us, which also gave us occasion to dedicate our attention to the matter.

14. Therefore we cleared everything up very precisely, and thereby found out that the sketches which surfaced again were evaluated in industrial firms and found application, and that these same sketches were utilized for the design and manufacture of forms of lids which were completely atypical, because, until then, the designers usually only ever drafted forms of lids which showed simple lines, however never forms which could be called futuristic and complicated.

15. Thus came about the form of the lids for the container named by you, whereby the form of the lids, as I already said, is deceptively similar to the area of the lower ring and its underside, as is shown by our flying devices which relate to this.

...

Billy:

... But say, dear friend, because of the flying discs of the Germans, one hears strange things again and again. Is it true that flight tests were actually carried out, with the discs reaching Mars and an altitude of 12,000 metres?

Ptaah:

39. Such assertions are absurd, because the flight spinning tops, as they were really called, did not find such perfection in Germany, and the fact that flights into space should have taken place with them corresponds to an imagination.

40. On the other hand, flying discs were later built in other countries, e.g. in South America.

41. In the former Soviet Union and in America, too, efforts were made to build such aircraft, after the occupying forces of Germany had received the corresponding construction plans, which were so incomplete that the new plan owners themselves had to do a great deal of work and contribute so that the flying discs could be built, but which could also only be used for terrestrial airspace, as is still the case with these aircraft today, apart from a certain group in South America, as you know.

...

Billy:

Can you still tell me whether the construction plans for the flying discs seized by the occupying powers were the same kind that you impulse telepathically transmitted to the Germans, and who was actually responsible for them?

Ptaah:

43. You mean those plans from which the covers were finally made?

Billy:

Exactly.

Ptaah:

44. The transmissions went to two men named Schriever and Miethe, who also dealt with self-constructed plans for flying gyroscopes.

45. It was these plans that fell into the hands of the Americans and the Soviets, who then devoted themselves to their studies and constructions.

46. Also the group in South America came into the possession of copies of the same flying gyroscopes, namely by theft.

Billy:

Surely one may say that this group was higher Nazis, who fled Germany at the end of the war and disappeared to South America.

Ptaah:

47. But you shouldn't say more about it.

Billy:

Of course not. – Because of the Second World War, disc-shaped missiles were observed in Germany and even all over the world.

Ptaah:

48. That corresponds to the circumstances, yes.

49. These missiles, however, were not of earthly origin, but were our companions as well as our federation allies.

Billy:

So the observed flying disks had no reason whatsoever with the flying disks or flying gyroscopes of the Germans. Then other assertions are actually only stupid assertions of liars, phantoms and know-it-alls etc. We actually wanted to know that for a long time.

Ptaah:

50. But that only refers to the flying gyroscopes of Schriever and Miethé.

Billy:

Were there any others?

Ptaah:

51. There were, yes.

52. These, however, were in private research, secretly conducted by power-hungry Nazis, using the plans of Schriever and Miethé.

53. These flying gyroscopes had already been further developed in Germany and were tested flights which yielded good results.

Billy:

Today's South American group?

Ptaah:

54. Your assumption is correct.

Billy:

And all this could happen under the eyes of the Gestapo?

Ptaah:

55. Many of the major Gestapo and SS leaders were involved and secretly working to keep the rest of the world ignorant of the constructions and test flights, etc., and when the end of the war came, they fled to South America with all their material and all their people.

56. This was not a difficult undertaking for them, because the flying gyroscopes were already so airworthy that they could circumnavigate the earth non-stop and transport away all materials and people before the Allied forces could seize them or find out anything about these secrets.

Billy:

So that's how it happened. But how far has the construction of the Schriever and Miethé flight gyro advanced?

Ptaah:

57. On 15.7.1941 the prototype was ready for the first test flight.

58. We monitored this very closely.

59. But the flying gyroscopes were not built after our transmissions, because these had already been made unsuitable by us by false information, because we saw the great danger, which would have resulted from it for the entire earthly mankind.

60. However, we did nothing against the development of the Schriever and Miethé flying gyroscopes until we realized that they suddenly posed a tremendous threat to humanity.

61. Consequently we interfered in the preparations for the first test flight just at the time when it was certain for us that the flight would be a complete success and the mass production of the flying gyroscopes would entail, which would have meant that with the help of these flying machines the entire earthly mankind would have been subjugated and enslaved, which however did not lie in their destiny and also in the future does not lie in their destiny.

62. So we asked the Arahath Athersata plain what to do in this particular case and then followed their advice to damage the project and completely destroy the flying gyroscopes and three other semi-finished specimens by transferring malfunctions into the machinery of the gyroscopes, destroying them in an explosive manner.

Billy:

And why didn't you do that to those who later escaped to South America?

Ptaah:

63. They meant no danger to the world and mankind, and they still don't do that today.

64. They have meanwhile shrunk to a small group that has no more clout and is slowly dying out, because in the pure male world in which they live no offspring are to be expected.

65. Women and children are frowned upon, for they live solely by their technique and their desires for world domination, which, however, they are unable to realize.

66. They live isolated for themselves, even if they often fly around the world with their flying discs, whereby they can also be observed here and there.

67. They do not look for followers in the world outside either, because they are afraid that they might be betrayed by newcomers.

68. As a result, they are completely closed off and have long since given up all attempts to find followers somewhere outside.

69. All of them have also grown old since then, with the youngest now 78 years old.

70. The whole group counts to today only 334 men, of once more than 2,000 men.

71. The rest have all died of illness or accidents, such as mistaken experiments or windshield crashes, or they have died quite normally.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_259

Ptaah:

4. My assumption was correct, that the utilization of the plan, in regard to this flying device, found wider-ranging interest than that merely futuristic forms of container lids were manufactured from them, as I communicated to you at our conversation on 28.11.1995.

5. Our very extensive clarifications have revealed that the flying-device plans were variously divided up and were used for further manufacturing, as, for example, for various forms of decoration and holding devices for various purposes.

6. Also, exposed bolts for furniture shelves were created out of certain parts of the plans, as well as roller bearings from other parts of the plans.

7. A flower pot base came about from another part of the plans, which, in its outer edge part, is very precisely configured in accord with the plan sketch, consequently, therefore, even the surrounding pertinent special elements for the screening of the visibility of the flying body was carried over, and indeed so precisely and correctly that no difference exists between the plan sketches and the terrestrially created product.

8. However these are not the only terrestrially manufactured products from the flying-device plans, because we could determine a total of 17 different objects for different purposes which were worked out from the plans.

9. We have gained no knowledge as to why that happened, if you exclude the fact that the flying-device plans of that time were ripped out of their entirety and were distributed in several European countries as well as in America and Japan where they found utilization for the planning and manufacturing of the most varied products which, in part, are still produced and utilized on Earth today.

Reader's Question {Catalin Morarescu/Germany}

What happens to the knowledge from the research and construction of the successor flight discs of the German South American group, which consists only of men, if one day the group no longer exists due to the death of its members? If these men live so far back and have no contact with other people outside their area, then they have no successors who could continue or end their experiments (technical in nature). Will the Plejaren later eliminate these machines, or what happens to this legacy? (One can only hope that this technology will not fall into the wrong hands.) Can you make a statement about the technological lead compared to today's conventional drives? How great are the successes of this group in researching these alternative drives?

Answer {Billy}:

Today, the South American group exists only as a small and closed community of old men who are decimated from year to year by their death and do not pose any danger to the world – not even with regard to their technology. The leading technical minds died a long time ago – the last of them about 15 years ago. The rest of the workforce was made up of auxiliaries and fanatical leaders who, in terms of technical developments, must be called zero forces. Even workers who were responsible for the maintenance of the technical equipment and aircraft etc. have not existed for quite some time, which of course means that most of the equipment and aircraft have already been destroyed, so that in 1996 there were only two operational aircraft left, which at that time also had serious defects.

Regarding the plans for the flying discs, it has to be said that these were already destroyed in the sixties by certain circumstances, about which I can give no information at all. As far as discarded aircraft are concerned, the following factors must be taken into account: Various flying discs were completely destroyed in crashes, to such an extent that no technical knowledge can be gained from them, should they ever be found. The reason for this total destruction was a self-destruct mechanism that is built into every flying disc – even the two that existed at least in 1996. The self-destruction was so effective that it completely shredded the flying disc and practically tore it apart when the self-ignition was triggered. The self-destruct mechanism has been an integral part of the flying disc since the beginning of its existence, very cleverly constructed and deadly safe. A flying disc could never and should never be left unattended, because otherwise it would automatically destroy itself. In this consequence, a guard always had to remain on board the aircraft in order to prevent the self-destruction of the flying screen, because the self-destruction mechanism was constructed in such a way that no treason could be practiced and no escape could be made. Once the self-destruct mechanism had been activated, it could not and cannot be deactivated in such a way that the self-destruction of the flying disc could have been prevented. A prevention of the self-destruction was and is only possible for 60 minutes at a time, after which the self-destruction automatically starts, if not caused by a complicated sensor, which could only be or can only be influenced in a certain way, another 60 minutes delay. However, this meant and still means today, when the remaining two flying discs still exist, that day and night a guard person remains in the aircraft and has to 'calm down' the self-destruct mechanism every hour and thus influence it. If this does not happen, the mechanism becomes active and can no longer be stopped, completely destroying and tearing apart the aircraft. This also eliminates the danger that is mentioned in the question of what happens to all technology, as a legacy, so to speak, when the last of the South American group blesses the temporal. The technique of self-destruction is certainly not new, but its nature and function are based on a high level of technical and electronic development. And the facilities of the South American Group base are also equipped with such self-destruct mechanisms, so that all facilities are completely destroyed if the delay mechanism is no longer activated. However, hardly anyone will notice this when the time comes, because the group's facilities are well camouflaged in previously unexplored areas of the jungle/rainforest. So there is no reason to fear that the technology of the group will fall into other hands.

Florena:

50. ... Your answer explanation is appropriate.

51. It has to be said, however, that of all flying discs only one is left, which, however, already has flight-inhibiting defects and will probably be destroyed within the next few months.

Billy:

Then, that now is finally clear. The connections with the Gizeh-honchos and other extraterrestrials are therefore much trickier and more extensive, as you told me. But even so, I also have never asked about it, consequently you also have told me nothing about the details. Then, however, I have a problem again, and in fact with the extraterrestrial aircraft, that the Brazilian-group had, from which I was set about in the year 1976 in Winkelriet near Wetzikon. You told me at that time – which unfortunately was not recorded in any contact-report – that it concerned a beamship, which indeed was piloted by people from a distant galaxy, and in fact with poison gas breathers or such, that they, however, were members of your federation, if I am not mistaken. With the 65th Contact on the 23rd of October 1976 you said the following:

Ptaah:

52. Further also, I was able to clarify the events in the Winkelriet near Wetzikon near your domicile, so in addition also the existence of that track of a beamship, which was not from one of our beamships.

53. With the track discovered by you, it concerns a ship of the Brazilian private interest group, who had sent out a command for the most exact probe of your circumstances.

54. In accordance with my investigations, it was about five people, who checked everything very accurately.

55. The ship doesn't even represent a product of the power-group itself, but loot.

56. It was stolen from a crew from a distant galaxy who landed in Brazil years ago, who had to make a forced landing because of some damage.

57. The interstellar drive of the ship was completely destroyed and cannot be repaired again, at least not by the technicians of this power-group.

58. Only the planetary anti-gravity-drive is fully functional, which is suffice for planetary flights.

59. However, you saw the same ship weeks later in the Winkelriet, where you on your very irrational search for this, for you, mysterious object, also discovered this, which put you very much in danger.

60. Two men were in the terrain out there and observed your arrival, which was an easy game for them, because at the time they observed you constantly.

61. In the desire to kill you, they prepared everything and steered you to the place of the planned event.

62. It was your luck, that you drove in your vehicle with caution and without lights on that dark night, because it was only through this, that you were not exactly recognisable in the darkness, that the shot from the gun missed you.

Ptaah:

18. Unfortunately you are mistaken, dear friend, because the strangers were not members of our federation, but they belonged to another group of the Gizeh-Intelligences and were stationed also with these, whereby they had to make an emergency landing in Brazil at that time and were captured by the Brazilian-group.

19. Actually they were poison gas breathers, who all died, when their respiration-equipment failed.

20. They could not leave the Earth anymore, because their interstellar drive was completely destroyed, which was a work of the Gizeh-Intelligences, as we found by experience through the members of the Sirian group.

21. The reason for the destruction of the drive was so that they could not flee, because the Gizeh-Intelligences had a `change` in fundamental attitude.

Billy:

And the Gizeh-twerps didn't undertake anything, as the ship had to make an emergency landing in Brazil, and the respiration-equipment failed, so also nothing, since the old Nazis of the Brazilian-group captured the ship?

Ptaah:

22. Their nature and behaviour was, that they simply gave up lost aircraft, as also they were not concerned about missing people etc. either.

23. Furthermore they were on close terms with the Brazilian group, which, however, that already for a long time does not exist anymore, because everyone of the faction has died by now because of ageing and illness.

Billy:

All members of this group were former officers of the German empire who escaped from Germany to Brazil, they were mainly leading lights and henchmen of the Nazi-empire and therefore escaped war-criminals.

Ptaah:

24. This was actually the case.

Billy:

Something else: Many of the great Nazis fled to Argentina at the end of the Second World War, and they also took secret plans of flying discs with them. Then it happened, as happened at Area 51, that suddenly many different unknown flying objects were sighted over the country, called UFOs. In Argentina it was the German Nazi engineers and Nazi greats who had fled, and at Area 51 it was the German Nazi engineers who had been captured by the USA and enlisted to build flying discs and rockets etc., for which these Nazis had their past simply erased and were granted American citizenship. The question: There are still various reports of UFOs in areas of Mexico and Argentina and elsewhere in South America, as well as in the USA, what is to be thought of? Do old Nazi engineers still work in Argentina, and are strange flying apparatus still being worked on in Area 51, which are then observed as 'UFOs'?

Ptaah:

42. For a number of years now we have not made any special efforts to deal with these things, because they are no longer of any importance to us, so we only deal with them sporadically.

43. Our findings, however, are that there is always something to be found in relation to so-called UFO observations.

44. It is true that with regard to such observations, which are made from time to time all over the world, today not as many unknown objects are observed as in the past from Area 51 and from Argentina etc., and also not with regard to our and our allies' flying apparatus, but they still appear sporadically.

45. The main phase of alien terrestrial missile development is over, for its main period was during the Second World War and then during the so-called 'Cold War'.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_511

Billy:

... The film sequences were black and white shots that looked as if they really came from the forties or fifties. In my opinion, it is very possible that the various flying apparatuses shown are original shots, showing flying apparatuses that really flew through the air and were classified by observers as extraterrestrial UFOs. This is precisely because, due to the nationwide military secrecy, they had no idea that these were secret terrestrial developments of futuristic flying apparatus. The same was the case in Argentina and elsewhere in South America, except that at the end of the Second World War, Nazi engineers who had fled Germany realised their plans for futuristic flying apparatus, which then flew through the air as UFOs and still do so here and there, as in the USA and elsewhere. ...

Ptaah:

7. What I can say is that the black and white film sequences you mentioned really do correspond to original footage and show secret US flying apparatus that was further developed according to Nazi plans.

8. This also involved Nazi engineers who were acquitted of their Nazi past in the USA and became American citizens.

9. These, like the Nazi engineers who had fled to South America, also continued to work on the development of disc, bell and balloon-shaped flying apparatus which were airworthy and with which extensive test flights were carried out.

10. This could be kept secret until today, apart from the fact that the flying apparatuses were seen by many people from the population, who classified the whole thing as extraterrestrial flying apparatuses respectively as UFOs.

11. However, the further development of such secret flying apparatus has not been discontinued, neither in the United States nor in various places in South America, nor in other countries. Consequently, test flights are still being carried out with such apparatus today, not only over the production areas but also in the airspace around the planet.

12. And as it must be, these flying apparatuses are judged by observers around the world to be extraterrestrial UFOs, as has always been the case.

13. This is not least because the US secret services and the US Air Force, as well as those in charge of Area 51, have been secretly fuelling UFO mania among the population through all kinds of machinations in order to conceal the truth of the experimental flying apparatus.

14. The so-called 'Cold War' was a very special factor, which is why everything was handled in great secrecy, and this has remained so to this day, even if the whole thing was interrupted by the end of the {break in text} of cold warfare has diminished, so the great boom in test flights with secret futuristic flying apparatus is over.

15. This does not mean that such flying apparatuses would not continue to be further developed and tested with secret test flights, because this is actually the case in various places, and therefore such objects can still be observed as UFOs, although no longer to the same extent as was the case in the past.

16. Most of these test flights are still carried out in the USA and at various locations in South America.

17. With regard to such flying apparatus, even today a secret further development is still underway, which is why the USA is also still trying to portray the Roswell case as an illusion and as an accident with a balloon apparatus.

18. This in order not to have to admit that they gained important technical knowledge from the crashed object, which they have been evaluating since then, in combination with the plan documents they have from the Nazi flying discs and Nazi flying bells they acquired in Germany at the end of the war.

19. And the fact that German Nazi engineers worked with US scientists, engineers and technicians after the end of World War II on all the secret flying disks and bells and on rocket construction, as was also the case in the USSR, should also remain secret.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_533

Billy:

... that group in South America, which emerged from fugitive NAZI engineers, which built flying discs in Germany and then later in the USA and in South Africa? I knew about that, but is there anything special about it, in particular whether such flying discs are still being produced today and whether they still fly around the world?

Ptaah:

47. None of this has changed, not even the fact that certain states continue to work within the same framework and that the NAZI flying apparatus technology captured by the war victors continues to be worked on, as do many descendants of NAZI engineers who have been trained as engineers and who can also work on NAZI techniques relating to flying discs, etc. and show good results.

Billy:

Mainly in South America, but probably not only in one country, right?

Ptaah:

48. That is correct.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_565

Billy:

... But the UFOs, the so-called 'Foo Fighters', which were observed during the Second World War, were they secret earthly flying machines?

Ptaah:

59. No, we were also able to clarify this; all of them were members of the four groups unknown to us, whose flying apparatus we are also unable to penetrate today with our latest analysis apparatus and equipment.

{Note: Here there seems to be the clarification that actual "Foo Fighters", spacecraft originating from the "four groups" (extraterrestrials, "resident extraterrestrials", and "future Earth" humanity) are different from the secret Nazi aircraft technology, also popularly referred to as Foo Fighters.}

Ptaah:

141. The NAZI empire developed disc flying apparatuses, which were about 2,000 kilometres per hour fast and reached over 12,500 metres altitude.

142. However, these flying discs were single-wing aircraft, which were of a completely different type than normal wing aircraft.

James Forrestal murder

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/James_Forrestal#Death

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_724

Mr. ... {letter with questions}:

10. There was a man in America whose name was James Forrester, etc...

Answer {Billy}:

And as for the 10th question, "There was a man in America named James Forrester who knew something about UFOs, but then he killed himself, but why I do not know, so I want to know why?"

To this it is to be said that this man did not commit suicide - and I know this very well, for at that time the whole incident was observed by Sfath, for which he explained the whole circumstances to me and bound me to silence in such a way that I would never mention publicly the effective and true background and machinations of the far-reaching incidents, but only to that man who would then be the real one, who would take up my contacts with you Plejaren and make them known world- wide, but then persistently keep silent about all the special things I would entrust to him. {Note: "that man..." may be referring to Wendelle Stevens.}

Now the fact is that on the one hand the name of the man was not James Forrester but James Vincent Forrestal, the first Secretary of Defense of the United States of America, and he had such extensive knowledge in matters of UFOs and US defense plans and intelligence operations, etc., etc., that a certain group and their forces, etc., feared in it a great danger as regards the exposure of their devious machinations. This was because Forrestal did not agree with these machinations and was therefore a danger to the group, as a result of which it was decided to liquidate him, which was then done by murdering him at 1:47 hrs on the morning of the 22nd of May 1949, first by strangling him to unconsciousness in the Bethesda Naval Hospital and then by throwing him out of a window on the 16th floor and consequently crushing him on the floor.

Whereby the so-called supernatural of course does not exist in any way, because everything and everything is always naturally explainable and also naturally given. The supernatural exists only in the ignorance and the incomprehension of man, because he has no knowledge about all those things which he cannot understand and cannot explain himself. Truthfully everything so-called supernatural is absolutely natural and thus also classified according to the corresponding laws of spirit or matter, which are able to give an explanation for everything and everyone, whereby something supernatural becomes a fact of non-existence. Everything that can be grasped and perceived, everything that can be seen and heard and everything that can be felt, recognized, experienced and experienced, etc., is always real, real and natural in every case, regardless of whether it takes place on a spiritual or material level or on a medium level between spirit and matter, which is so often called the level of the supernatural or the supernatural by parapsychologists and esoterics who do not understand it.

181. Also fortune telling, exorcism, clairvoyance, and spiritual healing in a deceptive manner, together with many other similarly orientated things, will be brought to you, as well as automatic writing and alleged channelising, which will, in the time to come, be called channelling.

182. Their rule is only lying and deceit, delusion, false teaching, illness and profit-making, for which reason you shall also protect yourself from it; as well as from the false teachings and machinations of the religions and the sects which have arisen from them and continue to arise from them, which will be degenerating in such a way in the coming time that, from them, murder and mass-murder will result.

183. Protect yourself from all these things every moment of your life, because lying, deception, slander and untruth will, in the coming time, be rife more than ever before.

279. Faith-based forms of delusion promoted by religion and sectarian aberrations will increase worldwide in the future and the people who believe in them in this way will be deceived by sensory illusions, illusions, illusions, religious lies, pretences, delusions, juggleries and unrealities.

280. Superstition and belief in ghosts and ghosts, sect induced clairvoyance, God's message and religious miraculous activity will lead to new highlights in the future, as will fear of ghosts, mysticism, belief in miracles and delusions.

281. All this will be irresponsibly controlled by the lies and deception of religions and sects and their fanatical and power-obsessed advocates, who gather many believers around them and seduce them to torture, violence, war, murder, rape and destruction in the name of an alleged Creator God, in order to torture and kill innocent people as God's warriors and thereby reach their alleged God in Paradise.

... But all this has nothing to do with the so-called 'places of power' as they are thought up by people who believe that great mental powers or other vibrations occur and work in a parapsychological or esoteric framework, which is of course pure nonsense. All this is based solely on a profound imagination and on delusions that are the preserve of all those who believe this nonsense. I know from my own experience that the people who cling to the nonsense of this belief are as completely unteachable as those who have a strong religious, sectarian, political, scientific or philosophical belief. For them, truth and reality are something foreign or imaginary, which is why they banish themselves to the realm of illusion and negate everything that has to do with truth and reality. In fact, I know what I am talking about, because I have had enough experience around the world, also with regard to the deceptions of alleged 'ghostly apparitions', 'ghost photos', 'spirit operations', 'spirit healing', alleged telekinesis, telepathy and levitation, clairvoyance etc. Also with regard to UFOs, which are supposed to be of extraterrestrial origin, but which are in fact of earthly origin, I have learned a great deal through your help and have gained knowledge which proves that on earth everything in this respect is usually based on faith and delusion as well as on the machinations of lies, deception, charlatanry, tricks, deception and illusion, but also on imagination, deception and self-generated visions etc.

Billy:

Today Silvano drew my attention to the fact that on Swiss television SRG1 at 20:00 hrs to 21:00 hrs a programme was being broadcast which was about clairvoyance. I watched this program of course. It was about a woman in her thirties named A. C., who is supposed to be clairvoyant and to see dead humans, aliens, the aura of humans, etc. She is also in the habit of giving advice and treatment to other humans, and she also works in a hospital under the patronage of a doctor. But as I see it, the woman suffers from a meditative form of schizophrenia, as you once described this disease to me. I cannot remember the correct name you gave to this form of schizophrenia.

Ptaah:

8. But there are a large number of forms of this kind of illness – and that is what it is – among the humans on Earth.

9. And I have to say that your observation and judgement is correct with regard to the fact that the woman suffers from a very rare form of a persistently acute form of schizophrenia, which is unconsciously meditative-delusional due to childhood-related desire circumstances.

10. It is an acute and persistent paranoid-hallucinatory schizophrenia, which, due to an unconscious and likewise acute permanent and thus persistent alpha wave meditative state, causes delusional or paranoid and hallucinatory modes of experience and forms of experience, whereby only a very slight or no impairment of the formal world of thought appears, and the formation of feelings, the emotional world and the emotional responsiveness are fully preserved.

11. This is a permanent condition which is extremely difficult to diagnose and therefore difficult to recognize even by our specialists, psychiatrists and trained psychologists.

12. This is especially true because a person afflicted by this consciousness-related disease appears to be completely normal and does not have any recognizable brain-organic disease or abnormal behaviour, speech, conduct or movement etc.

13. As a rule, this form of consciousness-disease also brings with it the fact that those afflicted with it have an excessive sensitivity or sensitivity, whereby they are able to absorb and define all kinds of impulses with regard to thoughts, feelings and pain of their fellow men, which is also true for this woman.

14. On Earth, the psychological and psychiatric specialists are still completely ignorant of this clinical picture, which is why they classify people suffering from this kind of illness as completely normal and even admit that they are clairvoyant and psychic, etc., which is not the case.

15. It is not uncommon for humans who have fallen prey to the disease of paranoid hallucinatory schizophrenia in the form of alpha wave meditation to have extraordinary psychological abilities, through which they can stimulate suffering fellow humans to unconscious self-healing by suggestive influence.

16. Often fantastic as well as realistic images of the schizophrenia sufferers come into play, which they suggest to the sick and suffering people, who then accept them, take them for granted and work with them, whereby self-suggestion generates self-healing.

17. The process is similar to the one that is practiced and applied by the so-called spiritual healers.

18. In the condition of the woman you mentioned, the origin of her illness can be traced back to her childhood, namely to the fact that she felt extremely alone in childhood and intensely wished to have company around her.

19. In the course of time, this desire became a mania, from which the aforementioned form of paranoid hallucinatory schizophrenia soon developed into the alpha wave meditative form, which already broke out in puberty.

20. The disease developed in such a way that she perceived delusions in the form of apparent auras around people as well as energy points and energy fields on and in their bodies.

21. It also resulted in her visioning to see the supposedly deceased and communicating with them – as well as with imaginary other beings – which has been preserved until today.

22. Eventually, the disease spread to the point where she became delusional in believing that she could communicate with objects, animals, fruits and vegetables etc. and that these would give her valuable answers etc., which is due to the fact that in her schizophrenic state she also has voice hallucinations.

23. Her illness is therefore based on acoustic and optical hallucinations in addition to other things.

24. The whole thing has become more and more intense in her over the years and has developed to such an extent up to the present day that there is practically no possibility of a cure.

... It is the same with those who believe in spiritual healing, in radiesthesia or in swinging, as well as in clairvoyance, card fighting, dowsing, table-turning, ghosts, etc., and in the tricks and machinations of magicians as supernatural powers. It is only a natural consequence that, of course, telepathy and telekinesis as well as teleportation and levitation – which are in the realm of reality – are brought into disrepute by tricksters through tricks and sleight of hand. But also with regard to these tricksters humans believe in supernatural powers, which do not really exist, because everything that is presented or appears as supernatural leads back to the human consciousness energies and their powers. These however are completely normal phenomena, even if they must still be called special abilities in the present time – always provided that humans possess such abilities, which with very few exceptions is however not the case.

Billy:

... when we talk about the 'Great Oracle', we are referring mainly to the site at Delphi in Greece, where certain seers and priests made mysterious and ambiguous statements and interpretations, and dark hints about things and dreams, and prophesied prophecies. Correctly seen, then, the whole thing was based on fortune-telling and the like, as is still the case today, since countless fortune-tellers and soothsayers, card clubs and dubious media tell nonsense and also pull the wool over their followers and believers who are addicted to them, in order to frighten them with their nonsense and bollocks. Nowadays, everything concerning 'fortune telling' is such that the 'fortune tellers' who beat the cards, read the future from the coffee grounds, make their pendulum play and do all sorts of other 'mysterious' things, have even better psychological knowledge than the 'fortune tellers' of ancient or other ancient times. This way they can 'pull the worms out of the noses' of their believing customers without being noticed by those who are guided by them, who then take everything at face value and believe what they are told 'fortune-telling'.

Ptaah:

45. Unfortunately, this nonsense will continue for a long time, because only when Earth-humans find their way to the real reality and truth and free themselves from any belief, they will be able to free themselves from the whole that is to be called nonsense.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_703

Billy:

Prophecy has absolutely nothing to do with the unnatural or supernatural and in no way with fortune-telling, for fortune-telling, which brings together numerous practices and methods, is supposedly intended – which is of course nonsense – to predict future events, happenings and situations, etc., but also to predict happenings in the future. but also events, occurrences, incidents, happenings, encounters, episodes, incidents, occurrences, phenomena and peculiarities etc. from the present or the past, which are beyond the knowledge of those who ask fortune-tellers about them and commission them to 'ascertain' everything fortune-tellingly.

Fortune-telling and clairvoyance are absolutely nonsensical and have nothing to do with prophecy or effective prediction, for a truthful prediction is fulfilled with 100 per cent certainty, but only comes about through a vision of the future according to a high-percentage probability calculation or through a real vision or technically founded time travel into the future. Fortune-telling and clairvoyance have nothing to do with anything other than a nonsense practice and charlatany, even if, to the contrary, esotericism and parapsychology claim that both come about through precognition (Latin: before knowledge), whereby future events can supposedly be predicted in this way. Since the 18th century, however, this fact has no longer been open to scientific discussion.

Fortune-telling has nothing to do with prognostication, which is created solely by recognising and understanding normal causal connections that are fundamentally comprehensible to any person with understanding and reason. This is in contrast to fortune-telling, which claims to possess a knowledge of occult connections hidden from the uninformed, which enables the fortune-teller to see into the future, present or past, which of course corresponds to an absolutely imbecilic and fraudulent claim. Certain fortune-tellers claim in the same nonsensical framework that they have immediate intuitive access to knowledge about the past, present and future, just as they have a 'second sight' or precognition. Others, on the other hand, are faking that they can interpret signs that are symbols of the future, whereby this interpretation of signs usually has two different types, one in the form in which the fortune teller interprets events or circumstances etc. that cannot be influenced by him or her as signs that the future is coming. The first is the form in which the fortune-teller interprets events or circumstances, etc., which cannot be influenced by him/her, as signs that future events can be read out of them, whereby the whole thing is effectively caused by the fortune-teller himself/herself, according to his/her own specific rules, whereby an event is supposed to result, the course or result of which is in turn invented solely by the fortune-teller and is then understood and interpreted as coded information about the future.

The first form includes, among other things, the interpretation of astrological constellations, as well as unusual weather phenomena and chiromancy or palmistry, while the second form includes card-reading or the so-called throwing or placing of objects such as dice, bones, etc., and in the case of the egg oracle, of course, eggs, from which an invented fantasy answer to a previously posed future-related question is 'read'. Even in ancient divination theory, a distinction was made between 'natural' or immediate knowledge of the future and 'artificial' knowledge based on the interpretation of signs by 'experts'. A somewhat different distinction is found especially in the shamanic practices cultivated by ethnically oriented religions, which make a special classification with regard to so-called intuitive divination, in which the diviner refers only to his/her supposedly 'intuitive' intuition from his/her 'spirit' and its 'knowledge'. This, whereas in an alleged 'possession divination', gods or other disembodied beings are said to temporarily take possession of the body and transmit messages through it. In such divination, which is supposed to be 'wise', the diviners claim that it is a basis of their knowledge of the future and objective laws known to them, from which they can derive accurate conclusions in individual cases; which is of course absolute nonsense.

Fortune-telling is also used in connection with religious and sectarian prophecies or divinations, although this should not be understood as a real prophecy or divination. In truth, the whole of this kind of religious-sectarian reference comes to the same thing, because it has been a matter of divination since time immemorial. This is precisely because the early 'prophecies' and 'divinations' allegedly brought by prophets and heralds were not revealed and brought by effectively real and true prophets and heralds, but by soothsayers. These alleged and effectively false 'prophecies' or 'divinations' were slanderously put into the mouths of the real and true prophets and heralds, consequently all the lies have been handed down religiously and sectarianly throughout the ages until today as naked lies. These are future-related false and lie-laden assertions for which a direct 'divine' inspiration has been claimed by their obedient and unsophisticated believers since the existence of the religions and sects and is still believed by today's believers. The former true prophets and prophetesses listed by the religions and sects are, on the one hand, being falsely traded and misused as 'God's messengers', and on the other hand, they are being attributed with ancient prophecies of various kinds which they never revealed. And if true prophetic or prophesying unveilings have been handed down, they have usually been so misleadingly falsified that the actual meaning of the revelation can hardly or no longer be defined. On the other hand, a prophet and herald – also of a female nature – was and still is understood and worshipped as a commissioned herald of a divine plan and will by the obedient, thoughtless blind believers who are incapable of making their own decisions. It should also be explained that prophecies or divinations by true prophets are directed towards the fate of a nation or the fate of several nations or even the fate of the whole of humanity.

Fortune-telling and clairvoyance cannot be scientifically proven to this day, as even the advanced Pleiadian sciences make it clear that it is not a real human ability and possibility. Consequently, a human being cannot divinely perceive and predict a present, future or past event, occurrence, circumstance or situation, etc., or divinely or clairvoyantly state any facts concerning the present or the past. The fact is that at the time of the alleged foresight, present vision or past vision of a fortune teller, no rational knowledge is available for the recognition of any knowledge or events etc. and no vision, recognition or knowledge can be obtained through precognition. ...

Fortune-telling and clairvoyance have nothing to do with prophecy, nor with intuition, which is fundamentally inherent in every rational human being. ...

Prophecy must also not be confused with so-called occult or demonic fortune-telling, nor with any religious-sectarian, threatening 'prophecies', which without exception belong to the realm of fantasy. Unfortunately, however, false prophets and prophetesses have appeared time and again since time immemorial – and still appear today – whereby their 'revelations' were and are very often or even without exception of a religious-sectarian nature.

Billy:

If the human being believes in symbols, is addicted to a religious faith or subscribes to horoscopes or fortune-telling, etc., then at a certain moment he thinks and acts completely unconsciously and carelessly exactly according to the meaning he assigns to the symbol, the horoscope or the fortune-telling, etc., because he believes in it, as a result of which what he imagines will become and prove to be reality inevitably comes to pass and is fulfilled. And then everything actually comes to pass in the imagined way, and it does not matter whether it is in origin an alleged energy or power of a rune, some symbol of some form, a horoscope, a thing or a prophecy, etc., because it is believed in, then it inevitably comes to pass, and exactly in the way that the human being assigns to it meaning and expects from the whole.

... fortune-telling, which is about inventing something factual on the basis of the subject matter of the conversation, which is presented to the believers, who are supposed to believe it – usually for a horrendous fee. This is a method that is usually used to make money, but which has nothing to do with the actual truth, but whose invented lies – as life plays out – may at some point result by chance (as human beings call it).

Teleplasty is the conscious generation of shadowy forms and projections by means of the block of mentality's powers.

With this, however, if the human psyche, in cooperation with the entirety of the mental powers, is the actual trigger of the phenomena, then the projections are completely unconsciously evoked.

In this case it then deals with an apparition in the form of psychoteleplasty.

However, this phenomenon has, in no way, anything to do with a "materialisation of ghosts/spirits" as these materialisation phenomena are interpreted and explained by spiritualism.

Actually, with that, it therefore does not deal with so-called ectoplasm apparitions, respectively, teleplasma apparitions, from which the term teleplasty has recently appeared.

[translators' note: teleplasma is a Greek word used in German, but not English]

If these materialisation phenomena are unconsciously evoked as a result of certain damaged states of the psyche, then it is psychoteleplasty.

Therefore, none of that, neither in one form nor the other, has anything to do with the so-called ectoplasm apparitions of spiritualism.

... an you tell me – since you deal with brain research – whether a human being's belief in God and saints is based on any damage to the brain or not? Somehow, it just seems to me that belief in God and saints as well as in ghosts, dead-talkers, and similar nonsense could be based on brain damage and damage to the consciousness.

Quetzal:

121. One could say that, in a certain sense, but this damage is caused by the world of thoughts and feelings of a person himself/herself.

122. Through religious as well as other delusion-believing thoughts and feelings, electric tensions, which affect certain areas of the brain, arise in the brain.

123. If these areas are hit by the electric swinging waves, then impulses form in the brain, by which a delusional faith is awakened and by which even strong visionary pictures can appear and things can be sensed, which in nowise correspond to the reality.

124. Visions such as the seeing of God, saints, and Jesus Christ as well as Virgin Mary apparitions, etc. are not unusual, as also not the appearance of stigmata, as these were added to Jmmanuel during the crucifixion on the hands and feet, on the loins, etc., or on the head through the crown of thorns.

125. The electrical swinging waves, which are caused by religious beliefs and other delusional beliefs or otherwise, influence the affected brain areas so much that very quickly, a form of addiction and mania arises, from which a person can only escape with difficulty.

126. Fairly often, the whole thing leads to evil fanaticism.

Whereby the so-called supernatural of course does not exist in any way, because everything and everything is always naturally explainable and also naturally given. The supernatural exists only in the ignorance and the incomprehension of man, because he has no knowledge about all those things which he cannot understand and cannot explain himself. Truthfully everything so-called supernatural is absolutely natural and thus also classified according to the corresponding laws of spirit or matter, which are able to give an explanation for everything and everyone, whereby something supernatural becomes a fact of non-existence. Everything that can be grasped and perceived, everything that can be seen and heard and everything that can be felt, recognized, experienced and experienced, etc., is always real, real and natural in every case, regardless of whether it takes place on a spiritual or material level or on a medium level between spirit and matter, which is so often called the level of the supernatural or the supernatural by parapsychologists and esoterics who do not understand it.

Billy:

... The electromagnetic vibrations from electronic devices as well as strong Earth-magnetic vibrations are indeed really not harmless, because hallucinations, aggression, depression, low morale and discord – indeed also the phenomena of "ghostly apparitions" – can even be provoked which have no connection with acute or stored mental vibrations, respectively fluidal powers, rather, are based, as a rule, on fantasies and imaginations which are normally simply caused by states of angst. The basis for this can really be very strong electromagnetism, for example, by way of electronic devices, and so forth, or it can simply arise as a result of a strong magnetic field of the Earth. Extremely low-pitched sounds from electronic devices and other things as well as from nature, which cannot be perceived by the human ear – so-called infrasound – can cause strong vibrations, in the case of objects and with the human body and all its organs, such as, for instance, also in the eyes. The consequences of that are hallucinations and panic attacks as well as depression, discord and negative moral states, because the thoughts and feelings as well as the consciousness succumb to confusion as a result of the vibrations. In the said form, there is a connection among infra-sound, electromagnetism, and ghostly apparitions. Infrasound and electromagnetism can trigger the internal attack-and-escape mechanism of the human being as well as panic attacks and hallucinations, and so forth, and it is especially the case if one is in a spooky or weird-looking place, in a depressed mood or in a mystical situation, and so forth. That which is decisive in this regard is that the sense of the human beings is under great tension, whereby he perceives the environment and his situation, and so forth, as a threat. In this state, then "ghostly apparitions" can be seen or strange, ghostly sounds can be heard, or unreal touches can be felt, and so forth. Strong electromagnetic fields have effects on the human body and its organs, which therefore also includes the brain and consciousness as well as the thoughts, emotions and the psyche, which lead to hallucinations, whereby the human being sees, hears and feels things which are not real. Electromagnetism and infrasound produce an effect on the human brain in such a way, that, for example, the feeling is created that someone strange is present – a ghost, and so forth, because he cannot be seen, or can be dimly seen as a result of the imagination. Faces and figures can also be seen and sounds as well as unreal breathing, and so forth can be heard, or, in the same way, unreal touches can be felt. Thereby the human being can become increasingly insecure and anxious, because the activity of fantasy and the imagination increases and everything is considered absolutely real, as for example in a similar manner to the way human beings appear who believe that they have been abducted and examined or impregnated by extraterrestrials and later have their foetuses stolen, which, in regard to pregnancy, naturally, only applies to women. With all of these human beings, fantasy and the imagination – so to speak – go mad, whereby everything is of such a strong nature that the fantasy images and the imagination appear absolutely real – all caused by infrasound, or by strong electromagnetic fields. And human beings who succumb to this, consider everything to be real, and believe that it is truthful reality, in such a way that, consequently, even polygraphs and interviews under hypnosis can be withstood.

Recently, I was asked for the reason why the so-called Franklin Expedition had failed and why all the participants had died? It was a pole expedition.

Quetzal:

189. That is well-known to me.

190. Without exception, the participants of the expedition died as a result of lead poisoning, which was brought about by canned food, for the cans contained high concentrations of lead that poisoned the contents, which were then eaten by the people, by what means they fatally poisoned themselves.

191. And those, who did not die directly from lead poisoning, miserably perished by freezing to death.

Gilgamesh

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Gilgamesh>

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_069

Billy:

But now I am surprised how big Gilgamesh was, actually, king and demigod? According to Sumerian tradition, he would have measured more than 7 metres if I used the big old cubit [ancient unit of measure = to length of forearm/ulna]. But according to the small cubit it would have been only a little more than three meters. Which measurement is correct now, can you tell me that?

Semjase:

63. Sure, it is the big ulna with which you have to measure.

Billy:

Well, then Gilgamesh was about 7.50 metres tall, was that right?

Semjase:

64. That is correct – except for a few centimetres.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_222

Billy:

... Gilgamesh was descended from a race that came from a galaxy that is still unknown on Earth. Moreover, he was about 3 metres tall. How can it be, that he still lives on Earth today unrecognized? Relatively seen to the Earth-humans, he also does not age, for he, as you have explained, is 50,000 years old or more. And since you know him so well and also have the possibility of taking him back to his world, why don't you do this?

Quetzal:

24. You are mistaken in reference to the fact that the home galaxy of Gilgamesh is unknown on Earth because it was already discovered in the year 1781 by an astronomer named Méchain.

25. This is a somewhat oval spiral galaxy, which is simply called M94 – NGC 4736 by the earthly astro-scientists and which is seen about 20 million light-years away from the Earth.

Billy:

In our space-time configuration?

Quetzal:

26. That is of correctness.

27. But listen further:

28. With Gilgamesh's people, it concerned a race of morphogenetic ones, whose special ability was to change their shape and size.

29. A process that took several months for each occurrence, however.

Billy:

First of all: why do you speak of "concerned" and "was?" And secondly: does your explanation with regard to the morphogenetic ones mean that it concerns a morphogenesis, precisely in terms of biological morphology? Morphogenesis, nevertheless, refers to the formation of an organism or life form during his or her development, whereby everything depends on the hereditary predisposition and on the environment. Do you mean this?

Quetzal:

30. No, that is not the meaning of my words; rather, I speak of a shapeshifting that can be carried out arbitrarily during normal existence.

Billy:

Do you mean, for example, when the development of the physical body has already been completed? By this, I mean that a shapeshifting can be accomplished when...

Quetzal:

31. That is the meaning of my words, yes.

Billy:

Shapeshifting – then one could very well call these humans "shapeshifters." Can they change, then, also their external and internal features, apart from their shapes?

Quetzal:

32. That is of correctness.

Billy:

You have not yet answered my question, however, as to why you said "concerned" and "was."

Quetzal:

33. Gilgamesh's people no longer exists because a sudden and unpredictable planetary catastrophe caused the whole race to become extinct within a few minutes.

34. There were no survivors because no human beings of this people also stayed outside of the planet.

35. Gilgamesh is, thus, the sole survivor, who has adapted his shape, however, to that of the earthly human and has morphogenetically transformed and found a new home in this world, which he no longer wants to leave.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_519

Ptaah:

43. Some of the Earth-foreigners who came to Earth, due to errors in coordination, strayed directly to Earth instead of reaching the Lyra system, others were looking for the planet Malona/Phaeton, which they did not find, but came to Earth in their search.

44. Others were looking for Mars, but found it inanimate and finally came to Earth.

45. But there were also those who suffered an accident, including the Gilgamesh spacecraft of the very early days, as well as the spacecraft that caused the Tunguska catastrophe. ...

Billy:

Then there is a question about Gilgamesh, which you mentioned: In 1976, at the 69th contact, I spoke to your daughter Semjase about the fact that Gilgamesh was about 7.5 metres tall. But in 1988, at the 222nd contact, I talked to Quetzal about the fact that Gilgamesh was only three meters tall. This was based on the fact that Gilgamesh was a morphogenesis and therefore had the ability to change his height and appearance. In these conversations with Semjase and Quetzal, it was unfortunately forgotten to mention that Gilgamesh was 7.5 metres tall at the time his spaceship was damaged, after which he changed his height and by the time he was in Uruk Gart, he was only three meters tall. In the course of time he reduced his height by about 120 centimetres, so that he was then only about 1.8 metres tall. I think this should be made clear, before another hooligan thinks that there is a contradiction.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_721

Ptaah:

60. But they also taught far eastward to Mesopotamia, where King Gilgamesh formerly ruled in Uruk Gart, as well as to the Aryan country.

In Billy's Book the Rose-Pink Crystal on page 70 it is written. Gilgamesh and 52 crewmembers crashed in the Himalayas approx 20,000 years ago. Gilgamesh survived with two other crewmembers a man by the name of Atlan and a woman named Atlanta. Atlan died as a gladiator during the times of the Romans, and it is not known what happened to Atlanta. They came from a planet named Arkon, and were able to extend their life spans up to 350,000 years by drinking heavy water. Gilgamesh's lifespan and size have been reduced because of the lack of heavy water available on this planet. According to the information Gilgamesh is still alive and the Plejarens have offered to take him back to his home world, but he prefers to stay on earth. This is how I understand the story.

Dear Billy, Why is Gilgamesh still on Earth & what is he doing?

[Billy] Answer:

Probably he is working as a scientist where he has access to „heavy water“ which he is needing.

Gilgamesh, whose original lifespan was 120.000 years (but is now reduced to about 50.000 years), will live here for the rest of his life. He cannot go back to his people even if he had a beamship to fly to his native planet. His home planet (in the spiral galaxy known as M94 – NGC 4736, 20 million light years away from us) has been destroyed by a catastrophe and all of his inhabitants have died.

Gilgamesh belongs to a race of morphologists and is capable to change the shape of his body and size within several months. (Source: 226th contact of February 3, 1988)

Arahat Athersata, 2019 FIGU-Landesgruppe Canada, pages 241-246

Billy:

137. It comes from the tremendous energy-richness of the ur-life and the Creation which are responsible for the life of the entire universe.

138. This undefinable and mysterious ur-life embodies the actual breath of life, which universally enlivens all and everything.

139. The ur-life, however, also embodies that secret which indeed a human being will never be able to fathom:

140. The Ur-Creation itself.

141. It would, however, be false, arrogant and irresponsible to call this Ur-Creation or the Creation GOD, for neither the Ur-Creation nor the Creation are god or anything similar.

142. The word god is only an ancient term of an equally ancient language of a foreign people, a foreign extraterrestrial human race who were the actual ancestors of a part of the Earth human beings.

143. Up to the present time, their language still could not be proven, but it ought to be the one which is known as ancient Hebrew.

144. It is for sure, however, with absolute certainty (even if the theologians and scientists, etc. deny it), that the word GOD stems from this ancient language and has not the slightest to do with the Creation.

145. The expression god was from time immemorial used as a designation for human beings who, on account of their consciousness-based powers and their abilities resulting from them, were able to master and accomplish things which were denied to kings and emperors.

146. In most cases, these god-human beings were great scientists.

147. Because of their abilities, these human beings were consequently called GODS or GODDESSES, which meant nothing other than 'standing above the kings and emperors' (in a consciousness-based sense).

148. The exact translation of the designation god into the German language is:

149. King of wisdom.

150. Standing higher in esteem and honour than the rulers of the land themselves, those who were called god were consulted by the rulers of the peoples themselves and as well were revered by the people as human beings with tremendous knowledge and ability.

151. Catastrophes, megalomania, mishappening and wars, etc. as well as slow degeneration, however, have in the course of the thousands of years also taken their toll on these gods, consequently they slowly died out or developed into tyrants.

152. With time, they only still exist in the memories of a few human beings, while some other of these gods fled and began to tyrannise different worlds.

153. Memories of the tyrannical rule of the gods were to blame for the fact that the ones called god lived on in myths and legends and began to influence the Earth human beings.

154. Some resourceful leaders of people let their godliness get very badly out of control of the goad human nature and called themselves the Creation itself.

155. Through tyranny and barbarism, they forced the human beings to be subservient to them and to worship them.

156. But it happened that sub-leaders of these gods likewise wanted to exercise their might and therefore, in the name of the respective god, raised themselves as leaders above a human race.

157. If the respective gods themselves were not already tyrannical and domineering, then the leaders of the human race most certainly were.

158. As domineering leaders over great masses of peoples, they took up the old legends and myths in which the gods lived on, and developed them into an irrational teaching of a single and all-dominating God.

159. As rather clever and resourceful leaders, they formed formulas, laws, recommendations and prohibitions from this and attributed them to the gods.

160. And already the religion was born.

161. This in turn gave rise to a single God who was made responsible for all Creation and all happenings - and who should embody the love and salvation.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_001

Semjase:

41. Above all there is only one thing that possesses the power over life and death of every creature.

42. This is the Creation alone, who has laid out her laws over everything – laws that are irrefutable and that have eternal validity.

43. The human being can recognise them in nature, if he/she strives for it.

44. They show him/her the path of life and the path to the spiritual and consciousness-based greatness, which represent the life-determination.

45. But as the human being indulges in his/her religions, and thus in evil irrational teachings, his/her consciousness atrophies more and more and leads ultimately to a bottomless abyss.

46. The human being may realise that a god can never assume the role of the Creation or determine the destiny of the human being.

47. A god is only a ruler and moreover a human being, who mightily exercises rule or tyranny over his fellow human beings.

48. God is not the Creation, but only a creature of her, like all creatures dependent on the Creation.

49. However, the human being chases after his/her religious irrational belief and claims that God is the Creation herself.

...

56. The Creation herself never gives commands because she embodies the mightiest in this universe and never needs commands or religions.

57. Religion is only a primitive machination of human beings intended for the purpose of leading, subjugating, and exploiting, to which only life that is weak in consciousness is able to succumb.

150. They found many new habitable worlds and solar systems, which they often made subservient to themselves using their beam weapons in short one-sided fights, in order to conquer them for the settlement of their race.

151. However, apart from their horrendous material and gene-based technology they also perfected their consciousness and their spirit, so that nothing which they wanted to experience remained foreign to them any more.

152. The use of their powers of consciousness became implicitness to them, and so they gradually raised themselves to rulers vis-à-vis their peoples.

153. They called themselves kings of wisdom with the word JHWH, which is on the Earth translated as God.

154. Far superior spiritually, and in terms of knowledge as well as consciousness to the normal people, they soon dominated it in evil dictatorial form.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_503

Billy:

... But now I have a question, which respectively your answer is interesting for some human beings. It concerns the terms 'God' and 'Goddess', which are not only used by us human beings of the Earth, but also by you, but in a completely different form than with us. So you use these terms e.g. in relation to the meaning of names, but also in fairy tales etc., as I know.

Ptaah:

31. That is correct.

32. For us Plejaren, the terms 'God' and 'Goddess' have always had the meaning of an imaginary, fantastic fable creature who rules, exercises power or protects human beings, animals and plants or any other things.

33. These are instructive fairy tales, respectively invented and fantastic stories.

34. However, imaginary mythical creatures like a 'God' or a 'Goddess' are not real in any way and therefore cannot be equated with a religious 'god' or a religious 'goddess', because there are no such religious or other religious fantasy figures like a 'God' or a 'Goddess', only Creation.

35. The terms 'God' and 'Goddess' already lead back to the ancient history of our ancestors, to the Lyrians, who also brought these terms 'God' and 'Goddess' together with fables respectively fairy tales to Earth.

36. Thus many such fables or fairy tales lead back to our ancestors as well as to us Plejaren, whereby the Earth-humans have partly transformed and changed the story contents to earthly things and conditions.

37. But back to the terms 'God' and 'Goddess', which have been used equally in our languages since time immemorial, as is also the case in the German and Swiss-German languages.

38. In the German language, the term has found its original form back to 'God', while Earth-humans in all languages known to us have transformed the term 'God' into all kinds of other terms and it still exists today in other modified forms.

39. In the course of time, these transformed terms gave rise to the names of God as they are used today in all earthly languages.

40. With regard to our traditional terms 'God' and 'Goddess', however, the terms 'God' and 'Goddess' have developed again in the course of modern times, especially from the Germanic term 'Guda', which was to be understood as a bi-sexual, i.e. in the form of a male and a female god.

41. Before the Germanic term 'Guda' the terms 'Gotu' and 'Godan' were common for 'God', whereby the term 'Woodan' developed from 'Godan'.

42. The two terms were also used by our Lyrian ancestors as 'God' and 'Goddess' in the same way, as it is also the case with us, i.e. as a term for mythical creatures respectively fantasy creatures, which as an imaginary power stand above all things, but which are not in any way equated with Creation.

43. From time immemorial, the peoples whose origins can be traced back to Nokodemion, have consciously recognized and regarded universal consciousness as the highest form of energy and power and as the origin of all existence.

44. As a consequence, it never appeared that a 'God' or a 'Goddess' would have been recognized or appreciated as universal creative force respectively as 'Creator' or 'Creatress'.

45. A 'God' or a 'Goddess' has always appeared as a pronounced mythical creature or as a fantasy figure of higher power in our fables respectively in fairy tales, which are offered in tearful or satirical or joyful forms, mainly for children, although adults also take pleasure in such stories.

46. Basically, these fairy-tale narratives are connected with doctrinal factors, but also with legends and true events, which are embellished in the fairy-tale narratives, whereby often a male or female mythical creature is interwoven, a 'God' or a 'Goddess'.

47. This, however, never leads us to the false doctrine of a 'God-creator' or a 'creator of all things', because our children are basically taught at an early age that fairy tales and their characters etc. are only mythical creatures and that a God or Goddess also only correspond to freely invented characters.

48. This is why it is possible that even small children, as well as older children, can learn in a way appropriate to their thirst for knowledge through such fairy tales in which, for example, animals and creatures speak and to which human behaviour is attributed.

49. Our fairy tale narratives in this regard are designed to contain generally accepted truths regarding the way of life and behaviour of human beings, which are illustrated as practical wisdom, etc.

Billy:

That probably also explains why you and your Lyrian ancestors, who also come from your space-time structure, have 'Gods' and 'Goddesses' in your male and female names, which are certainly also considered mythical creatures, right?

Ptaah:

50. That is indeed so. ...

Billy:

Then again, something about 'God'. This term has consisted of four letters since ancient times, at least since the time of the Lyrians, your ancestors. Was it also like that before in other languages of your ancestors respectively primeval peoples?

Ptaah:

54. I can tell you that this was indeed the case, because the two terms 'God' and 'Goddess' go back very far, but without exception the terms were only used in relation to imaginary mythical creatures, and that for millions of years and before our distant ancestors came to Earth.

55. That is what we have been told.

Billy:

So these terms were used by your primordial people when there were no humans on Earth, not even early humans?

Ptaah:

56. I have expressed this in my words, yes.

Billy:

Which I also understood. But what is interesting about 'God' is that in most earthly languages the terms for 'God' also have only four letters, as I have listed in OM as follows

What is of even more interesting value with regard to the name God is that in all the existing languages of the Earth it is always written with only four letters, and that the relevant cabbalistic calculations of these languages always evaluate the name God as death, destruction and damnation, etc. And in order to demonstrate that the name of God, the name of death and destruction, is indeed written with only four letters in all languages – since time immemorial – let the following brief list clarify this:

Grand Canyon

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Grand_Canyon

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_654

Billy:

... Your father Sfath took me to the Grand Canyon in the USA in his pear ship once – it was in the summer of 1947, if I remember correctly, just in the hot summer where 47 degrees of heat were measured – and explained to me that this canyon was about 5.7 million years old and had been created by the Colorado River. The Colorado River is said to have originated from the Rocky Mountains or somewhere from a huge lake in the Rocky Mountains, which had overflowed and run out after a long time and finally disappeared. And why I bring this up is based on the fact that still today researches are carried out and always new statements are made regarding the age of the Grand Canyon, which amount to up to over 70 million years. Regarding Sfath's explanation, I think you've done some research and found out when and how the Grand Canyon was formed, based on the layering, etc. of the canyon, and perhaps also by traveling through the past.

Ptaah:

84. That was indeed the case, because even in the early days we carried out such research on objects on Earth that were of interest to us, which we still do today, because there are always significant geological changes.

85. These are often not noticed by Earthly scientists, as this also refers to all biological, fauna and flora-conditioned as well as geological things, which destroy all existence on earth ever more by the machinations of the overpopulation.

86. So already at early times of the 16th century our scientists determined the age of the Grand Canyon, and then what my father explained to you is true and correct, but the claims of Earthly scientists are wrong with their statements of the high age of the Grand Canyon.

Gravity / Anti-Gravity

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Anti-gravity>

see also Dark Matter

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_054

Billy:

... I would have another question, however, concerning gravity. Is the electromagnetic nature, one- or two-pole, or does it happen through the mediation of gravitons?

...

Semjase:

...

70. Gravity is electromagnetic in nature with two uniform but opposite forces.

71. Gravity is therefore both attractive and repulsive.

72. But this is connected with the mass itself, with the Earth, thus by the planet, whereby the mass exerts the coherent, however the second factor itself, namely the production and application of what you call gravitons.

Billy:

The term graviton does not come from me. But it seems to me now that you explain that these gravitons and electromagnetism are present at the same time and would act as attraction and repulsion?

Semjase:

73. Sure, that is all I am allowed to tell you officially until I have consulted with the others.

Billy:

It is all right, I do not want to rush you. But can you still tell me how gravity is created, I mean gravitons and electromagnetism?

...

I mean only in broad terms, like e.g. by warmth and cold.

Semjase:

...

76. But good; on the one hand, the causes can also be found quite correctly in the heat and cold, in the self-heating of the planet and in the cold of the space.

77. On the other hand, the solid core of the planet in its density as well as the atmosphere, etc. are also important factors in the formation of gravity and antigravity.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_066

Billy:

... Does the overcoming or mastery of gravity, the antigravity of the beamships, etc. presuppose that one has at the same time freed oneself from such effects of 'gravity' in one's consciousness-based or emotional-based development? That one can only work physically with these forces when one has reached the inner stage of development in the aforementioned sense?

...

Semjase:

...

80. I will begin with the last question concerning the control of gravitational forces:

81. The natural cosmic laws require a uniform and consistent development within the framework of all evolutionary concerns of all levels.

82. This means that the spiritual as well as the material-consciousness-based development constantly progress in harmony with each other and must always be in harmony with each other in accordance with the consistency of all things.

83. In the case of the control of gravity, the rules of the laws are ordered in such manner that primarily the consciousness-based evolution is of decisive importance for the development of technological aids for the control of gravitational forces.

84. Thus, as a rule, the application of the power of consciousness to paralyse the gravitational forces first leads to technological coping, and only at a much later point in time, with the corresponding development of the power of consciousness, does the possibility occur through which a human being can move weightlessly through space.

85. You call this state produced by the power of consciousness a levitative moment, which means nothing else than that a levitation process takes place, in other words a levitation.
86. At the ur-beginning point this state is evoked in an unconscious form to the human being, and only gradually does he/she learn to master it consciously and to purposefully steer it.
87. If the human being has learned to master these powers, only then will he/she be able to devise and construct highly technological aids.
88. Thus the control of gravity at its ur-primary and primary point is based first and foremost on the evolution of consciousness, which means that physically the above-mentioned powers can only be mastered when the human life-form has freed itself from the 'heaviness' of unknowledge and non-consciousness-based matters.
89. According to your linguistic usage, however, I must now explain:
90. Exceptions confirm the rule, even if this exception is not easily recognisable and precedes in a form that does not appear very frequently.
91. Such an exception is the Earth-human:
92. He/she is not yet capable of mastering consciousness with all its consequences, and yet they are already capable of finding their way in the field of gravitational-force research to a great extent.
93. This exception rests in the confusing fact of a very rare erroneous development, which has fundamentally shifted the potential of the rectification of consciousness and the material realm overall, whereby the material realm has become overpowering and dominates in relation to the evolution.
94. This explains why the material realm has come to the fore and has become dominant in terrestrial human beings, whereby evolution takes place primarily in this direction, while the purely consciousness-based evolution lags behind at a disadvantage, as you yourself once said.
95. This is why technology on Earth is far more developed than the evolution of the consciousness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_225

Billy:

Then still another question about gravity: Like each and every thing that exists, gravitational power surely also has a speed. In addition, at least, so I have understood Ptaah's explanation relating to this, gravitational power is incorporated into the same speed limit as light.

Gravitational power is not just given with suns and galaxies, planets or meteors, asteroids, comets, as well as with universal nebulous formations and neutrino clouds, but rather, it also exists in universal space itself. At least, that's how I understood Ptaah's explanations. And since I have now been asked about this by Professor Brenner and I want to give him the answer correctly, I would again like to ask if what I have said is right?

Quetzal:

114. As usual, everything is of correctness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_228

Quetzal:

86. Moreover, our universe – like any other, of course – consists not only of gross matter, but also of pure energies, one of which is black energy, as we call it, which is responsible for a certain form of antigravity in the material universe and is estimated to account for $\frac{3}{5}$ of all universal energies.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_260

Billy:

... But now, I have here another question: Anti-gravity – Semjase once told me that both heat and cold are connected with it.

Ptaah:

37. That is quite right, but not to be regarded as general.

38. Heat and cold play a role only in the way that through these, electric energy, i.e. electromagnetic energy, is produced, from which then, among other things, anti-gravity arises through certain processes.

Billy:

Can or may you explain that in more detail?

Ptaah:

39. No, for the time still isn't ripe for that.

40. It would be too dangerous for the people and their applications of technology if they already fully mastered anti-gravity.

41. Already, the researches relating to this of the Earth-humans and their resulting applications of anti-gravity are heading towards them seizing world power for themselves.

42. There are already extensive experiments in this regard, whereby the scientists in the USA can report authoritative successes.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_586

Billy:

Here is my question: On the one hand you say that 'Dark Matter' is an expanding substance or matter, but on the other hand you also once said that only through 'Dark Matter' is gravity possible and can function. Isn't that a contradiction? Somehow I just do not understand the whole thing, it confuses me.

Ptaah:

103. As far as I am allowed to make a statement, I will explain the following:

104. Dark matter is an interactive mass, which means that it is massive particles which – measured in the atomic range – have an enormous weight.

105. These massive particles have an interaction that is related to both gravity and expansion force, which is why I explained that dark matter is expansion matter, although I did not mention that it is also gravity matter.

106. So without the dark matter there would be neither centrifugal force nor gravity.

107. So without gravity no expansion substance can exist, and without expansion matter no gravity.

108. Both factors, centrifugal force and gravity, are everywhere, but they are only perceptible and therefore also measurable, but not visible, because they radiate neither light nor darkness visible to the eye.

109. I am not allowed to explain more about this.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_592

Billy:

Thanks, then once again I have a question about dark matter, which you call expansion matter. I was asked a question about what is meant by this. So I answered what you explained to me, that expansion substance is the universal gravitational force, which runs through the whole universe like a net and forms knots in groups, in constant change. And if I myself have understood correctly what you have explained to me, then the entire network corresponds to an invisible gravitational energy, which attracts or forms and collects every form of fine matter, and at the same time expands or contracts, from which material formations and even galaxies are formed, whereby in this respect the very energetic nodes play a particularly important role. So this invisible universal gravity net, especially its nodes, forms all kinds of fine-matter, whereby this fine-matter matter is not yet known to earthly scientists. The nodes are constantly widening and expanding, which ultimately results in visible matter that develops into galaxies. And because the dark matter expands in this way, you call it expansion substance, whereby the invisible matter develops and expands into nodes or visible matter, from which planets, suns and whole galaxies develop over billions of years. Dark matter is not to be confused with the factor called dark energy, which corresponds to the universal centrifugal force.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_605

Billy:

First I want to say that I am glad that you are still in the area and that you could still come here this night, and secondly our correction work on Guido's book has shown that I cannot cope with certain formulations, namely the terms mass and weight as well as weightlessness and zero gravity. My logic tells me that a mass can probably change in terms of its consistency, density and volume, both on earth and in world space, thus it can condense or expand, through whatever circumstances, but it remains in its entirety as a mass and thus becomes 'more' or 'less' only in the way that it expands or contracts. As a result, the mass as such always remains the same and only changes physically or in volume. But every mass now also has a weight, and this is in and of itself unchangeable, and that regardless of whether on earth or in space and thus also in so-called weightlessness. But now it is asserted by earthly scientists that through the increase of weightlessness and through the fact that gravity no longer exists, a weightlessness arises, just as in the space of the world, where there is no perceptible force of gravity and therefore no one can be measured. I find this assertion illogical and contradict my reason, because no matter whether gravity or gravitation is given or not, the given weight remains the same, thus according to earthly measure 100 kilograms are exactly the same weight on earth as on the moon, on an asteroid or comet, consequently the weight does not become lighter, but remains in its weight measure. What changes is only the gravitational attraction ratio, which is followed by the fact that the 100 kilograms appear to be lighter on the moon than on earth due to the lower gravitational attraction, although they remain constant at 100 kilograms. This apparent lightness of weight in the world dream, in free fall or on the moon is explained by Earthly scientists as weightlessness or weight reduction, which however contradicts my understanding of logic, because by a reduced or cancelled attraction a weight cannot be reduced, but it remains the same, if nothing of it is taken away. So I think that scientists start from false assumptions and do not stick to reality and try to explain something they don't understand. It is also possible, however, that they simply have no idea what it is really about, when a reduction in attraction seems to reduce a weight – our dear Uëli has 'apparently' led into the field. Also I do not know of any such term that could be used for the apparent lightening of the weight and explain the matter.

Ptaah:

6. I am familiar with this problem of the lack of concepts in relation to what you are referring to, although we do have a corresponding name for it if a weight is apparently reduced or even eliminated by a reduction or complete suspension of the gravitational force.

7. We call this state, when I translate our term into the German language, 'Anti-Gravitation-Status', which in the sense of your question expresses that it is a matter of an annulment of the gravitational pull of the body in question or of a material in which the outer gravitation becomes ineffective.

8. Every matter on earth, e.g. a human body, has its own weight and thus also its own gravity, although this is extremely small in relation to Earth's gravity and cannot be consciously felt by Earth's inhabitants.

9. The fact is, however, that only this dead weight together with the dead gravitation makes it possible for the body to be attracted by Earth's gravitation.

10. This means that only if something has an own weight and thus only a minimal own gravitation in the nanoscale, can it be attracted by an external gravitational force.

11. However, if something is given that has neither a dead weight nor a dead gravitation, then it cannot be attracted by an external gravitation.
12. It must therefore be understood that every matter, however small it may be, has its own gravity and thus attracts other material, even the tiniest bacteria.
13. Also Earth naturally has its own large force of attraction, which is also called gravitation, gravity or even force of attraction.
14. This gravitation causes bodies to attract each other, with the corresponding force depending on their mass and the distance between them.
15. The closer they are to each other, the more they attract each other.
16. If one body is much heavier than the other, it also pulls much harder on the one that has a lower weight.
17. On Earth this can of course only be determined by extremely sensitive measuring instruments, but in comparison also by the use of magnets.
18. If, however, the outer gravitational force is weakened or even eliminated, as in the case of the outer planetary layers, up to nearby space, then any outer matter loses its own attraction according to its own weight, which results in an 'anti-gravitational status' for it, which is erroneously called 'weightlessness' by earthly scientists.
19. But this does not correspond to the correctness, because every matter, thus also the human body, does not become weightless, but only an 'anti-gravity-status' takes place, which means that it escapes from the planetary gravity.
20. The body thus escapes the external gravitational force and influence of Earth.
21. And the further the body moves away from earth gravity, the smaller it becomes and gives it the possibility that it attracts some material by its own gravitational pull, even if these may only be very small quantities.
22. If, for example, the International Space Station (ISS) is taken as a comparison in this respect, then it is still in a gravitational orbit of Earth, but due to its size it already has a low inherent gravity, through which it can draw materials from space.
23. So there is no weightlessness, as it refers to your question, because it is a weight deception that appears as fact and reality, but in reality is not really given and contradicts the effective fact, because it is only apparently existing, given and present.
24. In any case, a weight always remains of the same weight, regardless of whether there is a light or large gravitational force; this only determines whether a weight is more or less attractive than a stronger or weaker gravitational force.

...

Billy:

... But another thing: When we talk about weight, it only refers to the units of weight that we use here on earth, such as the units milligram, microgram, gram, nanogram, pound, kilogram, hundredweight and tonne in the large part of the European area, whereby the whole thing also depends on the gravitational force. So inevitably on other worlds as well as on our moon, on asteroids and comets completely different amounts of the same materials are necessary, depending on the gravitational strength, in order to obtain the same weight as with us on earth. So materials can be much lighter and thus planet etc. can show less gravitational force, or materials can be much heavier because planet etc. shows much greater gravitational force, as a result of denser resp. more compact matter, resulting in much greater gravitational force. The gravitational force is also dependent on the speed of rotation of Earth as well as the temperature, respectively cold and heat in such a way that these have an influence on the density and consistency of the matter, as your father Sfath already explained to me in my youth, as well as your daughter Semjase, after our contacts began in 1975.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_643

Billy:

What I've wanted to ask you for a long time refers to what your father Sfath explained to me, that earthquakes and volcanic eruptions influence the gravitational waves of Earth or change them in a certain way, whereby the gravitational vibrations can be measured and registered. Such and other gravitational oscillations, Sfath explained, would arise on the one hand on all active planets, but also when planets or two or even three black holes, but also suns or galaxies collide. He also explained that such events produce very strong gravitational oscillations which propagate at very high speed throughout the universe. However, as I have searched in vain for relevant explanations in specialist journals and books so far, I want to ...

Ptaah:

119. Up to this day, you can not find any descriptions concerning this phenomenon in earthly-scientific publications, because as far as I know, there are no findings and experiences corresponding to the matter, no findings or experimentally successful attempts of specific efforts concerning findings and recordings of gravitational oscillations.

...

Billy:

Then must I understand by what you say that Earthlings cannot yet measure and record Earth gravity vibrations, nor the other gravity vibrations as I have called them according to your Father Sfath's explanations?

Ptaah:

123. That is the point of my words ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_645

{Sfath, 1947:}

10. So time only exists where there are gravitational forces.

11. Where however no gravity exists, there is also no time, but only endless duration and thus timelessness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_790

Billy:

This is what I learned to say from Sfath, and what I learned from him is all just a little different from what earthly science claims. As far as I know, the earthlings still have no idea that everything is also dependent on swinging waves, namely on the swinging waves of the Earth itself, that it is precisely the Earth's gravitational swinging wave that makes it possible for something to grow and flourish. However, it is not only the gravitational swinging waves that play a very decisive role, which emanates from the Earth, but also other aspects that are just as unknown to earthly scientists as the gravitational swinging waves, which, as far as I know, they do not yet know. ...

Semjase:

3. You shall once again interfere in earthly events and exercise your powers, for things are happening which are of decisive importance with regard to the standing of the reality of all extraterrestrial life-forms.

4. The world domination-addicted intelligences of Giza are preparing a very malicious crime to harm various other intelligences they dislike and question their credibility.

5. In recent times they have made great efforts to influence terrestrial humans in sectarian form in order to commit, in this form, an unusually malicious crime against human life, whereby the existence of extraterrestrials is to be made impossible and ridiculous, but whereby on the other hand their madness of religion for the purpose of their world domination addiction is to find new breeding ground for them.

6. Here's the thing now:

7. For some time now, a couple of earthlings in particular have been under the evil influence of the Giza intelligences in order to initiate criminal and degrading things in their evil sense.

8. The purpose of these machinations is to mislead earthlings in larger masses with the lying instruction that the Earth will no longer be habitable in about a decade.

9. According to this assertion of lies the Earth-humans would therefore die en masse and everything would fall prey to death.

10. However, it is not given that all terrestrial humans must die, why a rescue by extraterrestrials is intended.
11. Willing persons would therefore be picked up by extraterrestrial intelligences by a spaceship and brought to another, better and more beautiful world, where they would have a free and better life.
12. This has already been announced through billboards and other advertising.
13. Also, a meeting serving this evil cause was already held last Sunday (14th September 1975; Declaration of 16th September 1975) to get hold of the willing.
14. That is what happened in America in a place called WALDPORTR.
15. The interested people were told at this meeting that from now on they could go to a camp where they would be prepared for the alleged flight into space in order to cope with the complaints of space flight, but also to gather the necessary knowledge of the new life on the pretended other and better world and to adapt to the new life.
16. The only condition for this resettlement undertaking was that all earthly goods be sold or otherwise disposed of and that no children be taken along.
17. Unfortunately, there was more willingness for this evil enterprise than could be calculated.
18. In haste many of the interested followed and chased after the lures of the advertisers to await in said camp for the things which were supposed to come.
19. The further consequences of this well-considered criminal enterprise are absolutely clear to us, and there are various prospects for the misguided:
20. 1) The whole enterprise is to be disguised in a religious form, in the form of a new sectarianism, whereby all the willing are to be deceived and misled in order not to grasp the real background.
21. 2) Weak and otherwise unfit persons shall be gradually separated and murdered.
22. 3) Several of those found to be fit are to be slavishly forced, as 'work robots' on Earth, to perform frontline duties for the benefit of the Gizeh intelligences, who need many earthly things, but which they do not want to acquire through their own work.
23. 4) Several of those found to be fit are to be abducted and enslaved away from Earth.
24. 5) Several should found a new sectarian organisation and thus work on Earth in a religious form for the plans of the Gizeh intelligences.
25. These 5 points were elaborated by the Gizeh intelligences and will be applied.
26. However, the earthlings advocating this plan are not aware of these facts, because they live in an implanted delusion.
27. Now, however, the Gizeh intelligences have ascertained that we are concerned about the matter, so they are looking for new ways in order to not let their undertaking fail.
28. But there is the danger that the misguided ones will all be murdered, because for those addicted to world domination the life of an Earth-human is of absolute insignificance.
29. We now instruct you to try to do things in your form and to try to avert the worst.
30. We ourselves endeavour to disrupt the Gizeh intelligence themselves in their actions.

Billy:

You surely know what all happened on the Earth in connection with this comet, with which I mean the sectarian machinations, through which mass suicides occurred in bulk, like with the suicide cult of the American guru Applewhite.

Ptaah:

242. Yes, these sad events are familiar to me.

243. On the one hand, they are connected with the appearance of the comet and, on the other hand, with the end of the world fantasies and delusional ideas that allow many confused people to forget all reason.

244. And the many sectarian preachers of salvation will also contribute to this in this deadly form in the future because the Christian turn of the millennium, which is supposed to come but which has truly already been exceeded, incites all those who are confused to continue to believe in the saviors of extraterrestrial origin, who will allegedly fetch the chosen ones among the faithful sectarians of the Earth into spaceships, in order to save them before the end of the world.

245. And since these allegedly extraterrestrial saviors should be of a "spiritual" nature and should be beings of light, etc., whom one should only be able to approach as a "spiritual" form, the slogan applies that the human must rid himself of his material body through suicide, so that his spirit form or soul can be taken up by the alleged luminous saviors into their spaceships.

246. This is actually the basic, sick thought of the cult leaders and their followers.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_568

{Billy:}

... One only has to think of all the other UFO sects of the same orientation, which in the same way carry out their sick machinations and make their believers docile with all the nonsense, exploit them and drive them into mental distress and misery or even suicide. A bad example of this was the religious sectarian 'Heaven's Gate' UFO sect founded in the early 1970s in the USA by Marshall Herff Applewhite, which he then led together with the nurse Bonnie Lu Nettles until her death.

The members of the cult were under the delusion of being extraterrestrials themselves, and the collective suicide of most of them took place in 1997, during the appearance of comet Hale-Bopp. In preparation for their suicide, they drank lemon juice to ritually cleanse their bodies, believing that their suicide would also contribute to the growth of the Internet because the members of the sect were web designers. Death was ultimately brought about by taking phenobarbital mixed with apple juice and vodka.

The 39 dead bodies of cult members were found in March 1997 in a rented villa in Rancho Santa Fe community (north of San Diego, California). The dead bodies lay in bunk beds, neatly covered with purple blankets and shoes with the same new Nike trainers. All of them also had luggage and money for the journey in the UFO or space ship with them. The whole thing caused a big sensation worldwide. Applewhite convinced 38 of his followers to commit mass suicide, because this was the way to send their souls on a journey in a UFO or spaceship. The spaceship was supposed to be located behind the comet and fly after it. Marshall Herff Applewhite (1931–1997) worked as a church musician and was the son of a Presbyterian preacher. However, due to health problems of a psychological nature, he was released in 1970. A year later, because he was homosexual, he tried to be 'cured' of his 'illness' in a hospital. There he met the nurse Bonnie Lu Nettles, who was born in 1927 and died in 1985. The two stayed together after they met until Nettles' death. Both were interested in astrology, and also believed to have known each other in previous lives. In their religious delusion, they saw themselves surrounded by various spirits and guardian angels. And according to their delusion, which also referred unrealistically to UFOs, they founded their fanatical UFO sect and called themselves 'The Two', later also 'Bo and Peep', as well as 'Winnieh and Pooh' etc. In the following years they gathered a small following around them and became widely known. First they called their UFO sect 'Guinea Pig', then HIM (Human Individual Metamorphosis), then TOA (Total Overcomers Anonymous). Finally, they named their sect 'Heaven's Gate'.

The sect structure of 'Heaven's Gate' was similar to a medieval monastic order, where the members of the sect abandoned all private property and privacy, lived ascetically and did, performed and undertook everything collectively. They lived in a villa which was fully equipped with technical surveillance facilities, so that all members could be closely monitored. Various male members, of course also Applewhite itself, had themselves neutered in order to maintain a better asceticism. Everything in the villa was very precisely labelled, also all light switches, all shelves and containers. When Bonnie Lu Nettles died in 1985, Applewhite continued the UFO sect on his own, which was financed by professional website development under the name of 'Higher Source'.

Semjase:

21. Adolf Hitler was a genius in many respects.

22. His knowledge ranged from various fields of art and technology to various sciences and the use of the powers of suggestion.

23. In his inner form he was an incarnated life-form of very good values.

24. However, he was not a human being with a highly developed spirit, but rather a human being with values of intellect and rationality, destined to lead the entire earthly politics and economy as well as all states in a certain positive direction so as to create a peaceful united world and Earth humankind.

25. For this purpose he was trained and incarnated at his place.

26. He was intended to give the Earth a new appearance and to initiate new forms of development through positive gewaltsame Gewalt[samkeit] [powerful actions using logic and rationality].

27. This was strictly monitored and overseen.

28. But ultimately all efforts were in vain and he was not able to fulfil his task in the form in which it was envisaged.

29. Via the then leaders of the Thule Society and their clairvoyant Hanussen I, the Giza intelligences managed to take possession of the being of Adolf Hitler and to abuse him for their dark and malicious purposes, without him resisting it, because a delusional greed for power had flared up in him himself.

30. In addition to this undertaking, innumerable forces in the form of human beings of Earth who had fallen prey to the Giza intelligences were regarding their consciousness manipulated and placed in his closest vicinity, whose influence he was also unable to withstand.

31. So he was soon forced to act against his own destiny and to do things that did not correspond to his destiny.

Billy:

I imagined something similar. For I could never come to terms with the fact that Hitler was supposed to have been simply a completely normal and not a power-addicted ruler. All his doings and actions, his trains of thought known to me from newspapers and radio speeches, which I followed with interest and often with Sfath's help during the war, cannot be reconciled with the image that was generally made of him during the war. This was also made clear to me by Sfath.

Semjase:

32. Sure, it is as you say.

33. Adolf Hitler had succumbed to a delusion of power and was also maliciously abused by the Giza intelligences, with the old Thule Society playing a not inconsiderable part in this, which, however, cannot be transferred to the society of the same name of the new form.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_202

Billy:

My question: as Sfath once explained to me, Adolf Hitler was syphilitic and already terminally ill in the third stage, and in consciousness, he was already no longer entirely clear in the head. His consciousness had already been partially impaired, by what means he could no longer think clearly and act, and he also became megalomaniacal and unpredictable. From this disease, syphilis, he would have died sooner or later if he had not shot himself, which he actually did, right? Anyhow, that's what Sfath said.

Quetzal:

13. What you have said corresponds to the truth.

14. But why do you mention these things?

Billy:

Quite simply because there are always people who maintain that Hitler is still alive and, thus, did not commit suicide.

Quetzal:

15. That corresponds to erroneous, stupid, and know-it-all claims as well as wishful assertions because Adolf Hitler actually shot himself, and to be sure, in Berlin on the 30th of April, 1945.

16. At that time, he was just 56 years old.

Billy:

He actually was not German but rather Austrian, son of the Austrian customs official Alois Hitler. He really became a German citizen in 1932. As Sfath said, he was also a Jew, but he denied this throughout his life.

Quetzal:

17. That is of correctness.

18. He kept this secret until his suicide.

Billy:

Thus, Hitler, with absolute certainty, has no longer been alive since 1945, as Sfath said.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_260

Billy:

Then I have another question, and indeed, in reference to Adolf Hitler, about whom Semjase, your daughter, once said something before. I have here the 36th Contact Report from Monday, the 20th of October, 1975. From this, I will read aloud to you what Semjase said, to whom the question was asked: at what place had Dolfy been educated and how did the monitoring of him take place?

Then, a further question relates to whether there is a significant destiny for his next incarnation. So now, here's what Semjase said (Pleiadian/Plejaren Contact Reports, Volume 1, page 460):

Semjase

... Adolf Hitler was, in many respects, a genius. His knowledge ranged from a variety of areas of art and technology concerning a variety of sciences up to the use of the power of suggestion. In his internal form, he was an incarnate life form of very good values. Nevertheless, he wasn't a man of highly developed spirit but rather a man of intellect and reason, who was destined to lead the overall earthly politics and economy as well as all nations in a certain positive direction, in order to create a peaceful, united world and Earth humanity. For this purpose, he was educated and incarnated at his place. He was destined to give a new style to the Earth, through a positive and enforced non-violence, and to initiate new forms of development. This was very strictly controlled and monitored. But ultimately, all efforts were in vain, and he was unable to fulfil his task in the way that it was provided. Through the leaders of the Thule society at that time, as well as through their clairvoyant, Hanussen I, the Giza Intelligences succeeded in taking possession of Adolf Hitler's being and in misusing him for their dark and malicious purposes, without him being able to defend himself against them, for a delusion-related lust for power flared up inside of him. In addition to this endeavour, still innumerable forces were manipulated in the form of the Earth-humans who succumbed to the Giza Intelligences in their consciousnesses and who were placed into his closest range, whose influence he also couldn't oppose. Thus, he was soon compelled to act against his own determinations and to do things that didn't correspond to his destiny.

{Billy, continued:} At that time, Semjase wasn't allowed to say more, she explained. But maybe it is different today, such that I might learn something more from you? You once said before that Adolf Hitler also had or just would have had the task of creating a united Earth world.

Ptaah:

108. That was actually so; that is correct.

109. The path that he then took, however, even with terror and war, was absolutely wrong and was neither in his destiny, nor in any guidelines assigned to him, nor even in our interests.

110. The reason for his wrongly chosen path developed quite early on, when he secretly came in contact with the Thule Society of that time, in consequence of which he also came in contact with Hermann Steinschneider, who also belonged to the Thule Society and supported its unfair goals and who called himself the clairvoyant, Eric Jan Hanussen.

111. Steinschneider, i.e. Hanussen, moved in all circles of major Nazi figures, among whom he had many clients, so even also Adolf Hitler, who became enslaved to him, and indeed, even before he seized the leadership for himself.

112. Steinschneider/Hanussen emerged as a middle man between the Thule Society and Hitler, and, so to speak, directed Adolf Hitler according to the Thule Society's leaders' will.

113. The efforts of the leaders at that time of the Thule Society went out for the acquisition of world domination; consequently, already very early on, they allowed Steinschneider to influence and shape Hitler in this direction, by what means this then began, in accordance with their will, with terror and murder, to trigger World War II in the end.

114. At the same time, Steinschneider became ever more powerful in the course of time, with respect to his domination over Adolf Hitler, which didn't appeal to various people who were against Hitler and his machinations.

115. The consequence of this was that they allowed Steinschneider, alias Hanussen, to be murdered in 1933, but this didn't change anything in Hitler's attitude and course; therefore, he became more and more of a monster, as you would say.

116. It's interesting to know that Adolf Hitler was born on 4/20/1889 in Braunau, Upper Austria, and Hermann Steinschneider, alias Eric Jan Hanussen, was born in Vienna, also in the year 1889.

117. Thus, both were Austrians. –

118. What is to be said further in relation to your question is that Adolf Hitler had already been instructed by our forces through telepathic impulses in his earliest youth, in terms of his determinations and guidelines, and indeed, on an ongoing basis and at every place where he always stayed.

119. Thus, he was also under constant control.

120. At the same time, he learned a lot, and everything started off very well, until he went to Vienna to enjoy an artistic education, at which he then failed, however.

121. From that point in time, he rapidly fell more and more toward the negative and evil; consequently, he soon fell outside of our control, and our telepathic impulse attempts remained fruitless.

122. From then on, he not only developed an unhealthy ambition but also an uncontrollable fanaticism as well as a hatred for all life, which he considered from his viewpoint as imperfect.

123. From this, everything that resulted later from his thoughts and actions and that brought million-fold misery across the Earth developed within a short time.

Billy:

And how should it be understood, that he, by force, should give to the Earth a new style and new forms of development? You never told us any more details about it. What must we think of this?

Ptaah:

124. Logical enforced non-violence, which means in this case that he should have taken all humane possibilities into consideration, in order to give weight to his destiny and to fulfill this.

125. However, enforced non-violence, in this sense, means that the necessary changes should be proclaimed and be implemented through weighty decrees, in order to create the goal of world peace and a united Earth world through a truly peaceful mission.

126. Acts of war were never taken into consideration because these are not only unlawful against Creation, inhumane, and destructive but also promoting of hatred and against all reason.

127. Thus, if there was talk of "by force," then it was only in the sense of the enforced non-violence that should have rested in decrees and regulations that could be implemented peacefully.

128. Nevertheless, Adolf Hitler ignored this and violated this guideline in the worst way; consequently, immeasurable misery and millions of deaths came over the Earth-humans.

Billy:

And that in no way justified all his knowledge in various things.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_385

Billy:

About Adolf Hitler, who started World War II. To this day it is still unclear how this mass murderer killed himself. Do you know about that? It is always claimed that he poisoned himself, while others claim that he fled to Spain or South America.

Urlana:

22. These matters are all part of my knowledge.

23. Adolf Hitler, fearing that his suicide might fail, robbed himself of his life in two ways: first he took a cyanide capsule, which he bit and swallowed, and then he immediately put a handgun in his mouth and shot himself in the brain with it, the bullet then escaping at the side of the back of his head.

24. His remains were secretly buried by the Russians in East Germany, where they were dug up again in 1975 and thrown away so that no neo-Nazi cult site could be established.

25. Parts of the skull and dentures were brought to Russia, where they are still kept today.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_463

Billy:

Once again a question regarding Adolf Hitler: You have clearly explained to me that he committed suicide in Berlin on the 30th of April 1945 and was then burned to death. The Russians then buried his few remains left over from the cremation several times, dug them up again and finally brought them to Moscow. In recent times, when the bone material was released for analysis, it was also possible to prove that these were really the remains of Hitler. Now, however, recently various people, such as a certain Giordan Smith – perhaps an invented name – have been claiming that Dölfi's death was only invented, by the British, who only invented the story of the suicide to damage the reputation of National Socialism. This damage to the reputation, a psychological warfare, so to speak, was intended to break the will of the German people to resist the foreign occupiers.

Ptaah:

51. This assertion is pure nonsense, because Adolf Hitler actually committed suicide, as my father Sfath has told you at the time when the event took place, which he also observed himself, as I know from his notes.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_520

Ptaah:

20. Hitler, who himself was partly of Jewish descent, took the false 'Protocols' and used them to fulfil his lust for power, for his criminal work and to trigger the Second World War.

21. With the help of the falsified 'Protocols of the Wise Men of Zion' he incited himself and the German population against the Jews, finding particularly diligent supporters for his anti-Jewish propaganda among those who glorified him and with whom he was able to build up the Nazi system.

22. And it is a fact that Adolf Hitler's plans for world conquest, which were criminal to humanity, were only discovered through the wrong 'protocols', with the old Thule Society supporting him in his mania for war and world domination.

23. Only through this it was also possible, against false 'chroniclers' and false 'factual experts' in the matter of Adolf Hitler etc., that this fanatical and insane criminal of humanity could lead the world into the Second World War and the Holocaust.

24. But fanatics and lunatics in the matter of Jew-hatred existed and exist in many countries on Earth, whereby nowadays especially the neo-Nazis in Germany, Russia and the USA have to be mentioned.

25. But even before the Second World War, the USA made a big name for itself in terms of hatred of Jews as a result of the book of the 'Protocols of the Wise Men of Zion', whereby the automobile giant Henry Ford stood out in particular, who had malicious and hateful inflammatory writings against Judaism printed in huge editions and spread them everywhere.

26. Hitler of course did not remain unaware of this activity, although it is worth noting that the hatred of Jews did not find such good ground to flourish in the USA as it did in Germany.

27. It was only after the Second World War that the great neo-Nazi movement emerged in the USA, nationwide and in various groups.

28. Hitler took a liking to Henry Ford's anti-Semitism, just as many conspiracy theorists, neo-Nazis and other right-wing extremists of all kinds still have anti-Semitic tendencies today and live them out in an incredibly deep hatred of Jews.

...

Billy:

Again and again there are TV broadcasts about whether it can be proven that Hitler really committed suicide and therefore is really dead. You have already explained earlier that this crime against humanity really did commit suicide together with his wife Eva Braun and is not a fugitive from Berlin to Argentina or the South Pole, as conspiracy theorists have been claiming since the 1940s. So in 1945 the Russians actually found the burnt bodies of Hitler and Eva Braun above the leadership bunker in Berlin, but not the bodies of doppelgangers, as is claimed. That is one thing, while the other question is whether or not children were born out of the relationship between Hitler and Eva Braun. Conspiracy theorists claim that the two of them fathered at least two children who were taken to safety somewhere in Norway.

Ptaah:

38. Adolf Hitler and Eva Braun undoubtedly killed themselves, were then doused with petrol and burned beyond recognition.

39. The Russian military then also found the remains of the two and secured them.

40. But as far as the children are concerned, who according to conspiracy theorists were conceived by Adolf Hitler and Eva Braun and brought to safety in Norway, this is not true.

41. The two of them did not sire any offspring.

42. Hitler himself was severely ill with syphilis, was addicted to pervitin, suffered from Parkinson's syndrome, chronic conjunctivitis as well as intestinal inflammation and very bad teeth, and in addition he was delusionally damaged in consciousness.

43. He was constantly under strong drug influence, as he was constantly using against 100 different drugs, of which various painkillers, nerve poisons and also prohibited substances.

44. Just on the basis of these facts alone, the question is how this man should have fathered offspring.

Billy:

One must indeed ask oneself that. But can you explain to me what the 'pervitin addiction' is all about? What is Pervitin?

Ptaah:

45. It is an amphetamine that many addicts still use today, although the current name is known as the party drug meth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_616

Billy:

... I can still hear your father's voice in my memory today, when he told me that Hitler was a liar, a criminal of humanity, a psychopath and a perfect actor, who also suffered from megalomania, which he dictatorially implemented from the very beginning of his power through his degenerated destructive instinct, no matter that he had to go over millions of corpses and tremendous destruction. Furthermore, Sfath said, Hitler was extremely cowardly and 'shot himself out of life' when the time came for him to face accountability. That by this he meant Hitler's suicide, I actually understood that, but only realized it later, when he actually shot himself. I remember that your father also said that Hitler had fallen prey to a degenerated mania of annihilation and destruction that had arisen in him at the beginning of his puberty, between the ages of ten and twelve. The reason for this was because his father mistreated him and physically maltreated him, but also demolished him psychologically. His mother was also to blame, for she had been mentally ill and had therefore raised Adolf Hitler wrongly from her side. Hitler simply let himself go, and he did not try to get a good education for himself, said Sfath, because he had truly alienated himself from his parents, and with regard to all the things that had an effect on him he had never sought blame on himself, but always only on others. So, your father said, Adolf Hitler saw himself in his childhood and youth as a victim of others and his environment, by which he also apologized for his constant failure, but swore that he would take revenge on all the human beings if he ever gained power. As a psychopath, Hitler, on the other hand, contrary to the fact that he constantly saw himself as the victim of others, was fully aware that through his suggestive speeches he could seduce his fellow men and bring them to his side, which he also used abundantly to gain advantages and power over others, which ultimately led to him establishing the NAZI system in Germany and being elevated to the status of leader. Truthfully, Hitler also had a death instinct, as Sfath said, which not only related to himself, but also resulted in the death mania of countless other people and the boundless destructive rage. And by this far-reaching madness he could also instil hatred into the German people and all those people who have attached hatred to him and his fanatical and radical speeches, who spoke after his madness and put everything into action in the worst way possible. He was as suggestive in his speeches as many other people are who suggestively rake their fellow men with fanatical and radical utterances, allegations, lies, speeches and slander and make them commit murders, develop hatred against whole groups and peoples as well as races, religions and sects. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_662

Billy:

The consciousness-ill and megalomaniac Adolf Hitler, who was God-fearing and Bible-loyal and also an eighth part Jew, saw himself as a Messiah who wanted to fulfil the prophecies of the 'New Testament' on behalf and in the name of 'God' and thereby also support the Christian churches.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_676

Billy:

... Recently there was once again a visitor here, who unfortunately is unteachably following conspiracy theories and of course does not allow himself to be taught any better, as is so usual. This time it was about that our visitor service was covered with the old nonsense of the adventurous "Schwachsinn-Theorie", which claims that the corpses of Hitler and Eva Braun had been brought after their suicide on the 30th of April, 1945 on a secret submarine with the designation U-977 into a Nazi bunker in Antarctica which was also secret. There clone experiments are said to have been carried out in order to save the genes of the leader and to resurrect him as a clone. So in this respect secret research is said to have been done and to continue to be done, which of course awakens crazy rumours that Hitler and his Eve were alleged to be sleeping deep under Antarctica. Keywords like 'Hitler in Antarctica' or 'Russian researchers have drilled Lake Vostok in Antarctica' can be found everywhere on the internet. The underwater world, untouched for millions of years, not only promises an unknown ecosystem, but also awakens memories of the Nazi leader Hitler – for in Russia there are crazy rumours circulating about a Hitler clone station in the Antarctic, for which the question is asked: "Are Hitler and his beloved buried there? But what has to do with the subglacial Lake Vostok is the fact that a Russian Antarctic research team has reached the surface of Lake Vostok with a special drill at a depth of 3769.30 metres, which corresponds to a great scientific success of Antarctic research. According to the Itar-Tass agency, this was communicated by the Ministry of Natural Resources and disseminated worldwide. But this successful Antarctic research now also leads to the fact that at the same time the rumours are boiling up again regarding Adolf Hitler and Eva Braun – who married this mankind criminal before the suicide – whose corpses were taken after the suicide to a secret Nazi bunker in Antarctica near Lake Vostok, according to idiotic rumours, in order to allegedly carry out clone experiments there. The stupid conspiracy theory claims that the Nazi leader ordered the construction of two underground bases in Antarctica to begin as early as 1940. But the whole conspiracy theatre goes even further, because some time ago it was possible to read, for example, in the British 'Sun' about a 'New Berlin' of the Nazis, because some time ago Russian researchers found remains of a Nazi research station in the Arctic, which was built 600 km away from the North Pole. But why this was not also at the South Pole resp. in the Antarctic or on the backside of the moon, where the Nazis – according to conspiracy theories – are also supposed to have been, that is just as strange, as that once more the mysterious Atlantis, as well as the Illuminati, are used and associated with a Hitler-Nazi bunker cloning station, as any extraterrestrials are associated with an alien Antarctic station or a giant asteroid. To all this I have searched the internet and found something on Wikipedia, which I present to you here, if you want to read it please, because it also has some interesting things. Of course I already know from your father Sfath what happened to Hitler and his wife and that the Nazis were also briefly in Antarctica, as I also know about the misguided conspiracy theory, but I would like to hear briefly what you have to say about it.

Ptaah:

3. I know the absurdity of this conspiracy theory, as well as what you have just said, but I will not fail to read what you have copied from the Internet. ...

{article duplicated in Contact Report 676}

4. What you have here copied from Wikipedia corresponds to the effective facts as they are contained in my father's annals.

5. Accordingly, I can confirm that the information given in these documents is correct in relation to the conspiracy theory as well as in relation to the research findings and clarifications of Summerhayes etc., which cannot be doubted.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_709

Billy:

The death rune, as well as others, has its origin in the Germanic culture, like Odin resp. Wotan and Thor resp. Donar. For centuries, the mysterious inscriptions have inspired the imagination of so-called scientists and laymen, as they also do in modern myths. Nowadays, especially in Europe, but also all over the world, runes are associated with Nazis and neo-Nazis, and partly rightly so, because in the Third Reich, dictator Adolf Hitler ran a cult around the runes. But the fact is that even today, more than 70 years after the Third World War of 1939-1945, the rune of death and other runes are used as a sign of recognition by many mad imitators of the former NAZIS, who stupidly out themselves as young Nazis. The harmful and disastrous false peace sign, which falsely and peace-destroyingly represents an upside-down tree of life, is extremely popular in the left-wing scene and among peace activists. However, these ignorant, uneducated people who are misled with regard to the false peace symbol are not aware, and to this day are not aware, that they are promoting harm, discord, war, murder and manslaughter with this false symbol. The false peace symbol, which is effectively a death sign, became popular through the hippies, who made it a trademark for themselves. The rune symbol is effectively a rune that does not mean peace, but death and destruction. Almost nobody knows that the peace sign, which is used worldwide, is actually a rune and the symbol of death. As a peace sign, the rune should stylise life, so the symbol should represent a tree growing upwards, which effectively symbolises life or the beginning of life. The inverted tree of life, however, as depicted in the false peace symbol, stands for death and the end of life. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_733

Billy:

... I just want to say that the idiotic conspiracy theories are absolute nonsense, that Hitler and his Eva fled to Argentina. There must have been a Hitler lookalike and an Eva lookalike who were 'built up' as Hitler and Eva Braun during years of hard training in the 1930s, and consequently both became so perfect in their roles that the uninitiated could not tell the difference between them and the real thing. Only the two closest confidants around Hitler knew the truth, for all those involved in 'building up' and training the two doubles were liquidated. These doubles were also provided with false papers in the names of Hitler and his Eva Braun, just as they were given false papers and fled to Argentina when the Soviets attacked, while Hitler himself and his wife Eva holed up in the Führer bunker in Berlin and really blessed their time. The lie, however, is that the criminal killed himself and his wife, because he was too cowardly to do so, so he and Eva Braun were shot by 2 fanatics who listened to him, which was then presented as suicide and also recorded as such. Hitler himself was really too cowardly to shoot his Eva and commit suicide, after which the two executioners, loyal and completely obedient to Hitler until death, killed him and his Eva Braun on the 30th of April 1945 at 15:33 hrs with two shots to the head. The two Hitler confidants had already held discussions about this days before, during which the two Hitler fanatics swore to draw up false, lying protocols, just as the two Hitler fanatics also vowed to maintain silence about everything until their deaths and to let Hitler continue to exist as an allegedly courageous suicide hero even after his death. This explains from the point of view of reality how it actually happened and what actually happened, completely different from the lying and falsified protocols and the later statements of the two murderers.

...

It should now be clear, even without this matter, that Eva Braun and Hitler were not shot by two of his fanatical followers on his orders, because the scumbag was too cowardly to judge himself, and therefore two of his followers took matters into their own hands in order to save him from capture by the Soviets and from their brutality, etc. It is to be regretted that Eva Braun and Hitler were not shot by the Soviets, because the scumbag was too cowardly to judge himself. Eva Braun was to be pitied here, who was horrified when the two Hitler confidants appeared and announced to them that the Soviets were approaching and also explained what they were now going to do and then also shot without further ado with their pistols, which they already had in their hands when they entered, so that Hitler and Eva Braun or Hitler could not even say anything back.

Adolf Hitler and Eva Braun had also surrounded themselves with two pairs of doppelgängers, which was largely concealed and thus kept secret, as was the fact that they sometimes came to the fore while Hitler or Eva Braun were elsewhere in safety. One of the two pairs of doppelgängers was so similar to the originals that no differences could be discerned, so to speak, also with regard to the way of speaking, the movements, the behaviour and mannerisms. Therefore, during certain appearances, not even Hitler's direct staff noticed that Hitler pushed his practically perfect doppelgänger forward when an appearance seemed too risky. Also, there were never any suspicions, etc., because only his two fanatics knew about the whole thing, who then shot Hitler and his wife, who was finally married to him, so that they would not fall into Russian captivity, of which Hitler was hellishly afraid. The two fanatics were then practically the executioners who executed Hitler and Eva Braun, because Hitler was too cowardly to do so, although he had been proclaiming for some time that he would kill himself if everything went wrong. But when the time came that his delusion of world domination did not come true, he broke down psychologically and staggered around in the bunker like a sad heap of misery, and then, full of miserable fear and cowardice, he hid in the bunker with his wife, whereupon the two fanatics who had listened to him joined forces and decided to kill their boss and his wife before the Russians could get hold of him, the man obsessed with world domination. So the two conspirators went into the room of Hitler and Eva Braun, where they both sat on a couch and were murdered. First Hitler was shot by his personal aide-de-camp and body servant and then, a few seconds later, Eva Braun, who was Mrs Hitler. But the two executioners concealed this all their lives and, moreover, falsified this fact mendaciously, because they knew very well that they would have been made to pay for it and would also have been shot away from the present by Hitler's SS killer comrades of the bunker crew, etc., even after the war by neo-Nazis and other Hitler fanatics. And since they remained silent, it never became known what really happened at that time, so nothing of these secret events ever reached the public, just as nothing ever reached the ears of the Russians and Americans. And the two executioners were able to keep this secret all their lives.

Well, actually, I wanted to say something more about the Hitler affair, namely that the Hitlerian lookalike couple, who had been cut out of Hitler's and Eva Braun's faces, bodies, language and manner of speaking, as well as their movements, mannerisms and behaviour, fled to Argentina, where more than 18,000 Nazi henchmen had also fled. Sfath explained that, years before the world war, the doppelgänger couple had secretly rehearsed and learned Hitler's movements, speeches, behaviour, etc., so that they could perform in Hitler's manner without being bothered. Thus this Hitler-Eva-Braun lookalike couple also acted as doubles in the Reich for photographs and films, such as private life recordings, which were also distributed as 'real' Hitler-Eva-Braun films and as 'real' Hitler-Eva-Braun photos, thus deceiving the Reich people and the world.

... If the Nazi researchers who were working on it {secret invention of Nikola Tesla} at the time had been able to complete the invention entirely, and before Hitler, together with his wife who had married him shortly before, was shot by his servants in his bunker in Berlin, then he would have become the ruler of the world with this weapon.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_786

Quetzal:

The state powers and the people who agree to everything have learned nothing from the NAZI methods of the last world war, because they are doing exactly the same as the NAZIs did. They are applying the same and very vicious and freedom-robbing coercive methods to the people as the NAZIs already did, namely that those human beings will be punished who will not submit to the freedom-robbing coercive measures. It is strange, even the NAZI leader at that time, Adolf Hitler, came from Austria. Although he was born in Braunau am Inn on the 20th of April 1889, I know that he actually began his life in Vienna. In Germany, however, he then carried out his degenerate actions and behaviour and led earthly humanity into the catastrophe of the world war. He did this with the help of the people cheering him on, who, believing in him, thoughtlessly went along with the whole disaster, which ultimately claimed millions of human lives. The non-self-thinking of the majority of the people, i.e. stupidity, was unfortunately as widespread as it still is today. And with regard to the announced compulsory vaccination, this equally results in what had led to the world war at that time and had ignored that minority which had actually thought for itself and consequently was against what the majority thoughtlessly and as stupid followers believed this Adolf Hitler as well as followed his henchmen.

Billy:

... Hitler did the same thing with Pervitin, just in a different way. Mankind, however, knows nothing about it, because everything is concealed from it, also what and who Hitler, whose real name was Hiedler, really was, that was and still is stubbornly concealed.

Ptaah:

That is indeed the case. He was not only a substance abuser as well as a drug addict, but really a nobody by origin, who was also incestuously conceived, by his father with his own daughter, who was therefore Hitler's sister. Moreover, he was not only mentally ill since childhood, but also suffered from episodic schizophrenia.

Hobo – word origin

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Hobo#Etymology>

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_503

Billy:

... But there is another question: In the USA there are the so-called railroad tramps called 'hobo', but there are impossible stories about what this 'hobo' means and where the term comes from, because the real origin and meaning is unknown. The fact is, however, that certain old railway tramps called themselves 'railway god', as Quetzal once told me, who had studied these 'hobos'.

Ptaah:

57. That is probably correct, because Quetzal was very intensively occupied with the railway history of the USA and therefore also with the railroad tramps and their origin.

Billy:

He also found out that the first railroad tramp was an Ecuadorian who said that as a railroad tramp he felt like a 'hobo', so the term quickly spread throughout the US. And he must have known this term from Ecuador (Ecuador), because there God was called 'Hoba' and 'Hobo'.

Ptaah:

58. That is correct.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Holocaust_victims

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_238

Ptaah:

254. I have very extensive knowledge of both the First and Second World Wars on the Earth.

255. There is probably no section in this respect to which I could not give you exhaustive information regarding any questions.

Billy:

Thank you, then I would like to ask you the following question: How many people were murdered by the Nazi regime in view of the fact that they were of Jewish faith or otherwise Jewish? In short, the question is actually: How many Jews and Jewish allies were murdered by the Nazi Gentiles, etc.? In this regard, it was explained to me that the figures given by Jewish organisations did not correspond to the truth, that it was indeed much fewer Jews who were killed by the Nazi regime than is claimed. This question and explanation came to me from the American side.

Ptaah:

256. This explanation is also correct.

257. Truthfully not 6 to 8 million Jews were murdered, but only 4.07 million of them, if I may speak of ONLY with regard to murdered human lives.

258. The deceitful figure of 6 to 8 million Jewish deaths is a pure and maliciously purposeful invention, through which things were achieved with the help of the world so that an Israelite state could be established that could not have been accomplished otherwise.

259. The lying assertion that more than 6 or 8 million Jewish believers have been murdered by the Nazi regime is only a purpose- and profit-related work of people, who are still at work today, who terrorise the world with discord and murder, mostly by the secret service minions, who do not want constant peace, but only more power and more land and so on.

260. What is fact, however, with regard to murders in the Third Reich by the Nazi regime, is that not only Jewish believers in the number of 4.07 million, but also Jewish friends, Jewish helpers and other Jews were murdered by gassing, shooting, drowning, burning, killing, hanging, starvation and medical experiments, etc.

261. But also criminals of all kinds were killed in the same process, as well as antisocial people of all kinds, alcoholics, drug addicts, lunatics, confused ones, mentally ill ones and mongoloids as well as terminally ill ones, etc. etc.

262. Gypsies such as Sinti and Roma members were also abducted, put in concentration camps and murdered, along with many others who were not sympathetic to the Nazi regime or who violated its insane rules or simply did not fit into its concept.

263. In this way, in addition to the actual believers in Judaism, there were their further 3.73 million humans who were very often cruelly handed over to death by the Nazi regime.

264. Thus, in the end, there were a total of 7.8 million people who were murdered by racist and cleansing-action machinations of the Nazis, which corresponds to about one-sixth of the total number of all war victims of the Second World War.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_823

Billy:

... At that time, Adolf Hitler also came into play, and that already during the World War 1914 to 1918, when he, as an Austrian, assimilated in Germany and went to war together with Jew-haters, who indoctrinated him with their hatred of Jews and he became an unparalleled Jew-hater. When he then managed to come to power in Germany and proclaimed the 'Great German Reich', the persecution of the Jews really began, forming the Holocaust and millions upon millions were murdered in gas chambers, beaten to death and shot. ...

Hyperborea / Hyperboreans

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Hyperborea> see also Atlantis

see also Mu (lost continent)

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_039

Billy:

Okay, then I have another question regarding Mount Shasta. I have already talked about this with Semjase, but something still seems unclear to me. Semjase told me that distant descendants of the Hyperboreans now live in Mount Shasta, on the Aleutian Islands, and in Alaska. Henoah, however, and also Jmmanuel, spoke of "the winds between the East and West" or between the "North and West." From this, I always thought that the "green land" of the Hyperboreans, so Hyperborea, must have been somewhere far up north, in Greenland or something. But now, this does not make sense any more with Mount Shasta. What should I now think of this?

Ptaah:

187. At the time of Henoah, the North Pole was situated differently than what is the case today.

188. Through cosmic influences and through an upset of the Earth, the North Pole at that time shifted far to the west.

189. The central point of the North Pole at that time is identical to present day Florida in America.

190. The Polar Regions at the time of Henoah were wondrous landscapes, filled with palms and other tropical vegetation. ...

196. Similar conditions can still be found today in the former Hyperborea, so in Florida.

Billy:

That is fantastic! But can you tell me exactly where at the North Pole this Hyperborea lay?

Ptaah:

197. It lay exactly where the land is still called "Greenland" today, whereby the actual North Pole of that time is not identical with today's North Pole.

Billy:

So Greenland; as far as I know, this means "grassland" in the German language.

Ptaah:

198. That is so.

199. Tir nan Og lay there.

Billy:

What is that?

Ptaah:

200. Green Land and Land of Youth.

201. But at that time, it was today's Florida.

Billy:

So then Heracles, Gilgamesh, Henoah, Jmmanuel, Amitabah, Methusalem and Noah and all others were up there and not in Florida?

Ptaah:

202. In Hyperborea, in Florida, when it was still at the spot where today, the land still means grassland.

203. But Jmmanuel was not there because he was already in Florida, where it is to be found today.

...

Semjase:

260. Mount Shasta is an old volcanic mountain with a partially still unexplored area in America, or more precisely, in northern California.

261. The mountain is very rocky and extremely difficult to climb.

262. In the interior of the mountain itself is a small city, which is inhabited by descendants of extraterrestrials and which, here and there, also receives a visit from their space brothers from outer space.

263. It is a very majestic race, peaceful and good, but which anxiously strives not to be discovered by Earth-humans.

264. The entrance to their very deeply underground city is well camouflaged under the eastern mountain peak, and it is impossible for Earth-humans to find it.

265. But if Earth-humans are ever found in their proximity, then they are made imperceptibly unable to move or distracted by the beam weapons that most of the city dwellers carry on themselves for security reasons.

266. Their golden spaceships of a spherical form – for they master spaceflight – can sometimes be seen when they do not protect these from view.

267. Human beings of this race are very well-proportioned in their appearance.

268. Their hair is mostly natural blond, long, and curly, which is very fit for their graceful, Hyperborean nature.

269. Sometimes, despite their shyness of Earth-humans, they go into their villages to conduct unrecognised bartering with them, after which they depart and flee in a great hurry, however, if Earth-humans come too close to them.

270. But Mount Shasta is not the only place where this race lives, for already at very early times, they divided themselves into three smaller peoples, with the other two living unrecognised and deep underground on the Aleutian Islands and in Alaska.

271. The whole population amounts to just about 700 human beings.

Billy:

That is fantastically interesting, and now, a few things dawn on me. But you have just said something about their appearance, from which I could infer that with this race living underground, it concerns very distant descendants of the real Hyperboreans.

Semjase:

272. You infer correctly.

Billy:

Man, that is incredible! Then these would, indeed, be the descendants or distant descendants of those who, 180,000 or 190,000 years ago, carried out the actual decolonisation in the form that can be regarded, then, as the early history of the current human race, at least for the white race.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_069

Billy:

... were the gods and demigods of Greek mythology such settlers from space?

Semjase:

60. Sure, they were a splinter group of descendants of the Hyperboreans.

Billy:

Oh well, now I understand to some extent the connections, good old Heracles said some very wondrous things, which just refer to it. But now I wonder how big these Hyperborean descendants must have been, because with Asket I once had the opportunity to see something that will probably remain closed to the Earth-human forever. And exactly according to what I saw, these Greek mythology gods or demigods must have been several meters tall. Heracles alone must have measured about three metres, right?

Semjase:

61. Sure.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_070

{Note: see also Contact Report 703:23-25 for further clarifications of this section.}

Semjase:

129. ... the distant land in the northern regions, where the climate was moderate and very good.

130. These were those regions, which are traditionally known to you as Hyperborea, and which were far in the north, before an upset of the Earth shifted its axis, so that the then regions exist today where you name Florida.

...

132. Named after Arus the Second, the India of today was at that time called Arien, which, however, split off from Hyperborea after a few centuries, after 210 years, to be exact, and joined with the inhabitants of Mu and Agharta, while from Hyperborea, Arus the First constantly troubled Mu and Greater Atlantis by wicked war activities, in order to become their ruler.

...

136. So it only remains for me to report that Arus the Eleventh, as a very distant descendent of Arus the First, was murdered in his old age many thousands of years later, and around a hundred-thousand years after the destruction of Mu and Atlantis, by his third-born son Jehavon, after which this one took over command of the hater-people, in order to rule these and three Earthly peoples and the Hyperboreans himself.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_505

Billy:

So then: First, a question about Mount Shasta respectively about the distant descendants of extraterrestrials who lived there, which I talked about several times with your daughter Semjase, but also with you. ...

Quetzal once told me outside of an official conversation that you took all the inhabitants from Mount Shasta and on the Aleutian Islands and in Alaska.

Ptaah:

53. That is correct.

54. We have tried to get all the inhabitants of the three places to return to their peoples, with whom they have always been in contact.

55. We gave them the reasons for our own withdrawal from the Earth, which led to their withdrawal.

56. Their dwellings and all the trappings have returned them to their original earthly state, so that there is no longer anything to indicate their former presence.

57. The process in this regard was the same as in the pyramid of Giza and on Mars.

Billy:

I understand. So then you did not take them away yourselves, but they left of their own accord with those who came from their original homeland, but simply on your advice. I have misunderstood something. But can you tell me where these human beings actually belonged, respectively to which people?

Ptaah:

58. That is not a secret.

59. They were distant descendants of a lineage of the old Lyrians, to which they also returned.

Billy:

Then they are, so to speak, related to you, the Plejaren, because the Plejaren peoples came out of the old Lyrians.

Ptaah:

60. That is correct.

Billy:

Thank you. So there is now nothing in Mount Shasta, Alaska, or the Aleutian Islands that indicates their former presence?

Ptaah:

61. That is also correct.

Billy:

And may we know what you told them that they went away?

Ptaah:

62. That is not a secret.

63. The reason was that we too had abolished our stations on Earth and returned them to their natural original state, but it was important that we had included the inhabitants of all three places in our protection, which was not given after we had left.

64. So a further stay on Earth would have been too dangerous for them.

Ica Stones

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ica_stones

<https://museocientificojaviercabrera.com/>

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_212

Billy:

Then another question regarding the 'engraved stones of Ica', which should have been 'excavated' since the early sixties, namely in the desert of Ocucaje in Peru, or in the vicinity of the provincial capital, Ica. The figures engraved into the stones, so it is claimed, are supposed to have originated at least 100 million years ago, produced by people of a civilisation of a very high level. Thus, the engravings show, for example, technological devices that, nowadays, find their use in optics and in surgery, etc. Even transplants are illustrated by the engravings, but also extinct prehistoric animals of various kinds. There are even engravings to be found on the stones that show human beings or human-like creatures on flying dinosaurs, etc. These matters became known at the beginning of the seventies. The stones were kept in Lima in the 'Centro Aeronautico', but basically, more than 10,000 strange exhibits like this should be in the so-called 'stone library' of a certain Dr. Javier Cabrera in Ica. Do you know what's going on with these engraved stones?

Quetzal:

72. The whole thing is well-known to me.

73. The engraved stones are forgeries that trace back to a man named Basilio Ochuas, who engraved forms that he took from newspapers, magazines, and professional journals into the ancient stones.

74. Ochuas was a grave robber who earned his living thereby, namely by desecrating old graves and stealing the grave-goods, which he sold to tourists and collectors.

75. Then, over time, also several family members helped the forger to engrave the stones, on the basis of the drawings that Basilio Ochuas had made from the newspapers and journals.

The Ice Man Ötzi (Urk / Onde)

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/%C3%96tzi>

<https://www.iceman.it/en/>

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_238

Ptaah:

586. The next thing will happen in the Oetzal Mountains, on the Similaun glacier.

587. There the mummified remains, or more precisely the mummified corpse of a man will be found who has lost his life there 5,105 years ago and was preserved by nature's forces.

588. His death happened at that time in such a way that he fell (Note by CF: not just from standing to the ground, but some distance down) – caused by an epileptic fit – and was severely injured by one of his own arrows when he fell on his back, just at the moment when a primeval ice storm started.

589. As a member of a group of 14 persons who had camped there in the mountains, he was left laying on the ground because of his critical injury. Since the remaining 13 human beings were fully occupied with saving their own lives, they did not care for him.

590. Nevertheless, not all of them survived, as several of them died in the ice needle storm.

591. The storm covered the mountains under (a) thick (layer of) ice, and in it the corpse of the "fallen one" remained mummified and preserved until today; so it (he? the corpse) will be found this year around the 20th of September by a mountain hiker, together with his equipment, like clothes and weapons, etc.

Billy:

Fantastic. Do you also know what the man and his comrades wanted to do on the mountain, and who the man was, and where he came from?

Ptaah:

592. Certainly, I can give you precise information.

593. His name was Urk, and he belonged to the sib of the Suren (plural), to a tribal community which lived on pile-dwellings. This was in Switzerland and before the time when the Vikings were settling in Central Switzerland and the other parts of Switzerland.

594. The pile-dwellings of the tribal community of the Suren were located in the banks of Lake Zurich, from where they took long expeditions which led them to the Mediterranean Sea and to the North Sea, to the Atlantic Ocean and even to the Bosphorus.

595. At his death, Urk was exactly 37 years and 8 months old, and to be exact, 17 days.

596. The reason why he and his group was so far away from home in the Oeztal Mountains, was that he as the chief of his sib and as an influential man was in connection with our forbearers. Through them he gained certain knowledge and lived – just as all members of his entire sib – according to certain rules of our making.

597. Thus, they obeyed the hygienic rules which had been put up by us at much earlier times, which also related to the removal of unhygienic body hair growth.

598. After having been informed by our forebearers about the wideness of the countries in the East, many of the sib of the Suren felt an urge for the East. That's why they set off under the guidance of their tribal chief Urk to discover the far-away countries and to find valuable material, like crystals and ore in accordance with that time, and flints and all kind of other things.

Billy:

You could say then that this Urk was an original Swiss, so-to-say, whereby his mummified body would be brought to Switzerland. Research will surely be done on him, what then would righteously be the task of Swiss scientists, isn't it?

Ptaah:

599. If looked at it from a legal angle, it would have to be that way, that's right.

600. However, neither the Austrians nor the Italians will be drawn into this, and they will mutually claim the right on the mummified body because there will be border disputes regarding the location where the corpse will be found.

601. Of course they wouldn't pay any attention to my words and would call you a charlatan, cheat and liar, who would have purely invented my explanations, if you or someone else would make some claim on the mummy in the name of Switzerland.

Billy:

That's clear to me. – But why, that's my question, were your forbearers in contact with this Urk, and of what kind were they?

Ptaah:

602. The contact resulted from an unwanted stroke of fate, when a flying device of our forbearers had an accident.

603. Urk observed the emergency landing of the device and saved the life of two crew members when they – while exploring the surroundings – were attacked by a big bear and were severely injured, without having any chance to defend themselves in the first place.

604. From this happening resulted a deep friendship between Urk and the two space travellers, and so human beings of a still very primitive kind and very advanced form formed a very uncommon alliance.

605. Urk, who was naturally gifted and contrary to his sib comrades very understanding and knowing to a good extent, learned fast and became the leader of his sib within less than three years. According to the standards of that time he was wealthy and influential to a great degree, whereby it was helpful that it was frequently observed that the flying devices were landing or starting, with whose passengers Urk liked to have long talks, and since he was often taken into the flying devices for trips to somewhere.

Billy:

At what age did he become the chief of the sib? And why didn't your forbearers help him in that blizzard?

Ptaah:

606. He was nearly 21 years old when he became the leader of his sib.

607. My answer to your second question is that our forbearers were not present when death came upon him, because they were occupied elsewhere and were absent for more than 18 years.

608. When they returned, Urk was already buried deep beneath the ice, and they let him lay there.

Billy:

... Urk, as you said, is the name of an ancient dead man who will be found in the Ötztal in the Austrian mountains. Do you know anything about whether the scientists will recognize his age and also whether they will find out how long Urk will have been there? I ask because Quetzal once explained that very precise old analyses with the conventional methods available to terrestrial man are very doubtful.

Ptaah:

822. The man was 37 years, 8 months and 17 days old, and he died 5,105 years ago, I told you already.

823. Your assumption is correct, however, that the time of his death is incorrectly calculated by the inadequate and erroneous methods of age determination of materials of every kind, because atomic changes occur when a certain sum of years is exceeded before which most plants and materials on Earth have changed so much due to cosmic-radioactive influences that by the radiocarbon method false results up to well over a thousand years in the age determination occur when the content of radioactive carbon is measured.

824. Depending on the level of radioactive carbon more or less, depending on whether the substance to be examined is younger or older than a thousand years or older than some more than 2600 years, which will appear in the case of Urk, whereby the earthly scientists will actually obtain a false result in the age determination, which should amount to about 50-70 years.

Billy:

If I understand correctly, then age determinations can be made very precisely with the radiocarbon method up to an age of one thousand years, according to which then for the next 1,600 years a somewhat stable result can be achieved, according to which then however false results of up to 1,000 years can appear, so something more than after an age of 2,600 years upwards, because cosmic radioactive influences changed the atomic and/or radioactive structures of the earthly organic and other materials.

Ptaah:

825. That was the meaning of my explanation.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_240

Billy:

... My first question refers to Urk: According to your explanations he belonged to the family of the Suras. We've been trying for months to find something about these Suras. During our search we found out that there is a surname SURENMANN in Switzerland and also the name Sure or Sur. Also Surenbach and Surenalp etc. are names or designations, which appear quite frequently. As a rule, these names and designations are associated with the Low German and Swiss German term 'Sur' or 'Sauer'. But somehow this doesn't seem logical to me, because I can hardly imagine that Urk's clan, the Suren, were called the Sauren, so to speak. I cannot find a plausible explanation for this. Could you perhaps explain to me what the term SUREN meant in Urk's time and what we have to understand by it today?

Ptaah:

23. The explanation for this is not subject to any secrecy.

24. SUREN is an ancient Celtic term that has also become established in various other languages, including all Germanic-Germanic languages.

25. The original term SURE literally means SUMPF and SUREN were the names of those people who settled in swampy terrain.

26. They built pile dwellings in the swamp area and lived there, which is why they were called SUREN – swamp dwellers.

27. SURE however, the swamp was called because the ground was acidic, according to the old Celtic term 'Sur'.

28. The family name SURENMANN now leads back in the direct lineage to the old SUREN, namely in the form that the inhabitants were called men and women from the Suren, which later resulted in the names Surenmann and Surenfrau, of which, as far as I know, only the masculine name is still in use today.

29. The name Surenalp originated from the fact that the terrain was marshy, according to which SUMPFALP would be said in today's language.

30. It is the same with the name Surenbach, which would be called 'Sumpf- bach' in today's language.

Billy:

Then the designations SUR or SAUER in this context actually only have the meaning or the value that they were word values for the acid swamp soil?

Ptaah:

31. That is correct.

Billy:

Well, then to the second part of the question: SURE, doesn't that have another value as well? During my research I came across the fact that the terms courage and daring must also be connected with this word.

Ptaah:

32. That is also correct.

33. A single member of the Suras was called Sura, but not only because it meant a single member of the Suras, but because it also meant courage and boldness.

34. The languages of those times were still very sparse in many respects and thus also with regard to different terms.

35. The swamp dwellers, the Suren, were regarded as very brave and bold because of their pile dwellings, which is why they were also called SURE SUREN, thus as bold and courageous swamp dwellers.

Billy:

Understood, then the Sura in the Qum-ran has nothing to do with it?

Ptaah:

36. No.

Billy:

Then it's just a word value in Arabic for the term 'chapter'.

Ptaah:

37. Certainly.

Billy:

Can you tell me what the name Urk means? Hans found out that in Holland there is a place by the sea called Urk.

Ptaah:

38. Urk has the meaning of 'the steadfast'.

Billy:

And the island or the place that was an island in Holland? Now the former island has become the mainland.

Ptaah:

39. Also the meaning for this case is the same – steadfastness – an island that stood firm against wind, storm and sea.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_347

Billy:

... You here, this article has been in the newspaper. It is about Urk.

Ptaah: (... Reads the article ...)

4. What these specialists have found out is indeed astonishing, but the assumption does not correspond to the facts that Urk was involved in a battle.
5. The truth is that Urk and 13 companions observed a life-and-death battle on the mountains of the Ötztal valley between six human beings of two rival groups or tribes who were killing each other.
6. When they were dead or dying, Urk and his companions ventured out of their hiding place and tried to save the dying, but they were unsuccessful.
7. And since Urk's weapons were already quite damaged from years of use, he partly took possession of the weapons and clothes of the already dead as well as of those who died under his and his companions' helping hands.
8. Urk himself was indeed not involved in the battle – neither were his companions – and was not murdered, for he was indeed killed by an unfortunate fall during an epileptic seizure in which one of the arrows he had captured penetrated his body and he was left to his fate by his companions – several of whom also lost their lives in the storm.
9. This is the real truth about Urk's death.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_367

Billy:

A question about the so-called Ötzi Urk, which means "the steadfast one". This name seems a bit strange to me, as if it wasn't of earthly origin. Was that really his real name, or was it given to him by your ancestors?

Ptaah:

62. The name Urk is actually derived from the Plejaren name.
63. Urk's real name was Onde, but the meaning of this name is unknown to me.
64. And before you ask, which will be inevitable, let me also say that the female name is Urka.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_451

Billy:

It is strange that scientists now believe that Urk was not alone and that a raid or something went down. It just seems to me that our contact talks play a crucial role in this, since they talk about Urk being on the road with 13 companions, and that everyone witnessed a life-or-death struggle between two other rival groups, with a number of deaths. It seems very suspicious to me that those who are tracking down Urk are now suddenly taking up our discussed facts and talking about the fact that Urk was not alone. Very odd.

Ptaah:

5. Actually, it seems strange to me that people are now talking about Urk not being alone.

Billy:

One more question: Why was only Urk's body found on, in or near the Similano glacier when several humans lost their lives there? How many were there altogether? Do you know that?

Ptaah:

6. The number of the dead, besides Urk, was another six.
7. Although the bodies were slightly covered up in the ice storm, they were taken by their relatives at a later time, before they were dragged away by wild carnivorous mountain animals and could serve them as food.
8. Only Urk's body remained untouched by them, because his companions left him lying there and simply buried him under ice floes, which spared him from the predators.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_555

Billy:

... Now I have a question about Urk, the Lake Zurich pile dweller who was killed in the Austrian Ötztal mountains. It must have been five or six years ago now, when after an official contact conversation, we discussed some special things in private, and then the speech also came to Urk, and you explained that he was actually a descendant of a southerner who left his southern homeland with his son Urk and moved north across the Alps, where he settled with lake dwellers on Lake Zurich, who accepted both into their clan. However, since our conversation was - among other things that were discussed – of a private nature, your statement in this regard is of course not written down. You also did not explain at the time why Urk and his father were actually recognised and accepted as strangers by the lake dwellers' clan. That was certainly not usual. And how did it happen that Urk then became the clan leader? And how did it come about that he undertook long journeys, which also led him to Austria for the last time, to the Ötztal Alps in Similaun, where he died. That would interest me. ...

Ptaah:

59. Urk, whose real name was Onde, and his father left their homeland after Urk's mother died and the father was a human being who constantly crossed over to the mainland and made major journeys that took him as far north as Lake Zurich, where he traded with the pile farmers.
60. So he was well known to them and was taken in by them together with Urk when they asked for admission after the death of Urk's mother.
61. The fact that Urk's father risked his life in an emergency situation for the pile dwellers also contributed to their acceptance.
62. As an original southern island dweller, Urk's father was also familiar with good fishing methods, so he taught these and other skills to the clan members, which led to his being appointed as successor when the clan leader died.
63. Unfortunately, he also died less than two years later, so Urk was appointed the new leader as a result of a new regulation.
64. Like his father, however, he was constantly and often for many months on the road, usually together with other clan members, to trade with other clans.
65. This was also how he came to the Ötztal Alps, where he died.

Jack the Ripper

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jack_the_Ripper

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_467

Ptaah:

24. But concerning 'Jack the Ripper' it is without doubt to say that it was a man who had fallen for a degenerated sexuality, which he fulfilled in prostitutes, in order to murder them, for which he used a dagger, but also a small sword and poison.
25. He also took organs from the dead, which he cooked and ate.
26. He was born in Canada, lived for some time in the USA and then in England.
27. The man's name was Thomas Neill Cream and he was a trained physician, but after several murders he came under suspicion, was arrested, charged and sentenced to death, after which he was hanged in 1892.
28. At the same time, however, a second man was making trouble in the same way, who prosecuted the royal house of Queen Victoria, but was never caught because he managed to evade justice and gave up his bloody activities after Thomas Neill Cream was arrested.

Billy:

A copycat. That's what we call copycats.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_524

Billy:

Now I would like to ask you which person was it that prosecuted the Queen Victoria royal family and murdered the prostitute?

Ptaah:

22. It was a grandson of the Queen, Prince Albert Victor, who murdered prostitutes because he secretly courted with them and then feared that they would publicly discredit him.

Billy:

By 'he courted with them' do you mean that he was their suitor and had love affairs with them?

Ptaah:

23. That is the meaning of my words.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_586

Billy:

At the 524th official contact conversation on the 30th of July 2011, we also spoke again about the same thing, but I am still interested in this matter. For example, on the internet his country of birth is mentioned as Scotland, whereas you said he was born in Canada. Recently, however, someone telephoned me and told me that the serial killer Thomas Neill Cream was a Scottish-born man and that he was also considered the first serial killer in modern legal history.

Ptaah:

88. That regarding the birth is not correct, because he was actually born in Canada, where his mother, in a very pregnant condition, was visiting an acquaintance and was looking for a suitable place where her family could settle, because they wanted to move from Scotland to Canada.

89. The whole thing was carried out in a secret operation, so even the neighbourhood of the Cream family knew nothing about it, and they were also not supposed to know.

90. Consequently, it was told that the mother was staying with a relative who was ill and needed nursing care.

91. So, when the time came, the mother gave birth to Thomas Neill in Canada, after which she returned to Scotland and announced the birth of her son and also registered the birth in Glasgow on the 27th of May 1850, hiding the fact that the birth had taken place in Canada.

92. No one was to know that the family wanted to emigrate to Canada.

93. So secret arrangements continued to be made for the emigration, which also took place four years later.

94. Thomas Neill Cream was then hanged as a serial killer in the United Kingdom on the 15th of November 1892, in Newgate Prison in London.

95. In fact, he was not the only serial killer of the time who committed his murders in England, but also in Australia and Brazil, for there was another one who was up to his murderous mischief, namely a grandson of Queen Victoria, Prince Albert Victor, who murdered prostitutes because he was secretly courting them and feared that they would discredit him publicly.

96. But at the same time there was a third man who spread fear and terror as a serial killer, namely a certain Frederick Bailey Deeming, who was born on the 30th of July 1853 and hanged on the 23rd of May 1892.

97. He also murdered his families and did his mischief in Australia, Paris and South America.

98. He also murdered several prostitutes, although it was only revealed that he cruelly killed his four children and two wives.

99. Neither was he 'Jack the Ripper', nor Prince Albert Victor, for Thomas Neill Cream was in fact the man who was given this title.

Billy:

So there was not only one serial killer at work in the same period, but there were three.

Ptaah:

100. That is correct.

101. This is also proven by my father's notes in this regard, which I studied.

Billy:

So then Sfath was following and recording such events.

Ptaah:

102. That is the case.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_654

Billy:

... Then I would like to come another time also on the topic 'Jack the Ripper', because as always there are again and again 'specialists', who put up new theories and assertions, who Jack the Ripper was. For example, there is a certain Dr. Gareth Norris who claims that he can prove that a certain Charles Allen Lechmere (d. 1920) was the killer Jack the Ripper. During various conversations, which you and I had privately and openly (see volume 11, page 373, 'Plejadisch-Plejarische Kontaktberichte'), it was explained, however, that a man named Dr. Thomas Neill Cream (born 27th May, 1850 – executed 15th November, 1892) was the mass murderer Jack the Ripper, who was then captured, sentenced to death and executed.

Ptaah:

65. These assertions are known to me and are based solely on confused speculations based on pseudoforensic assumptions and speculative constructs.

66. This is a construct that does not yield any empirically recognizable facts within the pseudo-scientifically pseudoforensically constructed presumption theory.

67. This presumption theory construct is based on a mental or even theoretical and imaginative nature that is alienated from any reality.

68. This means, then, that the facts in question, as presented by the various know-it-alls and 'specialists', do not exist, but are only thought up from various wrongly assumed and interpreted indicators or facts that are not comprehensible.

69. The false assertion, then, that the man Charles Allen Lechmere was Jack the Ripper – who actually existed and died in 1920 and never murdered, as our investigations at the time, which were carried out by my father because this Lechmere was also suspected at the time, revealed – actually corresponds only to an imaginative latent construct, or subliminal, hidden and concealed exploration of something unknown, or an assumption, following which it is a false operationalization.

70. And in Jack the Ripper's case this is done by the know-it-alls and 'experts' creating false concretisations of theoretical hypotheses and assumptions in connection with misinterpreted observable and measurable local conditions, whereby, however, the effective external influences – such as the presence and action of persons – are completely misinterpreted by the imagination.

Billy:

Wow, that's an explanation I have got to digest, but I can understand. Did you think you were in an auditorium?

Ptaah:

71. You think that I ...

Billy:

I think so, because it would also be easier, namely to simply say that the know-it-alls and 'experts', who try to reconstruct history in a forensic-theoretical way, simply take the existing circumstances, such as street, trees, houses and the place of the victim, into account. They look at everything else all around only in a presumptuous way, like people who are at the victim's place or appear in some other way, who prove them as such with suspicions through false suspicious and also judge their actions completely wrong and award them behaviours etc. which do not apply to them.

Ptaah:

72. You're right, it could be said so in a short way.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_672

Ptaah:

66. Jack the Ripper was a man by the name of Thomas Neill Cream, a trained physician who after committing several murders was arrested, charged, sentenced to death and hanged in 1892.

67. During the same time period as him, a second man performed his mischief in the same manner, who originated from the royal house of Queen Victoria, but who was never caught, because he ended his murdering again.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_750

Billy:

... I would better ask about Jack the Ripper one more time, because even today, this murderer still will not leave certain people alone, as a result of which they are still under the delusion, after more than 140 years, that they have to find the 'real' killer, who was, however, caught and executed.

Since the events of that time, it must have been 1888 or so, if I remember correctly, some 80 suspects have been linked to the crimes of Jack the Ripper, who murdered and mutilated 5 prostitutes in London, by 'pundits' and other 'know-it-alls' and 'researchers'. Now, recently, clever British researchers from Liverpool and Leeds again believe that they finally know the true identity of the London serial killer and would actually know his identity, now thanks to a DNA trace they claim to have found.

A certain Dr. Jari Louhelainen, as well as a David Miller, who are said to be scientists, had examined a scarf that is said to have belonged to one of the victims murdered by Jack the Ripper in 1888. At least that is what is written in the research magazine 'Journal of Forensic Sciences'. The two researchers claim this because they attribute the DNA trace to an immigrant from Poland, namely a hairdresser named Aaron Kosminski who was living in London at the time. This person was already considered by Scotland Yard as one of the main suspects about 130 years ago. This suspicion has long been held by amateur detectives, but to this day it has never been effectively proven, either halfway or completely, that he or any of the other suspects was in fact the Ripper, so that the crimes they were accused of have never been proven and no one really guilty has ever been found.

Who really committed the murders, and who Jack the Ripper really was, has been the subject of repeated investigations, fantasy and sham investigations, and many theories since 1888. For example, in the 1940s the last suspect died, while elsewhere now the latest suspect had to be Aaron Kosminski, who is said to have been Jack the Ripper and to have been insane of consciousness, which is why he was admitted to a psychiatric hospital in 1890 and died there 29 years later, in 1919.

Ptaah:

143. As you know, I have dealt with this case out of my own interest, have investigated the truth at that time and have been able to find out the real facts on the spot.

144. In doing so, I have also been confronted with the real culprit, Jack the Ripper, who called himself Dr. Thomas Neill Cream, was born on the 27th of May 1850 and executed on the 15th of November 1892.

145. This man was in fact the murderer Jack the Ripper, who was also caught, sentenced to death and then executed.

146. I am also aware of the latest claims by two new scientists, Dr. Jari Louhelainen and David Miller, as I am also aware of the claim that the scarf in question was found at one of the scenes of a Ripper murder.

147. And because I was already interested in these murders and the Ripper at the time of the events, this was also the case for the scarf, consequently I also went back in time for it and found out that this corpus delicti belonged neither to one of the victims nor to Jack the Ripper, but to a 'Domestic Worker' in an Edgumbe noble family who had lost the scarf, as I was able to establish on the spot.

Billy:

Aha, and that about Jack the Ripper, whose effective name was Dr Thomas Neill Cream, that is absolutely and incontrovertibly certain? While I don't doubt your words, because it is only a rhetorical question.

Ptaah:

148. It is answered.

see also King Arthur ... / The Holy Grail ...

see also Shroud of Turin / Veil of Veronica

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_1

Asket:

33. In less than twenty Earth years, the time will come for you, when you will write a great work of the truth, that will be transmitted to you from a very, very high spirit form.

34. It will reach to you from the same level from which Jmmanuel, the carpenter's son, who you wrongly name Jesus Christ, also received his knowledge.

{Note: This probably refers to the spirit form and resulting book Arahat Athersata.}

...

191.... the true utensils of Jmmanuel and also the cross are already long rotted away and decayed to dust.

...

259. You will learn the truth about Jmmanuel, who you wrongly call Jesus Christ.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_3

Jitschi:

Indeed, Jesus said ...

Asket:

20. That is precisely what he did not even say. It is all a deliberately falsified tradition.

21. Besides, the man never bore the name Jesus.

22. He was plainly and simply called Jmmanuel.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_6

Jmmanuel:

59. Truly, out of my true humanity, a cult will be set up, which will bring with it very bad and deadly consequences.

60. Seen in me, however, is still only the human, which I truly also am, but soon a form of malevolence will be made out of me and I will be equated with Creation.

61. Truly, I know these events of the future, and, indeed, I cannot change them, not even if I rebel against them.

62. I was born a human, I live as such and, as such, fulfil my appointed mission.

63. But also as a human I will suffer the fate of corporal death in 83 years. ...

Eduard:

... But I have fully understood your explanations, because I do know the New Testament, which allegedly contains your teaching. But for a short time now I have known that the allegedly-handed-down teaching is only an evil falsification and only corresponds to the actual truth in very few things. Not at all to mention, thereby, regarding your own person, who has been pressed into a form of a god and a form of Creation and who is proclaimed as the redeemer of Earth humanity. You sit before me and I see that you are precisely as much a human as is Asket here, as is Jitschi over there and your brothers and students, who, in our time are called disciples. Now I wonder how it has come about that no direct documentation of your teaching has been handed down, because, to my knowledge, the first words of the New Testament which exists in my time were written only around 200 years after your alleged death on the cross. Do you not write down any facts at all of your teaching, in such a way that they can be kept for posterity?

Jmmanuel:

80. Truly, your question is very precisely directed.

81. Consider; my time is about two millennia before yours, and in this time only certain forms of society are literate.

82. On account of my mission, I did also learn writing and reading, yet I have insufficient time to write down my teaching.

83. And if I speak of my teaching, truly, then I thereby name the teaching of all great ages - the teaching of the spirit and the teaching of the laws and recommendations of Creation - which are eternally imperishable.

84. I learnt it in a similar way to you and furthermore spent long years in the distant land of Kush (note from Billy: today part of North India), where I was permitted to experience further learning.

85. So the teaching is indeed preached by me, yet it is truly not originally from me.

86. Truly, your question is, however, warranted.

87. I fully know the false and wrong teachings of the future about my true teachings and about my person.

88. But no practical steps are planned to change these coming misleading events, because the mass of erring and falsifying humans is too great to be able to influence them even on a small scale.

89. This will unfortunately lead to a false teaching of much longer than three thousand years, and to very much need, pain, hate, misery and bloodshed.

90. Truly, in spite of that, however, the truth will not be lost, because it will - in a safe place - remain transmitted and also outlast the time, in a written form.

91. Among my followers, I have a literate man named Judas Iscariot, who writes down the most important parts of the teaching and events, which later, well preserved, shall outlast the time in order to hand down the actual truth to posterity.

92. With the help of an ex-priest, these texts will be found by you, in your time, in Jerusalem and you will spread them again, true to their meaning, and make them accessible to the humans. ...

95. Already the texts are being sought now in order to destroy them and to use them as indictments against me.

96. One scroll has already been stolen from the writer and kept closed by the Pharisees and the scribes.

97. Juda Ihariot, a son of a Pharisee, secretly took it out of Judas Iscariot's bag in order to sell it to my persecutors for 70 pieces of silver, in order, thereby, to be able to charge me with blasphemy against God.

98. But Judas Iscariot has been ordered by me to write the text once again and now to keep it quite safe whereby its purpose will outlast the ages.

Eduard:

You speak of Judas Iscariot, who is supposed to be your betrayer, as the texts of my time still convey, nonetheless falsified!

Jmmanuel:

99. Truly, I speak of him.

100. But he will in no way be the guilty one.

101. He who will hand me over to the persecutors is the same one who stole the texts and sold them.

Eduard:

Therefore Juda Ihariot?

Jmmanuel:

102. So is it.

103. But his father will spread the lie that Judas Iscariot is the betrayer, because the Pharisee name Ihariot must not be soiled.

104. But the reason is also based on the fact that the priests, scribes and Pharisees and their followers can say:

105. "Behold, one from his own ranks has betrayed him and handed him over to a death on the cross.

106. Behold, behold, how can his teaching be truth if his own people betray him and sell him?"

Eduard:

So that is the way it is. Now I understand quite a bit more. But now I ask myself, who then really hanged himself in Potters Field - respectively, who will hang himself there in the coming time?

Jmmanuel:

107. Juda Ihariot. ...

Eduard:

... But how is it now with yourself - I mean with your name? It is indeed Jmmanuel, but in spite of that, in my time you are called "Jesus Christ". That is the way it is in the New Testament anyway.

Jmmanuel:

127. Truly, that is an evil vituperation, which is foreign to every truth.

128. Up until this point in time, in which I talk with you now, this name has never been uttered.

129. Only in a later time will it become coined by a human whose thinking will be confused.

130. He will also bear the blame for me being designated as Creation and for the lie that I am omnipotent.

131. All this will happen this way through Paul, who currently is still one of my worst enemies and is still named Saul.

Eduard:

You mean that, through the construction of Christianity, he will found his own erroneous religion; a Paulism, so to speak?

Jmmanuel:

132. Truly, you speak the truth.

Eduard:

What is your own position then in regard to the title JESU, CHRISTI or JESUS CHRIST which has been attributed to you?

Jmmanuel:

133. In your time this name is very imprinted.

134. Truly, truly, that aggrieves me greatly.

135. Never do I wish to be so named and it never should have happened.

136. Yet this has become unavoidable for the path of development, because the human of this Earth must first go into error in order to find the truth.

137. As I hear, however, the name which is not appropriate to me, Jesus Christ, truly, this aggrieves me greatly, because it will be, without exception, uttered only by humans who still live in confusion regarding thinking and knowledge and have not yet come to terms with the truth.

138. And they will unfortunately be very many at your time, and that is truly very sad and causes me pain.

Eduard:

You mean, that only a misled human calls you "Jesus Christ"?

Jmmanuel:

139. Truly, that is what I said, because every human who knows the truth will call me by my correct name, because, for him, the truth signifies life and knowledge.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_7

Eduard:

... yet now tell me, is it very unwelcome to you if the people call you "Jesus Christ" or similar?

Jmmanuel:

151. Truly, you precisely understand the sense of my thoughts.

152. This name is wrong when applied to me and I am aggrieved to know that it will be used for me in the future.

153. I bring the teaching of the truth of the Great Time, and thereby do not do wrong.

154. If one, however, associates me in any kind of manner with this name then one accuses me of wrong and of lying.

Eduard:

You are very sensitive, Jmmanuel.

Jmmanuel:

155. That is not so.

156. It is only that this name, however, is not consistent with the sense of the truth, and it insults me.

Eduard:

... But now it interests me whether the texts mentioned by you will really serve the truth in my time. I mean thereby the records of Judas Iscariot?

Jmmanuel:

158. Truly, it will be they, even if they will initially be greatly doubted.

159. Initially the accusation will be made that they are lies and a falsification, yet with time the truth will be victorious. ...

164. Truly, very evil things against the text will be brought into play in order to revile it as lies and to destroy it.

165. Very many paths will be trodden to that end.

166. Out of foolishness, even lower spirits and the dead will be called upon - although that is impossible - in order to revile my teachings, newly presented by you, as lies, in the same way as do the scribes, the Pharisees and the priests of my time, who are only able to come into contact with very lowly, ignorant and misled humans and influence them by means of belief.

167. So will it also be in your time, because the humans of your time will have succumbed just as much to delusional beliefs and ignorance as have the humans of my time. ...

Eduard:

... What will be asserted then in order to put into question the genuineness of your teaching and the text and to make the accusation that they are lies?

Jmmanuel:

169. Truly, there will be very many paths trodden to that end.

170. A new form of the lie will, however, be this: it will be asserted that the text is indeed very valuable and contains certain truths, yet it does not transmit my teaching, rather it is only the teaching of another who has also borne the name Jmmanuel.

171. It will even be doubted that I am Jmmanuel and I will be forced into another person's identity.

172. This will result in association with the name Jesus Christ, malevolently given to me.

173. It will be asserted that I, Jmmanuel, would not be falsely named Jesus Christ, so it is supposed to appear that I, Jmmanuel, and the person of Jesus Christ, who I am imputed to be, have been two different people.

174. These further lies about me will be invented about me very early in your time. ...

179. In your time you call the cult around me religion. Truly that is very well known to me.

180. But this religion is interspersed with very many false teachings of manifold forms, as well as with duplicity about the time of my birth.

181. In your time you celebrate the day of my birth on December 24th of any given year.

182. But this is only the day of the festival of a bloodthirsty idol from the lands of the Parsa peoples (note from Billy: later Persia, called Iran since 1934) and does not come near to equating to the day of my birth.

183. Your calculation of time truly does not correspond to reality, and therefore neither do your calculations about the time of my birth.

184. According to your time's calculation of time, the day of my birth is determined as the third day of the second month.

Eduard:

You mean the 3rd of February?

Jmmanuel:

185. This is what you designate this time.

Eduard:

You must indeed know it precisely - but why did this time difference come about?

Jmmanuel:

186. On one hand, it was handed down wrongly, and on the other hand, through erroneous calculations and continual innovations to the manner in which dates were calculated.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_8

Eduard:

But now please just tell me how things stand with your teachings. How should they be described and what is still correct within that which has been handed down? It is indeed said in the New Testament that you are the son of God; and that God himself embodies Creation Also, in these testament texts, God is always even spoken of as the Heavenly Father and you are spoken of as the redeemer of mankind, and so forth. Everything is quite confused and often even absolutely illogical and paradoxical.

Jmmanuel:

213. Truly, you say it.

214. I already told you that Judas Iscariot's text, which contained sections of my teaching, was stolen.

215. This text will be the basis of all falsifications.

216. Presently they are also continued, in a falsified manner, by the Pharisees and scribes and are not completed according to my teachings.

217. The reason that this is happening is truly, however, only in order to falsify them now - and even more at a later time - to the point of being unrecognisable, and also to use them against me in court.

218. As I therefore speak and teach of Creation the texts are being falsely modified in such a way that mendacious words are put into my mouth, and I am supposed to have spoken of a father in heaven, the gathering of a host of angels and many other false things.

219. But I have never done that because these forms do not correspond to the truth.

220. I have always faithfully spoken of the truth of Creation as being of Creation, and of God as being of God.

221. God was never put on a level with Creation by me, because God is a creature of Creation as are you and I and every other human.

222. In his form, he is a King of Wisdom and a ruler over human races, in the same way that a king or emperor also is a ruler over human races on Earth.

223. But Creation is the immeasurable secret and the Creation of every creation.

224. It is omnipotence, knowledge, wisdom, love, omniscience and BEING.

225. And my teachings speak of it alone, when I talk of it and its laws and recommendations and of the power of eternity.

[Translator's note: sentence 226 is omitted in the original.]

227. Truly, this alone is the truth and nothing else.

228. But, in your time, when everything is handed down differently, then that corresponds to an evil deception and abominable falsification on the part of the twisters of the texts and false teachers.

229. Truly, the point of the falsifications lies just in the slander against me from the side of the scribes, Pharisees and priests in order to have me die on the cross.

230. But the further reason also lies in the fact that, through these false and twisted teachings, the humans of Earth are to be beaten into serfdom so that they are caused to succumb to poverty in regard to knowledge and reason, whereby they will be able to be shamefully enslaved through belief so they can be exploited in evil ways.

Semjase:

41. Above all there is only one thing that possesses the power over life and death of every creature.

42. This is the Creation alone, who has laid out her laws over everything – laws that are irrefutable and that have eternal validity.

43. The human being can recognise them in nature, if he/she strives for it.

44. They show him/her the path of life and the path to the spiritual and consciousness-based greatness, which represent the life-determination.

45. But as the human being indulges in his/her religions, and thus in evil irrational teachings, his/her consciousness atrophies more and more and leads ultimately to a bottomless abyss.

46. The human being may realise that a god can never assume the role of the Creation or determine the destiny of the human being.

47. A god is only a ruler and moreover a human being, who mightily exercises rule or tyranny over his fellow human beings.

48. God is not the Creation, but only a creature of her, like all creatures dependent on the Creation.

49. However, the human being chases after his/her religious irrational belief and claims that God is the Creation herself.

50. But he/she goes even further and claims that an ordinary Earth-human named Jmmanuel, who through deliberate error is also called Jesus Christ, would be the son of God and would be the Creation herself.

Billy:

... We have already spoken several times about the Talmud Jmmanuel. Jmmanuel himself has over the course of the last 2000 years fundamentally been used again and again as main religious figure. Is the intention of once again using this already long dead human being to make a new belief-direction and an idol out of him? Is the Talmud Jmmanuel supposed to serve this purpose?

Semjase:

204. No.

205. Jmmanuel himself was just a human being like any other human being, which you know better than I do.

206. He was just endowed with very great knowledge.

207. He represents neither a symbol nor an idol nor anything else.

208. He was certainly a teacher; a prophet of the spiritual and conscious-based knowledge and the essence of wisdom, but however nothing beyond that.

209. Any life-forms should also never be idolised or even worshiped, such as the human being is accustomed to do.

210. Therefore, when we had the Talmud Jmmanuel gathered from his two-thousand-year-old hiding place, it was only for the reason that the time of truth has come.

211. The teaching of Jmmanuel is not his teaching but that of the Creation and the laws of the Creation, which Jmmanuel also first had to learn, recognise, and acknowledge.

212. Because of that, he has only made known what the natural laws call for.

213. A mistake of insanity shall not be made another time, with Jmmanuel being regarded and idolized as the embodiment of the teaching that he brought.

214. The truth of the Talmud shall be taught and recognised as such, without a calling into play the name of Jmmanuel and his glorification.

215. Important are only the truth and the laws, but not the person who brought this teaching, laws, and the truth.

216. Hence, if a cult would be established around Jmmanuel another time, then the purpose would not be fulfilled.

217. The human being, Jmmanuel, should not continue to be glorified, as solely the truth and the laws are of absolute importance.

Billy:

... It is said on the Earth, especially among the Christians, that Jmmanuel, whom they call Jesus Christ, is so to speak, the actual master of the world and the Universe. He is supposed to be God incarnate, where this God is regarded as the Creation. What do you say about this?

Ptaah:

229. We know about these human delusions on your world.

230. Alone the idea of a Christ being and a Christ consciousness corresponds to a very evil and degenerate delusion of the Earth-humans, and a very ill-natured presumption, because if these things would have happened or would still happen in the future, which is absolutely impossible, because it truly is only a fantasy of delusional Earth-humans, then with absolute probability the race which would be given the task of disseminating a religion would not be the Earth-humans.

231. As since many millenia on many worlds in the Universe, the Earth-human stands in the entire Universe as a purely materialistically developed life-form, which solely represents a life-form so deeply addicted to materialism, that every consciousness-based evolution over millennia has been detrimental to this degree.

232. On many of our own as well as on other foreign worlds, it is known that the Earth-human condemns any reasonable consciousness-based evolution and develops himself/herself only in malicious materialism and diverse religious delusions, and so it would be a paradox of the first order if, from all possible choices, a race so manifoldly incompetent in all consciousness-based areas would be chosen for a task of universal significance. ...

240. Especially those religions and sects, who in their heretical book name the prophet Jmmanuel as Jesus Christ and worship him, are the strongest opponents of the real truth. ...

627. Jmmanuel was already aware of the coming of this time of terror, and so he refused to be called God, Jesus or Christ, which was nevertheless officially done in 189. ...

630. The designations God, Jesus and Christ alone contain dangerous values, for each of these designations embodies death, ruin and destruction.

631. In particular, however, all three contain the triple value 666, the number of the extinction of truth.

Semjase:

522. In former times visible proofs were necessary for the human beings of the Earth in order to impart certain forms of thought to them.

523. But by these visible proofs they began to believe in miracles, and at other times they went astray.

524. The present time of the Earth has progressed beyond visible evidence, and the path of clear and logical reason and equally clear and logical understanding alone must be followed.

525. Only these values count for the present time, and they are the better evidence than all those which are visible.

526. Today, the power of consciousness, knowledge and wisdom and love are of utmost importance to be able to walk the path of evolution.

527. In Jmmanuel's time, however, it was different, for at that time the knowledge of Earth-humans was in every respect still very much imprisoned in those things which can be recognised by the eye and heard by the ears.

528. At that time this ensured that the human being who saw and heard visible evidence became aware of his power of thought and thereby progressed evolutionarily.

529. Today, however, Earth-humans have emerged from this stage, have acquired greater reason and intellect and have become very conscious of their power of thought.

Ptaah:

870. At the time of Jmmanuel there was also the factor to be considered that at that time no Earth human being except Jmmanuel himself was very highly developed in spirit and consciousness, which is why he had to demonstrate various happenings demonstratively.

871. At that time, in Earth-humans, according to their lower state of consciousness, seeing led to clarification and the development of consciousness.

872. Therefore Jmmanuel did all those things which today are so readily called miracles in your Christian religions.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_038

Billy:

Well, you have now mentioned a word several times which is completely unknown to me. I mean this 'realvision'. What's the meaning of this?

Semjase:

141. I understand, of course you cannot know that, because it's our own word composition for a certain form of guided vision.

...

144. A real vision describes a certain form of a guided vision.

145. It is a form of vision that is dominated by many intelligences, including the Giza intelligences.

146. By these arbitrarily provokable and steerable visions, different extraterrestrials – and also we – influence life forms, in order to obtain certain impressions for them in this way, which are instructive to them and which they are to make accessible by spreading also to others, in order to also purposefully affect the surroundings.

147. These steerable visions are so massively realistic that the influenced life form becomes convinced that it has experienced the vision as reality.

148. That's exactly why we call it realvision, because it seems so real.

149. Every experience experienced through this real vision lasts as long as it would take in reality.

150. Such real visions do not only last seconds or minutes, but they last as long, in time, as the real experiences would take.

Billy:

That's fantastic. This means that a human being can have an experience that is in reality not an experience at all, but arises only from a fictitious vision, but that he/she is not able to distinguish this vision from reality and thus regards the illusory experience as the truth of an experience.

...

161. Applied in this form, it is not a deception, for the process serves to expand the truth in the life form in question.

162. If Earth-humans are influenced in this manner, then this happens only for the reason that they are not capable of experiencing the visionary experiences given to them in reality.

Billy:

I accept that. But now you said that these real visions last exactly as long as the real experience takes in time. So a lot of time could flow by and many hours could pass?

Semjase:

163. Sure, even days, weeks or months.

Billy:

Man, poor creatures will starve to death.

Semjase:

164. You forget that the vision seems very massively real.

Billy:

You mean that the affected then feel their natural needs, like hunger and thirst or tiredness, etc.?

Semjase:

165. Certainly.

Billy:

But what do people eat and drink and – if they have long real visions outside the house – where do they sleep?

Semjase:

166. It's very simple:

167. In the state of real vision, they are master of many consciousness-based powers, which also slumber in their subconscious.

168. They then apply these subconsciously in such a form that they condense matter through the thirst and hunger feeling and solidify exactly those edible and drinkable things that they experience in their real visions.

169. That's how they eat.

170. It is the same process as it was demonstrated two thousand years ago by Jmmanuel when he fed 250 people on Earth (tradition of 5000 is wrong, there were only 250) with bread, which he multiplied in this manner.

171. The difference lies only in the fact that people with real visionary influence apply their abilities subconsciously, while Jmmanuel was able to generate them consciously.

Billy:

Okay, then I have another question regarding Mount Shasta. I have already talked about this with Semjase, but something still seems unclear to me. Semjase told me that distant descendants of the Hyperboreans now live in Mount Shasta, on the Aleutian Islands, and in Alaska. Henoah, however, and also Jmmanuel, spoke of “the winds between the East and West” or between the “North and West.” From this, I always thought that the “green land” of the Hyperboreans, so Hyperborea, must have been somewhere far up north, in Greenland or something. But now, this does not make sense any more with Mount Shasta. What should I now think of this?

Ptaah:

187. At the time of Henoah, the North Pole was situated differently than what is the case today.

188. Through cosmic influences and through an upset of the Earth, the North Pole at that time shifted far to the west.

189. The central point of the North Pole at that time is identical to present day Florida in America.

190. The Polar Regions at the time of Henoah were wondrous landscapes, filled with palms and other tropical vegetation. ...

196. Similar conditions can still be found today in the former Hyperborea, so in Florida.

Billy:

That is fantastic! But can you tell me exactly where at the North Pole this Hyperborea lay?

Ptaah:

197. It lay exactly where the land is still called “Greenland” today, whereby the actual North Pole of that time is not identical with today's North Pole.

Billy:

So Greenland; as far as I know, this means “grassland” in the German language.

Ptaah:

198. That is so.

199. Tir nan Og lay there.

Billy:

What is that?

Ptaah:

200. Green Land and Land of Youth.

201. But at that time, it was today's Florida.

Billy:

So then Heracles, Gilgamesh, Henoah, Jmmanuel, Amitabah, Methusalem and Noah and all others were up there and not in Florida?

Ptaah:

202. In Hyperborea, in Florida, when it was still at the spot where today, the land still means grassland.

203. But Jmmanuel was not there because he was already in Florida, where it is to be found today.

Billy:

As you know, I possess from the tomb of Jmmanuel, alias Jesus Christ, a kind of flicker or mica. It looks like a transparent, multi-layered film. This material has now been analytically investigated by microscope at the Max Planck Institute (Institute for Scanning Electron Microscopy) in Munich. The result is just as literal as I wrote it down here: "Apart from sulphur and CO, O₂ and H₂O are also detectable. In my opinion it is a crystalline substance of calcium sulphate (i.e. gypsum). This does not exist here. The remaining sample is still examined organically, then you can get a better picture. The material is flammable. It burns odorlessly to a white powder." – What I am interested in now is this:

Do you know where this calcium sulphate comes from or whatever it may be and which does not occur in this form in our country? Do you have any idea?

Semjase:

104. You are talking about the glass-like natural material that was in Jmmanuel's burial cave?

Billy:

Exactly, that is what I am talking about.

Semjase:

105. It was a gift from Gabriel, Gabriel the guardian-protector, to his son Jmmanuel, whose foster-father was Joseph.

106. The gift was given to Jmmanuel at the age of seven, when his father Gabriel declared that it was a gift for the purpose of constant connection, this material served Jmmanuel as a capacitor.

107. His father Gabriel brought it here from Alkyon.

170. After his 93rd year of government Ptaah was stricken by a malicious and unknown disease, from which he succumbed a few days later, consequently his brother Salam continued to lead the government alone, until, weak from his great age, he handed over command to his son Plejos, 2,040 Earth years ago, after he had taken up connections to the home worlds already centuries before and had placed himself and his people under the home form of government, namely, that of the spiritual teachers.

171. His son Plejos was, like his father, a very wise and a kind governor, and as of 1,999 years ago of earthly chronology, the home worlds, after an interruption of around 240 years, newly positioned themselves under the guidance of the 'High Council', he too arranged himself and his people therein.

172. Respecting and following the advice of the 'High Council', he prepared for the long-earned-for return to the home worlds, which took place 1,994 years ago, by your chronology, after Jmmanuel, at Plejos's direction, begat by the spiritual leader Gabriel, was educated as a prophet and had become right for his mission.

... Jmmanuel's disciple Judas Ischarioth was made out to be a traitor to this day, while the true traitor, the high priest's son Judah Iharioth, is not even mentioned in the lying chronicles, so that the true traitor should be innocent of the murder of Jmmanuel.

Quetzal:

471. Thereby it is still to be noted by you, as I must explain, that all now following data are calculated according to usual earthly pre- and post-Jmmanuel time reckoning. ...

Year A.D. + 32

Crucifixion of Jmmanuel, accompanied by an unusual solar eclipse produced by a tremendous sandstorm. At the same time, a very strong earthquake occurred in Palestine, Syria, Lebanon and Saudi Arabia, which occurred with several earth tremors during the crucifixion.

Quetzal:

4. Thus, Pope Pius IX, among others, absurdly maintained and made the doctrine that Joseph's wife Mary, already from the moment of Jmmanuel's conception, carried a 'rational soul' in herself and that already at conception, the fertilised egg was animated by the 'soul', and so, Jmmanuel's personality and his reason had already existed.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_207

Billy:

... Then another question: In the New Testament of the Christian religion, there is talk in the Sermon on the Mount that Jmmanuel should have fed 5,000 human beings, namely through the increase of fish and bread. To my knowledge, that is not true because in this connection, the storage-banks only speak of just 250 human beings who participated in the so-called Sermon on the Mount. Also, these were not just men, as it is said in the New Testament, like among other things in John chapter 6 and verse 1, rather, they were mostly women and children who followed Jmmanuel up the mountain, whereby the mountain was truly more of a hill. Thus, the five barley loaves and two fish, which Jmmanuel increased by his powers of consciousness, were not provided for 5,000 human beings but rather only for 250 human beings, respectively women and children, among whom there were only 40 men. Now, my question is this: when was the falsification made in relation to the alleged 5,000 persons?

Quetzal:

28. That happened through John, as well as through the other disciples.

Billy:

So it was still in Jmmanuel's lifetime.

Quetzal:

29. Yes, he lived at that time when the falsifications were made, already in India, where he also married and fathered several children with his wife.

30. The falsifications originated from exaggerations.

Billy:

Then one more question. Initially, it was only Judas Ischarioth who could read and write. But to my knowledge, he also instructed all the other disciples in this art, which was not very popular at that time.

Quetzal:

31. That is of correctness.

32. Besides Judas Ischarioth, all the other disciples were illiterates, who learned partially how to read in a short time by Judas, but not how to write.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_210

Billy:

... Luke was the author of the Gospel which bears the same name, as well as of the Acts of the Apostles, which, to my knowledge, he wrote during the period from A.D. 97 to 106, namely only according to hearsay and in accordance with his own interpretations, which naturally led to falsifications, etc.

Quetzal:

6. Your words correspond to what our scientists and all historians also explain.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_212

Quetzal:

1. I concerned myself in detail around the clarification of your question regarding the authenticity of the Biblical books.
2. In this regard, I also asked our historians and worked through all the historical records that were placed at my disposal.
3. It became entirely perceptible that all the Biblical books were not written in a single instance by those persons to whom they are ascribed.
4. So it is also incorrect that the Gospel of Luke and the Acts of the Apostles come from Luke, and furthermore, the book of Job was not written by this man himself.
5. Both books of the Bible are based on what was written down at a later time, as well as various books of the New Testament.
6. Moreover, the letters that are listed in the New Testament also were not written by those to whom they are assigned.
7. In truth, these were illiterates, who let their scribes write the letters, to whom they had to pay remunerations.
8. Thus, one who was dictating a letter also could not control what the scribe wrote down, whereby it escaped the one dictating that very many things were falsified.
9. This also applies to the fantastic stories that surround Paul, who, in his consciousness confusion, saw himself as a martyr and, thus, also lived and worked accordingly, and following this, he then ultimately died by assassins, as this also happened with Moses, who made many enemies within his own ranks, who then robbed him of his life.

Billy:

So it actually is not like what I said on the 11th of June, when I thought that Luke was the writer of the Gospel of Luke and of the Acts of the Apostles. Yes, Sfath already said that Luke could neither write nor read, as this should have also been true of the others who are praised as Bible and New Testament writers. But what about the Gospel of Matthew, were you also able to clarify this?

Quetzal:

10. I was also able to do that, yes.
11. Matthew was just as ignorant of reading and writing as all the others, to whom the Gospels and the books of the Bible are attributed.
12. The Gospel of Matthew was dictated by Matthew to a scribe named Joshua, who interpreted the whole thing in his free discretion and wrote it down and, consequently, also falsified it.

Billy:

Does one know the reason, then, why all the books and letters are, nevertheless, attributed to the disciples and evangelists and prophets?

Quetzal:

13. It should be noted that out of Jmmanuel's disciples, only Judas Ischarioth was actually acquainted with reading and writing, for he was – which no one knew and, therefore, which also was not handed down – a scribe, who left his profession, however, and became a follower of Jmmanuel.
14. As a result of many years of investigations, which were also carried out by our scientists and historians through time travels, it is to be explained that already during the outset of the origin of Christianity, the disciples and evangelists were anxious to give the impression that they were experts of reading and writing and, thus, more highly educated than the common people.

15. This was because the simple persons among the people were of the erroneous view that those who were more highly educated than others would just know and understand more and, consequently, would also be enabled and authorised to teach the more unknowing and uneducated people.

16. An erroneous evil that has survived on the Earth to the current day among all nations of the Earth, which is also why the humans of today's time are still of this misconception.

17. Through this – like at that time – the humans are title-believing and office-believing, and they let themselves be suppressed, exploited, or just held down by those who have a rank and a reputation and who occupy an office.

18. So even today, it is likewise as in the time of Jmmanuel and of the old prophets.

19. And precisely of these, it remains to be said that not one of them has written down his offered teachings or his history.

20. Indeed, this was done by others, even the scribes, who were instructed to do so.

21. The first Torah originated from this, but it was later destroyed up to the last letter by a major fire, and consequently, there were no more written records, and everything was just handed down by word of mouth over generations.

22. Needless to say, the consequence of this was that enormously many falsifications arose, until one day, twelve self-proclaimed prophets, out of their own grace, gathered a large number of scribes around themselves and went out with these into an outlying area, where they lived for 40 days in austere form and, during this time, wrote down 240 books, from which then, over time, the new Torah emerged, from which then also the Bible of Christianity emerged, to which the New Testament was then simply added.

Billy:

But in addition, it must be said, so that no misunderstandings arise, that on the one hand, every one of the so-called prophets told his scribe those things and stories in the manner he had received them from the various sources. Also, it must be made clear that the so-called books cannot be compared to today's books, which often contain several hundred pages. Most of the books of the self-proclaimed prophets, their writing experts, and, thus, their scribes, only contained a few pages – apart from the books of Moses and some others. But of these books, the majority vanished again, consequently, today, to my knowledge, only 33 of these are available in the Bible. As I have learned: In the Old Testament Scriptures, one will first notice: Moses, Joshua and Judges, Ruth and two of Samuel, two of Kings, Chronicles, Ezra, Nehemiah, with Ester – these as history books. Then, as poetic books, there are: Job, Psalms, then the Proverbs, Ecclesiastes and Song of Solomon. – These are followed by the prophetic books: Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Daniel, then Hosea, Joel, Amos, Obadiah, Jonah, Micah, followed by Nahum, Habakkuk, Zephaniah, along with Haggai, Zechariah and finally Malachi.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_213

Billy:

... And as I could learn from Jmmanuel, when I asked him about it, the story of the 'carpenter's son' is not correct, for his foster father, Joseph, had not been a simple carpenter but rather the owner of a small carpentry business, with various workers who fulfilled his orders for him. Joseph had already learned the craft as a carpenter from the ground up with his father, who had already originally placed a ship-carpentry business on the legs. Thus, Joseph and Mary, as well as Jmmanuel and his brothers and sisters, had not been simple folk from the common people, but according to Jmmanuel, they would have enjoyed a degree of prosperity, which also allowed for it that father Joseph and mother Mary, as well as all children, could learn to read and write. Thus, Joseph was an independent craftsman with his own business, so to speak, and just as independent were also Jmmanuel's brothers, who pursued their own crafts. And as Jmmanuel said, he, too, was very independent and autonomous, was an expert of reading and writing, and earned his living through the spreading of the spiritual teaching [aka Creation energy teaching], for which he received donations, which he did not administer to himself, however; rather, he let these be administered by one of his disciples.

Quetzal:

19. Those are issues that are familiar to me.

Billy:

Aha. Then you should also know that it was in no wise the Jewish people who bore the guilt for the fact that Jmmanuel was sentenced to death by the cross. In fact, it was such that the Roman garrison ruled in Jerusalem at that time, and its laws possessed validity. Only the Jewish scribes and the Jewish leaders were actually guilty of the fact that Jmmanuel was sentenced to death; although, a huge misunderstanding also contributed to this, when Jmmanuel was asked the question as to whether the accusation was correct. When he said, "you said it", he did not mean that the alleged accusation was true, but the meaning of his words was that he meant that the questioner said it. And it was precisely this misunderstanding that was the deciding factor for the guilty sentencing. The scribes and the rulers, however, who fought vehemently against Jmmanuel's teaching, were true Jews, and they were the actual ones who strove to eliminate Jmmanuel, and to be sure, finally and for all time, through an execution. At the same time, the Jewish people themselves had nothing to say here because they were forbidden to interfere in any imponderable court matters, etc. Nevertheless, as spectators, the people, as a rule, were allowed to do so, but as I said, they would not have had any authority for a verdict. But as always, it was also the case with those who were authorised that under them, there was a certain percentage of the mob that was strongly greased with pieces of silver from the Jewish scribes and elders, as well as from the synagogue big shots, etc., in order to cry out for the death penalty when those who were responsible for sentencing – and, thus, not the Jewish people – were asked for the verdict. Thus, it was the paid-up and fired-up mob that cried out for crucifixion; therefore, the Jewish people bore absolutely no guilt for this. In fact, it was also the case that the actual process was carried out by the Jewish elders, priests, scribes, and other public officials, with the chief priests possessing great power. They were, indeed, the main ones who wanted to dissuade Jmmanuel from his mission efforts, and as I said, by all of their available means. But all of these who were responsible cannot be regarded as Jewish people, who, in many respects, were actually and truly more on Jmmanuel's side than on the side of the chief priests, elders, scribes, and other public officials, for under these, very many of the Jews suffered. But the fact that the blame for Jmmanuel's crucifixion is placed upon them is based on deliberately false political, theological and, thus, religious accusations, which should serve the purpose, and which had the intention, of denigrating the Jews and lifting up Christianity high into the sky. And precisely from this arose the hatred of the Jews, to which millions of Jews and Jewish friends fell victim in the Second World War, through the inhumane and degrading madness of the Final Solution. What is still to be said concerning the trial before Pilate probably needs no great explanation, for the whole thing was just a formality, in order to satisfy the Roman justice and law. But what is to be said in relation to the first trial by the Jewish officials – who partly consisted of high priests, scribes, and elders, who influenced the rest – it was, indeed, the case that it was an effective process, even though this has long been challenged by various sides. Sfath taught me all this.

Quetzal:

20. You are very detailed, and everything is completely accurate.

Billy:

Now, in this whole connection, only Jmmanuel's journey to Kashmir in India is missing and his work there, as well as his death at the age of about 115 years and his burial. It is repeatedly asserted that this does not correspond to the truth and that Hazrat Mirza Ghulam Ahmad of Qadian, the founder of the Islamic sect Ahmadiyya, had told fibs with the story that he had discovered Jmmanuel's grave in Srinagar, India. As Sfath already explained to me, this corresponds, at least, to a form of reality because the founder of the sect was not actually the discoverer of the tomb, rather, a man named Kanishka Rashtrakuta found the tomb in the year A.D. 746. All this is vehemently denied, however, by all sorts of scientists and wannabe scientists, as well as by would-be know-it-alls.

Quetzal:

21. That will also continue to remain so, for know-it-alls and wrong scientists, etc. never die out.
22. Nevertheless, what Sfath explained to you undoubtedly corresponds to the truth because we have clarified these issues very precisely, and thus, there is no doubt that Jmmanuel had worked in India, was also married there, and fathered several children, of which a son went to Jerusalem during his older years and hid Judas Ischarioth's scrolls in Jmmanuel's tomb, where you then found them in 1964, when Isa Rashid led you there.

Billy:

... As you know, I have gathered and calculated a lot with regard to the Christian calendar. You have also told me that I had calculated very precisely and that only small errors were contained in my calculations. With respect to these calculations, I have endeavoured again and recently discovered that the actual birth of Jmmanuel must have taken place not four, six, or even seven years before the Christian calendar but rather five years. This means that Jmmanuel effectively must have seen the light of this world five years before the Christian calendar. Through a look into the past, I also discovered that at the time of his birth, not only was a beaming spaceship visible in the sky, but also actually a very large comet, which could be seen all over the world, namely for about several weeks.

Quetzal:

160. Your explanations are correct.

161. And since you alone have now found the true facts, nothing more stands in the way for me to tell you further details.

162. The exact year of Jmmanuel's birth was five years before the Christian calendar known today.

163. At that time, there actually was a very large and unusually strongly radiating comet that was observable from the Earth, which we call the 'Fruitful One', because from very early times, inseminations for the Earth and for the planet Phaeton, respectively Malona, have gone out from it, whereby life could develop on these two SOL satellites.

164. The 'Fruitful One', however, has an extremely long period of revolution on a path that leads far out into the Oort cloud.

165. Accordingly, it will take more than 11,000 years, according to Earth's measure of time, before a return of this comet occurs in the SOL system.

166. Its orbital period is 13,200 years.

167. Together with this event of the appearance of the 'Fruitful One', the birth of Jmmanuel also took place on the 3rd of February, five years before the Christian calendar, whereby the 3rd of February of today's calendar is converted for the time and the day of that time.

168. At that same time, when Jmmanuel was born, in order to monitor and supervise everything, a large Plejaren beamship was stationed high in the atmosphere over Bethlehem.

169. This radiated very brightly, for it was one of those aircraft that collect energy from the atmosphere, which light up, radiating very strongly, when they penetrate into the area of the processing system, through which anti-gravity is produced.

Quetzal:

60. That does not correspond to the truth.

61. In nowise did Luke master the art of drawing, consequently he was also in no position to produce a portrait of Jmmanuel.

62. Such a portrait of Jmmanuel, which is attributed to him, comes from an artist of Italian origin, who never saw Jmmanuel and who also had no description with respect to Jmmanuel's appearance.

63. His name was Alphonso Stranieri.

90. It was he who constantly donated from his own wealth, for the implementation of the mission and for the spreading of Jmmanuel's teaching.

91. If this would not have been so, then everyone would have had to live a more frugal life than what was, in fact, the case.

92. While there were other wealthy ones among the disciples, who also contributed their part to everything, it was Simon Peter, however, who was the main donor.

Billy:

... There is still much more to say, namely that by and large, the Earth-humans are not actually interested in the effective truth but only in unreal things and lies of religions, sects, swindlers, liars, and cheats, who lie their heads off, hypocritically preaching doctrines of salvation and plans of salvation and giving just as deceitful promises of salvation, which can never be fulfilled. And the Earth-humans fall for this because to them – in their falsehood and in their ignorance, in which they eke out their existence and search for a better life and for the real truth – there is a real need for salvation. And the rule is that through the deception of the religions and sects, the people rely on the false story of divine salvation and on the divine plan of salvation. Through this, with unintentional Gewalt, they push every responsibility far away from themselves, relying on the message of salvation and, therewith, on the redemption, which will never become a reality, by God or by his hosts of angels, by Jesus Christ, by saints or even by those who are deceased, who should bring help from the beyond, or by extraterrestrials, as this has been preached and has been maintained for quite some time by irresponsible and exploitative UFO-sect gurus, who will support themselves as such in the future, as Sfath explained, through which all of the chiefs of the sects become very rich, for they financially exploit their followers and believers, as well as those who are enslaved to them and other fools, and through this, they live in joy and glory. The Earth-humans do not run to the truth but to lies and deception, to religions and sects, and they believe everything that they are led to believe and everything that is given to them by the sect bosses and religious bigwigs. With this, I in nowise want to attack those religionists, i.e. those parishioners, priests, monks, devotees, and other religious representatives, who are devoted to their faith in honesty and who maintain love, peace, freedom, harmony, humanity, and true brotherly love, etc. in the best form. In fact, I know many such human beings, and their lifestyle leaves nothing to be desired in the aforementioned forms, therefore, I give them all necessary respect and due reverence, even though they are connected to a religious faith. But those whom I attack are all those who cannot be added to these worthy people because they are among the severe or most severe fallible ones who, in their Ausartung [to get very badly out of control of the good human nature], give no honour to the designation of human being, having parasite-like, mendacious, swindler-like, and deceitful thoughts, feelings, emotions, and manners of acting, and through these, they deeply and disgustingly alienate and dissociate themselves from the designation of honourable human being.

Quetzal:

21. To answer the first part of your question, Mary and Joseph did not belong to any religious persuasion.
22. They were natives of Tiberias, a place located at the Sea of Galilee at that time.
23. Mary was the daughter of a merchant family from Tiberias, and Joseph was the son of a shipbuilder and carpenter's family, which was also located in Tiberias.
24. And if you still want to have information about the two families, then I can say that Mary had three brothers and four sisters, and Joseph had three brothers and two sisters.
25. At the time of Jmmanuel's birth, all siblings and parents of Mary and Joseph were still alive.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_224

Billy:

... we already talked about the fact that the so-called books of the New Testament, which actually only represent articles or the like, were not written in a single instance by all those to whom they are attributed. Among all the disciples, only Judas Ischarioth was knowledgeable of reading and writing – in addition to Jmmanuel himself, who was not a disciple but was, rather, the teacher. All the letters, etc. of the disciples were, in fact, written by women and men, and indeed, on behalf of the disciples, for at that time, it was not the case that many were experts of writing and reading. There were only the scribes and a few others who learned to write and read because there were no special schools, as these are now available everywhere all over the world and children are obligated to attend them in most countries. But while the Bible and the attached New Testament give the impression that a large part of the people in Jmmanuel's time would have been able to read and write, this actually does not correspond to the truth, however, because the vast majority of the human beings at that time – including the disciples, with the exception of Judas Ischarioth and Jmmanuel – was ignorant of reading and writing. Only special prophets, rulers, and their subordinates in special offices were able to read and write. Thus, it was very rare that ordinary citizens could learn to read and write. And while we are at it: the Bible is an invented Jewish chronicle, which very well holds certain truths in itself but, on the whole, is fictitious and was written together by twelve of the book-knowledgeable men who called themselves prophets and who, in 40 days, wrote 240 books or stories that were based on ancient oral acceptances, assertions, and 'traditions' and deliberate distortions, from which arose, then, the second holy book – the Torah number 2, i.e. the Five Books of Moses or the Pentateuch of Judaism. The first Torah had been destroyed in a devastating fire, after which then, more than 400 years later, the second Torah was written by the twelve alleged prophets, as said. Thus, the Bible has nothing to do with true history books or with true textbooks and is in no way connected with a testament. In truth, it mostly concerns fantasised-together fables without any value, which were then stolen in their entirety by Christianity in the last consequence and reshaped for itself. Thus, Christianity itself has also created an alleged chronicle and a past, which are actually designed solely for Judaism and have nothing at all to do with Christianity. Jmmanuel also wanted nothing to do with this chronicle, for he did not teach their nonsense but rather the teaching of the spirit, as he had received it from the lineage of Henoch. And what is still to be said: it really was so, that in Jmmanuel's time, as I said, out of all the disciples, only Judas Ischarioth was knowledgeable of reading and writing, while the others were illiterates. This also applies to the seven disciples who belonged to the group, but of whom no records exist from Judas Ischarioth, as well as not of the various other women and men, who were on the move with Jmmanuel during the time of his spreading of the teaching. At the same time, I also wonder whether it will one day become known that Jmmanuel's disciples only went with him occasionally because they repeatedly had to perform their work and business, etc. at home, about which Judas Ischarioth also wrote nothing, and thus, the impression is given that the disciples had always been with and around Jmmanuel. Furthermore, everything written by Judas is only a brief outline of the entire life, teaching, and work of Jmmanuel, for in fact, this one was not just on the move and spreading the teaching for only three years or so, as is maintained by Christianity; rather, he was already active in this form starting from his sixth year of age, and thus, for a total of almost 29 years when he was beaten to the cross at the age of a little more than 34 years. ...

... Didn't Florena ask you to give me an enlightening answer regarding an old bones urn that was reported in all public media in October 2002, which is supposed to be an urn containing the bones of James, the son of Joseph, brother of Jesus? This is actually nonsense, for Jmmanuel had his brother James brought to Srinagar, where he died and was buried at the age of 93, while Jmmanuel did not die on Golgotha, but also in Srinagar/Kashmir, and that at the age of 115.

Enjana:

41. Florena actually commissioned me with your question, which I passed on to Quetzal, since he is the authoritative luminary on the life and history of Jmmanuel and his siblings.

42. According to his instructions, I am to tell you that an urn with James' bones never existed and therefore could not be found in Jerusalem or anywhere else in Israel or Palestine etc.

43. The bones urn that you mention, as our research has clarified, is a forgery, in the sense that it is declared as James' urn, which has nothing to do with the bones of James, Jmmanuel's brother, for he actually died in Srinagar, as did Jmmanuel, who was buried in Srinagar in 115, according to his correct birth time.

44. According to the so-called Christian calendar, this applies to the year 111.

Billy:

Jmmanuel was never called Jesus, as his disciples accused him after his departure. And besides, in his time the names James, Joseph and Jesus were very common, so that 'James, son of Joseph, brother of Jesus', which should be written on the urn, will apply to another James, Joseph and Jesus. Just like today, there were several ways that the three names could appear in a family at the same time.

Enjana:

45. Your question to Florena in this regard, which I also put to Quetzal, corresponds to the real thing.

46. In Jmmanuel's time, Quetzal explained, the names, as they are called, must have appeared 34 times as son, father and brother.

Billy:

There have been some television shows about Christian relics for which I would like to know what is true about them. The first question relates to the legendary Grail, a vessel Joseph of Arimathea is said to have used to catch Jmmanuel's blood at the crucifixion. This goblet is supposed to work wonders and make one immortal as well as heal all sicknesses and evils, etc.

Quetzal:

10. This is absolute nonsense, for neither does such a Grail exist, nor has Joseph of Arimathea caught the blood of Jmmanuel in a vessel.

11. That however no other human being has done either.

Ptaah:

5. This senseless claim was invented fictitiously centuries after the event of the crucifixion, namely by members of a sect that emerged from Jmmanuel's already early falsified teaching.

6. And the fact that no blood of Jmmanuel was caught in a vessel, rather that the little blood that Jmmanuel lost dripped to the ground and seeped away, is perfectly certain, because this was recorded in our annals by the personality of that time Gabriel, the procreating father of Jmmanuel.

7. He was direct eyewitness of the real event.

Billy:

Interesting. I did not know that. Then the second question: Do you know the story regarding a 'Holy Lance' that was said to have been used to stab Jmmanuel in the loin on the cross?

Ptaah:

8. Also this nonsense is known to us.

It is claimed that whoever possesses this lance i.e. the tip of the lance should be imparted invincibility. The lance is supposed to have supernatural powers. According to the claim, a Roman soldier is said to have stabbed Jmmanuel with this tip of the lance, which is why his blood is supposed to stick to it. This tip of the lance is also said to confer great power on the owner, which is why Hitler was also eager to get hold of the lance, as was the case with other rulers, despots and dictators, among them also kings and emperors.

Quetzal:

12. This tip of the lance is a forgery from the 8th century after Jmmanuel.

13. However, in truth there are still further such forgeries, which were made in the course of the time.

14. In 1354 Pope Innocent VI, who was in place from 1352 to 1362, declared the 8th-century tip of the lance to be the 'Holy Lance', with the claim that it was indeed the lance with which Jmmanuel was stabbed in the loin.

15. Truthly the forgery is a piece made from a lance used in combat actions, which however was not yet hand-forged at the time of Jmmanuel, consequently he could also have never been touched by it.

Billy:

That too was said in the television programme. Okay, then still the question about the shroud, the so-called Shroud of Turin, which is claimed to be a shroud that carries the image of Jmmanuel alias Jesus. However, about this you once told me that it would be an image of an Italian merchant.

Ptaah:

9. That is correct, because the shroud does not show the image of Jmmanuel, but that of a merchant from Turin/Italy, called Caesar Canova.

10. The shroud was made by the brother of the deceased, Luciano Canova, an alchemist.

11. The process took place on 7 June 1324 and lasted until 10 June, i.e. 4 days.

12. During this, the procedure was not such that the shroud was placed on the deceased and the latter was rubbed with chemicals, as is often claimed, but it was a very early form of photography, whereby the corpse was placed vertically in front of a large glass lens, through which the image was then projected for four days through an effect of sunlight onto a large fabric surface soaked in chemicals in a dark room, after which the shroud was then treated with silver nitrate and the image became in that way visible and retained.

Billy:

... In the Christian world Jmmanuel and the so-called saints are always depicted with a halo hanging over their heads. Do you know where this naughtiness comes from, because neither Jmmanuel nor any other prophet had such a gloriolate over his head. Even an aureole, with which the whole figure is surrounded in a circle, as well as the almond-shaped mandorla, I cannot associate with Jmmanuel, Mary and various 'saints'. I only know the whole thing from India and the Far East, where the gods and 'saints' have been represented with such garlands of rays since ancient times.

Ptaah:

27. From there, Christianity has also taken over the essence of the glorious beings in order to give their religious figures a supernatural appearance and to make the believers self-conscious.

28. The garland of lights around a religious figure is to testify to its 'holiness' and 'spiritual greatness' as well as its 'heavenly origin' and its 'sublimity above all earthly things'.

Billy:

... Fundamental to the anti-Semitism that emanates from the Christian world and relates to the Jews, many Christians hold them responsible for the crucifixion of Jmmanuel (alias Jesus Christ). For this reason alone, they have been stirring up hatred against Judaism since time immemorial, but this is absolutely nonsensical. In truth, Jmmanuel was not crucified by the Jews, but through the fault of the chief priests and the Romans, who stirred up the people, after which the crucifixion was carried out by the Roman henchmen. Thus, the actual Jewish people did not contribute anything to the crucifixion, for the pro- and hurricane cries of the people, which were under the suggestive influence of the high priests, were only their few, who, moreover, in no way embodied the people. So, in principle, the whole Jewish people cannot be discriminated against and pronounced guilty of the crucifixion of Jmmanuel, as has been done since time immemorial, the Catholic Church bearing the main blame for this lie, for it was the Catholic Church that brought this slander of the alleged guilt of the Jews into the world. The truth is also that the Romans saw Jmmanuel's teaching as revolutionary and for this reason alone they intended to condemn him and hand him over to crucifixion, which they did with the help of the Jewish high priests.

Well, the history of the origin of the people of Israel leads far back to the Hebraons and the ancient Hebrews who came out of them, who were not exactly saints as a whole, and who conquered Palestine out of it with evil acts of war and murder. But this is already thousands of years ago and has nothing to do with the crucifixion of Jmmanuel, which was unjust in one way or another, and which, as I said, was not to be attributed to the Jewish people, but to their high priests and the Romans. Like all true prophets, who brought the teaching of the spirit, or the teaching of truth, or the teaching of life to the respective people, Jmmanuel was also a revolutionary, who of course was not appreciated either by the Romans or by the chief priests. Jmmanuel's teaching was the teaching of peace, freedom, love and harmony, as well as the carrying of one's own responsibility, leaving out religion. This, of course, did not suit either the chief priests or the Romans in their dirty business, so that the revolter and 'blasphemer' they hated had to disappear from the scene, which was to happen by crucifixion – at least that was what they hoped, but they did not expect that Jmmanuel was only in deep faint when he was taken down from the cross, so that he could flee to Syria and later to India. Many Jewish believers who had taken pleasure in his teaching helped him in this, and there were many of them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_445

Billy:

... The Christian religion in particular plays the most decisive role, in which the hatred of Jews was fundamentally born, and that from the crucifixion of Christ, which was taken as a reason for hatred against the Jews and for their persecution at an early stage. But the fact that the henchmen who arrested Jmmanuel (alias Jesus Christ) in his time were just as much Romans and so-called idolaters (see Roman mythology) as the author of the death sentence, Pontius Pilate, is deliberately overlooked as is the fact that the executioners were also of Roman blood. At that time the Jews were under Roman thumb and had to do and let do what they were told. This also applied to the Jewish scribes and to the Pharisees etc., for they all had to dance to the Roman violin, which was played by the occupiers and rulers of the country and the people. Although at that time the scribes and priests of the Jewish faith deliberately had their fingers in the crucifixion of Jmmanuel, because he raged against their erroneous teachings, that is, the Romans came to them just in time to accuse Jmmanuel of revolt, but basically the Romans were the real culprits, because through them Jmmanuel was crucified, after the scribes and priests had incited the rabble to demand the death sentence by incitement. Consequently, it should be clear that it was not the Jews who were really responsible for the crucifixion of Jmmanuel alias 'Christ', but the Romans. ...

17. ... I would like to tell you what I have found out about the family tree of the 'Meier von Bülach' and also about you.
18. As we have both already suspected, the line goes back to Jmmanuel and finally to the son of heaven Semjasa.
19. For my research I have to admit, however, that these are only to be understood in very rough outlines and in the main and decisive points concerning the family tree, because to research and list the complete family tree would be much too costly.
20. But what has emerged from my further research into the family tree is that before the 'Mejr' of Amalfi, by whom the Hospitaller Brotherhood was founded in Jerusalem in 1048, the family tree line goes back to a man named 'Dison', who was active in Israel as a 'Maggid' respectively as a wandering herald about 180 years after Jmmanuel.
21. His male descendant Jeschua moved to Syria, after whose death his two male descendants moved to Medina and founded a family there.
22. In one family four daughters were born, in the other two sons and one daughter.
23. One of the sons died very young, however, while the other emigrated to Mecca in Saudi Arabia, married there and, due to the harassment of the population, took the name of his Arab wife.
24. This marriage produced three daughters, but also a son who emigrated back to Israel.
25. There he gave up the name he had taken in Mecca and called himself Mejr, from whose line the merchant Mejr from Amalfi finally emerged.
26. Dison was a descendant of Jmmanuel's son Joseph, who was born in India, but after his father's death went to Jerusalem and founded a family there, from which two daughters and Dison as the only son emerged.
27. His pedigree, in turn, logically led back to Jmmanuel and to Joseph, Jmmanuel's foster father and his ancestral family tree, whereby, as is well known, Jmmanuel's procreation father was the son of heaven, Gabriel, whose genetic structure was naturally transferred to Jmmanuel and passed on.
28. Jmmanuel's spirit-form, which originated from the Nokodemion line, naturally revived all the old prophets of the same line in their time, but also Semjasa, the father of Adam, who was a cousin of the ringleader Semjasa, the leader of the sons of heaven.

37. As a result, the bonds and connections that had been formed over a long period of time were also lost, but only on the basis of the new sectarian Christian faith, which was first combined with the cult of Natalis Solis, the god of the sun, whose feast day was celebrated on the 25th of December and which Christians secretly adopted as the feast of Christ, respectively as the feast of the birth of Christ.

38. From the year 339 onwards, Christians officially began to celebrate the alleged birth of Christ more and more officially at the same time as the Natalis Solis festival – because this cult continued to exist for a long time – although this festival of Christ had been secretly practised for around 30 years.

39. Constantine also belonged to these Christ-festivities, for he had already fallen prey to the Christian faith in 309, although he was at the same time a follower of the Natalis Solis cult and believed that he would be able to consolidate his power more easily if he was dependent on the gods of both cults.

... The ritual of circumcision in relation to male newborns was largely replaced by baptism in Christianity. In 1962 the Second Vatican Council abolished completely the feast of circumcision of the Lord (in circumcissione domini), commemorating the alleged circumcision of Jesus on the eighth day after Christmas Eve or the 1st of January (Lk. 2:21 EU). The fact is that the story of this circumcision was a pure fairy tale of Jewish Christianity, because Jmmanuel (alias Jesus) was not circumcised.

... By the way, the ancient myrrh has also been known since ancient times. Myrrh is the resin of two or three species of the balsam tree and can prevent infections by viruses and fungi. Myrrh also played a role in the birth of Jmmanuel, in which four wise men, who came from afar, brought precious resins and oils for him. One of the four wise men was an educated physician - whatever that may have been at that time - who brought along a tree resin, the preservative benzoin resin, as well as the medically relevant sandarak or resin of the cypress tree, the scent of which has a strong effect on the vegetative nervous system. Benzoin is a traditional medicine used as an antiseptic, being used for example from Java to India for colds, coughs and sore throats, but also as a medicine for urinary tract infections ...

1371. But as ever, the truthful prophet Muhammad never had time to write down his teachings and his warnings and prophecies personally, so he instructed his cousin to do it, but he interpreted everything wrongly at his own discretion and wrote it down in such a falsified way that Muhammad's teaching came to even worse shame than it had done about 500 years before with Jmmanuel's teaching through his brother James and through Paulus-Saulus and the disciples Luke, Matthew, Mark and John.

... As a result of the inability of people at Jmmanuel's time (wrongly called Jesus Christ) to understand many concepts, such as 'consciousness', the traditional and widespread term 'spirit' was used, which has survived to this day and creates a tremendous misunderstanding and confusion. Jmmanuel was aware that the term 'spirit' did not correspond to correctness, but due to the incomprehension of the people of that time he could not use the correct term 'consciousness'. So he had no choice but to use the term 'spirit' to explain the values of the 'teaching of the prophets' or the 'teaching of the truth, teaching of the spirit, teaching of the life' and the meaning and value of the prayers. And since the term 'spirit' was understood by people at that time as that and is still understood today, what happens and is done through consciousness, that thoughts are cultivated, actions and ideas are conceived and carried out, inventions are made, poems are rhymed and written works are conceived and created, etc., so it resulted with the word 'spirit' that it was understood what just had to be understood. ...

... The effective beginnings of racism were already set in Galilee and Judea, by the very first Christians respectively the followers and disciples of 'Jmmanuel of Nazareth', who is falsely insulted by the Christian world as 'Jesus Christ' and thus with a name, which he neither received at his birth nor later carried, because he was simply ascribed to him by his followers and disciples for 'having to be Messiah'. ...

... The hatred against the Jews began very early with the beginnings of Christianity, namely through the followers and disciples of the alleged 'Jesus Christ', who was never so thought of and called by his parents Mary and Joseph, but with the name Jmmanuel, as the prophet Isaiah predicted in chapter 7, 10-17 in a prophecy. But in the Bible, in the so-called 'Old Testament' – which in truth does not correspond to a testament but to a chronicle that was drawn up and falsified centuries later – it is claimed to be a lie that Jmmanuel was not called Jmmanuel by his parents, but Jesus. So already in the early days through the 'Jesus' followers and 'Jesus' disciples and their lies the falsification of the name from Jmmanuel to 'Jesus' arose. ...

... And because Jmmanuel, through his 'teaching of the prophets' or 'teaching of the spirit' or 'teaching of the truth, teaching of the spirit, teaching of the life', revealed true beings to the offending elders, chief priests, Pharisees and scribes, they put their henchmen on him and persecuted him. In principle, however, the Jewish people were not indifferent to the fact that those through whom they were to be taught the right laws and commandments lived contrary to their teachings and rejected the way of life of the people as wrong. And this happened because Jmmanuel described the way of life of the elders, Pharisees and scribes as degenerate, excessive and misleading, who also called the 'teaching of the prophets' a lie, which was declared by Jmmanuel to be the truth of creation. The latter found many followers among the Jewish people, contrary to the false lives of the elders, chief priests, Pharisees and scribes, who called together a number of like-minded people and testified by lies and slander against Jmmanuel, when he was arrested by the evil-doers, brought to trial and sentenced to death on the cross. So according to Plejaren records it was not the Jewish people, but only the actual ringleaders or elders, high priests, Pharisees and scribes and the 42 like-minded who were responsible for the imprisonment, the false testimony, condemnation and the crucifixion of Jmmanuel. The rest of the Jewish people had nothing at all to do with it, but what the 'Jesus Christ' inventors or 'Jesus' followers and 'Jesus' disciples, full of hatred, deliberately and completely misrepresented, and it was subsequently slanderously passed down by the so-called Christian 'New Testament'. ...

... To this hatred against the Jews also contributed the allegedly 'unadulterated' 1st Letter of Paul to the Thessalonians, which is reproduced by Martin Luther under Thessalonians 2, 14-16 (Luther Bible 1912). It is said to be one of the earliest preserved written documents of Christianity, although it is not mentioned that this letter was not written by Paul alias Saul, but by a scribe of the time. This precisely because Paul himself was just as ignorant of reading and writing as all the others who went with Jmmanuel – except for the disciple Judas Ischkerioth, who made written records and to whom the 'Talmud Jmmanuel' leads back (available at FIGU, Hinterschmidrüti 1225, 8495 Schmidrüti). Well, the first. Letter of Paul – which was written by a scribe according to Paul's instructions and interpreted by the letter writer at his own discretion ...

... the effective truth according to the Plejaren states that the Jewish people themselves had nothing whatsoever to do with the persecution, condemnation and crucifixion of Jmmanuel (wrongly Jesus Christ), but only the elders, chief priests, Pharisees and scribes of that time, as well as the 42 who were in bondage to them. ...

... The hilltop of Masada is formed by a plateau, and the plateau was originally accessible only by 3 narrow mule tracks, as it was protected on all sides by rocky escarpments. Essentially, the fortress was built on the site of a smaller fortress several decades older in 3 phases, within 10 years between 42 B.C. and 32 B.C. The whole thing was commissioned by King Herod I the Great, who was a Roman client-king in Judea, Galilee, Samaria and the neighbouring areas. This Herod is best known for the infanticide in Bethlehem attributed to him in the Bible according to Matthew. He was born in Edom in 73 BC, after which he died in Jericho in 4 BC and was buried in Judea. His wife was Mariamne, to whom he was married from 37 BC to 29 BC. His children Herod Antipas, Herod Archelaos, Herod Philippos, Herod Boethos were also his successors. Herod I the Great was one of the most brutal and cruel regents of antiquity and at the same time one of the greatest builders of his time in the area of tension between Palestine and Rome. When he died, his funeral bier was made of pure gold, decorated with precious gems and covered with fabrics embroidered in different colours, on which the corpse lay wrapped in a purple robe. On his head he wore a diadem and a golden crown, while his sceptre was placed beside his right hand. The whole thing was a funeral of immense and rare pomp and pageantry. However, it was not until nearly 4 decades later that this event was reported by a born Jewish historian named Joseph Ben Jathitjahu. This man came from a Jewish priestly family, but after the destruction of Jerusalem by the Romans in 70 AD, he had assumed a Roman identity and henceforth called himself Flavius Josephus. He had made it his task to present Jewish life to the Romans as authentically as possible, although he had not been an eyewitness to the burial of Herod I the Great. His records led back to the fact that, as was usual with him, he had meticulously researched everything and described the funeral procession, the line-up of the procession, the length of the route and the place of burial down to the last detail. There was only one thing that the historian, known for the reliability of his reports, had described very vaguely, namely the grave itself. Consequently, for about 2 millennia, no one knew where the tomb of Herod I the Great was located, until on the 8th of May 2007, the Israeli archaeologist Ehud Netzer finally announced that he had discovered the tomb. For 35 years he had been digging around at the mountain fortress of Herodium, but then the renowned archaeologist of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem found the tomb, namely in the eastern flank of the approximately 60-metre-high Herodium Hill, where Herod I the Great, the violent, brutal, cruel and dazzling ruler and biblical fiend had found his final resting place.

... But now I would like to talk a little bit in detail and openly about how basically the so-called 'holy' books came into being with regard to Christianity and Islam, because the truth is that neither Jmmanuel alias Jesus, nor Muhammad themselves made any written records of the 'teachings of the prophets'. Only Jmmanuel's disciple Judas Ischkerioth – not Judas Iskarioth or Ischarioth or Isharioth – knew the Scriptures, while all the other disciples, contrary to all the conventional lies and claims, were just as ignorant of the Scriptures as the followers around Mohammed. The records of Judas Ishkerioth, from which the book 'Talmud Jmmanuel' was made, were finally translated into German by those who knew the Scriptures, after Isa Rashid had falsified everything according to his priesthood. The Christian 'New Testament', however, has no connection whatsoever with the actual records of Judas Ischkerioth, for this corresponds to a work of lies whose origin lay long years after the time of Jmmanuel and Judas Ischkerioth in 'letters' of the disciples, etc., which began to circulate and from which the so-called 'New Testament' was also finally made. These 'disciples' letters', however, were not written by the disciples themselves, who knew how to write and write, but were written works of scribes, to whom various disciples etc. dictated their statements according to the time of Jmmanuel, which, however, were interpreted by the scribblers according to their own discretion and sense and were formulated and written accordingly. In the process, fanciful or misinterpreting things and events were added that lacked any truth content. This also happened with the Hebrews and their descendants when the first Torah and then the second Torah were written, from which the Christian Bible ultimately emerged. These 'holy' works were also not written according to the real truth, but according to ancient stories, fables and legends, etc., which – as with all peoples of the Earth – were based on assumptions, beliefs, hallucinations, fantasies, delusions, fairy tales, hopes, dreams and wishes, etc., which were nurtured by human beings over decades and centuries or even millennia. ...

... So it is also not accepted that the 'teaching of the prophets' or the 'teaching of truth, teaching of the spirit, teaching of life' – as it was already brought by Jmmanuel and all 4 other prophets or heralds Enoch, Elijah, Isaiah and Jeremiah – which is now also taught today for the last time and spread by the FIGU, is a teaching of the creative-natural laws. A teaching that teaches the human being to live with all fellow human beings and all peoples in peace, freedom and justice, in humanity and love. And this ancient teaching, whose origins can be traced back to Nokodemion, the universal herald who existed 9 billion years ago, also teaches that self-knowledge, consciousness-self-development, good self-esteem, empathy and healthy self-respect, etc. are of the greatest importance for the individual human being, as well as connectedness with the existence of the entire environment. ...

... Muhammad and Jmmanuel, however, were in reality humble human beings of love, peace, freedom, justice, equality and humanity, as were also the other, earlier and predetermined prophets Enoch, Elijah, Isaiah, Jeremiah from the same prophetic line before them. And, as I said, the old 4 prophets were predestined from time immemorial, as were Jmmanuel and Mohammed, because they were prophets born of earth mothers from the nations and therefore not 'sons of God', not 'chosen' by a God and not 'servants of God' or such nonsense as was attributed to them in the course of time by crazy and delusional people. Enoch, Elia, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Jmmanuel and Mohammed were pre-determined prophets or heralds of the 'Doctrine of the Prophets' or the 'Doctrine of Truth, Doctrine of the Spirit, Doctrine of Life', which was created ages ago by the ever first prophet or herald Nokodemion according to the creative-natural laws and carried on in his spiritual lineage reincarnating over all times. But in addition to the prophets or heralds of the Nokodemion lineage, wise human beings – female and male – also always arise in all peoples, who acquire much creative-natural knowledge by their own efforts and instruct the peoples, guide them and teach them the true ways of creative-natural conduct of life.

25. ... the 'teaching of truth, teaching of the spirit, teaching of life', which was brought by the ancient prophets and which you also teach, was completely falsified by Earth-humans and became confused religions, from which also many sects emerged.

26. And that this true teaching was not written down by the old prophets themselves was because they had no means to do so, which was also the case with the last two prophets.

27. Also these two taught only orally, and their disciples were ignorant of reading and writing, with one exception, for with the messenger Jmmanuel there was a scribe named Judas Ischkerioth, who however recorded more incidents than values of the teaching.

28. Since the prophets could not record or write down the teachings themselves, it was not until many decades after their deaths that the possibility arose for scribes to create written records through extremely poor memories and false interpretations as well as badly falsified oral traditions and stories.

29. In the process, these also fell prey to new falsifications through their own interpretations, which were introduced by the scribes into their writings.

30. Thus it could happen that the old prophets, against their will, were unintentionally elevated to the status of founders of religions after their death, although this was in fact absolutely not in their sense.

... And that the nonsensical nonsense of the immaculate conception by the 'Holy Spirit of God' should have led to the birth of a Son of God, should then be believed unthinkingly by the Christian believers and become a rock-solid delusion of faith, that is unavoidable. This already ancient, senseless, lying Christian fairy tale story – as it was also told to the faithful in a similar way in various other old religious lies and from which Christianity has taken over the whole fairy tale jumble – was not spread by the prophet or herald Jmmanuel (alias Jesus Christ, who never bore this name), but was invented by some of his disciples only after his flight from the cross, when he was already on his way to India. He was also accompanied there by his twin brother James, his companion and disciple Mary Magdalene, who was devoted to him in deep platonic friendship. Mary Magdalene was never really his lover, but his stepsister, who held him in deep brotherly love, and was fathered by Joseph with his first wife, who came from Magdala on the Sea of Galilee and died giving birth to their daughter Miriam (Mary) Magdalene. Miriam (the mother of Jmmanuel) was also on her way to India with him, but she did not survive the hardships of the journey and died in the north of Pakistan and was also buried there.

110. In Christian circles, the allegedly inverted or upside-down 'cross' was then called the 'Nero Cross'.

111. In truth, the 'cross' was also not one in the sense of a Christ cross, but a natural thick tree branch with a ypsilon-shaped branch fork, as many Roman crucifixion 'crosses' were.

112. Peter was also crucified on such a tree branch ypsilon, erected vertically, like every tree branch ypsilon or hand carved cross on which Earth-humans were crucified.

This, however, in addition to monstrous lies, is also rightly stated in the Bible that he ate fish according to Luke 24:42–43 and also lamb according to Luke 22:8–15. Jmmanuel also distributed fish and bread at the feeding of the alleged '5,000' – where in reality and truth a group of only a few dozen human beings was present and thus not 5,000 earthlings. In fact, only about 250 persons were present at this Sermon on the Mount and the multiplication of fish and bread, and only a few men were present, contrary to the claim of lies in John chapter 6, verse 10 in the New Testament. Mainly there were only women and children who listened to Jmmanuel's explanations and also followed him up the 'mountain', which in reality was only a small hill. So the 5 barley loaves and the 2 fishes, which Jmmanuel had multiplied by his powers of consciousness, were needed for only about 250 human beings resp. women and children as well as for 40 men, but not for their 5,000. Effectively it would have been extremely strange if Jmmanuel had been a vegetarian or vegan. 57. Jmmanuel born 3rd February -2 {B.C.} – 111, 9th May

231. After Jmmanuel's flight from Jerusalem, his entire life history from birth up to his death was spread and later also written down with monstrous falsifications, lies, assertions and calumnies, thus the same happened with Mohammed, whose real name indeed was Abdul Kasim Muhammad Ibn Abdallah.

232. In Jmmanuel's case, only Judas Ischkerioth was well versed in writing, however neither any female nor male member of his discipleship, which included more persons than just the twelve listed in the New Testament, which is full of inventions, falsifications, wrong commemorative-claims, interpretations, and lies.

233. In addition, the individual chapters, assertions/claims and 'recollections', etc. of this work of lies were not written until many years after his flight, by scribes, and moreover were written in a further falsifying wise through their own additional interpretations and partly also attributed to former disciples, who, however, never took part in such writings and thus did not provide any information whatsoever, out of which the work of lies called New Testament then arose.

253. Ancient Palestine was occupied by the Romans at the time of Jmmanuel and had experienced some increase in prosperity under them, even though the native population was directed by a harsh Jewish and religious-oriented rule, which is why it was opportune for the emerging Christians to devise a story of lies of a resurrection of the crucified Jmmanuel and to call him Jesus.

254. This, while southern Arabia was a very backward area at the time of Mohammed, far away from all the cultural and economic centres of the world at that time, where the human beings who were poor, suffered great hardship and were only too happy to believe in and fall prey to a new religion of salvation.

255. If the old scrolls/writings are examined, which are supposed to come from disciples, direct followers and the like as well as from direct or indirect descendants, relatives or from family members of the two proclaimers, then all such alleged written proofs correspond altogether to only sneaky and disingenuous falsifications, wrong memories (only partly true) and wrong renditions as well as very fallible interpretations by the scribes.

256. Truthly, there is not a single such ancient document which would be directly or semi-directly related to a person who had been in direct or indirect contact with Jmmanuel or Mohammed.

257. Claims to the contrary and so-called 'written documentary evidence/proofs' correspond to nothing other than falsifications and lies, because in the case of both Jmmanuel as well as Mohammed, the first written records were made only years later, after their departure, i.e. after their death.

258. And this happened according to very inadequate or erroneous memories, but also through conscious false claims and lies, etc., as a result of which glorifications and fairy tales regarding Jmmanuel and Mohammed also came about.

259. In addition, various direct and indirect followers were fraudulently/lyingly attributed to the two proclaimers, who in truth, however, had nothing to do with them.

260. Even disciples, followers and relatives as well as friends, etc., versed in writing, were attributed to the two proclaimers Jmmanuel and Mohammed at all times, but out of all those mentioned, not a single one was knowledgeable of the script and writing.

261. Judas Ischkerioth was the only one amongst all, who correctly and truthly mastered the script and who was well versed in writing and a disciple close to Jmmanuel.

262. Later he was slandered by falsifiers of writings and by hangers-on, just as the name of Jesus was then also imputed to Jmmanuel.

263. So it must repeatedly be made clear, that everything was the same with Mohammed and Jmmanuel, although concerning Jmmanuel, it was Judas Ischkerioth who was well versed in script/writing and written language and who made the chronicles, from which the Talmud then arose through your and the group members efforts, which in the end had to be correctly translated and revised by our script and language experts/specialists, because the priest Isa Rashid had translated it wrongly according to his Christian deluded belief. 264. This, while all other records concerning the teaching of Jmmanuel and Mohammed were in no way made by any of their disciples or direct or indirect descendants, etc., but by strangers, namely even only a long time after their death.

264. This, while all other records concerning the teaching of Jmmanuel and Mohammed were in no way made by any of their disciples or direct or indirect descendants, etc., but by strangers, namely even only a long time after their death.

265. Truthly, however, in relation to the two of them and their teaching, which on both sides was the 'teaching of the truth, teaching of the spirit, teaching of the life', everything was abysmally misunderstood and boundlessly falsified beyond recognition.

266. This also applies to various other ancient and newly discovered old writings, which likewise do not lead back to any disciples during the lifetime of Jmmanuel or to direct followers or relatives and so forth of Mohammed.

Christianity, which began with an attempted murder when the Romans crucified Jmmanuel and he allegedly died – if we were to believe the mendacious Bible book account, which is a fraud, because Jmmanuel, alias Jesus, did not die on the cross, but was only mistakenly declared dead, but then, when he awoke in the burial cave, was able to escape with the help of his disciples to Srinagar, where he died at the age of 111.

And just so, with regard to Christianity, this effectively evil has ultimately spread over the entire Earth in the alleged name and according to the will and protection as well as the love of a murderous God and faith in this imaginary fantasy figure. ... The original reason was that a hatred arose that became more and more widespread, which was based on the fact that Jmmanuel – Jesus, as he is wrongly called, although he never bore this name – was crucified, or rather that the Jews caused the crucifixion of Christ. This led to the Jews being called 'God-killers', persecuted and murdered, which led to the mass murder of them in the 3rd World War and cost the lives of millions of believers in the Jews. The hatred has maddeningly persisted to this day, even though not a single Jewish-believing human being was involved in the crucifixion of Jmmanuel. Jmmanuel was not crucified by any Jewish believers, but solely by Romans who truthfully executed him because he railed against their religion, the faith of 'polytheistic universalism'. Jmmanuel taught the 'Teaching of the Truth, Teaching of the Creation-energy, Teaching of the Life' which was destructive to the Romans and therefore Jmmanuel was considered an enemy of the state. This is the real truth that must now be told after all, for truthfully, polytheistic universalism was the reason that the Romans were able to spread their empire over the whole of the then known world. Jmmanuel was a danger to the continued existence of the Roman religion and the expansion of the Roman Empire, which is why he was sought out, hunted down and ultimately crucified, consequently the Jews had nothing at all to do with anything. Everything from the very beginning was nothing but an evil invention of the early Christians, who freely invented everything and attributed it to the Jews, whose foremost, the high priests etc., were of course also against the teaching of Jmmanuel and hated him, complained to the supreme Roman and found a hearing, because he could blame the Jews for everything. The real reason for the persecution and crucifixion, however, was the Roman religion, which attacked Jmmanuel and rebelled against it with the teaching of truth.

Billy:

... However, we don't need to talk about that any further, but something else, namely especially with regard to the term 'spirit', which is why I am often called or asked. Jmmanuel neither knew nor ever used this term, for he always and exclusively spoke of 'creative power'. The term resp. the word 'spirit' was only invented later and falsely adopted in the works of religion etc. The word 'spirit' is falsified. The word 'spirit' is falsely derived from the Indo-Germanic language and has been spread all over the world, namely from the term 'gheis', whereby this word means something completely different than 'Creation-energy' resp. 'Creation-power', as Jmmanuel – as allegedly 'Jesus Christ' – truly used it. He never used the word 'spirit', which in its original Indo-Germanic meaning has no connection with 'creative power', but 'gheis' resp. the 'spirit' fabricated from it has the meaning of 'seized, excited, horrified, shuddering, frightened and upset'.

Billy:

Now as for Jmmanuel, his name was really Jmmanuel, but not Jesus as was imputed to him and is still imputed to him today. He was crucified through the fault of 3 high priests as well as that of a small fanatical group of believers. There were about 10 or 12 people, fanatical followers of the high priests. He was accused by them as an alleged 'blasphemer of the truth' and 'blasphemer of the doctrine' of the Jewish religion to the chief of the Roman occupiers, to Pilate. The 3 high priests and the few fanatical followers from the people succeeded in persuading Pilate that Jmmanuel was a criminal against the teaching of 'Adonai' resp. Jod. He. Waw. He. and should therefore be sentenced to death. Pilate did not want this, because he saw no guilt in Jmmanuel, but after the efforts of the 3 priests and their fanatical followers, he finally gave in and shifted the blame for the execution onto the Jewish high priests and their fanatical followers, because the Jewish religious law of that time supposedly demanded this punishment, which however corresponded to a lie of the high priests.

The fact that the majority of the Jewish people actually saw Jmmanuel as a prophesied prophet, that they had been expecting him and waiting for his teaching, corresponded to the facts. The teaching that Jmmanuel taught, however, which was completely different from the one that had been handed down infinitely distorted since ancient times, endangered them and consequently also the high priesthood, because the teaching that Jmmanuel brought threatened to dissolve the faith. Therefore, Jmmanuel was accused with lies of being a 'traitor to doctrine' and sentenced to death. However, in reality and truth, he was not nailed to a cross, but to a long Y-shaped execution stake, on which he fainted deeply after hours and was considered dead, which is why his followers were allowed to take him down and 'lay him to rest' in a cave outside the city walls of Jerusalem. There, however, he was secretly nursed, and when he regained enough strength to walk, he fled from Jerusalem to Damascus, then northwards to the Greek city of Myrrha, and then further eastwards until he reached Kashmir, where he was called Yuz Asaf and where he continued to spread the teaching, which, however, was distorted ad infinitum.

Actually, no one knows today why anti-Judaism, I mean, why hatred of Jews arose. The consequence of Jmmanuel's execution was – what started early on – that the later followers of Jmmanuel accused the whole nation of Jews of murdering him, although only their 2 hands full of fanatics managed to condemn Jmmanuel to death by lies etc. and have him executed. In fact, this is the reason for the hatred against Jewish believers, the people of the Jews, consequently anti-Judaism as an origin is based on a few guilty people who were so fanatically indoctrinated that they themselves were willing to wish death on an innocent person. In this respect, however, this and that is fancifully claimed as the origin of hatred of the Jews. In truth, however, this only arose because there were 3 originators and a few fanatics – i.e. not the people of Israel – who wanted to have Jmmanuel murdered.

But the fact that Jesus of Nazareth was made out of the real name Jmmanuel by crazy people who did not understand him and that they made him the founder of Christianity, actually came only afterwards, when he was already in Kashmir. The fact that many separated themselves from Judaism and turned to the emerging Christianity dragged on for long centuries. The devaluation of the Jewish faith took a long time, as did Christianity, which was able to openly break through to a faith after a very long time.

That Jmmanuel died for all human beings and should have borne their sins to death, this erroneous idea was still Jewish at that time, and indeed by those apostate Jewish believers who misunderstood and misinterpreted all that Jmmanuel brought as a teaching. The believers who misunderstood everything, namely that the teaching that Jmmanuel had taught had been dictated by God Himself, had thus been completely misunderstood by the followers. This was not unusual, however, because the long-established belief in Adonai and his greatness and omnipotence did not allow for anything else. Moreover, Jmmanuel's parents were Jewish, and consequently Jmmanuel was also regarded and judged as a Jew, even though he did not represent the Jewish faith. He was probably understood by a large following as an itinerant rabbi, but his teaching was not, and not even what he actually taught. It was not understood that he wanted to teach the good and the correct throughout his life, that he wanted to break down the old faith structures, and that he did so by gently working towards teaching the human beings about the truth, without openly touching their erroneous belief in God. This was more than necessary at that time, because it was life-threatening to say something against God and, in addition, to think for oneself and not simply to think religiously. Nevertheless, 3 high priests recognised what Jmmanuel was aiming at and what value his teaching contained, which is why they complained to Pilate against him with insults of lies and demanded death.

Jmmanuel was never a believer, so he was not a Jew, but only an Israelite. For over 2000 years Christianity has concealed and distorted this truth, while the Jews have remained with their old conventional faith, because they could not be taught the truth by Jmmanuel and his teachings. It was Jewish believers at that time who were Jmmanuel's followers and who misunderstood and misinterpreted his teaching, consequently they spread the teaching according to their wrong understanding, out of which the Gospel finally arose. The whole thing was misunderstood by Jmmanuel's followers from northern Galilee and spread throughout the world without anyone ever asking about the actual truth, but everything was simply believed without hesitation. This is also why there are so few traces of the religion of Judaism in Christianity. When the followers of Jmmanuel separated from Judaism, it was already at the time when Jmmanuel was brought to the Y-pole. That was fully enough for Jmmanuel's followers to separate from Judaism and curse those who were guilty of Jmmanuel being executed. Unfortunately, the result was that many people incited by the guilty – as was customary at the time, as incitement is still customary today, which quickly creates a mob of roaring fanatics – gawked at the execution, consequently the followers, who were also present in large numbers, insulted the gapers and equated them with the guilty, which was also maintained from then on and generally the believers in the Jews were held innocently liable for Jmmanuel's execution. This was quickly spread everywhere, which also led to the devaluation of the Jewish faith and which resulted in the emerging false faith of Jmmanuel's followers. And it was not long before Jmmanuel was ascribed a sonship with God and his teaching, which was misunderstood, was declared to be the Word of God, whereby the false belief was formed into the Gospel. With this, everything became a faith with such an authoritative character of false correctness that the delusion arose to unconditionally recognise God as the highest authority and one's own actions as His will. This, together with the false letters that were written over a very long period of time again and again by followers of Jmmanuel who knew the Scriptures and by the followers' successors and their descendants, ultimately resulted in the Jesus faith and then the Christian faith and Christianity. ...

... Now, once again, the process of the separation of the followers of Jmmanuel from Judaism and the emergence of Christianity is to be mentioned, which was a really creeping process that already began when Jmmanuel was saved not as a dead man but as a fainter. His continued life was interpreted as a 'divine resurrection' and spread among the followers of Jmmanuel, which quickly spread far and wide like wildfire. This was also brought to the notice of the culprits, who sent out henchmen to kill Jmmanuel, but they failed and he escaped to Kashmir. Nevertheless, the followers formed a so-called early church, which dealt with the misunderstood teachings of Jmmanuel and found more followers resp. believers, namely many of those who saw in Jmmanuel the prophet who had been promised to them.

They held on to this idea, while the other believers considered everything to be completely absurd and distanced themselves from it. Jmmanuel himself never gave a confirming answer to the question whether he was this prophet, but this led to the followers seeing in him all the more the prophet they wanted to see, which has remained so until today and he is traded as the 'Son of God'.

John F. Kennedy assassination

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Assassination_of_John_F._Kennedy

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_1

Asket:

162. At the time of Khrushchev, a new president will be nominated in America, by the name of John Fitzgerald Kennedy, however, to be murdered in the year 1963, according to secret orders of different groups, and with the American security service, the CIA, having warning information.

163. The day of his death will be November 22nd, 1963 in Dallas, Texas.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_256

Billy:

Is it possible to ask officially today, how things unfolded in relation to John F. Kennedy, the 35th President of the USA, who was murdered in Dallas/Texas on the 22nd of November 1963?

Ptaah:

30. It was a plot of various interest groups, consisting of CIA, FBI, Mafia, pro-Cubans, oil barons and the military-industrial complex.

31. Lee Harvey Oswald and three other men collaborated with the alliance of conspirators, resulting in them insidiously shooting the US President dead.

32. It is true that Oswald the same as the other participants were firing on John Fitzgerald Kennedy, but the actually lethal shot did not originate from Oswald's weapon.

Billy:

The one who was for his part shot by Jack Ruby and in truth called Rubinstein.

Ptaah:

33. That's right.

34. He was a Jewish extremist and also a hired murderer, with the task to shoot Oswald, because the responsible persons of the plot did not trust him and rated him as an element of uncertainty.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_459

Billy:

... And about Fidel Castro: The matter of the assassination of US President Kennedy in 1963 still leads to speculation, also with regard to the fact that Castro was the initiator of the assassination.

Ptaah:

63. And with regard to the assassination of John F. Kennedy, it is to be said that Fidel Castro had nothing whatsoever to do with it.

64. At the time of the assassination, Castro was busy writing a letter to Kennedy and asking him to meet with him to discuss and resolve certain conflicts.

65. Castro was ready to reach out to Kennedy.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_672

Ptaah:

111. Harvey Oswald, who was under the influence of several groups, was not the direct assassin but only one of three other men who were controlled by an interest group involving the CIA, the FBI, the Mafia, a pro-Cuban group, oil barons and the military-industrial complex.

Billy:

There have been some television shows about Christian relics for which I would like to know what is true about them. The first question relates to the legendary Grail, a vessel Joseph of Arimathea is said to have used to catch Jmmanuel's blood at the crucifixion. This goblet is supposed to work wonders and make one immortal as well as heal all sicknesses and evils, etc.

Quetzal:

10. This is absolute nonsense, for neither does such a Grail exist, nor has Joseph of Arimathea caught the blood of Jmmanuel in a vessel.

11. That however no other human being has done either.

Ptaah:

5. This senseless claim was invented fictitiously centuries after the event of the crucifixion, namely by members of a sect that emerged from Jmmanuel's already early falsified teaching.

6. And the fact that no blood of Jmmanuel was caught in a vessel, rather that the little blood that Jmmanuel lost dripped to the ground and seeped away, is perfectly certain, because this was recorded in our annals by the personality of that time Gabriel, the procreating father of Jmmanuel.

7. He was direct eyewitness of the real event.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_469

Billy:

... And all the catastrophes that have occurred worldwide and that have been triggered and brought about by humanity on earth have only happened because the principle of truth, and thus also the creative laws and commandments, have been violated instead of following the truly wise path of effective truth and the teaching of the true prophets, which has been handed down from primeval times as the spiritual teaching, or rather as the 'teaching of truth', 'teaching of the spirit', 'teaching of life'. And therefore this truth is also given in the book 'Goblet of the Truth', of which a first part, namely the teaching of Enoch, was also called 'Cauldron of Life' by the druid prince Myrddin alias Merlin and has nothing to do with the alleged 'Grail' of Christianity, which is based only on lies and deceit, never existed and in which therefore also the blood of Jmmanuel (Jesus) was not caught by Joseph of Arimathaia at his crucifixion. The real Grail existed only as a holy place, and in the 'Cauldron of Life' was locked up the document, a document of the teaching of the true prophet Enoch from the seven-row of the Nokodemion. The document was given as a copy of the Plejarin Kerikwena (The Triple Goddess) to the druid Myrddin (The Laughing One), later commonly called 'Merlin'. Myrddin poured the copy into the chalice that became known as the 'Cauldron of Life', and Christian adulteration was used to make the 'Grail', but this is not in any way connected to it, because the 'Grail' was a place with a spring, surrounded by trees and plants, where the druids used to do their meditations. And this Christian Grail adulteration has been handed down from its origin to the present day, but again in another monstrous adulteration which claims that it is the cup or 'Grail' of Jmmanuel (Jesus) from which Jmmanuel and his disciples drank at Holy Communion and in which Jmmanuel's blood was collected at the crucifixion by Joseph of Arimathaia. This monstrous lie and falsification of the truth also applies to the so-called 'Holy Lance' with which Jmmanuel (Jesus) was stabbed in the loins by a Roman mercenary on the cross to ascertain his death. And since this lance has been holy ever since, and since it also contains immense power, which is supposed to make rulers out of the greedy for power, it is highly honoured. In truth, however, this lance never touched Jmmanuel's loin, for it is a Christian forgery that was not discovered until the eighth century AD. It is also the so-called 'Turin Shroud', which is supposed to show Jmmanuel's (Jesus') image, but is in fact the death image of an Italian merchant named Caesar Canova, and was made by his brother Luciano Canova, who studied alchemy. Myrddin resp. Merlin tried to teach the teachings of Enoch through his influence with King Arthur resp. Arthur, who was his protégé and pupil, and with the pagan knights of the 'Round Table' (Knights of the Round Table), but failed miserably, because the fierce clan leader Arthur and his pagan knights could not get along with the teaching. So Arthur took possession of the sealed 'Cauldron of Life' and sank it into the sea by himself.

Ptaah:

34. You have also asked Florena to clarify certain things concerning King Arthur and the Druid Prince Merlin.

35. In my father's Sfath records, which he kept about my grandfather Ezekeel ('The Mediator' note Billy), I found something that might interest you, and it is this:

36. King Arthur, or Artus, king of the Celts, contrary to today's depiction of having been a hero or the like, was absolutely not a courtly king in shining armour, nor a good-hearted and noble hero. King Artus was a fierce sixth-century clan leader, a 'war king', who led his pagan warriors in bloody battles and raids. He was a slaughterer and kept the name the 'Boar of Cornwall'.

37. His 'knights' truly were bloodthirsty murderous thugs as you say.

38. Artus himself was Merlin's protégé, a pupil of Merlin the druid, for seven years.

39. Arthur, born 4.1.469, died 11.8.509 at the Battle of the Camlann (crooked valley) in a duel with his nephew, the cunning prince Medraut, was a brutal and stubborn person, for whom a human life meant very little or nothing.

40. Arthur's wife was Gwynhwyfara, Guanhamara, or Guinevere. ('White spirit' – 'Shining spirit' Note: Billy).

41. His father was Uther Tudur, carrying the surname Pendragon, who was already married and impregnated another woman in a most insidious manner and thus procreated Arthur. Arthur's mother was Ygernia, who was also married and was the wife of Prince Gorlois. (Actually the liberal Celtic marriage laws did not overvalue lifelong physical fidelity. Thus, while Gorlois, the Cornic duke was deceived and cheated by the fraud, King Uther and Queen Ygernia could engage in a sexual act.)

42. The story goes like this:

43. Arthur's father, Uther Tudur Pendragon, fell in love with Queen Ygernia of Cornwall, the young and beautiful wife of Gorlois, Duke and Prince of Cornwall.

44. Ygernia, however, was faithful to her husband, so Uther Pendragon sought the support of Merlin and devised an intrigue to abduct the Queen of Cornwall and seduce her.

45. Merlin lured Gorlois away from his castle on a pretext in order for Uther Pendragon to secretly snatch Ygernia at night and bring her to Tintagel. A confidante of Merlin who was also a servant to the Queen Ygernia of Cornwall then administered a drug to her, and she reached a hallucinogenic and will-less state.

46. Ygernia was kidnapped from the castle and taken to a certain place where Uther Tudur Pendragon and several male and female druids were already assembled under Merlin's leadership.

47. Inside the circle they formed, Uther and the drugged (will-less) Ygernia performed the procreation. From their union, Arthur/Artus/Arthus was born on the 4th of January 469.

48. Uther Tudur did not leave that matter to rest for long – the very same night he let Ygernia's prince consort Gorlois be killed by his own bloodthirsty knights. The plan he devised with Merlin thus ended with complete success, Ygernia's husband now out of the way.

49. When Gorlois's dead body was returned to Tintagel, Ygerna was already back home, but was now made pregnant by Uther Tudur and was still highly intoxicated by the drug and did not realize what had really happened, since she only later learned everything.
50. The sword 'Caladwllch', spoken 'Caladfluch' (in German) = 'sparkling sword', because it was emitting sparkling or lightning-like blazes/radiance = later "Cliburn" and falsified to 'Excalibur' in ecclesiastical Latin = was a light (lightweight) beamweapon in the form of a sword; it was forged and finished on the island of Avalon under the surveillance and the involvement of the Plejarin Keridwena, a sister of my grandfather Ezekeel.
51. Keridwena gave it as a gift to Merlin, who later handed it to Arthur, who then fought many bloody battles with it.
52. All of Keridwena's efforts to regain possession of the sword failed because it had been abused.
53. Hence, she was very angry with Merlin but could not persuade him to demand Arthur's sword back and return it to her.
54. It was only after Arthur's death that the sword was reclaimed by Merlin and returned to the Plejarin Keridwena, after which she left Earth.
55. She had already angrily ceased contact with Merlin at the time when Arthur committed his first murderous deeds with the sword.
56. At Dinas Bran = 'Castle of Bran' Merlin personally stayed.
57. Dinas Bran Valley was located in the Cymru region where Merlin (the one with great knowledge) was also working.
58. Merlin's real name was Myrddin ('the laughing one').
59. Merlin, the druid of Camelot received his initiation when he was just nine years old.
60. However, he was not a sorcerer respectively a magician, as Christianity had attributed to him, but a druid widely taught in various fields of knowledge.
61. He was also a bard, a doctor, a teacher, a prophet, a historian and ultimately the king and prince of druids of the Demetier tribe from South Wales.
62. He taught in the West/Occident on Plejarin Keridwena's (the triple goddess, Billy's note) instructions and had great visionary skills based on his practiced meditations.
63. Merlin's father was King Morvryn, and his mother was a daughter of the King of the Demetier.
64. Merlin's father was also a visionary, and these visionary capabilities led to the evil legend within the Christian world that Merlin was a 'scion of the devil', a magician, a sorcerer.
65. The naïveté and simplicity of the Christian interpretation held that Merlin and his father's paranormal abilities meant that they were satanical, and that father and son were allied with the devil and fathered by him.
66. Merlin was born on the 1st May, 449; he also picked up the sword and fought with it, and he used his skills in military operations and as Arthur's military advisor, contrary to the instruction and wishes of the Plejaren Keridwena, however without becoming morally bankrupt.
67. Merlin also fought with his sword against the warlike Christian intruders who stole into the country through murder and arson, killing off or suppressing the population, to spread the Christian faith, conquer the land and destroy Celtic philosophy and beliefs.
68. After his last fight, when he was 66 years old in year 515, at the lost battle at Arfderryd, Merlin fled and settled down in a remote area in the wilderness of Caledonia in the Cheviot Hills, where he lived as Myrddin Wyllt (Merlin in the wilderness).
69. He lived there for some time and then returned to his hometown, where an old female druid named Niniane (also known as Nimue) joined him and was a good friend to him. When he felt his death approaching, she finally accompanied Merlin on Ynys Enlli (Bardsey Island), which he had chosen as his death place.
70. He died there in the arms of the old druid, on the 14th of June 542 at the age of 93, and he was buried by the wise woman in a rocky cave according to his wishes.

71. The Knights of the Round Table were malignant, bloody knights and not heroes, as they are presented today.
72. Merlin, being a seer, made prophetic and foresighted statements of which his dragon prophecy made at Dinas Emrys (Fortress of Emrys or Ambrosius respectively) is very well known, besides those which he made in the wilderness of Caledonia.
73. Merlin was already contacted in the year 466 by the Plejarin Keridwena, a sister of my grandfather Ezekeel ('The Mediator'), as I said before.
74. This took place after the High Council decided to convey Henoch's teachings to Merlin, which he was to disseminate in order to contain the barbarism of the Celts so that they would refrain from barbarity and their bloody battles.
75. Merlin, being a Celtic druid, was chosen because the High Council hoped that with his help, King Arthur, who, according to a foresight was to be born on 4th January 469, would transform Henoch's teachings of love, peace, harmony and the freedom and equality for all human beings into reality.
76. The real reason for this undertaking was the Celtic philosophy, which in many ways parallels the teachings of Henoch, whose wise, effective and widespread approach should be implemented to make the Celts give up their degenerated behaviour of barbaric killings and fighting battles.
77. Merlin received a copy of Henoch's teachings, being the first part of the "Goblet of Truth" written on Earth, memorized it and then locked and sealed it in a cauldron.
78. This cauldron was no vessel made of gold but of bronze and decorated with a ruby the size of a cherry, and three small semi-precious stones – rose quartz – were placed in the shape of a triangle, and in its centre the ruby was attached.
79. The 33-centimeter wide cauldron was meant to collect water from a spring at the grail.
80. The grail itself was a sacred place of a spring, usually located on a mountain that the Celts considered a nature sanctuary, and where also a druid's grove was erected that was surrounded by trees and other plants, where the druids meditated in deep consciousness-related interconnection with water, the earth and plants as well as with inexhaustibility of life.
81. These holy places, which have been called the grail, were intended as places of meditation for the druids, and they existed in many places, wherever druids lived and fulfilled their duties.
82. But at the place with the water source, where also Merlin meditated, a vessel was linked to the well, known as the "Cauldron of Abundance", which captured the water located at the divine Ceridwen Spring.
83. Merlin, the druid from Camelot, removed the "Cauldron of Abundance" from its place and replaced it with another vessel, because he put a copy of Henoch's teaching into the cauldron which he and all druids then called the "Cauldron of Life."
84. Merlin presented this cauldron to his protégé and pupil Arthur when he was 16 years old in year 485, after Merlin had thoroughly instructed Arthur and his "knighthood" in Henoch's teaching, and after Arthur had fought his first battle against Germanic invaders led by the chief Aelle.
85. But Arthur and his bloody knights thirsted for blood and vengeance, and they strictly rejected the teachings because they did not want to give up killing and conquest, whereby Arthur thus became very upset and angry at Merlin and cast the gift of the "Cauldron of Life" into the sea with his own hands, although he later reconciled with Merlin again.

Billy:

... I was asked some questions, especially about Keridwena, the sister of your grandfather Ezekeel. Why was she chosen for the task of teaching Merlin the teachings of Enoch? Was she an Ischrisch, and why did she make a radiant sword for Merlin, the Excalibur respectively

Caladwylch, which he gave to his disciple King Arthur, who then killed with it in bloody battles? And what role did Merlin play in the murder of King Gorlis of Tintangel?

Ptaah:

131. Keridwena was not an Ischrisch, but a teacher with regard to some activities, and also a teacher with regard to Enoch's teaching.

132. This teaching activity was decisive in that she was chosen for the task of teaching Merlin in the teaching of Enoch, who, however, did not know that Keridwena was not an Earth woman but a Plejarin.

133. She fell in love with Merlin and granted him various wishes, because he saw on various occasions that she had abilities far beyond anything he could explain as a druid.

134. One such wish was also the making of the Excalibur.

135. Furthermore, Keridwena was very fond of Merlin because he did a lot of good for the human beings and was wise to a great extent.

136. Keridwena also told him many things of the future, which she had fathomed through foresight.

137. But Merlin then used these to ascribe them to himself and to mention them as prophecies.

138. Unfortunately, however, Merlin was often fickle, which is why he also did things that went against good, which saddened and even enraged Keridwena, so that she finally ended the secret relationship with Merlin – which nobody really knew anything about.

139. When Keridwena was able to wield the Excalibur again after the death of King Arthur, she destroyed it and returned to Erra.

Billy:

And the murder of King Gorlis, what role did Merlin play in that?

Ptaah:

140. The assassination was not in his mind.

141. The kidnappers murdered the king of their own accord, because he threatened them with the death penalty and also stood up to them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_688

Billy:

... Time and again it is said on television - just recently again - that Jmmanuel alias Jesus drank wine from a chalice together with the disciples during the so-called 'Last Supper', whereby this must have been very valuable. This chalice is said to have been preserved, but has disappeared to this day. It is assumed to have been found in various places in Jerusalem, but also in Greece, France, Spain and England, where it is said to have been taken. The house where the Last Supper was held, which consisted only of bread, fruit and wine, as I know, belonged to a wealthy Jew, which is why it is also assumed that the 'chalice' was very valuable. For my part, however, I know that Jmmanuel did not think much of ostentation and therefore also avoided ostentatious drinking vessels, jewelery and anything of value, for he was very modest in every respect. I also know that he and his disciples always carried their own small drinking pouches made of animal skins to quench their thirst on the way, while - when they were invited to a house - they took their libations from simple drinking bowls. As your father Sfath once explained to me, it was also like this at the evening meal, where small drinking bowls made of alabaster were used, which were about 10–12 centimeters in diameter and about 4 centimeters deep. Sfath once showed me one such drinking bowl that he received from his great-grandfather and cherished because it came from Jmmanuel's group, he assured me.

Ptaah:

64. This small bowl is now in my possession, and indeed only such small drinking bowls made of alabaster were used at the Lord's Supper.

65. That a chalice was used does not even correspond to a legend, but to an effective lie, which was already thought up and spread by early Christians.

66. The truth is that the drinking bowls were alabaster bowls made in Italy in 'Volaterrae' and brought by the Roman occupiers to Jerusalem and also to all Roman-occupied territories.

67. This already happened when Jerusalem was conquered by the Romans in 63 BC.

68. At that time the alabaster drinking bowls were very popular with the Romans - although they were not of great value - and were also popularly used in small groups and circles in the occupied regions, so also by Jmmanuel and his disciples.

Billy:

And how then did the lie that a cup was used in the Lord's Supper come about?

Ptaah:

69. About the lie that when Jmmanuel was hanging on the cross, a cup was used to catch his blood, which never really happened.

70. This tall tale led to the Grail legend, which is still circulating all over the world, also because in the course of time various valuable chalices were fraudulently produced, which were given the nimbus 'chalice of the Last Supper and chalice of the Blood ', whereby two of these fraudulent chalices were produced in Europe.

Billy:

Sfath already explained this to me, as well as another Grail story, though the actual Grail is a place with a source. ...

Billy:

Good, then my question about 'Volaterrae', was that a town?

Ptaah:

72. It was a town in Italy called 'Volaterrae' in Latin, which is now in the province of Pisa, region of Tuscany, and is called 'Volterra' and corresponds to a town of about 10,000 inhabitants.

73. It is located about 50 kilometers south of Pisa and about 50 kilometers from the Mediterranean Sea. ...

77. Volterra is also still a center for alabaster processing, as it was in the 4th century BC, when the town was formed by the union of several small Etruscan settlements dating back to the 7th century BC.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_794

Billy:

... You have now, after all, dealt intensively with the Christian religion and with the extent to which it is about truth or a fraud, concerning the alleged Grail and the Spear, which are supposedly connected with Jmmanuel alias Jesus Christ and which are today regarded and adored as sacred paraphernalia.

Bermunda:

Research, which has also involved time travel, clearly proved that the two objects have no connection whatsoever with what is claimed regarding what they are said to have served. Neither of the objects is therefore in any way connected with Jmmanuel alias Jesus Christ. The claims are based on fraud, lies and deceit, that is clear.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_802

Billy:

... But there are other things, such as that various places are mentioned where the so-called 'grail' or the 'chalice' is supposed to exist and be kept, from which Jmmanuel drank wine at the so-called Last Supper. But as it is, mainly with Christians, they are lied to and deceived, especially with alleged relics that are attributed to Jmmanuel – alias Jesus, as he was never actually called. So it is with the alleged grail or chalice, which he never had in his hand, just as he also never drank wine, because he did not like this drink. The 'grail' or 'cup' used in the circle of his disciples at that time was a simple stone bowl, but the disciple Philip, who was somewhat clumsily inclined, dropped it while taking his meal and broke it into 3 pieces, consequently the broken drinking bowl was discarded. So, since Jmmanuel did not drink wine because he did not like it and did not drink any throughout his life, he never had the drinking bowl in his hand, so the lie about the 'grail' or 'chalice' already begins there, which was followed by the deception and is maintained until today that the 'grail' or 'chalice' is kept there or thereabouts. The stupid believers are eager to take the nonsense of lies and fraud at face value and swear that they have seen the 'real' 'grail' or 'chalice' there and then. This is because they have just been shown an object of deception – which will also continue to be so – because it is precisely the delusional belief in the earthlings that displaces all logic, reason and understanding, that he is so caught up in his delusion of belief that he remains stupid and thus cannot think for himself.

Ptaah:

What you are saying is what my daughter Semjase told me, for she was anxious to connect you with Jmmanuel ...

Billy:

... yes she was, and thanks to her I know that there never was a 'grail' or 'chalice' that Jmmanuel held in his hand or drank from. Leonardo da Vinci then also understood this after some explanations, when he created the painting 'Last Supper' on behalf of Duke Sforza and just left out the alleged 'grail' or 'chalice'.

Billy:

He was elevated to Pharaoh at the age of nine and then suddenly died a few years later. The question relates to what he died of and how old he really was then. I am also interested in who his real parents were.

Ptaah:

47. Tutanchamun did not die a natural death because, on the one hand, at the age of 18 years, three months and two days, he suffered a malignantly inflicted severe fracture of his leg, which led to a fatal inflammation called blood poisoning.

48. The father of the child king was Akhenaten or Amenophis IV, who was also his father-in-law, since Tutankhamun married a daughter of Akhenaten, who in turn was his sister.

49. Tutankhamun's mother was Nefertiti, Akhenaton's or Amenophis IV's wife.

50. Nefertiti was the second mother.

Billy:

Why was Tutankhamun murdered? Second mother probably means stepmother.

Ptaah:

51. Yes.

52. The author of the murder was Horemhab, who was Tutankhamun's supreme lord leader and leading minister.

53. His mind and aspirations were to become the ruler of Egypt himself, which he actually succeeded in doing after Tutankhamun's assassination, so that he inherited the murdered man and, as the last ruler of the 18th dynasty, laid the foundations for Egypt's rebirth.

54. He attained the throne by marrying a sister of Nefertiti.

86. Nor can we concern ourselves with all things that take place on Earth.

Billy:

But I thought you were watching all the extraterrestrial objects that fly into earthly space and buzz around. The Lomas film shows a flying disc turning on its own axis, flying over a city and sometimes disappearing behind skyscrapers.

Ptaah:

87. None of this is known to us.

88. But as I said, we cannot take care of all things that happen on Earth.

Library of Alexandria

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Library_of_Alexandria

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_498

Billy:

Time and again, especially recently, I am asked about the library of Alexandria, which was destroyed by a major fire and in which about 800,000 valuable scrolls with scientific records were burnt. Many of the writings were snatched by the Vatican before the library was maliciously set on fire. What can you say about it?

Ptaah:

7. As you know, Alexandria's library was the largest with the most handwritten records at that time.

8. In fact, it housed around 800,000 very valuable scientific scrolls.
9. The scientific handwritings, however, fell victim to an unprecedented wave of destruction during antiquity.
10. Everything was destroyed in the 4th century by the delusion of the Christianity.
11. This, when the aim was to destroy everything that did not fit into the Christian belief.
12. These Christian belief-delusion-based destructions took not only place regarding the library of Alexandria in ancient Egypt, but also everywhere in Asia Minor, in the direct Roman Empire and in Greece etc., where as a whole all libraries were destroyed and burnt down.
13. In Rome alone there were about 30 public bibliothecas and a very large number of private libraries and collections of writings which fell victim to Christian delusion.
14. That which altogether was completely destroyed in wide sections of Rome, Asia Minor and Greece, and so forth, according to our annals, amounts to about 1,341,700 natural science scrolls.
15. Many of these hand-written texts described very valuable medical cognitions and techniques, besides actual technical inventions, which, if these records and plans had been preserved, would have led to the human beings of Earth conquering the outer space and settling on other planets already more than 200 years ago.
16. Furthermore, by the Christian destroyers 2,828,300 scrolls with political, literary and poetic written works were eliminated or stolen and incorporated into the new Christian Church.
17. All the works of antique academics and masters thus disappeared from public knowledge and fell into oblivion.
18. Everything disappeared as if it had never existed and just as if the Earth-humans no longer knew how to use their thoughts, no longer gained cognitions, and no longer made inventions.
19. And all this only because the mighty of the new Christian Church let destroy, burn and eliminate everything that could not be reconciled with their Christian belief-delusion.
20. Thus not only were all bibliothecas, collections and libraries of non-Christian culture radically made to disappear, but also all non-Christian temples, synagogues, houses of God and houses of prayer were declared blasphemous and were just as completely destroyed as all the valuable old handwritings with all the very important notes for the progress and the development of the Earth-humans.
21. The scrolls were not only berated as godless and blasphemous, but it was also forbidden under severe punishments to read the recorded texts.
22. Even the private homes were searched by the Christian henchmen, and if any scrolls were found during the search, they were burned publicly, and their owners held to account in an evil way.
23. This also happened in the year 367 AD in Alexandria, when the local bishop Athanasius ordered such raids on houses, whereby bloody punishments were also carried out for non-Christian owners of writings, which partly also cost human lives.
24. In the year 391 A.D. in Alexandria even a deadly hunt against owners of non-Christian writings was brought into being, to which a larger number of human beings fell victim.
25. In the year 409 A.D. Emperor Constantine issued a decree by which mathematical scientists were also punished with the death of incineration if they did not themselves publicly burn their mathematical notes and they did not renounce mathematics.
26. Ultimately, only a few writings were preserved that were well hidden at the risk of the owners' lives.
27. It was not until the 15th century that they were rediscovered, and it was not even half a percent of what originally existed of what was destroyed by the Christian belief-delusion and belief-fanaticism.
28. But also the remaining writings suffered a defeat, because the Christian fanatics were of course still concerned about destroying the ancient, important knowledge they regarded as contrary to the Christian belief-delusion.

Billy:

The mighty ones of the new Christian Church feared the knowledge recorded in the scrolls, like the plague and the devil, because they knew very well that their entire web of lies of their new religion would collapse like a house of cards, as a result of the public disclosure of all the important notes. All the cognitions captured in the writings, etc., were effective explosives for the elite of the new Church, which would have blown up their entire web of lies. Therefore, the old writings of antiquity found back again were then also further destroyed, however no longer burned, because at that time the parchment was still expensive. Thus, the scrolls were abusively overwritten by monks in monasteries and painted with images of saints etc., so that the old handwritings became unrecognizable. But I wonder why the antique writings reappeared at that time in the 15th century and why the antique knowledge could not be completely destroyed by the Christian fanatics and henchmen and by the power-hungry of the new Church? I think it can only be because the Islam emerged as a new and powerful religion. Due to its belief, the writings that could still be found in relation to the antique knowledge must have been secured like a golden treasure, namely at that time when Alexandria was conquered by the Orientals.

Ptaah:

29. The reason for this was indeed because of Islam, which appeared as another strong religion.

30. When Alexandria was conquered, it was in the year 642 AD. Chr., then all still findable writings of the antique knowledge were safeguarded.

31. The knowledge still found, however, was studied and evaluated throughout the Orient, consequently a tremendous developmental boost emerged, through which the knowledge for centuries exceeded that of Europe and thus the knowledge of Europeans by far.

32. It was no earlier than the Crusaders who were able to get hold of the antique knowledge again and unstoppably brought it to Europe as knowledge forbidden by the Church, partly together with what had already been common in Rome and Greece but was destroyed by the Christian belief-delusion of the Church-mighty.

Lindbergh Baby kidnapping

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Lindbergh_kidnapping

<https://www.fbi.gov/history/famous-cases/lindbergh-kidnapping>

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_247

Billy:

... What I want to know is whether the German American immigrant Bruno Richard Hauptmann was actually the murderer of the Lindbergh child and whether he actually kidnapped it, as has been claimed since that event. Hauptmann denied until his death on the electric chair on the 3rd of April 1936, that he was guilty and that he had never seen Lindbergh, his child or his house, etc. ...

Ptaah:

8. Bruno Richard Hauptmann, the American immigrant from Germany, rightly asserted his innocence until his execution.

9. He was indeed innocent, although a large part of the blackmailed ransom was found with him.

10. His assertion that he had the money in custody only for an acquaintance, who had given it to him in faithful hands, was true in every detail.

11. This acquaintance of Hauptmann was in cahoots with Lindbergh and received a lot of money from him to give the alleged blackmail money to Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the reason that it could later be found with him.

12. This ensured that Bruno Richard Hauptmann could be arrested and charged as a child abductor and child murderer as a result of the falsified charge material, which actually happened after Hauptmann had been denounced.

13. Thus, everything contributed to his being sentenced to death and executed, in deliberate guilt of the American hero Lindbergh, who had the actual or actual death sentence. the real murderess of his child, and he consciously saved her from arrest and from the electric chair by inventing a deceitful and infamous intrigue against Bruno Richard Hauptmann, with the lie that his child had been kidnapped while in reality it had already been murdered and hidden in the vicinity of the Lindbergh House.

14. The murderess was Lindbergh's former fiancée Elisabeth Morrow, whom he suddenly spurned one day because he liked her sister Ann Morrow better, with whom he subsequently became engaged and married her.

15. Elisabeth Morrow, Lindbergh's former fiancée, could not cope with this, as a result of which she increasingly terrorized the entire Lindbergh House and its inhabitants with terrible jealousy scenes; and when the Lindbergh baby was born of her sister Ann, she tried to kill her sister by all means.

16. Lindbergh and his wife Ann knew this, so they never left the child unattended with Elisabeth Morrow.

17. One day, however, Lindbergh and his wife Ann were forced to leave without being able to take their child with them or give it to someone else's care, leaving it with Elisabeth Morrow.

18. When Lindbergh and his wife Ann returned home, they were received by a distraught Elisabeth Morrow, who sobbed and confessed that she had murdered the child in a fit of jealousy by hitting her head on the tiles, shattering his skull.

19. As a result of Lindbergh's earlier relationship with Elisabeth and the fact that his feelings for her had still not gone out and that she was also his sister-in-law, who was also loved by Sister Ann, Lindbergh's wife, the three made a joint decision to cover up the murder.

20. It was decided, in common understanding, that Lindbergh, in addition to his lawfully wedded wife Ann, would in future recognise and treat Elisabeth as his wife, as requested by Elisabeth – secretly, of course – after which the police would be alerted and the lie spread that the child had been abducted, but had already been hidden by his own father in the vicinity of her home.

21. The next consequence was Lindbergh's own intrigue, which for the time being was directed against someone unknown.

22. Only through the acquaintance of Bruno Richard Hauptmann did Lindbergh then fall for the German-born immigrant, who was a welcome victim for Lindbergh in order not to bring his Elisabeth into suspicion.

23. So he devised a blackmail story together with his friend who was in bondage to him and to whom he gave a lot of money, handed over the alleged blackmail money to the friend and ensured that Bruno Richard Hauptmann got into disrepute and suspicion, while the friend handed over the false blackmail money to Hauptmann for faithful storage, the end of which took place on the electric chair.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_798

Billy:

... Therefore, I think we should turn to the other matter, namely that of the child Charly, who was murdered in the 1930s. This is what is often talked about on television and what really happened back then. I know from Sfath, who clarified everything in detail at the time, that Richard Hauptmann, who was sentenced to death and executed in the electric chair, was innocent of the alleged child abduction and the murder of Charly Lindbergh. But Sfath forbade me – I do not know why – to speak openly about what really concerned the connections of the whole murder story until 60 years after the event. However, I once discussed the whole thing with one of you, but I do not remember with whom. What had actually happened, however, still concerns many people today who still do not know that it was a matter based on a far-reaching conspiracy which Lindbergh deliberately brought into the world and which he financed with very horrendous sums of money. Now I want to say what Sfath found out at that time, and since we are now in the year 2022, i.e. about 90 years have passed since the event, it should be made clear what Sfath had to say about the Charly Lindbergh murder and what he found out, namely because he personally 'heckled' Lindbergh and put him under the 'magnifying glass', so that the facts could be learned from the best source. It turned out that the truth of the 'child abduction' was actually quite different from what the conspiracy had invented and that an innocent man had to lose his life because Lindbergh had lied to make it appear that everything had happened as he himself had lied. So it is perfectly certain – because Sfath has clarified everything down to the last detail with his infallible possibilities – that it was Lindbergh himself who had Charly murdered, consequently he himself is to be called the murderer of his own son.

That Lindbergh himself wanted to have his little son out of the world, consequently he animated his mistress Elisabeth Morrow as a murderess, who then smashed the skull of little Charly, who was not even 2 years old, but who lived for minutes before he became dead – this, however, was unintentionally observed by the nanny Betty Gow when she entered the room, with whom, by the way, Lindbergh also had a close intimate relationship, as with various other women. What happened at that time shook practically the whole of America, although Lindbergh was well calculated to blame the crime on an innocent man. The whole murder of the boy was based on the fact that Lindbergh did not want a son who was considered a eugenicist or 'noble born', but who was then handicapped, which was not 'noble', as Lindbergh thought. This was reason enough for him to kill his son or have him killed by his mistress.

He was particularly uncomfortable with the whole thing of his disabled son because he was world-famous as a circumnavigator and father, consequently a disabled son would have damaged his reputation, or so he thought. So Lindbergh did not want Charly, his son, to become a care case, because that would have been a disgrace for Lindbergh, in his opinion. However, he mentally dealt with the 'disgrace' of his disabled child shortly after his birth, when it was clear that the child would become a hopeless foster child. He confessed this to Sfath personally when Lindbergh was cornered by him and no evasion of his lies could help him. So he confessed that he was the actual perpetrator of the murder, which took place in the nursery in front of the eyes of the nursemaid Betty Gow, although this young woman was silenced by money, which later nevertheless ended in a poison murder, because Lindbergh was constantly afraid that Betty Gow might speak after all.

To prevent this from happening, Lindbergh hired an assassin who pursued the nanny and finally murdered her with poisoned cake.

Charles Lindbergh's son, who was barely 2 years old, suffered from rickets, which caused the 'English disease' as a result of vitamin D deficiency disorders or a disorder of the bone metabolism, which led to various complaints. In addition, it was largely concealed that the boy also suffered from frequent epileptic seizures, which also did not suit his father. Lindbergh, by the way, was an unscrupulous man who – contrary to false justifications by book writers, other followers etc. who wanted to 'clear' him with lies and deceit and idolised him, which still happens today – on the one hand carried out espionage in Germany from the US embassy, but was also a genuine NAZI and anti-Semite. Lindbergh was indeed an unscrupulous man, who on the one hand worked for the USA, but at the same time was a NAZI and anti-Semite and profited from the fact that he was playing a double game and was heavily remunerated for it. But as far as his son was concerned, who was really ill and suffered not only from rickets but also from epilepsy, as he was also slightly limited in his consciousness, which was usually concealed, this caused Lindbergh to have Elisabeth Morrow smash Charly's skull in – which this woman actually did because she was in bondage to Lindbergh. Then, finally, to make sure that the young woman Betty Gow kept quiet about what she had seen, he had an assassin murder her in the course of time by sending her – I do not know how and where – pastries soaked in a poisonous detergent or something.

Lindbergh also arranged everything himself, such as arranging a ladder big enough to reach the nursery window, thus faking a kidnapping even though Charly was already dead and taken out of the house.

Lindbergh managed this with the help of two criminals, but he had to pay them a lot of money. He then used this to tell a lie that he had to pay this as a ransom for the kidnapping of the child, precisely in order to get his child back. However, the fact that he paid a fictitious ransom, which was ultimately played into the hands of Richard Hauptmann, was Lindbergh's full calculation in order to be able to accuse him of being the child kidnapper and Charly's murderer. Hauptmann was chosen for this in revenge because he refused to take part in this crime, for which a request to him for his assistance had failed.

However, Lindbergh also succeeded excellently in getting possession of the alleged 'ransom money', which gave him further 'proof' that he himself was not to blame for the whole alleged kidnapping and later the death of the child. He even steered the investigation of the partially 'bought' police in certain directions, so that he got out of the murder of his son, although some people still suspected him of being Charly's murderer. Something that actually corresponded to reality, since his child was murdered on his behalf. In the end, however, an innocent man was murdered in the electric chair for his deed, the German-born Richard Hauptmann. That is what really happened according to Sfath at that time and what he found out.

Loch Ness Monster

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Loch_Ness_Monster

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_230

Billy:

We once talked about the lake Ness, that is Loch Ness in Scotland, in connection with the so-called Nessi, which is supposed to be a dinosaur, but for which no proof of existence could be provided until today. However, it was said by you that such an animal actually existed in Loch Ness and that it would therefore not be a fairytale. I would like to see the beast. Can you take me there sometime?

Quetzal:

109. In fact, there are two parent animals and one young animal.

110. We are talking about predatory dinosaurs living in water, i.e. Plesiosaurus, which have prevailed for many generations.

111. However, it will be very difficult to prove their existence because the animals rarely move to upper parts of water or even to the water surface in such a way that they can be sighted.

112. We have been observing these distant dinosaur descendants for many years and in the course of our research we have also found petrified fossils of their most distant ancestors, which we, however, left at the sites where we found them, where they may one day be found by earthly palaeontologists or other Earth-humans.

113. Of course I'll take you there, so you can see the animals, but you'll have to keep quiet about that to the public for the next 12 years.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_618

Billy:

Well, Quetzal showed me one of the aforementioned animals in its element... Now, however, stories have been circulating on the internet and television for a long time that some people have seen the so-called 'Nessi' and have also been tested with the latest lie detectors for their statements of truth and have been found to be genuine in this respect. By this I mean that the statements of these persons are said to be true according to the lie detector, i.e. that they are said to have actually seen 'Nessi' or the or a plesiosaur. In addition, a plesiosaur carcass is said to have been fished out of the sea about 50 kilometres east of New Zealand in 1977 and then thrown back again, as Japanese sailors report, as this observation report says, which I copied from the Internet using the search term 'New Zealand monster 1977'. There is also a picture of the carcass, which is also referred to as the 'New Zealand Monster'. Can you say something about this, because about 25 years ago Quetzal and I last talked about plesiosaurs... So here is the observation report and a picture from Wikipedia: ...

Ptaah:

43. I am as familiar with the various writings on the internet as I am with what you have here as an observation report.

44. And may I say that since your conversation with Quetzal, we have continued to research these sea creatures and have finally been able to find a total of 6 younger and 23 older specimens in the Atlantic Ocean as well as in the Pacific Ocean, in Loch Ness and in the South Seas.

45. And as far as the Yano internet report is concerned, it is to be said that all descriptions and representations as well as claims of earthly 'experts' concerning the carcass absolutely do not correspond to the correctness, because the carcass hoisted onto the Japanese ship 'Zuiyomaru' was in fact a deceased Plesiosaurus.

46. I investigated this myself out of my own interest by looking back and found that it was undoubtedly the mortal remains of such a sea creature, a male plesiosaur, that is.

Billy:

So it was not a basking shark, as is claimed. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_069

Semjase:

9. The Earth-human is misguided if he/she wants to make the concerns of Easter Island an isolated concern.

10. The events of earlier times on this island are in direct connection with the country, which you still call Tiahuanaco today, as it was called already at earliest time, in spite of past repeated changes.

11. Easter Island and Tiahuanaco are more than 5,000 kilometres apart, and yet they are directly related to each other.

12. However, the history of the connection goes back to very early times and ended only 2,548 years ago, calculated back from today [1976 = 572 before Jmmanuel].

13. As I once explained to you, the last decisive settlement of the Earth by extraterrestrial intelligences took place about 13,500 Earth years ago.

14. As you know, several of the immigrant horde became renegades, including a man in the rank of a half-Ischwish called Viracocoha, who was already very old and extremely power-hungry.

15. His name is still handed down on the Earth today, but with a small change, because for a long time now he has only been called Viracocha and also as Jschwisch, although he was only in half the rank of such a person.

16. Under his patronage and his cruel leadership, the highlands of Tiahuanaco at an altitude of about 4,000 metres were conquered, as was the Delta Island, which you call Easter Island.

17. After this conquest Viracocoha settled with a special bodyguard of cherubim on the small island Mot, which is situated in front of Easter Island and which you call Motunui or similar to my knowledge today.
18. At that time it was called Mot because the cherubim were animal-human life forms, in this case they were all birdlike.
19. Mot means bird in our original language, so the island was called the Mot island, or also the island of the bird people, as it is still called today.
20. So Viracocoha or Viracocha resided there.
21. He and his followers, escaped Lyrans like many others, who came to the Earth, were of gigantic physique, by earthly measure about eleven meters tall.
22. They were the ones who taught the dwarfish, normal-growing inhabitants of Tiahuanaco and Easter Island – who were procreations between earthlings and previously immigrated intelligences from the vastness of the universe – in many things, providing them with their own highly developed technology and teaching them how to operate the devices and machines.
23. Thus they also taught the natives of Tiahuanaco and Easter Island the work of stonemasonry, and they let themselves be celebrated as gods.
24. With the help of the giants and their machines and other equipment, the natives worked many meters large head formations out of the lava stone, placed these, also with the help of machines, randomly around the island.
25. Similar events took place in the areas you call Pisco, Nazca and Sacsayhuaman, because the same giants had settled there.
26. Thus many statues and other structures were created, whereby also the shape of the spaceships on Easter Island were reproduced from rocks of the lava walls, which have survived to this day, namely oval-shaped stones, because the spaceships had this shape.
27. After several centuries, the exact time is also veiled to us, the giants were attacked by a sudden epidemic that was unknown to them and cost the lives of many of them.
28. Finding no cure for the epidemic, they fled Earth in their spaceships, set off into space and have since disappeared.
29. Despite the most eager investigations of our scientists, no trace of them has been found to this day.
30. There is therefore the possibility that, despite their flight from Earth, they were attacked and killed by the mysterious plague in their space ships, while their ships shot aimlessly through space, were attracted by some star and smashed to pieces.
31. Our probability calculations very much favour this.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_229

Quetzal:

15. As a rule, the Nazcans were people with high skulls, which means that their skulls showed an exceptional long skull form, which was not of original origin.
16. This skull-form was artificially produced; as long as the skull was still formable, it was restricted and bound with grinded metallic, stony and wooden plates, forcibly leading to a skull of long form and resulting in an oblong deformation.
17. This procedure was even started with newborns when they were one week old.
18. Everything was not an ideal of beauty, but a tribute to the gods, to give them obsequious reverence.
19. Only those Nazcans were permitted to have and wear the oblong-skull-form who were of higher class, i.e. about 85 percent of the population.
20. The remaining 15 percent were “lower people” who had to perform slave duty and similar tasks, and who were looked upon as social misfits etc., and whose well-being or non-well-being and, therefore, their life was laying in the hands and will of the “higher ones” and especially of the priests.

Billy:

... With this I can say that the Earth-foreigners, who are generally simply called extraterrestrials or aliens by the Earthlings, have in fact been around for a long time. They stayed here and worked in many ways, as did their distant descendants, but they have also been active on Earth for centuries and millennia up to the present day, flying around and in and out of the Earth, and are observed again and again around the world by the Earthlings, whereby the American continent is of particular importance in this respect. Their early ancestors worked in many different ways on Earth, and also in various countries in Asia, North Africa and partly in Europe, but mainly in the early days in the North African country, which in later times was called 'Kemet' and then finally in later times Egypt, after which this name has been preserved until today. Your father Sfath taught me during a leap in time into the past to the land there, where the Earth-foreigners ruled at that time, whom he called 'long-skulls' and whom I have seen myself, that they had been on Earth for thousands of years. Because, in contrast to the round skulls of the human beings of Earth, they had skulls that were long and thickly protruding towards the back, they stood out unmistakably from the human beings of Earth just as other Earth-foreigners did around the world, such as giants up to about 3 metres tall, half-small people with large and somewhat v-shaped heads and excessively large eyes. Various such long skulls have also been found in modern times by archaeologists, etc., although to this day people still puzzle over what secret is connected with these skulls, which were not from human beings of the Earth, but belonged to Earth aliens. ...

... But what I still have to say with regard to the land of Egypt in early times and thus long before antiquity and the time of the Pharaohs, is the following: At that time the country looked completely different from what it does today, for on the one hand I can remember that the Nile had another large river branch to the left of its course, which flowed through a very large and long valley, whereby the Nile itself also ran much more westwards than is the case today. There was also a large city in the great valley, where I also saw 'long skulls'. ...

... Now, in another large city than the one in the great valley of the Nile tributary, I could observe other 'long-headed' as well as 'normal-headed' people who were the actual rulers of the land of 'Kemet', to which Sfath explained to me that their early ancestors had been coming to Earth for millennia, probably for more than 75,000 years, when they also built the first great pyramids, which were then repeatedly dismantled and rebuilt in the course of time, which I could observe for myself through another journey into the past with Sfath. The last time this happened was around 5,000 years ago, but before that it was also 6,000 years ago and more than 12,500 years ago. This also happened with the peoples in South America and Asia, where the 'long-skulled', the Earth-foreigners and the other Earth-foreigners, who were physically 'Earth-foreign', 'normal-skulled' or small and 'big-headed' and 'big-eyed', but also giants, as for example in South America, were also involved and had a culturally completely different influence on the Earth-peoples on all continents. As a result, different buildings, villages, cities, cult objects and pyramids as well as sites with large menhirs were also created all over the world, such as Stonehenge in England, near Avesbury in Wiltshire, about 13 kilometres north of Salisbury, and in Armenia the Stonehenge or megalithic fields in Zorakarer, near the mighty mountain ranges of the Caucasus, whereby the techniques of the Earth-foreigners were used in transporting and erecting the megaliths, which weighed many tonnes. ...

... Under the direction of the 'long-skulled', villages, cities and pyramids were also built in early Egypt, as were also a few areas in Europe, where there were still huge forests at that time, although the northern regions of the Earth were for the 'long-skulled' and the other Earth-foreigners, such as the small 'big-headed' and 'big-eyed' as well as for the 'normal-headed', because, on the one hand, they preferred warmer climates and were therefore dependent on fertile land in warmer areas, as well as on many human beings whose help they needed as labourers and whom they could also dominate and rule. ...

Ptaah:

124. Regarding what you said about the 'long-skulls', it should be mentioned that Earth-humans have made various efforts to imitate these long skull forms, namely by constricting and shaping the still soft and growing skulls with the open fontanelles of babies and growing children for years shortly after birth.

125. This resulted in proportionally the same long-skull effect as in the 'elongated skulls', but with certain differences, whereby the artificial long-skull formation was recognisable.

39. When then about 13,500 years ago the up to then last Plejaren community of immigrants came to Earth, then this happened in a completely secret form, namely because since the time of 389,000 years earlier other extraterrestrials had come to the Earth in the meantime and had settled down far and wide on all continents, above all the long-skulled ones.

40. In ancient Egypt in particular, they rose to positions of power, waged wars and subjugated tribes of peoples, such as those who called themselves 'Ebraya'. ...

The huge area of Huetap alone and the great city of the same name, Huetap, which existed 3,500 years ago in what is now Honduras, was monstrous as far as I was concerned, whereby the long-skulled also worked there and had a pyramid built, just as the long-skulled did in Egypt, in the Balkans and in Asia, and so on.

Sfath also experienced this, so his real age was to be calculated with more years. But with him I not only learned a lot through journeys into the past and the future, which prove to me today that many things are not true what the scientists assume and spread as truth. Many things were really quite different from what they claim, for example, what actually happened with the Maya, or with other ancient peoples, and that foreigners really did come to Earth from other worlds, from far away and outside the SOL sphere of influence, from the distant expanses of the DERN universe – also the Long Skulls. What I wrote at that time, when it was, I do not remember, in response to a request to ... after which ... began. The Long-skulled were also in Babel, in Egypt, in South America and in Asia, where they ruled, whereby Sfath gave me the opportunity to check everything.

Semjase:

195. You know very well that these phenomena are only personally generated visions or machinations of those power groups and those Earth humans who want to cast their spell over the Earth humans through the religious forms of appearance, and in others are caused by Earth humans through their exuberant religious imagination.

196. This means, on the one hand, that the evil-minded extraterrestrial Giza intelligences, who want to bring the Earth into their power, cause such phenomena by projections or play such a role themselves, and, on the other hand, that Earth-humans afflicted by the religious delusion send out their horrendous fantasy by their consciousness-based powers and cause such phenomena by projection or visually-semi-materially.

Whereby the so-called supernatural of course does not exist in any way, because everything and everything is always naturally explainable and also naturally given. The supernatural exists only in the ignorance and the incomprehension of man, because he has no knowledge about all those things which he cannot understand and cannot explain himself. Truthfully everything so-called supernatural is absolutely natural and thus also classified according to the corresponding laws of spirit or matter, which are able to give an explanation for everything and everyone, whereby something supernatural becomes a fact of non-existence. Everything that can be grasped and perceived, everything that can be seen and heard and everything that can be felt, recognized, experienced and experienced, etc., is always real, real and natural in every case, regardless of whether it takes place on a spiritual or material level or on a medium level between spirit and matter, which is so often called the level of the supernatural or the supernatural by parapsychologists and esoterics who do not understand it.

Man in the Iron Mask

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Man_in_the_Iron_Mask

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_526

Billy:

... Recently there was another programme on television about the 'Man with the Iron Mask'. Is this story familiar to you?

Ptaah:

32. Yes.

Billy:

Then my questions about it: Is the story true or not, and if so, who was the man who was imprisoned in France in various prisons and ultimately in the Bastille, wearing an iron mask?

Ptaah:

33. A somewhat detailed explanation is necessary:

34. First of all, it must be said that since the time when the man was incarcerated, various rumour theories and conjectures about his identity have been circulating.

35. All the rumours were not true, but one of the assumptions was correct, namely that the prisoner was a triple brother of the 'Sun King' Louis XIV, who was born in 1643 and died in 1715.

36. Until 1661 he was under the guardianship of his mother, Anne of Austria, who was said to have ruled France until then, but was in fact a dependent of Cardinal Mazarin, who commanded the French state.

37. But only then, that same year after the death of Cardinal Mazarin, could he take over the regency of the State and also complete absolutism, in accordance with the motto:

38. "L'État c'est moi!" ...

Billy:

... That means something like: "I am the state", right?

Ptaah:

40. That is correct.

42. Louis XIV had two triplet brothers named Louis and Marcel, but they were unknown to the 'Sun King' because their existence was kept from him by his mother.

43. By an unfortunate remark, however, he learned of her in 1661, after all, from his triplet brothers who, due to birth difficulties, were born secretly with the help of the midwife only a few hours later, after Louis XIV had been born under great witness.

44. Both survived despite the high mortality of newborns at that time.

45. According to the law of the time in France, the triplet brothers Louis and Marcel, one after the other, depending on their age of birth, would have been rightful heirs to the throne after the death of Louis XIV.

46. However, in order to prevent alleged confusion, Louis and Marcel were placed in foster families where they grew up, under false pretences by Cardinal Richelieu.

47. Louis looked so strikingly like his first-born brother Louis XIV that he could become a danger to him, although he succumbed to error because Louis had no ambitions of succeeding to the throne.

48. This in contrast to Marcel, who was nicknamed Pagnol and who, together with various other intriguing machinations, tried to overthrow the 'Sun King' and take over the regency himself.

49. He was also arrested and imprisoned, together with his triplet brother Louis, who was the same in appearance as Louis XIV.

50. It was Louis, therefore, who was given a mask to wear for the rest of his life, some 34 years until his death on the 19th of November 1703.

51. However, it is a fairy tale that it is said to have been an iron mask that was forged around the man's head, because it is true that a mask made to measure from black plush was made for him.

52. He had to wear it throughout in the face of other prisoners, the guards and every other person.

53. Apart from being a strictly guarded prisoner, he was treated with courtesy and could also enjoy exquisite food and drink as he wished.

Marilyn Monroe murder

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Death_of_Marilyn_Monroe

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_625

Billy:

... with regard to Marilyn Monroe, who allegedly committed suicide on the night from the 4th to the 5th of August 1962. Ever since the death of the woman, it has repeatedly been said that she did not commit suicide, but was murdered, which has however to this day by certain persons deliberately been portrayed as a conspiracy theory, because the effective truth is not supposed to be truth. In that regard, I wonder why this happened and still happens today, because at that time Asket explained to me that the assertion about suicide was not true, for Marilyn Monroe did actually not kill herself, because in fact and truth she had been murdered, whereby the murderer was her long-time psychotherapist, whose name was Green or something like that. As Asket also said, this fact was however concealed for political reasons, consequently this man was not brought to justice. But the actual reason for it resp. the details behind the murder, which is today still portrayed as suicide, were unfortunately not commented on by Asket. It is also to be said that on the last TV show in this matter, which I have seen, the presumption was also expressed that it might have been a murder after all, and that this very Green or similar name could have committed it. This rhymes with what Asket explained to me already in 1962 and on what I want to ask you whether you too know something about it, maybe?

Ptaah:

73. At that time Asket clarified everything in a good way, because it was an event of a kind that moved the human beings of the Earth globally.

74. She was able to clearly establish that Marilyn Monroe did not commit suicide, but was murdered, namely by her psychiatrist and therapist, Doctor Ralph Greenson, whose actual birth name was Romeo Greenschpoon.

75. He put the women for years under strong medication by performing drug therapies with her and routinely administering her barbiturates and sedatives, which he obtained from an internist named Hyman Engelberg, who prescribed her many of the medications and which were in reality ordered by Greenson.

76. These medications caused Marilyn Monroe to fall into a deep dependence on her medication and Greenson too, and to become increasingly miserable in terms of health and psyche, and namely the more often she received and took the medications from Greenson, some of which were also forcibly entered into her.

77. On the evening of 4th August 1962, she was forced to take a larger dose of a strong sleep aid, namely pentobarbital, after which she became unconscious.

78. And in fact things happened in the way, that Greenson, who was then summoned to Marilyn Monroe, after her reawakening, murdered her by an injection of the barbiturate chloral hydrate into the anus, as a result of which no injection wound could be found anywhere on the body.

79. However, Greenson was not held accountable for the insidious murder, because his act was covered up, whereby he was protected by the Kennedy clan, resp. by John Fitzgerald and Robert Kennedy, on whose order he committed the murder.

80. The reason for the murder was that Marilyn Monroe had a long, deep and very intimate liaison with the two brothers John and Robert Kennedy, which she wanted to make known to the public, as a result of hefty and serious disagreements with the Kennedy brothers.

81. However, the two Kennedys wanted to and had to prevent this, so they made Greenson carrying out the murder.

82. And that the two were eventually also murdered, namely John Fitzgerald on the 22nd November 1963 in Dallas, Texas, and Robert on the 6th of June 1968 in Los Angeles, California, led to a situation of ultimately them too could not be held accountable anymore, the same as Doctor Greenson, who died on 24th November 1979 in Los Angeles, California, whereby everything was shrugged off for the entire Kennedy clan, since from then on there was no longer any danger that Greenson could have been persuaded to confess if the truth had unexpectedly been found out and the whole thing had been made public.

Billy:

... Guido asked me whether I knew the reason for the disappearance of the Mayan culture. Do you know anything about that?

Quetzal:

57. One reason was very strong climatic changes, which extended approximately over 230 years.

58. A time during which the Yucatan Peninsula, where the actual Mayan culture was settled, was hit by many droughts, which cost many people's lives or forced them into migration.

59. Another reason was tribal wars and acts of war with foreign Indian tribes.

60. Also, many people were carried off by epidemics, not only in the actual central area of the Maya but also in all the other areas where the Maya resided, such as in the areas of Belize, Honduras, and Guatemala, etc.

61. The total population of all the Mayan tribes added together was about 17 million people.

62. During those approximately 230 years of natural and environmental disasters, the epidemics and wars to which the Maya were exposed resulted in the fact that these indigenous peoples and families of languages disappeared in southern Mesoamerica, southern Mexico and northern Mexico, Guatemala, Belize, and Honduras.

Billy:

... Then here is another question regarding the advanced culture of the Mayans and their extinction or downfall, respectively. Can you report about this? I suppose that you have knowledge about the history of the Mayans, yes?

Quetzal:

21. I have, in fact, occupied myself with it and know some things about these concerns, at least the things that are known to us in general.

22. The Mayas are Indian peoples and language families in southern Mesoamerica.

23. I have provided you with information about it before, but obviously you want to know more about it.

24. Thus it is:

25. Maya as a language exists in Southern and North-east Mexico, in Guatemala, Honduras and Belize with more than 2 million people who are speaking that language.

26. If spatial-cultural criteria are taken into account, there must be a differentiation between those people who live in scattered settlements in the woodland of the tropical lowland, and those people in the colonial-Spanish oriented village communities of the cool-temperate highlands.

27. The Yucatec belong to the first category and are living in the Mexican states Yucatán, Quintana Roo and Campeche as well as Lakandons and Chorti, etc.

28. Cackquels, Quiché and Tzutuhils are belonging to the second category.

29. Regarding the hierarchy of political offices it can be said that in the high regions there is a cult-brotherhood, while in the lowlands the organisational form is that of groups of relatives.

30. Some pursue very intensive clearing through fire, whereby beans, pumpkins and maize are the principal crops that are cultivated.

31. Those who are living in the forests are oriented towards extensive agriculture.

32. The significantly advanced culture of the Mayas developed since the year 2321 before Jmmanuel's birth, and it formed the actual traditional Maya religion into the state religion.

33. Today's Maya-Indian Catholicism is riddled with elements of their old-customary, traditional religion.

34. The Mayas' descendants of today are still venerating the old gods of their ancient religion, which they elevate into a position of Christian saints.

35. Nevertheless, the doings of the distant descendents are still determined by 'spirit powers.

36. Shamanistic rituals regarding the healing of the sick, the sowing and oracle calendars still belong to the given order.

37. But if we view the time before Columbus, the following can be said:
38. In those times, the Maya were the holders of very highly advanced culture whose heyday began about 300 years after Jmmanuel's birth and lasted for about 460 years, before drought catastrophes broke over the land due to climatic changes, caused bad disaster and claimed 14,392,108 human lives in the course of only about 150 years.
39. 1,550 years after Jmmanuel's birth, the Maya culture found its total end through the Spanish conquests, whereby the conquerors committed terrible inhumaneness, murder, crimes of all kinds and cruelties without an end.
40. And all of this was done in the name of the Spanish royal house as well as in the name of God and, therefore, in the name of the Christian religion.
41. Well, at that time there happened a spatial relocation of the cultural heyday from the South to the North, which lead to the last end of the classical Maya culture.
42. That actual relocation and the actual reason for the downfall of the Maya culture can be traced back to earlier causes that were not within the power of the Spaniards.
43. Actually, forces of nature were responsible for the final fall, i.e. gigantic natural catastrophes through droughts, but also through epidemics, famine and wars.
44. The most powerful causes were three drought periods, back in the year 754 after Jmmanuel's birth the first one began, slowly developed and later – after about 50 years – became the first drought catastrophe that lasted about 10 years.
45. Because of the severity of that drought, famines spread over wide areas, which claimed many deaths.
46. No longer in control because of hunger, children and old people were killed to serve as food, as had also been the case in the land of Egypt, when droughts and famines ruled.
47. There were only about 40 years after the great drought, when the land and the people could recover somewhat, until another heavy drought covered the land and when the same evil became the order of the day again, as had been the case during the first drought.
48. This period of drought did not last as long as the first one, because after a little bit more than four years it ended.
49. But also during this drought many human beings died, and again human beings were killed and eaten, mainly children and old persons, as had been the case during the first drought.
50. As the land was recovering very slowly after the first drought and did not become fully usable for the cultivation of food, everything became even worse after the second drought.
51. That part of the soil that was still usable brought forth even less food, and so the people were living in want and had to live frugally during the following years and decades, until a third drought period broke over the land that lasted for another nearly seven years.
52. And once again, as a last solution for the hungry people, they killed and ate their children and old people.
53. Finally this last great catastrophe led to the break-down of the advanced Maya culture and brought its final ruin.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_260

Billy:

... In particular, the human sacrifices among the Aztecs as well as the Mayas and Incas are denied again and again. It is amazing that this assertion holds so persistently – that they shouldn't have offered human sacrifices.

Ptaah:

285. These kinds of assertions contradict every reality because all these peoples carried out human sacrifices, and indeed, both in a religious as well as punishment-exercising sense.

Billy:

The Mayas were an advanced Indian cultural people in Central America; however, they also weren't assessed very humanely. ...

...

Ptaah, how does it happen, however, that these human sacrifices are denied over and over again – is there a plausible explanation for it?

Ptaah:

287. The reason is probably to be found in the fact that so far, there still isn't any concrete evidence of human sacrifices among these people, that is, such has not yet been found, but this will still arise in the foreseeable future with certainty.

288. The present lack of evidence says nothing at all, for human sacrifices did, in fact, take place.

289. Findings and signs that suggest that human sacrifices took place are, so far, only unsatisfactory, but they are actually there.

290. Connections also exist that arose by intruders who invaded the peoples mentioned and carried out human sacrifices, but this in no way excludes the self-conducted human sacrifices of the peoples mentioned.

Billy:

... But the human beings of Earth would be interested in what the Mayan calendar has to do regarding the 21st of December 2012.

Ptaah:

...

106. Regarding the Mayan calendar, the 21st of December 2012 represents the culmination of a star constellation that occurs only every 26,000 years.

107. The Mayan calculations are assuming that the Earth – on the 21st of December 2012 – shall lie on an imaginary line that fits together the star over the left side of the constellation Orion with the central sun, i.e. the centre of the Milky Way.

108. The Sun meets the Milky Way at a location that is built by interstellar dust clouds, and is called "dark cleft of the Milky Way" by the human beings of Earth.

109. On the 21st of December 2012, at nightfall of winter solstice, the Sun is directly in that cleft, and it is in such a position that the Milky Way covers the horizon in all positions all around.

110. From this is resulting the optical impression that the Milky Way would touch Earth all around and that the galaxy would lie directly on the Earth.

111. On the whole that's the end product of the Mayan calendar recording.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_479

Billy:

... And what else is to be said about the 21st of December 2012, which is being traded as the end of the world, world change or the 'New Age' by prophets of doom, esoterics, panic-makers and Mayan calendar believers etc., is the following: The system of the Mayan calendar is based on Mayan astrological calculations, which are incorporated into a circular, triple gear system. The large gear wheel, which has two small outer gears, has a fixed starting point, the same as the larger of the two small outer gears. When these fixed points meet again, which will be the case on the 21st of December 2012, the old calendar is finished, and a new calendar begins by turning the calendar respectively the calendar gears. The Mayan calendar respectively the Mayan chronology comprises a very long period of several thousand years, not as long as the modern calendars, which are usually designed for only one year, starting with the 1st of January and ending with the 31st of December. The Mayan calendar is based on advanced mathematical and astronomical knowledge.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_728

Billy:

... As Sfath explained, the conquistadors alone stole more than 250 tonnes of gold from the Aztecs, Incas and Maya, on the one hand enriching themselves immensely and on the other hand also bringing enormous wealth to the Spanish crown.

According to your father Sfath, the great empires of the Aztecs, Mayas and Incas conquered by the Spanish conquistadors had a combined population of around 38 million human beings, and of these, the conquistadors or the Spanish adventurers and conquerors, who only had ship crews, were usually confronted with a large majority of 5,000 to 12,000 Aztec, Maya and Inca Indians. However, all these Indian peoples underestimated the superiority in weaponry of the Spanish, murderous invaders, who were trained above all in tactical-strategic conquest battles and in modern combat tactics, which they had also used against the occupiers from North Africa or the Moors. As a result, the conquerors had a great superiority over the weakly armed Indians, despite small ship crews. The Indians had practically no chance against the modern weapons of the conquistadors, so it was no disadvantage for them that they were often outnumbered by the thousands of natives.

The war experience and superiority in weaponry of the Spanish conquistadors at that time made the Aztecs, Mayas and Incas practically helpless against the conquerors, so their superior numbers were of no use to them, because their warriors were only equipped with primitive weapons. Also their large mass of available warriors made resistance simply impossible. On the one hand, this was due to their total inexperience with the modern weapons and equipment of the foreign Spanish invaders, who were actually tiny troops compared to the many thousands of Indians. On the other hand, however, the natives were unable to correctly assess their great danger and war experience as well as their deadly firearms. The lack of knowledge and understanding of the cultural background of the Spanish conquistadors and their effective intentions, aspirations, thoughts, plans, intentions and wills, as well as their being bound to their religious-sectarian-Christian delusion of God, made it virtually impossible for the Indian tribes and their rulers to react correctly against the battle-hardened foreign conquerors. Their belief in seeing terrible portents of their gods in every natural phenomenon often paralysed them and also meant that, despite their many thousands of fighters, they stood no chance in terms of their defence against the unscrupulous conquistadors, who were actually royally commissioned killers.

The empires of the Incas, Mayas and the Aztecs had been built up by wars of conquest, but their weapons and art of warfare were practically a laughing stock against the battle-hardened and modernly equipped Spanish conquistadors. The peoples conquered by the Aztecs, Mayas and Incas had to pay tribute to the Indian conquerors, although they were still not integrated into the empires of their conquerors. Nevertheless, many different peoples lived in the great empires, and consequently many different languages and religions prevailed, although, with the exception of the Inca empire, the Aztec and Mayan empires did not have a unified government administration, as Sfath explained. These great empires were relatively unstable, for they had no uniform jurisdiction, nor did they have the same legislation. They also lacked standing armies to control and permanently occupy subjugated peoples and their territories. The conquistadors took advantage of the resulting dissatisfaction of the subjugated peoples and were able to influence them in such a way that they allied themselves with the conquerors and set out against the rulers and populations of the great empires, which ultimately led to a collapse of the native populations, Spain claimed total domination and called the conquered territories New Spain.

Between 1400 and 1600, the Spanish conquerors also brought various diseases from Europe into the great empires of the Aztecs, Incas and Mayas, especially venereal diseases such as syphilis, gonorrhoea, etc., but also smallpox and tuberculosis, which quickly proved fatal for the natives, decimating the peoples in this way as well as through famine. According to Sfath, who visited those great empires at the time, the Aztecs, Mayas and Incas lost more than $\frac{2}{3}$ of their populations through the direct and indirect fault of the conquistadors. Sfath said that at that time, as a result of the missionary zeal for Christ of the Spanish conquistadors, whole peoples were robbed of their cultural identity, their honour and dignity, their existence and their possessions, goods and cohesion within a few weeks by murdering and brutally robbing, raping women and children and by other dirty machinations.

Billy:

... It also happened in South America about 800 or 900 years before Jmmanuel's birth that a drought of many years passed over the land, affecting the areas of today's rainforests, which were then populated by large Mayan cities. Despite the terraced buildings for growing plant food, however, the population of around 27,000,000 scattered to the four winds after massacring their god-kings, who used to shower them with jade but then held them responsible for everything caused by the drought. The Mayans, who had otherwise already made mass human sacrifices because that was what their faith demanded, simply disappeared from the scene, so to speak, scattering and disappearing all over the world, simply leaving their great city buildings to nature, which soon overgrew everything and gave rise to primeval forests. This happened in large parts of the rainforest far into South America, not only in Yucatán, which is usually mentioned when talking about the 'land of the Maya'.

Billy:

... The first human beings to reach the continent of America by sea were very early sea conquerors. They sailed over from Africa and China on fins about 17,500 years ago, while the first human beings reached America over a land bridge from Europe 14,500 years ago. These immigrants, together with the indigenous peoples, formed whole nations that developed into advanced civilisations in much later times, such as the Inca and the Maya, etc., whose early ancestors settled in the south of the continent, whose distant descendants were then robbed and partly also murdered by the Spaniards because of the gold – which was often mixed with copper and therefore not pure.

Hi Billy, One of the first well known uses of the term Men in Black was in the 1962 book Flying Saucers & the Three Men by Albert Bender. In that book, the author describes the Men in Black as "Men dressed in Black with glowing eyes, they changed their form to what they really looked like, a hideous creature".

Are these the same Men in Black that were altering your pictures? If not then why do you use this term, as it is thoroughly discredited today & could cause confusion?

[Billy] Answer:

Yes. However, their eyes are not glowing, but fluorescent. --- There are only a few of them left (a group of old Sirians).

The other MiB are "Regierungslümmel" (governmental etc. agents).

Hi Billy, In a previous question about the Men in Black you stated that the Men in Black were government agents. But in the book And Still They Fly on page #219 Quetzal states "the three men belong to the secret neo-Nazi group known by the name of the Schwarze Manner (Men in Black)". So far I have found three definitions for your usage of the Men in Black term.

Government Agents

Secret Neo Nazis Group

Old Sirians

Are all of these groups working together? If not, Men in Black is too vague of a term. Could you please explain what is going on here?

Thanx, Norm

[Billy] Answer:

These three groups are operating separately

Ptaah:

6. I was called by my daughter to clarify various incidents.

7. In particular, these are quite bad machinations of recent times, based on elements that endanger your life.

Billy:

You speak of the odd tracks and the incident in Winkelriet near Wetzikon, where this light body from a ship unknown to me sailed down on me?

Ptaah:

8. That is so, that is what we are talking about. ...

...

Ptaah:

17. Some evil elements are prepared to kill you because you have made them very uncomfortable.

18. This is a reaction to the fulfillment of your task, which you unswervingly carry out despite all counter-actions against you.

19. But these endangers certain elements that want to spread with their world-shattering intentions.

20. Through the many publications in publication bodies around the world, an extraordinary number of people have become aware of our existence and above all of you, and even governments, that even until now, or recently were still negating have changed their previous negative efforts into the opposite.

21. As a result, various states have made great efforts to clarify matters and have come across things that they had previously dismissed out of hand.

22. They also learned that in some countries there are earthly interest groups at work that can boast of higher technological development than is generally the case in the rest of the countries of the Earth.

23. Almost abruptly it came to pass that at various points on Earth there were stations of those elements and private circles of interest that seized the plans of the Flying Disks at the end of the last World War, namely in Germany and Canada.

24. These elements, however, which have built stations in inaccessible places for the Earth-humans and have developed quite airworthy devices there from the stolen plans, now feel extremely endangered by the investigations of certain countries and they fear that you could give exact information about their existence and the coordinates of their stations if you were to be questioned by any secret services involved in these investigations.
25. That would mean that armies could be set in motion to destroy the stations and get hold of all the achievements.
26. But to prevent such a step, a special group in Brazil is trying to shut you out and to push you out of this world.
27. This is a group of fanatics led by a man from Germany called Dünneberg.
28. His far-reaching relationships also guarantee him many followers in the mentioned country, where a large number of people are constantly influenced in negative form by technological equipment and who, not knowing why, turn against you and your task and constantly try to destroy our mission.
29. Bertossi and Arends belong to these influenced elements, as well as various other people you know very well, who are constantly receiving the latest information through very unethical channels.
30. In particular, the source lies with Margreth Rufer, who may not be deliberately treacherous, but in a thoughtless and extremely autocratic manner spreads all knowledge and every message from your group and lets it reach channels that work against you all.
31. These then strive to falsify all material, to clothe it in lies and to spread it in a very wide form.

...

Ptaah:

52. Furthermore, I was also able to clarify the events in Winkelriet near Wetzikon near your place of residence, but also the presence of the tracks of a beamship that did not originate from one of our beamships.
53. The tracks you discovered were of a ship belonging to the Brazilian private interest group, which had sent out a command to investigate your circumstances as closely as possible.
54. According to my research, there were five people who checked over everything very carefully.
55. The ship itself is not a product of the power group itself, but is stolen.
56. Years ago, it was stolen from a crew who had landed in Brazil from a distant galaxy and had to make an emergency landing as a result of damage.
57. The interstellar propulsion of the ship was completely destroyed and cannot be repaired, at least not by the technicians of this power group.
58. Only the planetary anti-gravity drive is still functional fully, which is sufficient for planetary flights.
59. But you saw the same ship weeks later in Winkelriet, where you came across this object on your very unreasonable search for this mysterious object, which put you in great danger.
60. There were two men out in the field watching your approach, which was easy game for them, because at that time they were watching you all the time.
61. Wanting to kill you, they prepared everything and guided you to the place of the planned event.
62. It was your luck that in that dark night you cautiously drove your vehicle without light, for only because you were not exactly visible in the darkness, the shot from a rifle missed you.
63. The fact, however, that after this dangerous incident you still drove unperturbed further under the slowly gliding beamship was already illogical and irresponsible, because after the shot you had to expect that further attempts would be made.
64. When a primitive light device was let loose on you from the beamship, whereby you had to be seen in the brightest light and could have been shot at again, only then did you recognize the real danger and threw yourself into a hollow, after which, when the bright light went out, you drove away. ...

Semjase:

184. The two other attacks were carried out by a Nazi group that had settled in Brazil after the end of the war.

185. They robbed German and Canadian plans for the construction of flying disks with which they are able to fly almost effortlessly into the earthly space today.

186. They also came into the possession of a foreign spacecraft of a human race from a distant galaxy.

187. The interstellar drive, however, was destroyed beyond recognition, so they could only use the antigravity drive for planetary flight.

188. With this ship, which offered them many possibilities, they also tracked you.

189. It was the same ship that you recently tracked down in Winkelriet near Wetzikon, but which had landed there weeks before when you found the mysterious tracks.

190. The crew of the ship that had used the aircraft to fly to the Earth is dead.

191. They all died after their breathing apparatus became empty and could not be refilled.

192. They were poison gas respirators.

193. A gas that is still unknown on the Earth.

194. Over time, their ship, in the hands of the Nazis, could have had dire consequences for the Earth-humans, which is why we were forced to destroy it completely when they left it unattended for a few moments.

195. These, dear friend, are the facts that have emerged from our research.

196. Beware of these Nazis or neo-Nazis, as you call them, because they fear too much for their existence through you.

Menara:

24. The main thing is that the intelligences of Giza have made themselves noticeable again and are trying by all means to disrupt the construction of the Centre.

25. But not only that, because they try to destroy everything in all possible ways, because in their evilness they fear and have to fear the truth.

26. This is also the reason why all sorts of evil has befallen you in recent times and that you have had various accidents and other nuisances.

27. Some of your group were and are particularly at risk, which is why Semjase warned you some time ago at night when you could prepare the persons concerned to exercise special caution.

28. These are all the persons in the group who are particularly sensitive to the forces of the negatively controlled Giza intelligences, who have agreed in alliance with the Brazilian group to use even malicious means to destroy the Centre.

29. Be careful, therefore, for you may be threatened by danger in a material form even from Brazil.

30. The consciousness-based influences of the intelligences of Giza should not be taken lightly either, as you are used to saying, because they are particularly dangerous.

Ptaah:

18. The negative intelligences and the South Brazilian group known to you live in vain hatred and the will to destroy, whereby they may even try the last, which is why you, and quite especially you, should be careful, because our protective measures for you and the group, on the other hand, are also limited in certain forms. ...

26. Not only the treacherous elements in the group and the negative intelligences of Giza and the group in Brazil drive a malicious play of forces, but also the constellations of the stars and planets assert their influence in the strongest form.

Quetzal:

13. As far as my observation of the past is concerned regarding the gas pedal and the flow of gas, a regrettable fact was established.

14. From what I was able to see, three dark figures worked on it and carried out this dangerous manipulation for the sole purpose of destroying your life.

15. These people cold-bloodedly accepted the fact that the lives of other persons would also be endangered. ...

Billy:

... what's the deal with the three dark figures, of which you have spoken?

Quetzal:

22. It concerns three men of the group of Brazilians, known under the name "Men in Black."

23. One of the three, who were with you all, monitored your Centre from last Friday night to the early morning hours of Saturday, while the two others carried out the manipulation on the vehicle, in which you and your wife had the accident.

24. Afterwards, they drove away in a large, black vehicle.

Billy:

Aha, and where are the birds now? I would like to get them into my hands.

Quetzal:

25. They are already back in their base in security.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_219

Billy:

... In the old history of Henok and the travelers from afar from the depths of space and, with these, the refugees of Henok's line from the Sirius region, there is talk of the fact that these chose a system with an already-dying sun, in order to escape from the captors. This was so because the pursuers did not expect it and, even today, do not expect that the refugees chose for themselves a dying or passing sun, which will only exist for a few billion years and which only had three habitable planets in its system, one of which could only be transitionally inhabited for a short time, namely Mars, while another, thus Malona or Phaeton, was destroyed by its inhabitants, which resulted in the asteroid belt. Moreover, there was still the fact that the Sirius regions, from where the refugees broke out, were in a different space-time configuration, and the refugees settled in another space-time plane, simply in our space and our time, which was a foreign area to the Sirians and which could not be found by them up to this day, for on the one hand, there are simply too many of the most diverse space-time configurations in the entire Universe, and on the other hand, the Sirians did not have the Henok-technology of the space-time exchange. But now, two specific questions about this: first of all, do the distant descendants of the Sirians from their other space-time configuration, or from their other space-time plane, still presently search for the refugees of Henok's line, whose most distant descendants are some of today's Earth-humans? And secondly, are the distant descendants of these Sirians in a position today to penetrate into other space-time configurations? And actually, this still gives rise to a third question that is related to this: Why, actually, was a solar system searched for, which only had a few inhabitable planets?

Quetzal:

73. The danger of the pursuit of the refugees, or rather their distant descendants, by the distant descendants of the former inhabitants of Sirius is no longer existent because over many thousands of years, the disposition of the Sirians has changed for the better, and so now, they live in peace and without ambitions for power.

74. Today, their aspirations are more focused on consciousness-related and spiritual progress than just on power, revenge, and retaliation, in consequence of which also everything that had happened at the earliest times with the genetically manipulated ones and their work and escape was ordered into oblivion by a council's decision.

75. But still, they also developed their technology further in every form, consequently, they also became capable of changing from their space-time plane into another.

76. But unfortunately, this was to the advantage of a small group of diehards who had taken over the old hatred and thoughts of revenge as well as the retaliatory desires of the old Sirians from generation to generation and also further maintained them.

77. But today, these are now just 63 of their human beings who continue in the traditional hatred and try to cause harm to the most distant descendant of the Sirius refugees, even in the wise that they try to transport you from life and thereby make your mission and the spiritual teaching [aka Creation energy teaching] impossible.

78. Unfortunately, they also arrived into the possession of the technology that enables them to change into the most diverse space-time planes, so even into this one, in which the SOL-system exists, which they have, indeed, found after centuries of searching.

79. They try to cause harm to you as well as to all those around you and to the teaching and the mission and elsewhere, namely by intimidating and threatening the Earth-humans who have observed our beamships or the ones of other extraterrestrial visitors to the Earth or who have found any proof of their existence.

80. Through these hateful elements that cooperated with the Giza Intelligences, human beings of the Earth were also injured or kidnapped, etc., but this only occurred rarely.

81. Moreover, these renegades and 'Black Men', as we also call them, and these have nothing to do with the so-called 'Men in Black' who are of earthly origin and, thus, who are secret-service driven Earth-humans, who strive to induce real visions and hallucinations through apparatus-driven, suggestive impulses in Earth-humans who are susceptible to these.

82. Their repertoire ranges from fake sightings and observations as well as alleged abductions up to simulated contacts and sexual intercourse with extraterrestrials, from which alleged pregnancies occur that, if they already appear, are caused quite normally with an earthly partner or by artificial manipulation of a medical nature or one's own nature.

83. Also through these extraterrestrial 'Black Men' the illusion is produced in susceptible Earth-humans that somehow, through carelessness, etc., things penetrated into their body unnoticed, such as the incidence of metal fragments or small projectiles, etc., implants of extraterrestrial forces and beings, which is absurd, of course.

84. Since these Sirius renegades are too small in their numbers to inflict really major damage on Earth and its inhabitants, they have invested in their hatred, in order to create confusion in manifold forms all over the Earth among the humans.

85. Moreover, as I already said, they try to destroy the spiritual teaching [aka Creation energy teaching] and your mission, and indeed, even by instigating unstable Earth-humans to kill you or to make it impossible for you through lies, deceit, and slander and to represent you as a liar, swindler, forger, and fraud, which you will still experience, unfortunately, even in your own family, as I have seen through a look into the future.

86. Unfortunately, we are not able to catch these extraterrestrial 'Black men' elements because they always vanish into a space-time plane whose coordinates we cannot detect and cannot register, for quite obviously, these Sirius renegades have a coordinate-distorter or otherwise have a possibility to distort the coordinate data, whereby we cannot capture them and cannot get a hold of the offenders.

87. In addition, the elements are extremely vigilant and clever, so it could take years or decades before we get them on track and dissuade them from their actions.

88. We have to wait until they make a mistake or until our scientists find a possibility to decipher their coordinates upon the disappearance of the renegades into another space-time plane.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_251

{Note: Contact Report 251 contains an extensive history related to the Sirian "Men in Black" and why they sought "revenge on the distant descendants of the genetically manipulated ones".}

(Annotation Ptaah from the 6th of January 2005: This danger has meanwhile demonstrably resolved itself, and there are only about 60 distant descendants of those who had created the genetically manipulated ones and who had them tracked during their flight. These are the group of extraterrestrials called the Men in Black, but they are not identical with the earthly Men in Black, who are state-controlled. The populations of today's Sirius regions, which are located in space-time configuration offset to the earthly dimension, have settled the old feuds against the genetically manipulated ones, have become peaceful and are no longer interested in tracking down and taking revenge on the distant descendants of the genetically manipulated ones.)

(Note Ptaah from 6th January 2005: Regarding this malicious group we are talking about the approximately 60 extraterrestrial Men in Black, who, however, have since the year 2002 no longer had any possibility whatsoever to cause any harm on the Earth, because the Plejaren deprived them of all possibilities for doing so.)

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_252

Billy:

... You once explained to me that Alzheimer's disease is also triggered in certain cases by aluminium that gets into the brain. But why does aluminium get into the brain?

Ptaah:

114. Alzheimer's disease is basically genetically controlled and in this form too much aluminium is transported into the brain in certain cases. ...

Billy:

This brings me directly to the idea that this could already be a genetic manipulation that the powers in the Sirius regions had already carried out in ancient times in order to prepare the 'fighting machines' in such a way that sooner or later they would die of it.

Ptaah:

123. Your thought processes are amazing, because it actually behaved that way.

Billy:

Then other diseases, such as cancer, etc., could be equally genetically programmed?

Ptaah:

124. This is indeed the case, because a whole number of serious and most serious diseases that appear in humanity on Earth have been programmed in a genetically manipulated form.

125. In order to free oneself from this, however, the humanity of Earth or its scientists must learn how to deal with genetic manipulation, for which we release impulses in a responsible manner.

126. However, the path of development will be very long, because the research and the successes resulting from it must not overflow, so that damage is not done again.

{Note: See the entry for Contact Report 251 as to why these statements are related to the "Men In Black".}

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_264

Billy:

But I think that this is necessary if I have fake Asket and Nera pictures, which have been sold under this name until now. If that's the case, then I'm going to be viciously attacked

Ptaah:

11. It's not your fault, because it has to be assigned to your photographer, who let a group of Black Men force him to do the wrong thing and thereby cheated on you.

Billy:

I know this scum. One of them also pursued my daughter Gilgamesha once when she was on her way home from school. She was followed with a knife in her hand. When she was not caught, the cowardly guys fled in a big black limousine. ...

Ptaah:

16. Since you have not let yourself be intimidated by any of the infamous and dangerous and even life-threatening machinations of the Black Men since the beginning of your contacts with us, and since you even laughed at attempted murders and were always armed – with the appropriate permission of the authorities, I have to say – the Black Men found it necessary to make you look impracticable and unbelievable all over the world.

17. Since they could not get to you themselves, they massively forced people working with you, such as photographer Schmid, to discredit you in the long run.

18. Thus Schmid was forced to produce forgeries of the pictures you had taken with our permission, that is, to forge them from scratch, or to falsify the pictures you had taken.

19. Several times your own films, which you gave to the photographer Schmid during the first time of your contacts to develop and to make pictures, were replaced by completely new and faked films, consequently you already received many false negatives and photos from the very beginning – or even faked pictures.

20. This also happened with the film on which you captured Asket and Nera and which you only got back months later, and which was in fact a product of the Black Men who had found and photographed Asket's and Nera's doubles in America, after which the pictures were edited and handed over to you by Schmid.

21. Of course, you believed that they were the originals, but that they were truthfully fakes and your real photos were deceptively counterfeited.

22. That's why you did not notice the deception, which is equally true for us.

23. We only became aware of this fraud in the autumn of 1984, when we brought the pictures from you to Asket, because she wanted to have them.

24. She noticed the deception immediately, of course, consequently we investigated the matter and found out that the Black Men were responsible for the whole thing and that the photographer was their coerced tool.

(Note Ptaah from 3.3.2005: The pictures of the doppelgangers are so deceptive that even Ptaah let himself be misled and deceived by it. Only Asket noticed the deception nine years later.)

25. Schmid made the false pictures on their behalf and then submitted them to you as originals, so you were always of the opinion that they were your own pictures, also with regard to the pictures of Asket and Nera.

26. It was precisely with regard to these pictures that we found out that Schmid immediately handed over the film handed over to him in this respect to the 'Black Men' or to the 'Men in Black', as they are called in your ufological circles, as the case may be, who within just a few days were able to locate and photograph the Asket-Nera doppelgangers in America several times, so that the two pictures known to you were created and handed over to you.

27. The Giza intelligences also played a certain role in the whole thing, as well as on other occasions, as you know very well.

28. But we were not able to clarify the exact connections.

29. It is clear, however, that they had an impulse telepathic negative influence on a large number of people on Earth to damage, defame or even kill you, as has been attempted several times – unsuccessfully, fortunately.

30. And in the end everything was done to make you and your mission impossible, especially by accusing you of cheating on photo forgeries.

31. And both the 'Men in Black' still work today, as do the decades-long impulse telepathic negative machinations against you and your mission to be destroyed.

32. And affected by these impulses of the Giza intelligences should be all those who work full of intrigues, slander and other negative machinations against you and the mission without having knowledge of the impulses.

Billy:

Not exactly pleasing. – But how long will these Giza impulses continue to be effective on Earth?

Ptaah:

33. This may take another 200 or 300 years. ...

Billy:

... But may I now ask where this photographer Schmid actually came from, because he never told me his address. He always picked up my films and negatives etc. from me and brought them back to me himself. Once asked, he explained that he could not give his address, because his wife was not allowed to know that he went in and out of my house. She was against me and became devilish as hell if she only heard my name. He only always said that he came from the Rhine valley.

Ptaah:

42. The man died years ago.

43. Your question should therefore be superfluous.

44. I just want to say that it was a lie that he lived in the Rhine valley.

45. The reason, however, that he did not give you an address, must have been that he was under the pressure of the 'Men in Black', who really threatened him massively.

Billy:

He always seemed a little anxious. I remember that very well.

Ptaah:

46. With good reason when you think of the 'Black Men'.

Billy:

Actually, I feel sorry for the schemers and slanderers, because if they are blinded by the impulse telepathic machinations of the Giza intelligences, there is hardly any hope for them that they will ever come to reason and truth in this life, consequently they are more and more mistaken. – By the way, you have sent these Giza twerps elsewhere – is it really the case that they cannot get back to Earth from there or cannot make contact with other intelligences to influence them and cause new harm?

Ptaah:

47. The Earth-humans can be sure that they will never again be bothered by these degenerates.

48. Other intelligences are also safe from them. ...

Billy:

But now I remembered a question about the 'Men in Black' and their machinations with the doppelganger pictures and the photographer: How could the 'Men in Black' find the two Americans so easily and quickly and also photograph them in the desired form?

Ptaah:

62. The 'Men in Black', as they are always called because of their black clothes, have always had undreamt-of possibilities for ordinary people and citizens, which made it easy for them to find the two young artists.

63. In fact, nothing remains hidden from these extremely unscrupulous men when they get involved in something.

64. The pictures made of the doppelgangers, of which we actually told you on the 3rd of February 1985, were not made directly with the two young women, however, but were copied from a screening film that the 'Men in Black' got hold of.

65. I think this type of film used is called a revue film.

66. In any case, individual images of it were copied out, whereby the men, together with photographer Schmid, selected those which were most similar to your images of Asket and Nera, which is why you could be deceived in such a way.

67. So the purpose of the whole thing was to create certain situational pictures that were deceptively similar to the pictures you made of Asket and Nera.

68. The point was that you would, of course, distribute these fake or rather doppelganger pictures and sell them to interested parties – as real pictures of Asket and Nera.

69. But it was precisely this that one day would put you in the position of a cheater, because it was calculated that sooner or later someone hostile to you would investigate these images and thus get to the bottom of them, with the inevitable consequence that the aforementioned screening film or revue film would be found and the false Asket-Nera images in it would be recognized as those of the doppelgangers.

70. This should then be taken as proof of being able to expose you as an alleged cheater, thus making yourself and your story impossible and destroying your mission.

71. So already back in 1975 everything was thoroughly pre-programmed by the 'Men in Black'; just that the corresponding image sequences had to be found in the foreseeable future with their help, which should have happened by now and will be exploited by your enemies in the not too distant future.

72. And these enemies against you and your mission, that is beyond doubt for us, are all purely earth-human persons, who are under the influence of the Giza impulses, which are still effective for a long time.

Billy:

So also Korff and B.?

Ptaah:

73. Without any doubt.

Billy:

If you have already talked so much about the Men in Black, I have a question: Quetzal once told me that these men were also responsible for an assassination attempt on me. What attack was that?

Ptaah:

74. It's not just an attack, because of the 15 attempted murders so far, eleven truthfully go back to the 'Men in Black'.

Billy:

I thought it was just one. The second attack was carried out by a fanatical Jehovah witness who tried to shoot me in Hinwil through my office window. Another time, the Giza twerps were involved in an attack when lightning struck me out of the blue, and so on. Once Jacobus Bertschinger and the brothers Hans and Konrad Schutzbach were there when a bullet hit me on the armour plate in front of my chest. Once Silvano Lehmann stood next to me as a bullet hit the ground next to my feet. And also Wendelle Stevens was once there when a shot was fired and the bullet hit only a few centimetres next to my head in the wall etc.

Ptaah:

75. These things are all familiar to me, so you do not have to mention them.

Billy:

Good – The 'Men in Black' – I used to ask Quetzal if he could tell me where they come from and which organization they belong to. He explained things to me that sounded unbelievable and that concern areas that are hardly comprehensible for people who do not have enough imagination to imagine everything.

Ptaah:

76. Quetzal also explained to you that the explanations he gave you were a serious matter of trust that you should not talk about for the time being.

Billy:

I know, and I have always stuck to that. I only came to talk about it because I wanted to ask you whether the matter must continue to be a matter of trust and therefore remain secret.

Ptaah:

77. That is still the case for the time being, yes; and it will not change very quickly. ...

Billy:

... You said, in relation to the 'Men in Black', that the declarations on this were a matter of trust and that this would not change so quickly. Does that mean that perhaps in the future you will be able to make open statements about this? Many people would certainly be interested in this.

Ptaah:

99. This possibility cannot be excluded, but open declarations can only be made by our side if we know the exact how, from where and why of these mysterious beings.

100. For the time being, all this is still unclear to us, even though we have been trying for decades to solve the mystery.

101. So far we are only dependent on our assumptions, as they are known to you.

Billy:

They are to me, yes. But haven't you made any progress yet?

Ptaah:

102. In certain respects, yes.

103. For example, in the matter that today we have clear evidence that it was actually those 'Men in Black' who took so many important things out of your locked rooms and containers.

104. Their many opportunities, which they have at their disposal and which they master, can be easily accomplished by such organisations.

105. There are practically no limits to them, and that fact alone makes them very dangerous

Billy:

The guys don't shy away from murder either, not to mention their intrigues, which have always done them a lot of harm, drove people mad and insane when they became annoying and they didn't just want to kill them, because their mental and conscious instability offered better opportunities to cover up their crimes – not to speak of what they did and still do with forcing people, consciously or unconsciously, to do things that defy all rules of honourability and proper action. And what they have done and continue to do with regard to the leadership of certain governments and the military, etc., is really not a cowhide.

Ptaah:

106. That is all true, but we shouldn't talk about these matters any further now, because it wouldn't be good to expose assumptions before they have been proven.

107. And that would happen if we continued to discuss these issues.

108. But the fact is, and this may be said, that all those who know about the existence of these beings and deal with them, do not know in any way what is behind them and how dangerous these 'Men in Black' really are, whose machinations intimidate every normal human being and let him act according to the will imposed upon them, and who want to prevent by all means that positive extraterrestrial forces establish contacts with the terrestrial human beings and helpfully assist them.

109. But more may and should now really no longer be spoken.

Billy:

End of the flagpole. – Well, let's leave it. Only one thing I would like to address in this matter, and that is no secret: The 'Men in Black' have got the same abilities as the Giza twerps had, namely in the form that they are able to influence the humans of Earth negatively and maliciously by unnoticeable telepathic impulses. And it is precisely in this respect that I would like to ask you whether you know whether these unpleasant impulses still affect our group members today, as they did very often in the past?

Ptaah:

110. That is beyond doubt, but the individual members have consolidated themselves over the years to such an extent that they have already nipped in the bud the majority of the impulses that impair reason and truth in the bud, which is particularly peculiar to those who are consciously and psychologically quite stable.

111. Reason and truth have borne good fruit with them.

112. Nevertheless, it must be said that the dangerous telepathic impulses of the 'Men in Black' as well as the impulses of the deported Giza intelligences that will remain effective for a long time to come must not be regarded as harmless.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_265

Florena:

3. Our observations have shown, that the foreign beings known to you as the 'Men in Black' are again becoming active against you, in connection with the fact that you have publicly denounced their machinations with regard to the photo forgeries.

4. I am not only talking about the photo forgeries in relation to Asket and Nera, but also about all the other photo material that has been falsified and imputed to you.

Billy:

I am very happy that you warned me, but you are a little late with this warning, because I have already been confronted with the new machinations of the rabble on the 8th and 10th of June. You probably have not looked at the control disk yet, otherwise you would know about the incidents.

Florena:

5. What has happened? –

6. No, we do the inspection at the end of this month.

Billy:

Well, I have been shot at once again, but this time it is a hell of a close miss that I got hit. That was three days ago, on the 8th of June. Only 28½ hours later there was another attack, with a throwing knife that was thrown at me. ...

Florena:

19. I know that several witnesses were present when the assassination attempts were made on you.

Billy:

That is right, and they testify to what happened. Nevertheless, they even accuse me of lying and claim that I committed the attacks myself or hired other people to shoot myself down or have myself murdered in any other way.

Florena:

20. You cannot be serious.

Billy:

But it is, because certain enemies do not shy away from slander, nor from assassinations. I think that the attacks are less based on earth-human initiatives than on the machinations of the 'Men in Black', whereby this rabble influences unstable earthlings who then attack me.

Florena:

21. This also corresponds to what we know.

22. The influences and the related possibilities with regard to the post-hypnotic exercise of coercion on unstable Earth-humans are extremely distinctive.

Billy:

Then the assassin earthlings are under post-hypnotic coercion!

Florena:

23. That is the meaning of my words.

24. Those under compulsion cannot act otherwise.

Billy:

But one thing amazes me: How can the people who are forced to do so always disappear so quickly and soundlessly?

Florena:

25. They are programmed by post-hypnosis to carry out the attacks in certain places, from where they can also silently and quickly remove themselves again.

26. One peculiarity is that they never wait for the result of their attack, but leave the place immediately after the attack or hide in such a way that they cannot be found.

27. This also means that they are forced by hypnotic commands to wear light, fine shoes that hardly make any noise.

28. The clothing must also be adapted to the surroundings of the previously scouted out location.

Billy:

Although I know the reasons why the 'Men in Black' do not appear to me themselves, I still find it strange why I have not seen anything of these rascals for years. The last time was when the guys attacked my daughter Gilgamesha and apparently wanted to kidnap her.

Florena:

29. It's not that strange, because at least the group of these foreigners who were up to no good in the first few years are prevented from appearing on the Centre-grounds themselves by a reporting system we installed.

30. However, if they were to try this, which was the case several times before, we would immediately take action against them, which they find extremely unpopular, so they disappear without a trace, without us being able to decipher their flight coordinates for their leap in time, because they are so cleverly coded and torn that we are not able to decipher them even with our best technical means, which is also the reason why we have not yet been able to put their evil handicraft to them, as you like to say.

Billy:

But to my knowledge, Ptaah told me, there is also a group of men who are controlled by the earth authorities, who only dress in black and drive around with black bodies to put pressure on so-called UFO observers and so on.

Florena:

31. That is right, but they have not played a role in your case yet.

Billy:

Did they have anything to do with the secret service agents who were on me?

Florena:

32. No, in no way.

Billy:

But now it makes me wonder whether the earthlings, who are under posthypnotic pressure, cannot defend themselves against it?

Florena:

33. They are all unstable earthlings who are chosen for the purposes of the assassinations, and of course they are not able to defend themselves against them in such a way that they can free themselves from the coercion.

34. Such impulses may well appear in them, which then makes them uncertain about the execution of the deed, which was often your happiness, but they cannot disobey the order.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_266

Ptaah:

9. The whole thing undoubtedly leads back to the 'Men in Black', namely to those who do not have a form of governmental secret service.

Billy:

Then there are those thugs, who can encrypt their coordinates of origin in such a way that you have not been able to crack them yet. That's what Florena said. But what next?

Ptaah:

10. According to the records of the control disk, the assassin was undoubtedly a human being from Earth, who nevertheless is a resident outside the control field, because outside the control field his trail is lost.

11. Of course we could find the man, because he was one of them

12. But that should be useless, because he certainly does not know anything about the tele-hypnotic influence and command by the 'Men in Black'.

13. We are certain that he carried out the two assassinations without being aware of it, as was also the case in the past with all other attacks for which Earth-humans were hypnotically forcibly abused. ...

21. Even though our control sensors can prevent the particular group of 'Men in Black' responsible for the attacks from entering the Centre-grounds, they still have the opportunity to inflict damage on you by unstable Earth-humans with tele-hypnotic influences.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_274

Billy:

... But now a question about the strange occurrences of the vault and the disappearance of the corrections from the original report and the disorder in Engelbert's artwork. Can you try to do something about this and tell me what you ...

Could perhaps the 'Black Men' be behind this?

Florena:

13. Unfortunately, we have no knowledge of this, at least not with regard to the group that is not of earthly origin.

14. There is a possibility, however, because we do not have enough knowledge about their technology and other possibilities, because we have not been able to get hold of them up to now, as you know.

15. However, as far as the terrestrial organization of the Black Men is concerned, we know for sure that they do not have such possibilities to intrude unnoticed into your workroom and locked receptacles.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_311

{Note: See the entry for Contact Report 251 as to why these statements are related to the "Men In Black".}

Billy:

... Regarding the Sirians who at that time presented Sfath with their pear-shaped space ship: did that concern a people who, here on the Earth, is called "Nommo", and did those who provided the gift belong to the genetic manipulators?

Ptaah:

9. A people called "Nommo" is unknown to us, and indeed in our space-time configuration as well as in yours.

10. My father Sfath received his flying device as a gift from a Sirian people who are called Samanet.

Billy:

Did these people have something to do with the genetic manipulators?

Ptaah:

11. No, that is not the case.

12. With the Samanet people it deals with a people who live in a space-time configuration which is not identical with that in which the genetic manipulators live.

Billy:

Does it deal then with our space-time configuration?

Ptaah:

13. No, that is not the case.

Billy:

Then, in 1976 Semjase, your daughter, also did not speak of two solar systems of the planets of Sirius in our space time configuration, rather of a completely different one?

Ptaah:

14. Certainly.

15. We always only speak of the constellations known to you in your space-time configuration in order to show, in terms of direction, approximately what the talk is about in regard to the space-time configuration spoken about by us. ...

Billy:

I assume that those who were genetically manipulated also have nothing to do with the Samanet?

Ptaah:

17. That corresponds to the situation.

18. The Samanet are quite normal humans who have not been genetically manipulated.

Billy:

Those who were genetically manipulated, who came into the solar system together with the refugees from the ranks of the genetic manipulators, and therefore with the sympathisers of the genetically manipulated ones, were the descendants of those who had been genetically manipulated as well as descendants of those who did the genetic manipulations, or?

Ptaah:

19. That is correct.

20. The genetically manipulated descendants were descended from the eighth generation, as were the descendants of the genetic manipulators.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_384

Ptaah:

24. As you know, a large part of your material of our photos of beamships was falsified by the photographer Schmid under the pressure of a certain organization of the MiB and then planted on you again, just as it happened with your film and photo material of the Great Journey.

25. The films and slides showing our beamships were so meticulously falsified that suddenly threads were visible as if models had been hung up and photographed ...

...

29. Your ex-wife as well as H.S., M.S., Photographer Schmid and the aforementioned MiB organization were the originators of the fact that the materials first disappeared without a trace, only to reappear later in journals and newspapers worldwide, through which you could buy back negative copies from the slide owners.

...

44. The business with your slides, films and photos was extremely profitable for the four of them, although it is also certain that the aforementioned MiB organization as well as others who were hostile to you and still are today had their hands in it, even with horrendous sums of money, which is why it could also be that your ex-wife suddenly had a bank account in which 35,000 Swiss francs were hoarded.

...

Hans-Georg Lanzendorfer {article}:

The Plejaren investigations of this incident revealed the following: Since the organization 'Men in Black' could not eliminate him after several failed assassinations (in the end, 21 of them in total), which they committed against 'Billy', they forced people working with 'Billy', such as the above-mentioned photographer Schmid, to discredit BEAM in a very massive way. They meticulously planned their intrigues and defamations for the long term, so that the effects of their actions would only begin to be felt in the near future. On several occasions, the 'Men in Black' also tried to achieve their goal in the Semjase Silver Star Centre by attacking the members' vehicles or by intimidating and abducting children etc. In this form, the photographer Schmid was also forced by the 'Men in Black' to make fakes of the photographs that 'Billy' had taken with the permission of the Pleiades/Plejaren. On several occasions, pictures that Schmid had received from 'Billy' were forged from scratch or replaced by fakes, as happened with the Asket Nera photographs and the dinosaur photograph mentioned above. In this way, Eduard A. Meier received unnoticed false slides, negatives or manipulated photos back from Schmid already at the beginning of his contacts with the Pleiades/Plejaren. This photographer has since passed away and is therefore no longer able to provide any information about these manipulations.

For 'Billy' Eduard Albert Meier it was initially not easy to find a trustworthy photographer who developed his UFO pictures in an honest way without altering them. Even after the development his pictures were not safe from desecrating access in early years, because they were abused and passed on for falsification purposes already at the beginning of the contacts by administrative persons like H. S. and 'Billy's' ex-wife and companions. Thus, in addition to the originals, forged pictures are still in the possession of FIGU today, into which unknown persons have subsequently manipulated extremely bungling threads and hanging devices.

It is a fact that at no time any fake dinosaur photos were knowingly published by 'Billy' or the FIGU as real Billy photos. Such pictures are still not offered for sale among the officially available photos in the visitor albums. The so-called dinosaur photos are also not listed in the FIGU photo directory. It is known that BEAM had over 1,500 UFO-photos, of which the photographer Schmid falsified several. In addition in the first years about 1,200 pictures were stolen from partly unknown sides, which never appeared again. Various photos and negatives were published in journals etc. worldwide, which enabled 'Billy' to buy back his own pictures and negatives for expensive money to bring them back into his possession. Of course, not all of his photos can be made available for sale by 'Billy', because it is simply impossible to get hold of all stolen pictures. Therefore only the well-known and often desired pictures are offered to the visitors.

Since the so-called dinosaur photos of Quetzal were recognized as fake and destroyed, they are logically not available for sale today. There is no doubt that without the machinations of former malicious group members and without black-men manipulations the dinosaur photos would be as accessible to the visitors as the rest of the real beam ship photos. If BEAM had actually faked his UFO photos, as his opponents claim, he would probably be unscrupulous enough to bring the faked dinosaur photos among the people. But 'Billy' will be careful not to circulate not only his real pictures, which have been scientifically examined and found to be real, but also the dinosaur pictures faked by someone else. On the one hand he lacks the necessary greed for profit and unscrupulousness, on the other hand such nonsense and nonsense would endanger his true mission to the highest degree and finally make it impossible.

...

Obviously, in the mid-1970s, it was part of the plan of a sleazy counterfeiting organisation of the 'Black Men' and traitorous FIGU members (who, as a result of their useless efforts of destruction, finally left the FIGU of their own accord) to assign the aforementioned picture to the collection of 'Billy' Meier's photographs, along with various other forgeries. It was their goal to confront him one day with the fact of a fake, as they almost succeeded in doing in the case of the Asket/Nera photos. With wise foresight, Quetzal thwarted the attempt with the fake dinosaur photos as much as possible, but unfortunately some of the original dinosaur photos were confiscated and destroyed by the Plejaren. Thus the pictures were lost, but further abuse was avoided.

Unfortunately, it is no longer exactly comprehensible for the FIGU today who was ultimately responsible for the distribution of the forged picture in question – along with other forgeries.

What is certain is that it was deliberately played into the hands of the opposing circles of BEAM. Even for the alien Quetzal, it was extremely difficult during his investigations to find the source of the falsifications and the paths of the fake image. A participation of the 'Black Men' is therefore highly probable, since for many years it was almost impossible even for the Plejaren to get hold of these uncomfortable contemporaries. The secret of the 'Black Men' has now been revealed by the Plejaren , as well as the fact that they had very high technical means at their disposal to cover their tracks and that they let earthlings work for them in a forced hypnotic state.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_403

Quetzal {1982}:

The attack on you three days ago I could unfortunately not clarify, because the vibration of the person who shot at you apparently disappeared without trace immediately after the event from the corner of the house, just as if it had been radiated away. This leaves us with only one assumption, and that is that of the 'Black Men', the hateful little group of Sirians. But you should keep quiet about them until such time as we ourselves will talk about it openly. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_424

Ptaah:

29. As to the Gizeh Intelligences and the Sirian Black Men, that is another matter which leads back many thousands of years, whereas the Brazilian Group consisted of former Nazis who were able to take over an object of the Gizeh Intelligences, what we also were able to find out.
30. This group does not exist anymore today, and the Gizeh Intelligences were sent into exile and are becoming extinct.
31. In addition, the Sirian Black Men were rounded up and taken into custody through forces of their home world after their last evil attacks against you.
32. They also do not pose a threat anymore.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_450

Billy:

Then a question regarding the Sirians, with whom you've been in contact for some time now after all. My question is based on the fact that Bernadette is working on the 'Nokodemion Line' into a brochure, in which a statement of mine from the year 1995 is also integrated. At that time, it was still the case that you were not able to maintain contact with the Sirians, but that has changed some time ago, as you explained to me. How was it that you were able to get in contact with the Sirians after all?

Ptaah:

58. It is not the Sirian folks with whom we have come into contact, but our contacts take place only in remote communication form with some groups of consciously higher-evolved scientists.
59. These form our liaisons with the various governments, which are occupied by scientists who are also consciously higher-evolved and who lead the peoples.
60. We do not yet maintain personal or physical contacts, because various prerequisites for this are still missing.
61. The populations of the Sirian peoples themselves are not yet so far advanced in the evolution of consciousness that they would be equal to their scientists, and it is this fact that we cannot yet maintain official contacts with the Sirian peoples.
62. Physical contacts are not yet possible with regard to scientists either, but nothing stands in the way of remote communication contacts, because the evolution of consciousness of scientists allows this, which is why we have opened these contacts.
63. In the remote-communicative way we have also appealed to the Sirians' reason, so that the old persecution mania against those genetically manipulated by their primeval ancestors was abolished, which, however, had already been handed down only in ancient annals, but had long since been forgotten by today's Sirians and was only cultivated by a small group of fanatics who, like the neo-Nazis on Earth, for example, created and practised their hatred from the old writings within themselves.

64. But we only found out about this some time ago, just when we were able to contact various Sirian scientists by remote communication, whereby we did this because we wanted to get hold of those hateful fanatics who threatened your life for so long and called themselves the Men in Black.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_452

{see also Contact Report 65:52-59}

Ptaah:

14. Still you are mistaken respecting the sirian Men in Black, because these also formed links with the Gizeh-Intelligences from the beginning, also like the faction of Ashtar Sheran.

15. The Gizeh-Intelligences controlled all approaches to the earthly airspace for millennia and forced all those, who they could use for themselves, into the alliance through despotism and a forcible change of power of judgment and attitude.

16. Since, however, you have never asked and apparently were also not therein interested regarding these connections, we also have never spoken about it.

Billy:

I understand a brainwashing, that comes about by a forcible change of the power of judgment and attitude of the human being, through strong psychic and physical pressure, in which also drugs and electromagnetic, electric and mechanical torture are often applied.

Ptaah:

17. This corresponds to the meaning of my words.

Billy:

Then, that now is finally clear. The connections with the Gizeh-honchos and other extraterrestrials are therefore much trickier and more extensive, as you told me. But even so, I also have never asked about it, consequently you also have told me nothing about the details. Then, however, I have a problem again, and in fact with the extraterrestrial aircraft, that the Brazilian-group had, from which I was set about in the year 1976 in Winkelriet near Wetzikon. You told me at that time – which unfortunately was not recorded in any contact-report – that it concerned a beamship, which indeed was piloted by people from a distant galaxy, and in fact with poison gas breathers or such, that they, however, were members of your federation, if I am not mistaken. ...

Ptaah:

18. Unfortunately you are mistaken, dear friend, because the strangers were not members of our federation, but they belonged to another group of the Gizeh-Intelligences and were stationed also with these, whereby they had to make an emergency landing in Brazil at that time and were captured by the Brazilian-group.

19. Actually they were poison gas breathers, who all died, when their respiration-equipment failed.

20. They could not leave the Earth anymore, because their interstellar drive was completely destroyed, which was a work of the Gizeh-Intelligences, as we found by experience through the members of the Sirian group.

21. The reason for the destruction of the drive was so that they could not flee, because the Gizeh-Intelligences had a `change` in fundamental attitude.

Billy:

And the Gizeh-twerps didn't undertake anything, as the ship had to make an emergency landing in Brazil, and the respiration-equipment failed, so also nothing, since the old Nazis of the Brazilian-group captured the ship?

Ptaah:

22. Their nature and behaviour was, that they simply gave up lost aircraft, as also they were not concerned about missing people etc. either.

23. Furthermore they were on close terms with the Brazilian group, which, however, that already for a long time does not exist anymore, because everyone of the faction has died by now because of ageing and illness.

Billy:

All members of this group were former officers of the German empire who escaped from Germany to Brazil, they were mainly leading lights and henchmen of the Nazi-empire and therefore escaped war-criminals.

Ptaah:

24. This was actually the case.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_471

Billy:

... During the 424th official conversation of the 17th of June 2006, you told me that the Black Men, those who wanted me to separate from my boots (= to kill), had been captured at last. You said the following: "Since their last evil actions against you, the Sirian Black Men have been seized by forces from their home world and have been taken prisoner." And also during the 452nd official conversation of the 7th of July 2007, this was mentioned. Now I have been asked about how this came about. Can you give me details?

Ptaah:

115. I can explain the following:

116. Through our information about a technical innovation that we had received from the Sonaens, the Sirian scientists were able to register the Men in Black's start, flight and destination coordinates which had been encrypted to such a degree that they could not be decrypted for a very long time.

117. After having obtained the destination coordinates, it was detected that they lead to the planet Mars in the SOL system.

118. Consequently, in the year 2006, Sirian security forces were mobilized who are in possession of space technology that makes it possible to switch between space and time configurations.

119. Those forces secretly started with the aim to catch the Men in Black on planet Mars.

120. On the planet they found very ancient and functioning stations of former occupants/inhabitants, which were used by the Men in Black. From those bases they planned the assassination attempts on you and also pursued other evil machinations on Earth towards groups of Earth-humans.

121. The Men in Black were taken prisoner and all stations were totally eliminated, just as it was the case with all monuments and other things that were erected by the former inhabitants of the planet.

Billy:

Does this mean that now no human-built artefacts can be found on Mars? Why did they do this?

Ptaah:

122. That's the meaning of my words, because all of such artefacts had been removed.

Therefore, only natural artefacts can be found now that were created by nature, as I had once remarked to you during a private talk.

123. You then did not ask why only naturally-created artefacts can be found on Mars, though

124. I do not attribute this to your inattentiveness, but to your bad health situation at that time when I told you this.

125. And regarding the total elimination of everything by the Sirian forces that lead back to the former inhabitants: The reason for this was that it is a Sirian law that everything has to be totally eliminated wherever criminal actions have occurred.

126. This applies to human acquisitions of all kinds on certain locations, as well as on entire planets, if such are not inhabited by a human population, which was also the case with Mars.

Billy:

Maybe you have told me everything, but I only remember that you told me that only natural artefacts can still be found on Mars. Somehow there's a hole in my memory, because I may not remember that we had spoken about that what you have said regarding the finding of the Men in Black on Mars and the removal of all human artefacts. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_625

Billy:

Then a question regarding what you once told me, namely that in the United States there is a grouping resp. a secret organisation, that is very well concerned with the things about extraterrestrials and their flying apparatuses etc., but which, in terms of its machinations, knowledge and experiences, is, however, shielding itself not only from the public but also in relation to the US President and the senior rulers, so that they are all left in unknowledgeness and not informed. Is that still the case today?

Ptaah:

103. Yes, and this corresponds to an undisputable but extremely secret fact, whereby the responsible ones of this grouping are also anxious to deny and conceal their machinations, cognitions and experiences about non-terrestrials, the way these are given regarding non-terrestrial existences, activities, relations and incidents etc.

104. This grouping resp. secret organisation also poses a great danger to persons who make certain observations regarding so-called UFOs as well with regard to secret activities that originate from the grouping.

105. Particularly when observing persons want to get to the bottom of the matter and thus create elucidation, they run the risk of getting caught up in the cogwheels of the secret organisation and being gone after or even harmed – should it end with nothing but harming.

Billy:

What do you mean by “great danger”, must it be understood as danger to life and “disappearing from the scene”?

Ptaah:

106. That corresponds to what I mean.

Billy:

Aha, then we are, as in the past, back with the dark dressed ones, who also followed Gilgamesha. ...

121. 'Men in Black' have nothing to do with US government officials, because that is pure fantasy, as opposed to the 'Black Men' who belonged to a group intent on destroying the FIGU mission, up to and including assassinations.

Ptaah:

11. It is not your fault, because it has to be assigned to your photographer, who was forced to do something wrong by a group of the 'Black Men' and cheated you.

Billy:

This rabble is known to me. One of them also once chased my daughter Gilgamesha when she was on her way home from school. They ran after her with a knife in her hand. When she was not caught, the cowardly guys fled in a big black limousine.

...

Ptaah:

16. Since you have never been intimidated by any kind of infamous and dangerous and even life-threatening machinations of the 'Black Men' since the beginning of your contacts with us and even laughed at attempted assassinations and were always armed – with the appropriate permission of the authorities, I must say – the 'Black Men' found it necessary to make you outrageous and unbelievable all over the world.

...

20. This also happened with the film on which you captured Asket and Nera, which you only got back months later, and which was in fact a product of the 'Black Men' who had located and photographed Asket's and Nera's doubles in America, after which the pictures were edited by Schmid and handed over to you.

...

23. We only became aware of this deception in the autumn of 1984, when we brought the pictures from you to Asket, because she wanted them.

24. She noticed the deception immediately, of course, so we went into it and found out that the Black Men were behind the whole thing and that the photographer was their forced tool.

...

26. With regard to these images in particular, we found out that Schmid immediately handed over the film he had developed to the 'Black Men', respectively to the 'Black Men', as they are called in your ufological circles, who within a few days had found the Asket and Nera doubles in America and had been able to take several photographs, so that the two images you knew were created and handed over to you.

...

31. And both the 'Black Men' are still working against you and your mission, which is to be destroyed, as well as the decades of continuous impulse-telepathic negative machinations.

...

45. But the reason that he did not give you an address might have been that he was under the constraints of the 'Black Men', who really threatened him severely.

...

Billy:

... But now one question has finally occurred to me which relates to the 'Black Men' and their machinations with the doppelgangers and the photographer: How could the 'Black Men' find the two Americans so easily and quickly and also photograph them in the desired form?

Ptaah:

62. The 'Black Men', as they are called because of their always black clothing, have always had undreamt-of possibilities for normal human beings respectively citizens, which made it easy for them to find the two young artists.

63. In fact, nothing is hidden from these extremely unscrupulous men when they get involved in something.

64. The pictures made in relation to the doppelgangers we actually told you about on the 3rd of February 1985, were however not made directly with the two young women, but were copied from a screening film that the 'Black Men' got hold of.

...

71. So already back in 1975 everything was thoroughly pre-programmed by the 'Black Men'; that the corresponding picture sequences had to be found in the foreseeable future with their help, which has probably happened in the meantime and will be exploited by your enemies in the not too distant future.

...

Billy:

... I think that these excerpts made by Christian in connection with Michelle DellaFave's visit are necessary to bring the matter of the Asket-Nera photos in connection with Michelle and her former colleague Susan 'Suzy' Lund to a close after a long time. The origin of the whole thing – from which a worldwide controversy and an intrigue against me arose, in order to make me out to be a fraud and to call me names, whereby my ex-wife was also diligently involved – is over 40 years ago. As part of this intrigue, I was planted with fake Asket Nera photographs, which in reality showed Michelle DellaFave and her colleague Susan 'Suzy' Lund, taken by the Dingaling Sisters on the famous Dean Martin Show in the USA, which had been misused to make me look like a fraud. They were taken by a photographer named Schmid, together with the help of the so-called 'Black Men' who often crept around our Centre and caused various damages, but also threatened our daughter Gilgamesha with a knife. The photographer Schmid, who died some time ago, was an acquaintance of ..., who was also a hobby photographer and who managed my more than 1,500 slides, photos and eight films, kept them in safekeeping and also sold them worldwide on his own account, but also gave them to photographer Schmid, who forged them on behalf of the 'Black Men'. The Black Men prosecuted a small group of people from Switzerland and Germany, but there was also a small group of the ... who wanted to destroy all my work and defame me as a fraud worldwide. Furthermore, my ex-wife also tried to do this through lies and slander, together with ... and ... from Basel, by making a slander film and broadcasting it on television in various countries around the world. But also ... and ... and ..., but also ... and ... The 'Black Men' who were creeping around the Centre and who were also responsible for several of the 23 assassination attempts that have been carried out on me so far, had nothing to do with the alleged 'Black Men' – who in the USA as American secret service agents of the CIA and the FBI are supposed to have harassed and threatened people because they had observed UFOs. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_710

Ptaah:

24. The insidious actions against you by certain secret services, through which you were also federally registered in Switzerland, should also be mentioned in this regard, as well as the machinations of the so-called 'Black Men' who were integrated into the UFO hysteria at that time, who also had your daughter in their sights and who was only spared an abduction because she luckily ran away from these dark figures and ran home when she was on her way home from school, as you know.

25. As we found out in this regard, this dark group was out to kidnap your daughter in order to coerce you into keeping a low profile regarding our contacts, your photos and interview reports, etc.

26. You should have been prevented from coming out in public, as well as from mentioning the dark organisation in connection with you and our contacts.

27. But when you continued undeterred, but did not mention the fact of the Earth-presence of the Earth-foreigners according to our order, and we spoke generally only of the Giza Intelligences, it came to pass that the dark-organisation became sensible that you and we Plejaren – when we still misleadingly used the false designation 'Pleiades' for lying and fraudulent contact-imitators of all kinds – had nothing to do with the Earth-foreigners.

28. Because of this, the dark ones were active in a threatening manner and harassed UFO observers all around and triggered fear and anxiety, fears and worries through evil threats.

...

43. I can do that, but there is not much to explain, because for various reasons connected with the Earth-foreigners and the 'Black Men', as well as with the US and other secret services, we had to behave in such a way that we pretended to be uninformed and our contacts appeared unreal from the point of view of the Earth-foreigners, the 'Black Men', and all the various secret services.

44. This could only be done by distancing ourselves from calling the Earth-foreigners the originators of the Fatima phenomenon, for if we had done so, the insidious efforts of the dark men and secret services against you would have continued.

45. Also assassinations could not have been avoided under certain circumstances by the non-human Earth-foreigners, as it would also have been possible under certain circumstances by certain secret agents and the 'Black Men', who had nested in the restaurant Brückenwaage in Dussnang and cooperated with each other.

46. If attacks against your life had also been carried out from these sides, then this would have been done in an absolutely deadly and thus in a completely different way than all those attacks on your life which were carried out unprofessionally by confused people, sect members, misguided people and other antagonists.

47. But the threat of the secret agents and dark figures had to be prevented, which could only be done by deliberate misleading, and this also with regard to the Fatima event, which we misleadingly called the machination of the Giza Intelligences instead of the Earth-foreigners, when it came up in our conversations.

48. In fact, the Giza Intelligences were also Earth-foreigners, whom we actually deported, but who were just as unknown to the Earth-foreigners as we were to them.

49. Like us, the Giza Intelligences also had similar devices for complete shielding, so that they too could not be located by the Earth-foreigners and could also not be perceived in any other way.

50. Consequently, they also knew nothing about their presence on Earth and were therefore simply non-existent for the Earth-foreigners.

51. So, confusing as it all may seem, we had to put the Giza Intelligences in the foreground, which, according to our providential plan and hope, obviously appeared to be a fantasy product of your statements by the Earth-foreigners, the secret services and 'Black Men', as well as our contacts and conversations.

52. This only furthered the controversy, which, however, helped the fulfilment of our plans, because the interest of the Earth-foreigners, secret services and 'Black Men' quickly waned and you were left alone by them, which has since been maintained in your favour. ...

Billy:

... So your explanations, statements and declarations were formulated in such a way for the public and to be kept in writing by me and to be spread in the world, just without your mentioned additions 'as a rule' and 'under reserve', whereby the misunderstanding impression was awakened and it seemed as if you would completely deny all abductions concerning earthlings by extraterrestrials and any contacts with them. But this was not the case in reality, because you spoke of relatively and 'as a rule' and 'with reservations', which I had to conceal for certain reasons and must also do now according to your instructions. In view of the circumstances prevailing at the time and in view of all that could have been expected and all the extremely unpleasant and even malicious things that would have come to light in connection with the US Air Force, the US secret services, the US government, the 'Men in Black' and the US shadow government, if you had freely and openly stated the effective facts, you informed me in detail about this and that is why I was also bound to secrecy. ...

... From various places where I had to take films and photos, various films and slides disappeared without a trace from my office at Wihaldenstrasse 10 in Hinwil during the first few days after work, before I could take them to Mr Bär for development. How and who stole everything and made it disappear, I can only guess. So, over time, more and more films and photos disappeared. In addition, my originals were falsified by the photographer Schmid, as he repeatedly emphasized, in collaboration with and under the control of 'Men in Black', who had been CIA people, and provided with 'hanging threads' and copies were made of them, while these people had taken my originals, as he said when I confronted him. The whole thing was allegedly done to give the impression that I had photographed suspended models. So a lot of my films and photos had been tampered with, but I only discovered this a long time later, after he had given me back some of my material. The CIA people had taken what was missing, just as they had also manipulated and faked the Asket photo. He explained over and over again that these people had forced him to do everything and that he had therefore had to do it. Moreover, he was afraid as he complained again and again.

... One asked about Glenn Miller. He was a jazz musician who disappeared one day during the war, without a trace, and was declared as missing. Can you give any information about this? Because to this day, it is still puzzling as to where this Glenn Miller disappeared.

Quetzal:

25. About that, I can explain a few things to you, as it concerns a man who was a musician and, thus, one who falls into our art records. Glenn Miller was inadvertently killed by his own people, that is, by allied forces, on his way from England to France.

26. He was on his way to Paris to attend a Christmas celebration.

27. He flew his aircraft very low over the English Channel, as American Lancaster aircraft dropped their surplus bombs into the English Channel, without the crews noticing that beneath them, a smaller aircraft crossed their flight path.

28. This aircraft, in which Glenn Miller sat, was hit by the dropped bombs, upon which it exploded, was torn into the smallest pieces, and then plunged into the sea.

29. The small pieces of debris were scattered hundreds of metres, while Glenn Miller was completely torn apart into the smallest particles.

30. This is the real truth, which has no relation at all to the false story that Glenn Miller, for indefinable reasons, died in the arms of a prostitute in Paris.

197. It trembled, burst in many places, and huge volcanoes erupted.

184. The names handed over to you come from two languages, the original Lyran and Vegan languages, but at the same time, different dialects were united by those living together on the Earth.

185. Unfortunately, due to all the cataclysms in the course of thousands of years, only very few of these names were preserved or preserved in similarity.

186. In the main, they only exist in old languages, which have already become historic languages on your planet and are only spoken very seldom.

187. In many cases, however, they have also fallen to rather bad changes and distortions in these languages, so they are often hardly recognisable therein.

188. Most values are still contained in the so-called Ancient Greek, but this language itself already represents a distortion, for truly, this concerns the latest Minoan.

189. Thus, that language which was spoken by the people of the Minoans and which, by these, was taught to the ancient Hellenes (Greeks), together with many things of their culture at that time, until the Santorini volcano exploded about 3,500 years ago and the Minoans had to flee to the mainland.

I have also noticed that various names are still common on the Earth today, sometimes in well-preserved or partially preserved form.

Quetzal:

...

75. When these names were introduced on the Earth, these were given in eight different languages, which were, nevertheless, all of Lyran origin.

76. From this, new languages developed on the Earth over the course of millennia, from which then, primarily, the oldest languages known on Earth arose, but these strongly flowed through from the original languages introduced.

77. The best-known languages that arose from it are Sumerian, Aramaic, Hebrew, Minoan, Celtic, etc.

78. From the Celtic, for example, there arose many other languages, from which, ultimately, today's German language, the Flemish, and also other languages arose.

79. From the Minoans, Ancient Greek arose and so on and so forth.

80. And in all these languages, of course, the anciently introduced names were common, which have been received or modified in the course of time.

81. What is still most commonly available today in names is found in those areas of languages that run in the Minoan direction and which have been incorporated into the later Ancient Greek, by which means they have been preserved to a large part up to this day, though often modified.

145. Two factors were to blame for the fall of the Minoan culture, namely on the one hand, the disorder of the Minoan society, which was very divided in some respects and which created evil hatred in the various social structures, even due to the disagreement that the Minoan empire threatened to fall apart.

146. The cultural structures split apart, and soon, the whole thing threatened to degenerate into a war of the entire citizenry and, thus, of all levels of society.

147. But before this could happen, a tremendous natural disaster occurred, namely as the Santorini Volcano erupted and burst forth lava, gas, steam, and ash, whereby the ashes alone exhibited the large amount of 73.6 cubic kilometres.

148. Also vast sulfur fumes belonged to this, whereby the whole atmosphere was so polluted and shrouded in a veil that the Sun was darkened, and climate changes emerged from this, which lasted for several years.

149. Low temperatures arose from the veil of smoke and dust in the atmosphere, which caused many years of harvest failures.

150. The bad and poor harvests led to the great famine during the following period.

151. In addition, the Santorini volcano did the rest, for as a result of its powerful eruption and the subsequent explosion – which triggered gigantic tsunamis that devastated the large areas of the Minoan island when the waters raged across the island – many buildings and lands were destroyed, while very many people lost their lives.

152. The largest tsunami, however, the huge tidal wave caused by the explosion of the volcano, rolled far across the sea to Egypt, being red with the blood of countless slaughtered aquatic animals, whereby the river Nile then coloured itself red, and many people in Egypt died.

153. But the tsunami found no end in Egypt and rolled back into the sea, where it united with another tsunami, which was generated by the explosion of the Santorini volcano, and rolled eastward, where the country was destroyed once again and people were killed, when the wild waters penetrated into the country.

Minotaur

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Minotaur>

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_559

Billy:

... But because of the Taurus Man, the Greek mythology comes to my mind, the legend of the Minotaur, the human being of the bull. At the time of Minos, the king on the island of Crete, he asked the sea god Poseidon for a particularly beautiful and powerful bull to sacrifice to him. Poseidon heard the request, created such a bull and let it rise from the sea. King Minos, however, was so blinded by the beauty of the animal that he kept it for himself, but intended to slaughter another for the sea god. Poseidon, however, became angry and punished the king by casting a spell on Mino's wife for breaking the word: Queen Pasiphae. She fell in love with the bull and commissioned the court artist Daidalos to build a wooden cow, which was hollow inside and covered with fur. When this was done, she climbed into the hollow cow to be mounted and mated with Poseidon's bull, because he liked the work of art and felt attracted to it. Then nine months later the queen gave birth to a child, a monster, half human being, half bull, the Minotaur. This animal-human-child grew up and became big and strong, preferring to eat human beings. But to prevent this Minotaur from causing any harm, the king ordered his master builder Daidalos to build a labyrinth in which the monster was locked up and could not escape. To feed the Minotaur, King Minos had seven boys and seven girls kidnapped every nine years from the city of Athens, which he had subjugated, and then had them taken to Crete and thrown to the monster. One of the young men was Theseus, a son of the sea god Poseidon and stepson of the king of Athens. But the daughter of king Minos, Ariadne, fell in love with him and helped him to kill the monster in the labyrinth. To help Theseus find his way out of the labyrinth, she gave him a wooden spool with a long thread wound around it, which he unwound as he entered the labyrinth and marked his path, which he followed and found on his way back out. ...

Then ...

Ptaah:

85. This is familiar to me because you were in Crete together because you were interested in the mythological story about the Minotaur and wanted to know the truth about it.

Billy:

Because at that time I wanted to get to the bottom of various stories from different mythologies in general, so also concerning the Minotaur, who is said to have been a human-eating monster – half human being half bull. The Minotaur was a figure of Greek mythology and a creature with a human body but a bull's head. According to Greek mythology and legend, King Minos ruled Crete at that time and was regarded and worshipped as the son of the god Zeus and the goddess Europa. Minos allegedly asked Poseidon, the sea god who is said to have been his uncle, for a miracle of help to become king of Crete, but also to prevent anyone else from becoming king. In doing so, Minos is said to have promised and sworn that he would sacrifice everything that emerged from the sea to the sea god for the rest of his life, including the mermaids who were already haunting the mythologies at that time, but who were in fact not human sea creatures but seals, which people mistakenly considered to be human beings because these mammals could easily be seen as human-like in the water. Poseidon, the saga goes, performed the 'miracle' and Minos became king.

In return for Minos becoming king, he was supposed to offer a sacrifice to the sea god, namely a magnificent bull which the latter sent to Minos, but which pleased the latter so much that he placed it in his own herd of cattle, only to sacrifice an inferior animal instead. Poseidon, however, is said to have become grim and pissed off and boundlessly furious at this and exacted sea-divine revenge in such a way that he allegedly made Pasiphae, the wife of Minos, fall in love with the magnificent bull he sent to Minos as an offering. Pasiphae, the legend explains, as a result of her infatuation, then desired the sea-divine bull in order to mate with it. And in order to be able to do this, she had Daedalus, a clever architect, inventor and technician, who according to the legend was a descendant of the god Hephaistos, build a wooden mating frame.

Daedalus, alias Daedalus, as he is called in German – I must explain this in between – was, according to the legend, an extremely jealous man who, when his pupil invented the saw, killed him by throwing him to his death from a high roof. Afterwards, according to the legend, he fled to Crete so as not to have to answer to the court in his home town of Athens. He also took his son Icarus with him on his flight.

But now back to Pasiphae, the wife of King Minos, for whom Daedalus, according to the legend, built a wooden mating rack that was covered with a cow skin and in which the woman could hide in such a way that she was mated by the bull, so that she lay down in the cow mating rack and was impregnated by the bull. So, according to the legend, she did it and was copulated by the bull, and then, at the correct time, she gave birth to a son from this union, who was half human being and half bull, or the Minotaur, a monster with the form of a human being and the head of a bull.

When King Minos was confronted with all that had happened to his wife and the bull, Daedalus had to build a labyrinth without an exit, but he secretly considered and built one, of which the king was unaware. When the labyrinth was finished, the king had the monster imprisoned in the labyrinth, also forbidding Daedalus to leave the island.

One day, when King Minos received news that his son Androgeos had been killed by the fault of King Aigeus of Athens, he waged a revenge campaign against Athens and defeated the Athenians, after which he imposed a vicious tribute on them, namely that every nine years they had to bring seven youths and seven virgins to Crete and the Minotaur's labyrinth, where they were sent to the Minotaur's labyrinth and sacrificed to it.

Eventually, however, the saga continues, the matter was brought to an end by Theseus, the son and later successor of Aigeus, taking part in the 3rd tribute himself, killing the monster Minotaur in the process. Ariadne, the daughter of King Minos, fell in love with him and helped him with her Ariadne's thread, which he laid out in the labyrinth and thus, with the help of the thread, found his way through the labyrinth in which the Minotaur lived. There are other versions of this, but I won't talk about them, only that the legend says Theseus defeated and killed the Minotaur and found his way out of the labyrinth with the help of the thread laid out by Ariadne with the young men and maidens. ...

But what prompted me to let myself be taken back to Minoan times was the reason for wanting to find out how, why and from what the Minotaur legend arose. And this I was indeed able to find out, the reality being that the Mino-taurus legend had only arisen almost 3 centuries after the death of King Minos and was based on something that had nothing whatsoever to do with the belief in the sea god Poseidon. The effective fact was that, as your daughter Semjase and I were no doubt able to learn and ascertain at the sites of the events of the time, Pasiphae, the wife of King Minos, was impregnated by him and then gave birth to a son who was physically deformed, similar to the 'Elephant Man' who lived in England in the last century. ...

Like Joseph Carey Merrick, the so-called 'Elephant Man', the second son of King Minos and his wife Pasiphae was also severely physically deformed and had a certain resemblance to a bull's head, as well as a completely disfigured figure and face. And as was the case then, and as is also the case today, the boy was disowned by his parents as a result of his already congenital physical deformity. At that time, disabled children were usually killed at birth, but Minotaur, as he was called, was not. This was because the king and his wife feared that the sea god had brought about the whole of the body deformation as a punishment because they had spread evil insults against him. Therefore, they were afraid that Poseidon would take new and even worse revenge on them if the son who had been deformed by his might were killed. So Minos and Pasiphae decided that a court servant, Aphaia or so her name was, should take care of the son and bring him up, far away in the vast countryside. Minotaur had a good Intelligendum, was of a very peaceful nature and had been astonishingly well educated by the court servant, so that one could converse with him through a translator. When he was grown up and also made aware of his origins by his governess, he tried to get to the court and demand his rights, but this led to the king and his wife reacting viciously and consequently commissioning Daidalos to build a labyrinth, which was actually a huge cave, to imprison the physically deformed son in. However, always fearing the vengeance of Poseidon, they tried to appease the sea god by arranging for human sacrifices to be regularly offered in the labyrinth, but only youths of both sexes, who were first chosen from the population, stolen and killed as sacrifices, but later by Athens after war had been waged there and the Minoans had been victorious.

What must ultimately be mentioned with regard to the whole matter is that, as a result of the sacrifice of young human beings to appease or calm the god Poseidon and out of fear of revenge, the lie arose that the imprisoned man called Minotaur, who had been cast out by his father and mother because of his deformed face, head and body, was a human eater, which is why the human beings sacrificed to Poseidon would also serve him as food.

40. We call it the "Destroyer", and we know that it has already been racing through outer space for millions of years.

64. Sure, but I am not finished yet, because I want to tell you even more primordial things now; the prehistory of this comet so fateful for the Earth, which also brought the satellite, the Moon over here – the fragment of a small planet from a very distant solar system.

65. The Earth's moon, which originates from a small planet 4.5 million years older than the Earth.

66. It was millions of years ago.

67. Deep in the unknown space, in a space-time shifted solar system of the Milky Way, a solitary star floated far away from the normal orbits of the satellites orbiting the Sun.

68. It was a dark star, devoid of any life, very dangerous in its unpredictable path, into which it had been flung by an immense eruption of its original sun.

69. This was when its original sun burst through all-shaking explosions and, in its destruction, partially destroyed the satellites orbiting it or hurled them as dangerous projectiles into the dark space.

70. The sun itself then collapsed into itself and tore a hole in the outer space.

71. Its material pressed itself together with monstrous Gewalt and was compressed into a small mass.

72. While the sun in its normal pulsating state had a diameter of eleven million kilometres, it now shrank down to a concentration of only 4.2 kilometres.

73. As a result, the material was compressed in such a way that a single cubic centimetre weighed several thousand tons.

74. Since then it has hovered in space as a dark, gaping hollow, which tears everything within millions of kilometres of its perimeter into itself, whatever it is capable of seizing and what falls under its spell.

75. The dark star, which got flung away by it at that time, got caught again in a neighbouring solar system and orbited it in an unpredictable path.

76. In the field of the force of the huge sun, it orbited the sun's satellites for many millennia as well as the sun itself, testifying to the fact that it would sometime cause a catastrophe to fall upon the system.

77. Yet still far away from the actual worlds, the dark planet, bare of any life, roamed through space.

78. Powerfully and unapproachably, it drifted through the icy cold of the universe – as an outcast, as a wandering planet, as a stranger in a foreign system; dark, dangerous, and deadly.

79. Within the hold of the far outstretched force-arms of the sun, it came closer and closer over the course of thousands of years to the actual area of the system of satellites, which it had already been orbiting for such a long time at an ever-increasing speed.

80. Imperceptibly, however, its course always became narrower and narrower, and year by year the extent of its danger grew.

81. After the thousands of years, it then rushed suddenly and unexpectedly into the closest sphere of influence of the sun and its planets.

82. Like a greedy monster, it emerged from the blackness of the universe and announced deadly destruction.

83. Initially it was only like a silhouette out of nowhere; but then it was recognised in a hazy and blurred way as a half-dark round disc.

84. Now already illuminated by the reflecting rays of the sun, it approached the orbit of the outermost planet at tremendous speed.

85. But it was still millions of units away from the actual hearth of the peaceful calm, which though, due to its gigantic size, it soon had to transform into a seething hell, once it penetrated into the silence of this harmony.

86. But still some time went by at first, until the giant finally strayed from his path and had moved into the most dangerous proximity.

87. Now already recognisable as a round sphere, the Destroyer reflected the sunlight while dragging a fine veil of luminous particles behind it.

88. Still only a few hundred units away from the next worlds, it evoked hellish storms in these, which destroyed large areas that had been cultivated by the human beings peacefully emerging there.

89. With trembling for their arduously gained goods and their already hard lives, they suddenly found themselves exposed to the immense and uncompassionate forces of the universe.

90. Helpless, doomed to be handed over from life to death, they stared out into the sky, to the gigantic wandering planet which raced towards them as a cosmic mortal projectile.

91. It was no more than a question of time before the forces of the cosmos had to unfold their monstrous powers.

92. On the night of the third day after the incursion of the Destroyer into the planetary pathways, the middle of the night may just have passed, the drifter from outer space entered the elliptical orbit of the sixth planet.

93. Causing immense cosmic storms, it flung the planet belonging to the orbit a few units off its direction and brought it on a dangerous course towards the sun.

94. Monstrous eruptions and storms tore apart the peaceful appearance of the planet thriving in its magnificence.

95. Letting mountains collapse and casting seas out of their beds, it sought a new path around its sun for itself.

96. Full of horror and consternation over the immense forces of nature, the human beings fled into the vast plains that covered the planet in great numbers

97. But the unleashed forces of nature were stronger than the will and the saving idea of the human beings.

98. Two thirds of the humankind that inhabited the planet was killed and destroyed in the unleashed hell of nature.

99. Wild waters tore away large parts of the mainland, while exploding volcanoes buried vast areas beneath glowing lava and turned them to rubble and ashes.

100. The planet's daily rotation time doubled, and it circumnavigated the sun in the opposite direction.

101. Forced by cosmic determinations, the survivors had to find a new beginning – devoid of any culture – set back to a primordial time of the development.

102. The Destroyer, however, continued racing through the system, spreading hell, death and destruction.

103. It crossed the path of the fifth planet; a world that was about to give birth to first life

104. Fortunately, at the time of the event, the latter was too far away from the point of crossing its orbital path to be seriously affected.

105. Apart from mighty storms and minor quakes on land and at sea, there were no notable incidents on it.

106. The fourth satellite of the system, however, would find its destruction in the battle of the worlds.

107. As the smallest of all satellites, it stoically traversed its orbit, and from the perspective of anticipatory calculations, it had to cross the flight path of the wanderer exactly when facing it head-on.

108. And that's exactly what happened:

109. It got into the irresistible destructive power of the giant.

110. Like two wild monsters, the two planets raced towards each other; a giant and a dwarf.

111. But before both of them could collide, immense explosions tore the lifeless dead dwarf planet apart.

112. Its fragments were hurled out into the endless expanses of outer space, where they were captured as shooting stars or meteors by the forces of other stars and, burning up in their atmospheres, found their final end.

113. Further parts of the dwarf were torn into the sun and were atomised.

114. Other parts were torn into the Destroyer and became there a part of itself.

115. As if hurled by a giant's fist, one half of the dwarf planet shot away and through a dimensional gate created by the hands of highly developed human beings into the unending expanses of the Milky Way's space towards a very distant target.

116. Several times on its path it got into the realm of suns and planets, was shaken, was hit by meteors and shooting stars and thereby changed its shape.

117. Already after a few centuries it had reached an angular roundish shape.

118. It was dead and barren, however, covered by many small as well as huge, deep craters, and was incapable of supporting life.

119. By the forces of various systems its speed was gradually slowed down and it changed its course several times, until one day it was attracted by the sun of a system and broke into its sphere of influence.

120. As dark, dead planet it traversed all planetary orbits of the outer rings without causing any damage.

121. It was not until the inner rings that it collided with some fragments of a destroyed planet, which nevertheless only tore deep craters into it.

122. However, this caused its course to change once again slightly, with the result that it was driven parallel to the orbit of the second planet, which was already creating its first primitive life.

123. A planet covered by large seas and dense primeval forests, primordial, deadly and yet gruesomely fantastic.

124. From this point in time, only 34 days were still to pass before the dwarf caught up with the planet, namely the Earth, and was held captive by it.

125. The forces of the planet were sufficient to bind the dwarf to itself and let it circle around itself as a new satellite, on an ever-changing elliptical path.

126. Since then it has orbited the Earth as Moon; 4.5 million years older than its mother celestial body.

127. In the distant solar system, however, the Destroyer continued to rage.

128. Destroying everything in its path, it flung the planet closest to the sun with unimaginable force towards the sun, in front of which it destroyed itself at a millionfold distance by immense eruptions and fell into the sun as smallest fragments and atomised.

Semjase:

74. Millions of years ago a giant dark star in another space-time configuration destroyed half a planetary system in many light-years distance from the earthly system.

75. After the destruction of that distant system, the wanderer rushed out into the vastness of space, entered the space-time structure of the Milky Way of the DERN universe, and set course for Earth.

76. By large and small planets and by the Sun it was forced into a new course, which consequently had to bring it again and again into the SOL system.

77. Known as the Destroyer, it stubbornly followed its new course and over the course of millions of years created a firm path for itself.

78. But this orbit often led the Destroyer uncontrollably to planetary systems or other wandering stars or comets, which were pushed off course by its gigantic size or attracted by its attraction and destroyed or abducted.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_150

Quetzal:

472. The original point of origin of the Destroyer is unknown to us, which is why I can only give details on where it found its way into the SOL-System.

473. Its origin lies in the old Lyra System where, from time immemorial, the dark planet—called 'Wanderer' at that time wreaked system-wide destruction and had brought the earthly Moon on that course which led it to the SOL-System and to the Earth.

474. A fact that may seem incredible, fantastic and an unusual coincidence to many Earth scientists, but which nevertheless corresponds to the truth.

475. The Earth's moon was torn loose by the Destroyer many millions of years ago as a fragment of a planet four million years older than Earth is, and thrown out into space, heading for the SOL-System, where it was then captured by the Earth as a satellite.

476. Meanwhile, the Destroyer, after colliding with the planet, followed the path of the planetary fragment much more slowly.

477. This, for reasons unknown to us and as a result of events, we have never been able to clarify.

478. In this connection, we can therefore only employ speculations with regard to similar events that are well-known to us, but which do not satisfy us regarding the Destroyer and its course to the SOL-System behind the planetary fragment, which is why I would not like to explain our relevant thesis more closely, although for us it seems to be the only possibility why the Destroyer also found its way to the SOL-System, so it cannot be spoken of as a coincidence anymore.

479. The moon, the former planetary fragment, already joined the Earth as a satellite a few million years ago, while the much slower Destroyer that followed it first entered the SOL-System about 970,000 years ago, causing a tremendous Earth catastrophe.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_207

Billy:

Today, I first have a question about your space-time configuration, which is practically another dimension, but which is equally directed to ours and, therefore, is therefore equally material. Our universe is called the DERN universe, how is it with our dimension and your dimension, what do you call these?

Quetzal:

1. We denote your dimension with the term Goran, while we call ours Siras.

Billy:

Aha, and these two dimensions, respectively these two different space-time configurations, are materially identical in their buildup and existence?

Quetzal:

2. That is of correctness.

Billy:

And as it stands with the Destroyer, then, it would also have to consist of matter, as this is also existent in our space-time configuration, right?

Quetzal:

3. That is also of correctness.

Billy:

... Then another question with regard to Earth's moon. For some time, scientists have maintained that the Earth's moon had its origin in or from the Earth. There is the theory that it had been spun off as an entire block of the Earth, while another theory purports that huge dust clouds as well as smaller and larger chunks of rock and earth were spun away from the Earth, and namely by the impact of a massive comet or another planet. The comet or planet involved should have been about as large as the planet Mars, etc. The spun away material should have collected in the course of time and should have developed into the Moon. But in contrast, you explained that the Earth's moon penetrated from your space-time configuration into ours and then into the SOL-system, in which it allowed itself then to be captured by the Earth as a satellite.

Quetzal:

4. The assumptions of the terrestrial scientists do not correspond to the truth because the origin of the Earth's moon does not trace back to the Earth and, thus, also not to a collision or such with a Mars-sized comet or planet.

5. The Moon found its way out of our space-time configuration at an early time and penetrated into yours, after which it was held by the Earth by its force of attraction and orbits around the planet since that time, deviating more and more from the Earth, and it still influences the Earth's rotation today as it did at the very beginning and, thus, creates a braking effect.

Billy:

You have already explained this to me before. But how is it with the matter of the Moon? Of what kind is it?

Quetzal:

6. It is, at least in certain parts, the same as the matter of the Earth, but other forms of matter also appear.

7. Also the isotopic compositions, with respect to oxygen, etc., are largely similar and sometimes even identical with those of earthly matter.

8. Unfortunately, this fact will one day lead to the scientific false diagnosis that the Earth's moon was formed from ejected matter of the Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_220

Billy:

... About the origin of the Moon, which drifted many millions of years ago out of your space-time configuration into ours and was captured by the Earth, the earthly scientists have the craziest ideas, one of which is that a large celestial body from the masses of Mars had already collided with the developing Earth in primeval times, by what means a huge piece of the developing Earth from its early days was torn out or ejected from this, in order to circle around the Earth in the end and firmly settle to form the Moon. At the same time, it isn't considered with this crazy assertion that if such a chunk would have actually been ejected from the Earth, just by the collision with a Mars-sized space projectile, then this chunk would have been shot so far out into space by the unimaginable force that it would have sought its own way as a wandering planet through the SOL system and wouldn't have settled around the Earth. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_257

Billy:

Semjase told me pretty much at the beginning of our contacts that the destroyer has been doing his mischief in our solar system since time immemorial and destroyed about 22 million years ago or so old homeworlds of the Lyrans. To my knowledge, however, these lay in a different space-time structure, shifted by a fraction of a second to our space and time. How is it there that the destroyer came after the destruction work with the old Lyranern into our space-time-structure?

Ptaah:

164. The Destroyer then broke through a space-time barrier created by the ancient Syrians, as we still use it today, but in a modernized form, as you would say.

165. At that time, these passage or dimensional gates, as we call them, were constructed in such a way that they opened as soon as any object approached.

166. This also happened as the Destroyer approached, who through unfortunate circumstances came to one of these dimensional gates, shot through and entered this, your space-time continuum, then found his way into this solar system.

167. Today this would no longer be possible, because our passage gates from one dimension to another or to the DAL universe have already been constructed and secured for several million years in such a way that they are probably constant in one place, but only open in response to very specific impulses emitted by our spacecraft.

168. So today it would no longer be possible for a world body to pass unintentionally through one of our many dimensional gates.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_467

Ptaah:

... the Destroyer, which came out of our space-time-structure through a dimensional gate into your space-time-structure and caused a lot of trouble in it, which is why we removed it from the SOL system some years ago and made it harmless.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_528

Billy:

... Then another question, this time about the Earth's moon, which looks very different on the back side than on the side facing the Earth. On the back side everything is covered by plateaus, while on the side facing us there is somehow a rounded plane full of impact craters. There must be a reason for this. The Moon is not from the Earth, as our scientists claim, but from your space-time structure, and it came into our space-time structure as a result of a cosmic catastrophe and through an artificial dimension gate, where it was held by the gravity of the Earth. ...

Ptaah:

23. This is indeed the case, as Quetzal explained, and there is also a reason why the back of the Earth's moon is designed differently from the front visible from Earth.

24. When a cosmic catastrophe occurred in our space-time-structure at an early time, a second, smaller moon collided with the larger one, which then, as Quetzal explained, found its way to Earth as today's Earth-moon.

25. During the collision the smaller moon affected one side of the larger moon in such a way that a huge plateau landscape was formed.

26. When this moon was then held by the force of the Earth, its rotation came to a halt, with the side of the plateaus facing away from the Earth and the crater side towards the Earth coming to a standstill.

Billy:

And how is it possible that the two moons were not shattered in the collision, I do not understand?

Ptaah:

27. They were twin moons rotating around their planet in the same orbit close to each other, the smaller one having a slightly higher speed than the larger one.

28. When the smaller moon was forced into a parallel orbit by the catastrophe caused by a dark planet and thus into the area of the larger moon, a collision was the result.

29. So the smaller moon collided at a slightly higher speed on one side of the larger moon, disintegrated and formed the plateaus, while the other side, which was covered with craters, remained untouched.

Billy:

Simply and clearly stated, I can imagine something underneath. But what about the craters that you see from Earth, are there not some that were formed when the satellite, which was found here, was already orbiting the Earth as an Earth moon?

Ptaah:

30. It would be very strange if this had not happened during all the time of its existence as an earth satellite.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_721

Ptaah:

62. And the fact that we also brought this teaching to Earth at an early time was due to the fact that our ancestors discovered a natural dimensional gate 22 million years ago by chance, which is located here in the DERN universe about 120 light-years beyond the Pleiades stars known to you.

63. The dimensional gateway was discovered because a moon from our ANKAR universe that had drifted from an exploded planet entered the DERN universe through this dimensional gateway, which our ancestors investigated and then found to be Earth's satellite.

Moses

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_036

Semjase:

110. The case with Moses behaves is somewhat different than was explained, because the Ten Commandments, of which there were actually twelve, were not given to him in a spaceship, but actually in that place which is handed down to you in the Bible.

111. In this statement the truth was handed down to you as it really happened, at least as far as the place of the event is concerned.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_150

Quetzal:

– 1,453 B.C.

Destroyer {comet} gets dangerously close to the Earth and causes severe catastrophes. Earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, elemental storms and floods of enormous proportions are the result. Volcanic ash easily eclipses the sun, which lasts for several weeks. The Santorini volcano in the Hellenic Sea explodes, triggering a 180-metre-high tidal wave that rolls across the Mediterranean and far into the Nile country of Egypt, flooding everything. Not only do many human beings die as a result, but also countless animals whose carcasses decompose after the flood rolls back, causing much evil. This event triggers the 'seven biblical plagues' (Moses time/Moses), whereby the waters of the Nile also turn red through the blood of the countless life-forms killed and their torn and battered bodies. The flood that rolls back again pushes back across the Mediterranean and forward to the northeast, where it then floods Syria and causes tremendous terror and devastation.

Billy:

... Nevertheless, one last question, and indeed concerning the Destroyer, Santorini and Moses: My time travels with Asket have taught me the correctness of the dates and information you have given, but I have recently read in various writings that the time of Moses and the Santorini eruption are calculated in completely different time periods, these calculations and assertions run from the 1500 B.C. empires back to the 5th millennium B.C. Why is that?

Quetzal:

547. It is because of the time falsifications of the chroniclers, whereby the Jewish chroniclers and other chroniclers influenced by them committed the worst evils in this respect, whereby time falsifications in the transmission of data up to several thousand years became apparent.

548. The Santorini erupted and exploded due to the powerful influence of the Destroyer exactly 3453 years ago, calculated back from 2000, whereby Moses lived at the same time and prepared the Exodus for the Hebrew-Jewish people in Egypt at that time.

549. These dates are correct, as you could see for yourself from your travels with Asket into the past.

550. And Moses really lived and carried out the Exodus, even though it is later once claimed that this is not true.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_212

Quetzal:

9. This also applies to the fantastic stories that surround Paul, who, in his consciousness confusion, saw himself as a martyr and, thus, also lived and worked accordingly, and following this, he then ultimately died by assassins, as this also happened with Moses, who made many enemies within his own ranks, who then robbed him of his life.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_213

Quetzal:

151. In addition, the Santorini volcano did the rest, for as a result of its powerful eruption and the subsequent explosion – which triggered gigantic tsunamis that devastated the large areas of the Minoan island when the waters raged across the island – many buildings and lands were destroyed, while very many people lost their lives.

152. The largest tsunami, however, the huge tidal wave caused by the explosion of the volcano, rolled far across the sea to Egypt, being red with the blood of countless slaughtered aquatic animals, whereby the river Nile then coloured itself red, and many people in Egypt died.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_214

Quetzal:

4. Moses was murdered by Joshua and his accomplices.

5. The reason for this was rather manifold.

6. On the one hand, Joshua wanted to gain control over the Hebrews, which is why he later claimed that in this respect, Moses had determined this through God's command, for it was even God's will.

7. And on the other hand, Moses became hated by many, as well as by the murderous accomplices, not in the least because of the fratricides of the unbelievers of God and of Moses, which were mercilessly committed against all those who were not of Moses' view and who did not believe his words and who contributed to strife through this.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_401

Billy:

It has now become apparent that in recent years, research has been carried out into the plagues in Egypt during the time of Moses, and it has actually come to the attention of researchers that these proven plagues were caused by the eruption and destruction of the volcano Santorini. However, they date the events of that time to a completely wrong time, namely about 200 years before the time that Semjase and Quetzal called. Scientists have found out that the enormous ash cloud of the exploded volcano reached Egypt, causing a so-called Fisteria or Phisteria epidemic to break out. Although this is not mentioned in the report of the conversation regarding the ash cloud and therefore not in the quoted, Semjase once mentioned it in a private conversation, as did Quetzal. All aquatic animals and many land animals died, and the water of the Nile turned red because of the blood of the fish, animals and humans, who were affected by rashes all over their bodies. Then there was a huge tsunami, caused by the volcanic explosion, which was about 200 metres high, 180 metres to be precise, and which rolled deep into the land, killing a great deal of life once again and also contributing to the epidemics. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_547

Billy:

... Then a biblical question, which refers to the legendary story of Moses respectively about the flight of the ancient Hebrews from Egypt, whereby they are said to have been led by God Jehovah through the desert, by day through a pillar of smoke and by night through a pillar of fire, which are said to have preceded them. Your father Sfath has already told me that this story of the sign of God is a lie, because in truth the whole escape with the pillar of smoke and fire did not take place in Sinai at a mountain Sinai respectively Mount Moses, because Moses and the refugees got lost and drifted far south, following the smoke and fire of a volcano in the area of today's Saudi Arabia.

Ptaah:

48. That is correct, because the column of smoke and fire was the result of a volcanic eruption that emitted clouds of smoke and fire, which was not in Sinai but much further south in what is now Saudi Arabia.

49. So what is described in the Bible in relation to the appearance of the column of smoke and fire, which is said to have moved before the refugees, does not refer to the Sinai, but to the Hala'l Bedr volcano, which has been dormant since the Middle Ages, in the area of Midian, which today corresponds to the province of Medina, in the northwest of Saudi Arabia.

Billy:

Moses first led the fleeing slaves along the Mediterranean coast to what is now Gaza, but then he turned inland and got lost. According to Sfath, Moses led the refugees to what is now the Gulf of Aqaba and then further south to the Red Sea, then back inland.

Ptaah:

50. What my father told you corresponds to what was real.

51. From the territory of present-day Gaza, Moses – because he was unfamiliar with the place and did not know the land – led the slave people astray down to the north end of the Gulf of Aqaba, then much further south to the then territory of Midian and to the volcanic mountain Halal 'l Bedr, which was very active at the time.

52. It was only then that Moses realised that he had lost his way with the refugees, so he sought a new way with the slaves, orienting himself to the stars by means of a foreign astronomer and moving northwards, then after a long time reaching the Dead Sea, and from there back to the Mediterranean Sea and the interior of what would later become Palestine and Israel, first to celebrate friendly feasts with the natives and then, when they were drunk, to murder them and make their land his own.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_551

Billy:

Then there is the question I wanted to raise: In the course of time Semjase, Quetzal, you and I have spoken several times about Santorini, where about 1,453 years ago before Jmmanuel the volcano blew up respectively exploded and which then also caused the great plagues in Egypt. On the one hand, it was explained that the Nile was discoloured by the blood of countless animals, as well as by red algae, but then there was also the fact that so-called 'dead water' was mixed with it, which became red due to lack of oxygen. Where did this red water come from?

Ptaah:

82. We call the 'Dead Water' this way because it no longer contains any life in it due to an absolute lack of oxygen.

83. It can occur in great depths of the sea or in enormously large lakes, when the water streams no longer circulate the water to the bottom and no longer supply it with oxygen.

84. The red colouring of the Nile is due to the enormous amount of animal, creatures and human blood as well as red algae, but also to 'dead water', which was washed out of the depths of the Mediterranean by the gigantic tidal wave after the explosion of the Minoan volcano Thera – as it was called in former times, or Santorini today – into the Nile and into the interior of Egypt.

85. The 'dead water' was washed out of a very deep and extensive volcanic trough by the eruption under the foot of the Santorini in the Mediterranean Sea, carried away by the gigantic tidal wave and driven into Egypt.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_662

Billy:

... Of course, the old Jews themselves were also partly to blame for the hostility towards the Jews in Christianity and Islam, but again not the actual Jewish people themselves, but the elders, chief priests, Pharisees and scribes were the early culprits at the time of Jmmanuel. They taught according to the old chronicles which had been rewritten, which had been run into the tricks of Abraham and Moses and which taught these false chronicles to the people and from it claimed that they were altogether a 'chosen people', which then unfortunately was spread by a number of Jews, which however cannot be blamed on the whole Jewish people in Israel or even worldwide. The so-called 'Chronicles' were truly not such, for truthfully only two or three very meager written records had existed, and on the other hand they had been burned to the last letter out of carelessness. Then it took more than 200 years until some scribes for a period of forty days went into the loneliness of the 'desert' and from memory, after centuries of oral narratives, wrote down individual 'books' as chronicles, which were later put together as Torah (Hebrew = law). From then on, the Torah represented the basic part of the Jewish Bible, which consists of five books. ...

... Well, the reason why the hostility towards the Jews could find its beginning already goes back to the times of Abraham and later to Moses, who in their presumptuousness – but allegedly said by 'God' – called the Jewish people "the people chosen by 'God'". This emphasized the alleged superiority of Jewish religious culture. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_665

Billy:

... It is clear that the Greek volcano Santorin, formerly called Thera, was the real reason for everything, but other questions remain unanswered. So it would be interesting to know what caused the three-day eclipse, for example.

Ptaah:

31. In addition I can tell you from our records that the volcano Thera erupted twice in a short time in enormous manner, whereby with the second eruption during hours a gigantic black ash cloud was hurled up, which spread over the whole southern Mediterranean Sea and afterwards also over Egypt and covered during three days the whole Nilland into the so-called 'Egyptian darkness', as this darkness of several days is called since ancient times.

32. After this ash eruption, the Thera volcano collapsed, forming the Santorini ring crater that still exists today.

Billy:

Aha, then the question, what caused the bodily ulcers in the Egyptian population?

Ptaah:

33. This happened by sulphur rain, which rained over Egypt as a result of the Thera eruption.

34. This sulphur rain was so corrosive that it burned itself on the skin of humans and animals of all genera and species, causing ulcers and swelling and open and inflamed wounds.

Billy:

But there is also the story that all first-born human beings are ...

Ptaah:

35. What you want to ask was the religion of the Egyptians at that time, because the priests lied to the population that their God had ordered them to kill all the firstborn for the blasphemous way of life of the Egyptians as atonement offerings, and the priests and their helpers went from house to house and killed many the firstborn of some families.

36. But it also happened that many fathers and mothers, as well as other family members who were addicted to religious delusion – and there were many of them – murdered the first-born in their families. ...

Billy:

So this is the next question, which refers to the red water of the Nile and the sea; was it really only due to the blood of humans, animals, water creatures, 'dead water' and algae?

Ptaah:

38. Not quite; on the one hand many killed animals and humans as well as algae blooms played a role, but also a gigantic red ash cloud from Thera, which drifted to Egypt and settled on the water and land and thus helped to colour the Nile red.

39. This also led to innumerable frogs fleeing to the land and 'flooding' it, but then also dying and decaying in masses.

40. Also the plants were destroyed by the sulphur rain, whereby also the animals died from it, particularly goats, sheep, cattle, camels and horses, if they used the sulphur poisoned grass as food.

Billy:

What attracted insects of all kinds, such as mosquitoes, flies and other vermin, I suppose, and these critters have also attacked humans and infected them with diseases.

Ptaah:

41. This was indeed the case, and many people died from infectious diseases transmitted by vermin, as well as from severe sulphur rain burns.

Billy:

I can well imagine, because I have experienced for myself what it is like when swarms of biting flies, mosquitoes, sand fleas and other fleas as well as other vermin fall on you and make you sick. Also a locust plague was at that time with the plagues in Egypt, which is also terrible, as I know from own experience, whereby I do not want to forget also the rats, which 'marched' over my body in the night, if I wanted to sleep. But if I think even further about the plagues, there were probably also thunderstorms and animal epidemics, right?

Ptaah:

42. That is correct, because these plagues also caused epidemics, such as bluetongue in various animals, but also the horse sickness.

43. In addition, at the time of the plagues there were also two enormous hailstorms, as well as epidemics, in which many animals and also many animals, many amphibians, fish, birds and reptiles bled to death miserably, died and spread diseases through vermin.

Ptaah:

... but I have one question concerning Pinchas ben Eleazar – who and what was this man? I know nothing about this man.

Billy:

He was a biblical figure, as I have already said, or the grandson of Aaron, who, along with Moses, was one of the central figures during the Exodus from Egypt. Of course, his story and Moses' story as well as the story of the Exodus from Egypt cannot be taken at face value, especially not the fairy tale that the Red Sea parted because of Moses' call for God's help and that the fleeing Hebrew people were able to flee dry-footed through the sea. The whole thing really only corresponds to a biblical fairy tale, for in truth the Hebrew people fled on a solid strip of land of the marshy area between the Mediterranean and the Red Sea, with Herod's army then drowning in pursuit of the refugees.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_770

Billy:

According to the belief of the theistic god-delusional peoples, they are all chosen and commissioned to spread the faith in god in relation to the one single god throughout the Earth. For this purpose, he is said to have made a covenant with Abram the African, the father of the early Hebrew people, at a very early time. He then revealed his insane teachings – which he had obviously made up out of his fingers – to the Hebrew people of that time, who recognised the imaginary god and allowed him to 'lead' them over the millennia, before the temple leader Moses came to the fore and seized power, proclaiming himself as leader and claiming that he had also made a covenant with god on Mount Sinai.

Billy:

... Every society needs its order, and for that it needs rules, because without them everything goes haywire. The 10 Commandments, which Moses devised and introduced, served this purpose – not an alleged or imaginary God the Father. ...

Moses was a human being who saw further and thought further than the tip of his nose and knew that humans formed their Wesen of character from the ground up themselves and then lived their lives accordingly. So he did a great thing when he created the 10 Commandments, which I respected and followed all my life because I knew that they were correct, which is why I can still mention them today, although Moses devised and presented them to the people differently than they are listed in the Bible. In word and truth, unfortunately, what he said was not understood, consequently everything was misinterpreted, falsified and written down for a long time – after he was murdered. The truth of the commandments were in fact those, as I can no longer reproduce them in order and word for word, as Moses said.

1. I myself am lord over myself, and never shall there be a god beside me or above me.
2. Never shall you take your name in vain by lying or by making a fool of yourself.
3. Thou shalt always strive to do what is right and good.
4. Do not lust after the goods of your neighbour.
5. Thou shalt do the duties of thy daily life without grumbling.
6. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour.
7. Thou shalt honour thy parents according to their worth.
8. Thou shalt never kill willingly, in anger, as punishment, blood vengeance, revenge, in greed or war.
9. You shall not steal your neighbour's goods.
10. Thou shalt not break thy bond of companionship.

Mothman

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_328

Billy:

... I had an inquiry from America, which caused a misunderstanding, but which only became clear when I phoned Christian Frehner. It was about a figure who is called Indrid-Cold in the USA and who allegedly comes from a planet called Lanulos, as Andrew Cossette explained to me when he called. He also said that in America there is a story going around that this figure is probably of extraterrestrial origin. It is said to be headless, to have glowing red eyes and wings and to have flown through the air and so on and so forth. In general, it has been reported that the figure Indrid-Cold was or is called 'Mothman', which can mean both 'moth man' and 'moth man'. This figure is said to have been particularly popular in 1967/68 in the village or town of Point Pleasant in West Virginia, and many UFOs have appeared, not only in West Virginia, but even worldwide. There are said to be hundreds of witnesses to all of these incidents, including many police officers. Since I had no knowledge of all this and had obviously misinterpreted the name 'Mothman' as 'Maitreya', I asked Michael Hesemann for advice. Of course he did not find the Indrid Cold story resp. the 'Mothman' story. Now the question about what to really think of this story, if you know anything about it at all, and if yes, if you are allowed to talk about it? For my part I think it would be very interesting and important to learn something about it and to hear some facts of the enlightenment.

Ptaah:

97. It's not worth thinking about it, because on the one hand it's an invented mischievous story about the 'Mothman', just an 'owl's mirroring', as you once called this kind of activity.

98. On the other hand, at that time a real hysteria arose regarding UFOs, according to which many people at that time saw many unreal things that really did not exist.

99. So through hysteria they fell into hallucinations, self-generated real visions and strong imaginations.

100. This hysteria was not limited to the United States of America but spread all over the world.

101. In fact, however, at that time some flying objects appeared which were unidentifiable for the terrestrial people, whereby of all of them only two were really of extraterrestrial origin, which belonged to our Federation and which could be observed several times.

102. All other observations were undoubtedly due to terrestrial flying objects of partly secret form or to any natural terrestrial phenomena, or they were based on illusions and self-deceptions etc., whereby the self-deceptions were usually based on wishful thinking, which was aimed at seeing extraterrestrial flying objects, as it is still the case today in the vast majority of cases of 'UFO-observations'.

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart death & burial

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_304

Ptaah:

38. First of all, it must be said that Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart died in Vienna on the 5th of December 1791, but he was not buried in Vienna.

39. Mozart himself did not want to be buried in Vienna, but far outside the city on the edge of a forest, where he often spent many hours pondering, of which only his pupil Franz Xaver Süssmayr secretly knew.

40. He then instructed him that he wanted to be buried in that beautiful place after his death.

41. It was his wish that this would remain secret for all time.

42. And when Mozart died, his pupil fulfilled his wish and only 12 years later, on 17.9.1803, took his secret with him to his grave.

43. After Mozart's death, Süssmayr was able, with a little money, to buy a corpse from a gravedigger, which he placed in a coffin, which he immediately closed and which was then buried nameless as a poor coffin, without the followers of Mozart suspecting anything of it.

44. The real cause of Mozart's death was pulmonary tuberculosis, which combined with many years of medication poisoning, to which was added Lyme disease caused by ticks with which he came into contact at the edge of the forest already described.

...

48. Mozart was very seriously affected by this disease and also had to suffer very heavily from it.

Billy:

3) Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, whose full first names were actually ' Joannes Chrysostomus Wolfgangus Theophilus' one day after his birth, was a musician and composer of the Viennese classical period. His task was – as with other composers – to shape musical culture in a progressive way and to spread it to the world and the future.

With regard to Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart and Felix Mendelssohn Bartholdy, their entire evolutionary or progressive work relates to the general and very important influences of music on human beings, whereby the musical stimulation, impact and the scope of the effectiveness of the influence of music on human beings in relation to their forms of morality, ethos, ethics and manners and thus, of course, on their behaviour, their lives, their shaping of life and their conduct of life are of immense importance.

Semjase:

120. At our fifth contact I finished the history of humankind at the time when 50,000 years ago according to earthly calendar our homeworlds found freedom and peace.

121. Before that time, 70,000 human beings fled under the leadership of the scientist Pelegon.

122. With spaceships, which they had seized, they fled through the space out of another configuration of space and time into the one of the Milky Way of the DERN universe and settled on the Earth.

123. Under Pelegon's leadership, there were 200 sub-leaders; scientists who were each responsible for a specific field of knowledge.

124. Pelegon was unanimously recognised and respected by them and all others as king of essence of wisdom (JHWH/God).

125. In the course of the millennia they built large cities and inhabited all continents of the Earth.

126. Unfortunately, this only went well for barely 10,000 years before lust for might regained the upper hand and a deadly war raged over the world.

127. Everything without residue was destroyed, and only a few thousand human beings were able to survive, while others fled again into the outer space and into the old space-time configuration and settled on distant worlds.

128. For the next 7,000 years the Earth was no longer flown to, during which time those who stayed behind became completely wild and degenerated.

129. After that the descendants of those who had settled on distant worlds returned.

130. Again they were led by an JHWH.

131. Under such a kind of JHWH command, the distant descendants later built Atlantis and Mu.

132. Two huge cities on two different continents.

133. For thousands of years, they lived in complete friendship and in peace, until some scientists again succumbed to the greed for might and wanted to seize the rule.

134. However, having become tired of the constant wars, the peoples rose against them, hence they seized spacecrafts and fled into the outer space; according to earthly calendar about 15,000 years ago.

135. For two millennia they and their descendants lived in a neighbouring solar system.

136. Two millennia during which they had become very evil and were only able to uphold a certain regulation under the strictest discipline.

137. Through mutations and researches they achieved a very long life span, which amounted to more than three thousand years.

138. Obsessed with imperiousness, they left their world about 13,500 Earth-years ago and came back to the Earth.

139. Their supreme leader was the scientist ARUS, who was also called "The Barbarian."

140. As already JHWH Pelegon nearly 190,000 years ago, he also had 200 leaders or subleaders, who were each responsible for a specific field of knowledge.

141. They settled in two parts in the far north and in today's America (Florida), whereby they constantly forged ahead to Atlantis and Mu, in order to invade them with war.

142. And only a few millennia after their renewed requisitioning of the Earth, they succeeded in completely destroying Mu and Atlantis.

193. Great-Atlantis was destroyed and sank into the sea through war feuds with the inhabitants of Mu, which lay in the Chinese Gobi desert.

194. But Mu was also destroyed and ceased to exist, leaving only the underground city of Agharta.

203. Mu had been a land, and likewise, the capital.

204. Mu was a country like any other.

205. However, the city on the surface and the underground city of Agharta, each ruled by a man and a woman, were created by extraterrestrials.

206. Neither the country nor the cities were of special importance, except that they had been built and inhabited by extraterrestrials from the Lyra system and also destroyed again.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_060

Semjase:

11. As I already explained at an earlier point in time, Atlantis and Mu destroyed one another.

28. The return of the descendants of the former fugitives happened again under the leadership of a god, under whose rule Mu as well as Greater Atlantis and Lesser Atlantis were built.

29. At that time Greater Atlantis and Mu were the two most gigantic cities which had ever been built on the Earth, and for the sake of peace they were built on two different continents.

30. Again a high culture was built up and everything began to blossom.

51. However, the form in which Greater Atlantis and Mu were destroyed was of such intrigues and full of horror that, in the history of the human beings of the Earth, it will probably never be paralleled:

52. The intriguers stirred up malicious machinations between the Atlantians and the citizens of Mu, which led to mutual actions of war.

53. Between both arose malicious hatred and the will to destroy.

54. Mu, which was in the Gobi desert, feuded with Greater Atlantis, which was built in the great island kingdom between present day Africa and America, before it sank in the Atlantic due to the greatest earthly war-catastrophe of all past and probably also future times, leaving behind only a few small islands, which today you call the Azores.

55. At their time, the war powers of Mu and Atlantis were of horrendous might and size and equipped with the highest technological achievements.

56. So, Greater Atlantis alone had at its disposal an army of 4.83 million (4,830,000) men, which was equipped with small-combat-beamships.

60. To this tremendous might Mu was inferior, which however did not make it less dangerous for the Greater Atlantians, because the Mu scientists had likewise developed very dangerous weapons, which in many ways were even more dangerous and more destructive than everything of the Atlantians altogether.

61. The scientists of Mu had in fact discovered powers, which made it possible for them to convert entire small planets into all-destroying space bombs, by pulling them out of their orbit of millions of years and with extreme precision steering them onto a carefully determined target of another planet and letting them crash down with devastating force and explode above the target, and it was exactly this frightful weapon they used when Greater Atlantis commenced the full-scale attack against Mu.

62. The best and the most suitable scientists of Mu were charged with finding a suitable planetoid which could be used as a deadly and annihilating missile against Atlantis.

63. Thus they flew with their ships out into space and found in the asteroid belt, outside of the Mars orbit, an object suitable for their purpose.

64. It was a planetoid of several kilometres diameter, however we are not able to analyse its exact size anymore.

65. By means of atomic and electro-energetic energies it was thrown out of its orbit and brought onto course towards Earth.

66. After that the planetoid's own rotation was slowed down and brought to a standstill, whereupon on the side turned away from the Earth, a drive unit of gigantic size was installed for the purpose of a tremendous acceleration of the small planet, which was supposed to be directed to its destination with breakneck speed.

67. Only less than half a day before the full-scale attack of Atlantis against Mu, the deadly space bomb was completed, a death-messenger of human insanity and of tremendous consequence.

68. When Atlantis undertook the attack, the producers of the death missile were informed within a few seconds, by means of hyperwave-impulses, about the oncoming events and were charged with allowing the death missile to take off.

69. A few seconds after receiving the command, on the side of the planetoid facing away from the Earth, a thousand suns appeared to race into the dark space and with gigantic force the monster started moving.

70. Very quickly the speed of the messenger of death increased, steered by scientists controlling the monster, who were sitting on the planetoid completing their task and thereby were doomed to die.

71. In the meantime on the Earth the Atlantians eliminated the city of Mu and levelled it.

72. Whoever had not fled into the satellite cities thousands of metres deep underground or into space, perished in the totally eliminating rays of the Atlantians and nothing bore witness anymore to their former existence.

73. The victorious Atlantians however returned to their gigantic island kingdom and celebrated their victory achieved over Mu in a true delirium of joy.

74. However, their joy did not last long because they had barely begun their festivities when messages came thick and fast in regard to the danger rushing towards them through space.

75. Only a few high government officials and scientists were still able to clear out and flee with their spaceships into space before the catastrophe was unleashed over Atlantis and made it sink into the sea. ...

112. The returnees were led by an Jschwisch with the name Atlant, married to an Jschrish named Karyatide.

113. in the latest episode, under the leadership of Atlant, the continent of Atlantis, which had been headed for again and again, and used for millennia, was expanded and made habitable, while under the command of his wife Karyatide, Lesser Atlantis came into existence, as at the same time her cousin Muras built the gigantic city of Mu, which, like Atlantis, also found its origin in very early times.

132. Named after Arus the Second, the India of today was at that time called Arien, which, however, split off from Hyperborea after a few centuries, after 210 years, to be exact, and joined with the inhabitants of Mu and Agharta, while from Hyperborea, Arus the First constantly troubled Mu and Greater Atlantis by wicked war activities, in order to become their ruler.

133. During around half a millennia, or said very precisely, during 502 years, those war machinations continued, until Arus the First, who in the meanwhile had become old and weak, succeeded in infiltrating wicked elements of his hater humans into the leading controlling ranks of Atlantis and Mu, who secretly stirred up violence and hate for so long, as also did their descendants over several centuries, until, through boundless intrigues, Mu and Atlantis were able to be completely destroyed some centuries later, while the only few survivors were beaten into servitude.

Billy:

Being circumcised does not mean immunity, but only a minimal risk of infection. Circumcision does not protect genital herpes, gonorrhoea, syphilis or other venereal diseases. However, it can be very useful where a lack of penis hygiene leads to all kinds of penile diseases, fungal infections, eczema, rot, etc. This was the order of the day in southern Arabia, especially at the time of the Prophet Mohammed, which is why he decreed the order of circumcision and the associated daily cleansing. He took over circumcision from the old Jews, who for the same reason had the same principle as a rule, tracing it back to Moses, who introduced the law of circumcision, because already then the genital impurity gave rise to enormous sexually transmitted diseases and degenerations. Shame hair was also introduced for the same reason, also for women. To my knowledge, however, these facts are no longer known – or they are deliberately concealed, for whatever reason. As far as I know, the real justification was never recorded in writing, but declared to be God's demand, because the relevant laws were only followed because they were allegedly ordered by a God. Either way, however, the relevant laws have taken hold and brought physical cleanliness to the Jewish and Arab tribes and peoples, and fortunately everything has survived to this day. Yes, today it is even the case that even many Christians, as well as people of no religion and other faiths, as Muslims get rid of their pubic hair and therefore go along with it more cleanly than many others who are not so fond of general body hygiene.

Billy:

... it has to be said that jihad is completely misunderstood, because by this Mohammed meant something completely different, than to wage war by force of arms. His real teaching, namely, was to the effect, that by the jihad he understood the individual struggle of the human being against himself/herself, in order to become a good, positive, virtuous and true, dignified and honourable human being. Thus, Mohammed's teaching of jihad is fundamentally to the effect, that the human being shall not wage the 'holy war' with deadly weapons and not against other human beings, but against himself/herself, in order to gain self-cognition and truth, so that he/she can truly live in humanity as a human being and fulfil the creational laws and recommendations. But this teaching of Mohammed has been thoroughly falsified as well as wrongly interpreted, and indeed up to the present day. This has also been done with the teaching, that the human being shall live rightly, well, positively and virtuously as well as law-fulfillingly and recommendation-fulfillingly, in order to be an example in an instructive wise to the children and adolescents as well as to adults of all ages, just as all the prophets taught, even if it was presented by them with other words. The fact that these parts of Mohammed's teaching, along with many others, were falsified, led to the fact that many aspects of his teaching also led to false explanations and to evil consequences, as this unfortunately still continues to have an effect today, in particular by the radical, terroristic Islamism of those confusingly-led, who pass themselves off as Muslim men and Muslim women, but neither understand nor live the teaching of Islam. True Muslim males and Muslim females see and live Islam in a different and peaceful kind and wise, thus not in war and terror against those who believe differently of their own Islamic religion or other religions. True Muslim males and Muslim females are not extremist Islamists and therefore not terrorists, for they are in truth striving to be peaceful and true human beings in self-cognition and also to live in peace and humaneness with those who are of another religion.

Ptaah:

39. Those are good words.

Billy:

There is, however, something more to say about this, namely, that it corresponds to a widespread misunderstanding that each Islamic war was a war of religion and that it had always been the Ziel/purpose of the war to forcibly and inevitably convert the defeated peoples to Islam with the sword. Of course, there were such wars of religion, but this only applies to the early fightings of Mohammed, in which he had to raise the sword perforce against Jewish and Meccan opponents of the Madinese community, otherwise he would have been murdered with his followers. Surah 9:5 solely refers to this, in which the following was taught in the real original form by Mohammed:

“And when the forbidden months have passed, then resist your adversaries who serve tin gods, where you meet them, seize them, and besiege them, and lie in wait for them in their own ambush, to put them in captivity. But only deprive them of their lives when self-defence requires it. But if they repent, then put mercy before justice, let them pay the Zakat (tax for the poor) and give them the freedom that they can go their way.”

But since the falsification of this aphorism has found its entrance into Islam, it has been taught and also translated in the following form:

“And when the forbidden months have passed, then kill the servants of tin gods where you meet them, and seize them and besiege them, and lie in wait for them in every ambush. But if they repent and if they do the prayer and pay the Zakat (tax for the poor), then grant them their way. Truly, Allah is all-forgiving, benevolent.”

or another translation version:

“... Slay the servants of tin gods where you find them ... But if they repent and do the prayer and pay the poor tax, then let them go their way.”

The truth is that neither in this nor in other teaching verses has Mohammed spoken thereof, that enemies should simply be beaten to death and killed, but he spoke about the fact that this may be the case only in actual self-defence. As at all times, when Mohammed's effective and true teaching was falsified, it is then further falsified by wannabe-knowing scribblers, in which case insults of the prophets and untrue ragbag stories become the norm. In fact, it would be necessary, as with the Talmud Jmmanuel, that Mohammed's teaching be post-written in accordance with how he actually brought his teaching. ...

... Of course, there have been fanatics since the year one and also since every beginning – as with Christianity and all religions; except Buddhism – in Islam, who used Mohammed's teaching in a wrong and falsified wise for their claims for might and actually tried to spread Islam with the sword, which is why this has also spread as knowledge worldwide and unfortunately is not to be denied. But those acted in such a wise, were not real Muslims, but perverted fanatics who utilized falsified teaching-parts for their own benefit. So, if also I speak/talk or write about it, such as in the book 'Ein offenes Wort' (An Open Word, in German only), that facts are to be quoted in the teaching of Islam, which are connected with war, the sword, murder and manslaughter, etc., then it exclusively concerns facts that have arisen due to the falsification of the Koran and which have nothing to do with the effective truth and reality, because Mohammed had not brought a teaching of war and murder, but a teaching of love, of truth, freedom, harmony and of peace for all human beings on the Earth, and indeed irrespective whatsoever of what race, religion, other belief-orientations or which people and which social status they belong to. He did so in the same wise as all the prophets of his line before him and after him.

Billy:

With regard to circumcision and the circumcision ceremony in Islam, the following is to be said: According to the information of the Plejaren, the prophet Mohammed was born with a normal foreskin and not without it, as an invented story would like to portray it differently. ...

... In the Islamic religious book Koran alone, there is nothing to be found that calls for circumcision, because the true prophet Mohammed never ordered such nonsense. Objectively speaking, therefore, the Koran does not allow for the circumcision of women or men, girls or boys, but this is of course of no interest to those who advocate this bloody trade, and therefore irrelevant. It is a fact that certain Islamic 'clergy' who are fanatical about circumcision in various regions and countries are of the opinion that Allah has allegedly demanded this 'purification' and that the Prophet has also made this known, which is, however, in truth absolute nonsense. Muhammad, in fact, never spoke out in favor of male or female genital mutilation, but against it, because he knew it was wrong and that it was carried out among the Jews and even further outside his sphere of influence, as well as among his people themselves who had adopted the circumcision tradition from Judaism. ...

Billy:

The Koran, however, is not based on the effective message of the Prophet Mohammed, but largely on Earth human falsifications of doctrine, points of view and false laws, etc., which were gathered together and cobbled together long after Mohammed's death and which have very little or nothing to do with Mohammed's doctrine, which unfortunately is not generally known to Islam believers. In fact, they do not know that what Muhammad taught is 'the teaching of truth, the teaching of the Spirit, the teaching of life'. ...

Billy:

... Jmmanuel, as well as Muhammad, did not preach punishment or war, let alone wage it, as is claimed, for example, with regard to Muhammad, whose entire life story was falsified many times more than that of Jmmanuel. With Mohammed there was no Sharia, no compulsory headscarf, no child marriage, no covering of the face and many other things, as was invented long after his death and books of lies were written from it. The teaching of Jmmanuel and Muhammad was the one and only 'teaching of the prophets', the spirit teaching, which was given as 'teaching of truth, teaching of the spirit, teaching of life' and which also exists today in a whole series of books, whereby the 2 works 'OM' and 'Cup of Truth' were both taught by Jmmanuel and Muhammad, but were neither understood nor lived by the people of those times. On the contrary, the entire teachings were profoundly falsified and so straightened out that murderous delusions arose, which could not be reconciled with the teachings, or only in small parts, and caused enormous suffering, hardship, misery, wars, persecutions, deaths, murders and destruction. One only has to think of the early and later persecutions and murders of Christians as well as war campaigns etc., as well as the Inquisition and other murderous events in the name of Christianity, and equally of the tremendous atrocities that were carried out unlawfully, mendaciously and criminally in the name of Mohammed and his teachings. And this happened and still happens today, although neither Jmmanuel nor Muhammad ever taught in this way, but – like all prophets before them – consistently adhered honourably and worthily to the 'teaching of truth, teaching of the spirit, teaching of life' and did not misteach anything about domination, lust for power, inhuman punishment or capital punishment, child marriage, mummery, war, conquest, torture, human trafficking and the like or other nonsense, imbecility and other time-honoured inhumanities.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_703

Billy:

... But now I would like to talk a little bit in detail and openly about how basically the so-called 'holy' books came into being with regard to Christianity and Islam, because the truth is that neither Jmmanuel alias Jesus, nor Muhammad themselves made any written records of the 'teachings of the prophets'. Only Jmmanuel's disciple Judas Ischkerioth – not Judas Iskarioth or Ischarioth or Isharioth – knew the Scriptures, while all the other disciples, contrary to all the conventional lies and claims, were just as ignorant of the Scriptures as the followers around Mohammed. ...

... And just as the Torah, the Bible and the New Testament came about, so it was also with the Koran, which was never written after the teachings of Muhammad, but very long after his death by human beings who had neither seen the Prophet himself, nor heard his teachings, nor known him themselves. Also with Muhammad it was in truth the case that no written records of his life and teachings were made during his lifetime, but such records only came into being long decades after his death, with tremendous mendacious claims, tall tales and false doctrines being set up which in no way corresponded to the truth regarding the reality of Muhammad's teachings and life. Everything about his personality, his behaviour and the 'doctrine of the prophets' that he brought and taught was so thoroughly falsified and made into a religion that brings death and destruction to this day. The entire life story concerning Muhammad and his work has been so maliciously falsified that hardly a word corresponds to the effective reality. Muhammad neither taught nor waged wars, and those that were carried out in his name were against his will and the work of war-obsessed delusional believers who, on the one hand, misunderstood the teachings, reinterpreted them themselves and thus falsified them. On the other hand, they used their doctrine-distorting and doctrine-ballooning for them useful, doctrine-twisting and doctrine-manipulating, deliberately fallacious interpretations to further their war-mongering and to be able to attribute the whole thing to the teaching and meaning of Muhammad. So they used their doctrine-distorting interpretations for their war-mongering favours and advantages, completely contrary to the teachings of Muhammad, who taught neither hatred, capital punishment and child marriage, nor Sharia and such nonsense, nonsense, hostilities to life and inhumanities. Lying and deceitful, as it has always been since time immemorial, and the whole thing has been preserved up to the present day, it was also easy for all those who invented his life story and devalued, disfigured, distorted and twisted it in such a way in relation to Mohammed to falsify everything in a slanderous way, that only a short time later it was no longer possible to verify anything – and today it is no longer possible at all. Because the effective truth about the person of Muhammad, his way of life, his teachings and his behaviour in terms of morals, ethics and customs as well as his worldly conduct can no longer be verified today, precisely because of the old mendacious records and false chronological annals, the delusion of lies and slander surrounding his personality, teachings and behaviour etc. can no longer be eradicated. On the contrary, with regard to all the stories of lies and slander around Muhammad and his teachings, everything has become so ingrained in the Islamophobes and also in the Islam believers themselves that the effective truth is no longer accepted, but is reviled as lies and conspiracy theories. So it is also not accepted that the 'teaching of the prophets' or the 'teaching of truth, teaching of the spirit, teaching of life' – as it was already brought by Jmmanuel and all 4 other prophets or heralds Enoch, Elijah, Isaiah and Jeremiah – which is now also taught today for the last time and spread by the FIGU, is a teaching of the creative-natural laws. A teaching that teaches the human being to live with all fellow human beings and all peoples in peace, freedom and justice, in humanity and love. And this ancient teaching, whose origins can be traced back to Nokodemion, the universal herald who existed 9 billion years ago, also teaches that self-knowledge, consciousness-self-development, good self-esteem, empathy and healthy self-respect, etc. are of the greatest importance for the individual human being, as well as connectedness with the existence of the entire environment. The fact is, however, that with regard to Mohammed and his 'teachings of the prophets', unfortunately, all evil was included in the once created falsifications by delusionists, those who were greedy for power, murder and war and other delusional elements, starting with murder and manslaughter, human trafficking, child abuse, war, exploitation, torture and capital punishment, up to and including many other evils and human degradations. And out of this came religious wars and conquests in the name of faith and the ruler of heaven, etc. Child abuse was also commonplace long before the time of Muhammad the Annunciator, as was also the case with the ancient Hebrews, about which, however, silence is deliberately kept. Muhammad had denounced this through his teachings, but never succeeded in having his request for a ban on child marriage respected, even to this day. On the contrary, this part of his teaching was also falsified and denied ad infinitum and it was even maliciously imputed to him that he himself had at least entered into a child marriage, which was later allegedly confirmed by his wife in this regard, but which was never actually the case. In truth, this child-marriage lie was already rampant very early on in the first slanderous oral and then also in the first written traditions, which then also found its way into the invented and falsified life story of the Prophet or Annunciation and has been preserved up to the present day. ...

... But the whole life story of Muhammad and the 'teachings of the prophets' he brought were thoroughly distorted beyond recognition and turned into a false doctrine for hatred, war, death, subjugation, ruin and destruction. Muhammad and Jmmanuel, however, were in reality humble human beings of love, peace, freedom, justice, equality and humanity, as were also the other, earlier and predetermined prophets Enoch, Elijah, Isaiah, Jeremiah from the same prophetic line before them. And, as I said, the old 4 prophets were predestined from time immemorial, as were Jmmanuel and Mohammed, because they were prophets born of earth mothers from the nations and therefore not 'sons of God', not 'chosen' by a God and not 'servants of God' or such nonsense as was attributed to them in the course of time by crazy and delusional people. Enoch, Elia, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Jmmanuel and Mohammed were pre-determined prophets or heralds of the 'Doctrine of the Prophets' or the 'Doctrine of Truth, Doctrine of the Spirit, Doctrine of Life', which was created ages ago by the ever first prophet or herald Nokodemion according to the creative-natural laws and carried on in his spiritual lineage reincarnating over all times. ...

... In the time of the Prophet Mohammed, women wore headscarves, and many still do today, and this was also the case for many Christian women in Europe, particularly among the working-class population, well into the mid-20th century. Some passages in the Koran refer to the headscarf requirement, for example in verse 24:31. However, not all Muslim women see wearing a headscarf as a requirement of their religion. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_721

Ptaah:

58. Muhammad born 19th February 571–632 after Jmmanuel (AD)

74. In the case of Muhammad, for example, it was more than 100 years after his death before the first words were written about him, and his teaching was completely disregarded and rewritten and replaced by a completely re-invented one.

75. Hence, the true teaching that Muhammad brought, the 'teaching of the prophets' i.e. 'teaching of the truth, teaching of the spirit, teaching of the life' was not simply falsified beyond recognition, but it was, as was already the case with the same teaching of Jmmanuel, completely denied and replaced by a new truth-falsified religious history that was fantasized together from the ground up and directed towards a godhead and spread.

76. In addition, over the course of centuries, new rules, rituals, prayer-, behaviour- and other regulations as well as religious laws etc. were invented over and over again, which were consciencelessly fantasised into the irrationally- and confusingly-invented senseless religious teaching and were mendaciously ascribed to the proclaimers Jmmanuel and Muhammad.

231. After Jmmanuel's flight from Jerusalem, his entire life history from birth up to his death was spread and later also written down with monstrous falsifications, lies, assertions and calumnies, thus the same happened with Mohammed, whose real name indeed was Abdul Kasim Muhammad Ibn Abdallah. ...

237. If one has a close look at the life history of Mohammed, then it must also be said concerning this, that there is hardly a true word in all that which is supposedly 'handed down' about him, for just as with Jmmanuel, all around no one was knowledgeable in writing and written language, except his first wife, the widow Chadidscha.

238. She was a member of the highly respected Quraish tribe and heiress of a caravanserai and a trading business in Mecca.

239. At first, under her matriarchy, Mohammed did various works for her, before they got together and married, after which she appointed him as a business partner.

240. The woman was connected to Mohammed by sincere love and was also able to connect with his teaching, which she held in high regard, although she did not record a single word of his teaching or of his life in writing.

241. The incredibly infamous calumny that Mohammed is said to have fathered several children with this woman corresponds to a lie beyond compare, because the woman was incapable of conception and therefore could not be impregnated by Mohammed.

242. However, since Chadidscha wanted to have children, it was decided in agreement between her and Mohammed, to adopt several orphans and to secretly pretend that they were their own.

243. After his wife died, he married Sauda bint Zama as his second wife, with whom, however, he also did not father any descendants, nor with Aischa bint Abi Bakr, who was his third wife and who, contrary to the slanderous 'traditions', was neither 6 nor 7 or 9 years old at the time of marriage, but 19 years of age.

244. And the malicious story of slander against her, which is said to have arisen during the campaign against the Banū l-Mustaliq in the year 627, is just as much a malicious lie as is the story of the twelve 'mothers of the believers', which was built up on nothing more than lies and deception.

245. This applies equally to the many lies that Mohammed, in addition to his regular marriage, married a greater number of women and had slaves as concubines, for in fact it was only the three wives Chadidscha, Sauda bint Zama and Aischa bint Abi Bakr, whom he had married after the death of Chadidscha, and also these marital bonds remained childless, because even with these two women, he was not of the sense to procreate offspring.

246. All the larger numbers of other women who were around him, were in no way in any marital connection with him, nor in any kind of relationship of a slavish or concubine-like nature, rather they were all well protected in his care and friendship.

247. So, long after his death, other women were imputed to him by lies and calumnies of alleged relatives and chroniclers and so forth and had no truth content whatsoever.

248. This also applies to the veiling of women, as well as to completely different senselessnesses.

249. Maliciously minded ones who were against the spreading of the early wrong Christianity that had emerged centuries earlier, through which the true teaching of the proclaimer Jmmanuel was completely falsified, saw in it an opportunity to falsify the teaching of Mohammed as well.

250. So, in his time, they seized the opportunity to falsify his teaching, which was indeed the same as that of Jmmanuel, and to spread rules and regulations, just as it was with regard to the teaching of Jmmanuel.

251. Just as Jmmanuel was not able to defend himself against it, so it also happened with Mohammed, because when both had gone their last way, their ever-identical teaching was abysmally falsified and new religions were created from it.

252. As a consequence, the believers turned to the new teachings, to which Mohammed and Jmmanuel could no longer oppose because of their departure, hence Christianity with the 'new testament' and Islam with the 'recitation', i.e. the 'Koran', completely suppressed the truthful 'teaching of the truth, teaching of the spirit, teaching of the life'.

253. Ancient Palestine was occupied by the Romans at the time of Jmmanuel and had experienced some increase in prosperity under them, even though the native population was directed by a harsh Jewish and religious-oriented rule, which is why it was opportune for the emerging Christians to devise a story of lies of a resurrection of the crucified Jmmanuel and to call him Jesus.

254. This, while southern Arabia was a very backward area at the time of Mohammed, far away from all the cultural and economic centres of the world at that time, where the human beings who were poor, suffered great hardship and were only too happy to believe in and fall prey to a new religion of salvation.

255. If the old scrolls/writings are examined, which are supposed to come from disciples, direct followers and the like as well as from direct or indirect descendants, relatives or from family members of the two proclaimers, then all such alleged written proofs correspond altogether to only sneaky and disingenuous falsifications, wrong memories (only partly true) and wrong renditions as well as very fallible interpretations by the scribes.

256. Truthly, there is not a single such ancient document which would be directly or semi-directly related to a person who had been in direct or indirect contact with Jmmanuel or Mohammed.

257. Claims to the contrary and so-called 'written documentary evidence/proofs' correspond to nothing other than falsifications and lies, because in the case of both Jmmanuel as well as Mohammed, the first written records were made only years later, after their departure, i.e. after their death.

258. And this happened according to very inadequate or erroneous memories, but also through conscious false claims and lies, etc., as a result of which glorifications and fairy tales regarding Jmmanuel and Mohammed also came about.

259. In addition, various direct and indirect followers were fraudulently/lyingly attributed to the two proclaimers, who in truth, however, had nothing to do with them.

260. Even disciples, followers and relatives as well as friends, etc., versed in writing, were attributed to the two proclaimers Jmmanuel and Mohammed at all times, but out of all those mentioned, not a single one was knowledgeable of the script and writing.

261. Judas Ischkerioth was the only one amongst all, who correctly and truthly mastered the script and who was well versed in writing and a disciple close to Jmmanuel.

262. Later he was slandered by falsifiers of writings and by hangers-on, just as the name of Jesus was then also imputed to Jmmanuel. ...

264. This, while all other records concerning the teaching of Jmmanuel and Mohammed were in no way made by any of their disciples or direct or indirect descendants, etc., but by strangers, namely even only a long time after their death.

265. Truthly, however, in relation to the two of them and their teaching, which on both sides was the 'teaching of the truth, teaching of the spirit, teaching of the life', everything was abysmally misunderstood and boundlessly falsified beyond recognition.

266. This also applies to various other ancient and newly discovered old writings, which likewise do not lead back to any disciples during the lifetime of Jmmanuel or to direct followers or relatives and so forth of Mohammed.

Billy:

... Through Christianity and its missionary work, which is still carried out worldwide today, millions of human beings were murdered, just as even today Christian missionary work continues to claim victims among the missionaries and missionaries in the 'name of the Lord'. The same happened with Islam, as well as with all other religions, sects and religious communities, whereby nowadays especially the completely degenerated Islamism commits murder of people of other faiths and also of people of the same faith, as it is also done by cross-criminal Islamic laws, e.g. in Persia, Saudi Arabia and Egypt, etc. This, whereby these murderous lies are still being practised today worldwide in the name of the Lord. This, whereas these murderous lying and punishing laws and all the murders, floggings, tortures, blindings, mutilations and death sentences etc. resulting from them are justified by the Sharia and derive from it or from the 'totality of all religious and (religious) beliefs'. the 'totality of all religious and (un)legal norms, mechanisms for (un)norm-finding and (false mis)interpretation regulations of Islam', and which are mendaciously and slanderously attributed to Muhammad because he is supposed to have taught them, which, however, corresponds to an impudent, disgraceful and malicious lie-slander of conscienceless crime-like scribblers. ...

... The 'Holy Book' of Islam is the 'Koran', which is said to contain revelations that Mohammed received from God and Allah respectively in 22 years from 610 and 632 AD. As has been customary from time immemorial, these statements were only written down decades and even more after more than 100 years and more – as with the Bible and other 'Holy Scriptures' – after Mohammed's death as 'traditions' and repeated reinterpretations, ultimately with x-times more additions – which Mohammed neither said nor misinterpreted – and written in 114 chapters or suras. ...

... In the course of time, however, these traditions were more and more frequently embellished with what had supposedly happened and phantasties were also invented, which were additionally embellished by constantly new additions to fairy tales and persons were also beamed up to saintly figures, so that in the end the whole thing corresponded only to complete unreality. This is also what happened in the form of signs, stone writings, stone pictures, sculptures and writings, and, and, and, which today is taken at face value by scientists and is no longer questioned, which not infrequently leads to scientifically 'proven' assertions that do not correspond to real reality and truth, such as the lies, deceptions and slander regarding the alleged and never made statements and teachings of Jmmanuel (Jesus) and Mohammed. ...

... This is exactly the same as is the case with Jmmanuel (Chr.) and Mohammed, whose teachings and work etc. have been abysmally falsified in the course of time and already during their lifetime as well as especially long after their death and statements have been denied, fantasised, attributed to them in their mouths and 'holy books' have been made out of them, which are so full of ashen lies and slander that they cannot be surpassed by the greatest efforts. ...

... The greater part of all alleged 'traditions' correspond in truth to unparalleled untruths, which, as Siddharta himself expressed, correspond to an 'unpardonable shamefulness', just as Jmmanuel (Chr.) and Mohammed expressed themselves in a similar way about all that has been fabricated from their teachings by lies, falsifications, fraud, malice, misunderstanding and fanaticism, etc., and has led to a delusional religion of God. ...

... In the end, it must also be said that I do not attack any old true prophet, teacher or herald, such as Jmmanuel, Buddha, Abram, Confucius or Mohammed, etc., nor any founder of a religion or sect, either as a human being or in his honour and dignity, or as a person or in his personality. If I raise my voice attacking the founders of religions or sects, it is not directed against the human beings, their person or personality, but only against their wrong actions, deeds and false teachings and the spreading of their faith. Real prophets, teachers or heralds, such as Jmmanuel (lyingly called Jesus), Buddha, Abram and Mohammed, whose true teachings have unfortunately been maliciously and slanderously falsified and re-fabricated into cult religions, are taboo and unassailable for me, just as I have also not attacked these true prophets, teachers or heralds, because all honour and dignity is due to them. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_797

Bermunda:

... This also remained the case when Islam and its faith arose later, which was actually a continuation of Christianity and was also supposed to lead back to the truth. However, this failed thoroughly because the human beings misunderstood the teachings from the very beginning and, contrary to Muhammad's teachings, adopted, worshipped and began to worship the new God of the Christians, just as the Christians had been doing for several centuries, only in Islam he was called Allah. The Prophet fought against this throughout his life, but all his efforts were unsuccessful. When he passed away, scribblers took up the pen and falsified the doctrine from the ground up in such a way that it became a religious misconception just like Christianity. Unfortunately, this created a boundless hatred against the Jewish believers for the reason that the Jewish priesthood had Jmmanuel (Billy: alias Jesus Christ) crucified with the permission and assistance of the Romans. Jmmanuel was regarded by the new religious doctrine of Islam as Muhammad's preceding prophet, and as such he was practically untouchable. Unfortunately, Muhammad's doctrinal efforts were a complete failure, for the doctrine of effective reality and its truth, as with Christianity, became a confusion of beliefs and misconceptions among human beings, whereby the whole thing lost all rational control, which has remained so to this day. Thus, the Islam religion not only became a might, but a delusion was created, through which bloody wars arose, as well as special rites of worship of Allah, whereby special features were also included in the prayers. This belief inevitably led to torture and murder, as well as the rape of women and children, as has been the case with Christianity from the very beginning and has been preserved, especially in Catholicism, up to the present day. ...

Billy:

... especially the scientists have strange ideas about parallel worlds and parallel universes. Sfath, however, has never said anything to me about such a thing, which is supposed to be a mirror universe – or several – and which is supposed to be such that it would be a mirror image of our universe. Of course, scientists are not simply thinking of our present dimension, but of a differently dimensioned universe that is mirrored and aligned with our present, so that, for example, if I could go into such a parallel universe, I could meet myself there in a double version or as a mirrored person and talk to myself, whereby my double and I would always make the same physical movements, carry out the same actions and thus also make the same gestures, as well as speak the same words, etc. As I said, however, your father Sfath never said or taught me anything in this regard, but only spoke of completely different dimensions or space-time structures or of universes, which I was also able to visit with him and experience and also learn a lot there, as a result of which I assume that Sfath was either unaware of such mirror or parallel universes or that they do not exist, which is why I want to ask you about the correctness.

Ptaah:

23. Parallel universes and parallel worlds, as you describe them, are unknown to us, as they are also unknown to the Sonaern, if you should also ask about their findings and knowledge in this regard, as I assume, because you always want to know everything very precisely when you bring up questions.

Billy:

Yes, I wanted to, because the Sonaer are still far ahead with their technology compared to yours. Since you, like the Sonaer, are much more highly educated compared to the knowledge of earthly scientists and are tremendously advanced in terms of the entire earthly technology and therefore should also have knowledge of parallel worlds, which is not the case according to your words, I think that the whole mirror universe issue is based on pure fantasy. This also explains to me why Sfath never said anything about parallel worlds and parallel universes in that sense and also did not explain how such mirror worlds etc. are accepted by earthly scientists.

9. The Earth-human is misguided if he/she wants to make the concerns of Easter Island an isolated concern.
10. The events of earlier times on this island are in direct connection with the country, which you still call Tiahuanaco today, as it was called already at earliest time, in spite of past repeated changes.
11. Easter Island and Tiahuanaco are more than 5,000 kilometres apart, and yet they are directly related to each other.
12. However, the history of the connection goes back to very early times and ended only 2,548 years ago, calculated back from today [1976 = 572 before Jmmanuel].
13. As I once explained to you, the last decisive settlement of the Earth by extraterrestrial intelligences took place about 13,500 Earth years ago.
14. As you know, several of the immigrant horde became renegades, including a man in the rank of a half-Ischwish called Viracocoha, who was already very old and extremely power-hungry.
15. His name is still handed down on the Earth today, but with a small change, because for a long time now he has only been called Viracocha and also as Jschwisch, although he was only in half the rank of such a person.
16. Under his patronage and his cruel leadership, the highlands of Tiahuanaco at an altitude of about 4,000 metres were conquered, as was the Delta Island, which you call Easter Island.
17. After this conquest Viracocoha settled with a special bodyguard of cherubim on the small island Mot, which is situated in front of Easter Island and which you call Motunui or similar to my knowledge today.
18. At that time it was called Mot because the cherubim were animal-human life forms, in this case they were all birdlike.
19. Mot means bird in our original language, so the island was called the Mot island, or also the island of the bird people, as it is still called today.
20. So Viracocoha or Viracocha resided there.
21. He and his followers, escaped Lyrans like many others, who came to the Earth, were of gigantic physique, by earthly measure about eleven meters tall.
22. They were the ones who taught the dwarfish, normal-growing inhabitants of Tiahuanaco and Easter Island – who were procreations between earthlings and previously immigrated intelligences from the vastness of the universe – in many things, providing them with their own highly developed technology and teaching them how to operate the devices and machines.
23. Thus they also taught the natives of Tiahuanaco and Easter Island the work of stonemasonry, and they let themselves be celebrated as gods.
24. With the help of the giants and their machines and other equipment, the natives worked many meters large head formations out of the lava stone, placed these, also with the help of machines, randomly around the island.
25. Similar events took place in the areas you call Pisco, Nazca and Sacsayhuaman, because the same giants had settled there.
26. Thus many statues and other structures were created, whereby also the shape of the spaceships on Easter Island were reproduced from rocks of the lava walls, which have survived to this day, namely oval-shaped stones, because the spaceships had this shape.
27. After several centuries, the exact time is also veiled to us, the giants were attacked by a sudden epidemic that was unknown to them and cost the lives of many of them.
28. Finding no cure for the epidemic, they fled Earth in their spaceships, set off into space and have since disappeared.
29. Despite the most eager investigations of our scientists, no trace of them has been found to this day.

30. There is therefore the possibility that, despite their flight from Earth, they were attacked and killed by the mysterious plague in their space ships, while their ships shot aimlessly through space, were attracted by some star and smashed to pieces.

31. Our probability calculations very much favour this.

Billy:

Then once again, I have a question regarding the pre-Columbian Nazca Indian culture, i.e. the Nazca Indians, who resided in the valleys and areas of Nazca, Ica and Pisco and who made gigantic geoglyphs in the desert plain, which have remained up to this day. I asked about these once before, and I was told that these pictures concern astrology gardens. But in addition to this, I mean to this explanation, it was then later noted that the real purpose of this huge layout of geoglyphs didn't just serve for astrology. But then, unfortunately, no further explanation was given to this because I didn't continue to ask about it. I would like to do that now with this: What, now, is the actual purpose of these giant pictures?

Quetzal:

141. The Nazca geoglyphs, as you call them, at the time of the Nazca culture, formed a large ritual site in their entirety; therefore, one can speak of a ritual garden, of an astrology-ritual garden, or of a ritual area or rather a ritual landscape.

142. The rituals carried out there corresponded to faith-related, cultic actions and, thus, religious actions.

143. The types of rituals served several purposes, but fertility rituals were the most common forms that were carried out at these cult sites or ritual sites.

144. However, just like the Stonehenge structures - i.e. the megaliths, located to the north of Salisbury, Wiltshire in southern England - the Nazca layouts also served as general meeting places as well as judgment sites and sites of execution.

Billy:

So all of the various allegations are rubbish, such as the ones that the geoglyphs would mark or indicate underground rivers or that these are prehistoric airfields of or for extraterrestrials, as this, along with other things, is fantasized by Erich von Daniken. These geoglyphs in the desert plains of southern Peru show enormous geometric figures, animals, plants, and humans, which are only recognizable in their entire forms from a certain height. For this reason, one might get the idea that the pictures could have somehow been made by specific instructions from a certain height.

Quetzal:

145. That is of correctness.

146. The actual meaning of the Nazca geoglyphs is based in the explanations that I gave you.

147. All other explanation attempts by any ignorant ones, profiteers, or people given to fantasies or imaginations correspond to wild fantasies, confused assertions, or deliberate deceptions.

148. What you say in regards to the fact that the geoglyphs are only recognizable in their full forms from a certain height, as this is the case with respect to other similar pictures in other parts of the world, I must say that this is actually so.

149. However, the production of the pictures isn't actually based on the fact that from a certain height, instructions would have been given for it.

150. In truth, all measurements, etc. were made in an extremely accurate manner on the ground alone, even though this may seem unbelievable to today's Earth-humans because they can't make any such images themselves.

151. Unfortunately, the people on the Earth always tend to search for impossible explanations for things that they don't know and don't understand.

152. And wherever or for whatever they find no explanations, then it must be aliens, ghosts, or demons, and even when that is no longer possible, then it's simply taken to be a miracle, even though there are no miracles within the entire creative realm and, thus, also in the entire universe and in all dimensions.

153. In fact, everything that is seen can be explained; it's just that the necessary insights and knowledge are also necessary for this, and precisely in these, the Earth-humans are still lacking in very many respects.

154. Their cognition and understanding as well as their knowledge and their wisdom still aren't so comprehensive that they could understand and explain all things and concerns, etc., which is why, in their ignorance, they call everything that is still unexplainable to them "miracles" or search for solutions and explanations that fall into the realms of fantasy and error.

155. Although the Earth person only learns slowly, in time, he will find the solutions to the things that are still unknown and mysterious to him.

Quetzal:

3. Each one of the scrape pictures was portrayed by a non-interrupted, continuing line.

4. For their construction drawing patterns were used which were transferred and enlarged onto the ground, until the desired size was reached.

5. The Nazcans were perfectly mastering the necessary mathematical calculating.

6. With ropes that were attached to standing poles – that were held by humans – with revolving straps, an improvised circle was built which served to scrape the spots, that had already been marked, with tools.

7. The light sediment layer under the desert's surface was uncovered, and in this way the figures and lines were created.

8. The gigantic scrape figures – desert ground that was scraped away – were symbolizing gods that were revered by the Nazcans in those times.

9. At the same time, the scrape pictures were also an astronomical calendar and a huge astronomical garden, because the figures represented portrayals of the gods who, according to the Nazca people's belief, were seen in the star pictures.

10. For the interpretations of the Nazca star pictures, animals and birds known to the people, and also geometric figures were used which were believed to be seen in the star constellations.

11. On the holy god day that was set at that day when day and night were of equal length, the entire people were walking in long marches over the scrape pictures and honouring the gods, and they performed rituals and ceremonies to the honour of their great and powerful gods.

12. In order to make their gods peaceful, "lower" human beings, like slaves, enemies and "unwanted people" etc. were sacrificed and killed in such a way that they were bound onto special altars, and a heavy wooden thorn or stone thorn was driven into the forehead and the skull, and a cactus thorn was driven through the lips, to shut up their mouth for all times and to silence them.

13. Those ceremonies were executed by the priests, who were "holy" men and who led a prosperous life.

14. The priests were also responsible for the performance of the “holy” rituals and ceremonies on the scrape pictures, that were permitted to walk on not only on the holy god day, but at any other time and was permitted. to be used for private cultic actions.
15. As a rule, the Nazcans were people with high skulls, which means that their skulls showed an exceptional long skull form, which was not of original origin.
16. This skull-form was artificially produced; as long as the skull was still formable, it was restricted and bound with grinded metallic, stony and wooden plates, forcibly leading to a skull of long form and resulting in an oblong deformation.
17. This procedure was even started with newborns when they were one week old.
18. Everything was not an ideal of beauty, but a tribute to the gods, to give them obsequious reverence.
19. Only those Nazcans were permitted to have and wear the oblong-skull-form who were of higher class, i.e. about 85 percent of the population.
20. The remaining 15 percent were “lower people” who had to perform slave duty and similar tasks, and who were looked upon as social misfits etc., and whose well-being or non-well-being and, therefore, their life was laying in the hands and will of the “higher ones” and especially of the priests.

Billy:

We have often talked about Nazca and the structures on the so-called Nazca plain, which were made by the former inhabitants. But now I was asked why the Nazca culture had perished. I answered the question by saying that over the years torrential rainfall had caused enormous mudslides that buried everything underneath and finally wiped out the Nazca culture. So Sfath once taught me in the forties. He also said then that the Nazcans had migrated to the sea to fish and collect seafood. They dried the fish etc. to bring them back to their home towns as welcome food.

Ptaah:

126. ... what my father reported to you corresponds to what actually happened in early times with regard to the Nazca culture.

Near-Death Experience

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Near-death_experience

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Interview_with_Billy_\(1998\))

There are people who claim they died and saw the Beyond. Is it true that this really happens?

Not in this sense. The people you speak of were not really dead. They may have been clinically dead, which means they no longer had discernible heart or brain activity. But, as I said, this is only a clinical death, at which time the spirit form has not yet left the body, but still remains in it for awhile. This means the comprehensive consciousness also stays in the physical body, although all vital signs may appear to be shut down. The comprehensive consciousness and the spirit form continue to remain with the body for a certain period which may last for seconds, minutes or hours; indeed, under certain circumstances even years or decades. The latter, for instance, is the case for the survival of bodies that have been frozen instantly through cryology, during which time the consciousness continues to function. Such a condition, however, only occurs while the body is in its death throes; and for this reason the brain's activity is no longer detectable, even though it continues to function. At this time images appear that are consistent with the individual's normal thinking and imagination patterns, but the images are as well imprinted by the comprehensive collective of the terrestrial human entities. While in this condition of profound death-agony, these people are often capable also of emitting their consciousness whereby they can suddenly view themselves from the outside, while hovering above their own bodies and so forth. Light, darkness, and beloved people also frequently play a major role in this scenario, and the person in this stage of a death throes feels him- or herself being led through dark channels and such into a light, from where they do not ever want to leave again.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/FIGU_Special_Bulletin_038

Billy:

... Fine-matter also plays a very important role in regard to the near-death experience because, when the purely rational reason is shut out through the dying process, and the seventh sense - the capability of perception - is put into its appropriate place, the perception-capacity, which is usually repressed in the current life by the condition of rational reason, expands in regard to the fine-matter realm.

Thereby a border opens, for the human, to a window into that fine-material world which extends very far above all that which can be perceived with the purely coarse-material senses - with the eyes, the touch, the smell, the hearing and tasting.

Through these heightened abilities of perception - through the sense of perception in regard to fine-matter - clairvoyance, for example, emerges as a near death experience, in such a way that the dying human views himself from a higher vantage point (over his own body, or floating through the room) and can also see what happens around him, what is being discussed and what objects people carry or are present in the room in which the person is dying or in adjoining rooms, and so forth.

The near-death experience is also a key to the reading of thoughts whereby the thoughts of the people standing around, or of those who are far removed, are perceived on a fine-material basis.

That happens especially in the deepest stages of dieing, which correlates to a state of the least brain activity.

This status is that of the entrance into death and in this state the brain opens up to the human his concealed capabilities which are repressed in his current life. ...

Billy:

Whereby the so-called supernatural of course does not exist in any way, because everything and everything is always naturally explainable and also naturally given. The supernatural exists only in the ignorance and the incomprehension of man, because he has no knowledge about all those things which he cannot understand and cannot explain himself. Truthfully everything so-called supernatural is absolutely natural and thus also classified according to the corresponding laws of spirit or matter, which are able to give an explanation for everything and everyone, whereby something supernatural becomes a fact of non-existence. Everything that can be grasped and perceived, everything that can be seen and heard and everything that can be felt, recognized, experienced and experienced, etc., is always real, real and natural in every case, regardless of whether it takes place on a spiritual or material level or on a medium level between spirit and matter, which is so often called the level of the supernatural or the supernatural by parapsychologists and esoterics who do not understand it.

Ptaah:

181. A true word.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_279

Billy:

Then we can master another question that comes up again and again. It's the problem of the light tunnel that's created when people die. So why do people who are close to death see a light tunnel? Again and again one hears or reads that dying people lying in agony see a shining light tunnel – what is the reason for this? You, who, in addition to almost three dozen other professions, also learned the profession of a doctor, will certainly have an explanation for this, I think.

Ptaah:

129. The answer can be found in the brain itself.

130. If the brain is no longer sufficiently supplied with oxygen – and this is the case with agony – the nerve cells that guarantee vision begin to react uncontrollably.

131. This produces the appearance of light rays or radiant light.

132. Since more nerve cells are located in the centre of the human field of vision than at the edges, the faked light appears much stronger in the centre of the eye.

133. This creates the actual tunnel effect, which we also call agony light and agony tunnel.

Billy:

How is it then that in such moments any figures, people and relatives etc. are seen? In any case, this is repeatedly reported by people who were already in agony. Can it be that these people, who erroneously say that they were already dead and came back from the realm of the dead, vision these figures or people and relatives etc. into the agony tunnel or light tunnel solely by their faith and their desires as well as by their imagination? That is what my reason tells me.

Ptaah:

134. Which does not deceive you, for in fact it behaves as you have just expressed it.

Billy:

Well, then I would just like to say that, according to my intellectual knowledge, it is impossible that when a person really dies, that he can then come back to life. This is precisely the case when the spirit form has actually left the material body, for a spirit form that has once escaped the body never returns to the dead body. Consequently, all statements and assertions of those who were supposedly dead and began to live again are false. I see the matter in such a way that all these people only lingered in a state of deep stagnation and thus had not yet crossed the threshold to death. They only stood at the threshold of death and fought for the survival of life and against death, as the term agony also says – agony.

Ptaah:

135. There is no need for further explanations, for you have called the facts as they correspond to reality.

Billy:

... Look here, this little article with the picture was sent to me. Unfortunately, the information was missing, from which magazine the article came from. Anyway, I was asked if I knew what origin the bronze disc with the cosmic representation or the Pleiades was from. Do you know anything about it?

Ptaah:

70. We have two similar sky discs in our possession.

71. One comes from ancient Greece and the other from the Sumerians.

72. The object pictured here is probably from ancient Greece.

73. I myself am unfamiliar with the object, but it is identical in appearance to our specimen from ancient Greece.

Billy:

Then this is probably not a Celtic product, but an ancient Greek one.

Ptaah:

74. This will certainly be the case, because the Nordic races of former times had a considerable trade with the southern countries, so also with ancient Greece, but also with the Sumerians and Babylonians, the Egyptians, the Medes and Iranians etc.

75. But even before that, the northerners were already trading with the southerners, and trade was even going on as far as the Far East.

Nefertiti double

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Nefertiti>

see also King Tut murder

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_214

Billy:

Then I have a question in reference to Queen Nofretete, who was the wife of Pharaoh Amenhotep IV, who was also known as Akhenaten and who, to my knowledge, reigned in the 14th Century B.C., from 1364 to 1347. Where was Nofretete actually buried? Her real name, so I think, was Nefertiti, right?

Quetzal:

64. That is of correctness.

65. Nevertheless, a tomb of Nefertiti does not exist but rather only one of her double, who was the concubine of Amenhotep IV/Akhenaten, but this was kept secret and, thus, also was not handed down in any records.

66. The name of Nefertiti's double was Chepris, which meant "the powerful one," while Nefertiti's name meant "the beautiful one has come."

67. Nefertiti and Chepris were neither twin sisters nor in any way connected to each other in kinship, yet they were hardly able to be distinguished by those who were initiated.

68. Thus, both of them alternately appeared before the people, who remained unaware of the fact that these were two different women who, moreover, hated one another until death.

69. In consequence of this, then, it came to the murder of Chepris, who was killed by Nefertiti with snake venom.

70. Both were boundlessly jealous of each other, even though Amenhotep IV, respectively Akhenaten, treated both of them equally.

71. After the murder, Nefertiti naturally feared the revenge and punishment of Akhenaten, so she disguised herself and fled from the palace undetected, in order to board a ship with accomplices, which should have taken them to foreign lands.

72. After several hours on the Mediterranean Sea, however, they were surprised by a heavy storm, by which the small ship was shattered and sank, together with Nefertiti and the whole crew, into the wild waters.

73. That was the actual end of Nefertiti.

74. After the murder of Chepris, Akhenaten let her be secretly buried and took as his wife her twin sister, who resembled her to the hair, and this was the one who henceforth lived at the side of Amenhotep IV as Nefertiti and as an Egyptian queen and who entered into history.

Billy:

And the model bust made of painted limestone, which was found in Amarna during excavations, now represents the real Nefertiti?

Quetzal:

75. In addition to the bust mentioned by you, several unfinished ones still exist.

76. But all of them do not represent Nefertiti but represent Chepris' identical twin sister, Nephthe, as her name was.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_4

Asket:

10. But it still has to be explained that the erroneous assumptions, of all of the Earth scientists, about the time of the ark-deluge are just as very wrong - by umpteen thousands of years - as are the erroneous calculations, to which they have succumbed, about the times of various kings and emperors who lived thousands of years ago.

11. The actual time, which was handed down to you [Earthlings], of the deluge of the ark, is also greatly falsified, because it occurred nearly 100,000 years ago and therefore must be calculated to be very much earlier than the lifetime of King SAHLUK who had taken over an important role in regard to the pyramids.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_039

Semjase:

273. Sure, except that the event – with the building of the ark, which Noah himself did not build, and with his family and with the animals and everything else – became so falsified that no current information agrees with the truth any more.

274. The events with the ark did truly take place, but at another time, 90,000 years later.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_061

Billy:

... Can you tell me when the last Great Flood took place, because there were several of them, so I am not talking about the one pertaining to Noah or Noah's Flood?

Semjase:

6. As you wish – it is now about 10,080 years since then.

Billy:

... This deluge, was it the only one in those 10,080 years?

Semjase:

11. No, there were not only those which you mistakenly call the Great Biblical Flood, which truly took place about 100,000 years ago, because two other somewhat smaller floods came later, once in 7957 and another time in 6906.

12. However, none of them have anything to do with the Noah's Flood, as you call it, although in this respect it is also falsely claimed that it was the Biblical Flood, especially the one to be dated 7957.

13. Between the time of 7000 and 8000 there were also huge floods in the Near East and Asia, in Turkey and Persia, etc., and these floods, of which there were two, were equal to small floods.

14. There were also great floods about 96,000 and 100,000 years ago.

20. The biblical flood did not take place 10,080 years ago, but took place much earlier and was triggered by the Destroyer.

21. By extremely coarse inaccuracies and corrections for the bible, etc. these events were distorted and falsified by the old chroniclers and thus, bible researchers and antiquity researchers chronologically set them much later and extremely erroneously.

35. After these events about 10,000 years ago it took only about 135 years, before the Earth was again afflicted by a catastrophe, bigger and more gigantic than the two before, but in today's eastern area of the Earth ball, which was flooded by enormous masses of water, when the giant comet 'Destroyer' passed the Earth in dangerous proximity, 10,080 years from now calculated back.

36. This led to worldwide catastrophes, which, however, for reasons beyond our understanding, were never recorded by the earthly chroniclers and only found their expression in writings much later, when another flood, again caused by the Destroyer, afflicted the Earth, namely 7,957 years ago.

37. For about 1,000 years the Earth was spared from major catastrophes, until the year 6906 [before 1976], when the Destroyer once again caused enormous devastation on the Earth and destroyed many things.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_069

Billy:

Well, then is it also correct that Noah was around 3.10 metres tall, while Adam actually measured around 5 metres?

Semjase:

62. Sure, only Adam was less than 5 metres tall, he was still a little more than a metre shorter than that measure.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_248

Billy:

... Now, I once again have something concerning the Bible and, specifically, with regard to the so-called Noah's Ark, which was actually built at one time, however, at a completely different time than what is claimed in the Bible. The Biblical Flood did not happen at the time claimed by the Bible but in the year 4613 B.C. and was brought about by the Destroyer. Quetzal made the following statement:

4,613 B.C. – Destroyer falls into the Earth's orbit, which disturbs the Earth in its rotation and in its revolution around the Sun, triggering immense earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, and elementary storms, and from the whole event, the Biblical Flood arises. The rotation of the Earth is changed and a polar shift takes place.

The Biblical Flood, therefore, conforms with reality, even though it has been placed in another time by chroniclers, as this also applies to the fabrication and the events surrounding Noah's Ark. This was actually built around 98,400 years earlier and, hence, around 100,000 years ago, calculated back from today. Is that true?

Ptaah:

116. That is right, but from what source does your knowledge stem?

Billy:

From Quetzal, of course. At one time, I was together with him on Mount Ararat in eastern Turkey, respectively on the Russian-Turkish-Iranian border and, indeed, because I was interested in the history of the Ark. There, he explained to me these very things. The Ark landed around 100,000 years ago and not on the peak of the 5,165 meter high Ararat but around 30 kilometres away and not at the height of a summit. The size of the ark also corresponds to the one given in the Bible. With this, the many animals and only a few human beings had really survived an earlier flood that, like the Biblical Flood, was brought about by a pole shift.

Ptaah:

117. That is not correct, for it was a colossal tidal wave that was caused by a large comet that nearly collided with the Earth and caused enormous catastrophes, including the gigantic tidal wave, through which the Ark was lifted high onto Mount Ararat.

Billy:

Pardon me, then I probably mixed up the two events.

Ptaah:

118. That must be so.

Billy:

Thanks for your correction. Now – Noah did not live at the time of the events with the Ark and neither did his family. Nevertheless, the event happened amazingly close to what the Bible reports; it's just that the builder was a man named Noahkadosser (= Man of Peace), and he maintained contact with an extraterrestrial named Zebalon (= He who Brings the Hosts of the Universe), who explained the approaching danger of the comet to him and advised him to build the Ark, which he then did in collaboration with his family and, hence, survived the immense flood – along with his family and with many domestic and land animals. These factual events have been handed down since approximately 98,000 years ago by word-of-mouth again and again, whereby the name Noahkadosser was gradually altered and fell into oblivion and finally ended in the name of Noah, while the extraterrestrial, who was in contact with Noahkadosser, was renamed and became elevated to a god. After the Biblical Flood, the actual Bible-Ark-Noah history was then created, whereby the true origin of the events ultimately became lost.

Ptaah:

119. That is what is also recorded in our chronicle with regard to the important events on the Earth.

120. Your explanation is, therefore, correct.

Billy:

It is simply astonishing, so I think, that in spite of the later biblical falsification, the history of the Ark has been so well-preserved for more than about 100,000 years, when one just considers that during that time, very few people lived on the whole Earth. Do you, perhaps, know the number of people who lived at the time of the comet catastrophe and the number of people who died?

Ptaah:

121. There exists with us no precise data about this but only estimates.

122. These say that prior to the massive tidal wave, approximately 870,000 people lived on that part of the Earth, but as a result of the catastrophe, about 650,000 lost their lives.

123. Out of the surviving 220,000, about 140 people lived on the Ark, who, after the time of the flood, then settled the land again in the Middle East, where many foreigners then also immigrated.

124. This total of about 220,000 people had it very hard because for many thousands of years, they were decimated again and again by epidemics and all sorts of other disasters; therefore, they could only multiply very slowly at first and only reached a total population of 11 million people about 10,000 years ago – distributed across the whole Earth, of course.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_249

Billy:

Now a question about the Noandakan, known to us as Noah. During our last conversation we also talked about him, but under the name Noankadosser. Are they two different people or are they one and the same person? If so, why do you use two different names?

Ptaah:

89. It is the same man who is called Noah on earth.

90. But Noah is only the short name of Noandakan or Noankadosser.

91. Noandakan is a name that goes back to the ancient lyric language and was used by the ancient lyrans on earth, while the name Noankadosser was coined and used by the earth people.

92. So when we talk about Noah or Noandakan and Noankadosser in this way, we are always talking about the same name, which by the way means 'man of rest'.

Billy:

From which earthly language then does the name Noankadosser originate?

Ptaah:

93. The language died out about 80,000 years ago.

94. The name for it was Sentalin.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_492

Billy:

... Earlier, when it was, I do not remember, I was told that the ship known as 'Noah's Ark' was roughly equivalent to the masses, as written in the Bible, for example. Could you perhaps tell me a little more precisely what the ark looked like? A ship at that time ...

Ptaah:

58. You must not make a comparison between the forms of ships in use today and the ark, because the ark had no similarity with the forms in use today and also in ancient times.

59. The information given in the Bible is wrong, which mentions 300 cubits length and 50 cubits width and 30 cubits height.

60. The ark was a large round structure, in the middle of which there was a building structure which took up about 1/6 of the total length respectively the diameter of the ship.

61. The width of the ship is therefore wrongly handed down, because the diameter of the ship was uniform, because it was round, while the wrongly handed down measurements of the width concerned the building amidships.

62. The ship was surrounded all around by a high wall, which is handed down as height.

63. In the area where the ark was built, there were large forests at that time. ...

65. What has been put into the Bible regarding the ark legend, goes back to old Mesopotamian and Sumerian legends, which date back to a Flood that happened about 100,000 years ago and tell the story of a man named Noankadnosser and his family, who was in contact with extraterrestrials and survived the Flood with his family and a small number of animals in an ark.

66. So the legend has not in any way anything to do with the biblical story, because the legend is based on a looted property that goes back to the ancient peoples of Mesopotamia and Sumeria and their ancient sagas and legends.

Billy:

Yeah, I remember what you told me about that. Somewhere there was the Four Stream Land with the so-called Garden of Eden, which was also stolen from the Mesopotamian and Sumerian legends and put into the Bible. The Four Stream Country was so called because the Euphrates, the Tigris and the rivers Pirou and Gihon, or whatever they were called, flowed through it. The four rivers flowed there somewhere into a delta, but today the Persian Gulf respectively the Arabian Gulf, as it is also called, exists there, but as of today – in the year 2010 – it was first created about 8,000 years ago by a tremendous natural catastrophe, in which, as in the case of the various other floods, 'tremendous wild waters' surged for thousands of years, thousands of years and even for more than 100,000 years. The term 'Sint' has nothing to do with 'sin', as this was reinterpreted by the influence of the church, but was reinterpreted again in the 20th century. You once explained to me that 'Sint' in an old pre-Germanic language meant as much as 'mighty', whereby in connection with the old term 'Vluot' respectively 'Flood', 'Sintfluot' respectively 'Sintflut', a 'mighty flood', had been created.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_799

Billy:

... lies spread in religions, such as in the 3 of Judaism, Christianity and Islam in the so-called religious books Torah, Bible and Koran, which could not be more hair-raising and lead back to Babylonian origins. For example, the so-called Flood was nothing more than a 'wild water' or a flood or high water as a result of a storm. This had an easy time in Babylonia at that time, because the 'water architects' had large watercourses built by the cities, whereby the rising wild waters could quickly burst their banks and cause floods. The Babylonians called such floods

'deluge', which the Jewish peoples had simply adopted in the same way when they were brought into captivity to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar and established the term 'deluge' with world flood and the like. There they had also heard of the fantasy story of the Flood and the fable of Noah's Ark, which was also written down in cuneiform by a scribe in Ur, although the name of the alleged Ark builder was renamed, as moreover the necessary material for the construction did not actually grow in Ur – today's Basra – but in the south of India. Moreover, it must also be said that ancient cuneiform writings dating from the early primeval times of Babylonia state that this 'ark' was supposed to be around 70 metres in diameter, which at that time was an impossibility to build such a thing and to seal it with bitumen in such a way that it would have been waterproof. Not to mention how it would have been possible with a round boat – which, by the way, are still in use today in certain areas of Iraq and measure about 1.5 to 3 metres – which, according to an ancient cuneiform inscription, would have had a diameter of just about 70 metres, to take a pair of each animal species on board, since there are known to be millions of different species of animals, creatures and other living beings. At that time many more than today, because in the meantime the human beings have already exterminated many of them. Nevertheless, all these Babylonian stories were taken over by the Jewish peoples, who were very strongly influenced by the Babylonian beliefs and integrated much into their own religion, which was later also adopted in the Torah, the Bible and the Koran. ...

North Pole discovery

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/North_Pole#Exploration https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Wally_Herbert

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_547

Billy:

... But I have another question about the discovery of the North Pole. There were two Americans, Robert Edwin Peary and Frederick Albert Cook, who first went on some expeditions etc. together, but then became enemies, especially when it came to first entering the North Pole. Both started their own expeditions in this regard, after which each declared that he had reached his goal. However, this could never be proven to either of them in any way and therefore could not be proven by corresponding facts. Cook claimed to have been on the Pole before Peary, which led to him being severely defamed by the selfish Peary and made impossible for the rest of the world. To this day, however, to my knowledge, there is no proof as to which of the two was first on the North Pole. Do you know anything about this?

Ptaah:

53. In this respect, I can actually tell you a few things, because from our side there has always been an interest in such undertakings, as there still is today.

54. Consequently, such undertakings were and are observed by us, which is why I can tell you that neither of them had ever reached the North Pole, neither Peary nor Cook.

55. The really first Earth-human who set foot on the North Pole for the first time was a man named Walter William Herbert, an Englishman.

56. He was the first to reach the Pole on the 6th of April 1969 but was also followed by his expedition companions.

Michel Nostradamus

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Nostradamus>

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_165

Billy:

... I have tried to bring some reason among the human beings in this regard, but the newspapers and magazines, etc. have neither noted nor published my articles. They just cannot make any money with the truth, which is why they only set forth senseless and false prophetic nonsense of pseudo astrologers, pseudo clairvoyants, and other charlatans and conjurers, whereby they also still mistakenly involve Nostradamus among and with these and maintain that he already prophesied the same nonsense even then, even though not a word of this is true and his gloomy prophecies that include planetary phenomena relate to completely different events, which still lie far in the future. But over and over again, these twits and would-be experts of Nostradamus' prophecies appear, who then claim that they have found the key to unraveling his prophecies, particularly because certain events of the world are repeated again and again, and so then, these lunatics are misled to accept that a prophecy had been devised for such an event. This is best seen with the events of Napoleon's time, with the events of the First and Second World War, and with the running time since then. Nevertheless, every possible and impossible prophecy of Nostradamus is actually pressed into these events, even though they do not describe these incidents at all and these are to be found in other centuries. But the cunning fraudsters make millions with this and become stinking rich through this. It really is a shame, and indeed, a rather damned one.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_214

Billy:

And in sectarian circles, this will probably again be an occasion to make a doomsday scenario, as this will certainly also be the case with the solar eclipse appearing in Europe on the 11th of August, 1999, about which even Nostradamus has written, but which is misunderstood, unfortunately.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_241

Ptaah:

484. This fact is ridiculed just as you are ridiculed around the globe, as Nostradamus prophesied about you when he said that you would be mocked at the time when the great earthquake in California was near and when the wall of the GDR fell.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_250

Billy:

During the last time I have dealt a little more thoroughly with Nostradamus as well as with his so-called prophecies. I never had any reason to do so before. Recently someone asked me about Michel Nostradamus and other visionaries. So I tried to do these things. My knowledge was this: Nostradamus was indeed a seer who foresaw many things. But many of his statements are not actual prophecies, as it is generally so gladly seen, because often they are so to speak prophylactic warnings, if I may say so. With this insight I have also found out that so far in fact none of those persons have found the key to the Nostradamus statements who claim that of themselves. Moreover, the realization of the Nostradamus statements depends on the fact that in world politics no improving situations are created which would change the course of world events etc. for the better, as this must be the case with prophecies if they are to be fulfilled. This fact also applies to statements of other visionaries etc., which appear in large numbers. ...

... The religious fanatics and all kinds of religious sectarians are now in high season again. But these are also mainly the ones who transform purely prophylactic warnings of seers and real prophets into enormous threats and blasphemous assertions, as well as the statements of Michel Nostradamus, who was actually Medicus, healer, astrologer and alchemist of his sign. Truthfully not many of his prophecies have arrived yet, but only just 14%, which is why one has to be extremely careful with the term 'seer'. What will come out in terms of his prophylactic statements for the future will be proven in the time to come. According to his statements, if all his warnings and also the prophecies are true, a great deal will be changed in this world. With a review of Nostradamus' way of working I also found out that only after the 1st of March 2055 the actual great events should occur, whereby this should also be the point in time from which the key for his statements should possibly be found and fathomed. Somehow, it seems to me, Michel Nostradamus also wanted to set a monument to himself with his works, because he wanted to remain in people's memories. Nevertheless, a seer and prophet cannot be denied him to a certain degree, as is the case with the most diverse other seers, whose statements I have examined and clarified.

...

Billy:

... We already talked about Nostradamus. About him certain people say that some of his warnings and prophecies are tendentious Jewish-Arab.

Ptaah:

202. There are indeed some things true, but this is not surprising when you know that his parents were of Jewish faith and that he was also taught in the Jewish religion as well as in Islam.

203. Nonetheless, Nostradamus was strongly attached to the Christian faith and was quite unobjective and misguided in this regard.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_275

Billy:

Actually, I did not want to talk about tomorrow, the 11th of August 1999, but a question was put to me about that day. You know that many false prophets who deal with astrology and Nostradamus predicted a lot of disaster tomorrow, even the beginning of the Third World War and the end of the world, which is of course all nonsense. The starting point for all these gloomy false assertions and prophecies is Michel Notre-Dame alias Michel Nostradamus and his prophecies respectively, whereby in particular Centuria X (10/72) is used, which explains the following, as I read here:

"L'an mil neuf cent nonante neuf-sept mois,
You ciel viendra an grand roy d'effrayeur:
Résusciter le grand Roy d'Angolmois,
Avant et après Mars régner par bonheur."

Translated into German, it means something like:

"In the year nineteen hundred and ninety nine
A great king of horrors comes from heaven;
Angolmois' great king resurrected
Before, after Mars, the kingdom shall be happy."

Another translation:

"In 1999, the seventh month,
A great king of horrors will appear in the sky:
He will awaken the great king of Angolmois from the dead,
Before and after, Mars will rule at a good time."

As you hear, some things emerge from these two translations that do not exactly coincide, and the more you read such translations of the Nostradamus verses, the more you encounter inconsistencies. Also with regard to the interpretations or interpretations of the prophetic verses, a great salad prevails, for there are attributed to events that have taken place some Nostradamus verses, which in reality have completely different reasons and took place at different times than the 'deciphers' and 'unravelers' of the Nostradamus prophecies claim. So far, in truth, only a few prophetic verses written by Michel Nostradamus have really been deciphered, such as the part of centuria X/72 that refers to the eclipse of the sun of the 11th of August 1999. But all the nonsense of the false prophets, who refer to their astrological 'abilities' and to the centurion X/72 of Nostradamus, has absolutely nothing to do with his prophecies. Also that tomorrow's eclipse of the sun is supposed to cause some disaster in the short or long term, or that a 'spiritual' change of the world results from it, or even the Third World War or the end of the world, this corresponds not only to a nonsensical assertion, but also to an effective nonsense, and that no matter by which false prophets the idiotic statements and assertions are made. Solar eclipses, both partial and total, have existed for millions of years, for as long as Earth, moon and sun have existed. And never did a solar eclipse have any influence on earthly world events or on the changes of consciousness of man. The only influences that appeared were those of faith and delusion, although these were not triggered by the eclipse itself, but solely by the fear and delusion of the people themselves, who always saw something dangerous, terrifying, disastrous and frightening behind an eclipse event. And although Nostradamus was somewhat more knowledgeable and enlightened than his contemporaries, he also saw in an eclipse of the sun all those horrors which the other mad believers of his time also saw and as there are many such still today; first of all the false prophets and prophetesses of astrological and Nostradamian as well as similar nature. I just wanted to have said that. But now to the question that I actually wanted to address to you: How did Michel Notre-Dame or Nostradamus actually come to his prophetic verses? Was he clairvoyant or did he have inspirations? Was everything based on astrological calculations or did he have visions? For my part I cannot answer this question exactly, why I need your help. I am also interested in myself, which is why I think that you can certainly help me by answering the questions correctly. Since my interest has also been aroused, it is not exclusively a question from other people. What do you mean?

Ptaah:

1. First of all I would like to agree with all what you have explained concerning Nostradamus and the false prophets, and I think that this was good, because surely you will write down and publish our present conversation as a contact report, whereby also all interested persons in this relationship receive the correct information.
2. Secondly, I think that it is correct that I can answer your questions, as the interest in this is mainly with you.
3. So it has to be explained that Nostradamus compiled his prophetic verses in different ways, namely by performing astrological and astronomical calculations, but also by having visions and clairvoyant abilities.
4. But he mixed all this with so-called means of expanding consciousness, because he was addicted to drugs and opium.
5. However, this did not prevent him from grasping real prophetic moments and dressing them in verses.
6. More cannot actually be explained, because you yourself have brought up the further necessary issues.

Petrozavodsk phenomenon

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_107

Pleija:

19. You are surely still able to remember that in autumn of last year, a flying object unknown to us appeared, which responded to none of our calls.
20. To this day, we still have not been able to get a hold of it either, even though it still moves in the earthly space.

21. So far, if we tried to get a hold of this object, it regularly escaped by retreating into a dimension unknown to us.
22. This same object, in the course of last autumn, has now done some things that are incomprehensible to us, and we expect that the same or similar events will happen again.
23. Thus, this flying object, with which it undoubtedly concerns a small spaceship, caused some devastation in Russia last autumn.
24. Thus, this approximately 100-meter wide ship ventured in broad daylight over the Russian city of Petrozavodsk and shot down on the Earth with already well-developed laser cannons, whereby some damage was caused.
25. Of course, the inhabitants of the city were moved into fear and fright through this, and everything did not exactly serve to produce a friendly disposition toward all those who come from outside of the Earth to this planet.
- ...
26. It was on Tuesday, on the 20th of September, 1977, at 4:07 PM.
27. The object – no doubt a small spaceship, as I already said – came over the city of Petrozavodsk at Lake Onega, shot out of the clouds, paused for more than 11 minutes over the port area, and then, suddenly and for inexplicable reasons, set its laser cannons in function.

Billy:

... the fact that the Philadelphia Experiment only corresponds to a fantastic swindle, because such an experiment has never taken place. ...

15. And what can be said about the so-called Philadelphia Experiment, about which first of all an author named Berlitz wrote an imaginative book:

16. There has never been such an experiment, neither in the USA nor anywhere else on earth.

17. The whole fantastic story is basically based on the fraudulent claims of a man named Kal Allen regarding an alleged experiment with a ship called the 'USS Eldrige'.

18. The man thought that his tall tale would enhance his image and make him rich.

19. When he did not succeed and the situation became too precarious for him to be exposed as a liar, he disappeared without a trace.

Billy:

I know the story, but I did not know what the ship was called. It is said that in October 1943 the US Navy conducted an experiment in the port of Philadelphia with enormous electromagnetic oscillations etc., whereby the ship mentioned then disappeared without a trace and reappeared 500 kilometres away in the port of Norfolk, only to disappear again after a short time and become visible again in the port of Philadelphia.

Pope John Paul I murder

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Pope_John_Paul_I_conspiracy_theories

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_113

Billy:

It is on account of the new Pope in Rome: when will this twit be elected, who will he be, and how long will he remain in his office, etc.?

Quetzal:

103. ... the new Pope will not exercise his office very long.

104. The new Pope will be determined by means of a very short voting period and by only 111 cardinals, who will appoint a cardinal by the name of Luciani as the new Pope by the conclave on Saturday, the 26th of August.

105. His new name will be Pope John Paul I.

106. As brief as the time for his appointment will be, so brief will his term of office also be.

107. After the mentioning of his name in the conclave, it will then take exactly 33 minutes before he is appointed as the new Pope by the conclave.

108. This 33-minute consultation time will also be exactly the number of days, during which he will exercise his office as Pope, then to finish his life on the 28th of September, 1978, at exactly 11:07 PM, without anyone being with him; therefore, he will part from this world alone.

109. His death, however, will not be a natural one but a forced one, which will in turn be caused by a poison that stops heart activity, which then gives the impression of a heart attack.

110. The new Pope will be assassinated because he will shock the aristocratic rule of the Vatican and even horrify it by his behaviour and his lifestyle.

111. But so will he also make deadly enemies among the cardinals and many others, for he will break the tradition of the Pope's coronation with a papal crown and only allow a fairly simple ceremony.

112. But the new Pope will be too people-friendly in the eyes and thoughts of many authoritative Vatican officials, which is not good for the Vatican because it would lose power through this.

113. So already a few hours after his appointment, a conspiracy will be forged, which will have the goal of removing this Pope John Paul I very quickly from his office, and to be sure, by an assassination of the same.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_230

Billy:

... at the beginning of August 1978 Pope Paul VI retired from life at the age of 80 and then on 26 August Pope John Paul I was elected to the office. To my knowledge his real name was Albino Luciani. However, he could not enjoy his position for long, because due to his strong tendency towards reforms and his desire to turn much of Catholicism upside down, he was already made departing from life 34 days later by a secret cardinal-decision of the arch-conservative and fundamentalist cardinals using a poison that was not detectable. Of course, this was vehemently denied by the Vatican in October, after the Polish Cardinal Karol Wojtyła was elected Pope, who called himself John Paul II in accordance with his direct predecessor. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_376

Billy:

And what I wanted to ask you: Popes are not allowed to be dissected or examined when they are dead. Of course, since the emergence of the papacy, this has encouraged the possibility that one or the other has been cut off from life, which was also the case with Pope John Paul I in the last century. In the past 2000 years, there have been a great many popes in power, and I ask myself whether, in addition to John Paul I, others have been killed by clerical officials? ...

Ptaah:

64. Regarding the murders of popes:

65. Yes, there were more, and in addition to John Paul I, 13 other popes were murdered by high clerical officials.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_497

Ptaah:

24. Stalin was murdered with a rodenticide, with a chemical agent to control mice and rats etc.

25. The poison is known as 'Warfarin', which is a blood-thinning, odorless and tasteless poison that causes intracranial haemorrhaging, ie bleeding in the brain respectively the skull, the gastrointestinal tract and the urinary tract.

26. This strong poison can also be absorbed through the skin pores and through breathing. ...

29. Pope Paul VI, John XXIII, Abdel Gamal Nasser and King Paul I of Greece were murdered in the same way.

Billy:

Semjase said then that the poison was not detectable in the body after the murder.

Ptaah:

30. At that time it was indeed still difficult to detect the poison in the dead body, because on the one hand it largely evaporated, and on the other hand the persons responsible for the murder strictly prevented the possibility of detection.

Pope Paul VI murder

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Pope_Paul_VI#Death

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_1

Asket:

167. Just as with Stalin, the same very rapidly volatilising from the body poison will be used to murder Pope John the Twenty-third in the year 1963, who will hold his office for only a very short number of years.

168. But also his successor, Pope Paul the Sixth, will be eliminated in the same manner, through machinations of the cardinals, in collaboration with extremists hostile towards Zionists and Jews, who have already forged their murderous intrigues at the present time and are already putting the things to come on track.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_055

Billy:

Asket once said that Pope Paul VI would be poisoned shortly after he took office. In contrast to other statements that have always been confirmed, this statement of hers did not come true.

Can you tell me why not?

Semjase:

74. It has occurred, and two years after his appointment as chief pastor.

Billy:

You speak in riddles. How am I supposed to understand that? Pope Paul VI is still alive, and yet he has been poisoned and is therefore dead? So this really goes beyond my 'spiritual' horizon.

Semjase:

75. I want to explain it to you, but you cannot make it public yet. ...

79. ... Two years after his appointment, Pope Paul VI was recognised by a Vatican Council decision of the Catholic bishops and cardinals as being opposed to their purposes on secret matters, which meant that he was not suitable for their dishonest might-seeking purposes, which is why it was recognised in a secret ballot that the chief pastor should be brought to death by the hand of assassins and replaced by a doppelganger faithfully devoted to the bishops and cardinals.

80. So Pope Paul was murdered by poison and replaced by a cardinal of striking resemblance.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_056

Semjase:

4. Through the Vatican Council, a Cardinal named Pietro Pavese was appointed the new Supreme Pontiff of the Catholic Church, who, however, was not willing and unaccommodating to the plans of a certain few bishops and cardinals.

5. By this decision he, Cardinal Pietro Pavese, was given the name Pope Paul VI.

6. But by intriguing machinations of said few Bishops and Cardinals, his appointment as Supreme Pontiff was revoked still in the same hour in a secret circle and in his place a Cardinal with the name Giovanni Battista Montini, who looked deceptively similar to him in appearance, was then officially proclaimed Pope Paul VI, because he was submissive to the will and desires of the few, but very powerful and radical-conservative Bishops and Cardinals.

7. But the real Pope Paul VI Pietro Pavese, who was fundamentally innovative and revolutionary in his convictions and wanted to modernise the Catholic Church in accordance with the times and bring it into line with the current state of modern knowledge, was deprived of his freedom because of the danger that he would make the Council's intrigue known, and was imprisoned in the Vatican for two years, up until the last degrees of his familial ties, etc. of Pietro Pavese's were known, through further ecclesiastical intrigues.

8. Of course, everything was researched in secret, as is characteristic of the Catholic Church.

9. After the most exact knowledge of all kinship-factors, all the relatives of the imprisoned were murdered abruptly by hired assassins, in fact by different methods.

10. Then, when the certainty reigned that no relatives, etc. were among the living, Pope Paul VI was also murdered, by poison.

11. And to be absolutely sure that this enormous intrigue and series of murders would never become known, the ecclesiastical power of the Catholic office erased all records in the birth registers, etc., so that today nothing points to the former existence of the real Pope Paul VI and his relatives, etc.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_108

Billy:

... it concerns Pope Paul VI. Last year, my probability calculations yielded that he would have to die this year. Now, this calculation has simply bothered me recently, which is why I tried to get more exact and more precise data, and through this, I encountered a very specific date and a very specific time. Now, I just wonder if my calculation does not have any mistakes and if everything is actually right.

Ptaah:

3. Then give me the data.

Billy:

Okay, see here, I wrote it down there: the day of death is the 6th of August, 1978. I have calculated the time, with the result of 2040 hours and 13 seconds. The death, according to my calculations, should occur by a heart attack, in which case the body will give up its function as a result of an oxygen deficiency.

Ptaah:

4. You were very thorough in your calculations because you gave me the same data that we ourselves already fathomed years ago through an apparatus-based analysis.

5. But do you also know the place where the spirit of the man will leave the body?

Billy:

If my calculations are right, then, and if I describe the place correctly, then it must be the Pope's summer residence, Castel Gandolfo.

Ptaah:

6. That is also of absolute correctness ...

Quetzal:

134. Now, I still have a question, namely in accordance with your interjection of 8:00 PM, etc.

Protocols of the Elders of Zion https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Protocols_of_the_Elders_of_Zion

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_280

Billy:

Today, the anti-Semitic neo-Nazi and other racist and right-wing extremist circles are using all governments and high-ranking government figures as well as all banks and their bosses – first and foremost the Rothschilds and the business magnates, etc. – in the slanderous machinations of the 'Protocols' in order to stir up hatred especially against the Jewish world and its alleged world government.

During the Nazi era, the anti-Semitic inflammatory writing 'Protokolle der Weisen von Zion' (Protocols of the Wise Men of Zion) was spread by the Nazis with proclamations and cheers, not only in Germany, but also wherever Nazis were active in other countries. In Switzerland, these were the Fröntler who circulated the Lie Protocols when Adolf Hitler finally seized power in Germany in the spring of 1933. This led the Jewish organizations in Switzerland to take legal action against the defamatory protocols at the Bern District Court. The trial attracted worldwide attention, and it was made clear that the alleged protocols were a forgery or a work of lies. Unfortunately, a few years later, the verdict was trivialised and, so to speak, overturned again by the Supreme Court, which meant that the lies and slander against the Jews were once again outlawed.

The 'Protocols of the Wise Men of Zion' are nothing other than lies, deception and deception in truly international criminal form. They are a tremendously slanderous work of irresponsible, criminal anti-Semites; an evil work of genocide and insult to the people, with which Adolf Hitler and his henchmen also functioned and which contributed immensely to the fact that in Hitler's Nazi Empire millions of innocent Jews and also of people of other races and of other faiths – men, women and children – were tortured, tortured and handed over terrible deaths.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_445

Billy:

... Book works and writings such as the so-called 'Protocols of the Wise Men of Zion' are the worst slanderous works. They are invented conspiracies for the purpose of slandering, persecuting and destroying the people of the Jewish faith. Virtually all writings and books of this kind bear witness to a confused Nazi, political, extreme right-wing and religious fanaticism of the most degenerate kind, generally aimed at denigrating the Jewish faithful and fomenting hatred for Jews and the destruction of Israel. ...

The 'Protocols of the Wise Men of Zion' are based on a malicious forgery, which is the basis of modern anti-Semitism. This forgery circulates under various names, but the 'Protocols of the Elders of Zion' is the best known and most enduring document of modern international anti-Semitism. The term 'forgery' must be used with the utmost caution, however, because it is in no way appropriate for this case, because there is no genuine original, because, in the sense of the 'Protocols of the Elders of Zion', it was not a Jewish 'wise man' who produced such a document. But a forgery would be that a genuine document would have had to be fraudulently reproduced as closely as possible to the original in order to pass it off as genuine. With regard to the 'Protocols of the Elders of Zion', however, there has never been a real original that could have been copied, but it was from the very beginning a pure and smooth invention or a freely found fiction without any truth content. If we dispense with a few half- or incomprehensible allusions to French or Russian politics at the turn of the century, the protocol fiction lacks any reference to reality.

In fact, it should be possible to think that every reasonable and unprejudiced person should have noticed the absurd, frivolous and fantastic nature of the text of the 'Protocols of the Wise Men of Zion' from the very beginning, because the whole thing is extremely badly written and full of extremely tiring repetitions, with no recognizable and logical structure, except for a rough three-theme sequence in relation to liberalism. This is supposed to correspond to the intention of Judaism to seize world domination and create a utopian empire under an absolutist Jewish monarchy. Otherwise, the discourse is lost in contemporary historical jugglery and economic whims. The tiresome repetitions are to be seen purely from a psychological point of view, because through constant repetition man learns, or rather 'drops fill the glass', because through the endless repetitions the whole thing hammers itself in, whereby man – just like when learning through constant repetition – memorizes everything. In the case of the 'Protocols of the Wise Men of Zion', however, everything is hammered in by the tiring repetitions in such a way that it evokes thoughts of fear and feelings of anxiety and thus involuntarily the delusion of a Jewish conspiracy to dominate the world and mankind. ...

Ptaah:

12. Already at the 280th contact conversation on the 3rd of March 2000 and at the 445th of the 8th of March 2007, we talked about the falsified 'Protocols of the Wise Men of Zion', which are based on malicious lies and slander and have conjured up dramatic events.

13. Basically, this work of lies and slander, created at the beginning of the 20th century, can be traced back to the Russian secret service.

14. Lying and slanderous, this book claims that a secret world conspiracy has been uncovered, which originated with Judaism and had the aim of achieving world domination.

15. This is to be achieved through capitalism and with the help of Freemasons and communism.

16. These alleged 'Protocols of the Wise Men of Zion' were processed into a book that sold like hot cakes and was considered to be the undeniable truth, and is also still considered to be the real truth by all conspiracy believers today.

17. This did not and does not leave the believers in this forgery in any doubt, although shortly after the book was published it could be proven beyond doubt that it was a common forgery, intended to malign and discredit the entire Jewish world and to incite an inflammatory hunt against the widespread Jewish people.

18. The evidence was of no use, however, because after the book had been sold it was too late to be able to satisfy the truth about the forger's file, which was the false 'Protocols of the Wise Men of Zion'.

19. The whole thing was printed and sold en masse in the 20th century as a lying and slanderous smear book in large editions, and Germany in particular was literally flooded with it, and also became a basic work for Adolf Hitler and for the Nazis, whose anti-Jewish propaganda was based on this slanderous work.

20. Hitler, who himself was partly of Jewish descent, took the false 'Protocols' and used them to fulfil his lust for power, for his criminal work and to trigger the Second World War.

21. With the help of the falsified 'Protocols of the Wise Men of Zion' he incited himself and the German population against the Jews, finding particularly diligent supporters for his anti-Jewish propaganda among those who glorified him and with whom he was able to build up the Nazi system.

22. And it is a fact that Adolf Hitler's plans for world conquest, which were criminal to humanity, were only discovered through the wrong 'protocols', with the old Thule Society supporting him in his mania for war and world domination.

23. Only through this it was also possible, against false 'chroniclers' and false 'factual experts' in the matter of Adolf Hitler etc., that this fanatical and insane criminal of humanity could lead the world into the Second World War and the Holocaust.

24. But fanatics and lunatics in the matter of Jew-hatred existed and exist in many countries on Earth, whereby nowadays especially the neo-Nazis in Germany, Russia and the USA have to be mentioned.

25. But even before the Second World War, the USA made a big name for itself in terms of hatred of Jews as a result of the book of the 'Protocols of the Wise Men of Zion', whereby the automobile giant Henry Ford stood out in particular, who had malicious and hateful inflammatory writings against Judaism printed in huge editions and spread them everywhere. ...

32. Osama bin Laden regarded the false 'protocols' as the truth and built his anti-Semitic hatred on them, which he then extended to the USA and the Christian world as well.

Pyramids of Giza / Great Pyramid

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Giza_pyramid_complex

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Great_Pyramid_of_Giza

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_4

Asket:

1. You wonder about the age of the pyramid.

2. In truth its history is somewhat confused, because its origins lead back to very early times.

3. Were I to tell them to you now, their meaning and the history of its origin would lead much too far.

4. So I will only tell you the required data, according to which you can form a picture for yourself.

5. This, and also a few other pyramids on the Earth, was constructed when the constellation of Lyra (Lyre - Explanation of September 4th, 1975) was positioned in the sign of Cancer.

6. That results in a time span of 2 x 36,650 years and therefore 73,300 years in total.

7. You must calculate 2 x 36,650 years back from the time of the Hegira in order for you to obtain the correct figure.

8. Until shortly before the great deluge, about 9,545 B.C., the pyramids here in this land remained abandoned to their fate and nobody bothered anymore about them.
9. But they acquired a significance again 300 years before the deluge, even if not in their original sense, which unfortunately, for many kinds of reasons, may not be named.
10. But it still has to be explained that the erroneous assumptions, of all of the Earth scientists, about the time of the ark-deluge are just as very wrong - by umpteen thousands of years - as are the erroneous calculations, to which they have succumbed, about the times of various kings and emperors who lived thousands of years ago.
11. The actual time, which was handed down to you [Earthlings], of the deluge of the ark, is also greatly falsified, because it occurred nearly 100,000 years ago and therefore must be calculated to be very much earlier than the lifetime of King SAHLUK who had taken over an important role in regard to the pyramids.
12. King Sahluk lived about 300 years before the great deluge.
13. He had a son named SAURID, who in large measure had the ability to see into the future.
14. In this way, in a dream, he saw a great comet which pulled along seven smaller comets behind it, which collided with the Earth with terrible roaring sounds, whereby darkness came upon the world.
15. Saurid saw countless humans die because of that, because they were killed by the seven impacting comets.
16. The few survivors did not know where they could save themselves in order to escape a hail of projectiles from outer space - which accompanied the catastrophe - as well as the resulting stinking and hot bodies of water.
17. Saurid reported his bad dream to his father who summoned all the astrologers and scientists in the land.
18. By means of difficult work and written records they found out that, in the course of three hundred years, a gigantic comet would fall to Earth, throwing it out of its orbit and turning it in its course.
19. In order to keep from having the survival of terrestrial humanity put into question by this expected catastrophe, King Sahluk ordered that the already existing pyramids be prepared as protection stations and survival stations for the humans of the still distant future.
20. He also directed that underground villages and stores of goods be established and non-perishable food be stowed in the pyramids and underground villages.
21. His descendents, as well as the later rulers of the land, also were faithful to these directions.
22. Over the following three hundred years the pyramids were maintained and also their outer sides were covered with very thick layers of lime in order to keep the water out.
23. In the writing of that time they also fabricated signs in the layer of lime which told of the coming events so that they would not be forgotten by anybody.
24. When the gigantic comet actually came - which penetrated this universe and the solar system from another space-time configuration, and is still today named The Destroyer by many life-forms - the humans made their way to the pyramids and underground villages and shut themselves into them.
25. The comet turned the Earth, flooded it with all the bodies of water and destroyed and annihilated everything which was at its mercy.
26. Only a few masses of humans and animals of all kinds survived without the constructions for their protection and once again Earth humanity had to find a new start after this catastrophe, as had already repeatedly been the case in earlier times.
27. Originally the pyramids and their construction lead back to the sons of heaven - those who travel among the stars - those who were actually the original settlers of this world.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_052

Semjase:

52. When the pyramids were built, the astronomers at that time were already calculating the further fate of the Earth.

53. According to the data derived from that the measurements of the pyramids were worked out.

54. The calculations revealed that many thousands of years in the future a catastrophe would once again threaten the Earth from the cosmos, like at the time of the construction of the pyramids.

55. For indicating the impending catastrophe to the Earth's inhabitants of later millennia, the obtained measurement data of astronomical nature of the distant future was therefore built into the pyramids.

56. That means that they were constructed according to the data and measurements, which will precisely then match with the astronomical data, when the catastrophe from space begins to loom anew.

57. Astronomy was very capable in those days, and thus calculated the dates very precisely.

58. They even observed several world crashes in their calculations and were able to calculate the dates with extremely accurate precision in that manner.

59. As precalculated the Earth did then actually crash and proved the science of those days, meanwhile long gone, to be right.

60. And now the time is slowly fulfilling, since the astronomical measurement data which, as explained, served and were decisive for the construction of the pyramids, are gradually corresponding with the astronomical values of the present time, and announcing the thus more than 70,000 years ago prophesied happening.

61. And that occurrence will precisely be then, when the sunlight of a far away star passes through the tube-like opening of the revelation, which stretches from outside the Giza pyramid to the centre, in a straight uninterrupted line and illuminates a particular point.

62. I am not allowed to explain more about it. ...

Billy:

... But now how about certain secrets, claimed to have grown up around the pyramids, and how had they been built, perhaps with machines?

Semjase:

67. There are no actual secrets to be mentioned, besides these of the existence of the Giza intelligences, as well as the issues around the measurement data in the context of the looming danger and the issue of the starlight which will shine at the given time through the opening of the revelation.

68. The pyramids were not built by telekinetic 'spiritual forces', as certain earthly fantasists claim, but through tried and tested techniques, as you however already know, so I need no more to tell about it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_127

Billy:

... Is it right that the total number of elements is 280?

Semjase:

58. How did you come across this result?

Billy:

It was not me, my child, but Guido. For my part, I have only calculated that this number must, indeed, correspond to the correctness because it has been found that this number, multiplied in a sevenfold form with the original height of the Giza Pyramid, results in the current speed of light to the tenths place exactly.

Semjase:

59. You are simply unbelievable.

60. The number of the elements is just as correct as also your calculation with the sevenfold multiplying of the original pyramid height.

61. The end result actually yields the exact number of the present light constant.

Billy:

How Guido actually came across the number 280, that I do not know exactly. He only wrote me a calculation formula. It is important there, however, that the base number 280 is right, with which I could calculate further and do some checks. So I simply applied the pyramid height number to this 280 and then multiplied the result in a unique sevenfold form, from which then the result of the speed of light arose.

Semjase:

62. You should not make these results known too much yet, however.

Billy:

You mean that I should remain silent about it?

Semjase:

63. Sure, at least about the numerical values of the real original pyramid height.

64. Up to now, this is still unknown to the terrestrial scientists of certain fields of knowledge, and it would not be good if they would get to know these already now.

65. In two to three years, however, to make this number known will not play a large role anymore.

66. Until then, however, you should be careful.

Billy:

So far, those who deal with these things reckon with completely incorrect data regarding the pyramid height, resulting in false conclusions and new, incorrect results.

Semjase:

67. Sure, but all these things are much more widely branching than you might imagine at the moment.

68. The data of the pyramid extend into physics and into many other sciences.

69. And these data provide basic formulas for very specific calculations, which lead to tremendous inventions of all kinds and to enormous progress.

70. But if these inventions and progress would already be initiated now by revealing the true data, then the determined path of evolution would be disturbed, by which means an even very much greater catastrophe would be triggered on Earth by the human beings of Earth than what might be the case in the coming future.

71. The mentioning of the true data would lead to calculations and insights that would point the terrestrial sciences to ways and possibilities, of which they are not yet master and which could, therefore, only end in a hopeless catastrophe.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_150

Quetzal:

479. The moon, the former planetary fragment, already joined the Earth as a satellite a few million years ago, while the much slower Destroyer that followed it first entered the SOL-System about 970,000 years ago, causing a tremendous Earth catastrophe.

480. A large part of the Earth-humans at that time, however, found protection and survival because they had been warned by our ancestors regarding the coming of the Destroyer and the impending disasters, consequently, they built themselves structures like the Pyramids and also other shelters.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_155

Billy:

Another question about this: here, you have only given me the primary data; therefore, there still should have been other incidents of lesser importance.

Quetzal:

73. That is of correctness, but on the one hand, they really are not very important, and on the other hand, they are part of a much earlier history, such as the destruction of the planet Malon, over which you are oriented and have also received information about it.

74. The Earth was also slightly affected at that time, when this inhabited planet exploded, having been destroyed by human hands.

Billy:

When was that anyway?

Quetzal:

75. At the time of the building of the pyramids, so about 73,000 years ago.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_215

Billy:

... But tell me, what is actually going on now with what you told me about the building of the pyramids, namely that human powers, respectively human muscle power, had accomplished the building of the pyramids. Years ago, I was told that telekinetic forces had been in play, by which means the large cubes should have been moved through the air by thought, respectively consciousness powers, which are and have always been mistakenly referred to as mental powers. But now, you have said something else. How does that reconcile itself?

Quetzal:

295. My recently given explanation is just as correct as that which you were given a few years ago.

296. Both recently as well as before, you only asked for a certain explanation, but not for one that should be complete.

297. So now, however, I will explain to you that both human muscle power, which accomplished most of the work, as well as telekinetic powers were used in the building of the pyramids.

298. The human muscle power was used by the human beings of the Earth, who worked on the building, while the telekinetic powers were used by the foreigners from the star systems Orion and Leo, and of these foreigners, however, only a few had powerful telekinetic powers, thus, only small works were settled in this manner.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_222

Billy:

Then I once again have a question regarding the Egyptian pyramids, as I was also asked about them. Unfortunately, I no longer remember exactly what Ptaah, Semjase, and Asket explained to me, but somehow, I think it was said to me that the first pyramids were built around 73,300 years ago or so, but later dismantled again because they fell to decay, namely through rotting in the interior as well as through the weather. In particular, this refers to the Pyramids of Giza but also to many other pyramids all over the world. Afterwards, everything was rebuilt, which should have happened around 10,800 or 11,000 years ago. At this time, about 300 years before the Great Flood, a certain king Sahluk was the person of power, who ordered the dismantling and alteration of the Great Pyramid of Giza and allowed this to be carried out. But again, everything moldered over the course of the following millennia and fell to decay, so about 4,500 years ago, an enormous pyramid work resulted once more, as everything that was moldering and decaying was torn away, removed, and replaced; thus, accordingly, new stone blocks were cut and then dragged and set up by human power. At the same time, the main pyramid completely lost its internal structure and organisation, and it was built anew under the strict power of Cheops and completely revamped. Therefore, one can very well say that the current pyramid of Giza can actually also be called the Pyramid of Cheops, even though its actual origin traces back to other and partly Earth-foreign builders from the constellation of Orion, and indeed, to a time of two stellar ages ago, one of which is reckoned as around 36,650 years, and thus, in a 2-times form, yields a time of 73,300 years, whereby this time must be set before the Islamic Hegira, however.

And when we speak of the Pyramid of Giza, we always speak of the pyramid that must be seen as the original pyramid, even if today, the new production is addressed, which is, of course, already about 4,500 years old and is exposed to rotting and decay, and which also no longer exhibits its original measure of 152.5 metres in height but only 146 or 148 metres. This great pyramid, together with the others, is aligned in its formatting to the constellation of Orion, while the Khafre structure, I mean the Sphinx structure, was aligned to the constellation of Leo. The new pyramid, as well as all the others and the Sphinx structure, were built in more recent times, so about 4,500 years ago, solely by Earth-humans, by their own personnel. The builders were early Egyptians, like also the largest part of the workers, who were free people and artisans to a certain part, while many others, who came in small numbers as slaves from other countries, had to perform their hard work, together with a small number of domestic slaves. That majority of the workers, however, was based on free Egyptians. For the purpose of the nourishment of all workforces, a veritable industrial food-city was built near the pyramid, and also mass campsites were provided for resting and sleeping, as well as tombs for the many deceased, who were at work there. That is how I remember it being explained to me by you. Now, is this right, or did I fall into a fallacy?

Quetzal:

41. Everything is of correctness; so therefore, no further explanation is necessary.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_228

Quetzal:

121. Beyond Pluto's orbit there are also two different belts of comets and wandering planets, many of which enter the inner solar system at regular, periodic and also sporadic intervals. ...

123. The first belt, a zone, is measured from the sun to more than 150,000 astronomical units away.

124. One astronomical unit corresponds to the average distance from the Sun to the Earth, i.e. 149,597,870 kilometres.

125. In earlier times, when the pyramids of Giza were built, this distance was 152.5 million kilometres; a figure that is also of enormous importance in relation to the calculation of the total universal 280 elements.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_246

Billy:

You once explained to me that in the entire universe their 280 elements existed – after Guido came across them through calculations. I then calculated that the original pyramid height of the pyramid of Giza was 152.955347 metres, which you confirmed to me. You also said that today's height of about 136.8 metres was due to the fact that the ancient Egyptians etc. had removed so much material from the pyramid that it had shrunk so much. Well, Earthly scientists claim that the great pyramid of Giza originally had a height of 146.6 metres, but according to my calculations and your statements this does not correspond to the truth. The original height was actually 152.955347 metres, which was renamed in kilometres and corresponds exactly to the distance earth-sun and thus to an AE, an astronomical unit. A fact, which contradicts the inaccurate distance indication of earth-sun by Earth-astronomic science. Interesting is now the further computation, which I made at that time, namely that from the exact pyramid height and/or from the exact distance earth sun and with the number of the total elements of 280 the today's and very exact speed of light can be calculated, if one consults the multiplication factor 7. The calculation then reads as follows: $280 \times 7 = 1960 \times 152.955347 = 299\,792.48012$. So the end result is today's speed of light, which is 299 thousand and 792.48012 kilometres per second. At that time I was not allowed to publish this calculation, nor the exact number of elements. The question is now whether these calculations made by me must still be subject to secrecy or whether one may speak openly about it now?

Ptaah:

122. There are no more reasons for further secrecy.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_256

Billy:

... I would like to ask you something about the pyramids, which cannot only be found in Egypt, but around the world. Asket told me during her time, that these were originally created under the direction of extraterrestrials. She explained at that time, 1956, that the pyramids were built two times 36,650 years ago and therefore thus 73,300 years ago. Since then, 40 years have passed, so the time of origin of the pyramids must have been 73,340 years ago. But it is precisely in this respect that our scientists claim something else, because they set the time of construction as much later, that is just a few millennia before the birth of Jmmanuel.

Ptaah:

21. I am aware of this misrepresentation and miscalculation.

22. If you calculate from the present time, the pyramids were indeed built about 73,340 years ago, and actually not just those in Egypt, but all around the Earth, which at that time had a distance to the Sun of 152.5 million kilometres.

23. The pyramids were covered with a dense layer of limestone and lime mortar in the exterior form and were therefore also higher than they are today.

24. So the great Cheops pyramid measured 152.5 metres in height at that time, which corresponds to one metre per 1 million kilometres of Earth-Sun distance.

25. But these exterior layers were removed again in the course of the millennia, as well as parts of the pyramids themselves, and specifically by weathering on the one hand, and by the human beings who used the material to construct other buildings, etc., on the other hand.

27. Originally, the pyramid buildings, as well as the subterranean rooms that were often connected with them, were built under the direction of human beings who were of extraterrestrial origin and who at that time came from the regions of the constellation Orion, which is why the Egyptian pyramids were also formation-wise constructed as image of this constellation, while the Sphinx structure was aligned to the constellation Leo.

28. The found hieroglyphs and the use of the pyramid chambers as gravesites, etc., traces back to the more recent times before Jmmanuel, and specifically from around two thousand years ago to the past of slightly more than thirteen thousand years.

29. The subterranean chambers, which were part of all pyramids, reached considerable proportions and created subsurface villages of various sizes, which were used by the human beings to get themselves to safety in the face of dangers looming from Earth or outer space.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_319

Billy:

... Recently, I was working on an old contact report and I came across the pyramids, in terms of how they were made, the how. On the one hand there was talk about human muscle power and on the other hand there was talk about telekinetic powers playing a role

Ptaah:

11. Both are correct, but we actually gave you an enlightening answer about that at earlier times.

12. On the one hand about 200,000 human beings were involved in the construction work with their physical strength and efforts, but on the other hand there were also a few extraterrestrial humans from the constellations of Orion and Leo who had telekinetic powers and used them to a small extent in the construction of the pyramids.

13. However, this telekinetic involvement of the extraterrestrials was really only small, even if it is emphasized, but this is only for the reason that it was based on consciousness and not on muscle power.

14. The human beings who had to do the hardest physical work at the pyramid constructions were often prisoners and slaves, and many thousands died of complete exhaustion during the hard work.

15. However, the miserably deceased were replaced again and again by new prisoners and new slaves as well as by other laborers who had been brought in.

16. In total, 40,738 human beings died during the construction of the pyramids and in the partly underground quarries where the large stone blocks were chiselled out.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_413

Ptaah:

16. This is also interesting, but with time more things will surely be found in connection with the pyramid construction.

17. However, the finds will only move in more recent times, when the pyramids were partially renewed.

18. For the likewise large construction periods before, which took place about 12,000 and also about 70,000 years ago, no more evidence will be found.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_625

Ptaah:

84. Khafre resp. Chaefchufu or Chefren is the Greek name for Chafre or Chaefre, which means "Chaefre is big".

85. He was the fourth pharaoh of the 4th Dynasty in the Old Kingdom of Egypt.

86. Pharaoh Chephren was the half-brother of his predecessor Radjedef and the half-brother of Kawab, and he was buried in Giza, as was his father Pharaoh Cheops, who was actually called Chufu.

87. His reign lasted from 2567 to 2534 before Jmmanuel resp. before the Christian calendar.

88. He was also the originator and responsible for the construction of the temple and 12 statues, which showed the hours of daytime by sunlight.

89. In addition, he was also the originator and responsible for the construction of the second and second highest pyramid in Giza, as well as for numerous outstanding statues in the vicinity of the Sphinx, some of which have been preserved to this day.

90. With regard to the construction of the Giza pyramids, however, it should be noted that the first pyramids were built around 73,300 years ago, but were later demolished again, because they had deteriorated more and more due to the weather and the climatic influences.

91. 10,800 years ago they were then rebuilt, which was due to the initiative of a king resp. pharaoh Sahluk, who ordered the dismantling and modification of the Great Pyramid of Giza.

92. Once again the pyramids fell to decay, because the weather conditions and the depletion of the pyramidal material had become so rampant in the course of the next millennia that about 4500 years ago, when Cheops and Chephren dealt with the construction of the new pyramids, a complete rebuilding was necessary.

93. Everything had to be torn away, reassembled and thus rebuilt, whereby the large stone slabs were also carved out of the hard underground around the Sphinx and used to build the temple, the statues and the pyramid.

94. So new square stone blocks were cut and used to build the temple and the Pyramid of Khafre.

95. The Cheops Pyramid was, of course, created under the direction of Pharaoh Cheops, who had it completely rebuilt and remodeled, while 73,300 years ago it was traced back to partially non-terrestrial builders, when non-terrestrials from the constellation of Orion were present in ancient Egypt, participated in the construction of the first pyramids and set themselves up as gods.

96. The great pyramid was together with the others already in the early days and then also for the last recreation aligned on the Orion constellation, but the Sphinx according to the guidelines of Chephren on the Leo constellation.

97. 4,500 years ago, the pyramids and the Sphinx were built solely by human beings of the Earth, whereas in the first construction 73,300 years ago, non-terrestrials were also involved, partly using telekinetic powers.

Billy:

Yes, you already told me this in the 1980s, as well as that the actual Egyptians, who built the pyramids 4,500 years ago, were mostly free human beings and craftsmen, while only a small part of them had to work as slaves. The food for all the workers, who comprised a small army, was, so to speak, provided by a food-city not far from the pyramid, as well as facilities with dormitories were given for the workers.

Ptaah:

98. Yes, that had been so.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_710

Billy:

... But what I still have to say with regard to the land of Egypt in early times and thus long before antiquity and the time of the Pharaohs, is the following: At that time the country looked completely different from what it does today, for on the one hand I can remember that the Nile had another large river branch to the left of its course, which flowed through a very large and long valley, whereby the Nile itself also ran much more westwards than is the case today. There was also a large city in the great valley, where I also saw 'long skulls'. From the Nile and also from its tributary, far into the western land, there were countless pyramids of various sizes, as also everything was full of life, whereby also villages and cities were many huge palm forests, fertile gardens and fields, and so at that time everything looked completely different from today. There were also many animals in the vastness of the land and in the forests and vast green areas, such as antelopes, giraffes, elephants, lions, crocodiles and all kinds of other animals and creatures, before the desert areas formed and these life-forms moved away or died out. Over all the millennia, all the villages, cities and pyramids and the fertile gardens, fields and palm forests that at that time reached far into the western land and as far as the Mediterranean Sea also disappeared. Most of what existed at that time has been buried metres deep under the desert sands advancing from the west over the last millennia. ...

of the Caucasus, whereby the techniques of the Earth-foreigners were used in transporting and erecting the megaliths, which weighed many tonnes. ...

Under the direction of the 'long-skulled', villages, cities and pyramids were also built in early Egypt, as were also a few areas in Europe, where there were still huge forests at that time, although the northern regions of the Earth were for the 'long-skulled' and the other Earth-foreigners, such as the small 'big-headed' and 'big-eyed' as well as for the 'normal-headed', because, on the one hand, they preferred warmer climates and were therefore dependent on fertile land in warmer areas, as well as on many human beings whose help they needed as labourers and whom they could also dominate and rule. ...

Billy:

... The huge area of Huetap alone and the great city of the same name, Huetap, which existed 3,500 years ago in what is now Honduras, was monstrous as far as I was concerned, whereby the long-skulled also worked there and had a pyramid built, just as the long-skulled did in Egypt, in the Balkans and in Asia, and so on. ...

Pythagoras

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Pythagoras>

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_269

Billy:

The Greek philosopher Pythagoras, born in Samos around 570 B.C., probably died in Metapont around 500 B.C., founded in Kroton in Northern Italy, as I wrote there, a union with religious, scientific, political and ethical aims. This was the Pythagorean alliance. From Pythagoras comes the teaching that the essence of reality is the number, as well as the teaching of the so-called transmigration of souls. Mathematics, astronomy and acoustics owe important insights to the Pythagoreans. Pythagoreans were especially Eurytos, Archytas of Taranto, Hippasos of Metapont, Ekphantos and Hiketas. – The long explanation short question now is whether you know whether Pythagoras was a pure earth-born or an immigrant from the depths of the world space, by which of course I do not mean Pythagoras as a person, but his spiritual form?

Ptaah:

61. His spirit-form was of extraterrestrial origin and came from the Henok lineage, from the lineage of the ancient Lyrians.

Billy:

... The question was asked, who was Quetzalcoatl? And is Quetzal identical to him?

Semjase:

181. I can answer the second question by "no", nor do any of Quetzal's forefathers belong to Quetzalcoatl.

182. Quetzalcoatl had been, in Earth terms, a very high officer or a high supervisor of an extraterrestrial group, which was active in the region you today call Egypt.

183. But he was very knowledgeable and wise, and thus was often assigned special missions, of which one brought him to South America, where he became venerated as a god by the Aztecs.

184. Since he owned a small ship this impression of the Aztec people was strengthened, but this was not his intention.

185. When he first met together with another commissioner, a certain Huitzilopochtli, he changed his conduct.

186. Huitzilopochtli was one of the leading Giza Intelligences, and he exercised a bloody sacrifice-based rulership over the Aztecs.

187. He was insatiable in this respect, and demanded human blood as sacrifice, while Quetzalcoatl was against such.

188. Thus an evil enmity rose between them, and each of them sought to gain leadership over the peoples.

189. By wicked deceit and deceptive machinations Huitzilopochtli succeeded in expelling Quetzalcoatl, in consequence of which he fled and returned to Egypt.

Grigori Rasputin murder

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Grigori_Rasputin

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_487

Billy:

Rasputin did not lead a dissolute life as is attributed to him. This story is malicious slander, however it is true that his murder could barely have been surpassed in terms of its brutality when, in 1916, he was murdered with a .455 Webley pistol by a British agent by the name of Oswald Rayner. Although he was married and had a family, Rasputin was an itinerant monk, that is to say, an itinerant preacher, who, through suggestive influence, carried out "miraculous healings" which were truly self-healings of the sick. Thereby he also reached the court of the Tsars, where he had much influence as a friend to the Tsar's family, especially because, through a "miracle healing", he had saved the Tsar's son from death. That did not please many sectors of the Russian nobility, for which reason they became Rasputin's sworn enemies, sought to take his life and named him "Holy Devil". On the 17th of December, 1916, he was then actually also kidnapped and murdered whereby his murderer was, however, the aforementioned British agent who acted in the commission of the nobles and England. The reason for the murder was Rasputin's political objectives, which endangered the victory of Great Britain in the First World War, which raged at that time. But the murder of Rasputin still had other reasons, because, through the nefarious deed, the already long-planned Russian revolution could also gain ground and be carried out and the Tsar's family could be captured and murdered. Rasputin was the most important adviser to the court of the Russian Tsar's family. As already explained, he was kidnapped on the 17th of December, 1916, whereby the main role was played by a conspirator by the name of Felix Yusopov, who had a friendly relationship with the British agent, Oswald Rayner. Rasputin was dragged into a palace cellar in St. Petersburg, where he was tortured and also poisoned, whereby he was, however, able to counteract the poison, and therefore it did not have the desired effect and he survived the poison attack and was able to flee. But he did not get far because a revolver was taken and he was shot two times in the back from behind, which he, however, also survived. So the murderer took his weapon again and shot Rasputin in the forehead. Rasputin then died immediately. Therefore, he was first seriously injured by the British agent Oswald Rayner with several shots which, however, Rasputin survived because he simply did not want to die. Only the shot in the forehead really killed him. Consequently, therefore, in this way, a professional execution ultimately occurred. After that, the giant of a man was bound up by the noble conspirators and dragged to the icy Neva River, where they threw him in the icy water. Naturally, the assassins were quickly found, yet the Tsar stopped the police investigation. The conspirators asserted that they had murdered Rasputin because he had exercised too great an influence on the family of the Tsar. These statements from the assassins were, however, not the actual reason why the Tsar did not intervene in the matter of the murder and its investigation, rather it was the fact that it was not a Russian but a foreigner – the British agent, Oswald Rayner, to be exact – who was Rasputin's real murderer. The true reason for the murder was that Rasputin – peace-loving as he was – was active in pressing for an armistice, in order to thereby end the state of war between Russia and Germany and in order, additionally, to also avoid a defeat. And his chances of implementing his desire were, in this regard, very good, because the Tsar – due to Rasputin's enormous influence on the Tsar's family – was willing to bend to Rasputin's wishes and to declare an armistice. But the British, who saw their plans and the victory in the First World War endangered by Rasputin's peaceful political aims, did not like that. Consequently, they introduced into the plan, as murderer, an agent, who worked hand in hand with the conspirators, and whose murder plan fitted theirs exactly, because the nobility were also not keen on an armistice. Had this come about then the entire history of the world would have changed, because, namely, an end to the war with Russia would have enabled Germany to transfer an army of 350,000 soldiers to the Western Front. It would have thereby been possible for the German Kaiser to position his armies against the armies of France, Great Britain and the USA and to overcome them and to be victorious. So, Rasputin's murderer, with his licence to kill, committed a cold-blooded murder in the commission of the British Crown, so that, in the First World War, the Allies could obtain victory over the German Empire.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_704

Billy:

5) Grigory Yefimovich Rasputin was a herbalist and in this form a healer, but also an itinerant preacher, who was wrongly called an itinerant preacher, which has survived to the present day. As a herbalist who was disregarded by the medical profession and the population of the time, Rasputin was summoned to the Tsar's court in the hope of stopping the bleeding of the Tsar's son and Tsarevich Alexei, who was suffering from haemophilia, by means of herbal mixtures, which, however, was falsely and misleadingly described by so-called contemporary witnesses as 'prayers', because in his treatment he taught the young Tsarevich Alexei the form of self-mastery and self-influence, through the self-prayer form of self-address:

1) Through the power of my consciousness, I alone, with my mind and with my reason, exercise omnipotence over my knowledge, truth, ability, love and truthfulness.

2) My might alone spreads within me, but no other, if I am always aware of my own thoughts and feelings and unfold and use my knowledge, my wisdom and my ability and thus lead everything to true love, freedom, harmony and peace within me.

3) The power of my consciousness is a determination for me, so I use it for my own good for my thoughts and feelings and psyche as well as for my body.

4) Daily I unfold and use my power of consciousness, so that it constantly works in me and lets me meet my ignorance, whereby I nourish my knowledge and wisdom with love, compassion as well as with understanding and reason.

5) Through the power of my consciousness I recognise my own mistakes and correct them, and avoid committing new ones, so that none can hinder me in my development and progress.

6) The power of my consciousness lets me recognise false teachings, wrong ways of thinking and all dangers of faith addiction as well as of harmful material and worldly things and avoid them.

7) Through my power of consciousness I am powerful even of my mind and reason, and through the omnipotence of my consciousness I am always aware of my power, ability, peace and knowledge, as well as my wisdom, love and harmony, and I control everything.

It was a fact that the successful work of Rasputin – whose task it was to instruct the people through his work as a herbalist, healer and herald – with the young Tsarevich Alexei was also confirmed by contemporary witnesses – as also confirmed by doctors and critics, among others – that Rasputin had an extraordinarily great influence on the Tsarevich at that time and that he also had an inexplicable positive effect on his life-threatening haemorrhages.

Rembrandt van Rijn

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Rembrandt>

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Saskia_van_Uylenburgh

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_212

Billy:

Then a question about Rembrandt. It is said over and over again that not all of the paintings attributed to him come from him. Do you know anything about this, since you still concern yourself with the earthly art of painting?

Quetzal:

55. Around Rembrandt, whose real name was Rembrandt Harmensz van Rijn, different stories grew, even during his own lifetime.

56. He was born in Lieden on 7/15/1606, and he died in Amsterdam on 10/4/1669.

57. Already at the youthful age of 15, he took painting lessons with the well-known history painter at the time, Jacob van Swanenburg, after which he gained further inspiration from various other painters and, from this, developed his own painting direction and created various works in his typical fashion.

58. In 1634, he married Saskia van Uylenburgh, who already died, however, in 1642.

59. She was a woman who was extremely talented in the art of painting, but she did not appear publicly with her ability but only exercised it in secret, together with her husband, whose style fascinated her and whose style she adopted.

60. In this form, she created quite a number of very good works, which were indistinguishable from those of her husband and which also will not be distinguished for all times.

61. She also made etchings in this manner, for which Rembrandt gave his name, as well as for the paintings made by his wife.

62. So for example, the alleged self-portrait of Rembrandt, the related etching of 1639 {link}, was not sketched by himself, as also several others were not, but by his wife, Saskia, who mastered his style perfectly.

63. Also, concerning the double portrait with Saskia {link}, only half of this comes from his art, for only the portrait of his wife traces back to his hand, while his portrait beside her is the work of his wife.

64. In addition, there are various works that are imitations of Rembrandt's style on the part of several of his students.

65. Several have been recognised in modern times as such style-imitations of expertise, but some of the surviving imitations are so perfect that they cannot be recognised as such.

66. This especially applies to those works that trace back to Rembrandt's wife because she mastered his style and technique perfectly.

67. As an example, it is to be said that out of all existing Rembrandt etchings, only 178 of these trace back to his own art, while a further 111 must be attributed to his wife.

68. All the rest trace back to imitations of students and counterfeiters.

69. Concerning the alleged Rembrandt drawings, the number is still much higher.

70. Also, the most diverse painted works, so the paintings that are attributed to Rembrandt, do not truly trace back to him but, instead, to his wife, Saskia, who lived in deep humility in relation to her great skill and left all the fame to her husband.

71. Also, there are several imitations of his students, as well as obvious forgeries, but these are known as such.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_467

Billy:

... There is the well-known painting 'The Man with the Golden Helmet' {link}, which is attributed to Rembrandt, but of which your daughter Semjase already said that it was not the work of this man, who was born sometime in 1606 and turned just over 60 years old. He died in 1669, if I am not mistaken.

Ptaah:

59. That is true, and the painting you mention is in fact not the work of Rembrandt Harmenszoon van Rijn, but that of his student Willem van Kampen, who more than perfectly imitated Rembrandt's painting style and even made it his own.

60. His works, however, were selfishly signed by Rembrandt with his own name, just as he signed many other works of his other pupils, in order to pass them off as his own works and sell them fraudulently as his own works.

Billy:

And the man wearing the gold helmet in the painting, which is probably a portrait, do you know who he was?

Ptaah:

61. I know that, Yes.

62. The man was the father of the Rembrandt pupil Willem van Kampen and his name was Jacob van Kampen.

Billy:

Thank you, then this solves a mystery that has also been causing problems for art experts for some time now, who for years have been repeatedly recognising so-called Rembrandt paintings as not being produced by him, even though they bore his signature. Yes the paintings are real, only that they are not by Rembrandt, but by his students. The forgery is only the signature by which Rembrandt fraudulently used the works of his students to represent them as his own paintings.

Remote Viewing / Remote Sensing

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Remote_viewing

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Remote_sensing

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_256

Billy:

I still have a few questions, one of which concerns an alleged medium called Ingo Swann as well as a major of the US Army called E. D., who operate the so-called PSI-TECH, an alleged technical remote sensing, by which even the most secret things are supposed to be recognised and discovered from afar, as is claimed. At least such thing is claimed in "Magazin 2000", from page 81 onwards. It is thereby also clarified that one would be able to get to know the said E. D. in Germany who would over there provide a three-day seminar at an outrageous price of 1,800 German Mark. First, do you know anything of this story? Second, is this E. D. to be taken seriously? Thirdly, what about the Swann medium? Fourth, what to make of this remote sensing?

Ptaah:

36. The man E. D. is one of many who, with dishonest means, pull the money out of the pockets of the faithfully and stupidly believing human beings.

37. The long-distance perception training course he has initiated is an infamous fraud, just as the alleged long-distance perception corresponds to pure charlatanism.
38. It is true that the USA and the Soviet Union have carried out studies of the same kind and are still carrying them out today, but this has already for a long time been no secret anymore, because a lot of secret material has leaked to the outside via the so-called remote viewing.
39. The efforts of the secret research of the USA and the Soviet Union brought about certain, but no high value successes, which can however in no way be connected with the charlatanism of E. D. –
40. PSI-TECH, this is not the alleged remote perception, but a name of a company called that way.
41. With regard to Ingo Swann, it must be said that many things are with him too very dishonest and that things are being pushed onto him which do not correspond to the truth.
42. Everything is thus to be classified in charlatanism, lies and fraud, if the facts are really investigated.
43. Excluded from this are only certain secret attempts and secret successes of the USA and Soviet Union in terms of remote perception i.e. remote viewing, as the English term for it is.

Billy:

... On the 17th of February 2005, Quetzal and I talked privately about the conspiracy books of various scribblers, such as Zacharia Sitchin, David Icke, Jan van Holey alias Jan van Helsing as well as Andreas von R tyi and others. ...

Ptaah:

5. All in all, these kinds of nonsensical writings are commercially oriented to make the ruble roll, as you say, so that the scribblers – if I want to use your expression – can fill their pockets with money.

6. The whole of all the conspiracy theories described in all the countless books are based on sheer nonsense, as are the writings in books containing supernaturalism and assertions about the alleged infiltration of earthly governments by extraterrestrials.

7. Conspiracy theories of all kinds, as well as supernatural, occult and esoteric nonsense, are in great demand among the believers in these drivel.

8. In fact, all the many books of this kind are based on silliness, senselessness, folly, as well as blooming and higher nonsense, as you always say so aptly.

Billy:

If you will allow me to interrupt, I have a few other terms for the whole thing, such as noble baloney, bullshit, hooley, stupidity and folly, torchlight, ridiculousness, simple-mindedness, gibberish, folly and folly, etc. I would also like to say that, with regard to all this nonsense, there are special bookstores which, for good money, bring the rubbish books among the people, from whom the roaring rubbish is eaten like hot cakes. With very many people on earth the unreal, untrue, fantastic, occult, esoteric, religious, sectarian, supposedly supernatural and supernatural is not only considered to be more than truth and reality, but effectively everything.

Ptaah:

9. These are all good terms I will remember.

10. And your explanation hits the truth.

11. Furthermore, these humans are sectarian and esoteric, as well as occult and supernatural, and move in their thoughts and feelings, as well as in their delusional beliefs, in illusory worlds and other unreal imaginings.
12. The entirety of this matter of faith and fantasies has developed into a delusion in them which already moves in schizophrenic forms, whereby they no longer perceive the truth and reality and consequently also can no longer recognise it.
13. And in this delusional form they infiltrate the humans with their absurdities which they imagine and also adopt them from other scribblers which you call 'abkupfern'. [copying?]
14. Thereby the readers of the entire nonsense are seduced to believably accept the lies, slanders, the swindle and the fantasies of these irresponsible scribblers as truth while they assess the reality and the real truth as unrealistic, unreal and as untruth.
15. Belief is just very much simpler than investigating the effective truth through one's own seeking and one's own cognitive work.
16. Furthermore the fantastic and illusory will sooner be accepted by the Earth-humans than even the truth and reality which appears banal compared to the fantastic and illusory.
17. Therefore it is so that standing on the firm ground of the facts, truth and reality is proscribed while the untruthful, fantastic, and illusory and all the swindling, lies, deceit and slander which is bound with it – which, since time immemorial, have always been booming business – effect the Earth-humans like sweet balm which stills the delight and demand for that which is fantastic and illusory.
18. So lying, swindle, falsehoods, deceit and slander are means through which the human allows himself to be very easily beguiled, because everything is only swallowed and does not have to truthfully be contemplated, while the search for the effective truth and its processing is bound with very much effort and cognitive work as well as with a sense for the recognition of reality.
19. However the irresponsible scribblers – who invent the crazy and unreal as well as unrealistic conspiracy theories, copy the entire nonsense from each other and throw everything to their believers as fodder, and therewith earn much money – know exactly that.
20. That is also the case with the books of the hacks named by you who, without conscience, spread their horrendous nonsense of their dim-witted conspiracy theories and thereby lead their faithful readers into error, convey to them a completely wrong picture of the world and hound them into angst and terror.
- ...
22. Truthfully, from the complete contents there are no things at all to name which could be designated facts of truth and reality because basically it deals with nothing other than freely invented fantasies and illusions which are irresponsibly given a coating of truth in order to thereby take those Earth-humans into their power who believe the dim-witted nonsense and allow themselves to be taken prisoner by it.
23. From the entire exposition of all books of such a kind no letter may be considered as true because everything is only built on deception, lies, deceit, slander, fantasies and illusions ...
- ...
27. Yet in every regard believers do not, as a rule, let themselves be impressed by the truth, rather they faithfully remain in the prison which they themselves delusionally imagine because that is simpler than having to grapple with the real truth.
28. The truth is just simply and somehow banal, as you tend to say, for which reason it only addresses humans who consciously use their reason and understanding, while the others, who depend on the fantastic and illusory as well as that which pertains to belief, are not willing to free themselves from the nonsensical and the unreal as well as from their not making use of reason and understanding.

Rods

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Rod_\(optical_phenomenon\))

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_163

Billy:

Good, then I have a question regarding so-called UFOs, which are truly none at all. As I know from you, the so-called flying objects that are considered UFOs are often observed in the day as well as at night. At night, it is often observed that these so-called UFOs light up and are vibrant in their intensity and also variable in colour. On the one hand, you were able to make it understandable to me, with tangible evidence and through my personal observations, that these sometimes deal with bio-organic flying bodies that are truly other-dimensioned life forms that, as a rule, can be captured on infrared film and that penetrate from other dimensions into our dimension area, in order to romp around here somehow in earthly airspace for playful and whimsical reasons. You also explained to me that these bio-organisms are completely harmless and that they always return back to their dimension. But on the other hand, you have also spoken of the fact that similar phenomena appear in terrestrial airspace, but these are purely terrestrial in origin. At that time, you spoke of the fact that it can also concern huge swarms of insects that let themselves drift through the air at great heights. During the day, these insect swarms can be seen as dark and form-changing UFOs that often even glow. At night, the same can be observed, and these UFOs then glow from weak to very strong and often even pulsate. Those are the two forms of UFOs best-known to me, which are truly not extraterrestrial ships and which are composed of living forms. Although, you have explained that other such forms exist ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_250

Ptaah:

81. In contrast, however, it is more common for bioorganic flying objects to appear in this space-time continuum, not only on Earth, but also on many other inhabited and uninhabitable world spheres.

82. So we can observe such bio-organisms, as we call them, also on our worlds, whereby we do not know however yet exactly which kind these life-forms are now.

83. The dimension changers, as we also call them, are larger and smaller airworthy, bioorganic life-forms, which are often fluorescent or very brightly radiating and located in a parallel space or parallel universe.

84. In their way they are absolutely harmless and even playful.

85. They often appear individually or in smaller groups, ranging in size from a few metres to several hundred metres in diameter.

86. They live in a parallel space that we have not yet been able to access, whose data we know well, but into which we have not yet been able to penetrate in form in order to establish communicative contact with these forms of life.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_251

Ptaah:

133. The film and photo material of UFOs made in all the years worldwide and especially in America and South America as well as in England etc. does not always show extraterrestrial flying objects, but also such strangely working flying machines, which are manufactured since several decades by terrestrial humans on earth, as well as flying bodies, which come from the terrestrial future or which are known as bioorganic flying bodies with us, which are the so-called dimension changers, life forms, which penetrate from another dimension into the terrestrial airspace.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_264

Billy:

... The bioorganic flying objects; can these life-forms take on human form and in this form, for example, come into contact with terrestrial humans?

Ptaah:

83. No, this possibility is not given to them.

84. Nor are they of any human-like nature, but pure energy bodies capable of transformation and dimensional change, which appear as floating forms of light energy in one or the other dimension, are able to change their light intensity, but do not have any form of conscious consciousness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_359

Ptaah:

21. Nevertheless, I cannot exclude the possibility that they could have been bioorganic missiles of different dimensions, which, as you know, are harmless life forms from a neighbouring dimension and which can usually only be photographed by infrared cameras or recorded on infrared film.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_402

Billy:

... Apart from the differently dimensioned bio-organic missiles there are similar species on earth, which show the most different forms. Through your observation devices I have seen some that look like giant strange snakes or insects etc. and are flying through the atmosphere as fast as an arrow. In addition, there are innumerable disk-shaped and disc-shaped energy formations and bio-organisms of various sizes, which overshoot the boundaries of the atmosphere and also gather around space debris of the earthlings and often accompany them for a while. Also rockets are sometimes accompanied by these things and somehow 'examined'. Now the question whether these things are not seen by the men in the rockets or in the so-called space stations; you do not hear anything about it?

Ptaah:

35. The existence of these bio-organisms and energy entities is well known, but no public explanations are given about them, because the 'astronauts' and all those who are involved with them do not know what these forms are, which have a certain energy intelligence, but are completely harmless.

36. As I know, these bioorganisms and energy entities are called RODS by observers.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_457

Billy:

So: For about 10 or 15 years or so, there's been footage haunted by what are called rods. ...

...

These rods are bio-organic flying objects? In my opinion they should be, because the bio-organic flying objects I have seen on monitors in your ships look very much like the ones I have seen on TV lately.

Ptaah:

23. It is known to me that for some time now, Earth-humans have been filming rods, as they call them, which are actually bio-organic flying objects.

...

Billy:

... Once upon a time – it must have been years ago, if I am not mistaken – our Earthly would-be astronauts lost a long cable from their space station, which became independent and floated away, surrounded by dozens or hundreds of glowing objects of various sizes. Do you know anything about this?

Ptaah:

55. Yes.

56. What do you want to know about that?

Billy:

There was a movie about it on TV. In my opinion, these white glowing flying objects were nothing else but bioorganic flying objects or rods, as they have been called by the earthlings since they were able to film them.

Ptaah:

57. Your assumption is correct.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_478

Billy:

... Is the term Orb respectively Orbs familiar to you?

Ptaah:

81. Yes.

82. Why do you ask?

Billy:

They are luminous spheres that are seen and photographed all over the world, I have been told.

Ptaah:

83. That is true.

Billy:

... Does the American government have spaceships and alien corpses in their possession?

Semjase:

57. They are in possession of certain destroyed materials from spaceships as well as some dead bodies of dwarf alien human life-forms.

58. Intact spaceships and the like, however, are not in their possession.

59. The available materials are kept under strictest secrecy, and only a few insiders are informed and oriented about them.

Billy:

Is there not a danger that these things can be used to their advantage?

Semjase:

60. Everything is so destroyed and deformed that no significant findings can be derived from it – at least not yet.

61. It is very strange to them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_057

Billy:

... Is it true that there are 10 to 16 glass coffins or glass shrines in the American Pentagon in which dead extraterrestrials are found and which are supposed to be about 120 cm tall? ...

Semjase:

70. It could be an assertion without any truth.

71. Nothing is known to us regarding such an incident that would suggest a crash of a beamship of foreign origin, in which 16 extraterrestrial life-forms are to have been killed and stored in glass shrines in the Pentagon.

72. In another case however, something similar arises, with the deposit of extraterrestrial dead bodies, etc. which does not concern the Pentagon.

73. So in the Roswell case.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_203

Quetzal:

13. That is also true, because in this case hardly a possibility exists that the secret activities will one day come to the light of truth and the humans will be enlightened over the actual truth.

14. Quite the opposite – the future will prove that the responsible ones in America will always invent new lies in order to shroud and deny the truth about the Roswell case.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_215

Billy:

Then now a question about the so-called Roswell Case. Did a UFO actually crash there? Even though you have already confirmed this once, there are still some things that remain unclear, even with regard to the UFO crew, concerning which you said that they were androids. So what were the occupants really, and from where did the aliens come?

Quetzal:

74. The Roswell Case is a reality because the UFO crash actually took place there, but this is denied up to the present day and will continue to be denied in the distant future by the American military and secret services, as well as by all government agencies, namely with flimsy, changing, stupid, and ridiculous excuses that will only surely testify to the fact that everything actually happened.

75. With the crashed object, it concerned a beamship from the Reticulum systems.

76. The crew did not consist of natural human life forms but of human androids of a bio-organic nature, which means that they were artificial human androids, which the US-Army also got a hold of, some living and some dead, and these were secretly kept in secret stations.

77. With the bioorganic androids, it concerned effective artificial life forms, so not robots or the like, but independently thinking beings, in every way self-capable of making decisions, made out of living material and living organs, bred in accordance with the human beings who are located in the Reticulum systems.

78. In Earth-human terms, these bioorganic androids bred by the Reticulum human beings are actual life-forms, and as such, they are respected by the Reticulum people and are also appreciated and treated, for the androids are, indeed, artificial human beings.

79. As such, they stand under the command of the real humans of the Reticulum systems, on whose behalf they also carry out excursions, etc. to foreign star systems and planetary systems.

80. And such artificial human forms were associated with the crash, as I already explained.

81. The intelligence of these android beings stems from a bio-organic consciousness of an artificial form, which is just as capable of development as the consciousness of the normal, natural person; therefore, it can also be creative and inventive.

82. The type of consciousness is designed uniformly and collectively in each android, which means that all of the androids have a uniform consciousness form, and so, they are collectively like-minded, and thus, they have a collective form of telepathic communication.

83. The form of consciousness of these artificial life forms is built on an artificial consciousness, which does not correspond to an actual personality but rather to an artificial form, which can think quite independently, act, and decide, as well as develop itself further, but which is not arranged into conscious evolution but only functions in a conscious-instinct based manner.

84. This means that there is, therefore, probably a capacity for the development of the consciousness form, whereby ideas are created and thought processes can take place, which are creative, inventive, and progressive and, thus, capable of being developed, but all of this just deals with conscious-instinct based matters, and has nothing to do with conscious evolution.

85. In any event, the form of consciousness of these bio-organic androids is an artificial-organic element, which has no inherent creational spirit-form.

86. The form of consciousness of the androids is formed in such a wise that it has a certain independence, in spite of the collectivity, whereby a degree of individuality is given, which cannot be compared, however, to an actual personality in a consciousness-based sense; nevertheless, it has its own individuality, which may seem like a contradiction to the Earth-person because they cannot understand these things in the tiniest part of their mind and still cannot make any conceptions of this.

87. He/she will only gain these conceptions and the understanding as well as the knowledge relating to such android beings in the distant future.

88. The bio-organic androids of the Reticulum human beings contain an authoritative programming in their artificial consciousness, which prevents that the artificial beings could ever rise over their designers, respectively their creators, but the time of their lives is limited to 300 years of devoted servitude to these.

89. Nevertheless, they are entirely free and can in every way decide as to what responsibilities they undertake, exercise, or decline and, thus, whether they want to focus on a task or not.

90. So they are in no way subject to compulsion by their creators.

91. In the kind and wise in which they are biologically created, they are incapable of performing sexual acts and also of reproducing themselves.

92. Their own and appropriate kind of consciousness is contained in their artificial brains, and as I already mentioned, the artificial-bio-organic consciousness does not contain a creational spirit-form, which would drive and animate this by its own energies.

93. Animation is provided by the artificial brain, which is constructed in such a form that it can absorb and use the cosmic-electromagnetic life-energies, so that the existence of life is guaranteed.

94. It is this cosmic energy, by which the artificial life forms are animated and also made alive.

95. All this, however, could not be recognised by all the doctors, surgeons, and pathologists, etc. in the American secret stations, where the crashed android beings were taken.

96. But how could they, since their knowledge relating to this was not in place yet?

97. In fact, it will still take many centuries and even several millennia before the terrestrial scientists arrive at the possibility of creating such beings like the bio-organic androids.

98. Therefore, these beings will remain an unsolvable mystery to them for a very long time, as it is also the case for them with regard to the crashed beings in Roswell.

Billy:

Now that was really detailed. Thank you for your explanations. But one thing still interests me: with you, I have also seen androids, so artificial life forms that can think and act independently. Are these the same as the android beings of Reticulum?

Quetzal:

99. On the whole, yes.

100. Only the appearance of our androids is different in nature, for they are created after our likenesses, while the Reticulum androids resemble their creators, who are, in spite of their high technology and various sciences, still very unknowing in terms of really spiritual and creational interests, yet still arranged into a high and liberal culture with expressed human rights.

101. Nevertheless, our directives forbid us from maintaining deliberate physical or telepathic contact with them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_246

{Note: This may or may not refer to the Roswell UFO crash.}

Billy:

... Recently I was asked which genera or types of life forms would have a sexual life. This happened in connection with allegations that the US Americans had captured alien human life forms in a crash of a UFO or interplanetary missile, whereby these alien life forms had no sexual organs, no excrement outlets, no visible food intake, etc. ...

Ptaah:

155. Which of course is complete nonsense, for any material form of life, wherever it may be in the entire universe, requires a possibility of food intake, a possibility of the ejection of indigestible products, etc. and thus of excrement ejection.

156. But with all materially existing forms of life of a higher kind, and so especially with human forms of life, it is given that they have a sexual organ or a reproductive organ.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_251

Billy:

... Are you familiar with Area 51 and the Roswell-New Mexico incident in 1947, then a UFO crash in Aztek, New Mexico, similar to the one in Roswell, but a year later, then a third crash at the Mexican border in 1949 or 1950, and further that the Americans in Area 51 are supposed to hold various bodies of aliens as well as a living alien there?

Ptaah:

136. I have stated on several occasions that these things are covered by my duty of confidentiality because they fall under the jurisdiction of the government, the military and state security.

137. So I am not allowed to talk about this officially, but only in confidence with you - in private, as you like to say.

138. On the other hand, such knowledge would be dangerous for you - if you officially knew about it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_257

Billy:

The darkening, slandering and obscuring machinations of many governments, militaries and secret services, etc., of different countries, began therefore already very early, and indeed much earlier than would be generally accepted by the real UFO researchers. According to the explanation of the Plejadian/Plejaren, however, especially the Americans were leading in this respect, whereby these were also those who held the proof of the existence of extraterrestrial flying objects tight in their hands already early, and indeed not first since the Roswell case. Truly, already earlier the Americans had parts of wreckage from crashed extraterrestrial flying devices fall into their hands, as well as mutilated extraterrestrial corpses, which, however, fell under the strictest nondisclosure and whereby, as the Plejadian/Plejaren explained, also undesired UFO crash and UFO recovery observers, as well as recovery workers were "erased" or forced into silence under the gravest threats. But that was not enough by far, because the longer the UFO appearances in the new age were observed, the more secretively these were dealt with, and indeed not the least on that account, because the arrival of the extraterrestrials, and the enslavement of the terrestrial humanity through the invaders was feared by the American government and their military as well as secret services. ...

64. What happened in 1947 in Roswell in the USA, as the investigations have clearly shown, was a special case, which was the result of an unpleasant coincidence.

65. A case which is vehemently denied by the US military and the government.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_424

Ptaah:

57. What has to be said concerning Roswell is that we and our federation and all beings foreign to Earth, and who were flying into Earth's space, and then joined our federation, did not have anything to do with this incident.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_511

Ptaah:

3. On the other hand, Florena asked me to watch a recording that she made according to your request, which was about the Roswell case, etc. ...

Billy:

... As I informed Florena, I had learned that a TV programme was to be broadcast late at night on 24th of December in relation to the Roswell case, etc. I asked her to record it for you to watch, so that you could also watch it and then tell me what you think. I also watched the TV programme myself, which was supposed to prove with old film footage of disc and bell-shaped and other futuristic flying apparatus and balloons of the USA, especially from Area 51, that there was no extraterrestrial but a secret futuristic American flying apparatus or balloon that crashed in Roswell. At least one American test pilot was allegedly seriously injured and taken away in an ambulance, and the debris from the flying apparatus was also taken away in a misused ambulance. In this context, several elderly men were interviewed who appeared as allegedly involved military witnesses, but who appeared to me to be rather suspicious and therefore did not exactly make a trustworthy impression on me. They all talked in such a way as if someone had rehearsed something and then reeled off what they had learned. ...

But let's get back to the TV show and the shown pictures of futuristic flying apparatuses and balloons. It is also possible that everything is just a concoction to prove something that is a lie, namely that not an extraterrestrial but a secret US military test flying apparatus crashed near Roswell. If that is the case, then it is clear to me that the military eyewitnesses are only bought elements that have rehearsed their lies. ...

Ptaah:

7. What I can say is that the black and white film sequences you mentioned really do correspond to original footage and show secret US flying apparatus that was further developed according to Nazi plans.

...

17. With regard to such flying apparatus, even today a secret further development is still underway, which is why the USA is also still trying to portray the Roswell case as an illusion and as an accident with a balloon apparatus.

18. This in order not to have to admit that they gained important technical knowledge from the crashed object, which they have been evaluating since then, in combination with the plan documents they have from the Nazi flying discs and Nazi flying bells they acquired in Germany at the end of the war.

...

20. And what more is to be said about the military eyewitnesses who appeared on the TV recording, you have seen their role correctly, because they were only alleged eyewitnesses who rehearsed and replayed their statements and had nothing to do with the Roswell case.

21. The whole recording, which actually includes original recordings of flying disks and bell-flying machines as well as balloons as US developments, serves only to take the Roswell case ad absurdum and make it appear as fantasy to those who are responsive to the US secrecy and cover-up lies and believe their nonsense.

Billy:

Will the truth about the Roswell case ever be cleared up by the USA?

Ptaah:

22. That is unlikely to be the case, because the whole thing is so secret that shortly after the Roswell incident such a blockade of information was set up that only a few insiders learned the truth, while those involved were silenced under death threats.

23. In addition, many written documents and statements recorded on audio carriers were destroyed, as well as much of the photographic and film material.

24. Furthermore, a large number of those involved in the Roswell case were put under a hypnotic compulsion to forget.

25. This means that their memories of what they had experienced were erased and replaced by unreal memories.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_522

Billy:

... Again and again there are articles and explanations etc. on television about the Roswell case and about Area 51, and it is always vehemently denied that there has ever been a Roswell case concerning an extraterrestrial flying object. Such broadcasts also include alleged 'eyewitnesses' of a military nature who deny and ridicule everything and always claim that it was a test balloon of a company called 'Mogul'. Most of the presenters of such TV programmes are singing the same tune. ...

Ptaah:

5. The Roswell case is based on true events, but you know that.

6. However, the flying apparatus that crashed at that time was not controlled by human life-forms, but by bioorganic androids.

7. However, the secret files created at the time about this incident were kept secret from the public and even from the entire government and were made to disappear by being kept in a very safe place to which only a few people have access.

8. So there is little chance that the real truth will ever really come out, and consequently there will probably never be any education of the USA government and the public, either in the USA or worldwide.

9. The truth is that the rulers in the USA were not informed about the real events, but everything remained with the military intelligence and the FBI as well as with other US intelligence services, such as the CIA.

10. The 'Mogul' lie stories about the Roswell case are also based on intelligence ...

11. And as far as the debris from the crash of the extraterrestrial flying apparatus near Roswell is concerned, it is to be said that all accessible debris was collected by members of the US Air Force and brought to Patterson and then to Area 51.

12. Despite thorough examination of all the debris, the technicians were not able to make much use of it because only a few things were understood and could be put to little use.

13. Nevertheless, it is a fact that top-secret flying apparatus is being created and tested in Area 51, not only in the area of that base, but also in other areas and even worldwide. ...

17. This is also a reason for the paradox that, especially in the USA, those in charge of military and air force intelligence and other intelligence agencies involved in the case are denying that an extraterrestrial flying apparatus has crashed, as happened in Roswell. ...

21. The fact is, as we informed you decades ago in silence, that the USA knew how to get hold of Soviet MIG fighters, the technology of which the aircraft designers at Area 51 had acquired and made great use of, but also how they could make use of certain small items from the crashed Roswell flying object, which in reality was of very little importance.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_672

Ptaah:

146. This crash actually took place, but for reasons of state security the whole thing was declared a state secret, all facts, reports, records and factual reports were put under lock and key and were largely lost over the decades.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_724

{Mr. H. letter with questions:}

11. what is true about the Roswell UFO case? Etc. ...

Billy:

Answer: The crash of a UFO was and is reality and had nothing to do with a weather balloon and Project Mogul. All military and scientific as well as secret service representations and claims that it was a weather balloon research enterprise and that the crashed object was a balloon, correspond to nothing more than a theater of lies and deceit, which is intended to cover up something that must not be made public for a very long time. And I am not allowed to talk about that either, so I have to keep quiet.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_822

Billy:

You are right about that, because I just wanted to ask you if you have read any notes in the annals of Sfath that refer to the military man Ramey. The man who was in Roswell. You know.

Ptaah:

There is not much to say really, because you know what transpired at that time. There is also nothing written in my father's annals other than that the man Ramey told him and you that he had no option but to lie to the press. But to you, he had to admit that everything published by the army and the state leadership was nothing but bare lies and that what was photographed was nothing but extra metal foil. This had been described as the remains of a balloon, but this corresponded to a fraud. Real materials from the very flat and plate-shaped object that had crashed over Tikaboo Peak and been severely damaged were not present as individual pieces, but it was still on site as a whole object, as Ramey explained to my father Sfath and you at the time. It was also transported away as a whole by the military, including the still living bodies of the object's crew. So everything was immediately secretly seized, removed and taken to Homey Airport (note Billy: Area 51) in the Nellis Air Force Barrier Area. Nonetheless, the news immediately got out to the press, following which the news of a crash by an extraterrestrial spaceship went around the world very quickly.

Billy:

Right, at that time I read in a newspaper myself that an extraterrestrial spaceship had crashed somewhere in the USA. I cannot remember which newspaper it was. I can still remember this military man Ramey, because he was scared as hell when Sfath and I suddenly materialised in front of him, about the same as Adamski when Asket and I suddenly stood in front of him, where he was giving his lying lecture in a big hall at Helvetiaplatz.

Saint Germain

<https://www.saintgermainfoundation.org/>

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_044

Semjase:

52. Only this name here is known to me, this Saint Germain; a quite malicious person, who did many things deceitfully, supposedly in order also to fulfil dangerous things for the Freemasons, through which they in turn allegedly could seize control of the world, if not, as would be falsely asserted, order had been troubled for from the other side.

53. Everything is naturally not correct, rather it is based on a pure invention of Freemason-unfriendly elements.

...

135. Saint Germain's real name is RAKOCZI, whereby he also assigned himself other names as, for example, Aymar or Marquis de Betmor, and so forth.

136. The name Saint Germain was only used by the adventurer in his self-appointed status as Count Saint Germain.

137. Born in the sign of Aries in the year 1711 in Collonia, you call it Cologne today, although a Portuguese origin was attributed to him.

138. He died in the year 1784 at the age of 73 years.

139. In his lifetime he was the greatest deceiver, charlatan, liar and spy, and indeed in the service and commission of a sect in Germany which was obsessed with world domination at that time.

140. He passed himself off as being a thousand years old, whereby however he was often got entangled in his own statements and so differences of up to 300 years age variation came about.

141. In and of himself he was of quite low intelligence, which he, however, through his enormous cleverness, cunning, manual skill and alchemistic knowledge, and so forth, could again offset, and even attained extraordinarily good results in slight of hand that [he] then passed off as magical powers.

142. He was subsequently named a wonder man and no one even suspected that he was the worst deceiver of his time.

143. Only a European Christian sect was oriented about this, because he was indeed a man who stood in their service and who also thereby endeavoured to take counts, princes and kings, as well as clergy and other dignitaries, into his power in order thereby to make them amenable to the sect, whose members sought, and thereby hoped, finally to realise their plans for world domination.

144. Therefore he also primarily concerned himself around the high-society of France which, in keeping with the plans of the sect, was to be the next land annexed by Germany through which already the greatest part of Europe at that time was to stand under the sect's control.

145. The initiates of the sect at the time quite consciously spun a fable-intertwined legend around Saint Germain in order to have him to appear in the light of an immortal and a master, although he did not belong as a member of the sect at all, which did not hinder him, Saint Germain, from portraying himself as master of the sect and therewith as an initiate.

146. He knew very well to expand the legend spun about him by the sect and to provide enormous fame for himself.

147. It was only thereby astonishing that the sect had actually included him in their plans, in this form, as an outsider.

148. A fact that we, from our side, also could not clarify.

149. He received quite personally, from King Frederick the Great, the awarded honorary title of an Immortal, after which Saint Germain implanted in him, [with] the power of his uncommonly high hypnotic capabilities, [the notion] that he, Saint Germain, was already 2004 years old.

150. Frederick the Great was himself not conscious of the employed hypnosis and was of the belief that he had obtained this knowledge about the age of Saint Germain through higher spirits, so also the knowledge thereby, that the 'Magician' had an immortal-making elixir at his disposal that Saint Germain also manufactured after a corresponding discussion with Frederick the Great.

151. In truth however the mixture was an evil broth (made) out of various hallucinogenic poisons and drugs, that called-forth deep euphoria.

152. Through the widespread sect he was also privy to European history from which he retained any 50 small details with his truly phenomenal memory, with which he astounded and quite terrified them that he was the best connoisseur of history and deluded them that he was, through this, all-knowing.

153. Through his uncommon shrewdness and cunning he reached also into the most intimate secrets of the various kings' families and of many other humans, that he then revealed again as 'secret knowledge' which often shifted the people into angst and terror, or allowed them to presume he had supernatural powers and capabilities.

154. Many times he obtained such intimate secrets through secret dealings with female servants, who he paid off with material things of value and with bodily love, which was not a burden for him because, on the one hand, he had at his disposal very enormous material wealth, and on the other hand, he was very sexually potent.

155. A favourite means of obtaining secrets was, however, his hypnotic capabilities that he especially brought into engagement with highly-positioned personalities, especially females, and thereby unlocked the ultimate and most intimate secrets that he then, at a later point in time, revealed to them again, after he had taken the memory of the hypnosis from them.

156. Thereby he appeared as a giant among all the magicians of the time.

157. So it was no wonder that he was raised to the position of a real master.

158. He occupied himself yet however, with many kinds of other things, so, for example, also with diamonds and with other kinds of precious stones and minerals, etc.

159. He could also produce fake gold, a chemical covering of metal that then behaved like gold.

160. And the deceived people believed, in their delusion and ignorance, that he could manufacture gold.

161. Also he knew how to purify 'contaminated' precious stones through his magic.

162. These, however, he regularly retained for a longer time because he was not able to work on them himself.

163. So he always brought them to a cousin in Holland who then 'purified' these precious stones for him, in that he ground off the cloudiness which existed in this material.

164. He asserted, or did, yet many other quite secretive things, so for example, also that he simply transmuted himself into invisibility, [which] was again, however, based on nothing other than his hypnotic powers, through which he let his observers live in the delusion that he had transmuted himself into invisibility.

165. Also he claimed to have often been in China.

166. Yet also that did not correspond to the truth, because he never left the European area.

167. When he explained again that he must now travel to China, then, in his journey, he went only to Berlin where he had to give an account of his deeds and works in the stronghold of the sects and where he then also received new orders.

168. Very astonishingly, the sect alchemists instructed him also, in these times, in alchemistic matters whereby they rejuvenated him many times, also through their best means and through small and fine facial operations, whereby he also always awoke the impression that he did not age, but rather was constantly about 40 years old.

169. This was brought about in Berlin in the stronghold of the sects of that time, but which no longer belonged to the actual mother sect, rather it was a splinter group that had established its seat there.

170. The high seat of the real mother sect was namely in Vienna, and Saint Germain also worked for that.

171. So he worked for four different masters at the same time, namely for France, for Friedrich the Great in Germany who was his best and most benevolent defender, for the splinter sect stronghold in Berlin, and for the actual mother sect stronghold in Vienna.

172. As Saint Germain died at the age of 73 his alleged immortality could only thereby be saved by the Berlin sect always again and again seeking suitable men who resembled the appearance of Saint Germain.

173. They performed fine face-alteration operations on them so that they were even more like the deceiver.

174. These (men) stepped into appearance then after his death, to appear personally as Saint Germain, after which they were instructed over long years by the sect members in all kinds of knowledge and abilities.

175. Out of these splinter sectarians then developed, in the course of time, a fanatical-religious sect that still today secretly drives its mischief and has also founded sister societies, and so forth.

176. But the founding sect has not, up to today, left off seeking out suitable men which they make compliant with horrendous amounts of money, and whose appearance resembles Saint Germain's, and that they then changed and made into "initiates" through engagement of operations on the facial characteristics and through alchemistic and magical teachings, who are, however, in truth, only better conjurers, who they then allow to present themselves as Saint Germain, and indeed until the current time.

105. Peter never held the office of pope.

Billy:

And what is it about the Vatican's claim that Peter's skeletal remains were found in the Vatican or something?

Ptaah:

106. This assertion corresponds to a deliberately created lie, because the mortal remains of Peter were then cremated by delusional Christian enemies because they were of the belief that he could return.

107. The matter with the found skeletal remains can be clarified by the fact that they belonged to a man who was a church servant during his lifetime, who had to maintain the church buildings and ensure order.

William Shakespeare authorship

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_298

Billy:

Well, and if we are already with England or the English, then I would like to ask you about the English playwright and poet William Shakespeare or about his private life, of which not much is known. Semjase once told me a lot about it, in terms of his faith and one of his secret activities, which was in no way praiseworthy – in connection with the Vatican.

Ptaah:

22. Shakespeare was not born on 23.4.1564 on the one hand, as is generally assumed today among Earth-humans, but on 19.4.1564, after which he was baptized on 26.4.1564 and died on 23.4.1616.

23. At his time, pure Catholicism was forbidden in England, which is why William Shakespeare officially confessed to Protestantism, which, however, was tantamount to a fraud, because in truth he was very strict and almost fanatically addicted to Catholicism and thus a strict and fundamentalist believer of this religion.

24. However, he knew how to hide this so well that only his wife Anne, née Hathaway, who was eight years older and married to him in 1582, knew about it.

25. The wife had fallen for him, which is why she remained silent in spite of many marital quarrels and in spite of his jealousy, even when she learned through dream conversations on his part that he was treacherous and spying for the Holy See in Rome with regard to the Anglican Church – Church of England, State Church.

Billy:

Do you know anything about William Shakespeare?

Ptaah:

37. Of course.

Billy:

Then you also know that even today his real date of birth is not known, so it is still a mystery. Can you help there, because I was asked about it?

Ptaah:

38. That is possible for me.

39. According to the old calendar calculation he was born on the 21st of April 1564 and was baptised somewhat unusually late, on the 26th of April 1564.

40. He then died on 23rd of April 1616.

Billy:

By the 'old calendar calculation' you probably mean the one that was used before the Gregorian calendar, or? The Gregorian calendar was introduced in England in 1752.

Ptaah:

41. What you say is correct.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_530

Billy:

... Then again, a question about Shakespeare: It has long been said that he did not write all his works himself, but had a ghost writer. Is there any truth to this?

Ptaah:

40. Indeed, yes, because certain works were written for Shakespeare by the 17th Earl of Oxford, a poet and playwright called Edward of Vere, and a certain Christopher Marlowe.

Billy:

And that is all?

Ptaah:

41. Yes, because no further explanation is needed.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_532

Billy:

Good, it says 'Marlowe'. And then the question of how this man is in relation to what you said on the 19th of November about this man who, like Edward of Vere, also wrote for Shakespeare. How much did Shakespeare himself write, and why did the other two even write works for him? It also raises the question of who wrote 'Hamlet' and who wrote 'Romeo and Juliet'; were they really written by Shakespeare himself?

Ptaah:

4. 'Hamlet' and 'Romeo and Juliet' were not written by William Shakespeare but by Christopher Marlowe, as were various other works, although the 17th Earl of Oxford, Edward of Vere, also wrote various works for Shakespeare, who himself was not so good at writing in the manner attributed to him that he could have written the works attributed to him today.

5. From his own writing came only very trivial and insignificant things, which he also did not bring to the public, and so all the 38 known dramas, comedies, poems and histories attributed to him came from the pen of Edward of Vere and Christopher Marlowe.

6. Both used Shakespeare during 1589 to 1613 only as a makeshift to publish their works.

7. Edward of Vere was not so good, but Christopher Marlowe was a very good poet and playwright.

8. Both of them, however, had profound reasons to use Shakespeare as a makeshift, especially Marlowe.

Billy:

I am sorry, by makeshift you mean straw man, that Shakespeare gave his name to the works written by Edward of Vere and Christopher Marlowe, so he used them all under his own name and also took credit and honor for them. But what I do not understand is that they were both 'ghost writers' for Shakespeare.

Ptaah:

9. Edward of Vere was, as I said, not a particularly good poet and playwright, so he used Shakespeare for some of his works, so that he would not have to appear himself, because he feared bad criticism.
10. Christopher Marlowe, on the other hand, had to flee because he put his life in danger with regard to his faith.
11. So, in the spring of 1593, he arranged a well-considered brawl with friends in which he was allegedly stabbed to death, which allowed him to escape unrecognized.
12. The truth is that he fled and went to Italy, where he could live under a different name and without the danger of persecution.
13. It was there that he wrote most of the works he had sent to Shakespeare until 1613, who then used them under his name.
14. However, he was not allowed to do so under his own name, nor was he allowed to do so under his false name, because otherwise he would have been recognised, persecuted and handed over to the courts.
15. Christopher Marlowe himself died at the age of fifty on 28 May 1614, so that Shakespeare naturally did not receive any more works from him during the last two years of his life and nothing else became known under his name.

Shroud of Turin / Veil of Veronica

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Shroud_of_Turin

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Veil_of_Veronica

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_264

Billy:

The shroud of Turin - I am asked again and again about its origin and whether it is real, whether actually Jmmanuel is depicted on it. You have explained to me that the shroud is probably a real burial shroud and a deceased person is depicted on it, but that it is not of Jmmanuel.

Ptaah:

79. This corresponds to the facts.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_415

Billy:

Okay, then still the question about the shroud, the so-called Shroud of Turin, which is claimed to be a shroud that carries the image of Jmmanuel alias Jesus. However, about this you once told me that it would be an image of an Italian merchant.

Ptaah:

9. That is correct, because the shroud does not show the image of Jmmanuel, but that of a merchant from Turin/Italy, called Caesar Canova.

10. The shroud was made by the brother of the deceased, Luciano Canova, an alchemist.

11. The process took place on 7 June 1324 and lasted until 10 June, ie 4 days.

12. During this, the procedure was not such that the shroud was placed on the deceased and the latter was rubbed with chemicals, as is often claimed, but it was a very early form of photography, whereby the corpse was placed vertically in front of a large glass lens, through which the image was then projected for four days through an effect of sunlight onto a large fabric surface soaked in chemicals in a dark room, after which the shroud was then treated with silver nitrate and the image became in that way visible and retained.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_418

Billy:

... But look here, a certain Paul Badde wrote a book called 'The Divine Face' and subtitled 'The Adventurous Search for the True Face of Jesus'. "... sensational discovery ... image of Jesus on shell silk ... original relic of Christianity found again ... Pope travels to Manopello ... 'A Vatican crime novel'". The 'Welt' editor Paul Badde is certain to have solved the mystery of the 'veil of Veronica', which has been missing for 400 years. Badde: "We now know what Jesus looked like!" In his book, the Rome correspondent of 'Die Welt' describes how the mysterious shell-silk veil was tracked down, and what a complex puzzle he had to put together, in an extremely exciting way. In his analysis of the possible meaning of the recovered shell-silk cloth, Paul Badde meticulously strings together circumstantial evidence: The cloth shows the face of Jesus! How the image of the Saviour on the relic was created, however, remains a mystery ... The book comprises 318 pages, 16 colour illustrations and is bound in 14x22 cm format. Cardinal Joachim Meisner of Cologne is said to have looked at the cloth in Manopello and said: "Do not doubt that it is genuine." Benedict XVI has informed himself extensively about the discovery of Paul Badde. The Pope is even considering visiting the mussel silk scarf in Manopello – and worshipping it as a great relic of Christianity. Do you have any idea what is behind all this? For my part, I myself have never heard of this shell-silk cloth.

Ptaah:

47. I do have some knowledge of it, yes, and it is explained very briefly:

48. As with the Shroud of Turin, this assertion that the image of Jmmanuel is supposed to be on the silk shroud is also an absolute nonsense.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_437

Billy:

Many people with a Christian touch try to prove by all possible and impossible means that the Shroud of Turin as well as the Tunic of Argenteuil and the so-called Blood Cloth of Christ would actually trace back to Jmmanuel, whereby also blood traces on the shrouds are supposed to prove this, etc. Can you perhaps say anything more about this?

Ptaah:

58. All these machinations are very well known to me, and they are machinations that have been falsified in the name of the Christianity.

59. Therefore, counterfeiters who had come into possession of the shrouds sold them as Jmmanuel relics to the believing Christians.

60. During the whole deception, a Jew was involved whose name we could not determine, but who inflicted a wound on himself in order to fabricate the forgery and caught the blood that was used to prepare the relics.

61. On this basis the false claim is now built up that the relics were indeed those that would belong to Jmmanuel and that the blood was that of Jmmanuel, which, however, does not correspond to the facts.

Billy:

That way thus. And do you know what blood group Jmmanuel had?

Ptaah:

62. Indeed, we know that:

63. It was blood group 0 negative.

Billy:

And the cloth of the Shroud, for example, do you know who had woven it?

Ptaah:

64. No, this is unknown to me.

65. Our very difficult investigations only revealed that the merchant Caesar Canova, depicted on the cloth in his death, had acquired this as an old piece in Syria to serve as a robe.

66. And because he cherished the old robe, he wore it on his commercial journeys to various countries, such as Israel, where he also traded at the Dead Sea and travelled through the Palestinian mountains.

67. But he also wore the robe in Turkey and when he was pursuing his trade in France and Italy etc.

68. When Canova then died, his brother paid his last respects by using the robe for the merchant's image.

Billy:

Then, I estimate, it is possible that soil, plant leaves, and plant pollen from all these places were able to deposit in the robe during his travels. Am I right with this assumption? If so, then that should be detectable.

Ptaah:

69. You are not mistaken, because that was actually the case.

70. And all these things can still be found today in the relics, therefore these are used for Christian-directed false analyses and false Christian-belief-based claims.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_557

Billy:

... I was asked what wound the man had inflicted on himself in order to use it to smear the cloth that is now known as the Shroud of Turin? Are you able to say anything more specific about it?

Ptaah:

6. That is indeed the case, yes.

7. The man was a Jew responsible for the traces of blood on the shroud, which had been created by a man named Luciano Canova, an alchemist, in 1324.

8. However, this man already died a little more than a year later, hence his entire legacy was sold, whereby the shroud then fell into the hands of the man who put the blood traces on the shroud.

9. The man was of Jewish origin and a fraud, counterfeiter, liar and swindler. 10. Since our last conversation on this matter, held by two of us in 2008, I have also been able to fathom its real name and further details.

11. He was a man of about 180 centimetres in size, just about as tall as the deceased merchant Caesar Canova, who was depicted on the cloth in his death.

12. He was called Jizchaq bin Nun, and he was a man who – as explained – spent his life with swindles, lies, counterfeiting and fraud, whereby nothing was of sufficient dignity and value for him not to eke out his criminal life through cheating, falsification, lying and swindle.

13. When it came to passing off the cloth as a shroud with regard to its name as that of Jesus of Nazareth, it was not too much for him to let an accomplice inflict the so-called Christ marks on all the right areas under the pain-killing influence of a drug, after which then immediately the shroud was laid very exactly on him, whereby the blood impressions resulted exactly at the precisely determined locations on the cloth, which was then in the year 1352 sold for a high price to the French King Jean II le Bon.

14. These are the facts that I was still able to fathom in relation to the facts of the falsification of blood.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_641

Billy:

... Yesterday on television I saw a program about the so-called 'Veronika welding cloth', which we already talked about in the 418th contact conversation on the 6th of May 2006 ('Plejadisch-Plejarische Kontaktberichte', Volume 10, page 413), about which you said that the whole thing was nonsense. The aforementioned alleged sweat cloth, which is supposed to contain the image of Jmmanuel alias Jesus, exists in several copies and of course as alleged original also in the Vatican, but also as original in the church of Manoppello, where it is known as 'Volto Santo' of Manoppello. It is an icon on a wafer-thin cloth of mussel silk that is revered as a relic in the small Italian town of Manoppello in Abruzzo. The cloth became famous because of the mysteriousness of its origin, its material and the face on it. The wafer-thin cloth consists of byssos or mussel silk, which is also called sea silk. ...

This, then, with regard to the mussel silk and the veronica image, which, as you have said, is absurd, precisely with regard to the assertion that the image represents the face of Jmmanuel and Jesus respectively. Whose face is depicted on this picture of mussel silk? That is one question, the second of which refers to what you once privately mentioned, that the name 'Veronica' was invented in relation to the woman who is said to have touched Jmmanuel's face with the sweatscarf.

Ptaah:

10. You seem to have misunderstood me or forgotten what I really said, because I did not say that the name Veronica was invented, but the person Veronica, because this woman never existed.

11. We've clearly clarified that.

12. So in principle we must say that there was neither this invented Veronica nor any other woman who gave Jmmanuel one of the several so-called sweat cloths or touched his face with one of them.

13. Even when he was unconscious in the tomb, no such cloth was laid on his face.

14. The origin of the picture, which is supposed to be traced back to a woman named Veronika, who neither existed nor Jmmanuel handed in or put on a so-called sweatscarf, as is traditionally claimed to be an invention, goes back to a painter named Caecilia, who lived in central Italy in the Tuscany region, which corresponds to today's Tuscany.

15. This woman made the face of her husband Marcellinus on a shell silk scarf which she had received from Sicily and which was bought only a few years after its completion by a Catholic priest named Fufetius, who called it the 'image of Christ'.

16. I do not know what happened to them, except that they were used to make images and were admitted to church circles.

17. That is what our notes make clear, but unfortunately not more.

Sodom and Gomorrah

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Sodom_and_Gomorrah

see also Extraterrestrials – Giza Intelligences / Bafath

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_215

Billy:

... what was it with Sodom and Gomorrha; what actually happened there – how were these two cities destroyed?

Quetzal:

117. Several factors are to be mentioned:

118. On the one hand, a meteorite fell to the Earth and exploded high over the area of the two cities, which would now actually be designated as larger villages.

119. This led to devastating destruction of both cities, triggering a massive earthquake, by which the Earth was torn open – like in Petra – and by underground volcanic activity, small and larger chunks of sulphur were flung high and across the country, which also naturally caused much disaster, and by this – as also by the exploding meteorite – many human beings were killed.

120. The remaining part of the total destruction was caused by the megalomaniac and crazy God of the Hebrews, an extraterrestrial who had his headquarters deep under the pyramid of Giza.

121. His punishment for the disobedience of the population of Sodom and Gomorrha, against his commands, was that he let two small atom bombs ignite over the two cities, which finally levelled everything to the ground, killing all humans and animals.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_230

Billy:

... Hence the question was asked how the Dead Sea came into being, on whose shores the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah were located. And it was asked where the volcano had been, and why no ruins of the two cities have been found so far, and so on.

...

Quetzal:

526. However, in order to explain the events of the volcanism and the invisible ruins of Sodom and Gomorrah in more detail, the following shall be said:

527. The events with the meteorite, the ignition of the two small nuclear bombs of the irrational God as well as the volcanic eruption and the earthquake took place within a few hours and thus in rapid succession.

528. There were two earthquakes, the first of which had a magnitude of 6.3 according to the terrestrial Richter scale and the second a magnitude of 8.6, which resulted in devastating consequences.

529. Since the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah were built on very unstable and loose ground in the near shore area of the Dead Sea, both cities slipped due to a huge landslide into the Dead Sea and sank on its bottom.

530. The landslide was caused by an enormous water pressure from the ground, from which water was pressed up, causing the layers of the ground to liquefy and slide.

531. From the beginning of the landslide to its end and until everything disappeared in the Dead Sea, a time of just 27 minutes passed.

532. This is the reason why practically no ruins of the cities can be found in the shore areas of the salt lake.

533. Only scattered ruins, which were located outside the cities, remained and were buried under sand and dust.

534. The fire, however, which rained from the sky before the two cities were completely destroyed and sank into the Dead Sea, consisted of glowing chunks of sulphur and glowing soil, whereby everything was flung up from within the ground by enormous volcanisms and rained down on the cities.

535. This volcanism, however, was not of the usual kind as it appears with normal volcanoes, because it was thruthly a methane volcanism, which means that methane gases ignited inside the Earth in large chambers.

536 This led to tremendous explosions, which tore open the ground in several places, eventually forming smaller craters from which the sulphur chunks and the glowing earth were ejected, thereby causing so to speak fire to rain from the sky.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_248

Ptaah:

145. This is regulated with us by a law, and indeed, in the way that wives and descendants resulting from the marriage bond, in each case, always bear the surname of the husband, respectively the father.

146. This is regulated in such a way because solely through this, confusions in the degree of kinship as well as in the family tree can be avoided.

147. Even at very early times, our ancestors made the discovery that there were incredible confusions when female spouses retained their premarital surnames or even transferred them to their descendants.

148. From this, there arose much disaster and confusion, from which incest emerged on a massive scale, as this happened in Sodom and Gomorrah with the ancient Jews, when the two cities degenerated into pure herds of incest.

Billy:

Did your ancestors have something to do with Sodom and Gomorrah?

Ptaah:

149. Not the ancestors of our own lineage but those of diverging lineages, for these interfered in the affairs of the ancient Jews, who degenerated – for example, in Sodom and Gomorrah – into wide-scale incest, for which they were punished with a total annihilation by nuclear fire, etc. by the one who was angry about these unbelievable activities.

Spartacus

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Spartacus>

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_230

Billy:

Well, then the following: Spartacus was a warrior for the oppressed. Despite all ancient reports, his origin is still unknown today, as is his death. It is said that he died in the Battle of the River in 71 B.C., but his body was never found. The Romans had united all their military legions in this battle and thereby defeated the army of Spartacus. As punishment for the slave revolt the victors then crucified more than 6,000 defeated slaves, namely along the Via Appia from Capua to Rome. In Capua too was the gladiator school, run by a certain Gnaeus Lentulus Batiatus, where Spartacus also learned his gladiator craft, before it came to an uprising in the spring of 73 B.C. by a few more than 200 gladiators in Capua when they stormed the prison kitchen – armed with all sorts of things they could just get their hands on. So the prison itself became the arena. I know some things about Spartacus, but if you know more about it, then please let me hear.

Quetzal:

...

269. The term gladiator is based on the main combat tool of gladiators, the sword, which was called Gladius in Latin language.

270. Gladiators were not amateurs, but fiercely trained fighters.

271. A gladiator training center was in Capua, and being a gladiator meant practicing a veritable craft to perfection as any other craft was.

272. The gladiators were true masters of the art of fighting and true fighting machines, whose only destiny was to kill the opponent in the fight and to remain victorious, and not only in the fighting arena.

273. Truthly gladiators in special legions were actually also used for war purposes, which, however, has remained largely unknown to this day.

274. The gladiator school of Gnaeus Lentulus Batiatus, whom you mentioned, was a strictly guarded prison with thick stone walls in which slaves were trained to become gladiators.

275. Already the training often resulted in deaths, because ultimately, they also fought with sharp weapons, which, however, were only given out for practice fights and then kept under lock and key again under strict guard.

276. There were great and glorious heroes among the gladiators, but as a rule they were still no more than slaves without rights who were the property of slave owners, who used their enslaved fighters for betting, or who had to duel to the death for their owners over love affairs.

277. The unbreakable rule of gladiators was simple:

278. Every fight was to be fought for life or death; for death or victory; whereby even for the best fighters there was no hope for a better or even a free future.

279. Ultimately, every gladiator ended up in his own blood when he was killed by his enemy and sank into the dust of the arena.

280. Some gladiators managed up to ten, twenty, or rarely even twenty-five or thirty fights, but then they were so worn out and exhausted that they could not endure another fight and were killed by their opponent.

281. And since there was no hope for the gladiators that they would ever be free and have a better life, the thought of insurrection was thus constantly smouldering among them, which was also known to the owners of slaves and the operators of the gladiator schools as well as the guards, which is why they took enormous security measures against a revolt.

282. This was also a reason why the gladiators were for security reasons only given sharp weapons when they had to fight in the arena or, which was rare, had to pass a special final test of combat training with sharp weapons, in which case there were already deaths.

283. Otherwise, in the gladiator schools, only the guards were heavily armed, whereby every outbreak and revolt was already nipped in the bud.

284. Nevertheless, the thought of an uprising was constantly smouldering among the gladiators, until in the spring of 71 B.C. what was considered impossible by the slave owners and their guardians actually happened:

285. 217 gladiators stormed the prison kitchen in Capua in the gladiator school and armed themselves with kitchen utensils suitable for fighting, such as skewers, meat axes, chopping instruments and knives, etc., with which they then attacked their brutal guards.

286. They fought against the guards with the courage of despair and used all the skills they had learnt during their training and until then had applied in hopeless fights for life and death in the arena.

287. However, the revolters had only limited chances against the heavily armed guards, which is also why 146 gladiators were killed by the guards before 71 of the insurgents were able to flee.

288. The guards themselves became prisoners, for they could not flee through the closed doors and over or through the thick walls of the prison, and so many of the guards were massacred by the revolting slave gladiators.

289. Their leader was the slave-gladiator Spartacus, who originated from the Indo-European folk of the Thracians and was enslaved by the Romans when he fell into captivity.

290. He belonged to an aristocratic family who were descendants of the tribe of Spartans and he therefore had great fighting experience and warfare qualities even before his enslaved gladiatorial life, so it was understandable that he could take over the leadership role during the escape and keep it after the escape.

291. Years prior to his enslavement and forced recruitment as a gladiator by the Romans, he fought in the war against their legions.

292. The Thracians and various other folks stood up against the Romans when they were incited by the Pontic king Mithridates VI, and it was precisely during this war that Spartacus was captured and brought to Rome as a slave.

293. Thus he changed from a fighter for freedom to a fighter in the arena – to a gladiator who had henceforth solely to fight for his life.

294. And since he was as good as a perfectionist in the handling of weapons and in combat, had enormous physical strength and a high intelligence as well as a brilliant intellect and a good education, his destiny was sealed.

295. Such persons were unceremoniously taken by the Romans to the gladiator elite school of Capua, where they, being experienced in weapons and combat, besides fighting, also had the task of acting as gladiator trainers, which from then on was also Spartacus' fate.

296. The revolt and the escape of the gladiators from the gladiator prison in Capua was certainly very annoying for the Romans, but at first nobody cared much about it, except for those legions who were chasing them.

297. Actually, the 71 gladiators were now free, but they still could not lull themselves to safety, because in fact they always ran the risk of falling back into the hands of a fifth part of a Roman legion, about a thousand men, who followed and chased them.

298. In Roman times, an entire legion comprised 4,000-6,000 men on foot and about 300 horsemen and the entourage.

299. The legion was divided into 10 cohorts, that is to say 400-600 men each, as well as 30 manipels, with 133-200 men, and 60 centuries, with 100 men each, and formed the highest unit of the Roman army.

300. Then in the late antiquity a legion was made up of only about a thousand men.

301. Although the gladiators had seized various weapons from the killed guards, so they had also in that regard quite a bit at their disposal in addition to the kitchen instruments, but nevertheless their chances of staying alive were much smaller than just before, when they were still enslaved gladiators and had to fight for their lives in the arena.

302. Thus 71 slave gladiators were on the run and always in danger to fall into the hands of the bloodhounds, who outnumbered them several times.

303. So the refugees had no choice but to keep on fleeing in order to escape the Roman legions chasing them.

304. In so doing, however, they managed to raid and plunder a weapons transport destined for another gladiator school, so that the escapees could better equip themselves.

305. Word got around, of course, and wherever the escaped gladiators appeared, slaves fled time and again from their owners and joined the Spartacus Legion, which is how the gladiator troupe was now popularly known.

306. And more and more joined in, also impoverished farmers and escaped prisoners, so that in the following weeks a small army assembled itself.

307. This required that as soon as possible new weapons were obtained, and more armed men were sought and also found in large numbers and trained in the handling of weapons and in combat, which of course did not remain hidden to Rome, which now slowly began to feel uneasy and to worry, because now it was foreseeable that a slave war might loom.

308. This was all the more dangerous because the Roman Empire had major domestic and foreign political problems and the majority of its legions were engaged in warfare at practically all borders of the Empire and beyond.

309. Therefore, there was a lack of time and the necessary army to follow and fight against the increasingly rebellious gladiators and all their companions, the escaped slaves and prisoners, as well as the peasants and adventurers, and figures who had struggled for all sorts of reasons.

310. Moreover, it was not glorious for the legions to militarily fight escaped slaves and prisoners, gladiators, peasants and all sorts of rabble, in contrast to the situation when through successful military campaigns at the borders of the empire or beyond, much fame and spoils of war could be gained.

311. And exactly this attitude as well as the lax chasing of the Spartacus Legion led to the fact that Spartacus was able to move through Italy almost unchallenged with his army and to gather more and more people around him.

312. Thus, for Rome, the size of the Spartacus Legion grew to become an ever more encompassing and dangerous threat, and many Romans were confronted with anxiety.

313. Then Spartacus set up a large camp in the volcanic crater of Vesuvius, where he felt safe with his army at least for the present situation.

314. From there, raids were carried out in the immediate vicinity and further afield to obtain food, but also new equipment and weapons for all the many new slaves who had escaped and joined the gladiator group and its Legion, impoverished peasants, adventurers, escaped prisoners and criminals.

315. Also further escaped gladiators as well as further asocial rabble of all kinds joined the Spartacus Legion, so that it finally comprised 11,803 men, which was roughly equivalent to two large Roman legions.

316. The raids thus became bigger and bigger, extending farther and farther and, of course, posed an ever-increasing threat to the security of the Roman citizens.

317. Thus the Roman Senate finally decided to take action against the two Spartacus Legions.

318. Thus the propraetor i.e. the proconsul Gaius Claudius Glaber was instructed to confront the threat with 3,000 military men provided to him and to destroy the two Spartacus Legions.

319. So a forced march to the volcano Vesuvius was undertaken by foot in the hope of blocking and occupying the only access from the valley to the Vesuvius crater and to encircle Spartacus with his two Legions, which however ultimately failed profoundly.

320. This because he underestimated Spartacus' intelligence, prowess and war tricks and carelessly waived to erect a palisade fence around his own camp.

321. This was seen by Spartacus and he took advantage of this grave error of the besiegers by at night having ladders made from wild vines, on which all the heavily armed Spartacus men rappelled down from the crater rim and raided the oftentimes sleeping Roman soldiers, who simply sought their salvation by fleeing.

322. In this way Spartacus defeated half a Roman legion with his Legions and came into possession of the whole camp, including many food supplies, weapons and all other Roman equipment.

323. This made it all the more clear that one was no longer dealing with just a small slave uprising, but actually with a great threat.

324. Therefore, haste was suddenly called for, and under the command of the Senate and under the leadership of the praetor Publius Varinius, a new army was newly equipped.

325. However, the Senate was mistaken about the newly-grown army of Spartacus, which had in the meantime increased to several legions and thus to 43,719 men due to further influxes, amongst them many Roman defectors.

326. An enormous military power that therefore also defeated two legates sent out by the praetor and their legions.

327. Legates were deputies or envoys of the emperor or the praetors as well as permanent assistants of the military commanders and vicegerents.

328. The praetor Publius Varinius barely escaped capture by Spartacus' warriors during the failed military campaign.

329. Although the mighty Spartacus army had many successes, the more time went by it became increasingly clear that it was only a community welded together by adversity, consisting of many members of different folks.

330. Thus Spartacus was originally eager to bring all of them back to their homelands because he knew that there was no future for any of them in the Roman land.

331. Therefore, he also wanted to cross the Alps, from beyond which many Teutons and Celts in his army originated.

332. However, a fellow sufferer named Krixos, who had been in Capua with Spartacus and stood by his side as leader, was not of the same opinion because he wanted to stay in the Roman land and lead the immense army against Rome.

333. The two, however, could not agree to forge a joint action against Rome, which is why the two separated together with their personal supporters.

334. Krixos remained in the south of the country in Apulia, whereby 9872 followers gathered around him.

335. As Spartacus made his way north, 35,416 men from the army that had grown further moved with him.

336. The Romans' anxiety grew enormously, as it was feared that Spartacus would now attack Rome.

337. Therefore, the Senate decreed that a Gewalt-strike against Spartacus and his Legions should be led, in order to get rid of the danger, hence a total of four large legions as well as a considerable number of other troops, altogether little more than 30,000 men, were ordered under the command of Ganeus Cornelius Lentulus Clodianus and Lucius Gellius Poplicola, who in the year 72 BCE were both consuls and had therefore also the supreme command during times of war and authority over the legions.

338. Of course, the Romans learned of the separation of Spartacus and Krixos, so they set out to take out Krixos and his fighters.

339. This then took place at Mount Garganus in Apulia.

340. Krixos had no chance, was defeated devastatingly and died himself during this.

341. Only a few survived the heavy fight and then made it to Spartacus, whose situation was very unpleasant as he had lost a quarter of his troops because of Krixos, which put him in a critical situation.

342. The two consuls knew this, of course, and now they were deploying their troops against Spartacus and his legions.

343. Thus, with might, Gnaeus Cornelius Lentulus Clodianus obstructed the way to the north for Spartacus and his men, while Lucius Gellius Poplicola, with the help of Quintus Arrius' legions, ensured that the way back was blocked.

344. Another time the fate of Spartacus and his companions seemed to be sealed, but again he proved his strategic genius.

345. He led his legions with those of the consuls to an open field battle, won and put the enemies to flight.

346. Then he commemorated his friend Krixos, who had been killed by the Romans, and had a pompous funeral service organised for him, in that Spartacus chose 311 captured Roman legionnaires who had to fight as gladiators with each other until death.

347. Thus the Romans became aware that the former slaves, the peasants exploited and impoverished by the Romans and the slave gladiators had not forgotten their former ignominy and now transferred it to the captured legionnaires who had to fight for their lives as gladiators.

348. Spartacus' action was a clear act of revenge, which did not appeal to the Romans at all, however, and was by them regarded as proof that Spartacus and his men were infested with the worst cruelty.

349. They did not think about it, and it did not occur to anyone that the whole thing was nothing other than what they had done themselves.

350. The Romans were so stubborn that they could in nowise comprehend the act of revenge.

351. Spartacus, however, advanced further north with its legions and soon crossed the northern border of Umbria.

352. Thus, he soon managed the difficult crossing over the Apennines and marched towards the Po Valley, where he was opposed by the praetor Gaius Cassius Linginus with two legions, with 10,413 Roman legionaries, while Spartacus with his legions defeated the Romans again.

353. So the time had come that he could now have crossed the Alps, but that did not happen, because no one was in favour of this plan any longer, because now all the Spartacus warriors wanted to march against Rome, because the steady battles with the Roman legions had stirred up the hatred in the rebels in such a way manner they now wanted to destroy the Romans in their own country.

354. Thus the march southwards was resumed, while in Rome the situation became more and more complicated and confused for the Senate and the population, and the anxiety grew more and more.

355. In the autumn of 72 BCE, it was only with the greatest difficulty that the Senate was able to enthuse a volunteer to set out against Spartacus and his legions, namely via Marcus Licinius Crassus, who had become very wealthy during the reign of the dictator Lucius Cornelius Sulla (who also had the nickname Felix).

356. Crassus armed any man who was able to hold a weapon and thus assembled six new legions, irrespective of the fact that many were war invalids, hardly able to fight.

357. He also incorporated the remains of the four beaten legions and thus brought together an army of 53,608 legionnaires who set off with the slogan: "Total annihilation of the rebels".

358. Under the command of Mummius, the legate appointed by Crassus, two Roman legions were sent out to follow Spartacus and his fighters, whereby Mummius was however ordered not to engage in any fight with Spartacus and his legions.

359. But Mummius was ambitious and thought that he could win with his legionaries over the rebels, which is why he attacked them, whereupon he was defeated devastatingly.

360. There were only a few survivors, and those took flight.

361. Mummius too was among them, whose unauthorised actions led to the end of his career.

362. The defeated and fleeing legionaries were called to account by Crassus and disciplined by determining and executing every tenth, namely in front of all legionnaires, which was meant to serve as a deterrent that no one any longer would flee and show cowardice vis-à-vis the enemy.

363. And Crassus was boundlessly angry, which is why he now wanted to annihilate Spartacus and his legions with a single, mighty strike.

364. But Crassus was also mistaken, because when he and his army met the one of Spartacus, the victory went again to the rebels, which also continued to be so, this not least because Spartacus always knew how to avoid a direct encounter.

365. Thus they moved both armies slowly southwards, namely all the way down to the southern tip (note Billy = 'boot tip') of the Roman mainland e.g. Italy.

366. And that appealed to Crassus, because now he could cut off Spartacus and his legions' return to the north.

367. For this purpose, his legionnaires had to build a wall with a length of just over 30 kilometres, thereby locking in the Spartacus army.

368. At the narrowest point of the peninsula, moreover, a four-metre-deep ditch was dug, which was additionally protected on the back with a barricade.

369. However, since Crassus knew Spartacus' war tricks and the fighting power of his legions, he requested support from the Senate in Rome by Gnaeus Pompeius and Marcus Licinius Lucullus.

370. So a wearisome waiting period began on both sides of the armies ready for battle, whereby Spartacus forged plans to escape the looming annihilation.

371. And since the land route was completely blocked by Crassus' troops, only the sea route remained open and that would be the one over to Sicily.

372. Thus the plan was forged that the crossing by ship should take place by Cilician pirates, because these dominated the strait between the Roman mainland and Sicily.

373. Negotiations were also conducted in this regard, with the pirates demanding a very high price, which the Spartacus men had to pay in advance.

374. However, the pirates were fraudsters, because they disappeared with all the money and left the rebels behind, but this only because Crassus paid the pirates three times the price.

375. Spartacus, on the other hand, sent a scout to Sicily, who was however captured and crucified by the Romans and put on display directly at the harbour entrance.

376. Spartacus and his legions were finally locked up and could flee neither across the strait nor across the land, and so Crassus could simply wait with his army until the plight of hunger drove the rebels out of their holes.

377. And he did not want to enter into a compromise with Spartacus when the latter sent a messenger to him, so that he had to return to the camp of the rebels without having achieved anything.

378. Thus Spartacus not only ran ever shorter of time, but also of the food for the hungry men of his legions.

379. Also more and more diseases spread in his army, and many of the weakened fighters died away.

380. He had their corpses secretly thrown into the ditch created by Crassus' army, along with tree trunks and stones, etc.

381. Then Spartacus ordered a storm attack, which became a real massacre, in which 12,719 of his fighters were literally slaughtered by the Roman legions.

382. Only a part of the Spartacus army was left and was able to flee, however, haunted by the legions of Crassus.

383. During the flight there were renewed disagreements among the rebels, hence Spartacus separated several thousand fighters another time and went separate ways with them.

384. Obviously this was welcome for Crassus, who chased the splinter group and attacked them as they set up their first camp.

385. Still close together, Spartacus came with his main army to the aid of the attacked and could only just prevent that the defectors were completely exterminated.

386. Nevertheless, this no longer welded the breakaway men together with the main army, since after their rescue they continued to go their own ways.

387. Thus they moved to the north, where they were taken up only a short time later by Roman legions and destroyed to the last man.

388. And Spartacus knew that Lucullus was on his way with his legionnaires, namely with ships to the port of Brundisium (note Billy: today called Brindisi) on the east coast of the boot, which is why he was very worried.

389. Thus, three years after his escape from the gladiator prison in Capua, he ordered the last and desperate attack on the chasers, whereby the two armies then collided for many hours and, in addition to a real bloodbath, also left behind a field of deaths on which lay many thousands of Roman legionaries and umpteen thousands of rebels, all of whom had to fight tired and power-wise exhausted.

390. The Spartacus fighters had no realistic chance, and Spartacus himself too suffered a severe stab wound that forced him to the ground.

391. Nevertheless, he continued to fight against the legionnaires attacking him until he received a blow to the head with a sword, which, however, did not split his skull, but only tore a flesh wound open, causing him to fall to the ground, covered in blood and unconscious, and was left lying there, believed to be dead.

392. Then, when everything was over and the night had arrived, Spartacus regained consciousness and left the battlefield half walking half crawling and thus fled from the Romans, whereby he was lucky that a helpful peasant found him, who took him in and cared for him for about two months, until he was well again.

393. Afterwards Spartacus set off unrecognised to return to his homeland, which he eventually reached after several months and lived there as a free man until the end of his life, also unrecognised, and died at the age of 61 years.

Billy:

This is a long story. So, because he was able to flee, Spartacus was not found when they then searched for him on the battlefield. ...

Sphinx

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Sphinx>

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_222

Billy:

... the Khafre structure, I mean the Sphinx structure, was aligned to the constellation of Leo. The new pyramid, as well as all the others and the Sphinx structure, were built in more recent times, so about 4,500 years ago, solely by Earth-humans, by their own forces. The builders were early Egyptians, like also the largest part of the workers, who were free people and artisans to a certain part, while many others, who came in small numbers as slaves from other countries, had to perform their hard work, together with a small number of domestic slaves. That majority of the workers, however, was based on free Egyptians. For the purpose of the nourishment of all workforces, a veritable industrial food-city was built near the pyramid, and also mass campsites were provided for resting and sleeping, as well as tombs for the many deceased, who were at work there. That's how I remember it being explained to me by you. Now, is this right, or did I fall into a fallacy?

Quetzal:

41. Everything is of correctness; so therefore, no further explanation is necessary.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_625

Billy:

... Well, another problem, for palaeontology, seems to be the Sphinx in Egypt, which is again and again reported about, just as it has recently been again, whereby all sorts of guesses are made and impossible things are claimed about the creator of the Sphinx . On that Quetzal told me, as you however also said already in the 1980s, that according to your records Pharaoh Chephren resp. Chephren was the builder resp. originator for the building of the Sphinx. Can you explain a little more about that?

Ptaah:

83. Which is really like that.

84. Khafre resp. Chaefchufu or Chephren is the Greek name for Chafre or Chaefre, which means "Chaefre is big".

85. He was the fourth pharaoh of the 4th Dynasty in the Old Kingdom of Egypt.

86. Pharaoh Chephren was the half-brother of his predecessor Radjedef and the half-brother of Kawab, and he was buried in Giza, as was his father Pharaoh Cheops, who was actually called Chufu.

87. His reign lasted from 2567 to 2534 before Jmmanuel resp. before the Christian calendar.

88. He was also the originator and responsible for the construction of the temple and 12 statues, which showed the hours of daytime by sunlight.

89. In addition, he was also the originator and responsible for the construction of the second and second highest pyramid in Giza, as well as for numerous outstanding statues in the vicinity of the Sphinx, some of which have been preserved to this day.

96. The great pyramid was together with the others already in the early days and then also for the last recreation aligned on the Orion constellation, but the Sphinx according to the guidelines of Chephren on the Leo constellation.

97. 4,500 years ago, the pyramids and the Sphinx were built solely by human beings of the Earth, whereas in the first construction 73,300 years ago, non-terrestrials were also involved, partly using telekinetic powers.

Billy:

Yes, you already told me this in the 1980s, as well as that the actual Egyptians, who built the pyramids 4,500 years ago, were mostly free human beings and craftsmen, while only a small part of them had to work as slaves. The food for all the workers, who comprised a small army, was, so to speak, provided by a food-city not far from the pyramid, as well as facilities with dormitories were given for the workers.

Ptaah:

98. Yes, that had been so.

Spontaneous Human Combustion

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Spontaneous_human_combustion

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_236

Billy:

My knowledge is that the spontaneous combustion of the body concerns life processes, respectively physiological and functional operations of the whole body, where the basic factors are the consciousness and the subconsciousness, the thoughts and feelings, the emotions, the nerves, the sensibility and sensitivity, and naturally also the psyche. Thus, it is an aggregate physiological condition, through which a spontaneous combustion of the body is triggered, by what means the vibrations, energies, and forces of the aforementioned factors are developed, which also attract certain cosmic energies, together with the fact that chemical reactions are caused in the body, through which gases develop, which spread throughout the whole body and into the individual cells. Depression, nerves, pain, suffering, delusions, sorrow, deep depression, and schizophrenic factors, along with many other factors, can fundamentally contribute to the process, by giving rise to the aforementioned vibrations, forces, and energies, which will then lead to the spontaneous combustion of the body, in that the gases produced ignite yourself. As a rule, combustion occurs from the inside out, more rarely from the outside, whereby a heat of up to 1500 degrees or more is created. Thus, the spontaneous combustion energies, etc. are generated by the person himself, together with the fact that during this process, he also attracts cosmic energies to himself, by what means a spontaneous combustion becomes final. But this does not mean that in every case, a fatal self-combustion must take place because depending on the psychological and consciousness-related condition of the person, also just external burns on the body and on the limbs can become visible or even mild or severe blistering. In such cases, the self-combustion processes can be stopped if the thoughts and feelings are arranged correctly, but usually, professional and good psychological or psychiatric help is required for this. Concerning a released self-combustion of the aforesaid kind, it is the case, with certain exceptions, that the combustion heat only appears centrally, and thus, the burning in the body only appears and lasts for a very short time, as the body disintegrates into ashes. This means that in general, the nearer and further surroundings are not affected by the combustion, respectively by the heat, or are only affected very little. That's what I know. Now, I would just like to know, to what extent all of what I said is true.

Ptaah:

264. Your explanation corresponds to our knowledge, which I could still scientifically explain more precisely, but I must refrain from this, in order not to violate our directives, because the Earth-humans must investigate and discover the exact insights themselves.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_250

Billy:

Starchild Skull

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_469

Billy:

Is the term Star-Child familiar to you?

Ptaah:

143. Yes, this is a skull which has been found and is about 1,000 years old – the exact age is not known to me – and which has been described by irrational and irresponsible authors of dubious books and writings as the skull of an extraterrestrial or as a hybrid product between extraterrestrial and Earth-humans.

Billy:

Which, of course, is neither in one case nor the other.

Ptaah:

144. True, because the skull corresponds to nothing more than an earthly human skull anomaly.

145. The mother and father were Earth-humans, and the human to whom the skull belonged was a hermaphrodite, that is, a bisexual, in which both sexes were approximately equally pronounced.

146. The skull is very strongly deformed by the anomaly and looks a little strange, but this is not uncommon with skull anomalies.

147. With skull anomalies like this, it is also a rule that skeletal anomalies occur.

Stigmata

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_251

Billy:

... he and his followers believe that his stigmata are a sign of God, and in truth, as with all stigmatized stigmata, they arise only from a religious insanity and fanaticism, through a psychogenic effect triggered by religious sectarianism, as was the case with the first known stigmatized Francis of Assisi and with several hundred others.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_358

Ptaah:

18. The statements and explanations of the man Gilliland do not correspond to the truth, but rather to fibs, if I may express this once with your words.

19. Either these are based on deliberate lies or on delusional experiences or other pathological imaginations, as are the unbelievable claims of the alleged burn marks on the chest.

20. But if such have actually occurred, then they have been caused by a stigmatization generated by delusion, which can only be traced back to pathological manic thoughts and feelings and, as a result, to a sick psyche.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_469

Billy:

... And the fact that so-called 'sanctified ones' or 'casteites' appear at the same time, and make the faithful even more nonsensical, by causing stigmatization or the five wounds of Christ on their bodies through their broken psyche or through clear self-mutilation, further encourages all this nonsense.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/FIGU_Bulletin_003

The stigmatization phenomenon, during which the wounds of Christ materialize as bleeding wounds on the back and palms of the persons' hands, as well as their loins, insteps, possibly also on their forehead, the head (from the crown of thorns) or on their backs (traces from flagellations), is a form of religious-sectarian manifestations of self-flagellation based on a psychogenic effect. This signifies that human beings who suffer from a stigma are ensnared in their religious-sectarian belief structure to the extent that the psyche rebels in a form whereby the bleeding wounds actually appear on the body and elsewhere. This occurs in the identical manner in which the religious-sectarian believer envisions the "wounds of Christ" to be, according to the examples presented in countless paintings of saints, along with various representations in Christian churches and so forth. The truthfulness of this statement is demonstrated by the fact that all stigmatized people display these wounds on their hands or the palms of their hands, respectively, just as they were depicted and presented on paintings and statements by the Church. Albeit they are fundamentally wrong. The fact is, it was extremely uncommon in those days for crucified individuals to be nailed to a cross with 8" to 10" long, handcrafted nails. Such cases were rare indeed because the doomed victims were usually tied to the cross. "Nailed" individuals, as they were called in those days, were nailed to the cross by their wrists. In other words, no nails were driven through the palms of the victim's hands but always, and without exception, through the wrists only, a fact which was falsified by the Churches and all their sects since time immemorial. Paintings and assertions have incorrectly rendered this information, and even the faithful today believe that Jmmanuel (who is falsely identified as Jesus Christ) was crucified with nails driven through the palms of his hands. This statement and falsification of facts holds no truth whatsoever, for even with Jmmanuel nails were driven through his wrists. This practice of nailing through the wrists was performed because the nailed victims' own bodyweight (in contrast with those who were tied to the cross) would have ripped them from the y-shaped structure since the palms and backs of their hands, that is, the hands in general, were too frail to hold the nailed person's weight for any length of time.

It also becomes clear that, by way of their psyche and their consciousness, these self-generated wounds of Christ manifest themselves in the same way and in the same place the stigmatized individuals envision them to be -- even though the manifestations fail to correspond to the actual truth in any way.

Christian religion-influenced stigmatizations must be taken for what they truly are, namely, religious-sectarian Christian materializations of psychogenic origin which influence all material substances; indeed, they can cause blood to flow upward instead of downward as would be the case according to the laws of physics. Likewise, hammer blows may be observed, indeed heard, as the wounds manifest on the person's hands and feet. The facts are plain and offer proof that physical matter is not the driving force here but, instead, the powers of the consciousness and the spirit, whereby it is not the Creational spirit that is at work during stigmatizations but the individual's material-consciousness, in conjunction with the psyche, which generate the fundamental forces within the person. As a rule, stigmatized persons are deeply religious, even sectarian, and they claim that God or the "Savior" afflicts them with the wounds and pain, so to speak as a token of his love, etc. How bloody a God or "Savior" it would be who tortures his faithful with such acts! Unfortunately the religious-sectarian delusion of the faith in Man knows no bounds, however, and such inadequate, idiotic claims will continue to spread, thereby influencing the faithful and luring them from the path of reason and reality. The following can be said: Whoever allows him- or herself to be influenced by the religious-sectarian nonsense that claims stigmatizations are "a gift from God" or the "Savior" is truly beyond help.

May rational individuals live in cognisance of the fact that stigmatization is purely the human, psychogenic handiwork of those people who have fallen prey to stigmatization, from which they could liberate themselves if only they were to put aside their religious-sectarian thinking and feeling, and live according to bona fide reality.

While in their psychogenic condition, strongly stigmatized individuals are also capable of experiencing visions of living in the past, which enable them to register and define actual events from Jmmanuel's crucifixion. Furthermore, while in this state, they may be able to accurately describe the local sites, mores and customs from Jmmanuel's days; indeed, they may even have the capability to speak his or other ancient languages, which they achieve through the pertinent Akashic Records as well as through the terrestrial, human sub-consciousness-collective. It is therefore totally erroneous to view all of these matters from a "God perspective", as though God had wanted and caused all of this. This unreal view of the world must finally be revised so we may realize that forces are active within Man's consciousness which are quite capable of influencing matter and moving and producing feats termed "spiritual" even today. Of course there are spiritual worlds and forces beyond the material realm as well, but anything that transpires on the material plane is influenced, produced and guided by the laws within a material plane, i.e., through the level of material-consciousness which has nothing whatsoever to do with the imaginary God who is praised by the faithful as the Creator -- and who truthfully was nothing more than a human being, an extraterrestrial. This God and the material consciousness, which can produce and effect stigmatization and numerous other things, have no direct links whatsoever with the spirit and spiritual powers, let alone Creation itself. All of this is based upon the consciousnesspowers of the material consciousness, and Heaven knows that this is nothing mystical, but something that can be entirely explained through reasoning and judgment, although the faithful view all of this differently and compress it into religious-sectarian, mysterious, inexplicable, paranormal and godly aspects. The result is that for them nothing remains realistic or normal any longer, and reality is intended, therefore, to be understood only with the heart and faith, instead of reason and judgment.

As I have previously explained, stigmatization is a psychogenic phenomenon induced by a religioussectarian delusion, whereby the psyche and the consciousness collaborate and trigger the phenomenon.

This reaction has nothing to do with auto-suggestion in the prevailing sense, but with a religioussectarian delusional auto-suggestion which normally does not manifest itself externally. It forms within the material consciousness in the depth of the person's unconscious, through religious, delusional beliefs that occur in the conscious and then transfers itself onto the individual's own unconsciousness as well as the unconsciousness of the psyche, where a delusional dream is produced that wreaks its effects with incredible power in the wakeful state and triggers the stigmatization and delusional visions. These visions may release events and all forms of information with incredible accuracy as though the individual experiencing the vision were standing in the precise location of the event and giving a live report from that vantage point.

Stonehenge

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Stonehenge>

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_216

Quetzal:

144. However, just like the Stonehenge structures - ie the megaliths, located to the north of Salisbury, Wiltshire in southern England - the Nazca layouts also served as general meeting places as well as judgment sites and sites of execution.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_285

Billy:

... But may I now still ask whether you are well versed in the original Stonehenge circumstances. By that I mean the megalithic monument north of Salisbury in England. The enormous ruins are partly still allowing to recognise quite accurately the arrangement of that time. The whole originally consisted of 30 mighty pillars, which were arranged in a circular row, whereby these were connected at the top with likewise large, stone horizontal beams. Within the large circle there was at least originally a second, smaller circle. In latter's central middle was something like an altar or sacrificial stone, but what it represented has hitherto remained a secret. Also the actual sense of the monument has not been clarified until today. It is generally assumed that it was originally a religious building, but there are many different interpretations, especially towards the occult.

Florena:

27. I have indeed dealt with the megalithic facility of Stonehenge.

28. The site, located in the Wiltshire area of southern England, was built in several construction phases, whereby almost concentric circles of mighty stones were inserted into an original trench and wall ring with radial extension.

29. There were initially in fact 30 stones, as you said, namely in the outer ring.

30. This one consisted of 4-metre-high stone pillars connected by capstones i.e. by horizontal beams, as you call them.

31. In this ring i.e. circle there was a horseshoe-shaped settlement consisting of five large gate-like trilithons.

32. In the centre of both circles there was in fact a structure, a large carved stone, which served as an altar as well as a sacrificial site and central observation and analysis point for astronomical calculations.

33. Furthermore, the whole was a place of worship of religious-barbarian form, whereby the altar played an important and very special role, because on this altar sacrifices were also offered, which were not rarely of human nature.

34. The altar was therefore also a sacrificial stone.

35. Moreover, the same altar and cult sacrificial stone was also used as an execution stone, which means that not only human sacrifices were offered on it, but also executions took place on it with regard to those sentenced to death.

Billy:

Then the whole thing was a site of cultic worship as well as place of astronomy and site of blood at the same time.

Florena:

36. That is right, whereby however, it must not be forgotten that at that place there was also taught and decided about right or wrong and thus also about life and death.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_710

Billy:

... This also happened with the peoples in South America and Asia, where the 'long-skulled', the Earth-foreigners and the other Earth-foreigners, who were physically 'Earth-foreign', 'normal-skulled' or small and 'big-headed' and 'big-eyed', but also giants, as for example in South America, were also involved and had a culturally completely different influence on the Earth-peoples on all continents. As a result, different buildings, villages, cities, cult objects and pyramids as well as sites with large menhirs were also created all over the world, such as Stonehenge in England, near Avesbury in Wiltshire, about 13 kilometres north of Salisbury, and in Armenia the Stonehenge or megalithic fields in Zorakarer, near the mighty mountain ranges of the Caucasus, whereby the techniques of the Earth-foreigners were used in transporting and erecting the megaliths, which weighed many tonnes. The earthlings at that time were not capable of doing such work themselves, quite contrary to the assumptions of the so-called 'clever' researchers and scientists of the new age, who think up all kinds of fantastic things concerning the creation and working of monoliths etc., which could have been brought about by the earlier earthlings with manpower. This, like e.g. also the heads on the Easter Islands, which were transported and erected there with the help of Earth-foreigners, as also happened in other places, where it is seriously claimed that not Earth-foreigners, but the Earth-foreigners themselves transported the enormous weights of tons rolling on tree trunks and then also lifted up the monoliths weighing many tons with tree trunks and other wood and multiple man-power, etc. ...

Quetzal:

76. But now, we should turn again to other things because a question from you is still open, which you already gave us a long time ago, but which we could not answer to your satisfaction because we first had to fathom and clarify everything.

77. By this, I am referring to the question that you asked in the name of Helmut Reiz, with regard to the book "The Chronicle of Akakor" and the one who appears in it, TATUNCA NARA, chief of the white Indian peoples known as the Ugha Mongulala, written by an ARD correspondent named Karl Brugger.

78. The entire history of the alleged Chief Tatunca Nara is based on lies and deception, just like the one named Tatunca Nara, who, in truth, was born a German.

79. His real name is Hansi Richard Günter Hauck, who has learned the trade of a bricklayer and who was born on the 5th of October, 1941 as a son of Johann Hauck and Meta Hauck and who was born in Grub am Forst in Bayern.

80. Married on 15.2.62, he disappeared a few years later, after which his marriage was ended by divorce by the district court, Nürnberg-Fürth, on the 10th of January, 1966.

81. After his willful abandonment of his wife, he worked for a short time on a ship named DORTE OLDENDORF, from which he soon departed, however, and disappeared into South America, where he entered into strange connections with the Brazilian Secret Service SNI, then conspired with the military there and then settled down in the jungle under a fanciful pack of lies, in order to appear from then on as Chief Tatunca Nara and to make talk of himself.

82. Thanks to the fantasists Erich von Daniken and Peter Krassa, as well as the correspondent Dieter Kronzucker, his pack of lies has been carried out and distributed into the world, which entailed that various people fell into the murderous clutches of Hansi Hauck, whom he then treacherously murdered in the depths of the jungle, in order to get at their money and valuables.

83. Unfortunately, through the fault of the money-greedy fantasists and believers in the matter of Tatunca Nara, it also will not be avoided in the future that other people will fall victim to his murderous sense and greed, such as the correspondent Karl Brugger, whom Hauck will allow to be shot by an assassin in Rio de Janeiro in the year 1984.

84. Also a Swiss named Herbert Wanner from Zofingen will become one of his victims, as well as a German living in Sweden and who bears the name Christine Hauser, but also an Englishman by the name of John Ried.

85. However, these will not be the only murder victims in the life of Hansi Hauck because by the time of the murder of Karl Brugger in Rio, Hauck will already be a 12-time murderer.

Billy:

Well, the next question: Does an artificial tunnel system exist under Ecuador and is a large number of metal foils in the format 96 x 48 cm there, which are printed with unknown characters?

Semjase:

75. Underground tunnel systems from the past exist all over the world, including Ecuador.

76. There, however, many of these tunnels collapsed due to the recent earthquakes in Guatemala.

77. However, various Earth-humans claim that these Ecuador tunnels are inhabited and connected to underground cities where extraterrestrials and other human life-forms live.

78. This however corresponds to a pure fantasy, which is evaluated in a mischievous and also maliciously profitable way.

Billy:

Well, what about the metal foils?

Semjase:

79. There are no such things there or in the adjoining space that would be of extraterrestrial origin.

80. There probably exist foils of the measurement you have referred to, but they were fraudulently made for unfair purposes by Earth-humans a number of years ago.

Billy:

This answer is clear; but what kind of characters are there on these man-made foils?

Semjase:

81. They were confusingly, but logically, made by a whole group of earthlings for fraudulent charlatan purposes.

82. But they are truthfully of complete insignificance.

Nikola Tesla murder

Billy:

... But what do you think about these recordings here another time, which you have already seen and said that they are probably real. They also remind me very much of what N.T. told me on a return trip with Sfath before he was murdered in the hotel in 1943, but which was then made out to be suicide. One moment, please ... So here again ... What do you think about it today? Michael beamed the film material onto my computer ...

{Note: Michael Horn refers to these comments and indicates that the film(s) in question are this YouTube video, and this one.}

...

Ptaah:

Now, if the recordings I see here again are genuine, and they seem to be, they clearly show what you have known since the time you saw with my father Sfath, that the invention of N.T. had fallen into the hands of the NAZIs and was further developed by them. That means – which you knew – that N.T.'s plans of the invention were found and further developed by the Allies at the end of the war, just as the plans were passed on through espionage and their data further developed, from which they came to fruition. If the Nazi researchers who were working on it at the time had been able to complete the invention entirely, and before Hitler, together with his wife who had married him shortly before, was shot by his servants in his bunker in Berlin, then he would have become the ruler of the world with this weapon.

Billy:

So that means that what was filmed here is real.

Ptaah:

Yes, that's how I see and appreciate it. But you should know that the plans were secretly copied and passed on as a result of espionage, so that today two states have this weapon, although not even the highest leadership of these states knows anything about it, but only the military and possibly the secret services. But if this is really the case – and it seems to be reality – then only certain few people are privy to it, including those who know how to operate this weapon, are unbound by friendship or marriage, and are monitored in such a way that they are killed immediately if they make the slightest noise to other human beings. We have seen this method in secrecy projects and therefore know about it. Everything was handled in this way even before the last war, as well as that not even the leaders of the state found out about it, but everything was concealed from them. This happened because the who have their people even in the state leaders direct everything secretly.

Thule Society

see also Extraterrestrials – Giza Intelligences / Bafath

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Thule_Society

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_034

Billy:

... We have some writings from a group in Berlin who are dealing with this Ashtar {Sheran}. ...

...

Semjase:

72. I already said that we know the name very well.

73. But we also know of the writings you mentioned and more of various other things.

74. Despite all our efforts, which we have been doing for years, we were not able to connect with these life forms.

75. We could neither find them in the places mentioned nor ever locate them.

76. We searched countless systems of normal time and countless dimensions for them, but nowhere was there a clue from them.

77. Everything is very mysterious, and interestingly enough the traces from all systems of this and other times and from all dimensions lead back again and again to the Earth, especially to Germany.

78. There the traces bundle together and concentrate in a very specific place and on a very specific entity.

79. This is a centre of a very powerful secret organisation, which you certainly do not know and which calls itself the Thule- or Arus-Society.
80. In years of work we have not been able to clarify why all this is so, why we continue to research in this relationship.
81. However, it is absolutely clear that all impulses undoubtedly emanate from this centre.
82. The initiators of these impulses possess great knowledge and many powers.
83. They are also in possession of few primary telepathic powers and many kinds of knowledge about extraterrestrial technologies, events and about extraterrestrial intelligences, etc.
84. We have established with absolute certainty that they transmit this knowledge through primary telepathy via impulsives and thus influence many Earth-humans who are sensitive to it.
85. But we have also established with absolute certainty that in the originators of these impulses a goal prevails with the aim: Preservation and elevation of the white race on this Earth from the descendants of the Arus race.
86. Up to the present time we have not yet been able to clarify what the meaning of the whole should be and which actual powers are hidden in the originator.
87. Everything is very well shielded through powers that are very difficult to penetrate.
88. At any rate, one thing is certain:
89. The primary telepathically radiated impulses are captured by various groups of humans and recorded in writing.
90. These are sometimes very good transmissions and explanations that come astonishingly close to the truth or even state it in fact.
91. But the reason for this was so far inscrutable and unclear.
92. However, we have certain values about it, which I am not allowed to name officially, because they do not yet give an overall picture.
93. However, it is clear that everything is concentrated around the Thule-Arus-Bund, but where it is actually controlled from is still unclear.
94. Traces of this lead into a foreign galaxy, and it seems that behind the 'Asthar Sheran'-group there is even more than what we currently know and that it is also quite evil.
95. Surprisingly, the writings mentioned contain an enormous amount of knowledge about valuable and good things and about facts that are quite unknown on the Earth.
96. Mixed in with these truths, however, are also very strange, unreal and untrue as well as quite negative and evil lies and things that seem like an evil foreign body in the block of good.
97. Thus, for example, gross falsehoods are interspersed, such as the naming of false contact persons who appear or have appeared on the scene in a fraudulent form.
98. These are also immediately noticeable as evil foreign bodies and do not make any sense in their naming.
99. It could not be clarified so far by us, why these falsehoods are interspersed and asserted as truth and what is the actual and quite obviously very malicious purpose of the whole.
100. On the whole, it is certain that the primary telepathic transmissions are very valuable and sometimes even truthful in relation to things that appear unusual to the earthly man, but to which the evil falsehoods manoeuvred in do not rhyme in any way.
101. The whole thing simply makes no sense, for the logic of the very many truths is interestingly overplayed again by an unusually great illogicalness and falsehood.
102. It is undoubted that the primary telepathic impulses of truth seekers were and are partly truthfully recorded in written form, because the persons doing this are or were very truthful.
103. But it is incomprehensible that the real truth is in short again destroyed and made questionable by untruth as well as by lies and falsehood.

Billy:

Is it possible that perhaps some alien people have their hands in the game? You spoke of the Thule Arus Society and of another galaxy or of the Arus allies. Arus was an alien after all.

Semjase:

104. I am not allowed to give any official information about that yet.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_036

Semjase:

29. Via the then leaders of the Thule Society and their clairvoyant Hanussen I {see Erik Jan Hanussen}, the Giza intelligences managed to take possession of the being of Adolf Hitler and to abuse him for their dark and malicious purposes, without him resisting it, because a delusional greed for power had flared up in him himself.

...

33. Adolf Hitler had succumbed to a delusion of power and was also maliciously abused by the Giza intelligences, with the old Thule Society playing a not inconsiderable part in this, which, however, cannot be transferred to the society of the same name of the new form.

...

35. A few days ago, through painstaking research and surveillance, we were able to gain a clear understanding of the fact that Ashtar Sheran actually exists and that the only reason we could not recognise him was because he fraudulently wrapped himself in this name.

36. A part of his real name is ARUSEAK along with another sequence of names, and he is a cousin of the supreme Giza intelligence.

37. On their behalf he controlled the old German Thule society, in which he introduced two strong telepathic factors, but which also influenced many Thule society members and various outside groups on a telenotic basis, including those who received the pseudo-messages of Ashtar Sheran.

38. Sheran's machinations in this regard continue today and will continue in the future, but no longer in connection with the reorganised Thule Society.

217. ... those who were murdered and slaughtered in the Third Reich between 1939 and 1945 by the indirect orders of the Thule Society via Adolf Hitler and his generals and other leading powers, etc.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_260

Ptaah:

110. The reason for his {Adolf Hitler's} wrongly chosen path developed quite early on, when he secretly came in contact with the Thule Society of that time, in consequence of which he also came in contact with Hermann Steinschneider, who also belonged to the Thule Society and supported its unfair goals and who called himself the clairvoyant, Eric Jan Hanussen.

111. Steinschneider, i.e. Hanussen, moved in all circles of major Nazi figures, among whom he had many clients, so even also Adolf Hitler, who became enslaved to him, and indeed, even before he seized the leadership for himself.

112. Steinschneider/Hanussen emerged as a middle man between the Thule Society and Hitler, and, so to speak, directed Adolf Hitler according to the Thule Society's leaders' will.

113. The efforts of the leaders at that time of the Thule Society went out for the acquisition of world domination; consequently, already very early on, they allowed Steinschneider to influence and shape Hitler in this direction, by what means this then began, in accordance with their will, with terror and murder, to trigger World War II in the end.

114. At the same time, Steinschneider became ever more powerful in the course of time, with respect to his domination over Adolf Hitler, which didn't appeal to various people who were against Hitler and his machinations.

115. The consequence of this was that they allowed Steinschneider, alias Hanussen, to be murdered in 1933, but this didn't change anything in Hitler's attitude and course; therefore, he became more and more of a monster, as you would say.

116. It's interesting to know that Adolf Hitler was born on 4/20/1889 in Braunau, Upper Austria, and Hermann Steinschneider, alias Eric Jan Hanussen, was born in Vienna, also in the year 1889.

117. Thus, both were Austrians. –

Billy:

... The term New Age is however much older than the current trends and leads back into the 19th century, and indeed to occult and esoteric world-views, which, as said, were also influenced by Helena Blavatsky. Influenced by that were indeed also the national-socialistic [NAZI] Rudolf Hess and Sebottendorf, who, together in 1918, respectively, 1919, in Munich, founded the secret Thule Society, a lodge-type association which was constructed on the principles of Lamaist teaching. This alliance functioned as an umbrella organization for Old German, fatherland-orientated and ethnicity-orientated societies of Munich. The alliance pushed predominantly anti-Semitic propaganda, whereby the crowning joke of the matter is that from out of these assimilated ideologies, which were popular at the time, the founding of the United Nations came forth in the year 1945. The entire thing came forth out of the 1912-founded German Thule sect which was connected with the 1910-founded Hammer Alliance and with the radical Peoples' Old-German Association. Their symbols were the swastika, respectively, the hooked cross and the Germanic runes. The association had its own newspaper, the "Municher Observer". The Thule Society was comprised of 1,500 members who had connections with broad sectors of Bavarian society. Along with Rudolf Hess and Sebottendorf, many other National Socialists also belonged to the Thule Society, who also contributed to the development of subversive plans and promoted counter-revolutionary groups, as for example, the German Workers' Party and the NSDAP [NAZI Party, byname of National Socialist German Workers' Party, German Nationalsozialistische Deutsche Arbeiterpartei (NSDAP)] which had come out of it. Then, in 1919, the Thule Society organized a militant fighting union which decisively took part in the Free Corps to strike down the Bavarian Council Republic. That, my friend, correlates to that which I still know in regard to the history, whereby, however, I have still read up somewhat to freshen my memory.

Ptaah:

20. Hitler, who himself was partly of Jewish descent, took the false 'Protocols' and used them to fulfil his lust for power, for his criminal work and to trigger the Second World War.

21. With the help of the falsified 'Protocols of the Wise Men of Zion' he incited himself and the German population against the Jews, finding particularly diligent supporters for his anti-Jewish propaganda among those who glorified him and with whom he was able to build up the Nazi system.

22. And it is a fact that Adolf Hitler's plans for world conquest, which were criminal to humanity, were only discovered through the wrong 'protocols', with the old Thule Society supporting him in his mania for war and world domination.

23. Only through this it was also possible, against false 'chroniclers' and false 'factual experts' in the matter of Adolf Hitler etc., that this fanatical and insane criminal of humanity could lead the world into the Second World War and the Holocaust.

The land of the Norsemen was barren at that time and food for the peoples became increasingly scarce, which is why various Viking leaders emigrated as a result of the food shortage and sought a new home, which was to be found far across the North Sea in the land of that time, which is called America today, but which the Vikings called 'Thule', which they also used for Greenland, among other things, and which actually meant 'new land' as well as 'new home' at that time.

Sfath {1945}:

145. You shall already now know that the successor to my person, will, as at 1953, be a young woman from the DAL universe, where you will certainly be taken someday.

146. The name of your contact person will be Asket.

147. She belongs to one of the branches of our peoples, others of which still reside in the Lyra and Vega systems, however, shifted a split-second from this space-time plane, just as is our space-time configuration in which our Plejaren systems exist.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_1

Asket:

3. And to fulfill our mission, we have to neutralize the spacetime connection barrier between our and your universes, so that we can achieve a harmonious passage through without damage to ships and universes.

4. Because our home world lies in the DAL universe, in the AKON system, in a system foreign to you Earth-humans, of a universe just as foreign to you, of which several surround the universe known to you, on the seventh outer belt.

5. Many of these universes lie in other time planes, and in, for you, expanses of utter foreignness.

6. Our universe is a parallel sister universe to yours, respectively a twin universe, and, calculated according to your concepts, it lies in a similar plane.

7. The difference between your time and ours is only very slight.

8. The reason for our coming into this, your DERN universe, lies in earlier times, that are calculated in several centuries, and, indeed, in the urge to explore, and in a fulfilment of an obligation of our race, who, from the earliest times, came from your DERN universe.

...

15. Certainly, today, the actual direct decedents of the terrestrial forefathers {the Plejaren} no longer populate the territory and spaces and systems around the Ring Nebula and the Vega and

Lyra heavenly bodies in a spacetime shifted configuration, rather they live today on space and time shifted world bodies far on the other side of the system that you name the Seven Heavenly Bodies "Seven Sisters", respectively, the Pleiades, approximately four hundred light-years distant.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_2

Asket:

3. I have already explained to you the possibility of time travel into the past or future.
4. In accordance with our technology, we are in a position to undertake such trips and to now also employ them for the benefit of your coming mission.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_3

Asket:

41. First we will fly out to a great height, in order to, from there, effect a transmission into the past.

{Billy:}

(And already the ship took off and shot ragingly fast into the sky, out of the Earth's atmosphere, ever higher up, up into open space, where suddenly a multitude of stars sparkled. ...)

42. We will be that far along in a moment. The transmission takes only a split second.

{Billy:}

(Asket busied herself with her apparatuses and quite suddenly I seemed, for a split second, to no longer physically exist. I suddenly seemed to have been simply "extinguished" corporally. ...)

...

Jitschi:

But now I still want to put a question to you, Asket: Jechieli has giving me some things which I would like to take back into our time, because they would, with certainty, have a very high antique value there.

Can I take the things back with me?

Asket:

66. If you want to, naturally.

67. But the value of the things would not be great for your time, and indeed, because the gifts from Jechieli are clearly from his epoch, from the Thirteenth Century, yet, in your time, will not be older.

68. We require only a tiny split second to go from this epoch back to your time, during which everything in my ship and these things will also only age by just this time.

69. If Jechieli's gifts are to become antiques, then you must bury them somewhere or deposit them in some other way, and arrange for them to endure in the normal time-span of centuries so they then really age.

70. With our ship, if I may so speak, we bridge space and time by way of a transmission through parabolic space, whereby space and time become finite and shrink to a denominator of a split second.

71. That means that we can, in this way, bridge time-spans of billions of years in a tiny split second without becoming older than that specific split second.

Jitschi:

The mathematics are too high for me.

Asket:

72. It is an equation.

...

74. But let us go now, because we still want to change to another time today.

{Billy:}

(We did as she ordered. Some half hour later the ship again sped with us into the sky, then, for a short split second, I again felt that I simply no longer was.)

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_4

{Billy:}

The required procedure, leading up to the time-travel transmission, took about 10 minutes, whereby, however, the actual jump, required to go from one epoch to another, only lasted a split second.

All that which appertained to the technology and the procedure was not explained by Asket. With the launching of the transmission a quite weird thing happened in the form that the entire surroundings of the ship slowly shimmered and then quite suddenly simply no longer existed. I also observed the same process in regard to myself, and in the moment of the "jump" it was, to me, actually as if I suddenly no longer corporally existed.

Somehow I felt transferred into something which I sensed as being eternity itself and in which an indescribable silence and endless, calming peace and enormous love ruled.

The actual procedure, from a technical viewpoint, remained a puzzle to me, and certainly I will also never be able to solve this because I am unfortunately completely ignorant in regard to technology.

...

Asket:

24. When the gigantic comet actually came - which penetrated this universe and the solar system from another space-time configuration, and is still today named The Destroyer by many life-forms - the humans made their way to the pyramids and underground villages and shut themselves into them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_6

{Billy:}

Then we still made several special small preparations before Asket took us into outer space again with her ship and then carried out the transmission into the past.

Our landing place in the past, in the year 32, was the same place where we had taken off only minutes before; minutes which, however, now suddenly lay about 2,000 years in the past.

I am still able to remember very well that the entire landscape of the past was only very slightly different from the way it was in the normal present time of the year 1953.

Several ranges of hills and mountains were somewhat different, as were the immediate surroundings of the landing place.

That which had been subject to fundamental alterations were villages and the little town of Jerusalem, as I was also able to determine in the later time, in the 1960's.

But all in all, everything had otherwise remained about the same, at least as far as the landscape was concerned.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_001

Semjase:

22. It is true that the Earth-human has taken the first very small step towards outer space flight, but that means nothing more than the first rather primitive attempts.

23. Even though he/she has reached the moon with rockets, he/she still hasn't reached the outer space yet.

24. He/she would also never reach it in the present form; what is needed for this is a propulsion system capable of penetrating hyperspace and causing the unending distances to collapse.

25. Space and time are not overcome by space and time, but by the spaceless and the timeless, which means that space and time collapse in themselves and become equally directed to null time.

26. As a result, a few fractions of a second can suffice to rush through millions of light-years, practically without a loss of time, because null time paralyzes space and time.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_004

Billy:

My next question relates to the fact that you explained to me at my / our first meeting, that the Earth-humans would not be able to travel to the deep and real outer space unless they would invent another method of propulsion. I can only imagine here that with this drive, you mean that it must be, for example, a beam propulsion system, a hyperdrive, so to speak. In my opinion, this would have to be a drive that somehow alters the material matter, presumably when the speed of light is exceeded and the beamship is thereby hurtled into a hyperspace, in which space and time paralyse themselves, as you have already explained. I suppose that space and time collapse in such a way that they are completely cancelled out

...

Semjase:

32. You are absolutely right with your assumptions.

33. To traverse the real outer space, a drive is needed that exceeds the speed of light many times over.

34. But this drive can only come into operation when the speed of light is reached.

35. It follows from this that another drive regulates the normal speed up to that of light.

36. This means thus that a beamship must have two drives; first, the normal drive, which allows acceleration up to and below the speed of light, and second, the hyperdrive, as you call it.

37. So the drive that generates million and thousand million of times the speed of light; thus, the hyperspeed, by which hyperspace is broken into.

38. A space in which every mass expands in relation to the increase in speed.

39. As a result, time and space collapse and become the null time and the null space.

40. This means:

41. Space and time simply cease to exist.

42. And this is exactly what allows the fact that distances of countless light-years can be rushed through in fractions of a second, without a time shift occurring.

...

44. So for example, when we leave our Pleiades and need around 7 hours to reach Earth, then only 7 hours pass on our home planet and on Earth, as well.

45. We need this long of a time because we first have to fly beyond the planetary ranges with the normal propulsion and can only go to hyperspeed once very far out in space.

46. We then also come back from hyperspace far outside of your solar system and fly here with the normal drive.

47. We are never allowed to break into hyperspace while too close to a planet.

Billy:

I understand. The breaking into hyperspace would presumably also tear one or more planets into the superspace and spew them back out as deadly projectiles when the beamship bursts out of it. Perhaps even various huge comets have become raging and dangerous objects speeding through outer space in this way; due to the fault of irresponsible starfarers.

Semjase:

48. You are partially right:

49. The hyperspace really must be broken into only very far out in space because, otherwise, planets would be dragged into it.

50. Also, regarding the exit from hyperspace, you were thinking absolutely right.

51. It is also a fact that some comets originated in this manner, but only some, because most of them have been led onto their dangerous paths by other and natural events.

52. So you are only partially right about this, if you assume that all comets were created in this manner, as you might have suspected.

53. But the fact is that such incidents are due to irresponsibility, as this does exist throughout the entire cosmic space, not just on the Earth.

54. An irresponsibility also exists when highly developed intelligences make their first hyperspace trials and carry them out too close to planets.

55. The recommendation for safety has indeed to be calculated, and it states that the hyperspeed may only be initiated 153 million kilometres away from the nearest planet.

Billy:

That is very interesting, but I did not suppose that all comets originated in the manner mentioned. But how does such a hyperdrive actually work, and what about the normal drive?

Semjase:

56. Unfortunately, I am not allowed to tell you any details about that.

57. If the Earth scientists had more specific details, then they would solve their propulsion problems in a very short time.

58. But this is neither in our nor in the cosmic interest, because the Earth-human is still not free and not mature enough to fly around in the outer space.

59. However, at the given time, which is not too far away any more, s/he will find the solution of her/his problem all by herself/himself.

60. I may only tell you so much that very many of your scientists are nevertheless already on the right track and are theoretically working and researching on the necessary drives.

61. I may also tell you that these also concern drives that are already known in their basic features within your initiated scientific circles as light-emission drives and as tachyon drives.

62. The light-emission drive serves as normal drive and has the function of moving the beamship to planets or within their vicinity, up to 153 million kilometres of distance, so up to the safety limit.

63. Beyond that, the tachyon drive, among other things, is put into operation, if greater distances are to be bridged.

64. This is one of the hyperdrives, capable of controlling hyperspace as well as space and time.

...

Billy:

That makes sense to me, but I don't understand how such a drive functions. I know the basic concepts of an emission and I know what tachyons mean, but I cannot imagine or guess the actual processes with a drive resulting from them. Can you tell me more details about that?

Semjase:

67. No, I am not allowed to do that, because by doing so I would reveal the secret of the whole drive and also the generation and utilisation of the tachyons, however also the secret of the emitting drive

Semjase:

67. Deep in the unknown space, in a space-time shifted solar system of the Milky Way, a solitary star floated far away from the normal orbits of the satellites orbiting the Sun.

...

115. As if hurled by a giant's fist, one half of the dwarf planet shot away and through a dimensional gate created by the hands of highly developed human beings into the unending expanses of the Milky Way's space towards a very distant target.

...

129. The Destroyer itself drifted by a few units from its old course and shot past the sun in dangerous proximity, back into the expanses of the space, in order to take the same path as long times before the small planet did, consequently it also passed the dimension gate created by technically highly advanced human beings' hands and came into the space-time configuration of our DERN universe and into the area of the Milky Way and thus also into the SOL system.

...

149. The scientists with their spacecrafts and abundantly provided means of all kinds and fantastic application possibilities used the dimension gate known to them, to (in another space-time configuration of the DERN universe) reach the Milky Way area and explored the space for ever newer things.

Semjase:

120. The celestial sons or starfarers, as we want to call our forebears, were at home on many different planets of stars, in a different space-time configuration or far away from the SOL-system, whereby the planets were fundamentally different in climatic terms, hence they also produced other races which were able to adapt to the climate from the ur-beginning.

...

184. A "world of spirits," as you called it, does not exist.

185. There are only the fine-fluidal worlds in this regard.

186. These are worlds that are located in other dimensions and harbour bodiless spirit forms.

187. When a spirit leaves a material body, then it cannot simply settle down anywhere; it must inhabit a body again, i.e. it enters a fine-fluidal world, thus a world of spirit forms, of which there are countless ones.

188. There, the spirit lives as its own form for so long, until it returns again into a newly created host body.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_008

Billy:

Of course, if I may then ask you another question?

...

It concerns the problem of the theory of relativity, in particular time dilation.

...

Semjase:

96. There are various possibilities for mastering the space.

97. To describe them all, however, would make no sense, as they would be too incomprehensible and too fantastic for the human beings of Earth.

98. With flying objects, however, there is only a single possibility for mastering the space safely.

99. This possibility is that of hyperspace, in which a dilation of time is abolished, since the theory of relativity remains just that – a theory.

100. But the elimination of a time shift or time dilation requires the breaking through to the hyperspace, as I have already explained before.

101. I am not allowed to give more precise details.

102. But in any case, the "jump" occurs very quickly under the momentary paralysis of the protective shield and with suddenly increased speed, which results in an instantaneous expansion of the mass.

103. This means that the process to be initiated occurs so quickly that the speed and certain processes, which are generated by apparatuses, distort the material within millionths of a fraction of a second, making it a fine form, which is capable of timelessly traversing the superspace.

104. As said, it's not just about the speed, even though it exceeds that of light thousands of millions of times, but various other processes are additionally required.

105. Only due to the speed itself the effect of the mass changing is created, which is what makes a hyperjump possible.

106. The mass of a body grows in proportion to the increase in its speed.

107. This means that the mass grows endlessly.

108. However, our ships are protected by protective shields, and these prevent this process, and only the switching off of the shield allows for the distorting effect.

109. It is precisely this process, then, that is then exploited to accelerate the actual distortion and to cause a dematerialisation.

110. As a result, space and time become paralysed at the same time and cancel each other out, meaning that the ship is already rematerialising at its destination when it dematerialises at the point of departure.

111. This whole process lasts no longer than a millionth of a fraction of a second, so that also life-forms crossing the hyperspace do not have to pay the price for changes of any kind.

112. If spaceships fly slower than the speed of light, then this requires firstly an irresponsible amount of time, which is however particularly with newcomers to space travel always the case.

113. Everyone only learns from experiences and cognitions.

114. Secondly, this type of space flight is very dangerous and puts every reaching of destination into question.

115. If a spaceship breaks through the speed of light without using the hyperspace, however, then that catastrophe, which you call the theory of relativity, befalls the ship and its occupants.

116. Speeds above that of the light harbour all sorts of dangers, if the barrier of hyperspace is not breached and superspace is not made an ally

117. Time dilation is just one of these dangers.

118. Another danger is that in this case, too, the mass of a spacecraft expands to infinity in relation to its speed and can, under certain circumstances, result in the destruction of the ship and its occupants.

119. There are, however, still many other dangers.

120. Nevertheless, all life-forms must complete their evolutionary process, through which they gain experiences and knowledge.

121. Also our forebears had to struggle with these problems and got lost in space and time.

122. However, the same has happened and is happening to other life-forms.

123. Hence, it happens again and again that some "time-travellers" from the past appear, which often causes very big problems for them.

124. Often they can no longer find their home worlds or else find them completely destroyed.

125. Now and then, beings of this kind that are foreign to the galaxy also appear, which have already penetrated as far as Earth and will also continue to come again and again.

126. Some such "time-travellers" have also been stranded on the Earth in earlier times and never left here.

127. Old strange legends and tales about them are known among you.

128. Nevertheless, in the course of time many of these creatures died out, or they degenerated or mixed with the earthly life-forms.

129. It is also not uncommon for such "time-travellers" to visit the Earth even today.

130. And many are among them, who never find their home worlds again and, therefore, simply settle somewhere on other worlds.

131. Often, however, they also get lost in the expanse of space and die.

132. Not seldom they are thousands and even millions of years on the move, while for them however only few minutes or few years pass.

133. The dangers of speed are very great, and they already start at just a few kilometres per hour, if the flying objects or vehicles are not shielded.

134. Even minimal speeds of a few kilometres per hour impair the material in its shape, structure, and stability, if no protective measures are present.

135. A natural consequence is the expansion of mass and the decomposition of material.
136. This means that even at low speeds, the mass of a vehicle or flying object imperceptibly increases in relation to the speed and causes the effect of slow destruction.
137. As said, this already happens at a few kilometres per hour of speed and in minimalistic terms that are hardly detectable with your technology.
138. At low speeds, the process also takes a very long time and may under certain circumstances require hundreds of years.
139. At very high speeds, however, the time is reduced to decades or a few years.
140. Also the life-forms themselves are impaired by this process, because also their masses change because of the speed.
141. The function of the brain becomes affected because its mass changes.
142. This has the consequence that all functions are slowed down and outages occur.
143. In other words, this means that all of a sudden, the thinking and reaction functions stop and a void develops.
144. The life-form thereby loses control over itself and its vehicle.
145. The life-form effectively loses control over its own functions.
146. Of course, any life-form is capable of gradually getting used to and controlling these factors to some extent.
147. However, for every life-form there is somewhere the absolute limit where it simply must fail.
148. According to earthly terms, it may often take years before such incidents plague a human being.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_009

Semjase:

122. With spaceships, which they had seized, they fled through the space out of another configuration of space and time into the one of the Milky Way of the DERN universe and settled on the Earth.

...

127. Everything without residue was destroyed, and only a few thousand human beings were able to survive, while others fled again into the outer space and into the old space-time configuration and settled on distant worlds.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_029

Semjase:

74. Millions of years ago a giant dark star in another space-time configuration destroyed half a planetary system in many light-years distance from the earthly system.

75. After the destruction of that distant system, the wanderer rushed out into the vastness of space, entered the space-time structure of the Milky Way of the DERN universe, and set course for Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_030

Semjase:

35. You forget the paralysis of space and time through the use of hyperspace.

36. A hyper-jump over countless trillions and even higher nominal values of kilometres only takes fractions of a second.

Semjase:

79. This spaceship represents our latest development, and has been working together with other ones of this same kind for four years now in Earth's chronology.

80. They find useful applications as self-sustained expeditionary ships and for intergalactic order keeping.

81. They are able to move within all times and spaces, and for them negotiating the barrier between Universes is no longer an obstacle, whereby an all-universal community made of countless life-forms can be included.

...

Billy:

That is still fantastic! If I understood right what you have just explained, you are able, with this great ship, as well as with the others of the same type, to shift from one Universe to another?

Semjase:

83. Sure, you have understood me correctly.

84. However this only applies to aligned Universes.

...

Semjase:

105. However it did not happen in Turkey but in Iran, near Zahedan early one morning.

106. I have, luckily while I was shielded from vibrations, dug out from the earth a time-spiral, which was of great importance.

107. We had been searching for it for three years until we finally found it.

108. It was a time projectile for research purposes.

109. At least that's what you would probably call it.

110. Here, this is the projectile. (Semjase brings out a conical spiral shaped device.)

111. This is also the reason why we are going to the edge of the Universe now, because this device came from another Universe.

...

Ptaah:

36. ... Semjase once explained to you the possibilities offered by our means of transportation, namely the use of hyperspace, by which space and time become paralysed.

...

Billy:

... We were talking about time travel and related things, and about this great spacer too. I would now like to ask you whether I might be right about the following assumptions: Semjase has given me an explanation about the utilisation of hyper-space, as you have already mentioned. As I now conceive the matter, this utilisation of hyper-space, this phenomenon that I have experienced earlier, consists of a real time travel, offering all the possibilities of past, present and future, as well as other dimensions and spaces. Semjase had explained then, that a hyper-leap through endless distances only takes a split second to happen, but unfortunately I only noticed that correctly just now. Therefore, in my estimation, it does not consist of a simple hyperspace crossing but of a time travel, through which space and time become paralysed, something that would certainly not happen on a normal hyper-leap. For me, this results in the moment of the simultaneous point of view in simultaneous time: space and time are thus paralysed, taken in a literal sense. That is, they become pushed together, if I can put it like that, whereby an absolute timelessness arises and also a spacelessness. That time- and spacelessness can then get traversed with immeasurable speed in a split second, without any shifts or distortions. When Semjase uses the hyperspace with her small beamship, it must also consist of the same principle. By that manner of using the hyper-space it must also be possible to do a time travel also in time that stands still, through which one appears at the targeted location, right in the same second as when one disappears from the starting point. From my estimation it does not deal with anything other than with a technologically generated dematerialisation and rematerialisation, when the time travel is carried out in present time. Only then can one see virtually no passing of time while everything remains free from shifts and distortions.

...

Ptaah:

114. ...

{Billy:}

(Once more the preparations for the hyper-leap are taken, and this time I will attempt to observe things other than just the overhead view. I watch Semjase and Ptaah very carefully, and like the starscape before, they suddenly turn into a milky shimmering mass. But the horseshoe-shaped console also turns into the same white mass, and like Ptaah and Semjase it also returns to a solid form after a few seconds

The impression of deep tranquillity that has come over me this time is much greater than before, and I think that I have now solved the riddle: This deep tranquillity and this unbelievable peacefulness flowing through me is eternity itself, the absolute timelessness, which obviously is no longer subject to outside influences, such as the restlessness, strife and worries that trouble the consciousness. I realise suddenly that during these few seconds I was in the eternity itself experiencing myself as eternity, where I only exist as fine spiritual matter, and am completely free of all that can influence my material life. I actually travelled to eternity for a few seconds.)

Ptaah:

119. ...

{Billy:}

(Still lost in thought and working automatically, I take some more photos with the help of the device. I am paying attention to neither the environment nor anything else. My thoughts linger on the eternity, and I find them so large and powerful that words completely fail me. At the next leap I want to observe myself. I want to see if I can assess something in myself, if I shimmer like the milky mass and if I am able to realise some things about or in myself. It is...)

Ptaah:

120. This will surely be possible, if you are paying attention.

121. In a few seconds we will start the next leap.

{Billy:}

(I only half hear his words, because my thoughts are elsewhere. Automatically I put my focus on myself and wonder about the fact that I suddenly cannot see my body. Once again this takes only seconds, which I can verify by looking at my watch. And now I wonder about Ptaah's words. He has captured my thoughts, and he knows exactly what I think. Apparently, I just let them run free and uncontrolled. But with my watch it's also strange; when close to Semjase's beamship, the watch always went too fast or too slow. For some time now that is no longer the case, and it works perfectly. But I haven't yet ...)

Semjase:

208. ...

{Billy:}

(I only half hear the words spoken to me because my thoughts are still far away. A little absent-mindedly I take a few pictures, and shortly thereafter experience again the immersion into eternity. However, I do not advance further into it, and everything is suddenly blocked. Something is simply inhibiting me from penetrating further. But what is it... oh, of course, the time, the damned time, it must be what keeps me from plunging deeper. These few seconds are not enough, they are just enough for a lightning-fast plunge into eternity... and to emerge back just as fast. It is still ...)

Ptaah:

124. Hello – you are very far away in your thoughts, and once again you have realised something new.

125. Everything is right with the time, but this can be changed if you are interested.

126. The great leap to the Universe barrier can be altered so that the re-materialisation can be delayed and the time shifted by a few minutes.

127. For this purpose we have to travel into the future, and the lost time cannot be recovered.

128. In ordinary time-travel into the future, the time interval would be neutralised, yet for this form of penetrating into the timelessness, other technologies are necessary.

129. In this manner time cannot become paralysed; we have to live through it and therefore to also let it go over and through us.

130. However there are limits set to this, so that while 5 seconds pass by your time measurements in ordinary time-space, only one second passes for us when penetrating into the timelessness.

131. We can do this because we can regulate the time between dematerialisation and rematerialisation by modulating speed, since according to our understanding true timelessness also prevails in the timeless.

132. This, of course, is only relatively speaking, for this shift out of the timelessness also keeps its own time, but it is imbedded into such a huge interval, that we cannot fully control it.

133. A single second of the timeless amounts to millions of years in ordinary time-space.

134. If we were then to penetrate while standing still or with insufficient speed into the timeless, we would never be able to return to our homeworld.

135. If we were to remain standing still for only a few seconds in the timeless, many millions of years of ordinary time would pass on Earth – which would turn into dust – while you would return into normal space only a few seconds older, though in truth you would be thousands of millions of years older.

136. That may all seem incomprehensible and fantastic to you, yet it is so.

137. Even with your greatest consciousness-based efforts you will not be able to understand the actual connections, as even for us with our development, these are still not available and this mystery is not exactly transparent.

138. In this respect, we too know only a few solutions to these enormous mysteries and are therefore continuously striving for further knowledge.

139. Though we have the technology required to travel through the universe with the help of hyper-space and can also use timelessness as an ally, we are still at the initial stages in our related research and development.

140. We can however take responsibility for giving you an incursion into the timeless, which you call the eternity, with our great spacer.

141. To enable the desired awareness for you, we will need seven minutes of leap time, which in normal time-space increase fivefold.

142. This means for you and for all of us, that we need from dematerialisation to rematerialisation an experiential time of seven minutes within the spaceship, while in the timeless only the thousand-billionth fraction of a second passes, whereas in ordinary time 35 minutes elapse and everything gets older by this amount.

143. In this special case the course of time changes for all of us, for instead of growing older there happens a rejuvenation of exactly 28 minutes.

144. The mathematical calculation for this is very easy:

145. While we are in timelessness for seven minutes.

146. These seven minutes are our ordinary time to speed factor which is also carried over into our older self as seven minutes.

147. However as we spend this time in the timeless and to a great extent can be protected from its influence, thus the time effect being of one to five in ordinary space, our space is slowed down and as a result acquires the difference of 28 minutes.

148. So for us there is only a passage of seven minutes while in normal time-space 35 minutes pass.

149. Therefore then, if 35 minutes pass on your homeworld, then of course everything gets older by this time.

150. Yet during this same interval, because of the altered time effect in reality you only live for seven minutes.

151. You now have to subtract these seven minutes from the elapsed 35 minutes on Earth to reach the result of 28 minutes that you have not aged.

152. So during these seven minutes you become only seven minutes older while everything on Earth ages by 35 minutes.

153. In other words this means that while 35 minutes pass, you only become older for seven minutes, while also becoming younger by 28 minutes.

...

166. Our last jump will be to the Andromeda Galaxy, which rests, as seen from Earth, at a distance of roughly 2.2 million light-years.

167. From there we will setup for the great leap to the Universe barrier by which we want to give you the seven minutes opportunity to experience the timeless.

...

Semjase:

254. And since I am already speaking of this, I want to ask you something before we jump into null-time, the timeless, or in the eternity, as you call it, for seven minutes, which will happen in a few minutes.

...

272. The great journey begins in 23 seconds.

(... Ptaah and Semjase manipulate the console, and now I can again see how the fantastic starry sky is changing. The initially calmly passing by constellations are again transformed into strokes and after a few seconds begin to blur. And in the next moment they are no more than a whitish milky mass, a shimmering mass, like I have experienced in all previous hyper-leaps. But now, suddenly, this milky whitish glow is gone, and there is a complete darkness. What is this? Now everything is suddenly bathed in a golden colour, and then everything is suddenly silvery. But oh, man, this radiant light, this radiant brightness. Everything is bathed in radiant light, everything exists only as radiant light. It is stronger than all the suns of the Universe put together. Man oh man, this bright light, and it doesn't even hurt me in the eyes. Man, this is the eternity, the bright radiant light of eternity. Look, there exists nothing else but the eternal. Man, how splendid. Splendid? Man, that is the splendour itself. Eternity and splendour are one and the same. Why do I separate them? Why do I put the eternal in terms of time? Time does not exist, and eternity is splendour. Man, what is this? This calm, this peace, what is it, how did I get here? Love, oh this deep all-embracing love. There is nothing but love. Splendid! Oh yes, I am in the eternity. Just how can I forget that? This radiant light, this more splendorous, this love in everything. Oh, yes, I am a human being, but how can I? Why do I forget that? I am just a guest in eternity... and these lovely voices, that call me by. Where do they come from? I see nothing but radiant, soothing light? Who is calling for me? I don't see anything. Man, I am no more, I don't see myself, I am eternity in the eternity. Oh, how is this, I cannot see with my eyes anymore, and yet I can see everything, and I cannot hear with my ears, and yet I hear everything. Yes, love, how powerful it is, how vast, infinite and splendorous. Everything is love and splendour, just why does the human being not want to understand that? How? Oh, yes... but that cannot be, I am not a human being, I am the eternity. This light, this radiant light, such profound love, calm and peace it has. Oh... now I understand; I cannot see or hear, but I empfinde. I feel, I live, I empfinde. How beautiful is this peace... am I not human? Am I not the eternity? Who is calling for me? Interesting, I sense the hearing without needing the ears and I see without needing the eyes. I feel the seeing and I feel the hearing. Where am I, why is this like this? Oh, yes, the eternity, now I understand, I am the eternity. Just why was everything so unclear? Just why did I not find the connection? Just why did I forget that I am in the eternity as a human being? Just why can I only think clearly now? Think? I rather empfinde, I feel. How is

teachings about truth, which base everything on ignorance. Oh, how painful this is. Why does the human being just not want to understand the real truth and the love? Why does he/she keep themselves imprisoned in cultic heresies and tread the path of destruction with them? Strange, the Empfinden does not register a deity; how mistaken are the human teachings. They are just an evil delusion, which leads to destruction. Just why does the human being not want to be eternity and to become real EXISTENCE? Why does he/she not free themselves of cultic heresies, and run to their doom? Human, why do you do that? See here the eternity, see the real EXISTENCE and see, here is the great- and spirit-consciousness, the great unity of the whole. Above the consciousness of the EXISTENCE stands only the Creation, and it is infinitely vaster and more powerful in its awareness of its existence than this level of consciousness. This awareness is the final stage of all spirit levels before becoming one with the Creation. Here is the last stage of the possible relative completion before the oneness with the Creation. This is the last stage of the final truth and the fulfilment of the relative completion. This is the stage of EXISTING in the consciousness of the existence in the fulfilment of the relative completion. This is the stage of the great unity in the oneness, and here all the self and all the personality is overcome. The consciousness is the call of the eternity and the eternal call of the truth and the all-embracing love, and what can be greater than it, because everything is born out of it. It's the EXISTENCE of the Creation and the EXISTENCE of all EXISTENCE. Beside it, truly nothing exists. Just why does the human being not understand this, why does he/she chase after irrational teachings and why does they let themselves be captured by heresies? Nothing exists outside of the Creation, and there is no other Creation besides it. It alone is the truth of the Universe and it alone is consummate spirit-consciousness, perfect love and consummate EXISTENCE. It's not shaped and not formed, it's spiritual consciousness, spiritual love and consummate spiritual EXISTENCE alone. And outside of it is nothing. Human being, why do you not recognise this truth? Why do you let yourself be misled by cultic heresies, and why do you place human creatures and many other things next to it, which should take the place of the EXISTENCE of the Creation? Human being, why do you foreordain a deity in place of the EXISTENCE of Creation, and why do you curse the EXISTENCE of the Creation through the nomination of a god, which mendaciously and fraudulently should be the EXISTENCE of the Creation? Human being, how evil you are in your arrogance, and how can you presume yourself to be above the Creation or to equate it with the creatures created by it, by appointing them as gods and imagining them as the Creation? How you have become vicious in your thinking, unreasonable and autocratic. Oh, human being, you advance in very evil paths, which lead to destruction, yet by no means will you find in them the way to the real EXISTENCE of the Creation. Here is the eternity and here only the truth rules, and so also only the truth is expressed. Oh human being, how great and infinite is the Empfinden of pain at your ignorance. Despite endless love a thorn of pain resonates through the Empfinden of the consciousness and makes the splendour of the radiant light melancholic. Recognise the love, still; recognise the truth, human being, so that you too experience the splendour of happiness in the existence of the eternity. You human being of the distant material world, human being of the Earth, hear the call of eternity; let yourself be instructed about the truth and use the power of the spirit and consciousness to recognise the love. Make it your own and thereby flow in the consciousness of the eternal EXISTENCE. Work your way consciously up to the level of the radiant light and receive here the conscience of the great unity in the unity. Realise the falsity of all cultic heresies and deities, and realise alone the path of the light and the universal love, realise the way of the truth, the only one which leads to the splendour of the Creation. It alone is all-encompassing and all-magnificent. Conceive that, human being, and allow only the truth to be the real truth, because only it leads to the kingdom of eternity. Conceive: the word of the truth is imperishable, because it is Empfindung and recognition in the EXISTENCE of the consciousness of the great unity. The heavens and worlds will perish, but the words of the truth will never perish. They are... oh... no. It's so strange... the Earth-human knows only half the truth, for he/she is misguided by cultic heresy. Yes... but why then? Great unity in consciousness, is what? It's so strange, I empfinde so very painful for the Earth-human, why is that? Oh, it's.. no, don't! You go away from me. What is it now? I hear your call from somewhere, and it's going away. Why do you go, oh, the light, its radiance decreases. Why is that? I am me again... no... no... that should not be... no I don't want to go back. No, no, I belong here, I know, I am thinking again, I no longer empfinde. Oh... I understand, the light... the radiance is gone now and already it shimmers gold, and now silver. No... no, I don't want to. Leave me, I... I... I...

I hang in the cabin chair as if I had been executed and stare forward. I don't want and cannot understand being here. I don't want to return to here at all. I want to remain in the "beyond", and yet I am here, just why? I don't understand the world anymore. Why, oh why? The "beyond" is love and EXISTENCE, and what is here at all? These burdens, these worries, problems and needs, that cannot be true... I want to go back. Oh, this misery, this sad reality of material life. Oh, man oh man, this sad misery, this life, this misery; just why did I come back? Man oh man, I could howl, oh, just how can I go back? There must be a way, it's not easy to... ? Oh, what is that now? Man, what is that? Uh, what... ? Oh, is that you? What are you doing here, Semjase??? Uh, why are you shaking me like that? What's happening?

...

Semjase:

274. We have reached our goal, but we have done a big hyper-jump and the rematerialisation was delayed by seven minutes, to allow you an intrusion into null-time... into the timelessness.

Billy:

??? Timelessness?

Semjase:

275. Do you still not understand

I ... Oh yes, of course ... pitiful ... how very pitiful ... why have you brought me back here?

Semjase:

276. You like to joke; but we have all been inside the timelessness, and would all like to stay there.

277. But we must not do that, because we have to complete the path of evolution step-by-step, as you also must do, dear friend.

278. I know very well the pain you feel now, as we have all experienced the same thing.

279. But we have become accustomed to it, and know that we can under no circumstances stay there, before we have reached that stage of consciousness, which belongs to the great consciousness level.

...

Ptaah:

173. We have reached our goal... we are almost at the end of the material universe.

174. Until we reach the barrier we will go through completely empty space, resp. the outer Creation belt up to the displacement belt.

175. Up to that point, there are now not only a few million kilometres, but many billions of light-years.

176. So we leave the actual material Universe resp. the solid-state matter universe belt, and go into the transformation belt and beyond, up to the very end of our DERN Universe, where across a barrier, resp. a Universal barrier, we will then create a passageway to the DAL Universe.

Billy:

Fantastic. But tell me now, why have I had so many thoughts in the great unity of the null-time? They were only seven minutes according to your information, but I have thought more than is possible in seven minutes.

Semjase:

288. You have thought no more, you have only empfunden [from Empfinden: to perceive in a fine-fluidal manner].

289. In the null-time, in the timeless, only Empfinden exists in the great unity.

290. You were yourself no more, but only a tiny part of the whole great unity.

291. And in this great unity the Empfindungen penetrated into you.

Billy:

I was able to analyse that, that's right. Only at the beginning did I notice a certain I-force, but then this dissolved in the infinite level and mass of the eternity.

...

Ptaah:

252. This structure is produced by a spaceship that you can recognise there, very far ahead in the ring-like centre.

253. Here our Universe ends, and this structure stands as the gateway to another Universe, which we call the DAL Universe.

Billy:

Man, but this is enormous, it must certainly have close to 50 kilometres in diameter. And the length of this tunnel, man oh man.

Semjase:

299. You err very much in your measuring.

300. The diameter of the tunnel amounts to 177,000 metres, and its length totals 7,103 thousand million kilometres.

...

Billy:

Do we have to go to another space-time dimension or something? And, what is it actually about this DAL Universe, that seems so familiar to me?

Semjase:

304. We will remain in the normal time and normal space.

305. You see, we are already far inside the tunnel, and nothing changes.

306. But as for the DAL Universe; does this not remind you of anything?

307. It is a twin Universe of our DERN Universe.

...

Nera:

27. Semjase is bringing a time projectile back to us.

28. That's what she has gone to get now.

Billy:

Oh yes, Semjase told me something about it. Are you allowed to tell me what this thing is?

Nera:

29. For nine years we have been researching a new technology for time travel over unmeasurable distances and time periods, and also across various Universes, without the need to open a barrier.

30. For this purpose, we have developed small spiral-shaped time projectiles, which for now we are transmitting from and to the present time, specifically from our Universe's present time into yours.

31. And since Semjase understands these technologies and works with us, it's only understandable that we guide some of our projectiles to your own Earth.

32. Three years ago we transmitted the last projectile to there, where unfortunately it could not be found for a long time, because of a very small error that had arisen in the time calculation.

33. Thus, the projectile landed several thousand kilometres to the east of the intended target, because the Earth had rotated by this distance during the course of the projectile's journey.

34. This mistake was discovered some months ago by us, and so we were able to find out where the projectile had really landed.

35. Semjase effectively found it then and has brought it back to us now, because it is very valuable for us.

...

Semjase:

378. Each dimension of a universe has different parallel universes with parallel worlds.

379. They are parallel dimensions or other space-time structures.

380. So also beyond your home world, the Earth, other dimensions and worlds exist.

381. These parallel worlds exist in superordinate or subordinate dimensions, in space-time structures that are alien to normal time.

382. On one of these kinds of parallel worlds, almost everything is the same as on the worlds of normal time.

383. Only small differences prevail, especially in the times.

384. And into such a parallel world I want to travel with you.

385. It is a different form of time travel into the future or past than you experienced with Asket.

...

388. There are the same human beings and buildings there as on Earth, only everything is just shifted in time and space.

...

Ptaah:

261. We are just about to cross back into our own universe.

262. After that we will stay at the end of the barrier for fifty minutes to close it again.

Billy:

Does it take that long?

Semjase:

433. Sure, because we can't just let it collapse, we have to close it systematically.

434. That just takes time and requires a lot of care.

435. From universe to universe there are very few barrier points that can be used as a transition.

436. They must also not be overused or overloaded, otherwise the barrier structure will be destroyed, which could lead to a universal ram belt catastrophe.

437. So everything has to be done very precisely according to its order and according to the given laws, which of course always takes its time.

...

Ptaah:

264. The whole process of closure is programmed and will take care of itself without any special intervention on our part.

...

Billy:

... Semjase once told me that for a hyperleap you would have to keep a safety distance of 153 million kilometres from the nearest stars and planets so that they would not be pulled into the maelstrom of the hyperleap hole. ...

...

Ptaah:

516. The truth is that invisible and unrecognisable forms of beings live in the most diverse spheres and dimensions.

517. These are spheres and dimensions that are superimposed on or subordinate to your normal time and that form independent spheres and space-time planes.

518. In and of themselves these spheres and dimensions, and likewise the life-forms or being-forms that animate them, are of as material a nature as the Earth human being, his world and his time-plane.

519. The swinging waves of the time planes concerned are, however, structurally fundamentally displaced, whereby these other spheres, dimensions and forms of life or beings remain invisible and unrecognisable to the Earth human being.

520. The vibrational spheres far inferior to Earth-humans are just as invisible and unrecognisable to them as the spheres far superior to them.

521. If this were not so, the most diverse spheres, dimensions and life-forms would flow into each other and cause universal chaos.

522. Fundamentally, nothing at all could exist as a result.

523. So there must be sharp dividing lines to ensure the existence of spheres, dimensions and entities.

524. Now these OTHERS, the being-forms or life-forms from other spheres and dimensions, which are just as material in their time-plane as Earth-humans are in their space-time structure, also have their worries and problems, and they too are classified in the cosmic course of evolution.

525. In nowise are they interested in making contact with the time-plane, which is yours and means the normal time-plane for you.

526. On the other hand, also in various other spheres and dimensions, only very few life-forms are capable of opening time barriers and penetrating other spheres, just as this is not the case on Earth.

527. In other spheres and dimensions, then, the beings or life-forms are just as material as they are on Earth, except that they are invisible and unrecognisable to you through the vibrational shifts.

528. But there are still the high spiritual planes, the purely spiritual spheres and dimensions.

529. These, however, are no longer material in any form known to you, but are purely spiritual.

530. This means, then, that in these spheres and dimensions there live only beings who are released from the material body and vibrate towards the goal of relative perfection.

531. These are partly the beings which already in the highest planes begin to direct the destinies of the universe in harmony with the Creation and are capable of creation.

532. But these entities also do not make contact with Earth-humans.

533. This only happens in certain exceptional cases, which are very rarely repeated in millennia of time, when lower beings capable of communication are addressed by higher purely spiritual life-forms and made aware of certain happenings.

534. Without exception, however, this only occurs in connection with the appearance of a life-form at some place in a sphere and dimension, which has a mission to fulfil as a prophet, etc.?

535. And such prophets exist in all spheres and dimensions, that is, not only on Earth.

...

Ptaah:

654. The technology of this ship allows us to neutralise time, as you know and have experienced.

655. Through this process, it is possible for us to get the safety distance of 153 million kilometres behind us in a fraction of a second, and then transmit.

...

657. On the one hand, we neutralise time to just short of the transmission point, and on the other, we create a neutral timeless channel in outer space through which we can then travel the short distance of 153 million kilometres in a split second.

...

659. The timeless channel is actually easier to manage than a hyperleap.

660. But such a channel can only be created at certain distances, always taking into account the nature of the environment.

661. The various energies of the different galaxies and systems limit the range of a timeless channel, with distances varying from 210 billion to 735 billion kilometres.

Billy:

Aha, so then this time neutralisation only takes place through purely galactic and systemic energies, which you make use of, while for the hyper-leaps you can practically use an intergalactic or rather the most diverse universal energies. According to my calculation, these universal energies should be far superimposed on the galactic energies and, accordingly, should be sought in much higher values, or am I mistaken in that?

Ptaah:

662. You speak like a good scientist.

663. Your figures are exactly right.

...

Ptaah:

1045. Besides other races from those worlds come to Earth very often through an old dimension-gate.

...

1055. The others also come from time to time through the old dimensions-gate to the Earth, but this happens actually rather rarely.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_034

Semjase:

109. In the past I had once explained to you, that there are three different locations on the Earth, where fully natural dimension-gates arise periodically.

110. These gates signify a nature-based danger, cosmically caused and originating from time-flows.

111. This natural danger is the originator of many happenings, which affect the normal-time of Earth, but just at those places where they appear.

...

139. But now I want to explain the dimension-gate to you:

140. As already said, it is a cosmic phenomenon.

141. Such a dimension-gate represents a natural-cosmic phenomenon, a barrier between your normal-time and a dimension unknown to you.

142. In the given case, this other dimension has a parallel world to Earth, which is, however, subject to greater fluctuations in landscape at some points.

143. The dimension-barrier or the dimension-gate is caused by a cosmic elimination-transformation-radiation, which wavers and occurs periodically.

144. Its point of origin are various giant suns in a galaxy unknown to you within a universe of other dimensions, which are sending out their radiations and are meeting in the other space-time-structure in 7.2 light-years' distance beyond the Earth.

145. Over there they begin to flow into one another and to bundle up.

146. The Earth is the exact endpoint in the space-time-structure of the DERN-universe, where this radiation is hitting highly concentratedly and producing the effect of a dimension-barrier.

147. As the Earth moves, like all structures in the universe, this radiation – divided into a three-arm – only hits the planet at three locations, when the Earth is moving exactly in the focus of the wandering radiation, causing the two dimensions to be able to touch each other via the radiation.

148. The radiation itself produces the effect of an elimination of the normal-time, in a manner of evoking a transformation.

149. That means that the structure of the earthly normal-time is at the radiation-flashpoints transformed into the timeless, through which the normal-time is eliminated.

150. This transformation layer is still located far outside of the actual centre, which is already located in the other dimension.

151. It is a similar process as the one known to you with cyclones.

152. In the actual centre of the storm there is calm, while the vortex contains the actual storm.

153. The outer rings and whirls are the transition layer from storm-less to the storm.

154. It is similar with the dimension gate.

155. The outer layers represent the transformation layer from the earthly normal-time to the other dimension.

156. The vortex's radiation contains the actual transition in it, while the centre constitutes already the other dimension, a different universe resp. a different dimension within a different time-layer.

...

172. Concerning the dimension-gate the forces are purely cosmic energies, radiations of a very special kind.

173. The effect of the vortex or the spiral does anyhow remain the same, even if the appearance is different.

174. The transition belt, the storm belt and the centre are here also present, just in a different form than for a galaxy or for a storm of nature's elements on a planet or a star resp. on a sun.

175. The transition zone or the transition layer is to be compared with a transition time between two world eras.

176. The old and traditional normal-time is still available, but it is already allowing a view into the other time level, into the other dimension and other world.

177. So when a flying object enters this zone, with life forms sitting in it, well then they are still in the normal-time, but are already looking into the other time layer, into the other world.

178. Because during their flight they looking forwards, they see a world totally foreign to them and a foreign landscape, as long as they had never been there before.

179. By the powers of the vortex, life forms – as long as they are not familiar with these happenings and are not possessing the required devices and apparatuses – lose control over their flying devices and are driven that way into the actual passage-whirl, into the actual dimension-gate.

180. Over there they are then already solely seeing the other world in the other dimension, while their normal-time is already behind them.

181. Then they are driven into the centre of the spiral whirl and are therefore in the other time layer, thus in another world resp. in a dimension totally foreign to them.

182. Should they lack the required apparatuses and other devices, they become prisoners of the foreign dimension for all times, and a return into their normal-time won't be there anymore for them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_037

Billy:

That makes me curious. However, with which life-forms do you have contact?

Semjase:

72. With forms from your time level, thus from your present-day dimension, because these life-forms are not yet capable of the change of dimensions in the manner we are.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_038

Semjase:

217. There are several worlds and several dimensions, and if I had to describe them, it would go much too far.

218. One of these worlds, however, is a parallel world to yours and has only minor differences.

219. A second one, however, is very remarkable because three almost similar planets are in a line behind each other.

220. So if you were to go through the dimensional gate, you would again come to an Earth or world, but in another dimension and thus in another time level.

221. But the time lies very far back from your present time, namely in that time, when the Earth, still inhabited by flying dinosaurs, was quite wild and fissured.

...

Billy:

So this means that the dimensional gate fluctuates in its intensity and thus opens gates to different dimensions or spheres?

Semjase:

223. Sure, you expressed that very precisely.

Billy:

Well, but now again to this triple world: If I would now go through the dimensional gate, then according to your explanation I would again be on a world or Earth, but millions of years back in the flying dinosaur era, is that right?

Semjase:

224. Certainly.

Billy:

Well, then I am actually again or still on a world similar to Earth, even if many millions of years in the past. If I now come into this world of the past, then according to your statements I would still have to see the other worlds from that world, right?

Semjase:

225. Sure, and you would even see the other two planets very close, because they are only a few hundred thousand kilometres apart.

226. So once you would see the horizon of that primeval world on which you would just stand, as a second world you would see the middle world, which is still wrapped in a radiant steam coat, and as a third world you would see it roughly like the Earth as it exists here in the present time.

Billy:

But that doesn't make sense.

Semjase:

227. It also took us a very long time to solve this strange mystery.

228. In all parallel universes, there are also dimensional radiations that create the gate in the Bermuda Triangle.

229. However 3,500 years ago, when Venus shook the Earth, the dimensional harmony was disturbed and two planets, the primordial planet and the gaseous planet, were dragged into the dimension of the completed planet, after which the dimensional gate returned to normal.

230. Therefore, in that dimension these three different planets exist in that solar system.

231. So you could almost say that the same worlds there exist three times in three different stages of development, which of course is illogical.

...

235. With my beam ship I can penetrate into that or any other dimension, but I cannot return.

236. We'll need Father's spaceship to do that.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_039

Billy:

... But how does it stand, now, with the dimension gate in the Devil's Triangle? Can one see this?

Semjase:

36. With eyes alone, it is not recognisable, but it is possible to make the radiation visible.

...

37. Sure, I can make the radiation visible by my ship.

38. Only two paths of radiation are currently recognisable from this side of the Earth, however, while the third is behind the Earth and, therefore, cannot be seen from here.

...

Semjase:

95. You can steer my ship calmly, if you like.

96. But please pay attention here; if you should lose control, then simply press these three contact points in the grid.

97. By these, everything turns to the zero position and the automatic control mechanism regulates everything within a split-second; thus, no dangers can appear.

98. But despite everything, please pay attention to the speed.

...

109. It may well be because of our high level of development that we have a different nature in such concerns.

110. With certainty, our somewhat finer dimension also exerts a certain influence on it.

...

Billy:

... I am also surprised that you suddenly speak so openly of your finer dimension, for you yourself have forbidden me from doing this up to now.

...

Semjase:

184. The number of these people, however, who could actually enter into connection with human beings of other dimensions, is only to be reckoned as 16 of these all over the world, but these do not use their capabilities.

...

187. Only important to us are those who could enter into connection with other-dimensioned human forms.

...

Billy:

What am I to understand by the WE-subconsciousness-level?

Semjase:

195. It concerns subconsciousness-connections to the WE-form of the Earth-humans and, therewith, to same-dimensioned life forms in this world's area, who stand in nowise higher in their evolution than the connection-seeking Earth-humans themselves; thus, they cannot convey or obtain any translated or higher knowledge (= collective subconsciousness).

...

Billy:

... Something is just a bit fishy to me with this journey, namely the time. I am now already about two hours away from home, and I should still stay away for another two days. At the same time, I simply do not understand how one would not notice my absence. This is something that just does not make any sense to me. These time shifts quite simply go beyond my "spiritual" horizon. These little time cramps really do not make me any wiser. I understand what really happens, but how everything is connected together, this is a sevenfold mystery to me.

Semjase:

203. Accept my consolation, because I do not understand any more than you.

204. Even our best scientists know only very few secrets of these matters.

205. They do, indeed, know the how, when, and where, etc., but they do not know the basic causes of the process.

206. Therefore, do not think about it too much, for it would be pointless.

207. I can, however, explain to you what happens, in order for you to be able to have two days with us.

208. It is the simplest possibility for us.

209. You will be with us for two days, while on Earth, only two hours will pass.

210. These two hours, however, are only the length of time that you needed to come to the contact place, arrive here with me, and then go home again.

211. It...

Billy:

But these two hours are, nevertheless, already over and are even exceeded by more than about 40 minutes.

Semjase:

212. Sure, I just wanted to explain that to you.

213. Your way from your house to the contact place, our greeting, and the flight here lasted only 45 minutes.

214. You will also need this time for the return.

215. Besides this, what you do not know is that on the flight here from Earth, I leaped about two days into the past.

216. You do, indeed, know how easy this is.

217. Hence ...

Billy:

Girl, now I understand, I ...

Semjase:

218. You do not understand, because we have not done a normal leap into the past.

219. It is a time shift that is still unknown to you.

220. You now live twice, namely once here and once down there on the Earth.

Billy:

Now I really do not understand.

Semjase:

221. Understand yet:

222. We do, indeed, live here at present, but we are, at the same time, two days in the past.

223. For us, it is now, indeed, Wednesday, but on Earth, it is now only Monday.

Billy:

I really do not understand. According to your statement, I would now have to be down there on Earth and would be going straight to bed, because on Monday, I did not go to bed until morning. So we are now having Monday there on the Earth, as you say; nevertheless, I am here and, thus, am not climbing into bed. This is, therefore, not clear.

Semjase:

224. You understand everything very well; you just do not want to accept it because you find it too fantastic.

Billy:

Well, well, you claim, then, that I am here in my normal present and, at the same time, two days in the past. I already lived these two past days on the Earth below – as seen from my present. But since I am now moved two days back, I should first start to live these two days down there, or rather live through them, while I will, in reality, first live through these two days with you yet. This is, nevertheless, crazy. Now, according to your statement, I would actually have to exist twice, namely down there on Earth, where I am going straight to bed, and once here. Thus, I could now visit myself down there, eh?

Semjase:

225. Sure, if we would now return to the Earth, then you could – theoretically or practically, depending on the case – talk with yourself.

Billy:

Aha, I could, therefore, go to my own front door and knock until the door would be opened for me. And who would open for me, eh? I for myself, in my own person. Man, girl, I would just like to see my dumb face once, when I suddenly stand before me and even say “hello” to myself. At the same time, it just does not make sense to me that in the normal time, only two hours pass, while the past requires two days for it?

Semjase:

226. That is regulated by a time manipulation.

Billy:

I understand, one of those accursed theories of relativity, which are no longer theories for you. Just listen to me, girl, let these explanations be, for I am too dumb to understand it. My head is already smoking.

...

Semjase:

326. This is the transition into the dimension of the threefold world.

327. So this is a different dimension than that one, into which ships and airplanes penetrate.

Billy:

What type of dimension, then, does it concern with the other one?

Semjase:

328. In that dimension, the world is already suspended in the distant future, but the inhabitants on the Earth of that time very rarely penetrate from that.

...

329. We are now at the exact crossroads of the vortex; thus, you can see both dimensions.

...

Ptaah:

14. It is no secret; we are searching here for an overdue beamship of a life form known to us from our dimension.

15. It penetrated a few days ago and has no possibilities for its own return.

...

Ptaah:

25. You know very well that this is not the case and that the majority of the so-called mediums truly have no contacts at all with such life forms or even other-dimensioned life forms and that some of them are just subject to a self-deception or are quite consciously and deceitfully led to believe such contacts.

...

Ptaah:

217. Our next goal shall be the moon of the third world.

...

Semjase:

355. The human beings of this dimension and time have, indeed, become much more peaceful than those on your world in your time, but they are still barbaric and quite aggressive, so they would force us to land, which would be very unpleasant for us.

...

356. ... They do live here approximately 500 years in the future.

357. Look over there; that is one of their beamships.

...

358. Sure, they also have about 500 years more development behind themselves than the Earth-humans of your time, which I already said.

...

365. ...

{Billy}: (A few minutes later, we are already on the planet, only in another dimension and about 500 years in the future. Semjase shows me a lot of very interesting things, which I write down again as keywords, in order to be able to later identify the photos taken. Even the conversation itself is limited to keywords. When we fly out again into space, I notice by my watch that we were in this world for seven hours. Far out in space, we come to Ptaah's giant ship, go in, and then Ptaah leads his ship back into my time and into my dimension. ...

Semjase:

44. Only for the contact with us or other extraterrestrial or differently dimensioned life-forms it would not have been necessary to train you and to let you find enormous knowledge, realisations and wisdom and the truth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_043

Semjase:

95. Therefore, make an effort to find the appropriate knowing ones to whom you can entrust the spreading and preservation of the teaching and other values, so that they will continue them when you have completed your life on the Earth in your time.

96. It shall be so, because after your passing away we have fulfilled our task here and will return to our dimension.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_044

Semjase:

76. The people I have marked as negative are not contact persons

77. In any case, they never had contact with extraterrestrial intelligences that reached them from outside of the Earth, neither through free space nor through a dimensional gate, because these penetration possibilities are so hermetically controlled that it is completely impossible for even a tiny particle unit to be able to pass through without being registered by us or the other intelligences monitoring the Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_048

Semjase:

60. The great innovations are housed inside and offer many more possibilities than is the case in my current ship.

61. With the new one, I am also able to penetrate dimensions in both directions.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_053

Semjase:

158. The closest one I know is in Madagascar, which is a dimensional gate.

Billy:

You mean the same effect as in the Bermuda Triangle and the Japanese Sea?

Semjase:

159. Certainly.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_054

Semjase:

64. Our one technical communication possibility you would call radio, but with the possibility of no delay in transmission.

65. Also the transmission does not take place through the normal space, but in use of the hyperspace, through which we pass our signals, disassembled, with faster-than-light particles, which spread over the whole hyperspace in fractions of minus seconds due to their million-fold speed of light and thus form again at the same moment at the target.

Billy:

What you are explaining to me is a mystery, because I do not know anything about these things. However, I have probably understood a few things, e.g. the disassembling of the signals. Could it be a distortion taking place in some distortion device?

Semjase:

66. No, the disassembling is a universal expansion of the signals and impulses in relation to the speed, with just the signals and impulses charged faster-than-light particles, which you call Tachyons.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_055

Billy:

Now another question: You explained to me at the beginning of our acquaintance that your beamships are equipped with a light emitting drive and further with a tachyon drive. Is that why you call the ships beamships?

Semjase:

147. No, because the drives you mentioned do not correspond to direct beam drives.

148. The beam drives were of a different kind, and we have not used them for about 400 years, although we have kept the name beamships for ourselves.

149. My ship, which I still had in my possession at our first encounter, was still half radiant, which is why you were able to see the radiations.

150. However, these were only highly concentrated light beams.

151. My last ship already had an antigravity propulsion based on the principle of repulsion

152. However, this drive was only suitable for planetary flight, while the tachyon drive was retained for free space.

153. The present ship is equipped with an antimatter propulsion system for free space, which was developed more than 50,000 years ago.

166. 50. ... while great scientists were able to flee with their space ships and returned to the former home-worlds of our seven-stars, being our Pleiades, which were settled by the earliest forefathers when they left their original home worlds in another space-time configuration in the Vega-Lyra-region.

...

Billy:

... The next sun system seen from us belongs to the Centauri group. To my knowledge is the first Proxima-Centauri, then Alpha-Centauri and Beta-Centauri, which by us though, is being called something else, namely the BARNARD star or similar, which is at a distance of a little bit more than 6 light-years away from us. Now, are you informed about whether any humans live in those sun systems who come to Earth?

Semjase:

124. Certainly, I myself know, there, in other space-time-structures, several dear friends in all three systems, although only in the Barnard system, meaning Beta-Centauri, can it be discovered from Earth that small planets are circling around the Sun there.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_063

Billy:

... But tell me, was his {Sfath's} pear-shaped ship one of your usual ships? You had a completely different 300-year-old box.

Semjase:

85. His ship was a gift from a Sirian people.

Billy:

You mean from people of Sirius?

Semjase:

86. Certainly, from one of the two inhabited planets of Sirius, but in a different space-time configuration.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_064

Semjase:

84. ... I was only able to find out that at that time {1962} there were actually two Cassiopeian ships with several crew members on the Earth for about 4 months ...

...

86. Unfortunately, however, our research has now revealed that one of the ships was destroyed during the return flight to the home star in 1962 with the entire crew, whereby all records were also destroyed.

87. The reasons of the destruction are shrouded in darkness and could not be clarified, because it took place in hyperspace, which was determined at that time by coordinate impulses.

88. The second ship started from the Earth about 7 years ago, because the crew was expeditionarily busy until then.

...

90. Unfortunately this ship did not reach home either, because some influences threw the ship into a foreign dimension when it wanted to break hyperspace.

91. This resulted in the fact that all control devices of the home base, which were coupling remotely with the devices of the ship, suddenly did not pick up any impulses any more when the breakthrough should have taken place, which indicates with compelling clarity that the ship was thrown into a foreign dimension.

Semjase:

165. These visitors are very small people, only 110 cm tall.

166. They inhabit a small planetary world in a galaxy that was previously unknown to us.

167. They came to Earth by an involuntary time shift, by a faulty manipulation of their still insufficient space technology.

...

Billy:

Oh, that is how it is. But – where are these dwarves now? Can they even go back to their homeland? You said that they came here because of a time difference, just because of an unwanted one. That does mean that they have been thrown out of their own time, right?

Semjase:

171. Sure.

172. But they will find their homeland again, because father brings them back to their time and to their homeworld through a leap in time.

173. But this still offers some difficulties, because we still have no information about their home galaxy, which is why we first have to work out the coordinates.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_070

Semjase:

24. The later original home worlds were planets in the constellation known to you as Lyra and near Vega, in a different space-time structure, which is shifted from yours by a fraction of a second.

...

36. So the time came when they built themselves flying ships, with which they could also leave their space-time structure and could rush through the free and wide space of the levels of the universe.

...

48. Preparations took four long centuries in secret form to break out in one sudden blow into a far-reaching and open war of liberation, which spread and dragged on over many other dimensioned worlds of the Lyra and Vega systems.

...

55. The commander-in-chief of the terrorising forces was an Jschwisch called ASAEL, who, after realising the hopelessness of the struggle, escaped the vengeful and victorious peoples by a quick escape into the space-time structure of this level of the universe.

...

57. They quickly left the home systems, only to wander through the again shifted space-time structures for many restless years, before one day they found a large star system, which offered them the necessary possibilities for life, far away from their original home systems.

...

61. Of the three worlds made habitable, various expedition ships were equipped, after which the Titan fugitives flew out into the vastness of space to reach and take possession of their predetermined destination after 17 years.

62. These were stars and planets in their dimension beyond those stars known to you as Hesperides, which have their own worlds circling around them and were only weakly inhabited by human life-forms, which were subjugated by the conquerors.

63. During two centuries a new culture was created on these differently dimensioned Hesperide worlds and inhabited by emigrants from the Asael system.

...

66. Under the supreme command of the new leader, Plejara, further expeditions were prepared to expedite a very distant and lonely solar system, located in this, your space-time-plane, which according to all calculations must have come into possession of a section of a planet from the original earliest home systems, after the Destroyer had destroyed the earliest original home worlds many millions of years ago.

...

91. According to the coordinates of old records, the refugees entered this space-time structure and the SOL system, and thus once again arrived on Earth, where the Titans once again settled.

...

107. Many hundreds of thousands fled with large and small ships into free space, set down and settled in another space-time structure in Beta-Centaurus, which you know in your space-time structure as the Barnard star.

...

119. Through an accomplice, the scientists obtained possession of spaceships and fled into the space-time-shifted regions of Beta-Centauri.

...

192. The Pleiades stars of your space-time plane are much younger than the Earth, but not so [with] our stars and planets, which were named only by numerical values until the time when the 'High Council' took control.

Ptaah:

42. Certain events of the recent past can even be traced back to this, because through the unreasonableness of a certain member (Margreth Flammer) who, despite repeated warnings, continues to indulge herself with new spiritualistic sessions, negative swinging-waves were able to spread from the medium in question, registered by a brain-analyser of the Giza intelligence's that found a weak spot and consequently created that artificial insect, with the help of a malignant refugee group from a space-time displaced area of the Pegasus constellation, guilty of bacterial contamination in the Center.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_097

Quetzal:

65. You are speaking a true word, but our sensitivity in this regard is not only based on our evolution, because our homeland is also a very important factor in this, because it itself is highly sensitised, which does not remain untainted to us human life forms.

Billy:

I do not quite understand that, Quetzal, but I have been trying to fathom it for a long time. Semjase once made a rather strange remark to me. This led me to speculate, which is why I assume that you live on your Pleiades in a differently dimensioned form. By this I mean that you are probably up there in our universe and in our time, as Semjase once explained to me, but that you are dimensionally shifted, namely in a parallel system of our Pleiades. Am I right in assuming this? Unfortunately, even on my great journey, the facts of the matter were not explained to me in detail, so I still see certain things unclearly.

...

Quetzal:

74. But this does not change anything, because we are just as compact and present in this dimension of ours as we are in that of our Pleiades systems, because we are descended from this dimension and also from your dimension.

75. Why we live in a parallel dimension on Erra and in our Pleiades systems, in general, is due to the fact that the Pleiades systems are not habitable for us in this dimension, your dimension, and could not be made habitable by our ancestors either, because the system for habitation is still much too young for us in this dimension.

Billy:

Your explanation is plausible, but what is the nature of the Pleiades system in the other dimension? Is it as solid as our Earth?

Quetzal:

76. It is a parallel dimension, that is what I said, therefore matter is also of the same strength as the Earth's matter.

77. The dimensions are simply different in their structure, but not in time and space.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_104

Billy:

... But tell me, Quetzal, can you also penetrate other dimensions with this old box?

It makes me wonder whether you can also travel to the past and the future with Menara's ship?

Quetzal:

83. It is possible ...

...

88. But – – – where do you want to go?

Billy:

To Frisco, my son, to San Francisco, but to the future. Namely, to the time when the city was destroyed by the great earthquake. ...

...

Quetzal:

91. ... it takes several hours if I want to go there with you.

92. This old ship, I do not have another one available at the moment, needs a longer preparation time, after which you will only be back in normal time at dawn.

Billy:

It does not matter, because you can bring me back at about the same time as you got me out of bed.

Quetzal:

93. That would be possible.

Pleija:

19. You are surely still able to remember that in autumn of last year, a flying object unknown to us appeared, which responded to none of our calls.

20. To this day, we still have not been able to get a hold of it either, even though it still moves in the earthly space.

21. So far, if we tried to get a hold of this object, it regularly escaped by retreating into a dimension unknown to us.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_119

Billy:

Ah, by that, you mean the UFOs that showed up recently in Italy and Australia and in various other countries?

Semjase:

3. Sure.

4. These flying devices are obviously constructions of a very well-developed technology, which is not yet so advanced, however, that they could move into our refined areas of communication.

Billy:

By that, you probably mean, at the same time, your somewhat different physical structure, right?

By that, I mean even the dimensional difference, through which you, in a moderate measure, exhibit different and much finer vibrations compared to us Earth worms.

Semjase:

5. Sure.

...

Billy:

Then just not. But is it right, now, if I have calculated that the Creation's expansion rate, for the initial period, was 44,069,497.5 kilometres per second, with a steadily constant half-life rate of almost exactly 6,347,755,102,040 years, from which the results arise that the expansion rate of the Creation at its universal beginning was 147 times the speed of today's speed of light constant, but this speed decreased with a half-life of 6,347,755,102,040 years and continues to decrease, so the starting point of today's light constant lay at a speed of 344,292.9 kilometres per second, but through the already elapsed portion of half-time, it has already dropped by 44,500.4 kilometres per second, whereby the present and current light constant of 299,792.5 kilometres per second arises, according to which an original light-year, from the starting point of the current light constant, of around 1.390×10^{15} km has amounted. This means, according to my calculations, that the constant of one second of the initial period of the expansion rate must have been 147 times faster than the constant of one second today, because at that time, around 46 trillion years ago, the speed of light was even 44,069,497.5 kilometres per second. From this, it also arose in my calculations that one second has, in each case, exactly that number of chronons that the light constant of one septillionth of a millimeter contains in itself because a chronon has a length of 105 septillionths of 140 mm and because exactly that number of chronons is able to pass a certain point, from the source to the fade-out of a beam of light, as the speed of light contains in itself – so in the present case, around 20.394×10^{30} chronons per second. This was even easier to calculate since I knew that space and time are dependent on each other; therefore, both time holds space in itself as also space holds time. From these results, however, my acceptance has arisen that through the transformation and lowering of the speed of light by the half-life, also space and the chronons change themselves, according to which, then, normal space would have to change itself to hyperspace and the chronons would have to change themselves to tachyons, which continue to exist in hyperspace as the smallest units of time at their own, old speed, according to which the oldest tachyons would, therefore, have to have a speed of 44,069,497.5 kilometres per second in their own hyperspace. It also became clear to me that each dwindling away of a half-life creates its own hyperspace; thus, already seven different hyperspaces (7 half-lives = $7 \times 6,347,755,102,040 = 44.434 \times 10^{12}$ years) would have to exist in our universe. Furthermore, it also became clear to me that time travels into the past or future can only be associated with this fact, because somehow, the travelling object must be manipulated in such a way that the flow of chronons is steered. So for example, if tachyons with a speed of light higher than ours and present in hyperspace or normal space would be stored around a travelling object, then it would be hurled into the past, while a flow of chronons below our current speed of light must have a journey into the future as a consequence. This has become clear to me, but the HOW, that has remained a riddle to me. It is now also clear to me that the chronons can only stay and move in normal space, while the tachyons only move in hyperspace. This, then, along with many other things that have become perceptible to me, about which I would still like to say nothing today, however, because I am not yet sure of the results. Ah yes, what could still be said: According to my calculations, after the end of the next half-life, our light constant would have to be 172,146.45 kilometres per second.

...

Billy:

I would still have a few more questions: Is it right that the absolute hyper-light-constant lies at a value of 10^{7000} , as Sfath once explained this to me?

Quetzal:

40. That is of correctness.

41. At the same time, it concerns the constant in the space of the Absolutum of Creation, so the highest speed of Creation and the Creation's expansion rate at the origin.

...

Billy:

So it is, therefore, also true that the expansion of the universe takes place all-dimensionally and spirally, where the shape, then, resembles a somewhat round egg?

Quetzal:

47. Also that is of correctness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_121

Billy:

... Then I have a somewhat complicated question: through various calculations, I have, another time, encountered the fact that something cannot be right with the dimensions of our present, from this to the Centaurus groups as well as to Lyra and Vega and even to the Pleiades. According to my calculations, these suns and planets addressed – of which there was already often talk between Semjase, Quetzal and me as well as between Ptaah and me – would really have to be in other dimensions, as it was said to me repeatedly. This would, therefore, actually mean that their Lyra and Vega human beings, and still some others, are just as non-existent in our present dimension as also the Pleiadians and the Centaurus human beings. And if my calculations are right, then you all would have to live just a fraction of a second in the future to our space-time configuration, which for us, however, results in a difference of several thousand years, with regard to technological development. But how this is connected, that is a riddle to me, and it could even be very difficult to understand. But Ptaah once spoke of the fact that on that or on a planet of the Centaurus groups, a people lives in overpopulation, which comprises about 120 billion, so these, then, would have to live in the future, as seen by us. On the other hand, I also calculated that at that time - around twenty-two million years ago, when the events took place in the Lyra and Vega area, which eventually led to the visits to our Earth - at that time, through some skillful manipulation, the Lyra and Vega refugees fell into the past and so penetrated into our space-time level. With certainty, this was no so-called chance but rather a full calculation. This arose from my contemplation of the fact that the technology of your ancestors was already so widely developed at that time that these would have tracked and found the refugees with certainty. But since that was not the case, the refugees must have retreated into areas that fell outside of the control of the pursuers. But concerning this, there are only two possibilities, namely the past or the future. But as I know the things now, the refugees were not able to venture into the future, so only the past remained open to them, to where they then actually also retreated. And because the past comprises millions of years and even billions of years in a life-potential form, the pursuit was given up, but this, in turn, means that the technology of your ancestors was not yet developed so far that they would have been able to carry out detections in the areas of the past or the future. But I now know from Ptaah's Great Spacer that this is possible for you today and that you know how to locate any structural vibration in any area of the past or future within seconds on the basis of computer analyses.

Menara:

195. How did you reach these results?

Billy:

Through various calculations, when I grappled with the expansion rate and, thus, also with hyperspace, normal space, and with time, as well as with the pertinent information and remarks from Semjase, Ptaah, Quetzal, and Asket.

...

Menara:

201. I now suppose that you will even understand the issues surrounding space shifts and time shifts, when I explain this to you in detail, about which you would have to preserve silence, however, under all circumstances.

Semjase:

48. The objects observed and photographed by you come from the Andromeda areas, and these are fine-material flying objects – similar to the bio-organic flying objects that you know.

49. In this case, however, it is such that these flying objects are fine-material and not bio-organic and that these, depending on preference and need, are generated by powers of consciousness from a very highly developed, human dwarf race, whose size amounts to approximately 70 cm, whereby I speak of body height.

50. This race {Nabulanians}, which is even unknown to us, is fine-dimensional and stands in the advice of the High Council, which has sent it here to clarify our interests with you in detail, because it was found that we would not assert ourselves strictly enough.

178. 4. Also, with this device, it is possible for me to dive directly into the past or future, but also to penetrate into other dimensions.

5. The flight from my home world to Earth is reduced with this new aircraft to zero-time, which I will also explain to you at a later time.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_141

Semjase:

85. With ethically and very highly distinct lifestyles, the inhabitants of Haster are very peaceful and loving, and besides this, they live in the same time-level as the SOL system, thus, in the present level, as this would be said or called by you.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_142

Semjase:

9. The few human races in the area of the Cassiopeia constellation in another space-time configuration are well-known to us, but they have no resemblance to the life-forms mentioned in this letter.

...

13. Among these facts is the further complication that both of these races of human life-forms exist in a different time plane in relation to the Earth, like I said, so separated from the time plane that is known to the Earth human being and in which they live.

14. So when the human beings of the Cassiopeia constellation one day master space travel, they still will not be able, for a long time, to penetrate into the time plane in which the Earth-humans live their existence.

Billy:

And in our time plane known to us, no human life-forms exist, who would be capable of space flight in Cassiopeia, i.e. in that area?

Semjase:

15. Sure, there are human beings there, but these are not yet advanced in space flight or are not yet so far advanced that they could carry out journeys through universal space.

...

19. To these facts, there is still to add that many of the space-traveling races that come to the Earth are not resident in the time plane known to the Earth-humans.

Billy:

Ah, we already spoke very often about space-traveling human races that do not belong to you and which come, nevertheless, to the Earth. In which time plane do they all belong?

Semjase:

20. It is different for each.

21. To mention all of them would be difficult and time-consuming.

Billy:

Then let's say, for example, the humans of the area of Alpha Centauri, then Reticuli, or whatever it is, then...

Semjase:

22. The first ones live a tiny fraction of a second shifted from the Earth-time plane, so therefore, they cannot be reached by Earth inhabitants before they master time-travel.

23. The second human race you mentioned also does not live in the same time plane as the Earth-humans.

Billy:

... Yes, recently, I had a video rental. Its title was "The Final Countdown." The story goes that an American aircraft carrier was driven by a magnetic storm into a dimension gate and was hurled from the year 1980 into the year 1941. Then, by an accident, so to speak, a crew member of the ship stayed behind in 1941, while the aircraft carrier returned to the year 1980 again by a new magnetic storm and by the dimension gate. Now, in the film, the left-behind crew member, who was approximately 30 years old in 1980, logically lived on from the time of 1941. This seems to be rather logical to me according to my knowledge. Now, however, comes what can no longer be logically placed into reality: the crew member left behind in 1941 pursued the outlet of the aircraft carrier in 1980, and this man, who would have had to become 69 years old in the meantime, could see himself as he went about as an approximately 30-year old crew member on the ship, which then transported him, via the magnetic storm, into the past. According to this story, he would have been left behind in the year 1941 and then would have witnessed his own birth in 1950 and then would have lived parallel with himself for thirty years, so once young and once old.

Semjase:

91. That is impossible.

Billy:

Precisely, nevertheless, it is impossible if both want to live in the same time plane – both who are, nevertheless, only one person. The one staying in the past of 1941 would have had to die in 1949 at the latest, after which he would then have to be born again in 1950. This is so because the spirit form of the man is the same one at both times of his life, right?

Semjase:

92. That is very clearly explained.

93. So it behaves in reality.

Billy:

Well, such a coexistence of life would only be possible if two different dimensions existed.

Semjase:

94. That is right.

Billy:

Good, then this case is clear. Then to the next one: many people are of the view that they could do different things in the past and change the future if they had the opportunity for a journey into the past. But according to my knowledge, this is impossible because the future and the apparent present have already happened, that is, because the events of the future follow from the ones that already occurred in the past. Therefore, a man could not travel, for example, into the past to kill his own father or mother. He was begotten and born by a mother. Therefore, if a man returned to the past to kill his mother or his father still before his birth, then this past-traveler could have never been born. Is this right?

Semjase:

95. Sure.

Billy:

Good, so far so clear. Everything would be a paradox. And just to get around such a paradox, one would have to switch off the laws of space and time, so such a journey to the past can never take place in the way that the time-traveling person also actually arrives in the same material plane that exists in the past. And this also applies to the future. However, this also means that space and time are different in their expansion and in their speed in the past and in the future, which has the consequence for the time traveler that he penetrates into another dimension that is not handy for him materially. He could, indeed, live in this other dimension and exist if the living conditions there allowed it, but he could not enter into connection with the life-forms there if he did not have special aids for this. He would remain virtually invisible to the life-forms of the past or future, or he could be recognised, at most, as silhouettes. Am I properly oriented there?

Semjase:

96. Your explanation corresponds to the facts.

Billy:

So this also means that with the events of the film, "The Final Countdown," a certain logic does, indeed, play along with them, but in truth, the one staying in the past obviously could not have lived on in material form in the normal time plane, even if he would have then skillfully died in 1949. He only could have lived on in an invisible form or, at most, as silhouettes in the next possible time dimension during the time from 1941 to 1980, but not in material form, as this was given from 1941 to 1980, when the young man was born and was later launched with the ship into the past. Is this also right?

Semjase:

97. Surely.

Billy:

Ah, now it starts to take form. Now, if people or machines and such travel into the past or the future, these are invisible there to the people or other life-forms living there, although the time travelers can live there if they find suitable living conditions. This is in contrast to when people or machines simply penetrate into parallel times and, thus, into parallel dimensions, which are temporal and spatial and are, thus, exactly materially the same as the time plane from which the time travelers came. This is so even if such another parallel dimension was created somewhat sooner or later than the one from which the time travelers came. It is just important that the spatial and temporal relationships are exactly the same, right?

Semjase:

98. Why do you always ask me if you have sufficient knowledge about this?

Billy:

I just want to be sure. Well then: time travel into the past or future is always other-dimensional than the past or future itself. Now, however, the possibility exists, as I know from Asket and from you and was also allowed to experience myself, that there are technical possibilities for one to make himself visible in the past or in the future and to communicate with the life-forms there. However, this can only happen if the matter of the time traveler is condensed by technological devices or by consciousness forces to such an extent that the life form becomes visible as a body of energy, which one can pass through, however, because it remains, in any case, differently dimensioned. Did I say this right?

Semjase:

99. Surely.

Billy:

So next: the aforementioned relates to time traveling with the aid of purely natural or technological processes, as they are known to human and other life-forms or will one day become known, according to their level of development. Time travels, therefore, offer no possibility at all for changing any events, which already happened in the present or future, in the past. To these forms, however, there is still to be added that a time travel exists which comes about via pure consciousness-related forces and, by which means, it is possible to materialise oneself in the past or in the future, but for help in each case, the matter of the past or of the future must be taken. Nevertheless, a life form only becomes strong in this ability if he/she is accordingly developed in his/her consciousness-evolution and lives out the necessary love for that purpose. This means that such a life form is no longer capable of committing illogical violence against the laws of nature. Thus, he/she never even enters into temptation any more, if he/she travels to the past or to the future, to commit illogical violence, such as wanting to change the future through additional acts or deeds in the past. On the other hand, his/her logical understanding is already so highly evolved that he/she already recognises and knows that nothing more can be changed in the past that would shape the future differently than what has already happened, for the future, from which the time traveler came, has already happened as an effect of the preceding causes. If now, however, a time traveler materialises in the past or in the future and meets himself/herself there, then this will also happen in the future if he/she came from there because the spirit, i.e. the spirit form, of the time traveler from the future also materialises in the past or in the future, depending on whether the trip leads from the future to the past or from the past to the future. This happened, for example, when I traveled with Asket into the past and then also into the future, and it also happened when I performed the experiment in Hinwil with the letters, which I then carried in the past, two days before the date of writing, to the post office.

Semjase:

100. That is all correctly explained; it is just that for the Earth-humans, everything will be very confusing and incomprehensible.

Billy:

I have already often experienced this because for normal-thinking human beings, these things seem to be confusing and crazy. I have also noticed this in each case when talk was made about time traveling, which I performed with you. Time and space are still inexplicable to the Earth-human, even though everything is easy to understand.

Semjase:

101. That is understandable because the Earth-human still has no great knowledge about space and time.

102. But on the other hand, you yourself have forgotten another important factor in your explanations, namely that time traveling can also be carried out in a materialised form in the past or future with technological assistance.

103. Just as we have demonstrated it to you.

Billy:

I have not forgotten that, and on the other hand, I even spoke of it when I mentioned time traveling with the help of consciousness forces.

Semjase:

104. Sure, but that technological aids can become highly effective time-traveling missiles through the power of consciousness, you did not mention this.

...

Billy:

Then that is also good. In regards to this, that was actually everything that I had to say about time traveling, except that now, I have the problem that we have talked too long, and nevertheless, I promised to be with my guests again in about 30 minutes. But now, 1.5 hours have passed, and somehow, I ought to be back again at the right time.

...

Semjase:

112. Then we will go back in time about 75 minutes.

Billy:

That is enough, then I can possibly go back into the kitchen again at 12:30 AM.

Semjase:

113. Then now, position yourself here.

Billy:

What is that?

Semjase:

114. You would say that it is a time transmitter.

Billy:

There are all kinds of new stuff in this new ship. Can you explain this in a little more detail once?

Semjase:

115. Not today.

Billy:

I agree with you, but I would still have a question now: when you restore me back to time in each case, this is, once more, another kind of time travel. But how this works, I have not yet found out with all my contemplating. It is only clear to me that this type of time travel has nothing to do with forms, of which we have spoken just now.

Semjase:

116. I will explain this to you once in detail, when everything is in place.

117. But about this form of time travel, you may give no one information.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_143

Semjase:

10. The Universe is divided into seven units, i.e. rings or belts that, entirely together, form the whole Universe, and all of these rings are rotating against each other and have different diameters and an ovoid shape.

11. These seven rings, which we call belts, are the following:

12. 1) Central Core,
- 2) Ur-Core Belt,
- 3) Ur-Space Belt,
- 4) Solid-state Matter Universe Belt,
- 5) Transformation Belt,
- 6) Creation Belt, and
- 7) Displacement Belt,

And we also call the Creation Belt the Creation Matter Belt or the Expansion Belt, and the Displacement Belt, the last and extreme, embodies, according to your sense, a bumper belt.

13. Now, the Solid-state Universe is that part of the Universe in which the new births exist, so the nascent stars, etc. with all their life forms.

14. This real Solid-state Universe is calculated from the end of the Creation Ur-Core's outer wall up to the beginning of the outer wall of the Transformation Belt, which exhibits a half diameter of 7,869 octillion light-years and is, thus, the next largest belt after the Creation Belt.

15. In addition, the outer wall of the Transformation Belt is where this belt collides with the inner wall of the real Creation Belt, also known as the Expansion Belt or Creation Matter Belt.

16. So this is that space which embodies the Solid-state Universe and is so called because in these three areas, the coarse-material becomes existent and is existent, and the course-material becomes existent in the Transformation Belt only by a transformation from remains of the penetrating Creation Belt, which are converted into course-material from immaterial energy.

17. This is the real Solid-state Universe, which consists of the Transformation Belt, the Universe Belt, and the Ur-Space Belt.

18. In addition, the Transformation Belt exhibits such a gigantic mass and is the next largest belt to the Creation Belt because it is responsible for ensuring that in the space created by the Expansion Belt, the transformation of fine-material energies into course-material takes place, and at the same time, time itself appears and becomes existent.

19. Already in this Transformation Belt, time begins to run into the past, from which aging originates.

20. This means that in this Transformation Belt, chronons begin to exist, then are aging and becoming tachyons and are representing the past. By the way, tachyons may be proven by the terrestrial scientists in a short time.

21. At the same time, the speed also decreases from the Transformation Belt in an irregular manner but in a certain half-life.

22. The irregular decrease in speed, which amounts to 147 times the speed of light in its starting point and expansion point, comes about through mutually self-influencing and different time streams that have already changed in their speed.

Today, I once again had all sorts of trouble in reaching you telepathically.

Quetzal:

1. I was shielded in an Intrablock.

Billy:

Ah, accepted, even though I do not know what this devil's thing is again.

Quetzal:

2. An Intrablock is not a device but rather a state between two dimensions.

Billy:

You still see me, unfortunately, in futile non-understanding.

Quetzal:

3. An Intrablock is identical to:

4. A dematerialised state between two different dimensions, whereby the energy of the dematerialised body remains as an independent energy block in itself, without mixing with the surrounding energy.

Billy:

Aha, now this is understandable. Apparently, the whole thing is connected to time-travel?

Quetzal:

5. You are sometimes really unbeatable.

Billy:

Good, then I have a question regarding so-called UFOs, which are truly none at all. As I know from you, the so-called flying objects that are considered UFOs are often observed in the day as well as at night. At night, it is often observed that these so-called UFOs light up and are vibrant in their intensity and also variable in colour. On the one hand, you were able to make it understandable to me, with tangible evidence and through my personal observations, that these sometimes deal with bio-organic flying bodies that are truly other-dimensioned life forms that, as a rule, can be captured on infrared film and that penetrate from other dimensions into our dimension area, in order to romp around here somehow in earthly airspace for playful and whimsical reasons. You also explained to me that these bio-organisms {"Rods"} are completely harmless and that they always return back to their dimension. But on the other hand, you have also spoken of the fact that similar phenomena appear in terrestrial airspace, but these are purely terrestrial in origin.

... Sfath said that at the turn of the century, respectively the millennium, genetic engineering, respectively genetic manipulation, would very strongly step into appearance again, as this was already the case a long time ago and was practiced here on Earth by extraterrestrials, as well as in a space-time configuration of Sirius that is shifted to our space-time configuration, when there, a large group of humans from the Henoah lineage became genetically manipulated by the Sirians. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_207

Billy:

Today, I first have a question about your space-time configuration, which is practically another dimension, but which is equally directed to ours and, therefore, is therefore equally material. Our universe is called the DERN universe, how is it with our dimension and your dimension, what do you call these?

Quetzal:

1. We denote your dimension with the term Goran, while we call ours Siras.

Billy:

Aha, and these two dimensions, respectively these two different space-time configurations, are materially identical in their buildup and existence?

Quetzal:

2. That is of correctness.

...

Billy:

But in contrast, you explained that the Earth's moon penetrated from your space-time configuration into ours and then into the SOL-system, in which it allowed itself then to be captured by the Earth as a satellite.

...

Quetzal:

5. The Moon found its way out of our space-time configuration at an early time and penetrated into yours, after which it was held by the Earth by its force of attraction and orbits around the planet since that time, deviating more and more from the Earth, and it still influences the Earth's rotation today as it did at the very beginning and, thus, creates a braking effect.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_216

Billy:

Do you know of even other universes than the DAL Universe and ours? With this, I do not just mean other dimensions or other space-time configurations in our DERN Universe but actually other universes, so foreign ones that do not belong to our two twin universes.

Quetzal:

44. Actually, we have already concerned ourselves scientifically with foreign universes for a long time, but so far, we have not been able to gain any concrete insights that would enable us to penetrate into such universes.

45. We have knowledge and proof of the existence of foreign universes, but it is still impossible for us to break them open; Therefore, we can presently only visit the DERN's sister universe, ie the DERN's twin universe and, thus, the DAL Universe.

...

Billy:

Semjase once explained to me, in response to one of my questions, that antimatter is real and that this was already discovered by your ancestors more than 50,000 years ago and has been used by you since that time as beamship propulsion. Since then, have you researched and developed new techniques for this?

Quetzal:

51. Of course.

52. Negative matter, as we call antimatter, has already been used by us for fifty millennia for all sorts of purposes, and of course, so much other research was connected with it and still is, therefore, new insights will also constantly be won and will create new ones, with which negative matter is brought to application or is used.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_219

Billy:

... the Sirius regions, from where the refugees broke out, were in a different space-time configuration, and the refugees settled in another space-time plane, simply in our space and our time, which was a foreign area to the Sirians and which could not be found by them up to this day, for on the one hand, there are simply too many of the most diverse space-time configurations in the entire Universe, and on the other hand, the Sirians did not have the Henok-technology of the space-time exchange. But now, two specific questions about this: first of all, do the distant descendants of the Sirians from their other space-time configuration, or from their other space-time plane, still presently search for the refugees of Henok's line, whose most distant descendants are some of today's Earth-humans? And secondly, are the distant descendants of these Sirians in a position today to penetrate into other space-time configurations? ...

...

Quetzal:

75. But still, they also developed their technology further in every form, consequently, they also became capable of changing from their space-time plane into another.

...

78. Unfortunately, they also arrived into the possession of the technology that enables them to change into the most diverse space-time planes, so even into this one, in which the SOL-system exists, which they have, indeed, found after centuries of searching.

...

86. Unfortunately, we are not able to catch these extraterrestrial 'Black men' elements because they always vanish into a space-time plane whose coordinates we cannot detect and cannot register, for quite obviously, these Sirius renegades have a coordinate-distorter or otherwise have a possibility to distort the coordinate data, whereby we cannot capture them and cannot get a hold of the offenders.

...

88. We have to wait until they make a mistake or until our scientists find a possibility to decipher their coordinates upon the disappearance of the renegades into another space-time plane.

The electromagnetic radiations, which are known to our earthly scientists, are called gamma rays, X-rays, ultraviolet rays, light rays, infrared rays, microwaves, short waves, ultra-short waves, and radio waves, and to my knowledge, gamma rays exhibit the smallest wavelengths and radio waves exhibit the largest. But now, you already told me some time ago that there are still other rays, and indeed, in addition to the radioactive radiation, also neutrino radiation, electron radiation, and also tachyon radiation. Most forms of radiation are, however, invisible. Is this right?

... Semjase once said that there are sometimes very powerful convulsions in the Universe that are released by black holes. What explanation lies behind this?

Quetzal:

36. It concerns space-time convulsions, which we also call space-time quakes.

37. These occur when two black holes collide and merge with one another.

Billy:

You mean that when two black holes collide and merge with one another, then structural quakes will result in the levels of space and time or even structural convulsions, if I understand that correctly?

Quetzal:

38. That is of correctness.

112. This possibility only exists in the material belt, which forms the visible universe with all its stars, etc., for this belt is the only one, in which coarse-material matter can develop.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_236

Billy:

... You also said, when I asked about it once, that other dimensions couldn't be penetrated and time traveling couldn't be carried out through black holes. Is this right as such?

Ptaah:

301. Yes, your explanation is correct.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_238

Ptaah:

111. Maybe Quetzal will do this trip with you, because he wants to see you as well as my daughter Semjase.

112. Until then, however, it may be possible for the two of you to travel with our latest achievement and get to my daughter, with our latest transport system, with a transmitter that has made it possible for us to reach any and even the farthest point in no-decompression time, if there is a counter-equipment there, so a transmitter receiving station.

113. Through different relay stations we can reach any point in the universe.

114. However, these relay stations are necessary because we do not yet have transmitters with unlimited range.

115. Nevertheless, we do not need any time to get from one point to another, except for the time it takes to get from the receiving transmitter to the radiating transmitter and to program the new coordinates of the new target.

116. But even this programming by station will soon be a thing of the past, and so will the switching from one transmitter to another, because soon it will be possible to program the final destination at the output transmitter and the individual relay stations will automatically carry out the next programming together with the onward transmission, so that no more time is required for this either.

117. Over the next three years, our scientists should be able to put into operation a transmitter apparatus that no longer requires relay stations, but has an unlimited range and is designed in such a way that the transmitter can radiate a receiving transmitter to any and even the farthest target in the universe, where it materializes by a certain sequence of impulses and in which all goods and materials, forms of life etc. radiated to it materialize.

118. At present, however, a chain of relay stations is being created which itself extends into the DAL universe, making it possible to reach the DAL universe from Erra with a delay of only 14 minutes.

...

Ptaah:

410. To answer your question, however, I would like to explain to you that our ancestors discovered the principle of electron energy, which is present on all planets and stars as well as in all forms of life, as well as in inexhaustible form in the entire universe.

411. We make use of these electron energies even today just as our early and later ancestors did, only that we make energy transformations and are incomparably advanced in the use of these energies and their application as well as in the technology required for them than our ancestors were.

412. Tachyon engines as well as ray engines and antimatter engines, and our newest means of transportation with transmitters are based on electron energy, which we have been using for many millennia in ever more perfected form.

413. Also the cosmic-electromagnetic life energy, from which any form of life lives, is a product of the never-exhaustible electron energy of the universe.

414. Also any form of existence, no matter what kind, lives from it, even the spirit-forms, even if their energy is infinitely finer.

Billy:

Aren't electrons also vibrations?

Ptaah:

415. That's right.

Billy:

Aha, then an electron impulse engine should actually operate in such a way that it finds a hold on the electrons in free space itself, at which it can repel itself and move by its own oscillations.

A perfect perpetuum mobile, so to speak, if one knows the technology and is able to apply it.

This also explains why your spacecraft never lack energy, neither in free space nor on a planet.

Also it dawns on me slowly that you can regulate and apply the redirection of light to make your flying machines invisible, but probably also the phenomenon that you can also fly in an air envelope with unlimited speed without being fried by a friction heat, because if you protect your ships or other flying bodies with electron oscillations, with an electron oscillation mantle so to speak, then no more the slightest friction can arise. Is that right, or am I right?

Ptaah:

416. You amaze me as always.

...

Billy:

Billy:

I know that, but my question and speech doesn't really get that far, but it refers to the star system, which is shifted by a fraction of a second to our time and space. All the liars, swindlers and deceivers as well as the sick and lunatics don't know what you call your star system. In order to make it clear to the Earth-humans from where you come, we always said until now that you would come from the Pleiades, which is why we always spoke of this cluster of stars, also in reference to your home system, which is shifted to our space-time level. So your space-time structure is a fraction of a second shifted to ours, which means so much that on your Plejades you are living in a completely different space-time structure than we are here in the SOL system, although you are materially aligned as we are here in our space-time structure. Now the actual question: Is it possible that humans on Earth are so far evolutionary that they could break through the split-second space-time barrier between our and your space-time structure consciously, telepathically or spirit telepathically in order to maintain contact with humans or spirit-forms etc. from your space-time structure?

Ptaah:

768. That applies with absolute certainty only in one case, and that is with you.

769. Otherwise no human or material life-form lives on Earth that would be capable of such contacts through the space-time barrier.

770. Almost three millennia will pass before the first humans on Earth will be able to do this.

...

Billy:

Do you know if any of your people constantly, periodically or sporadically change from your space-time structure into our space-time structure to do any work or to maintain contact with people from Earth, whereby I don't mean you and all those who have to do with me or in relation to the mission, but whose number to know would be extremely interesting?

Ptaah:

772. I can fully answer your question:

773. In this or in your space-time-structure there are at the moment 16 persons each in a fixed cycle, who are on Earth as mission-related and missionary representatives and who are exchanged in a fixed cycle.

...

778. Otherwise no people from our space-time structure come into your space and into your time, consequently never any contacts of any kind could be maintained by such persons.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_241

Ptaah:

424. They {other extraterrestrials who may one day make official contact with Earth} will also not yet be able to grasp our dimension in which we live and exist.

...

427. If the mentioned contacts actually take place, but what is really questionable for the next decades, then Earth-humans will enter into connections and alliances with Earth strangers, into which we may interfere according to our laws in no case and under no circumstances.

428. This means that we must then withdraw into our dimension and no longer be active on Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_244

Ptaah:

53. The planet Amateban is in a system of our space-time structure, which we call Harkomen and which belongs to our federation.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_246

Ptaah:

8. My task was to create a colony on an uninhabited planet called KATHAN in the space area IDAM, known on Earth in this space-time structure as the Spiral Nebula NGC 2997, at a distance of 45 million light-years.

9. I was also busy in the space area NOSIR, where we also founded a new colony.

10. This also happened on an uninhabited planet called NASADAN.

11. The space region NOSIR is a galaxy which is 16 million light-years away from the SOL system in this space-time structure and which is referred to as M 83 in earthly astronomy science.

...

Ptaah:

163. He {Andron} has some tasks to fulfil on the planet CANADIN.

Billy:

So – ha, and where is this planet speeding through the world space, if you may ask?

Ptaah:

164. About 161,000 light-years from Earth, in a system we call NARANKA.

Billy:

You are once again sparse with information. What is the galaxy called?

Ptaah:

165. SUNDAJARIS.

166. It is known to earthly astronomical science in this space-time structure as the neighbouring galaxy 'Magellanic Cloud'.

...

Billy:

Well, then I would like to know what your new travel and transport options are. How does this transmitter system work, and how long will it take to get it up and running?

Ptaah:

204. Do you see this little device integrated into the chest of my clothes?

Billy:

You mean this little matchbox-sized thing?

Ptaah:

205. Yes.

Billy:

It's hard to tell that from the clothes. Without my flashlight I couldn't see it at all. It doesn't stand out at all.

Ptaah:

206. This enables me to generate a transmitter gate by thought power, through which I can simply step through, after which I am already at my destination without any loss of time, even if this is billions of light-years away.

207. More precisely, I have to concentrate my thoughts in such a way that they are picked up by the device and amplified in such a way that the resulting forces create the transmitter gate through which my transmission to the destination is made possible.

208. The system is not yet fully operational and usable, but we are constantly experimenting with it by transporting objects, etc., in this way for testing purposes.

209. The required target data are created by the personal knowledge of the destination, which is then mentally programmed by the device, whereupon the transmitter gate is created, in the form that the destination appears as a gate into which one can directly enter and is immediately at the destination.

210. If the destination is unknown to one in such a way that one knows it neither by picture information nor by a personal being there ever, then mathematical coordinates are sufficient, which one enters into the device by thought power and which must be known to one naturally.

211. If you like, I can give you a small demonstration of the possibility of such a transmitter gate.

212. However, you must promise me that you will not let yourself be carried away by your indomitable thirst for adventure and that you will simply step into the gate, because it is not yet fully developed for human transmissions and can therefore still be dangerous.

213. The danger is still that transmitted objects etc. do not reach their destination, but disappear somewhere untraceable and not retrievable between the dimensions and thus get lost.

...

Billy:

Would it be possible for you to open the gate to Quetzal's house where the fountain is at the pond?

...

Fantastic – two steps, and I would be on Quetzal's terrain on Erra; ah, look, Quetzal's Ulrak passes. By the way, where did he get this little cattle from? And can't that suddenly enter the transmission gate and get lost here?

Ptaah:

216. It's an animal that lives on Erra.

217. It can't get here, because the gate is only visible from here on the one hand, but not from the other side, and on the other hand it can only be used from this side.

218. This has been designed for safety reasons to prevent unwanted life forms from passing through the gate.

219. If it were different, it would be very dangerous.

220. On the other hand, the gate can only exist as long as it is thought to exist.

...

Billy:

And how far is this gate visible here, I mean, if there's someone up there on the street looking over here. Can you see it then?

Ptaah:

222. There is no danger, because the transmission gate is only visible on a few steps.

223. Go back only once three steps, then you won't see it anymore.

...

Billy:

And – is this technique of transport then the absolute ultimate for all time, or is a further development still possible?

Ptaah:

226. The development only ends where the power of consciousness alone is sufficient to transport oneself and materials of all kinds by teleportation or telekinesis from a point of departure to a specific destination, without any technical aids being required.

227. This also means that you do not need any spacecraft etc. to move from one place to another or to transport materials from one place to another.

228. The next development, however, will be to find and use the means to move from one place to another without a transmission gate, and to do so solely by the power of thought, which is technically amplified in such a way that a teleportation can be carried out that can bridge billions of light-years as well as the technology of transmitters that is now emerging.

229. Nevertheless, even then the spacecraft will still be needed, which will also be further advanced in development.

Billy:

And everything is based on the speed of Creation, 107,000 times the speed of light. Even with the present transmitter gate this cannot be any different.

Ptaah:

230. That is not quite correct, because for the time being it is based only on 21,000 times the speed of light.

231. Besides, the speed of the spirit should never be reachable by technical means.

Billy:

The size of the gate is about 2 metres by 90 centimetres and ...

...

... For a human, the gate is just good in size, but what if a larger gate is needed, such as for large goods and the like?

Ptaah:

233. The size of the transmitter gate can be customized according to your needs.

234. This is done by a simple command, mentally directed to the gate generator device.

Billy:

Fabulous. It really could not be simpler. But what happens now, if somebody takes over the transmitter gate generating device without authorization, is there perhaps a safety device, as you use it with your weapon tools, that only the owner of the device can use it, because it is tuned to his thought frequency?

Ptaah:

235. That's what you say.

236. This alone guarantees the best possible security, so that no one can use the devices for unfair and nonsensical purposes without authorisation, should they fall into unauthorised hands for any reason, if we are active on worlds whose people cannot yet be expected to use such devices.

...

Billy:

Well, now you also have devices and the like, which look like a simple piece of metal or plastic etc., without these being recognizable as devices or apparatus etc., but in which there is a high-quality super-minielelectronics, which again is not recognizable as such, if you cut the metal or the plastic, because everything is poured into each other.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_248

Billy:

... I would gladly like to know how far you have progressed with the technology of the new transportation systems. ...

Ptaah:

5. Everything has not yet advanced so far that our transportation systems would be useful for life-forms and, thus, for humans.

6. Errors still appear that demand from us that we still perform tests with some materials that still frequently get lost during transport; they probably leave from the output location, respectively from the sending location, but they do not arrive at the destination.

Billy:

Then they get lost somewhere in the dematerialized, energetic state between the place of departure and the destination. They get lost, so to speak, between dimensions or in foreign dimensions, right?

Ptaah:

7. That is right.

...

Ptaah:

55. But these facts shouldn't be so important for the Earth-humans that we would still have to talk about them in more detail or subsequently, especially since it concerns those planets of Lyra that are beyond this space-time plane.

...

Ptaah:

92. No, it is not so simple to master, to leave the material universe, the Material Belt.

93. Very great physical skills and experiences as well as quite special technologies are required for this, which are still completely unknown even to many advanced humanities, respectively civilizations, of many space-knowledgeable peoples of many worlds, as this is also the case with regard to a change of dimensions as well as regarding time-travelling.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_249

Billy:

... It is always doubted that plejadic spaceships can fly with umpteen times the speed of light in normal space or that objects can only fly through space with approximately the speed of light without time shifts, because Einstein's theory of relativity simply forbids this. Is the assumption correct that the calculation formulas of this theory of relativity are basically correct, but only with limitations, so that they have to be replaced by other and further additions in the end? In my opinion this should be the case, because if I consider that certain galaxies drift apart at approximately the speed of light, without time shifts arising, then it would have to be so for this reason alone – quite apart from my own experience, which I was allowed to experience and make through you during my Great Journey and during other occasions.

Ptaah:

75. Your assumption is absolutely correct, but I am not allowed to give any official details about it and therefore no information.

...

Billy:

... would it be possible to learn more about the origin and propagation of time streams in the universe?

Ptaah:

78. I have to give you the same answer here as well.

...

Billy:

This was also the case about six years ago with Kohan's people – on the planet in the Centauri area, which had 120 billion people and which is somewhat delayed to our time and space.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_250

Billy:

... I am referring to the fact that unidentified flying objects do not only come from our space-time continuum, but also from other dimensions. ...

...

Ptaah:

71. If we consider a further form of terrestrial flying objects, which are considered UFOs and which are not of extraterrestrial origin, then we have to speak of those flying machines which originate from the terrestrial future in terms of their dimensions to the space-time continuum prevailing here.

72. So we are dealing here with flying bodies of earthly origin, but built in a dimension of the future on earth, whereby Earth-humans living there in the future have found the ways of time travel, whereby it becomes possible for them to travel back into their own past and thus also into the present time on Earth.

73. So these visitors are not extraterrestrial intelligences either, but also inhabitants of Earth, whose technology is many centuries and sometimes even thousands of years ahead of the present time of Earth-humans and in the future.

74. Further forms of unidentified flying bodies concern life-forms that are actually extraterrestrial and that also belong to this space-time continuum prevailing here.

75. Such life-forms with their flying objects visit Earth only very rarely, except for three different races, which have been flying to Earth for a long time, apart from us Pleiadians of course.

76. Furthermore, Earth is also approached here and there by extraterrestrial human life-forms, which happens however extremely rarely and is to be counted often in decades or in centuries, who come with their flying objects from parallel spaces and/or from parallel planes to the space-time continuum predominant here, like e.g. we ourselves, who live in a parallel space, which is shifted, fractions of a second, attached to this space-time continuum predominant here.

77. It ...

Billy:

Sorry to interrupt. On the one hand, you talked about earthlings who live in the future and visit Earth from there. That's what you call time-travellers!

Ptaah:

78. Of course.

Billy:

But what should we call those who simply come from parallel spaces?

Ptaah:

79. According to your sense we simply call it transfer or parallel transfer.

Billy:

So nothing that would be complicated to say. But just go on with your explanations now. Does it actually happen frequently that people with their flying machines come to us from parallel spaces and come to Earth?

Ptaah:

80. No, that's very rare, apart from us and our allies.

81. In contrast, however, it is more common for bioorganic flying objects to appear in this space-time continuum, not only on Earth, but also on many other inhabited and uninhabitable world spheres.

82. So we can observe such bio-organisms, as we call them, also on our worlds, whereby we do not know however yet exactly which kind these life-forms are now.

83. The dimension changers, as we also call them, are larger and smaller airworthy, bioorganic life-forms, which are often fluorescent or very brightly radiating and located in a parallel space or parallel universe.

84. In their way they are absolutely harmless and even playful.

85. They often appear individually or in smaller groups, ranging in size from a few metres to several hundred metres in diameter.

86. They live in a parallel space that we have not yet been able to access, whose data we know well, but into which we have not yet been able to penetrate in form in order to establish communicative contact with these forms of life.

...

Billy:

... But may I ask a question about the name of what you call your system beyond our space-time continuum? Together, we always speak of the Pleiadians, by which we mean only the distant and punctual place from which you come, for instance, while you name your system differently in our time-shifted parallel space. Can we perhaps now speak openly about it and name the right name, which is almost identical to Pleiadians?

...

Well then I will now officially say that you call your star system Plejaren, but you name the system suns and the planets equally, as we call the stars of the Pleiades in our space-time continuum.

...

Billy:

... But there is a question that relates to statements of Asket and Semjase: The two spoke in their time often of the fact that an atomic destruction of the earth, etc., could create disasters that would affect other universes. Somehow, however, the worm seems to be in these statements, because I cannot imagine that other universes can be affected by a planetary destruction.

Ptaah:

123. This is also true, because such destructions have no influence on other universes if they are outside this Creation universe.

124. This is what you mean by the worm, which is apparently given in the statements of my daughter and of Asket.

125. But the two spoke not of foreign Creation universes, but of this universe's own universes, into which very well destructive effects are possible, if planetary or galactic destructions take place.

Billy:

Oh well, you mean that Semjase and Asket each spoke of parallel universes and thus of other space-time continuums that are located in our Creation universe.

Ptaah:

126. Right.

Billy:

Then all is well. The matter was simply unclear. – So large format destructions in our material universe can also have a destructive effect on other space-time continuums or parallel universes. I did not know that. What happens there basically or what can happen there?

Ptaah:

127. The barriers between different dimensions are torn, whereby the destructive forces can spread into other dimensions or even into other universes or space-time continuums and act there.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_251

Billy:

... From Henok's primitive peoples two lineages divided out, after the great reparations actions after the peace struggles by the peace troops were over and all peoples and planets were pacified. One lineage went its long way to the Lyra regions, where they settled in a space-time continuum offset by a fraction of a second by another space-time continuum, where they lived from then on; but only after they had inhabited other worlds and systems in various other areas of foreign galaxies for many billions of years, as a result of which warfare then again developed. In this episode again space-wide emigrations of peoples were carried out, which finally ended in another space-time continuum, which is shifted by a fraction of a second to our space-time continuum, whereby the area was located in the space of the Lyra stars, which is why today one still speaks of the Lyra regions and of the old Lyrians, which then returned to later time again partly expeditionary and partly hasty into our space-time continuum, in whose consequence they came then also to Earth, in order to work here in known way, in order to work here in known way. This lineage has retained the entire knowledge of their original origins to this day, and this lineage also gave rise to the Pleiadians respectively the Plejaren, who in their language call themselves the same as they call their celestial cluster beyond the Pleiades, which is also shifted a fraction of a second in relation to our space-time continuum in another space-time continuum. ...

... The populations of today's Sirius regions, which are located in space-time configuration offset to the earthly dimension ...

...

... This retreat opened the way for the old Lyrians to Earth and to Earth-humans, when these came out of their space-time continuum expedition- as well as escape-moderate into our space-time continuum and into the SOL-system and thus to Earth, in order to play themselves here with the time likewise as deities and to cause disaster. ...

...

There comes a time when, with the weakening of the Sun's nuclear fusions, enormous changes will take place in the SOL system. Not only will the entire gravitational field be out of control and change, but large scale climate change will also be the order of the day. This is spurring scientists on to peak performance, because they want to counteract the negative effects of the sun, which, in contrast to erroneous scientific assumptions, appear much earlier over many millennia than previously assumed. Only now it is recognized correctly that the sun is a dying star and thus the setting of the SOL system is already determined, even if the sun will continue to exist still approximately 4.1 billion (4,100,000,000) years, however then already as dead star, which is swallowed then after this time by a black hole and is destroyed. So the scientists begin to perform at their best – and find the miscalculations underlying the pi number. By correcting and now correctly calculating the pi number, the scientists and the incredibly sophisticated technology will be able to harness unimaginable energies for Earth, by making it possible for them to derive energies from black holes in the wide area of the Milky Way and make them usable for Earth. At this time, however, scientists will still not be able to reach the centre of our galaxy to tap into the black hole there. However, this will not be necessary for the time being, because the surrounding objects for energy generation are completely sufficient to serve Earth. This new energy production as well as the kind of the energy itself, make it possible from now on for the terrestrial human being to develop new space travel forms, in whose consequence and extension also that travel and transport factor becomes reality, which in the year 1995 and all time before as well as still long time into the future is called fantasy and impossible i.e. the time-travel. This invention, in turn, enables man to travel into the past and the future, as well as into the vastness of the universe, which was previously impossible. In this consequence it naturally cannot be missing that new human life forms are discovered, extraterrestrials, from which Earth-humans will learn very much and unimagined and which are around uncommonly much more intelligent than the humans of Earth themselves. ...

...

In the prophecies, predictions and visions that have been made so far, it has probably been said that man on earth will discover and invent time travel and break up the dimensions of the future and the past. However, it was not said that various other dimensions would be discovered and found and that undreamt-of possibilities would be opened up to man. However, there will also be many dangers associated with this, both physical and caused by intelligences of foreign dimensions.

...

... A third group left our universe, the DERN-universe, and penetrated into the twin-universe, into the DAL-universe, where the people multiplied and united with many other peoples to form a huge federation, as it also happened with the Pleiadians/Plejaren, whose federation exists offset to our space-time continuum by a fraction of a second and covers an area of about 70 million light-years in diameter, whereby also some few federation members respectively federation planets are located in our space-time continuum. ...

...

Ptaah:

133. The film and photo material of UFOs made in all the years worldwide and especially in America and South America as well as in England etc. does not always show extraterrestrial flying objects, but also such strangely working flying machines, which are manufactured since several decades by terrestrial humans on earth, as well as flying bodies, which come from the terrestrial future or which are known as bioorganic flying bodies with us, which are the so-called dimension changers, life forms, which penetrate from another dimension into the terrestrial airspace.

...

Billy:

Your world-monitoring control disks, what about them – do they remain stationed around the world?

Ptaah:

182. All these control apparatuses have already been removed, so only the one intended for the centre still exists.

183. But it is no larger than 7 millimetres in diameter and 3.2 millimetres in thickness.

...

185. The control apparatus also contains transmitters and receivers and associated image transmission equipment, which transmit everything at multiple speeds of light to a control point near our dimensional passage at a star far beyond the Pleiades cluster, in order to reach our space-time structure and thus our dimension from there through a dimensional transmitter.

...

Billy:

You are once again silent tight, my friend – you mean probably that certain earth visitors of other worlds outside of our solar system could get hold of your information and find the way into your dimension?

Ptaah:

189. That is the meaning of my words, yes.

190. At least from a group of such intelligences we know that they are capable of changing dimensions in such a way that they could reach our dimension, which would be unpleasant.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_252

Billy:

... And now I have a question that has been on my mind for years: Other dimensions and other universes – do the same physical laws apply in them as in our universe and in our dimension?

Ptaah:

140. No, that's not the rule.

141. The laws of physics are different in other dimensions and universes, if they are not aligned to the DERN universe, i.e. to our universe.

142. There must therefore be a rectification of the nature of the universe and its age, as is the case, for example, with the DAL universe, which is known to embody a twin universe of the DERN universe.

143. If the same laws of physics are to prevail in other dimensions or universes, then all their physical concerns must be aligned with those of our universe, otherwise other physical laws are given.

...

Billy:

Then I now have a question that has preoccupied me for a long time: Why did practically all your ancestors choose solar systems and worlds to live in, which are in a different space-time continuum than we are here?

Ptaah:

165. Extrasolar planetary systems in solar systems in this space-time continuum of the DERN universe can be found relatively few, because they are extremely rare.

166. In the dimension in which we and all the other Henok lineage groups live, on the other hand, there are many solar systems in which planets are also classified, and which are also capable of carrying a variety of life.

167. Already our earliest ancestors travelled the dimension time-shifted to this space-time continuum, in which we live, consequently it is known to us and all Henok lineage groups since ancient times.

Billy:

What does that mean in relation to planetary solar systems?

Ptaah:

168. In this space-time continuum of our DERN universe, many planets probably exist in many solar systems, but they are extremely thinly arranged in relation to our dimension, if I may say so.

169. This means that the many planetary solar systems lie very far apart in this galaxy, the Milky Way, while in our dimension and in our galaxy many solar systems with planets lie very close to each other or are arranged more closely to each other.

Billy:

So this is caused differently depending on the dimension?

Ptaah:

170. Right, because in every dimension of a universe there are different prerequisites and often different physical laws, as I already explained to you.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_254

Ptaah:

32. The sun Alkyone in our space-time continuum have no planets, therefore no humans can live on them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_257

Billy:

One moment, please, before I forget: The aliens you mentioned, who are supposed to contact Earthlings in the near future, do they have any knowledge about you and your dimension?

Ptaah:

100. No, in no way.

101. They will have neither knowledge of our presence here nor knowledge of our home dimension and our home worlds.

...

{Billy:}

... there actually are still enough cases of UFO observations that undoubtedly rest upon such really-occurring extraterrestrial, and partly also other-dimensional, flying devices which have nothing to do with the Plejadian/Plejaren, and their confederates, rather they belong to other worlds and civilizations. ...

... Silence was maintained regarding what the UFOs effectively were, namely extraterrestrial, and partly foreign-dimensional, interplanetary flying devices controlled by crews foreign to Earth.

...

Billy:

... Well, here I have another question concerning the destroyer: Semjase told me pretty much at the beginning of our contacts that the destroyer has been doing his mischief in our solar system since time immemorial and destroyed about 22 million years ago or so old homeworlds of the Lyrans. To my knowledge, however, these lay in a different space-time structure, shifted by a fraction of a second to our space and time. How is it there that the destroyer came after the destruction work with the old Lyranern into our space-time-structure?

Ptaah:

164. The Destroyer then broke through a space-time barrier created by the ancient Syrians, as we still use it today, but in a modernized form, as you would say.

165. At that time, these passage or dimensional gates, as we call them, were constructed in such a way that they opened as soon as any object approached.

166. This also happened as the Destroyer approached, who through unfortunate circumstances came to one of these dimensional gates, shot through and entered this, your space-time continuum, then found his way into this solar system.

167. Today this would no longer be possible, because our passage gates from one dimension to another or to the DAL universe have already been constructed and secured for several million years in such a way that they are probably constant in one place, but only open in response to very specific impulses emitted by our spacecraft.

168. So today it would no longer be possible for a world body to pass unintentionally through one of our many dimensional gates.

...

172. The development and construction of this fuse took place as an urgent need after the incident when the destroyer of our ancestors was unintentionally able to change from one space-time structure to another.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_264

Billy:

... The bioorganic flying objects; can these life-forms take on human form and in this form, for example, come into contact with terrestrial humans?

Ptaah:

83. No, this possibility is not given to them.

84. Nor are they of any human-like nature, but pure energy bodies capable of transformation and dimensional change, which appear as floating forms of light energy in one or the other dimension, are able to change their light intensity, but do not have any form of conscious consciousness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_265

Florena:

29. It's not that strange, because at least the group of these foreigners who were up to no good in the first few years {“Men In Black”} are prevented from appearing on the Centre-grounds themselves by a reporting system we installed.

30. However, if they were to try this, which was the case several times before, we would immediately take action against them, which they find extremely unpopular, so they disappear without a trace, without us being able to decipher their flight coordinates for their leap in time, because they are so cleverly coded and torn that we are not able to decipher them even with our best technical means, which is also the reason why we have not yet been able to put their evil handicraft to them, as you like to say.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_269

Billy:

Then again a question: The unknown flying objects, the so-called UFOs, which are sighted more and more frequently in all countries, sometimes even in larger arrangements, and which are also sighted in larger numbers, all concern the same place of origin?

Ptaah:

46. No, that is not the case, because there are several different places of origin from where the flying objects come.

47. Besides, not all are at home in your space-time-structure, because as we noticed, Earth is also visited by differently dimensioned flying objects and beings that do not come from your space-time-structure.

Billy:

Can one also speak of future visitors?

Ptaah:

48. Yes, that is the case.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_291

Asina:

5. As usual, we are on an expedition, and since the Earth serves us well as a stopover to our next destination, we have moved into your time by a leap in time.

Billy:

Aha, I suspected something like that when I saw the lights in the sky. I assume that you jumped out of your dimension directly into our time and we became aware of you just at the moment you were materialized, and I assume that this must have happened about 200 kilometres away from our Centre, somewhere in the north and over German territory.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_296

Ptaah:

97. My area of responsibility lies in our own space-time structure, about 60 light-years beyond the Mekbuda region known on Earth, which is about 1550 light-years away from Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_297

Billy:

... In the parallel dimensions, does time run parallel to our time? I do not mean the time that is determined by the human beings of the different dimensions, but the time that is determined by the universe and the time-streams.

Ptaah:

31. The purely universal time is uniform in all dimensions.

32. Differences only appear in dimensions of the past or the future, and only in the form of a time shift to the present time.

Billy:

Which means that in the past as well as in the future universal time remains uniform and only the time shift to the present is of significance.

Ptaah:

33. Right.

Billy:

Then a further question, which is obviously still unclear with different group members: To my knowledge and understanding one must consider the terms dimension and space-time-structure as a value. So dimension also means space-time-structure and space-time-structure also means dimension. Am I right, or have I explained it wrong?

Ptaah:

34. You know that your explanation is of correctness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_306

Billy:

... Now, I would like to ask about what technology and energy source you actually use for your intergalactic and planetary communication. As I know, your technology is aligned in such a way that there is no loss of time during communication, not even when this is carried out across millions and billions of light-years. Can you explain something about this to me, or is it all a secret?

Ptaah:

83. We use the technology of negative speed, by what means a signal is already manifested at the destination through corresponding communication devices before the actual transmission or sending of the signal has even begun.

84. Thus, the signal already reaches the goal upon input of the signal.

85. The sending distance is unlimited and, therefore, extends throughout the whole Universe.

86. The energy sources, for which you ask, are actual signal carriers, by which everything is linked together throughout the whole Universe and through which the cosmic communication of all things, all life, and all existence takes place.

87. These energy sources are not detectable and are not at all usable without suitable and high-precision auxiliary apparatuses.

88. For the human eye, they are completely invisible, and they have the capacity to penetrate any matter irresistibly, and when I say any matter, I mean it, for no matter or antimatter exists throughout the whole Universe that could not be penetrated by these energy sources that travel billions of times faster than the speed of light with unimpeded speed.

89. These faster-than-light energy sources are sub-neutrinos.

90. Our technology allows us to equip these with signals, which also happens with billions of times the speed of light and has the effect that the signals spread like lightning throughout the whole Universe, and indeed, indefinitely in all directions.

91. In order, then, to catch the signals, special and highly sensitive sensors are necessary, through which the signals are then transmitted to an equalizer and deciphered.

Billy:

Our science knows about neutrinos, however.

Ptaah:

92. That's right, but I am not speaking of the neutrinos that are known to the earthly scientists but of sub-neutrinos, concerning which the scientists of the Earth do not know that they exist.

...

Ptaah:

99. The personal protective shields function in the same way as the protective shields of our aircraft.

100. Any energy hitting them is converted and reinforces the shields, by what means they become absolutely impenetrable and indestructible.

101. Also, any matter hitting the protective shields, including firearm bullets, etc., immediately turn into pure energy, which the protective shield takes in and absorbs, strengthening it.

102. Larger objects, such as large meteors or comets, on the other hand, are only partially dissolved into energy, while the largest part is hurled away by the impact on the protective shield.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_307

Sfath {1945}:

145. The following for my person, you should already know this, will be from 1953 a young woman from the DAL universe, where you will certainly be taken once.

146. The name of the person you meet will be Asket.

147. She is a member of one of our branching peoples, some of whom are still at home in the lyra and pathas systems, but shifted to this space-time level by a fraction of a second as well as our space-time structure, in which our plejar systems exist.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_311

Ptaah:

8. That is not a need for us because ultimately, our most distant ancestors were responsible for the fact that the traveller {the Destroyer comet} could penetrate into this space-time configuration and could arrive into the SOL system, for at that time, they did not have their dimension gate under control.

Billy:

Of course, one can also look at it in such a way. – Here is another question. Regarding the Sirians who at that time presented Sfath with their pear-shaped space ship: did that concern a people who, here on the Earth, is called "Nommo", and did those who provided the gift belong to the genetic manipulators?

Ptaah:

9. A people called "Nommo" is unknown to us, and indeed in our space-time configuration as well as in yours.

10. My father Sfath received his flying device as a gift from a Sirian people who are called Samanet.

Billy:

Did these people have something to do with the genetic manipulators?

Ptaah:

11. No, that is not the case.

12. With the Samanet people it deals with a people who live in a space-time configuration which is not identical with that in which the genetic manipulators live.

Billy:

Does it deal then with our space-time configuration?

Ptaah:

13. No, that is not the case.

Billy:

Then, in 1976 Semjase, your daughter, also did not speak of two solar systems of the planets of Sirius in our space time configuration, rather of a completely different one?

Ptaah:

14. Certainly.

15. We always only speak of the constellations known to you in your space-time configuration in order to show, in terms of direction, approximately what the talk is about in regard to the space-time configuration spoken about by us.

Billy:

Aha, and how does it stand then with that in regard to inhabited systems in our space-time configuration?

Ptaah:

16. Then we also do not speak of another space-time configuration or of other dimensions.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_321

Billy:

... During a conversation with Quetzal in the eighties, it was once mentioned that you do research on the refraction of foreign universes, which means that you want to construct or construct a trans-universe transmission gate that enables you to advance into another universe, which is not a parallel universe like the DAL-universe or a sister-universe, but effectively a foreign universe. And if you succeed in this, Quetzal said at the time, then it should be possible for you to advance into many other foreign universes. At that time Quetzal spoke about it, it was 1987 or so, as far as I know, that it would take another 15 years or so until your research and the corresponding technology had progressed so far that one could talk about it again. The question now is, has all the research and construction progressed so far that everything is nearing completion? And what about the other project, the transmitter gate through which I can go to Semjase one day, as you promised me?

...

But what about when you have finished the new technology with the Trans-Universe-Transmitter-Gate or Trans-Universe-Transmission-Gate, as it was called by Quetzal, is there a chance for me to be taken with you and your giant space traveller to one or more of the foreign universes?

...

When I think that I was not only the first and so far the only human being on Earth to be allowed to visit the Plejaren and the DAL universe and now I am to be given the opportunity to be taken into a foreign universe or into several of them, then I could go directly megalomaniac. But if that really happens, then I will probably be so overwhelmed by everything that I will only become small and ugly.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_325

Billy:

DERN universe and DAL universe or DERN creation and DAL creation, what does that mean, I mean DERN and DAL?

Quetzal:

22. The meaning is given in an ancient language that goes back to Nokodemion.

23. The wording is as follows:

24. DERN-universe or DERN-creation means: "Dajansini ern ruan nitrapralano", which means: "Creation that unveils itself".

25. DAL-universe or DAL-creation means in the ancient language: "Dajansini arg lasergnoralin", which means: "Creation as second born".

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_328

Billy:

... Now and then earth humans from our future come into our dimension and thus into our space-time continuum, as you explained to me on my Great Journey. Also the Skrills and bio-organic flying objects, two special species, penetrate into our dimension from a dimension affiliated to us. Does this also apply to other humans of other dimensions who do not belong to you or to the Earth from the future?

Ptaah:

139. That is the case, yes.

140. But such occurrences are very rarely observed by us.

Billy:

And what about strangers from outside our DERN universe coming into our universe area from an alien universe, apart from Asket's race from the DAL universe?

Ptaah:

141. Something like that is not known to us.

142. Even our very extensive monitoring and constant checks have never revealed anything that would indicate such events.

Billy:

There's no possibility?

Ptaah:

143. At least it's extremely small, because outside of our DERN-DAL twin universe we are mostly surrounded by universes that are only subtle and therefore much more highly developed than our two universes.

144. This is also the reason why we cannot break into these universes.

Billy:

So you have already explored this. Interesting, but how are you supposed to get into another material universe, as you want to do? It's a mystery to me. Somehow you should be able to create a highly concentrated energy channel through the subtle universes, something like a wormhole that goes through all the higher evolutionary universes to a lower, material creation universe, as stated in Nokodemion's teachings. But you cannot reach its memory banks.

Ptaah:

145. Amazing what you know about this.

146. Apparently you have more knowledge in these matters than you ever mentioned to us.

147. Your explanation corresponds to the actual facts, but I must confess to you that our own scientists did not gain the knowledge and find the solution to be able to enter foreign universes.

148. The truth is that we have obtained the knowledge and plans and formulas etc. elsewhere.

Billy:

This can only be the very advanced humans of Asket's friends. But when will the enterprise that is to take you to a foreign universe take place now, and when can my jump to Semjase through the transmitter gate take place?

Ptaah:

149. There is nothing to hide from you.

150. However, with regard to your question, I can assure you that at least my journey to the foreign universe we have already determined, which is a universe of creation like ours, will take place this year.

...

155. We have already transported a transmitter station into the alien universe through the energy channel you mentioned, in order to create attempts to get test objects transported back through this station, which we transport to it through the energy channel.

156. All the experiments in eight hundred thousand ways have been flawless, and without the slightest malfunction.

Billy:

Is this technology identical to the Gate, through which one can bridge immeasurable distances in our universe simply by passing through it?

Ptaah:

157. No, it's not the same technical achievement, because the technology by which an energy channel can be used by an alien universe of higher energetic form is a much higher evolution of the technology than the one you address with the transmitter gate.

Billy:

Of course, it's understandable. For my part, I have not dealt with Nokodemion's technology, nor have I retrieved the relevant data. For reasons of principle, I have been content with simply informing myself about what is necessary to be able to enter a foreign universe of creation and how it can be managed to penetrate or bridge higher-energy universes or forms of creation, etc. Of course I was interested in this information when you told me some time ago that you would soon be making a journey to a foreign universe, as your technology was already so highly developed that it now allowed such a journey.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_331

Florena:

20. For my part, I am to order from Ptaah to you and all group members that he sends his greetings to everyone and that he and all his companions are well and that no problems have arisen.

21. Meanwhile he has penetrated into the material part of the universe, as I told you earlier, they have not yet found any life forms of any higher kind.

22. Finds of life-forms are limited so far only to micro-organisms.

23. Furthermore it is a first universe resp. universe of creation, like our DERN-universe.

...

Billy:

And the universe adjacent to our DERN-universe, what form is that – could that already be fathomed? A channel had to be created through it, which is probably called a wormhole here. In any case, it must be something that falls within this framework.

Florena:

25. The adjacent universe, which we have not yet named, as well as the one where Ptaah is not located, is a higher universe, a central universe, which we cannot travel to.

26. Since it is dimensioned differently in its evolution than our DERN-universe and its dimensions, we are only able to create an energy tunnel through it in order to reach the other side of the universe where Ptaah is located.

27. So what you call channel, we call energy tunnel.

Billy:

Ptaah is over there with his giant room – and it must take enormous masses of energy to create this tunnel and maintain it – and how do you create this energy?

Florena:

28. That is correct.

29. Ptaah is in the alien universe with his wide-bodied flying machine.

30. The energy for the creation of the energy tunnel and its maintenance we get from a 'black hole', as you call it.

31. Other sources would be far too small in every way to generate the necessary energy.

Billy:

Could you make a comparison?

Florena:

32. I am not familiar with this field, but I know that the energies needed per second include several times the mass of energy, as you call it, that a sun like the one in your system releases in one second.

Billy:

As a layman in physics, I am afraid this is a closed book. But it gives me the notion that an enormous mass of energy is needed, which we on Earth are probably not yet capable of producing by any means, right?

Florena:

33. That is absolutely correct.

34. Such enormous energies cannot be created by pure technical means, as they are available to terrestrial human beings or even to us.

35. In fact, gigantic cosmic objects are required for this purpose, which must also be inexhaustible in their energy supply, as is only the case with a 'black hole'.

Billy:

Can any kind of 'black hole' be used for this purpose, i.e. a stationary or a moving one?

Florena:

36. In principle the energies can be used by everyone, but for the specific purpose of the energy tunnel only the energies of a stationary 'black hole' can be used.

37. In the case of our energy tunnel, however, we do not use a simple 'black hole' to generate energy, but a twin structure, by which I mean two similar 'black holes' that are close to each other and allow their energies to flow into each other.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_334

Billy:

Whatever interests me: What is to be expected in terms of life and physical matters in the alien universe?

Enjana:

25. According to the latest information, no human life forms have been found yet, neither in a more highly developed nor in an original form.

26. On several occasions, however, very low life has already been found.

Billy:

You mean microorganisms?

Enjana:

27. Yes, and in many different forms.

28. But higher life must already exist in this universe, because different amino acids etc. were found.

29. Ptaah expects that sooner or later he will also encounter human life.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_340

Quetzal:

10. He {Ptaah} reported that many new things were discovered which are unknown in our universe and which must have developed and changed and dissolved at the earliest times.

11. The calculations showed that the foreign universe in its total existence is 22 trillion years younger than our DERN universe.

12. The material belt, and thus the visible material universe, has a current age of 9 billion years and is therefore much younger than ours.

13. Apart from micro-organisms, diverse small life forms and a planet with primeval human life forms and all kinds of small, medium, large and very large animals as well as air and water beings, no highly developed life forms have yet been found, by which I mean beings of the human species.

14. Probably it will still take a long time before such life is found.

15. As has been shown by the discovery of the primeval human forms, highly developed beings must therefore also exist.

Billy:

Let's be surprised at the possibilities that lie ahead. Have you actually created a name for the alien universe yet?

Quetzal:

16. A provisional name was given, but in the meantime, according to Ptaah's proposal, the name RADERN universe has been established for the foreign universe.

Billy:

I see, I see. What does this designation mean?

Quetzal:

17. Of course, you cannot know that.

18. The term RADERN refers to the abbreviation of 'Rane Alinu-Dajansini ern ruan nitrapralano'.

Billy:

Right. Very interesting, but I am standing like a donkey on a mountain, because apart from 'Dajansini', which means Creation, and 'Nitrapralano', which means unveiled, everything is like a Bohemian village to me. Unfortunately I cannot understand more. And how is everything written?

Quetzal:

19. I understand.

20. In our written language, all nouns are written with capital letters, as is every word at the beginning of a sentence.

21. You can take the German written language as a model.

22. The name 'Rane Alinu-Dajansini ern ruan nitrapralano' comes from the old language of Nokodemion and means: "New foreign creation that unveils itself."

{Note: A summary of the findings of the expedition into this foreign universe is given in Contact Report 345 with additional details given in Contact Report 449.}

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_359

Ptaah:

21. Nevertheless, I cannot exclude the possibility that they could have been bioorganic missiles of different dimensions, which, as you know, are harmless life forms from a neighbouring dimension and which can usually only be photographed by infrared cameras or recorded on infrared film.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_367

Ptaah:

83. And should it be that in the coming time other alien beings find their way to earth in such a way that they establish open contact with earthly humanity, then we will withdraw definitively into our space-time structure, because our directives are aligned in this form.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_402

Billy:

... Apart from the differently dimensioned bio-organic missiles there are similar species on earth, which show the most different forms. {see Rods}

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_410

Ptaah:

49. The direct ancestors of the yellow races, as the races of China and Japan are called with you on Earth, came to Earth 25,994 years ago – counted from today on – and settled in the areas of today's China and Japan.

50. Their very distant ancestors were at very early times or millions of years – like the white, red and brown races – partly refugees from the Sirius areas, which were shifted to the Dern space-time structure.

51. The yellow races first settled in distant regions beyond the sun or central sun, where they founded large races in the Nisan system on a planet called KUDRA and created a huge overpopulation.

52. As a result – in addition to the fact that the planet was slowly becoming uninhabitable – a great emigration took place about 2.4 million years ago, with large masses migrating and settling in the Lyra systems on this side of the central sun, on a neighbouring planet of Lasan.

53. Their planet was called NISSAN.

54. These systems and planets in the Lyra regions were also offset to our space-time structure by fractions of a second or seconds, whereas the Nisan system and its planets – thus also Kudra – beyond the galaxy belonged to the Dern space-time structure.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_424

Ptaah:

46. In the last century, only one unintentional contact took place in South America whereby the space travellers came from another space-time structure from the region of Alpha Centauri.

...

Billy:

... Another question regarding your federation: You once said that it stretches over many dimensions or space-time structures, and over 50 million light-years. May I ask you, how many different dimensions your federation consists of?

Ptaah:

...

88. And it has to be said in regard to our federation, that it is spread out over three dimensions, and that our two dimensions – ours and yours – are included.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_428

Ptaah:

11. The great space ship which at that time suffered a breakdown and was destroyed, out of which the so-called Tunguska event resulted, belonged to a people who live in a distant galaxy in your space-time configuration.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_433

Billy:

... But tell me: Have you discovered anything new about the fact that such strange things happen to us in the Center, such as things which disappear without a trace, without having someone visible taking them away? A few days ago, Eva put two photographic slides on the box for me, and without anyone being able to take them away from us, they simply vanished without a trace, as did the book – at that time which was placed in the bookshelf, as we both saw on the recordings – just suddenly, from one moment to the next, disappeared without a trace, never to reappear, as have many other things, too. Also, it is indeed inexplicable that Guido's alarm clock regularly runs backwards if he has it here in the Center, but normally runs forwards when he has it at home again. And now, the same phenomenon also occurred with a second alarm clock, which he brought with him. Also, there is the matter of when I write something on the computer and then later something completely different is expressed and it often has the opposite of that which I have written, or that entire paragraphs or individual words disappear or are altered, which is just as strange as many other occurrences which go along the same lines and have already often created irritation. And this has been going on for years, and it looks as if any number of goblins, were such to exist, want to drive us mad.

Ptaah:

33. This is certainly not the case, because goblins are mythical creatures which have never existed, as you have immediately corrected your remark.

34. We cannot explain all these incidents either. However, I have a suspicion that any number of human entities from another dimension are making mischief – perhaps out of the terrestrial future, whereby a justification for that, however, appears to be extremely puzzling.

...

42. Should people of the Earth's future be in on the act – which more likely to be excluded, nonetheless is still not completely ruled out – then the grounds for the whole thing could rest in the fact that, in the future, your mission will conflict with certain things in a group's plans, for which reason they are trying to hinder or falsify certain things in the Center, in their past, which is your present time.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_443

Ptaah:

25. Reptoid, respectively, reptilian beings, as these are described in the nonsensical books, exist even less in the entire universe than they do in other dimensions of this universe, so however, also not on the Earth - also not in forms of transmuted humans.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_446

Ptaah:

16. Our very extensive research on all planets known to us and inhabited by human life of various kinds in extensive areas of your galaxy, as well as in our space-time continuum, has not been successful.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_448

Billy:

This probably includes the dimension gate, which you are probably still working on, right? Here, on television, there is a series running that is called "Star Gate," which is roughly comparable with your dimension gate. Only, its appearance and function are a little different than what you showed me three times. In this science fiction on television, a large ring is used, which is equipped with control symbols, and in front of this, there is a kind of control panel. This in contrast to your mechanism, which needs nothing of the sort, but which is set into operation just by a small device on your overalls, out of which nothing appears like a gate flickering at the edges, i.e. a passageway, through which one recognizes the other dimension or the area, etc. that exists beyond the gate. The whole thing works as though one would look through a window or through a door that would have simply been placed in the open countryside.

Ptaah:

26. Yes, this gate is also among the achievements of the Sonaer, with whom we have developed it.

27. And in addition, it is to be said that the whole thing became so functional a few weeks ago that it can also be used perfectly and safely for the passage of humans.

28. We can move back and forth through it, both in the present time as well as in different space-time configurations, i.e. dimensions.

Billy:

And can you also go to the DAL Universe with it?

Ptaah:

29. That is not possible for us, but our engineers and scientists are working together with the Sonaer, in order to make this a reality.

Billy:

Then another question about the foreigners, who have already circled around here on Earth for a very long time, as you say, and with whom you cannot enter into contact: is it possible that these unknowns may come from the future, perhaps from other planets or even from the Earth itself or else from another dimension?

Ptaah:

30. We have also thought about that and have come to the conclusion that this may very well be possible, both the one and the other possibility.

31. The Earth-humans will undoubtedly create the possibility of dimension traveling in the distant future, which we have not investigated, however.

Billy:

And why have you held back in this connection?

Ptaah:

32. We only operate our past and future travels and previews under certain conditions, but not just to know the distant or most distant future, which is why, if necessary, we limit ourselves to a maximum time of 100 years for future investigation, while no boundaries are set for travels to the past.

33. We don't want to know the distant and most distant future for logical reasons, for we know that only the path of normal development leads to the real and right goal.

34. The reason for the limitation of future investigation is so that the present is not influenced as a result of knowing the future, which would disturb the normal course of development.

35. Such a disturbance wouldn't be good because the appearing causes of the ongoing development would naturally be changed and be distorted, which would cause a disaster as an effect.

36. It is not like what many Earth-humans suppose, that something could be changed for the better if the facts of the future would be known, for logic proves that the person acts totally incorrectly if he knows the effective future, for he thinks that he could cause something better than what is determined by the logical consistency of cause and effect.

37. This is proven by the absurd ideas of Earth-humans, who think that if they travelled to the past, they could change what has already happened in the future.

Billy:

I understand, like those who believe that they, for example, could travel back in time, could kill Adolf Hitler and, thus, could prevent World War II and all its horrors. This means that the person always wants to be cleverer and more knowledgeable than what the effective truth and reality are.

...

Ptaah:

...

43. First of all, we Plejaren and our confederates live in other space-time configurations, into which no normal telepathic impulses of Earth-humans or other inhabitants from this, your space-time configuration, can penetrate.

44. A penetration into our space-time configuration from yours is only possible through spirit telepathy, but no Earth-human is capable of this except you.

...

55. And after your being, we withdraw ourselves finally into our space-time configuration, without ever having to return, for we fulfilled our obligation that was assigned to us by your former personalities and by you at present.

56. Only the old, assigned obligation led us to the fulfilment of duty in this space-time configuration, in which you lead your life and fulfil your difficult mission.

57. Only in the very distant future – when Earth humanity has progressed so far on a technological basis, in order to be ready to penetrate into our space-time configuration – will they encounter our worlds and civilizations and be able to take up contact with them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_450

Ptaah:

34. And that you have never seen this shape, size and intensity of light before, that is because it is a completely new flying apparatus with many innovations, including the type of light.

35. This new type of flying apparatus allows us to use the recently launched dimension gate, as you call it and which we have been calling it since its completion, as we have adopted your term.

36. So we can with this new technology penetrate into other dimensions and other space-time structures and thus also move into the future and into the past.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_451

Ptaah:

20. This is definitely not the case, because our new and extremely accurate devices, which we received from the Sonaern, are much more advanced than ours, but even with these devices we could not detect any other extraterrestrial or Earth foreign flying objects of any kind in the entire terrestrial space.

21. The new devices also work in a very extensive range of fine material as well as dimension-jumping vibrations, but even in these areas we could not detect any other Earth visitors.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_452

Ptaah:

5. We were only later able to clarify the facts about the Pegasus-refugees, when the whole story about the Gizeh-Intelligences clarified.

6. The refugees belonged to a splinter-group of the Gizeh-Intelligences, who lived in the space-time-displaced region of the Pegasus-constellation and who had entered an alliance with the faction living on the Earth, therefore they were counted as one of the Gizeh-Intelligences and consequently were not described as special foreigners.

Billy:

... Are there any new things concerning the alien universe, RADERN universe you call it, if I remember correctly? Are there any new insights?

Florena:

34. If your question refers to new worlds inhabited by humans, then I must disappoint you, because more such worlds have not been found yet except those you already know about.

35. Like the DERN universe, the RADERN universe is also sparsely populated by human life-forms.

Billy:

I guess it is. But are you already exploring other space-time structures in the new universe?

Florena:

36. No, we are not yet given the opportunity for this, which will remain so for a long time to come, because the necessary conditions must first be created.

Billy:

But even if you do, it will not be possible to find masses of planets with humanities.

Florena:

37. That will be the case.

Billy:

Reality is a little different than what science fiction movies make us believe that there are worlds inhabited by humans in every corner of the universe. In truth, they are extremely rare, which is why your Federation is scattered over 50 million light-years and comprises two different space-time structures, if I remember Quetzal's explanations correctly.

Florena:

38. Your memory is not deceiving you.

39. Worlds habitable by human life-forms are seldom found in all space-time structures of the universe.

Billy:

Quetzal once said that the same is true of planets that support only animal and vegetable life. Worlds on which the lowest life exists, such as microbes and bacteria, are more frequent. Such worlds could be very hot, also normal or very cold, so to speak, if there is also life that exists in or on fire planets or ice planets etc.

Florena:

40. That corresponds to our scientific findings.

Billy:

... Well, then I would like to ask about what your daughter Semjase said to me once, and, indeed, that somewhere in your space-time-configuration, a planet exists where women live exclusively. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_465

Billy:

Other than our mythologies that speak of chimeras, are there actually such creatures on other worlds?

Ptaah:

74. They do exist, but we know of only one planet where such beings exist.

...

76. They are purely human life-forms and float through the air by levitation, but also walk on the ground in a normal way.

...

79. They live in your space-time structure, on a world in the spiral galaxy which you call galaxy NGC 2770 {link}, which is about 12 billion years old.

80. This is the spiral galaxy we came to on your Great Journey through a time jump of about 90 million years back into the past, where you could observe the huge explosion of a supernova at the outer edge of the galaxy.

81. At that time, however, there were not yet higher life-forms in that galaxy.

Billy:

... You fly at a single and multiple speed of light in your spaceships, and our earthly scientists claim that this is impossible and that a spaceship can never reach this high speed, because the friction with matter, or with material space and ether prevents this. Yes, it cannot be the electromagnetic radiation by which you protect yourself from the cosmic influences and the so-called cosmic ether in order to reach the speed of light and beyond. Yes, electromagnetic radiation of all kinds has the same speed, so about 300,000 kilometres per second, so it is probably not possible that you can use it to prevent friction, so it must be something else that you can use to prevent any friction with the ether or any matter. Is there something very special that you can name, that allows you to go one and multiple times the speed of light? Is that a secret or are you allowed to say something about it? I have never asked about it before, but I am always being asked questions about it that I cannot answer.

Ptaah:

8. It is not a secret, and when I talk about it I do not give away anything with which the earthly scientists can start something, because their knowledge and ability is far from being sufficient for them to make use of it at the present time and thus cause harm.

9. So I can say that we use the photons resp. the light particles and time radiation to shield our spaceflights from the material and antimaterial environment.

10. So, we wrap our spaceflights in a photon force field and in a time radiation screen and protect them from friction against the material space.

11. The photons do not have any weight, but the mass 0, as it is also the case with respect to the time radiation, because they are both pure energy without any medium of their own, which is why they are neutral against any matter and are repelled by gravity.

12. So we make use of this, namely by enclosing our spaceflight devices in a photon and time radiation screen, so that no friction with the material space can occur, which enables us to reach the speed of light and even to exceed it by a very high multiple, because no resistance by any matter appears.

13. To explain details would be irresponsible, because Earth-humans are not yet allowed to possess these, because they maliciously use all special achievements for weapon systems and war purposes etc., which would also be the case with regard to photon technology.

14. And as far as the ether in world space is concerned, it truly does not exist, because this is a mistaken assumption of the earthly scientists.

15. That what they assume to be ether is indeed pure energy, a radiation, and this does not have its own medium and therefore no mass.

Billy:

Explained briefly and concisely. Thank you. Time radiation – could one perhaps also call it tachyon matter, which must also be without medium? Ether thus does not exist, but only radiation, which is pure energy without mass. However now the question how you can do it, to shield your spaceships against view and make them invisible for eyes and radar etc. Are you allowed to say something about this? But I think that now finally something becomes clearer to me. If you shield your flying apparatus against any material friction by a photon shield or photon protection shield, then it is probably so – so I assume – that these always light up when you have switched on this photon shield. Is that true?

Ptaah:

16. This corresponds to the actual situation, and the term tachyon matter can be applied in a certain way, but it is a time vibration or time radiation and has nothing to do with matter of any form.

17. And regarding the invisibility of our flying apparatus:

18. We can actually make our space flight apparatuses, as well as those we use in planetary airspaces, invisible to any view of any kind, by using special metallic alloys, the basis of which is, among other things, silver, as you know from the metallurgical analyses of the material of our flying apparatuses made in the USA.

19. The materials used in our flying apparatus and space flight devices are transformed and superordinate composite materials, the composition and manufacture of which I cannot mention, but I can say that we obtain everything through cold fusion processes, as Marcel Vogel in the USA already discovered through his metallurgical analysis when you gave him the metal samples we received for analysis.

20. So, when a flying apparatus, a spacecraft, a human or any other object is made invisible, it is by directing light around it.

21. The light waves are not reflected, but flow unbroken and uninhibitedly around the object, so that it becomes invisible to any natural or technical eye of any kind, also radar etc., and simply allows the background to be seen unchanged.

76. However, all of these worlds belong in our space-time configuration, consequently they also possess several of our technologies, like for example, that technology with which they are able to bridge the time barrier and come into your space-time configuration.

...

Ptaah:

139. This is indeed the case, which is why we also use completely different techniques for interplanetary and intergalactic communication.

140. Radio and television waves have a maximum range of only one to two light years, after which they become completely distorted and become rushing, clattering, hissing and other sounds from which data can no longer be deciphered.

...

Billy:

... your interdimensional and intergalactic communication is based on a faster-than-light technology.

Billy:

... you and your Lyrian ancestors, who also come from your space-time structure ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_510

Billy:

... At that time, you also spoke of the Destroyer, which came from your space-time structure and which you had rendered harmless. But you also spoke of the space-walker known from the ancestors of the Celts, Sumerians and Egyptians as a destroyer. How is this to be understood?

Ptaah:

25. The ancestors of the Celts, but also the Sumerians and Egyptians used the term 'destroyer'.

26. So they used the same name as we did for the wandering planet, which entered the SOL system from our space-time structure through a dimensional gate.

Billy:

So for many thousands of years there were two such space walkers with the same names in our solar system.

Ptaah:

27. That is correct.

28. We called the wandering planet from the Kuiper Belt 'Kuiper Destroyer'.

29. The one that broke into the SOL system from our space-time structure we simply called 'Destroyer'.

30. This one, as you say, we eliminated years ago, while the other one, the 'Kuiper Destroyer', continues to orbit the SOL system.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_511

Ptaah:

38. But we Plejaren and our Federation and the ancient Lyrians are excluded from this, because even our very distant ancestors knew the SOL system and the Earth, and so they visited the Earth millions of years ago.

Billy:

This is familiar to me, because they came to the SOL system because of the Moon, whose path they followed when it blasted out of their space-time structure through a dimensional gate into our space-time structure and settled on Earth. ...

...

Ptaah:

72. Interstellar space travel is extremely rare, as is the possibility of moving through dimensional gates into another space-time continuum, as we do and can also create such gates.

73. And it must also be said that those who came to Earth from other space-time continuums could not deliberately create and fix the necessary dimensional gates, because in fact they were only able to move into this dimension of the DERN universe through momentary natural cracks in their space-time continuum.

74. Others, on the other hand, who came from the DERN dimension, only came to Earth because they could create and use space-time gates, which is also a rarity.

Billy:

Interesting, but you never told about that, neither did your daughter Semjase, nor Quetzal. Space-time gates, are they identical to the so-called wormholes that earthly astronomers suspect?

Ptaah:

...

78. Space-time gates do not concern so-called wormholes, but rather, similar to a momentary natural crack in the space-time continuum, a crack in the space-time continuum caused by tremendous explosions or technical manipulations.

79. This creates an effect that changes the universal wave structure of the universal space, which is similar to the effect of two rooms being separated from each other by a curtain of radiation or heat, which can easily be passed through from one side to the other respectively from one room to the other.

69. Only such Earth-foreigners and future Earth-followers have come to Earth, but never any others from foreign galaxies and solar systems that did not have the coordinates handed down.

70. So others did not reach Earth, as alleged contactors lie and claim.

Billy:

This apart from the Skills and the bioorganic flying objects and the future of Earth from other dimensions, as you say. If all the many claims about contacts between the human beings of Earth and extraterrestrials were true, then Earth would be teeming with extraterrestrials

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_521

Billy:

... What interests me now: There are an infinite number of universes, which also have different developments, i.e. they are lower and higher developed. What is your knowledge about the natural laws of all these universes, are they uniform or different?

Ptaah:

17. According to our research findings, we know that universes like our DERN-universe and its sister universe, the DAL-universe, also have the same laws of nature as the parallel universe we discovered, which we call the RADERN-universe, into which we could penetrate and explore.

18. More highly developed universes, which no longer have a belt of matter, but only consist of pure fine- or finest material energy, no longer have any laws of nature, because they are only classified as energetic-fine or finest material laws.

19. Laws of nature are thus only given in universes that have a matter belt in which such laws are active.

20. But since we only know our DERN- and the DAL- and RADERN-universes, which are all oriented in the same direction with respect to the laws of nature, we cannot say with absolute certainty, whether there are other laws of nature than the ones we know, as they exist in our DERN- and the DAL- and RADERN-universes.

Billy:

So far so clear, but there is another question that concerns me: Since there are infinitely many universes that one might imagine to be an infinitely gigantic pile of soap bubbles, I wonder why they all do not pressurize and not destroy each other. Admittedly, I know that the seventh belt, the ramming belt, serves on the one hand to allow the universe to expand, and on the other hand that two universes can align themselves like soap bubbles without destroying each other.

Ptaah:

21. Our very far-reaching knowledge says that in absolute non-space, in addition to seven Absolutum universes, there are also 10^{49} different universe forms which exist in infinite numbers and which all have different stages of development, from the simple universe, as it is our DERN-universe, up to the most highly developed fine-material-spiritual-energetic universe-form.

22. But what they all have in common is that they all consist of seven different belts, also the finest material-energetic belts.

23. It is also common to them all that they are all uniformly energetically poled in the ram belt, in the outermost belt area.

24. This is the reason why all the most different universes do not interfere with each other in any way, and therefore they also do not collide directly with each other and cannot become dangerous.

Billy:

In a structure of soap bubbles there is only a thin skin from one bubble to the other, therefore in the universes the outermost edge of the ramming belt must have a specially formed energy layer, so to speak, through which practically no collision with another universe respectively with its ramming belt can occur. This outermost energy layer of the ramming belt would therefore be present in all universes in the same way and with the same polarisation and would prevent universes from being able to pressurise each other or even destroy each other, if I have understood you correctly. The only thing that can happen is that the universes repel or respectively displace each other, whereby the multi-universe expands more and more, if I may say and explain it in this way. If I have understood the whole thing correctly, then all universes, all lower ones as well as all higher and highest ones, are equally polarized in the outermost part of their ramming belts, so that they repel each other, as is also the case with magnets of the same polarity, which repel each other and keep a certain space between each other.

Ptaah:

25. This is very well explained and corresponds to the effective facts.

Billy:

Some researchers suspect that there really are many universes and that a so-called big bang has taken place in each one of them, which is in line with the facts. But scientists are not yet ready to know that new universes will continue to be created endlessly. They also suspect that the individual universes, which they compare with bubbles respectively with soap bubbles, deviate from our DERN-universe with regard to the laws of nature, so that there must be universes without stars. Of course they are right, except that in the fine- and ultra-fine energetic universes there are no laws of nature, but according to your explanation there are only fine- and ultra-fine energetic laws, so that in such universes there can be no matter-belts and no galaxies, suns, planets, meteors and comets etc. But it is well known that there is still a great deal that our scientists do not know, which is why they have to keep revising. Today they do not even know that our DERN-universe, like every other universe, also consists of seven different egg-shaped respectively oval belts and that in our universe the fourth belt alone represents the material part of the universe. They also do not know that all galaxies move in such a way that they move towards a certain point in the material universe, where a constant change takes place and where matter renews itself, so the matter belt experiences a complete renewal in the course of 49 billion years.

Ptaah:

19. However, in 1995, when we dissolved our stations on Earth, the danger still existed.

20. According to our calculations of probability, from that time on there was the impending possibility that we Pleiar peoples could have been drawn into a war.

21. As we explained to you at that time – to which we obliged you to remain silent – an attack on Earth could have taken place, namely by a large armada of space planes of a planet-wide dictatorially led and warlike multi-ethnic state from the same space-time structure from which we Plejaren also come.

22. These peoples, who did not belong to the Plejaren Federation, were very warlike and conquest-addicted in nature, similar to Earth-humans.

23. They had been constantly fighting with their own races for more than 1,700 years, and at that time they were about to penetrate the space-time structure of the DERN universe through their space technology, on the same path that also gives us the possibility to enter this dimension, where the Milky Way galaxy and therefore also the SOL system and Earth are located.

24. With us, the Plejaren, these peoples maintained constant and contentious contacts, and often warlike actions were also threatened, because the dictatorial powers of the planetary multi-ethnic state called 'Hardem' were constantly trying to invade and conquer the Plejaren worlds.

25. As a result, we had to be on constant defensive alert to these peoples – while also keeping our secrets, which were related to many things of our technology and which we had to protect – in order to protect ourselves against these ever-present aggressors.

26. But through infamous machinations they managed to get hold of the technology regarding the possibility of breaking through into other space-time structures, so they learned to master them in the course of time and also gained knowledge regarding the DERN-space-time structure and the Milky Way as well as the SOL system and the Earth.

...

29. In 1918, through some unpleasant events, they learned of our efforts in the SOL system and on Earth, in terms of Earth years, so that from then on they tried to come into this space-time continuum and to Earth, which we always managed to prevent.

...

39. This has been going on since 1996, and fortunately the 'Hardem' are making a very serious effort to grow into a completely new way of life, which in just 16 years has led to the 'Hardem' being incorporated into our Plejaren Federation protection and thus becoming a candidate for our Plejaren Federation.

40. It was only in this way that we were able to interfere in the foreign things and that it was also possible to stop the 'Hardem' from breaking through into your space-time structure and wreaking havoc on Earth.

27. Admittedly since that time we have registered activities again and again in the terrestrial airspace, and I mean up to the present time, but in connection to this we see the three alien groups to us, as those who are truthfully already here for a long time or even belong to the Earth, perhaps also in a future dimension.

... Skrill beings are beings that switch between their foreign dimension and other dimensions, which is why they are called dimension changers. The term 'Skrill' means 'degenerate' for the Plejaren. The Skrills call themselves 'Skrill', which in their language means 'dimension changer'. Without a doubt, the human beings are human beings, but they are brutal, bestial and extremely sex-crazed, male and female. The only horror about these other-dimensioned beings is that they are completely degenerate and able to change from their dimension into other dimensions, where they attack and rape living beings in the other dimensions. But this does not happen very often, so the human beings of other dimensions, such as our dimension, can only clear and pave the way for these Skrills by a special psychic-depressive misbehaviour. This is to say that these Skrills can only penetrate into other dimensions and work there if other living beings of other dimensions clear the way for them by self-destructively driving their psyche to malfunctions and thus collapsing psychically depressively. This, however, is so rare that with regard to a million psychic depressive human beings, it might just happen to one who can be attacked by a Skrill being. ...

When the spirit leaves the human body, then it escapes into its beyond plane, which exists in the same space as the present reality of the planet, whereby the so-called beyond plane, contrary to the real material reality space, is differently dimensioned, namely in a subtle spiritual-energetic nature. In relation to the planet, therefore, the otherworldly plane is arranged around the planet, just as this plane continues to exist throughout the universe, but in relation to the material reality plane it is in a subtle reality to which human beings, as a material life-form, have no access whatsoever, and consequently they can neither see nor perceive anything. Therefore, on this level it is impossible for human beings to see or otherwise perceive the spirit respectively the spirit-form that has escaped from the material body.

{Sfath [1947]:}

1. Time is not the same everywhere, because it depends on gravity and speed.
2. In the case of a sun or a planet, time fluctuates depending on its size and distance from the centre of gravity.
3. This means that the further time is measured from the gravitational centre, the faster it becomes as it slows down, but the closer it is to the gravitational centre.
4. With moons, planets and suns etc. this concerns per year however only millionth seconds.
5. This means that near the gravitational centre of a sun or planet, etc., the time flow is slowest, while it becomes faster on the sun or planet surface, etc., as well as on mountains and in space.
6. In this respect, this is dependent on the size and mass of a body and thus on its gravitation.
7. So the more massive a celestial body is, the slower the time is, consequently it loses itself in extremely low values and even in the standstill of time with a dark giant structure or with a massive object, which tears suns, planets, other world space objects, gases and all kinds of matter into itself by its force of attraction and thereby becomes more and more powerful and massive and finally completely cancels the flow of time.
8. The enormous masses of such dark giant formations, which even tear entire galaxies into themselves and into which they cannot penetrate, but which can radiate externally through torn suns and galaxies etc. as bright spherical formations, exhibit such an enormous attraction, which is so extremely strong that no matter and no light signal can penetrate from this space area to the outside and also no time can exist.
9. Time exists only there, where solid space-structures, like evenly suns, planets and other structures are, as these are given evenly in galaxies or outside these as world space wanderers.
10. So time only exists where there are gravitational forces.
11. Where however no gravity exists, there is also no time, but only endless duration and thus timelessness.

12. The world space is also traversed by dark and mighty world space wanderers with great gravitational force, through which time streams are created, so that those who travel the world space can get into such time streams, although we are protected against their effects.

13. This is because our spacecrafts have their own gravitations and are therefore protected against external time influences – as well as against matter and radiation.

14. And we are also protected by our gravitational technique against the effects of speed, so that time does not slow down for us in the spacecraft when we move through space at very high speed.

15. And in order to compensate for the flow of time outside the spacecraft, which is caused by high speeds, we have a special technique of time travel, which allows us on the one hand to remain in the so-called normal time despite high speeds, but on the other hand also to travel into the past and future.

16. Concerning Earth, the present on Earth's surface, according to earthly time determination, lasts exactly 2.67778 seconds and is placed between the past and the future, whereby this present time is to be calculated according to the period of time during which the human brain is normally able to bring about a conscious concentration with regard to a matter.

17. However, this concentration build-up time changes, depending on the mental development of Earth-humans, as well as the amount of time changes depending on the invasion of world space material on Earth, whereby Earth also changes its gravitational strength over time.

18. The collision with meteorites and fine space material makes Earth heavier every year, by thousands of tons.

19. So in this way Earth increases in mass every year, whereby by far the largest part of it is dust-fine and too small to burn up with corresponding speed in the atmosphere, consequently the fine particles sink slowly to Earth and cannot be observed, just like shooting stars and bigger or big meteorites.

Billy:

... Back in 1947 your father spoke of 'dark giant formations' and 'dark giant formations', which I must understand as 'black holes' today.

Excuse me, by time bridges you mean time-travel, as we say? In this case, the future Earth-humans are those Earthlings of the distant Earthly time who already live on Earth in the distant future and who, through the possibility of their time travel technique with their various small and large futuristic flying machines, have been coming into Earthly present since time immemorial and also into our present today.

141. Evil in terrestrial humans arose because a very long time ago by a distant Plejar descendant humanity beyond the DERN universe-space-time structure many still later immigrated very distant Plejaren descendants were turned by manipulation into merciless warrior slaves who had to fight against foreign aggressors.

142. Later, some genetically manipulated peoples fled and penetrated into the space-time continuum of the DERN universe and into the space-time continuum of this present, i.e. into the area of the Milky Way galaxy, where they settled on the planets Phaeton/Malona and Mars.

143. In total, they were around 78 million people, of whom around 280,000 also emigrated to Earth.

144. In addition, several thousand rebellious genetically manipulated persons were also exposed to punishment in various places on Earth.

145. There were also peoples who first fled from the Sirius region into the DERN Continuum and were able to reach the Milky Way Galaxy beyond, from which emigrants also came to Earth, on which they, like all other immigrants, divided into all the old existing groups of Earthlings.

146. These descendants thus carried altered or compulsorily manipulated genes in them, which made them merciless fighters, criminals and criminals, which they of course transferred or genetically inherited at an early stage to the still primitive, wild terrestrial humans by mixing them.

147. Thus the evil has spread in the course of time in Earthly mankind and has been passed on to the present time, which, by the way, has also occurred on other worlds in the DERN universe and thus in your space-time structure as well as on worlds in our own space-time structure and has been preserved until today.

Wow, then we're going to Erra, you can look for me here for a long time. Such a dimensional gate is simply fabulous – just one step through, and you are 500 light-years away from Earth on another world and in another dimension.

Billy:

... When all the fraudulent claims, lies and calumnies of these Earth-humans became too much for you Plejaren, the cat was then let out of the bag and declared and officially announced that you do not come from the Seven Stars or from the Pleiades in our DERN universe, but from much further away, namely from far beyond the Pleiades and from another space-time structure in which you call your home system 'Plejaren'. ...

Billy:

... But now I want to ask my questions, the first of which relates to your daughter Semjase's beamship, the corrugated iron beamship or washboard beamship. Semjase once told me that this was her personal beamship and that it was 300 years or so old and that she had owned it almost all her life.

Ptaah:

4. That is correct.

5. This beamship is a personal possession of my daughter Semjase, and she received it from me when she turned 14, and has also been piloting it ever since.

6. This beamship is a first model approved for interdimensional ranges in the known universe of the multiverse for youngsters.

8. However, the basic model was more than 1,100 years old, but it was redesigned about 400 years ago and was also approved for youngsters.

Sfath {1945}:

109. Furthermore, I must explain that the 11 years of time you will spend with me in this present plane will never be sufficient for you to learn everything so that you can be prepared for everything necessary in your life and for your great task.

110. So we must extend the time by years, which will also be so in connection with my succession, which will take you into its care after my departure.

111. But this can only be done by controlling and shifting (note Ptaah: manipulating) time and using it outside the present plane in planes of the past or future, as I have already done several times with you since 1942 and have let you observe and see different countries, many significant, interesting, instructive things and also several theatres and events of war, etc.

112. This will naturally make you older by all the times – which will be years – but this will not have a strong effect on your body, because in spite of your additional times in other planes of other celestial spaces (Ptaah's note: other dimensions or space-time structures) you will certainly age, but you will retain your youthfulness until your old age.

113. It will be the same if you continue your learning with those who follow me in commitment for longer or shorter periods of time outside the present plane in planes of the past or future.

...

116. But all this is inexorably necessary for you, which is why we must continue to use the times of the past and the future, for only in this way do we gain long times (note Ptaah: more years) enough to use for your learning.

117. So it must be that I take you away from the present for more or less or longer times, which may be days, weeks, months or years, during which you have strictly to learn, after which I bring you back at the same time to the same present time from which I took you away.

118. In this way you will not be missed by your parents and siblings, nor by anyone else, nor at school, for through the control and shifting of time (note Ptaah: time manipulation) it will be that you will always be present in the present plane and at the time that prevails here.

119. And this must be so, because the 11 years in this present plane alone would never be enough to teach you all that you have to learn.

120. You will, of course, also age by the times during which you learn outside the present time prevailing here in this world in other time periods, but it will be that you will nevertheless remain youthful until old age.

Enjana:

3. The various epochs and each era of the ancient history of the planet are to be reckoned in millions of years, during which the Earth-foreigners came to Earth again and again, whereby, however – as Ptaah has already explained to you several times, as he mentioned – we have not been able to fathom their effective origin until the present time, whereby we have, however, been able to discover that even these Earth-foreigners no longer know their own prehistoric origin.

4. Our research so far has only revealed that their prehistoric ancestors came into the DERN universe from another space-time structure or from another dimension, unknown to us so far, and then also reached Earth and other SOL system planets.

Question 7 – Answer {Billy}:

... With regard to Nokodemion, the whole thing was a special case in that there was already a very high level of technical development among his peoples in his time, which enabled them to go out into the vastness of the universe and even penetrate into other dimensions. ...

...

Question 13 – Answer {Billy}:

... The subsequent new personalities from the Nokodemion spirit-form lineage will continue to remain on Earth after the completion and termination of the 7-fold Nokodemion lineage mission, but they will leave it temporarily, because these personalities will also continue to be in contact with the Plejaren. And this will also be the case when the Plejaren finally return to their space-time dimension in 2029 and will no longer have any effect on Earth in any way. ...

Billy:

... So I want to ask what you Plejaren call your space-time structure or your dimension? I have wanted to ask this for a long time, but I have always forgotten.

Ptaah:

22. ANKAR Universe.

Billy:

Thanks. I have also learned a lot from Sfath about the dimensions of our creation, Universal Consciousness, which is of benefit to me today, because lately I have been asked more often about the subject of dimensions ... Besides, it is not only various core-group members and passive members who are playing mind games about the dimensions topic, but also scientists and other persons, whereby especially the scientists have strange ideas about parallel worlds and parallel universes. Sfath, however, has never said anything to me about such a thing, which is supposed to be a mirror universe – or several – and which is supposed to be such that it would be a mirror image of our universe. Of course, scientists are not simply thinking of our present dimension, but of a differently dimensioned universe that is mirrored and aligned with our present, so that, for example, if I could go into such a parallel universe, I could meet myself there in a double version or as a mirrored person and talk to myself, whereby my double and I would always make the same physical movements, carry out the same actions and thus also make the same gestures, as well as speak the same words, etc. As I said, however, your father Sfath never said or taught me anything in this regard, but only spoke of completely different dimensions or space-time structures or of universes, which I was also able to visit with him and experience and also learn a lot there, as a result of which I assume that Sfath was either unaware of such mirror or parallel universes or that they do not exist, which is why I want to ask you about the correctness.

Ptaah:

23. Parallel universes and parallel worlds, as you describe them, are unknown to us, as they are also unknown to the Sonaern, if you should also ask about their findings and knowledge in this regard, as I assume, because you always want to know everything very precisely when you bring up questions.

Billy:

Yes, I wanted to, because the Sonaer are still far ahead with their technology compared to yours. Since you, like the Sonaer, are much more highly educated compared to the knowledge of earthly scientists and are tremendously advanced in terms of the entire earthly technology and therefore should also have knowledge of parallel worlds, which is not the case according to your words, I think that the whole mirror universe issue is based on pure fantasy. This also explains to me why Sfath never said anything about parallel worlds and parallel universes in that sense and also did not explain how such mirror worlds etc. are accepted by earthly scientists. But then I do not want to hold back now and talk about what I have learnt from Sfath about the dimensions resp. space-time-structure and I will also use the term ANKAR when I talk about the Plejaren space-time-structure. I feel the need to explain what I have been asked about several times recently, which is why I want to talk about it now and then hear your opinion. According to the questions put to me, it has become really necessary to explain a little further and in more detail than usual with regard to Creation or Creation Universal Consciousness, its 7 belts/planes, the material belt as well as its dimensions or space-time structures, which are also called universe/universes or cosmos/cosmoi or world space/world spaces. ...

...

Billy:

... In order to explain the whole thing, it must first of all be made clear that in explanations everything can never be explained as precisely as the entire facts of a matter actually require, consequently only just the facts that arise can be explained as well as possible, but never completely, but only just directly in relation to an arising process. This unfortunately leads to the fact that not infrequently ambiguities arise, which again and again lead to further questions that require new explanations. In addition, it is inevitable that explanations of the same topics are always presented in a different way and with different terms, etc., resulting in erroneous or apparent misunderstandings due to a lack of understanding on the part of the questioners, readers and listeners, which then have to be laboriously cleared up. Therefore, by what I am about to explain, it should also be pointed out another time that the term Creation or Creation Universal Consciousness effectively means that which is the total existence of that which corresponds to infinity, boundlessness, immeasurability or the totality of the entire far-reaching creative-universal-consciousness, spirit-energy endless existence or Creation or Creation Universal Consciousness. The form of creation, as we earthlings and also the Plejaren exist in it, is the lowest form of creation at all and has as the only form of creation a material belt in which galaxies, nebulae and solar systems, planets and life-forms etc. exist, while already higher developed forms of Creation are only of a purely spirit-energy nature and develop higher and higher in order to integrate after 1049 transformations into higher and higher forms of Creation and levels of evolution into the 1st of 7 absolute forms – into the 'Absolute Absolutum'. To explain what is meant by the term creation or creation universal consciousness, the following can serve as a parable: Imaginatively, the concept of Creation or Creation Universal Consciousness can be thought of as an egg-like structure of gigantic – for human understanding immeasurable – size, which exists alongside a countless mass of other forms of Creation of different states of evolution as a pure form of spirit energy in the super-ultra-infinity-limitlessness-immeasurability-infinite-spatiality of the so-called Nothing Infinity.

At the big bang resp. at the emergence resp. at the becoming of creation resp. creation universal consciousness, the creation structure emerged as 7 basic levels, namely in the form of 7 expanding spirit-energy belts, whereby the 4th belt manifested materially through the interaction of the 3rd and 5th belt, consequently therefore the material belt emerged, in which flakes, nebulae and finally galaxies, suns, planets and life etc. were formed.

Each material belt is the only one of its kind in each dimension or space-time structure – also called the universe – of the entire creation of universal consciousness, and each one is also expanding at an enormous speed, as are the 6 other belts/planes, which are, however, each of a purely spiritual-energy nature. This pure spirit energy of the 6 other belts/levels corresponds to the creative primordial-primordial-primordial-primordial-primordial-substance out of ex nihilo (out of nothing), from which the first form of creation or 'creation out of nothing' (creatio ex nihilo = created out of nothing) has emerged, through which a becoming of an existence can be generated in the first place, be it in relation to matter of any forms or a life-form with regard to life-forms of all genera and species. The material belt as the only one of its kind in the 7 dimensions or space-time structures or universes of the Creation of universal consciousness does not correspond to its own dimension or space-time structure or universe, but only the entire expanse of all 7 belts in the interior of the Creation of universal consciousness together form this and thus what is called universe, dimension and space-time structure.

Mistakenly and in complete ignorance of the effective facts concerning the structure and existence of Creation Universal Consciousness, the human beings of Earth call the material belt the universe. The error, however, is that a material belt is only the 7th part of the total width of all 7 belts of each 'dimension' or space-time structure within Creation Universal Consciousness. Consequently, only all 7 belts/levels together can be called the universe or dimension and space-time structure. So it must be clear that the material belt alone does not correspond to the whole vastness of the universe, but can only be seen and judged as what it really is, namely only the 7th part of the dimension universe resp. of the DERN-universe resp. DERN-space-time-structure, as it is called by the Plejaren. Absolutely simultaneously with the coming into being or becoming of the creation of universal consciousness, 7 different dimensions or space-time structures arose in it, consequently all space-time structures or dimensions are in exactly the same space as all the others, but separated from each other as a different dimension. All dimensions are also provided with a material belt, in which galaxies, nebulae, celestial bodies and planets etc. are arranged differently in each space-time structure. There is the possibility for intelligent life-forms to develop techniques through their high evolution and intelligence and to penetrate the dimensions or space-time structures in a technical way, or to change from their dimension into other dimensions and thus to travel back and forth between them.

As an example, creation can be thought of as an inflatable balloon in which there are seven other inflated balloons of exactly the same size, whereby these seven inner balloons can be understood as seven dimensions. The outermost balloon envelope, which represents Creation or Creation Universal Consciousness in a similar way, continues to be inflated and consequently expands further and further, as happens in the same way in its interior with the 7 further balloons, consequently these always inevitably remain the same size as the outer balloon envelope. These 7 inner balloons, which can be understood as 7 dimensions, thus expand equally with the outer envelope and correspond to the same outer conditions of the outer balloon envelope, which has 7 rings, which can be understood as 7 planes, whereby the 4th ring is covered with dust and can be thought of as a material belt.

Creation can be thought of as an example of an egg-like spiritual energy shell, which floats in the boundless and timeless super-ultra-infinity-infinity-immeasurability-infinite-spaciousness of the absolute nothingness along with countless other creations of the same or, according to the state of evolution, differently higher kind. This creation structure thus contains within itself 7 different spirit energy belts/levels or 7 different dimensions or space-time structures (simile: balloons), which all arose simultaneously at the Big Bang, but are absolutely independent of each other.

As a result of their simultaneous formation, they all have the same age, the same time and the same time streams etc., but completely different galaxies, solar and planetary systems etc., whereby these dimensions or space-time structures correspond to what the human beings of Earth call the universe or cosmos or world space, as well as space, cosmic space, universe or philosophically mundus. With these terms, especially universe/cosmos, the human beings of Earth erroneously call only that which is visible or tangible to them, precisely that which presents itself as a material belt, with all the material things existing in it, the galaxies, supergalaxies and hypergalaxies, solar and planetary systems, and so on. However, this does not embody Creation or Creation Universal Consciousness (simile: outer balloon shell), but only one of its 7 dimensions or one of its 7 space-time structures and the only material belt contained therein, which exist in their 7 differently dimensioned spirit belts/levels. Altogether, all 7 dimensions or 7 space-time structures are given in the extension of the entire creation, consequently they are also spread over the 7 basic belts/planes of creation and are thus in their size and width absolutely in the same measure as the actual creation structure.

The dimension or the space-time structure in which the SOL system and the Earth float and in which Earth-humans exist is called DERN space-time structure by the Plejaren, or DERN universe according to the Earth human sense and understanding.

If living beings of any kind or species exist on any world in the material belt, then these naturally develop in various ways, whereby many factors play a part, such as instinct etc. in the case of lower kinds and species, and intelligence, intellect, reason and logic etc. in the case of higher life-forms, whereby the periods of time with regard to the duration of evolution etc. are also of enormous importance. So, for example, on a life-bearing planet in a solar system of a space-time structure or dimension, living beings can be more or less evolved than on another planet in the same space-time structure, or in another dimension of the same creation, such as e.g. in the ANKAR space-time structure or in the ANKAR dimension in which the Plejaren exist – or on other worlds in a space-time structure of a completely different creation.

The DERN-universe resp. the DERN-dimension resp. the DERN-space-time-structure is one of the 7 space-time-structures given in the creation of universal consciousness resp. one of the 7 dimensions in which the galaxy exists, which is called Milky Way by the earthlings and in which the SOL-system floats in a spiral arm, in which again the Earth is arranged. The Plejaren come into this dimension resp. into this DERN-universe resp. space-time-structure through a technically created dimension gate, which has already existed for about 30 million years, from their ANKAR-space-time-structure resp. from their ANKAR-dimension into the DERN-space-time-structure and thus also to Earth. The Plejaren exist in their ANKAR space-time structure at a distance of about 500 light-years from Earth, whereby the Plejaren in their ANKAR dimension, seen from the DERN material belt resp. seen from the DERN-universe, come from a distance of about 115 light-years (one light-year = 9.461 trillion kilometres, resp. $9.461 \cdot 10^{12}$ km) further beyond the Pleiades stars known and visible on Earth from the ANKAR-space-time-structure. The distance from Earth to the Pleiades stars in the DERN universe is around or an average of 400 light-years.

...

The Plejaren as very distant descendants of their very early ancestors from the lineage of the primordial prophet/primordial annunciator Nokodemion therefore come from the ANKAR dimension into the DERN universe resp. into the DERN dimension or just into the DERN space-time structure and thus also to Earth. This is because a large number of their early ancestors settled on the Earth planet millions of years ago and then also died there, whereby their spirit-forms are still reborn on the Earth world over many reincarnations and animate human beings, whose development the Plejaren strive for.

Earth was and is the only planet in the DERN space-time structure resp. in the DERN universe resp. in the DERN dimension where the Plejaren have an observing and helpful teaching effect, because all other planets and areas that were settled by the Plejaren and the most distant descendants from the line of the original prophet resp. original herald Nokodemion are all in the ANKAR universe resp. in the ANKAR space-time structure resp. in the ANKAR dimension. Therefore, when in conversations there was talk of Plejaren emigrants settling, for example, on the planet NISSAN in the Lyra systems, on Sirius planets or Centauri planets, or beyond the Sun (Milky Way) on a planet called KUDRA in a solar system called the NISAN system, this did not and does not refer to the DERN universe, but always to the ANKAR dimension. The names of the constellation systems, which were and are named in the DERN space-time structure, only designate approximately the positions and distances, seen from Earth, to the stars and planets in the ANKAR universe respectively the ANKAR dimension, where the distant descendants of the Plejaren have settled. So it must be clear that in the entire DERN universe or in the DERN space-time structure, where the Milky Way galaxy, the SOL system and the Earth with the Earth-humans exist, the Plejaren come and go and are active only in the SOL system and on the planet Earth, but nowhere else in the entire DERN universe.

When the Plejaren change dimensions or space-time structures or switch back and forth between them, then this happens on the one hand between their ANKAR universe or ANKAR dimension and the DERN universe or DERN dimension or between other universe dimensions in the structure of Creation Universal Consciousness. On the other hand, the Plejaren also change into other dimensions when they travel in their ANKAR-universe or in the DERN-universe, e.g. on Earth, into the dimensions of the past or future. This also makes it clear that, on the one hand, changes of dimensions or space-time structures are possible, which means that it is possible to change from one dimension of the creation of universal consciousness into another or from one space-time structure into another, whereby 7 different dimensions or space-time structures are given by the creation of universal consciousness alone, in which it is possible to change back and forth or to change from one universe into another. In addition to this possibility, the dimensions of the past and the future are also given, into which it is possible to travel or change from the present, which lasts 2.7 seconds, into the past or future, just as it is also possible to change from the future into the past and from the past into the future. It is also worth mentioning that it is absolutely impossible to change something for the better or worse or negative or positive in a dimension of the past when something has already happened up to the time of the present from which the change is made into the past. Changes can only be made in the current time of 2.7 seconds of the present, which then as causes determine the course of events up to the resulting effect and thus follow the law of causality and fulfil it infallibly.

A further possibility with regard to a change of dimensions or universe or space-time structure is that, if the technical possibilities are given, universal consciousness can penetrate into another creation of the same direction as universal consciousness and change back and forth in its own dimensions or space-time structure, just as in such other creations of the same direction universal consciousness the possibility of changing into the past and future exists.

...

The lowest universe resp. the lowest Creation-form is e.g. the DERN-universe of the Milky Way with the SOL-system as well as the Earth, where earthly mankind exists, whereby the DERN-universe-form in the creation of universal consciousness is not the only dimension in it, because the creation in itself comprises 7 dimensions resp. space-time-structure with 7 belts/levels, of which one is the matter-belt and also has 'dark matter'.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_709

Billy:

... Then I always have things to explain about you Plejaren and the connections with you. It just never ends with my explanations that I have to give that you Plejaren come from your space-time structure ANKAR-universe, as you call your dimension, and that you only come to our DERN-universe and you are active there only in the SOL-system resp. also only on Earth, but nowhere else in our entire DERN-universe. Again and again I must also explain that when it is said that your peoples are also to be found with the Lyra, the Plejaren or beyond the Galaxy-Sun or the Milky Way, etc., that this does not mean the stars and constellations in our DERN-Universe, but just such in your ANKAR-Universe or ANKAR-Space-Time-Structure. And if celestial bodies in our space-time structure are mentioned as positions from which you can be found beyond, then it should finally be understood that this refers to your space-time structure, but unfortunately this is misunderstood again and again. It is also misunderstood again and again that when we speak of a space-time structure and a universe, we are only talking about the 4th matter belt and one of the 7 energy belts in Creation. This explains that the universe is not the Creation, so consequently, the Creation is not the universe. Creation itself has 7 dimensions with 7 energy belts each, of which only one belt, the 4th, exists in each dimension as a matter belt, which is called the universe by the earthlings, whereby the earthlings must first be laboriously made to understand that the universe they call the material belt is only the 7th part of one dimension of the 7 dimensions of Creation. In this matter belt, precisely in this universe called by earthlings, past, present and future alone exist. This means that in the matter belts alone, past, present and future dimensions or space-time structures are given in multiple forms and in endless numbers, while in the 7 dimensions of creation as such, as they are each arranged in the egg-shaped creation as a separate unit, there is only one single dimension or one single space-time structure. These are therefore the 7 creational dimensions which prevail in the egg-shaped creation itself and which in turn have 7 energy belts within them, whereby, one of each of the 7 energy belts has a material belt in which uncountable dimensions or space-time structures of the past, present and future exist.

...

Billy:

... Florena and Enjana recently explained to me that through your electromagnetic resonance energy transmission – which you call something completely different and which also corresponds to something other than a simple wireless energy transmission – you can even transfer energy transmissions from Earth into your space-time structure or into your dimension over practically unlimited distances.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_710

Billy:

... You Plejaren are involved in our DERN-universe resp. DERN-space-time-structure absolutely only on Earth in relation to Earth-humans and nowhere else in the whole DERN-space-time-structure, and that also not in our SOL-system. And when it has always been said that you were or are active beyond the Milky Way or in the Pleiades, Orion and Lyra etc., then this always and in every case referred absolutely only to the fact that these were, so to speak, indications of places where you are at home beyond these star formations in a certain great light-year distance in your ANKAR space-time structure. This means that in our DERN space-time structure or in our DERN universe you have dimension gates in operation at the celestial bodies mentioned or many light-years beyond them in world space, through which you can change back and forth between your ANKAR dimension and our DERN dimension. The mentioned celestial bodies etc. in our space-time structure, such as the Pleiades, Lyra and the celestial bodies beyond our Milky Way, thus only correspond to formations in relation to a certain direction, where you have your dimension gates far beyond them, which you use to change dimensions. So you are not located on the mentioned stars or on any alleged planets, such as the Pleiades, which at the beginning of our contacts we had at first deliberately falsely named as your home stars, in order to later be able to expose liars, deceivers and charlatans, who allegedly or falsely and thus untruthfully would have contacts with you Plejaren. And that this is exactly how it came to be, you knew this in advance through foresight, which is why we started the deceptive manoeuvre with the false place of origin 'Pleiades' and only named your real place of origin Erra with the Pleiaren stars in the ANKAR space-time structure, when in the course of the years various lying alleged contact persons, who claimed to be in contact with you, could be unmasked. ...

...

Billy:

... Your general Plejaren technology, so also space technology and space-time bridging technology etc., have been so highly developed for millions of years, through the help of the Sonaer from the DAL universe or the DAL creation, that the Earth-foreigners functioning on Earth have never been able to locate, detect or otherwise register any flying apparatus of Plejaren origin or also only any Plejaren activities since their existence in prehistoric times up to the present time. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_716

Billy:

... but in relation to my journeys into the past, which I was able to make together with Sfath, questions always arise among group members, and that is because various people have completely wrong ideas about dimensional travel. In this way, the questions also refer to why I am about 2 decades older than the time I have lived through since my birth in the time we call the present, the time I have lived here on Earth in this present dimension since my birth. Those earthlings who produce conjectures for such dimensional journeys cannot understand that when travelling into the past, however, the time there for the present has already expired and passed and can therefore no longer be retrieved. But that the time of the past can be lived through again and again during a journey into the past, as often as it is entered into, is not understood, consequently also not that if a shorter or longer time is lived in the past, only the time in it passes and expires, but the time of the effective present is not affected. This meant that if I had the opportunity to travel with Sfath to any time in the past and could remain there for a month, I would then live in that past time that period which, seen from the present, had already passed and was over. And if, as a result of the manipulation of time, I returned to the place of my departure in the present practically at the same time or at the most a quarter of an hour after leaving the present time, then only the short period of time had passed in the present which had just elapsed during the time of my departure until my return. But the time that I lived together with Sfath in the past, even days, weeks or months or once even 2 years, by this time I effectively became older, because I had actually lived through it, almost 2 decades in total. And this despite the fact that in the present, from which I had dived with Sfath into the dimensions of the past, only a short time had passed, and even though I had spent a long time in the past, whereas in the effective present, from which I had gone into the past, it had long since expired, passed and disappeared into the past.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_719

Billy:

Then everything could be good in this respect, and also the long way is not to be considered, which takes only seven minutes of our earthly time calculation, if I still remember correctly. So then there is also no great loss of time by going there and back.

Ptaah:

23. You are mistaken, dear friend, because you are considering our old transport technique, but we have been using the dimensional transmission technique we received from the Sonaern for a year and a half now.

24. In this way we will bring you to us in Erra and back to the Centre in a very short time, which will take no more than a total of less than two minutes.

...

Billy:

... What about when I leave, because a few days ago we talked about the strangers, and you clearly said that you would not let them locate you. How is it then, if you appear here in my office or somewhere else or go away again, which would also be like this with me? Somehow, when you come and go, there is a small dimensional gate through which you can pass, and I wonder if the foreigners – you used to call them Earth-foreigners – cannot detect this, because there are energies involved that are certainly detectable, or?

Ptaah:

28. Of course it is correct that energies are important, but as we know, the foreigners cannot detect them because they are of a completely different nature than all those who exist in this space-time structure and in its past and future.

29. The energies we use correspond to far higher values and are therefore also not perceptible with any techniques from this space-time present as well as its past and future, which is also the reason why the strangers cannot locate us in any way.

30. I am also unable to detect our present here, because we use the same kind of energy for our personal protection, to be protected against sight and to be imperceptible in every way through our physical, psychological and consciousness swinging waves.

31. This energy and the use of this technique does not correspond to one of our Plejaren achievements, but to one of the Sonaer.

Billy:

And how long have you been in possession of this Sonaeric technology, if I may ask, and an answer does not fall under your directives?

Ptaah:

32. That is not so, no.

33. The energy I referred to, its use and the Protection Technique were given to our early ancestors by the Sonaern some 27 million years ago when first contact with them occurred in the DAL Creation.

Billy:

Correct, it does not have to be called the DAL Universe, it has to be called the DAL Creation, because it is a sister Creation of ours.

Ptaah:

34. More than 25,000 years ago, new Plejaren immigrants arrived on Earth with a slightly yellowish skin pigmentation and mixed with already existing earthly human forms, resulting in another human species that migrated to a large island.

35. The original immigrants, who came from our ANKAR universe more than 25,000 years ago, had created a dimensional gateway millions of light-years beyond the Milky Way galaxy you know, and so entered the DERN universe and from there to Earth, where they settled in fertile areas that are now all part of China.

...

62. And the fact that we also brought this teaching to Earth at an early time was due to the fact that our ancestors discovered a natural dimensional gate 22 million years ago by chance, which is located here in the DERN universe about 120 light-years beyond the Pleiades stars known to you.

63. The dimensional gateway was discovered because a moon from our ANKAR universe that had drifted from an exploded planet entered the DERN universe through this dimensional gateway, which our ancestors investigated and then found to be Earth's satellite.

64. One consequence of this was that over the course of millions of years small groups of Plejaren repeatedly migrated to Earth and also died here.

...

286. And as a result of the fact that already more than 22 million years ago parts of the peoples of our very distant ancestors reached the DERN universe of our creation, i.e. the space-time structure in which the Earth also exists, but also the DAL universe of the twin creation, the 'Teaching of Truth, Teaching of the Spirit, Teaching of Life' was also carried out and spread everywhere there.

...

Billy:

4. Question from the hypothetical and theoretical perspective of a rational decision

...

I will go on to say that in order to explain the word value 'morality', commandments can be used as parables, which fundamentally do not correspond to laws, but to recommendations and advice. Such commandments or recommendations were already interpreted by the herald Nokodemion about 9 billion years ago, not in our DERN universe, but in the ANKAR universe and thus in another space-time structure. Nokodemion laid the foundation stone for 77 million canons with the teaching of the commandments etc., which were recorded in the 'Teaching of the Spirit' or 'Teaching of Truth, Teaching of the Spirit, Teaching of Life', after which the teaching was taught and spread until today through the work of heralds – who also had to fulfil prophetic and predictive tasks – on various human-inhabited planets in the ANKAR universe, but also in the DAL universe of the Twin Creation. And since about 22 million years ago the most distant descendants from the Nokodemion peoples from the ANKAR universe came into our DERN universe and settled on Earth, the spiritual teaching or 'teaching of truth, teaching of the spirit, teaching of life' was finally also brought into this space-time structure. ...

...

Billy:

...

As you know, dear friend, early ancestors of you Plejaren emigrated to this Earth, and many of them also died here on this planet, as a result of which their forms of creation or their spirit-forms have since reincarnated again and again on Earth in new personalities. And this is still the case today and tomorrow as well as the day after tomorrow and in the far future, because for the earlier emigrants from the ANKAR universe or space-time structure, precisely for the Plejaren emigrants at that time, it was determined that their distant and most distant descendants should be taught until far into the future with regard to the 'teaching of truth, teaching of the energy of creation, teaching of life'.

37. This new herald, so the prediction reads, will not appear in our reality, but in another reality that is foreign to our space-time structure, and will bring us Plejaren the teachings of Nokodemion anew.

...

76. This is simply because our announcement of a coming new herald from the reincarnation lineage of Nokodemion, which has been handed down since ancient times, states that he would come from another reality.

77. With this, I now know, the dimension of the DERN universe has been called since time immemorial, but which I have actually now become aware of through your explanations, which I will also immediately announce on Erra and on all our worlds.

Billy:

... And the trick of the two groups, the Ashtashran alias Ashtar Sheran and the Giza intelligences, was that they were only in our presence when they caused mischief, whereas they were resident in another space-time plane and only came into our presence temporarily and unnoticed by the strangers. ... And as far as Ashtashran alias Ashtar Sheran is concerned, as far as I know he was never in our presence anyway, but worked on his confused believers on Earth from another space-time plane.

...

It is also to be explained that you Plejaren in your ANKAR universe in the SIRAS dimension remain absolutely safe from the foreigners on the Earth, if you continue to keep to your directives, which prescribe that you do not make any contact with foreign peoples and inhabitants of other planets etc. In this way, and you know this very well, dear friend, as all Plejaren also know, you also protect yourselves from falling back into the old barbaric behaviour, as it still prevailed with you more than 52,000 years ago and was marked by strife and war. And it is also worth mentioning that if the foreigners who are functioning on Earth should be able to penetrate other universes of our Creation, they would first have to find out which of the 6 other universes outside ours it is that you Plejaren exist in. And if they were to find that out, then the even bigger problem would be to find that dimension or space-time structure in the SIRAS dimension that is a fraction of a second out of phase with our DERN dimension space-time structure. But that corresponds to a myriad of possibilities, just as it corresponds to a myriad of possibilities to find the dimensional gate that you use every time you beam back and forth between Erra and Earth.

A. and U. Fuchsberger:

In your contact reports we read that the extraterrestrials with whom you have conversations have twice eliminated trees. I would like to ask you if you could explain to us what we should understand by this. Were trees simply cut down or were they burnt or taken away?

...

Ptaah:

24. An elimination, and this must first be explained, does not simply mean a dissolution of an object into its constituent parts, for this would correspond to a destruction, but not to an elimination, for such an elimination means a complete dissolution of all object-related matter down to its origin.

25. Basically, a process of elimination begins, as you and yes also some core-group members have witnessed this with regard to a tree, as you say, in that a certain object must be recorded in all its details with certain recognition and recording apparatuses down to the last detail and iota.

26. It is absolutely necessary, above all, to ascertain the age and origin and thus also the exact time of origin of the object and all its details.

27. If you are talking about fir trees and thus conifers, as you call these tree species, then for an elimination a complete recognition and registration of every tiny detail and consequently also of every single fir needle, which are fundamentally leaves, is absolutely necessary.

28. This, however, is only possible through our highly futuristic technical apparatus and devices, which will remain unattainable for Earth-humans for a long time to come and which, in a further and different development, will also serve to count and register all conceivably possible life-forms.

29. Among other things, we will also use these technical apparatuses and devices to record and register the entire earthly human race, in such a way that we will be able to record and register everything down to a single life-form up to a certain point in time.

30. Once all the necessary data have been gathered for the elimination of an object, of which there are still more than I want to mention, as well as other necessities, which, however, I consider pointless to mention, because the earthly scientists etc. cannot begin anything with it anyway, because their still limited knowledge, their illogic and arrogance are not sufficient to be able to understand everything as well, and moreover it would be irresponsible of me to give them more precise information, so I will only say the following about it:

31. If the exact time of the origin and emergence of the object to be eliminated is known, then a time manipulation by means of a time journey to the point of origin of the object is unavoidable in order to carry out the necessary manipulations there, which become effective throughout the entire time of existence and dissolve or eliminate the object at the fixed time of the present.

32. In the past or at the origin of the object, it cannot be eliminated, because if something arises over time into the future, such as the growth of a tree, etc., then it cannot simply not be planted or destroyed in the past, for example, if it already exists in the future or present.

33. What has already happened in the past or has developed into the future or present, just like a tree, can no longer be undone in the past.

34. Therefore, an elimination in the sense mentioned must be carried out in the way I explained.

35. But otherwise it is possible that from the future or present something can be brought into the past and in the course of time develop and grow into the present or even the future, such as a tree or a technique, etc., as you experienced, for example, in the 13th century with Asket in France with a man called Jechieli, as I know when you gave him a torch and a cattle-herding device that a Fate companion from the Soviet Union had with him.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_748

Ptaah:

43. Your real age alone should be mentioned, as well as the fact that several times in all your life time, whenever you were travelling for months or years in other times or in the past or in the future, you had to spend 18 days every 7 years in an hourly interrupting manner in our regeneration devices, which I will call hydro-dynamic regeneration converters, according to which you visibly did not age.

44. This was for the first time in 1944, so that from then on you always remained the same in outer appearance and visibly only aged in a normal way at those times when you were back on Earth in that place which you had left on Earth for a longer time.

45. If later, usually after weeks, months or years, you returned by time manipulation to the same time or hour at which you had left, then no outward ageing of your body was therefore detectable.

46. And these important and necessary 18-day procedures in the hydrodynamic regeneration converters were absolutely essential to maintain the processes of your total body mobility.

47. This is because, naturally, due to the ageing of the body as a result of loss of energy and strength, as well as due to natural ageing-degenerative processes, the entire bodily motility decreases, i.e. the totality of all unconsciously controlled and executed movements of the body and all its organs, whereby the ability of all organisms and cell organelles to move is impaired, and consequently losses of the entire activity of the ability to move occur.

48. This, however, had to be prevented in you, consequently also in your present age, which today – calculated from your birth in 1937 – is in total far above the double of your present earthly lifetime of 83½ years.

...

Billy:

Then something else and a word about this, concerning the times of the present, future and past, because among us earthlings the erroneous view has been circulating – especially since the 1920s, when the fundamentally first science fiction silent film 'Metropolis' was made and publicly screened in 1927 – that when one travels into the past or future, then exactly the same time runs as in the present, which, however, is completely erroneous and wrong. This assumption is false because time already existed in the past and is over, so it has no relevance to the present time. This means that if one travels from the present into the past – or into the future – then the present time there runs out, which is practically as fast or as slow as the present time from which the journey into the past or future is made. The trick, however, is that everything is time-shifted, which means that if a visit is made to the past and a day is spent there, for example, this is not relevant for the present time, because the past time has already expired and no longer has any influence on the present time, consequently it can no longer be equated in its course. Therefore, a day or year, etc., can be spent in the past, while in the present, for example, only minutes pass, etc.

If, therefore, one travels into the past or into the future, then the time of that time passes there, which must be lived through as a 'visitor', according to the time that just prevails and is spent there, which, however, has already expired and passed in the future, but is no longer relevant for the normal present from which one travels into the past, but is just already past. So if one travels from the present into the past and lives in it for e.g. 1 or 2 years, then this has no influence whatsoever on the normal present time from which the journey into the past is carried out, because in the past a time is effectively lived through that is no longer relevant for the present of the time of origin of the journey, but has long since ceased to exist. The time, however, which the traveller lives through from his future present in the past is absolutely real, consequently he effectively lives through it and also ages at this time. Therefore, when the traveller returns from the past time to the present time, he is aged by the time he spent in the past. However, in order to return to the present at the time when he left it, this can only be done by manipulating time. But the fact always remains that the traveller to the past ages during his visit to the past by the amount of time he spends there, so that, if he is a grown man, his beard also sprouts accordingly, so that persons who observe him recognise that he has been away for a long time.

Ptaah:

61. That is well explained, and the facial beard has also led to people recognising that you have been absent for a longer time than just the short time you were present.

62. I remember several such incidents, such as when you were called by my daughter Semjase and you had a fresh shave, only to be taken away for six hours at Wihaldenstrasse 10 in Hinwil and brought back again at 5 hrs, during which time Jacobus and Kalliope were waiting in the living room for your return.

63. And because during your official present 6-hour absence you were in reality on Erra for 7 days, during which time your facial beard grew and you were unable to shave it, this 7-day beard growth was of course not overlooked by Jacobus and Kalliope.

64. Moreover:

65. I remember that in 1961 you learned sandblasting in Bern, met your girlfriend Marga and travelled with her through Italy, Sicily, Spain, France, Belgium, Luxembourg, Germany and Switzerland.

66. When, as a result of your work, you were transferred to Andeer to do a certain job there, and you also took your girlfriend with you, you were taken away by Asket, and you travelled with her for 11 months in her homeland, but then at the time of your departure you reappeared in your girlfriend's hotel room – with an 11-month-old facial beard.

67. Your friend Marga complained and got angry as a result of the assumption that you wanted to mislead her and that you had stuck on a face beard, so she wanted to tear it off, felt betrayed by you and your relationship deteriorated as a result.

68. I do not need to say anything more about what happened as a result.

69. But as for the time alone that you spent with my father Sfath in the past from 1944 until the 1950s in the time of the antiquity era in the Mediterranean region, in Europe, Asia, America, South America and Africa, it amounts to 61 years and 94 days.

70. And these were years of learning, in addition to the years you spent with my father in the past up to 272 million years ago, as well as the years during which the two of you researched the future, which is why you also know what bad things will unfortunately still happen, about which my father Sfath obliged you to remain silent and you should no longer make predictions as in the 1950s, but only partial prophecies.

71. To your and my father's often long journeys and sojourns in the past and future must be added the years that Asket and you, as well as my daughter Semjase and then Quetzal and I, have been travelling with you for long periods in the past and future.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_750

Billy:

Often our conversations led to the conclusion that all those earthlings who scientifically deal with the times of the past and future as would-be knowers are wrong and effectively fantasise a horrendous idle run in this respect. This is precisely because in the past, time must be lived through in the length of time at that time, whereby the human being thus ages by this already past time, while in the present time, however, from which one changes into the past, only short minutes or hours pass through a manipulation of time. Examples of this are, on the one hand, the incident in Hinwil when, in the presence of witnesses such as Jacobus and my ex, I gave myself a fresh shave and left the house around midnight, only to be on the road together with your daughter Semjase for around a week in the past, but then, through a time manipulation, returned home five hours later after leaving the house at 5 hrs – with a week's beard sprouting on my face. ...

...

Then, on the other hand, I now come back to what has happened with regard to journeys into the past, also with regard to the thing in Andeer, when my girlfriend freaked out when I, afflicted with zinc fever, was with her in the hotel, had given myself a fresh shave and she then went out to do some shopping, whereupon your niece Asket then took me away to travel around in the past for 11 months, during which time I grew a handsome facial moustache. Asket then brought me back to the hotel room by time manipulation about half an hour after I left, after which my girlfriend then got upset because she thought I was trying to annoy her by sticking a full beard on my face, which she wanted to rip off. When she then realised that the beard was real, she went crazy and of course couldn't understand anything anymore because I wasn't allowed to explain anything to her either. Her mind was simply overwhelmed, which is why the danger of her going mad came up, which is why Asket intervened and erased the experience from her memory. But there were a few other similar incidents where it was noticed that after short absences I suddenly had longer stubble on my face again, but these observations usually went off smoothly because those observing me knew what was actually going on.

Well, over time, scientists also talk nonsense or fantasise nonsense, so also with regard to astronomy, because the entire astronomy science has no idea whatsoever about how and what the universe actually is. So they also do not know that everything visible from the Earth, all the stars etc., corresponds to only one seventh of the space-time structure universe, just as this space-time structure universe only makes up one seventh of the entire space of creation, which has a life span – starting from the so-called Big Bang to the end of the final contraction – of 311 trillion Earth years. Nor do they have any idea of how the real universal and creation-related laws behave, as also in relation to the emergence and behaviour of the dimensions and all the trimmings with regard to the creative, and that everything is completely different from what is assumed or claimed. And that the Creation is delusionally referred to as God and God the Father – as Allah, Theós, Parameshvar, Shiva, Chodā, Shén or Kami, etc. – corresponds to nothing but a pathologically insane conceit that is endlessly far from any truth.

... The rhythm of forces or bio-life rhythm of Homo sapiens sapiens in all 7 universes and all their dimensions and space-time structures has a uniform period of 23 days, whereby 11½ days are exposed to a plus phase or an energy peak phase, a higher organic resilience and thus a less harmful possibility of attack, consequently the organism can use more active and resilient forces.

The other 11½ days the bio-life rhythm shows a minus phase, whereby the organic stability is more unstable and more unstable for pathogens and virus attacks etc.. The whole organism also tires more quickly and becomes more susceptible to attacks that are harmful to health, consequently it also needs more time to recover. After 23 days, the rhythm starts again from the beginning, whereby the thought-feeling-psyche state is also included, whose period, however, lasts not only 23, but 33 days.

... We Plejaren are also only human beings, if I may say so, and we are not perfect beings, as many Earth human beings assume or believe. Even if we have a much more highly developed technology, which enables us to travel through time and space, just as we also have various other higher possibilities than Earth human beings, we are still human beings and are therefore not inserted into perfection, but are afflicted with faults and disadvantages, According to which we also have to learn, experience and learn, as this is inherent to every living being and will never end until that time when this ends through the eons of time, when our creation energy, which animates us and also develops us, one day unites with the energy of the Being Absolutum.

In the same manner as we have to behave according to our directives towards the Earth human beings with regard to contacts, this applies equally to other human beings in our universe, as well as in foreign universes and in foreign Creations. This is also the reason why we must, under all circumstances, keep a low profile in relation to the foreigners who have been present in Earth's space for a very long time and to whom we must not make ourselves known. The justifications for this are the same as are otherwise valid for other humanities of other life-bearing planets.

Tower of Babylon / Tower of Babel

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Tower_of_Babel

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_279

Billy:

... My first question refers to the Tower of Babylon, which was built about 3,000 years ago or so ago. Do you know anything about this event?

Ptaah:

5. Not very detailed – but at least.

Billy:

Well, then the first question: What was the height and baseline of the building?

Ptaah:

6. The baseline was about 91 metres, which was also identical to the height of the building.

Billy:

So also 91 metres high. – As far as I know, the building was square, as you can see from your measurements of the baseline.

Ptaah:

7. That is correct, but the building did not correspond to a cube, but it narrowed upwards by several set-offs or floors, which were connected by stairs, only in the outer wall areas.

8. In the middle, the whole building was filled with a core of fired brick mass, which ensured stability.

9. The outer brickwork was made of bricks or fired bricks which, like the core, were made of the same material.

10. A large temple was erected on the uppermost settlement, which played a special role for the deity Marduk and in which a temple servant lived, who was only allowed to be visited and touched by the ruler.

11. Marduk was the city god of Babylon and was raised to the highest imperial god around 1700 BC.

12. The Marduk cult was led by a very powerful priesthood, which in itself was very diverse.

Billy:

The Bible mentions the history of the confusion of languages during the construction of the tower. What was it about?

Ptaah:

13. The explanation of the Bible is wrong.

14. Truthfully, the tower was built by various groups of people who had many different languages and could only communicate with each other through language experts.

15. When a serious natural event occurred and the different ethnic groups mixed in fear and panic, it naturally happened that the confused, horrified people fleeing from the building could no longer communicate with each other, because no one understood the other's language and each belonged to a different ethnic group.

Billy:

So the confusion was perfect.

Ptaah:

16. So it happened, yes.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_439

Billy:

... At the 279th official contact conversation on the 3rd of February 2000, the two of us talked together about the Tower of Babylon, and you said that the confusion of language was caused by a natural event. ...

What kind of natural phenomenon was that, perhaps an earthquake? If so, did the 91-metre high tower not suffer any damage?

Ptaah:

20. In fact, it was an earthquake, which also caused severe damage to the tower that was being built.

21. However, this damage was repaired after order was restored to the country.

Billy:

And what kind of ethnic groups were they that had different languages?

Ptaah:

22. They were different ethnic groups, tribes and individuals from all surrounding countries, as far as Persia and the Mediterranean.

23. Many were prisoners or slaves, while others from foreign countries were obliged to do slavery work.

24. And all in all, the great mass of the workers had little or no knowledge of their own language, but of the Babylonian language.

25. Babylonians who worked on the construction of the tower were – apart from the architects, construction experts and supervisors – only those who fell from grace or were convicts.
26. The convicts had the choice of either working on the construction of the tower or being executed, whereby the former was of course preferred.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_496

Billy:

I still have a question about Troy, because there is still a lot of confusion. Your daughter Semjase once said that the Troy story with the beautiful Helen of Homer was a fiction. She said that Homer actually lived and wrote the 'Iliad', but that he told a lot of fibs, because the beautiful Helen did not exist, nor did a Greek army defeat Troy, which is not supposed to have been called that either. The 'Trojan Horse', Semjase also said, was a fib from Homer.

Ptaah:

54. What my daughter told you is true. First of all, the city that Homer made known as Troy, which is why we also call it Troy, has a completely different name, and in fact the city was actually called 'Milusha'.

55. The Greek army that defeated the city and finally bloodily conquered it was in reality an army of the Hittite Empire.

56. So it was the Hittites who truly defeated and conquered the city, staging a merciless slaughter of human beings.

57. But the city of Milusha was not conquered by the Hittites by building a 'Trojan Horse', which Homer had fantasized about, and which was supposed to have been pulled into their city by the inhabitants of the city.

58. In truth, after a long siege, the Hittites entered the city through an underground system of canals and through the very large city gate, raped women, men and children and then mercilessly slaughtered these and many other inhabitants.

59. The whole thing was about a brutal act of war, in which no 'beautiful Helen' played any role whatsoever, not even any Hellenic army.

Billy:

Aha, so that was it, and Homer was an imaginative storyteller.

Ptaah:

60. Orally transmitted stories of earlier events he mixed with fantastical embellishments that had nothing to do with reality and truth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_533

Billy:

... Regarding the city of 'Milusha' respectively Troy, a passive member asks the question whether this name might be a spelling mistake and therefore the real name is 'Wilusa'? In some old treaty there is supposed to be talk of a King Alaksandru of Wilusa, whereby 'Wilusa' is to be equated with Troy.

Ptaah:

26. ... the name 'Milusha' was correct and was in use long before the Hittites defeated and conquered the city, committing monstrous crimes against the inhabitants, also against women and children, who were then slaughtered downright.

27. The name 'Milusha' already existed in pre-Hittite times, namely in the 4th millennium BC respectively before Jmmanuel, when the then small town on the hill Hissarlik on the western Mediterranean coast of today's Turkey was founded.

28. In the 13th century BC respectively before Jmmanuel, the town was generously expanded into a city, which also marked a new date of foundation.

29. Then the city belonged to the Hittite Empire 'Wilusa', which was ruled by King Alaksandru under the Hittite rule.

Tunguska event 1908

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Tunguska_event

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_1

Asket:

70. Less than 1130 Earth years ago, three races capable of space travel, from far galaxies of this universe, dispatched their expedition ships, and advanced to the Earth.

71. They explored this world with small scout craft, and also made contact with priestly Earth-humans, secretly and unrecognised, in order not to spread terror and angst.

72. They heard and learned from the Earth-humans the insanity of their ideologies and religions and suddenly they believed themselves to be disadvantaged and falsely led in their own philosophy of Creation and in their own evolution of consciousness and spirit.

73. As a life form still very spiritually underdeveloped and underdeveloped in consciousness, the Earth-humans were able to throw these foreign life forms into doubt, and to sow discord among them.

74. Yet, was that any wonder then, if it is considered that very highly developed life forms from foreign galaxies visit the Earth, and here suddenly are instructed that they, as a race which has developed very far, are to have been disadvantaged by Creation, because, allegedly, Creation personally made Itself known to a still very underdeveloped race, and they themselves, as a much higher life form, were passed over.

75. Where was the blame to be found here, that Creation created its only begotten son, and transferred him to Earth to a poor, underdeveloped people, and did not create this only begotten son for the much higher developed life forms?

76. Thus this insane information was spread on three distant worlds, and announced to the races, which had, for thousands of years, lived in peace, love and in complete harmony among themselves, and with all forms of life.

77. The insanity of the terrestrial religions was taken up by scientists, and further expeditions were sent to Earth in order to work for years to investigate all required religious facts.

78. After the return of these expeditions, it was concluded, after exact clarifications, that all peoples would be instructed according to the the terrestrial Christian religion, and indeed, in all matters.

79. This was a fatal error, because, within only eleven years, this peaceful humankind from a distant planet, having previously lived only by the creational laws, changed itself into the faith-based, Christian image of the Earth human.

80. At first, fights and discord originated only in the narrowest circles, then, however, everything expanded very quickly, and it came to public unrest.

81. Already the life forms soon murdered each other, until everything degenerated into a malicious worldwide war.
82. Finally encroachments into the two other worlds resulted, one of which was then destroyed.
83. Different space-faring races became attentive to that, and finally intervened, and forcefully terminated the deadly discord, which had already slowly carried itself into the entire solar system.
84. The terrestrial religions, brought there through the expeditions, and the destruction-releasing Christianity, were strictly forbidden to any life forms.
85. All existing religious material was destroyed and the old way of life again became the highest law.
86. Any advance, and any further visit to the Earth was forbidden, and a decree was even issued that, if, unexpectedly, a ship should stray onto Earth, and no further possibilities of progress could be found, the entire crew, together with their ship, must totally eliminate itself.
87. This actually also then soon happened according to the decree of this regulation, when a huge space ship, still in the terrestrial area, was not able to free itself anymore from Earth, where it had lain hidden for several months with severe technical damage, in the country which you call Russia.
88. The ship was able to lift itself up only a few hundred meters and then sank down again.
89. In accordance with the regulation that no spaceships, and so forth, were allowed to approach the earth anymore, all outside assistance was also impossible.
90. Other races from outer space, stationed on the earth, were, on the other hand, forbidden to bring the damaged ship assistance because, among the crew, a terrestrial epidemic had broken out which was very dangerous for this life form.
91. In the knowledge that they could anticipate no more help at all, they designed an enormous bomb from the foundation-stones of life, that you call atoms, forced the ship as far as possible up into the sky, and then let it simply fall.
92. Like an enormous comet it fell towards the earth, and before it could strike the earth, at a few hundred meters height, the atomic bomb was ignited.
93. An enormous explosion tore up the ship and the crew, turned everything to dust and destroyed the landscape.
94. From everything only a giant crater remained, which is erroneously called a meteor crater by your scientists.
95. More than 4,300 life forms of extraterrestrial origin were destroyed during this gigantic destruction, which only leads back to the terrestrial Christian cult, because the actual reason for this destruction was the insanity of this terrestrial religion.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_365

Billy:

My wish is that you explain what kind of spaceship the aircraft was, because it was something unusual.

Ptaah:

5. I guess you could say that. ...

Billy:

... It's interesting that finally people are coming and talking about different things than they have been talking about so far by some scientists who claimed that the Tunguska catastrophe was caused by gas escaping from the earth and exploding etc.

Ptaah:

12. It is true, as you know, that the event was caused by a spacecraft of alien intelligences, exactly according to Asket's description as you read it to me with the 86th to 95th sentence of Asket's explanations.

13. The crew of the large space flying apparatuses, which was destroyed over the Tunguska region in 1908 on 30th June, came from the Setkatis Galaxy, a large spiral galaxy about 17 million light-years away, also known to Earth's astronomers, under the designation M 101.
14. The home of the astronauts was a planet of little more than earth size and is called Ketulas. It is a satellite of the solar system Bliira, which includes two suns and 18 planets, but only three of them carry human life.
15. The galaxy can be observed from the Earth from above, so to speak, but the Bliira solar system remains invisible from the Earth because it is beyond observation.
16. The crew members of the space flying apparatuses belonged to the Gilas people, which is why we call them Gilaser.
17. The Gilaser people were already very advanced in space technology at that time and were also able to build huge spacecraft using small planetoids.
18. In these they created large cavities, in which they placed equipment for propulsion, for powerful weapons, for external protective shields and electron collectors, as well as energy storage, living quarters, work spaces, food production facilities and life-support systems etc., in other words everything that was necessary.
19. From the outside it was not recognizable that it was a spacecraft, because on the outside the object remained what it basically was, namely a small planetoid.
20. Its enormous weight could be calculated with about 179,854 tons, so what you read in the T-Online article is not close to the truth.
21. It is very likely that the enormous explosion threw fragments of the outer thick planetoid hull and metal parts of the interior of the planetoid spaceship to earth.
22. And what else is to be said about the huge crater:
23. It covered about 3,500 square kilometres.
24. The massive explosion originated at an altitude of 1,290 metres.
25. It is not a deep crater or hole crater, as it is created by a direct impact of a large projectile on the earth, because the explosion at high altitude created a so-called horizontal crater.
26. In a horizontal crater, the force of the explosion from above or the pressure wave depresses all the earth, as well as plants, animals and at least the weak trees.
27. The force of the pressure wave only forms a small bulge at the outermost edge of the crater, which can be thrown up from a few centimetres to twenty or thirty metres or more, depending on the energy of the pressure wave.
28. However, such horizontal craters are only formed by large pressure waves from above and are usually not or only poorly visible, because the distance from the centre of the crater to its rim is usually so far that the actual crater rim is difficult to find.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_428

Ptaah:

11. The great space ship which at that time suffered a breakdown and was destroyed, out of which the so-called Tunguska event resulted, belonged to a people who live in a distant galaxy in your space-time configuration.
12. The Christianity, however – which was brought to their home worlds by some of their space travellers and which rapidly spread out – led to grave religious wars.
13. Once order could then finally be recreated, the space travellers were forbidden to make any further penetrations into the terrestrial space.
14. Around 1,000 years after this decree, as a result of faulty co-ordinates, a large spaceship of these people got lost in the SOL system and stranded on the Earth due to a severe accident that was still occurring, from which it was no longer able to move away.
15. So, for several months, the space ship lay with grave technical damage hidden in the Tunguska region, whereby a larger number of space travellers mixed, unrecognised, among the Earth-humans, far from the hiding place, and sexually engaged with them, which resulted in many of them becoming sick with syphilis and, with the return to their space ship, also infecting many others with it.

16. That had very bad consequences for the space travellers because very quickly, as a result of their constitutional difference, dangerous mutations of the disease arose which, just as quickly, expanded to a plague-like disease and epidemic which cost many their lives.

17. They could not expect help from the home world because, according to the old determination, it was forbidden for them to approach the Earth.

18. Apart from that, other extraterrestrials who were stationed on the Earth – namely us and our confederates – were forbidden by the government of the home world to provide any help, consequently, we had to abide by our directives.

19. Therefore, only self-destruction remained for the foreigners to Earth as their determination demanded it, consequently they built an atom bomb, brought the space ship to a still feasible height in the atmosphere and then caused it to fall in order to then ignite the bomb.

20. Through the enormous explosion the great space ship was completely ripped apart and torn to pieces, whereby the monstrous explosion transformed practically the whole ship, and the entire crew of still 4,387 human beings, into dust and ash.

21. Everything was observed and recorded from our side, therefore we of course continuously relayed our information to the stranded space travellers' home world, however we did not receive permission to intervene in the events.

22. Therefore, we had to let things run their course, however, we relied on the fact that we could teach the government and the people of the space travellers in relation to the fact that for them, as long as they would no longer get involved in them, there was no danger any more by the religions of the human beings of Earth.

23. Our intentions succeeded in the course of time, which then also had the result that all three peoples, i.e. races – namely there were three of them – joined our federation.

24. They come from a region of a large cluster of galaxies which is around 400 million light-years away from the Earth.

25. The three peoples, respectively, races, have three different home worlds, yet they are closely connected with each other and call themselves the People's Oneness of Bardan, as they also call their home worlds Bardan 1, 2, and 3 and have a common government.

26. The Bardan belong to those five peoples foreign to Earth who I named to you and who have joined our federation.

Billy:

And do these human beings come again to the Earth in the current time? And the galaxy cluster mentioned by you, is that also known to our astronomers?

Ptaah:

27. Yes, and indeed already since the time around 80 years ago, when they allowed themselves to be taught by us and joined our federation.

28. But since then they have never taken up contact with Earth-humans.

29. And with regard to the galaxy cluster:

30. This is known to the terrestrial astronomers and is named Coma cluster of galaxies by them.

Billy:

And they look like us or different?

Ptaah:

31. They are human beings like us, if that is what you mean.

32. They have somewhat Mongolian features and a somewhat coarse as well as light brownish-yellowish skin.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_476

Contact Report 428 Supplement – Private Conversation

Billy:

Well, dear friend, today you gave me different data; you seem to be messing with something, or then I misheard or misunderstood something.

Ptaah:

- 1. You have not misunderstood anything, just as I have not confused anything either.*
- 2. But it is still my mistake, because I did not mention that all three peoples of Gilas emigrated from their original home planet Ketulus in the system Bliira, 17 million light-years away from Earth, and settled 400 million light-years away in the spiral galaxy in the Coma cluster of galaxies M 101.*
- 3. Their three new home planets they call Bardan and consequently themselves now also Bardan.*

Billy:

Aha, and why did they emigrate?

Ptaah:

- 4. A worldwide epidemic killed more than 4/5 of all Gilas within three decades, so the healthy survivors fled and sought new homeworlds, which they found with our help.*
- 5. In order to end the plague, which also affected all other life-forms and was completely eradicated by them, the only possibility left was to burn up the entire planet surface.*
- 6. Unfortunately, no cure or containment agent could be found or produced against the epidemic.*
- 7. And before you ask sooner or later what happened in the Tunguska region, I want to explain to you that the destruction of the planetoid spaceship also caused very severe Earth tremors, which caused the Earth to split open and released enormous gas masses, which led to further violent explosions, causing great destruction and also creating a new lake.*
- 8. So there was also an earth-bound endogenous cause to the whole thing.*
- 9. But this was not the real origin, but only another multiple effect of the destruction of the space-flying apparatus.*
- 10. However, we always spoke only about the exploded space-flying apparatus, not about the further consequences.*

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_542

Billy:

... But now I have a question again, which relates to an apparent contradiction, because in the matter of the Tunguska catastrophe, those private conversations between you and I are not included in the official contact reports. When we talked about it on various occasions, you also explained that the three great planetary peoples, including the space travelers who exploded their spaceship over the Tunguska area, had left their old home and found three new planets far away. These were uninhabited worlds, but they were suitable for them and they could use them as new home worlds for themselves. However, you have kept quiet about the details of how the whole thing works, which is why it is now necessary to go into them in more detail, because somebody has stumbled upon the fact that the 365th contact report in volume 9 contains different information than the 428th contact report in volume 10. At the 476th contact report you then gave a further explanation. For me the matter is actually clear, but not yet for a reader, probably also because she has not yet read the 476th report. Here I have copied out four parts of the report, also one from Asket: ...

Ptaah:

- 58. The whole thing may indeed appear to be a contradiction, and obviously it would have been necessary that we should have had our private conversations in this regard as official conversations and made them public.*
- 59. But what I have already explained in relation to this matter should actually make it clear what the facts are.*

60. But perhaps it was also unfortunate and confusing of me that I split one and the same factor into two parts and spoke of two different names of peoples, planets and galaxies.

61. If this has created an apparent contradiction, then this is regrettable on the one hand, but on the other hand it was unintentional.

62. So now there is probably a need for me to state the relevant facts openly and in more detail in order to clarify everything:

63. As a further and final explanation, I do not want to go into all the details, but only so far as to make everything a little clearer:

64. After the heavy faith struggles, which were caused by the introduction of Christianity from Earth to the world population of the Gilaser on the planet Ketulas in the system Bliira in the galaxy Setkatis, also a planet was destroyed in such a way that life was no longer possible on it, after which a decree was issued that the Earth in the SOL system was no longer allowed to be approached.

65. Christian delusion was strictly forbidden, but this did not stop fanatics from secretly continuing their Christian faith underground, which then came to the surface again 694 years later and spread again, on both planets that were still habitable.

66. This led to the emergence of various religious groups, respectively sects, and from these, new religious struggles that spread to both worlds and wreaked enormous destruction, making the living conditions for the populations of the planets increasingly precarious over the decades.

67. What now needs to be further officially explained is this:

68. Again:

69. After the catastrophe of the first religious war about 1,000 years ago, the Christian delusion continued to modernize in a secret underground way, and consequently, after 694 years, further religious fights arose, which could no longer be contained for about 300 years and, moreover, spread to both inhabited planets and claimed millions of victims.

70. These battles also caused severe destruction of nature and the atmosphere, and all but a few remnants of animal and plant life were also exterminated.

71. Then it happened that an epidemic broke out on one of the planets, which spread to a worldwide pandemic, spread to the whole world and finally also to the other planet.

72. According to the terrestrial calendar, it raged for around three decades, with 4/5 of all Gilaser, respectively Gilaner, as they called themselves, falling victim to the epidemic on both planets.

73. And consequently, when everything had progressed so far that both worlds would soon no longer be habitable, large space flying apparatus respectively large spaceships were built and sent out to various regions of the universe to search for and explore new habitable worlds.

74. One of these space flying apparatus was built from a meteor, and so it happened that about 1,000 years later a large Gilaser space flying apparatus came to Earth again, the one that had been built from a meteor.

75. However, this was brought to Earth due to an error caused by an unfortunate technical error of a coordinate device, and in the end, however, an attempt to repair another damage also resulted in a serious accident.

76. And since they were forbidden to receive help from others to return home, and since we Plejaren and our Federation were also not allowed to offer any help according to their home worlds, and since they also had the order to destroy their large flying apparatus if it was no longer possible to return under their own steam, and since sectarian Christianity was once again taken over by the crew because it was infiltrated by Christian secret allies who had been able to operate secretly in the space apparatus for a long time, those who remained unimpressed by sectarianism followed this order.

77. And that they followed the order to destroy the planet was not least because they were informed that the wars of religion had been finally ended and that there was a danger that those who had once again come to Earth would once again bring disaster back.

78. This was in the form of the Christian delusion of faith which was again widespread among the crew of the space flying apparatus.

79. So it was feared on the home worlds that Christian sectarianism could be brought back again.

80. The history of the situation and the Tunguska explosion is well known to you, but is that the Gilaser respectively Gilaner came to Earth in 1907 with their large space flying apparatus, converted it into a huge atomic bomb and then exploded it on the 30th of June 1908 high above the Tunguska region, killing 4,387 human beings.

81. At the time they left, their home was still the planet Ketulas in the Bliira system in the Setkatis galaxy, which I also explained at the 365th official contact conversation.

82. However, during the time when the Gilaser were on Earth with their large space flying apparatus, the crews of another large research space flying apparatus and with our help - calculated from the Earth - in the so-called Coma Galaxy Clusters found a new system with three (3) uninhabited but habitable planets named Bardan 1, Bardan 2, and Bardan 3.

83. The two homeworlds in the system Bliira had become so inhospitable and almost uninhabitable as the third planet, which was destroyed to the point of uninhabitability, that the remaining populations of the two only poorly inhabitable planets had to be evacuated and brought to the Bardan planets with powerful emigration space flying apparatus respectively.

84. After that everything was arranged within a few years to carry out the whole thing.

85. The total migration to the three Bardan planets then took 11 years according to earthly time calculation.

86. Since then the peoples of all three Bardan-planets call themselves Bardans.

87. Accordingly, at the 428th official contact conversation I named Bardan 1, 2 and 3 as the home worlds of the old Gilaser respectively Gilaner as Bardan and their peoples as Bardans, to which I also counted those who were stranded on Earth.

88. This is precisely because I also connected those who had lost their way on Earth with the new name of the new worlds, which obviously led to confusion, which was not my intention and is to be described as confusing and a mistake.

89. But since the Gilaser with their large spaceship in 1907 still came from the system Bliira, I also named their home planet Ketulas, the home system Setkatis, the people Gilaner respectively Gilaser and according to their origin also the human beings of the large space flying apparatus in this way.

90. Then I named the new home Bardan in the Coma cluster of galaxies, because those who were stranded on Earth belonged to the same people.

91. Obviously I should not have done that, even though those who strayed to Earth actually belonged to the Bardan people, who, according to earthly time, had finished their emigration to Bardan in 1926.

92. However, in a private conversation with you, I obviously did not mention the whole thing extensively enough.

Billy:

The whole thing is actually a little confusing at first sight, at least for the first impression, but after your explanation everything seems understandable to me when I look at it logically. I can remember that you mentioned some things once. But one more question regarding the abandoned and now hostile planets in the Bliira system of the Setkatis galaxy: Can they once again bear life? Then regarding mistakes: I would like to say that no human being is free from making mistakes, and on the other hand this also proves that you Plejaren are only human beings and not superhumans or the like, and therefore not perfect. And he who believes himself to be free from error, cast the first stone - so it has been said since ancient times.

Ptaah:

93. What you say hits the nail on the head - as you sometimes like to say.

94. But regarding the two planets in the Bliira system:

95. Both of them, as well as the third, which was destroyed to the point of hostility to life, were eliminated by the Gilas six years after the end of emigration, because they had also become a danger for the Bliira system and would have affected its order, because they were maliciously pushed out of their orbits during the war.

Billy:

... But another question: The events of Tunguska were actually caused by the Gilans respectively Gilaser or just by the Bardans, namely by a large spaceship which they made from a meteor which they took advantage of. So far those earthlings are right who attribute the gigantic explosion to a meteor, but it is also assumed that it could have been an asteroid. However, they do not want to admit that it was a meteor converted into a spaceship, and that the explosion was an atomic bomb. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_583

Billy:

... Now there are new things concerning the Tunguska matter, like the following, which Achim Wolf from Germany has sent me:

In Semjaseblock 27, Billy talked to Ptaah about the so-called 'Tunguska catastrophe' or the nuclear explosion of the spaceship in 1908. Some reports and speculations on the internet come surprisingly close to the truth. There was demonstrable radioactive radiation at that time; eyewitnesses even reported the shape of an object. Maybe the information is interesting for Billy.

Example 1 (source = <http://www.science-explorer.de/tunguska.htm>): "The Baskir engineer and geophysicist A. V. Solotov examined splinters of trees that had survived the catastrophe by cutting them into annual rings, then burning them and analysing the ashes. He found a general increase in radioactivity for the year 1908 by finding the radioactive isotope caesium 137 in the wood. Thermal damage to the trees, complex biological effects such as accelerated growth and somatic mutations, changes in the palaeomagnetic properties of the soil, thermoluminescence of the rock, increased uranium content in Trapp samples (igneous rock) and anomalies on a global scale were detected; they are declared as consequences of the disaster. In the disaster area, the growth of pine trees with three-needle tufts, probably a mutation as a result of the disaster, was concentrated. The flight of the alleged Tunguska object was observed over a large territory, even in places 500 km from the epicentre. Over 800 eyewitnesses have been found over the years who saw the object and in some cases heard its sound. The Tunguska body was described flying from south to north.

However, no agreement was found between the observations in the south and west and those in the east, because then the Tunguska body would have had to move on two different trajectories at different speeds. According to this, a constellation could result, according to which either: a) the statements are not correct, b) it is two different flying objects, c) or the body in question changed its flight path and speed. In the latter case it would have had to move on a non-ballistic trajectory with changing azimuths and heights, which is impossible for a natural body. ...

Kanzantsev went a step further in his hypothesis of a nuclear explosion and said that an interplanetary spacecraft visiting Earth and using nuclear energy as its propulsion, for some reason, crashed over the taiga, exactly where Kulik's expeditions had so unsuccessfully searched for the remains of the meteorite.

Example 2 (source = <http://www.sax.de/~stalker/pad/200005/>):

"What happened in the summer of 1908 in Siberia? What event still puzzles the experts after more than 90 years?

According to many eyewitness reports, on this last day in June, a brightly glowing object descended from the sky for about 10 minutes. It glowed in a bluish-white light and was usually described as tubular. As the body descended, a cloud of black smoke formed and a roar resembling cannon fire sounded. A column of light at least 20 km high was also seen. The heat that caused the explosion was so intense even at a distance of 65 km that a farmer tore off his shirt because he thought it was on fire. The shock was so strong that seismographs around the globe recorded unusual deflections. The explosion could still be heard 700 km away."

Ptaah:

6. The article is interesting, but it will probably be of no use to the know-it-alls and doubters, who will continue to cling to their confused ideas and conceptions.

TWA Flight 800

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/TWA_Flight_800

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_257

Billy:

... But now the next question: On the 17th of July 1996, a jumbo jet, a Boeing 747, exploded shortly after take-off in New York or something like that and crashed into the sea, causing about 230 deaths. Do you know anything about it?

Ptaah:

57. Certainly, because such incidents are recorded by our surveillance aircraft.

58. Florena also informed me about this unfortunate incident.

59. But why do you ask?

Billy:

Simply because I am interested in why the plane exploded. The Americans made several statements, but we don't know if one of them is correct.

Ptaah:

60. I can give you information about that:

61. Of course the Americans want to hide the truth and avoid it by some flimsy explanations, because it is their own fault that the misfortune happened.

62. The truth is that the US Navy fired a defensive missile at the plane and was hit by it and caused to explode.

63. Whether this happened intentionally or unintentionally could not be clarified by us yet, but it seems to us after the past investigations that both possibilities must be considered.

Billy:

Why's that?

Ptaah:

64. It's actually still too early to talk about this.

Billy:

But what reason could there have been to sacrifice so many people?

Ptaah:

65. An espionage-active person who, to our knowledge, was aboard the plane and carried important knowledge, but who had escaped the American secret service.

66. There is no doubt that this person was on board, but it is still unclear whether it was intentionally shot down as a result.

67. It is possible, however, that so many people were sacrificed because of a single spy.

68. But our investigations will show whether this is really true.

Billy:

That would really be awesome, if that were true. But in political, military and secret service contexts, much worse crimes have already been committed in which thousands or even tens of thousands of people have lost their lives. Just think of the radioactive contamination tests carried out by the Americans and the British, etc., which have killed thousands and thousands of people, which of course has been concealed. And just because of the concealment I have written an article here, if you want to read it briefly ... Ah yes, but first again a question concerning the suspected spy in the crashed plane, whose data was called TWA 800 to my knowledge and which more precisely has crashed in Moriches Bay off the coast of Long Island, where UFO activities have been recorded for quite some time, as I take from my note here. I would now be interested to know in what context the espionage activity was supposed to have been – military or economic?

Ptaah:

69. Our findings so far have shown that the person in question had secret information of a military nature, in relation to various incidents involving unidentified missiles in the Moriches Bay area, etc., and in relation to the so-called Brookhaven SDI experiments.

70. Whether the plane was deliberately shot down because of this spy, in order to silence him in this way, is only one possibility, because another is that everything was an accident, although it is undoubtedly certain that the US Navy launched the missile.

71. But there is also another possibility, which we must also consider, namely the fact that on the locating devices of the US Navy the airplane was probably registered, but was regarded as a so-called UFO, whereupon a firing order took place.

72. And we have to consider this possibility rather than the one with the spying person.

73. But I can't tell you anything more about it yet, but I have to wait and see what the research of Florena's group, which handles everything in this respect, will show.

Billy:

All sorts of things. If you know the facts, can you find out what the research has revealed?

Ptaah:

74. Of course, because no secret should be made of it, since it is an incident that has a criminal background, if our previous investigations should prove to be completely true.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_258

Billy:

... So I would like to ask you about your research regarding the drama in the USA, where a passenger plane exploded and crashed in Moriches Bay. You promised me that you would tell me what happened there as soon as you clarified everything. That is probably why you are here now, isn't it?

Ptaah:

5. That is right.

6. Well, our guess was correct regarding the circumstances of the crash of the TWA 800 plane on the 17th of July 1996 in the Moriches Bay area.

7. The cause of the disaster was a rocket-missile from the U.S. Navy that erroneously positioned the aircraft on its equipment as an unknown, foreign missile and thus identified as a UFO whereupon the command went out to launch this missile without excuse because through the haste and great carelessness the airplane was classified as an unknown flying object and in certain respects the national security of the USA had supposedly been threatened.

8. This fact is now of course concealed by all means available to the government, the secret services and the Navy.

Billy:

This is really awesome. But tell me, do you not violate your directives with this declaration, because you know that I like to put such matters officially on paper as contact reports.

Ptaah:

9. We also thought about this and therefore asked the High Council whether the declaration could be official or not.

10. The view of the High Council was that the event was such an inhuman crime that it should be officially announced.

11. Under the guise of national security, the High Council declared, the US military and the US intelligence services and their government committed such disgraceful crimes in secret missions that the worldwide public should be made aware of them in order to denounce all the disgraceful machinations and bring them to a standstill over time.

12. However, we must not do this ourselves and not officially, but we may give only by you the necessary information, whereby it is then left to you and other persons to spread these in useful form.

Billy:

But these crimes also fall under secrecy in America.

Ptaah:

13. That is correct, but by the promise of the High Council we may give you the information in this particular case for official use.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_265

Florena:

41. I can only explain that we have clear records that clearly prove that the plane was hit by a missile that was supposed to shoot down the TWA 800 for defence reasons, because a misinterpretation led to the assumption that the plane was an unknown and hostile object.

42. The missile, however, did not explode due to a malfunction of its detonator, but merely tore a hole in the aircraft and continued to shoot, only to fall somewhere into the sea.

43. Due to circumstances unknown to us, a sparking mechanism must have been created when the projectile hit, which caused the aviation fuel to explode.

44. It may be natural for someone to have brought a bomb aboard the TWA, but it certainly did not explode – if there was a bomb aboard at all.

45. Our records did not mislead us, nor did our investigations, to the effect that the missile projectile was the cause of the aircraft being damaged and then caused to explode by a sparking mechanism.

46. If the story about the man applies as it is set out in the written, then at least not in the sense that his bomb, if there actually was one, exploded.

47. If such a bomb actually existed, then it must either have been found by the salvage crews or thrown out somewhere into the sea where it was not found.

Note: This section generally deals with the various types of flying objects observed in the sky, plus the technical aspects of extraterrestrial spacecraft, etc. which are frequently referred to by the extraterrestrials simply as their “ship” or “flying apparatus”. UFOs can generally be classified into the following explanations (see Contact Report 250:59-89):

1. Naturally occurring phenomenon (see e.g. Contact Report 163:103-154)
2. Misidentified common objects (airplanes, helicopters, satellites, weather balloons, etc.)
3. Secret military aircraft & spacecraft (see e.g. Foo Fighters)
4. Lies (deceptions, fakes, frauds, etc.)
5. Delusions (psychiatric disorders)
6. Hallucinations
7. Bioorganic flying life forms from another dimension (“Rods”)
8. Resident Extraterrestrial spacecraft (descendents of extraterrestrials who have secretly resided on [within] Earth for a long time [“Earth foreigners”])
9. Future Earth spacecraft (time travelers from Earth’s future, see e.g. Contact Reports 602:24-26; 608:10; 651:48-50)
10. Extraterrestrial spacecraft
 - a) Plejaren federation {“a ‘community of independent worlds’ or even a ‘union of sovereign worlds’” (Contact Report 238:931); “The Federation is very broad and extends to a distance of 6.2 billion (6,200,000,000) light-years, where in connection with our Federation, another member federation exists according to our model. In between, between the two federations, which have a sphere of influence of many millions of light-years, there are isolated systems that also belong to our federations.” (Contact Report 248:188-189); “our great federation, which encompasses a measure of distance of 48,000,000 light-years” (Contact Report 357:56); “our federation, that it is spread out over three dimensions, and that our two dimensions – ours and yours – are included” (Contact Report 424:88); “274 worlds ... spread over 702 light-years” (Contact Report 799)}
 - b) Others

An excellent summary of the UFO/Extraterrestrial phenomenon is given by Billy Meier in his article “Extraterrestrials” found in Contact Report 257. Ptaah also states it quite succinctly in Contact Report 361:

65. Flying machines of extraterrestrial origin are extremely rare to observe, because the earth is far away from other inhabited worlds, so it does not often receive visits from beings from other worlds.

66. This happens only extremely sporadically and therefore very rarely.

67. So what can usually be observed in unknown flying objects around the world and especially over the entire American continent are not extraterrestrial unknown flying objects but secret earthly flying machines of American and other origin.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_1

Asket:

199. In the state of being awake, he will be just as much tricked as his friends and acquaintances by images of space ships which indeed can be projected so true to reality that anyone can catch them on film.

200. These appearances are, however, without exception, only nebulous and holographic pictures which are not able to exhibit actual contours.

201. The entire meaning lies therefore only in a malicious deception with the purposes that the concerned Earth human, who will be called (Reinhold) Schmidt, talks about himself - and spreads the images and experiences, and so forth, implanted in him by means of holographs and dream-state-hallucinations - in order to maintain the religion of Christianity.

...

229. UFOLOGY, already mentioned, which actually is supposed to serve in the spreading of truth, will likewise be pressed in the direction of sectarianism and will gain worldwide significance in this regard.

230. Like the religions themselves, ufology will become a religious means of power for the malicious extraterrestrial intelligences and, however, also a field of activity of deceitful and delusionally sick, alleged contact persons.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_2

Asket:

105. At the present time {1953} 2,700,000,000 humans live on the Earth, of whom many have observed our beamships or other beamships belonging to our federation or belonging to those who are strangers to us.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_-_Part_3

{Billy:}

(We then went to the ship together and then pushed Jitschi forward towards the transport beam, in order to get him into the ship.

Grasped by the power, he was lifted from the ground and slowly glided upward.

Quite suddenly his eyes widened unnaturally, and then a shrill scream tore the stillness.

Once Asket and I were likewise in the ship, I saw how Jitschi, pale with terror, sat in an armchair and, completely dumbfounded, stared at the entrance shaft. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_001

Billy:

Well then; isn't it a little dangerous to leave your ship landed on the ground so openly when other human beings might pass by?

Semjase:

Don't worry, because it is ensured that no human being can get closer than within a radius of 500 metres. ...

...

7. The Earth-humans have entire organisations that deal with reconnaissance of our beamships, but among them all, there is only very little material that is really genuine.

8. They are in possession of very many photos, which, however, depict nothing more than some lights and light phenomena of natural origin or quite deliberate counterfeits.

9. Only very few of these photographic proofs are genuine and really show our beamships.

10. Most of the photos are just montages or forged recordings made by deceivers and charlatans, whose names thereby became known worldwide.

...

15. If the deceivers and charlatans were actually linked to us and, thus, were standing or have stood in contact with us, then we would have given them the opportunity to create very clear photo evidence of our beamships.

16. But since they are dishonest human beings, we have not given them this opportunity.

17. As proof for this fact, we gave you the opportunity to take clear pictures of one of our beamships.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_002

Semjase:

37. Thus contactees who only saw our beamships from a distance and were also often able to photograph them.

38. But only very few had personal contact with us, and that is still the case even today.

39. Most of them, however, wrap themselves in silence because they fear their fellow human beings.

...

60. Also many other pilots have encountered our or alien ships.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_004

Billy:

... If I look over everything and think over it carefully, then the shape of the beamship doesn't play a major role, but a disc-shaped ship should be the ideal form, because it offers the least resistance aerodynamically in the area of an atmosphere, which certainly should also be the case in the water.

Semjase:

68. Sure, you have gotten to the heart of the matter again.

69. Basically, though, the shape really plays no role.

70. However, the disc shape guarantees the least resistance in an atmosphere, and it furthermore has the largest possible areas to make the drives on or through it fully effective.

Billy:

That is clear to me, but how is it possible that a beamship can reach tremendous speeds in the gravitational field of a planet or in its atmosphere without it burning up or the passengers simply falling victim to the immense inertial force?

Semjase:

71. That is very easy to explain and is also not a secret anymore to the Earth-humans, at least not to the scientists:

72. The beamship is surrounded by a radiation protection belt, which allows every waft of air to be diverted immediately, without displacing it.

73. Exactly the same thing also happens in the outer space, which is only teeming with inconspicuous, minute particles.

74. Thus, this radiation protection shield has the function of protecting the beamship against all external influences and resistances, without without destroying or displacing anything that collides with the shield.

75. All things intruding or offering resistance simply get deflected, without causing a displacement.

76. A displacement would in fact already mean resistance and lift the possibility of the unlimited speed.

77. Through this radiation protection shield granting a sliding off, another important effect is triggered, which is of great significance and of vital importance for the passengers.

78. As a result of the sliding off technology of the radiation protection shield, the gravitational pull of a planet is neutralised at the same time.

79. However, this does not mean that it is simply destroyed, displaced or cancelled.

80. In the same way, the air, as well as any radiation or particles and magnetism etc., are simply diverted, with the result that the normal gravitational force and attraction force prevail in the beamship.

81. This means that a beamship of the Earth harbours exactly the same attraction force inside as it also prevails on the Earth.

82. This attraction force of a planet is not always equally strong, by the way, but is subject to a certain change, something which will be noticed by your scientists in foreseeable time.

83. By the sliding off at the radiation protection shield, that is, the sliding off of the gravitational force i.e. the attraction force, the beamship practically becomes an independent miniature planet, which can to almost the speed of light fly through any atmosphere without risk.

84. And since the attraction force of the planet concerned no longer has any influence on the beamship, the passengers also feel as normal and unweighted as if they were on the planet itself, always provided, of course, that the planet itself corresponds to their anatomical capabilities and is not subject to greater attraction forces.

85. In the beamship itself, the attraction force is tuned to the passengers, of course, and is absolutely controllable.

86. When passengers of beamships from other worlds move on planets that are foreign to them and hostile to them in terms of atmosphere or attraction forces, then they use space suits and small transportable devices that produce exactly the same radiation protection shield for the respective being as it is characteristic for the beamship.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_005

Semjase:

146. And there came the time when the descendants flew out into the unending expanses of the universe in round, plate-like flying ships with beam drives.

147. Other solar systems and planets were flown to and expeditioned.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_007

Semjase:

3. Soon, I will receive a new beamship, which you can then also photograph at close range, in order to get rather good photos.

4. Unfortunately, in my current ship the automatic beams are still installed, which would destroy your films up to a distance of about 100 metres, i.e. very precisely 90 metres.

5. The radiation is not harmful to living organisms, but as I said, it would destroy your films.

...

10. Regarding my old ship I would still like to explain that it is already several hundred years old and still represents one of the old forms.

11. These old ships are still built according to the principle of corrugation, a form that has found application with us for reasons of stability.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_009

Semjase:

40. The gift of observation of the human beings of Earth is very bad and superficial.

41. They very often regard our beamships as some kind of earthly airplanes etc., where through they hardly pay attention to them more than a short fraction of a second.

42. They are quite simply not used to a very precise observing and considering.

43. But on the other hand it is the case that we mostly protect our beamships against any sight, so that the human beings are unable to observe us.

44. It is a breeze for us to, just according to our wishes, protect our ships within a radius of 500 m completely or partially, laterally, from above or below by means of a distortion screen against sight.

45. Therefore, when I allowed you to photograph my ship from one side, it was shielded from further view on all other sides by the distortion screens, so that no uninitiated persons were able to see it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_011

Billy:

... Why did the radiation phenomena become visible?

Semjase:

50. It only concerns atmospheric disturbances, which will dissolve in a few months.

51. They come from your system satellite Saturn, which currently influences the Earth's atmosphere.

52. Through these disturbances, particularly the antenna's conducting beam and the energy collecting beam as well as the regeneration radiation become visible.

53. The antenna's conducting beam and the energy collecting beam appear as a fine line of energy over the beamship, while the regeneration radiation becomes visible beneath the ship in various hues.

Billy:

You speak of regeneration radiation. Is the captured energy regenerated again after consumption?

Semjase:

54. The energy only becomes used and regenerated again for the radiation drive.

55. It is not consumed, however, as you said.

56. Our whole technology is aligned toward natural rectification, but not toward destruction.

Billy:

I understand; the natural principle is, thus, implosion and regeneration, rather than explosion and destruction.

Semjase:

57. You certainly could not have expressed it more precisely.

...

Semjase:

160. ... various foreign objects have flown into the terrestrial space lately, but we cannot monitor all of them.

161. As a rule, they also immediately leave the Earth again, as soon as they have satisfied their curiosity or thirst for knowledge.

Billy:

What was it, then, in the evening of the 20th of March at 19:30 hrs? My children and my wife called me to the window because they saw, only about 1 kilometre away in the west, an object of reddish and yellow colour moving from the north to the south. Also, various local residents had marveled at it from the street.

Semjase:

162. That also wasn't one of us, but nevertheless, the event is known to me.

163. It concerns a beamship of a race known to us from a neighbouring system of our home.

164. It concerns peacefully minded beings, who travel around space and worlds for expeditionary purposes.

165. In particular, the Earth interests them, and therefore, their luminous beamships are also often observed here.

166. Their technology is not yet as advanced as ours, and the beings themselves are also rather unconcerned about whether they are seen or not.

Billy:

What kind of beings or life-forms are they?

Semjase:

167. They are human forms, and what is very important is that they are peaceful and very interconnected with us, which cannot be said, unfortunately, of all who cross through outer space.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_013

Semjase:

41. It might be possible that someone has observed the start of my ship and reported this to the authorities or the army, after which a search might have taken place, which unfortunately happens here and there, if we are not careful enough or if some careless foreign ships appear or even land.

...

45. Especially authorities and military feel very threatened in their power, when they are informed about sightings or landings of beamships, etc., although we are not interested in breaking or endangering their primitive power, because this task is incumbent solely on the Earth-humans.

46. But even though they are very interested in our beamships and do research and investigations, the authorities and the military strongly deny these facts.

47. All relevant information concerning spaceships, sightings and landings, etc., is therefore denied by them as much as their secret investigations and investigations of beam-ship landing sites, etc.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_014

Billy:

I hear it too, Semjase, a tractor, which is approaching.

Semjase:

78. We must separate, otherwise the vehicle will be halted and switched off by the ship's protective shield.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_016

Semjase:

11. The danger created by this carelessness on our part is of less importance to you than it is to our cause itself and to certain research findings which would be made by appropriate investigations of your scientists and which would not benefit the human beings of your world in their present development.

12. These scientific research findings could be obtained on and in the Weather trees that I have used as objects of comparison for my flights.

13. They absorbed radiation from my ship and absorbed it because I came into its immediate vicinity or even touched it with the ship.

14. This radiation, which is absolutely harmless to any form of life, lasts for several months and could be detected and analysed by your scientists, which would mean a very rapid increase in their research and knowledge.

15. But not powerful in things, they would cause devastating catastrophes, which we cannot allow because it would be the direct fault of our carelessness.

16. But since our technology etc. does not allow us to simply paralyze the radiation absorbed by the trees or to remove it from the trees, there is only one possibility left, namely to eliminate these trees in the past, whereby of course all memories, written down documents and photos etc. are also eliminated at the same time.

...

20. This is also one of the reasons why we always make our landings in such a way that we cannot be observed, because there is always the danger of radiation being emitted, which could be detected and analysed by scientists if it were caught by anything.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_018

Semjase:

152. At a given point in time, which I do not wish to mention in advance for certain reasons, I will give your group once again opportunity to observe my beamship.

153. In this regard I have again chosen a time of night, because everything can be observed better in the darkness.

154. I will demonstrate to them the potentials of different energies which will be very well visible as light effects in the darkness.

155. However, some of the energies I can only bring to use high up in the atmosphere, because otherwise they would have a deadly effect on different earthly life forms.

156. Nevertheless, everything will be a just as unforgettable demonstration spectacle for your group members as it will be for many other coincidental observers, because I will not use any protective measures to shield the sight during the demonstration.

157. During this action you are kindly asked to observe very specific precautionary rules and also to be concerned that no other persons than you approach closer than 910 metres to my beamship, because this could have deadly consequences for them, or at least consequences which would damage their health or even their consciousness.

158. In this regard I will shield and protect you personally, whereby you will not suffer any harm.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_026

Billy:

... For a long time, I have suspected that there are other extraterrestrials in our world besides you, but with very different desires and hopes. These beings may be wholly alien to your race, at least some of them, but others must be of your own race.

...

... So I start from the assumption that certain forms of life which are strange to you are trying to wander around from the vastness of the universe on our Earth and in the space of the world and to influence other forms of life in various forms. On the other hand, I also suspect that one or more groups of descendants of your old race have not yet returned to you, and that they are still living according to the forms of a deity. Since they still have to live according to the old forms, it can practically only be that they influence many life forms and also the Earth-humans according to this and appear as emissaries of a god. ...

Semjase:

...

41. With your speculations you are very right, because there are other forms of life in the earthly space than just ours.

42. There are also still some splinter groups of our own former races here, but also on other worlds where they still live according to their old forms.

43. They constantly try to influence the life forms, especially the Earth-humans, according to their forms.

44. Already the ancestors had appeared as gods, and they still do.

45. They are anxious not to release the Earth-humans in particular from this form and to continue to make them dependent on themselves through stoic references to religious heresies, etc. and to cast them under their spell.

46. For a long time they have been trying again to break into your world in order to subdue humanity on the Earth.

...

53. On the other hand, many Earth-humans are subject to deceptions, caused by hallucinations or by certain unconscious workings and intended illusory projections of the extraterrestrial life forms for the purpose of underpinning their heresies.

54. Great suggestive influences for deceptive purposes also belong to it, as do appearances of many other forms.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_027

{Billy:}

(We go together to the beam ship, where we are simply lifted into the ship by an elevator-like, invisible powers and immediately stand in the cockpit, while behind us the hatch closes automatically and completely silently. In the cockpit there is a green-yellow light, which is obviously produced by the on-board windows, which are orange on the outside, but green-yellow on the inside. This observation also leads me to the first question.)

Billy:

How come, Semjase, the ship's windows are orange on the outside and yellow-green in here?

Semjase:

27. The outside is specially coated and changes colour depending on the atmosphere.
28. In an atmosphere that is beneficial to us, the material turns orange and throws this yellow-green light inwards.
29. If the outside is coloured differently, for example green, yellow, red or blue etc., the inside light changes immediately.
30. Without special analyses, we are thus informed as to whether or not we need a protective suit in the atmosphere in question.
31. A failure of this type of atmosphere determination is completely impossible, and furthermore, the automatic system only opens the airlock and the exit shaft when the occupants are wearing the relevant protective suits.
32. This is made possible by the use of sensing eyes or sensors which find the appropriate contacts at certain points on the suits.
33. If one wants to leave the ship in an atmosphere that is unhealthy to us, then this is only possible with the protective suit, otherwise the automatic safety mechanism is activated and all exits are locked.
34. When we step out of those layers of a world where the atmosphere is lifted, the outside of the windows becomes transparent and clear and hardly differs from your clear glass.
35. The windows also prevent the penetration of any radiation through the special coating, so there is no danger.
36. They only let through neutralised light.
37. For observation we have our control devices, which enable us to look much more closely than looking out through the windows, which should not be very suitable for taking pictures, because the pictures probably become unclear, at least as long as the outside is coloured.
38. In higher layers, however, this should resolve itself, so you can take clear pictures.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_029

Semjase:

35. At the present time we are the most highly developed life forms that travel this Earth from outside your world and are also stationed here.
36. Although there are other life forms that penetrate your Earth space, fly in and partly also have their stations here, we correspond to the highest level of evolution of all.
37. The second most developed form of life after us lies little more than 1840 years of total evolution behind us.
38. Of all present extraterrestrial life forms, which currently live in the earthly space, we are therefore a little more than 1840 Earth years ahead in the total evolutionary standing.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_031

{Billy:}

(We head to the ship and let ourselves be lifted by the transport beam. After a few seconds the ship is already hovering high, and from an altitude of about 50 metres I take some photos of the surroundings of the ship's departure point below. I take some straight from above, and others at an angle. I take them through the still open transport beam hatch, while we slowly rise. After I finish Semjase closes the hatch, and within seconds the ship shoots up several kilometres higher, without me being able to feel any acceleration or other external forces. It's just as if I was standing on solid ground somewhere on Earth. Also several sudden changes of direction cause no effect, even if through the ship's window I can see that we often shoot in different directions like a crazy giant pendulum.)

...

(The flight to Venus does not take very long, so I have just enough time to examine in more detail the equipment for making the photos: the viewing screen looks to me like clear glass, through which everything outside can be observed. I only notice that this whole viewing screen has a very fine resolution, similar to a photographic print. The size of the screen is about 50 x 50 cm (~20") while the colour-radiation device is installed on the side of it and recessed, so I could not examine its inner workings. Beside this device, there is also an oscillograph and many different kinds of apparatuses all around the cockpit room, installed within a circular control console and on the walls. All this strange-looking equipment, already seen on the first flight, is obviously used for the guidance and control of the beamship, while also serving as exploration devices, distance meters, radiation control devices, and other such things, all playing important roles in the operation of the flight machine. All the display screens, except the oscillograph, however, differ fundamentally from all other apparatuses of Earth origin I have ever seen of similar type, whereby all the appearing forms, symbols and figures on these screens are expressed in beautiful and often fantastic colours and also extraordinarily vividly. Unlike the Earth displays that I know, which in practice are only able to display flat 2-dimensional images lacking depth, these screens show everything in vivid 3-dimensional realism, like they are physically real and not just a technically generated image. ...

...

(Semjase now sets the ship to fast speed, and we go round Venus a number of times. ...

...

... When at 16:30 hrs we are back over the Earth, I can see several flying objects in free space; besides two satellites of Earth origin, I can also see five objects which with certainty are extraterrestrial spaceships. This is confirmed by Semjase, when I ask her about it. Only one of the five ships belongs to her people, whereas the other four spaceships belong to other races, who are here to watch the Apollo-Soyuz joining. Oddly, I cannot discern those objects through the ship's windows or the viewing screen of the photography device, but only on the beamship's image screens. Semjase explains to me that all the ships are masked from view and can only be detected through the special "zero-visibility" screens. The zero-visibility screens, she explains, use a special vision device that is able to capture and reproduce images of all that the naked eye and primitive monitoring devices such as radars cannot see or detect. ...

...

Semjase:

... with our technology we are 3,500 years of development ahead of yours.

...

{Billy:}

... I turn to Semjase, who sits in her oddly shaped conformable chair, and directs the beamship through the darkness of space ...

...

(At a distance difficult for me to estimate, a huge metal sphere is hanging in the darkness of space, reflecting only weakly the light of the Sun. Very slowly now the speed of the beamship decreases. Semjase is sitting very attentively before her instrument panels, steering knowingly and carefully in the direction of the huge sphere, which looks to me like a small planet. I can see, way down in the lower third, a little to the left, a big gap is opening laterally, which I soon recognise as an entrance hatch. It's doubtlessly a hangar, into which we are now slowly flying. Innumerable beamships of the same type as ours are standing there in orderly rows by rank and file, and only a 100 x 100 metre square of the hangar entrance is cleared. I look back at the hangar entrance and can see how a wall is moving from bottom to top and closing the entrance. Everything all around is now brightly illuminated, and the light, which is light blue, seems to come directly from the walls. The whole hangar is huge and this spherical ship, judging by these interior spaces, has to be gigantic. I ask Semjase for its measurements.)

Billy:

How big is this spaceship, Semjase?

Semjase:

74. It is big, it's even very big, and it's the largest of its type.

75. It is a truly special ship which embodies all the technologies known to us.

76. Altogether it is its own perfect world, a world that's able to fly.

77. In itself it contains a complete and inhabited city with 141,000 inhabitants.

78. Everything needed for living can be produced inside the ship itself, and it is absolutely independent of anything of any kind from outside its boundary.

79. This spaceship represents our latest development, and has been working together with other ones of this same kind for four years now in Earth's chronology.

80. They find useful applications as self-sustained expeditionary ships and for intergalactic order keeping.

81. They are able to move within all times and spaces, and for them negotiating the barrier between Universes is no longer an obstacle, whereby an all-universal community made of countless life-forms can be included.

...

94. With the help of her {Asket's} race from the DAL Universe, we came into possession of knowledge of higher technological capabilities and received the most exact data for the development of these great spaceships, which we have been using, as I said, for four of your Earth years now.

95. For Asket's people the handing over of this data was no problem because they mastered the way of overcoming distances that these ships are capable of more than 700 years ago.

96. In Earth years Asket's race is about 350 years ahead of us in development regarding all technological fields.

...

113. But now let's leave our ship because the room is atmospherically prepared for you as well.

114. We are in a security room, which is fully atmospherically pressurised even when gaps are open to outer space.

115. This whole space is nevertheless sealed off from the actual living area by invisible barriers, so that security is truly comprehensive.

{Billy:}

(We let ourselves float through the shaft by the transport beam and stand on the metal floor of the great-spacer. For the first time now since I am outside the beamship, I realise that the cleared landing space of about 100 x 100 metres is surrounded by glass-clear walls, and that innumerable other small beamships are beyond these walls. Between these parked ships many human beings are rushing about, quite obviously involved with the various ships. But I also see walking mechanical figures, quite obviously robotic, which are hurrying quite busily along as well, executing various tasks. Very far beyond, I am just able to see some bigger beamships, which have completely different shapes from the ones hitherto known to me. Semjase occupies herself with a small device in her hand, and I see that before us the transparent wall opens and reveals an entrance. Then completely silently comes a small floating vehicle, not bigger in size than a Volkswagen car. It floats about 20cm above the floor and is equipped with very comfortable seats on top. Semjase asks me to take one of the seats beside her, and the peculiar moving vehicle floats away and slowly rises higher and higher. I look back and watch how the transparent wall closes up again after our beamship is taken by the previously seen robots into the main hangar-hall.

This hangar-hall seems to take up the whole lower-third part of the giant spaceship for its complete diameter, up to a height of about 600 to 800 metres (1,800 to 2,400 feet). The ceiling above, like the walls, also radiates a bluish light, which seems like the sky to me. And if I am not mistaken, there is a big opening above, exactly in the centre of the ceiling. Soon I can see that this is so, as we head in this direction in our floating transportation vehicle, and we climb up inside this opening. Also inside this shaft is the same gentle blue illumination coming from the walls. For minutes we climb up with increasing speed, until Semjase suddenly stops the floating vehicle and docks it into a side compartment in the wall. In here, there is an open space of approximately 2,000 x 1,000 metres, and I feel myself completely transported into a magical world. Wherever I look, I see green fields, trees, shrubs and flowers. A real little Garden of Eden in this space giant.)

...

Billy:

I mean, how far have we floated up inside this giant, how many metres?

Semjase:

118. Some 11,000 metres.

119. We have stopped here near the centre of the ship, which is where the actual city is located.

Billy:

Man oh man, then during this short time we have travelled with this vehicle, higher than our tallest mountain on Earth, higher than Mount Everest.

...

Semjase:

...

138. We will walk through the park's facilities now to another transport hub which will lift us up into the main control centre.

139. This is located in the top of the dome of the Great Spacer.

...

{Billy:}

(Slowly we walk along narrow paths through the parks. The paths are soft and not made of metal, but rather of some kind of plastic or something similar. Here is a fantastic world of flowers, of mostly completely unknown flowers and scents. But I also see flowers, bushes and trees exactly like the ones I know from Earth. It's simply a true paradise. We only take 20 minutes to cross the park, and then we stand again before a transportation pit with a vehicle floating in front of it, which we then use to drive up it, if I may use this term. With increasing speed, we float higher again, and suddenly the firmament lies open above us. As far as my eyes can see, over the end of the shaft I see nothing but the infinite vastness of the Universe. Stars twinkle, and I ask myself how could we have simply floated out into space because we should not be able to survive up here where there is no air. I understand things quickly though, as we reach the end of the shaft, because at this end lies the cupola which Semjase had spoken of. An enormous space exists here with console-like furnishings in which apparatuses and screens are imbedded. Before them are human beings and an unknown to me form of life, which I soon recognise as being bio-mechanical. Real bio-mechanical humans, androids. The whole command centre is a giant domed cupola several kilometres in diameter. Over the whole thing spreads the free cosmos, and I wonder how one can still breathe. Then I remember the completely transparent walls of the hangar, and it becomes evident to me that the whole ceiling of the cupola must consist of this transparent material. So I ask Semjase about it.)

Billy:

Semjase, can you explain to me, what is this transparent material, that the cupola is made of? Is it a kind of glass?

Semjase:

156. No, it is not glass, nor any kind of glass.

157. It is a very stable metal alloy, like the one used on the walls of the beamship hangar.

...

Billy:

You mean that everything is simply made transparent by technical means?

Semjase:

159. Sure, all the walls as well as the cupola are completely stable, and made of the hardest metal.

160. However through the radiations, resp. swinging waves generated by our equipment we can make everything transparent.

161. To the eye it then appears just so, as if there was simply nothing there, or as if you were looking through clear glass.

...

{Billy:}

(And once again we float on the vehicle towards the middle of the huge command centre. I can already recognise a horseshoe-shaped structure about 100 metres high, completely covered with apparatuses and image screens, and its centre is overall not bigger than an average room. A single bearded man stands inside this horseshoe, looking towards us. As Semjase brings our means of transportation towards an encircled area about 60 metres from the horseshoe, this watching man starts to move toward us, and I can now see him more clearly. He is wearing a suit similar to that of Semjase ...

...

... Now all three of us are sitting in very comfortable seats inside the horseshoe-shaped console. On the image screens all the planets of our sun-system can be seen ...

Billy:

Ptaah, how fast are we going now?

Ptaah:

20. Look here, this instrument displays the velocity.

21. You can read it very easily by yourself, even if you do not understand our script.

22. In your understanding, these lines stand for the decimals, and these sharp arrow-headed brackets mark the hundreds.

23. These half-height lines mark the thousands, and these point-lines the hundred-thousands.

24. These ring-lines here would mean for you the speed of light.

25. Now you can just add up the values and thus you calculate the speed yourself.

Billy:

...

This makes 289,000 kilometres per second. Is that right, Ptaah?

Ptaah:

...

27. You have counted correctly.

28. Our terms are different but they give equivalent values.

{Billy:}

(Semjase turns to her father and explains what I meant by "fantastic." He does not seem to understand it immediately. It is funny that I know these words in the Greek language since I have never known them before. Suddenly I am simply speaking perfect Greek, and I don't understand how, so I ask.)

Billy:

How is it, Semjase, that I can suddenly speak fully fluent Greek?

Semjase:

176. My father has turned off the language translator and has instead turned on the language transformer.

177. This device uses the ship's language computer.

178. This converter is now continuously transforming the desired Greek language into impulses, and transmitting them.

179. Your brain then detects these impulses, and with that you can speak each desired word without knowing it beforehand.

...

{Billy:}

... But with my watch it's also strange; when close to Semjase's beamship, the watch always went too fast or too slow. ...

...

Semjase:

314. Come now, let's go down to my beamship.

{Billy:}

(Semjase takes me by the hand and pulls me to a kind of metal box next to the horseshoe-shaped switch and control gear console. There is no door on the box, but instead, a hole in the floor measuring about one metre of diameter, which is illuminated by a shimmering blue light. A shaft that goes into an endless depth and seems to have no end. I look down and see that very far below, the walls of the shaft get closer and finally seem to touch. I cannot see the end. It's clear to me that the self-narrowing of the shaft far below is only an illusion. Man, and now we supposed are to step into it?)

Semjase:

315. Simply step into the shaft and let yourself slide down.

{Billy:}

... And I jump. Man, I am really hanging in the air, oh, now it's slowly going downwards; and now it gets faster and faster. Oh boy, this is really a sliding shaft. I look up; aha, there comes Semjase as well. Man, this is great, but why am I suddenly slowing down? Oh, there is already ground beneath me. I am standing on solid ground now, and here are again all the many beamships from before. We are at the hangar.)

...

(I see that the hangar doors have opened themselves during our short conversation. Now the small beamship slowly rises and floats towards Asket's huge spaceship which hangs in free space only a few hundred metres away. As in the giant from which we departed, we float into an airlock, which however is very much smaller than the one on Ptaah's space giant. Now we are inside, and immediately the opening closes behind us. Everything happens very quickly, and we then let ourselves float down through the exit to the floor of the small hangar. Here we stand now, and all around I see only metallic, light-emitting walls. There are no other beamships in here, only ours. Without a word, I follow Semjase, who approaches a wall on the right side in which an opening suddenly appears, through which we pass now. And behind us, the small passage closes again. We are now in a cozy room with very comfortable seating accommodations and some structures which obviously have to be tables. ...

...

Nera:

19. With us both sexes are acknowledged as both equally valuable and entitled.

20. For this reason our beamships are also manned accordingly by male and female life-forms, whereby every position is also filled alternately by both sexes.

...

Asket:

36. I only fear that the photos you take of me and Nera now, won't come out very well.

...

37. I know from my stay on Earth, that the images were always very poor, when they were taken aboard our ship or in the surroundings.

38. They mostly were very unsharp or simply blurred.

39. This has to do with certain energy radiations which are harmless to living forms, but distort everything, and often impair and change the colours of colour films.

...

Semjase:

439. We can only make our ship visible on very few worlds.

440. So we can't leave it either and have to be content with looking at everything from the beamships.

...

Ptaah:

380. That is why there are also various groups that are supposedly concerned with the enlightenment of things with us and our ships, but who in reality only use this as a pretext to consolidate and spread their religious sectarianism in order to thereby beat the world even worse into religious bondage.

...

Billy:

... I have heard and read that our scientists are trying to make their own earthly beamships. Is that true and how advanced are these things?

Ptaah:

383. This information is consistent with the truth to the extent that such flying apparatuses are in their infancy being built on Earth.

384. However, they are not beamships, but flying machines similar to our ships, equipped only with explosion engines or, more recently, with jet engines with recoil effect.

385. The construction of such ships on Earth in modern times is not entirely new, however, for the first ships of this kind were completed in planning and construction as early as 1941.

386. In mid-February 1945, the first flights were carried out up to altitudes of around 12500 metres, developing speeds of just over 2000 kilometres per hour.

387. It was all commissioned by the Führer of the Second World War, Adolf Hitler.

388. At the end of the war, however, everything was destroyed so that it would not fall into the hands of the enemy.

389. Various plans and devices and apparatuses, however, were overlooked and fell into other hands.

390. From these, various groups developed the disc-shaped ships of terrestrial origin that exist today.

391. These 'flying discs', as they are called by the designers, naturally require their test flights to test their properties, etc.

392. Many of these objects can therefore be observed by Earth-humans as they are flown about to be flown in or tested.

393. The largest of these terrestrial flying objects of this type already reach nearly 10 metres in diameter and are already quite numerous.

394. Of course, this is quite vigorously denied by the governments of the states possessing them.

395. However, their machines have often crashed, because they are still rather poorly developed in all respects.

396. But the uninitiated human beings of Earth live in the mistaken belief that these 'flying discs' they observe are of the same kind as our beamships and come from extraterrestrial worlds.

Billy:

So that is how it is. Then several of the UFOs observed around the world are not UFOs at all, but simply terrestrial 'flying discs'.

Ptaah:

397. That is so, yes.

398. Often they are also forced to make emergency landings because their constructions, devices and apparatus are still very inadequate.

399. Their explosion engines and jet engines, which they recently also want to operate atomically, but which are still wishes for the future, very often cause combustion damage.

400. Human beings who come into the vicinity of such combustion fires are so often also threatened by dangers of atomic radiation, starting from experimental atomic reactors, which are supposed to serve for propulsion, but which will not succeed for a long time yet.

401. If distressed ships of this kind are approached by observers, by which I mean that they go near them, then they are often frightened by the occupants, or even abducted and deported, in order to ensure their absolute silence.

402. Such occurrences are unfortunately not uncommon on the Earth, but through the ignorance of human beings and various unreal 'enlightenment striving' groups they are invariably attributed to extraterrestrial life-forms.

403. In truth, there are probably also malignant intelligences from outer space that haunt your Earth or stray there, but there are not so many of them that they would be of great significance.

404. Most observations of 'flying discs' with human predations are of terrestrial origin.

405. Earth-humans should be aware of this when they encounter any 'flying discs' whose occupants are well aware of the fact that very many human beings believe these objects to be of extraterrestrial origin.

406. This knowledge is also very often exploited by them by imagining some gullible Earth-humans as extraterrestrial intelligences.

407. Aware of their religious power, they also do not shy away from pretending to be angels and God's messengers and appearing as 'saviours' of Earth-humans, whereby they then proclaim the deceived gullible to be contactors and assign them mysterious missions which are supposedly for the benefit of Earth-humans, but which in reality only serve their own profit and the benefit of their own country's espionage.

408. The most popular places of origin these malevolent deceptive elements and occupants of earthly 'flying discs' name are Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Uranus.

409. But also the nearest neighbouring systems of your solar system have to serve for this, as well as the Pleiades in the coming time, when you will have become world-famous through your contacts with us.

410. In the process, my daughter Semjase and my person will also be falsely accused of being contact beings with Earth-humans who are fraudulent in this respect, as well as alleged Pleiades beings who do not exist.

...

Billy:

... I know that my wristwatch always goes crazy when I get close to Semjase's beamships. ...

...

Billy:

... You know that your daughter has given me several opportunities to photograph her beamships. Once my camera actually exploded in my hand due to some kind of swinging waves from the ship. This vibration factor was then switched off by you. ...

...

Ptaah:

779. My daughter explained to you at the time that we had found radiation on the photos and films that we wanted to analyse, which is why you also gave us the film material.

{Note: See Contact Report 11, Semjase sentences 50-57.}

780. On the one hand, we found that some of the radiation had been caused by a planet of the SOL system {Saturn} and was now slowly subsiding, but on the other hand, we also analysed radiation in Semjase's new beamships, which caused mirage-like reflections.

781. However, this radiation is neither dangerous nor significant.

782. It does, however, have a tendency to cause an object to shift optically when the ship gets too close.

...

Billy:

That is interesting. I have already seen various weapons in Semjase's beamships, but also in Asket's ship when she was on Earth. Sfath also had weapons on board, and your space giant is also equipped with a wide variety of weapons. Now how does this rhyme with various claims that extraterrestrial intelligences would not have any weapons or at least would not use them? I know from various UFO reports today that it is always claimed that peace is produced by peace, etc.

Ptaah:

1018. These are just crazy claims of fraudulent do-gooders who unquestioningly feign contacts with extraterrestrials in order to promote their fanciful wishes, which are extremely unrealistic.

1019. Neither we nor any other life-form in this or any other universe can afford to have no or unsuitable weapons.

1020. Every single life-form race in the universe has weapons of all kinds, just as you do on Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_038

Semjase:

233. For a long time I have promised you that I will take you into another dimension one day.

234. If you want, then we can visit this three-world dimension, although I would also have to order father there.

235. With my beam ship I can penetrate into that or any other dimension, but I cannot return.

236. We'll need Father's spaceship to do that.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_039

Semjase:

40. No, you may recognise it through the viewing window because the visibility of the radiation occurs through a radiation shield that is spread out by the entire ship.

...

Semjase:

260. Mount Shasta is an old volcanic mountain with a partially still unexplored area in America, or more precisely, in northern California.

...

262. In the interior of the mountain itself is a small city, which is inhabited by descendants of extraterrestrials and which, here and there, also receives a visit from their space brothers from outer space.

263. It is a very majestic race, peaceful and good, but which anxiously strives not to be discovered by Earth-humans.

...

266. Their golden spaceships of a spherical form – for they master spaceflight – can sometimes be seen when they do not protect these from view.

...

Ptaah:

10. The world there {Note: one of three worlds existing in a dimension which was previously accessible through a naturally occurring “dimension gate” (which no longer exists) in the “Bermuda Triangle”} is about 870 years ahead of your time; thus, the human beings are also accordingly developed in their technology and have their own beamships, with which they arrive at your Earth every now and then.

...

{Billy:}

(With Ptaah's Great Spacer, we glide out into space, while Semjase and I let ourselves fall into the transportation chute and, in the hangar, go to her ship. Soon, we glide out of the airlock into free space ...

...

Semjase:

354. Surely, because we are foreigners here; that is why I also had to put the protective screen into effect around my beamship.

355. The human beings of this dimension and time have, indeed, become much more peaceful than those on your world in your time, but they are still barbaric and quite aggressive, so they would force us to land, which would be very unpleasant for us.

...

357. Look over there; that is one of their beamships.

Billy:

Beamships? Girl, then these elves already master space travel!

Semjase:

358. Sure, they also have about 500 years more development behind themselves than the Earth-humans of your time, which I already said.

...

Billy:

But still, look – the beamships that they have. I know those from somewhere. I have seen those before. Wait, ah yes – you, they look remarkably similar to the fantasy products of spaceships, which I recently saw on television. It was the broadcast of a futuristic story by the name of Orion {Note: possibly referring to a 1966 German TV show called Raumpatrouille: Die phantastischen Abenteuer des Raumschiffes Orion.} The ship over there looks deceptively like that thing on TV.

...

Semjase:

360. That is, however, not the case.

361. Consider what I already explained to you once before, namely that certain Earth-humans receive data and information from external telepathic impulses and unconsciously, so also authors and such people.

362. Thus, they describe things and possibilities of the future and also make drawings and models.

363. Through this, they slowly prepare the Earth-humans and, in particular, the scientists for the coming events, cognitions, and forms and give them the drive for development.

364. Hence, if you now see the beamship out there, which corresponds to the form known to you, then for this, you can also find the reason for it in my explanation.

...

Ptaah:

221. If you want to take pictures on Venus, however, then you need a light source with your camera.

222. I have various specialised, small beamships with strong light sources.

223. I will let two of these aircraft fly with you, so you can take pictures through their light.

...

{Billy:}

... Then, she {Semjase} goes back up into space, and there, I see a UFO flying over the Moon again, which I had already noticed during an earlier flight and which was christened "Sewing Machine" by Hans Jacob. Of course, I film this, too. ...

...

Billy:

But we are hovering right over my house.

Semjase:

367. Even so, any observers would not be able to see us; my ship is shielded.

...

{Billy:}

(I let myself slide through the hatch, and suddenly, I do not see the beamship anymore. I raise my hand upward, and sure enough, my hand just disappears, but I sense that it meets with metal. Thus, the ship is there, even though I cannot see it anymore. So I leave, and as I am standing only a few metres away on the street, I feel a slight pull. I quickly go back with an outstretched arm, but I cannot feel anything. There, Semjase's voice penetrates into me.)

Semjase:

373. I am already very high above you; just look.

{Billy:}

(I look up into the sky. There, a large light, which is now quickly becoming smaller, moves very quickly and vertically into the sky and soon disappears.)

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_045

Billy:

Quite simply; we would like to know what kind of metal you use for your beamships.

Semjase:

34. I can explain that to you:

35. Through a transformation process, we gain it from lead.

36. We extract this soft metal from many things, e.g. from lead-containing atmospheres of stars and planets, from waters, from various plants, etc., as well as from various ore rocks of destroyed stars and planets, comets, etc. exposed to decay.

37. Through a process that is very complicated on the Earth, we convert the captured lead substances into the soft metal lead, which we then convert into a hard metal form through further chemical-mechanical processes, which is much harder than your metal, which you call steel.

38. This, however, is unsuitable in its form for beamships, which is why it is converted by further conversion processes into an alloy with certain values and properties suitable for beamships, about which, however, I am not allowed to give any further details.

39. The end product, which must have very special properties, then consists of an alloy.

Billy:

I understood that so far, but what metals does this alloy consist of? Do we have similar metals on the Earth?

Semjase:

40. Sure, you have the exact same metals that exist all over the universe on the stars and planets and so on.

41. This, however, does not mean that all metal ores which are present in the universe, are to be found on the Earth.

Billy:

That is to be assumed, but you have not fully answered my question. I wanted to know what metals the alloy was made of?

Semjase:

42. Let me explain that to you:

43. It is a copper-nickel-silver alloy that also contains gold for certain beamships.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_046

Billy:

... It is only now not yet clear to me how you actually process the metal, because neither on your beamship nor on Ptaah's giant box could I see joints or seams, etc. Nothing is riveted either.

Semjase:

38. For this purpose we use a device that you would call a welding machine.

39. However, it is based on a vibration technique that liquefies the metal in a cold state and allows it to flow into each other, making it absolutely seamless and forming a single piece.
40. That is why we do not know about grinding metal like you do when you do welding and then have to grind away the seams to level it out.

...

42. Our technology ensures that seam breaks or tears can never occur.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_048

Semjase:

58. Anyway, you shall take several pictures of my new ship.

Billy:

What does the new vehicle look like?

Semjase:

59. The measurements remain approximately the same and only small changes occur in the outer cladding.

60. The great innovations are housed inside and offer many more possibilities than is the case in my current ship.

61. With the new one, I am also able to penetrate dimensions in both directions.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_050

Semjase:

7. I am here with five of our reconnaissance ships which analyse everything.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_052

Semjase:

89. ... the light of the telemeter ships corresponds to a special value and serves the course determination.

90. As you have rightly noticed, it has a certain interval and is very bright.

91. These are radio-like impulses which serve the control.

92. If you now extinguish these, which you consider to be light, by your thought forces, then the telemeter ship gets out of control and it moves out of course uncontrolled, so it must first be brought under control again by the station on the Earth.

...

Semjase:

104. -- -- Goodbye, my thoughts will be with you.

105. It is often very ...

{Billy:}

(I only hear the last words of Semjase weakly and the rest of the sentence not at all anymore, because I glide down the antigravity shaft and remove myself quickly, sit down on my moped and drive away ...)

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_055

Semjase:

84. None of us was there, but it turned out that there was indeed a ship, but of unknown origin.

85. Quetzal was able to clarify that it was a ship with an electrical energy combustion engine that was apparently in distress and had a defect that could be repaired.

86. They pointed out clear residues of radiation traces, together with combustion phenomena in the plant world, as well as that four fruitless start attempts had been undertaken, but that the fifth attempt succeeded.

87. This also explains the intense glow you have seen.

88. With the yellow light appearances we noticed in the grass of the airfield that four further ships of the same kind must have stayed there.
89. There were no burns to be found, but residues of electrical radiation energies.
90. According to the measurements, these were probably small ships with a diameter of less than four metres.
91. These devices must have escaped our monitoring as they were not registered by us.
92. They were certainly surrounded by protection shields.
93. Moreover these apparatuses are no longer in terrestrial space, which Quetzal was able to analyse, but this does not mean, that they will not come back.

...

Billy:

Now another question: You explained to me at the beginning of our acquaintance that your beamships are equipped with a light emitting drive and further with a tachyon drive. Is that why you call the ships beamships?

Semjase:

147. No, because the drives you mentioned do not correspond to direct beam drives.
148. The beam drives were of a different kind, and we have not used them for about 400 years, although we have kept the name beamships for ourselves.
149. My ship, which I still had in my possession at our first encounter, was still half radiant, which is why you were able to see the radiations.
150. However, these were only highly concentrated light beams.
151. My last ship already had an antigravity propulsion based on the principle of repulsion.
152. However, this drive was only suitable for planetary flight, while the tachyon drive was retained for free space.
153. The present ship is equipped with an antimatter propulsion system for free space, which was developed more than 50,000 years ago.

...

Billy:

... How heavy is your current ship with the construction?

Semjase:

157. It is about 700 kilos heavier than the last one.

Billy:

That would be 1½ tonnes?

Semjase:

158. Certainly.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_057

Billy:

... Has one of your beamships, a reconnaissance ship or a telemeter disc ever crashed since you returned to the Earth?

Semjase:

67. No, our equipment of this kind and those we have here are completely crash proof.

...

Billy:

... So I want to ask the first question. Amata writes it this way: "Are these large ships, which I see again and again, with a large superstructure and many cabins, simply spaceships or even large-capacity ships? How many people are on a ship like this?"

Quetzal:

5. This description of the objects is neither one nor the other, but quite simply very large emigration ships with an average diameter of 120 kilometers, with a capacity for human life-forms of around one million.

6. These gigantic ships serve exclusively for emigration purposes, especially when a world is very endangered and destruction is to be considered.
7. These are the same giant migratory ships that were used by our ancestors at the earliest times, when they came from the Lyra-Vega region to Earth and later also settled on our Plejaren constellation.
8. Their external shape and size have been maintained since then, but they have been subject to constant innovations of a technological form, so they are equipped today according to the state of the art.
9. When Amata received our teleimpulses as teleprojections, she saw everything in an extremely reduced form, because she would not have been able to grasp and overview the gigantic size and the reality of it.

Billy:

Aha, then she practically saw something like models?

Quetzal:

10. No, that is not quite so, because she sees the projections as quite large.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_059

Billy:

... It would be very valuable for us if we could film and photograph good tracks of your ships. Would it be possible for you to 'ground' the two barges instead of letting them float, so that the plate marks in the grass would be visible, which we could then capture on film?

...

Quetzal:

2. It is not advisable to leave tracks, but I understand your concern.

...

5. We will put our beamships on the supports.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_061

Billy:

... Take a look at this photo – are these the two reconnaissance ships?

Semjase:

4. Certainly, but only the ionization shells are visible.

...

Billy:

... We have already noticed several times that the grass and bushes, etc. are pressed down anti-clockwise in a spiral inwards to the centre when the landing supports of your and Quetzal's ship are lowered down. That is not understandable to us, because as I have seen, the plates of the landing supports do not rotate.

Semjase:

...

149. The round surfaces of the landing supports, like the whole ship, vibrate in a spiral-shaped anti-gravity vibration, which, as you have rightly observed, forms counter-clockwise from the outside to the centre.

150. The underside of the ship has four such centres, three of which are located in the landing supports, while the fourth forms the centre of the ship in the underside part.

Billy:

Well, that sounds quite plausible. But how is it that the grass or undergrowth does not stand up again after some time, but grows unchanged for weeks in its spiral path along the ground? We now have tracks that are more than four weeks old and that have not changed in the least. The new grass and undergrowth, etc. simply grows up again between the spirally curved stalks.

Semjase:

...

152. The anti-grav-swinging wave, which is much stronger than the gravitational vibration of the planet itself, causes a gravitational change in the plant life-forms, thus they hold themselves down by a very minimal antigravity force, i.e. a counter-gravity, and counteract the normal gravitation of the Earth, then they continue to grow lying in their spiral form, because the plant-forms are not damaged by breaking off.

...

154. In these cases, the antigravity vibration does not lie under the plants, but on them, so if it presses them down from above and repels the gravitational force above them, the stalks remain lying.

155. Of course, the gravitational force of the Earth itself also plays an important role, which makes its attraction effective.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_063

Billy:

... Can Menara also come then? Maybe she can also leave tracks some day?

Semjase:

7. Of course she will come one day, but with the tracks it might be a bit more difficult.

8. For planetary flights, her ship has a propulsion system that generates gas clusters close to the Earth, which ignite and scorch the ground.

9. That is why she usually does not set her ship down, but lets it float.

...

11. ... it would burn everything within a radius of several meters.

...

Billy:

... I just went through several newspaper reports today about a UFO in Persia. It is supposed to

...

Semjase:

21. I know the reports, but we were not able to clear things up.

22. Our telemeter discs indeed registered the entry of an object unknown to us into terrestrial space, but it had simply disappeared without a trace and could not be found by any means when we tried to do so.

...

Billy:

... Those stupid cows there, they are still mooing across the whole neighbourhood together. If only they could be quiet.

Semjase:

48. They are affected by my ship; they are influenced by the vibrations of the safety devices.

...

Billy:

... But tell me, was his {Sfath's} pear-shaped ship one of your usual ships? You had a completely different 300-year-old box.

Semjase:

85. His ship was a gift from a Sirian people.

Billy:

You mean from people of Sirius?

Semjase:

86. Sure, from one of the two inhabited planets of Sirius, but in a different space-time continuum.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_064

Semjase:

14. In their lack of understanding and in their ignorance the erroneously lead ones seek fantastic explanations in technological, paranormal and purely intellectual areas, whereby the most impossible hypotheses are presented, and indeed also in the form that we are angels and God's messengers or that we come in evil and world-conquering, as well as with Earth-human abduction, intentions, etc., which of course all corresponds to evil nonsense.

15. In the main, these erroneously lead ones deal with purely sectarian and esoteric-parapsychological deficiencies as well as with the technical possibilities and construction methods of our ships, whereas they completely disregard our important task itself and the associated values and have no idea of it.

16. This is typical for the human being of the Earth, because he/she always reaches only for the material and completely overlooks the fundamental values, namely the spiritual and consciousness-based ones, about which he/she then makes up unbelievable fantasies and even claims that jet ships and spaceships, etc. are driven by spiritual forces and that they are also built according to spiritual models, etc.

17. This is as malicious a misleading claim as the one that we were moving in paranormal realms.

...

107. Unfortunately, my sister is also travelling with my ship at the moment, which is why I came here with Menara's ship, which also does not have the same technological possibilities as my aircraft.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_070

Billy:

... You told me recently that an Earth-foreign spaceship has been roaming the Earth's space for months, seeking contact with Earth-humans, but that it does not dare to do so. Where does this ship come from and why do you not make contact with it?

Semjase:

217. It is very strange with this, because with all possible means we have tried to contact them uselessly so far, and when we appear, the ships flee.

Billy:

Why now, all of a sudden?

Semjase:

218. Because there are several of them, as we have now discovered.

219. All of them are of a white-radiating or green-radiating colour, often with a strange red-orange tail behind them, containing substances unknown and alien to us, which are currently being analysed by our scientists.

220. With regard to these objects, our probability calculations still reveal some indefinable surprises.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_073

Billy:

... but say, can I not actually talk to my people from here via the radio?

Semjase:

16. You have already tried it several times, but you did not succeed.

...

Billy:

... But now to the radio again: so you got the point that I had pressed the talk button each time?

Semjase:

20. Sure, but the ship absorbs everything and you cannot penetrate out with your device.

21. Look here, connect your antenna here, then you can talk and have connection with the other devices.

{Note: This seems to be an attempt to use a walkie-talkie.}

...

Billy:

... ah, there's Klotten {airport} down there. ...

...

... Does the ship light up outside now?

Semjase:

29. Sure, but only weakly.

30. But it still cannot be detected by radar.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_075

Semjase:

62. I will let you down with the teleporter, right next to the old man there.

63. He is Jacobus' father, isn't he?

Billy:

That is him. He will soon be eighty. – Can you still let the ship buzz a bit about this? You know, as a surprise?

Semjase:

64. Sure, but you will not hear it in the ship.

Billy:

It's not for me. Well, then I get out. But do not just let me get off, or I'll break all my bones. We are quite high above the trees here.

Semjase:

65. You know that such mistakes do not happen.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_078

Billy:

... But, now tell me why all the dogs here and also the chickens do not behave crazily, because usually they always do when there is a beamship nearby. Today, however, the animals behave completely normally, if I exclude the mother dog Anita. Why is that?

Menara:

34. The young dogs are very adorable. –

35. Your question has to be answered to the effect that my ship is not a beamship, but a flying apparatus with a compaction aggregate that can fly by densification and the highly compressed emission of atmospheric gases.

36. This does not agitate the animals, whereas with the beamships which emit radiation and swinging waves, the animals get excited, become restless and even run away.

Billy:

Aha, and with what propulsion do you fly in space?

Menara:

37. My ship, which I currently own, is not capable of space flight.

Billy:

Oh, I see, but at least you can screen it from sight. Where did you leave it, anyway?

Menara:

38. It floats directly here above this place, 27 metres high, and we have known the technology of shielding for 42,983 years.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_079

Billy:

... When Menara and Alena were here on July 6th, I took a lot of pictures of the ray gun and the tree that was shot through. Afterwards first, namely on the slides, we made some quite strange observations. First of all there was Jacobus' tractor photographed in different pictures, although at that time it was not in the place, but in Wila. In second and third place were the shed and the dwelling house respectively the part of the barn and the wooden gate next to it, the passage and the trees, etc. so crooked on the pictures as if the film had been damaged by heat and had caused distortions. But this is not the case, because the films are completely in order. Could it therefore perhaps be possible that these things were caused by the protective shield that Menara had placed around the area from the ship? ...

Semjase:

212. The reference of your first question could not only be so, because it really was so.

213. Menara erected the protective shield so that which you mentioned could come about, to explain to you, and of course to all the others in your group, what we can do with the protective shields.

214. The explanation for the processes is very simple:

215. The appearance of the tractor on the film is an as yet unknown form of visualisation of all matter by a type of infrared radiation, as yet unknown.

216. Probably the earthly science is so far along, that it knows of the infrared light and many of its application possibilities, so e.g. such as making any matter visible, which has already been removed hours or days before from its location to be photographed.

217. The relevant and previous earthly technique is usually only able to capture shadow outlines, while our technique is so far developed that an object is reproduced in all its details and true to nature.

218. The tilting, as you call it, of the buildings is quite simply due to the fact that everything that is not in the immediate range of radiation appears blurred or distorted, while in the process with the tractor the former location was in the immediate range of the radiation.

...

Semjase:

230. This is partly because more and more steps have been taken by various departments of your army to monitor you in particular, and under certain circumstances, they hope, erroneously, to get hold of us.

231. This special part is also the reason why we have not recently ordered you out to our contacts, but have brought you directly into our ships through transmitters.

...

Billy:

... I also got a glimpse of why so many telemeter disks were pulling away over the center because of the faceted trajectories of the magnetic currents.

Semjase:

263. That is also correct, and if you are talking about it right now:

264. You should really refrain from your pranks in the future and not take the discs off course at every opportunity you get.

265. Although our technicians have now equipped them with special track stabilisers that work automatically when the corrective illumination is switched off by thought influences, these stabilisers are not yet so perfected that they are fully functional.

Billy:

And what about your technology?

Semjase:

266. The prepared track stabilisers of this form have only been developed since then, since you have been constantly driving the discs off course with your funny pranks.

267. We were not aware of any problems about this before, which is why a new invention first had to be made, which is not yet fully developed at the present time, but which will be soon.

Billy:

Not much can happen if I let the little things dance a little across the sky, can it? Or do the little apparatuses suddenly flash down?

Semjase:

268. They cannot crash, at least not ours, but there is a danger that they will collide if they suddenly stray from the prescribed path and fall into the trajectory of another.

Billy:

It will not be that bad, because then they just dissolve, as you once said.

Semjase:

269. Sure, but that only applies to our own registering-discs.

270. Those of the other participants would crash.

Billy:

But it is still kind of fun to direct the things a bit.

Semjase:

271. I know you, like every human life-form, need the constant testing of your powers of consciousness, but please use them elsewhere, only not directly on our telemeter discs.

aliens

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_080

Semjase:

27. Sure, it is – ah, just a minute –, so. [a plane approaches them]

Billy:

He almost rammed us. That is Koni with his flying rust bucket.

Semjase:

28. He cannot see us, so we cannot blame him.

29. Besides, he could not ram us, as you say, because he would be thrown back by the protective belt of the ship.

30. It was a bit dangerous for him.

Billy:

Now he banks there without knowing that his crate was almost smashed.

Semjase:

31. That could not have been possible, because the protective sensors would have taken the ship off its flight course on their own.

Billy:

Then he was lucky again.

Semjase:

32. Nothing could have happened to him.

...

Semjase:

34. My ship has many forms of weapons, as you know, such as a ray projector of a similar shape to the one you used to make the hole in the tree.

35. I will destroy the nest by burning the surface.

...

40. Here, through this sight, you can regulate the dimensions of the rays, by which I mean the radiating surface of the beam.

41. You can move this disc here through this sliding device and thus regulate the further radiation.

42. This allows you to precisely define and determine the entire combustion source.

43. When you then touch this small elevation, the energy escapes from a hair-fine opening on the underside of the ship in order to destroy the target through a form of radiation.

44. Here you can still regulate the strength of the combustion, so that you do not hurt the tree any deeper.

...

53. I am sure you only laugh when I explain to you that we first have to spend several hours with this device in order to be able to operate it properly.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_081

Semjase:

4. A stationary telemeter disk will float high above the Center and continuously transmit the events under permanent connection with our station, which guarantees a certain protection from our side until the completion of the Sohar-Centre.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_087

Billy:

Jacobus and my children observed, last night after dark, how some glowing object the size of a football had descended below us behind this range of hills and climbed up again after about three minutes, suddenly shrinking and quickly disappearing. Therefore, I have now looked back and made two observations that indicate that there must have been a beamship down there. Some bushes and also the grass are depressed, but as if the ship had not landed directly, but only floated, whereby the greenery was probably only depressed by antigravity forces or something similar. On the other hand, I found a roe deer lying there for no apparent reason – dead. Somewhat flattened, it seemed to me as if the animal had been pressed to the ground and thus pressed to death. I therefore had the idea that the animal got into the protective shield area of a ship and was pushed to death by it.

...

Semjase:

5. ... I myself was here last night to call you for another contact.

6. I lowered my ship to the clearing and overlooked the grazing deer because it was a bit hidden between the bushes.

7. So it got into the protective shield of the ship and was killed within fractions of a second, which is very painful for me.

...

10. ... I should have been more careful, because I know that by redesigning the propulsion systems of our ships, those swinging-waves that have frightened away animals of all kinds no longer appear.

Billy:

What if you were to then build some kind of apparatus or device that would generate these swinging-waves?

Semjase:

11. Such or a similar device already exists, but it has not yet been used in my ship.

12. However, this is not a device to scare the animals away, but it acoustically signals immediately when a life form endangered by the protective field is in the danger zone, whereby at the same time impulses automatically switch on a safety mechanism and bring the ship out of the zone endangering the life form.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_088

Semjase:

39. This will only begin in the course of the next year, whereby we will then keep all swinging-waves and radiations of these persons away from the power centres by absorption through the telemeter disc already positioned high above your centre.

40. This is so that they can do no harm in the centre, so that they can meditate in the centre, but no storage will take place and all of their swinging-waves of the emotions, thoughts and feelings will be continuously neutralised, thus excluding any harm by the doubting group members, as you call these group members.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_089

Semjase:

101. Our beamships and spaceships are mostly controlled by female life forms, which is the truth.

102. This is because female persons are very well suited for these positions, because they do not require very large physical forces, but on the other hand they are much more sensitive and thus more sociable in the communicative field than male life forms.

103. These are the main reasons why, as a rule, more female persons fill these positions, but this is not the case with all space races, because there are also human races in the wide space, which in their delusion, as with terrestrial humans, grant only the male life forms the right or all rights, while the female life forms are pushed aside.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_090

Semjase:

55. First inspections in the last 70 minutes have now revealed that last Monday during the night time one of our large surveillance discs in the area of Southern Europe registered a foreign flying ship, but did not transmit this to the station, because it had not stored this data due to a disturbance field, which registered itself as of natural origin in our surveillance devices, and thus also had not transmitted it to our station.

56. Checking this disk now revealed that its equipment had not been shut down for seconds by a natural Earth interference field in any wise, but that an artificial interference field from some flying ship had caused this brief damage, controlled by some intelligence.

57. What remained unobserved during the disturbance of our surveillance equipment was an image recorder that automatically recorded the foreign flying machine in the moving image, after which we now know that this cylindrical ship, about 12 meters in diameter, is somewhere on the Earth – where, unfortunately, we do not yet know.

58. Apparently it is equipped with some kind of protective shield, which made our analysers ineffective and we could not determine the location.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_091

Semjase:

7. However, we were able to ascertain with certainty that their ship has not yet left the earthly space, so it is still somewhere camouflaged and shielded in a hiding place.

...

10. According to the Cygner, the four ships with unknown whereabouts are older expedition ships, which unfortunately only have very limited means of remote communication on a technological basis.

11. This means that the Cygner here on Earth cannot communicate with their home planet, precisely because their means of remote communication cannot bridge the distance of 2,000 light-years.

12. The maximum range of their devices is unfortunately less than 1,400 light-years.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_092

Semjase:

32. But now I have to explain to you that in the future you should only devote yourself to your work.

33. But that you can do this again, as always, it is necessary that I take you with me to my ship for a few minutes to regenerate your nerves and also some other things in you.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_104

Billy:

It makes me wonder whether you can also travel to the past and the future with Menara's ship?

Quetzal:

83. It is possible ...

...

88. But – – – where do you want to go?

Billy:

To Frisco, my son, to San Francisco, but to the future. Namely, to the time when the city was destroyed by the great earthquake. I would be interested to know what everything looks like when the first heavy quake is over, and that is exactly what I want to photograph. ...

Quetzal:

...

91. Of course, I agree with that, but it takes several hours if I want to go there with you.

92. This old ship, I do not have another one available at the moment, needs a longer preparation time, after which you will only be back in normal time at dawn.

...

102. Come here, look – here this floor hatch, as you can see, after the plate has been pushed aside it releases this very finely dotted viewing plate, through which you can look directly outside.

103. You can photograph through it.

Billy:

I do, Quetzal, but you know that when I take pictures in the ship, they are always very blurred and blurred afterwards. Is there no other possibility, do you know that I might be able to get off?

Quetzal:

104. You have the best overview from above, here from the ship.

105. On the other hand this time you will bring sharp and clear pictures onto your film, because the propulsion of this ship does not affect your film by radiating.

106. You just have to make sure that you do not photograph directly under the drive surface, because the very strong light radiation could affect the film.

107. The slightest damage to the film could be that the finished images would appear to be illuminated by a light source.

108. In the worst case an overexposure would occur.

Billy:

Is it the light that goes so far down there and looks like a spotlight?

Quetzal:

109. That is correct. So make sure that these light masses do not reach your shooting range.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_106

Billy:

... Hello Miranos 5. Salü Elsi. ... Agapulla and Jacobus obviously tried to call for me, Quetzal. Why do I not hear anything? Ah, now Elsi is obviously trying too.

Quetzal:

97. The waves of their transmitters are absorbed by our aircraft.

98. Menara's ship is not suitable for this.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_111

Semjase:

9. Quetzal brought you into our ship with the porter {teleportation device}, examined you very closely, and diagnosed you here via the apparatuses.
10. There are, therefore, no doubts about its findings.
11. It was also the one who connected you to this regeneration device, in order to eliminate the most dangerous illness effects.
12. That is why you feel much better now.
13. Your moisture discharge, which you call sweat and which you noticed, is also because of this treatment referred to you, and it will still continue to persist for approximately one hour.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_115

Quetzal:

28. I understand. You can only use these apparatuses {typewriters} with difficulty because they have somehow become foreign to you, and due to other people working with them, the mechanics have shifted, whereby you would have difficulties.

Billy:

Exactly, that is it. Do you also have the same problems yourselves then?

Semjase:

33. Sure.

Billy:

Aha, is that, perhaps, also one of the reasons that all or at least many of you have your own beamships?

Quetzal:

29. That is the true reason, that is of correctness.

30. We only use other apparatuses of any kind that are not adapted to us if some circumstances require it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_121

Billy:

... But I now know from Ptaah's Great Spacer that this is possible for you today and that you know how to locate any structural vibration in any area of the past or future within seconds on the basis of computer analyses.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_123

Semjase:

48. The objects observed and photographed by you come from the Andromeda areas, and these are fine-material flying objects – similar to the bio-organic flying objects that you know.

49. In this case, however, it is such that these flying objects are fine-material and not bio-organic and that these, depending on preference and need, are generated by powers of consciousness from a very highly developed, human dwarf race, whose size amounts to approximately 70 cm, whereby I speak of body height.

50. This race, which is even unknown to us, is fine-dimensioned and stands in the advice of the High Council ...

...

53. Anyhow, the High Council became informed and enlightened by these Nabulianians – so they are, in fact, called ...

...

Semjase:

71. When I receive my new beamship, which, however, can no longer be designated as a beamship, for it belongs to a completely new technology, which is currently running towards that state with us, where it is perfected.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_125

Billy:

Hello, there is a rather strong storm up here. If you do not manoeuvre the ship, then... damn, we will ram the treetop. – Already done. Good day, my child, I am happy to see you. If you get me the treetop, I could use that at the turn of the year as a Christmas tree. It would be something different, so a top of a full-grown fir. It certainly measures 32 metres.

Semjase:

...

3. Yes, there is a strong turbulence here, and I will get you the top of the tree.

4. Unfortunately, I had to turn off the protective shields and the stabilisation fields when I brought you up; therefore, the ship was exposed to the storm gusts, by which means we, unfortunately, damaged the tree.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_126

Billy:

... Two days ago, at night and during the snow removal, we saw from the Centre three orange-coloured, large, and smoking lights, which held themselves over the crest of the hill for about 20 seconds in each case, before they plummeted and disappeared. The first time was around 20:00 hrs, and the same example still followed two times, after about 10 minutes each. Was our military, perhaps, at work there, or were these some ships that carried out energy combustions?

Semjase:

...

127. No, this was no one from us or from others of our groups, even though that which you all observed looked deceptively similar to our energy combustions.

128. The light phenomena observed by you all were of a private, Earth human nature and had no relation whatsoever with any flying objects of extraterrestrial origin.

Billy:

Aha, then some happy-go-lucky sorts of fellows or the military functioned there.

Semjase:

129. Surely.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_130

Billy:

... you can get the most important things much more quickly and in greater detail from the monitoring disc, I mean from the recording device.

Semjase:

108. I cannot do that, unfortunately, because during our departure, we failed to insert larger recording elements, which is why now only a single month is recorded.

...

Billy:

... My question now is whether the videotapes, the cassettes, will be impaired or damaged if I come into the proximity of the ship with them?

Semjase:

204. That is unfortunately so, which is why you must be extremely careful.

205. Our ships have different magnetic vibrations, which would destroy your cassettes.

...

Semjase:

... I can bring down to Earth at least one large telemeter disc, about 125 to 200 centimetres in diameter, for the film and photo work, which you can then film in such a manner that you will stand with this and touch it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_131

Semjase:

10. Nevertheless, we will take pictures of one of our telemeter discs.

11. However, these are magnetic path-bound, which is why we cannot bring one of these down to the Earth's surface outside a terrestrial magnetic path.

...

14. It is also possible to place a telemeter disc on either side of 150 kilometres as the crow flies from your centre.

...

Billy:

I understand. Your words also mean, therefore, that the magnetic path mentioned by you has a diameter of about 300 kilometres, solely in which it is possible to take pictures of a telemeter disc, as you can only bring them down within this distance.

...

Semjase:

41. Do you want to get out?

Billy:

In this pouring rain? I would become soaking wet and drown in this.

Semjase:

42. Oh no, I will put the protective screen over the ship, on which the water will then roll off.

...

Billy:

But then the tall grass is still soaking wet, and I with my house slippers...

Semjase:

44. That is no problem, my friend, wait a moment ...

...

45. We can get out, and in a few seconds, the meadow will be as dry as if the Sun had shone down on it for many hours.

...

48. Here under the protective screen, you can see everything much more sharply and more clearly than is possible outside of it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_132

Semjase:

5. But at the same time, you also have to be aware that the sounds of my ship are so loud when in full action that they can be heard for miles.

...

11. The group members should then position themselves in front at the crossroads at the barn and should let no stranger through when I release the sounds of my ship and they resound through the countryside.

12. Inevitably, people will then come running or approach there from far away because the sounds will be heard very far.

13. So it will then be the group members' job to keep these people away from you and me.

Billy:

Is the noise so very loud in full action, then?

Semjase:

14. You will see.

15. You will shake from the vibrations, when the air bursts and rips.

...

Semjase:

24. For this reason, Quetzal – just a few hours after our conversation on June 15th, so about a month ago – removed the small monitoring disc over the Centre, so therefore, now no more recordings will be made.

25. This also means, however, that the meditative centre is no longer under the neutralising influence of this disc, which will surely already be ascertained rather soon by some group members.

Billy:

Yes, I have often explained that people and animals will take severe damage if they come within range of the swinging waves of your ship and that they will also take severe damage if you come into the swinging wave area of the Earth-humans.

{Note: This excerpt concerns the first appearance of what has become known as the “wedding cake” ship.}

Billy:

You have actually come with your new box. It looks quite impressive. What technical innovations does it have to exhibit?

Semjase:

1. You are rather disrespectful in reference to our technology.
2. I am proud of this flying apparatus.
3. With its new drive, which I will explain a little to you later, I have better possibilities than father with his Great Spacer.
4. Also, with this device, it is possible for me to dive directly into the past or future, but also to penetrate into other dimensions.
5. The flight from my home world to Earth is reduced with this new aircraft to zero-time, which I will also explain to you at a later time.

...

Billy:

And is this now a standard type?

Semjase:

9. This aircraft is still a prototype, at least still for a week.
10. After that, three hundred and fifty units of the same kind will have already been supplied.
11. This type of aircraft will gradually replace all other existing types of devices; thus, it will become the standard type, as you said.
12. In addition, the diameter amounts to 7 metres in size, like the existing aircraft of this type.
13. What can also be mentioned even further is that the next three size classes of our present aircraft will also be replaced by this type, but they will differ in their sizes, which explains itself.
14. They will include the sizes of 14, 21, and 28 metres, which will increase directly with planetary interests.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_145

Billy:

You are a little careless, Quetzal. From the parking lot up there, one can see that it is your ship down here at the edge of the forest. Especially the light is clearly visible.

Quetzal:

1. Besides Eva, no one is there, and should some stranger approach, then I will find out early enough.

Billy:

Of course, but you opened the sound-absorbing shield too early. I just heard the rather loud buzzing.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_147

Quetzal:

6. In addition, all our new ships have been withdrawn.

7. This for technical reasons ...

...

13. The outer materials of the ships are not resistant enough against the highly poisoned earthly atmosphere.

14. They become attacked and corroded.

15. The Earth's atmosphere has further poisoned itself during the last months to such an extent that our relevant materials no longer withstand these metal-attacking poisons, which is why we must withdraw all units and exchange them.

...

Billy:

And the old ships are able to endure the present atmosphere?

Quetzal:

17. Yes, that is so.

Billy:

But can you not protect your new ships against these poisonous effects?

Quetzal:

18. Unfortunately no, because the acidic gas formations in the terrestrial atmosphere penetrate through our protective screens.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_148

Quetzal:

123. The last aircraft, which you call 'wedding cake ships' and which actually do show a resemblance to such sweet food of the Earth, were made out of a special alloy which was adapted to the Earth's atmosphere most exactly and which could only move in this one.

124. Through the atmospheric changes, however, they slowly became destroyed and unusable.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_150

Billy:

... Then another question: Take a look in my office. There is a drawing by Lee Elders on the little brown table. He drew me a boomerang-like ship of unknown origin. Such ships are said to have been sighted several times in America recently and in the past few months, and they are said to be completely black in colour and to have huge spotlights in operation at night. Is this known to you, and if so, what explanations can you give me in this regard?

Quetzal:

51. I see the paper you mentioned here in my view screen, and I can also explain some things to you about it:

52. The drawing is incorrect, because these flying apparatuses are much less wedge-shaped than the drawing shows.

53. So the wing-like side bodies are further apart.

54. The size of the devices varies from a few metres to several hundred metres.

55. The building material is of an extremely hard and resistant material, unlike our materials which are of a soft form.

56. These flying apparatuses are also, as you mentioned, for the most part black, but they also have various other colours which, however, have apparently not been observed and which are usually also drowned out by the black.

57. Unfortunately, we cannot clarify the origin of these flying apparatuses, which we have been observing and controlling for eleven years, because there is no possibility that we can get in touch with the occupants of the apparatuses.

58. The flying apparatuses are constructed in such a way that all our attempts at communication have failed because our swinging waves and vibrations and all other kinds of like are absorbed by the outer shells of the apparatuses.

59. No radio wave and no other swinging wave can penetrate into the interior of the flying apparatus, because the outer shell of each apparatus absorbs everything in the sense of storing energy for the ship's propulsion and everything else.

60. This means, among other things, that these flying apparatuses are constructed in such a way that they absorb all waves of all frequencies, and thus all swinging waves of all kinds, as well as sunlight and all the radiation that appears with it, etc., for the storage of force.

61. But also the moonlight and the weak light of the stars are absorbed and stored as force, together with many other things which are still unknown even to earthly scientists.

62. What is certain, however, is that the life-forms dominating these flying apparatuses are humane and reveal no hostility whatsoever, as has been impeccably proven by our eleven years of observation and control.

...

Billy:

... For my part, I find, for example, that a car alone would have to be tested and checked from A-Z at least every 14 days if it is used very frequently.

Quetzal:

366. Your assumption corresponds to the correctness, in every point, also with the checking of the vehicles, because they would have to be subjected to a thorough check after any prolonged use, even if they were only used for one or two weeks.

367. That is also how it is handled with our flying apparatuses and other means of transportation, although we are, in technical terms, around 3,500 years ahead of terrestrial, still quite primitive technology.

368. Experience has taught us and our ancestors that such and also very precise controls are necessary after any prolonged use.

369. And since this rule became valid for us, there were never any more accidents, neither in air, at sea, on land, or in space, except when any security measures were ignored, which led the way to technical failure of the transportation devices, or when it came to foreign influences, of which the human skill and technology had not become masters.

370. However, such accidents have occurred very rarely in the last 2,000 years or so, whereby, up to the present hour, their number only amounts to 16.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_157

Billy:

Your bucket there, your protective device, it is not as bulky as the one that you recently had with you. Is this a new development again?

Quetzal:

73. That is of correctness; today, I have this device here in operation for the first time.

Billy:

Then you are just counting on the fact that it functions?

Quetzal:

74. I can rely on it like you do with the dematerialisation shafts of our ships, when you simply jump into them from impossible heights, in order to materialise on the Earth again several kilometres below the hovering ship – something that we would never do.

Billy:

A little timid perhaps?

Quetzal:

75. Our dematerialisation machinery works absolutely flawlessly, so we also do not have to fear.

76. If we use this ourselves, however, then the security hatch is always closed, so we cannot even see out.

77. You, however, jump in each case when the hatch is open, and you look down for kilometres beneath you, into the yawning depths to the ground.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_163

Billy:

Good, then I have a question regarding so-called UFOs, which are truly none at all. As I know from you, the so-called flying objects that are considered UFOs are often observed in the day as well as at night. At night, it is often observed that these so-called UFOs light up and are vibrant in their intensity and also variable in colour. On the one hand, you were able to make it understandable to me, with tangible evidence and through my personal observations, that these sometimes deal with bio-organic flying bodies {see Rods} that are truly other-dimensioned life forms that, as a rule, can be captured on infrared film and that penetrate from other dimensions into our dimension area, in order to romp around here somehow in earthly airspace for playful and whimsical reasons. You also explained to me that these bio-organisms are completely harmless and that they always return back to their dimension. But on the other hand, you have also spoken of the fact that similar phenomena appear in terrestrial airspace, but these are purely terrestrial in origin. At that time, you spoke of the fact that it can also concern huge swarms of insects that let themselves drift through the air at great heights. During the day, these insect swarms can be seen as dark and form-changing UFOs that often even glow. At night, the same can be observed, and these UFOs then glow from weak to very strong and often even pulsate. Those are the two forms of UFOs best-known to me, which are truly not extraterrestrial ships and which are composed of living forms. Although, you have explained that other such forms exist, about which you have told me some things, but today, I am mainly interested in the apparent UFOs, which consist of insect swarms. I would like to know a few things about this from you, if you have enough time to give me information about it.

...

Quetzal:

...

103. As a rule, it concerns masses of insect swarms, which must be calculated with millions of individual insects.

104. These insects can be driven in gigantic swarms to high altitudes which are often kilometres high, where they are able to exist in the thin atmosphere with astonishing ease and often let themselves drift through the air currents for hundreds and thousands of kilometres.

105. The size, shape, and movement of these insect swarms appear on radar screens as simulated flying objects, as also observers mistakenly suppose that these are unidentified flying objects.

106. Then, these inaccurate observations, as well as the deceptive pictures of the radar devices, always lead to the fact that such insect swarms are designated as UFOs with astonishing regularity.

107. Especially when such swarms of insects are observed at night, it is seen that these unidentified flying objects appear as illuminated bodies that either shine faintly or very strongly and that often pulsate.

108. As I know, such light is usually described by the observers as a glow.

109. Thousands of these swaying insects, united in one swarm, can muster up a light intensity that can be seen for kilometres.

up to 180 kilometres away and more as a strong light source flying at a very high speed, while performing aerial manoeuvres that cannot be executed by any earthly aircraft.

111. Forward and reverse flights at extremely rapid speeds, as well as zigzag flight manoeuvres and right-angled as well as left-angled flight manoeuvres and vertical drops and climbs are the norm, depending on the falling winds and rising winds and other various air currents prevailing at these great heights, which often cause the insect swarms, when these drift into them, to be driven off at right or left angles, etc. or driven back again with a counter-current of wind.

112. These are the so-called wild or completely crazy flight manoeuvres of these alleged UFOs, as the observers then report.

113. But such observations do actually look deceptively real, according to which it could and can actually be concluded that these are some extraterrestrial flying objects, if the observations are made by observers who are uneducated in these things or by prejudiced UFO believers.

114. Nevertheless, many who have more experience in this area can also be deceived by these insects, as you know.

...

116. But now, concerning the origin of the lights and the pulsation of these insect swarms, the following is to be explained:

117. Like on every planet in the Universe, the Earth's atmosphere is permeated by a variety of weaker and stronger electric fields, which also differ in their swinging waves.

118. The higher into the atmosphere these penetrate, the richer in occurrence these electric force fields become, which very often move along for many hundreds or thousands of kilometres.

119. Now, if the high-flying insect swarms drift into such electric force fields, which also usually move with the air currents, then the insects start to light up, which appears as a glowing.

120. Because the swarms are, on the one hand, steady in their movement and, on the other hand, the electric energy fields waver in their strength, there arises a swelling or dwindling of the glow or radiance because the weaker the energy field is, the weaker is the radiance.

121. However, the radiance also loses its strength through the constant turning motions of the insects themselves.

122. From this originates the so-called pulsating of these allegedly unidentified flying objects.

123. On the other hand, the colour changes connected with such alleged objects appear because the strength of the electric energy fields lets the radiance or the glow become more intense or weaker, in which case also the air shifts and the trembling and flickering of the air form colour-changing factors, so it can be observed, for example, that a white colour of light suddenly becomes red, blue, or green or even yellow, weak, or intense.

124. But the fact that this radiance or glow can appear at all is because the insects have substances on their bodies and wings that begin to glow or light up as soon as they come in contact with electric currents, which is, indeed, the case when they drift into electric fields at high altitudes or even near the ground.

125. Furthermore, there are also types of insect swarms that soar through the atmosphere, which have their own luminosity and, thus, generate a light or glow in themselves.

Billy:

I know; there are species of cicadas on the Earth that produce their own lights in their bodies. Also, the little glowworms known in Europe belong to these self-illuminating ones, if I may unprofessionally say so.

Quetzal:

126. That is of correctness.

Billy:

The so-called marine lights are also based on the same principle. Through you, I know that the marine lights were often seen by the seafarers as sea monsters and terrifying figures, etc., especially when the sea was moving a little and thereby moved the marine lights more than what is normally the case. But in modern times, it is only rare that this light appearing on the sea is referred to as a monster, etc. because today, the UFO craze prevails, which is why the marine lights are always seen nowadays as UFOs that still perform incredible flight manoeuvres. But in truth, it is also the case that these marine lights are caused by types of insects. However, these do not fly through the air and also do not live on land; rather, their area of life is the seawater or freshwater, depending on the type. Thus, these are the luminous little worms of the seas or lakes, pools or ponds, etc. But furthermore, from personal experience, I still know of alleged UFOs that are neither insects nor other life forms but rather self-luminous energy fields that form damn similar manifestations as the flying insects, etc. when they are driven through the atmosphere by the air currents. As you once explained to me, these are static energy fields that dissolve in this way of glowing. But then, I still know the manifestations of static energy forms that rush like wheels or balls along the ground or through the air, which suddenly explode like balls of lightning. Last to mention are the gas forms that sometimes form quite bizarre figures or that are simply round and that brightly hover just above the ground. But so far, I could only observe these in the moor areas and swamps, etc., which is certainly also logical because they originate from the fact that in the swamps and moors, luminous gases form, caused by putrefaction processes and other chemical conversion processes, and these then retreat upwards, rising high over the swamp or over the moor and then appearing as hovering bright lights. With us, we simply call these things crazy lights. But unfortunately, it is also the case that in the present time, observers of such things always want to see UFOs, in contrast to earlier times, when such apparitions were conjured, through the popular delusion, as devils and demons.

...

Tell me rather something more about the insect swarms: why, actually, do they fly through the air in this type and wise?

Quetzal:

130. The insects have a very peculiar urge, namely that regardless of their natural desire for food, nesting places, etc., they are simply driven at times, as if by compulsion, to fly high up into the sky.

131. Their entire inner being is still only dominated by this urge, by which they also completely lose any interest in food and in the opposite sex.

132. The reason why the only goal of these insects is to rise high into the air spaces – where they can let themselves be driven by the winds, often to very distant goals – is that by natural laws, they are incited to change their habitat in order to preserve their kind.

133. If the insects would stay in their old habitat for a longer time, then it would mean extinction for them.

134. Nevertheless, their natural instinct warns them of this, and therefore, if they start to feel that their present habitat is becoming dangerous for them and that simply an overpopulation of their kind is taking place, then there arises in them the peculiar urge to master the beginning goal, which is to let themselves rise high into the air or be driven away by the wind, by the thousands and millions, after which they are then driven as gigantic swarms by the prevailing winds to their new habitat.

Billy:

In America, these swarms are often observed in enormous numbers, in contrast to Europe. Are there more such kinds of insects that move over the country in large swarms, and what is the main kind?

Quetzal:

135. Yes, these insects appear there more, namely far to the north into Canada and down to the deepest south into Tierra del Fuego, which, like Canada, no longer belongs to America.

136. The currently best-known kind is the so-called Spruce Budworm.

137. The technical Latin term for it is CHORISTONEURA FUMIFERANA.

138. The only reason why the Spruce Budworm is best-known is because presently and in recent years, it can be observed the most often, for there are still many other kinds of these insects that float so high up through the air.

139. Approximately calculated, there are 25,000 species, including dragonflies, spiders, grasshoppers, flies, wasps, bees, ants, termites, beetles, and bugs of all kinds, etc.

140. It is also very interesting to know that very many flightless insects let themselves float high in the atmosphere by the winds, such as spiders, which can be found very often in large clusters and which, like all other insects, also let themselves drift along at altitudes between 2,000 and 5,000 meters.

141. On warm spring days, for example, hundreds and thousands of small spiders often clump together after hatching, and they would all have to starve miserably if they would be bound to their birthplace, where they would have to become bigger and grow up.

142. But in order to escape this death, they climb up high, sharp blades of grass or tree branches, etc. and lift their hindquarters into the air.

143. Then, when wind arises, these tiny and almost 1 millimetre-long arachnids spin a silk thread that is a thousand times thinner than the thickness of a human hair.

144. This silk thread, however, which is woven into the blowing wind, is taken by the wind and carried high up into the atmosphere, while at the end of the thread hangs the tiny spider, which can be carried so high into the air and also hundreds and thousands of kilometres away to a new home.

145. This, then, is also the reason why at great heights, earthly aircraft are often covered with a coating of the finest transparent silk when they fly through a swarm of the tiniest spiders, which are to be calculated in their number with hundreds of thousands or millions.

146. In this wonderful manner of using air to overcome distances, the insects very often reach very distant areas, in order to find a new habitat, which they could otherwise never reach by their own means of going and flying, whereby their species would become destroyed and extinct.

147. In the case of a proliferation of insects at a place, the surplus can migrate and set off into other areas that are suitable for them by the winds, which is often observed by the Earth-humans, especially at night, after which they then incorrectly suppose or simply believe that they are extraterrestrial missiles and, thus, UFOs.

148. What is still to be said is that even seeds and pollen of floral areas likewise move through the air, often thousands of kilometres away, in order to fertilise their own kind through wind pollination.

149. And all such drifting pollen, which lets itself be carried away high into the air by the winds, can bear the often stark climate changes as easily as also the insects.

150. All these insects and the pollen, however, are absolutely dependent on the prevailing wind currents for their transportation around the globe, by which they are carried into their new homeland.

151. Thus, they cannot determine their flight direction themselves because they do not go against the forces of the winds, which is why they must simply let themselves drift along in these.

Billy:

It strikes me that you have also mentioned the pollen. Apparently, so I infer from this, it must also appear to human beings as UFOs when it drifts into electrical fields.

Quetzal:

152. That is of correctness because the same process also takes place with pollen when the clusters are dense enough.

153. But the same also happens with sandstorms and the like when enormous amounts of dust, etc. are torn high into the atmosphere and then transported.

154. All of this can be observed not only at night but also during the day.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_184

Billy:

... High in the eastern sky, I noticed a bright light at 20:14 hrs, about 4 to 5 times as large as Venus. At first, I thought of the evening star, thus Venus, before it dawned on me that Venus is only visible to us in the southern and western hemisphere. Then, I looked at the bright light a little more closely, and I noticed that it was located in strange shifts of color, which permeated all the colors of the rainbow spectrum, and changes in form also arose. Consequently, I hurried into my office and grabbed my binoculars, through which I could then largely account for and observe the strange light formation in the sky, which was about a meter in size. To me, it seemed to be like a Fata Morgana,* whose form changed constantly, and it also seemed to be somewhat transparent, so just like with a Fata Morgana. I estimated the altitude of the object to be about 35,000 meters and that it was at a distance of about 18 to 20 kilometers away from our vantage point. What I still assessed during the observation was that on the right side, various small objects separated themselves from the large object and flew away. Moreover, I also saw that on the large object itself, there were several dark points and spots as well as outgrowths and the like. I already saw something similar on the Great Spacer of Ptaah, which is why I was of the opinion that it had to have been a spaceship, but which one only saw as a Fata Morgana or just simply as a reflection. I interpreted the flying-away, glittering points to the right of the object to be beamships, while I supposed that the dark points and spots, as well as the outgrowths, had to be hangars and such, similar to the superstructures on Ptaah's ship. Now, if I consider the size of the light of the object together with its distance, then I calculate that the ship's size must have been around 320 to 340 meters in diameter.

...

Taljda:

5. The object sighted by you actually is a spaceship, but which you were only able to see as a reflection, even while the ship hovered directly over your center in order to investigate the place and those humans who are, for us, the most significant mission-engaged ones on the earth.

6. For security reasons, which were made known to you by us, the flying apparatus was shielded from view, and it creates a form of reflection that is completely alien to our technology, which becomes visible in the atmosphere many kilometers away.

7. Other human beings do not just have the same technology as we ourselves, which is well-known to you.

8. Thus, the Druans, with regard to screening technology, have completely different forms than what we possess.

...

13. The flying apparatus is a spaceship from the planet Druan, whose human life-forms we therefore call the Druan.

14. They are a very widely-developed and extremely peaceful human race that can bring some innovations to our own technology.

15. The planet Druan lies in the NOL system, which belongs to a galaxy whose size is about 1.7 times larger than ours, and this galaxy is located 3.10 million light-years away from the SOL system.

...

20. The Druans are on an expedition here on Earth, for at least 5 to 6 months, but in accordance with our experience, it could more likely last for years.

21. During this time, their spaceship and their accompanying missiles can very often be seen by the Earth-humans, but initially and during the first weeks, this was only in Europe.

22. After that, the Druan ships could then also be sighted over other continents of the Earth.

23. So if the Earth-humans keep their eyes open, then they will very often be able to observe the flying apparatus.

Billy:

This will probably result in particularly sly and scientifically super-clever explanations, such as balloons, etc. What does the object actually look like, if one disregards the distorted reflection?

Taljda:

24. Just like a discus-shaped object, although a completely different form is reflected outwardly by a special shield, which can be compared to the cone and facets of a rock crystal.

Billy:

Does this, then, also appropriately give off all the colors of the spectrum?

Taljda:

25. You apparently are not ignorant of such things.

Quetzal:

168. At that same time, when Jmmanuel was born, in order to monitor and supervise everything, a large Plejaren beamship was stationed high in the atmosphere over Bethlehem.

169. This radiated very brightly, for it was one of those aircraft that collect energy from the atmosphere, which light up, radiating very strongly, when they penetrate into the area of the processing system, through which anti-gravity is produced.

Billy:

Semjase once explained to me, in response to one of my questions, that antimatter is real and that this was already discovered by your ancestors more than 50,000 years ago and has been used by you since that time as beamship propulsion. Since then, have you researched and developed new techniques for this?

Quetzal:

51. Of course.

52. Negative matter, as we call antimatter, has already been used by us for fifty millennia for all sorts of purposes, and of course, also much other research was connected with it and still is, therefore, new insights will also constantly be won and will create new ones, with which negative matter is brought to application or is used.

Quetzal:

80. The human beings who walked the Earth at earlier times, such as over 20 or 120 or even more than 230 million years ago, were in no wise the so-called Earth-made or Earth-created ones but rather extraterrestrials who came from the depths of space and who stayed here for a certain time or only visited the planet for a short time for expeditions or for major excursions.

81. At that time, the areas of origin and home worlds of these travelers from afar were to be found in your galaxy, so the Milky Way, but also in foreign galaxies.

Quetzal:

28. All of our flying devices are suited for diving processes, whereby, due to our pressure protection screens, there are no limits set for the depth.

29. We will dive into the depths of the Atlantic as well as the Pacific.

Billy:

...

Then Quetzal flies his beamship back to Earth and over the Atlantic, to then descend into the depths of the sea.

Then we hover over the spongy sea-bottom and Quetzal moves the beamship, which indeed has now become a diving ship, slowly along.

The beamship glows externally in radiating brilliance, and lights up the pitch black darkness in a broad circumference.

...

Billy:

... over and over again, crazy ones appear, claiming that they have had contacts with you or else with some extraterrestrials and that they would have been promised that the extraterrestrials would bring salvation to the Earth and to the Earth-humans. As a rule, these crazy ones who make such assertions are some sect-bosses or delusional believers and lunatics of other natures, who lie their heads off and promise their believers and followers that the extraterrestrials will come with spaceships and save all of those or at least a part of those, who believe in the hypocritical horror stories of the bringing of salvation through extraterrestrials, and will take them to a nicer, more peaceful, and better planet in safety. The crazy ones who invent and maintain such stories – partly due to pure addiction to profit, delusional faith, confusion, or madness – try to convey to their followers who are enslaved to them and to their believers that the extraterrestrials would allegedly take their own responsibility from them and send them rescue.

Quetzal:

46. That is well-known to us.

47. All evil means are right to these liars, swindlers, and deceivers, in order to bind those who are enslaved to them and their believers to themselves.

48. But the truth is that neither we nor any other Earth-foreigners exercise the role of the bringers of salvation.

49. Neither we nor others bring teachings of salvation to the Earth and, thus, to the Earth-humans, for any teaching of salvation is of a religious and sectarian nature and only serves to make those who believe therein dependent and enslaved, in order to subjugate them, to exploit them, and also to cause them to remain faithful to the relevant religion or sect.

50. In addition, each teaching of salvation is designed to drive the believers and those who are enslaved into irrational teachings and into the mistaken belief that all their offences, wrong lifestyles, and injustices, as well as the harming of fellow human beings, can receive lenient treatment and can easily be forgotten, and thus, they would be forgiven by the bringers of salvation.

51. It is in the tricked believers and the enslaved that the responsibility for anything and everything would lie in a predetermination or present determination with the extraterrestrials or just with God the Creator, who should allegedly exist and who should determine and direct everything.

52. Thus, the religious believers, sect-believers, delusional believers, and others are forcefully kept – by unfair, misguided elements, etc., through lies, swindle, and deception – from bearing and perceiving their own responsibility for anything and everything that always arises in life.

53. The belief in salvation-bringing extraterrestrials, in any salvation-bringing teaching, or in a salvation-bringing God, who should also still be just, as well as full of love, understanding, and willingness to help, corresponds to the imagination of profit-minded human beings who, originally, had deliberately designed their created irrational teaching in order to gather believers and enslaved ones around themselves, whom they could exploit in every respect, in order to be able to lead lives of joy and glory through them.

54. And since ancient times, there have always been enough fools, who let others think for them instead of giving themselves the trouble of thinking, of reasoning, and of the pursuit of truth and the recognition of actuality and, thus, reality, for it was always easier for them to shift the responsibility for anything and everything onto others or onto extraterrestrials or simply onto a God-Creator, i.e. a Creator God, in order, then, to take the path of least resistance and the path of least effort, as well as the path of laziness.

55. And there are still such human beings on the Earth today, unfortunately still in large quantities.

56. But if the Earth-human really wants to experience a salvation, then he/she must bring this to themselves, in that they laboriously acquire it themselves.

57. But this means that they must turn to the truth and reality and must perceive their own responsibility in every respect and must bear it and fulfil it.

58. In this meaning, it is given to be recognised that neither extraterrestrials nor a God-Creator, neither a teaching of salvation, a religion or sect, nor any lunatic, spinner, delusional believer, 'godly one', 'enlightened one', guru, master, or exalted one by his own grace, etc. brings any salvation; rather, only every single person can acquire this for themselves, in reference to their own personality, their conduct and their life-style, their behaviour, their love, their inner and outer peace, their balance and harmony, their knowledge, their wisdom and evolution, and their entire progress in consciousness-related and material form.

...

89. Sectarians are liars, swindlers, and cheats, who are only out to rally believers and enslaved ones around themselves, in order to exploit these and to be able to position themselves in the light and in the forefront, as self-appointed eminences and divinities of their own graces or as representatives of a God or any allegedly high and lofty as well as all-knowing and powerful extraterrestrial, etc.

Billy:

... Concerning particles: Photons are after all light particles and must therefore also have a mass and a weight, because this is the only way spaceships with photon propulsion can function, right?

Quetzal:

...

157. Of course, these also have a mass and a weight, but in a changing form.

158. The present-day weight is 1.2–52 gramme.

...

Billy:

... Then I would like to come back to our joint deep-sea trip: You told me after this fantastic trip that the spotlights that illuminated the deep sea darkness for hundreds of metres around the ship corresponded to a very special kind, but you did not elaborate further on it. Can you at least explain it to me now?

Quetzal:

588. The light beam device i.e. the spotlights; these are not several devices but only a single one, comprising the entire beam ship, which can be used as a single light beam device on the outer hull.

589. The light, however, is not in the usual form known to you, hence it does not emit rays of light in the usual sense.

590. In fact, these are invisible light swinging waves, which cannot be seen from outside the beam ship, so that the ship remains thus completely dark.

591. The invisible light swinging waves can only be perceived in the beam ship itself, namely through the walls.

592. The outer environment is therefore not immersed in a visible wall of light, but only in certain swinging waves, which can be made visible to us in the beam ship by our special technology.

593. So it seems as if outside everything would be bathed in the brightest visible light, while outside however there is complete darkness.

594. Only in this way is it possible for us to observe the deep-sea life forms undisturbed.

595. Since these are self-luminaries as we call them, the visible light means danger for them, because the life forms hunt each other also in the deep sea and mean food for each other.

596. Therefore, if the beam ship were to emit visible light from outside, all life forms would flee from it, making it impossible for us to observe them.

597. The beam ship, if it were to emit rays of light visible from outside, would appear to the deep-sea life forms as an evil and all-devouring monster, which is why they would flee.

Billy:

Very interesting. So then this light has also nothing to do with the light that you shield in the atmosphere.

Quetzal:

598. That is of rightness.

Billy:

... For quite some time now, the talk has been about UFO sightings and alleged encounters with extraterrestrial life forms again with the human being of the Earth. Especially in Russia, a story about this had turned out to be a big one, namely in Voronezh or what the name of the village should be. Recently, however, entire squadrons of UFOs have been ghosting through the polluted skies in Belgium as well, turning police officers into UFO persecutors. But also the population seems to be in love with the hype, as it is the case in England and several other countries on our planet. Can you tell me more about this?

Ptaah:

87. Of course, but truthfully it is hardly worthwhile to say a word about it.

88. The occurrences are partly extraterrestrial, as in Voronezh and partly also in Belgium, but there is also something quite earthly behind them.

89. A certain amount of attention should be paid to the extraterrestrial origin of flying apparatuses.

90. But it is not worth talking about it either.

91. More attention should be paid to the fact that some phenomena are related to the USA and South America, where you made your own experiences when your life was threatened.

92. But discussing these things would not be of an advantage, so it is not worth talking about them – for your own safety.

Billy:

Well, that is well enough. So behind some of this there is also fraud and deception along with the truth. That is probably also the case here in Switzerland, with the alleged UFO sightings in Ticino?

Ptaah:

93. It is no different than in other countries.

94. In fact, if one wanted to believe the UFO believers and UFO swindlers and similar swindlers and phantoms, then the Earth would be teeming with aircraft of extraterrestrial origin.

95. With the SOL-system, however, the Earth lies so far away in a galaxy arm of the Milky Way that it is considered an enclave and has only a sparse influx of other inhabited stars.

96. It is simply not interesting enough to be visited by foreign life forms on a large scale.

97. Truthfully, it is practically always the same visitors from the vastness of space who fly in and out of the Earth, as we do, for example; two to three times a year, perhaps strangers come to Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_236

Ptaah:

37. Your story was rather detailed and corresponds exactly to the records of the control disk.

...

Billy:

... Do you also know that Eva is in the office next door and is sleeping? Man, we have all holes open in the building and are merrily babbling here while she is over there. It just amazes me that so far, you have not cracked up yet and are not acting crazy. ...

Ptaah:

...

68. But fortunately, that is not of great importance, for our protective devices, such as this one here, have been so further developed in the meantime that they protect us for 92 minutes from any swinging wave that could be dangerous to us.

69. So there is no danger in relation to this.

70. But so that Eva does not wake up and does not come over here, I can do something.

71. Just as my daughter placed your wife into a deep sleep before, I will do the same thing with Eva using this device here.

72. So this touch here is sufficient, now she will not be tempted to simply wake up and come here.

...

Ptaah:

159. Currently, on the Earth, a large-scale interest has awoken worldwide once again, in reference to alleged sightings of unidentified flying objects that should be of extraterrestrial origin.

160. For many months, major activities of unknown flying apparatuses have also been observed time and again all over the world, and in many cases, even entire groups of humans have become observers.

161. But also in many cases, observations are reported where there were not actually any to report, not to mention the alleged personal encounters with extraterrestrial life-forms that are supposed to have taken place.

162. In fact, few extraterrestrial flying machines have been sighted by Earth-humans, but this, unfortunately, does not mean that all sightings of unidentified flying objects were such objects.

163. In truth, there were only a few, whose sightings often were not even disclosed to the public.

164. The rest of all the other objects sighted, which became designated and which are designated as UFOs, were and are of purely natural and terrestrial origin, having very natural causes.

165. The fact that some charlatans, fun-makers, swindlers, and deceivers are involved in such works – who, through technological means, 'conjure' phenomena or allow light flying machines to rise up into the atmosphere, in order to bring the Earth-humans into turmoil or to move them into anxiety and terror or simply to make fools of them through practical jokes – this should be clear even to the most naive of the naive.

166. But whoever is UFO-believing and wants to see ghosts, of course, sees them everywhere – so even where there are none.

167. Also, frauds and charlatans arrive at their wealth in such a manner because they can live very well off of the idiots.

168. This was and has been the case since ages ago.

169. In addition, it must be said that a certain caution is also necessary with everything because not everything is simply hallucinations, sectarian insanity, charlatanism, and fraud, for flying machines also appear that are directed by Earth-humans, who have created a massive base in the South American region and who are striving for world domination, as this is also very well-known to you, but we should provide no further details about this.

170. But in any case, there are utterly dark and bad terrestrial life-forms, humans of this world who possess a high technology and corresponding flying apparatuses, in order to be able to cause disaster with these, if they could only do so and if they would not be prevented from such doings by certain circumstances.

171. Nevertheless, like the Americans, Canadians, and Russians, they repeatedly move the Earth-humans into fear and panic by demonstrating their aircraft in the day or night sky, when they are on a thief's tour or are otherwise flying through the air on some occasion that is often difficult to fathom.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_237

Billy:

... last Monday evening, the 5th of November, something happened in Europe which caused the populations of various countries to revolt. It happened around the seventh hour of the evening that many people were watching a bright, fiery ball high in the sky, moving at breakneck speed from west to east or south-east, pulling a fiery tail behind it. Various observers also said that in addition to the large fireball, some smaller ones had also appeared. A pilot who was flying to Europe via Lithuania in northern Russia saw the phenomenon as well and drew the attention of his crew and passengers. Of course, among the observers there were also madmen and phantoms who wanted to see everything possible and impossible in the tail fireball. According to the Belgium hysteria with the alleged triangular UFOs, many humans allegedly saw a huge triangular UFO high in the sky, orbited by several smaller triangular objects. One man in Germany even claimed that he had clearly seen an object that looked exactly like the spaceship Enterprise from the TV future series 'Enterprise'. In Geneva, someone had just tested a new video camera in the western sky and recorded some of it on a magnetic tape, which was then shown on Swiss television. I then saw these pictures and realised that it must have been a bigger meteor that had dipped into the Earth's envelope in a flat trajectory and then glowed, before hurtling back out into space again. This is because it is apparently slid through the uppermost layer of the Earth's atmosphere, such as for example a stone, which is thrown with great force flat on a water surface and glides over the water and strikes several times, before it sinks into the water, just as it was done with the water-slide bombs in the last world war, because large, round and tons heavy explosive bombs were built, which were hurled flat from airplanes into the water of rivers and lakes, towards weirs and the like, so the deadly water-sliding projectiles skimmed like flat stones over the water and often jumped many tens of metres before they reached their destination, exploded and tore the weirs, etc. to shreds. So it seemed to me to be similar to the object that was filmed. Now, however, so-called experts are again claiming that the whole thing was the crash of a Russian launcher. For my part, however, it seemed to me to be something else, a meteor, as I have already explained. With Quetzal, and also earlier with Semjase, I could observe different launcher crashes and also two satellite crashes from close proximity and at distance, in addition, different meteor dips into the Earth's shell, including four such dips which only whizzed flatly through the outermost atmosphere and went out and disappeared again in the world space. And this is exactly how this object, which was shown on television, looked. It looked in no wise like rocket fragments.

Talja:

34. The incident is known to me and it was actually a meteorite with a diameter of 3.2 metres.

35. We had been observing the trajectory of this meteor for many weeks and found that it would only graze the outermost layer of the Earth's envelope, as you say, and fly out into space again.

36. It was a wandering meteorite of unknown origin and not coming from the asteroid belt of the destroyed planet Malona.

37. Hurrying through space since time unknown to us, on its path of origin, which was also unknown to us, it got into the area of attraction of the Earth and grazed the outer shell, causing it to glow and thus form a tail several kilometres long.

38. By the immersion into the outermost envelope of the Earth and by the resulting frictional heat some striking formations of the meteorite were torn apart, altogether 14 of them, which burst off explosively from the main form and burned up as accompanying meteors next to the main block and flew beside it, in order to leave the Earth's envelope again, together with the large meteorite, in order to divide in free space.

39. So it was not a crashing carrier rocket, as hasty ones or know-it-alls want to claim, but actually a big meteorite from space.

Billy:

A space projectile from the vastness of the universe, if one may formulate it so.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_238

Ptaah:

11. So I quickly went back into my flying apparatus and ordered the control element of the control disk to turn on, which I then promptly examined.

...

Billy:

... What energies did your ancestors or ancestral-ur-ur ancestors use after they departed from the rocket motors or rocket drives? I must ask, what kind of energies and engines did they use? Are you allowed to give any information at all?

Ptaah:

404. If I answer your last question first, then the answer is yes, because here too there is no longer a secret on Earth, because we have been providing relevant scientists with corresponding impulses for quite some time.

405. The answer to the questions of energies and engines is this:

406. Electron drives or electron pulse drives.

407. The entire universal space is piled up through and through with electrons, so the space is not simply empty, as the layperson mistakenly thinks, but what is also known to earthly scientists for a very long time.

408. However, electrons do not only exist in one kind or form, but in very diverse forms.

409. However, I am not yet allowed to give further information or explain details about this, nor with regard to the 280 universally existing elements, of which only about 100 are known to Earth scientists.

410. To answer your question, however, I would like to explain to you that our ancestors discovered the principle of electron energy, which is present on all planets and stars as well as in all forms of life, as well as in inexhaustible form in the entire universe.

411. We make use of these electron energies even today just as our early and later ancestors did, only that we make energy transformations and are incomparably advanced in the use of these energies and their application as well as in the technology required for them than our ancestors were.

412. Tachyon drives as well as ray drives and antimatter drives, and our newest means of transportation with transmitters are based on electron energy, which we have been using for many millennia in ever more perfected form.

413. Also the cosmic-electromagnetic life energy, from which any form of life lives, is a product of the never-exhaustible electron energy of the universe.

414. Also any form of existence, no matter what kind, lives from it, even the spirit-forms, even if their energy is infinitely finer.

Billy:

Are electrons also swinging waves?

Ptaah:

415. That is right.

Billy:

Aha, then an electron impulse engine should actually operate in such a manner that it finds a hold on the electrons in free space itself, at which it can repel itself and move by its own swinging waves. A perfect perpetual motion machine, so to speak, if one knows the technology and is able to apply it. This also explains why your spacecraft never lack energy, neither in free space nor on a planet. Also it dawns on me slowly that you can regulate and apply the redirection of light to make your flying machines invisible, but probably also the phenomenon that you can also fly in an air envelope with unlimited speed without being fried by a friction heat, because if you protect your ships or other flying bodies with electron swinging waves, with an electron swinging wave mantle so to speak, then the slightest friction can no longer arise. Is that so, or am I right?

Ptaah:

...

418. Once again, you made me ask you a question to give you a small statement with which you could continue working at lightning speed and give facts that I did not actually want to mention.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_241

Billy:

Again a question about the aliens: Apart from the fact that their objects can crash or have to go down on Earth by emergency landings, it is also given that their flying bodies are simply observed by Earth-humans when they race through Earthly air, isn't it?

Ptaah:

473. Certainly, this will remain so.

474. Sightings of such flying machines of alien beings are still made, whereby it must be paid attention, however, that not all really observed or to be observed flying machines are really extraterrestrial origin, because certain powers on Earth also have flying bodies, which are generally regarded as unidentified flying objects, because their existence is kept secret and is largely unknown, which in no way means, however, that all observations regarding such flying machines would point to earthly objects.

475. Certain observations actually refer to aircraft of extraterrestrial or even alien origin.

{Note: Here Ptaah differentiates between "extraterrestrial" and "alien".}

Billy:

This is clear to me, but not to other people, because they always turn everything in such a way that they can claim that their real or self-deceptive or self-deceiving, invented, lying or simply charlatan-like fictional sightings of missiles of all kinds are UFOs, by which of course spaceships or jet ships etc. are meant.

Ptaah:

476. That is unfortunately correct.

477. Many phantasts, liars, charlatans, swindlers and so-called experts of ufology act in this form.

478. Especially the so-called experts are usually unobjective, gullible, misbelieving and unrealistic, which is why they are unobjective.

479. Out of this, they recognize every obvious fraud as a real event, while they classify a given reality and true event as fraud, which is especially true for all well-known so-called ufologists.

480. Not only are they biased and deny any real truth because it does not fit into their concept, no, they also dare to denigrate and deny the truth in order to propagate all nonsense and nonsense as genuine and truthful.

481. Nor do they shy away from interpreting all possible and impossible things, movements, noises, shadows, whisperings, imaginary touches and deceptions of all kinds as machinations of extraterrestrial intelligences and as their manifesting themselves, which corresponds more than only to a ridiculousness, because all this is truthfully already based on a hopeless delusion.

482. Of course, all this does not contribute in public to a reasonable and unbiased discussion as well as to a pertinent assessment of the facts about alien aircraft and the actual existence of alien life and its sporadic presence and visits to earth.

483. All these stupid-dreamy boastful elements contribute in truth to the fact that the actual existence of extraterrestrial flying machines and extraterrestrial human life is just as doubted and ridiculed as their actual appearance in terrestrial airspace and on Earth itself.

...

Billy:

I know, but we shouldn't talk about it. Let's stay with the other thing you said: The fact is that many of the so-called ufologists and ufo experts etc., through their fantasies and their unobjectivity, do more harm than good to all ufology and the truth about alien, extraterrestrial missiles and their crews ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_246

Ptaah:

23. And of course I brought you the metal samples.

...

26. The multicoloured metal is a still unfinished alloy, which, as with us, is also used by Asket's people in the DAL universe as a thin coating for all types of flying objects and flying devices.

27. The other and silver shining metal is almost pure silver, which forms one of the basic materials for the alloy, which consists of two further parts of copper and nickel.

...

Billy:

... on a private basis, fraud, lies, charlatantry and fraud have been practiced in these matters for a long time, which, according to your statements, should increase in the future. Unfortunately, this also discredits and ridicules the real UFO observations, if we want to stick to this name. But there are other UFO observations, namely those that fall within the scope of official and military secrets. This also involves various events of the past and present, about which a great deal has been written, claimed, talked about and kept secret in the private sphere of so-called UFO research. Stories about crashes and salvages of UFOs also appear, e.g. the case of New Mexico towards the end of the 1940s, etc. But also names like 'Falcon' and 'Condor' etc. play an important role, whereby it should concern CIA members etc., who should pass on UFO information to the public under these pseudonyms, of course without letting their face become recognizable. Also the so-called 'Little Greys' play a very important role, which allegedly in the USA about three million people are said to have insisted, impregnated and maltreated with operation scars and painting etc. ...

Ptaah:

37. Which, of course, is sheer nonsense and has no reality at all.

38. We are well aware of the hysteria of such delusions in America.

39. This is already spreading to Europe, with a particularly fertile soil to be found especially in Germany.

40. On the other hand the delusion and the hysteria are still consciously stirred up from different places, whereby also this 'Falcon' appears, whose false information is taken by all stupid believers gladly as cash coin.

41. Certain official bodies, offices and organizations also deliberately allow such false information to be disseminated, whereby the reasons for this are very varied.

42. I am not yet allowed to speak openly about this, nor about which things correspond to the truth or untruth in matters of UFO crashes and UFO salvages as well as other related matters.

43. Also with regard to the clarification of earthly offices and military and defensive forces in matters of UFOs, my duty of secrecy, which is apparent from one of our directives, is that we must not interfere in any matters of human life with which we are not in official contact.

45. Which secrets earth authorities and military as well as security organizations guard etc. regarding interests of allegedly extraterrestrial aircraft and humans etc., must remain according to our directive instructions their secrets, which we do not have the right to air.

Billy:

Well, that's clear. So I don't want to ask you any more about these things. From your explanation it should be very clear, however, that the Scandinavian aviation major Petersen is also a fantasist in matters concerning the fact that extraterrestrials are supposed to hold important offices in the most diverse earthly governments.

Ptaah:

46. We have also talked about this on several occasions, but we have always made it clear that such assertions correspond to nothing other than pure delusional fantasies.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_249

Billy:

What about the fact that UFO sightings are made all over the world again and again? They cannot all be real.

Ptaah:

26. That is right, but we have talked about it a lot.

27. Very few percentages correspond to actual sightings; the rest is based on sensory illusions, charlatanism, dizziness, lies and deception, etc.

...

Billy:

... It is always doubted that plejadic spaceships can fly with umpteen times the speed of light in normal space or that objects can only fly through space with approximately the speed of light without time shifts, because Einstein's theory of relativity simply forbids this. Is the assumption correct that the calculation formulas of this theory of relativity are basically correct, but only with limitations, so that they have to be replaced by other and further additions in the end? In my opinion this should be the case, because if I consider that certain galaxies drift apart at approximately the speed of light, without time shifts arising, then it would have to be so for this reason alone – quite apart from my own experience, which I was allowed to experience and make through you during my Great Journey and during other occasions.

Ptaah:

75. Your assumption is absolutely correct, but I am not allowed to give any official details about it and therefore no information.

76. The actual facts and formulas must remain a secret for the Earth-humans for a long time to come, for everyone.

...

Billy:

All the nonsense that is told and spread about UFOs and extraterrestrials on earth has spread like a festering ulcer, whereby also the actual UFO sightings and observations are denigrated and referred to the realm of fantasy and delusions of the senses.

Ptaah:

173. That is indeed so.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_250

Billy:

... Can you officially explain how things are to be seen in relation to UFOs with regard to their origin? I am referring to the fact that unidentified flying objects do not only come from our space-time continuum, but also from other dimensions. We have never really talked about this in detail, but mostly only superficially and in passing.

Ptaah:

59. That is right.

60. So I want to give some information about it in a little more detail than usual:

61. Let's start with the unidentified aircrafts or missiles, etc., which are purely terrestrial-human constructions.

62. This kind of missile exists a larger number, in different forms.

63. These are productions of the most diverse states of Earth, which, however, keep their researches and products secret.

64. Of course they cannot avoid doing test flights etc. with their flying machines, whereby they can often be observed by terrestrial people of all social classes, thus by simple citizens as well as by well-known title holders etc.

65. Some of these constructions have flight abilities that go far beyond the normal understanding of terrestrial humans and mock the normal aircraft construction as well as the normal flight abilities of the normal terrestrial airplanes.

66. These missiles also have forms that do not correspond to those of known airplanes, which is why they appear strange.

67. For these reasons, when observed by the uninitiated, they are not recognized as earthly constructions and are consequently referred to as UFOs, unidentified flying objects.

68. However, this also includes observations which have no connection whatsoever with such objects, but which can be traced back to cloud formations as well as swarms of insects or birds, or to natural atmospherical or gaseous luminous phenomena, etc.

69. Also undersea gas escapes, which cause the water to bubble at the sea surface, as well as sensory illusions and balloons, kites, zeppelins, normal airplanes or light and ultra-light airplanes etc. belong to it.

70. With all these things, which appear very frequently, it should be absolutely clear that they are not interplanetary flying objects and thus not unidentified flying objects of extraterrestrial human life-forms.

71. If we consider a further form of terrestrial flying objects, which are considered UFOs and which are not of extraterrestrial origin, then we have to speak of those flying machines which originate from the terrestrial future in terms of their dimensions to the space-time continuum prevailing here.

72. So we are dealing here with flying bodies of earthly origin, but built in a dimension of the future on earth, whereby Earth-humans living there in the future have found the ways of time travel, whereby it becomes possible for them to travel back into their own past and thus also into the present time on Earth.

73. So these visitors are not extraterrestrial intelligences either, but also inhabitants of Earth, whose technology is many centuries and sometimes even thousands of years ahead of the present time of Earth-humans and in the future.

74. Further forms of unidentified flying bodies concern life-forms that are actually extraterrestrial and that also belong to this space-time continuum prevailing here.

75. Such life-forms with their flying objects visit Earth only very rarely, except for three different races, which have been flying to Earth for a long time, apart from us Pleiadians of course.

76. Furthermore, Earth is also approached here and there by extraterrestrial human life-forms, which happens however extremely rarely and is to be counted often in decades or in centuries, who come with their flying objects from parallel spaces and/or from parallel planes to the space-time continuum predominant here, like e.g. we ourselves, who live in a parallel space, which is shifted, fractions of a second, attached to this space-time continuum predominant here.

77. It ...

Billy:

Sorry to interrupt. On the one hand, you talked about earthlings who live in the future and visit Earth from there. That's what you call time-travellers!

Ptaah:

78. Of course.

Billy:

But what should we call those who simply come from parallel spaces?

Ptaah:

79. According to your sense we simply call it transfer or parallel transfer.

Billy:

So nothing that would be complicated to say. But just go on with your explanations now. Does it actually happen frequently that people with their flying machines come to us from parallel spaces and come to Earth?

Ptaah:

80. No, that's very rare, apart from us and our allies.

81. In contrast, however, it is more common for bioorganic flying objects {see "Rods"} to appear in this space-time continuum, not only on Earth, but also on many other inhabited and uninhabitable world spheres.

82. So we can observe such bio-organisms, as we call them, also on our worlds, whereby we do not know however yet exactly which kind these life-forms are now.

83. The dimension changers, as we also call them, are larger and smaller airworthy, bioorganic life-forms, which are often fluorescent or very brightly radiating and located in a parallel space or parallel universe.

84. In their way they are absolutely harmless and even playful.

85. They often appear individually or in smaller groups, ranging in size from a few metres to several hundred metres in diameter.

86. They live in a parallel space that we have not yet been able to access, whose data we know well, but into which we have not yet been able to penetrate in form in order to establish communicative contact with these forms of life.

88. Finally, only those extraterrestrial intelligences are to be mentioned who come from the DAL universe and visit Earth.

89. However, this is so rare that this was only the case once during the last 50,000 years when Asket maintained contact with you for eleven years.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_251

Ptaah:

13. To justify you I may speak officially today about it and give the facts of the fact that we have analysed and evaluated in a special way the film and photomontages as well as the film trick shots of all false and fraudulent, alleged contact persons or UFO observers and found out that their faked film and photo material found approval with the terrestrial people, completely particularly with so-called UFO specialists, who call themselves ufologists etc., to which also well-known scientists belong.

14. The ridiculousness of the forgeries and the believers in them is striking, but they were extremely effective.

15. This was the reason for us to perform manoeuvring movements with the real existence of our flying apparatuses, such as jerky pendulum movements and certain springy hovering movements, which normally do not correspond to the normal movements and flying techniques of our flying objects, but to the ridiculous jerky pendulum movements and peculiar swinging waves of the manipulated films and photos of the UFO swindlers and liars and charlatans.

16. And the reason why we chose this type of movement lies in the fact that it was precisely this that triggered the worldwide and fierce UFO controversy, which of course also had many disadvantages for you, because you were accused of swindling and deceit or charlatany and dishonesty and assumed that you made models and photographed and filmed them.

17. We often felt sorry for you because of this, but we could not change everything, because only by carrying out certain flight manoeuvres in this form, which you could film and photograph and then spread all over the world, the worldwide UFO controversy was guaranteed, which led to the already said result and will also in the future still further and already urgently necessary results bring.

Ptaah:

59. Another very objectionable factor is also that flying apparatuses are being built and tested in the USA by the military in an extremely secret manner, of which many outsiders nevertheless have knowledge and even evidence, because they have been able to observe and even film and photograph the flying apparatuses at all times of the day and night.

Billy:

And these are flying apparatuses that have foreign forms and have propulsion systems and flight characteristics that are not inherent to any conventional aircraft. ...

Ptaah:

...

61. I can now also say that various so-called UFO observations that have been made in many countries of the Earth during the last four decades can also be traced back in several forms to such flying apparatuses of terrestrial origin, which, however, do not only relate to America, but also to other countries of the Earth.

...

Billy:

In various countries on Earth, flying apparatuses are being developed which, due to their construction method which is different from that based on airplanes, appear foreign and extraterrestrial, and indeed with quite good success. The forms of flying apparatuses range from the beamship forms that you know of, to triangular forms etc. etc. And the fact that these flying apparatuses are then regarded by observers as UFOs i.e. as spaceships or simply as extraterrestrial flying objects, is indeed probably only natural; not least also because they are noiseless or almost noiseless and have flight characteristics which are foreign to the flight techniques known on Earth and contradict them.

...

Billy:

... There are many more pictures that have been taken in recent years by observers of UFOs that are real. According to your own statements, these include photos of police and military personnel.

Ptaah:

132. That is correct, because during the last decades different extraterrestrial intelligences have been seen on earth with their flying machines, which could then also be filmed and photographed.

133. The film and photo material of UFOs made in all the years worldwide and especially in America and South America as well as in England etc. does not always show extraterrestrial flying objects, but also such strangely working flying machines, which are manufactured since several decades by terrestrial humans on earth, as well as flying bodies, which come from the terrestrial future or which are known as bioorganic flying bodies with us, which are the so-called dimension changers, life forms, which penetrate from another dimension into the terrestrial airspace.

...

Ptaah:

144. In the time to come, even farther away, a lot will happen and change with regard to alien aircraft and their crews, but also with regard to earthly, mysterious and strange-looking flying machines.

145. Also contacts with extraterrestrials are to be expected, which will be however of a completely different nature than all previous lying, swindling and deceitful would-be contactees have presented them with all their religious-sectarian nonsense etc.

...

Billy:

Your world-monitoring control disks, what about them – do they remain stationed around the world?

Ptaah:

182. All these control apparatuses have already been removed, so only the one intended for the centre still exists.

183. But it is no larger than 7 millimetres in diameter and 3.2 millimetres in thickness.

Billy:

And that includes all the monitoring electronics as well as the signal transmitter?

Ptaah:

184. And even much more you wouldn't dream of, as you like to say.

185. The control apparatus also contains transmitters and receivers and associated image transmission equipment, which transmit everything at multiple speeds of light to a control point near our dimensional passage at a star far beyond the Pleiades cluster, in order to reach our space-time structure and thus our dimension from there through a dimensional transmitter.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_252

Billy:

... During the last conversation you told me confidentially that despite your departure a patrol might still return.

Ptaah:

76. That's right.

77. Such a decision was indeed made.

78. There are also already several unmanned and two manned units here again, which carry out their observation flights and tasks around the planet.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_257

Billy:

... there are the underhand American efforts to cover up everything concerning UFOs and extraterrestrials and secretly use them for military armament as well as for the exercise of military and political power. ...

...

Billy:

Besides you Pleiades and the members of your Federation, there are also other alien beings visiting our world, whose aircraft can be observed here and there.

Ptaah:

84. That is correct, but not our concern, because we do not maintain any contacts to these very rare aliens, just as we do not maintain any contacts to Earth-humans.

...

Billy:

Extraterrestrials

...

In every case caution is recommended in relation to the extraterrestrials and contact with them as well as in relation to the observed UFOs, because for a long time not all of that which was said and asserted in this regard was correct. Deceptions can be present during the observations of UFOs, as well as the actual observation of extraterrestrial flying devices, etc. Thus, where dealing with such an observation, it is often very difficult to clear up. Yet it may be accepted that a certain small percentage of all observations actually lead back to extraterrestrial flying devices, which are seen in ever greater numbers around the world. The majority of the observations do not, however, correspond to reality, rather touch upon imaginations and suchlike, that many times are only the consequence of certain science fiction films, etc., that would arouse the susceptible humans to fantasies through which they then see or experience imaginary things in the sky that have nothing to do with reality. And just these imaginations, that often extend to Real Vision, are very plentiful, but this should not prejudice the facts, and mean that all observations are of this kind, because there actually are still enough cases of UFO observations that undoubtedly rest upon such really-occurring extraterrestrial, and partly also other-dimensional, flying devices which have nothing to do with the Plejadian/Plejaren, and their confederates, rather they belong to other worlds and civilizations.

... Therefore the greatest caution is recommended with extraterrestrial contacts in the sky, because too much about this are lies, deception, swindle, charlatanism and speculation, etc., whereby also the truth-despising efforts and falsifications as well as disinformation machinations of the governments are implicated through the committal and establishment of unbelievable lies, slanders, falsifications and trickeries in the world to veil the truth, to contradict and to deny. The Roswell UFO crash is just one of many inglorious examples. Naturally not all terrestrial governments and military work in this slimy way, but there are many. And they get ever more difficulty from those peoples who are really interested in the UFO clarification and the events connected therewith, as they turn the heat up under the governments, the military and the secret services. The time namely presses ever more, because ever more UFO incidents take place and also pure UFO observations increase ever further. So the responsible ones use their lies, defamation and denial ever less, whereby they apply a new obscuring technique to keep secret the actual existence of extraterrestrials, as well as their visits to Earth. Their new method is to demonize everything that has to do with UFOs and extraterrestrials. That, thereby, also serves to hinder the coming about of contact with extraterrestrials and civilians, because that can no longer be controlled and because, as a rule, civilians who are not bound by a military or secret service security status do not shy away from making such experiences and events openly known. But such open information is exceedingly uncomfortable and even exceedingly dangerous for the governments as well as for the military and secret services, etc., as their power structures could become shaky. Of this it was already clear to a whole line-up of authorities as well as their military and secret services in the First World War because, over the battlefields of Europe UFOs were observed whose appearance was however kept secret. It went the same way in the Second World War, as the foo-fighters surfaced everywhere. Indeed, it was already firmly established by the military and secret services and highest government positions by the First and Second World Wars that UFOs were of extraterrestrial origin, yet the secrecy was still maintained. The facts of the extraterrestrial origins of flying devices was recognized in America through the observation of a landing of such an object, where four unusually-clothed humanoid beings disembarked, collected some plants in the vicinity, re-entered their device and flew away. The observers of these events were two members of the military who, co-incidentally, were in just that area while on vacation. Both reported the event to the nearest military facility, allowing the secret investigations and clarifications to proceed, as had already happened in other similar cases that preceded, and also subsequently occurred even more. But everything happened under the strictest nondisclosure, as the Plejadian/Plejaren have affirmed, so the public received no knowledge about these incidents whatsoever, as neither did the main body of the governments, the military and the secret services. It was always only the very highest positions and officials who were privy to the secrets. And it was also these people who even then concerned themselves with, and worked out, concealment tactics to deceive most of their subordinates and the entire population. It was to be avoided that on one hand everything would be known, and on the other hand that those not in the know and not sworn to secrecy, or even civilian personnel, could have contact with extraterrestrials. Therefore a possibility was sought to place fear in humans in relation to the extraterrestrials so that no contact would result from a possible landing or from a crash of extraterrestrial projectiles.

Naturally already in those times there were civilian observers of UFOs, but if this was to be avoided, there would still be fundamentally nothing given recognition in the open media. They also led the population to believe that these strange flying devices were their own secret flying machines, which were just then undergoing initial testing. Therefore the people already at that time were knowingly being led into the dark. Silence was maintained regarding what the UFOs effectively were, namely extraterrestrial, and partly foreign-dimensional, interplanetary flying devices controlled by crews foreign to Earth. Naturally in those days the flying devices were not yet called UFOs, but were given other names. But that doesn't diminish the fact that already after the outbreak of the First World War, in 1915, the American President Woodrow Wilson ordered a nondisclosure in respect of extraterrestrial flying objects, and decreed measures to cover himself with what had been written. The consequences of this unofficial, secret edict of which also US Presidents Warren G. Harding as well as Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt, whereby especially Roosevelt, were finally the driving power, was that the angst for extraterrestrial conquerors would be incited to panic, and indeed through a perfidious machination, together with the secret service, through which book authors would be threatened with death in order to start an extremely effective horror scenario. US President Harry Truman was then also later drawn into the conspiracy, because he even cooperated as the highest-placed observer of UFO crash sites. However, things of this kind were not only happening in America, because also in Russia – as also in other countries – one was becoming attentive to the UFOs and secretly held the view that it must concern extraterrestrial flying devices – even when, always again, meanwhile, voices from the uninitiated grew loud in Russia as well as in America that these thereby dealt with new kinds of enemy aircraft. Party leader and dictator Josef W. Stalin was, for example, like various US presidents, at different times an observer of UFOs, from which he was quickly convinced, despite the angst for the new flying machines of the Americans, that it dealt with intelligences foreign to Earth. One fact that he, however, never made openly known, as also happened with the fact that practically every UFO observation in the Soviet Union fell under secrecy provisions.

The darkening, slandering and obscuring machinations of many governments, militaries and secret services, etc., of different countries, began therefore already very early, and indeed much earlier than would be generally accepted by the real UFO researchers. According to the explanation of the Plejadian/Plejaren, however, especially the Americans were leading in this respect, whereby these were also those who held the proof of the existence of extraterrestrial flying objects tight in their hands already early, and indeed not first since the Roswell case. Truly, already earlier the Americans had parts of wreckage from crashed extraterrestrial flying devices fall into their hands, as well as mutilated extraterrestrial corpses, which, however, fell under the strictest nondisclosure and whereby, as the Plejadian/Plejaren explained, also undesired UFO crash and UFO recovery observers, as well as recovery workers were "erased" or forced into silence under the gravest threats. But that was not enough by far, because the longer the UFO appearances in the new age were observed, the more secretively these were dealt with, and indeed not the least on that account, because the arrival of the extraterrestrials, and the enslavement of the terrestrial humanity through the invaders was feared by the American government and their military as well as secret services. And (so) that the population should be left in ignorance about the truth of the existence of extraterrestrials, nevertheless, however (that) fear must be developed in the peoples against the extraterrestrials, out of which a far-reaching hate must be established against the invaders, and, thereby, once again a defensive rage steered by hate should result, the US presidency, as well as the leading officers of the military and the secret services, etc., came upon a psychologically sophisticated idea to work out a horror scenario in extraterrestrial matters and to start it in such a way that not only America would be seized by it, rather also great parts of the rest of the world. This scenario should be configured in such a way, that once angst and panic should first break out regarding Extraterrestrial invaders, thereafter they then spread further fear and hate far, and could spread it over the world, and indeed also then, when it would be officially recognized, that it all only dealt with fiction and therefore a poor utopian piece of work. Thereby the psychological trick would be established, that when once fear is sown then from that yet greater fear and finally also panic and hate must develop, that follows itself further, always spreading out farther. A fact that was already known then and also today, yet would be practiced again and again over the whole world in different relationships. And exactly angst and terror were necessary, according to the view of the responsible ones, to incite the population against the extraterrestrials, and to prevent them from coming into contact with them if the opportunity should present itself.

Through this perfidious and fully-thought-out psychological machination of the highest government authorities as well as the military and secret services, it also should be avoided that at any time, any one of the people would gain admission to the extraterrestrials if the opportunity offered itself. The responsible ones not only had fear of a peaceful extraterrestrial official, or unofficial, landing and contact initiative, but they also feared an invasion. And because an official or unofficial extraterrestrial appearance and effect on the Earth was not compatible with the religious philosophies, since 1915, Pope Benedict XV, (1914-1922) as well as Pius XI. (1922-1939) and Pius XII. (1939-1958) would also be drawn into the entire conspiracy. Also certain Jewish dignitaries were enlisted in this, who even at that time in America had quite a bit to say and had a voice.

In the most secret of missions, it was therefore resolved to create a horror scenario which would agitate the population on one hand, who, however, should be left in ignorance of the truth of the existence of the extraterrestrials who already manoeuvred in terrestrial air space and also landed sporadically on the Earth, as it has been established from secure sources, and through that, on the other hand, that fear and hate be sown against the strangers from other worlds. The mean and slimy trick was in and of itself simple: a radio broadcast should be transmitted, that on one hand spreads angst and terror of the extraterrestrials, and on the other hand, should also strike very far, and as much as possible, worldwide circles. To this end, through American secret service agents, as well as through the responsible superiors of these positions of duty, as well as the government and military, suitable authors and works were sought, which could be exploited and used for the perfidious machination. It was US President Franklin D. Roosevelt (President, 4th March 1933 – 12th April 1945) who quite personally, however, sought out the science fiction work of Englishman Herbert George Wells, who as an author, in 1898, brought out a work under the title "War of the Worlds". In this episode American secret service agents made contact with Wells and beseeched him coercively to adapt his work to a radio play. But the man himself did not feel in a position to do this, so he suggested chartering a young American author of his acquaintance, Orson Welles, who would certainly be suitable. Under threats of death, H.G. Wells was obliged to lifelong silence, after which, then in America, the still young Orson Welles would be coerced by the secret service people to refashion H.G. Wells's work, "War of the Worlds" into a realistic-seeming horror radio play. Out of the science fiction novel Wells wrote in 1897 and published in 1898, such a work that broadcast on the radio, would release wild panic and angst as well as hate for the extraterrestrials. The work, in which extraterrestrials, formed unlike humans, and of monstrous and evil-nature, land on the Earth and cause trouble and destruction, was exactly that which had been hoped for by the responsible ones of governments, the military and the secret services. It's no wonder that as a result of panic breaking out there was quite a number of dead.

The goal of the government, the military and the secret services was achieved with the broadcast of the radio play (War of the Worlds), because from then on fear, and also a certain hate, ruled against the extraterrestrials, of the kind and form, as well as the sense, that was also always desired. And exactly that has remained that way until today and even still spreads out, because fear and hate would again always be newly stirred up, and the American secret service powers, etc., are especially proficient in doing exactly that. Were that not enough, that they – and certain also determined government and military powers – financially support and demand contra films against the extraterrestrials, no, they do not shy from simulating all kinds of horror-events, like, for example, abductions by extraterrestrials, as well as human and animal mutilations and so on and so forth. They are also not inactive in matters relating to the falsification of crop circles, and indeed in the most differing countries. Naturally, in respect of all these things there are also charlatans, deceivers and swindlers and every other sort, yet the secret service machinations are probably indeed the worst, because it is precisely through these that disinformation is established, through which the genuine and actual events in this regard are bedevilled and made laughable. Scarcely anything is known about exactly this, as everything runs so secretly as it always has, and as does the actual story of the radio play of "War of the Worlds" by Orson Welles. And the danger exists that something could not be held secret, then the responsible ones of the government and military as well as the secret services do not shy away from bringing the witnesses to silence under death threats or through an otherwise erasing, like, for example, through elimination or through a consciousness-stupefying brain wash and psycho-terror and so forth. Herbert George Wells, who died on the 13th August 1946, also knew that, as did Orson Welles who departed this life on October 10th, 1985. Neither left behind any indications about the true incidents regarding the radio play, as they correctly feared that their families, friends and acquaintances after their demise also could be vengefully persecuted by the secret service people and the responsible ones of the government and military. And that I now do not hold my tongue about that which the Plejadian/Plejaren explained to me in regard to this ... what comes of that remains to be seen... The nasty machinations of the government, military and secret service people in respect of the demonizing of extraterrestrials have increased ever more since 1938 – indeed slowly and successively, thus, however all the more incessantly and expansively, until in the eighties, essentially, the greatest machination for the bedeviling of extraterrestrials began – through a shifty structure in the fashion of the secret service, as well as miscellaneous UFO and extraterrestrial enemies. Stories came about like the ghastly human and animal mutilations, the theft of human babies and the impregnating of terrestrial women through foreign visitors out of outer space. Horror stories were also disseminated about subterranean laboratories and the inhuman experiments taking place there. Were that still not enough, because the angst of the extraterrestrials wreaked even worse blooms, like, for example, it would be asserted that women impregnated by aliens would, after some months, have the baby growing in the womb snatched out to be allowed to finally grow further in a fluid-filled incubator, etc., in order to breed up a new humanity, etc. using these hybrid children. A further horror story was that the earth humans would be abducted, in order to take their genetic material that would be necessary for the extraterrestrials' further breeding of humans, who would serve as, so to say, nourishment providers, because the evil foreigners out of the depths of outer space supposedly nourish themselves on human blood. Similarly, it would also be asserted in respect to the animal mutilations in America, whereby the related far-fetched feeble-mindedness that namely beef blood demonstrates a genetic relationship with human blood, therefore the mutilated cattle would have their blood sucked out to store in the blood banks for crisis times – naturally through the evil extraterrestrials. Yet even that is not enough, because still many other assertions, slanderings and lies, and clearly to be recognised as feeble-minded, are put about, through which the humans are led into error and would be shifted into angst and terror, as has had manifold success, and certain mass hysteria has been released by a worldwide group of certain earth humans, which also leads to feelings of hate, etc. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_260

Billy:

... Here, for example: protective shields of spaceships. – As you know, science fiction films are broadcast almost all over the world by all TV stations – even in the cinemas, these are shown – and of course, as a rule, the aliens are always the bad guys who kill the Earth-humans and who want to destroy the Earth or else want to conquer and colonize it for themselves, which is, of course, pure nonsense. Now, in these films, it is regularly portrayed that the energy shields of the spaceships lose a percentage of strength and protective function each time when energies of any kind hit these. These other, foreign energies are, of course, generally those that are shot, i.e. emitted, from hostile beam weapons of enemy objects. Now, the question is: to what extent can such an energy shield be reconstructed in a decisive time, such that a full protection is given again. There actually are such protective shields, as I know from you; therefore, what is depicted in the films doesn't just correspond to an unattainable fantasy. And as you once explained to me, our earthly scientists are also working on such protective shields, even though everything still falls under secrecy.

Ptaah:

142. And successes in relation to this could have already been seen – if it didn't just concern secret projects.

143. But I can answer your question as follows:

144. It all depends on what energy sources are used for a protective shield, in what measures they are used, and how they can be brought to application.

145. As you know very well, energies are not simply energies, but this doesn't actually have to be explained in detail; therefore, it is only to be said that in general, different technologies for the utilization of protective shields exhibit different forms of energy, from which energy shields can even be generated.

146. The protective shields themselves can also be very different, so they might protect a spaceship or other aircraft, etc. only by sector or even completely.

147. With this, it should be explained that a spaceship, another aircraft, a human, a robot or android, or something else can just be protected by a single, full-scale protective shield or by one that consists of several segments, i.e. sectors.

148. A full-scale protective shield has a main energy source and a reserve energy source, while a segment shield, i.e. sector shield, has its own main energy source and reserve energy source for each sector; thus, the individual sectors are independent of each other.

Billy:

And what form of energy shield is used by you?

Ptaah:

149. We exclusively use comprehensive protective shields, and to be sure, for the spaceships and other aircraft as well as for humans and all things that must be protected in this way.

150. However, our energy shields don't work in the way as portrayed in your science fiction films, namely that the protective shields are weakened when foreign energies from beam weapons or from cosmic energy fields, i.e. shocks of energy, impact on the shields, by what means these become weakened in their capacity, i.e. performance.

151. This form of protective shield development only represents an initial one, and we already left this phase behind us thousands of years ago.

152. Already more than 40,000 years ago, our technology in this regard experienced such a high development that the protective shields could be perfected and could be put into use, whereby these shields were designed in such a way that any kind of energy that hit them became converted into that which was useful for the shield, which has so remained up to this day.

153. Thus, by impacts of foreign energies of every kind, including, of course, protective shield-conforming energies, the protective shields are neither weakened nor destroyed; rather, they convert the impacting energy immediately and without loss of time into their own energy and, thus, strengthen the power of their own shields.

154. In other words:

155. There occurs, without loss of time, an energy-to-standardization in the protective shield's energy, whereby this accumulates with each newly added burst of energy of any kind from beam weapons or cosmic energy.

156. This means that the more the energy hits the protective shields, the stronger these become.

Billy:

And it doesn't matter what form of energy hits the protective shield because it automatically converts all energy hitting it of every kind and makes it useful for itself.

Ptaah:

157. Yes, I said that.

...

Billy:

... Here I now have a question in reference to the navigation technology of your spaceships and other missiles or robots and machines, etc. Everything is equipped with feeling-circuits, which work just like futuristic armatures and switchgears. It only very rarely happens, however, that you carry out any manipulations with these, even though everything is geared toward the fact that, absolutely, a manual operation can take place. As you've explained to me but also often demonstrated, all navigation manipulations occur through pure thought impulses.

Ptaah:

215. That is correct.

Billy:

You explained to me that with you, no spaceship technology or other missile technology exists that isn't navigated by thought impulses, even though everything also always allows a manual navigation.

Ptaah:

216. As I already said, That is correct.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_269

Billy:

Then again a question: The unknown flying objects, the so-called UFOs, which are sighted more and more frequently in all countries, sometimes even in larger arrangements, and which are also sighted in larger numbers, all concern the same place of origin?

Ptaah:

46. No, that is not the case, because there are several different places of origin from where the flying objects come.

47. Besides, not all are at home in your space-time-structure, because as we noticed, Earth is also visited by differently dimensioned flying objects and beings that do not come from your space-time-structure.

Billy:

Can one also speak of future visitors?

Ptaah:

48. Yes, that is the case.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_272

{Note: The following comments concern a photograph seen here along with an enlargement, in Contact Report 272.}

Ptaah:

50. I remember this very well, because Florena and I were flying in your airspace at the time, because we were observing foreign flying apparatuses that were also flying around in your immediate and wider airspace.

51. Like ourselves, they were shielded from any view to humans from Earth, so neither these foreigners nor ourselves could be observed.

52. Our advanced technology also allowed us to remain invisible to the foreigners, so they had no idea of our presence.

53. But if our flying apparatus is still visible in the picture you mentioned, then this could only be captured on film for a tiny fraction of a second, at a moment when the automatic safety system changed the frequency of the visual protection shield.

54. A process that can become necessary when foreign objects, for which you want to remain invisible and unlocatable, get too close.

55. However, if the flying apparatus becomes visible for a tiny fraction of a second during such an operation, this only happens on the side facing away from the foreign object, which ensures that our flying apparatus cannot be seen or located.

56. But if our flying apparatus was photographed by the person you mentioned, then this corresponds to an almost unbelievable luck and a coincidence that occurs only once among millions of similar cases, when the automatic visual protection switch is delayed for a fraction of a second.

Billy:

Legendary. – And the foreigners? What kind of beamships or flying apparatus do they have, and what do they want?

Ptaah:

57. Their flying apparatuses bears a certain resemblance to ours and could therefore easily be confused by the uninitiated and ignorant.

58. What the foreigners want is easy to explain:

59. They appear once every 70 to 80 years on Earth, taking care of all sorts of things that reach into political as well as military and scientific matters, whereby their aim is to make an official appearance at the appropriate moment and to establish open contact with the Earth-humans.

Billy:

And, were there contacts to them at earlier times, resp. did these foreigners interfere in the earlier concerns of Earth-humans?

Ptaah:

60. That was to some extent the case, yes.

...

Florena:

10. This is undoubtedly our flying apparatus with which Ptaah and I were travelling in your area on the 9th of May at 13:00 hrs.

11. However, we did not use the flying apparatus that I usually use, but one that is probably ordered for our duties, but is not assigned to our technology and therefore has some external modifications.

Billy:

But you can still think of it as a Pleiadian-Plejaren ship – at least I thought of it as such.

Florena:

12. The confusion is understandable, as there are also various similarities with this flying apparatus that are deceptively similar to our technology.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_273

Billy:

... But don't you think it is a bit dangerous to park your ship here in the parking lot? Maybe somebody will come by at this time.

Florena:

11. If someone should come unexpectedly, then the automatic switch of the aircraft turns on the sight protection, therefore it cannot be seen then.

12. For this purpose a safety screen is in function. –

...

Billy:

... Florena, do you have any knowledge worth knowing about the alien aliens you and Ptaah observed in the airspace around Schmidrüti on the 8th of May 1998?

Florena:

20. I am not allowed to give details of important nature.

21. However, I may say that these strangers are very often present in your airspace.

22. We do not know the reason for this, but we have our assumptions.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_275

Ptaah:

8. Florena showed herself to Edith with all our consent, and then we found out that there was a lot of good news both in Edith and in various other group members.

9. That's why we gave in to Tauron's request when he asked if he could openly and visibly move across the centre, which he did on the night of the 28th of May of this year.

10. And again we noticed that it was good and that visibly fruitful changes were taking place in different group members.

11. So I approached the High Council and presented them with the statements they had made, whereupon they were advised to lift our privacy shield at certain moments, if this appeared to be justifiable.

12. The condition, however, is that only one sight wedge remains open at a time, pointing to the observer or observers or to a camera.

13. If one or perhaps several of our flying apparatuses can be observed from the Centre, then this is only possible from this location, as a result of which it can no longer be sighted in the wider surroundings.

...

21. But like you, I would also like to say that the structure here on the computer images {see photo} is indeed a flying apparatus and that it belongs to the foreigners.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_282

Billy:

... But now I have a question about the control disks that curled around the Centre on the 19th of August 1989. What was the reason for this, if one is allowed to experience it?

Ptaah:

34. That's no secret either.

35. In fact, everything that was happening around the centre and in its buildings was recorded visually and acoustically by the devices.

Billy:

Ah – why is that?

Ptaah:

36. That's no secret either.

37. What was held was used for demonstration and information purposes for all our federation members.

Billy:

I am flat. By all federation members, do you really mean all humanities or just spiritual leaders? The latter would not be logical, because you speak of all members of the Federation.

Ptaah:

38. You already understand it correctly:

39. The meaning of my words refers to all members of the Federation.

Billy:

Then I am reassured when only 120 billion (120,000,000,000) humans from foreign solar systems and planets know what's going on in the centre, how the group members behave here, what they do and work, and what their interests are, etc. I am not sure what I mean. How many hours did the control discs, or telemetric discs as we call them, record and record everything?

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_287

Billy:

... But may I still ask if you may tell me how many types of beamships you have alternately in operation here on Earth? Or is that secret?

Zafenatpaneach:

31. That is not subject to secrecy.

32. We operate in earthly space with 76 different types of aircraft.

Billy:

And, are they all of purely Plejaren origin, or do you also have ship types that you use, that come from other federation peoples, etc.?

Zafenatpaneach:

33. A certain number of the types of aircrafts that we use on Earth concern their development and construction to other peoples of our Federation.

34. They are therefore not of Plejaren origin.

...

Billy:

... Say, do you fly different ships alternately, at least that's how it seems to me?

Zafenatpaneach:

36. Yes, we don't always use the same flying objects, but this is not the rule.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_289

Billy:

... Now I have a question regarding your technology. In your spaceships, in your giant spaceship as well as in the beamships etc., you have an enormous amount of flat touch surfaces, which we simply call buttons here, and which serve to control and regulate and check etc. your ships and apparatuses as well as robots. Only rarely, and also on my Great Journey, have I seen you operate these flat touch buttons, but nevertheless everything has taken its course as you wished and said it would. Can you tell me the reason for this?

Ptaah:

22. That is no secret.

23. The flat contact surfaces, as you call them, are highly sensitive radiant surfaces that are not directly touched, but are only superficially aligned to pick up the swinging waves of the human beings via the fingertips who want to carry out the necessary manipulations.

24. In reality, however, the radiant surfaces are only manual aids for very last emergencies, precisely when something should fail for some reason, which, however, is absolutely impossible.

25. Nevertheless, safety and our legislation in this respect require that emergency switching must be possible.

26. In the normal case, every flying apparatus, every spaceship and every piece of equipment etc. is put into operation and controlled etc. by artificial bio-brains, which are bio-intelligences in themselves and can think and act independently, for which, however, they require a clear and direct thought impulse from a responsible and authorised human being.

27. It is therefore impossible for unauthorised persons to get into the working and control systems of any beamships, spaceships, devices, other missiles or into apparatus or weapons and working tools etc., because every single thing is aligned and therefore programmed to the responsible operator authorised to act.

28. One exception was when you were piloting Semjase's flying object around the Earth.

Billy:

So also no weapon can be used by an unauthorised person, as well as no devices, apparatus and ships etc.

Ptaah:

29. That is the meaning of my words.

30. All our technology requiring operation is set in operation and controlled etc. solely by thought impulses of those in charge of operation.

31. There is no other possibility, not even in the sense that something could be done by the manually operable radiant surfaces, because in this respect too the vibrations of the agents of action and operation are necessary.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_291

Asina:

6. The number of our ships with which we came into your time is 21.

...

Billy:

Yes, it just amazes me that the lights were not shown on TV or in the newspapers, because the whole thing took a good ten minutes and must have been seen by a lot of human beings.

Ptaah:

10. The Earth-humans are like that – they obviously consider such events to be of earthly origin.

11. Thus it will have been that the lighting up of the flying apparatuses from Asina's armada was interpreted as earthly aircraft.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_292

Billy:

... Well, you really surprised me when you showed up with Asina in my office. I did not expect her to be able to come here and that you would find her at all. Where were they and yours that you have not found them in so long?

Ptaah:

3. After their materialization they immediately left Earth, flying to Venus with some of the planes and to Mars with the rest of the planes to clarify and explore some things that were important to them.

4. So of course we searched in vain for them in earthly space, especially because we have not hermetically controlled the Earth and its airspace since 1995, so that we are no longer orientated towards all the entries etc. of extraterrestrial intelligences.

Billy:

You already said that earlier, but you also mentioned that you had loosened your overall control since the mid-eighties.

Ptaah:

5. That's right, because since then there's no need for total control anymore.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_301

Billy:

... May I ask you what's the situation with the new control disk you want to reinstall, as you finally told me. Do you already have it in operation?

Ptaah:

19. This is the case.

Billy:

Aha, and what performance does this thing achieve?

Ptaah:

20. It's aligned with our latest ultra-subatomic computer technology.

Billy:

I know a lot now. What performance does this thing achieve, and how big is it?

Ptaah:

21. The size of the apparatus is four square millimetres, with a total thickness of one millimetre.

22. This mass also contains the entire processor apparatus as well as the transmitter and receiver, the power generating unit and the dynamisator.

Billy:

Dynamisator? What is that?

Ptaah:

23. Is the name not correct? –

24. I mean the engine.

Billy:

Aha, you can also call it that. An incredibly tiny mass this control disk. How big is the storage capacity of the tiny one?

Ptaah:

25. 74 Exabyte.

Billy:

A Bohemian Forest for me. Exabyte, I have never heard or read that before. How can that be expressed in numbers?

Ptaah:

26. You call an exabyte 10¹⁸.

Billy:

Man, that's a trillion. 74 Exabites would then be 74 trillion bytes. And that's stored on such a tiny surface. Ultra-subatomic, you say?

Ptaah:

27. Certainly.

Billy:

And that generally corresponds to your highest current computer technology. Man, oh, man. – May I ask how many operations your high-performance computers are able to perform per second? High-performance computers, nonsense, they certainly are not, if I judge your technology by what you just explained.

Ptaah:

28. The operational speed of our fastest computers is 10⁵² operations per second.

Billy:

And all this on an ultra-subatomic basis? That's super super speed. And how big is a computer like that and how much power does it need for operation?

Ptaah:

29. I told you the size of the smallest: four (4) square millimetres of surface area and one (1) millimetre of thickness.

30. The required operating power is seven (7) watts for a computer the size of a cubic meter, as it is in my generation aircraft.

Billy:

You mean in your giant roomer?

Ptaah:

31. Yes.

Billy:

How much energy does the tiny control disk of only four square millimetres and only one millimetre thickness need?

Ptaah:

32. The demand is in the nanoscale of a watt.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_322

Billy:

... But tell me, in relation to various unknown flying objects, UFOs, which have been appearing all over the world for decades, even at the present time, and whatever will be preserved for the future, are you allowed to say something about them, if you do not touch the previous explanations?

Ptaah:

31. You should also keep silent about this, because things could become apparent which again fall within the scope of our directives.

Billy:

Of course – how can I. But what about the earth-future flying objects that are not related to your explanations?

Ptaah:

32. We should not talk openly about that either, even if these issues do not affect our directives.

33. The reason for this lies in the Earth-future, from which the flying objects you mentioned come.

Billy:

And what about 'bio-organic flying objects' {"Rods"} and the Skrill {see Contact Report 238}, shouldn't we mention anything more about them in the future?

Ptaah:

34. That would be advisable, yes.

35. Everything is exuberant with regard to extraterrestrial flying objects and extraterrestrial human life-forms in the terrestrial human being, whereby either fear and terror are stirred up or everything is ridiculed.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_324

Billy:

... Last night I received a telephone call from a woman in Munich and was asked whether I knew that in the night from the 6th to the 7th, that is from Saturday to Sunday, there was an impressive light phenomenon over Bavaria and whether I knew what it was about. Do you know anything about this event? I promised the woman that I would ask you and then give her an answer when she calls me again the next weekend.

Ptaah:

6. The incident is known to us, and there is nothing mysterious about it that needs to be concealed.

7. In fact, it is true that two different events coincided which triggered the luminous phenomenon.
8. The whole thing was about two objects crashing together towards the earth and burning up due to the frictional heat caused the remarkable luminous phenomenon.
9. One object was a natural one, a so-called bolide, an oversized shooting star, as you would say, or a small meteor, while the second object was an artificial one, namely a larger piece of space junk created by Earth-humans.
10. The coincidence was that the bolide raced exactly into the orbit of this space debris and dragged it with it, whereby both entered the atmosphere and together they burned up for the most part, consequently only small parts fell to earth unburned.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_328

Ptaah:

97. It's not worth thinking about it, because on the one hand it's an invented mischievous story about the 'Mothman', just an 'owl's mirroring', as you once called this kind of activity.
98. On the other hand, at that time a real hysteria arose regarding UFOs, according to which many people at that time saw many unreal things that really did not exist.
99. So through hysteria they fell into hallucinations, self-generated real visions and strong imaginations.
100. This hysteria was not limited to the United States of America but spread all over the world.
101. In fact, however, at that time some flying objects appeared which were unidentifiable for the terrestrial people, whereby of all of them only two were really of extraterrestrial origin, which belonged to our Federation and which could be observed several times.
102. All other observations were undoubtedly due to terrestrial flying objects of partly secret form or to any natural terrestrial phenomena, or they were based on illusions and self-deceptions etc., whereby the self-deceptions were usually based on wishful thinking, which was aimed at seeing extraterrestrial flying objects, as it is still the case today in the vast majority of cases of 'UFO-observations'.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_341

Billy:

... Can you tell me how high above Earth our tiny control disk is floating?

Quetzal:

...

38. The latest device is in a stationary orbit at an altitude of 867 kilometres – measured from the middle surface of the Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_343

Billy:

... Why is it then that the glow of the ship or ships cannot be seen at all in the size as the ship is or as the ships are? The light should appear much bigger, I think. ...

Quetzal:

21. Of course the glow extends over the whole aircraft, as you know from experience, since you could make your observations from very close range.
22. But if the aircraft is more than 280 metres above the ground, then the entire light energy is automatically bundled in such a way that only a small area of visibility is created, which for observers at night time makes the aircraft appear only like a larger star.
23. This technique is based on a safety measure against biased observers who think they see only one star.
24. From this point of view it is usually not noticed that the apparent 'star' is moving.

Billy:

Why "biased" observers?

Quetzal:

25. Regarding our directives that we should not make ourselves noticeable and not openly make ourselves visible to human populations, which themselves are not yet capable of actual space travel and have not yet become really human.

Billy:

Then you could completely shield yourselves so that no light from your ships can be seen at night. Your technology is so advanced that there should be no problems for you in this respect.

Quetzal:

26. That would be possible for us of course, but then we would have to shield our aircraft against any visibility, which brings the disadvantage for us that in this state of the aircraft we can no longer perform certain locating activities.

Billy:

You mean that if your ships are invisible to the human eye – as well as to radar beams etc. – then, if I understand correctly, certain tracking activities from the ships will be affected?

Quetzal:

27. That is of correctness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_353

Billy:

... When you come here for the visits or corrections, do you always come to the SOL system with your giant spaceship? I was asked about that.

Ptaah:

39. No, because that is only necessary when I have special tasks to perform in this part of the DERN universe.

40. Usually I come here with small flying machines that cannot be registered by the earthly observers and monitors.

Billy:

So, this brings up another question after all: Can't you shield your giant room from view?

Ptaah:

41. Yes, but as a rule the giant space machine is used elsewhere, and my deputy is in command of it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_358

Ptaah:

4. As I saw, there are a lot of people over in the kitchen.

5. So I will have to be on my guard.

Billy:

Which should not be a problem for you. You can just turn on your device, which will automatically beam you into your ship when someone comes to the living room. ...

...

Ptaah:

30. Regarding the luminous objects that light up, seem to hang in the air, seem to divide into several objects, move away from each other, approach each other again and merge again, the following can be explained:

31. All the observers and witnesses of such sightings are deceived, because they are in no way extraterrestrial flying apparatuses or UFOs, as terrestrial people call the objects, which can be seen especially in many places in the USA and all over the world.

32. The secret machinations of the responsible authorities and offices in the US-America are responsible for these appearances of these light objects, but this is to remain secret, not only for the American, but for the whole world population.

33. For this reason the paradox is given that the responsible authorities in the USA on the one hand deny the matter of the crash of an extraterrestrial flying object at Roswell and also elsewhere just as much as the secret machinations in Area 51, while on the other hand everything is done to strengthen the belief of the population in extraterrestrial UFOs, namely by secret American and strongly luminous flying apparatuses flying around in all possible areas and becoming visible to the population.

34. Of course, these are not always just test flights, but effective demonstration flights with all kinds of capers that normal terrestrial aircraft cannot perform.

35. This also happens in the relationship that the flying objects light up like little suns or suddenly split into several objects, which ultimately happens because several flat flying apparatuses are coupled on top of each other and then simply detach from each other to drift away and then reunite.

36. This creates the impression that several others would suddenly fly out of one object and then return to the 'mother object'.

37. This effect alone is enough for UFO believers to break out in jubilation and fall into the belief that the objects are extraterrestrial flying apparatuses, which they are in no way, because they are products that are secretly manufactured in the USA.

38. Test flights of these objects, which reach very high speeds and also possess certain gravitational or anti-gravitational techniques, can be observed all over the world, but especially in the country of manufacture, the USA, as I explained earlier.

39. To the secret machinations in this regard belong also still various others, which are to point out actions of extraterrestrials, like e.g. the alleged kidnappings of earth people as well as the massacring of cattle etc. by alleged extraterrestrial beings.

40. The fact that hypnosis is also used for allegedly affected people, as it was the case with the fraudulent moon landing in 1969, should be absolutely clear for every reasonable person.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_359

Billy:

... But tell me, do you know anything about UFOs flying over Mexico on 5th March 2004? Please read this little newspaper article that appeared in the Tages-Anzeiger today, 13th May.

{Note: see Wikipedia entry and the Associated Press release about this story.}

Ptaah:

18. We are aware of the matter through earthly news broadcasts and TV pictures, but we have no further knowledge of the incident, if it is indeed a fake and not a forgery.

19. The moving pictures we know from TV broadcasts seem to me to be just as extremely peculiar as the strange formation of the round light objects, which simply appear flat and therefore cannot be spherical either.

20. There are also no contours to be seen, as well as no other things that indicate that they could really have been materially solid objects.

21. Nevertheless, I cannot exclude the possibility that they could have been bioorganic missiles of different dimensions, which, as you know, are harmless life forms from a neighbouring dimension and which can usually only be photographed by infrared cameras or recorded on infrared film.

22. By this I mean those bioorganic missiles that you could observe at different places in the world and that my father Sfath has already pointed out to you.

23. One last possibility could be considered, however, if you take into account the secret technical aircraft of the USA, which shield themselves from view and can therefore only be filmed with infrared cameras or seen with infrared vision devices.

24. I very much doubt that the unknown aircraft in Mexico were extraterrestrial intelligence.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_361

Billy:

Then I would like to ask you officially, what's the deal with all the UFO sightings in the US and South America. I know the answer, but we have only ever talked about them privately and not officially, so an official statement on your part would be important. Some time ago, dear American passive members were with us in the Centre, and the talk was also about these frequent UFO sightings in America, Mexico and South America, so I explained the facts of the matter, why so many people – often in groups – see UFOs that move, change their light intensity, appear in groups, unite and separate again, appear and disappear, etc.

Ptaah:

60. I know your explanation, and it was also correct:

61. The unknown flying objects that appear so frequently in the USA, in Mexico and in various South American countries are in no way flying machines of extraterrestrial origin, but objects that correspond to an earthly technique.

62. Specifically, these are usually various types of aircraft, which are constructed in secret bases in the USA and tested in the entire North, Central and South American airspace, as well as in other countries of the world, without the world public or the military and governments of foreign states having any knowledge of them.

63. These are then the so-called UFOs, which are sighted everywhere in the airspace of the entire American continent, as well as elsewhere in the world.

64. Apart from the secret US-American aircraft, there are few others which do not belong to any state, but are constructed by other forces and can often be observed.

65. Flying machines of extraterrestrial origin are extremely rare to observe, because the earth is far away from other inhabited worlds, so it does not often receive visits from beings from other worlds.

66. This happens only extremely sporadically and therefore very rarely.

67. So what can usually be observed in unknown flying objects around the world and especially over the entire American continent are not extraterrestrial unknown flying objects but secret earthly flying machines of American and other origin.

68. Excluded are of course our flying machines and surveillance missiles, which can of course be observed by attentive observers both day and night.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_381

Ptaah:

13. What this man writes seems to me to be nonsensical, and not only because I consider the pictures to be manipulation in the way that they were taken at night or in a dark room with a photo camera, where a long exposure time was used to produce the blurred light spots, but also because the photo camera was moved when the exposure time was long.

14. A very well-known act of falsifying such pictures, which are supposed to represent any UFOs.

15. Besides this it has to be said that since the time of our contacts with you – since 1942 – we have controlled the airspace of Switzerland, but also of Germany until today very exactly and could not register any such flying objects, which would have been of extraterrestrial origin on the one hand and of this kind on the other hand.

16. Seen to me, these are clearly artificial light sources, which have been captured on film in the form I mentioned.

Billy:

Something like that, I thought, because similar images were brought to me by Dr. Jonas from Vienna when he visited me in Hinwil in the early seventies. At that time I went with him to Einsiedeln Abbey, where I could watch at close range how he took his 'ghost photos' by setting the camera to a long exposure time and then moving the camera slightly when taking the photos. Also the German – what was his name – ah, he lived somewhere in Württemberg, forged alleged UFO pictures with car lights and hand lamps, which he took at night and in dark rooms. The result was exactly the same images as the ones in front of you.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_382

Ptaah:

26. It has also been the case for many years now that our worldwide efforts of clarification and surveillance in this regard have not produced any positive results and therefore no contacts between terrestrial human beings and extraterrestrials have been recorded.

27. These clarifications are without any doubt, because our monitoring in this regard is absolutely faultless, because our apparatuses and devices register all foreign to Earth mental vibrations of acute activities, but also of telepathic nature, therefore nothing can escape us in this respect.

28. If communications between Earth foreigners and Earth-humans had taken place in the last major period of time, then this would have been recorded by our automatic recording devices and would have become known to us.

29. This in addition to the fact that we have always made individual clarifications with regard to all persons who claimed and still claim to have had or still have contact with extraterrestrials in any way.

30. But the results concerning such contacts are consistently negative to this day, and that is absolutely clear.

31. It is no different with extraterrestrial flying objects, because also with regard to these we have built up a global surveillance network a few months ago, so that no objects can enter or leave the airspace without being registered by us.

32. Until recently this was different, because we had not yet installed the necessary equipment, consequently some foreign objects escaped our attention in recent years, but this has nothing to do with the registration of foreign mental vibrations, which we have been controlling worldwide for more than 82 years, therefore we are also informed about when and where contacts between Earth-humans and Earth foreigners have actually taken place.

33. During this time their number – you excepted – applies to only eight such contacts, but of all those who claim that they have or have had such contacts, only one is who openly admitted the truth and came forward – the American Daniel Fry.

34. All others remained silent to the public about their contacts.

35. And what else is to be said about extraterrestrial flying objects:

36. They have entered Earth's airspace very sparsely since 1984.

37. What has been observed since then of unknown flying objects were usually – with very few exceptions – secret military or official flying objects of terrestrial origin.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_385

Ptaah:

39. The electromagnetic oscillations of the Earth continue to produce luminous phenomena which are seen as light objects, and these very often also occur in the form of seaquake lights, and in the same way as earthquake lights.

...

41. Also luminous gas clouds, which rise from the bottom of the sea to the surface and into the air, as it happens also in moorland areas with regard to the so-called will-o'-the-wisps, but also ball lightning, are frequent phenomena, which occur at the mentioned places.

42. Experts call these light phenomena UFOs, which happens especially by people who are of esoteric and religious faith, whereby they regard the appearing phenomena as of extraterrestrial origin, which is of course nonsense, because real extraterrestrial flying machines, which are piloted by life-forms, correspond to an absolute rarity.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_401

Billy:

... I am frequently asked, especially from the US and Mexico, about the sporadic appearance of small white objects at high altitude in the sky. I have also been sent a video showing such objects – white, round things that appear like small moving clouds that often change their position and sometimes seem to merge into each other, but then separate again. There are hundreds of such things at a time. To me it looks as if they are small cloud-like formations, which, as with larger similar phenomena in relation to earthquake lights, are caused by natural phenomena, such as gas concentrations, and by earth electromagnetic oscillations and energies, which are then mistaken for UFOs in the sense that they are extraterrestrial jet ships or flying machines. Also the earthquake lights are interpreted again and again as UFOs of extraterrestrial origin, because they often have forms which look like any futuristic flying objects. These often shining electromagnetic objects also have the property, as you have explained to me, that hallucinations are caused in some humans, which are often based on the fact that some humans consider everything to be real. Very often such hallucinations lead to illusory experiences in such a way that the hallucinators see themselves as abducted by aliens, especially with regard to small grey males with big almond-shaped eyes etc. False memory images are created by the brain, which feign something experienced without actually happening. A phenomenon that also occurs in such humans in a state of hypnosis. As you once explained, in the hypnotic state stories and experiences are created in the brain that seem completely real, but are not real and therefore never happened. If I remember correctly, these hallucinations are triggered in the cranial and temporal lobes. So it follows that the alleged abductions of terrestrials by extraterrestrials are based on pure hallucinations, as well as all the associated stories of alleged medical examinations, impregnations, robbery of the foetus, of strange time gaps, the local displacement of the allegedly affected, the switching off of lights and car engines etc. Of the hundreds and thousands of allegedly abducted humans all over the world – with the USA leading the way – the truth is that only two authentic cases in the last 240 years can be mentioned, as you recently explained to me in a purely private conversation. Even the fairy tales of alleged implants etc. are based on hallucinations or on events in which the person concerned has unnoticed in some way a foreign body, metal or plastic etc., has penetrated the body or limbs. It is not uncommon for there to be several such foreign bodies. Even mass observations of alleged extraterrestrial missiles can be based on hallucinations caused by earth electromagnetic oscillations and their energies, especially if strange nebulous or cloud-like formations are connected with them, which are caused by ionizations in the atmosphere.

Ptaah:

63. Although we talked about it before, but apparently I misunderstood you regarding the objects in Mexico and explained that I had no answer to that.

64. But now I know what your question is about, which I can only answer in the sense that you just explained it.

65. And what you're going to say is actually based on our findings as we conveyed them to you.

66. Unfortunately, this will not change the fact that all those who believe in the absurdities of alleged abductions by extraterrestrials and in everything allegedly connected with them will not be lectured.

67. In this regard, any instruction in relation to reality is usually just as meaningless as it is in relation to crop circles, belief in ghosts, all esotericism, religious sectarianism, the false teachings of religions and everything that has to do with occultism and hallucinations, imaginations and delusions of any kind from the human brain.

Ptaah:

12. What the animals perceive are geophysical effects in the form of electromagnetic oscillations, which are created in the earth's interior by the fact that – to put it simply – enormous weights of rocks as well as other layers of material press against each other with enormous forces and rub against each other, which causes changes in the rock and in the materials and thus creates electromagnetic oscillations.

13. In the same way, electromagnetic oscillations in the Earth's interior are caused by magma, water and gas processes.

14. The resulting electromagnetic oscillations are always discharged upwards or to the Earth's surface.

15. These oscillations are able to cause light phenomena in the Earth's atmosphere, namely the so-called earthquake or seaquake lights, which are often called UFOs by observers.

16. This in addition to the fact that they also form nebulous formations and clouds.

17. Animals, birds, fish and all creatures are sensitive to the electromagnetic oscillations, causing them to become agitated and behave as if they were disturbed, often taking flight.

18. In earlier times, when man had not yet lost his natural abilities, he too was able to perceive these vibrations, which today – with few exceptions – is no longer possible.

19. But if he prepares himself to observe thoroughly the world of animals, birds and fish and all the creatures, then he can recognize from their behaviour when certain natural events occur, such as earthquakes, seaquakes and landslides, etc.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_423

Billy:

... Then it would be interesting to know how it behaves with flights of extraterrestrials into the terrestrial airspace, if you and your federated are excluded. Has something new come up? As you once explained to me, you have been doing some special research on this subject over the last few years.

Ptaah:

...

62. With regard to new entries of strangers to the Earth, nothing has come up for a very long time.

63. Thorough studies and clarifications on our part have shown that since 1947 no foreigners have flown into the airspace of the Earth unknown to us.

...

66. Clear investigations which we have conducted over the last three years have revealed that only we and our Federation allies were operating in Earth's airspace, along with a few others, all of whom, however, eventually became known to us and all of whom, with one exception, have joined our Federation.

67. With only six exceptions, none of all these strangers to Earth have made any other contact with Earth-humans, neither with us nor with strangers, and neither with our Federation allies nor with us.

68. The six exceptions – apart from your person – are known to you, and these earthlings have all died in the meantime.

...

Billy:

Then you could say that apart from the aircraft belonging to you and your Federation, and those who then joined your Federation, no other alien aircraft have been sighted on Earth in recent decades? But there are an enormous number of sightings around the world. ...

Ptaah:

...

77. The many sightings of unidentified flying objects in terrestrial airspace are based on the one hand on electromagnetic as well as purely atmospheric and natural phenomena of the Earth, but also on the fact that secret military test flights with futuristic aircraft are observed.

78. Such test flights have been taking place since the beginning of aviation and were also carried out during the World War II years and afterwards, and they continue to this day.

79. In very many cases it was and is such secret flying machines, which were seen all over the world and were mistaken for extraterrestrial aircraft and are still mistaken for them.

Billy:

... But what's interesting to hear from you now is that for the last three years you have finally found out the truth about alien aircraft and alleged contacts. Nevertheless, one question remains open, namely that various people have described abductions, contacts and observations etc. under hypnosis. Also the so-called Channelling is still current with various lunatics and cheats.

Ptaah:

80. We have already talked about this earlier.

81. These are imaginations and visions as well as effective delusions, wishful thinking and earth electromagnetic influences on the brain etc.

82. What is concerning channelling, there is to say that on the one hand it is absolute nonsense and on the other hand it is delusion, but you know that.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_424

Billy:

... Then another question regarding the entry of extraterrestrial flying apparatuses into terrestrial space, which you once estimated to be about 3,000 a year. Must we assume that these flying apparatuses were only those of your federation and yourselves? ...

Ptaah:

...

25. In the last 200 hundred years, there were also a few others apart from us, and various other Earth-foreigners from our federation, who flew into Earth's space.

26. On the whole, however, the 3,000 flights taking place per year are traceable to us and to our federation, as well as to Asket, and in a few cases to beings foreign to Earth who later on joined our federation.

27. The number of flights has decreased drastically to a number of twelve per year since then; and these flights relate to our work with you and our visits.

28. Except one, all the beings foreign to Earth who flew into Earth's space have joined our federation after we contacted them as I have already said.

...

Billy:

Then all the so-called UFOs, which were observed in the last century, were spaceships from you, your federation, and from those who joined your federation after they had been contacted by you here on Earth? And what about Roswell, do the beings foreign to Earth, which were bioorganic androids, belong to you as well?

Ptaah:

54. Of course, not all so-called UFOs were spaceships of beings foreign to Earth, because the majority of all observations of such objects were and are still today based on Earthly things, for example on electromagnetic or atmospheric phenomena but also based on other natural occurring happenings, like swarms of insects or birds, dust formations and so forth, or on meteors from space.

55. Apart from this, however, there were and still are many objects of futuristic forms of secret military origin of the most diverse states, which were and are also still called UFOs or extraterrestrial flying apparatuses by Earth-humans due to a lack of knowledge regarding their origin and construction.

56. The sighting of UFOs is often also based on Earthly flying machines such as airplanes and balloons of all types.

57. What has to be said concerning Roswell is that we and our federation and all beings foreign to Earth, and who were flying into Earth's space, and then joined our federation, did not have anything to do with this incident.

Billy:

May one ask, how many peoples foreign to Earth, which flew into Earth's space, and which you contacted, joined your federation? And how many persons were involved in your investigation of three years – were it only Florena, Enjana, and their friends and you?

Ptaah:

58. During the entire last and second last century, the 20th and the 19th century respectively, there had been five visitors foreign to Earth, which joined our federation.

59. In another case, this was not possible because we were not able to contact them.

60. In this new century and millennium nothing has happened yet, which is not yet to be expected, because populated planets are very far from Earth, and not many find their way to Earth although they are able to master space travel technology, which is the exception rather than the rule.

61. There were 427 persons involved in the investigation that was of special interest to us.

Billy:

Man, that is a large number of people. So, you have spent the last three years investigating contacts in regard to beings foreign to Earth and found that no contacts have taken place between beings foreign to Earth and human beings of Earth – except in the few cases that are known to me and pertain to you Plejaren and your federation. Is your knowledge now complete? You once said, that you would not be able to watch over the entire Earth, therefore, that under circumstances some flights and so forth could be missed by you.

Ptaah:

62. That is right – for a long time, we were not able to watch altogether everything pertaining to flights of beings foreign to Earth.

63. But now through our newest technology, we could investigate the whole of the 19th and the 20th century, and the first years of the 21st century.

64. The result of this investigation is that it is how I told you on my last visit on the 10th of June, and how I have said it now.

65. The fact is, that since 1800 until now 2006 the flying objects observed from outer space solely belonged to us Plejaren and the five others mentioned who joined our federation and those we could not contact and have remained foreign to us.

66. The thing about Roswell is another and special case, because back then bioorganic androids were found.

67. And one also has to say now, that when flying machines as well as telemeter discs originating from outer space are seen, then these belong only to us Plejaren and our federation.

68. Contacts with Earthlings do not take place, and apart from the contact with you, no other contacts exist.

69. That will only change when other beings foreign to Earth land openly and take up contacts, which will only happen then when we have left.

Billy:

Indeed, disappointing. – Everything, therefore, is nonsense and idle talk, as to the claims made by many people that they have been having contacts with extraterrestrials and would continue in such, and had and would have the opportunity to fly with them in spaceships or claim that the possibility of channelling or telepathic contacts, and so on was given.

Ptaah:

70. This is absolutely true. –

...

Billy:

... But this very conversation now taking place between you and me will call many opponents to the fore, accusing us – especially me – of lying, because it could not be that only the contacts between you and me would be in accordance with the facts and truth, whereas everything else is lies, deception, imagination and illusion as well as delusion and so on. The world of UFO-believers, and UFO-fanatics and those believing in extraterrestrials will scream and howl; and especially the self-appointed specialists and experts in matters of UFOs and extraterrestrials will also come forth, and scream falsehood and deceit in the same way as UFO opponents and other self-appointed experts and specialists in this line of thought who have always maintained that as a whole everything was only deception and fraud, delusion or chimera and so on. However, it will also be the UFO-esoterics and the like-minded UFO-sectarians who climb on the same accusatory bandwagon as well as all those stuck in fantasies who believe that extraterrestrials live among human beings and would be present at any meetings and assemblies of UFO believers etc. This is also case with the nonsense of seances where the departed are supposed to be present, or could be called to join. Completely crazy ones even claim that extraterrestrials participate in Earth governments and would direct and control the destiny of Earth and its humankind.

Ptaah:

76. That it will be so is certain, because truth is not only disenchanting, however, also frightening, and it shatters the Illusions, hopes, desires, imaginations and delusions and so on of many believers in UFOs.

77. However, those believing in UFOs, and many others wish to be cheated and led into delusion and do not acknowledge the truth, just as those believing in religions and sectarians.

78. They neither wish to see nor recognize nor acknowledge the truth, because they are caught by their belief and their illusions, which they are holding high above all truth and reality.

79. As a rule, to free themselves of this belief is impossible, because it is equal to a hereditary disease, which needs a very long time to be healed, and can only be overcome by reason and understanding.

80. Likewise it is with opponents, because their reason and understanding is breaking down as well, however, in a different manner than that according to the believers in regard to imagined extraterrestrials and their spaceships, as well as so-called contacts and abductions and so on. However, also opponents fall into a belief, as well as those who know everything better and those who negate, and this likewise does not let them recognize and acknowledge the truth.

81. They are just as sick in believing as all the other believers.

Billy:

Very well, then if unidentified flying objects were seen in Earth's space, then they belonged to you, your federation or to your later federation and in two cases to the foreigners that you could not contact, if I include Roswell. And as to contacts through extraterrestrials with Earth-humans, then all but one case lead back to your federation, and all of the contact persons have died and none of the ones that have for years been saying that they were having contacts with you or with other extraterrestrials belong to them, and that they also call you Pleiadians, because at the beginning we said as a precaution that you called yourselves Pleiadians to then later uncover the lies of such persons. Then, when the lies had multiplied, and the world was full of such claims of persons who said they were having contacts with you, we came out into the open and revealed from where you really come from, and how you call yourselves in fact Plejaren and not Pleiadians. All the liars have in this way exposed themselves, even though they are still trying to save face by weaving more lies. At what stage is the general control as to further flights of beings foreign to Earth?

Ptaah:

82. Should further flights take place, although we do not expect any, we would of course inform you.

83. And what has to be said and can only be said again and again and has often been said, regarding contacts between Earth-humans and foreigners to Earth, is that you are the only person in the whole world who is capable of having contacts with us Plejaren and those belonging to our federation.

84. And also in this respect, no other contacts of any kind are taking place between other beings foreign to Earth and Earth's human beings, because no other beings foreign to Earth exist, apart from us, who are operating in this way in Earth's space.

85. And no more in conjunction with us has to be said regarding the tissue of lies of the alleged contact persons because the facts tell the whole story.

...

Ptaah:

87. If nonetheless our ships are sighted on different locations in Earth's space – and these are solely of extraterrestrial origin – then this has to do with special duties to be carried out, during which the cloaking has to be disabled.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_428

Billy:

... But tell me: You have stated that you have checked the last 200 years regarding flight entries of extraterrestrials. And regarding Roswell, you told me you had nothing to do with it. With regard to UFO crashes, it is claimed in ufological circles that besides in Roswell, alien aircraft also crashed elsewhere in the USA, but also in Mexico, in Russia and in Norway as well as in Sweden, England and South America.

Ptaah:

35. These are senselessnesses of unparalleled kind, nothing but wild stories of lies, governmental and military disinformation as well as wild fantasies.

36. For our part, we were able to establish with absolute clarity that all these alleged crashes of extraterrestrial flying objects did not take place.

Billy:

In that case, only you and members of your confederation have actually been seen on the Earth in the last 200 years, leaving aside Roswell and the case where you were unable to establish contact, the very case where some of our passive members were able to photograph an alien-technical flying object above our centre. But what about the period prior to the 200 years you have checked, did extraterrestrials who did not belong to you then also come to the Earth?

Ptaah:

37. That is with certainty the case and therefore not to be doubted.

Billy:

Then I would like to know how many different types and forms of spaceships and beamships you Plejaren have had in operation over the last 200 years up to today and still have, in case you are able to provide information about this? And how many types and forms do your confederation allies have?

Ptaah:

38. I do not know precisely the exact number in relation to our different types and forms of spaceships and beamships, but I think there are currently altogether more than 600 different types that we have in use.

39. I do not know how many further types and forms were in operation during the last 200 years.

40. Concerning the different types and forms of spaceships and beamships that are in operation with our confederation members, I do not know any number to mention, but there are many thousands of them.

Billy:

And – have you and your confederation members also often been cruising around in the earthly airspace with the most diverse vehicles during the last 200 years?

Ptaah:

41. Yes, with thousands of different flying machines.

Billy:

And could these also be observed by the human beings of the Earth?

Ptaah:

42. This possibility was of course always given and will always be given.

43. This even though, for safety reasons, we protect ourselves better against sight at the present time.

Billy:

After all, you and your confederation members have also drastically reduced the flight entries into the earthly space.

Ptaah:

44. That is correct, since there are only a few dozen left per year – apart from the daily control flights, which of course we carry out uninterruptedly.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_439

Billy:

... So you have said that in the earthly airspace with regard to extraterrestrial flying objects only those of you Plejaren as well as those of your federated and of the unidentified strangers can be observed. Is the state still the same, that you still could not identify the strangers and that they still can be observed in the airspace of the Earth?

Ptaah:

29. Actually, the situation is still the same with regard to the unidentified ones, but we do not try to clarify it anymore, because we have gained knowledge that there is no danger for us or for the people on earth from these strangers.

30. So we also do not try to disturb their own secrecy and to make ourselves recognizable to them, for which we can also assume with certainty that these strangers have no knowledge of our existence, because we always shield ourselves from them in every respect against sight or location, so only we know of their existence.

31. The alien flying objects can often be observed worldwide by terrestrial human beings, because they quite obviously do not have any shielding technology against sight, as is the case with us.

32. What we have also clarified, however, is the fact that these strangers possess the most varied forms of flying objects, but also that they have no contact whatsoever with Earth-humans and have never come into direct or indirect contact with such people, and consequently there can be no reports of the experiences of any Earth-humans.

Billy:

So the unidentified flying objects observed in the last months, in so far as they were of extraterrestrial nature, are thus only a matter of concern to you Plejaren, your federated and the unidentified strangers, but not to other strangers from space?

Ptaah:

33. That is not true, no, because since the 1st of July 2006 we have comprehensively shielded our airplanes in order to gain control over how often the unidentified strangers can be observed on average in all earthly airspace during a year.

34. This is a special investigation which will continue until the 30th of June 2007.

Billy:

Aha, then since the 1st of July 2006, all observations of unidentified flying objects, which were probably of extraterrestrial origin, have been aircraft of the unidentified aliens. But one more question: Since when have they been on Earth and flying around in the air?

Ptaah:

35. Looking back into the past, we can see that these aliens have been appearing in the air for several centuries.

Billy:

This of course explains a lot, especially many appearances of UFOs, which could not be assigned to earthly phenomena, as well as not to earthly flying machines, because at that time no such machines existed. Neither did they belong to you Plejaren or your Federation, because if I take your old explanations into account, you have always been wary of being sighted by people of the Earth. Regarding the unidentified strangers, I wonder if you have not tried to get in contact with them and find out what their mission here on Earth is?

Ptaah:

36. Your words are correct regarding the unidentified flying machines that were observed on Earth in earlier centuries.

37. With regard to the unidentified aliens, the following must be said:

38. Over the past few years we have made several attempts to contact them, but according to our control equipment our signals, for reasons unknown to us, always radiated back to us before they could even reach the direct range of the alien aircraft.

39. From this we deduced that the strangers were not willing to make contact, so we stopped our efforts to make further contact attempts.

40. And since we only tried to make ourselves noticeable in the form of the signals mentioned above, but not by sighting or locating them, the strangers did not discover our presence so far.

41. As a result of the fruitless attempts of contact on our part, we are not aware of the alien mission.

42. Also it is only since one week that we have known through further investigations in the past that these foreigners have been present on Earth for a very long time and that they appear again and again in such a way that they can be observed by Earth-humans.

43. But as I already explained, there is no proof that they would have come into direct or indirect contact with Earth-humans, because for such contacts we did not find any evidence with any Earth-humans.

...

Billy:

There have been reports since July 2006, just since you are completely shielded from detection and visibility, of UFOs that I don't think can be linked to terrestrial aircraft or any other flying devices or to natural terrestrial phenomena.

Ptaah:

46. We are aware of this, and indeed some of the unidentified flying machines are in some instances a cause of concern to the aliens, while other observations are nevertheless attributable to terrestrial flying machines or natural phenomena.

...

Ptaah:

54. It will take some time, even if Quetzal is reachable at the moment, because it takes about two minutes for my questions to reach Quetzal via all relay stations, just as it takes two minutes for the answer.

...

57. Quetzal is reachable and he will send me his answer in a few minutes as soon as he has found the data.

Billy:

You did all this by way of pure thought vibration?

Ptaah:

58. This is the only way I can do it, because everything has to take place through the apparatuses of my flying machine – whose apparatuses are controlled in every respect only by my thought vibrations.

Billy:

As is the case with all your ships, apparatus and equipment, unless you wish to handle things manually or acoustically with your voice. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_441

Billy:

Ptaah:

...

21. With the named group, it concerns a worldwide branching from governments, the military, industrial groups, secret services, paramilitary and powerful ones of finance, as you correctly said.

22. Those in the know and contributors are only certain elements of the same, who profit greatly, financially and power-politically, from their secret machinations, for which reason the entire powers of the government, military and industrial as well as finance are not involved in the situation and are also not informed in regard to this.

23. The group is not organized, as such, rather is only a loose collection, whereby their interests, however, have a common form, which, already since the 1920s, was designed to operate a continuous, ingenious, large-scale disinformation campaign regarding the question of extraterrestrial life.

24. The group, which is split into many small groups, has many kinds of technical possibilities at their disposal, which they employ for their evil and human-misleading purposes.

25. That started with technologies of electromagnetism to do with precision electronics and computer engineering, up to and including apparatuses through which brainwashing and the programming and altering of consciousness is evoked in humans.

26. They even have back-engineered beamships at their disposal, whereby, in certain contexts, even antigravity finds application.

27. It has also occurred many times that premeditated "abductions" of Earth humans by "extraterrestrials", and the massacre of animals, has been and is faked by this group.

29. Also wrong information and falsified pictures of alleged extraterrestrial flying devices is strategically circulated worldwide, whereby according to our investigations, about 98% of all false pictures, films, videos and false information is directed at moving the Earth humans to angst and terror of extraterrestrials and to engender hate and thoughts of revenge in the Earth humans.

30. Therefore, in this way, angst, terror and hate is stirred up against all life foreign to Earth.

31. Especially films for cinema and television serve this purpose, as also, however, do many books which are constructed on lies and untruths and are written partly by "experts" in psychology and psychiatry.

32. All this nonsense sells very well to the Earth humans because many on the search for the effective truth trust and believe this false information, and these films and pictures.

33. Angst, horror, terror, hate and revenge always sell well, while the truth appears too banal and therefore appears uninteresting as well as not worth knowing.

34. Only the fantastic and unreal find a place in the interests of Earth humans. 35. However, precisely that is the launching platform for the infamous machinations of the worldwide group, because, through disinformation and fear-mongering in regard to the malicious foreigners to Earth, the entire group, which reaches right around the world, derives horrendous advantages of a financial, governmental-power, military-power as well as an economic form.

35. However, precisely that is the launching platform for the infamous machinations of the worldwide group, because, through disinformation and fear-mongering in regard to the malicious foreigners to Earth, the entire group, which reaches right around the world, derives horrendous advantages of a financial, governmental-power, military-power as well as an economic form.

36. The entire war, electronics and weapons industries, and so forth, thereby gain an enormous boost.

37. Yet, in the worldwide group, secret paramilitary units also exist as smaller groups which carry out the same kind of operations which, however, are mostly controlled by the worldwide group.

38. In particular, these small groups carry out premeditated abductions which are credited ostensibly to the extraterrestrials, as well as, however, also simulated appearances of alleged extraterrestrial flying craft, which are then collectively declared to be extraterrestrial UFO appearances and are often observed, photographed and filmed by many people.

39. Thereby the illusion of an ostensible extraterrestrial abduction or observation of extraterrestrial flying devices is evoked.

40. What is further to say about that is that, in this worldwide group, with all the small groups who partly also work autonomously, there exists a proper "UFO trade" and a subculture in regard to animal massacres and abductions and so forth.

41. The entire thing is secretly financed through governments, the military, industrial groups and financially powerful ones who are interested in angst, terror and hate being stirred-up to their highest forms in regard to the alleged evil extraterrestrial foreigners, because they can thereby gain gigantic financial profit and advantage.

42. It is on this basis that, in every regard, from this group, only stories, cinema and television films and observations of UFOs will be accepted and profitably exploited, which are based on everything negative and – as is becoming proverbial with the Earth humans – on the malicious and aggressive nature of the extraterrestrials.

43. Only that which evokes angst, fear and terror as well as engenders hate and revenge is accepted by the group and exploited worldwide in order to obtain enormous profit with it.

44. Conversely, in addition to that, everything which is good and positive is vehemently slandered and is designated as a swindle, lie and deception, as is the case with you and us, since, in keeping with the interests of the group, we are not permitted to exist, and you are not permitted to be in contact with us, rather you must be a liar and a fraud.

45. So, from the group and their small groups, the Earth humans will be served up deliberately false and fear-influencing stories in regard to extraterrestrial UFOs and foreigners to Earth and their alleged horrifying machinations like, for example, painful examination contacts and animal massacres along with falsified encounters with alleged extraterrestrials.

46. Along with profit, the whole matter also serves deeply-based psychological propaganda in order to insult forms of life who are foreign to Earth and to brand them as malicious beings and to create angst, hate, revenge and hysteria because great financial means will be thereby freed up which serve research for the production of innovative and futuristic weapons of all kinds.

47. Therefore, in these Earth humans, in regard to the extraterrestrial, an enemy will be psychologically, deliberately created which does not exist and which will, in a manner, be made into a malicious being such that the Earth humans, in their angst, will be driven to freeing up horrendous sums in order to therewith manufacture weapons against the alleged malicious invaders.

48. Also, with these acts, various groups play off against each other, which, however, is part of a well-thought-out plan which is carried out and implemented by secret services, psycho-terrorists, espionage groups and treacherous disinformation agents and which is underpinned by false information regarding UFOs and alleged extraterrestrials.

49. Additionally belonging to this plan is the invention of an imaginary extraterrestrial enemy, as well as a danger emerging from this – an enemy and a danger which, naturally, will have to be fought.

50. The infamy is thereby that, first of all, everything is made ridiculous because the concerned "abductees", "examinees", "chance contactees" and UFO-observers can provide no evidence for their experiences which would withstand a real examination.

51. Then comes the second fact, which exists in the fact that angst, terror, hate and feelings of revenge is produced in the Earth humans whereby then the weapons industry can be built up and indeed especially in regard to futuristic weapons, of which the normal Earth humans have no idea, and of which they do not ever dare to dream.

52. The entirety is thereby a well-thought-out psychological network on which the progress of the entire weapons industry and the power of the military, of the federal leadership, the finance sharks and the industry businesses as well as the secret services can be built up ever further.

53. To this end angst, terror, hysteria, hate and revenge is sown in regard to all foreigners from outer space.

54. So the Earth humans become duped and financially exploited by the responsible ones of this dangerous group and their small groups and are deliberately driven to abhor and to hate the extraterrestrial foreigners.

55. Corresponding cinema and television films serve as especially suitable means for that.

56. The foreigner-angst, respectively, alien-angst, which is thereby produced surpasses all normal angst and the responsible ones of the group know that precisely, for which reason they can also thereby calculate that all necessary finances flow to them, which they require for their weapon research, their weapon manufacture, their leading of wars, and desires for power, as well as for unrealistic cinema and TV films which demonize the Earth-strangers.

57. The creation of an supposed threat from extraterrestrials as well as the alien-angst is, for them, a profitable matter which is operated under the shabby cloak of a federal, respectively, country security and of world peace.

58. For the entire machinations of the group, the meanest machinations are quite good enough which, as said, were already operating since the 1920s and to that also belong highly developed electronic weapons systems, futuristic flying discs, Earth humans who are hypnotically and surgically converted, as well as converted in their consciousness, to robots*, whereby some have an appearance like the being which is called the "Little Grey".

59. On one hand there is the dim-witted paradox that the extraterrestrial flying devices are denied and the strangers to Earth are made ridiculous or made out to be monsters by means of psychological propaganda, while, on the other hand, a financial exploitation of the peoples results through the inciting of angst, terror, hate and revenge and indeed thereby in that a simulation results in regard to a supposed threat from extraterrestrials.

60. A paradox without compare, to which the question must be put, how far are the Earth humans imbued with reason and understanding that they do not recognise this paradox.

61. The entire pre-arranged game of the group and their small groups, as already said elsewhere, also includes faked encounters with alleged extraterrestrials, whereby these are truly nothing other than normal Earth humans or those who have been transformed into "aliens".

62. In order then to affirm the improvised "encounters with those foreign to Earth" psychologists and other experts are pulled in into whom the wildest stories are hammered for so long until they believe the entire swindle and nonsense and employ "verifiable" and "genuine" analyses which are recorded and published in books and documentation as well as in cinema and TV films.

63. And since, as a rule, the supposed extraterrestrials are described as horrible villains, just according to the plan of the group and their small groups, the picture of the extraterrestrial threat is powerfully incited.

64. Thereby, not only is the slandering in regard to the real strangers to Earth always more exaggerated, as also more and more finances flow into the cash box of those who stupidly and dimwittedly earn as a result of the entire tissue of lies and slander and thereby come by the means to reach their criminal goals.

65. A certain part of the group has also fallen to a Christian sectarianism and to the supposed "End Times" in such a way that hope is directed at a malicious invasion of extraterrestrials resulting on Earth, and thereby the prophesied Armageddon will become reality in which Jesus Christ celebrates his official return and God the father will exercise his judgment.

66. Their delusion is therefore bound with a biblical end of the world, which, as they believe, rests on the terrible badness of the Earth humans.

67. And in order to accelerate this divine judgement as well as the return of Christ they do everything in order to make the way free for that.

68. The monstrous power of the worldwide group and their small groups as well as the religious fanaticism, together with the cultic maintaining of the secret of the entire underhanded, degenerated and deceptive as well as criminal and felonious machinations, lead to malignant effects which could not be worse.

69. These are the facts which I have to name in regard to your question.

Billy:

... Some time ago, Professor James Deardorff from the USA wanted to know a few things about the cake-ship that landed on our parking lot between the shed and the residential building. The story concerning the striking similarity of the hull of the cake-ship with a barrel cover form or with a barrel lid and its origin from storage barrels in our possession is mentioned in the 254th contact report. Christian Frehner therefore had to take several photos and indicate the size of the ship and the distance between me with the camera and the cake ship. For my part I know that the diameter is about 3.50 metres, which is what I told Christian. But can you tell me the exact size, but also how many people can fit in this small ship?

Ptaah:

...

4. The lowest outermost diameter with the flat rim was 3 metres and 52 centimetres, but the outermost upper outer rim diameter was 3 metres and 20 centimetres.

5. The entire outer rim structure on which the oscillation accumulators were mounted was 37.6 centimetres, while the dimension from the lower rim ring to the plane of the oscillation accumulators was 32 centimetres, as with these.

6. And the space in the flying apparatus was designed for one person in a seated position, although three people could be accommodated in a crowded manner if necessary.

7. However, this type of flying apparatus was not suitable for the earthly atmosphere, which is why they were removed from earthly space after only a short period of use.

Billy:

I was not aware of this. The oscillation accumulators probably mean the silver bullets, I suppose, right?

Ptaah:

8. That is true.

9. Their diameter was 32 centimetres, as I said.

{Billy, Kabul, Afghanistan, 16th September 1964:}

... In this way also the traditional prophecies of the signs in the sky have become reality, because for years these have been seen and observed at all hours of the day and night and in all parts of the world, but unfortunately they are often misinterpreted and ridiculed. But the signs of the times are fireballs, explosions of rays in the atmosphere, earth-electromagnetic-atmospheric phenomena, strange clouds and misty phenomena, which appear by the hundreds like small flying objects. But there also appear jet ships or space ships from foreign planets, which are steered by foreign people, who come here in order to indirectly enter into the evolutionary process of consciousness and into the action of consciousness through a proclaimer and his teaching of the spirit as well as through the teaching of truth and through the teaching of life, to intervene in the actions and work of earthly humanity because necessity demands it, because the man of the earth with his still limited consciousness forces the basic and structural elements of nature and life to react, in order to destroy in his insanity myriad life and the climate of the earth. ...

...

And what is to be said further: The ray ships resp. spaceships of foreign intelligences from distant worlds are no fantasy, because they exist like you and me – they are not cloud agglomerations, balloons, lightning, flocks of birds and the like, as they are so gladly called by scientists and leading authorities, by opponents of the truth or by laymen, who do not want to make themselves ridiculous with the recognition of the existence of the so-called UFOs. These unknown extraterrestrial flying objects – if they are not, as is often the case, top-secret earthly-military aircraft and planes -, they are real, as thousands of very good photographs, films and reports prove. And there is no shortage of real contacts – even if there are very few of them worldwide and only a small handful in number – who have spoken with extraterrestrials. They all testify to the real existence of the extraterrestrials and their objects, the beam ships. They and everything else testify to the effective existence of the extraterrestrials – even if this existence is ridiculed by the terrestrial authorities and evil antagonists as not being proven or simply presented as a hallucination or even a lie. But for what reasons do the denying and denying authorities and antagonists maintain very secret UFO reconnaissance groups etc., which have the task to clarify the origin of the UFOs from space and to arm them for a possible space war or a sudden invasion from space? An idea, by the way, which corresponds to a complete nonsense, because the space men do not control our earth in order to conquer or subjugate it, if they wanted to, they could have done so long ago, because their technology reaches to the fantastic compared to the earthly one – and the earthly weapons of all armies would be nothing more than a toy for them, which they would throw away as rubble and useless junk due to unworthiness and uselessness. Moreover, their very highly developed technology goes back many centuries and millennia, so that, if it had been in their will, they could have conquered the earth when it was still in antiquity or in the dark Middle Ages when it was growing towards its present state. But why are the authorities so eager to find out the secret of UFOs and especially the unsolved mystery of the radiation propulsion, which makes the extraterrestrial aircraft or UFOs fly through the earth's atmosphere at speeds of up to 100,000 kilometers per hour and more, neutralizing the gravity? So why these secret researches under exclusion of the public, when everything is supposed to be only lies and deceit? Why that? The authorities are afraid, frightening, deadly fear, for they fear an attack from space, and for this purpose it would be urgently necessary that they themselves be in possession of ray ships and ray weapons, so that they could counter the enemy attack already in world space itself. Others, however, fear panic and rampage of the population, if they should really become aware of the existence of the extraterrestrial UFOs and their crews, because panic and rampage already rolled over the population of different countries, when UFO sensational reports, so-called 'direct reports from the place of the event' were broadcasted over the radio stations. Direct reports, however, which did not correspond to the truth and were only sensational radio plays. The number of deaths of the population running amok went into high figures.

However, the authorities, who stop practically all UFO reports – if they have real backgrounds – do not consider that the panic of the masses will be much greater one day, if the extraterrestrials should really come in masses, in order to prevent perhaps the greatest insanity of the earthly humans and to change the face of this world for the better, if the revolutionary events, which are caused by the humans of the earth in a responsible way, roll over this world. But it is questionable whether extraterrestrials ever interfere in earthly matters in this respect, because they have directives which would only allow them to intervene under certain conditions. A real contact person, as well as reconnaissance planes and simple observers of really extraterrestrial flying machines resp. UFOs are dealt with by the authorities as well as by the people and by malicious adversaries and slanderers, who insult lies and fraud and may even be imprisoned for many years in a mean way or interned in insane institutions, because as already mentioned, the authorities are unwilling to reveal the profound truth – they do not shy away from publishing denying notes and treatises in the newspapers or from having them published by bought-in laymen, critics, opponents and so-called 'experts'. For these reasons, in various countries, a real contact person – of which there are not even a handful – an observer or enlightener plays with his freedom when he takes his task seriously and tries to create enlightenment. And the few people who have or have had contact, not even a small handful, have a very difficult position, because they encounter hatred, mockery, disbelief, official intrigues and partly church-destroying statements, as well as slander and much more.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_448

Ptaah:

12. In any case, those were none of our flying apparatus because ours are protected from every perspective, even from all advanced technical and fluidal, i.e. fine-material, vibrational-tracking capabilities, both in relation to those that are terrestrial as well as those that are foreign to the Earth.

13. Only if we deliberately make our aircraft visible, capable of being detected, or in any way recognizable, can they be sighted or detected, such as with demonstrations, as we allowed these as proofs for you, in terms of photographic and film work or for group members and your friends.

14. Even by all technical and fine-material-detecting apparatuses of those who are foreign to the Earth – also for the foreigners who are unknown to us, with whom we've searched for contact in vain – we have never been and never are able to be detected, since a detection of our aircraft automatically triggers an alarm, which is why we've always had to make ourselves recognizable in certain cases and will also have to continue to do so, should it be necessary.

15. We have never been detected in such a way in the earthly air space by any who are foreign to the Earth and who don't belong to us – not to this day – and this will also remain so.

16. Also with regard to our foreign unknowns – i.e. those who are foreign to the Earth and whose presence in the earthly air space has, already for a long time, led to their observation by the Earth-humans again and again – these haven't been able to locate us yet; therefore, they have no proofs of our presence, that is, apart from your evidence, which they have been made aware of in some circumstances.

17. But they certainly do not have real proof of our existence, because they cannot possibly locate us and our flying apparatuses, not even if we make ourselves visible to you, the group members or your friends for a short time, which we will not do for some time anyway, as I already told you some time ago.

18. As for our foreign unknowns, whose origin, technology, and task are likewise unknown to us, as you know, it is to be said that at present, they continue to appear again and again all over the world and can be observed more frequently.

19. Also, we cannot fathom why our signals, if we aim for them, are dissolved or reflected back to us and, thus, do not reach their aircraft; consequently, we cannot establish contact with them, which we also have not tried to do for quite some time.

20. With absolute certainty, it is also to be said that the foreigners do not maintain any contacts with the Earth-humans because our worldwide, all-encompassing detection devices, with which we can also detect the presence of our foreign unknowns, would identify such contacts.

...

23. And that we can be sure that our flying apparatus have not been detected by the foreigners so far is due to the fact that our highly advanced detection-technology indicates to us every detection process in every direction, immediately and without delay, no matter what technology is used for detection.

Billy:

You spoke of that once and said that this technology, which is unusually high and very futuristic for us Earthlings, is not a development on your part, and neither are your protective shields, which immediately convert all energy hitting them into their own energy, and through this, the protective shields strengthen instead of weaken. If I remember correctly, these forms of technology come from Asket's friendly people, the Sonaer in the DAL Universe, who are more than 4,000 years ahead of you in relation to your technological development.

Ptaah:

24. The technology mentioned does, in fact, trace back to the Sonaer, who have already assisted us for many years in every technological development; consequently, we have a variety of technologies today that we did not yet have at the beginning of our contacts approximately 30 years ago.

...

Billy:

Then another question about the foreigners, who have already circled around here on Earth for a very long time, as you say, and with whom you cannot enter into contact: is it possible that these unknowns may come from the future, perhaps from other planets or even from the Earth itself or else from another dimension?

Ptaah:

30. We have also thought about that and have come to the conclusion that this may very well be possible, both the one and the other possibility.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_450

Ptaah:

4. These are the foreigners unknown to us who operate in the terrestrial airspace.

5. We have not been trying to get in touch with these foreigners for some time now, as I explained to you some time ago.

6. Nevertheless, this did not and does not prevent us from fathoming their origins and their efforts here on Earth.

7. I also told you that these foreigners have a variety of flying apparatuses that can be observed again and again by the Earth-humans.

8. I must now explain that our ongoing research into the foreigners has revealed something that throws a somewhat different light on the whole thing.

9. Only 12 days ago we were able to find out that all the different types of flying apparatuses which we had assigned to the foreigners are not only applicable to them, because parts of the flying machines are in fact related to two other groups of extraterrestrial origin.

10. But even with these it was and is impossible for us to get in contact with them.

11. Obviously it is also the case that all three groups have nothing to do with each other and therefore have no contact with each other, as well as certainly no knowledge of our presence.
12. It is true that all three groups have technology which does not allow us to make contact with them, but we have found out in this respect that this is because their technical devices and equipment are not capable of receiving our signals.
13. But it is also otherwise because the material alloys of their flying apparatus reflect our signals and do not reach their tracking devices.
14. In addition – and we have recently discovered this again – the entire technology of all three foreign groups is far inferior to our technology, which means for us that we must exercise a certain caution, because we cannot judge the attitude of the foreigners.
15. The low level of technology of the foreigners is obviously the reason why they have not been able to locate us with absolute certainty, and the low level of technology is also a sign for us that they are not yet capable of contacts in high form and therefore not yet able to contact us.
16. According to their technology and evolution of consciousness – we have to assume – they could not cope with our level of evolution of consciousness, which could lead to very dangerous reactions if contacts were made anyway.
17. But as far as the three different groups of foreigners are concerned, it must be said that, according to our extremely intensive and precise investigations, they have no contact with each other and probably do not even know about each other.
18. Various of our investigations point this out.
19. And it is also absolutely certain that all three groups of these foreigners have no open contact whatsoever with any human being on earth or have had such contact during the last 350 years or so.
20. In this respect we have carried out detailed investigations in the form of extremely extensive and precise research into the past, which has yielded no results whatsoever of any contacts between these three groups of foreigners for us and any Earth-humans.
21. In this respect, our apparatus and equipment etc. are very accurate and infallible, so that we can say with absolute certainty that no contact whatsoever has taken place between these three foreign groups of extraterrestrials – or perhaps future earthlings, which could also be the case – and Earth-humans.

Billy:

So there are three different groups of extraterrestrial or terrestrial futures here on our world besides you, who are wandering around. Your surprise has succeeded. But are they really all of them, or is it not possible that there are others who are roaming around here?

Ptaah:

22. No, other Earth foreigners are certainly not here, because our very highly developed apparatuses and devices work flawlessly, so that we would be informed by them about other present extraterrestrial or Earth-future forms without doubt and with absolute certainty.
23. The fact that we only discovered a few days ago that the foreigners are three different groups is due to the fact that things have come to our attention which have only now made us aware that the various flying apparatus do not belong to one group alone.
24. So we went back into the past by investigating the whole thing far or about 350 years, and we came across the fact of the three groups and were able to base our present research on it, which gave us and continues to give us the proofs of the three groups of foreigners.

Ptaah:

32. So she made her flying apparatus light up faintly and sent you an impulse so that you could look up and see it.
33. When you then tried to make the flying apparatus light up a little brighter, because you thought it was a control device, she explained what you just said and then, at your request, made the flying apparatus light up brightly and extensively.

34. And that you have never seen this shape, size and intensity of light before, that is because it is a completely new flying apparatus with many innovations, including the type of light.

36. So we can with this new technology penetrate into other dimensions and other space-time structures and thus also move into the future and into the past.

Billy:

So, what do these new ships look like?

Ptaah:

37. The outer form has remained the same, only the entire inner technology has changed.

Billy:

And what about the dome structure that can be pushed up and used as both shower room and toilet, is it still the same? I ask this question because Michael Horn asked me about the dome structure. How he knows about this extendable or retractable dome structure is not known to me, because I did not ask him about it.

Ptaah:

38. No, that has changed as well, because the new aircraft have another upper level which can be used for various purposes, such as a small preparation room for food and as a dining room and working room for research purposes.

Billy:

So two levels, or two extendable or retractable floors. But that's certainly only true for ships of 7 and 14 metres in diameter, isn't it? In the case of the ships with a diameter of only 3.50 metres and the next larger ones over 14 metres, I cannot imagine an additional level that can be pushed up, or am I wrong in this respect?

Ptaah:

39. Yes, you are mistaken about the larger flying apparatus.

40. For the smaller flying apparatus with a diameter of less than 7 metres, there is no level that can be pushed up.

41. There are two levels that can be pushed up only in the 7 and 14 metre diameter flying apparatus.

42. But as I said, you are mistaken about the larger flying apparatus, because even those with a diameter of 21 to 28 metres have levels that can be pushed up, but only in a simple way.

43. All bigger flying apparatus beyond that do not have an additional extendable level, because they are big enough to accommodate all necessary rooms for all purposes without extendable levels.

Billy:

Although the extra upper level in the new ships is probably the same size as the lower level, I suppose.

Ptaah:

44. That is true.

...

Billy:

... Now the question is, do you have any devices or apparatus that enable you to perceive and analyse not only the coarse-material vibrations but also the fine-material vibrations? In this I also include deposited human fluidal forces.

Ptaah:

56. Such analysis devices belong to the standard equipment of every flying apparatus, but also to every person who carries a small device of this kind in his clothing when doing research work etc. in foreign areas.

Billy:

Then it is a warning device as well, I suppose.

Ptaah:

57. Yes, that is the case.

...

Billy:

What I would still be interested in regarding the three foreign groups of extraterrestrials or future earthlings, or whatever they may be, is the following: Do you have any information on how many different flying apparatus each group has? And secondly, have you gained knowledge about what these three groups are doing here on Earth? And thirdly, it would be interesting to know why you have only now come to the conclusion that three different groupings exist? Fourthly, why did not you establish this fact when you went about 200 years into the past and researched everything concerning the first group of foreigners?

Ptaah:

73. The fact that these are three different groups was only discovered a few days ago, because we received new devices and apparatus through the Sonaer, through which we were able to scan and examine their airplanes unnoticed by the foreigners.

74. These new devices also serve to scan the airspace much more precisely for all kinds of objects than was possible with our previous devices.

75. How ...

Billy:

Excuse me, if I am interrupting you. By probing and examining, I assume you mean scanning, as we call it here, right?

Ptaah:

76. That is what it means, yes.

77. Well, we were able to scan the aircraft with the new devices and equipment, and we also noticed that the foreign aircraft have three different basic techniques, which differ from each other in such a way that they could clearly only be assigned to three different technical development stages.

78. In the end, it also turned out that the crews of the aircraft of each of the three types of technology are so fundamentally different that they have no relationship whatsoever to each other.

79. In part, we were able to fathom the state of the evolution of consciousness of all three groups, whereby this state has three different and from each other blatantly striking evolutionary levels.

80. In doing so, we also fathomed the fact that the three groups have no knowledge of each other and therefore no contact with each other.

...

84. As far as the number of aircrafts registered by us of the three groupings foreign to us is concerned, the total number registered by us amounts to 216, although we do not yet have any data as to how many flying apparatus belong to which grouping in each case.

85. However, we do know the number of different flying apparatus, whereby this amounts to 74 of them, and this in total in relation to all three groupings.

Billy:

And again, a question on this: These ships or aircraft, by your designation, are they in the airspace all the time?

Ptaah:

86. No, that is not the case, because they disappear again and again, although we cannot determine where to.

87. Then they just suddenly return without us being able to find any coordinates.

88. And as far as the question of what these three alien groups are doing here on Earth is concerned, I can only say that we do not know.

89. We have made one observation, however, and that is that at least one group is doing atmospheric and geological research.

90. But as far as your question is concerned, why we did not recognize during our first investigations up to the time of about 200 years ago that the for us foreigners are three different groups and completely different human life forms, that is because we were not yet in possession of the scanning devices and scanning apparatus, by which we could have clarified everything more exactly.

91. Only on our request did the Sonaer agree to make their high technology available to us, which enabled us to clarify everything.

92. Although we have been in possession of scanning equipment for a very long time now, it was not possible to scan the aircraft and their crews with this equipment due to certain radiation from the foreign aircraft, because our scanning pulses were always reflected.

93. Today we know that the reason for this is the material alloy of the foreign aircraft, and strangely enough, all three groups of aircraft, although they are clearly not connected to each other and obviously have no knowledge of each other.

94. Also, before you ask, we couldn't find out if the three alien groups maintain any stations on Earth, because even with our best and newest equipment we couldn't find anything like that.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_451

Ptaah:

11. The object you observed was one of a small armada of a total of 18 flying apparatus belonging to a group of strangers carrying out atmospheric and geological experiments and research, using sound waves generated by atmospheric explosions.

12. They use atmospheric gases and electricity, which, when made to explode, produce popping noises, which also result naturally from pure atmospheric and atmospheric-electrical as well as earth-electromagnetic energies, whereby gas agglomerations form, which look like small, individual clouds, which are stationary or whirl wildly around, as these can be observed particularly in the South American area.

13. The banging noises of this kind can hardly be distinguished from the banging noises caused by exploding meteorites and by the explosions of strangers.

14. And as for the altitude of the flying apparatus you observed, which you estimated to be between 20,000 and 22,000 metres, this was almost 23,000 metres, as we know from our records and observations.

...

17. The activities of all three foreign groups are apparently increasing again worldwide, after having restricted them for the last few years.

...

Billy:

... You said that you received new scanning devices from the Sonaern, through which you could scan the foreign aliens or future earthlings, or whatever they are, and find out that these are three different groups, which are foreign to each other and have no contact with each other. It makes me wonder whether there aren't some other foreigners wandering around in the earthly airspace which you might not have been able to locate?

Ptaah:

20. This is definitely not the case, because our new and extremely accurate devices, which we received from the Sonaern, are much more advanced than ours, but even with these devices we could not detect any other extraterrestrial or Earth foreign flying objects of any kind in the entire terrestrial space.

21. The new devices also work in a very extensive range of fine material as well as dimension-jumping vibrations, but even in these areas we could not detect any other Earth visitors.

Billy:

So now it is absolutely clear by your latest technology that apart from the three groupings of foreigners on Earth respectively in the airspace you mentioned, there are no other extraterrestrials or future Earth visitors? But I would also like to ask you whether there are any new developments concerning unknown earthly flying machines?

Ptaah:

22. I can now answer this with absolute certainty, because our latest devices, which we received from the Sonaern, are absolutely infallible.

23. With regard to earthly secret flying apparatus used for flight testing, we continue to see the same kind of secret aircraft that have been used for a long time, dating back to well before the mid-twentieth century.

24. Since then, these have been the most diverse and sometimes quite futuristic and even strange forms of flying apparatus, which can be secretly created and tested and often observed.

25. But these flying apparatus I am talking about now are exclusively flying objects of purely earthly origin and that was also in the twentieth century.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_457

Billy:

And in regard to the three groups that have been traveling around our world, do you have any new insights on that?

Ptaah:

33. As I mentioned before, we are no longer concerned with them.

34. They are indeed active in the whole earthly airspace and also in the outer Earth envelopes.

35. Furthermore, it seems that they have no knowledge of each other, as I explained to you before, just as they have absolutely no knowledge of our presence, although we leave it at that, because, as we could clearly see with our latest technology, which we received from the Sonaern, their technology and their behaviour as well as their evolution of consciousness is still very much in need of development, and this although they are masters of space travel and probably also of time-travel.

36. Therefore, it would not be good if they became aware of our presence and our home worlds.

37. Although they are apparently aware of our contact with you, as we have found with them, they have no proof of this, because we are not recognizable to them, so they cannot locate us or our flying apparatus, which irritates them.

Billy:

And when you are with me, like you are now, they cannot track that either?

Ptaah:

38. This is completely impossible, because our technology does not allow any tracking in relation to our flying apparatus and ourselves.

39. Our present technology is shaped in such a way that we can only be seen and located if our protective belt can be penetrated, which we can prevent.

40. Only when it is in our will can we be seen and located, as is the case right now with you, who are in my direct protection zone and you can see me.

Billy:

Aha, I suppose that is the technique I experienced with you outside Bernadette's room when we suddenly found ourselves facing each other without me noticing you before.

Ptaah:

41. Yes, it is actually that technique.

42. When you are standing outside the screen, which cannot be located by any lower technique, you only see what the foreground and background and the surroundings make you perceive.

43. Only when you can step inside the screen, which I have to make permeable, then you can see me.

44. But even in the state of making it permeable, the protective screen cannot be located, nor of course the person inside it.

45. On the other hand, all our flying apparatus have been equipped with the same system for quite some time now, because the old shielding technology was not as perfect and efficient as the new one.

Billy:

But you could not be seen or located with the old shielding.

Ptaah:

46. That is true, but the newest technology of the Sonaer is much more efficient.

Billy:

I have been approached again and again from all over the world about sighted unidentified flying objects and whether they have come to you.

Ptaah:

47. It cannot be about our and our Federation's flying apparatus, because as I explained to you several times, we do not allow any more sightings in this regard, which will continue to be the case.

48. So such observations can only be natural phenomena and earthly flying apparatus or those of the three foreign groups.

Billy:

I also think so, and if you could be sighted and photographed by any earthlings, as for example by our group members, then this was especially arranged by you, as it was when I could take the proof photos according to your order.

Ptaah:

49. That is correct.

50. Further photos of our flying apparatus will undoubtedly no longer be possible, because the earthly computer technology does not allow any more proof photos as you could still take them, because the technology that now prevails makes it easy to falsify such pictures, which was not possible at the time when you were ordered by us to take the films and photos.

51. Also as a favour to any group members we will not allow any more photography.

52. We will no longer make any exceptions, not even with regard to observations.

53. Everyone has to accept that.

54. And when you are no longer, then this rule will apply definitively anyway, whereby we will then also withdraw from the earth and never come back here again to get in contact with a person of this world again, because when you leave, then our mission with regard to the earth and its humanity will also be finished.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_463

Billy:

{Note: The following excerpt is in regards to the April 21, 2008 Phoenix "lights"}

Now the question whether you have any knowledge about this matter? Were these lights ships from your Federation or from the three different foreign groups?

Ptaah:

61. Since we only sporadically include the three different foreign groups in our observations, I cannot say anything about it, because at that time the area mentioned in the report did not fall within our closer observation range.

62. As I judge the whole thing according to this report, it must have been the flying apparatus of the three foreign groups.

63. The whole thing with the formations and the flight movements and the disappearance of the flying apparatus clearly indicates that.

64. In any case, we have not registered any flying apparatus other than those of the three alien groups for a long time, not even with regard to flights into terrestrial airspace.

65. We would certainly have registered alien new visitors, and moreover, such entries are very rare, because many alien life forms of foreign and distant worlds do not have space travel at their disposal, while others are not yet able to cover the universal distances.

66. For this reason alone it is an absolute rarity that strangers from other worlds of the Milky Way or even from other galaxies come to Earth.

67. Very big exceptions are the three alien groups and those few you know of who have joined our Federation, which is why we naturally no longer consider them strangers.

68. Those also belong to our Federation today, whose expedition ship was destroyed over the Tunguska Plain about 100 years ago.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_466

Billy:

... But now I have a question: You fly at a single and multiple speed of light in your spaceships, and our earthly scientists claim that this is impossible and that a spaceship can never reach this high speed, because the friction with matter, or with material space and ether prevents this. Yes, it cannot be the electromagnetic radiation by which you protect yourself from the cosmic influences and the so-called cosmic ether in order to reach the speed of light and beyond. Yes, electromagnetic radiation of all kinds has the same speed, so about 300,000 kilometres per second, so it is probably not possible that you can use it to prevent friction, so it must be something else that you can use to prevent any friction with the ether or any matter. Is there something very special that you can name, that allows you to go one and multiple times the speed of light? Is that a secret or are you allowed to say something about it? I have never asked about it before, but I am always being asked questions about it that I cannot answer.

Ptaah:

8. It is not a secret, and when I talk about it I do not give away anything with which the earthly scientists can start something, because their knowledge and ability is far from being sufficient for them to make use of it at the present time and thus cause harm.

9. So I can say that we use the photons resp. the light particles and time radiation to shield our spaceflights from the material and antimaterial environment.

10. So, we wrap our spaceflights in a photon force field and in a time radiation screen and protect them from friction against the material space.

11. The photons do not have any weight, but the mass 0, as it is also the case with respect to the time radiation, because they are both pure energy without any medium of their own, which is why they are neutral against any matter and are repelled by gravity.

12. So we make use of this, namely by enclosing our spaceflight devices in a photon and time radiation screen, so that no friction with the material space can occur, which enables us to reach the speed of light and even to exceed it by a very high multiple, because no resistance by any matter appears.

13. To explain details would be irresponsible, because Earth-humans are not yet allowed to possess these, because they maliciously use all special achievements for weapon systems and war purposes etc., which would also be the case with regard to photon technology.

14. And as far as the ether in world space is concerned, it truly does not exist, because this is a mistaken assumption of the earthly scientists. {Note: See Aether.}

15. That what they assume to be ether is indeed pure energy, a radiation, and this does not have its own medium and therefore no mass.

Billy:

Explained briefly and concisely. Thank you. Time radiation – could one perhaps also call it tachyon matter, which must also be without medium? Ether thus does not exist, but only radiation, which is pure energy without mass. However now the question how you can do it, to shield your spaceships against view and make them invisible for eyes and radar etc. Are you allowed to say something about this? But I think that now finally something becomes clearer to me. If you shield your flying apparatus against any material friction by a photon shield or photon protection shield, then it is probably so – so I assume – that these always light up when you have switched on this photon shield. Is that true?

Ptaah:

16. This corresponds to the actual situation, and the term tachyon matter can be applied in a certain way, but it is a time vibration or time radiation and has nothing to do with matter of any form.

17. And regarding the invisibility of our flying apparatus:

18. We can actually make our space flight apparatuses, as well as those we use in planetary airspaces, invisible to any view of any kind, by using special metallic alloys, the basis of which is, among other things, silver, as you know from the metallurgical analyses of the material of our flying apparatuses made in the USA.

19. The materials used in our flying apparatus and space flight devices are transformed and superordinate composite materials, the composition and manufacture of which I cannot mention, but I can say that we obtain everything through cold fusion processes, as Marcel Vogel in the USA already discovered through his metallurgical analysis when you gave him the metal samples we received for analysis.

20. So, when a flying apparatus, a spacecraft, a human or any other object is made invisible, it is by directing light around it.

21. The light waves are not reflected, but flow unbroken and uninhibitedly around the object, so that it becomes invisible to any natural or technical eye of any kind, also radar etc., and simply allows the background to be seen unchanged.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_494

{Billy:}

... his is also evident in alleged UFO sightings, where smaller or larger groups of human beings fall into a kind of visionary delusion and see UFOs even though there are none; and this is only because a single person believes to see something and thereby triggers a nocebo effect. As a rule, the symptoms of nocebo start with one individual being for no apparent reason, but they affect others through imagination and cause an epidemic according to the domino principle, because more and more people are drawn into the maelstrom of the nocebo effect in rapid succession. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_496

Ptaah:

6. Our flying discs are not shielded from sight by us, and also not in those moments when the static energy is illuminated or dissolved.

7. With our manned flying apparatus, it is that we usually shield them against sight when it seems necessary to us, in order not to frighten Earth-humans.

8. However, the shielding prevents us from being able to make certain recordings, which is why we only use the privacy screen when we consider it advisable for the aforementioned reasons.

9. So it is possible that our flying apparatus can be observed both day and night ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_510

Ptaah:

46. However, the fact that UFO observations are repeatedly reported around the world is that these are usually natural phenomena which can also be photographed or filmed under certain circumstances.

47. Illusions and optical irritations are also common.

48. Those photos and films, however, which are sensational in UFO circles, are usually deliberate fakes produced by computers.

49. It is not uncommon for your photos to be falsified and misused for this purpose, whereby photomontages and animated films are produced.

50. Only very few pictures show real objects, which can be interpreted as flying apparatus or as UFOs.

51. Since the 1980s, when computer technology emerged and can be used in a private way by anyone who can handle it, there have been countless fake pictures and films concerning UFOs or unknown flying objects respectively, which circulate in UFO circles and are found to be real.

52. Today, computer technology is so far developed that fakes can hardly or not at all be recognized.

53. But when you took your pictures in the 1970s, these computer possibilities did not exist yet, because only years later computers were produced that could also be used in private life.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_511

Billy:

... But I am now interested in whether, since my last question regarding other extraterrestrials who do not belong to you Plejaren or to your Federation, any other extraterrestrial flying apparatuses have flown into earthly space in the meantime?

Ptaah:

27. Since we completed our surveillance technology for objects entering or entering the Earth's space years ago and are therefore able to locate and register even the smallest objects, there have been no entries of unearthly flying apparatuses that do not belong to us Plejaren or to members of the Federation.

28. It is also not to be assumed that there will be any more such foreign incursions in the foreseeable future.

29. And what has happened in the last 300 years with such flights into the earthly space has found its reason in the fact, as we have clarified in the meantime, that really all extraterrestrials who came to earth found their way to earth by some unforeseen coincidence or in two cases by coordinate information.

30. The fact that the way from extraterrestrials to the SOL-system and finally to Earth led in some cases, was either due to uncontrollable coincidences or due to coordinates received etc.

31. Some also came to Earth through curiosity, aberration or by accident, after they unintentionally or intentionally entered the SOL system.

32. However, most of the entries took place because of uncontrollable coincidences and also because the Earth was discovered.

33. There were also flights into Earth from the Alpha-Centauri area when the SOL system was approached, and of course Earth was discovered and explored.

34. So it was usually a rare coincidence that extraterrestrials other than us, the Plejaren and our federated ones, came to Earth.

35. Only in two cases aliens came to Earth via the coordinates given by very distant Nokodemion descendants.

36. There were not any other strangers to the Earth other than those who came to Earth through the coordinates and uncontrollable coincidences.

37. So the visitors were not those who flew to Earth as a special destination, with two exceptions.

38. But we Plejaren and our Federation and the ancient Lyrians are excluded from this, because even our very distant ancestors knew the SOL system and the Earth, and so they visited the Earth millions of years ago.

Billy:

This is familiar to me, because they came to the SOL system because of the Moon, whose path they followed when it blasted out of their space-time structure through a dimensional gate into our space-time structure and settled on Earth. And it is also clear to me that there is not extraterrestrial-human life at every corner of space and that extraterrestrial human beings are not to be found in every corner of the universe, as the human beings on Earth are led to believe by science fiction films. There are indeed billions of solar systems in which there are also planets, but those that carry human life, which is also highly developed and capable of space travel, are very rare in our DERN universe. That is why, as you once said, your Federation is spread out over hundreds of millions of light-years in your space-time structure, because the human beings are scattered in the vast expanse of space and it is not densely populated with humans. Often there are dozens, hundreds or even thousands of light-years between human inhabited worlds, and also only a few of the human beings on these inhabited planets are capable of space technology. The same applies to our space-time structure, and consequently also to the fact that there are not masses of human beings on the planets, but only a few of them in the vastness of our own or any other galaxy. For this reason alone, it is crazy to claim that aliens from this or that constellation would come to Earth from this or that constellation, simply to make some nonsensical religious and sectarian speeches and conversations and to give divine advice etc. This apart from the absurdity of the fact that there is no evidence of such alleged contacts between aliens and the human beings of Earth, neither material nor photos and films.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_519

Ptaah:

62. And all those Earth-foreigners who came to Earth by the coincidence of the coordinates of the ancient Nokodemion peoples belong to our Federation today, and they too do not maintain contact with Earth-humans.

63. The only contacts that have ever existed and continue to exist relate to us Plejaren, our Federation and you.

Billy:

So that in relation to the last 300 years?

Ptaah:

64. That is correct, because it is for that time that we have been making our inquiries.

Billy:

But what if unknown flying objects are observed?

Ptaah:

65. If they are Earth-foreigners flying apparatuses, then they can only be those of us Plejaren or of our federated ones.

66. Otherwise they are exclusively earthly unknown flying apparatuses, like secret aircraft of futuristic design etc., as they are constructed in secret aircraft construction factories, mainly in Area 51 in the USA, but also in South America, Russia, China and Canada.

Billy:

Is this really all clear and real?

Ptaah:

67. Absolutely.

Billy:

This once again triggers angry cries and howls among the UFO believers, the ufologists and the alleged contactees, which in turn makes me a snail again.

Ptaah:

68. This will be so, because the deceivers, liars, swindlers and charlatans regarding alleged contacts with Earth-foreigners as well as the UFO believers in general and especially those who boast of being experts in ufology, do not want to understand that apart from us, the Plejaren and our federated ones, no other Earth-foreigners come to Earth, and also that those who came here in former times found their way to Earth only by means of old coordinate records which led back to connections with old Nokodemion peoples.

69. Only such Earth-foreigners and future Earth-followers have come to Earth, but never any others from foreign galaxies and solar systems that did not have the coordinates handed down.
70. So others did not reach Earth, as alleged contactors lie and claim.

Billy:

This apart from the Skrills and the bioorganic flying objects and the future of Earth from other dimensions, as you say. If all the many claims about contacts between the human beings of Earth and extraterrestrials were true, then Earth would be teeming with extraterrestrials.

Ptaah:

71. That is correct.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_522

Ptaah:

13. Nevertheless, it is a fact that top-secret flying apparatus is being created and tested in Area 51, not only in the area of that base, but also in other areas and even worldwide.

14. But this is also true of other states that work on and test secret flying apparatus, which are then referred to by uninitiated populations as UFOs and even as extraterrestrial flying objects.

15. And it is precisely this fact that is used by all the secret bases where futuristic flying apparatuses are built, Area 51 in particular, to keep their secret products relating to all kinds of flying objects and aircraft from becoming public knowledge.

16. The secret services involved have been stirring up the UFO hype for many decades and are doing everything they can to make people observing such flying apparatus believe that they are extraterrestrial flying objects, which are then generally called UFOs.

17. This is also a reason for the paradox that, especially in the USA, those in charge of military and air force intelligence and other intelligence agencies involved in the case are denying that an extraterrestrial flying apparatus has crashed, as happened in Roswell.

18. Of course, this also vehemently denies the secret research and machinations that are being carried out in Area 51, as well as the constructions of secret flying apparatus made there.

19. And this did not only happen during the Cold War period, but it also applies equally to the present day.

20. Thus the belief of the population in the multiple existence of extraterrestrial UFOs continues to be fuelled.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_531

Billy:

Then let me ask you again about the fact that you said some time ago that you Plejaren and your Federation are the only aliens who have contact on Earth, and only with me. You also said that there are not other aliens flying in and out of Earth. But somehow I can't get along with that, because you have also mentioned on several occasions that there are three groups of strangers on Earth besides you, who came or are coming, but who are unknown to you and with whom you cannot or do not want to come into contact. At least that is what you told me several times in private conversations. Your daughter Semjase and Quetzal have also explained the same thing. These things were not recorded in the contact reports, because they were private conversations, but I think that this is why we should talk about it again. As I said before, I simply cannot deal with this matter.

Ptaah:

...

81. The UFO and UFO contact hysteria should not be evoked again, which is why I did not speak of those strangers who have probably been in earthly space and unknown to us for a long time and with whom we also have no connections.

82. But when I think about it now, I find that the whole thing is perhaps advisable to be mentioned in the above-mentioned respect, because apparently you too have misunderstood my statement as well as that of my daughter and of Quetzal.

83. It is indeed the case that no new Earth-foreigners known to us have come and are coming to Earth other than those who have been operating here for a long time or those who have joined or belonged to our Federation.

84. Only in this respect my speech was intended and should have been understood in this way.

85. But apparently I was not precise enough in my statement, which led to misunderstanding or misunderstanding.

86. What I explained was meant, then, if I am to repeat what I said and make it clearer that in recent times no new Earth-foreigners have come or are coming to Earth.

87. Thus, only those foreigners who have been approaching the Earth for a long time and who are not under our control are and remain.

88. Excluded from my statement, therefore, were those Earth-foreigners unknown to us with whom we do not or do not wish to come into contact.

89. And as these fly in and out of earthly space, they are therefore not newcomers, but rather those who have been coming to the Earth again and again for a very long time, and who also stay in this space for a long time.

90. These three foreign groups are therefore not included in my statements, nor are the future earthlings, who form a further group and with whom we also have no connections.

...

Billy:

Then it is also possible that sometimes not only your flying objects can be observed, but also those of the Earth-foreigners unknown to you and of the future ones? You, for your part, do not let yourselves be observed as often as it used to be the case, so therefore, unless they are the secret terrestrial test objects of military form, sometimes they must be those unknown to you and the future ones who are seen.

Ptaah:

92. That is correct, but if they are already Earth-foreigners or the future ones, then they are not those who appear again, but only those unknown to us, as I will again state.

Billy:

So they are not newcomers from the depths of space, flying in and out of Earth, but only those of whom you have spoken in each case, but who were not mentioned in your last explanations. Consequently, it follows that while it is correct that you and your Federation are the only ones known to you as Earth-foreigners, and as such visit Earth. But since those unknown to you and those to come are not known to you as Earth-foreigners, you have only spoken of those extraterrestrials that you know – thus of you Plejaren and your federated ones. This misunderstanding is stupid, because this is again material for the know-it-alls, critics and adversaries, who are too stupid to understand that just by incomplete statements and explanations also misunderstandings can appear. Perhaps it is also our mistake if we discuss some things only privately without writing up reports about them. It is also not uncommon for misunderstandings to arise from the fact that some of your statements and explanations are not complete. ...

... But the whole thing does not say anything about the fact that through those strangers to the earth who are unknown to you and through the future ones, short touches and so-called examination contacts might have taken place.

Ptaah:

93. That is clear and correct.

94. And what is to be said regarding contacts of fate and examination contacts is that some of the strangers unknown to us may indeed have touched the earth, but we neither have any control over this nor have we been able to observe such contacts ourselves.

95. If, in the course of time, we have spoken of possible touches respectively short contacts, then these have been related to those that have unintentionally or intentionally taken place with us Plejaren or with our federated.

96. However, we do not know and are not interested in what happened to those unknown to us and those to come.

Billy:

This is a clear and unmistakable statement. But the fact of the many atmospheric phenomena and the test flights of secret military flying apparatus that have been observed in various countries but could not and still cannot be identified as a whole, and which are called UFOs, remains, doesn't it?

Ptaah:

97. Of course, because this cannot be denied, so also the fact of secret test flights of futuristic flying apparatuses cannot be denied, although this is nevertheless constantly being attempted by denials.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_533

Ptaah:

8. The difficult issue with the control device required Quetzal, Zafenatpaneach and I to create a completely new apparatus together some time ago, because the old one had been disturbed by the earthly space debris to such an extent in its function with regard to very precise recordings that a lot of data was not recorded.

...

Billy:

Aha, and may I ask whether the size of the small control disc is still the same? ...

Ptaah:

...

11. No, the dimensions of the micro device are now 6x6x6 millimetres and now has a storage capacity of 280,000 terabytes.

Billy:

Man, that is a multiple of the old control panel.

Ptaah:

12. There are also many more factors that are monitored and registered by the device, but I do not want to give any further details officially.

...

Billy:

... But what I am still interested in is to what extent the strangers on earth, who are obviously divided into three groups, behave towards you, since you do not want to have any contact with them?

Ptaah:

33. According to our directives we have kept away from them until today and will also do so in the future.

34. Just as we shield ourselves from all earthly locating equipment and locating devices of any kind, if I may say so in such simple terms, so we also shield ourselves from the Earth-foreigners.

35. The protective shields of our flying apparatus are designed in such a way that they cannot be penetrated in any way, and therefore our aircraft cannot be located.

36. This is also the case when we keep the screens of our flying apparatus open so that they can be seen.

37. But that is never enough to be able to take bearings on our flying apparatus or even register them.

38. So far, the Earth-foreigners operating in the terrestrial space, who form a unit despite their tripartite division, have not been able to find a way to determine our existence, because all their technical achievements are not sufficient and are far inferior to ours.

39. This is of course also true of all the terrestrial technology in this field, which is still far below that used by the aliens.

40. But since they, like the Earth-humans, know through the terrestrial media such as television, radio, newspapers and magazines, etc., that you are in contact with us because this has been so reported, you have been observed for a long time both by the Earth-foreigners and by the earthly military, authorities and secret services, probably in the hope that they might thereby prove to themselves our existence and our contacts with you.

41. They have not been able to do so to date, and they never will, because they are not capable of such a technique and are therefore not able to reconcile the discrepancy in this respect.

42. Just as all their efforts to find out about our existence have been in vain and useless to them, so it will remain.

Billy:

Then some of the unknown flying apparatuses we have observed throughout the decades above and around our center could have been from those Earth-foreigners, as was also the case at my former place of residence in Hinwil and the surrounding area?

Ptaah:

43. This was indeed the case several times, and if you had asked us about it, we could have given you information about it, just as we always did when our flying apparatus was being observed in the center area or elsewhere and you asked about it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_534

Billy:

... Here is the further question: Photons are light particles, but they are weightless. But I do not understand how it is possible to move or stop things by a very strongly bundled light, to melt metal with a laser beam and even to propel flying objects in space. Even if the weight and mass are zero and practically cannot be determined, I think that somehow something must be present that can produce the effects in the above-mentioned respect, perhaps a mass of light and a weight of light or something like that, but everything is so small and weightless that a single photon, for example, cannot be measured in any weight and mass.

Ptaah:

20. What you say is correct, of course.

21. Explained in a simple and easy to understand way, is the following to say about it:

22. Every single photon is not measurable in relation to its weight and mass, at least not with earthly apparatuses, therefore mass and weight always result in 0.

23. But if the photons are bundled millions of times, like with spotlights or especially with lasers or photon engines, then in their constant movement at the speed of light, a so-called 'moving mass' becomes visible, which can be registered and also measured in terms of weight.

24. However, about 400 million photons together make up such a tiny mass, which contains less than the smallest atomic nucleus component.

25. Photons appearing in unimaginably enormous masses, however, which without exception are always in motion at the speed of light, and as these are generated by suns and all other photon-producing structures in the universe and are hurled out into space, the 'Masses in motion' increase to enormous weights, which can only be calculated in millions of tons.

Billy:

And this, although the individual photon is weightless and massless, so to speak, but in this respect can only be measured in a very large mass. Really phenomenal.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_541

Billy:

So now I also understand your explanation of 2001, when you said that the new control disk of 4 millimetres surface area and one (1) millimetre thickness, which you stationed at several hundred kilometres altitude, has a capacity of 74 exabytes, that is 74 trillion bytes. There is a generator or something similar built into this tiny control device, as well as an observation system, a transmitter and receiver. There is also an image recording device installed, with which something can be captured on Earth extremely clearly and sharply to the centimetre, as you once said privately

Ptaah:

16. That is also correct.

...

Billy:

... Various people do not understand your statements regarding extraterrestrials which fly in the terrestrial air space – or not. So I want to once again come to speak about unidentified flying objects, but not about those, which are from those extraterrestrial origins about which we have already spoken several times, and what you have determined is that all these were located as a result of historical records of the Nokodemion-peoples to Earth. For this purpose, you have also explained that eventually these planets peoples to whom the spacecraft belonged, have joined your federation. There are diverse UFOs observed all over the world of which different large and small objects belong to secret terrestrial developments in various countries, but this cannot be officially proven because their existence is denied and covered up, although detected by many witnesses. Hence, that's not all that is said, because there are still also the various large and small dimension-change-capable flying objects from the Earth's future. All of which, you have spoken of openly or privately, as well as your daughter Semjase and Quetzal occasionally said something about this. But on that point, now to the question: for years some spectacular UFO observations have been variously made worldwide, which were also confirmed by the military, air force and other airplane pilots, police-units and private individuals. However, you had said that except for those which you mentioned, no more extraterrestrial flying devices were flown into the airspace of the earth, or would fly in.

Ptaah:

40. You mix something up or have misunderstood something, dear friend, because what is correct, is the fact of my views regarding this, that no further unknown Earth-foreigners, to us Plejaren, fly in the earthly space.

41. In addition, I also spoke thereof, that we do not maintain any contacts with these unknown-to-us Earth-foreigners which move in the earthly space, or that there is no possibility for us, that we can get in contact with them.

...

43. So if I have spoken about this, that no further Earth-foreigners known to us, come to the Earth, then this is referring exclusively to newly-appearing Earth-foreigners, not however to those whose existence here on Earth has already been known for quite some time.

Billy:

Again a misunderstanding, but now this would also be clarified. So those unknown to you are still present, whereby these also fly in and fly out. That really was totally misunderstood, both by various readers of the contact reports, as well as by me. But how does it stand with your investigations regarding contacts between Earth-humans and these foreigners moving in the terrestrial air space of whose existence you know?

Ptaah:

44. As we have seen through extremely accurate investigations, no touches, i.e. no contacts took place up until the present moment between these Earth-foreigners unknown to us and any earth-humans.

Billy:

It is simply maddening that misunderstandings creep in again and again because you do not speak in detailed enough plain language if you are not specifically asked for it.

Ptaah:

45. This corresponds to a mutuality, because you always answer only to direct questions, without giving further details thereof.

46. And so, as you keep to in this regard, we adhere to this as well.

47. This form of questions and answers is indeed also correct in principle, because thereby one does not go adrift into hardly important details.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_544

Ptaah:

23. Such observations are not only made in England, but around the world in practically all countries, whereby, however, there is silence about it as usual.

24. And I will say this before you ask, that all these unknown flying objects are on the one hand secret terrestrial flying apparatuses, but also on the other hand those of the future inhabitants of the Earth and of those who are unknown to us and with whom we maintain no contacts.

25. Our own flying apparatuses – except in seldom cases our telemetric discs – are shielded by us from sight and radar etc. in such a way that they cannot or only extremely seldom be seen by human beings of Earth.

26. This, however, only if in that relation certain causal foreordinations result which are under our control.

27. It is not possible to locate us by radar, nor by other technical means, hence we remain also invisible for the ones foreign to the Earth who are unknown to us, who so far obviously are unable to detect our presence here on the Earth, which also applies to the future inhabitants of the Earth.

Billy:

Thank you, by certain causal foreordinations you probably mean that such a causal foreordination takes place, if it is inherent in your will that you want to be observed, as has also been the case on various occasions with FIGU members in the last decades since 1975.

Ptaah:

28. Right.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_550

Billy:

... You told me on my Great Journey that you all have to equip your space flying apparatus with equipment so that you do not age faster than on the homeworld. But you only mentioned this briefly, so I would like to ask what your statement at the time actually refers to. But please explain something simply so that it is also understood

Ptaah:

195. In world space there are different physical laws than on planets.

196. A certain radiation, which occurs on a large scale only in open world space, but not on the planets, on which it is much less effective, requires special shielding in relation to the spaceflight devices to protect the occupants.

197. This is precisely because the strong radiation affects any biological life-form much more than is the case with the low radiation of the same species on planets.

198. This radiation, which penetrates all materials, has the property that biological life-forms, when they travel through space, age much faster through it than on planets.

199. The stronger the radiation affects a biological organism, the faster it ages.

200. This also says that also on planets, depending on their size and mass, this radiation varies in its intensity, so the normal age limit of similar life-forms is different on planets of different sizes and more or less mass.

201. The size and mass of a planet therefore determines how strongly the radiation affects a biological organism, which means that the weaker the radiation is, the longer the organic body remains viable, whereas with strong radiation the life span is reduced, which can be the case especially in spaceflights, if they are not protected against the very strong radiation in space by a radiation-repellent shield.

Billy:

Aha, that is to be understood. And since you live on worlds that have little of this radiation, you also have a long life. ...

Billy:

Now however I would like to turn the discussion once again to those UFO sightings and UFO photos, which militaries and police as well as also pilots substantiate and which indeed in the last few decades are hundreds. About these I mean those, which have nothing to do with all of those UFO nut-cases, who deceptively falsify images and films or even maintain, that they – in a mostly Christian esoteric and sectarian way – would have personal or telepathic contacts with extraterrestrials. Especially, I want yet to speak about the occurrences in regard to the appearances in Phoenix in the USA respectively the ‘Phoenix Lights’ in 1997, which last January, thus 2013, is said to have happened again. In 1997 these UFOs have been observed in Sonora, Nevada and Mexico, as well. Then there is also still the case of Rendlesham Forest in England at the beginning of the 1980s, as well as however also in 2006 the case of O’Hare/Chicago as well as the appearances in Anchorage/Alaska and the case of 1989 in Belgium with the prolonged wave of UFO sightings. Further sightings in world-wide form by pilots, militaries, police and private individuals run into the hundreds, whereby it is said, that approximately 800 or even more observations are seriously to be considered. I know from you, that a number of these observed UFOs lead back to your beamships, but many hundred always still remain unknown. Thus I assume, that it, with all of these unexplained UFO appearances, on the one hand, probably has to concern secret terrestrial-military flight machines etc., of various nations to which even also China belongs, like you told me last time. Additionally, you have once spoken of those from the Earth’s future, which are also to be considered. On the other hand, it concerns at the same time, however, probably also about those three groups unknown to you, who have no information regarding you and therefore are also unable to attain information about you.

Ptaah:

19. This corresponds to actuality, because all of the appearances of unknown flying objects mentioned by you – as well as hundreds of others – lead back only very rarely to we Plejaren and to those of our Federation, who sometimes regarding the fact that they are seen, are those of the Federation who are somewhat less careful than we.

20. As a rule everything leads back to the three alien groups to us as well as to secret terrestrial-military flight machines of various nations.

Billy:

Then this is clear, and apparently, if I take notice of your words, then nothing has changed between you and the three alien groups?

Ptaah:

21. That is actually so, and we will ourselves also not try to come into contact with the aliens, and in regard to them we also do not know from where they come, which also does not interest us which is why we also do not try to clarify their origin.

22. Also everything indicates for us that – if we speak of their technology as a starting point – which compared to ours is relatively still very much underdeveloped –, and that also their consciousness development still leaves much to be desired.

Billy:

I can comprehend that. However, you once said years ago, that you have carried out clarifications and studies in detail and that since 1947 no more Earth foreigners have flown into terrestrial airspace. How is it then with the three foreign groups?

Ptaah:

23. We have spoken about them already many times, and I have explained, that these groups who are aliens to us are not therein to be included, because we have known about them as aliens for a long time.

24. Our clarifications were and are valid only for new foreigners from the year 1947, and such have not flown into the terrestrial space since then.

25. And as we see the matter, the three foreigners unknown to us belong to groups that did not enter the earthly realm recently after the year 1947.

26. Hence it is possible, that they even come from the Earth itself or already long ago as Earth-foreigners were here, before we undertook our new mission on the Earth.

27. Admittedly since that time we have registered activities again and again in the terrestrial airspace, and I mean up to the present time, but in connection to this we see the three alien groups to us, as those who are truthfully already here for a long time or even belong to the Earth, perhaps also in a future dimension.

28. From this follows, that we also do not concern ourselves about them and also do not try to come into their range, because we do not want to bring about any conflicts with them.

29. Solely, this is forbidden to us already by our directives.

30. What it is however with all the observations in the USA, England and Belgium mentioned by you and also many others elsewhere, this we do not know, because already we no longer try for a long time to make clarifications of such occurrences.

Billy:

From your words I gather, that you therefore do not know, whether with the three groups alien to you concerns Earth foreigners, thus extraterrestrials or from the Earth's future, or whether it concerns with the USA, Belgium and England etc., observed large unknown flying bodies perhaps secret terrestrial-military machines?

Ptaah:

31. This is correct such as you say, and we have also no interest to explain about them, because our tasks do not relate directly to such interests, but only and alone to your mission as well as to certain matters, which arise from terrestrial-climatic and planetary development as well as with population-, political and science- as well as technology development.

32. With everything it concerns only clarification- and observation tasks, however not one iota more.

33. An intervention into any terrestrial interests therefore, according to our directives, in no way whatsoever is permitted to us.

Billy:

However, you nevertheless have a technology hardly to be surpassed -- at least as seen by we Earthlings -- by which it would be possible, to make clarifications and examinations unnoticed, regarding those who you could examine closely. These even in connection to, from where they come, who they are and what their motives are, to function mysteriously in the terrestrial area without identifying themselves.

Ptaah:

34. This is quite correct, but our directives forbid such actions, except if there would appear such unknown aircraft to our homeworlds.

35. It would be permitted to us additionally also only then, if the aliens themselves approach us and would seek contact with us.

36. However this is not only questionable, that they will do it, because as far as our directives permit, we are able to clarify, that the three alien groups to us up to now send out signals in no way whatsoever, which would indicate that they would know of our existence.

37. So then as we see everything, our presence is therefore not known to them, which certainly therein is based on the fact, that we always protect ourselves against them from an open contact, as a result they can have no awareness of our presence in the terrestrial area, because we protect ourselves against them from any awareness.

38. Thus, regarding our presence only assumption can be given by them – if at all.

39. However this does not mean, contrarily that we from our side are not able to perceive them, because their activities are indeed such, that these also are apparently undisputed for Earth-humans and again and again are able to be observed.

40. These are our certain discoveries, which our directives permit us to be able to gain clarifications.

41. This also means for us thus, that we ourselves already for considerable time in no way try to obtain more about the three alien groups to us, as a result we also have no knowledge about their time and time again occurring activities.

Billy:

Then it is also senseless, if I perhaps were to ask you once again, when it concerns a UFO which was observed? Anyway – as a realisation – therefore it also would not be permitted to you, to help Earth if some foreign extraterrestrials came in power to the Earth and would display ambitions of conquest?

Ptaah:

42. That is absolutely correct, because since we no longer concern ourselves about these interests, no more are we able to deliver information and explanations.

43. Clarifications in the mentioned connection are for us not of interest and they also never were, but we endeavoured ourselves to obtain always simply only about clarifications, which fell within our own interests and will fall in the future.

44. What we have done further regarding, that which goes beyond our own interests, this we have carried out only, in order to be able to deliver certain data to you and the group members.

45. We no longer do this for considerable time, as you know, because in no way whatsoever did it bring usefulness in any connection.

46. This also applies to many other things and also private interests of persons etc., which in their regard we no longer endeavour ourselves to obtain clarifications for them.

47. And what you say regarding foreign extraterrestrial powers, then this would actually be the case, as you say; we permit ourselves in no way to interfere.

...

Billy:

... Than once again a question regarding the three alien groups: Do you assume perhaps, that these could turn out to be a danger for you?

Ptaah:

49. We do not assume this, because according to our discoveries their technology is still extremely underdeveloped compared to ours, which is to be concluded from their flight manoeuvres and from their total behaviour.

50. And what arises with the technology of their aircraft, this applies with certainty also to their possible weapon technology, consequently we would have a great and not to be surpassed advantage over them.

51. If they would be in possession of ray weapons, then would a use of these be the same in every case to our favour and to our great advantage, because we absorb all kinds of radiation and know how to use for our own energy production.

52. Radiations appearing to our protection shields and similar energies are absorbed and to our own energies adapted, accumulated and from them strengthened.

Billy:

I know this, because you have already earlier explained to me, that your protection- and weapon systems in your ships do not work the same, as those in science fiction movies – like Star Trek, etc., – on the Earth is shown, that the protection shields just become weaker by energy – and radiation bombardment etc., but that you absorb the on to your protection shield appearing energies and as a result the energetic all around cloaking shield of your ships is strengthened. Thus it is such, that the more radiation energy etc., is fired onto your ships, the stronger their protection shields become.

Ptaah:

53. That is correct.

54. However also if solid projectiles, respectively solid materials are shot at our protection shields, we are able to transfer their kinetic energy into an energy usefulness while the projectiles change and becomes useless.

55. If the projectiles contain explosives of any kind, then these will become neutralised and become a harmless mass.

Billy:

And how is it, if it would concern asteroids, meteors and space rubbish or missiles with atomic warheads?

Ptaah:

56. These also would be neutralised and present no danger for us.

...

Billy:

Let's get back to the three alien groups: So you do not suppose that you could be in danger from aliens. But what about the fact that danger for the Earth resp. for terrestrial mankind could come from them?

Ptaah:

61. For all of the last 200 years nothing has indicated that such a danger could come from foreigners to the Earth, but we do not know their intentions and hence cannot say with certainty, whether it might not be the case that some strangers to the Earth have evil intentions.

Billy:

Not exactly a consolation. So we can only hope that these foreigners are as peaceful as you Plejaren and those of your Federation. If the Earth and terrestrial humanity were threatened with disaster by the extraterrestrial foreigners or by those from the future, how would you then react?

Ptaah:

62. You know, that our directives would forbid an intervention, as I already mentioned.

Billy:

I know, however also this is indeed just not exactly comforting. It is only to assume, that everything turns out peacefully, if someday official contacts come to take place with Earth aliens or those from the future, which in fact certain prophecies have announced already from time immemorial.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_558

Ptaah:

47. The basic condition for space travel inevitably requires the mastery of gravity, so that appropriate space flight devices must be equipped with devices that give them their own gravity.

48. Without a spacecraft having its own gravity, which protects space travellers from weightlessness, they suffer life-threatening organic changes which lead to death.

49. Long-term weightlessness in Earth orbit alone is harmful to the human being's health, because severe organic changes occur in the body, including brain shrinkage etc.

Billy:

So without a spaceship or any space vehicle having its own adequate gravity, which must be produced by apparatus and equipment etc. to protect the human being from weightlessness, effective space travel is not possible? If there is no gravity in a spaceship, then in the long run health damage will occur, which also leads to death.

Ptaah:

50. That is correct.

51. Mastering gravity is a fundamental requirement, but so is mastering and neutralising the effects of the acceleration forces inside and outside the spacecraft.

Billy:

You are probably referring to the acceleration forces which, on the one hand, do not create any pressure forces for the human being inside the spaceships and which, on the other hand, can distort the material on the outside?

Ptaah:

52. Yes, but I am not allowed to talk about how these forces are neutralized.

Billy:

But it is correct that you absorb these forces with your technical possibilities?

Ptaah:

53. Yes, that is correct.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_562

Billy:

Please, one more question: I have been asked why you still come here on the usual route, which takes seven minutes, when you have had the opportunity with the transmitter gate for quite some time?

Ptaah:

52. That is no secret.

53. The fact is that we probably developed the technology so far years ago that we have been using this transport possibility for goods ever since.

54. In the first time, however, there was a regrettable loss, because we lost some androids when we transported them through the gate.

55. That was the reason why we – despite first attempts with human beings, which all came off to our satisfaction – had to refrain from these attempts again, when for then indefinable reasons suddenly goods and then also three androids disappeared through the transmission gate again.

56. Only after a long time could the real faulty cause be found and eliminated.

57. Since then, however, the Transmission Gate has only been used for the transport of goods and artificial-organic life-forms in a test manner.

58. These tests will be completed this year, after which animals and human beings may and can also be transported through the Transmission Gate.

59. If that is the case, then we who are visiting you will also use this means of transport from Erra or from my wide-bodied flying apparatus.

...

Billy:

... But what about the beamships, can a transmission gate also be used by them, or do we still have to beam from them, like when Florena or Enjana come here?

Ptaah:

63. This will not yet be possible, but our technology is also being developed in this respect, so it will also be possible in this way in the foreseeable future.

64. However, the technology for this is still under development and should take several months.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_565

Billy:

... So the four groups have been active for a very long time. This also explains all those UFO apparitions etc. that have taken place for a long time and are still happening today, and which have not yet been clarified from the earthly side. But what about the secret military flying objects of various countries, which you also mentioned; are they so futuristic and highly technical that they can be mistaken for extraterrestrial flying objects by the average citizen?

Ptaah:

54. That is undoubtedly the case.

Billy:

But then again a question in relation to these various secret flying objects of various states, which are also called UFOs and which can also be observed again and again by many people. Since you are concerned with the military interests of the earthlings, you should know which flying machines they are and which states construct them and let them buzz around.

Ptaah:

55. That is indeed so, yes.

Billy:

You let yourself be asked everything again before you say more. What kind of machines are they, and to which countries do they concern?

Ptaah:

56. To answer this openly would be against our directives on the one hand, and on the other hand it would be unwise, because it could lead to unpleasant machinations and hostilities among the different states.

57. It would also be dangerous to expose these things.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_577

Billy:

While we are on the subject of the four groupings: This grouping of those foreign to Earth is obviously again and again allowing itself to be observed by the Earthlings, that is to say, their various flying machines are being seen again and again. At least, I assume that these observed flying objects belong to those foreign to Earth, don't they?

Ptaah:

20. These Earth-foreigners are indeed relatively often active worldwide, which is why their flight movements can also often be observed.

21. Apart from these Earth-foreigners flying apparatuses, however, there are also secret earthly flying apparatuses with strange constructions, which can also be observed sometimes.

22. These flying apparatuses, however, which we are now talking about, are a matter of concern to Earth-foreigners, who move in all airspaces around the world.

Billy:

They are also observed from time to time in Europe, sometimes shining down beams of light to the ground and making vehicles and the human beings shine. Just this week I was told of such a case in Germany, where a truck driver was suddenly blinded at night by such a flying object hovering over his truck and radiating a strong light, the light being, as the driver explained, extremely harsh, while in addition no sound could be heard from the object itself, so it was completely silent.

Ptaah:

23. We are familiar with such light patterns from silent flying apparatus on vehicles and human beings, as well as on buildings, animals and the ground, and they are typical of the Earth-foreigners I mentioned, about whom we have gained much more information since my last visit on the 9th of December.

24. This has been made easy for us thanks to our new technical equipment, although we run no risk of being noticed by these Earth-foreigners because their technology is still inadequate compared to ours in general.

25. And just as it has been up to now that they have not been able to detect and register our presence, it will also remain the same.

26. In those days when we made ourselves or our flying apparatuses visible for your photographic work or, exceptionally, sometimes also for group members so that photos could be taken, we always shielded ourselves from any other view, so that only a wedge of sight remained open from our flying apparatuses to the cameras.

27. The same was true for eye contact or normal observations, so that in this respect too only one wedge of sight to the eyes of the observers remained open and the flying apparatus was also shielded against any technical detection etc.

28. As a result, it was never possible for other observers, such as Earth-foreigners or Earth-humans other than those for whom we made ourselves visible, to see or locate our flying apparatus, and this will also continue to be the case.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_578

Ptaah:

31. With regard to both these announcements, if it does not concern charlatany, as unfortunately is often the case in such announcements, such as by falsifying pictures, how this can be done today and very easily without any major machinations with computers, which is also very frequently the case, or in order to simulate UFOs just for fun or charlatany by using hobby-based models of balloons, zeppelins and other flying devices, then probably unidentified flying objects can be spoken of, if they cannot be identified.

32. Natural phenomena as well as secret terrestrial-military flying devices also belong to UFO observations.

33. Next, however, the four foreign-to-us groupings must also be taken into account and considered, which could be responsible for UFO appearances.

...

37. In our point of view, the aforementioned foreign-to-Earth grouping is indirectly connected with many unidentified flying objects, which since time immemorial, have repeatedly appeared and have been observed on Earth and about which, also many records are noted in our annals.

38. The explanations are interesting which say that Earth-foreigners have been observed from our side in the terrestrial airspace for more than 5,000 years and ascertations were made regarding this, which are consistent with the observations made by us in the last few decades.

...

Billy:

... You've never said anything, as well as your daughter Semjase and Quetzal have never spoken of it, therefore the whole thing is completely new for me and I also knew nothing of it, that since time immemorial, so for more than 5,000 years at least, there was a foreign-to-Earth grouping. And that these probably stand perhaps directly or indirectly connected in some way with the Earth-strangers functionings around the Earth today, that really is a piece of news. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_589

Billy:

Recently, various television programmes have been reporting on earlier UFO observations and also on various strange UFO encounters. To my knowledge, at least as you told me earlier, all these observations and encounters are not connected with you Plejaren in one single case.

Ptaah:

82. We on Earth have never been involved in such observations and encounters since ancient times.

83. However, we are well aware that incidents concerning observations and encounters have taken place in connection with Earth-humans and unknown flying objects or UFOs, as the common name is.

84. But we only know this since we have had the opportunity to do so in the last one and a half decades through the technology of the Sonaer.

85. Before that we were unfortunately deceived in many ways by many imaginative and imaginative Earth-humans through lies and deception as well as charlatanism and also fun.
86. Only with the technology of the Sonaer we were able to clarify that many Earth-humans, who reported alleged observations and encounters or even alleged contacts with Earth-foreigners, only told lies and charlatanism, as well as fraud with fake pictures and films.
87. Others, on the other hand, invented alleged experiences and even inflicted strange little injuries on their bodies, which they described as marks and signs etc. added to them by Earth-foreigners.
88. Many of these people were addicted to the desire for renown, as is also the case today, along with religious and sectarian motives and financial-profit motives.
89. But when Earth-humans have observed flying objects or UFOs unknown to them and encounters with such flying apparatus have taken place, and are still taking place around the world, then these refer today and in the future only to the four foreign groups and in no way to us, the Plejaren or our federated ones.

...

94. The reason why core-group and passive group members were able to take pictures of our flying apparatus was that we opened our screens wedge-shaped especially for them, so that the members could expose their films.

...

96. However, we only allowed such pictures from a certain distance, so pictures could never be taken in the quality you were able to take according to our instructions, in order to have proof of our existence and your statements.

97. But even in this way we were always careful that we could not be observed, so that there was also only a wedge-shaped channel of vision from the flying apparatus to your picture or film camera, and thus open to your eyes.

98. Accordingly, our flying apparatus could also not be observed by other persons, even if they were standing right next to you.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_602

Billy:

What I would like to talk about officially, however, refers to the four groupings that function with their flying objects on Earth. You said recently during one of our private conversations that I was allowed to tell a lot about it when I was asked about it.

Ptaah:

24. That is correct, but only within the framework that no details are given which I have explained to you.

Billy:

I don't mean that either, because it's just that you know that at least two groupings definitely come from outside of our present, one of them being earth future and the other parallel space dependent. I don't want to say any more about it, but just that, and that's only because I'm asked again and again whether you really don't have any more information about it.

Ptaah:

25. Of course, we have more profound information, but our directives do not allow us to communicate it to Earth-humans.

26. If, however, you answer the questioner in such a way that one grouping refers to the future earth and another comes from a parallel space, then this information is allowed and does not reveal any important details.

...

Billy:

The questions have always mainly related to the observations of the unknown large flying objects that have been seen in Arizona and Belgium as well as in England and that yes – and I think this may be said – fall into the two groups mentioned.

Ptaah:

28. This may be said, but it should be mentioned that certain of the observed flying objects were also of absolutely terrestrial origin and, seen for the public, secret military aircraft.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_607

Billy:

On Monday, I answered a letter question which I formulated as follows: Are the external shape and colour of the jet ships 100% determined in terms of use and do they not have to satisfy any aesthetic requirements? I have written the following to the questioner according to what I know from your explanations:

Now to your question concerning the outer (also inner) forms and colours of the Plejaren beam ships, which I can answer with the fact that they have no aesthetic background, because they are purely useful in every respect. The following may serve as an example: Some jet ships have a kind of metallic, wide, coloured and slightly wavy ring band at their outermost rounding (some also on the surfaces), which produces a change of colour depending on the type and density of atmosphere. Also the windows are of the same kind, because also these consist of a very hard metal, which is transparent on the one hand like glass, on the other hand however also according to the kind and density of the atmosphere the colour changes. In our earthly atmosphere and near the ground we get a red colour of the windows, but if we look from the inside to the outside we get a yellowish-green effect. As I was told, these colours determine the protection of the outer beam ship material, which in any case consists of a special, very hard and resistant alloy. The colours thus have an effective protective effect that spreads over the ship and the windows and repels any foreign bodies that may appear in the atmosphere of a planet and hit the beam ship. The colours also indicate the state of the atmosphere, etc., as I was told. So colours and shapes are purely useful.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_608

Billy:

... Then I now have a question concerning your beam ships and other flying apparatuses, which can actually float as if weightless in the atmosphere and are not dragged by the gravity of the Earth, as your father Sfath already said. Can you tell me the reason for this in simple terms, unless this concerns a secret? If you are able to explain it in simple words, so that the whole thing can also be understood by the technically and physically uneducated human being, then it will be useful.

Ptaah:

6. In all our flying apparatus, an antigravity state is created for the outer hull, wherethrough it becomes as if 'weightless' for an external, that is to say planet-related gravitational force and thus does not have to withstand any force of attraction.

7. This, while in the interior area of the flying apparatuses a permanent and adapted to our living conditions gravitational force prevails.

8. Furthermore, our flying apparatuses generate an anti-gravitational force that is adapted to any external gravitational force, through which it is made feasible to neutralise the latter, wherethrough, from a standing position, very high speeds can be reached, without the passengers suffering harm, because they are protected by the inner gravitational state, consequently they are also not exposed to a gravitational pressure, as is the case, to the contrary, e.g., with human beings of Earth in relation to earthly vehicles, flying apparatuses, that is to say aircrafts and rockets, which are exposed to a gravitational pressure.

9. Therefore, with all our flying apparatus, as a result of our highly developed gravitational technology, there never comes about a gravitational pressure, just as you have experienced it yourself.

Billy:

... What I want to ask you now relates to the four groupings of which you have spoken on various occasions, whereby you were able to identify two definitely. But then there are still the other two, and what about them, have you also gained insights on them?

Ptaah:

10. That is so, yes, one relates to those foreign to the Earth and the other to earthly-human activities, to which I however do not want to give a more detailed explanation.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_625

Billy:

Then a question regarding what you once told me, namely that in the United States there is a grouping resp. a secret organisation, that is very well concerned with the things about extraterrestrials and their flying apparatuses etc., but which, in terms of its machinations, knowledge and experiences, is, however, shielding itself not only from the public but also in relation to the US President and the senior rulers, so that they are all left in unknowledgeness and not informed. Is that still the case today?

Ptaah:

103. Yes, and this corresponds to an undisputable but extremely secret fact, whereby the responsible ones of this grouping are also anxious to deny and conceal their machinations, cognitions and experiences about non-terrestrials, the way these are given regarding non-terrestrial existences, activities, relations and incidents etc.

104. This grouping resp. secret organisation also poses a great danger to persons who make certain observations regarding so-called UFOs as well with regard to secret activities that originate from the grouping.

105. Particularly when observing persons want to get to the bottom of the matter and thus create elucidation, they run the risk of getting caught up in the cogwheels of the secret organisation and being gone after or even harmed – should it end with nothing but harming.

Billy:

What do you mean by “great danger”, must it be understood as danger to life and “disappearing from the scene”?

Ptaah:

106. That corresponds to what I mean.

Billy:

Aha, then we are, as in the past, back with the dark dressed ones {see Men In Black}, who also followed Gilgamesha. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_630

Billy:

... Every object and everything, a planet or a flying machine resp. everything that has its own natural or artificial electromagnetism has its own magnetosphere, which means that on the one hand an attraction force and on the other hand also a repulsion force is given, whereby the latter is called 'Lorentz force' in our physics. Is this force decisive for the fact that you can accelerate your aircrafts in Earthly atmosphere with very high speeds, because the 'Lorentz force' works against Earth magnetism, or rather, puts it out of action in relation to your aircrafts, so to speak?

Ptaah:

18. That is correct, but I am not allowed to give further details, because it is forbidden by our directives.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_645

{Sfath, 1947:}

12. The world space is also traversed by dark and mighty world space wanderers with great gravitational force, through which time streams are created, so that those who travel the world space can get into such time streams, although we are protected against their effects.

13. This is because our spacecrafts have their own gravitations and are therefore protected against external time influences – as well as against matter and radiation.

15. And in order to compensate for the flow of time outside the spacecraft, which is caused by high speeds, we have a special technique of time travel, which allows us on the one hand to remain in the so-called normal time despite high speeds, but on the other hand also to travel into the past and future.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_651

Billy:

... We have repeatedly spoken about the so-called UFOs and the four groupings that just turn around in Earthly space with 'unknown flying objects'. And to these four groupings belongs also the group of the 'Earth-future ones', which are however actually two groupings in themselves, as you already told me at the beginning of our contacts with private conversations. Your daughter Semjase, but also Quetzal and yourself talked about it, but it was never published in discussion reports, because it was always private. So it was not until more recent times, when you made certain observations and gained unambiguous insights and came to important evidence, that there was a halfway open discussion about it. I would now like to ask to what extent it is permitted to talk about this in an even more open way now, as well as with regard to the fact that the grouping of the 'Earth-future ones' actually corresponds to two groupings and why you call them so and only as one grouping, because they are actually two of them?

Ptaah:

...

48. And we call these groupings 'Earth-future ones' because the one grouping is effectively Earth-future or exists in the distant future on Earth and comes through time bridges into the present time.

Billy:

Excuse me, by time bridges you mean time-travel, as we say? In this case, the future Earth-humans are those Earthlings of the distant Earthly time who already live on Earth in the distant future and who, through the possibility of their time travel technique with their various small and large futuristic flying machines, have been coming into Earthly present since time immemorial and also into our present today. However, this is also done by the other group 'Earth-future ones', which has its state in a certain underground area of Earth, has a general futuristic technology and therefore also very highly developed aircraft. These aircrafts, which I call so in your sense, are an Earthly-technical development for today, which is completely futuristic resp. progressive, innovative, progressive, trend-setting, ahead of the present time and therefore trend-setting etc.. With regard to this second grouping, which you also call 'future Earth-humans', it must be said that these are not, however, descendants of extraterrestrials from the distant future of Earth, nor are they direct, but indirect, very distant descendants of extraterrestrials. These people live deep underground under Earth's surface, and with their futuristic flying machines they also turn around in Earth's airspace, as I already knew from Asket, because she had already initiated me in this regard in the 1950s, but she was ... spoke. Also your daughter Semjase, Quetzal and you explained a lot to me, but you always said that I shouldn't talk about it officially because it's not the time yet. It is mainly this group of the future that makes a name for itself again and again, especially in the western world. And this happens very often, and interestingly enough most often in the western hemisphere, which we call the geographically conceived western hemisphere with this term, as a counterpart to the eastern hemisphere or hemisphere. If I remember correctly, the two imaginary hemispheres are separated by the 0° reference meridian at Greenwich and the so-called antimeridian at 180°. Accordingly, the areas west of London, West Africa and the entire regions of North and South America, Patagonia, Greenland and Canada belong to the western hemisphere, where most sightings of various small and large and even gigantic UFOs or futuristic flying objects of the 'inner terrestrials' appear. Especially the UFO appearances in Arizona, in Belgium and in England, which were probably traced back to these 'Earth-future ones', caused a huge sensation in the worldwide media. I would be interested to know why these 'Earth-future ones' are so frequent in the western hemisphere and still are today, because in the eastern hemisphere such futuristic aircraft or UFOs are observed less often, i.e. in the majority of Europe, Asia, Australia, New Zealand and Oceania, which are counted to the eastern hemisphere. ...

Ptaah:

49. What you say is correct, and the reason why the inner terrestrial and also Earthly future 'Earth-future ones' operate especially in the western hemisphere is to be justified with this ..., about which, however, silence is required.

Billy:

But why, this is the question, do you call these inhabitants of Earth also 'Earth-future ones', of whom we have already spoken before and whom, with a few exceptions, you have always named only in this way, without giving an explanation? That is simply not clear to me, nor is it clear to me why you have never said anything more specific about it or defined the term exactly.

Ptaah:

50. The reason for our name 'Earth-future ones' is based on the fact that the entire technology of the inhabitants of Earth's interior state corresponds to a future Earthly technology, which will only find its beginning in the near future and also will only become reality in the distant future.

...

Billy:

All right, we don't have to talk about that, because you answered my question, so you don't need it anymore. Then again a question: Are the three that I have in ... I met, as well as the two in ..., so relatives of this ... what you call her by her real name? If so, then they live in the subterranean state structure in the area of ..., but they also go under the people on Earth's surface, but despite ... remain unrecognized or are replaced by the surface Earth objects in ... because they may know a lot about you.

Ptaah:

54. That is also true, but there is a duty of secrecy about it, because our directives do not allow us to officially divulge our findings, because it would inevitably result in warlike and conquering actions.

55. This would be the case if predictably and inevitably certain power-hungry statesmen of certain countries, with their military forces and secret services etc., were to break into the underground state structure in order to protect the far-reaching futuristic technology of the ... to get your hands on it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_660

Ptaah:

184. As members of our Federation, the Druans perform certain incidental activities for us, which are within the framework of also certain observations that are related to two of the Earth-foreigners.

...

Billy:

... You have already said several times that you no longer care about these Earth-foreigners and also no longer about the earthly groups that are always talking about themselves all over the world in terms of observations; but why do you do it recently nevertheless?

Ptaah:

188. Now that belongs in your 'trappings', which I am not allowed to state openly, as I said.

...

Billy:

What I am interested in now, though: If, as in 1983, the Druans let their ship appear as a mirror image somewhere, as it was 26 kilometres away from our centre as the crow flies, whereby the mirror image also appeared at an altitude of 36 kilometres, then I ask whether the ship is also visible at its location, from where the reflection is emitted, or not.

Ptaah:

190. Of course it is not visible because it has to remain invisible.

Billy:

Interesting, then the whole thing with the mirror image probably serves as camouflage and misdirection, so as not to be able to fathom and locate the actual location of the real ship, I think. Clever thinking and action.

Ptaah:

92. Another phenomenon of light phenomena is marsh gas, which is produced as a naturally occurring mixture of methane and carbon dioxide, usually in the marshes of swamps by fermentation of plant parts with the participation of bacteria.

93. However, it is also possible that swamp gases are formed over fields, floodplains, fields and meadows – which can also appear as luminous formations – where no swamp can be seen at first glance, but where one or more swamp bubbles exist somewhere underground, allowing the gas to escape upwards into the open air.

94. Another possibility of light phenomena is based on visible and moving, luminous spherical or disk-shaped electromagnetic light formations, which are very small but can also reach a size of more than one metre.

95. These luminous structures rise to a height of one or two metres, float around in irregular orbits, only to collapse and dissolve again, or rise high into the air and disappear.

96. The whole thing can be compared to ball lightning, as you know it from personal experience.

97. Other things concerning light phenomena and unknown flying objects around the worldwide crop circles are the result of Earth-humans and private pranks on the one hand, but also of military and espionage research achievements on the other hand.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_687

Billy:

... But now I want to ask my questions, the first of which relates to your daughter Semjase's beamship, the corrugated iron beamship or washboard beamship. Semjase once told me that this was her personal beamship and that it was 300 years or so old and that she had owned it almost all her life.

Ptaah:

4. That is correct.

5. This beamship is a personal possession of my daughter Semjase, and she received it from me when she turned 14, and has also been piloting it ever since.

6. This beamship is a first model approved for interdimensional ranges in the known universe of the multiverse for youngsters.

8. However, the basic model was more than 1,100 years old, but it was redesigned about 400 years ago and was also approved for youngsters.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_697

Billy:

... But something else again: Sfath already said that you Plejaren do not come to Earth alone as Earth-foreigners, but you make yourselves invisible just as much as those others who go around the world in their ships. In your case I can understand this very well and understand your explanations for it, but why the others also do this is a mystery to me, which is why I want to ask if you know their reasoning.

Ptaah:

37. Not all of what can be observed in alien and unidentified flying objects in the global distance refers to Earth-foreigners or to Earth-future, because certain of these objects correspond to purely Earth-man-made and military-secret flying apparatuses.

38. However, as far as invisibility is concerned with regard to those others who are Earth-foreigners or Earth-future, we have no knowledge of this, because we do not maintain any contacts with them, nor do we endeavour to enter into such contacts with them.

39. Our interest is exhausted by trying to find out their origin, which we have not yet succeeded in doing.

40. I have also not been able to find anything so far that would indicate anything more than observations and explorations by these Earth-foreigners and Earth-future.

41. And as far as the secret military flying apparatus is concerned, our directives forbid us to openly mention any knowledge gained about it ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_698

Billy:

... But as far as Antarctica or the South Pole is concerned, which you are also interested in, Kolkos, I can tell you that Sfath, Ptaah's father, took me there as early as the 1940s – then Quetzal too in the 1980s – where they let me see many interesting things by diving with their beamships. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_709

Billy:

... But now I have something that relates to your energy transmission, which I know that in your beamships, you, Ptaah, in your Giant Spaceship, as well as in all your various flying apparatuses and on Erra, you use in every way and for all necessities an electromagnetic resonance energy transmission that is practically limitless in its extension and is based on a technique that in some way touches the attometer realm. However, I can neither imagine nor understand anything about all this. Is it possible that you can explain something to me in this regard that would also bring progress for our earthly technology? The only thing that is clear to me is that in all your energy-using achievements you do not use any cable connections etc., as is necessarily the case with all earthly techniques today and is practically unavoidable. Florena and Enjana recently explained to me that through your electromagnetic resonance energy transmission – which you call something completely different and which also corresponds to something other than a simple wireless energy transmission – you can even transfer energy transmissions from Earth into your space-time structure or into your dimension over practically unlimited distances.

Ptaah:

127. In order to be able to explain this technique to you in detail and to make it understandable to you, you would need, on the one hand, many years of factual training, because the whole thing is futuristic for you too, in spite of all your knowledge, which does not refer to the things of wireless energy transfer.

128. On the other hand, your knowledge of electromagnetic technology reaches such a high level that its connections, possible uses and far-reaching forms would still be completely incomprehensible to Earth-humans.

129. But they could learn very quickly.

130. But if at the present time or in the near future they were capable of understanding this knowledge and using it, then a catastrophe would result, because all boundaries would be opened to them in universal breadth.

131. But this must never happen, for the prevailing attitude of the majority of Earth-humans towards their sinister and completely degenerated barbarism, as well as all the resulting malicious and pejorative attitudes and behaviour towards all life and every creation-given existence in general, does not permit such knowledge.

132. The rampant and far-reaching destructive, dangerous, insidious and sinister, as well as deceitful, vile and disgusting degenerations in Earth-humans, which are founded in ideologically shaped false and erroneous teachings in relation to a sectarianism based on religious faith, are absolutely geared only towards destruction, ruin and annihilation.

133. This fact results in our not being allowed to give clear and open information nor explanations to your question, because our directives do not allow an open explanation in this respect, for an announcement would be connected with a knowledge in regard to details which must not be officially mentioned, and this because they would push earth-technical progress too far and drive Earth-humans into a catastrophe which could not be stopped.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_710

Ptaah:

130. We call the Earth-foreigners spoken of 'immature', 'primitive', as well as 'low-minded', 'cruel', 'inhuman' and 'unapproachable', calling them 'unfeeling', and, in our judgement, as uncompromising creatures and 'brutes', because they are of an inhumane disposition and behaviour, consequently dominated by contrary impulses with regard to humanity, compassion, empathy, peace and freedom, etc. are dominated by contrary impulses.

131. This is the reason for our strict restraint towards these Earth-foreigners, against whom we have always shielded ourselves from sight and from their analytical swinging waves and techniques in such a way that they can neither locate us nor perceive us in any other way, while we, on the contrary, can penetrate their flying apparatuses by vibration and observe and study them very closely.

132. I am therefore also very well informed that they are of an inhumane disposition and incapable of positive action in the sense of fulfilling nature-given creative laws and commandments or recommendations.

133. The technology necessary for this, which our early ancestors adopted more than 30 million Earth years ago from the Sonaern of the DAL creation area, was thus applied very early for the purpose of complete shielding from all Earth-foreigners on Earth, who truly correspond to 'immature' and 'primordial' and whose technology has been stagnating for a long time.

134. So even at the present time they are not sufficiently developed and not advanced enough for them to be able to locate or otherwise perceive us, even if we were standing right next to them at the shortest distance.

135. It is undeniable that their technology is very advanced, but they are still no match for ours.

136. Consequently, when we openly discuss all these facts since the beginning of our contact and mention our presence here on Earth and sometimes also make ourselves visible to Earth-humans with regard to an observation concerning our flying objects, it also follows that these Earth-foreigners are not and also will not be able to realise our presence.

137. This is because they cannot fathom our shielding technology and can neither locate nor otherwise perceive us even under the best of circumstances, for in spite of their high technical possibilities they are helplessly inferior to our still many times higher developments in every relation and respect.

Billy:

And our earthling secret service, military and other supervisors with their primitive, antediluvian techniques, radar apparatuses, the still secret and all other surveillance devices are even more so. But it is interesting what you say regarding Earth-foreigners' surveillance technology, but what about when Earth-foreigners can observe your beamships, isn't there a danger and possibility that these extraterrestrials will also pick up on it?

Ptaah:

138. There is no problem in this respect, for our technology is such that such sightings can only take place if the Earth-foreigners or Earth-future, as well as the secretive Earth grouping with the progressive flying apparatuses in South America, have no possibility whatsoever of locating or otherwise perceiving our flying apparatuses on a technical basis.

139. Our security technology is configured in such a way that an automatic fuse shields everything and makes it impenetrable to any kind of detection with regard to all possible swinging waves, but also with regard to light waves and energies, etc., which are directed towards our flying apparatus, other of our achievements or towards us as persons ourselves.

140. This is also the case when visual observation is made possible as a result of a screen opening, for even then no locating of any kind can take place, either by the Earth-foreigners or by any earthly technology.

141. And this is also the case when there is absolute certainty that we are present at a certain place.

142. So all our flying apparatus, as well as all our persons and all our achievements with regard to safety and freedom from localisation, are in every respect so perfectly developed that in every situation everything is always absolutely shielded from counter-vibration, and consequently no localisation or any other kind of perception can take place.

143. And this is because our security system neutralises any locating vibration of any form within a yocto-second, consequently we as a person, our flying apparatuses, achievements and swinging waves etc. are absolutely not locatable.

Billy:

I know this because your daughter Semjase has already explained this to me. It is not even possible to locate your life vibrations when one is standing close to you, because the vibrations are neutralised directly on the body and are therefore not radiated outwards, as is also the case with your beamships etc. So you have a neutralisation technique in your body. So you have a neutralisation technique with regard to locating vibrations, locating rays and locating light of all kinds, as well as with regard to all kinds of special locating energies, etc., consequently our earthly radar and other locating methods are no more than primitive kindergarten experiments for you. But that you have just mentioned the earthly grouping in South America etc., that irritates me a little, because up to now this was not allowed to be mentioned openly.

Ptaah:

144. You can call it that, as you have explained it.

145. But as far as my statement is concerned concerning the grouping keeping itself secret, it is now no longer necessary not to mention this, to which, however, I will give you a personal explanation later, which will be only for you.

Billy:

Good, then so be it. However, I have also experienced that this is the case, that your technique is absolutely perfect, as for example when you took me to the bear in Graubünden on the 16th of July 2005, the first bear to reappear in Switzerland in about 100 years. At that time, you attached a tiny pin to me, which shielded all my life vibrations, so that I could not be perceived by the bear either, and when I went up to him, he even touched me on my trousers without being able to perceive me. Nevertheless, as I know, it can happen that you let out swinging waves under certain circumstances.

Ptaah:

146. This is indeed the case, but only if there is absolute certainty that neither Earth-foreigners nor Earth-future are to be located within a certain safety radius.

147. Earthly life-forms, on the other hand, do not fall within this security perimeter, consequently they can sense certain swinging waves from our flying apparatus if they are not shielded.

Billy:

I see, that also explains to me some incidents where swinging waves have emanated from your beamships and unexpected things, happenings and situations have resulted.

Ptaah:

148. I am aware of that, also that unfortunately there have been disadvantages and damage as a result.

Billy:

Unfortunately, that was indeed the case, but it was the fault of the Earthlings concerned, because they ... But now I want to continue with what I was saying. Certain abductions of human beings from Earth for various purposes, and thus of course the corresponding contacts, which have taken place again and again since time immemorial, have always belonged to the behaviour of the old Earth-foreigners and Earth-future, as well as to the newer ones who fly in and out of Earth and back again. But the fact is – in spite of abductions, etc. – that none of these Earth-foreigners and Earth-foreigners have, up to the present time, conveyed any messages and the like to the Earthlings, precisely messages with regard to how they would have fallen, or would fall today, within the framework of the 'Teaching of Truth, Teaching of the Spirit, Teaching of Life' and thus within the sphere of the Nokodemion and my Mission. Likewise, like the Earth-foreigners, Earth-foreigners are at times to be observed in earthly space with their futuristic flying apparatuses, though the Earth-foreigners have just as nothing to do with them as you Plejaren have nothing to do with them, nor with the Earth-foreigners. You Plejaren yourselves have always shielded yourselves from the Earth-foreigners when you appear on Earth, who have also been working on Earth for a long time. And your shielding from them is such that you cannot be perceived by them in any way, neither visually, nor can you be located or registered by any apparatus. Your general Plejaren technology, so also space technology and space-time bridging technology etc., have been so highly developed for millions of years, through the help of the Sonaer from the DAL universe or the DAL creation, that the Earth-foreigners functioning on Earth have never been able to locate, detect or otherwise register any flying apparatus of Plejaren origin or also only any Plejaren activities since their existence in prehistoric times up to the present time. So the Earth-foreigners, who work on Earth and are observed again and again, have nothing to do with you Plejaren, just as you have nothing to do with the Earth-foreigners and Earth-future, whereby, as explained, you are in no way to be located, otherwise recognisable or registerable for them. Moreover, you did not and do not interfere in any way with any earthly political, military and economic concerns, but have endeavoured over all the past millennia to develop in many ways all fields of knowledge and development by transmitting impulses to certain scientists, inventors and researchers etc.

Ptaah:

149. That is correct.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_715

Billy:

Good, then my question regarding the 'Phantom Airship Wave 1896-1897', after which I asked you to clarify what it was about.

Ptaah:

99. There is not much to say about this, but only a little, namely that these were demonstrative manoeuvres of Earth-foreigners who have been working on Earth since time immemorial and whose present descendants are also still here today and can be observed again and again all over the world.

...

102. For our part, with the help of the Sonaer, we have recently fathomed their technology and many of the possibilities etc. that arise from it, and have come to the realisation that these Earth-foreign entities are in fact still the same in their mentality and in their ways of acting and behaving etc. as they were recognised by our early ancestors as dangerous to us Plejaren.

103. Dangerous precisely in the sense that this danger also exists for us through Earth-humans, that we would lapse into the old forms, such as were still peculiar to our ancestors more than 52,000 years ago – our years are approximately identical with earthly years – with regard to extremely evil degenerations in mentality, action and behaviour.

104. Even after 52,000 years we are still in danger of relapsing into the old degenerate forms, as a result of which we can fall from the good and positive to the evil and negative in every respect.

105. And in this connection it must be explained that this backsliding is given in the human life-form – as you yourself know and also teach – as long as it still possesses a physical or material body.

...

108. And with regard to our directives, these also actually ensure that we are spared from relapses into old behaviours, actions, deeds and into a degenerated mentality.

109. In accordance with our senses and aspirations and our directives, we cannot and must not enter into any contact with Earth-humans and Earth-foreigners and also not make ourselves recognisable to them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_718

Billy:

... But now I have another question, regarding the many sightings of unknown flying objects around the world, which have been observed again and again for centuries. This was particularly the case in the last century, as well as in the new millennium, but I must not forget the Foo Fighters during the last world war, nor the objects that we have been able to observe here in the Centre over all these years and also at the present time, but which were not from you. The question is whether you Plejaren ever had anything to do with all the other objects that have been observed again and again around the world? I am thinking particularly of the objects that were observed in the USA, in South America, throughout Europe – and specifically the triangular objects that became known in Belgium – but also in 1976 in Persia, where the military pilot Jafari Parvic and in 1984 or so in Peru the military pilot Oscar Santa Maria chased after the objects.

Ptaah:

15. No, we Plejaren never had anything to do with it, because without exception these flying apparatuses observed everywhere – called UFOs by Earth-humans – did not belong to us, but to the aliens who have been working on Earth since time immemorial.

16. If we could be observed and photographed, then we deliberately allowed this to happen only to members of your groups or to persons who were friends of yours, while we specially commissioned you to take pictures and films of our flying apparatus.

17. In doing so, we were also always careful that the strangers could not gain any knowledge of this and make absolutely no observations, because we did not want to give any encouragement for them – as we do not now and will not in the future – to record our presence, because we do not want to endanger our homeland and therefore we are not allowed to make any contact with the strangers.

18. Establishing contact with any strangers always means insecurity and danger, even if a good relationship is established under certain circumstances, because all life-forms are susceptible to overt or subterranean indoctrination, as a result of which a great deal of harm can come about.

19. Under certain circumstances, connections can also result from contacts that can lead to attacks, conquests and wars, which is why our directives forbid us to make contact with the aliens working here on Earth or even to make ourselves recognisable to them.

20. If we were to make ourselves recognisable to them in any way, then on the one hand we would violate our directives, on the other hand we would run the risk of betraying our space-time structure and thus also our homeland and, in addition, under certain circumstances we would relapse into the old behavioural patterns of our early ancestors due to the influences of the strangers.

21. We Plejaren are also human beings and still burdened in our deepest character with unpleasant impulses, even though we have been making great efforts for more than 52,000 years to work them out and to dissolve them, but this takes a very, very long time and always means that there is a danger that through indoctrinating influences of other mentalities, in one case or another, relapses into the old patterns of behaviour could occur.

22. This is fundamentally the fact of our strict restraint in every respect towards foreigners.

23. What you asked about the flying objects of all kinds and sizes of the aliens, which have been observed by Earth-humans again and again for centuries, even in the present time and also by you in the Centre and by members of the Association everywhere, that therefore never had and never has anything to do with us Plejaren, because we have no connection whatsoever with the aliens.

24. It is true that they have a very high level of technology, but it cannot be compared with ours and is still very much in need of development.

25. This does not mean, however, that their mentality is also at a higher level of development, which, according to our long-term research, is not the case either.

26. In the end, it must be said once again that all observations of unknown flying objects, etc., since all times – as is also the case at the present new time – can only be traced back to the strangers with whom we have no contact whatsoever and who are also unable to perceive our existence and presence.

27. Our highly developed technology denies them any possibility of being able to locate us in any way or perceive us in any other way.

...

Billy:

... also deliberately false results of the acquired knowledge are disseminated to the public. This is also the case with regard to official, secret service, military and air traffic disclosure lists concerning observed unknown flying objects or UFOs worldwide, because in total only about 10% have been disclosed to the public to date. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_719

Billy:

... But one more question: What about when I leave, because a few days ago we talked about the strangers, and you clearly said that you would not let them locate you. How is it then, if you appear here in my office or somewhere else or go away again, which would also be like this with me? Somehow, when you come and go, there is a small dimensional gate through which you can pass, and I wonder if the foreigners – you used to call them Earth-foreigners – cannot detect this, because there are energies involved that are certainly detectable, or?

Ptaah:

28. Of course it is correct that energies are important, but as we know, the foreigners cannot detect them because they are of a completely different nature than all those who exist in this space-time structure and in its past and future.

29. The energies we use correspond to far higher values and are therefore also not perceptible with any techniques from this space-time present as well as its past and future, which is also the reason why the strangers cannot locate us in any way.

30. I am also unable to detect our present here, because we use the same kind of energy for our personal protection, to be protected against sight and to be imperceptible in every way through our physical, psychological and consciousness swinging waves.

...

33. The energy I referred to, its use and the Protection Technique were given to our early ancestors by the Sonaern some 27 million years ago when first contact with them occurred in the DAL Creation.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_723

Ptaah:

23. Eduard, dear friend, with regard to the observance of the directives, this also concerns, for example, everything around the Earth-foreigners, the future ones and the earthly ones, who have always appeared with their flying apparatuses since ancient times, are doing so at present and will continue to do so.

24. Neither about the Earth-foreigners and Earth-future ones nor of the Earthly ones was exact information found in the annals {of Sfath}, just as no information was contained therein with regard to many of your questions.

25. This was also true with regard to abductions of Earth-humans by Earth-foreigners, whereby such abductions were foreign to us, because we have always not cared about them, and never made ourselves recognisable to them, and only in the course of the years were able to clarify these things through your questions, and so on.

26. And we did not let ourselves be recognised by them all because already at the beginning of my father's annals it was clearly warned against ever coming into contact with the Earth-foreigners and the future ones, just as we should also never penetrate into the direct range of their flying apparatus.

27. Likewise, he warned in his annals not to come into contact with the earthlings and with their equally futuristic flying apparatus, just as we are also to keep away from all their underground bases and underwater stations.

28. And that my father has recorded much in his annals, but has also warned us against contacting the aliens, who probably also do not maintain contact with each other or have no knowledge of each other, as it seems to us, but there is no mention of this in the annals.

29. The fact is that three groupings of aliens are on Earth, and that all the occurrences and certain related occurrences that have taken place since time immemorial and the appearance of innumerable unknown flying objects of alien life-forms correspond to reality.

...

47. But just as we have restrained ourselves with regard to your person, so we have also done in other respects, such as, for example, towards the Earth-foreigners and rare Earth-future beings, who since time immemorial have made themselves known on Earth again and again with their flying apparatus, just as the earthly powers in this respect have also done.

...

Billy:

... and also I may still reveal to you a few things in relation to the three different forces, as you call the strangers, that are circling around in earthly airspace.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_724

{Billy}:

UFO sightings have been innumerable around the world since time immemorial, with such observations largely effectively traced back to flying objects that are the result of the various groupings of aliens that reside on Earth.

Otherwise, many observations can be traced back to some kind of earthly-natural phenomena, which can be extremely diverse and which are also referred to as UFO sightings.

Furthermore, sightings can also be purely earthly-fabricated futuristic flying objects, which are referred to as UFOs due to their modern or unusually alien forms, simply as Unknown Flying Objects.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_728

Billy:

... What it means that there are three different groups whizzing around in the earthly airspace, I can say that on the one hand the traditional Earth-foreigners, on the other hand the Earth-future are meant, while the third group are Earthlings with their futuristic vehicles, but I am not allowed to say more about that ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_733

Billy:

... lately I have been receiving UFO reports by telephone, e-mail and also in writing from all over the world, about some strange flying objects being observed for up to 15 or 20 minutes, passing by one after the other like a long chain high in the sky, and completely silent. I am sometimes allowed to publish these reports of sightings, while other observers, both men and women, wish me to keep quiet about them and not to disclose their reports or names. Obviously it is about those unknown flying objects, which we have talked about together several times, because you also have these UFO phenomena or UFO activities in your focus and you have told me various things about it, also in relation to what the reason for the whole of these UFO operations actually is or what the ultimate background for it is and what is intended with it in the end.

Ptaah:

53. I also told you to keep quiet about that and not to make any statements about it when asked.

Billy:

I also adhere to this, Ptaah, for I do not pass on a word of what you have explained to me, what you have just investigated concerning the origin of these flying objects, which are 'UFOs' for the earthlings. I am also silent with regard to your explanations of the tasks, aspirations and purposes as well as the meanings of these 'UFOs' and their increased flights, etc., which you have found out with your much higher technical possibilities than are proper to the satellites and fellow satellites of this grouping. What I have answered in each case was only related to the fact that these flying objects do not belong to you Plejaren and in no way correspond to your Plejaren techniques. These are satellites, which according to your information, despite their higher earthly technology, are still extremely primitive, just like the objects of the other two groups, which are also still very poorly developed compared to your technology. Consequently – as you explain again and again – these two foreign groups with their 'UFOs' are also not able to locate you Plejaren, your presence and your beamships, and just as they, at least the one in spite of their higher earthly technology, are also not able to perceive and therefore not able to determine that they are being observed, investigated and 'screened' by you in their secret machinations. And that you are only allowed to tell this realisation to me in confidence and obliged to silence, I can fully understand, because ...

Well, various telephone calls and letters from different persons from Germany, Austria, Switzerland, as well as from England, Belgium, the Netherlands, the Czech Republic and Poland, etc., contain questions as to whether these persons are in fact the same as the others. These telephone calls and letters include questions as to whether these observed

'UFOs'/objects are Plejaren beamships, which I of course always deny, as I have already said, which is effectively true, because the observed 'UFOs' are in no case flying objects from you Plejaren, but on the one hand earthly vehicles as well as satellites and flying apparatuses of other origin.

The observed earthly 'UFOs'/objects, which are only called such because they are also unknown to the observers – who have nothing to do with the satellites –, belong on the one hand to a special grouping, about which I am not supposed to give any information, while on the other hand further observations refer to another and moreover traditional grouping in a completely different context. I have also been receiving reports of sightings of these for decades, whereby these 'UFOs'/objects, however, refer to a traditional grouping that has been circling around in the earthly skies for a long time, i.e. already in the last century and the century before last, and partly even much longer ago. They are still doing so today, causing fear in some earthlings and euphoria in others, especially when they are generally misled about this grouping by their own fantasies. About the other grouping, however, precisely those whose 'UFOs', as they are called by the ignorant observers, I am not supposed to explain anything in detail, because on the one hand you advise me against it for good reasons, on the other hand – well, because for another reason it would also be irresponsible to say anything, irresponsible in fact towards my security, which I am not supposed to put at risk anymore, as you said. So I just keep quiet and let the earthlings wonder one day.

What the UFO fairy lights are really about, which stretch across the night sky, that can well be explained and said, but you have obliged me to keep silent about what the ultimate purpose will be in reality, when ... And if we talk somewhat mysteriously about these 'UFOs'/objects and their operators as well as about this grouping itself, which is connected with these objects, then this may appear mysterious to outsiders, although it is not mysterious, but it would not be good for me personally to say anything more about it, but simply to let it be known that the earthlings will still be surprised when ... But perhaps you could say something about it, which may be said and which is also openly circulating on the Internet. The unpleasant things that the earthlings will be surprised about one day do not have to be mentioned. But if you can perhaps say something more about it?

Ptaah:

54. I can do that, because officially the convoys of lights in the night sky are objects that correspond to a so-called Starlink project of the US space company SpaceX under Elon Musk and Gwynne Shotwell, as part of a planned world-spanning satellite network that is to provide comprehensive internet access in the USA from mid-2020, but will then also be used worldwide in 2021.

55. The purported objective of SpaceX's Starlink project is to create a global broadband internet belt around the Earth, to be assembled on a fleet of between 12,000 and 42,000 satellites.

56. What will ultimately become of all this, however, would be unpleasant, although in this respect there are only concrete ideas but no firm plans as yet, which, however, according to our view of the future in this respect, make it clear what will develop out of all this, namely exactly what I have explained to you and about which you are to remain silent.

57. 2 years ago I confided in you that such satellites would be placed in relatively low orbits around the Earth and that they would receive data from ground stations and transmit them to each other by laser.

58. To this I also explained that for the time being this satellite network is to provide wide area fast and at the same time low cost internet access in the USA, but that if the whole enterprise can be carried through to the end and completed to the last, something very unpleasant will result from it, as I explained to you privately on the 1st of January 2017.

Ptaah:

... But the projections were also chosen because a strong insolation from the beamships would have destroyed the trees, whereas such an action would be contrary to our directives and is therefore not allowed, because these directives tell us that we have to protect all genera and species of life-forms and only take defensive action against them when there is an effective necessity to do so. But such a necessity never existed in the film and image project work, consequently projections were carried out.

Billy:

I can understand that, but you are using a term to explain a destruction of the trees, which I actually only know from physics and which cannot be explained as simple radiation. 'Insolation' is the term I am referring to, and I do not understand what insolation has to do with radiation in relation to the beamships. If you can please explain it to me in simple terms, because I cannot make sense of it with the best will in the world, because the beamship is not a sun and also not visible like one and does not radiate heat.

...

Ptaah:

... What you say is correct, for the radiation of our flying apparatus is a sun-like heat radiation which is produced at certain moments and has a dangerous and destructive effect on everything if a flying apparatus comes too close or even directly into contact with any living thing. But since you have not been enlightened in this respect, you cannot also know that various of our flying apparatuses, like that of my daughter Semjase at that time, were necessarily still effective in terms of heat radiation. This means that our flying apparatuses, which we still used 40 years ago in earthly airspace, were equipped with heat radiators on their outer hulls, which produced a temperature of 276 degrees heat. This corresponded to a precautionary measure by which all poisonous gases in the finest aggregate states, which were floating in the Earth's atmosphere, and which are still present today and will be in the future, were neutralised and burnt around our flying apparatus, so that they could not adhere to the outer hulls and become a health hazard to us if they were to dissolve again in our hangars and we inhaled them. ...

...

The toxic fine gases in the atmosphere, which are just as unknown to earthly physics as the fact that they settle on everything material, just as it would have been directly on the outer shell of our flying apparatus, could have endangered our health if we had come into contact with them, consequently we eliminated them by thermal radiation. And this radiation was also dangerous for all living beings, so my daughter Semjase was not allowed to come into direct contact with those trees which were used for the purpose of film and image work and which were consequently projected. Our technology in the flying apparatuses produced a heat radiation which has the same effect as solar radiation on the surface of living things of every kind and species, but only more intensely and therefore dangerously and destructively. You know that if we start from solar radiation, the insolation forms the flux that falls on a part of objects and irradiates them. ...

...

Billy:

When I told Semjase all about Mr. ...'s request, she somehow enjoyed it and agreed, explored the place in Maiwinkel from where he and I were to take the film and photographs. She also told me to explain to him, which I of course did, that he and his colleague could rest assured that their beamship could not be observed by the population, because for our cameras, for us and for the pilot she would only open a viewing wedge, as she often did, so that the beamship and everything around it could be seen, filmed and photographed normally, but outside these two viewing wedges the beamship was not visible. As I said, Semjase had already done this on other occasions. ...

Billy:

... But what about the fact that the authorities are concealing the truth that so-called UFOs really exist and that they are even being shot at? Like many other things, everything is simply dismissed as a conspiracy theory, and rightly so, because too much nonsense is being spread. But what is right should also be called right and not simply denied.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_772

Florena:

... Equally stupid are the state leaders and the military leaderships as well as the airlines of all states etc. who try to negate and ridicule all reports that deal with observations and experiences of and with the aliens, i.e. with their flying objects, the so-called UFOs, and other incidents with them. Moreover, things are being kept secret that should be made known to the public in this regard, but which, through secrecy, let the peoples run into the unknown, consequently they are no more and no less than being led on a fool's rope, as you once said. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_788

Billy:

... Here on Earth it is still being discussed how life on Earth actually came into being, then also to what extent it can be assumed how peaceful so-called extraterrestrials are, i.e. humans or human beings who live on foreign planets. Of course I know that planets inhabited by human beings or human beings like them are scattered far and wide in the galaxies and are not to be found as often as they are depicted in films according to science fiction. This also means that these life-forms are not exactly of a peaceful nature, but are more like Earth human beings. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_798

Bermunda:

That was really no problem, because I can clarify such things in my flying apparatus, because all your conversations with any of us are stored in every apparatus original verbatim, which are recorded on this planet in connection with you since the beginning with Sfath, and not only thousands of conversations, but millions. With Sfath's voice, however, only as far as his records have been processed, which means that there is still much work to be done before they can all be recorded in our flying apparatuses that are used in connection with you. So every word that you or any of us have spoken is recorded. This also concerns your notes or your written works that you have produced, which have been recorded as originals and can be retrieved at any time. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_814

Billy:

This also made the whole thing with that part of the foreigners, the ones from ..., unnecessary, that a contact should be attempted with them, who have been circling around in the Earthly skies since time immemorial, but who have never been able to detect your presence, and indeed still not up to today, although your ancestors came to Earth some 25 million years ago and you can still come here unrecognised from them and do your work. It is quite something that you Plejaren have been able to move and stay away from the foreigners in such an unrecognised manner for 25 million years, by which I mean those foreigners who ..., and who, according to your explanations, came from ... The other foreigners, we can leave them out, because ...

...

Both the earthlings are keen on your technology, which also includes the second group of foreigners, as well as the foreigners from ..., who could optimise their highly developed technology in such a special manner that they could locate things that are still unlocatable even for them, get hold of you, copy your technology and then unexpectedly penetrate into your dimension. As it is now, however, their aeroblitzers remain UFOs, which, however, certain Americans ... This, however, is of course disputed, denied and kept secret, just like, of course, the military, secret service and governmental machinations, which would be so monstrous for the ordinary citizen that, if he/she knew, they would pull out all their hair or kill themselves.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_819

Billy:

But what is also to be said, beyond the faith in mendacious religions, is that many earthlings are so arrogant and overbearing that they hold the insane view that they are unique and alone in the whole universe, which is why they also deny the foreigners and their flying apparatuses, the so-called UFOs resp. Unknown Flying Objects, or simply silently doubt their existence. Although the excitement about them has largely died down in recent years, now and then I am asked about them by all kinds of human beings from all over the world, as a result of which I have to deal with them. Unfortunately, I am not allowed to give information about what it is all about, where the foreigners with their UFOs and their occupants come from, what they actually are and want, because in doing so I would not only endanger myself and everything around me, but also you Plejaren. You also shield yourselves from the foreigners, as we call them, because you must not be discoverable for them. The reasons for this should be understandable to all those inquirers who think things over and think for themselves, consequently they can work out for themselves what would happen if you Plejaren could be located by the UFO occupants.

Asket:

4. This continent {America} was also inhabited by humans of extraterrestrial origin - from spacefarers and their descendents - around 2,500,000 years ago, by your time reckoning.

5. But, as usual on this world, they got in each others' hair and annihilated themselves.

6. They invented atom bombs and exploded them in a blitzkrieg.

...

12. Those who wish to see hard evidence can find it at any time and view it and think about it.

13. There are sites of former cities which stood there many, many thousands of years ago and have been melted by atomic hells into glass-like masses.

14. The best preserved testimonies have become curiosities in your time because the Earth human does not know their genesis.

15. But very well known in this regard are names like "Death Valley", which, however, also still has a relationship to other events in the present day.

16. The "Valley of Fire" near the city of Las Vegas is another witness to the past and the timeless, atomic insanity of humans who populated the Earth again and again.

Vincent van Gogh death

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Vincent_van_Gogh#Death

Billy:

Then a question about the Dutch painter Vincent van Gogh. He was a maniac and plagued by depression. He is said to have killed himself, was reported earlier, but today this is denied by forensicists who say that everything indicates that he was murdered. According to testimonies, Van Gogh dragged himself back to his accommodation, seriously injured, where he was questioned by the police, including whether he had sustained the gunshot wound himself, to which he is said to have replied: "I think so". That does not seem to me to indicate that he did it consciously, because he might have been in some kind of delirium and didn't know how he got shot. Anyway, I don't think it sounds like murder or suicide to my ears. Something just can't be right about the whole thing. ...

...

Ptaah:

- 29. Everything is based on empty and false assumptions, which are very unfortunate.
- 30. The fact is that van Gogh neither committed suicide nor was he murdered because the incident was the result of an unfortunate accident.
- 31. My father Sfath clarified the matter at the time and found that Vincent van Gogh suffered not only from the onset of insanity, but also from a strong persecution mania, which was the reason why he obtained a weapon and always carried it with him in a hidden way.
- 32. On the 27th of July 1890, when he went out to the surroundings of the village in which he had found shelter, he set up his easel, to which he had attached a small self-made tray, and placed his weapon on it so that it could be quickly at hand should someone attack him.
- 33. What then happened was that the gun had a misfire and the bullet hit van Gogh as he stepped carelessly in front of the barrel of the gun, explicitly at the moment the misfire occurred.
- 34. So he did not want to kill himself, but the whole thing resulted from an unfortunate coincidence based on carelessness.

Billy:

That probably explains his answer, "I think so," when he was questioned by the police. The handguns at that time weren't foolproof yet, so it's easy to imagine that van Gogh's gun suddenly had a misfire or self-ignition and the shot went off, which hit him, which he died of almost 30 hours later.

Venus origin

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Venus>

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_005

Semjase:

- 39. The Flood 10,079 years ago (related to the year 1975) was caused by a gigantic comet, which has already caused a lot of damage and has been traversing the universe since time immemorial.
- 40. We call it the "Destroyer", and we know that it has already been racing through outer space for millions of years.
- 41. According to your calculation of time, this dangerous comet has an orbital period of 575½ years and in the year 2255 of your calculation of time it will again enter the realm of the Earth in a very dangerous way, unless its orbit is changed or even destroyed by some cosmic circumstances or by our planned efforts. ...
- 46. The last major catastrophe that emanated from this comet was about 3,500 years ago, as I have already mentioned.
- 47. To be precise, it was 3,453 years ago according to your calculation of time.
- 48. Due to this comet, an event took place, which is very rare in the universe, namely a planetary transplantation:
- 49. By the monstrous Gewalt of this giant comet, a planet, just developing life in a very distant planet system of the SOL system, was flung out of its orbit and driven out into the outer space, in a trajectory parallel to that of the destructive giant comet.

50. For more than 130 years this planet then trailed far behind the giant and deviated only infinitely slowly from its path.
51. Then, 3,453 years ago, the Destroyer penetrated the terrestrial solar system and brought the planetary orbits into disorder by its gigantic forces. ...
60. The comet, however, shot through the terrestrial solar system and raced around the Sun again off into the outer space to return in 575 ½ years.
61. But the slower following planet, carried along in its wake, which was about the same size as the Earth, shot past the Earth at a distance of about 600,000 kilometres and was captured by the attraction force of the Sun.
62. By its tremendous power, it forced the new planet into an orbit between its closest satellites, namely between Mercury and the Earth.
63. And since then, this "transplanted" and "immigrated" planet has been known to the Earth-humans, and s/he calls it "Venus."

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_029

Semjase:

74. Millions of years ago a giant dark star in another space-time configuration destroyed half a planetary system in many light-years distance from the earthly system.
75. After the destruction of that distant system, the wanderer rushed out into the vastness of space, entered the space-time structure of the Milky Way of the DERN universe, and set course for Earth.
76. By large and small planets and by the Sun it was forced into a new course, which consequently had to bring it again and again into the SOL system.
77. Known as the Destroyer, it stubbornly followed its new course and over the course of millions of years created a firm path for itself.
78. But this orbit often led the Destroyer uncontrollably to planetary systems or other wandering stars or comets, which were pushed off course by its gigantic size or attracted by its attraction and destroyed or abducted.
79. This also happened only a few thousand years ago when this gigantic Destroyer tore an object into its tow and brought it many millions of kilometres outside of the Earth's range, to the earthly planetary system.
80. The destroyer itself passed very far out of Earth's range, while the object in tow, however, came dangerously close to Earth and caused devastating disasters.
81. The whole solar system got into disorder at that time, and all planets were pushed into new orbits.
82. But the harmony destroying object was forced into an orbit between Earth and Mercury by the gravity of the large planets and the Sun and was unable to leave the system.
83. And as the brightest planet of the SOL-system, the dragged object orbits the Sun since then and is called Venus by the Earth-humans.
84. This event, when Venus was introduced into the terrestrial solar system, took place thousands of years ago.
85. Due to the events of that time, the planet was steered into a very quiet orbit, thus it has one of the least eccentric orbits.
86. This is the actual consequence of the very close flyby of the Earth at that time, which also influenced the rotation time of the planet Venus.
87. Due to the gravity of the Earth, the invading Venus was torn around and began to rotate retrograde.
88. And as a consequence of the very short transit time through earthly gravity, the rotation of the intruding planet [the future planet Venus] could not increase again, so that it attained only an extremely slow rotation time and thus has the slowest rotation time of the whole solar system.

89. Thus a day on Venus lasts 117 earthly days, whereby the rotation time around the 3 degree inclined axis of the poles amounts to 243 Earth days.

90. The Earth's gravity robbed Venus of its own rotational energy during its passage thousands of years ago, and a very large frictional heat was generated. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_061

Semjase:

55. Venus was torn out of Uranus' system by the gravitational-pull effect of the Destroyer and by various other factors and drifted on the Destroyer's trajectory, in its wake, so to speak, apart from the fact that the comet giant was much faster and left its appendage far behind.

56. When Venus was torn out of the system of Uranus, it was very slow in its initial speed.

57. This happened about 8,590 years ago from the present time, i.e. during a Destroyer passage through the SOL system, before it had reached the constant of 575.5 years again.

58. In this run, the orbit of the comet was 632 years, 57 years above the constant of 575.5 years, which is so puzzling to us.

59. Venus moved on an extremely slow elliptical orbit away from its original system and made a dangerous orbit between the other planetary systems, and thus also around the central sun and the system sun.

60. This orbit paused Venus until 7,957 years ago, thus over 632 years [cycle duration], when the Destroyer came again and changed its orbit again and brought it on course towards Earth, while the giant itself came into dangerous proximity to the Earth and caused violent destruction and flooding. ...

62. Through these events, the Destroyer once again changed its orbiting time and went through the SOL system on the next run, without causing any damage, passing very far away from the Earth.

63. Already at the next passage, however, it had the constant of 575.5 years again, namely 6,906 years ago, and again Venus got into its orbit and changed its course again, but now so much that it got into orbit near the Earth and around the central star.

64. It stayed there until 4,058 years ago, when it was affected in its orbit again during the next passage of the Giant comet. ...

66. Torn from its previous course, Venus now took a course that slowly but surely had to lead directly to Earth, which actually happened.

67. Exactly 3583 years ago, Venus had reached a very slow orbit, which would have led to Earth even without another appearance of the Destroyer.

68. But then, 3453 years ago, the Destroyer, which had regained the 575.5-year constant, came back, shot past the planet that was constantly thrown out of orbit at a distance of a few hundred thousand kilometres and finally tore it into its orbit, which Venus now inevitably and finally had to bring to Earth.

69. After a short time, the Destroyer shot past the Earth, in its wake Venus, which came very close to the Earth and caused the Santorini catastrophe. ...

Billy:

That is more than grandiose, but now tell me, since when has Venus been in its current orbit?

Semjase:

78. That is included in my explanation:

79. After passing near the Earth, it was channelled into its present orbit.

Billy:

Oh, yes, of course. One thing is not yet clear to me about the whole thing: You have now talked about planetary systems on several occasions, but I have noticed that in our SOL system you talk about several planetary systems, for example a planetary system of Uranus. On the one hand, this is a question that I wanted to ask you anyway, but on the other hand it is also a question in response to your recent remarks on the subject, because I do not fully understand all that. We are here in the SOL system, and we do not have any planetary systems other than our individual planets here.

Semjase:

80. You see things from the wrong perspective:

81. A planetary system is described as such when a large planet has smaller planets gathered and orbiting around it.

82. The SOL system, however, is called this because SOL is the central sun and thus forms a whole system with all connected planetary systems.

83. You can see from this that any major planet with a minor planet orbiting this planet is called a planetary system with the minimum number of one, which is called a planetary system by us, while a central sun has at least one such planetary system orbiting it.

84. Such a central sun usually has a certain name for all human life forms, like your central sun is called SOL for example, while you also name the planetary systems like Jupiter or Mars, etc.

85. But SOL means that this is a central sun, a sun that has gathered several smaller planetary systems around it.

86. All other planets or large planets belonging to this central sun are called planetary systems if they have at least one smaller planet of their own orbiting them, because for the smaller planets the large planet holding them is the mother system.

87. So their sun is the shining one, the shining one and the mothering one.

Billy:

Man, oh, man, now I have made a mess. You know, you should have told me that before, because those things led to misunderstandings. According to your explanation, Jupiter and Saturn, for example, are planetary systems, right? And the planets of the planetary systems are probably the moons, right?

Semjase:

88. Sure, that is so.

Billy:

Man, oh, man, that is what is causing trouble. We do not call these planetary systems, but simply planets. A system according to us is a sun, a SOL, which has different planets of different or uniform size, regardless of whether they still have their own satellites.

Semjase:

89. This is very illogical, but according to your values, you may go along with it. ...

Billy:

... But again a question concerning the planetary systems that the Destroyer hastens through: What do they mean? Are they somehow planetary systems of other fixed stars?

Semjase:

97. No, not at all.

98. When I speak of distant planetary systems in connection with the comet, I mean the distant systems of the SOL system, because other fixed stars outside the SOL system cannot be reached by the Destroyer in its orbit because they are much too far away.

Billy:

So you really mean only our planetary systems like Uranus, Neptune, Jupiter and Saturn, etc.?

Semjase:

99. Certainly, I am not talking about any other systems than these, according to your terms, planetary systems of the SOL system, if you understand it better that way.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_207

Billy:

Today, I first have a question about your space-time configuration, which is practically another dimension, but which is equally directed to ours and, therefore, is therefore equally material. Our universe is called the DERN universe, how is it with our dimension and your dimension, what do you call these?

Quetzal:

1. We denote your dimension with the term Goran, while we call ours Siras.

Billy:

Aha, and these two dimensions, respectively these two different space-time configurations, are materially identical in their buildup and existence?

Quetzal:

2. That is of correctness.

Billy:

And as it stands with the Destroyer, then, it would also have to consist of matter, as this is also existent in our space-time configuration, right?

Quetzal:

3. That is also of correctness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_238

Ptaah:

613. Your assumption is correct, because my daughter did not give any information about an event, so that the events around the entry of Venus into today's orbit were not completely explained. There was already another planet in its current orbit. ...

614. Yes, a planet with a diameter of 6,100 kilometers orbited the sun on today's Venusian orbit.

615. It collided with the destroyer and was thrown from its orbit directly towards the sun, torn into it and destroyed.

Billy:

Then it dissolved into gases, so to speak, while Venus took it or a similar orbit around the sun, and has been orbiting our mother star ever since.

Ptaah:

616. So it happened.

Billy:

Then the planet was about twice as big as our Earth moon, or in other words, it was about half as big as the Earth.

Ptaah:

617. You can make these comparisons, yes.

Billy:

You could also say that it was about 1/7 smaller than Mars.

Ptaah:

618. That's also true.

Billy:

So, did you have a name for this planet, too?

Ptaah:

619. In our records it is called Skill. ...

620. ... skill means nothing other than 'desolation' in the sense of the language evaluation handed down to us.

Ptaah:

731. Today's planet Venus, as it is called by Earth-humans, is still a very young planet, only 3.04 billion years old, although the uppermost layers of the planet's surface are only 976 million years old.

732. This is because they were and are formed by the ancient, permanent and still present volcanism of the planet.

733. As a former satellite of the solar system URANUS, 8330.5 years ago, calculated backwards from today, it was torn out of its orbit by the traveling planet destroyer and brought in tow by the giant to its present orbit around the sun, as my daughter Semjase explained to you in 1975.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_257

Billy:

Semjase told me pretty much at the beginning of our contacts that the destroyer has been doing his mischief in our solar system since time immemorial and destroyed about 22 million years ago or so old homeworlds of the Lyrans. To my knowledge, however, these lay in a different space-time structure, shifted by a fraction of a second to our space and time. How is it there that the destroyer came after the destruction work with the old Lyranern into our space-time-structure?

Ptaah:

164. The Destroyer then broke through a space-time barrier created by the ancient Syrians, as we still use it today, but in a modernized form, as you would say.

165. At that time, these passage or dimensional gates, as we call them, were constructed in such a way that they opened as soon as any object approached.

166. This also happened as the Destroyer approached, who through unfortunate circumstances came to one of these dimensional gates, shot through and entered this, your space-time continuum, then found his way into this solar system.

167. Today this would no longer be possible, because our passage gates from one dimension to another or to the DAL universe have already been constructed and secured for several million years in such a way that they are probably constant in one place, but only open in response to very specific impulses emitted by our spacecraft.

168. So today it would no longer be possible for a world body to pass unintentionally through one of our many dimensional gates.

Ptaah:

... the Destroyer, which came out of our space-time-structure through a dimensional gate into your space-time-structure and caused a lot of trouble in it, which is why we removed it from the SOL system some years ago and made it harmless.

Ptaah:

64. Except for the planet Venus, all other planets in the SOL system have formed within the system itself and have remained on their original orbits.

65. The planet Venus, however, as you know, was dragged into the interior of the SOL system by the destroyer, as a result of which the direction of rotation also changed, and this was counter-clockwise, as you call it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_561

... Venus is an 'unfinished' planet, one that could develop into a flourishing planet over millions of years, if all the necessary requirements are met. And it is to be said that Venus can become a flourishing planet, just as another planet has been in almost the same orbit around the sun. About a billion years ago, there was a slightly smaller planet in the same place in the habitat zone as Venus today, but it was torn away by an elemental cosmic event. This planet was not Venus, of course, but a planet not much smaller than Earth, and it was this planet that was swept away by a much larger wandering star (the wandering sun) drifting through the system, but with another small planet already in its wake, but which freed itself from its wake and settled in the orbit around the sun in place of the small planet that had been swept away, which was already bearing its first vegetation. This cosmic catastrophe, however, changed the state of the torn away planet to such an extent that many volcanoes erupted and devastated the surface, after which the wandering star and the torn away and towed planet came into the direct range of SOL gravity and plunged into the sun Another event that took place about 3,700 years ago was that Venus, which at that time was still a satellite in the ring system of the planet Uranus, was torn out of its home system by another large wandering planet passing through the SOL system and was brought to its present location in its tow more than three and a half millennia ago. This very large wandering planet, called the 'Destroyer', which was about 1.72 times larger than Earth, traversed the SOL system for a very long time and wandered out into the Kuiper Belt, until it returned to the interior of the SOL system at an average rate of about 575.5 years, but this dangerous light-emitting wandering planet was finally taken out of the SOL system by the Plejaren towards the end of the 20th century. ... Thus, in the orbit of the former vegetation-bearing sister planet of the Earth, which had mountains, valleys, fields, forests, lakes, oceans, blue skies and light clouds, Venus was dragged there, but it was a volcanic planet. The first volcanoes that erupted from the surface of the ice planet dragged away by Uranus - today's Venus - created an atmosphere composed mainly of carbon dioxide and water vapor. ... According to the Plejaren, about a billion years ago or a little more, the planet that used to be on the site of today's Venus and was then torn away by a wandering star, is said to have had a vegetative appearance similar to that of the Earth at that time. A slightly blue sky and clouds of water vapor were also part of the planet's appearance, as were rushing rivers and lakes and seas that burst their banks. Green ferns and mosses were present in their original form, and so the first living unicellular organisms also existed from which higher life could have developed. But this was not to be the case, because the action of a wandering star from the depths of space destroyed all harmony and turned the flourishing planet, which had once been on the site of today's Venus, into a volcanic hell. Its mother star, the sun was also affected when the wandering star tore the planet out of its habitable zone and plunged into the sun together with it. ...

Vesuvius eruption 79 A.D.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Eruption_of_Mount_Vesuvius_in_79_AD

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_215

Quetzal:

102. In the catastrophe, 18,976 human beings were killed.

103. The eruption of Vesuvius produced six pyroclastic flows, respectively clouds, which raced at a tremendous speed down the mountain and across the country and which suffocated all life beneath them.

104. In particular, it was the fourth pyroclastic flow that wiped out so many human lives, while the fifth and sixth just did the remaining.

Billy:

18,976 human beings. – Monstrosity. Was that the whole population?

Quetzal:

105. No, at that time, 25,411 human beings lived in those areas that were destroyed by the volcanic eruption.

Billy:

Then there were still about four fifths who lost their lives.

Quetzal:

106. That is of correctness.

Billy:

What is a pyroclastic flow?

Quetzal:

107. It is a rapidly spreading cloud of hot ash, dust, and air.

Billy:

Aha, then the human beings suffocated and burned when the pyroclastic flows swept over them, destroying everything under themselves.

Quetzal:

108. That is, once again, of correctness.

Billy:

... Then there was the president George Washington, who actually started the First World War with the Seven Years' War from 1756-1763, which means that three world wars have already taken place and not just two. Although your father Sfath already told me that, but I had completely forgotten it, so I only stumbled upon it again through this chronicle here. Well, Washington, as a military leader in the War of Independence, as a liberal thinker, was also a shrewd leader of state when the Constitution was being drafted. At the age of 22 he was still a British officer in the American colonies. He was thereby then involved in an incident that was fundamentally the cause of the real First World War, which shook the Earth. With 160 soldiers, in 1754, he patrolled the Ohio Valley between British and French territories. In May of that year the French sent a diplomat to get Washington out of their territory. However, the latter ordered the firing on the diplomatic corps, wherethrough the French negotiator and about 13 of his soldiers who went with him were deliberately murdered, with Washington's hope of driving a wedge between the French and the British, because only such a conflict between the two colonial powers could lead to the success regarding the American War of Independence. This felony led to the triggering of the so-called French and Indian War, from which, two years later, emerged the bloody conflicts between the great European powers and thus the Seven Years' War, which was fought in America, Europe and Asia and therefore was worldwide, which is why this was the real First World War which, however, something which is however concealed from the world's population. ...

Billy:

... The two official wars were already in the 20th century, but if the Seven Year War from 1756 to 1763 is added, which was effectively a world war and which was fought in America, Europe and Asia, then the Fourth World War would be imminent. The First World War was triggered by the murderous machinations of George Washington – the later first US president – who was then still a British officer in the American colonies and had a French delegation of negotiators assassinated. ...

Ptaah:

60. The conspiracy was staged by the slave owner Augustine Washington, born in Great Britain in 1693 and deceased in 1743, the father of the later first President of America George Washington.

61. The conspirators counted several thousand colonists, who secretly called themselves 'Americans' in their circles and who strove to establish their own form of government, which, however, was kept secret from the outside under threat of death, which is why nothing in writing was ever recorded and nothing was ever written to the outside, so that the whole thing could always be kept secret, even to this day.

62. In 1732 his son George Washington was born, who then became the first president of the United States of America and died in 1799.

63. Early on he was involved in the conspiracy of his father, to whom he was completely addicted, following with his followers also the goal of his own 'Americans' state formation and did not omit anything to achieve this goal one day.

64. Although he lacked a good school education, as well as a valuable general education, because he was very uneducated, unread and ignorant, which he could later improve with the help of a decisive woman.

65. Overall, however, he was able to cover up the whole thing to a large extent, to which his origin as part of the economic and cultural elite of the slavery plantation owners of the state of Virginia came in very handy to him, because through his origin he also came into contact with a wealthy and influential and very cultivated nobleman named Lord William Fairfax and won his trust and help.

66. He also owned large estates in Great Britain.

67. At the age of 16 George Washington met the pretty daughter-in-law of Fairfax, Sally Fairfax, with whom he immediately fell in love and established an intimate adulterous relationship with her, which both secretly entertained.

68. Both kept this adulterous liaison alive, but of course secret.

69. This woman was the one who taught him in diverse knowledge and also improved his very weak general education.

70. The secret conspiracy was maintained by George Washington and all co-conspirators.

71. When his half-brother Lawrence Washington married Fairfax's daughter, Anne, he was of course also part of the family and was treated as a family member by her, which made the liaison with Sally Fairfax much easier, which was never known either in the family or to the outside world, because both were absolutely silent about their intimate relationship.

72. George Washington was commissioned in the autumn of 1753 by the Deputy Governor of Virginia, Robert Dinwiddie, to carry out a diplomatic mission, namely that he, as the issuer, should send a letter to the French asking them, on behalf of the British Crown, by Dinwiddie and other representatives of Virginia to give up and leave their outposts in an area disputed between France and England.

73. Washington set out on its mission on 31 October, after which he and his companions were received politely and courteously by the French and treated accordingly, but who were not prepared to make any concessions.

74. This mission, however, brought George Washington public attention for the first time, even though he had failed as an issuer.

75. Nevertheless, in the spring of 1754, when he was only 22 years old, Governor Dinwiddie entrusted him, with the approval of the Virginia House of Representatives, to take command of a small militia troop of 160 men in the spring of 1754, with the task of observing the French outposts located in the western territories as well as the strategically important points.

76. So Washington got a military position of power and gathered the Indian allies around him and had makeshift forts built in order to defend itself better against possible attacks of the superior French forces.

77. In this episode, Washington saw itself in a position to put its and its co-conspirators' conspiracy idea of striving for its own state 'Americans' into the limelight, even if the realization would still take years and it would use great military means, because it now had the opportunity to do so and it could gain great military power.

78. So, in May 1754, the Washington troops and a French troop engaged in combat because he ordered an attack, even though the French troops were under the command of a Joseph de Jumonvilles, who was on his way as an emissary.

79. Washington – his troop, of course, in principle – emerged victorious from the provoked struggle, which was effectively a raid in which the French commander capitulated, but which George Washington, shortly after the battle, had executed in his delusion of power.

80. Less than a month later Washington himself and his troops were captured by superior French soldiers, capitulating after many of his troops had been killed.

81. The French described the Füsilierung of the commander Joseph de Jumonvilles as what it actually was, namely as murder, which Washington also confirmed in a corresponding document, whereby the French granted mercy before justice and released him, after which he then denied the murder he had committed again.

82. And it was these incidents – triggered by George Washington, who was full of hatred and thoughts of revenge against the French and who saw himself as 'Americans' and thus as American – that led to the war from 1754-1763, which from the American point of view is called the French and Indian War, which is regarded as a partial conflict of the Seven Years' War, which then broke out in 1756.

83. And since at that time the entire origin of the First World War began with the machinations and triggered armed conflicts of the aforementioned 'Americans' or early American George Washington, by whose provocation the whole thing could come about in the first place – in the background together with his thousandfold 'Americans co-conspirators' – it is clear to us that the First World War was triggered by the USA with its first citizens, who secretly called themselves 'Americans' or 'American' in a later sense.

84. So George Washington's coping strategy worked, but his and his co-conspirators' intentions did not actually materialize until he became one of the founding fathers of the United States as Commander-in-Chief of the Continental Army from 1775 to 1783, with the first states emerging from the 13 colonies in 1776.

85. In 1789 to 1797 he became the first president of the United States of America.

...

Billy:

... But what is interesting is that to this day nothing has ever become public about this 'Americans' conspiracy.

Ptaah:

92. Every announcement, however small, has been punished with death.

Billy:

Are you saying that that's why people were actually murdered?

Ptaah:

93. Yes, there are 73 people in my father's annals who were hanged by the conspirators.

Billy:

This is typical for the USA, even in those days when it was not called 'United States of America', but was called 'Americans' by the conspirators, which is equivalent to 'America'. And that you judge and describe the thing 'World War I' – in which Europe was also involved and which was effectively global – as originating from the USA, that is really plausible, logical and therefore to be understood, because the conspirator George Washington was just as much an 'Americans' – as his co-conspirators were – and his insidious warlike murderous machinations led to war.

Ptaah:

94. As you say, this assessment is logical.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_704

Ptaah:

83. And this was already the case at the earliest and most fundamental times, when George Washington, before he advanced to become the first US president, had a white-flagged French negotiating troop treacherously shot dead.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_717

Sfath {1947}:

138. Even George Washington, who held the presidency as the first president of the United States of America from 1789 to 1797, was a murderer, war criminal and traitor.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_791

Billy:

... And the fact that the American rulers are naïve in their obsession with power – but the US president is particularly naïve – and do not notice that they, the rulers, i.e. the supreme boss and his satellites, are secretly influenced from the outside by the 'dark leadership', does not break the camel's back, but it is enough for everything to slowly get more and more out of hand. Moreover, the whole thing is common practice in the USA, and has been since time immemorial, ever since the first president, George Washington, came to power after the American War of Independence following a murder he committed in 1781 and was called the 'Father of the American Nation'. ...

{Note: The year "1781" must be referring to the year in which Washington "came to power" rather than the year he committed murder, 1754.}
